Students Attend Shakespeare Play

Approximately 180 Northville High School English students and five teachers attended the Seventh Annual Stratford Shakespearean Festival at Stratford, Ontario, October 10 to see the Shakespearean play, Antony and Cleopatra.

The all-day formal trip was attended by tenth, eleventh and twelfth grade English students who left the high school at 8:30 a.m. in five Greyhound buses, and returned at approximately 10:30 p.m. that night.

Antony and Cleopatra is not often produced. It probably presents more difficulties than most of Shakespeare's plays, because of its complicated political background, its treatment of a very adult love affair, and to some extent its length.

The following are short interviews with various students and teachers, on their impressions of Antony and Cleopatra:

Mrs. Chambers, teacher-chaperone - "Cleopatra was very excellent, although she was a different type of Cleopatra. Christopher Plummer was weak as Antony. He did a superficial job. The production was very good, but students laughed in serious parts. As a whole, students were very receptive towards the production."

Ron Barrum, senior - "It was a pretty good play, but it could have been better. Cleopatra's fainting spells looked superficial."

Amy Hannert, junior - "It wasn't one of Shakespeare's best plays. The plot was hard to understand, and wasn't as interesting as other plays. Everyone wanted to see Christopher Plummer because he was a name star."

Steve Kaake, sophomore - "I didn't enjoy it that much. It wasn't as enjoyable as the majority of Shakespeare's works. Cleopatra wasn't a good actress because her voice was harsh. If it wasn't for Christopher Plummer's name, you could have mistaken him for any actor. The death scenes were cool."

Tom Kraughter, senior - "The play doesn't hold your emotions or interests as the play should. I didn't feel that Antony, (Christopher Plummer), and Cleopatra, (Zoe Caldwell), were convincing in their portrayal of lovers... they seemed insincere. Cleopatra's voice was harsh and nagging. I thought this portrayal was out of character because she was not regal."

Barish Murphy, junior - "It was worth the money. The play was interesting, and had good costumes. Cleopatra was sweet when she wanted to be. She used her beauty when it would benefit her; otherwise, she was harsh and cruel. Antony was torn between devotion of country and love of Cleopatra."

Frank Weir, senior - "I found Shakespeare's Antony and Cleopatra a bit slow and complicated for teenage audiences, however, the acting was excellent... especially the performance of Christopher Plummer."

Kurt Wiley, senior - "It was well acted, although the last scene seemed rather drawn out. Some parts were funny. It was more humorous than I expected, because I expected more high drama."

Mr. Yahn, teacher-chaperone - "I enjoyed it. It was well done, and I was pleased at the students' reactions to it."

'The Thyme' In Spotlight At Cavern

This Saturday, October 21, The Cavern will be hosting The Thyme and The Ashmolean Quintet. Both of these popular Ann Arbor bands have a unique style, and were well received during their first engagement at The Cavern.

The Thyme has a certain great singing style, whereas The Ashmolean Quintet has a unique style of performing on stage during their numbers.

The dance will be held at the Community building from 8:00 p.m. to 11:30 p.m. Tickets: $1.00 for members, $1.50 for non-members. These bands should attract a large crowd.

JH Science Room's Got It Snakes, Monkey... You Name It

Mr. Norman Hannewald's science room in the Ida B. Cooke Junior High school has become a menagerie of wild animals. The room is filled with snakes, salamanders, turtles, frogs, crayfish, and a hamster are found two main attractions... a squirrel monkey and a boa constrictor.

Joko, the squirrel monkey, was the first addition to the science room. She belongs to Mr. Hannewald, who keeps her in a large cage complete with a swing and perch for exercising. Joko measures approximately two feet in length from the end of her nose to the tip of her tail. She is seven or eight months old, and is growing big canine teeth.

Squirrel monkeys are fairly active, and according to Mr. Hannewald, "Joko likes to eat meal worms and suck hard candy." She really gobbles up the meal worms.

The only reptile in the room that comes close to Joko as an attraction is the 4 1/2-foot box constrictor that Mr. Hannewald purchased at Arlan's Pet Shop in Ann Arbor. According to Mr. Hannewald, "Everyone kicked in a dime to help purchase it."

Boa constrictors are widely distributed in the jungles of Central and South America. The average length of the adult box constrictor is 10-11 feet; Mr. Hannewald's specimen is six to seven years old, and should grow six to eight inches per year.

Crayfish and four tiger salamanders make up yet another collection in the science classroom.

The final collection is made up of butterflies and leopard frogs. Some are used for feeding the snakes; whereas, the remainder will be used for dissection later in the school year. Jim Curt, an eighth grade student, donated a refrigerator to the science room for the hibernation of frogs to be dissected in the spring.

Mr. Hannewald expressed the need for National Geographic Magazines and stuffed animals, (such as a deer head), that citizens in the community no longer want. "These articles would be appreciated for use in the classroom," commented Mr. Hannewald.

Any interested parties should leave their names with Mr. Hannewald at Ida B. Cooke Junior High school, or contact Daryl Holloman, 349-3025.

EASY DOES IT - Probably the most popular teaching aids in the Northville junior high science classroom these days are the boa constrictor and monkey that Jeri VanHellemon and his teacher, Norman Hannewald admire.

Debaters Prep At WMU Clinic

Northville high school debate teams opened their season's activities by attending the Western Michigan University clinic for high schools on October 16th.

Some 800 debaters from over the state were present. At the clinic Pam Smith, Northville varsity member, acted as one of the five-man investigation committees who questioned lawyers and police administration on this year's debate topic: "Should Congress Establish Uniform Regulations to Control Criminal Investigation Procedures?"

Questions directed to the authorities involved such topics as Supreme Court decisions, practices in wiretapping, state codification, etc. Purpose of the clinic was to inform debaters on the topic.

One of Northville's varsity debaters, Cris Becker, attended a summer clinic in debate, rated as top debater of the clinic, and received a four-year scholarship.

Varsity debaters will compete in two leagues this year - the Wayne-Oakland County League and the Championship League made up of Kalamazoo, Lansing, Ypsilanti, Coldwater, Jackson and Northville high schools.

Notice debaters will participate in the Detroit-area Varsity League whose members are Dearborn, Belleville, University of Detroit, Grosse Pointe, Country Day, Dominican and Northville High.

In addition varsity and novice teams will attend several tournaments on Saturdays.

This year the debate squads have decided to wear uniforms. Girls will wear black jumpers and white blouses and boys will wear the traditional black blazer and grey trousers. Both girls and boys outfits will be ornamented with an adopted N.H.S. emblem.

Varsity debaters with experience are starred:

Seniors - Pam Smith, Bob Armstrong, Bruce Mach, Scott Berpo, Diane Holdsworth, Virginia Roud, Kevin Barnes, Marcia Lips, Bill Christensen;

Art Club Plans Holiday Projects

Northville high school Art club is off to a fine start this year. Many projects are in the making; and field trips are planned for later in the year.

There are three major projects that the Art club is undertaking for the Halloween and Christmas seasons.

The first project for the Halloween season, according to Club President Sue Jarvis, consists of "carving pumpkins for related children in various children's homes."

The second project, which will be done during the Christmas season, will be for the various members to paint Christmas murals on the Northville State Hospital windows.

The Art club's third project, also during the Christmas season, will be to finish the Christmas scene which will be displayed at the high school. The scene consists of three men carrying underneath a lamp post.

"We started it last year," commented Jarvis, "we cut them out and painted them. This year we'll finish the painting and put the props on."

Individual work by Art club members this year consists of ceramics, jewelry, painting, and pottery.

When questioned if there were to be any other Art club projects, Jarvis ventured, "We will be doing stage

We Won! It's Our First in League Competition!

Saturday may have been Sweetest Day to most calendars but for Novi's young football team Friday was considerably sweeter as the Wildcats notched their first league victory in local high school history.

Displaying a newly-found confidence, the Novi eleven rolled over Grass Lake, 19-7, as smoothly as if riding on water skis and at the same time served notice on its Lakeland C opponents that it is tired of playing doormat.

The impressive victory came on the heels of a disappointing loss to Columbia Central a week earlier...

The game's opening tally. But a 15-yard offensive holding penalty sent the Wildcats spinning back to the 43-yard line.

The setback was short-lived, however, as Boyer on the very next play fired a pass into the arms of Novi's galloping tailback, Jon VanWagner, who raced in for the TD and then booted the extra point.

Minutes later, Grass Lake struck back. Pushing their way to the one-yard line, the Warriors knotted the score as Halfback Jerry Herendeen sneaked across for the tally and Tackle Arthur Doelker split the uprights.

pushed the Wildcats back to the 21 and a smashing Warriors' tackle behind the lines shoved them back to the 30.

Then on second down at the 30, Boyer passed to Upback Doug Schott who sailed in for the touchdown. VanWagner's extra-point kick was blocked. Novi led 13-7 at the half.

Grass Lake came back after halftime festivities sporting a more determined offensive unit but Novi's defense carried the threat, which at one point carried to Novi's 20, and the quarter ended without a score.

Then, as the final quarter opened, the Wildcats took advantage of four costly Grass Lake penalties—60 yards of backpeddling—and unleashed another of their own drives.

