During 75th Anniversary 52nd Year Pin On 80th Birthday

When Mrs. John Christensen joined the Northville Woman's Club in 1915 she had to walk from her home in Novi to attend the meetings in town. In those days club members took turns at presenting programs, usually book reviews, instead of inviting outside speakers as the club does now.

Fifty-two years later, Mrs. Christensen is still an enthusiastic member of the Woman's Club. She was honored Saturday on her 80th birthday by the club for her half-century of membership.

A pin bearing the club monogram was presented to her. The club also is celebrating an anniversary this year, its 75th year of activity.

Only one other club member, Mrs. C. M. Chase, who died earlier this year, had been a member for 50 years.

Mrs. Christensen is a past president of the club, serving in 1922-23, and was made a life member in 1940.

She was born Iva Hubbard on August 19, 1887, the daughter of Dow Hubbard and Lydia Glympos. She attended Northville schools before moving to Northville in 1902.

After graduating from Northville high school in 1905, she lived for a time in Superior, Wisconsin where she attended college for one year.

She later attended and graduated from Michigan State Normal College (now Eastern Michigan university) at Ypsilanti. She received her life teaching certificate in 1909.

She taught in Battle Creek until 1913 and then taught at the Old Chapman school at Taft and Nine Mile roads.

On April 13, 1919 she married John Christensen. They had two children, Robert and Helen.

Doctor Robert Christensen is now an obstetrician in Kinsport, Tennessee and has four children. Helen is Mrs. Richard Shipley now and has three children and one grandchild. She lives in Reverton, New Jersey.

Parents of the bridegroom are Dr. and Mrs. John Hardee Bethea of 20145 Beck road.

After a wedding trip through the Smoky Mountains the newlyweds will live in Alma.

2 Local Girls To Attend Conference

Two Northville girls will be among the more than 5,000 students from colleges and universities around the world attending the three-day conference at the denominational headquarters of the Christian Science church in Boston beginning Monday.

Dianne Wedemeyer, who attends Michigan State University, and Carol Yahn, a student at the University of Michigan, are the local girls who left Wednesday for Boston.

They will discuss everything from premarital chastity and the "identity crisis" to the problems of emerging nations and world peace.

From a modest beginning 12 years ago, these student conferences have developed rapidly into a major biennial event. Chartered buses, planes, and group flights have been arranged by many of the students coming from distant points, including England, Germany, and Australia. Previous conferences have also drawn students from countries of Eastern Europe, Africa, Asia, and Latin America—with 387 colleges and universities of 68 nations represented. More are expected this year.

During the three-day period, some 18 hours will be spent in assembly sessions, with most of this time given to student papers and discussion.

One of the objectives will be to explore the relevance of Christian insight as a radical healing force in the whole range of human experience. Among the subjects scheduled for consideration are: cheating, drugs, the "new morality," birth control, the "death of God" theology, spiritual values in the creative arts, resolving social conflicts and leadership in government.

A special guest speaker will be Dr. Harrell Beck, Professor of Old Testament at Boston University. The keynote address will be given by Erwin D. Canham, editor in chief of The Christian Science Monitor.

A number of Christian Scientists distinguished in various professional fields will also participate. The list includes Alan Young, actor and entertainer; George Hamilton, Associate Director of the Loeb Drama Center at Harvard; Dr. F. Karl Willebrock, Provost of the State University of New York at Buffalo and former Associate Dean of Harvard University's Applied Physics Department; and James Butler, director of Great Britain's leading historians, in charge of World War II archives.

Singer to Renew Friendships Here

A 23-year-old Northville high school graduate, now singing professionally, will renew old acquaintances here on Friday, September 1 when she appears with a nationally famous dance band.

In a telephone conversation with The Record Friday, Mrs. Brown, who is a former MaryCarol Oglesby, turned professional singer after attending Michigan State university. She was

At Battle of Bands Cavern Eyes New Attendance Record

A sell-out crowd of 600 teens set an attendance at the Northville Cavern dance Friday night. The previous attendance mark of 596 paid admissions had been set just three weeks previous.

Big attraction at last Friday's dance was the music of "The Rationals" and "Corsairs".

The Cavern is pointing for another full house this Friday night with the popular "Battle of the Bands" featuring no less than 10 bands.

The "teen-age Mothers" club-sponsored Cavern is solely operated by teens, although adult chaperones and police attend all dances. Thus far the Cavern has shown a profit of more than $3,000 from its dances. The money is being saved to help finance their own club headquarters.

The first step in this direction was achieved when the Northville exclusive of education granted the Cavern board of education the cafeteria portion of the community building under a one year lease. The club will continue to hold its bi-monthly dances in the gymnasium.

Now the young members plan to turn their attention to converting the cafeteria area into a "real club atmosphere". This will include lowered ceilings, soft lights, pool tables, ping pong and other games.

Plans call for a director on duty during the afternoon when the club is open. A variety of activities, that will not conflict with school affairs, is being planned.

College Ratification Near On Record Salary Package

Ratification of a proposed Schoolcraft teaching contract, calling for across the board $1,000 salary hikes, is expected this week.
 The proposed contract, finally hammered together after more than a half-year of negotiations, was to have been presented to the board of trustees yesterday (Wednesday) for ratification, and the faculty probably will act on it tomorrow.

Agreement on the proposal was reached late last week, thus bringing to an end months of bickering that saw teacher picketing, state mediation, and charges and counter-charges on both sides.
 According to a college spokesman, the economic package calls for a 88-week contract for full-time faculty members, with a $1,000 across the board raise together with regular earnings increments ranging from $200 to $500.
 In addition, the package also provides college payment of half the cost of insurance for teachers' dependents and continuation of full payment of insurance for teachers themselves. Previously, the college provided one-dollar per month for dependents' insurance.

They Wait for Teacher Pact

Coaches: No Contract, No Practice

The Northville football squads will get off to a slow start this year, with coaches refusing to issue uniforms until teacher-negotiating pacts are settled.

Athletic Director Dave Longridge told The Record Monday morning that there will be no issuing of uniforms and no practice sessions set until the teacher-negotiating pact is settled.

According to state rules and regulations regarding sports a team must have three weeks of practice before entering the first game of the season.

Northville's first football pits the Mustangs against the Plymouth Rocks on September 15 here at Northville.

This means that practice sessions must be started by August 28, or Northville will have to pass up the first game of the season.

Longridge said all games could be re-scheduled at the end of the season if both teams could agree on a specific date.

Head Football Coach Alex Klukach has given Jerry Asher, a returning letterman from last year's squad, the go ahead on organizing a "Captain's Practice".

Asher, a senior, has varsity candidates working out in Cass Benton Park every afternoon at 7:30 p.m. "I don't think that any of the fellows are mad about it (possible delay of practice), Asher said Monday. We're here practicing everyday trying to get into shape so that we are ready to go when the pads are issued."

