The president of Eastern Michigan University will be the guest speaker at the Northville high school graduation ceremonies on June 12.

Doctor Harold E. Spenberg, author, educator and scholar, will address the students on the subject, "Opportunity and Responsibility."

Born on September 26, 1918, in New Richmond, Minnesota, Doctor Spenberg has had a distinctive career in education, culminating in his appointment as president of the Ypsilanti university in 1965.

Previously, he served as president of Washburn university, Topeka, Kansas (1961-65), vice president of academic affairs at Northern Michigan university (1956-61), and director of university extension and professor of education at the Michigan State university (1954-58).

He was the executive secretary of the National 4-H Foundation (1953-54), before assuming various positions at MSU, as director of the Educational Placement bureau (1950-53), assistant dean of students (1948-50) and assistant professor of English (1946-48).

His academic career began at Gustavus Adolphus college, where he graduated after three years with a bachelor of arts degree in 1940. Active in debate,

Schoolcraft Awards Parking Lot Contract

Construction of a second 1,200-car parking lot for Schoolcraft college students was assured last week when the college Board of Trustees awarded a contract to Cadillac Paving Company, Southfield.

The lot will be developed at the south end of the campus on Hagerway road on approximately 10 acres of property recently acquired by the college. The lot will be paved with asphalt and completed by mid-August. With it, the college will have parking for approximately 2,400 student cars.

The board action was one of three affecting construction projects on the campus. Trustees, at a regular meeting Wednesday night, May 17, approved final plans for a proposed physical education plant on the campus and instructed the project architect, Eberle M. Smith associates, Detroit, to prepare bidding specifications.

The trustees also awarded a contract for $40,830 to Perfection Building company, Southfield, for remodeling work in the administration building.

The project in the administration building is keyed to remodeling work nearing completion in the former student center which will become the new home of the Office of Student Affairs.

The administration building will be modified to provide additional office space for the Office of Instruction, the Business Office and the President's Office.

Perfection was low bidder among five on the project. Other bids were Zervos Construction Co., Detroit, $41,186; Smith & Young Co., Wayne, $44,678; W. J. Howard & Sons, Inc., Ferndale, $47,200; and Lawrence G. Markey, Inc., Detroit, $51,623.

Cadillac was low among seven bidders on the parking lot, with a base price of $225,000.

Bills-Hamill-Becker Associates, Inc., Livonia, are architects for both the parking lot and the administration building remodeling.

Mustanger Wins Top Press Honor

The Mustanger, the official Northville high school newspaper, was awarded a First Class rating by the National Scholastic Press association, it was announced this week.

It's the first time the tabloid newspaper, established in 1964, has entered any newspaper rating service. The NSPA is affiliated with the University of Minnesota.

Entries are judged in all areas of production, from coverage through writing and makeup. A First Class honor rating means the newspaper is excellent but lacks the outstanding qualities needed for All-American, the top rating. There are three other lower categories.

Journalism students are responsible for production of the newspaper under the supervision of Editor Lynn Tihhka. Publication advisor is Ralph Redmond, high school English and journalism teacher.

31 'Forgotten' Children Find Home with Novi Couple

The little girl walked timidly into the bright living room, crumbs ringing her mouth. "Mommie, what do I wear?"

The woman sitting in the chair, eyes sparkling and grinning widely, encircled the girl with her arm, told her what to wear, then laughed. "What have you been eating?" "Cookie," was the reply. "Well, wipe off your mouth and I'll be up shortly," the woman said.

A normal exchange between mother and daughter? Hardly. This was the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Farah, 4650 Grand River, and the little girl was one of five foster children now living with the Farahs.

In the past 24 years, they have had 31 foster children, 16 of whom have been adopted. Besides that, the Farahs have five children of their own.

Their record of success with cast-off children brought them an honor recently. They were named "Foster Parents of the Year" for Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties.

The little girl who had just walked out of the spacious living room where the Farahs sat was a victim of cerebral palsy, a paralyzing brain disease. But she was making progress toward recovery, thanks to the infinite patience and loving care of her foster parents and through medical treatment.

To the Farahs, the little girl was not unusual. "Most of them come to us with physical disabilities, psychological problems or are known tramps," Mr. Farah said slyly but with considerable firmness. "We have never refused when asked to take a child."

The appeal for board and room comes from the juvenile division of Wayne county probate court, the same agency that nominated the Novi couple for the "Foster Parents of the Year" award.

"Most of the children are boys," Mr. Farah explained, "about two-thirds, because it is more difficult to find homes for boys. There are fewer little girls because people go out of their way to take care of them—they seem more helpless."

"When girls are older, however," Mrs. Farah added, "it is more difficult to find a foster home for them." Teenage life is chaotic and girls are a big responsibility. Even boys, though, are difficult to find homes for when they're older," Mrs. Farah later added.

Another little girl with a brace on her leg walked slowly to the room, asking for "mommie." Mrs. Farah, talking gently and with obvious delight, took the brush from the little girl and began combing her hair.

When the Farahs took her, they explained, she was nothing more than a blob, unable to sit upright, barely able to talk. "She had a club foot, complete facial paralysis, crossed eyes, very poor vision," Mr. Farah said. Because she was considered mentally retarded, she was slated to be sent to children's mental institution.

The immediate goal—adoption—is a long and gratifying time. The foster children have stayed as long as five and one-half years and as short as three months.

"We hate to see them leave. It kills you," Mrs. Farah said. "But it's a little bit like graduation. The whole idea behind the foster home is adoption."

Why don't the Farahs adopt the children? Simply, finances don't permit it. Adoption means complete responsibility, financial and legal. Mr. Farah works as a tool crib attendant at Star Cutter in Farmington.

The state and county pay all medical expenses and for clothing and $2 per child per day for food. All other expenses involved in raising the foster children—presentations, entertainment, hair cuts, transistor radios, bikes—come out of the Farahs' pocket.

Of course, there is the wear and tear on furniture, Mrs. Farah explained, not through intentional destructiveness, but through use and an occasional accident. "I'm always one or two broken windows behind," Mr. Farah commented.

Actual money plunked down does not take into consideration the time, worry and care involved. Mrs. Farah may spend as much as 18 hours per week at the hospital alone.

Why the undying devotion to the foster children? The answer buries itself in the personalities of Mr. and Mrs. Farah, far from any facile explanation. At first, Mrs. Farah volunteered that "I always wanted a big family." She was the eldest of 13 children, born in Espanola, Ontario, Canada.

Mr. Farah, a thoughtful, quiet man, but one who speaks with firm conviction, said, "When you sit down and do some soul searching, you wonder why yourself. We just find ourselves doing it."

Their labor of love began in 1943, shortly after the Farahs were married. A man working with Mr. Farah asked him to take care of his two young daughters while he was going through divorce proceedings. The little girls stayed for two years.

Within that period, thinking they could not have any children of their own, the Farahs brought a child home from Canada to their Detroit home. Now there were three children. They adopted the boy, named Hal. He is presently attending Valparaiso university, majoring in history and English.

Ironically, Mrs. Farah became pregnant shortly thereafter, giving birth to Cynthia, who is 20 now and working in the area. Their other children are Michael, 16, Maxine, 14 and Stephen, 12.

In Detroit, she was the vice-president of the Detroit Council of Parents and Teachers with a membership of 50,000, to name only one activity.

"I was pleasantly surprised at the number of groups in Novi," Mrs. Farah said. "I thought I'd be lost. I enjoy doing community work." Mr. Farah interjected, "I came out to get lost; she was afraid of getting lost."

Mr. Farah is a volunteer fireman, Mrs. Farah is secretary of the Novi Youth Protective Services association, secretary of the Cityhood committee, past president of the Novi Mothers club, a member of the Good-fellows, the Band Boosters club and the Novi Industrial Development commission.

Barely Misses Train

A 47-year-old Novi woman miraculously escaped death in the face of an approaching train last Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Peter J. Neuhaus, 46841 12 Mile road, can thank two pieces of steel track jutting up from the ground at the side of 12 Mile road for saving her life.

As she was attempting to avoid a collision with the southbound train, her car hit the steel tracks. It rolled over, crushing the top of the vehicle, which came to rest four feet from the moving train.

"I just opened the door on the passenger side," Mrs. Neuhaus said, "and got out."

There were flashing red lights at the crossing, but Mrs. Neuhaus said she didn't see them. The sun was glaring off them.