Hill put the Wildcats in scoring position by racing 11 yards to the Grass Lake 8 for a first down, and VanWagner, who appears fully recovered from the leg injury that kept him out of the first three games, sped around right end for the third TD. His kick went short.

Grass Lake put together one last, desperate drive, grabbing a Novi fumble on its opponent's territory and pushed to the 31 before a Novi interception and the clock ended the threat and the game.

Building Boom Predictions Near Reality

Recent predictions that Novi is on the edge of a gigantic building boom appear closer to reality today, village officials have revealed.

Several development plans reportedly are under consideration by the planning board, at least two major construction projects are underway, and at least two others are expected to get underway within a year.

Some 24 homes are already completed or underway in Meadowbrook Lake subdivision, located at the northwest corner of Nine Mile and Meadowbrook roads. This subdivision includes 108 lots.

Plans for a giant development of homes and apartments is in the works for the opposite site of Meadowbrook road, south of Willowbrook subdivision. Plans for this development, which call for some 82 homes, are expected to be introduced to village planners yet this month, and, according to one official, construction of at least a single pilot house is expected to be started by the end of December.

Nearly half of the 90-acres in the latter development is expected to involve multiple dwellings, utilizing an artificial lake formed by a former gravel pit.

A 280-acre development at the northwest corner of 10 Mile and Meadowbrook roads is expected to get underway next year, according to developer, Max Sheldon. Preliminary planning is already underway, zoning has been secured, and a plat of the development is expected to be submitted to planners soon.

With sewer installation all but complete in the Cosensman subdivision, village officials believe building on 125-vacant lots in the subdivision now will move along much more rapidly. Several new permits have been issued recently, they report.

Two homes are now under construction in the Westridge subdivision on the southern boundary of the village, west of Novi road, for which final plat approval was given two weeks ago.

The Westridge plat provides for 57 homes.

To the west of Westridge, on both sides of Center street, is the proposed Stratton development of houses and multiple dwellings. Construction here, which has been awaiting installation of sewer and water, reportedly is within a year of starting. Bids on extension of water mains to the area were to have been accepted by the village Tuesday.

Plans for this development calls for relocation of Center street and provides for a street "tie-in" with Westridge.

Vetoes 'City' Farmington

City incorporation of Farmington township was defeated at the polls Monday by a scant 204 votes.

Township voters for the second time in little more than a year indicated their opposition to incorporation. The vote Monday was 2,310 to 2,106.

In June of last year voters turned down the incorporation proposal by a substantially larger margin, 5,657 to 1,547.

Rumors had circulated here for some time pointing to the strong possibility that Farmington township, with city status, probably would support annexation of sections of the village on the Novi-Farmington boundary.

Possible annexation by Farmington and other neighboring communities has been a constant stimulus for the movement to incorporate Novi as a city.

School Report Published

Novi's annual financial report together with recommendations of the superintendent of schools are published this week on Page 4-B.

The recommendations of Superintendent Dale include:

- Construction of an addition to Orchard Hills and plans for an additional elementary school.
- Complete the organization of a complete comprehensive K-12 school system.
- Addition of 10 teachers.
- Continue study to improve the quality of the educational program.
- Submit total program for accreditation of the system.
- Continue to encourage industrial development so as to equalize the tax burden.

'High Bids' Block Roads Project

Wixom's road improvement program stalled this week when it ran headlong into an unexpected financial logjam.

The roadblock came in the form of bids for paving three more roads in the city's recently reactivated improvement program.

An $85,182 budget surplus led to council decision last month to reevaluate the program, which had been sidetracked by city-wide sewer construction. Bids for surfacing the three roads, however, came in considerably higher than the surplus Tuesday night.

The matter was then referred to the newly-appointed city engineering firm, Pate Hilt & Bogue, for a determination of alternate courses of action available to the city.

Specifically, council members want to know if it is feasible and wise to initiate a paving project that does not include curbs, gutters, and storm sewers. Past paving projects have included only road bed preparation, ditching and paving.

Cost of paving the three roads, Theodore, Fleming, and Fairbury-Bogie, as seen by the two construction firms that submitted bids, was put at from $143,191.75 to $147,602.85. The lot was submitted by Holloway Construction company, the other by Cadillac Asphalt Company.

These bids included, as required by specifications, the "accessories" such as storm drains, curbs and gutters. Bid costs per each road were:

- Holloway - Theodore, $13,508; Fleming, $68,801.50; and Fairbury-Bogie, $60,292.25.
- Cadillac - Theodore, $13,852; Fleming, $70,689.50; and Fairbury-Bogie, $63,090.75.

Prior to the opening of bids, a citizen argued that the matter of road improvement and other projects involving large sums of money—ought to be put to a vote of the people.

His remarks prompted council reply that the road improvement program had been sparked six or seven years ago by the people themselves in demanding that the city "fix up our roads." Latest decision to surface three more roads is simply a continuation of that program, council members explained.

The improvement program, members said, was tabled during sewer construction - primarily because sewer excavation could damage new roads.

The engineering firm, to which the bids were referred, was appointed the city's official engineers earlier in Tuesday's meeting. Choice of Pate was unanimous although several council members indicated that any one of a number of other firms considered probably would serve the city well.

In the past, Wixom has contracted with engineering firms for specific jobs. The city's part in sewer work, for example, has been handled by Hubbell Roth & Clark, Inc.

Concerning sewers, the council also approved a resolution that vacates a 12-inch sewer line through a deleterious parcel of property on the eastern edge of Birch Park subdivision. Although the 1,528 foot long line was provided for in the city's sewer installation plans, it has since been determined that it has no useful purpose. It would serve no home, and another line would provide sewer service along the front side of the property, it was explained.

Robert Trombley, DPW superintendent, reported that less than eight miles of the 39 miles of sewer lines in the city have been installed and that the sewer

3 Arrested For B & E At Golf Club

Within hours after the discovering of a burglary at Bob-O-Link Golf Club three young men were under arrest here and nearly $2,000 worth of stolen goods had been recovered.

Released on $2,000 bonds pending their arraignment in Novi Justice court on November 2 are William J. Francis, 20, Southfield, John Edwards, 19, Detroit, and Thomas E. Flick, 44, Grand River. Francis and Edwards are charged with the burglary and Flick with possession of stolen goods.

Novi discovered the burglary shortly after 2 a.m. and issued a radio alert. Shortly thereafter, State Police out of the Redford Post arrested Francis and Thomas and Novi police nabbed Flick at his home here.

According to Novi police, Francis admitted his part in the burglary and implicated the other two men.

Police said the two men broke into the golf club through a rear window on the north side of the building by removing a screen. They loaded the loot into a car, dropped some of it off at Flick's home, and then headed east toward Detroit, they reported.

The men, police said, broke open a cabinet on the west side of the building and left the building by an outside door in this location.

Stolen, recovered and identified by the club owner, Midge Cova, was nearly $500 in cash, a 22-caliber target pistol, several golf shirts and sweaters, several boxes of cigars, three power saws, an ignition key for a golf cart, and a large quantity of liquor.

A 33-year-old Detroit man, who Novi police caught in the act of burglarizing a coin machine at the Marathon gasoline station, 26475 Novi road, on Monday faces arraignment here on November 5.

Jailed but later released on a $100 bond pending his arraignment was Richard Martin.

Novi police, patrolling the service station in the Novi road-96 area, discovered Martin at the scene. A pop machine had been forced open.

According to police, Martin admitted the break-in after informed of his legal rights.

Novi police also are investigating a break-in that occurred at the home of Mary E. Long, 39935 Grand River, last week.

Someone broke into the home shortly after its occupant left the house to get her car repaired. Upon returning she discovered that drawers throughout the house had been ransacked.

An undetermined amount of whiskey and valuable old coins and bills were stolen.

Halloween Party Slated Tuesday

Ghosts, goblins, and assorted youngsters of all ages, are invited to attend the annual Halloween Party scheduled for Tuesday, at the Novi community building.

Beginning at 7:00 p.m., the annual affair, sponsored by the Novi board of commerce, will feature fun and games for the younger set, kindergarten through age 12.

Special awards will be presented for the best costumes. After 9:00 p.m., teens are invited to dance "til the witching hour" and prizes will be offered as an added attraction.

Refreshments, including cider, doughnuts, and hot dogs, will be on tap for all during the gala evening.

The board of commerce hosts the celebration of All Hallow's Eve, not only for the enjoyment of local children and teenagers, but also in an effort to reduce the number of Novi youngsters on the streets on this special night.

For Novi Heights Subdivision Bids Next in Road Improvement

A resolution formally establishing a special assessment district for improvement of roads in the Novi Heights subdivision drew unanimous council approval last week.

The council action means now that formal bids will be secured for the road improvement, followed by another public hearing on specified assessments to be applied to affected property owners.

Earlier this month the council decided to go ahead with the project when William Lovett, official representative of the subdivision association, reported that some 70-percent of the homeowners in the area had voiced a willingness to pay for the improvements.

At that time he said some 55 homes had been polled and that 40 favored it. A number of homeowners could not be contacted and the remaining homeowners opposed it, he said.

