Marking a new era of sentencing for the Detroit Recorder's Court, two convicted assassins of Northville attorney Clifford Hill were handed life imprisonment sentences last week Wednesday.

Sentenced to jail for life by Judge Vincent Brennan were William and Lamond Grayson of Detroit. They were found guilty on both counts of armed robbery and assault with intent to murder following a jury trial on May 17.

ROTARY ASSEMBLY-Officers-elect from throughout Rotary District No. 640 turned out Saturday at Northville high school as the Northville Rotary club hosted the annual district assembly aimed at preparing the new Rotary leaders for the forthcoming year of service.

The assembly has special significance for the local club since one of its own members Russell Amerman, is the governor-elect of the 640 District. The program included registration, plenary session, discussion forum, luncheon, and officer's instruction classes.

Wixom Granted Additional Funds

The Wixom city council received news Tuesday night that an additional $14,580 in state funds will be coming its way to help finance the city's sewer system now under construction.

That brings the total grant offer from the Michigan Water Resources commission to $160,410. Previously, the commission awarded the city a grant of $145,830 for construction of its disposal plant.

The 10 percent increase was granted because the city project conforms with the Detroit Metropolitan Area comprehensive sewer development plan. Sometime in the late 1960's, it is envisioned that all metropolitan municipalities will share a common sewer system.

After the grant announcement, the council turned its attention to a zoning ordinance amendment that would eliminate front yard fences back to the setback on residential property. But no action was taken.

Instead, the council sent the amendment back to the Planning Commission, the recommendation body for clarification. To make an appropriate decision, the council felt it needed "background reasoning."

There was confusion over details of the amendment. It was requested that either the setback was 25 or 50 feet, or whether fences would be permitted to extend in front of the house line.

According to attorney Gene Schelzel, it is not clear whether the new amendment is enforceable or not. This the council would have to decide.

But, Schelzel continued, the present ordinance omits fences, as such. The courts, he said, have ruled variously that terminology of the present ordinance, "structures," applies to fences.

The theory behind exclusion of fence from front yards of residential areas is public health, wealth and safety, for they tend to obstruct vision of drivers and provide concealment for would-be offenders.

Councilman Howard Coe said he would have no objection to the amendment, perhaps, as long as it makes for uniform fencing. He added, however, that in many instances fences enhance street appearance.

After further discussion, Councilman Ray Lahti asked for clarification. "We need background reasoning for purposes of our evaluation," he said. Furthermore, he questioned whether it was advisable to have planning commission meetings and council meetings on successive nights, Monday and Tuesday, as presently prevails. There is not enough time, he said, to deliberate over matters referred to the council by the planning commission.

"No legislative body wants to be bulldozed into doing something," the councilman said. "Yet, none of us here want to be considered bottlenecks."

In other matters, the council: --re-appointed Lahti and Coe as the city's representatives on the Huron River Watershed council.

Seniors Party Slated Tonight

A special treat is in store for Walled Lake seniors following graduation exercises tonight (Thursday). They'll be enjoying an all-night party in the high school gymnasium.

Master of ceremonies for the closed program will be Bob Green, disc jockey for WKNR. The gymnasium will be transformed into a Mardi Gras setting. Dancing, entertainment, snacks, prizes and breakfast is planned.

As in previous years no charge is made for students. However, donations from interested parents or persons may be sent to the students' homeroom or to Joseph Brandt, 1289 East Lake drive, Walled Lake, 48088, to help cover expenses.

General chairman for this year's party is Al Lyman. Other officers are: Mrs. Robert Kinkeel, secretary; Joseph Brandt, treasurer; Mrs. Al Lyman, entertainment; Mrs. Harold Small, decorations; Mrs. Clark Freshland, publicity; Mrs. Kenneth Krumb, breakfast; Mrs. Russell Simpson, snacks; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Welch, chaperones; and R. D. Pitcher, clean-up.

Seeks Fire Hall Completion

Township Spurs Builder

Two projects to enhance the appearance of the Novi township hall -- one near completion and the other in the planning stage -- highlighted Monday's monthly meeting of the Novi township board.

The board voted unanimously to give Paul Proffitt, Walled Lake builder, 14 days to complete work on the fire hall addition to the Novi township hall.

Specifically, the notice grants seven days to complete the job and another seven until termination of the contract between Proffitt and the board. A similar letter will be sent to the bonding company, informing of the board's action.

Already, Proffitt has exceeded the extended deadline of June 9. He was granted a 30-day extension beyond the original completion date of May 9.

Several requirements remain to be met on the $15,920 addition. Of this amount, the township has withheld payment of $1,700, pending completion. Township Attorney Emory Jacques advised that Proffitt's exceeding of the extended deadline constituted a breach of contract. Failure to respond to the notice would trigger the hiring of a new builder to finish the work.

"This thing has been hanging fire for six months," Trustee Charles Goers stated. President Hadley Barchert added, "A majority of the items have not been taken care of."

Originally, the contract was inked in November of last year. Delay on the addition prompted the board to take immediate action on the proposed paving of the township hall front and rear parking lots and driveways. "Let's get going on it," Goers urged.

Subsequently, the board authorized the hiring of Wm. Wakenhut, Northville surveyor, to draw up details and specifications for black top paving, preliminary to advertising for bids.

A gambit didn't pay off to the board's satisfaction. In response to a board inquiry, Oakland Asphalt company quoted the estimated cost of the project at about $15,000. Board members expected more details.

But Goers claimed $15,000 was an accurate figure. In other pending matters, the board agreed to share with the school board in the cost of renovating the Community building at a total expense of $1,315. The building is to be painted and the floors, re-finished. The board also approved expenditure of $36 for a 22 to 25-foot flag pole for the Novi township park, and $36 for repair of the township tractor.

In other action, the board authorized seeking of Oakland county corporate council opinion on whether the township is legally empowered to have dog ordinance.

Action came in response to a letter from Robert Pothman, president of the Willowbrook Civic association, which said the association had approached the board on "numerous occasions" for relief of its dog problem. The township, the letter said, had offered "weak-kneed excuses" and "never have you indicated a willingness to help."

Barchert objected, saying association members had appeared before the board once and had written only one previous letter. Association members were told at last month's board meeting that Novi was not empowered to establish a dog ordinance or money to enforce it. They were urged, instead, to write to State Senator George Kuhn and Representative Clifford Smart to seek a change in the state statute.

Novi Justices to Resign Jacques, Anderson To Move

Novi's two justices of the peace and two of its most prominent citizens will be resigning their positions in the fall.

The departure of Robert K. Anderson and Emery Jacques, Novi township justices, will create two elective vacancies. The township board is empowered to appoint replacements.

Ironically, both men decided to move to new homes at the same time. It's on Bloomfield Hills for Anderson in September or October. Jacques has already purchased a home in Northville, and will move in August.

Their terms were to have expired on December 31, 1968, when the justice of the peace system is reportedly slated for the scrap heap, due to reorganization of Michigan's lower courts.

Jacques said he will continue as Novi township attorney. As such, he has spearheaded the township's legal attempt to block incorporation of Novi as a home rule city.

Anderson, who came to Novi in 1956, has been a justice of the peace for 10 years. First elected in 1957, he ran successfully for re-election in 1961 and 1964.

Since moving to Novi from Detroit Anderson has practiced law in his office in Novi. He has been a partner in the law firm of Lawson and Anderson of Farmington, where he also has an office.