Suddenly, she did see the train crossing the road as she was driving east on 12 Mile road. "I tried to stop," she told

For Senior, Junior Highs Honors Assemblies Planned

For the first time in its history, Novi will hold separate honors assemblies for junior and senior high school students on Wednesday, June 7.

The senior high school honors convocation will take place at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Junior high school award ceremonies are scheduled for 10:15 a.m. in the high school auditorium.

Parents are invited to attend both assemblies.

High school master of ceremonies will be Jon Van Wagner, president of the student council. A rotating high program and Hartman will present the awards. The high school band will also perform.

Ticketed for recognition are athletes, winners of inter-school athletic activities, those with perfect attendance records, class officers, student council members and representatives, honor roll members, those excelling in academics and winners of the leadership and citizenship awards.

Master of Ceremonies for the junior high assembly will be Robert Cliff, president of the eighth grade, assisted by Kathy Radtke, president of the seventh grade, who will lead the pledge of allegiance.

Presenting the awards will be Principal Hartman. The junior high school band and chorus both will participate in the ceremonies.

Certificates will be awarded for athletics, attendance, honor roll, student council and academic excellence.

Miss Gloria Soulliere, teacher and counselor, is the director of the programs.

College to Open in Fall

Novi will have a college virtually camping on its doorstep come September. Called Orchard Ridge, the new branch of Oakland Community college is only 15 minutes away.

Seven of the 11 buildings now under construction at the campus, located south of I-696 between Farmington and Orchard Lake roads, will be completed by fall, a college spokesman announced at a luncheon Thursday noon.

Three other buildings are expected to be completed within the school year. Fifty-six courses will be offered, including accounting, library technology, commercial art, data processing and secretarial and freshmen transfer programs for pre-education, pre-law, pre-business and other professional programs.

Cost of the finished campus, buildings plus furnishings, is pegged at $18.5 million.

Match Play Razes House Worth $2,000

A vacant house being used for storage bared to the ground Saturday evening as the result of a little girl playing with matches.

Damage to the house, owned by Russell Ortwin at 28175 Novi road, was estimated at $2,000, a complete loss.

According to Novi police, the fire, which broke out at 8:28 p.m., was started by the Ortwin's five-year-old daughter. She told her mother, who had just returned from work, that she had lit several matches and a blanket caught fire.

The vacant home is located near the Ortwin's home at the same address. Fourteen Novi firemen and two trucks fought the blaze for about two hours.

54-Night Meet Downs Opens

They'll be off and running tonight at 8:30 o'clock when Northville Downs opens its 24th annual harness racing meet.

Executive Manager John Carlo is optimistic over the outlook for the 1967 meeting running during the prime mid-summer season.

He predicts that the average nightly mutual handle will be near $300,000, topping the record handle of $292,896 set last year.

Latest improvement at the Downs is the installation of a new " tote " board which provides fans with complete wagering information as bets are placed and instantaneously records running time as the race progresses. The $50,000 installation is in the infield facing the stands.

As in past years, 10 races will be run nightly with daily double wagering on the first and second races.

Last year the opening night, Monday, June 27, attracted 3,891 fans who wagered $236,611.

Two all-time records were set at Northville last season: a mutual handle of $410,130 on Friday, July 29 for the biggest Friday, and a weekend mark of $795,958 on the same weekend.

Bells are still ringing for a former Northville woman who recently reproduced a much-praised Broadway musical in her new home of Navato, California.

She is Mrs. Robert Casady, the former Marilyn Cavelli. Her ringing success was "Bells Are Ringing", staged by the Navato Community Players. It was the second Broadway musical produced by the club.

"Magnificent choral work and a number of excellent performances" and "another bright diamond in a string" were but a few of the complimentary reviews handed Mrs. Casady and her crew of production artists and actors. The show ran for three weekends, May 5-6, 12-13, and 19-20.

In Our Town

By JEAN DAY

TWO NORTHVILLE families whose garages contain prize classic cars will be showing them at the Carnival of Cars being sponsored by the Classic Car club of Detroit this Sunday at the Ford engineering grounds in Dearborn.

J. R. Jackson of Silchester circle will enter his 1931 Model A Ford which in last year's competition won first prize in both the Model A and the overall contests.

Bruce Thomas, a Classic Car club member, plans to enter his 1933 dual-cowl Phaeton Chrysler Imperial. He also expects to be in the Grand Classic to be held in July at the Greenfield Village, in conjunction with this major event for car collectors will be a banquet get-together.

Mrs. Thomas, who shares her husband's enthusiasm in this hobby, declares that the banquet is one of the enjoyable bonuses and a chance to meet again with other enthusiasts.

The Thomases, who live on Shadbrook road, also have one of the first airfow Chryslers.

During the long Memorial Day holiday the Thomases family enjoyed a reunion with former neighbors from Lafayette, Indiana, as the families met at White Lake near Lake Michigan. The Thomases also are a "camper" family and this was a first-of-the-season outing.

The Jacksons spent the holiday opening their cottage at Osoda, in addition to his Model A Ford, Ray Jackson also has a 1932 Ford, a first V-8.

Mrs. Jackson will not be able to be on hand to see him defend the Model A's laurels Sunday, as she will be attending the Moraine school dedication.

THE DEDICATION program at Northville's new Moraine elementary school from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday also is to be an open house for officials, parents and interested citizens to inspect the new school on Eight Mile road.

Hospitality for this occasion will be the first project of the newly organized P.T.A. Its president, Mrs. Robert Bogart, says she has many willing workers with Mrs. Donald Hoover arranging for greeters and mothers to assist at the tea table; Mrs. Lee Zenonand, with Mrs. Lou Yeager and Mrs. Richard Hannert, is in charge of refreshments.

On Mrs. Hoover's committee are Mrs. Richard Brown, Mrs. William Hirth, Mrs. Larry Wood, Mrs. Richard Goize, Mrs. David Goss, Mrs. Lawrence Bergner, Mrs. Bernard Bach, Mrs. Michael Pisk, Mrs. May Price, Mrs. G. R. Honecker and Mrs. Clifton Annett. Mrs. Walter Carter has the special assignment of making certain all visitors are asked to sign the Dedication Day guest book.

As parents involved with social activities in Northville's other four schools have found in the past, Mrs. Zenonand says her "Biggest assist" is from Mrs. Marie Knapp, high school dietitian, who is helping with food arrangements and even volunteered to be present herself Sunday. "And I know how busy she is," Mrs. Zenonand adds, appreciatively, "for I saw her school calendar, which is full!"

Moraine's principal, Milton Jacobi, has invited local businessmen and the Senior Citizens to tour the new building. Earlier this year, at the school's organizational P.T.A. meeting, he discussed the moral obligations of parents in an age "when children are coming to kindergarten with a knowledge of the world."

Decrying the number of parents who are "divorced from their children" and their interests, he warned that "if we don't teach our children, someone else will."

His "parent interest" was high last Friday, however, as pupils in lower grades presented a music program to fill multi-purpose room... and parents had arrived through clouds of dust as the school drive was being blacktopped.

PLAN SPRING DANCE - Busy making last preparations for the annual spring dinner-dance sponsored by the Newcomers Club are several of the club's members. Reservations for the two-part activity must be made no later today. A 6 p.m. cocktail will be held at a member's home prior to the dinner dance at the Mayflower Hotel on June 10. Workers are (l to r, standing) Marge Kutcher, Marilyn Kaestner, Lini Handy, and Annelise Mathes; (seated) Donna Ollendorff, Joyce Carwright, and Mrs. Holton Axtell, hostess.

Mrs. Arthur Hemepe, Jr. She'll Head '67 Torch Drive

A Northville housewife, Mrs. Arthur H. Hemepe, Jr., of 48246 Onner Court W., has been appointed chairman of Western Wayne's residential campaign for the 1967 Torch Drive.

She was named to the unit chairmanship this week by Mrs. Milton B. Osgood, of Indian Village, tri-county residential campaign chairman.

"I am delighted Mrs. Hemepe has accepted this important position," Mrs. Osgood said. "She has worked for the Torch Drive in leadership capacities since 1963 and is enthusiastic, dedicated and able."

Mrs. Hemepe was division chairman for Northville's residential campaign for the last two years. She previously had served as district chairman.

In her new post, Mrs. Hemepe will supervise the organization and training of thousands of Western Wayne volunteers for the drive scheduled October 17 through November 9.

She also will be responsible for their collections which provide operating funds for nearly 200 health and community services.

Since moving to Northville from Chicago six years ago, Mrs. Hemepe has been active in community affairs.