Earlier, after receiving the request from Novi Heights subdivision property owners, the council had tabled action because it was not satisfied by sufficient numbers of homeowners desired or were willing to pay for the improvements to justify launching special assessment district procedures. It was then that Lovett returned to the homeowners in securing his poll.

Bids on insurance and a police car were let by council Monday.

Eight auto agencies submitted bids to the police car, which involves a trade-in of a 1966 police car, on the latter.

Although Fraser Staman Insurance agency (Citizens Mutual) of Novi and one other Citizens Mutual firm came in with a total package cost of $4,617.16, officials noted this cost was an "estimate" and that Voorheis, which bid only on workman's and comprehensive liability insurance policies was Voorheis & Cox Insurance (Auto Owners) of Walled Lake, which bid $511.27 on the former and $2,588.37 on the latter.

In another letter to the council, members learned from Michigan State university officials that Patrolman Warren Thrushman has successfully completed his law enforcement training. Six firms submitted bids on insurance.

Under the improvement plan, the first seal would be applied in June and the second the following year, thus delaying total completion until 1969.

God's Greatest Blessing Laughter: A Key To Mental Health

The "sugar coating" on the mental health therapy administered by Dr. Murray Banks at Northville Town Hall's opening lecture of the season Thursday at the P and A theatre was laughter. With charm and wit the renowned New York psychologist liberally sprinkled his discussion of "How to Live With Yourself" with jokes - his mirth, dialects and showmanship keeping the theatre filled with laughter for more than an hour.

While discussing basic human wants, psychology of marriage and rules for mental health, Dr. Banks with a Sonny Eliot-like humor kept Northville women laughing, setting the mood for his conclusion that they could prevent ulcers, have a happier marriage and a longer life if they can laugh at themselves. "The most important chemical law in reverse," declared the psychologist, "is that the human body cannot be angry and laugh."

Calling laughter "God's greatest blessing," Dr. Banks continued, "you are not born with laughter, you learn how to laugh." This he urged his audience to do.

As amused as any of his feminine audience was Dr. F. F. Isaac, director of family admissions at Northville State hospital and practicing Livonia psychiatrist, who introduced the speaker.

Dealing first with the psychology of marriage, Dr. Banks termed it an "I want" relationship. He pointed out that anyone entering matrimony has certain wants he expects it to satisfy and that the secret of a happy marriage, therefore, was to know what you want out of

1. Are you happy? This is a by-product of effective life adjustment.
2. Do you have a zest for living? (Do the things you want to be asking yourself, "How old will I be ten years later if I don't do it?")
3. Are you socially adjusted?
4. Do you have unity and balance in your life? Don't map your life on one thing. You can't build on one support; varied interests - such as lodges, clubs, town hall - are good.
5. Can you live with each problem in your life as it arises?
6. Do you have insight into your own conduct - do you know why you do things?
7. Do you have a confidential relationship with some other person whom you can trust?
8. Do you have a sense of the ridiculous? "Laughter is the sunshine of the soul."
9. Are you engaged in satisfying work? (Do one ever had a breakdown from overwork. You will be tired but you don't break down.)
10. Do you know how to worry effectively? (Do something actively about your problem - if it's physical, go to a doctor; if mental, go to a psychiatrist.)

"It's not your problems, but your attitudes toward the problems that make the difference," concluded the psychologist.

The women meet at 8 p.m. every Monday in the Amerman school gymnasium and welcome any reducers who would like to join.

A TOWN HALL side light - New York psychologist and Northville TH opening speaker Dr. Murray Banks confided to Robert Bruce, TH chairman, and Dr. F. F. Isaac, who introduced him, that he is about to vacation for a month in Puerto Rico. He has given 10 talks in this country after returning earlier this month from a lecture tour in Europe. Since he then plans to embark on another lecture tour which will take him to Australia, he has sublet his New York antique-filled apartment to Judy Garland.

His talk has been given more than 5,000 times, making it second only to the famed "Acres of Diamonds" lecture of Dr. Russell Conwell.

INTERIOR DECORATING at this time of year becomes a top feminine interest as bulbs are planted and "in-door weather" begins. Northville Woman's club members and guests last Friday received down-to-earth hints as well as imaginative suggestions from Mrs. M. S. Frutchy of Brighton, who revealed her Scottish ancestry as well as her New York School of Design training as she suggested a wall grouping achieved with trading stamps.

Using color slides and fabric swatches, accessories and a collection of miniature furniture, the decorator pointed out that good decorating is a combination of color, imagination and good taste.

Most important of these, she stressed, is imagination - which inspires the homemaker to incorporate her antiques or hobby into her decorating for a "home that looks like you." Anyone, she added, can go into a store and buy coordinated furniture, but family mementos create personalized decorating.

In illustration, she suggested framing favorite Christmas cards, displaying ferned hipples at the same level as the alcoholic but with drugs as the adjustment. Emotional suicide, he stressed, is avoidable if people know mental hygiene. Declaring there are more people in mental institutions in this country than there are college and university graduates today, Dr. Banks suggested that mental health courses might be more useful than plane geometry.

"You will never have a nervous breakdown if you know how to live with yourself," Dr. Banks said, giving a ten-point examination his audience could answer for an insight into a personal condition.

1. Are you happy? This is a by-product of effective life adjustment.
2. Do you have a zest for living? (Do the things you want to be asking yourself, "How old will I be ten years later if I don't do it?")
3. Are you socially adjusted?
4. Do you have unity and balance in your life? Don't map your life on one thing. You can't build on one support; varied interests - such as lodges, clubs, town hall - are good.
5. Can you live with each problem in your life as it arises?
6. Do you have insight into your own conduct - do you know why you do things?
7. Do you have a confidential relationship with some other person whom you can trust?
8. Do you have a sense of the ridiculous? "Laughter is the sunshine of the soul."
9. Are you engaged in satisfying work? (Do one ever had a breakdown from overwork. You will be tired but you don't break down.)
10. Do you know how to worry effectively? (Do something actively about your problem - if it's physical, go to a doctor; if mental, go to a psychiatrist.)

"It's not your problems, but your attitudes toward the problems that make the difference," concluded the psychologist.

The women meet at 8 p.m. every Monday in the Amerman school gymnasium and welcome any reducers who would like to join.

CANDLE CENTERPIECES for the annual Candlelight buffet dance to be given by Northville Mothers' club receive finishing touches from Mrs. Edwin E. Miller, decorations chairman, Mrs. C. W. Whiteley, and Mrs. William Wiley, ticket chairman, left to right. The trio and other volunteers participated in a craft session at the home of Mrs. William Davis this week creating the centerpieces for the dance November 11 at 101 1/2 W. At State Hospital 'Vintage Home' Proceeds Earmarked for Chapel

Proceeds - almost $900 - from Northville's first Vintage Home Tour October 5 were earmarked last week to help another "first" to success: The committee from the sponsoring women's association of Northville Presbyterian church voted to donate the $900 to the chapel fund at Northville State hospital.

The sum, which represents the proceeds from the tour and the country kitchen and antique sale held in conjunction with the tour, is the first outside-organization from Northville donated to the fund. The contribution is being made on the eve of a campaign slated for next month to obtain contributions to remodel a section of the hospital into a chapel complex to serve Jewish, Catholic and Protestant faiths.

Mrs. Crispin Hammond, local chairman for the upcoming drive, explains that auxiliary and volunteer groups already have been planning toward the chapel but that public donations have not yet been sought. In donating "Vintage Home" proceeds to the project, the association committee pointed out that the event had been a community-wide event with many individuals not members of the Presbyterian church contributing homes and time to make it a success. Therefore, the committee said, it was decided to seek a community beneficiary.

Raymond Hood Marries Salem Girl

Janet Famuliner and Raymond Hood were united in marriage in a candlelight ceremony September 21 in Northville Methodist church with the Reverend S. D. Kinde officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Famuliner of Six Mile road. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hood of Grace street. The bride wore a delicately tinted mint green brocade dress with a matching coat and shoulder veil. She carried a nosegay bouquet of roses and daisies.

Attending the bride were her sisters, Laura, maid of honor, wore yellow and Susan, blue. Their gowns were styled to match the bride's. Joe Gotro was best man. Ushers were Martin Falvin and Mike Eastland.

Mrs. Grace Breckenridge, grandmother of the bride, came from Garden City, Missouri, for the wedding. Mrs. Edward Lynn of Grand Rapids was another out-of-town guest.

After a reception at the Northville V.F.W. Hall, the couple left on a wedding trip through Northern Michigan and the upper peninsula. They are making their home at 151 W. McAttie street, South Lyon.

Area Children To Aid UNICEF

Children from the Northville Methodist church Sunday school will be trick-or-treating with the orange canisters of UNICEF, the United Nations children's fund, on Halloween.

Mrs. James P. Miller, chairman of the collection at the church, says that in past years the Sunday school youngsters have volunteered to by-pass candy treats and seek coins to provide vaccines, food and medicine for children in substandard countries. Children of the Northville Presbyterian Sunday school have had their canisters at home since the beginning of the month and have been asked to fill them with personal offerings.

Third through sixth grade youngsters of Willowbrook Community church will canvass the Novi area on behalf of UNICEF beginning at 1 p.m. Saturday. Following the collection the children will return to the church, located on Ten Mile road, for a Halloween party. Posters made by the seventh grade Sunday school class of the Northville Methodist church will announce the Northville collection in local stores.