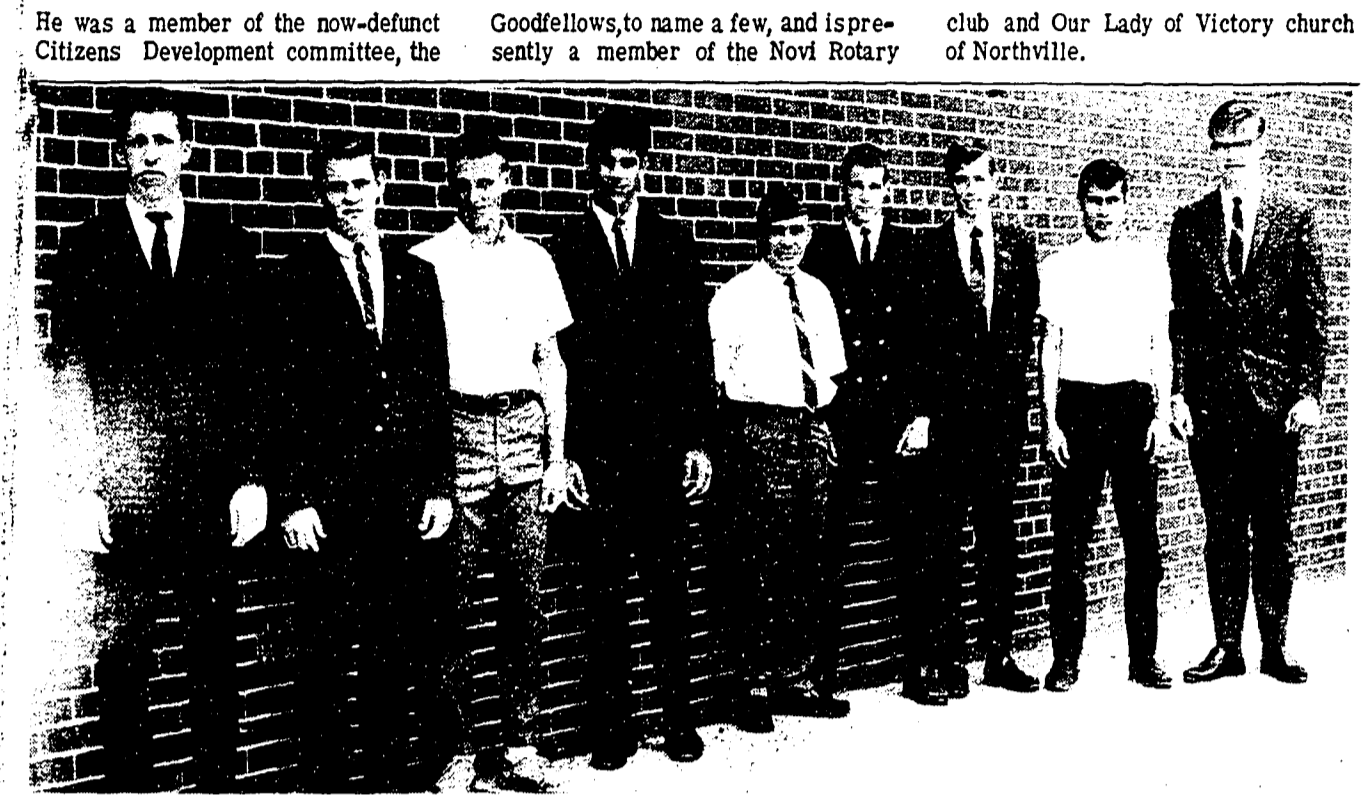

Married, the father of six children, the bespectacled attorney was charter president of the Novi Rotary club and is presently Oakland county treasurer of the Judges and Justices of the Peace association, and is chairman of the sub-committee for judges and justices of the peace for the Michigan State Bar association.

Anderson lists many other civic and service activities in Novi. Jacques moved to Novi in January of 1956, while still attending the University of Detroit law school. After graduation, he set up law practice on Grand River in Novi. Now a partner in the firm of Powell, Pares, Carr and Jacques, Inc., Gary Boyer, Willowbrook Civic association; Tom Holmes, Novi Farm Bureau; David Bingham, Novi Rotary Club; Lee Snow, Novi Board of Commerce; Pat Haley, Novi township, and Douglas Earl, Novi township.

He won a January, 1968 primary, then was elected to a four-year term as township justice in April of that year. Due to expire in 1967, his term was extended to December 31, 1968, by the Michigan State legislature.

Jacques has also been active in community service and civic organizations.

He was a member of the now-defunct Citizens Development committee, the Goodfellows, to name a few, and is presently a member of the Novi Rotary club and Our Lady of Victory church of Northville.

8 Boys Enter Politics

Eight Novi high school boys are in the lap of political excitement today as the community's representatives at the American Legion's 30th annual Wolverine Boy's State in East Lansing.

Yesterday, they joined 1200 boys from throughout the state to take part for one week in grass roots politics and to learn civic responsibility.

The opportunity was afforded through the Lloyd H. Green American Legion post of Northville and primarily, through the sponsorship of various local organizations.

This year, the boys and their sponsors are: Paul Faulkner, General Fitters, Inc.; Levon Trafirlian, Holcomb Industries, Inc.; Gary Boyer, Willowbrook Civic association; Tom Holmes, Novi Farm Bureau; David Bingham, Novi Rotary Club; Lee Snow, Novi Board of Commerce; Pat Haley, Novi township, and Douglas Earl, Novi township.

Upon arrival at Michigan State University, each boy is assigned to one of 24 designated "cities," the basic governmental unit, each one comprised of 50 boys. The cities, in turn, make up the county and the counties, the state.

Each city has its own officers, and all city members pull together for its betterment. What political positions the boys assume within the mock city is strictly up to them.

The week-long activities will provide a thorough familiarization with government functions, including election of officers, city and county orientation, party affiliation, law enforcement, planning, parliamentary procedures and civil service clinics.

Highlight of the gathering are the state conventions, during which candidates vie for state and county jobs, from governor to constable. The candidates campaign vigorously, hold political rallies and generally, seek out those all-important votes, to be cast at the polls on Sunday.

Inauguration of the governor and state officials will take place during a general assembly Sunday night. Included in the program will be a speech by a guest speaker.

The bulk of these programs await the outcome of Detroit applications for federal aid, but one or two of them are expected to start this summer -- with or without federal monies. Those to start first probably will include day-camp activities, similar to those already underway in Detroit and pre-vocational training of the 13 Detroit teenagers who for the past three weeks have been repairing the facility. These 13 and the supervisory staff will be the first to live in the building.

The facility is to be called the Maybury Human Resources Development Center. Its administrator is Burton Bradley.

Coburn Wins in Novi Few Cast Ballots In School Votes

A former Novi board appointee and two Walled Lake incumbents were elected to the board of education of the two districts.

Also, both districts approved the county vocational education proposition as did the entire county.

Very few electors took time to cast ballots in what officials termed a "poor" turnout in Novi and an "extremely poor" turnout in the Walled Lake district. Only 33 persons -- about 4 percent of the approximate 700 qualified electors -- voted in Wixom, part of the Walled Lake district.

A total of 324 persons voted in Novi, 631 in the Walled Lake district.

Elected to the Novi school board was Elwood Coburn, Sr., who had a 78-vote margin over his nearest opponent, the Ford Motor company senior claims adjustor polled 170 votes, J. F. Buck received 92 votes, and Russell L. Smith picked up 55 votes.

Buck and Smith received fewer votes than the number of registered voters of Willowbrook. Subdiv vision where they live, Willowbrook has the largest concentration of voters in Novi.

Returned to office in the Walled Lake school district were incumbents Robert M. Thibideau and Barbara A. Scully. Thibideau polled 391 votes (25 in Wixom), Scully 371 votes (22 in Wixom), and challengers Roy W. Fogie, Richard T. Schilsky, and Herman P. Werther, picked up 220, 120 and 83, respectively. Thirteen Wixom voters picked Fogie, four Schilsky, and one Werther.

The vocational education proposal won by 166 to 101 in Novi, by 302 to 239 in Walled Lake (including Wixom), and by 15 to 9 in Wixom. County-wide the proposal carried, 19,874 to 16,219.

While far fewer persons voted in this year's school election than last, it was pointed out that last Monday's ballot contained names of fewer candidates for fewer offices. A dozen candidates sought office in Walled Lake last year while five campaigned for three Novi board seats.

