The City Attorney suggested that City Mgr. and Council take a position and go on record by sending a formal letter to proper representatives regarding this matter.

Communications from Citizens:

Mr. Roger Harrison, 2817 Center street, was present to remind Council that there have been 2 storms since he last attended a Council meeting. On July 13 and 14, 1967, there was no rain but Mr. Harrison had been back up in his basement (not sewers). Mr. Harrison stated he is convinced that the present sewer is not a sufficient line. Councilman Nichols told Mr. Harrison that those present at the informal council meeting at his house are convinced that there should be a complete review and recommendation on the line serving Mr. Harrison's house.

Mayor requested an opinion from the City Engineer after he has examined said notice of public hearing as it appeared in the Northville Record.

City manager reported committee's activities and findings on violations of Storm Sewer Ordinance amendment and stated that letters had been written and a final check is to be on the remaining houses.

Mr. Andrew Pelt, 1097 Grace Ct., stated his problems regarding the drainage ditch that runs under his property and that it has overflowed three times the past year. Mr. Pelt will keep a record of the overflow of ditch and report periodically to council. Mr. Fran Bolter, 332 Maplewood, wondered if Grace Ct. sewer is allowed to tie into it to complicate the Northville Heights' Sub. #2 problem (overflow of pond on the north). Doug Horst, 233 Sherrie Lane, asked what council proposes to do with the James Stevens, Sherrie Lane, said he did not believe the like is the answer, would like Council to consider some other method.

Councilman Lapham reminded council that the original intent was to safeguard children's lives. Mayor Allen stated that there were no problems areas to be discussed later on the agenda which might have some bearing on the matter.

WATER BATTLE-Workmen installing Wixom sewers have had to battle water all the way. That's a well casing at the left, typical of the dozens that have been sunk to cope with the soggy locale.

But Sewer Builder Finds It Wixom Hides Its Biggest Lake

The city of Wixom boasts some fine lakes within its boundaries - but the biggest of all of 'em is familiar to only a relatively few of its citizens. That's because this gigantic "lake" hides beneath the city itself.

project - laying of sewer lines - has been completed, they note. This percentage does not include the sewer treatment plant, which comes under another contract.

Since starting the sewer last winter, Holloway has been pumping water 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Despite the water problem, however, the project continues to move ahead and Holloway spokesmen are still pointing to a January, 1968 completion date.

When this has happened - and occasionally still occurs, officials explain, digging and filling of the must be completed in only 20 to 30-foot sections before workmen can move on to the next section.

5-Year-Old Killed Phone Call Tells Driveway Tragedy

A vacationing Novi couple's fun-filled three-day adventure in the East turned into a tragic nightmare late Wednesday afternoon as they telephoned home.

Just as their call was put through, a five-year-old daughter was struck by a car in the driveway of their home.

At Township Offices Bids Asked on Blacktopping

Preparations for securing bids on blacktopping of the drives and lots surrounding the township offices are underway.

Township officials gave the go-ahead signal at their regular monthly meeting Monday night, asking their engineers to update specifications and advertise for bids.

The bids are to be received September 5, with start of the project to start immediately thereafter - provided the bids do not exceed expectations.

Included in the plans is the surfacing of the entire parking space in front of the building, the drives on either side, the rear parking lot, and the drive to the road at the northeast corner of the library.

Other business Monday, officials agreed to attempt to set up a meeting with state officials relative to laws governing the operation of township parks.

A year ago, local officials were notified by the state that the township park, located at Walled Lake, failed to meet all of the state regulations governing facilities of this kind. But because of severe plans in the area, Novi requested - by letter - a delay in the state's demands pending completion of the sewer or the plans for it.

Because no reply was received from the state, the township assumed the state "was sitting" on the matter. Supervisor Bradley Backer explained. However, this summer the county health department advised the township to correct irregularities immediately.

"We want to meet with the state to see exactly what they want us to do," the supervisor explained.

Specifically, to meet state requirements the township must redesign the layout of the park to give trailer parking sites specific sizes, and sewage disposal and electrical facilities must be changed somewhat, he said.

Concerning recent demands of Willowbrook subdivision citizens for a township ordinance governing dogs, Township Attorney Emery Jacques reported that the county corporation attorney had advised him that the township ordinance would cover only those township areas that are not located within the village.

Since Willowbrook is in both the township and the village, officials concluded the requested ordinance would be of no value to citizens in that area and the matter was dropped.

Set Saturday Northville Sale

Northville merchants don't expect any customers in their stores Saturday. But they're hoping for plenty of action out in front - on the sidewalks and streets!