Klukach declined to make long-range predictions. "We will take them one at a time." He said more information on starting lineups will be available after the first two weeks of practice.

"No positions are positive. Every kid will get a chance to earn a starting position."

"No positions are positive. Every kid will get a chance to earn a starting position."

Klukach said that there would be one more addition to the coaching staff but no definite decision has been made as yet.

The head coach said he expected about 24 letterman candidates for the varsity - about 50 candidates for the junior varsity and about 30 candidates for the new freshman squad.

"My strongest point should be defense since I have more returning lettermen with experience in this area," he said.

"They were a credit to the game as well as to the city of Northville." That's how Manager Robert Mohr summed up the Ely Ollers performance in tournament play, which included two victories and one defeat.

A home run off the bat of Ken Lach got things started for the Ollers in the opener. Tied for the next four innings, the Ollers cracked open the game in the sixth with hits by Rick Asher, Jim Hostetler, Norm Guild, and Peter Kunst.

Three Ollers burlers teamed up against Livonia but were unable to save off the defeat. They were Jim Sanders, Lach and Hostetler.

Novi Sets Hearing On Road Paving

Novi Heights subdivision moved a step closer to surfaced roads Monday night as the village council set the first of a series of special assessment public hearings.

By a 5-0 vote the council set Tuesday, September 5 as the initial hearing date to consider establishment of the assessment district.

Citizens of the subdivision have requested surfaced roads and, according to officials, are willing to pay for the surfacing through special assessment.

As envisioned by the council, the special assessment will not involve borrowing moneys requiring approval by the Michigan Finance Commission. Presumably, the cost of the project will be borne initially by the village which will then spread these costs on the assessment rolls of the affected property owners.

Council members indicated a preference for a less cumbersome assessing procedure so that construction can get underway as quickly as possible. That, too, was the reason for deciding to hold the first hearing soon.

According to preliminary estimates gathered by village officials, cost of sealcoating, with a bare minimum of ditching and other related improvements, was pegged at $7,500 or about 60-cents per front footage per property owner.

Estimate of blacktopping with major related improvements, including drains, was put at $86,000.

Councilmen also decided to hold a special meeting next Monday night, at the same time the planning commission is slated to meet, to discuss proposed ordinances, a contract with the village engineers for work on the Novi share of the Walled Lake sewer system, and several other matters.

Concerning the engineering contract, councilmen quizzed an engineering representative about the proposed contract trying to establish if costs exceeded those charged for earlier sewer and water projects. They appeared satisfied that the contract rates were justified but deferred taking action to approve it until after conferring with the village attorney.

In another 5-0 vote, the council agreed to advertise for bids for a new police car based upon specifications.

School Opening

classrooms are expected to be completed before the opening of the high school or shortly thereafter. The resources center (library), shop and swimming pool are not expected to be completed until January or February.

The expanded high school curriculum will include additional basic or remedial classes in math, science and social studies, additional advanced study classes, provision of a fourth language - German, and an additional year of French - from two years to three years.

Reorganization of the curriculum, providing a more extensive industrial arts and physical education program, will take place in mid-year with the opening of the new shop and swimming pool.

Postcards will be sent to all junior high school students telling them where and when to report to school, Principal Donald VanNingen said.

BIG TURNOUT—Despite the threat of rain, Saturday, huge numbers of area residents turned out for the annual Sidewalk Sales celebration of Northville businesses. Center and Main streets were blocked for the occasion, permitting shoppers to browse from one sidewalk feature to another in complete safety.

Smiths Purchase Northville Hardware

The sale of Northville Hardware, 107-109 North Center street, to Mr. and Mrs. Claude Smith was announced this week by Estie Nirdler, owner of the hardware since 1955.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith currently own and operate Smith's Sport Shop, 105 East Main. They will move their sporting goods equipment into Northville Hardware and handle sales of sporting goods in conjunction with hardware.

The change in ownership of the hardware becomes effective September 1. Nirdler said he will remain to assist the new owners for three or four weeks.

Carl Johnson, local real estate agent, revealed that the Main street building previously owned by the Smiths had been sold to Robert Groves of Birmingham. The building also houses the Little People's Shoppe and second floor offices. Groves could not be reached for details on the new center of the sport shop area, but remodeling is taking place.

Nirdler purchased the hardware from George Clark. He said he has no plans for the future, but expects to remain as a resident of Northville. He has been active in community as well as retail affairs having served as president of the Retail Merchants Association and the chamber of commerce.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith have owned their sports' shop for the past three years. Smith, a gunsmith, said he will take over active management of the hardware. The Smiths reside at 47850 Seven Mile road.

NEW SWIMMING POOL—Northville high school will open September 5—an estimated four months before completion of the school system's first swimming pool. The new shop and library also will miss the opening of school, but two new labs and three classrooms reportedly will be ready for occupancy.

Council Agenda Takes Little Time

Northville's city council whizzed through a brief agenda in two hours Monday night.

Included in the routine of business handle was: Notification by the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments of $100 to $200 annually, depending upon the size of the governmental unit. Councilwoman Beatrice Carlson stated "there are organizations fighting this group."

City Manager Frank Ollendorff recommended payment of the fee, but Councilman Del Black suggested delaying a decision until the next regular meeting.

An amendment to the zoning ordinance requiring hard-surfaced or dust-free non-residential parking lots was postponed until a suitable definition of the term "useable" is provided by the city attorney.

Foundry Flask & Equipment Company was granted a portion of its request to erect a fence near its Cady street-Park Place plant. But no action was taken on closing Park Place or fencing near Main street until definite plans and greenbelt areas are provided.

The council approved engineering plans for extension of the Detroit water line from Baseline at Grace to a proposed new subdivision in Novi in the North Center street area. A letter was to be prepared by the city manager and attorney indicating the city's interest in the drainage system that must be provided for the area to be served by the water lines. It was suggested that final approval for the water line

Teachers to Huddle

A special meeting of Northville teachers has been scheduled for next Monday - to either ratify a new contract or discuss their next course of action.

The meeting will be held at 7 p.m. at the Presbyterian Church house. According to a spokesman for the teachers, if a contract settlement has not been reached by Monday thus permitting a ratification vote, the teachers will then decide "their next course of action."

Based on earlier teacher comments, that action could mean refusing to return to school without a contract.

How to Save 10 Seconds: Don't Stop for School Buses

...But it May Cost a Life

School bus drivers report that many motorists fail to observe the state law requiring cars to stop when the bus is stopped. The law is for both trailing and approaching motorists. With school opening soon it's hoped the above portrayal serves as an effective reminder.

Thanks to Charles Ketcher and the Plymouth School Board for this picture. — M. DUBOIS.

"He that had received the five talents went and traded with the same, and made them five other talents. (Mat. 25:16)

God calls upon us to do the best we can with what we have. The number of our talents is not the important thing; our responsibility is to make the most of what we have, to do our best.