A total of 608 votes last year in what officials termed a "relatively heavy" Novi school election turnout. In 1965 a total of 492 voted in Novi.

Northville Girl To Tour Europe

Thirty-three college students, including one from Northville, will leave Tuesday, June 13, for the two-month Albion College European Summer study-travel program.

The group, under the direction of Dr. Coy H. James, history department chairman and director of the summer program, will stop at London first. Participating from Northville will be Emily R. Canterbury, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Canterbury, 204 Randolph.

"Traveling by air and bus, the group will visit Berlin, Budapest, Vienna, Istanbul, and Athens. From Athens, it will go to a small city in southern Greece for a two-day rest," said Dr. James. "From there, the tour will fly to Rome, then to Florence by either plane or bus," he said. The first phase of the tour will end in Geneva where the students leave for Neuchâtel, Switzerland, and the University of Neuchâtel for a month of studies.

"The travelers will see many points of interest in their tours of the cities," said Dr. James. In each city, the day will begin with a guided tour of the city and group tours of museums and monuments.

Afternoons will be free so students may tour places not seen on the group tours and gain the feeling of the foreign city.

"During their month of studies, students will study under European professors teaching in English. Courses will include philosophy, political science, French drama, and French," said Dr. James.

At the end of the study session, the group will re-assemble in Geneva for trips to Lisbon and Madrid before returning home August 17. Dr. James described this as "post-semester" session, saying students will be free to tour the cities on their own. They may include side-trips to other points of interest.

"Some students may have time after their studies to spend four or five days in Paris, Stockholm, or Munich," Dr. James added.

In Our Town

By JEAN DAY

ORCHIDS—Both verbal and botanical—were presented to three happily surprised members of the Northville branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, at the club's June dinner meeting Monday afternoon at Northville Presbyterian church.

The orchid plants were the gift of Thomas Brown, president of the Michigan Orchid society, who shared his orchid-growing hobby with members and guests and displayed examples of specimen blooms.

In presenting one of the gift orchid plants to Mrs. William Walker, Club President Mrs. William Slattery cited her long service to the club, including serving as a national garden club county representative. She added that Mrs. Walker will be hostess at her East Eight Mile road home for the club picnic and splash party July 10. (By then the plant should be thriving in Mrs. Walker's own greenhouse where she also has grown the "queen of flowers.")

During the meeting it was announced that Mrs. Slattery also will be serving the Farm and Garden association in an upper capacity. She was elected state corresponding secretary at the 41st annual state meeting in Lansing, becoming the first member of the Northville club to serve as a state officer. As secretary she will be a trustee of the Farm and Garden Foundation.

The First Awards went to the Northville branch at the state meeting as the ways and means luncheon last fall under chairmanship of Mrs. Donald Ward was the best special projects ways-and-means award and the branch city improvement program also was best-of-class. The club newsletter also received a citation.

SECOND ORCHID gift recipient was Mrs. L. M. Eaton, who Mrs. Slattery explained in the verbal part of the bouquet, "diligently headed the award-winning civic-improvement program" which includes city hall beautification.

As section chairman for Monday's meeting, Mrs. Eaton with her committee created the novel flower-pot ice cream dessert in brown plastic cups. Posters bloomed from straws inserted in the ice-cream and cake filling.

NEWEST GARDEN club member, Mrs. Herman Bednar, received the tiny orchid plant that the speaker explained was an old English favorite to be grown on a windowsill.

Mrs. H. J. Froeger, membership chairman, introduced Mrs. Bednar at the meeting. She is the club's sixth new member in 1967. Others are Mrs. William Crump, Mrs. Paul Robinson, Mrs. Chris Kozlos, Mrs. Charlene Hayes and Mrs. Donald Keith Wright.

Mrs. Clyde Whittlesey, who introduced the speaker and his wife, had entertained them earlier at her home where they inspected her greenhouse.

Mr. Brown explained that he is considered an amateur grower as he has never sold a bloom although he has between 1,000 and 1,500 plants in two greenhouses. Many growers, he said, do sell to florists who like to get fresh blooms in order to pay for their hobby. The fascination of orchids—spider, pansy, vanda or cymbidium—he said, is that their blooming season is from September to May when outdoor Michigan is bleak.

His tip for anyone who might like to try a windowsill orchid: Don't water them—or any other houseplant—with softened water.

FLOWERS INTERNATIONAL, the garden show of flowers and vegetables to be sponsored by the garden club

September 18 in the junior high boys gymnasium building (community building), also is to include a special folk craft demonstration.

Mrs. Denis Schwarz, show chairman, announced there will be a special section of entries for children. Despite Monday's searing temperatures, she looked cool and very "now-fashionable" in a brief white pipe dress with a low black patent belt.

Folk craft project chairman Mrs. John Begle, in a blue wile print, explained that crewel work, weaving and perhaps quilting will be demonstrated. Mrs. C. E. Ratliff will be chairman of entries.

NEWLY INSTALLED—Our Lady's League of Our Lady of Victory church wound up their calendar year with installation of officers last week Tuesday. Heading the 1967-68 program will be (seated, l-r) Mrs. Rene VanEe, first vice-president; Mrs. William McDermott, executive vice-president; Mrs. Earl Egbert, president; Mrs. Dani-

Mrs. William Slattery

Also presenting a cool, fashionable appearance was publicity chairman, Mrs. Orson Atchinson, whose friends called her sleeveless suit of orange, yellow and pink flowers "psychedelic."

A full-tuition college scholarship given by the Northville branch of the garden club has been renewed for another year for Olivia Jo Hildebrand, Mrs. John Burkman, scholarship chairman, announced. Jo, she added, will be spending the summer in Germany as an exchange student.

THIS WEEKEND the Roger Soucy family will be leaving for Africa. Last Wednesday Mrs. Soucy was entertained at a luncheon given by Mrs. E. O. Weber. Guests were friends who have been in Girl Scouting with Mrs. Soucy. Mr. and Mrs. Soucy were honored last Saturday evening at a surprise bon voyage party given by the William F. Schiefs.

SARAH ANN COCHRANE chapter, DAR, will hold a potluck picnic next Monday, June 19, gathering at noon at the home of Mrs. Earl Mastick, of Stone Rowe, Lone Tree road, Millford.

ORIENT CHAPTER, Past Matrons Club, will meet for lunch at 1 p.m. Wednesday, June 21, at the Thunderbird Inn. Reservations are to be made before Monday with Mrs. C. N. Ely or Mrs. H. A. Boyden, arrangements chairman.

BASELINE QUESTERS society members, 15 strong, antiqued in the Jackson area as they visited the Ellis Sharp museum and located in that city Tuesday. Also on the tour which concludes the club year is a visit to Waterloo Farm Museum, a restoration house at Munnich.

There, Mrs. William Crump, tour chairman reports they were to be met by guides in farm costumes of calico and dust mop caps.

Mrs. J. E. Straus Retires June 23

A Novi woman will end 34 years in the teaching field on June 23 when she retires from William H. Maybury Sanatorium.

One of two teachers in the children's building at Maybury, Mrs. J. E. Straus of 23893 Beck road, began teaching special education at Maybury 14 years ago. She teaches grades three through seven.

But even before starting teaching at Maybury Mrs. Straus had served as the eighth grade homeroom teacher at Detroit's Bagley elementary school for 20 years.

Music by Haydn and Paul Hindemith will predominate in programs of the four concert plans this summer for the Schoolcraft College Summer Music Festival, according to Wayne Dunlap, Festival director. In announcing the programs for the concert series, Dunlap explained: "The four concert series have been planned to complement our summer music school, which has as its focal point the idioms and techniques of chamber music, with particular emphasis on contemporary music.

"Haydn's music, now coming more and more to the front, is much in the classic mode and its surprisingly contemporary in style. Hindemith, though he is no longer alive, is, of course, considered a contemporary composer. Like Haydn, he wrote much of his music for small groups and in the classic tradition."