Last year, she served on United Community Services' community relations committee, was a member of the Northville Parent-Teacher association council and co-chairman of the community's P-TA carnival.

A registered nurse, she organized a volunteer program for child care at Plymouth State Home and Training School. She trained volunteers for work with retarded children in the institution and adapted the program to the existing organizational structure.

Mrs. Hemepe is a member of Northville branch, Woman's National Park and Garden association, and Northville Woman's club.

A past president of Northville Newcomers club, she made an unsuccessful bid for election to the school board in 1964.

Her husband is vice-president of sales and a part owner of O & S Bearing Co., Whitmore Lake.

3-Day Class Here Festival Violist to Instruct

Violist (c) Paul Doktor, who will perform with the Schoolcraft college Summer Music Festival Court Orchestra on July 26, will conduct a three-day master class for string section students enrolled in the college's summer music school, Wayne Dunlap, director of the school, has announced.

One of the outstanding violists in the world, Doktor will join the summer school music faculty to conduct a chamber music seminar July 24 through 26. Professional musicians in the area will be invited to attend the seminar, Dunlap said.

"Doktor's appearance here will provide an unparalleled experience for young musicians - as well as professional - to attend a class presided over by one of the great artists of our day," Dunlap said.

"Our good fortune in securing the services of an artist of Mr. Doktor's caliber is doubly important in view of the enrollment plan for the summer music school.

"Every student will be part of a performing ensemble," Dunlap explained. "Thus, our enrollment must be selective in terms of individual instruments."

"We will shortly reach our limits in woodwind players. At the moment, the greatest opportunity for enrollment is for string section musicians."

Dunlap emphasized that June 15 is the deadline for applying for admission to the four-week summer session which will be from July 3 through 26. Formal registration will be on June 26 and 27 from 9 a.m. until noon in the college library. Fees will be payable at that time.

Doktor will augment a faculty composed of performing musicians, all of whom are now or have been members of the Detroit Symphony. They include Cellist Barbara H. Fickett, Flutist Marilyn Jones, Violinists Emily Mutter Austin and Inez Fullinger Redman, Oboist Robert Cowart, and James Tamburini, trumpet and brass.

The Schoolcraft Summer music school, in its first year, already has taken on an international flavor in its student body with the enrollment of several young Canadian musicians.

In addition, Dunlap said, a number of students are from Detroit, Southfield, Ferndale, Walled Lake and other communities outside the college district.

The weekly court concerts will be offered in conjunction with the summer music program at Schoolcraft and will feature, in addition to Doktor, Pianist William Dogman on July 5; Leslie Elton, mezzo-soprano, on July 12; and the Kenneth Jewell Choral on July 19.

ORIGINAL DESIGN BY JOHN BROWN OF PIPERS BROS. PLYMOUTH

John Brown of Piper's Alley, sandal creator for some of the world's top entertainers, designed this swinging sandal expressly for Plymouth.

It's made with the same careful construction, the same workmanship, the same authentic hand-stitching, and the same selected prime leathers that go into John Brown's costly custom sandals.

New Landlord® 2012 is the most powerful tractor in Simplicity history. Synchro-balanced engine drastically reduces vibration for comfort and efficiency. Landlord® 2012 is a slightly less powerful version of the 2012 tractor. Like the 2012, it has Friction-Traction tires and attachments that allow it to handle more than 20 jobs with ease.

New Broadmoor® 707 tractor packs new 7 hp adding more vigor to its all-season utility. Mowing, snow removal and odd jobs around the home come easy with easy-on attachments.

Wonder-Bay® 404 is more than a mower. This 6 hp wonder works all year round while you sit in foam-cushioned comfort. Attachments change in seconds without you touching a tool.

Wonder-Bay® 404 puts 4 hp in a compact, maneuverable package - stores easily in cramped quarters. Features 24-in. rotary mower with free-floating Pivots. Compact price, too! Come on in and we'll help you choose. We've got a "yard stick" for measuring your Simplicity need.

Netters Qualify For State Meet

Northville turned in a history making performance in the regional tennis tournament last week, but the Mustangs came out second best.

Other teams in order of finish were: Holy (6 points), Fenot (5), Ecorse (4), Dearborn Riverdale (3) and Dearborn Crestwood (2).

Boerger and Burnett, likewise, had easy going in their first two matches. They won 6-1, 6-3 in the first match and 6-1, 6-2 in the second.

Nips Clarkston, 3-1

Mustang Nine Wins Title!

The long road back ended at the top last Thursday. Amid swirling dust and a partisan hometown crowd at Clarkston, the Northville Mustangs beat Clarkston in a showdown battle, 3-1, to win the Wayne-Oakland Conference championship.

Unlike last year when Northville shared the crown with Milford, Northville won this one outright with a 12-2 mark. Clarkston, the league leader for all but the last week of the season, faded to a 11-3 record.

It was a fitting finish to Northville's long uphill struggle, in which Coach Bob Kucher's boys strung together eight consecutive wins to overcome Clarkston's early-season two-game lead.

This was a game that would have sent the father of baseball, Abner Doubleday, into ecstasies. This was baseball at its best - defensively and offensively, pitting the young but maturing Mustangs against the veteran Wolves.

The youthful Mustangs prevailed by drawing a bead on the top pitcher in the W-O circuit and one of the top hurlers in the state, Dan Fife, who is as adept on the mound as he is on the basketball court.

Catcher and Captain Doug Swiss found the all-state cager's pitching to his liking. Swiss pounded out a double and a home run in Clarkston's feeblest ball park, the last of a titanic blast that traveled around 380 feet.

It scored Northville's first two runs in the fourth inning. That margin stood up until the ninth inning when Third Sacker Doug Anglin lined a single to right field, scoring First Baseman Randy Pohlman, who had singled and stole second.

Except for those two sports, Fife was tough, mixing his bandy-legged curve with a good fast ball to keep Northville off balance. He struck out 14.

Coch Kucher pulled the unexpected when he sent Dennis Primeau to the mound. Primeau responded by going the seven-inning route, coming through in several crucial situations to hold Clarkston to only one run.

Team Effort Stops Fife Says Coach

"It was a great effort," Baseball Coach Bob Kucher said after his Mustangs had beaten Clarkston, 3-1, for the championship in the final game of the season.

"It took a great team effort. We were playing away from home in front of a highly partisan crowd and we were battling against Fife (Dan), one of the best pitching prospects in this area."

That Fife is, next year he'll be hurling for the University of Michigan, where he will also play basketball. But Northville knocked the Clarkston ace for five hits, bunching two each in the fourth and seventh innings to score all Northville's runs.

"This was a well played ball game," Kucher continued, the kind of game a championship game should be. Neither team should be ashamed. We just had our minds made up that we could do the job."

While lauding the entire team, Kucher singled out two ball players for an exceptionally fine job, Junior Larry Biddle and Sophomore Stan Nirider.

"I had decided to go all the way with Dennis Primeau, even though he had completed only two games," Kucher explained. (Primeau has been playing shortstop.) "Biddle came in and played shortstop well," the Northville coach said.

"Nirider played a sound game at second base. The error he committed wasn't his fault; he was playing good aggressive ball, tagged the runner and threw hard to first base and hit the runner. It didn't rattle him later either, when he came up with some good stops."

Biddle and Nirider had a hand in what Kucher calls one of the two turning points in the game. "Their double play in the second inning proved to Clarkston that we had a strong defense."

Another turning point came in the fourth inning. Primeau lined a double over the right fielder's head and Catcher Doug Swiss followed with a booming home run to left field for a 2-0 Northville lead.

"That broke the bubble in regard to Fife," Kucher said. "It proved Fife wasn't invincible."

The key play, however, was Centerfielder Pat Hall's leaping catch in the fifth off the bat of Clarkston's Tom Allen, Kucher said. It would have scored runners from second and third, and perhaps could have resulted in a home run.

Primeau was lauded, too. The diminutive junior was tough in the clutch. "I decided to go with him because he's a veteran and throws a good curve. The curve was the big thing - it kept them off balance."

What did Kucher think of the season? "This was a natural championship where you know you're going to win all year, like last year when we led for the title. The Pontiac Press put us in the second division at the start of the season."

Ordination of Tom McGuire Set June 10 at Maryknoll

The Rev. Mr. Thomas McGuire, M.M., of Northville, will be ordained a priest of the Catholic Foreign Mission Society of America, on Saturday, June 10, at Maryknoll seminary in Maryknoll, New York. The Most Reverend Charles E. Brown, M.M., of New York City, auxiliary bishop of the diocese of Santa Cruz, Bolivia, will be ordaining prelate.