Collis P. Huntington, founder of one of the world's great shipbuilding companies, encouraged his workmen always to do their best. He is responsible for the following statement displayed on a bronze tablet in the shipyard founded: "We shall build good ships here, at a profit if we can, at a loss if we must, but always good ships." These words have helped to inspire good workmanship.

The safety and welfare of other lives depend upon how each of us does his work. The best assurance we can give ourselves that we shall do our work well is to consider it as service for others performed as unto God Himself.

Takes Friars Habit

Brother Kenneth Thomas Wicke, O. F.M., son of Mr. and Mrs. August F. Wicke, 120 Fairbrook, was invested in the brown habit of the Order of Friars Minor in recent days at the Cincinnati Province Novitiate at Holy Family Priory, Oldenburg, Indiana.

Brother Wicke now begins one year of spiritual formation at the Novitiate, where he will live the life of a Franciscan and learn the rules of the Order. At the end of this year of training he will make his first religious vows—the simple and temporary vows of poverty, chastity and obedience for a period of three years.

Brother Wicke attended Our Lady of Friars grade school, Northville, and is a 1965 graduate of Northville, high school.

NOTICE

There will be a Bible Study and Worship at 2 p.m. Sunday, August 27 at the General Baptist Mission, Gordon and Elmhurst north of Cherry Hill Road, south of Ford Road, two blocks east off Sheldon.

happiness is a high hill

It had been a long climb. For various reasons, we were all glad to get to the top of the hill. Jackie rolled down, over and over, to the inviting creek at the bottom. Sally bolted off to climb the neighbor's fence and crown to the rocks scattered there. Billy saw the butternuts and struggled to get down. Jack dreamed over the rich soil of the south forty, while I was drawn by the tall-spired church in the valley.

We're happy in the home we've built on that hill. We've a dog and a cat and swings for the children. Summers, we race down the hill to cool off in the creek. Winters, we get the sled out and take it sliding down the slope. The kitchen windows frame a lovely view of the valley and our church. On Sunday mornings, when its deep-throated bells call us clearly to worship, we go down the hill together to its doors. We enter reverently and joyfully, knowing that much of our happiness and security stems from God's love.

Wherever your church may be, in valley, on hill, or city street, you will find the same glorious opportunity to sustain and strengthen your faith.

NOW IS THE TIME TO PLANT GRASS SEED!

Seed New Lawns Now

One of the hottest times to be out in the yard is between August 15 and September 15. It's also the best time to seed your new lawn:

Weather conditions are ideal; air temperature and ground temperatures are excellent for proper seed germination, according to James Tyson, soil scientist with the Michigan Cooperative Extension Service. Also, there are few hard rains which can wash away the seed during this period.

The soil needs to be moist to develop a good stand of grass. "Don't let the surface soil dry out after the seed once begins to germinate," cautions Tyson.

The development of good turf is much easier with generous fertilizer applications. A soil test will accurately determine just the kind of fertilizer to be used. One pound of nitrogen per 100 sq. feet of lawn should be applied to Kentucky Bluegrass three times during the growing season. Merion Bluegrass requires twice this amount of nitrogen.

Home owners seeding a new lawn this fall can get some timely tips and hints from County Extension Service offices. Just ask for extension folder—211—entitled "Making a New Lawn."

Our Legislators Report

Esch...

A bipartisan bill which has been introduced in the House of Representatives will go far in helping some 63 million older Americans on Social Security meet rising living costs.

The legislation was worked out in the House Ways and Means Committee and provides a general increase of 12.5 percent in benefits and a minimum increase of at least six dollars a month. These increases will take effect two months after passage of the bill, which is expected in this session of Congress. Here are some other highlights of the bill.

—Maximum benefits of 168 dollars eventually payable under present law would rise to 189 dollars.

—The amount a person may earn without having his Social Security benefits withheld would be increased from 1,500 dollars annually to 1,680 dollars. I believe this to be only a minimal increase. A good case can be made to eliminate this provision entirely.

—For Social Security benefit purposes, the pay of a person in the armed forces would be counted as 100 dollars a month more than actual earnings. Additional cost of paying benefits would be met from general revenues.

—The new Medicare restrictions are provided to protect the system against the cost resulting from State expansion of services to a large proportion of their populations.

—Incentives to seek work are written in for some categories of welfare beneficiaries.

—The amount of earnings which would be subject to tax and could be used in computation of benefits would be increased from the present 6,600 dollars a year to 7,600 dollars, effective January 1, 1968.

An increase in Social Security payments is essential for our older citizens on fixed incomes. They are tragic victims of the inflation spiral. That is why the Congress must enact increases this session—and I, for one, intend to do what I can to secure favorable action now.

—And then they tried to lay the blame" is the best way to describe the post-riot mood here in Washington. The Vice President is being called the "Congressional Inaction." Vocal civil rights advocates cry "police brutality." The other extreme sees a vast "black power conspiracy." And everybody accuses everybody else of injecting politics into the dispute.

Next come the solutions. Congress and other officials have spun forth a mass of proposals. It is a matter of only a few days giving some credence to government critics who claim our elected representatives act only in times of crisis rather than attempting to head off disasters before they occur. The proposals—some worthy, some not—unfortunately offer little new and could easily take the form of more executive and legislative studies and more spending to enhance existing structures which have obviously not done the job. Let's hope that's not the case.

Last I appear to be completely pessimistic, let me point out that, in the midst of blame-placing and solution-searching, we have indeed learned much.

McDonald...

It took Congress 93 years to effect a change in the method of government for Washington, D.C. And when that change came, the make-up of the governing body reverted back to a similar plan which had been abandoned in 1874. During the three years prior to 1874, the nation's capital was ruled by a mayor and eleven councilmen appointed by the President, plus a twenty-two member House of Delegates and one representative in the United States Congress elected by the D.C. residents.

Such inconsistency visits a serious hardship on the draft-liable young men in our state. They, obviously, are expected to pull not only their own weight in the large monthly draft call, but also to pick up the slack for some of the larger states.

In an effort to correct this inequity, I have joined with all of my Michigan Republican colleagues in the House to request the President to investigate these draft allotments and to issue an Executive Order requiring that the classifications be made uniform by all local draft boards.

A resolution relative to the "ability to pay" tuition plan adopted by Michigan State University.