Programmed for the four concerts are seven works by Haydn and four by Hindemith. In addition, works by Handel, Mozart, Bach, Beethoven, Telemann and Adolphus will be performed.

The first of the four concerts is scheduled for Wednesday evening, July 5, when Pianist William Doppmann will be soloist. On successive Wednesday nights, Mezzo-soprano Leslie Eitzen will appear with the orchestra on July 12; Kenneth Jewel Chorale will be featured on July 19, and Violist Paul Doktor will perform on July 26.

All concerts will start at 8:30 p.m., in the court amphitheater being constructed on the campus. Tickets for individual performances are $1.50 and will be sold at the door. Advance reservations will not be taken, Dunlap said.

The court concert orchestra will be composed of members of the summer music school faculty, all of whom are or have been performing members of the Detroit Symphony, augmented by members of the Plymouth Symphony, according to Dunlap.

July 5 - Music for the Royal Fireworks, Handel; Concert in A Major for Piano and Orchestra, Mozart; William Doppmann, soloist; Kleine Kammermusik for Five Wind Instruments, Hindemith; Symphony No. 88 in G Major, Haydn.

July 19 - Suite of French Dances, arranged for small orchestra, Hindemith; Symphony No. 45 in F sharp Minor ("Farewell"), Haydn; Mass in D minor ("Nelson"), Haydn; The Kenneth Jewel Chorale.

July 26 - Concert in C for Lira, Strings and Two Horns, Haydn; Music of Mourning, Hindemith, Paul Doktor; Concerto in G Major, Telemann, Paul Doktor; Wellington Suite for Two Horns, Piano, Strings and Percussion, Adolphus; and Symphony No. 101 in G Major ("Cock"), Haydn.

"BEHOLD THE MAN"

"Then came Jesus forth, wearing the crown of thorns, and the purple robe, and Pilate saith unto them, Behold the man!" John 19:5

The hours of Lord Jesus earthly ministry were drawing to a close. In a period of three years He accomplished more for mankind than anyone before Him or since. The last verse of John's Gospel states: "And there are also many other things which Jesus did, the which, if they should be written everyone, I suppose that even the world itself could not contain the books that should be written." John 21:25

As He stands before the angry mob, His face disfigured from the severe beating, the crown of thorns pressed into His blessed brow, the purple robe mockingly thrown over His shoulders, He no doubt contemplates His greatest work yet to be accomplished. He must die to save a lost totally depraved human race. He was born of the Virgin Mary to die in sinful man's place. Christ's fore runner John the Baptist declared, "Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh the SIN of the world." John 1:28

There are three areas in which man

The Touch Of Time

What marvelous buildings have man erected through the centuries. What lofty and inspiring structures have he created.

But how many of these glorious accomplishments stand intact today? We can see famous ruins the world over — mute reminders that what man builds is not permanent.

Today our buildings contain great slabs of concrete holding hidden wire and steel that will not break with stress. But can we be sure that today's creations will be standing a hundred years or two hundred years from now? Of course not.

Of what can we be certain? What does last? Certainly the gifts of God tower indelibly today as they have for generations . . . the things of the spirit — faith, hope and love. Our church buildings may crumble or be destroyed, but the fellowship of believers is perpetual throughout the ages.

Discover for yourself the great spiritual truths. Discover for yourself through His Church, those things which endure forever.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

News Around Schoolcraft

A series of construction projects — immediate and long-range — including the college library and a greenhouse and arboretum, were approved by the Schoolcraft college board of trustees at its regular meeting Wednesday night, June 7, at the college.

Trustees approved administration request that a consulting architectural firm be hired to plan development of expanded library facilities for the college. Dr. Eric J. Bradner, Schoolcraft president, told trustees the present library will be inadequate to accommodate a student body of 7,500 expected on campus within five years.

Trustees also approved a recommendation by the administration that the development of a greenhouse and arboretum be started this year with the construction and equipping of a greenhouse. This facility will be used primarily in the biology program and was initially requested by the college's biology department.

The board authorized the expenditure of $8,000 during the coming school year to erect the greenhouse building to provide other equipment and material needed for the first phase of the project.

Three change orders affecting construction projects already underway were approved by the board. One authorized the relocation of a language laboratory from the library to the new liberal arts classroom building on which construction has just begun.

The other change orders authorized the purchase and stockpiling of additional top soil at the site of the south parking lot, now being developed, and of relocating utility lines in the administration building where a remodeling program has begun.

Trustees also approved purchase by the college of an $8,050 computer to be used in the electronics instructional program, and cleared purchase of carpeting for office spaces in the remodelled administration building.

One instructor and two members of the secretarial staff at Schoolcraft College recently received certificates of completion of a secretarial review course sponsored by the National Secretaries Assn.

Completing the 42-hour course were Mrs. Christine Covert, business and typing instructor; Mrs. Jean Stearns, secretary to Dean of Academic Instruction Robert A. Steger; and Mrs. Olga Taylor, secretary to Evening College Director Fred Stefanaki.

The course covered a variety of business areas and was given in preparation for the Certified Professional Secretary examination.

Mrs. Covert and Mrs. Taylor are residents of Livonia. Mrs. Stearns is a resident of Westland.

Summer Classes To Swell

Students from four-year colleges and universities throughout Michigan are swelling enrollment lists for the eight-week summer session at Schoolcraft college, and may push it to record high this year.

Schoolcraft Director of Admissions Miss Barbara Gell said that of 148 new students accepted for enrollment as of June 2, 88 were so-called guest students from four-year institutions.

Miss Gell, who pointed out that the start of the summer session is still several weeks away, compared the 88 guest students already admitted to about 40 who attended the 1966 summer session.

"The 148 students admitted thus far are students who will be attending college for the first time. We expect the number of these new students to increase by the time classes begin," Miss Gell said.

"The guest students are those who are coming here to take freshman and sophomore level courses which they need to fulfill graduation requirements at their own schools," Miss Gell explained. "Credits and grades earned here during the summer are automatically transferred to the parent institution and become part of the student's record."

The guest students, Miss Gell explained, use a uniform application form available from the registrar of their own college or university.

The student indicates on the form that he will be attending Schoolcraft college for example, and the completed form is sent to the summer host school.

Summer session registration at Schoolcraft will be on June 26 and 27. Classes start Monday, July 3, and the session ends on August 25.

Enrollment for the 1966 summer session at Schoolcraft was 543 students. As of June 2 reporting date used by Miss Gell, admissions for this summer were double those of last year at the same time.

After graduating in 1959 from MacKeezie High School in Detroit, Rev. Ritter attended Albion college where he received the B.A. degree in 1963. He received the bachelor of divinity degree from Yale University Divinity School in 1965.

Maybury Gets Face-Lifting

Anticipating local opposition, Bradley told The Record two weeks ago that meetings with local governmental leaders and citizens will be held to explain the program. However, the meeting dates have not yet been set.

Most objections here stem from a fear that the influx of teenagers from Detroit will result in policing problems similar to those that occurred elsewhere in the state in connection with the government's job corps programs.

According to Scott Mitchell, Mayor told The Record two weeks ago that meetings with local governmental leaders and citizens will be held to explain the program. However, the meeting dates have not yet been set.

Actually, the latest Detroit proposal for Maybury property is but one of several that have raised objections here over the years. Others have included gravel removal, an incinerator, a half-way house, and last month's offer by Cavanaugh to provide the county with facilities for housing juvenile delinquents. Only the Human Resources Development Center idea has gone beyond the stage of planning or suggestion.

According to Scott Mitchell and Frederic Pinchem, who are members of the task force charged with getting the program off the drawing boards, the job of renovating the building is gigantic. The facility includes six wards, a huge dining room, kitchen auditorium, classrooms, offices, and quarters for nurses. All suffered extensively from vandalism and neglected maintenance.