Saturday Northville retailers will conduct their annual "Sidewalk Sale". Nearly 30 merchants and community organizations will display their wares - from garage cans to automobiles to paintings and pottery.

This year for the first time both Main and Center streets will be closed to vehicular traffic so that shoppers may roam throughout the business district.

Main Street will be closed from Center to Hutton, while Center Street will be roped off for shoppers from Main to Dunlap.

Sale Chairman Gerald Stone said that space is still available in certain areas on Main and Center where merchants from outside the central business district, or organizations wishing to conduct a sale to raise funds, may reserve space. Arrangements may be made by calling Stone at 71 9-2323.

Hundreds of outstanding values await shoppers at the day-long Sidewalk Sale. Most merchants use the event to clear their shelves of summer merchandise to prepare for the fall season.

Those participating in the sale include: Northville Drug, Old Mill Restaurant, Lapham's, Frey's, Gussell Shoppe, D & C Stores, Brader's, Del's Shoes, Schrader's Home Furnishings, Spinning Wheel, Northville Record, Northville Hardware, Leone's Bakery, Jayettes, C. R. Ely & Sons, John Mach Ford Sales, Hartley-Powers Gallery, Rathbun Chevrolet, G. E. Miller Sales & Services, East Door Antiques, Mothers' Club, Little's Gallery and Main Street Antique.

Police Bouquet

The police departments of Novi and Wixom have received letters of appreciation from the city of Pontiac for their assistance during the recent riot threat in that Oakland county seat.

$2500 DAMAGE - A fire, apparently touched off by sparks from a nearby brush fire, all but destroyed a combination stable, garage and implement storage building at 20889 Cambridge, off Eight Mile road, early Saturday afternoon. Despite efforts by Novi police and firemen, the building - located at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Donald Lane - was nearly destroyed and a tractor and several pieces of equipment were badly damaged. Shortly after this blaze, firemen battled a grass fire behind the Gurnsey Dairy on Novi road.

Says Salem Operator 'Sanitary Landfill, Please, Not Dump'

He bounces around the mountains of earth and rubbish and garbage, amid giant, grunting machines, showing off the place as if it were a gleaming, new Cadillac.

"Beautiful, isn't it," he exclaims periodically. "About as beautiful as landfills come, probably, but for Mr. Average Citizen who has not yet encountered The Admonition It's still the place where the trash barrel and garbage can finally are emptied."

That admonition was dished out to a young student one afternoon last week when he drove up with a trunkload of trash and asked if he had found the "Salem Dump."

In his best Swedish accent, Gunnar Stromberg shot back, "If you're looking for the landfill you've come to the right place - a dump, look someplace else."

It's become a standard reply for Stromberg and other operators like him who are constantly battling the ugly reputation of dumps as they go about the big, legal business of filling holes with rubbish and garbage and covering it with dirt.

Stromberg, Northville township trustee and planning commission chairman, supervises the 60-acre Salem landfill, located at Five Mile and Chubb roads, for Sheldon Hayes who in turn has a contract with the city of Plymouth which owns the property.

City Answer Coming Soon

An Oakland county circuit court decision on the controversial village incorporation question is imminent, officials revealed Tuesday.

Judge William Beer is expected to hand down a decision next week or early next. Following the final court appearance Monday afternoon of legal representatives of the village, township and the incorporation committee.

Since most of the arguments had been repeatedly made in earlier court appearances and since they were incorporated in briefs already presented to the judge, Monday's court session resulted in little additional comment by parties involved.

Judge Beer said he would study the briefs and make his decision soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Mengyan, who had left Sunday for Waterbury, Connecticut for a few days, had called from the airport where their plane had been delayed. They arrived home shortly after midnight - too late to be at their daughter's bedside.

Funeral services for the little girl were held at the Richardson-Bird Funeral Home Saturday morning, with the Rev. Carl J. Grunstein officiating. Burial was in the Oakland Hills Memorial cemetery. (See details on page 12-A).

Says Salem Operator 'Sanitary Landfill, Please, Not Dump'

necessary public service. An estimated 95-percent of Salem's citizens are satisfied with the Salem landfill. And Township Supervisor Floyd Taylor is one of them.

But it wasn't always that way. In fact, Taylor figures about 95-percent of the people were "dead-set against it" two years ago - and earlier - when Plymouth operated it as a dump. It was in 1965, when the state was wadding knee-deep in citizenry complaints about dumps, that state lawmakers hammered together a controversial bill that literally outlawed the "old-fashioned dump". That bill, now Public Act 87, prohibits dumps that continue to operate in this area - some which have the sanction of the governing body.

