

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Sometimes it becomes close to impossible to determine how far society is privileged to go in the name of progress. And as precious as we hold the rights of the individual, we modern Americans are inclined to let them be shovled about rather freely for the sake of the "greater good."

Myrn Smith, a Northville resident, believes he has found the point at which the line should be drawn. And he has decided to do battle with the biggest of all possible opponents, the federal government.

His story centers around his hometown of Belding.

There's an old frame house up there on a two-acre patch of land where Myrn and his two brothers were raised. His 90-year-old father still lives there.

The government wants to tear down the house and move the old man back into a modern senior citizens' housing project planned for the site. It's a $700,000 development and a plum for the community.

His father is confused by all the fuss. He doesn't want to move. He's living with memories that only an old man, or a son, can know.

Like the vegetable garden that was dad's pride and the canned goods that mother "put up" and can still be found in the cellar. Myrn knows that his dad continues to garden because of these memories.

The pride of two sons graduating from West Point and all three serving with distinction overseas in World War II. The tears when one son, a pilot, was killed. The 20th wedding anniversary, the sadness when mother died. The days as a city councilman, serving the community, working as a carpenter, building many of the churches and public structures in the community.

A house full of old pictures, old family furniture, a 150-year-old family Bible, a nearby cemetery where wife and son are buried and where another headstone awaits a final date.

Myrn Smith finds it difficult to answer his father when he asks "why won't they let me stay here?" And he has decided to stand firm in his father's behalf.

There is no bitterness over the fact that the government offers $8,000 for the house, despite an appraisal that Myrn says sets its value at $15,000.

"They can have the land, I'll deed it to them free if they'll just leave my father live out his life in his own home."

Myrn Smith has started a letter campaign ... to senators, representatives and newspapers. He's fighting for a senior citizen who doesn't want government housing. Frank C. Smith, 717 West Garfield, Belding, Michigan, just wants to be left alone with his memories.

On the brighter side ... I received a letter from an old friend, Alice Kay. This week, she's Mrs. Richard Kay. Most residents will remember Dick as principal of Amerman school.

The Kays live in Grosse Pointe now, where Dick serves as a director of the community recreation and adult education program (or something like that).

Anyway, Alice wants to announce the approaching marriage of one of her pretty daughters, so she sent me the following:

the coming marriage of our first daughter, Pamela Lee Kay to Charles B. Rosenberg, Jr. The betrothal was announced to the immediate members of the family as they were cleaning the basement of their home on Rivard Blvd. in Grosse Pointe. The father of the bride, Richard W. Kay, said, "How would you like to elope?" The mother said, "You just stepped in the pile of dirt!" and Pam's younger sister, Cynthia Ann, a senior at Grosse Pointe High School, said, "I never thought you'd get married!"

The wedding will take place in June, hopefully following the graduation of Miss Kay from Michigan State University where she is affiliated with the poverty program. The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Rosenberg, of Royal Oak and East Tawas, got through Michigan State University and Wayne State University by the skin of his teeth.

Thank you very much. Sincerely, Alice R. Kay (Mrs. R. W. Kay)

She drew a funny face beneath her signature. Maybe she meant the letter as a gag. Anyway, I rewrote the announcement in somewhat more professional style and it appears properly on the women's pages of this edition.

(Sorry we don't have any openings on our women's desk right now, Alice. You really have a knack for reporting).

Senator Slaps 'Wild' Spending Policies

Letter to the Editor: With the economy showing signs of slowing up more and more every day, I believe it's time to take a real hard and long look at the ever-growing spending policies of state government.

Considering a population growth of about one half a million people, we have allowed the state's budget to rise more than double in the past five years. This is in spite of the fact that we enacted a new constitution in 1963 which was designed to streamline governmental organizations and costs.

Apparently we can't stand prosperity or a treasury surplus too long before our lawmakers must spend us into the red and then ask the citizens for more and more new taxes. Likewise, I noticed at the national level that the public relations cost of the executive branch of the government alone is $425 million a year, or more than $1 million dollars a day, just on public information. An equal amount, if not more, is spent by the government printing office and the Congress itself.

Personally, I am deeply concerned as to whether or not our economy is strong enough to warrant the additional tax burdens being placed on it. Further, I wonder if it would not be wise to declare a moratorium on all new taxes and all new spending programs at all levels of government, federal, state and local. Let's take a long, hard look for any and all waste, improvements or economies that might be realized before we run the entire state and nation into bankruptcy.

A LOOSE LEAF

By ROLLY PETERSON

Atomistic best describes an evening's entertainment at the Meadow Brook theatre on the Oakland university campus. It is a complete and indis-soluble evening for two reasons. For one thing, Jean Anouilh's "The Waltz of the Toreadors" is an atomistic play, an inseparable fusion of opposites.

And, for the most part, a fusion takes place between the play and actors of the John Fernald repertory company.

These are the trappings of romantic farce: a myopic damsel, a capering rouser and a fermatist, created in the mold of Henry Fielding. And there are laughs aplenty as the Fernald troupe delivers Anouilh's diluted lines with considerable aplomb. Suddenly, however, the bubble of gallant love is burst on the needs of reality and we are deflated. In a noise, through infection and facial gesture, humor is dispelled by the sorrowful plight of two people dugged by tradition and time. They have been fools.

Nothing unusual about that, except 17 years have elapsed since the world-famous dancing to the Waltz of the Toreadors. She has remained an unsmiling flower (no mortal man has touched her, she vows), and a pistol at her side defends her honor. Her behavior has been above reproach.

The general can make no such claim, but he scoldingly hankers for her. Now past 50, he retains a vision of himself as Left-tenant St. Pe, the dashing young man on the social fringe, loved and adored by every female he meets. Not unlike the American male,

This is Anouilh at his best, combining the tragic and comic, balancing one against the other, much as life would have it. A spect is the key to his humor. A shift of viewpoint and a gleeful grin dissolves into a painful frown. Volla, the hero and fool are one.

Anouilh's art was never clearer, or better played, than in the poignant confrontation between the general and Madame St. Pe. They began in a familiar, abrasive manner, throwing verbal bricks. From her bed, she carps at her husband, exposing him as a philanderer, while she, poor woman, paralyzed and near death, is confined to her bed.

Familial reproach suddenly becomes vitriolic, however, as Madame St. Pe lashes out at her husband, disclosing her secret. She is not paralyzed, she has had other lovers, she detests him. They are now two enraged animals, going for the jugular.

As Mme. St. Pe, Angela Wood is equal to Anouilh's conception and brings the play to an explosive climax. Curt Dawson, as the naive secretary, Gaston, and Jill Tanner and Paulene Reynolds as Sidonia and Estelle, the general's ugly daughters, are no less memorable. Joshua Reynolds as General St. Pe was also distinctive.

Their definitive acting, under the skilled directorship of Robin Ray, give Anouilh's play the undeniable smack of real life, wherein actions defy explanation because they are an integral part of the whole.

Very truly yours, George W. Kuhn State Senator 14th District

Classy Uniforms In Band's Future

They'll probably be the only group without uniforms, but Novi's award-winning high school band competes next week in the state band festival they'll have plenty going for them.

Besides enthusiasm and talent, they'll be boasting a board of education "promise" that there's 82 brand new uniforms in their future.

Assurances of uniforms were given last week Wednesday evening as the board voted unanimously to purchase the uniforms, including one for the director, at a yet to be selected band budget, at a cost not to exceed $7,500.

The order for the uniforms was placed with Sol Frank, which had bid $1,244 for 80 complete uniforms - hat, coat, trousers, skirt and over-lay.

Frank was one of two companies which submitted sample uniforms for inspection by school officials and Band Boosters' uniform committee.

The other was Demoulin, which had bid $7,627.80 - later corrected to $7,654.80. Appearing before the board of education Wednesday, the committee displayed the uniforms and recommended purchase from Frank. The board concurred in the committee's selection.

In addition to the 80 uniforms on which the companies bid, the board added two uniforms, one for the director and the other for a majorette, with the stipulation that the total purchase price not exceed $7,500. Although the board voted to make the purchase, $3,000 of the purchase price has been promised by the Band Boosters which has been conducting a lengthy fund-raising drive to raise money for uniforms. More than $2,500 has already been raised for this purpose.

Delivery of the uniforms is expected to be made by late summer - but in time for the opening of school next September.