Whereas, the board of trustees of Michigan State University has recently adopted a unique tuition fee plan based on a student's family income and ability to pay; and

Whereas, this undergraduate resident tuition plan is both unique and unworkable and undoubtedly constitutionally objectionable; and

Whereas, in adopting this unusual tuition fee plan, the Board of Trustees of Michigan State University has attempted to establish a principle unknown by any other institution of higher learning and untried by any other college or university, either public or private, and is unsure because it cannot be determined how much additional funds will be received by Michigan State University under the plan; and

Whereas, such a plan is unworkable because it fails to substitute a dollar limitation as a guideline for the payment of tuition charges and imposes an additional and undemocratic principle of requiring each student to determine his family's income, which is contrary to the American basic principles of family secrecy; and therefore be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That the members of the House deplore the action taken by the Michigan State university board of trustees in adopting a sliding scale tuition plan based on a family's ability to pay without regard to various individual family factors and without regard to graduate student fees; and be it further

Resolved, that the Michigan State University Board of Trustees to abandon this tuition fee plan based on the family's income concept; across the board increase or to make adjustments in individual tuition fees based on a set amount and not to be determined by individual family incomes and the graduated scale of one's ability to pay; and be it further

Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Michigan State university board of trustees.

Recently, Public Law 90-40, providing for the extension of the Military Training and Service Act, was signed into law by the President.

This Act as it exists does not provide for a standard national criteria for the classification of the draft-liable age group. As a result of the inconsistency in draft classifications some pertinent facts have recently come to light.

As an illustration, permit me to make some comparisons between Michigan and Texas. These two states are similar in many relevant socio-economic characteristics. For example, the median educational attainment in Michigan is 10.8 years; in Texas 10.4 years. In unemployment, Michigan's 1965 level was 3.9%; in Texas it was the same. In 1966, Michigan had an unemployment rate of 3.5%. Texas was 3.2%. Yet, despite these and other similarities in socio-economic composition, Texas, with a total population of 10,782,000 (and 1,042,416 men in the draft-liable age group) has had draft calls totaling 15,779 for the past year. Michigan, with a total population of 8,374,000 (and 763,218 draft age men) has had draft calls totaling 16,168 for the past year.

As another example, Pennsylvania with a median educational attainment of 10.2 years is similar to Ohio, with a median educational attainment of 10.9 years. Unemployment in these two states is similar. Pennsylvania's unemployment rate in 1966 was 4.4 percent and Ohio's 3.1 percent. Yet, one finds Pennsylvania with 1,076,396 men in the liable age group—but drafting only 14,839 over the past year. Ohio (with 992,310 men in the liable age group) has drafted 15,367 in the past year.

Such inconsistency visits a serious

Making an adjustment beneath a large bulldozer Thursday afternoon, a Walled Lake man was seriously injured when a fellow workman started to drive it away.

The vehicle stopped as John Priestkorn screamed, pinning and crushing his legs. He was rushed by ambulance to University hospital. The accident took place at the Mum Contracting company landfill at 50250 Eight Mile road.

According to Novi police, Michael Bodnar of Detroit did not realize that Priestkorn was beneath the dozer when he climbed aboard to drive it away. The motor was running and he probably did not hear the sound of the repair work, police said.

Only the fact that the earth was "spongy" saved the man from even more serious injury. As it was he suffered severe fractures.

According to Acting Superintendent Raymond Spear, one junior high school shop position and possibly two elementary teaching posts remain to be filled. The latter two are for posts resigned by teachers - after the deadline for submitting resignations - so unless replacements are found the board of education probably will not accept the resignations, Spear said.

'Molester' Film Seen in Township

A film, 'The Child Molester', was to have been shown Wednesday, August 23 at Northville township hall beginning at 8 p.m.

The film was arranged for showing by Northville township mothers through the cooperation of the Harry J. Will Funeral Home of Detroit.

According to a spokesman, the factual film was taken from the files of the Ohio state police department. It describes crimes against children in such a manner as to make it understandable to both children and adults.

It provides instructions for children and adults so that parents are shown the dangers and how to instruct their children as well as pointing out dangers to children and how they should react to them.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

There's more than one reason why the city council of Northville called for a report from City Attorney Marvin Stempson on the power of the city to condemn.

But the one they're admitting right now was expressed by Councilman Charles Lapham. The alert young businessman noted that condemnation is generally not considered desirable, but with the amount of development planned for the area "the city must explore all avenues for development within the business district rather than forcing business outside".

He pointed to a number of shopping centers of varying sizes on the planning boards for future development on Northville's borders. "Unless we can show developers a package within the city, we'll lose our identity", Lapham explained.

Stempson told the council it possesses powers of condemnation under both state and federal law.

For purposes of planning land may be obtained under the urban renewal act. This method requires from six to eight months, the attorney explained.

Another method, abatement of non-conforming use, is also open to the council. In this instance, a building may be condemned if its use is non-conforming to the area as presently zoned (residential in a business district, for example).

Attorney Stempson also noted a "quick take" method that prevents one property owner from blocking a desirable community development.

But he emphasized that condemnation provides for "payment of reasonable compensation" to the property owner based on present market value as determined by three qualified appraisers.

How Do You Rate As A Teacher?

By Jane Sherrod Singer

It has generally been acknowledged that teaching is one of the most subtle arts because it is involved with dealing with the intangible mind and soul. It is not, nor cannot be, an exact science, yet research and observation give us some clues as to the characteristics of a good teacher. How would you answer the following questions?

program of improvement of the central business district.

For years the planning commission has expressed a master plan for parking and commercial development; a plan that is designed to maintain the identity of the city's business district against the threat of bordering shopping centers.

Meanwhile, the Northville Area Economic Development Corporation has been quietly acquiring business area property as it becomes available. It has, in fact, put together a "package" that has attracted the attention of major commercial developers.

While no definite commitments have been reached, there's new enthusiasm and confidence that new and desirable private enterprise can be attracted to the community.

The secret has been the ability of the non-profit development corporation to acquire property at fair prices, and then hold it for useful redevelopment without a profit objective.

Outside promoters have expressed surprise and delight at the existence of such an organization that eliminates the need for negotiations with a number of private property owners.

