Ellen Lorenz, 20, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Felix A. Lorenz, Jr., of 44640 West Seven Mile, has been chosen by Columbia Union college to serve as a student missionary for three months this summer in Libya, North Africa.

Ellen Lorenz

Ellen, a junior at CUC, is majoring in nursing. Her minor is secondary education. In Africa she will work at the Benghazi hospital and assist at the Center program, which will include teaching English, participating in public meetings, and providing evening social activities. She will leave Northville in May.

At CUC Ellen has had many extra-curricular activities which includes superintendent of the College Sabbath school, Girls' club president, member of the student senate, assistant editor of the college yearbook, Golden Memories, junior class secretary and member of the college choir.

Columbia Union college is one of 14 liberal arts colleges and universities in the United States owned and operated by the Seventh-day Adventists. The student missionary program which sends students into many areas of the world, was inaugurated eight years ago.

Teens Attend Peace Parlay

Four young people from the Northville Methodist Youth Fellowship participated in a New York-Washington, D.C., Peace Seminar the last week in January.

Linda Gotts, Gary Becker, Wayne Miller and David Kanger joined 180 other youth and 20 adults in the seminar sponsored by the Detroit conference Board of Christian Social Concerns.

In New York they had dinner at the Salem Methodist church in Harlem, and heard a speaker on Black Power. They attended Riverside community church in Spanish Harlem, toured the United Nations and had conferences at the U.N. church center.

Gary and David, who are to be representatives of Ghana in model U.N. at the University of Detroit in March, had a special interview with the delegate from Ghana. Linda Gotts talked to a woman observer to the U.N. from Malaysia.

In Washington the group toured and met with Representatives Marvin Esh and Jack MacDonald.

OLV 'FASHION SPECTACULAR' planners inspect a student poster announcing the annual Our Lady of Victory benefit style show to be presented at 7:30 p.m. February 22 at the church. Mrs. Robert Isom, left, co-chairman, checks with Carol Alsop, who will model teen-age fashions from Sears, and Mrs. Francis Korie, a member of the sponsoring Our Lady's League, who also is to model.

WHILE TAKING OFF POUNDS Sensibly, Northville's own TOPS club is becoming involved in other activities. As a result of a January collection of articles for the Child Development Center, Fred Lapham from the center will be a guest speaker at the next meeting at 8 p.m. Monday in the teachers' lounge at Amerman school.

In announcing the upcoming meeting, club officers stress that guests always are welcome and that anyone interested in either "slimming down" or hearing about the center is invited.

Primary goal for the club is encouraging each member to shed by discussing personal weight problems and the current motto is "We'll do great in '68 and lose weight."

New officers for the year are Mrs. Herbert Bissa, leader; Mrs. Claud Sechler, co-leader; Mrs. Peter Sylvain, secretary; and Mrs. Ron Cates, treasurer.

"ACCENT ON YOUTH" is the theme of the Northville Woman's club program at 2 p.m. Friday in the high school auditorium. As part of the club's annual youth day program, Roy Pedersen will present a display of art students' work in the lobby. This will be on view at 1:45 p.m.

The high school choir under the direction of Don Valentine will present three selections and a series of multiple readings will be given by students who have been in Miss Florence Panattoni's classes. The finale will be numbers by the high school jazz band ensemble under the direction of Robert Williams.

Mrs. Leonard Klein, program chairman, will introduce the program, which is the final guest day for the year. However, since the meeting is at the high school, there will be no tea afterward.

ORIGINAL WORKS of Mrs. Theodore Slaby, Northville's talented musician, will be performed in a solo program by the Farmington Musicals at 12:30 p.m. next Wednesday at St. John's American Lutheran church on Gill road in Farmington.

In observance of the fact that February is American music month, Farmington Musicals planned a program based entirely upon the works of its own member. Charlene Slaby, who has been composing for 20 years, was graduated from the Detroit Institute of Musical Art where she obtained her piano teacher's certificate, and attended the University of Detroit and Wayne State university.

Now, while raising three children—Ted, almost 11, Marcella, 9, and two-and-a-half year old Melinda — she is keeping her interest in music nurtured as a member of the Farmington group. The Slaby family has lived in Northville on Horton street almost four years.

She emphasized that they will be sold at the door on George Washington's birthday (February 22) only if seats are available.

Success of the ticket sale may be due in part to the attractive posters created by OLV seventh and eighth grade students. First, second and third prizes will be awarded at the show to Janice Zayl, Kim Reska and Clara Saurer. Tickets are available from Mrs. Al Korie and Mrs. Andrew Peltz as well as all Our Lady's League members.

A VALENTINE tea table where white love birds nestled next to a lace-trimmed red heart under a large glass dome greeted members and guests of the Northville branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden association at their desert meeting Tuesday afternoon in the Presbyterian church.

The quaint centerpiece was the creation of Mrs. William Crump—the "Victoria-Lutheran" was a large brassy snifter.