A Volkswagen is good for your economy in other ways, too. Like 27 miles to the gallon of regular gas and 40,000 on original tires. No need for anti-freeze, radiator repairs or water hose replacement. A bent VW fender can be repaired without replacing the whole side of the car. Even license plates and insurance cost less. High resale values are an additional bonus to VW owners ready for a new one.

Speaking of economy, better come in and see us right now before new car prices go even higher. Drive a Volkswagen... it's an economy move.

If you listen to me, you'll ask your dealer for the money to buy your new car.

Maybe you're like a lot of people: you want a car, but don't have the money to buy it.

Don't let that hold you back. I know where you can get the money. Just ask your dealer. He can make all the arrangements for an NBD Auto Installation. He has a direct phone line to the Installation Department at the National Bank of Detroit. His call is answered by a specialist who works exclusively with auto financing all year round. There's no long waiting period, no red tape. Your dealer can usually get an answer for you in thirty minutes or so.

If you wish, you can get your car insurance included in your loan. Life insurance to cover the unpaid balance is also available.

And remember, you don't have to be an NBD customer to get an Auto Installation.

So if you're ready for a new car, go pick it out. And have your dealer make the arrangements for an NBD Auto Installation at the same time. Just take my word for it; at 11 o'clock, P.M. on channel 4, Ardis Kenealy, NATIONAL BANK OF DETROIT Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation

SPEAKING

for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Did you ever ask, "where do our tax dollars go?"

While it may seem like a small sum, city taxpayers can trace about $1,000 to making repairs for vandals who get their kicks breaking or stealing street signs.

DPW Director Bud Hartner reports that 53 street name signs in the city are either missing or broken. The signs cost the poles cost $11 each. By the time repairs and installations are made the cost of labor nearly doubles the expenditure.

Another neat trick is to turn the street signs around to confuse motorists.

Although minor in terms of cost compared to other acts of vandalism, the street-sign destruction is pesky, time-consuming and exasperating to strangers relying on the sign for directions.

It's also a pure waste of money that could be diverted to more constructive forms of exercise and where it is needed in the community recreation program.

It's reasonable to assume that our street signs are being vandalized by youngsters, probably even pre-teens.

But small fry can't be blamed for a popular pastime that has become a source of concern to fire department officials.

Hartner, who also doubles as Northville's fire chief, reports that local firefighters are plagued by fire engine chasers.

In the last two weeks area fires have attracted between 100 and 200 cars per fire. Some 200 cars were estimated at a Haggerty road fire, while a call to Enderbury subdivision had a following of more than 100 cars.

At the Enderbury fire a string of cars tagging fire engines extended all the way from the residence inside the subdivision to Seven Mile road.

"If we had needed to bring a bumper to the house, it couldn't have gotten past the traffic," Hartner reported.

Manager Frank Ollendorf said that police have been instructed to clamp down on fire chasers, especially those tagging dangerously close to volunteer firemen in their cars or trucks.

Police always precede firefighters to fire scenes, and do their best to keep traffic moving and the area clear. But the large number of vehicles driven by the "fire watchers" brigade complicates the job.

Watching fires is a time-honored practice and there's no law against it. But spectators are urged - for the sake of safety and the assistance of the firefighters - to keep cars out of the immediate area and watch from a reasonable distance.

Out in Novi Safety Director Lee BeGole finds some comfort in fire-watching.

"We're not bothered by cars chasing us," BeGole lamented. "Usually I look around for a car or two because sometimes we need help and we put the watchers to work."

BeGole related a couple of experiences where citizens volunteered their help when needed. "One businessman dressed for work just happened by the scene of a fire and pitched in when he saw we needed help. We really appreciated it, but he looked a mess when the fire was over," BeGole recalled.

Sometimes Novi policemen, who are controlling traffic at the scene of a fire, must be used to assist firefighters. "Then I just deputize a citizen or two and they direct traffic," BeGole explained.

"Really, we owe them (the fire-watcher) our thanks for the help they've given us."

IT will have taken place by the time this column hits the street. But it's my guess, without having seen it, that it will make Wednesday night viewing of the tube less of a summertime bore and make us plead for more. I'm speaking - out on the limb - of the "Steve Allen Comedy Hour" that debuted last night.

I greet Steve Allen with mixed emotions, stated because he is returning, said because his stay this time will be short-lived (the summer), his appearance each week all too infrequent and his talents watered down by the sponsor's dictates for a popular time slot. Allen's rightful place is a late-night show, where he can give full vent to his many talents and indulge his imagination.

Yes, the return of Steve Allen is a time for reminiscing and begs the obvious comparison between the father of the "Tonight Show" and Johnnie Carson. There is only one conclusion: the absence of Steve Allen, the ribald, rollicking intellectual, has created a late-night vacuum a million Johnnie Carsons could not fill.

Both men are fast on the draw. They respond quickly to a situation and extract the honey of humor - not easily done when formats restrict latitude and sponsors' content. Not everyone can make turgid comedy air out of casual discourse, but these two are past masters.

That's as far as the similarity goes. Allen works from a broader intellectual background. He has a firm, if not intimate, knowledge of politics, music, sports, show biz, personalities and the world in general. As a result, his humor often takes the shape of satire. Carson's humor is largely topical, confined to the jokes, those empty bars intended more as a change of pace than any serious attempt at making humor the handmaiden of satire.

Allen is a host par excellence, at home with politicians, musicians, pun-dits and off-beat types. When Steve Allen's show was revived from Hollywood, he had Pierre Salinger as a guest. That revival was not unique. Allen upstaged the would-be senator, not through any deliberate attempt to malign him, but through sheer superior political

For the first time in many years, the once routine proposal for extending the Selective Service Act found itself faced with serious questioning and a few new additions. While it passed the House with only nine dissenting votes, indications are that the administration of the draft will be in for some close Congressional scrutiny during the next four years perhaps leading to major revisions in the future.

The House, passed two weeks ago, differs from that passed in the Senate where the present Selective Service Act was, for the most part, merely extended in its present form. Extensive hearings and study by the House Armed Services Committee led to several desirable changes which I supported and most of which restrict the President's authority over draft policy. Undergraduate college student deferments were continued by the House and the institution of a draft lottery is prohibited unless the President finds it in the national interest and gains Congressional approval.

Senator George W. Kuhn has been promoted to the rank of commander, U.S.N.R., according to an announcement by the Navy Department. Active in the Naval Reserve since 1943, Kuhn saw active service in both World War II and the Korean conflict. He served as Finance Officer for Pacific Fleet Submarine Force during World War II and was also stationed at U.S. Naval Air Station in New York.

One of the major problems facing the nation is the deterioration of our urban areas. The cities are overcrowded. They are crime-ridden. And the blight continues unabated. Many solutions have been suggested. But the most promising has only recently been proposed. It is a bill to provide people of modest means an opportunity to rebuild their neighborhoods and own a decent home.

Conceived by Senator Charles Percy of Illinois and Congressman William Widnall of New Jersey, the bill establishes a mechanism whereby mortgage assistance can be provided to lower income Americans unable to afford and obtain conventional mortgage financing. Beyond that, it would provide these people with budget counseling and job training in order to improve their economic status to become and remain a home-owner.

Parliamentary procedures in both the House and the Senate revived measures that had run into opposition in the other house. Sunday liquor sales supporters, Don Knotts, Louis Nye, Tom Poston, Dayton Allen and Tim Conway, to name the bigger stars, at Allen's beck and call, the "Tonight Show" was a raucous variety show, a late-night, late-night, late-night interview spoofed man and situation as skinn Don Knotts with those rolling eyes yipped his famous, "no", Louis Nye shouted his classic, "Hi-Ho Steverino!" and sleepy-eyed Tom Poston stumbled through his lines.