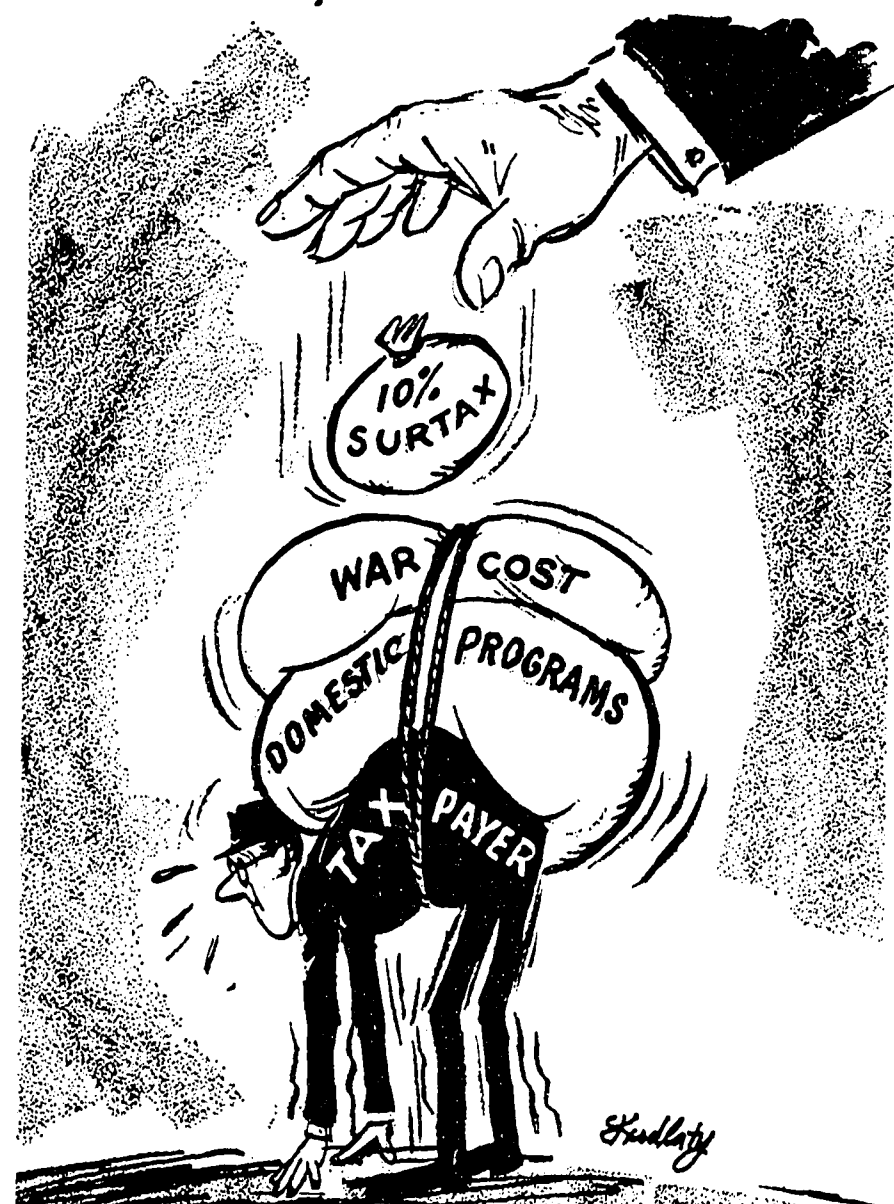

Those close to city planning are excited about the prospects of new development. They can see fruits of their efforts and they are gaining reassurance in their objectives.

Instead of slipping, their sights have been raised a level and it is not likely that a "second class" development will be accepted just for the sake of promoting business activity.

The development committee, planners and city officials and councilmembers who have devoted countless hours to the improvement of the community's business district deserve both support and encouragement in their efforts.

The support, especially, may be needed as specific projects come forward for official approval.

Readers Speak Red Cross Says Thanks for Blood

To the Editor: The Southeastern Michigan Red Cross Blood Program would like to thank the many generous donors who responded to our plea for blood during the recent crisis. Standing in line to donate on a hot day is not the most pleasant way to spend an afternoon, but close to 4,000 people did just that, without complaint. Over 3,000 pints of blood collected kept our hospitals in adequate supply of blood. Of that, 567 pints were used by hospitalized riot victims. Again our most sincere thanks to donors who made this possible. Sincerely yours, Frank R. Ellis, M.D. Director Southeastern Michigan Regional Red Cross Blood Program

DESIRABLE ANSWERS: 1. NO "Telling is not teaching." The truth must be arrived at by the learner through the guidance of the teacher. 2. YES: "Whatever you would have your children become, strive to exhibit in your own lives and conversations." (Lydia Sigourney) 3. YES: It is seldom that we do well what we dislike. If you do not enjoy teaching, try to make your contribution to society in another field of endeavor. 4. YES: "The secret of successful teaching is to teach accurately, thoroughly and earnestly; this will impart interest to instructions and awaken attention to them." (C. Simmons) 5. YES: "Do not train young people to learn by force and harshness; but direct them to it by what becometh their minds, so that you may better able to discover with accuracy the particular bent of the genius of each." Go north, young man, go north. Those are the sage words heeded by more than one intimidated southern Negro who has ridden the rails to the northern states where, at least, there is a promise of equality. The movement has been well chronicled and the stories and songs about it are legion.

But what happens when a northern Negro, educated, respected and well heeled, heads south, back to his birthplace in the heartland of Dixie - Mississippi? That, generally, is the bedrock in which the entertaining movie, "In the Heat of the Night," is anchored. And predictably, there are fireworks.

More heat is generated, however, when that Negro is a Philadelphia policeman, his foremost homicide man, and he is accused of murder. His name: Virgil Tibbs. A cool cop played by Sidney Poitier, a former Academy award winner and star of distinguished movies, such as, "Raisin in the Sun," "Poogy and Bess," and "A Patch of Blue."

It was a night like any other hot southern summer night when Tibbs sauntered into the Sparta, Mississippi, train depot to await the next train heading north. At least to Tibbs, it was an ordinary night. In a Sparta alley, his head bashed open, by Colbert, a noted newcomer who had been preparing to open a large factory that would employ 1,000 townspeople.

The implication was clear from the beginning: Since Colbert was the most prominent Sparta citizen, the man who promised to inject new life into a stagnant rural community, the murderer must be found. The murder of Joe Does might go unsolved, but not the death of Colbert.

Directing the investigation was Sheriff Bill Gillespie, played by Rod Sliger, who makes the part vividly memorable. Fat, slovenly, the gum chewing sheriff jumps to conclusions and barks orders, not necessarily in that order. He deems a suspect guilty until proven innocent and hands out his own peculiar brand of spudger justice. Sheriff Gillespie barks an order. Scour the town for any transient with a bag of money. Taking the orders was Deputy Sam Wood, a flannel wadded with aspirations, who immediately prowls the town, finds Tibbs sitting quietly but a little too respectfully - for a Negro - in the depot. The beaming Wood tricks his manservant Tibbs to police headquarters, where he was thrust before Gillespie.

From all appearances, the murderer had been found with his wallet bulging. But Tibbs turns the tables when he identifies himself as a policeman from Philadelphia. Not to be deceived, Gillespie checks the story. Tibbs's boss confirms the identity and orders the reluctant Tibbs to assist the Sparta police in solving the murder.

In short, that's what the story is about. But it goes beyond Hitchcock proportions to reveal well-rounded characters who escape the stereotype stamp. Foremost is Gillespie, who becomes more than a bullseye cop with the legendary flat feet and a thirst for humor. No pansy, he has a brusque sense of humor and a more human side, not just to show a cop has a heart.

As usual, Poitier is Poitier, and there is no better acclamation. He plays the svelt homicide detective with the dash of the old pro. He's warm without being soft, tough without being unadmittingly so. He's smart and shows it. He sashays around unearthing facts that lead to the killer, and in the process, he presents the changing face of the Negro, asserts his ego, and transmits the southern myth of Negro inferiority.