In Detroit the Common Council has authorized door-to-door collection for Sunday from 4 to 7 p.m. Mrs. Joseph Kaufman, Detroit area UNICEF campaign chairman, reports that Nobel Peace prize-winning UNICEF now has over 500 long-range programs in 120 countries in Asia, Africa, Latin America and the Middle East. Its goal is to feed, heal and educate children so that they may help themselves later. Mrs. Kaufman cites the figure of 30,000 daily deaths of children in these countries as a result of hunger and disease.

3rd Rifle Club Class Planned

"Response has been excellent," Recreation Director Robert From reported this week in announcing plans for a third junior rifle class.

Two five-week classes have already been filled, he said, and a number of other youngsters have indicated a desire to participate in a third class.

Twenty boys and girls are enrolled in each of the first two classes, he said. Youngsters learn fundamental rules in safe gun handling and receive target practice with air rifles.

Upon completion of this basic, five-week class older boys and girls will be eligible to join an advanced class, graduating from air rifles to 22-caliber rifles.

Persons interested in participating in the proposed third class are asked to call From at 349-2267.

From said that an adult pistol class may be sponsored by the department. Persons interested in this class also are urged to contact From.

Gridders Seek 4th JH Win Next Week

With three victories against a single lost under their belts, Northville's junior high school gridders will travel to Clarenceville Tuesday for their season finale.

Boasting what Coach Omar Harrison says is a superlative defensive unit and an improved offensive attack, Northville blanked Plymouth in its opener, 12-0, took a 28-0 licking at the hands of Clarenceville, and then came up with back-to-back wins over Novi, 13-0 and 13-6.

"Our line play is real good," said the coach. "We've got a finer team this year and I think we'll be better next."

Harrison and Coach Mike Janichuk singled out Mike Huges, Chuck Cook, Rick Asher, Doug Boor and Bill Riley as turning in outstanding performances thus far this season.

In its opening game, Northville scored its first touchdown on a 60-yard pass from Quarterback Bill Andrews to End Jeff Jones. The second TD was scored by Fullback Randy Armstrong on a five-yard dive into the endzone.

In blanking Novi in its first game, Northville scored first on another 60-yard pass play from Andrews to End Brad Cole. Andrews fired another TD pass, this one for 25 yards, to End Gary Putrow.

Armstrong scored both of Northville's two touchdowns in the second encounter with Novi, one for six yards and the other for five yards.

Runners Impress Cross Country Coach

Northville's cross country coach, Paul Osborn, was bubbling with enthusiasm this week as he looked ahead to Saturday's regional meet at Cass Benton Park.

"Our boys have done a tremendous job this year," the coach said. Their improvement over last year has been exceptional.

"Cross country takes plenty of dedication, morale and individual character to come out here every day and run. And we've got five boys who meet every one of these requirements and then some."

With Northville's number one runner, Bill Harrison, graduating next June, Osborn figures to build next year's squad around Phil Kennedy, John Paul, Jeff Taylor, Paul Bedford and Steve Kaake. "Kennedy probably will be my number one runner."

Osborn said Harrison, in leading this year's squad, has turned in some fine times — "setting at least a minute off previous times."

Northville won its meet with Belleville early this month, 20-43, with Harrison finishing first with a time of 11:58; Kennedy, second, 12:01; Paul, fourth, 12:14; Taylor, sixth, 12:50; and Bedford, seventh.

The reserve squad also topped Belleville, 25-40.

In a triangular meet involving the Mustangs, Oak Park and Crestwood — and with four of its top runners missing — Northville finished second. Harrison turned in his best time of the season on the home course at 11:22.

Last week Tuesday, Northville finished second in a quadrangular meet with Milford, Clarkston, and Clarenceville. The times were disappointing, but the runners came back Thursday to cop an easy 19-40 win over Clarenceville.

Times in the Clarenceville meet were: Harrison, 11:24, first; Paul, 11:37, second; Kennedy, 11:41, third; and Bedford, 12:13, sixth.

200 games-A. Ritchie 228, 240-827; T. Bauer 222; B. Matatal 217; V. Newton 210; H. Heller 209; M. Mitchell 200.

Plan Sports Banquet Boosters Elect Juday President

Steve Juday, All-American quarterback from MSU, was elected president of the newly organized Northville Boosters club at a meeting last Thursday evening.

Also elected was Esie Nisder, vice-president; Dayton Deal, treasurer; and Ginny Taylor, secretary.

Athletic Director David Longridge will serve the group in an advisory capacity. Stanley Johnston is the board of education representative with the group.

The next meeting of the organization, whose purpose is to support all high school athletics, was set for Thursday, November 2 at the high school beginning at 8 p.m. All persons interested in becoming members, including women, are invited to attend.

Memberships are available from any member or at Paul Felino's insurance agency on West Main street.

"In the past," officials explained, "only football has had an annual banquet to honor its players. The so-called minor sports have always been relegated to the background. The Boosters want to provide recognition on a community basis for all students participating in athletics at the high school level."

First major project of the organization — although initial boosters sponsored the building of dugouts at the high school baseball diamond even before the group was officially formed — will be the sponsorship of an all-sports banquet next spring.

To help raise money for this project, the group currently is selling booster pins and on December 16 will sponsor an appearance here of the Harlem Diplomats, professional basketball team.

Another activity of the Boosters will be a "Meet the Mustangs" night slated for the night of November 21. Members of all winter sports teams will be introduced, a wrestling demonstration will be given for wrestling and basketball rules. The program will be free, and citizens are urged to attend.

"Meet the Mustangs" will be staged in the high school cafeteria beginning at 8 p.m.

Invade Milford Tomorrow Mustangs Bomb Barons, 12-0

Two touchdown passes, one for 91 yards, spiraled Northville into an undisputed third place last Friday afternoon and put the local eleven on the launching pad for a good shot at the runner-up spot in the Wayne-Oakland League race.

The 12-0 triumph over Bloomfield Hills at Bloomfield gives the Mustangs a 3-2 league record—just one game back of tomorrow's opponent, Milford, who shares second place with Clarkston with 3-1 records.

In trimming the Barons of their share of third place, the Mustangs blanked the opposition for the second straight game. On the ground, however, the Barons picked up 137 net yards to Northville's 118. In the air it was Northville 135 yards, Bloomfield Hills 50.

That Northville aerial attack was highlighted by a 91-yard touchdown pass from Quarterback Joe Andrews to End Greg Carr in the opening minutes of the third quarter and just after a holding penalty pushed the Mustangs back to their own nine-yard line.

The Mustangs struck paydirt first back in the second quarter. A 15-yard pass from Andrews to Carr carried Northville to the Barons' 24. Craig MacDermaid bulled his way up the center to the 15, and Andrews dived to the 10 just as the first stanza closed.

With first and goal up on this point, MacDermaid picked up three more yards on the ground and then Andrews fired a pass to Terry Mills for the TD.

Fackle Scott Bergo's two extra-point attempts failed to split the uprights.

Northville came up with only one other scoring threat in the game. It was sparked by a Bloomfield fumble. The Mustangs had punted to mid-field from its own 21 when Guard Richard Suckow grabbed the fumble in the air. Andrews ripped his way to the 38 on two plays, Mills picked up two more, and then Andrews hit Carr at the 26 for a first down. Three incompletions and a five-yard loss ended the threat.

Bloomfield Hills pushed to within 25 yards of a touchdown on three different occasions. Twice the Barons cracked the 20-yard mark.

The deepest thrust came in the second quarter on a drive from Bloomfield's own 37 just after Northville scored.

With first and 10 yards to go at the 23, the Barons smashed over the right side in three successive plays but managed to pick up only nine yards. Then with first and one yard from the all-important first down, Northville's defensive unit smothered the ball carrier at the scrimmage line and led the game for the Mustangs.

Late in the final quarter Bloomfield launched another attack that carried from its own 20 yard line to the Northville 17, but a fourth-down interception by Suckow ended the threat and led the game for the Mustangs.

Interestingly, the Mustangs—despite their overall season record of three losses against three wins—have outscored their opponents, 84 to 74.

Halloween traditions are many and varied. For longer than history has recorded, the last day of the tenth month of the year has held a special significance fraught with mysticism, fear and superstition. Long before the Christian era, autumn festivals belonged to the pagan rites. The great bonfires lit by the ancient Druids were not only a homage to the Sun God, about to go into semi-retirement until the vernal equinox, but also a precaution against the evil spirits who were believed to roam abroad at that particular time.

Rome celebrated the Fall with sacrifices of roasted nuts and apples to Pomona - a forerunner of the Nut Burning tradition, which became an established Halloween custom in Ireland about 1800.

As folklore would have it, in the 10th century a French monk, Odilo, abbot of Cluny, instituted All Souls' Day prayers for the tormented souls of the departed after hearing a pilgrim backer on the Holy Land describe his encounter with a hermit on a deserted island where, he said, he had been given a glimpse of the infernal regions. The eve of this day, All Hallows' Eve, eventually became Halloween.