Novi's 42-piece high school band will be competing in the state festival Saturday, May 29 by virtue of the fact that it won a top rating in the district festival recently.

According to Director Keith Rolston, the district honor was particularly impressive since Novi - which has no 10th or 12th grades - was competing against high schools with three or four grade levels.

Even before the state festival, the band probably would have to ask for a state aid advance of $150,000 or borrow this amount in order to meet expenses with the opening of school next fall.

He noted that the district obtained a $100,000 state aid advance for this purpose last year. The increase, he explained, is necessary because of increased teaching salaries, salaries, etc. Asking for state aid advances has become standard procedure by many

For County Reorganization Court Fails to Stop Plans

Despite last week's state Supreme Court's advisory decision upholding the one-man, one-vote formula for county reorganization, many plans for paring the county boards of supervisors in Michigan are continuing.

Reorganization of these county boards must be accomplished by May 15 under Act 261 of 1966. The act is an attempt to eliminate representation by governmental unit in favor of representation by population.

Petitioned by Governor George Romney, the State Supreme Court advised the governor that in its opinion the act is unconstitutional.

However, because most attorneys interpret the court's ruling as an advisory one only and because there is a possibility that the United States Supreme Court may rule in favor of county reorganization, plans are going ahead, Joseph R. Farinam, member of the Oakland county reorganization Commission told The Record-News this week.

According to a spokesman for the Michigan Municipal League at Ann Arbor, most counties are continuing their plans for reorganization but that these plans are all subject to decision by the United States Supreme Court.

The federal court ruling is expected to determine how far down into a state's political structure the "one man, one vote" theory extends. Presently, it covers the state legislature.

Also, there are bills in the state legislature at this time that would strike out the act or extend the deadline for completing reorganization plans. In view of the pending court ruling and these proposed new laws, actions by counties are "rather nebulous," a Wayne county official said.

Nebulous or not, reorganization plans in Wayne and Oakland counties are rapidly nearing reality - to the point where it is becoming a distinct possibility that local elections will be voted for representatives to the new boards of supervisors next year.

Police Nab Teen Escapees

Two 16-year-old escapees from the Whitmore Lake Boys Vocational Training school were apprehended Tuesday by Novi police and returned to the school by state troopers.

A report at 12:39 p.m. by a Nine Mile road resident alerted Novi police to the fact that two boys in stocking feet were walking east along Nine Mile road toward Beck road.

Two police cars, one driven by Chief Lee BeGoie and the other by Detective Sergeant Richard Faulkner were dispatched to the area. When the boys spotted Faulkner, the chief said, they bolted for the woods.

Later, Faulkner apprehended one 16-year-old and handed him over to Chief BeGoie. While on his way back to the station, BeGoie said, he spotted the other boy near Taft road. He, too, was picked up.

Under the new county plans, the top candidate for each political party within each district will be determined at a primary election, and the district representative then will be chosen at the regular fall election.

According to an interpretation of Act 261 by the Michigan Municipal League, the first board would set its own salary, and subsequent board salaries would be established by the preceding board, an MML spokesman said.

Henry R. Sladek, GOP representative on the Wayne Commission, told this newspaper that the commissions "have nothing to do with setting salaries."

However, he guessed salaries would be set from $15,000 to $17,000 each - provided the jobs are made full time. "If they are not going to be full time, they are not going to do with setting salaries."

Steve's still trailing but he says he's out to win.

School Construction Lags Only Three Weeks

Construction is moving along "very well." That's the report the Novi board of education was given last week as it discussed the progress of the high school addition.

Although Superintendent Thomas Dale estimated that construction was "about three weeks" behind schedule, an architectural representative explained that in view of the fact that the contractor faced some stiff problems because of weather this past winter he has "done a remarkably good job."

It was noted that the three-week delay could be made up "in just a week," with all indications pointing to completion of the project as scheduled barring any strikes in the building trades field.

Concerning the high school project, the board voted to purchase library shelving equipment from the McFadden corporation, which submitted a low bid of $880.55. Other bidders were Superior School Equipment, $1,321.04, and Classrooms, Inc., $1,016.

An architectural fee of nearly $500 was noted for additional footing depth in two areas of the building. The increased depth, explained the architectural representative, was necessary because the composition of the earth at these two points was not adequate to support the weight.

In other action, the board approved a policy governing instructors and students participating in the driver education vehicles.

The board also gave tentative approval for a project planned by the Novi Little League organization to improve out of the baseball diamonds behind Novi school.

In his report to the board, Superintendent Dale estimated that the district probably would have to ask for a state aid advance of $150,000 or borrow this amount in order to meet expenses with the opening of school next fall.

He noted that the district obtained a $100,000 state aid advance for this purpose last year. The increase, he explained, is necessary because of increased teaching salaries, salaries, etc. Asking for state aid advances has become standard procedure by many school districts because state aid payments come too late to help offset costs early in the school year.

The possibility that the district may have to borrow the money this year instead of receiving an advance is increasing because of a drain on the state treasury. State Treasurer Allison Green has estimated that school districts will ask for about $80 million in advance payments during June, July and August. This amount, he predicted, would reduce the cash surplus to a level which would be insufficient to meet state obligations by October.

Officials have suggested that advance payments, because of the shortage possibility, may be curtailed.

A resolution adopted by the Novi Teachers club, which contends the school bus program is endangered by repeated bus breakdowns, was turned over to the superintendent for review.

The breakdowns, Dale suggested, could be avoided if the district had a mechanic and facilities in which defects could be corrected and where a preventative maintenance program could be carried out. Presently, bus defects are corrected - primarily after they occur - by garages in or near Novi, an arrangement which Dale said has been unsatisfactory.

Dale was authorized to attempt to secure a mechanic-supervisor, and it was noted that the board recently authorized purchase of two new buses.

Aging Trailer Park Suit Slated for Trial May 10

The long awaited trial date of the Davis trailer park suit is near. The case will be argued in Oakland county circuit court on May 10. Attorney Howard Bond reported at Monday's meeting of the Novi village council.

Nearly three years have elapsed since the original case was first filed on July 14, 1964, by Frank L. Davis. Davis claimed that the village council had acted arbitrarily in denying his rezoning request.

It asked that 20 acres on Beck road, just south of Nine Mile road be rezoned from agricultural to residential for a mobile home site. Denial came on the heels of protests of Novi and Northville residents and officials of the Northville school system at a public hearing.

There's a new twist in Davis' suit. He has purchased an additional five acres, and submitted a request on March 13 to the planning commission to have 25 acres rezoned. The commission turned Davis' request down on the basis that no rezoning was cited.

By initiating a new circuit court case, Davis avoided a motion asking for dismissal of the original case. The council instructed Attorney Bond to file the motion at its November 20, 1966, meeting.

According to officials, Davis' efforts to secure a permit from Oakland county were denied because 20 acres was not sufficient area to support a separate sewer system. The situation may have changed through the acquisition of the additional five acres.

In other legal matters, the pre-trial circuit court date for cityhood incorporation is slated for this morning.

Twenty-six residents of Conemaugh Hills attended Monday's meeting to sound out the council on its sewer intentions in the subdivision.

The council voted 5-0 to notify all subdivision residents that construction bids will be reviewed during the regular council meeting, scheduled for May 15. The bids will be opened May 11 in the offices of Johnson and Anderson, Village engineering consultants.

Principal reason for the large turnout was action taken at a special meeting on April 10. At that time, the council approved the soliciting of construction bids, but not after a 10-minute delay, during which the fate of Conemaugh sewers hung in the balance.

The council reassessed its members for asking for bids. They would,

Teen Club Rejected

Continued from Page 1 Nelson said he did not believe the teens were designing a building of this nature; windows were limited and the building was not fire proof. Cavern backers submitted a letter written by Northville Police Chief Samuel Elkins. It commended the teens, stating problems arising from Cavern dances were at a minimum, teenagers were cooperative and the police department stood behind the sponsoring Mothers' club.

Presbyterian Men's Club Schedules Night of Music

For its seventh annual spring concert, Northville Presbyterian Men's club will bring the Orpheus Club singers of Detroit to the high school auditorium at 8 p.m. Saturday, April 22. The club, which was organized in the early 1900's will feature three soloists on the program. The Northville Presbyterian bell ringers also will play. Robert Bogart, Men's club president and concert chairman, explains that proceeds from the concert will be used to send church young people to camps and conferences and to procure additional camping equipment. Club funds also are used to help the Boy Scout program.