Father McGuire, the son of Mr. and

Rev. Thomas McGuire, M.M.

Mrs. John McGuire, of 240 Orchard drive, has been assigned to develop work for the Maryknoll Fathers in the United States, and will be stationed in Chicago, Illinois.

Father McGuire's father owns the Guernsey Farms Dairy in Northville. Father McGuire will celebrate his First Mass on Sunday, June 18, at 1:00 p.m., in Our Lady of Victory church, 770 Thayer boulevard, Northville. The pastor of the church is the Rev. John Wittstock.

A reception for the newly-ordained priest will be held in Our Lady of Victory parish hall for all relatives and friends immediately following Mass.

Father McGuire attended Northville elementary, Our Lady of Good Council grade school in Plymouth, and Our Lady of Victory grade school in Northville. He graduated from Our Lady of Sorrows high school in Farmington.

He received his bachelor of arts degree from Sacred Heart Seminary in Detroit in 1962 and entered Maryknoll the same year to begin studies for the foreign mission priesthood. At Maryknoll seminary, he was awarded his bachelor of divinity and master of religious education degrees.

During the summers, Father McGuire worked in his family's mill plant and he has traveled to Mexico and Colombia.

He has been active in CIASP—the Conference on Inter-American Student Projects—a collegiate summer work program which is directed from its national secretariate at Maryknoll.

He has seven sisters and six brothers. One sister is a nun, Sister John Elise, O.P., currently a teacher at Resurrection school in Lansing. A brother, Hugh, is in the U.S. Army stationed in Hawaii. All the rest of the family live at the home address except for one sister, Mrs. Margaret Lulis, who resides in Northville and a brother, James, who lives in Plymouth.

Before beginning his new assignment, Father McGuire will have short vacation at home with his family.

Maryknoll is the popular name for the Catholic Foreign Mission Society of America. Founded in 1911, it is today a worldwide mission group of over 1,600 priests, brothers and students, with mission areas in the Far East, Africa, Middle and South America and the Philippine Islands in the Pacific.

The society's major seminary and national headquarters are located at Maryknoll, about 35 miles north of New York city in the town of Ossining. Other Maryknoll institutions and vacation houses are found in California, Illinois, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Texas and Washington.

Teacher Pact Under Study

Review of the proposed new teacher contract proposal will resume tonight (Thursday) by negotiators for the teachers and the board of education.

Several meetings between the two bargaining teams have been held—one since the teachers submitted their proposed package to the board of education last month.

In a meeting last week in the board of education offices, the two sides reviewed a number of the fringe benefit proposals. Among these are: A stock purchase plan, extension of Blue Cross health dependents of teachers, a $10,000 term life insurance policy, a retirement recognition (bonus) fund, and a termination or dismissal pay.

Continued study of these together with review of the salary proposal is expected to come up at tonight's meeting.

To date negotiations have been amicable, although teacher-board estimates of the cost of the teacher proposal vary greatly.

Two Face Jail For Shooting Hill

Two Detroit brothers were slated to be sentenced yesterday (Wednesday) for the shooting and robbery of Northville Attorney Clinton Hill in March of 1966.

Detroit Recorder's Court Judge Vincent Brennan was to hand down sentences for William and Lamond Grayson, who were found guilty May 17 on both counts of armed robbery and assault with intent to murder. The guilty verdicts followed a three-day jury trial in which Hill identified his assailants a total of 28 times.

Hill miraculously escaped death when a bullet fired from the gun of one of the hold-up men passed completely through his neck.

He was confronted by the two men at an abandoned service station parking lot on Grand River near Olympia Stadium where he had been attending the Ice Capades show with his family and friends.

His assailants took his watch, check book and wallet containing more than $120. One of the gunmen then shot Hill and the pair fled.

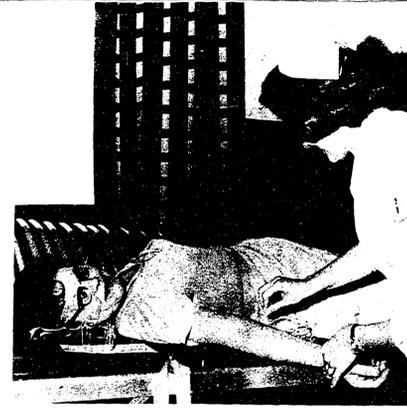

Lamond Grayson, 26, was arrested

William E. Davis, owner of the home, reported the incident on May 21. Stairs, a door, pieces of molding and one door frame were cut up. A box of nails estimated at $50 was destroyed.

On Tuesday Eliza Furman had as guests for Memorial Day Misses Kathleen and Elizabeth Smith from Pleasant Ridge, Mrs. Walter Trepp, Mrs. W. S. Lovejoy and Mrs. Ruth Lovejoy from Milford.

Parade Causes 2-Car Collision An unknown driver, apparently watching Novi's Memorial Day parade, from I-96 expressway caused a two-car collision just east of Novi road.

James Traxler, 18, of Dearborn Heights and Beverly Ann Walker, 23, of Detroit suffered minor injuries, but neither driver required hospitalization.

According to Traxler, as he was driving west in the center lane of the expressway, a car in front of him suddenly stopped. The parade was passing by overhead on Novi road.

When Traxler veered to the left to avoid a collision, his car was hit from behind by Miss Walker's car, which was traveling in the left lane.

Time of the accident was 10 a.m.

Increasing Thefts Hit Northville

A rash of thefts broke out in the Northville area over the past 10 days. An estimated $2-3,000 in processed waste oil for road oiling was stolen from Mergraf Oil company on Railroad street.

The theft was discovered on May 20 by William Spess, plant manager. It was thought to have occurred between the 5 p.m. closing on May 19 and 7 a.m. on May 20.

The oil—from 10 to 15,000 gallons—was apparently siphoned from a pit in the plant area on the east side of the Mergraf building. Cost per gallon is 20 cents.

According to police, the theft must have taken most of the night.

Approximately $414 to $463 in stereo tapes were reported stolen from a locked car parked at 1031 Canterbury street sometime Friday night or early Saturday morning.

Owner of the car and tapes is Randall L. Soubiere, 1031 Canterbury street. About 60 to 70 tapes were stolen. Thieves forced the car door to gain entrance.

A carburetor and gasoline were stolen from car and trucks parked at John Mach Ford, 550 Seven Mile road.

Bruce Godfrey, shop manager, reported the robbery last week Wednesday. It is believed to have taken place between 7 p.m. on May 19 and 7 a.m. the next morning.

The carburetor was stolen from the car, the gas line was cut and gas was drained from the vehicle. Gas was also siphoned from three trucks on the west side of the garage.

A bicycle was stolen from 861 Allen drive, the home of Northville Patrolman Earl VanCise. Cost was estimated at $40.

Van Cise said he heard voices between 1 and 1:30 a.m. outside his home and saw a car drive off. Thinking nothing was amiss, he retired for the night. At 7 a.m., he discovered the bicycle missing.

THE NEW BIRTH
"Rabbi, we know that thou art a teacher come from God: for no man can do these miracles that thou doest except God be with him."
It is tragically possible that a man may know great Bible truths and still not be saved. If this were so, the evangelist's task would merely be one of education. It is not only to know, but to choose. (Joshua 24:15)
Jesus replied to Nicodemus that his words were true, but this was not enough. "Except a man be born again, he cannot see the Kingdom of God." (John 3)
Nicodemus, being a Pharisee, was a religious self-righteous man, but this will not save. He was a scholar of the traditional law, only heaping upon himself a greater condemnation. He was a ruler and leader among the people, but position has never saved. He was a descendant of Abraham but flesh and blood cannot inherit the Kingdom of God. He was a man rich in earthly possessions but what shall it profit a man, though he gain all these things and lose his own soul?
We laugh at the childhood story of the grasshopper who played and hopped about during the summer months, while the ant busily stored up for the winter. How foolish! We thought the grasshopper seemed, knowing that winter was inevitable.
Yes! Is man any less foolish as he frolics through life knowing that death is inevitable, and making no preparation for the seasons' end?
A horse will not attempt to adapt its self to the environment of the fish. Not only would he fail to survive without first an inner change, but his discontent he would feel. Yet some of us have the hopes of a life-after in heaven, never considering that without an inner change, the natural man would be completely out of place.
Some think that they have been born again, hope so, or have "wait and see" attitude. God never put a man on probation. This work was settled once and for all at Calvary when Jesus said "It is finished". This is a personal matter, and no man can choose it for another. Only the individual knows when and if he has come to a place in life when eternal issues weighed heavily on him, and by an act of faith, laid them at the cross, Crowning Christ Lord and Savior.
Regeneration cannot be explained or obtained by human knowledge. It can be imparted but not duplicated. It can be professed and not possessed. There can be an outer change by turning over a new leaf, but no inner change.
Congressman Esch said, "Having worked with the Governor closely in the Michigan legislature, I personally know of his great ability to meet issues head on and to work for constructive solutions. George Romney can bring to the White House renewed dedication, energy, and objectivity. These qualities, more than all others, are what our nation needs today."
Congressman Marvin L. Esch has introduced an Urban Homebased Act aimed at helping poor people by encouraging home ownership. The bill would establish a private, non-profit National Home Ownership Foundation to give technical assistance and loan funds to local community coordinating agencies. The home buyer could purchase a home at a reduced rate with the federal government providing three percent interest assistance. By involving private enterprise, every federal dollar spent will generate $33 in private capital.