Some 400 years ago, "beggar holidays" became traditional, enabling the poor to call on more privileged people in quest of largess. In England and Wales, "soul cakes" were baked and distributed to the visitors - obvious forerunners of today's Trick or Treaters.

As far as can be ascertained, the New World has made only two original contributions to the age-old tradition. One, the Jack-o-Lantern, came about when a whimsical country lad tried out his whittling abilities on a pumpkin. The other, Trick or Treat for UNICEF, is by far the more memorable one.

In 1950 a few American Sunday School pupils resolved that rather than candy and apples, on October 31 they would collect coins to help less fortunate boys and girls in other parts of the world. The United Nations Children's Fund gratefully accepted a check for $17.00.

There is an interesting passage of scripture in the Gospel of Matthew, which indicates the need for some of these good traditions. It is a story of judgment in which some are being welcomed into the kingdom and some are being rejected. "Then the King will say to those at his right hand, 'Come, O blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world; for I was hungry and you gave me food, I was thirsty and you gave me drink, I was naked and you clothed me, I was sick and you visited me, I was in prison and you came to me.' Then the righteous will answer him, 'Lord, when did we see thee hungry and feed thee, or thirsty and give thee drink?' And when did we see thee a stranger and welcome thee, or naked and clothe thee? And when did we see thee sick or in prison and visit thee?' And the King will answer them, 'Truly, I say to these my brethren, you did it to me.'" (Matthew 25:34-40)

Once again this Halloween through the Trick or Treat for UNICEF we will have the opportunity to put into action this lesson Christ taught his early disciples.

Tumbleweed Club To Hold Open House

The Tumbleweed chapter of the National Campers and Hikers Association will hold an open house Wednesday, November 1, at 7:30 P.M. in the Scout Recreation Hall.

All area families interested in camping and hiking are invited to attend. The organization has four main goals:

To work towards the conservation of natural resources.
To provide a friendly atmosphere of camping among members.

Sue Jarvis, Cavern vice-president, stated: "We expect a huge crowd for this dance. The Cave's getting a reputation as a cool place with big bands."

The Cavern's Bob Seger Dance will be held in the community building. Tickets: $1.50 for members, $2.00 for non-members.

The Cavern as a whole is striving for something every teenager can identify with and have pride in. An overall goal for rebuilding the Community Building's cafeteria, which is under lease to the local teen club, is under study at this time by the Cavern's board of officers.

According to President Leo Cherne, "We are looking over the idea of a coffee-house atmosphere with the touch of the avant garde. We are trying to create an atmosphere that will fit in with the name 'Cavern'."

Other additions to The Cavern, included in this project, are revamping the sound system, adding a better backdrop to the stage, eventually having its own light-show, and reducing the cafeteria's lighting to a soft, dark, warm atmosphere that will fit in with the name "Cavern."

Coming up very soon is the by-laws election. (By-laws run the club.) The board is in the process of setting it up as an open meeting for all members. "During this meeting we hope to reveal definite plans for the cafeteria building project," said Cherne.

A money and contribution drive for building materials will be launched as soon as the overall plan is completed. "Cavern members and other interested parties are invited to help in the rebuilding of the cafeteria."

"The Mothers' Club will be sponsoring a dance soon," commented Cherne. "Monies collected are being earmarked for The Cavern. 'The club appreciates this gesture very much.'"

The Cavern's growing inattentiveness, officials said. Teenagers from as far away as Windsor are attending these dances. "This type of popularity is maintained because unlike other teen night clubs, The Cavern charges very reasonable rates."

According to The Cavern's entertainment spokesman, "If you want to see good entertainment at a reasonable price, you can see Bob Seger and the Last Heard for a shot at $1.50 for members, $2.00 for non-members."

During the course, he was taught the

To establish regional centers from which members unfamiliar with the area may obtain reports on campsites, trails, and game laws.

To recommend improvements in camping and hiking facilities wherever the need exists.

The National Campers and Hikers association is a family camping group often called "The Friendliest People in the World."

A chapter is usually made up of 30 camping families who enjoy going to a pre-chosen campsite once a month, group camping programs, Saturday night potluck suppers, and Sunday morning pancake breakfasts.

They enjoy monthly winter meetings, too, reliving the summers via slides, and movies. NCHA also has teen clubs for children of its members.

Besides individual chapter campsouts each month the Michigan State Association of the National Campers and Hikers association has a Michigan State Spring Campout in May, a National Campout in July, a provincial campout held over Labor Day in Canada, Michigan fall campout in September, a Polar Bear Campout held at Bay City State Park in February, and an early bird campout in April.

Officers for the Tumbleweeds are: President, Larry Wood, Northville; vice President, Ken Beyer, Northville; secretary, Virginia Hocking, Plymouth; treasurer, George Henshaw, Northville; two members-at-large, Charles Wright, Livonia and Homer Bostel of Plymouth; and delegate to Michigan State association, Herbert Bissa of Northville.

Persons wishing additional information may call or write Field Director, Marge Schulkins, 9558 Medbury, Farmington, 474-9459 or the local president, Larry Wood, Ft 9-1938.

Who is your brother's keeper?

In a time when it's 'every man for himself,' to love your neighbor as yourself may seem to carry a hollow ring. But to do so can be vital to each of us. To love even our enemies is to discover something of the richness of love itself. It can open the way to greater accomplishment in our lives, restoring health and blessing others. And the way is to begin to see our true nature - and that of our fellowman - as fashioned in the image and likeness of God.

You are invited to hear this subject explored in a challenging lecture by Neil H. Bowles, C.S.B., of Atlanta, Georgia. Mr. Bowles is an experienced Christian Science teacher and practitioner and a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship.

Admission is free and all are welcome.

FORGOTTEN SOMETHING

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... All FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

HOLY CROSS EPISCOPAL MISSION CHURCH

On Monday, October 16, Holy Cross ECW served luncheon to sixty women of the Grand River Convocation. Reverend John Fricks gave the invocation of Holy Cross church for all their efforts and time to make this occasion to be remembered. It shows what can be done without the facilities of a kitchen, silverware, or dishes. Determination and planning can overcome a lot of obstacles.

The Rt. Rev. George Rysay, Bishop of Northern Michigan officiated at a confirmation class of 21 persons, at 4 o'clock on Sunday, October 22. Refreshments were served by the ECW following the services. The beautiful new cross above the altar was given to the church by Mr. Lee Adkins one of the new confirmants. As late as Friday evening, Mr. Phil Scott and Mr. James Simpson were installing a coat rack in the Fellowship Hall. The new trees and shrubbery were landscaped by Mr. Bill Price and Mr. Louis Tank.

The next ECW meeting will be held at the church on Tuesday, November 7 at 8 p.m. We still need Betty Crocker coupons and stamps.

NOVI METRO CHURCH

A United Nations Luncheon was held on Wednesday, October 25 at the church. The WSCS had guests from New Hudson, South Lyon and Willowbrook. Mrs. Marvin Rickert was the guest speaker.

News Around Schoolcraft

Trustees of Schoolcraft college have reaffirmed their interest in serving Northwest Wayne County as an Area Vocational center and have asked school authorities in the five districts that comprise the college district for a vote of confidence.

At its meeting Wednesday, October 18, the board unanimously approved a pair of motions by Trustee Jane K. Moehle of Plymouth, intended to clarify the Board's position concerning AVC.

Trustees supported a motion by Mrs. Moehle which directed college authorities to update a 1963 study of area vocational needs and facilities and to provide the board with information on financing, curriculum development and coordination, personnel and facilities.

The board reaffirmed its stand on the identity of the college by voting to inform the Wayne County Intermediate School District if it tended to continue operating the college as an independent district.

Two weeks ago, Trustees made this position clear to the State Board for Public Community and Junior Colleges which is proposing a state-wide restructuring plan for community colleges.

Trustees reaffirmed their position after receiving a letter from William A. Shuck, superintendent of the WCISD, requesting a position statement relative to a plan to create a county-wide community college district.

Trustees instructed board secretary Paul Mulder to send Shuck copies of its letter to the state board and a reply from that board's executive director, Dr. John W. Porter, which said, in part: "Based on your decision the final plan will clearly note Schoolcraft Community college as a community college district."

The board awarded a sale of a $250,000 tax anticipation note to the National Bank of Detroit on a low bid of 2.88 per cent interest rate. The note was sold to provide the college with an operating cash until local tax revenues are received.

Three bids were received on the note which is payable on May 1. Other bidders were Detroit Bank and Trust, 3.5 percent; and Manufacturers' National Bank, 3.75 percent.

Harold Fischer, chairman of the Board of Trustees of Schoolcraft college, has been named to the executive committee of the Michigan Association of Community College Boards.

Fischer, who lives in Plymouth, was instrumental in the organization of MACCB and served as its first president last year. He was succeeded this year by Robert P. Small, chairman of the board of trustees of Lake Michigan college, Benton Harbor.

Fischer's election to the three-member executive committee took place at the recent second annual meeting of MACCB at Bayde-Noc Community college, Escanaba.

Plan Relocation Of Bus Compound

Proposed location for a school bus compound has been switched from the athletic field area to the high school. Earl Busard, business manager for the Northville school system, told members of the board Monday night that the location was changed because of the greater cost involved in developing the compound next to the football field and because of the high school location's closer proximity to the present bus garage and a future one.