Take a look at just three requirements under this law and see if that "dump" in your area operates legally: ---The bottom of the dump must be two feet above the water level.

---Rubbish or garbage (the state makes no distinction) must be laid down in layers no more than two-feet thick and in tiers not to exceed eight feet, with a six-inch layer of compacted dirt applied to the top layer or at the conclusion of each day's operation.

---Once the pre-determined grade level is about to be reached, a final two-foot layer of dirt - bringing it to grade level - must be added and the entire area seeded.

Under the law, Plymouth found it was operating its Salem dump illegally. And to operate it legally, it learned, was a financial impossibility. It means expensive engineering costs, increased employment, and huge investments in machines capable of hauling, pushing and covering the garbage and rubbish. That's when the city turned to Hayes.

Just Ask The Expert Table Setting Takes A Touch of Artistry

There's more to setting a table than plunking down a cup, saucer and napkin.

Take it from Mrs. John Burkman, chairman of the table settings division of the September 16 Flowers Internationale show, who this week presents rules and some suggestions for those entering the competition.

Mrs. Burkman has won many blue ribbons for table settings and floral arrangements in past flower shows and was awarded the special purple ribbon for the table setting judged "best of the show" in 1967.

Here's what she has to offer:

1. In the words of the late Frank Lloyd Wright, "Arranging the table for dining is a great artistic opportunity."
2. Our tables today with their bright color schemes, unusual, even flamboyant accessories, give us wide scope to express our personality. In fact table setting, instead of being a chore, can present both challenge and fun for the hostess, and a surprise and delight to her guests. Reaction to a colorful table setting is instantaneous and will stimulate conversation and set the pace of the party.
3. There are a few basic rules which govern tables to be judged.
4. Your table must follow the schedule in your flower show brochure.
5. The cloth or place mats must complement your china and be of suitable texture.
6. The cloth may hang to the floor or overhang the edge of the table twelve to
7. fourteen inches. It should have only one crease and that should be a very light crease in the center of the cloth.
8. Napkins should be folded in a rectangle and placed on the left of the place plate, close to the silver and one inch from the edge of the table. They may also be placed in the center of the place plate with the top corners turned under. The open end is usually placed to the left.
9. The goblet or glass is placed to the right and above the knife. If wine or cordial glasses are used they are placed below and slightly to the right of the goblet.
10. The cup and saucer should be on the right, with the handle of the cup to the right and parallel to the edge of the table.
11. The bread and butter plate should be on the left (for informal settings), opposite the goblet.
12. For buffet settings the dishes should be placed so that the guests may progress along the table and be conveniently served. The placement of the serving dishes must be balanced.
13. Flat silver is not allowed in judged table settings so the position it would occupy must be taken into consideration in placing napkins and goblets.
14. Some of the above rules must be waived at the discretion of the judges to follow the customs of the countries called for in the schedule, where their customs differ from ours.

Kris Delbert, daughter of the Glenn Delberts of Napier road, will return for her junior year at the University of Michigan in two weeks to continue her special education major. She has worked as a waitress at Meadowbrook Country Club all summer. Kris was valedictorian of the class of 1965.

Activities center around the Invitational Golf Tournament this weekend at Meadowbrook. The tournament begins today and lasts four days, with the final rounds being played Sunday. Tonight the contestants will be feted at a dinner. Friday night a buffet dinner is scheduled and the annual Invitational dinner dance is planned for Saturday night.

While her husband operated the newspaper, Mrs. Harrington contributed a column of interesting news items for women under the title of "Mrs. Editor". She re-read some of those items last week from 1937 issues of The Record.

Now 84, Mrs. Harrington said she is happy to see the newspaper office, even though it has since moved from across Center street, but saddened to see the building, which she had lived in for 20 years, being razed to the ground.

The Record has been published continuously by a succession of men dating back to 1865. The oldest weekly newspaper in Wayne county, it will celebrate its centennial two years from now.

Sister John Elise, visited her 240 Orchard, from July 28 through the first week of August. She has now returned to Rockwood, Michigan.

Mental Health Officials Say

Riot Sparks Heart Warming Aid

Officials at the Department of Mental Health's Detroit area institutions are praising staff, volunteers and patients for their participation in a series of dramatic and heart-warming "happenings" which took place during the Detroit riot emergency.

Warehouse clerks became chief cooks, typists fed retarded children, patients took over staff duties, and volunteers turned out in record numbers - all to replace some of the hundreds of persons unable to report for work. In some institutions during the height of the emergency as many as 75 to 80 per cent of the staff members were absent.