The heart and soul of the show, however, was Allen, the vaudevillene. He wore as many suits as King Farouk, and wore them with equal facility. There was Steve, the reporter who ad-libbed humorous ads, donned the cloak of the master-villain, three wiles with abandon and received them with a delicious slurp, leaped on the back of a horse with a bound from the rear, took remedial lessons on stage and brought back films of his travels, enlightening them with comment, both serious and comic.

Above the obvious rigors of the show, far above, rose the character of Steve Allen, the man who loved a laugh. While Carson smiles wily, Allen bursts with laughter, a man drunk with humor, a mischievous Santa-Claus, bringing bundles of laughter to the world. The sight of Allen laughing, enjoying life's antics, was enough to brighten the darkest of days.

"It'll be a challenging two-year camping trip," the young man in boxer trunks and tennis shoes explained laughingly as his wife and five children read themselves for a new kind of adventure.

Roger Soucy and clan, who for the past nine years have called Northville their home, have made numerous camping trips in previous summers - to all parts of Michigan, Ontario, and even up into his home state of New Hampshire.

This summer and for the next two they'll be "camping" in strange, new places - places where when Soucy's imaginative son, Paul, says he's just spotted a lion or two he won't be dreaming. For, you see, the Soucys are off to Africa on a two-year, adventure that will take them to the heart of big game country.

Two months ago Soucy was one of about 25 teachers selected from across the country by the Agency of International Development to become part of a teacher education program in East Africa. There are nearly 700 applicants for the 25 positions.

The fact that Soucy and his family are made of that rugged material required of a camper was a key to their selection. But the man himself had to meet other requirements such as having a master's degree, at least five years of teaching experience, and acceptance to the Columbia university graduate school.

Soucy had these. He earned his BA at the University of New Hampshire, his MA at the University of Michigan. Since 1955 he has been teaching math at Southfield high school. And he has been accepted by the Columbia graduate school where, for the next six weeks he will be taking credit classes to prepare him to teach young African teachers. He and his family will leave for Nairobi, Kenya and the Kenyatta Teacher college about mid-August.

Not only Soucy will be attending Columbia classes, however. His wife and children will be taking classes especially prepared to orientate families to living in East Africa.

Recalling how their adventure started, Mrs. Soucy said she and her husband had been looking "for something a little different" to do for the past three or four years. Then last year they read of the government sponsored African program in the Michigan Education Journal. Their application was too late to

Retirements Cut into State Police Ranks

LANSING - More and more bright young men are attracted to careers with the Michigan State Police.

Better base salary, fringe benefits, shorter work weeks and other overall conditions brought renewed interest in this important job. State Police count 1,473 in their ranks with 68 recruits beginning school. Their authorized strength is 1,576. About 300 civilians are employed.

Guaranteed Wage: Key to Bargaining

BABSON PARK, Mass. - No matter which side of the fence you're on - the employer's or the employee's - you can't help but be fascinated with the idea of a guaranteed annual wage for everybody. And it is especially "hot" right now because Walter Reuther, President of the United Auto Workers, is out getting guaranteed yearly income for employees of the auto factories, from top to bottom.

Men and women in seasonal enterprises know how tough it is to be laid off when the work load drops. They may have to put up with it, but they never get used to it. If we're getting temporary jobs or signing up for unemployment insurance, and it almost always adds up to "going without" for a while. Mr. Reuther won't have much trouble selling the idea of a guaranteed annual wage to his members, especially the blue-collar men who qualify them last summer so they crossed their fingers and waited for word on this year's program.

By Christmas most of the paper work was done, and in February a coordinator for the program from Columbia spent a day here interviewing and testing the applicant. Then in March word came that he had been selected.

Since then the Soucy house at 43757 Park Grove has been filled with excitement and preparations. And with seven in the family preparations are no little event even though camping has regrettably been only one or two children.

The Soucy family is the largest ever to participate in the program. Most camps have only one or two children. The family's easy adaptability to unusual conditions - a result of outdoor living - probably offset any disadvantages seen by program officials for large families, Soucy guessed.

"At any rate they picked us. The adventure and educational value for the children should be one of the greatest assets," he said. "And, of course, my experience should be of value when I return to Southfield." Soucy has a leave of absence. He plans to return to the school in two years, and the family plans to return to Northville and their home here, which has been rented.

In Africa, the Soucys will live in an apartment, partly furnished with their own furniture and cooking utensils that have already been shipped. Living quarters represents part of his stipend paid for by the government of Kenya. It will be supplemented by a small salary paid by the United States government.

Naturally, not all the Soucy living will be inside an apartment. They fully expect to "get in some camping" - the tenting kind - during their stay.

Mrs. Soucy, local assistant leader of Girl Scout Troop 234, has an official invitation to become involved in similar scouting activities in Africa, and the other members of scouting will continue their activities in Africa.

"Anyway you look at it," the Soucys agree, "it'll be bigger and better than any of the camping trips we've had before."

And, says Paul shouldering his wooden rifle, "I'm going to shoot an elephant."

turnover is low, but the force is now hit hard by current retirements. Current expansion of the department requires additional recruiting. The department doubled in size in the past 20 years. It is estimated it may grow to 2,000 men by 1970.

Although applications have increased, the number of young men who do not meet the standards is high. Col. Frederick E. Davids, State Police Commissioner, notes that about 35% of those who begin training do not graduate.

OPPORTUNITIES for advancement are excellent. Each retirement opens vacancies through the ranks which means several promotions per retiree. Troopers are eligible to take promotional examinations after five years of service.

Salaries begin at $36,368.40 per year. Annual raises bring a trooper's pay to $9,437.76 after seven years. Higher rank increases pay, of course, with a police captain drawing about $15,000 per year.

Civil Service pay increases will raise salaries to a higher level beginning July 1.

Other benefits include longevity pay after six years of service; travel allowance; free uniforms and equipment; vacation and sick leave; free moving when transferred; group medical and life insurance; a retirement plan which allows half-pay for life after 25 years of service.

Work weeks have been reduced to 40 hours, but the job is still demanding and the training rigorous. Basic school at headquarters in East Lansing includes classroom instruction in police administration and related subjects. First aid, firearms, boxing, judo, swimming and other skills are also taught. After graduation, troopers are encouraged to seek additional school.

"IT'S JUST BEGUN," said Don Weeks, executive director of the Greater Michigan Foundation. This despite the fact that Michigan Week "ended" May 27.

"It is nothing but a place on the calendar," Weeks says when referring to Michigan Week. A county chairman may begin organizing plans in the summer. By the time school starts he will have recommended programs which schools and service clubs can immediately use to promote Michigan Week ideals within their own organizations.

Year-round promotions need not bring monumental results to keep with underlying principles of Michigan Week. Any original program which endeavors to demonstrate the state's spiritiveness, brings people closer together, builds community pride or provides opportunities for Michigan youth is considered a direct result of Greater Michigan promotion.

IMPROVEMENTS in the seven-day event constantly take place. This year, addition of Michigan Minuteman Governor's Awards became a part of Livelifeood Day.

Nominations for the award were submitted by state associations, city and village councils, and county boards of supervisors. One hundred people received the Governor's citation at special ceremonies.

Another attraction this year was a tour by five former Michigan Governors during Governor Day. Wilbur M. Brucker, 1931-32; Murray D. VanVogner, 1941-42; Harry F. Kelly, 1943-46; G. Mennen Williams, 1949-50; and John B. Swanson, 1951-52, visited some of Michigan's larger cities and were met by enthusiastic crowds at each stop.

Next year's observance, set for May 19-25, is already in the planning stage.

This year's commencement was one of the featured events of the university's 75th anniversary celebration. It was the 75th anniversary as well.

Those receiving diplomas from Northville were Jeffrey John Crawford, bachelor of science; Samuel LeRoy Dible III, bachelor of science; and Sandra Kay Parmenter, two-year secretarial.

In addition to the regular graduates receiving degrees, approximately 50 persons from last January's cancelled commencement also took part in the ceremonies. Inclement weather caused cancellation of commencement in January.