He noted that with completion of the high school addition, the present shop can be converted to bigger and better garage facilities. The new garage will be in addition to the one already in existence. The bus compound, as now envisioned, would occupy a 170 x 110 foot area west of the school parking lot. It will be fenced.

Because of the size of the compound, Busard said, it can easily be converted to tennis courts utilizing the fencing put up for the compound. The business manager said he envisions the compound as a temporary facility. He said it is possible that in future years the school may join with the city in developing a single compound and garage for both city and school vehicles.

Members of the board approved purchase of two "limed oak planes from the J. L. Hudson company, lowest of two bidders; approved final payment of $29,946.66 to the DeMare Brothers Construction company for work at Moraine elementary school; and granted a health leave to Mrs. Mary Sullivan, high school librarian, who indicated she probably will return prior to the start of the next semester.

Novi Police Apprehend 3 Boys for Auto Theft

A 14-year-old boy faces a hearing in Oakland county probate court and two others were referred to the Novi Youth Protective association last week following theft of a car owned by Floyd Bennett of 46550 Pontiac Trail. The theft was uncovered by Patrolman Warren Thrushman as he investigated a "missing boy" complaint made by one of the suspect's parents. The boys, he said, admitted taking Bennett's car, driving it throughout the area and finally ditching it in the woods three-quarters of a mile northwest of Dixon and 12 1/2 Mile roads. Missing from the car but later recovered were two fishing poles, fishing tackle box, and a gasoline can. Still missing as of last Friday were a number of wrench sockets. The boys forced open a window in the car at the entrance, Thrushman said. The keys were not in the ignition but the ignition was in an unlocked position, he added.

The Torch Drive is a Family Affair. On a cold day in January, 1961, a young man with wind-blown hair stood on a platform in Washington. He spoke of "a torch being passed to a new generation of Americans." He spoke of "the light from that torch truly changing the world." This year, an entire family, the George family, lighted our very special torch - the torch that launched our United Foundation fundraising drive. The Georges are the living symbol of that new generation of Americans. And the Georges ask us to begin to change the world by changing a small part of it. Our own community. SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Land reappraisal has been completed in Northville township after an inspection of some 1,600 individually described parcels of property.

The impact on the total assessed valuation of real and personal property won't be known until December or January. Land totals have not been compiled and building valuations remain to be determined by the county bureau of taxation.

Personal property valuations—business equipment and inventory—have been audited and must also be totaled.

The key word in any reassessment undertaken is "equity" between one property owner and another. This has been the objective of county and township officials as they appraise properties and bring assessments to 50 per cent of true market value, as now required by law.

James Cutler, a local qualified appraiser, and a representative of the Wayne county bureau of taxation have conducted the property survey, while Supervisor R. D. Merriam has been a close observer.

In determining land values they have reviewed all sales records available during the past three years.

There are some difficult decisions involving large parcels of land, particularly land that is being farmed. Sales records of farms in the Northville area are rare. Although it may be farmed, when it is sold the buyer is a developer and the land is purchased for subdividing.

Perhaps the fairest test of the new land valuations will be in the answer to this question from land owners: would you sell your land for double the assessment? (which is set at 50 per cent of estimated market value).

The appraisers don't believe they would.

Again, equity becomes the important ingredient. If land is grossly under-assessed, homeowners without large tracts of land must make up the difference by having their assessed valuations "equalized."

If the new assessment program is a success, Northville township will not have an "equalization factor" on its 1968 tax roll.

This year the factor will be 1.376, which means that all existing assessments are 37.6 per cent below true market value.

ments will be multiplied by the factor to determine the property assessments for levying school, county and township tax millage.

A new procedure on this year's school-county-township tax bills will give township property owners a better opportunity to determine the exact amount their assessments were raised or lowered (the latter is a possibility) by the reappraisal program.

Property valuations shown on the tax bill will be equalized, which means that the assessments will have been multiplied by 1.376. So the assessed valuation shown on the tax bill may be compared with the new assessments when they are revealed, next December or January.

Theoretically, the new assessment should approximate the 1967 assessment, which had been increased to 50 per cent through use of the factor.

This will not be the case where property has been sharply under-assessed. Conversely, in cases where assessments have been accurate and perhaps penalized above the 50 per cent level by the application of the factor, the 1968 assessment could be lower than the 1967 total.

At any rate, the taxpayer will have an opportunity to register protests—at the board of review hearings held in March.

Ed Welch has been trying for years to get the city to adopt an official flag.

As a member of the Beautification Commission, he's finally found sympathetic ears.

A contest to design a flag and compose a slogan has been announced in the school system.

Ed's hoping the new city flag will be flying for the first time on Flag Day, June 14.

Meanwhile, voters must wait until November, 1968 to decide whether or not Michigan wants to go along with the federal law establishing daylight time beginning the last Sunday in April each year.

Doesn't Want to Sell Home to Race Track

To the Editor:

In my paper today I read an article about this part of town and the race track.

Why did you give the impression we wanted to sell our homes to the race track? We don't.

You said "Carlo said he could make no promises but he was certain the track would take all of this land."

Are we to have nothing to say? The city of Northville has always written off this part of town. Why? We pay taxes, send our kids to school, try to take care of what we have.

And we are treated to this sort of thing. Why don't you write what we think the people who put up with the race track.

A LOOSE LEAF

By ROLLY PETERSON

In this age, when debunking is popular, finding a target for scorn presents no difficulty. The target can be almost anyone of a number of things, and especially, those legends of by-gone years, to which the older generation clings fondly. After all, vestiges of the past are not alive to defend themselves and the memory grows dim.

I, too, fell into the debunking wake and waited to be convinced last week at the Lydia Menselsson theatre in Ann Arbor. The occasion was the APA repertory company's presentation of George Kelly's "The Show-Off," bringing to the stage Helen Hayes, the renowned "First Lady of the Stage." My defenses were up. But by the time the final curtain had settled, I had been convinced — Helen Hayes, indeed, has few peers.

As Mrs. Fisher, the cliché ridden, somewhat obtuse, middle class mother who leads an insular life, Miss Hayes was superb. In a role that demands a myriad of moods to correspond with a vacillating attitude, Miss Hayes was sensitively attuned to every nuance, changing moods as a landscape would configurations. One moment she was the stunned wife of a dying husband, the next, the peevish, yet concerned Mother. Always, she remained in character, flawless in her performance.

Actually, Miss Hayes surpassed her reputation, which is considerable. The critics have curried her favor, the press has proclaimed her talent, she has gained every conceivable recognition for her stardom. She has become a legend, a modern theatrical myth in whose presence actors and admirers stand in awe. But no amount of acclamation can convince the recalcitrant. Only seeing is believing.

What makes Miss Hayes' triumph complete is the fact that she was playing in "The Show-Off," rather than a more spectacular, modern play, controversial in content. George Kelly's play is 43 years old, first produced in the raucous Twenties.

The play concerns the Fisher family of Philadelphia, whose daughter has become enamored with a bumptious young man, Aubrey Piper, who is more sound than substance, an incomparable braggart. Clayton Corzette as Piper bounds about the stage, walloping people on the back and all good fellowship (how to win over your future father-in-law), laughing like a cackling demon and generally, being as obnoxious as possible. And Corzette does it in winning form.

Foreigners would conclude, even today, that Piper is the modern American, brash and insensitive. But Kelly, despite the fact that "The Show-Off" is a comedy, does not change Piper's personality in the end, as is the comedy's wont. Instead, staying completely within character, he makes his character pay off, winning favor where before he simply offend.

The play, for all its comic portrayal of middle class morality, has its more serious overtones. The gravely come from the part of Gwyda Donohoe as Clara, the Fishers' oldest daughter. Miss Donohoe stirs the emotions with her poignant disclosure that she and her eminently successful husband enjoy the necessities that money can afford, but their marriage is in mere show.

This stands in sharp contrast to the main action, the marriage of the youngest daughter, Amy, to that no-good, but carefree whelp, Aubrey Piper. Obviously, their marriage is hardly the type to set the Fishers to beaming. Amy and Aubrey are acutely short of money, and Aubrey brings a better job than he has. Yet, out of the financial mire, two blissful people emerge.

Corn? Perhaps. But Kelly's play, in the hands of the APA, moves us, and we are reminded of our own sentimental optimism.

Wayne State Observes Its Centennial

LANSING—These are the ingredients which produced Wayne State University: A handful of students, five doctors determined to improve medical education, and a building leased from a devious creper Harper Hospital.

In 1868 the school was called the Detroit Medical College. One year after its founding, degrees were awarded to a few students who had previously studied medicine at other institutions.

One hundred years later Wayne State University has 31,000 students enrolled in degree programs and another 26,000 affiliated through cooperative extension courses and programs.

Currently there are 476 medical students and 482 students enrolled in medically-related fields in the School of Medicine.

INCORPORATED with $30,000 from contributions of 34 leading Detroit citizens and business, WSU's "book value" now exceeds $95,000,000.

The institution has undergone five name changes during its 100 year growth. It began as the Detroit Medical College. In 1885 the name was changed to the Detroit College of Medicine. In 1913 it was renamed the Detroit College of Medicine and Surgery.