An official termed the past week's activities at his facility "a tremendous cooperative effort" the words of "dedication" and "devotion." Words like "amazed" and "overwhelmed" were repeated frequently. They cited examples such as:

At Detroit's Lafayette Clinic warehouse clerk, a former Army cook, who quickly volunteered to be chef for the institution.

The Northville Hospital social services coordinator and her secretary who stood side by side washing their way through mounds of dirty dishes.

The 118 volunteers who flocked to Plymouth State Home Monday just 90 minutes after a telephone chain was started to find persons to help feed the noon meal.

The patients at Northville who asked "What can I do to help?" and were put to work feeding others who were bedridden.

At Detroit's Lafayette Clinic, located on the fringe of the rioting, business executive Anthony Drabik pointed out that though only 20 to 25 per cent of the hospital employees were able to report for work Monday, the nursing staff maintained 75 per cent coverage. Many nurses worked two eight-hour shifts in row, stayed overnight and began work again in the morning.

Citing others who did "an outstanding job and worked wherever needed," Drabik told of one staffer who came in and singlehandedly prepared breakfast, including special diets, for 100 patients when 75 persons, nearly two-thirds of the nursing staff for one shift, were late or unable to report.

Taliaferro also had to tap his lists of volunteers to assist in departments like food service where only 16 of 40 workers appeared for one shift.

Volunteers also played an important role at Plymouth State Home in Northville, community relations director William Boyd reported. Monday, when less than 50 percent of the staff appeared for work, over 100 volunteers from nearby communities rushed to the hospital and kept coming during the next several days. Among members of the emergency volunteer brigade were 32 Felician nuns who reside in a convent near Livonia.

Staff members at Plymouth also received large measures of praise. Nearly all changed their working hours without complaint, Boyd said. For the midnight shift this meant arriving about 8:00 p.m. to beat the curfew imposed across Detroit and working 10 to 11 hours until the day shift came on duty.

Other staffers did double duty. Typists, social workers, various therapists and housekeepers helped with noon feedings and then stayed on after their working hours to help with evening meals. Others worked three consecutive shifts and gave up days off.

This same type of doubling up and long hours by staff members on the scene helped keep Hawthorn Center operating at a nearly-normal schedule, personnel director Harold Kaufman reported.

Many institution officials are making plans to honor those who helped in the emergency, but as one put it, "We'll never be able to contact everybody."

Scribe's Itchin' to Start

Seventeen-year-old Daryl Holloman, fresh from a summer journalism session at the University of Kansas, is itching to put his newly-acquired knowledge to work on the high school newspaper, The Mustang.

A member of the newspaper staff last year and author of the sports column, "Hoofbeats," the senior was granted a $90 scholarship to help defray expenses at Kansas where he spent June 18 to July 30 studying all phases of journalism - newspaper, TV and radio.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Holloman of Orchard drive, he participated in the special summer journalism program with 150 top high school journalism students from throughout the 50 states.

His classes included advertising, reporting, yearbook, campus publications, photography, radio-TV, editorial writing, feature writing, editing, and press conferences with such prominent figures as Skitch Henderson and Coach Bob Timmons and Ted Owens.

Besides contributing to The Mustang, a summer publication for participants in the university's Midwest music and art program, Holloman also wrote a sports column for the Summer Session Kansas for college students attending the university during the summer.

In addition to convincing him to pursue a journalistic career, the summer program also convinced Holloman of one other thing: "I'm going to attend Kansas after graduating from Northville."

Summer Fun Comes in Colorful Packages

Tri-Wheeler Tops Racers

Pets 'n Dolls Take Spotlight

Three big winners wouldn't satisfy thrill-hungry fans Friday morning as they screamed, laughed and cried their way through the first annual soap box derby sponsored by the Northville Recreation department.

For them a big question mark remained. So derby officials - who admitted they were as curious as the fans - pitted the three winners in a final, unofficial streak down the track over on Maplewood.

And the three boys and their gleaming racers finished just as suspected: Fred Meyer and his three-wheel wind breaker that had won first place in the bearings division crossed the finish line first.

Taking second in the unofficial race was Rick Gotts and his hot car that had grabbed first in the non-bearing class, while close behind in third was David Lemon and the Cadillac of the entire field.

All three were happy winners, however, as Mayor A. M. Allen presented them with trophies for their first-place showing in the bearing, non-bearing and most original construction classes.