Young Mustangs Win Two

Take it from Coach Bob Kucher: "There's no substitute for winning."

And that's what Northville has been doing. The Mustangs pummeled South Lyon in the baseball season opener last Friday, 11-5, and then edged Clarenceville, 4-2, Monday.

The back to back victories were exactly what the doctor, in this case, Kucher, ordered for his young ball club. Winning builds confidence and provides the spark that gives the edge in close contests.

Four of the nine starters were exactly what the doctor, in this case, Kucher, ordered for his young ball club. Winning builds confidence and provides the spark that gives the edge in close contests.

Going into the first two ball games, the only tried and true ball players were Catcher Doug Swiss, Pitcher, Infielder Dennis Primeau and Center Fielder Pat Hall.

But the 1967 Mustangs banged out enough timely hits (18) to cancel out those inevitable errors - eight in two games - and to overcome cold, windy weather.

South Lyon came to town one up on Northville. The Lions had played four games and won them all, including a victory over Brighton, a Wayne-Oakland Conference squad.

Northville wasted no time in stifling the Lions' rise by scoring four runs in the first and second innings and three in the third. That made it, 11-0, and good-bye ball game for South Lyon.

Two home runs, towering drives over the left centerfield fence, highlighted the Northville attack. Polhaman hit a solo clutch and Swiss poked one with two men aboard.

Swiss, the veteran catcher and team captain, led the Northville batters with two hits in three trips to the plate. Besides his round tripper, he crunched a double to drive in four runs and scored twice.

Hall and Holman had two hits apiece and a runner each. Swiss produced the first two runs of the season for Northville. Anglin bagged the other Northville hit.

South Lyon banged out nine hits of its own, but Pitcher Cliff Hines, Polhaman and Taylor spaced the Lion hits. Kehrer got credit for the victory. He pitched four innings, struck out one, walked two and gave up three runs. Taylor struck out none, walked one and gave up two runs in relief.

Their performances didn't set Kucher on his ear. "They looked good at times," the Northville coach said, "but for the most part, they didn't have the stuff. Improvement is called for."

Northville's pitching ace, Dennis Primeau, won his own game against Clarenceville. The trim but sturdy junior drove in three of the four Northville runs and first a three-hitter against the all-veteran Trojans.

Working against a gale-like wind, Primeau struck out nine and walked four. Both runs scored on him were unearned.

At the plate, Primeau sparked in the first trip to the plate in the first inning, the 145-pounder caught a fast ball and drove it high over the dead center fence to score him, who had walked leading off.

With Northville leading 2-0 in the eighth inning, Primeau struck out nine and walked four. Both runs scored on him were unearned.

Interested men may sign up at Lap-ham's Wear or by calling From at 349-2287.

From also issued another call for help in up-grading Ford Field where the softball activities will take place.

"We can use all the help we can get," said From. "We've got trash to haul away, some raking to do, painting of seats and hand rails to complete."

The cleanup-trip activities will take place all day Saturday.

Area men were reminded this week of an umpire training program underway in Plymouth.

The next session will be held at the Plymouth high school baseball diamond, between 2 and 4 p.m. on Sunday.

Interested persons are asked to call Earl G. Gray (453-0477), secretary-treasurer of the Suburban Umpires association.

HIT THE DIRT! - Northville's Doug Anglin prepares to slide into third base against Clarenceville, but the third baseman got the ball a fraction ahead of Anglin for the force out.

Win 33, Lose 7 Netmen Set Hot Pace

The Northville netmen were forced to settle for a tie - of all things - dimming but not marring the lustre of a sparkling record, compiled during the opening weeks of the season.

The tie came Saturday in a quadrangular at Wayne John Glenn, with Ypsilanti Central playing the Villan. Northville and Central each tallied 10 points, Glenn posted eight and Romulus went home with a fat zero.

"I feel in dual meets we could beat Central and John Glenn," Coach Dick Norton speculated, "but we stumbled a bit and had to settle for a tie in the quadrangular."

Balm for Norton's disappointment was the fact that Glenn, Central and Romulus are class A schools. Northville is class B.

Northville recovered quickly, however, coming back Monday to win its fourth dual meet in a row without defeat by downing Walled Lake, 5-2.

Thus far in individual matches, Northville has won 33 and lost only seven - an enviable record.

The real test of Northville's strength will come today, when the Mustangs travel to Ypsilanti to take on perennially tough Ypsilanti Roosevelt.

In the quadrangular, Northville's number one singles man, Jim Long, took it on the chin. He lost his first match of the season to Larry Wood of John Glenn, 6-2, 3-6. Long rebounded to win a consolation match, 6-0, 6-1, against Gary Selie of Romulus.

Otherwise it was clear sailing for Northville's undefeated netmen. Mark Alexander disposed quickly of Barry Rowe - John Glenn, 6-3, 6-3, and Bill Roberts of Ypsilanti Central, 6-0, 6-1.

Brother Dane duplicated Mark's feat, beating Bruce Hildy of John Glenn, 6-2, 6-4, and Steve Fullford of Ypsilanti, 6-2, 6-2.

The undefeated tandem of Ken Boeger and Randy Burnett kept their state clean, too. They best Mike Wilson and Gary Smith of John Glenn, 6-4, 6-1, and Bob Adair and Wayne Waters of Ypsilanti, 6-0, 6-1.

Gloetzner Breaks Two School Marks

A snowy junior put his name in the record book last week when he broke two Northville high school track marks.

Ron Gloetzner sailed 12" in the pole vaults. Clarenceville's Jim Amik vaulted 11'8" and Gloetzner also eclipsed Dick Bathey's mark in the 180-yard low hurdles of 20.6 by crossing the finish line in 20.6. Bathey's record stood since 1951.

Despite Gloetzner's glittering performances, he finished second in both events. Clarenceville's Jim Amik vaulted 12'3" and Tom Harborne, one of the best hurdlers in the state, ran the 100 in 20.3.

Gloetzner's marks were the highlights of a rosy week for the Northville trackmen, despite the fact that Northville dropped a 74-44 decision to Clarenceville Saturday.

For one thing, the Trojans are being touted as the team to beat this year in the Wayne-Oakland Conference. "I thought they would really romp us," Coach Ralph Redmond said, "but we turned in some nice performances."

Furthermore, Northville did some romping of its own by trouncing visiting South Lyon, 81-37, in the Mustangs' initial dual meet of the year last week Tuesday.

Although first place eluded Gloetzner, Northville had three men in the winners' circle at Clarenceville. Back at his specialty, Bill Harrison won the 880 in 2:04.1. George D'Hane flashed across first in the 440 in 54.8, and Jack Crawford ran the 100 in 23.3.

In the hurdles, where Northville was weak last year, Coach Redmond's third-class got a strong show from Jim Peterson. He ran the high hurdles in 16.3, second to Clarenceville's 15.4.

Peterson also finished second in the high jump with a leap of 5'9". Amik scored 3'9" to take first.

Other second place finishers against Clarenceville were Bill McDermaid with 41" in the shot, Doug Hazlet with 10:57 in the two mile and Chris Kline with 5:07 in the mile.

In whipping South Lyon, the Mustangs put amenities aside. They won 10 of 14 events and slammed three events. It could rightfully be called Crawford's meet. Of a maximum four events, the Northville senior won three outright and anchored the winning 880-yard relay team. His marks included 18"9" in the broad jump, 10.6 in the 100 and 23.8 in the 220.

Hire New Teachers

Dickinson, who will be an addition to the staff.

Fifty-two teachers were continued on tenure; 20 were moved from probationary to tenure status; 35 were certified for second-year probation; one was placed on third-year probation; and three teachers with one-half year service in the district were given first-year probationary status.

Resignations of three teachers, Joyce Reed, Barbara Sysma, and Mary MacLeod, were accepted, and letters of retirement from two teachers were accepted.

Retiring after a combined total of 69 1/2 years in the educational field - 42 of them in the Northville school system - are Louva Waterman and Kathryn Gilmer.

Assistant Superintendent Raymond Spear noted that the school has more than 150 teacher applications on hand. Following a report by Principal Milton Jacobi, the board voted to purchase 2,750 books for Moraine elementary school at a bid price of $9,203.56 from Baker and Taylor company.