In 1918 the college became a publicly controlled medical school, and responsibility was assumed by the Detroit Board of Education. In 1933 the college was made a part of the City's university organization known as the Colleges of the City of Detroit.

The name, Wayne University, was born when the separate city colleges of Law, Pharmacy, Liberal Arts and Education and Medicine were combined into one university named after the Revolutionary War hero General Anthony Wayne.

At that time, the colleges of Engineering and Graduate School were also added.

FULL CONTROL by the State of Michigan began in a three year transitional period in 1956. In April, 1959, a six man Board of Governors was elected to govern WSU.

Dr. William Rea Keast was inaugurated in 1965 as the fifth president of the university. Curricula on the mid-city campus encompass every major field of study in 10 colleges and schools.

More than 75% of all students combine studies with employment to help pay educational costs. Classes are offered from 7:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. to make work-study arrangements easier for students. The campus now covers 173 acres, and WSU employs more than 6,000 professional and skilled staffers.

CENTENNIAL observations during the 1967-68 school year will be keyed to the theme, "The Urban University and Urban Society." Symposiums, dedications, salutes, conferences, presentations and commencement programs will honor the university's 100 years of service to Michigan.

It will be interesting to follow progress during WSU's second century. Growth and accomplishments possible from such humble beginnings in 1868 should give Wayne State University a head start on the next 100 years.

Psychicists used to Michigan workers now reflect the new state income tax and may cause citizens to wonder just where their tax dollars are being spent.

Latest figures show how Michigan compares with other states.

The "average" Michigan citizen pays $447 per year for state and local government services. This compares with a $323 per capita figure across the nation. The per capita tax in Alaska is $923; in South Carolina it is $268. In Ohio it is $366; in New York it is $530.

Biggest tax bite is for education. Michigan rates high on the list, spending an average of $206 per capita for state and local schooling. The U.S. average is $170. In Ohio, only $157 is spent for education. In Illinois, the total is $162. California and New York spend $219 and $190 respectively. Some of the less populated states have higher per capita averages, but these totals do not give a significant comparison.

HIGHWAYS take the second big bite of the tax dollar, but Michigan, with $53 per person, ranks below the national average of $65. The national average is largely spent in sparsely populated states which are just beginning highway programs. Wyoming, for instance, spends $220 per person on roads, and Arizona spends $210.

Despite the unpleasantness of paying taxes and the outlook for more of them, there is some consolation in the fact that Michigan citizens are not taxed at a rate higher than others and that much of our money is invested in what should be the most productive place possible: education.

The program is how to get more value for money expended and how to keep government programs limited to areas where it can be effective for public benefit.

 - This driver sits well back in the seat and leans over so that both elbows are akimbo and hang onto the wheel with a sturdy grip at 3 o'clock and 9 o'clock.
 - This type of personality sits straight and well back in his seat. Both arms are straight, hands at 3 o'clock and 9 o'clock. Turns are made by pulling the wheel from one hand to the other.
 - This person sits like limp spaghetti in his seat, steering the car with two fingers of both hands that lie in his lap.
 - This driver sits well back in a relaxed but upright position. His hands are at 20 minutes to 4 or 10 minutes to 2 o'clock. He seldom passes the rim of the steering wheel from one hand to another.
- PERSONALITIES
- The show-off devil-may-care hot-shot.
 - The angry, tense, hurried type.
 - The authoritarian, get-out-of-my-way driver. (Possibly an older person.)
 - The falsely casual or pseudo-sophisticated driver.
 - A driver who knows the safest way to hold the wheel of a car.
- ANSWERS:
- If you have paired the postures and the personalities as 1-a, 2-b, 3-c, etc. down the line, you are correct. Any driver, with the exception of Number Five, is in for trouble if he meets an emergency requiring drastic steering action.

If you consider the fact that Bill Chase of our town developed a worldwide industry on a shoestring and plenty of grey-matter upstairs I suppose it's only natural he'd come up with a public relations manager who knows his stuff. But the package his PR manager sent nevertheless impressed me.

Inside the box were two name badges, a pen, scratch pad, a can of tomato cocktail, a napkin, a swizzle stick and two aspirin, together with pictures and story on Mr. Chase's Shatterproof Glass Corporation.

The enclosed letter from PR Manager Dave Horner read:
Dear Busy Editor:

This is our 45th anniversary year. We had intended to throw a big press party at the Ponchartrain Hotel in Detroit and invite all of the press and media to hear our success story. But, after careful consideration, we realized that you are very busy and that we didn't have the right to spend all that money to get our story to you.

So, we've sent this "Do-It-Yourself Press Party Kit" so that you still get our story, attend a press cocktail party,

2 Citizens to Get C. N. Ely Awards

Two awards will be made to community citizens through the Claude N. Ely Memorial Fund on November 8, officials of the non-profit fund announced this week. Names of the award winners will not be announced until presentation of token financial awards and awards of merit at the City Recognition Banquet. The Ely memorial fund was established in 1959 by local citizens to perpetuate the memory of the late Mr. Ely, last president of the village and first mayor of the city. It provides an annual incentive and token of appreciation to a citizen or citizens of the community for outstanding community service, public service, or contributions to good citizenship. Token monetary awards are made from earnings on monies within the fund. Four awards have been made since the fund's establishment with an excess of $1,000. Mrs. Mary Alexander was the winner in 1961, Alfred Eberhart in 1962, Merritt Meaker in 1965, and Susan Hill in 1966. According to fund officials, a special essay contest will be sponsored early next year for Northville students by the Ely Fund and awards will be presented to the winners during Michigan Week in May. Essays probably will carry some "citizenship" theme, but exact details have not yet been worked out. Newly elected officers of the fund are: John Canterbury, president; Eugene Cook, vice-president; Raymond Spear, secretary-treasurer; and A. M. Allen and A. Russell Clarke, trustees. Under the regulations of the fund, the board shall consist of the mayor, president of the Northville school board, the school superintendent, and two additional members. Specifically, directors shall, among other things: --Invest funds received as contributions. --Select the person or persons to receive awards each year. --Expand for awards the net income from the contributions invested but not any portion of the capital funds contributed. --Keep records, to be retained in the custody of the school superintendent, of all monies received and expended. Established as a permanent endowment fund, it is to continue indefinitely -- or until 1968 when the directors may, by a majority vote, terminate it and donate the remaining monies to the city of Northville.

Says Police Chief

Laws Can't Produce Safety

There is no such thing as legislating "instant safety" on our streets and highways, Northville Police Chief Samuel Elkins reminded motorists this week. "The new Federal safety regulations which establish vehicle standards and call for greatly expanded safety programs at the state, county and local levels are certain to bring improvement in the death rate, but it won't come soon," Elkins said. "And there are other grim factors at work which continue to make things as going to be a lot worse on our streets and highways before they get better." Among the factors listed which will make it more hazardous on the highways are the following: 1. More young drivers; 2. Higher speeds; 3. Popularity of motorcycles; 4. Increasing travel; 5. Alcohol consumption; 6. Failure to use seat belts. "We are approaching the critical winter months when normal driving hazards are compounded by the weather," Chief Elkins said. "Reduced visibility and inadequate traction make it tougher for drivers to stay out of trouble." He urged motorists to study the following tips for safe winter driving which have been advocated by the National Safety Council's Committee on Winter Driving Hazards and endorsed by the International Association of Chiefs of Police. 1. Get the "feel" of the road by accelerating carefully to see if wheels spin; or brake gently to see if they skid. Reduce speed accordingly. 2. Increase your following distance. It takes three to five times as far to stop on snow and ice as on dry pavement. 3. "Pump" your brakes to slow or stop - don't jam them on. An intermittent pumping action keeps the wheels rolling and helps maintain steering control. 4. Have good tires with good treads. Better yet, use snow tires which provide half again as much pulling power in snow as regular tires. Studded snow tires offer still more help on icy surfaces. 5. Always carry reinforced tire chains in the trunk of your car for use during severe snow and ice conditions. They provide four to five times as much traction on snow or ice as regular tires. 6. Keep your windshield and windows clear at all times. Replace streaking wiper blades gone dead from exposure to sun, wind and old road film. Be sure that your windshield washer solution contains adequate anti-freeze.

TRAGEDY STRIKES - Willard Lambert, Jr. of Novi, who with his father gave an Indian dance demonstration for Novi Cub Scouts here Friday night, encountered a major disaster three nights later when fire destroyed his Willowbrook home leaving his family homeless. See Page 10-A for story on the Cubs' pack meeting.