'Don't Postpone House Buying'

BARSON PARK, Mass., Right now, people in practically every community in the United States are trying to decide when is the best time to buy a home. A good many of them are shying away because of high costs... not realizing that postponement will gain them little or nothing.

Parcels of land in some sections may be slow to appreciate, but prices for most large tracts in the United States are firmly locked in a long-term uptrend. Advancing population and industrial expansion, as well as the encroachment of superhighways and sprawling airports, are causing higher land tags generally - almost from month to month.

Of course these values could dip in time of widespread economic recession. Also, parcels in certain localities could weaken because of a deteriorating neighborhood or business district. So, if you have been holding on to plans to build or buy a home because you expect a worthwhile slide-off in land prices, forget it!

And unless you should eventually happen upon a lucky deal, there's not too much chance either that a postponement will get you any great cutback in building costs or in the price of an existing home. Quotes for labor and materials are trending upward, reflecting costlier wage and fringe-benefit packages obtained by employees in the building trades and reflecting also the impact of heavier taxes and more liberal minimum-wage laws.

In the case of existing houses, there has been a fairly steady uptrend in prices in recent years. Used houses sold in May of this year brought a median price nearly $700.00 above that attained a year earlier, according to a country-wide survey made by the National Association of Real Estate Boards. Chances are that prices will rise as much or more in the year ahead.

THE PRESSURES of the Vietnam War and of the government's ambitious Great Society programs plus record expansion in expenditures for new and updated plant and equipment, have created an excessive demand for capital. This has raised mortgage rates to the highest levels in many a decade. There is only scant hope that they will decline more than fractionally any time soon.

But mortgage rates and the availability of mortgage money do vary considerably from area to area, and even from bank to bank in the same area. In June, the average interest rate on new mortgages was 6.25% - up from 6.23% in May; and in many parts of the country mortgages can be negotiated at rates closer to, or even below, 6%. Of course, as a general rule you will pay a good deal more in the West, where rates have ruled much higher for many years. The important point is: If you shop carefully, you can probably get a better mortgage deal than you expect... even in these days of high interest rates and tighter availability.

WITH THE EXCEPTION of the very newly married, whose resources may be too slender to warrant building or buying a home at this time, conditions probably are not such as to warrant your postponing the building or purchase of a home which you need or could use to good advantage right now. In the matter of a home, personal considerations should rule. Any time is the right time to build or buy if the investment will result in healthier, happier living for family members.

But whether you build or buy, investigate carefully, plan wisely, "cutting your cloth" - and the size and over-all cost of the house - to what you need for gracious (not extravagant) living and what you can afford without going too deeply into debt.

Most difficult of the questions involving the "District Courts" are:

- Will the local community, the state, or a combination of the two pay expenses of maintaining the District Court?

- What limits will be placed on the types of cases the new courts can handle?

- Will laymen be allowed to act as judges, or will it be required that only lawyers can serve in this capacity?

The legislature was given five years from the date the new Constitution took effect. There are only 18 months left. "area service highways" - was designated for the remaining 5,000 miles of state highways, Ferguson noted.

The Commission Chairman said Michigan will have more than 1,300 miles of Interstate and state freeways open to traffic by the end of this year and will pass the 1,500-mile mark by 1970.

"Our studies show we'll need to build another 1,500 miles of freeway between 1970 and 1980 if we are to meet our growing highway needs," he said.

"Unless we get additional revenue, we'll fall far short of that mark. Even with an increase in revenue, we may not hit the 3,000-mile mark by 1980 because of the uncertainty of what the federal highway financial picture will be after the Interstate System is completed in 1972."

well the new plan will work.

Major state freeway routes include

US-23 from the Ohio line to Flint, US-131 from the Indiana line to Cadillac, US-31 from the Indiana line to St. Joseph and from Holland to Ludington, US-127 from the Ohio line to Lansing, M-53 from Detroit to Imlay City, M-78 and M-21 from Lansing to Port Huron and US-27 from Marshall to Grayling.

A MASTER highway classification plan, which calls for construction of an additional 1,400 miles of state freeways during the next 20 years, was recently approved by the State Highway Commission.

This proposed expansion of the State Freeway System calls for extension of US-31 from Ludington to the Mackinac Bridge and US-131 from Cadillac to Traverse City.

Other major additions to the State Freeway System would be US-2 across the Upper Peninsula, US-23 from Standish to Alpena, M-35 from Menominee to Marquette, a freeway paralleling I-94 through Michigan's southern tier of counties and a freeway paralleling I-75 from Detroit to a point north of Bay City.

About 1,100 miles of other routes have been designated as "principal state highways" - mostly in Northern Michigan - and a third classification -

Someday, I've always imagined, my sons will streak across the finish line, pull in a touchdown pass, or blast the ball over the fence. So it was with a mixture of chagrin and sorrow that I fielded an explanation of my oldest the other day.

His mother had just clamped a hand over her mouth upon seeing gaping holes in the knees of his pants when I came to his defense. "He told me he was playing football," I said. "So long as he learns the game, he can rip all the holes he wants. It's all part of becoming an athlete."

Then turning to my hero I said, "So you've been playing football? That's great. What position were you playing?"

"I was the guy with the bat."

Struck dumb, I was slow to recover. The snickering of my wife brought me to my senses. "Laugh," I said, "go ahead and laugh. I want athletes and you raise boys that play with dolls. How 'st gonna look for the sons of one of the greatest athletes to come out of the

"That's strange," she said, "I don't recall that you were so great. In fact, I can't recall you ever playing in high school or college."

She was touching a sore spot, raking up emotional wounds that have taken years to mollify. It hurt because she was right. I had been a great athlete but none of my coaches recognized it. And those few teachers I'd managed to win as a high school and college student manager went up in smoke one horrible afternoon when a sister thought she was burning trash.

But despite these shortcomings, like all athletes I've had my moments of glory. Even if I didn't excel in any one sport, at least I tried 'em all and there was at least one triumphant moment in each.

For instance, there was the time I struck out the high school's top hitter during a practice session, a time when I won a second place in ping pong, when I

"But coach," I had persisted, "let me try, I know I can win."

"Another time, maybe, not today,

We need our top men to take this one."

As it turned out even the top men didn't come out. I was second or third stringer for two or three events and not scheduled to see any action.

When the mile event rolled around, a half dozen feet-footed, spide-shod racers lined up. I wasn't among them. But for one reason or another, a friend and I decided we'd pace the runners by clomping through the weeded field that surrounded the oval. We were wearing tennis shoes and baggy sweat pants.

Amazingly, I managed to keep just behind the runners despite the wide sweep around the track, dodging holes, weeds and fans. As we passed the starting line for the second or third trip around, I can't remember which, my friend dropped out to watch the "real" runners. There was no stopping me, however, as I gulped in that once-in-a-lifetime second wind. The gap was closing between us as we neared the three-quarter mark and as I inched closer and closer to the clodder track.