According to Librarian Miss Linda Edgerton, the new books fall short of the number recommended by national standard. Ten books are recommended per child, she said, meaning that Moraine to meet this standard should have 3,600 books now and more as the school's enrollment increases.

However, the librarian indicated that it is better to "build up" to the recommended level than to start immediately with the national quota because it permits a flow of new books into the library.

Expenditure for books, it was noted, does not include a considerable amount of money already spent for reference material and teaching aids, all of which are used in conjunction with library and classroom work.

The board also approved an additional $8,500 monthly expenditure for "upgrading" the outdoor lighting around school buildings by use of mercury vapor lamps - subject to confirmation of maintenance service charges by the Detroit Edison company.

A Northville township request that the school grant a long-term lease for use of the township hall was tabled pending study of the proposal.

The township, which rents the old Waterford school building as its township hall, is seeking a long-term lease - perhaps 20 years - because, according to Supervisor R. D. Merriam, considerable renovation is necessary and the township was assured that it can occupy the building for a long period if it is to do the renovation work.

During discussion of the matter Monday, President Wilfred Becker noted that the school board is still awaiting a formal reply from the township to its request for annexation of the Moraine school property to the city.

Municipal Court

Driving recklessly cost three men $100 apiece in Northville Municipal Court this week.

Floyd J. Kupsky, 48, was cited for a violation that occurred March 14 on East Main street at Park Place. In addition to the $100 fine on the added count of reckless driving, he was placed on six months probation to the court.

Violation of probation, Judge Charles McDonald said, could result in a 90-day jail sentence. A charge of being disorderly was dismissed. Kupsky lives at 218 Yerkes street.

Erven L. Howell, 50, of Brighton was booked on an incident arising at Eight Mile and Beck roads. He pleaded guilty to the added count of reckless driving.

Robert E. Hamilton, 45, of Milford also pleaded guilty to the added count of reckless driving on Eight Mile road near Novi road.

Harris W. Hubbard and James H. Dale were fined $25 each on charges of careless driving. Hubbard, who lives at 16761 Franklin road, was ticketed on East Main street as was Dale, a Plymouthite. Both youths are 18.

For allowing an unlicensed driver to operate his vehicle, John C. Bayley, 17, was ordered to pay costs of $15. Bayley, 17, who lives at 41010 Malott in Novi, was ticketed on Seven Mile road near Eaton drive.

Two youths were fined for having liquor in their possession. John E. Mund, Jr., 17, and Rubin D. Woods, 18, both of Livonia, were cited for an infraction occurring on Novi road. Mund was fined $25.50 and Woods, $38.50.

In lieu of paying a $38.50 fine, Benny Kay, 17, of Wayne went to jail for 15 days. He pleaded guilty to having liquor in his possession on North Wing street at Randolph street.

Teddy L. Garrett, 22, of 111 South Wing street was fined $10 for speeding 35 miles per hour in a 25 zone on East Main street.

A 20-year-old Wayne man, Victor L. Armitage, was fined $27.50 for being disorderly in Paul's Hamburger parking lot at the corner of Main and Dunlap streets.

Two cases of assault and battery were dismissed Monday when the complainants withdrew their charges.

Nelson Hyatt, 17, of 21486 Summer-side Lane pleaded not guilty to the charge, arising from an incident at 507 Reed street. A similar charge against Troy A. Blankenship, 19, of 257 Hutton was dropped. The reported infraction occurred at his place of residence.

Charges of disorderly person (non-support) against Elton Williams, 45, address unknown, were also dropped when the complainant withdrew the complaint. The reported infraction took place at 108 Randolph street.

Court Fails to Stop Plans

Aside from the fact that the appointment commission must come up with equitable supervisor districts, cost is also a major consideration, Sladek said. He estimated a $1 million difference between maintaining a 25-member board and a 35-member board.

"We can't ignore something like that," he said. According to Farham, GOP representative to the Oakland commission, his group was scheduled to take another "hard look" at that county's plans Monday in the wake of last week's public hearing on reorganization that drew about 30 citizens. Until last week, he said, most members of the commission were leaning towards a board consisting of 27 members. But because township supervisors attending the hearing strongly favored a board consisting of the maximum number permitted (35), the commission decided to "at least take a look at the possibility of 35 districts."

However, Farham predicted the commission would hold out for the 27-member plan, which would mean districts of 25,491 population each.

Under this plan, the Oakland county portion of Northville, Novi, the city of Walled Lake and Commerce township would make up a single district with a single representative on the board of supervisors from this district.

David Lehenon, Democratic Party representative on the Wayne commission, told this newspaper that his group probably would "sit tight" until after a decision is made by the U.S. court. If a decision is not handed down by May 15, he predicted the commission would ask the court of appeals for an extension of the deadline.

"Some of us," he said, "favor a board of 35 members because it gives the out-county area such as yours a few more members. With just 25 members, the out-county area probably would get only eight members, but with 35 that number would be increased to about 12."

Jaycees Offer 'Get Rich' Plan

The minimum number, Lehenon said, probably would mean just one member from the entire portion of Western Wayne County. One of the problems with this, he added, is that out-county areas have grown rapidly since the 1960 census - but under the reapportionment law the 1960 census must be used.

A meeting of the commission was to have been held yesterday for determining its next step.

Sladek said the Wayne Commission has not seriously considered any districting plan as yet, "but each member is working on his own plans for consideration. I'm working on two of them - one with 26 members and another with 35."

Sladek said some members appear to favor districting that parallels senatorial districts somewhat.

If, as he suggests, the supervisor districts are drawn along these lines, Northville, Plymouth and Livonia probably would make up all or part of one district. However, he said this plan is "purely conjectural."

According to Richard Kozlarski, Jaycee chairman of the event, tickets may be obtained from any Jaycee or at the door of the Legion hall on the night of the party.

The Northville Record And The Novi News Thursday, April 20, 1967 Section B

Take another look. It's not really a spider's web. It's the 30-foot towers of steel spun by Detroit Edison company in a gigantic project to string high-power transmission lines from Pontiac to Wayne. And those aren't really spider webs but workmen are spinning 1,400,000-watt steel lines will stretch across St. Clair and Wixom, Novi and Wixom.

Can you afford to let another year go by?

Cadillac is by far the soundest automotive investment in the world. Some of Cadillac's twelve models cost less than the corresponding models of other fine cars. And, in a surprising number of cases, they cost little more than cars in the middle-price range. One reason is that Cadillac is extra with a wide variety of equipment that would cost extra on lesser cars. A Cadillac price sticker is always worthy of careful study. Then, there is the matter of resale. It is a very real fact that Cadillac craftsmanship is an irresistible attraction to those who buy previously owned Cadillac year after year. This enables a person who buys a new Cadillac to drive his car for substantially less than many well-known makes over a one, two, or three year span. And, of course, Cadillac ownership offers satisfactions that cannot be measured in terms of cost. For how can you price its wonderful and relaxing quiet? Or its rewarding comfort? Or its incredibly smooth ride? So don't let another year go by without appreciating Cadillac price, Cadillac comfort, Cadillac performance and Cadillac value. Ask your authorized dealer for a demonstration.

BABES IN THE WOODS
Today Carol and I dusted her doll collection and packed it away. I must admit to a feeling of sadness, for the moment made all of the wedding preparations suddenly become real. Carol is being married in less than a month, yet it seems only yesterday John and I brought her home from the hospital.

Hansel and Gretel were last, and I smiled as I packed them. For they remind me of Carol and her young man. They seem such dreamy young innocents, but are really quite practical. Already they've solved many of the problems John and I never thought of until after our marriage. Yes, their path is well marked through the forest of matrimony.

To be sure, they may have troubled times, but they share a deep and abiding love for God that promises strength and comfort beyond their own resources. With God and His church at the center of their lives, they cannot fail.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four vital truths which every person should understand and support: 1. They are 1) For his own sake, 2) For his neighbor's sake, 3) For the sake of the community, and 4) For the sake of the world. This is the purpose of the church. It is to help each individual find his own path to God through the church.

A PRAYER FOR OUR DAY, by Dr. James H. Laird, former pastor of Central Methodist Church, Detroit.

O God, this is a time for self-examination, but we know the trouble with the world is everyone else. If other people were only as good as we are, then this world would be a lovely place. Please, God, don't worry us about race; we have enough problems of our own. And don't bother us about peace; we know if it weren't for the communists, the world would not be in its present mess, just as we know when the Nazis were beaten all would be well.