Neighbors Seek Aid

Fire Leaves Family Homeless in Novi

A young Willowbrook couple and their six children were left homeless Monday evening when a fire destroyed their one-story house at 23676 East LeBoist. Mr. and Mrs. Willard Lambert and their children, who lost all of their furniture and clothing in the flames, were immediately taken in by a neighbor, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Fischer of 23672 East LeBoist. Fire Chief Fred Loyne immediately issued a plea for clothing for the children, three of whom fled the burning home in only their pajamas. Meanwhile, a Farmington woman, Mrs. Frank Kern, mother of Mrs. Lambert's neighbor, launched a food fund contributing $25 as the initial donation. Area residents wishing to aid the stricken family may send their donations to the Lamberts in care of Mr. and Mrs. Fischer. According to Chief Loyne, a fire apparently was triggered by a short in an extension cord beneath a rug. He and his firefighters fought the blaze for several hours, receiving the initial call at 6:24 and finally leaving the scene at 10:24. Mrs. Lambert was in the bathroom of the house washing the hair of her five-year-old daughter, Madeline, and her husband and the other children were in the family room in the rear of the house when the fire broke out. Lambert discovered the blaze when he entered the living room to get something. He screamed for his wife and children to flee the house. Mrs. Lambert ran next door to telephone the fire department while Richard Lambert, who is employed by the New Hudson corporation, and his family had lived in their Willowbrook home for nearly a year, having moved here from the Upper Peninsula. The Fischers, with whom the homeless family is living temporarily, have two children of their own.

In Fiery Eight Mile Collision

Elderly Couple Crushed to Death

An elderly Plymouth couple were crushed to death Thursday morning at 9 a.m. in a fiery crash at the intersection of Eight Mile road and Randolph street. Killed instantly when a loaded gravel trailer, swerving to avoid the collision, flipped over on top of the car just east of the intersection were Alfred Wileiden, 62, driver and his wife, Alma, 60, of 510 Ford road. The driver of the tandem-trailer rig, Edgar Stouemire of Detroit, apparently suffered only minor back injuries and declined treatment. Flattened by the tipped trailer loaded with tons of gravel, the gasoline tank on the car ruptured and gasoline spilled onto the roadway and the trailer and ignited. Although several small explosions occurred, Northville firemen were able to extinguish the flames before they reached the front seat of the car. Firemen and police worked for nearly an hour shoveling gravel from the top of the flattened car and righting the trailer before reaching the bodies. Even then they had to pry apart the twisted wreckage before both bodies could be removed. Police Chief Samuel Elkins said witnesses and the truck driver for J. J. Zayl Trucking company, 47500 West Eight Mile road, gave similar statements of the accident: Stouemire was driving east on Eight Mile road when 45 miles per hour

Erwin Orchard Rezoned For Industries, Businesses

Two parcels of property, including one involving the Erwin apple orchard at 10 Mile and Novi roads, were rezoned Monday night at a joint public hearing of the Novi council and the planning board. Four separate zoning classifications were approved for the Erwin property, and a restricted commercial district was approved for the southwest corner of 10 Mile and Haggerty roads. Recommended for approval by the planners and immediately approved by the council for rezoning were 14.2 acres from agriculture to M-2 (restricted manufacturing) and the Haggerty-10 Mile corner from R-2A (restricted multiple family) to C-1 (restricted commercial). But the latter parcel involves the Erwin orchard property. The 133-acre orchard is under option to Richard Gabel, an independent developer who last summer laid revised land study plans before the planning board. According to those plans, a vestige of the Erwin farm will remain. Owner James Erwin will retain two and one-half acres and his fruit storage facility at the crossroads. Until actual construction begins, according to Gabel, Erwin will continue to farm the land. In seeking the zoning changes Monday, Gabel said he was convinced, based upon requests by businesses and industries that the property will be developed "in the very near future." He indicated that a pilot type industrial building would be built very soon near the 10 Mile highway bridge at the western edge of the property to start industrial development. As for the commercially zoned 30-acre parcel at the corner, he said possible development probably would include a neighborhood convenience shopping center, possibly a supermarket. In conjunction with this type of development, he added, supply firms that will complement adjacent planned industries are contemplated. South of the corner, along Novi road, a professional office type development is envisioned, thus providing a "buffer zone" between the industrial area on the east and the residential area on the west side of Novi road. In addition to the recommendation of the planning board, recommendation for approval for rezoning of the property was given by the village's zoning consultant, Waring & Johnson. No objections to the proposed rezoning were given by adjacent property owners, and Rex Dye, resident on the opposite side of Novi road, was the only nearby property owner to speak in favor of the rezoning. The restricted commercial classification of the Haggerty-10 Mile road corner recommended by the planners and approved by the council represents somewhat of a compromise between village officials and the owner, Victor A. Almas, who originally had requested a C-2 (general commercial) classification that would have permitted a wider range of businesses. Planning Consultant Waldemar Johnson had recommended the C-2 request be denied and that the planners consider an alternate, professional office type classification. Although Almas emphasized that his intentions were to develop a kind of business that would enhance the property values of nearby homes, property owners voiced fear that the C-2 classification could possibly lead to a gasoline station, bar or drive-in restaurant. Almas said he planned none of these, adding that the proposed professional office classification simply would be too restrictive for his purposes. At this point, the C-1 classification was suggested. Such a classification prohibits gasoline stations. As for the possibility of a drive-in restaurant or a bar, planners pointed out that such a drive-in restaurant would not be economically feasible and that a bar would necessitate a liquor license, which at the present time is unavailable. Furthermore, planners indicated they plan to revise zoning laws to place greater restrictions on drive-in restaurants. The C-1 compromise satisfied Almas and after the owner said he would give a letter to the council indicating that he would not consider a drive-in development, the compromise seemed also to satisfy adjacent property owners.

Production was expected to get underway this week at the Northville Ford Valve plant but unresolved labor demands continue to tie up assembly lines at Ford's huge Wixom plant. Northville employees voted 161 to 85 in approving local settlement Monday afternoon. Management and Local 896 representatives had hammered out an agreement Saturday afternoon following four hours of intensive bargaining. The UAW strike against Ford began September 7. Plant Manager Joseph Bugak told this newspaper Monday that report-to-work calls to operation people began immediately, and calls to production employees were expected to begin soon. J. T. Stone, chairman of Local 896 bargaining committee, predicted production would begin either Thursday (today) or Friday. He said Local 36 employees would continue striking at the Ford plant in Wixom until local settlement has been reached or until "someone higher up in the union hierarchy suggests" workers return to work while negotiations continue. Tasse said local union membership was estimated at 4,500 - were convinced that their local demands can best be achieved by continued striking. Specifically, Tasse said unresolved issues include, among others, overtime, job descriptions, promotion opportunity, and working standards. Working standard conditions was not a major issue, he said, as it was at the Northville plant. Both union locals - at Northville and Wixom - ratified the national contract reached by the UAW and Ford. Northville approved the contract by a vote of 222 to 31, while the vote in Wixom was 1500 to 70. In voting on the national contract, Northville employees decided to resume picketing until local issues were settled. Picketing was stopped Saturday following the agreement. Open House Set At Novi Schools Open house programs are planned in all Novi schools to mark American Education Week November 5-11. Elementary open houses will be held Wednesday from 7:30 to 9 p.m. at Orchard Hills and Novi schools. At Novi school parents will be invited to tour the school and have refreshments. At Orchard Hills parents will visit their children's classrooms, hear curriculum plans and inspect teaching materials. Refreshments will follow. At the high school open house from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Thursday parents will follow a condensed schedule of their children's classroom day, seeing textbooks and materials used in each subject. They also are invited to inspect the new facilities, including the chemistry laboratory. Refreshments are planned. Parent-teacher conferences are being arranged by appointment for Thursday and Friday.

'Devils Night' Fitting Label Says BeGole

"Devil's night" appropriately describes Monday night in Novi where a befeud police force encountered a wave of mischievous children in what was tagged as the "worst in history." Despite the large number of complaints, however, Police Chief Lee BeGole reported the number of serious cases was considerably lighter than in previous years - probably because of the increased number of policemen and patrol cars on the road. Three police cars and one privately owned vehicle, all equipped with radios, and seven policemen patrolled the 22-square mile village. Many adults volunteered their services, BeGole said, but there were just not enough radio-equipped vehicles to accommodate them. The majority of complaints centered in the Walled Lake area of the village, BeGole said. While police answered "Devil's Night" calls, they were bombarded with the normal number of other complaints such as family squabbles, a howling dog, and traffic violations. Firemen were slated to stand guard over the schools in Novi Tuesday night - Halloween - as the befeud police force continued its patrols.

East-West Route For Freeway Told

Plans for the proposed east-west freeway, just south of the Northville township boundary along the south side of Five Mile road, were revealed this week in a newly published state engineering report. The proposed freeway is to link Detroit's Jeffries Freeway (Interstate 96) and US-24 at Ann Arbor. A spokesman for the State Highway commission told this newspaper that plans call for bidding to begin in 1971 with completion of the freeway slated for 1973. A public hearing on the proposed freeway is expected to take place at Plymouth in late November or early December, he said. Also, this newspaper learned that the proposed north-south freeway (I-275 and M-275) running along Haggerty road includes provisions for an additional interchange at Seven Mile road. Previously, interchanges were planned only at Six, Five and 13 Mile roads. Deputy State Highway Director John P. Woodford last week revealed that construction of the north-south highway from I-696 in Novi north to the Genesee county line near Holly may be delayed until after the original 1972 target date because of insufficient road monies. Presently, the north-south freeway is billed as an interstate highway north of I-696 along the Novi and Northville boundaries and a state highway north of I-696 along the Novi boundary. One tie to be financed mostly by the federal government and the other presently calls for a 50-50 split by the state and federal government. Based on present construction and right of way costs, the 12-mile freeway