Rep. Esch...
Marvin L. Esch and four other new members of the House of Representatives are leading a fight to save the Teachers Corps "from oblivion."
Each, a member of the House Education and Labor committee, emphasized that the testimony before the committee has strongly highlighted the need to maintain the philosophy behind the Teacher's Corps to encourage young people to teach in the inner-city and depressed rural areas schools, and to provide them with the educational background and training necessary for such challenges.
"The Teacher's Corps is in serious danger," Esch said, "and there are legitimate complaints about inherent weaknesses in the present program. Our aim is to correct the administrative weaknesses and thus give the Congress an opportunity to support this worthwhile program."
Congressman Marvin L. Esch (R-Ana Ariz) has joined other Michigan congressmen and Senator Robert Griffin in endorsing the candidacy of Governor George Romney for President.

EUB Churches Cast Vote To Merge with Methodists

The Michigan conference of the Evangelical United Brethren Church— with which the Willowbrook Community Church is affiliated—voted last Wednesday to approve the union with the Methodist Church.
Robert Wilkins of Willowbrook attended the 10th annual session of the conference at Faith EUB Church in Lansing.
Specifically, the vote was on a resolution to approve the Constitution and enabling legislation that was approved by both denominations' general conferences meeting concurrently last November 11 in Chicago.
The union vote was 215 to 12 in a standing vote taken in the second full day of deliberations. The percentage of the vote—94.7 percent—is slightly higher than the total vote thus far in the EUB Church. Michigan conference is the ninth annual conference of that denomination to vote on this important issue.
Methodist annual conferences also will be voting throughout the United States on the same proposal. If the proposal receives two-thirds of all votes cast in each denomination, the two denominations will become the United Methodist Church at a special general conference to be held in Dallas, Texas in April of next year.
There are 22,000 EUB members in Michigan in 145 churches.
Also, the Rev. S. V. Norris, pastor of Willowbrook Community Church, was returned for another year in the local church.

Schmidt...
Representative Louis E. Schmidt has co-sponsored a bill (2178) which would permit the taking of a new census to determine the amount of state sales tax, intangibles tax, and income tax to be received by a unit of government.
It is estimated, based on the growth in the Oakland county portion of Northville, that additional taxes may be available if the law is enacted, he said.
The estimates are:
1960 census - Oakland portion of Northville, $9,338 in sales tax and $1,202 in intangibles tax; Wayne portion of Northville, $28,538 sales and $3,838 intangibles;
New census - Oakland portion, $18,277 sales and $2,359 intangibles; and Wayne portion, $28,538 sales and $3,838 intangibles.
Thus, potential new money that Northville would receive by the new census, he said, would be about $9,339 sales and $1,157 intangibles.
The bill, if enacted, would permit the city to contract with the secretary of state to have a special census conducted under his supervision. The entire cost would be borne by the city. If a special federal census had been taken since the last federal decennial census this could be used under the proposal.
In accordance with federal statistics on census-taking the cost of such census in Northville is estimated at $2,500, he explained.

A Southfield man, cited for violation of the dumping ordinance, was fined $50 in Novi justice court last week.
Leroy E. Eagle, 37, pleaded guilty to dumping rubbish at 41787 Grand River before Justice Emery Jacques. Eagles was also instructed to clean up the debris stream area.
Eugene R. Logas, 24, of Standish was fined $40 for speeding 35 miles per hour in a 55 zone on Grand River between Cochenour street and Meadowbrook road.
John J. Aland, 40, of Farmington pleaded guilty to two counts before Justice Robert K. Anderson. For violation of a financial responsibility license, he was fined $25, and for having improper plates, he was ordered to pay a $10 fine and $10 costs.
Gary R. Palombi, 23, also of Farmington, cited for speeding 75 in a 55 zone on Eight Mile road between Garfield and Napier roads paid a $25 fine.

Ralph Armstrong to Get Ford Service Plaque
Ralph Armstrong, chairman of the Wilson planning commission, will be presented an outstanding service plaque next month by the Ford Motor company.
"His committee's work is important to the destiny of Wilson,"
A technical illustrator in AAD process engineering for the Wilson Ford plant, Armstrong, 2680 Lakeside, will join three other Wilson Ford employees in receiving service awards at the company's Detroit-area community service awards banquet at the Ford headquarters in Detroit.
Local recipients were chosen from a field of 17 candidates who were nominated in February. Another of the four winners is Richard Schliker, an active member of the Walled Lake Rotary club and frequent visitor to meetings of the Novi Rotary Club.
Wilson Mayor Wesley McAtee praised Armstrong's role in the development of the city.
"Ralph does more than attend meetings. He consults regularly with professional planners hired by the city. And he plods through vacant fields where homes or businesses may stand some day."

You're missing a lot when you own a Volkswagen.
A VW has fewer parts than other cars because it needs fewer parts because it has fewer parts to transfer engine power to the rear wheels. Our car's engine is in back to start with and to maintain traction with. That's why it doesn't need a drive shaft.
And it doesn't need a radiator, or a water pump, or hoses. Because the engine's cooled with air, not water.
When you drive your first VW, you may miss putting in antifreeze, rust inhibitors, and whatnot. But you'll soon get used to it!
There's no Volkswagen doesn't use, it doesn't have to haul land waste gas oil. Which is one reason it averages 27 miles per gallon of regular.
And the parts you don't buy, you'll never repair.
So you can't waste money on that.
Now you know why you own a VW for years and years with a lot of part missing. And never miss them.

WE GRADUATE GRADUALLY
No! It doesn't happen in one day. It takes four years.
And it's not really the years that count. It's the days... and the hours...
For when the scroll is in our hand... what are we?
We are what we have become... gradually... through all those hours, days, and years.
So the wiser among us recognize a degree for what it is; a recognition of knowledge and proficiency that have been attained.
And while we're acquiring that knowledge... and while we're applying that proficiency... we build into our hours, days and years the spiritual fibre of religious conviction and Christian service.
For gradually — we are becoming the men and women that one day we will be!

- THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor in the spiritual life of the individual and the community. It is a source of inspiration and strength. It is a source of hope and comfort. # Richard Norton to Lead Club Jaycees Install New Officers

Richard Norton, 325 South Ely drive, was installed as president of the Northville Jaycees Friday night during a dinner program in the Bob-O-Link banquet room.

A Northville teacher, Norton replaces outgoing president, Orville Beemer, who remains as a member of the board of directors.

Other new officers are: Joe Kluesner, first vice-president; Pete Lindholm, second vice-president; Tom Schall, secretary; Fred Zillich, treasurer; and Dennis Snow and James Belz, state directors. All of these officers, plus Beemer, constitute the board of directors.

Besides conducting installation of officers, the Jaycees awarded several of its members special tributes for outstanding service.

Recipients and the award categories included:

Joseph Kluesner, was awarded the most coveted honor - Key Man-Outstanding Jaycee.

Other recipients and award categories included:

Richard Norton (left center) accepts the congratulations of Orville Beemer as the latter turns over the post of Jaycee president. Other new officers are (l to r): James Belz, director; Pete Lindholm, 2nd vice-president; Norton; Joe Kluesner, 1st vice-president; Beemer; Dennis Snow, director; and Fred Zillich, treasurer.