O God, we thank thee that we are not like a certain other nation, that doesn't believe in the end is materialistic and militaristic. We thank thee that the Church is always beyond criticism, always motivated by the

News Around Schoolcraft

Two experimental movies and three one-act plays written, produced and performed by Drama Workshop students at Schoolcraft college, will be presented at a Creative Arts Festival in the college library at 8:30 p.m., Friday, April 21.

The festival will coincide with the publication of the Creative Arts Journal, a review of prose, poetry and student work of Schoolcraft students. The two movies are "Flight of the Dodo," and "Happy Valley." Filmed in color, "Flight" was made by Paul Wheeler, Livonia sophomore, and members of the Masque Players, Schoolcraft drama group.

"Happy Valley" also filmed in color, uses torn paper images to tell its story. It was made by members of the Drama Workshop.

The three plays are "Holly and Zinner," "By Jungle Rule," and "Surprise! Surprise! Mustard and Pickles."

"Holly and Zinner" was written by Wheeler and will be performed by Beverly Spleigh, and Dan Fitzgerald, both of Livonia. Arthur Blake, Livonia, is the author of "By Jungle Rule," and will also be in the cast with Patricia Lewis, and Cheryl Rabbit, Northville, and Linda Rasmussen, Livonia.

"Surprise!" is a theatrical experiment in which the cast works from an outline script and "creates" the action on stage. In the cast are James Larry Green and Cathy Stager, both of Livonia; Greg Lavelle, Garden City; and Lee Hoffman, Doug Fleming, Mary Ann Swierzymski, and Eric Kussisto, all of Detroit.

The festival is open to the general public, according to Ralph B. Kelley, chairman of the English Division and faculty adviser to both the Drama Workshop and the Masque Players. Admission is free to students, $1 for non-students.

Final examinations for winter semester courses at Schoolcraft college are scheduled for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, April 24 through 26, according to an announcement by Robert J. Stenger, dean of academic instruction.

The schedule calls for examinations on Monday, April 24, for classes regularly meeting at 10 a.m., 2 p.m., 4 p.m., and 5 p.m.; on Tuesday, April 25, for classes regularly meeting at 3 a.m., noon, 3 p.m., 7 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.; and on Wednesday, April 26, for classes regularly meeting at 8 a.m., 11 a.m., and 1 p.m.

When Does Your New Car Warranty Run Out?

Warranty Run Out?

John Mach

If you have to check your records to find out, you're a normal driver - and liable to make the very normal mistake of postponing warranty adjustments beyond your coverage date.

When the two year or 24,000 miles warranty on everything on the five year or 50,000 miles warranty on the power train (engine, transmission, differential) officially expires, there is nothing that a dealer can do for you. If you have negligently postponed justified warranty adjustments beyond the closing date.

We're so special that most drivers who don't bother with a warranty claim until some fault occurs in the proper operation of their cars. What concerns a conscientious driver is to have the car brought in just after the warranty has expired.

If you are driving a car covered by a warranty, there is a suggestion about one month before the warranty expires, have your dealer check it for any requirement that may be covered by the warranty.

In many cases, the dealer may find faults covered by warranty before the owner is aware of any problem. The car must be made available for examination and testing, however, before this is possible.

If you are driving a car which has had a previous owner, it is well to remember that warranty within the set limits carries over to subsequent owners who have purchased the car secondhand.

There being no further business the meeting adjourned at 9:25 p.m.

1967 March of Dimes Nets $2846 in Northville

Residents of Northville contributed $2846.56 to the 1967 March of Dimes campaign, it is reported by John Steimel, American Legion Post 147 of 488 Hill street, volunteer area campaign chairman.

This amount compares with a 1966 figure of $2837.84. The 1967 January March of Dimes campaign goal was over the top in most Wayne County communities, except for the inner city areas.

In spite of severe weather conditions the Mothers' March in Northville totaled $1103.66 this year. Mothers' March Chairman Mrs. Eileen Pacific, of 46959 Grassmere has reported. A two-year grant from National Foundation to the Wayne State university medical school will make it possible for a treatment and diagnostic center to open this year.

The architect also reviewed the backtracking proposition at the Moraine Elementary School site. He outlined the proposal of extending the present located sidewalk west, creating an 8 foot sidewalk, and adding approximately 6,000 sq. ft. to the driveway for parking purposes. The board directed that the architect prepare a break-down cost estimate of the areas to be backtracked: (1) original area, (2) additional driveway, (3) playarea. Concrete bumper steps were also discussed. He was also directed to submit comparative costs of a concrete or a black-topped walkway along western edge of the proposed paving strip.

Superintendent Nelson reported on the status of the School Bond Loan Fund. Motion No. 532, by member Kipfer, supported by member Cook that the following resolution be adopted:

(1) Resolved to apply for a loan from the School Bond Loan Fund in the amount described in this application to assist the district in meeting the payment of principal and/or interest on the qualified bonds of the District, such bonds being qualified by having been issued prior to May 4, 1955 and/or by having been issued after May 4, 1955 and qualified by the Superintendent of Public Instruction prior to their issuance.

(2) Agreed that in the event a loan is obtained from the school bond loan fund, to levy a tax of at least 7 mills on the state equalized valuation of the District each year until such loan is repaid in full to the State of Michigan.

The Village reserves the right to accept or reject any and all bids.

Brothers Fined For Animal Cruelty

After deliberating 20 minutes last Thursday, a Novi justice court jury of five women and one man returned a verdict of guilty against two brothers, charged with cruelty to animals.

Justice of Peace Robert K. Anderson fined Orvel and David Hamilton $100 apiece and placed them on six months probation, during which they are "to work closely" with Humane Officer Marshall London "to get their animals in proper shape."

Because of the brothers' inability to pay last Thursday, sentence was deferred until today. If payment is not made today, Justice Anderson stated, the brothers would be "wide open" to the $100 fine or 30 days or both.

Furthermore, Justice Anderson warned that failure of the brothers to comply with the provisions of probation would result in jail sentences for both men.

During the three-hour trial, five witnesses were called, three by Rick Schmidt, assistant prosecuting attorney for Oakland county, and the two brothers by Casey Ambrose, defense attorney.

The prosecution witnesses were Novi Patrolman Gary Gross, London, Oakland county humane officer, and Deputy William Hicks, justice officer for Justice Anderson and part-time Novi police dispatcher.

Filed by London, charges against the Hamilton brothers arose from the fact that a horse (a yearling) was found dead on February 6 on a farm at 23633 Tall road in Novi, just south of 10 Mile Road. The brothers, who live in Plymouth, were leasing the farm.

Offered as evidence was a photograph, taken by Officer Gross, showing the dead horse lying in the snow. The horse was one of 32 owned by Orvel, who testified that he "was breeding the horses" in order to sell them.

First on the witness stand was Officer Gross. Alerted by an anonymous phone call, he explained how he found the dead animal lying in the snow. "From what I know about horses," he said, "it was dead a day or two, frozen solid, hard." London called the animal "an awfully boney horse," and Deputy Hicks described the dead horse as "a wreck of bones."

According to the Hamiltons' testimony, the dead horse was crippled last fall and this led to its death. "I saw the horse fall on concrete," David said, "throwing his hind leg out of joint."

Orvel backed his brother, saying the yearling was crippled when she attempted to jump out of the path of a speeding car as the horses were crossing Tall road. She landed on her leg and threw it out of joint, Orvel stated.

Both brothers said no veterinarian was called because the injury could be taken care of by Orvel, who had put the leg back in joint other times. Asked why the animal was not disposed of, Orvel said she could be used for breeding purposes.

Four goats, owned by Orvel were found dead in the barn, two spayed and two goats. The brothers testified the goats had been dead two weeks, but because of snow and hard ground, they were unable to bury them. Two goats were chewed around the head.

"We were told," David said, "dogs had marauded the goats." The brothers also claimed they had covered the goats, but the animals were uncovered when discovered by Humane Officer London and Deputy Hicks.

Charges of cruelty hinged on proving other animals, as well as the dead horse, were not properly fed and both Defense Attorney Ambrose and Prosecuting Attorney Schmidt thoroughly probed this point by firing questions at all five witnesses.