Woman, 71, Found Dead in Ice Box

A 71-year-old Novi woman was found dead Friday morning, squeezed into a small ice box in the basement of an historic Novi home in which she was living.

Novi police found the partly clothed body of Miss Mildred Wilson, 27757 Novi road, at approximately 9:30 a.m. Until the official medical examiners report is received, police are tentatively considering this a suicide case, but have not ruled out the possibility of death by accident.

The crack homicide bureau of the Michigan State police was called in to give assistance.

Discovering the body was Patrolman Robert Starnes, who, along with Detective Sergeant Richard Faulkner, had responded to a call, reporting Miss Wilson as a missing person at 9 a.m.

Mrs. Lella Munro, 80, who lived with Miss Wilson, reported her sister's absence after she and her step-son Burton Munro, a Novi resident, had made a preliminary check of the house and grounds without turning up Miss Wilson.

Mrs. Munro told police she first missed her sister at 7 a.m., upon awaking and not finding her in bed. She said she then called her stepson.

The last time Mrs. Munro saw her sister was at 5:30 p.m. Thursday, when Mrs. Munro said she left the house with her stepson. When she returned at 12 midnight, police said, she went directly to bed, not bothering to turn on the lights in the bedroom.

A proposed multiple housing development at the corner of Wixom and Charms roads ran head on into opposition.

The commission denied the request of Virgil Cornwell, a Wixom builder. He asked that about 28 acres, owned by Dr. Harold Glen, be rezoned from single family residential (RA-1) to multiple.

Reason for turning down the request was that the land involved was prime residential property, holding the highest residential classification in the city.

Action on Forrest Hubbel's request for rezoning for a trailer park was postponed until the next commission meeting, when more detailed plans are expected to be submitted.

Sought was the rezoning of about 40 acres, bounded by West Maple road, the C&O railroad and the west city limits, from residential (RA-2) to mobile home.

Novi Recreation Committee 'Shake Bushes' for More Kids

"Now we're going to shake the bushes." That's the way Charles Comito, chairman of the Novi Youth Protective association's recreation committee, tabbed the committee's response to last weekend's dismal registration turnout.

Only 17 children registered at the Novi township hall, five Friday and 12 Saturday, for the new summer recreation program.

Believing that a need exists, the committee isn't throwing in the towel. Far from it.

In fact, efforts are being expanded. Letters were sent through the mail containing registration forms and a short, informative note to every home with children.

"We feel that two things are responsible for the disappointing response," Mrs. Hubert Farah, committee secretary said. "Lack of transportation and lack of widespread, advance publicity."

Approximately 400 second-class letters were sent out Tuesday morning. Furthermore, about 300 registration forms were hand distributed in the township area of Walled Lake.

Registration will also be held from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday at the Novi village hall.

Not until the number of youngsters selected intent to participate has been determined can firm hiring commitments be made, Mrs. Farah stated. Already, there are three tentative employees, including two site directors and a qualified swimming instructor.

It wasn't all disappointment last week. The Willowbrook Civic association has contributed $25 for the first year's operation. Mrs. Farah said.

The summer recreation project, described as a "pilot program", is scheduled to get underway July 10 and to continue through August 17, Monday through Thursday at the two Novi grade schools and at a local beach, yet to be selected.

Novi OKs Water Budget

First Outlay Set At $72,875 Here

The Novi village council approved its first water department budget Monday, amounting to $72,875 for fiscal year 1967-68.

Unanimous approval was given after minor changes in the budget, submitted by Detroit-based consultant firm and sewer department superintendent.

Proposed salaries of $10,400 for the superintendent and $5,200 for Water Secretary Mrs. Evelyn Natzel were cut back to this year's figures of $10,000 and $3,000.

Of the $2,600 lopped off, $750 was re-allocated for auditing, $350 for equipment purchase and $1,500 was set aside, pending the results of a blue ribbon salary committee study.

The committee was established during the recent village budget hearing, when policemen in force urged the adoption of a new salary schedule. Instead, the council at that time placed money in the balance, to be distributed over all employees after re-evaluation of job classifications and pay.

Village ordinance demands creation of a separate budget for the water department. Sources of revenue are metered water ($22,000), hydrant rental ($16,500), tap-in costs ($18,375) and privilege fee ($16,000).

The latter two figures were based on a projected 75 new homes that will connect in 1967-68 to existing and proposed water lines. The tap-in fee is $245 and the privilege fee is $200.

Nearly all of the 75 new customers are expected in Orchard Hills and Meadowbrook Lake subdivisions, located adjacent to each other on Meadowbrook road. The department, created last year, presently has about 330 customers.

Expenses include cost of Detroit water ($12,000), repairs and maintenance ($6,000), salaries ($13,000), office supplies ($1,500), depreciation ($2,000), tap-in costs ($18,500), education, dues and fees ($500), bond interest and fees ($8,100), bond principal ($5,000), bond reserve ($5,000) and Auditing legal, salary contingency and equipment purchase.

In other action, the council authorized Attorney Howard Bond to draft tentative sewer and water payback plans.

Novi Village Manager Stricken

Harold Ackley, Novi's village manager and one of its most popular figures, was stricken Sunday apparently by a heart attack, and is now hospitalized at St. Joseph hospital, Pontiac.

Ackley was taken to the hospital Monday for observation and tests after an electrocardiogram revealed "a blockage" and fluid in the lungs. It was described as a possible coronary.

As of Tuesday, Mrs. Ackley said there was no conclusive diagnosis. He is able to get around, she said, but is being confined to his hospital bed. When he will be able to resume managerial duties is not known.

Ackley suddenly blacked out Sunday morning, shortly after mowing the lawn at his Walled Lake home. He can't recall whether he was sitting or standing, Mrs. Ackley said. She was not home at the time.

"He had a terrible pain in his shoulder and arm," she stated. After resting the night, he was taken to a local clinic before being hospitalized.

This marks the second Novi village official laid up by illness this year. Councilman Leo Harrowood, now fully recovered, suffered from blood clots and was listed in critical condition for a short time.

Chamber Sells American Flags

A flag in every home... With that idea in mind, the Wixom Chamber of Commerce launched its American flag sale this week.

The 3x5-foot flags, complete with staff, mounting bracket and math halliard, will be on sale at the Wixom General store, Aunt Jemima's Pancake House, Neal's Hair Fashions, Flowers by John and the Wixom Co-op. Cost is $2.95.

Highlighting the drive will be the presentation of 32 flags to the city at the June 27 meeting of the council.

Ex-Legislator Gets Northville Attorney Post

A former state representative was named Northville city attorney Monday succeeding Phillip Ogilvie, who becomes municipal judge July 1.

Morris R. Stempfen, Democratic representative from 1964-66 in the 55th legislative district, was the unanimous choice of the Northville council.

A practicing attorney with offices on Plymouth road in Livonia, Stempfen represented the Northville-Livonia area in the state legislature and served as chairman of the House Apportionment Committee and as a member of the committees on judiciary, education and state prisons.

He was defeated for re-election last fall by Republican Louis Schmidt. Stempfen will take over his new post officially July 1, but the council does not meet until July 17. The July 3 session was cancelled because of the holiday.

A native of Detroit, Stempfen is a graduate of the University of Detroit high school and the University of Michigan.

Ogilvie will be sworn in by John Swainson, Wayne county circuit court judge and former state governor.

World War I Pilot Recalls Life with Rickenbacker, Doolittle, etc.

'We were an Odd Bunch... Flying Up There Like Kings'

They called 'em the Quiet Birdmen; the swashbucklers of the skies. Birdmen... swashbucklers, perhaps. But quiet, never. For the noisy, flaming Collins they flew resounded the world over, sparking a burgeoning fascination in aviation back when air conditioning was a synonym for open cockpits.