On June 6 Rev. and Mrs. Chambers from the United Indian Mission will be present to bring the church up to date on this work and share some of their plans and projects. Anyone who has not brought in their gifts for the Mission, please do so before then so they can be inventoried and packed.

Christian education committee met Wednesday evening and reports were heard from the various departments.

Mrs. Gerry Thomas is in charge of Children's work, Mr. Dan Thomas chairman of youth work and Mrs. Ken Roberts and Mr. Elwood adult department committee. Plans were heard regarding the Father and Son banquet June 16 with Rev. Will Walker as special speaker.

After the Memorial Day parade all the church folks participated in a potluck picnic on the church grounds. After the picnic games were in order such as baseball, badminton, horseshoes, etc.

GIRL SCOUTS

The Cadettes had a number now and it is 149. The Cadettes No. 149 visited the Cadette troop No. 404 in Farmington with leader Marge So-call.

The annual council meeting was held at Holiday Inn, May 26. Those from Nov. Scouts attending were Barbara Parra, Marilyn Hawk and Ed Miller.

will be Explore God's Hidden Wonders. Closing night program will be June 23.

Special speaker in the evening service June 4 will be Billy Walker, who will present the Camp Hiawatha program. He will be bringing slides and special music. This camp is geared for all teenagers and is located on Platt Lake near Eckerman, Michigan. All teenagers and parents are encouraged to be present so they can make final plans regarding attendance at camp. Camping season starts July 29 and registration fees of $5.00 should be in the church office now. Also plans are being made on the same day to recognize the graduates from high school and college with a gift from the church and a reception in the evening sponsored by Prayer Partners of these young people.

Methodists Plan Service In Livonia

Members and friends of the First Methodist church of Northville will hold a service in the new St. Matthews United Methodist church at 30900 Six Mile road in Livonia on Sunday, June 4 from 3 to 4 p.m.

This service was planned by the official board of the Northville church. Since the Northville Methodist church has voted to construct new building facilities and the architect, William P. Lindholm, is presently formulating plans, this visit will enable all members of the church to view a recently constructed church and to be more able to evaluate the local building needs.

This service will also complete the May theme for the church "The Church in the Life of the Family". The Rev. John Grefell of St. Matthews church will be the speaker.

The first half hour will be in the sanctuary of the church and the second half hour will be spent in examining the church facilities.

The St. Matthews church is a merged Evangelical United Brethren church and a Methodist church.

Those desiring transportation phone the Church office, 349-1144.

Spring Enrollment Up at Schoolcraft

Montette said he anticipated an enrollment of 400 in the program in the fall.

Dunn said enrollment in other curricula also showed an across-the-board increase over last spring. These curricula include liberal arts, foreign language, teacher education courses, mathematics, the sciences, and business and technical programs.

Dunn said many students use the eight-week spring term either to accelerate their college transfer programs or to take required courses preparatory to advanced study.

Northville Hospital Coordinator Named

John W. Tallafiero recently was named volunteer services coordinator of Northville State Hospital.

A graduate of Michigan State university, Tallafiero currently is completing the requirements for a master's degree in social work at the University of Michigan.

He has been a state employee at Ingham State Hospital, in the secretary of state office and in social welfare. He was honorably discharged from the United States Air Force in 1952, after 44 months of state side and overseas service.

A native of Tennessee and raised in Indiana, Tallafiero considers Lansing as his home.

OFFICIALS FOR A DAY - Six members of the Northville high school student council assumed the roles as city officials Thursday during Michigan Week activities.

Settle Pressing Problems 6 Students Take Over City

"The city doesn't cut your lawn, why clean sidewalks?"

With that question tossed out to emphasize a point, Northville high school student leaders, who assumed the roles as city officials Thursday, voted 5-1 against a proposal to provide sidewalk snow removal.

That was only one of several decisions made by the students in a mock council meeting at the conclusion of their tour of city facilities during Michigan Week activities on Our Government Day.

Participating students included: Student Council Mayor Chris Winkler, who earlier in the week accompanied Councilmen Delbert Black and Charles Lapham to Pinconning; Douglas Guido, vice-mayor; Lynn Elkins, secretary; Barbara Bogart, treasurer; Dennis Tymensky, health officer; and Robert Kilpe, councilmember filling in for Bill Silger, who has been ill.

The student leaders spent most of the morning visiting various city offices, conferring with officials about business matters, and then conducting the meeting in the council chambers before joining City Manager, Frank Ollendorf, Police Chief Samuel Elkins, Black and Lapham for lunch at the Thunderbird Inn.

In voting to leave snow removal to property owners, the students also decided to enforce the city ordinance requiring the sidewalks to be cleared of snow by property owners.

Among other matters taken up by the students was the question of paving Taft road to the new junior high school as well as a proposal to extend Ely drive to the rear of the junior high school property.

The latter proposal was turned down, primarily because the students anticipated strong objections from residents living along the street. As for paving of Taft, from Eight Mile to the city limits, the students decided that the city should only grade the road but keep it in good condition for transportation to the school. They contended that during snow falls, this section of Taft should receive immediate attention.

A motion to leave the matter of providing downtown parking to merchants died for lack of support. Subsequently, a proposal that the planning commission recommend specific parking areas followed by council action to establish metered parking lots was adopted by a vote of 5-1.

A proposal to annex the Moraine school property to the city was referred to committee for study. One member commented that the township, rather than permitting the property to be annexed, should provide police protection. Another contended the cost of extending city police protection would be minimal, thus making annexation unnecessary. And still another commented that the township should either provide police protection or permit annexation to the city of more than the school property.

Catholic Women Meet May 25 At OLV Here

Mrs. Charles McIntosh, president Detroit Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Women, spoke at the May 25 meeting of the Wayne Western Deaneary, Council of Catholic Women.

Her topic was "What the NCCC can do for Your Parish".

The Altar Society of Our Lady of Victory Church, hosted the 8:00 p.m. meeting. The church is located on Thayer avenue, one block beyond Orchard drive.

Mrs. William Goebel, newly elected president of Wayne Western Deaneary invited all women of the 33 parishes and three affiliate organizations in the Deaneary to be present. The Deaneary boundaries extend through the area of Livonia, Farmington, Plymouth, Northville, Garden City, Dearborn, Dearborn Heights, Inkster, Wayne, Belleville, New Boston and Romulus.

Northville Cadets In Honor Society

Former Northville high school students John Miller and Paul West have been installed in the honorary Table Organization at Western Military Academy in Alton, Illinois.

Attending the annual Mother's Day banquet sponsored by the members of the Table Organization in Alton on May 13 were their parents, the John Millers of 8660 Napier road and the Milton Wests of 21800 Consumers drive.

Cadets Miller and West will complete their scholastic year at Western on June 4.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

In one hour last week the governing bodies of the city and township of Northville accomplished more jointly than all the years since city incorporation in 1955.

In reality it was very little, but by comparison with the past it was monumental.

The two bodies:

--agreed to form a joint committee composed of professional consultants and citizens to study the advantages and disadvantages of unification of the two governments;

--talked about and tabled the school board's request for annexation of the Moraine school site to the city.

One of the biggest problems existing between the city and township has been a line of communication. Misunderstanding and misinterpretation have hindered relationships.

It is natural that individual bodies are most concerned with the interests of the citizens they represent. Sometimes these interests can be best served by examining new avenues, outside ideas, cooperative efforts.

I believe this is the position taken by both the city and township officials in agreeing to study the pros and cons of unification. It may or may not be practical; the study may reveal aspects never before considered.

This column has needed both bodies frequently in the past for lack of cooperation that could, and has, cost the taxpayer additional dollars.

So it seems fitting that orchids and congratulations are now due Supervisor R. D. Merritt and his township board and Mayor A. M. Allen and the city council.

The township placed the question squarely on the shoulders of the city. Supervisor Merritt said his board was willing to turn over the 10-acre township parcel to the city as per the school board request.

Mayor Allen hedged. It's known that he believes that more than just the 10-acre site should be included, probably the entire strip from the city limits to Beck road thus squaring off the area with the city limits across Eight Mile road to the north.

At least now the school board, and citizens interested in having Moraine in the city for the sake of police protection, know where to apply the pressure.

Congratulations to the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce for taking over the custom of passing out free ice cream bars following Memorial Day services.

Con Langfield had announced that he would be unable to continue the tradition started nearly 20 years ago. Instead he gave the high school band $500.

It was a congenial group of public officials who shared milk, straw and distinctive aromas of a Plymouth barn last week. But this congeniality has not always flourished. In fact, sparks of disagreement between officials of Plymouth, Canton and Northville have been flying periodically for 140 years.