The derby was a success from start to finish - marred only by City Manager Frank Ollendorff's test run that opened the colorful event. Ollendorff,

There were dollops for everything from bikes, to dolls to the meanest looking dog. And if someone didn't walk off with a winner, he or she received plenty of recognition from the hundreds of youngsters and adults who watched the colorful event.

Following is a list of winners:

Bikes - In the prettiest division, Terri Linenger, first; Jane Fosten, second; and Chris Sylvain, third; most original, Ken Louie, first; Bob Shook, second; and Lynn Sylvain, third.

Best Float for Recreation - Jon Bowne, first, and Northville Recreation, second.

Prettiest float - Surrey, first; Miss America, second; and Princess Whiskers, third.

Most Original float - Don't Feed Animals, first; Circus, second; and Row Row Your Boat, third.

Dolls - Largest collection, Brenda Boyd, first, and Elizabeth Schwarze, second; best homemade, Linda Matthews, first, Sharen Marie Alsbough, second and Linda Prom, third; prettiest, Laura Elsie, first, Janet Elsie, second, and Becky Waugaman, third; best dressed, Kathy Jones, first, Kim Stelmach, second, and Shirley Cowel, third; cutest, Carol Ketter, first, Patty Louie, second, and Lisa Vanlgen, third.

Biggest doll, Melinda Rotta, first, Elizabeth Schwarze, second, and Sarah Schwarze, third; smallest, Sheri Bongiovanni, first, Cecil Olewnik, second, and Jill Boyd, third; oldest, Coleen Cushing, first, and Patty Gray, second; best foreign doll, Wendy Mayer, first, Shelley Matthews, second and Kathy Heintz, third.

Cutest kitten - Cherie Hilliga, first, Ann Bongiovanni, second, and Margie Malone, third.

Cats - Most varicolored, Hilary Holdsworth, first, Denise Letarte, second, and Dean Hicks, third; blackest, Wendy Wheaton and Morgan Wheaton, tied; whitest, Mary Hicks, first, Melthe Sylvain, second, and Maryanne Harper, third; largest family (five kittens), Kelly Malone; smallest cat, John Jerome, first, and Dean Hicks and Cindy Chisholm, tied for second; biggest cat, Russ and Doug Horst and Susan Green, tied for first; Brian Holloman, second, and Vanessa Patterson, third.

Novi Schedules Grid Practice

Practice sessions will get underway at 8 a.m. Monday, August 28 for Novi high school football candidates, Coach John Osborne announced this week.

In issuing the call to practice, Osborne reminded candidates that physical examination cards must be in the hands of the coaching staff on or before that date.

No one will be issued equipment, he said, unless the cards are filled out and in by that date.

Similar reminders have been given candidates for the Northville varsity, junior varsity and freshmen football teams. Practice begins at the same time for Northville varsity candidates.

EVERYONE WINS-Fun was the biggest prize so everyone came out a winner in last week's pet 'n doll show and the local soap box derby. At top, racers wait for the streak down the track (second from top). Above, fans and participants wait for the parade to start and then, in the next picture, the parade begins. At left, Mayor A. M. Allen congratulates the three top race drivers (l to r) Rick Gotts, Fred Meyer and David Lemon. In the next two pictures top parade participants show fans why they're winners.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Nissen are home from Pontiac General Hospital where they both underwent surgery. On Wednesday, August 9, Mrs. Charles Ware attended a wedding shower at Roma Hall honoring Pat Pipper, who will become the bride of Chris McCall of the U.S. Marine Corps on September 8.

On Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Donald Nissen and daughters drove to Battle Creek to attend the wedding of Mark Watson of Milford and Nancy Nunn of Battle Creek. The wedding was at the Sonoma Methodist Church. Nancy is the daughter of the late Mr. Howard Nunn and Mrs. Nunn. Best man was Ned Watson of Milford. Maid of honor was Ellen Nunn, sister of the bride. The reception was held at the church for about 200 friends and relatives.

On Saturday the Wesley McAtees were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Prentiss of Russell Island near Algonac. On Sunday, August 13 the Charles Wares were dinner guests of the Fred Wursts of Oakley Park. The occasion was a get-together of parishioners of St. Williams Catholic church, Walled Lake, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Walsh who are flying to England to meet their son Jerome. He is studying for the priesthood at Louvain University, Belgium. From England they will fly to Belgium where they will be given a car as guests of G.M. Following a tour of Europe, ending in Paris, they will then fly home to Detroit.

Novi Boy Gets Clemson Degree

Clemson university granted 159 undergraduate degrees, including one to a Novi student, at summer sessions graduation on August 5.