A half-century older and grounded by pains of near blindness, Ray Collins, 79, flew back into history this week as he recalled those little, pioneering years from his little Northville township home—just a mile or so from where Eddie Stinson, who was one of his closest friends, also played a role in shaping the world of air travel.

He was a friend or close acquaintance of dozens of air pioneers. He splits their names out like a machine gun—names like Orville Wright, Roscoe Turner, Frank Hawks, Raboh Boye, Arthur Goebel, Billie Street, Lon Yancey, Roger Williams, Sir Hubert Wilkins, Jack Harding, Billie Mitchell, Eddie Rickenbacker, Clarence Brook, Jimmy Doolittle, Richard Byrd, Charles "Slim" Lindbergh, Clarence Chamberlain, Amelia Earhart, and many more.

Hedge-hopping over the years, Collins landed briefly in 1917, the year when he and a handful of other young men headed for a dandelion covered pasture in Wichita Falls, Texas—capitol of the United States' military air schools.

"Imagine, just imagine," he said, "back then the country had only eight military pilots and there were only a dozen or so experienced civilian pilots."

Collins had volunteered—the first to do so from Detroit... to become a military pilot, which meant six months of rigorous schooling ("they studied the equivalent of two years of West Point into six months at Ohio State university. Of his university class of 100, only 25 were graduated and sent to Wichita Falls where they were to learn "the ins and outs of flying wood, strap iron and balling wire."

His name "Hap" Arnold, a first lieutenant at the time, was commander of the field dotted with tiny hangars. His young recruits, Collins included, were training in what was then called the aviation section of the Signal Corps.

The Army Air Corps and United States Air Force handles had not yet appeared. Collins' instructor was a pioneer by the name of Ed Musick, who years later became chief pilot for Pan American.

The Army Air Corps and United States Air Force handles had not yet appeared. Collins' instructor was a pioneer by the name of Ed Musick, who years later became chief pilot for Pan American.

One of his young classmates was named Hubert Call. He was killed during one of his training flights and, as was the custom in those early days, the then unnamed field was designated Call Field. "Why no one else was killed is a real mystery considering the hours we spent in the air. We had about 25 hours of flight training. Well, get this: there wasn't a pilot during World War I who didn't have a minimum of 350 hours where they were to learn "the ins and outs of flying wood, strap iron and balling wire."

Selected for special training following graduation at Call Field, Collins was sent to Dayton for the next 30 days. Then with 18 more hours in the air, he was returned to Call to become an instructor!

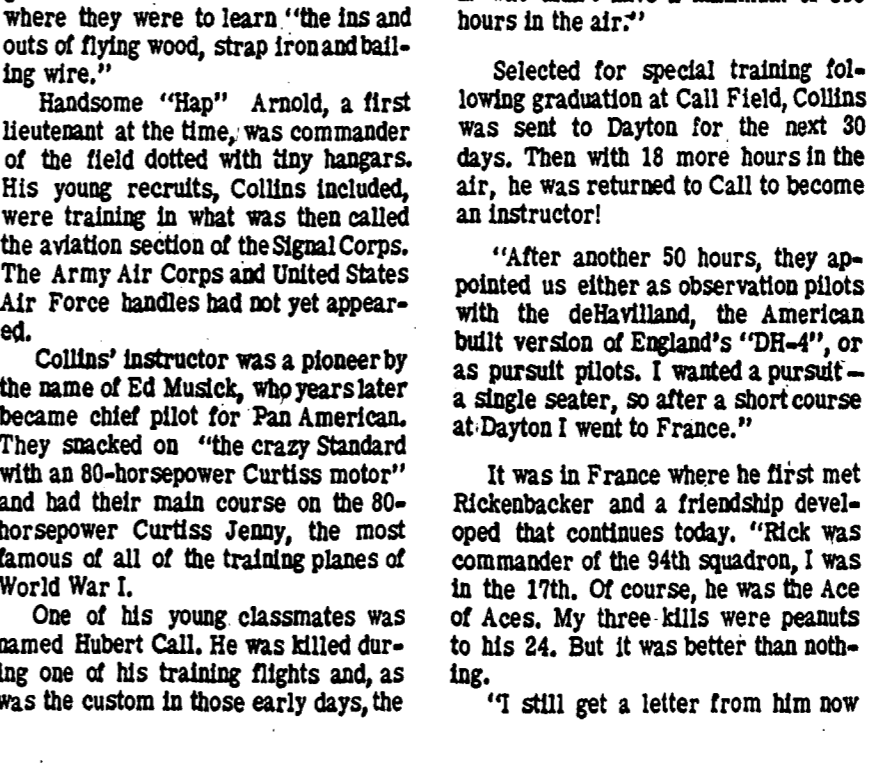

"After another 50 hours, they appointed us either as observation pilots with the deHavilland, the American built version of England's "DH-4", or as pursuit pilots. I wanted a pursuit—a single seater, so after a short course at Dayton I went to France."

It was in France where he first met Rickenbacker and a friendship developed that continues today. "Rick was commander of the 94th squadron, I was in the 17th. Of course, he was the Ace of Aces. My three kills were peanuts to his 24. But it was better than nothing."

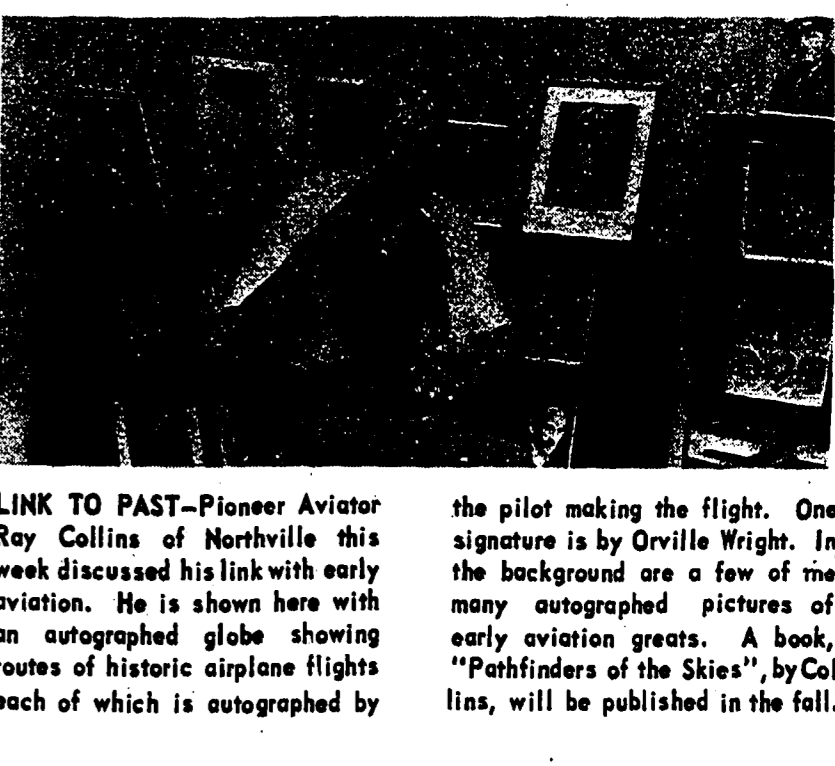

"I still get a letter from him now and then, and a couple of weeks ago he called me on my birthday. Back when he headed the Indianapolis Speedway he'd always reserve a box for me."

Collins flew both the Napoleon and the Spad, streamline little gems that did commendable jobs against the German's superior planes.

"I guess we were an odd bunch. Leather helmets, scarves, the whole works, flying around up there like kings. We'd

RAY COLLINS In His World War I Pilot's Uniform

LINK TO PAST—Pioneer Aviator Ray Collins of Northville this week discussed his link with early aviation. He is shown here with an autographed globe showing routes of historic airplane flights each of which is autographed by the pilot making the flight. One signature is by Orville Wright. In the background are a few of the many autographed pictures of early aviation greats. A book, "Pathfinders of the Skies", by Collins, will be published in the fall.