One hundred and forty years—that's the number of years sandwiched between the first official Plymouth township board meeting and last week's anniversary meeting. Both took place in the weathered but still handsome red barn now owned by the Ralph Garber family, 46225 North Territorial road.

Scheduled for opening in September, the main entrance to the school most certainly will be from the south along the narrow, high banked and bumpy Taft road.

The city is reluctant to undertake full improvement until the proposed Thompson-Brown home and apartment project is well underway. Earthmovers and other construction paraphernalia connected with the housing development would do heavy damage to the road.

The present width and condition of the road, however, could not possibly serve school traffic.

GEORGE - YOU'RE DREAMING AGAIN!

Top of the Deck by JACK W. HOFFMAN

History buffs will remember that the township 140 years ago included all of what is now Northville, Plymouth and Canton. That arrangement lasted but a few years until March 7, 1834 when the township of Canton was "erected" and until a half-century later—the spring of 1838—when Northville and Plymouth separated to become two different townships.

Until the 1838 separation Northville and Plymouth officially operated as one, although the two small villages—separated by several miles of open farm land—more often than not considered themselves separate communities. Each elected officials to run their little communities but they also elected officials to run the single township. Township board meetings were sometimes held in Plymouth, sometimes in Northville—sort of a compromise. Too many meetings in one precinct and the residents of the other complained. So too with the officials. If more officials were from Plymouth, citizens of Northville protested "foul" and vice-versa.

Seventy years—almost to the month—after the first township meeting at the Plymouth barn, the township officials met in Northville's once famous opera house, located at the southeast corner of Dunlap and Center streets. It was a meeting charged with a special kind of excitement, with some 100 persons attending. Of these about a dozen were from Plymouth, the remainder from Northville.

Topic of discussion and debate was the proposed division of Plymouth and Northville. Speaking in behalf of the separation were former Supervisor W. H. Ambler, George C. Petermann of Plymouth, F. R. Beal, Captain E. K. Simonds, G. P. Benton, W. H. Hutton. Speaking against the separation were George Starkweather of Plymouth and Township Treasurer Whitbeck of Plymouth.

Beal struck the 1837 separation note by commenting that the matter of convenience was sufficient argument. "He cited the instance of the present meeting where there were but a dozen men present from the Plymouth end, and had the meeting been held in Plymouth instead of here the state of affairs would have been reversed and only a dozen men from the Northville precinct present. The same affairs existed in all meetings of township business. It was very inconvenient not to say expensive for people to go such a distance to discuss as well as to do business with the township officers."

On the other hand, Starkweather said if there was to be a "divorce proceeding" he wanted to see the bill of complaint, prompting someone to explain that instead of a divorce, "there was a family of 5,000 children and about 2,500 of them wanted to move into a home of their own and keep house by themselves."

It was a stacked meeting, obviously. Only a month earlier petitions had circulated in the "north end" of the ## Readers Speak When were Women Elected to Board?

To the Editor: Having been one of the speakers and participants in the audience at the Northville School Board meeting last Monday night, I'd like to state that I asked the School Board members why they did not investigate the numerous resignations that have gone on in our school system, plus the resignations of our top administrators. Instead of receiving a reply from the School Board Members, the rebuttal came from the audience.

I may have missed an election along the way, but I did not know that we had elected any women members to the School Board. Nor did I know that we had elected any women members to the School Board. Nor did I know that non-members had the authority to resign these resignations on their own and that their consent was the consensus of the School Board, plus the needs of education in our school system.

would like to remind this School Board that they are running P.T.A. They are in the very serious business of spending the taxpayers money and

Doctor Shortage Seen Here in 10 Years

LANSING — An acute shortage of doctors may face Michigan and the nation within the next decade unless steps are taken to reverse the declining doctor-to-population ratio.

The national average of 134 doctors per 100,000 population has remained fairly constant since 1930. Michigan averages 105. South Dakota has the lowest ratio with 75 doctors per 100,000 people and New York has the highest with 191. But the ratio is beginning to show an alarming change.

Michigan's immediate need is 300 additional doctors per year, says John A. Doherty, executive director of the Michigan Health Council.

To fulfill this minimum need, Doherty suggests the University of Michigan medical school increase number of graduates from the present 200 per year to 300. Wayne State University should expand further, he says, from 75 to 200. The new medical school, planned for Michigan State University, should graduate 100 doctors per year.

These MSU graduates should be primarily "family physicians" or general practitioners, Doherty maintains, to fill a growing need in the state for a "family doctor."

THE DOCTOR shortage stems from many causes. While Michigan's two medical schools are currently operating at capacity, population is still expanding. Medicare and Medicaid bring more people into doctors' offices and bring them more often. Industrial and private insurance plans make it ever easier for people to seek medical advice.

Even calls not covered by insurance are increasing. Dr. William N. Hubbard, Jr., Dean of the U-M medical school, recently told a group of reporters. "People are making more money than ever before, and they're choosing to spend a larger part of it on more medical service. We have no choice but to provide the service they demand."

Hubbard pointed out that the average doctor works a minimum of 60 hours per week and carries three times the case load of 1930.

The doctor shortage is already felt in many Michigan communities. The Michigan Health Council lists 150 communities which seek at least one medical doctor. Another 60 communities need some 120 medical specialists in various health facilities.

This shortage is not unique to the state. The American Medical Association estimates 35,000 additional doctors will be needed by 1975.

Foreign doctors presently take up some of the slack. About 6,000 arrive annually and 1,500 become licensed and stay in the U.S. These doctors are needed badly in their own countries and international friction has developed in many instances over this drain of medical personnel.

CONSUMERS can feel the "pinch" of doctor shortage in the pocketbook. Per-capita private expenditures for medical care increased 121 percent between 1949 and 1961. Future shortages will worsen the situation.

The medical profession has done little to remedy the growing continuing scarcity of doctors. In some instances medical people seemed to thwart efforts to improve conditions.

Hubbard tends to overlook the profession's past record and fixes responsibility solely on Congress and state legislators. He blames these bodies for not appropriating more public funds to deal with the problem.

The shortage could be eased as more young medical men complete their training and move into private practice. Before this takes place, the state must appropriate more money to operate additional training facilities. The increase of doctors would be slow at first, but gain momentum as facilities develop. It would begin only after training periods finished, four or more years after completion of expanded medical schools.

THE SOLUTION lies with the public. If the state is to build additional medical facilities, public monies must be spent. Legislators must be convinced by constituents that the need is worthy of appropriation.

Michigan has the talent, need and basic facilities to completely eliminate the shortage of doctors. The question is there a willingness to pay the price?

Roger Babson Delinquency Starts at Home

BABSON PARK, MASS. Mr. and Mrs. Average Citizen like to think that juvenile delinquency comes as a result of broken homes, poverty, urban overcrowding, ignorance, and a lot of other bad situations. Granted, these causes stand high among those creating the "bad image" of many of our young people.

But Mr. and Mrs. Average Citizen would be quite surprised if it were suggested that they themselves may be just as guilty.

But how are we contributing to juvenile delinquency? They might ask in amazement. How, indeed? The husband has a good job, the mother is active in social and community affairs, the children have fine educational opportunities, the family has a comfortable home. But there is an enemy frequently creeping into this blissful scene, and that foe is competition which forces us so often to place our loyalty to business before loyalty to family. This may well be, in fact, one of the most serious dangers implicit within the "American Way" of free enterprise.

An almost hysterical pursuit of company business regardless of the damaging effects on family life is evidence of the deterioration of moral values that has hit too many businessmen.

When father should be spending time with his wife and children, he is entertaining customers or trying to catch up with his office paper work. His position makes more and more demands on evenings and week ends. He becomes a stranger in his own home.

FATHERS OFTEN seem proud of the prep schools they find for their teenagers. There the kids will learn to ski, skate, and play tennis, and father will be saved a lot of time and trouble. But school and college guidance offices have mountains of files on young people whose dads take this attitude. The youngsters are emotionally unstable for the simple reason that their parents never played with them enough, never gave them the guidance and parental understanding that they needed in the growing-up process.

Too many fathers wake up with a start one day and find that their sons are already young men . . . and they haven't taken the time to love them every day, to enjoy them, or to discipline them. Many a son has fallen into serious difficulties because he never received the kind of guidance he needed from a father. And how many mothers are "corporation wives" spending an enormous amount of time entertaining hubby's business associates? It isn't difficult to see that many a company is so demanding in terms of time that little is left for either parent to spend with the children.