The local student is Dikran Ormekian, who received an industrial management degree.

Degrees were conferred by Clemson President Robert C. Edwards, and Dr. Arnold E. Schwartz, head of the Clemson department of civil engineering, addressed the graduates.

Biggest ovation of the 11 a.m. ceremonies was reserved for Donald W. Shelley of Columbia, a pre-medicine graduate who completed his undergraduate work with all "A's", or a perfect 4.0 grade-point ratio. The only other Clemson graduate to accomplish such an honor in the institution's 74-year history was Joseph T. Bailey, a 1959 graduate in ceramic engineering.

Warrants have been issued for the arrest of two Southfield residents, who police believe are responsible for the theft of 200 unsigned payroll checks in Novi.

They are William T. Myers, 22, and Pauline Matarazzo, 18.

FBI agents also are seeking the pair on warrants charging them with interstate flight to avoid prosecution.

According to Novi Detective Gordon Nelson, who with an officer of the Chelsea Manufacturing company identified 81 of the missing checks in Toledo Friday where they had been found in an unlocked bus depot locker, the pair have been identified by a bank clerk in Farmington and a store clerk in Novi.

Also identified in Toledo as part of the loot was a tape recorder, which had been pawned there for $15.

The checks and the recorder were stolen from the Chelsea Manufacturing company, 40333 Grand River, on Saturday, August 5.

Besides the checks and recorder, skydiving event will include a variety of styling features.

"Jumping for the mark" will continue until Sunday afternoon when the final championship round takes place, officials revealed.

With this latest announced event, the Gala Day program continues to pick up speed. Several other organizations, including the reorganized Novi Goodfellows and Novi Heights civic association, have announced they will participate.

Officials also have revealed that plans have been confirmed for pony rides to be provided by Wilson Westphal of South Lyon. In addition, door prizes, provided by business in and around Novi, will be given away at least every hour and perhaps even more often. One or two bicycles will be given away to some lucky child, they added.

Among other major highlights of the celebration will be an Ox roast, a pancake breakfast, a parade of vehicles supplied by major Novi businesses and perhaps an exhibit of a United States defense missile.

Meanwhile, officials of the Novi Rotary Club have formed up their plans to sponsor a booth in the event and formally open their public park on the First Methodist church property off Grand River near Novi road.

FBI Joins Search For Check Thieves

The burglars also took two one-dollar bills from a wallet and a watch and later the same day attempted to purchase food from a stand across the street with the bills. Still later, they attempted to cash one of the checks in Farmington, Nelson said.

A girl, answering the Matarazzo's description, tried to cash a check under Myers' name, using a draft card as identification. When the bank clerk excused herself to check the identification, the girl fled leaving behind both the check and the draft card.

On Wednesday, Toledo police notified Novi police of finding the checks, and on Thursday reported the pawned tape recorder.

3 Face Exam On Burglary

Two young men and a woman, all of Novi, have been released on $500 bonds pending a justice court examination on breaking and entering charges.

They are Peter J. and Robert Miller of 215 Faywood and Juanita Combs, who police said gave her address as West Lake drive.

They are accused of breaking into Nick's Grocery, 2206, on August 9 about 1 a.m. Their arrest followed the checking of registration of a car found at the scene and a tip from witnesses.

Novi police, who were making a routine patrol of the area, believe they frightened the thieves away before they completed the theft. Several bottles of wine, taken from the store, were found in a car, registered to Robert Miller, at the scene.

As police patrolled the area they noticed a ladder leaning against the building, leading to one of the windows. Upon investigating they found the screen had been ripped away from the window. The suspects had fled, however.

During Novi Gala Days Skydivers to Compete Here

When board of commerce and Jaycee officials say this year's Gala Days "will really be jumping," they're not kidding.

They revealed Tuesday that the Michigan Championship Parachute contest will be conducted here during the two-day Gala Days event, August 26 and 27, through the cooperation of the Midwest Parachute Sales & Service, 46501 Grand River.

More than 20 top jumpers, including at least one from this area, will be floating through the air on both days in competition for trophies provided by Midwest. Among the skydivers will be Norman Rust of Novi.

In addition to accuracy events, the skydiving event will include a variety of styling features.

"Jumping for the mark" will continue until Sunday afternoon when the final championship round takes place, officials revealed.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

While the plan may not be feasible, or even legal, the Northville school board deserves an "A" for its effort to acquire school sites from subdividers.