"There was no provision for food, no feed showing anywhere," London said of the day he and Hicks had searched the farm after having obtained a search warrant. "There was no food whatsoever," Hicks swore. They said they had searched the barn, feed shed and truck bed.

The Hamiltons, however, maintained the animals were pigs (owned by David), goats (15 to 18) and a dog had been fed the previous day, Sunday, and after London questioned them that day, the brothers said they fed the animals later the same night.

David testified that he and his brother help each other feed the animals, and the day before the dead horse and goats were found, they had fed the horses six.

"We limit it (hay) in eight bales because it becomes soiled," he continued. Feeding the 31 horses more, he said, would lead to waste of food. "They're range fed in the summer," he added.

The hay was not kept at the Novi farm barn, David explained, it was purchased from Revel E. Greer's farm on Six Mile road and transported to Novi. This is the reason, David said, why he and his brother had not fed the horses earlier Monday. A truck was needed and David's had a dead battery; later, a relative's truck was used and the hay spread along the road because snow made the driveway impassable.

Orvel, however, contradicted David's testimony. He said he fed the animals 15 bales of hay, and when questioned further, stated that a total of 23 bales were fed to the horses per day. "Only I would know about the 15 bales," he said.

This is the third time similar charges have been brought against the brothers.

Proclamation

In many areas of the United States today respect for constituted authority, law and order, and the principle of the supremacy of law, are being recklessly challenged.

The rights and freedoms which Americans accept as their birthright are made possible only by unswerving public acceptance of and obedience to the rule of law. In today's complex society there is a particular need for understanding on the part of every citizen that respect for law is vital to the preservation of individual liberties and a free and orderly society.

The Congress of the United States, and the President by official proclamation, have designated May 1 as Law Day USA. It is a day set aside for all Americans to reflect on our heritage of individual liberty under law and to focus attention on the responsibilities of citizenship. The theme for the 10th annual observance this year carries a timely message for every American: "No man is above the law, and no man is below it."

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Wesley E. McAtee, Mayor of the City of Wixom do hereby proclaim Monday, May 1, 1967 as Law Day USA in the City of Wixom and call upon all citizens organizations, churches, and schools to recognize this special day through appropriate programs.

Dated at the City of Wixom this 24th day of March, 1967.

Wesley E. McAtee, Mayor

In Crusade for Information Launch New War on Cancer

The continuing battle against cancer takes on a different format this year as door-to-door survey work replaces fund solicitation.

This is the word from Dr. Scott T. Harris, clinical director of Plymouth State Home and Training School and the 1967 Cancer Crusade chairman for Western Wayne county.

According to Dr. Harris, during the April Crusade, thousands of volunteers will be going to their neighbors' doors asking information relative to a nationwide study into the causes of breast cancer.

Volunteers recruited for the house-to-house survey will be calling on the public during the week of April 24, he said. They will be provided with professionally prepared questionnaires and specially processed pencils for use in the computations.

Through the survey officials hope to uncover any relationship between breast cancer and such conditions as obesity (extreme overweight), diabetes and other physical characteristics. Volunteers for the survey are needed, he said. Interested persons are asked to call the Plymouth office at 453-3010, from 1 to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday, Mrs. Richard Norton at 345-2467, or Mrs. Edward C. Kelly, 340-4173.

Mrs. Norton of Northville is Crusade division chairman and Mrs. Kelly, also of Northville is the branch chairman of the Michigan Cancer Foundation.

The Michigan Cancer Foundation, a Torch Drive agency, will not be participating in any form of fund-raising. Dr. Harris emphasized, "Cancer Foundation volunteers will ask only for information and distribute educational literature.

Volunteers, the proclamation explains, seek to gather information pertinent to this lifesaving study by conducting the door-to-door crusade during the week of April 24.

To give emphasis to the April Crusade, the Northville city council Monday night adopted a resolution proclaiming April as Cancer Control Month and urging all citizens to give their support to the Michigan Cancer Foundation's survey.

Inside Information makes you a better cook!

Here's "inside information" of a brand new variety... a meat probe that has the "good sense" to know when your roast is perfectly cooked! How does it work? Simple. Into the center of the meat you put a thermostatic probe. One end of which is plugged into the oven wall; slide the roast into the oven and turn the indicator to the exact degree of doneness you want. No more peering, guessing, or guessing... the meat probe gets the right "inside" information and then automatically shuts the oven off.

Automatically starts you thinking about a new gas range - doesn't it?

Present: Allen, Black, Canterbury and Nichols. Absent: Carlson (Excused - vacation).

Minutes of the March 20, 1967, meeting were approved with the following corrections: page 1, Communications 45 - insert "James Allen from" after "letter of resignation".

Moved by Canterbury, support by Nichols, to pay bills in the following amounts:

General	$19,905.38
Water	9,725.00
Other Government	10,701.61

Unanimously carried.

Communications from Citizens: Messrs. Stevens and Butterworth, residents of Northville Heights Sub #2, present and asked what had been done about the pond of water adjoining their property.

City Attorney stated the terms of agreement, relative to a building commitment from Village of Novi and Mr. Slatkin, which will be presented to Novi Village Council at their next meeting on Monday, April 10 (water in question will be drained through Slatkin's West Ridge Sub).

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hammond, 549 Grace street, were present to petition Council's aid in solving the sewer problem at above address. They reported 1 foot of water in their basement as a result of Sunday's (April 2nd) storm. City Manager reported Mr. Hartner had checked this and found that several residences in the vicinity of 549 Grace have root problems in connection with their sewers. Council directed the city manager to have the sewer checked again and also the water line at 549 Grace street.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Harrison, 851 Carpenter, attended to report water and/or sewage seeping up through their basement floor. After considerable discussion, city manager was directed to:

- (1) Clean sewer line in this area.
- (2) Possibly approach the county that is responsible for the depression in sewer line caused by construction of new relocated Eight Mile road.
- (3) City manager and Councilman Nichols are to work together on checking downspouts and patios in Northville Heights area; also Amerman school downspouts.
- (4) Review location of sanitary sewer line from Northville Heights Sub #2 to main line.

Approval of Purchase Contract for Burroughs Sensimatic machine: City manager explained the payment of the purchase price of $7600.40 for the Burroughs Sensimatic accounting machine (payable over 18 months period); also this can be paid in full whenever financially feasible.

Moved by Canterbury, support by Black, to adopt the following resolution to waive competitive bidding for the purchase of above accounting machine. (on file at city hall). Unanimously carried.

Moved by Black, support by Nichols, to purchase a Burroughs Sensimatic accounting machine, #F-1501C, as per terms of contract and accompanying letter dated March 21, 1967. Unanimously carried.

Report from City Manager on Fish Hatchery property: City manager reviewed this matter, explaining that 12 1/2 acres on southside of Seven Mile was city's interest - with 3 A. on north side to be released for sale. Since then the school board has met and decided that they feel the north 3 A. is desirable and wants the city to apply for it at 50% purchase price. Northville township has no interest in northerly portion but shares city's interest in south portion and has not yet committed themselves as to financial aid.

City manager was instructed to take the next step in application for fish hatchery property (if school pays 100% for north side, they should also share in payment for south portion on 50% purchase).

Review of revised Subdivision ordinance: City manager explained that revised (March 21, 1967) Subdivision Ordinance has been reviewed by Northville City Planning Commission. This ordinance should be reviewed by council members before the public hearing at the next regular Council meeting on Monday, April 17, 1967, 8:00 p.m.

Romney Ignores Politics in Naming U-M Regent

LANSING - Recognition of ability is the basis for appointments to public office.

Frequently Gov. George Romney has been criticized, as have other governors, for leaning too heavily on political factors in his appointments.

Only rarely has any public acclaim been given to Romney for his appointments which historically and traditionally are doled out to party workers.

Appointment of Otis M. Smith, regent to fill a vacancy on the elective University of Michigan Board of Regents drew applause from both sides of the political fence.

Smith, a former chairman of the Public Service Commission and Auditor General, was defeated last November in a bid for another term on the State Supreme Court. He lost to a Republican-supported Irishman whose name was Democrat in Wayne county. A Democrat, Smith took his loss gracefully.

Several Republicans certainly could have been found with public service experience closely matching that of Smith's. It must be assumed that Romney weighed heavily on Smith's personal attributes and felt he was a man who should be duly rewarded without regard to politics.

Michigan would be served well if all appointments were made on the same basis.