WHAT A LOT of dads have is a conscious or subconscious sense of guilt. They are at least dimly aware that they are not giving much time to family picnics, boating, ball games in the back lot, church and school affairs. And how do they try to compensate for this? By giving their youngsters "everything they want." This often means fat allowances, automobiles, costly education, summer-camp vacations away from home, and even marriage subsidies. Father doesn't want his kids to work as hard as he has to do to give them everything—everything material, that is, everything but the all-valuable normal parental companionship and the discipline of love.

It is astonishing how many companies refuse to allow many types of employees—such as sales managers—to stay in one place long enough to become not only part of the family but part of the community. They are forced to move every two or three years. The wives become irritable, the children have trouble moving from one school to another and being torn away from their friends, and the fathers are likely to end up with ulcers.

Little wonder that so many young ones are inconsiderate, emotionally insecure, and ready to think the world owes them a living. The competitive nature of business sets may have more to do with juvenile delinquency in these strange, indirect ways than most people realize, even among the highly educated and the well-to-do.

Recapitulating the story and what takes place on the screen are a very different thing. Jo Eisinger is a master of the camera, primarily because the characters—most of the 22—have the most tenuous ties to the plot. Relationships are never clearly defined. It's as if Eisinger has stretched his meagre imagination to include all the stars and starlets who already had been contracted for the movie. The OOT formula is botched.

Although the stars are given equal billing, two stand out as our heroes, E. G. Marshall of TV's "The Defenders" and Trevor Howard. Neither fits the James Bond mold, although Howard takes a crack at it. He dies with fresh water in his lungs, trying to be the flippant paramour, the tough sleuth. And E. G. H. 7's the defender returned, staid and mild.

There's no mistaking the good guys, E. G. and Howard. After all, the camera follows them with their cigarillo goiter count. Not to be confused with the culprit, led by that underworld bad guy, Gilbert Roland. He looks the part.

Rita Hayworth is the most amusing spectacle, the sympathy figure. The wife of Roland, she is hooked on opium. Bleary eyed, insane, she stumbles and mumbles through her part, the shell of Salome, her former self.

Leggy Angie Dickinson is the dewy-eyed mystery woman. She appears on the scene, posing as the wife of a murdered detective who was tracking down the opium ring. She is a paradox, looking like the purring siren, yet possessing the heart of a freshly scrubbed school girl. She's tough, a babe with a judo chop, yet in the end, she emerges as the soft breasting sister.

Omar Sharif, the handsome young hero of "Dr. Zhivago," makes the scene, barely, as a member of the Tehran police. He helps the good guys. His credentials for the part: a swarthy face bedecked by a bushy mustache and deep brown eyes. That's typical of "Poppy," a farce which eschews good acting.

In the name of filmdom, what more could be asked? Twenty-two names, aggliter with Hollywood swank, virility and pulchritude, sprayed liberally with talent. There are enough lions, tigers and actresses, in fact, to stock MGM to overflowing. Which brings us fanfully to the question: put together in one movie, what would happen?

The answer is currently playing at various area theaters. "The Poppy is also a Flower" gets our vote as the cinema debacle of this or any other century. For about 90 minutes of unending ennui, the stary cast cavorts before our eyes in empty spectacle.

Not even the fact that "Poppy" is a spy yarn can serve as a mitigating circumstance. Jo Eisinger wrote the script from an idea of Ian Fleming, the author made famous by John F. Kennedy. Better that the idea had gone to the grave with Fleming, rather than have survived as a flamboyant travesty.

Basically, the story idea is simple.

First one end of town would be at it and then the other. But there are more important reasons for a division than these petty jealous affairs. As Mr. Beal said at the meeting last week, the matter of convenience alone ought to be sufficient argument in favor of the proposed division.

Petty jealous affairs, indeed. Take a look at just one of the dozens of little "scraps" that took place in print February 7, 1966. "The Record" insinuates The Mail doesn't know the difference between an editor and a potato digger. We are informed by some of the best people of Northville that Neal wasn't cut out for either."

And Neal's reply: "That's first rate. The Mail is correctly informed. Some people can be cut out for boot-blacks and yet acquire enough sense to run an ordinary newspaper while others may be cut out for editors and not know enough to come in when it rains."

I hesitate to add this postscript, but the temptation's too great. In noting the decision of the city and township last week to conduct its own unification study instead of joining Plymouth and Canton, The Mail said of Northville: "If the latter pair do anything it will be to consider their own marriage without consulting their neighbors to the south."

Times change but people and places keep rolling along.

FIRST MEETING PLACE? "I can't swear to it," says Ralph Garber concerning his barn where officials celebrated the 140th birthday of the first Plymouth township meeting last week. "We do know that the first meeting was held in John Tibbets' barn and this property was his in those days." Coincidentally, the birthday celebration took place as Plymouth and Northville decided to go their separate ways in launching unification studies.

DANCE RECITAL—The dance students of Mrs. Pamela Stoeper will give their recital at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at the Northville high school and next Thursday, June 8, at the Hawthorne Center.

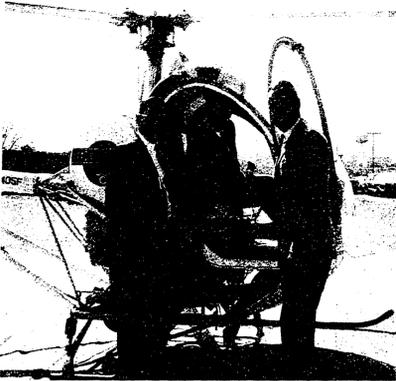

POLICING UP — The Northville police department got into the beautification swing last week. The whole force pitched in—during off hours—to paint police headquarters, downstairs of the city hall building. Here, Officers Earl VanCise and Roger Bukema (on the ladder) give the interrogation room a new, light green coat.

MORE BEAUTIFICATION — An other significant step in the long list of beautification programs sponsored during the recent beautification campaign was the planting of Northville's official tree—the flowering crab along the Northville road boulevard by the VFW Post. Several were planted there last week. On hand were Donald Wilbur, Harry Webster, Ray Paquin, VFW commander, Mark Suddendorf, Robert and Ray Green, Neil Suddendorf, Joe Wilbur, Doug Webster, Jerry Rotta, Pack 72 Cubmaster, and Chris Rotta.

OFF TO EXPO—Packed and ready to go, these five Girl Scouts and their leader, together since Brownie days, left Friday together with other members of their troop for Expo 67. They are (l to r) Mrs. Phyllis Russell, Penny Thomas, Mary Horsfall, Kathy Miller, Sue Schief, and Linda Russell. The scouts traveled to Windsor by car and from Windsor to Expo by train.

AIR TOUR—Part of Wixom's plans for visiting dignitaries from Wolverine village on Our Government Day was a helicopter ride over the city. Here, Rufus Dodge, president of Wolverine village, and Bob Trombley (seated), superintendent of the Wixom department of public works, prepare to take off with Kenneth Ross (right), helicopter pilot for Holloway Construction company of Wixom.

Do Better Grade Pupils Make Better Drivers?

Yes indeed. Dramatically better according to accident records compiled by a large insurance corporation.

In studies of drivers under age 25, students with superior scholastic records averaged 348 car damage claims per year per 1000 policies in force compared with 468 for students with inferior grades.

In accidents involving injuries, "good student" drivers were involved an average of 23.5 times annually per 1000 policies in force. Students with inferior grades had 29.7 accidents per 1000 policies in force.

Combining frequency and cost of accidents, "Good student drivers had a record 25 to 30 percent better than their counterparts."

Forty percent of the country's population is under 20 years of age and in some areas as much as 25 percent of the teenage population own their own cars.

Seventy percent of youthful drivers — including those in Northville — purchase used cars at a price 10 to 15 percent above their true value.

Youthful and inexperienced buyers are too often attracted to a shiny late-model body, hiding a worn-out vehicle and should seek adult advice or reputable service-minded dealer.

Price is only one part of the picture that includes the true mechanical condition, the safety with which it may be driven under conditions that youthful drivers demand.

Girl Scouts Travel To Canada for Expo

Five Northville girls, Linda Russell, Penny Thomas, Sue Schief, Mary Horsfall, and Kathy Miller and their leader, since "Brownie" days, Mrs. Phyllis Russell, ended their accumulated 58 years in Girl Scouting with a four-day Canadian holiday to Montreal and Expo 67 over the Memorial Day weekend.