Specifically, the board has asked city and township officials to make it mandatory for subdividers to dedicate school sites within their proposed developments to the school district. It appears that the intent of the board's proposal is that the sites should be free because the subdivisions are responsible for creating the need for new schools.

In theory it sounds fine, but the "dedication requirement" has many ramifications that would make application with any degree of equity near impossible.

The important issue here, however, is that an effort is being made to improve communications - to have one tax-spending arm of the community know what the other is doing.

Board members Richard Martin and Andrew Orphan carried the appeal directly to township planners last week. In commenting on the need for "being on the ground floor of development" Martin pointed out that the cost of school sites "is sky high by the time we know of the subdivision."

Martin, it appeared, was well aware that the school district might not expect free land dedications, but that it would be happy with half-a-loaf - a site that had not been inflated in price by the presence of development. Orphan further noted that school sites themselves, enhanced the value of development property and that this should be considered by subdividers.

City and township planners are studying the school board request and, presumably, will make recommendations to their respective elected bodies, the council and board.

Coincidental, new revisions to the city's subdivision ordinance list among its requirements for approval of a preliminary plat the submission of such plats to the superintendent of schools.

Township Planner Bernard Baldwin pointed to one flaw in the best system of communication. He noted that planners do not learn of the new growth areas where schools will be needed until the subdivider comes in with his proposed plan.

Meanwhile, it was refreshing and reassuring to learn that there are things more important to youngsters than their own welfare.

Last Friday they voted to send $200 of their savings to the "Teen Drop-In Center" in Detroit. The "Drop-In", located on Mack near Van Dyke, was burned down by rioters.

Northville's Jayettes are excited about the "Helping Hand" program. Jayette President Mrs. Richard Norton won council support for the idea last week when she explained how it worked.

"Hand" posters will be displayed in homes (selected by Jayettes) throughout the community where children in need of help or information know they can turn for a "helping hand".

Lurid orange and yellow flames engulfed the skeleton building as two Negroes, one wearing a classic porkie hat, stood sibilantly in the foreground, two burning logs from the hearth of Detroit's violence. Slugged "Battlefield, U.S.A.," this was the recent blaring cover of Newsweek magazine.

Inside, bloody color prints were sandwiched between cauterizing story, detailed and accurate, that told the grim tale of the most devastating riot in this nation's history. Upstaging the sweeping riot roundup, adding that rate personal touch - for Newsweek magazine - was John Dotson's poignant narrative of his experience with rebelling Negroes. The business section, a cogent report spelled out the financial impact.

Within the short space of 11 compact pages, Newsweek had wrapped up a pulsating story that overlooked nothing. The Detroit maelstrom was The Story of the week, and Newsweek had done the job - anonymously, of course. But how?

THE IT RESOLVED by the citizens present at the Plymouth Community Leadership Conference of Saturday, April 8, 1967 representing the five communities of - Northville Township, City of Northville, Plymouth Township, City of Plymouth, Canton Township and the Plymouth Community School Board.

"That we request our State Legislators to introduce legislation enabling communities of any class, including mixtures of village, township, cities and home-rule cities to join in mutual authorities or mutual contracts for the provision of unified police services.

"We have concurrently passed and transmitted to our respective elected boards and commissions, a similar resolution urging them to adopt individual resolutions (also addressed to our legislative representatives) to the same effect.

"As citizens, we wish to have the option for ourselves and other communities within the state of combining in the most efficient manner for the provision of the police protection so badly needed.

"Apparently, present law may not permit a mutual authority or mutual contract among a mixture of unincorporated and incorporated community governments of various classes. The vote was unanimous.

The authority to achieve the very worthy objective you sought has now been enacted and I hope it will be of value to all concerned. Incidentally, this goal of improved services through cooperative endeavor was also envisioned by the framers of our present State Constitution in Section 28 of Article VII as follows:

"The legislature by general law shall authorize two or more counties, townships, cities, villages or districts, or any combination thereof, to enter into contractual undertakings or agreements with one another or with the state or with any combination thereof for the joint administration of any of the function or powers which each would have the power to perform separately; share the costs and responsibilities of functions and services with one another or with the state or with any combination thereof which each would have the power to perform separately; transfer functions or responsibilities to one another or any combination thereof upon the consent of each unit involved; cooperate with one another and with state government; lend their credit to one another or any combination thereof as provided by law in connection with any authorized publicly owned undertaking."

Early Sunday morning Richards was alerted through his garage manager to a call from Negro friends. Although early reports were haphazard, the two bureau staffers were alert, as is the newsmen's wont. In the absence of Jones, Dotson called the shots, Kirschmal said.