Michigan's freeways have been in use long enough for many motorists to take the high-speed convenience for granted.

Many still drive in the left lane although the left lane should be used

Roger Babson Inflation Vacation Due to End

BABSON PARK, Mass. A year ago everybody was talking about inflation. Food prices - especially meats were soaring. Business was booming. But the stock market was going down. Those who had bought stocks at a hedge against inflation were puzzled, and disturbed. This year stocks have climbed smartly in the face of falling production and rather flat prices. What has happened to inflation?

When we listen to stock brokers, we feel that all one has to do in order to make money is to buy common stocks and let inflation take its course. But when the government economists discuss the matter, we get the impression that to have no inflation is bad, a little is good, and a lot would wipe us all out. Then we talk with some pretty smart bankers, and they just about convince us that the best recipe for a real stretch of prosperity is to have all prices tilt gently downward.

Thoroughly confused, we ask ourselves: just what is inflation? After talking with more economists and bank-

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Tributes to retiring and long serving community officials have been the order of the day recently in this area.

Last week the township badge farewell to Clerk Rita Young and Ralph H. Willis, building inspector.

Saturday night the city paid tribute to Northville Councilmen John Canterbury and Fred Kester. The former retired from the council after 12 years, while Kester moved from the city recently.

On the same evening Novia area residents honored an official who is still serving the community, Police Chief Lamont BeGole.

The Novi chief had to have help to carry away his "load". It included a color television set, special communications radio for his personal car, a silver revolver and a couple plaques.

Editor Jack Hoffman reports that the BeGole banquet was attended by a full house of Novi citizens who appreciate the good work of their police chief. BeGole has been running Novi's police and fire departments for nearly 15 years. His service to the sprawling area has been outstanding. And it speaks well for Novi citizens that they are thoughtful enough to recognize this service while it is being given and not at time of leaving or retirement.

The sponsoring Kiwanis Club, Chairman Frazier Staman and others who helped make the tribute a success deserve congratulations for their recognition of a valued employee.

Because of the conflict in "tribute meetings", I was unable to attend the BeGole salute, but I'd like to add my personal thanks to Lee. We were friends before he came to Novi and I can think of no public official who has shown greater devotion to his job than BeGole.

An attorney as well as a police chief, BeGole knows his job well. Those who encounter him, whether it be as a lawyer or fellow officer, learn he is firm, but fair.

As a community, Novi can count itself as fortunate to have Lee BeGole on duty... usually 24 hours.

Not infrequently this writer, as well as other taxpayers, find the urge to criticize irresistible. Usually without good reason we can point out things wrong with our respective governments.

This thought during talks recently with both Mayor Allen and Councilman Canterbury about the city of Northville's first 12 years.

Man went on trial last week. The crime: the murder of 6,000,000 human beings.

The verdict: guilty.

Looking on with either horror, amazement or indifference was a nationwide audience as one of those rare moments, for television, unfolded. It was the adaptation of Peter (Marat/De Sade) Weiss' searing drama of the Jewish pogrom in Germany during World War II, "The Investigation."

This is the story of atrocities normally attributed to the Nazis, told with unrelenting veracity through close adherence to testimony taken from the post-war Nuremberg trials. One by one the witnesses spill their bloody stories.

Articulate, hardened, the first witness spoke with impeccable English of her struggle for survival. How she clawed over the dead, stealing their food and beds, to rise to the position of secretary, keeping the prolific flies of the dead - 4,000,000 in four years at Auschwitz.

Dreamy-eyed, another woman took the witness chair and softly began her broken tale of the clinic, where women were used as guinea pigs for sterilization experiments. Radiation treatments, hardening vaginal paste and other inhumane treatments, all leading to death, senseless and brutal.

On the verge of tears, a bespectacled, balding man quietly began his story. To survive, he helped patients down as a fatal dose of phenol was injected directly into the heart. His father was among them.

On and on went the wretched stories of human cruelty, told by the living dead. Packed like animals into box cars, thousands upon thousands of emaciated Jews debarred at Auschwitz, where they suffered indescribable indignities. Most of them - women, children and old men - were marched off to the gas chamber, where 2,000 were exterminated every hour. Then the bodies were incinerated.

There's quite a list of accomplishments. Both Allen and Canterbury have served on every city council to date and here's some of the good things they recalled:

- Incorporation itself, transformation from a village to a city.
- Adoption of the city-manager form of government.
- Broader use of citizens on community committees to gain talented assistance for community improvement.
- Property assessment techniques that have reduced, or eliminated, inequities.
- A program of modified special assessments for needed street paving and improvement programs.
- Retirement plan and employee benefits.
- A new city hall, library, fire station, scout-recreation building and public works area.
- Offstreet parking lots as well as land acquisitions for future development.
- Formation of an economic development committee.
- An improved water distribution and storage system.
- Purchase of Detroit water.
- Formation of a municipal court, a library commission, and an updated schedule of all municipal ordinances.

There are many other worthwhile accomplishments. And there are, of course, some unfinished and some unacknowledged projects.

But for a 12-year-old, Northville hasn't done badly. Future councilors have been given a good example and a tough act to follow.

The recent frequency of school bus vandalism (seven times since Easter) has prompted many citizens to wonder why some counter measures are not taken.

Suggested have been tightly disbursement of buses (to homes, auto garages, etc.), employment of a night watchman or fencing of areas to house buses.

Headfully, by the time this column is read I'll be treating the fairways of the beautiful Golden Horseshoe country club course in Williamsburg, Virginia.

For three days I intend to concentrate on nothing more important than the life of a golf ball in the rough. My wife tells me the area is rich with early American tradition. But if I can't be found between the first tee and 18th hole, this member of a stag foreosome is going to miss it.

Fore.

What else do they do to their phones? "Just about anything you can think of. Some people don't like the color of their phones so they paint 'em. Some are really colorful - even some with floral designs and initials.

"The most common damage, I'd guess, is the scratches to the plastic cases. Many are so bad that we can't repair them so they're scrapped. We get in about 70,000 phones a month and of these about 10,000 are scrapped. The others are reconditioned and returned to service. You can't tell them from new ones.

"Some phones come back after 15 to 20 years of service. And of these some are models that are no longer manufactured. Most of these real old ones are scrapped - except those which are old enough to be called antiques - but those are pretty scarce.

What about those phone booths - how are they damaged? "Your guess is about as good as mine. Some are really torn up; the glass is broken, phones ripped out, they're painted, initials carved in them and, well, they're even used for bathrooms.

"Some of those that come back from the Detroit area are in terrible shape - even the wooden, indoor kind."

Long explained that the newvalium-nium booths have no panel around the bottom so the debris can be cleaned out easier or just blown out with the wind.

"I'd guess about 50 percent of the wooden booths are salvageable and about 50 percent are not."

Miss Knapp Says Thanks

To the Editor:

Miss was a very moving experience when two weeks ago the American Red Cross presented me with a 50-year pin at Cobo Hall. Between six and seven hundred people were present for dinner, an orchestra played, a color guard and band, and I was always cause my heart to skip a beat or two performed, and when I was presented with the pin the entire audience stood up.

Since then I have received many notes, postcards, telephone calls and personal greetings. Two mothers whom I do not know told me how much they enjoyed reading the material in the April 6th Record. Several have said their children (those I have had in school) read it and couldn't believe "you were that old."

Western Electric, the manufacturing and supply arm of the Bell System - and, incidentally, the city of Plymouth's largest employer - hosted a few newsmen this past week to give emphasis to the company's annual report.

More interesting to me than the impressive sales figures passed out by Western's Plymouth executives, however, was a conversation with John Long of Northville, who is supervisor of the firm's return material section.

After seeing an army of wounded telephone booths and telephone receivers and after learning that the Plymouth plant reconditions about 60,000 telephone units a month, I wondered aloud about this destruction.

The wounded phones and booths come in many guises. Some are scratched, some are dented, some are broken, some are missing parts.

"Well, I'd say that the oddest phone I've seen is a 1930s model with a rotary dial and a push-button dial on the same handset."

"Yes, she'd covered the phone with wallpaper."

"It's hard to imagine what some phones look like when they come out of a home or office. It's a real mess of cables - telephones, telephone answering sets, teletypewriters, switchboard equipment, ropes, ladders, and metal anchoring poles."