Then I heard the crowd screaming, my mind went blank and I crossed over onto the track itself about 10 yards behind the leaders and ahead of several stragglers. Oh, what a great day it was! I pushed past the leaders, eating up the applause I felt certain was for me, and with a gasp of surprise, I was the official race, I dropped breathless to the ground before even crossing the finish line, writing like a beached fish.

Needless to say, I never won another race.

So now, years later, with brief moments of glory titillating my memory, I imagine my sons as athletic giants. And then my oldest tells me about his football play with a bat and I realize, finally, how a track coach felt when a miler dashed his dream of greatness.

It was the greatest moment of my athletic career.

Oh, well, my sons play dolls as well as any girls on the block.

250 State Schools Without Contracts

Pre-School Activities Doubtful

With 250 Michigan schools still without teacher contracts, including several from this area, some are announcing that there will be no pre-school activities until after contract ratification.

The inhabitants of the island were small, handsome dark-skinned people who often fought among themselves or with the Portuguese, Dutch and English colonialists. Many of their customs, rituals and celebrations were strange to Western eyes.

Twenty-first Century Ceylon has changed considerably from the days of the ancient mariners. Jungles have been cleared for planting tea, rubber and coconuts. Modern industries are producing a variety of manufactured goods.

Even with the many advances toward a Twentieth Century society, Ceylon's ancient and colorful past has not completely disappeared. Elephants continue to be used as beasts of burden.

That's the report by the Michigan Education association to the state's news media.

According to the MEA, "some of the teacher organizations have determined that they must know their conditions of employment before they can properly begin their duties with the school district this fall. This might mean, in some districts, that NO school activities will begin until agreement is reached in negotiations."

Since football practice normally begins prior to the opening of school, this activity probably will be affected, the MEA said. Northville coaches, for example, will not conduct practices until the teacher contract is settled.

Following is a list of the schools in MEA regions 2, 3, 7 and 8 where teacher-board negotiations are incomplete:

ANOTHER SUCCESS—In the air and on the ground, it was all the same Saturday and Sunday as area residents enjoyed thrills, fun, and plenty of good things to eat featured at the annual Novu Gala Days, co-sponsored by the Jaycees and the board of commerce. Rev. Norris Gets Post

Kiwanis Installs New President

Rev. Arthur V. Norris, pastor of the Willowbrook Community church, was installed as president of the Novu-Walled Lake Kiwanis club Tuesday evening.

He will fill out the unexpired term of Jack Pulliam, who resigned because of business commitments.

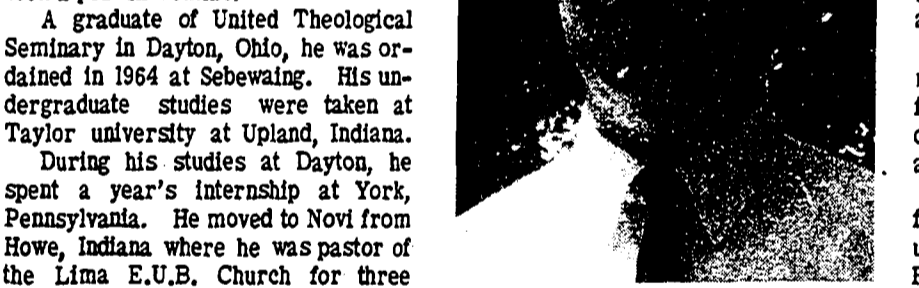

Rev. Norris, who is married and has two sons, Dennis and Arthur Allen, assumed the pastorate at Willowbrook Community in the summer of 1966, replacing the Rev. Marvin Rickett who took a post in Pontiac.

A graduate of Theological Seminary in Dayton, Ohio, he was ordained in 1964 at Sebewaing. His undergraduate studies were taken at Taylor University at Upland, Indiana.

During his studies at Dayton, he spent a year's internship at York, Pennsylvania. He moved to Novi from Howe, Indiana where he was pastor of the Lima E.U.B. Church for three years.

He lives with his wife and two children at 24575 Borderhill road, Willowbrook subdivision.

Present for Tuesday's installation program, which also was designated as Kiwanis Round-up, was Richard Penberthy, governor of the Michigan District of Kiwanis, and LeRoy Lyon, Lieutenant governor of the fifth division.

Ackley Returns

Harold Ackley, Novi village manager, has returned to work following recuperation from a heart attack on June 18. In addition to his regular daily duties, the manager was present for Monday's special council meeting.

Over Mobile Home Park

Court Battle Shapes Up Again

Another court suit involving a proposed mobile home park appears in the offing this week following a meeting of the Novi Council.

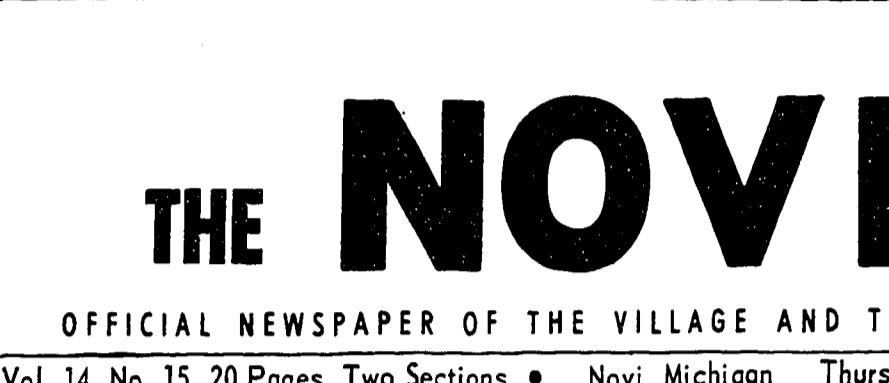

Meeting in a special session, the council listened to legal interpretation of the threatened suit, discussed and sometimes argued the merits of the proposed mobile park with the developers, but failed to reach a clear-cut decision.

At issue is an appeal for reconsideration by owners of Highland Hills Mobile park to expand their existing operation to property of Dr. A. A. Holcomb northwest of Grand River and Setley road.

Council members earlier turned down a bid for rezoning the property for a mobile park after village planners had recommended its approval.

Appearing at Monday's meeting, Robert Fannon argued that his proposed development would be a decided asset to the community, that development of the property for heavy industry as now zoned is unlikely, and that the mobile home park would not interfere with surrounding industrial, commercial or residential developments.

After outlining the position of the attorney for the developers, the vil-

Plans for opening of Northville public schools appeared all but shattered Tuesday as teacher and board representatives met in a last-ditch effort to grind out a 1967-68 master contract.

Tuesday's meeting followed a Sunday afternoon and all-night bargaining session that ended in a stalemate, Monday evening 91 teachers met with their bargaining team to reaffirm an earlier decision not to return to school without a contract.

Breakdown in weekend negotiations came shortly after 5 a.m. Monday with the board's presentation of its "best" and "final" offer, which according to teacher representatives meant a "step backward" in many areas from the 1966-67 contract.