"By Sunday night," he said, "it had become quite obvious that we had to get color art, which must precede the story, before we could do the time consuming." Bill Clark, a local professional photographer, was called and Monday the first batch of 1,500 pictures was on its way to New York.

According to Kirschmal, the cover page picture was a product of luck, as he claimed were many of the pictures, including the sequence showing the dying Negro, shirt soaked in blood, lying next to a guard.

The wrap-up story which appeared in last week's issue began shaping up Wednesday, when the first copy was wired to New York. The Newsweek staff collaborated and by late Saturday night, the normal deadline, the story had taken final form. Lines were held open until Sunday however, for last-minute statistics and sudden new developments. Sunday night, one week after the first spark had ignited, the story was put to bed.

Booze Barons Get Toasted

To the Editor:
Those misguided men of influence always arguing to give the whiskey stores, party stores, and taverns a place of respectability in society, might try explaining why -

One of the first orders in such crisis as the recent rioting is for these merchants to close their shops. The order usually stands for several hours after the emergency is declared at an end.

We are for the order! There is no evil known to man which does not have beverage alcohol as its major contributor.

Could it be that there would be less rioting if the booze barons stayed closed?!!

Just Wondering

Michigan Mirror School Superintendent - 'Man in Middle'

LANSING - Thankless, Demanding, Pressure. These words describe what is probably the most difficult job category in the state school superintendent.

It seems clearly predictable that fewer and fewer competent men will accept this job, regardless of the salary, unless something changes. And no changes are in sight to improve the situation.

Responsibility and authority to administer school policies as defined by

Don't Invite Burglary

BABSON PARK, Mass. - Whether in the city or in the suburbs, people are a lot more likely nowadays to be victimized by burglars than ever before. So it is only sensible to know how best to avoid this disturbing - and often costly - circumstance. And to know, if it should happen, what to do to help recover lost possessions.

Police experts on burglary pretty much agree that carelessness in locking doors and windows makes an easy in for housebreakers, most of whom are likely to be amateurs. The old adage that any burglar who wants to get in will find a way is not taken too seriously by most students of the way of thieves. If entrance is made difficult, chances are that the average felon will keep looking until he finds a house or an apartment that is an obvious easy mark.

Perhaps the "open sesame" for most breaks is the snap lock that clicks shut without the use of a key. Such a device can usually be opened by a burglar in one or two minutes with a thin, firm object, such as a chrome card or a pocket calendar. Drop-bolt, double, and various types of "police" locks provide superior assurance against entry. Your locksmith will help you choose the right one, and will make certain that there are no weak sections of wood or glass around the lock that could be easily shattered by sudden force. Some reliable locks come with magnetic keys having neither teeth nor grooves so they cannot be duplicated. IT SURELY should not be considered "stily" - nor is it particularly costly - to have locks checked from time to time, and changed occasionally. When moving into a new house or apartment, it is definitely advisable to have the locks changed; same is applicable when you move or other domestic are re-located, especially if there was a short term or temporary tenure. Any police officer will advise altering locks in a newly rented apartment, and this is only common sense in a high-rise apartment building. Windows are closed somewhat of a problem, since they can often be smashed and a simple catch released. In crowded cities metal grilles are frequently attached either inside or outside the panes. While locked inside grilles are a better guard against burglary than those that can be pried off from the outside, they present a serious hazard for residents in case of fire. Many fire departments have strong ideas on this, and reportedly some big-city departments are testing out window locks that are both safe and burglar-resistant. Night lights are a good idea when a home is to be left vacant; and cooperation of neighbors is helpful.

EVEN WITH the utmost precaution, robberies do take place. Authorities make it clear that they will be grateful if the victims do not put things in order after a place is ransacked. This makes it next to impossible to file the claims that most often lead to capture of a thief and recovery of the stolen goods. Insurance companies should be notified at once and provided with details on all valuable articles known to be missing. Both police and insurance agents are constantly appalled by people's inability to identify stolen goods. Insurers are urged to keep serial numbers of costly appliances. Women should note the furrier's mark on the seams in a luxurious fur coat, since any identification is likely to have been ripped off. In the case of expensive jewelry and such items as sculpture and paintings, color photographs should be taken and put in a secure place such as a safe-deposit box. It is wise, in fact, to keep notations of all valuables together in such a register. This will go a long way with the police descriptions and forgotten details that are so discouraging to police and insurance men.

Final reminder: Police officials insist that there is an excellent chance of successfully solving a burglary ... if they are summoned immediately and if everything in the rifled home is left strictly as it usually they have completed their inspection.