And, oh, about those year-end sales figures? Locally, Western sells about $60,000,000 worth of equipment and service to Bell - a pretty big chunk of money without counting the $4,800,000 annual payroll for its 660 employees.

rightly." What follows in the article seems based on this quote, since there are other parts of the article to which I will later refer this first point made deserves a comment. How these standards of "think clearly" and "act rightly" are interpreted escapes me. Where is the mystical power that gives these specific meaning?

The article says of teacher strikes, "they are against the public good and they do grave harm to teachers' interests." Neither of these statements are supportable by evidence or logic. In the instances of striking teachers in the last year or two, there has been no evidence brought forward to indicate any negative results accruing to the education of the students. Teachers' interests are done no more harm when teachers take action such as a strike than when they accept that which they are given - it just aggravates different people.

Further, the Babson article says, "most school boards recognize the importance of teachers in community life. In most cases the stubbornness and recalcitrance of officials in the matter of teachers' salaries is based on cold fiscal facts rather than on indifference toward teachers' needs."

It is a fascinating point that the author of the article feels forced to admit in both points above that some boards evidently do not attach importance to the teaching function and refuse salary adjustments on grounds other than "cold fiscal facts."

The acceptance by these boards of the teachers' worth is hard to understand when one examines the kinds and 90 percent of the aluminum ones."

Besides the common damage such as broken windows, some come back "literally flattened by trucks. And in the last couple years, some of the phones in the booth have been damaged by cherry bombs."

Looking back over the 37 years in which he has seen several million phones and booths come back from the battlefield for hospitalization, Long figures that people probably aren't anymore destructive today than they were years ago. "We're handling many more phones, of course, but the destruction isn't any worse."

Don't get the idea that the Plymouth plant must be a cluttered mess. It's just the opposite... one of the cleanest, neatest organizations I've ever been in.

Western's warehouse contains just about every piece of equipment that Bell might use - except telephone poles. In my brief tour I spotted miles of wire - from tiny strings to giant four-inch cables - telephones, telephone answering sets, teletypewriters, switchboard equipment, ropes, ladders, and metal anchoring poles.

numbers of tasks and goals to be achieved that are assumed by these boards as the teachers' responsibilities. Instead of boards taking those actions which would be aimed at facilitating the educational responsibilities of teachers it seems these boards attempt to make it impossible to accomplish anything meaningful.

As for the "cold fiscal facts" being the reason for the stubbornness and recalcitrance in the matter of teachers' salaries, this is completely misleading. The truth of the matter lies in, (1) the determination of priorities by the boards as to how the money will be allocated. Salaries for teachers come last, and, of course, the boards are, "sorry, but that's all the money that is available for salaries."

For the educational process to take place two ingredients are required - students and teachers - these are the real priority items; (2) monies "tucked away" in various accounts, i.e., salaries for more administrative personnel than are hired, more money placed in an account than is necessary, i.e., retiring more debt than is legally necessary in order to realize savings in interest costs and then reflecting this in future salary allotments.

These actions surely indicate boards' real concern of teachers' needs and their importance in community life.

Seek Aid for Appalachia

To the Editor:

We could write this letter to you, and tell you what we saw in the Appalachian Mountains of Kentucky, and we would rather tell you what we feel.

We are four college freshmen who lived and worked with the poorest people of Appalachia during our Easter vacation. But we came back to our placid middle-class society and left them living in shacks, attempting to build a world without tools. And we had there, just 500 miles away, and tell people about our experience, and wonder if we have the right to let us just remain dormant in our memories.

We worked under the Christian Appalachian Project which has started to build a new way of life for the people there. But they can't possibly construct dams, plow fields, and erect schools and playgrounds without equipment. In our industrial cities, we can't conceive how important a truck or a tractor would be to these people.

The four of us who spent time in Appalachia have set a challenge for ourselves. But we are appealing to the people of Michigan for help. We are organizing to raise funds to send a truck to Appalachia.

Second Time in 2 Years

Flames Gut Novi Home

Fire - the second in three years - gutted an Echo Valley home in Novi Saturday. Damage is being estimated at upwards of $50,000.

Owners of the charred tri-level home at 23910 Woodham, Mr. and Mrs. George Lindoerfer, were not injured in the blaze. They were working at the time the fire was reported by neighbors at 12:52 p.m.

But smoke suffused out the lives of the Lindoerfers' two prize poodles, one a rare and valuable, perfect runt. The dogs were found suffocated in the furnace room. Two others were saved.

Faulty wiring in a passageway between the garage and the recreation room was singled out by Novi firemen as the cause of the fire.

Flames were primarily confined to the middle of the house, the family and recreation rooms and the upper-level, master bedroom, but the intense heat from flames that leaped 12 feet high from windows badly scorched the kitchen, dining and living rooms.

Two upstairs bedrooms were not affected, except for smoke. Some furniture can be salvaged, said Paul Follino, local insurance agent.

Seven fire trucks and firemen from Novi, Northville and Walled Lake responded to the alarm. Four hours later, at 4:55 p.m., the fire trucks left the scene after extinguishing the last wisps of smoke.

One Novi fireman, Skip Newton, suffered minor leg burns when he was reportedly atop the roof, fighting the blaze.

This marks the second time fire has gutted the Lindoerfers' home. On the night of December 20, 1964, flames burst out in the opposite end of the house and caused $30,000 damage.

Cause of the 1964 fire was never determined. Follino reports that the kitchen, front room and upper rooms.

While contractors are determining the exact extent of damage, Mr. and Mrs. Lindoerfer will be living in apartments in Farmington. They will rebuild and return once more to their home.

Although the council remained adamant, the planning board changed its vote. The margin favoring the mobile home site was 5-3, with Chairman Raymond Evans, Olin Green, Paul McCollum, Willis Miller and W. Harold Tucker voting "yes" and Kellen Jansen, Victor Rust and Norman Zoll voting "no."

The main issue upon which the council based its decision was the location of the property in question. It was undesirable, council felt, to place a mobile home site within an industrial corridor. This, it was explained, would be spot zoning.

In the opinion of Howard Bond, village attorney, rejecting the request would put the village in a difficult spot to defend its position in court. His warning, read by Evans, did not deter the council.

Presenting the case for owners, Dr. August Holstrom and Mrs. M. Babbitt, were Attorney Lawrence Hetch, Lewis Flaugherty, brought in a real estate expert, and Robert Fannon, prospective purchaser of the Holcom property and partner of the adjacent Highlands Hills trailer park on Seelye road.

A letter advocating "favorable consideration" was presented. Signers were Ruth and Edwin Putnam, John Sweeney and Holcom Industries, Inc. Advocates argued that the land was undesirable for industrial development, that a trailer park would provide needed tax revenues, that trailer park residents would be "buying power," that the state legislature is considering increasing the unit levy against trailer parks from $3 to $5, only adults would live in the proposed park, utilities would be brought in by the developer at no cost to the village and there would be no exorbitant service demands on the police or fire departments.

Advocates further pointed out that establishing another trailer park would provide for homogeneous development of trailer parks in the Seelye road area. Already, parks exist across the street and on neighboring Bagley road.

It was Hetch who pointed out the legal precedent. In only one case, he said, has the court upheld a municipality and rejected upgrading. Putting the mobile home site on the fringe of an industrial area would be upgrading from the industrial use.

In sharp contrast to heated debate over the trailer park, two other requests were routinely granted.

Submitted by the Brighton Realty company, Inc. one provides for the construction of a 70,000 square foot building on approximately 39 acres at the corner of Novi and Nine Mile roads. The building, which will be located in the northeast corner near the cemetery, will house both ABC Photo, processors of amateur films and slides, and F. W. Kerr company, a drug wholesaler.

On the remainder of the right industrial property, a spokesman said, an industrial park may be built. The two companies, he continued, will employ approximately 250 people.

The request of Frank Mobarak, Novi resident, to rezone about six acres from R-1 and R-2 to restricted multiple was also granted. It is located on the north side of 11 Mile road, 1,000 feet east of Novi road. Surrounding property is zoned R-2.

Three times previously the parcel, about 40 acres, has come before the council and planning board. Each time, proposed rezoning met with vigorous opposition from subdivision residents. The last time, however, the parcel was zoned to M-1 and M-2.

Also on the May 23 agenda will be the requested rezoning of 40 acres on 12 Mile road at the intersection with Taft road. Zoned agricultural, medium manufacturing (M-2) is sought.