The session had begun at 1 p.m. Sunday, interrupted only by a dinner period and frequent caucuses of both sides.

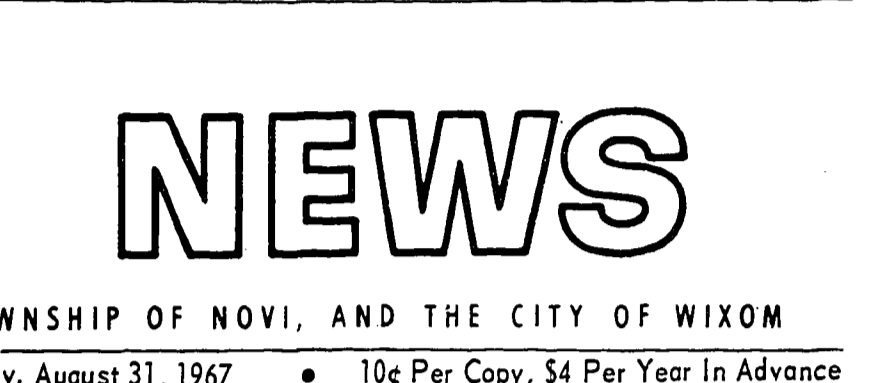

About the only agreement to come out of the all-night bargaining was a decision by both sides to call for a state fact-finding investigation. Best estimates as to when a fact-finder might be available was September 15.

Negotiators broke up in the early morning hours without establishing a date for resuming negotiations, but Tuesday afternoon both sides were back at the table.

Present, in addition to negotiators for the two sides, was a Michigan Education association representative, Richard Kroll, and a state mediator, Daniel Gallagher.

While salaries and fringe benefits were expected to represent the final hurdle in negotiations, disagreement over non-economic points, in the final analysis, appeared to be as crucial to settlement as money.

Salary-wise, the board's best offer, which according to the mediator who

This proposal appeared "in the ballpark" for teachers in respect to

Plan Novi Road

Store Complex

Ground breaking for a service-type complex of five stores is scheduled to take place in Northville within the next 10 days.

It will be the first commercial development of its kind within the city limits but outside the central business district.

Located on northwest corner of Allen drive and Novi road, the facility will include a food market, laundry and dry cleaning service, beauty salon and probably a pharmacy and meat market.

Richard Hassett, general manager of Hassett Food Mart, Inc., of Detroit, said that the commercial center will be open for business within 90 days, definitely before Christmas.

The Hassett firm, which is headed by Robert Hassett, Sr., Richard's father, has the franchise in eastern Michigan for Convenient Food Mart, Inc., of Chicago. Convenient is the nation's largest franchised food mart corporation and has some 400 stores in 35 states and Canada. The stores remain open every day until midnight. The Northville facility will be the first in Michigan, although Hassett said he is planning five more such installations this year.

The five-store unit will provide 10,000 square feet of shopping space with a 78-car parking lot in front (east) of the complex. Hassett explained that the Convenient complexes do not include restaurants, bars, and the like but feature fast turnover service-type businesses. He said that leases had been obtained for three of the five units, but that the pharmacy and meat market were still uncertain.

Entrance to the parking area will be from Novi road, while the stores themselves will receive service deliveries from a road at the rear of the complex. A greenbelt will separate the complex from the adjoining residential area, Hassett said.

The development will represent an investment of nearly $200,000 Hassett stated.

Basic salary, the agreement calls for an increase in the beginning salary from $5,500 to $6,175 for the bachelor's degree and $5,800 to $6,575 for the master's degree. Top salaries would be reached in 10 steps. These were pegged at $2,153 and $3,702, respectively.

Annual sick leave was increased to 12 days per year to accumulate to 120 days in 10 years.

Longevity pay was approved at 2.5 percent of the salary at the 15th year.

Superintendent Thomas Dale, representing the board, and Keith Rolston, band director, representing the association, led bargaining for the two sides. Dale was joined in June by members of the board of education.

A Michigan Education association representative appeared on behalf of the teachers, and at Monday's day-long bargaining session, Leonard Bennett of Northville, a state mediator, took part in negotiations that led to settlement.

With the settlement, the last obstacle in the way of the opening of schools here next week was resolved. Most of the construction at the high school is expected to be completed by the end of the week. Minor finishing touches to continue during school.

Only one teacher remained to be hired as of Tuesday, according to the superintendent. This one is for general science on the junior high school level.

Pre-registration activities will continue today, and new teachers will report to their building principals tomorrow.

School will be in session on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, from approximately 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. Staffs will meet from 1:30 to 3 p.m. on Tuesday, and principals will conduct staff meetings within their own buildings on Wednesday.

Half-day session for enrollment of grades kindergarten through the eighth grades is slated Tuesday, and half-day sessions for enrollment of grades kindergarten through sixth grade and grades nine through eleven on Wednesday.

A commercial service complex similar to this is planned on Novi road.

Richard Juday, Ex-Northville Official Dies

Funeral services will be held today (Thursday) for a former Northville city councilman, Richard H. Juday, 48, who died of a heart attack near Bellaire in northern Michigan.

Services will be conducted from the Casterline Funeral Home at 2 p.m. The Rev. S. D. Kinde, pastor of the First Methodist Church, will officiate. Burial will be in Oakland Hills Memorial Park Cemetery, Novi.

Mr. Juday had suffered a heart attack in November 1965, but had recovered. However, in the past six months he had become ill and only recently had suffered a ruptured appendix.

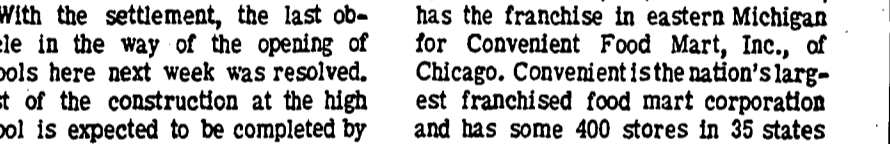

At the time of his death, he was a salesman for the Do All company, working out of the firm's Grand Rapids office. He and his wife, Bernice, were in the process of making their permanent home at the cottage. Their home here is at 304 Lake street.

A councilman from 1959 to 1963, he became well known here upon moving to Northville from Geneva, Indiana in 1946 and purchasing a Standard Oil service station. Later, he operated a fuel oil distributing firm, finally selling out in November, 1965. He joined Do All in December of 1966.

Born January 4, 1919 in Jay county, Indiana, he was the son of Bert E. and Pearl (Hamilton) Juday. On October 12, 1938 he and Mrs. Juday were married.

He was the father of three sons, all of whom have won fame as outstanding athletes in school. One of them, Steve of Northville, was an All-American quarterback at Michigan State university. Another, Bill of Livonia, was captain of the Vanderbilt eleven. Both were all-stars while in high school.

The third son, Jim, is presently a member of the MSU squad.