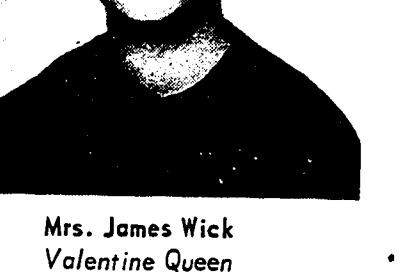

Mrs. C. W. Whittlesey, program chairman, introduced Gordon Dennis, district extension horticultural agent for Michigan State university, who spoke and showed slides on newer types of shade trees for home planting.

An April 23 date was announced for the annual tri-club luncheon with Plymouth and Rosedale Gardens clubs at which the latter will be hostess. Mrs. E. O. Whittlesey announced that the workshop to make topiary trees, knit hats and velvet roses which was postponed last month will be held Monday at the home of Mrs. William Switzer.

Benefit Game Slated Tuesday

A benefit basketball game between Northville junior high faculty and St. John's seminary is scheduled for 8 p.m. Tuesday in the old community building gymnasium on Main street.

This event again is being planned by Donald Vanlengen, Ida B. Cooke junior high principal, to aid the March of Dimes.

It is open to the public with tickets at 50 cents for adults and 35 cents for students.

Collections in Northville's 1968

March of Dimes rose this week to $1,382.36, John Steinel, general chairman, announced.

This includes an additional sum of $86.75 from last Thursday's benefit high school jazz band concert and $10.51 more from the Mothers' March. Steinel pointed out that the special events which this year also included a Battle of the Bands Cavern dance have made it possible to eliminate store canister collections.

Trading Stamps Sought For New X-Ray Machine

An estimated 50 trading stamp books have been collected by patients at Northville State Hospital during the first month of a campaign to collect 15,000 books to purchase an x-ray machine.

The present equipment, installed in 1962, is worn out report both hospital officials and the state department of health. The latter labeled it unsafe 18 months ago, according to John Taliaferro, director of volunteer services at the hospital.

The present machine, he added, is too worn out to be reconditioned with new parts. Funds for the new machine were budgeted by the hospital but not allocated by the legislature.

Started by patients who became concerned when the present machine was termed "very unsafe," the stamp book drive is now under way with collection boxes located in each ward under the charge of the ward representative to the patients' council.

A large collection box together with a drive collection chart to record progress toward the 15,000 books is located in the hospital lobby. To be successful, the council points out that donations from the public are needed urgently. Any type stamp book is acceptable.

4-Quarter School Seems Best

Supporters of the four-quarter year system by other colleges, with many making the change during the past few years. Students who work during vacation would not face such competition for available jobs, demands would be lessened for the community to provide summer recreational programs, and the four-quarter plan would be more in line with the entire population of young people suddenly out of school with large numbers of the same age.

Opponents of the schedule suggest that the product of more students would be a greater strain on the facilities of the school. They also point out that the practice of going on vacation to such an extent that any plan requiring summer attendance is unworkable, and report that many parents say that only relatively few families in high income brackets vacation the entire summer, that the majority of families have only a few weeks, and that the majority of the population are in the lower income brackets. They also point out that the majority of families have only a few weeks, and that the majority of the population are in the lower income brackets.

For the students the greatest change would be the vacation time. The school would be in session from September to June, and the vacation time would be from July to August. The school would be in session from September to June, and the vacation time would be from July to August.

2 Giant Developments to Spark Population Boom in City and Township of Northville

African Trip Set Tonight

"Timbuktu and Beyond," fourth travelogue in the 1967-8 Rotary series, will be presented at 8 p.m. tonight in the Northville high school auditorium by Romain Wilhelmson.

Rotary chairman Dick Lyon announced that anyone not holding a season ticket for the six-program series may purchase individual tickets at the door for $1.50.

Wilhelmson begins his adventure, "Timbuktu and Beyond," in deepest Africa, west of the Mountains of the Moon. Last of the old slave pens of Dakar is the ancient city of Timbuktu, "as remote as Tibet, as legendary as Carthage to the north."

A thousand years ago, Wilhelmson points out, this was one of the two most important cities of inner Africa... yet today a majority of people believe there is no such place. To reach the fabled Timbuktu Wilhelmson traveled through Tarzan-like jungles along the Niger river. He crossed the "dead silence" of the Sahara desert, and north of Timbuktu in the vastness of the desert found the Oasis of Taffelt.

Not far from there is the so-called "Lost City of Africa," or as traders of Morocco call it, "The City of the Dead." Shunned by the wandering camel caravans as a sacred spot, Siltmassa today, Wilhelmson found, is the abode of desert creatures and the deadly Tsetse fly.

Wilhelmson, a resident of East Lansing, estimates that he has appeared before 2,000 audiences since 1953.

Two giant housing developments, calling for construction of 600 homes and 732 apartment units, will get underway this year in the city and township of Northville.

According to the developer, Thompson-Brown company, the township project - to be located on the north and south sides of Six Mile road near Bradner - will be totally developed over a 10-year period. It calls for a total of 434 single family dwellings and 477 apartments.

The city development, to be located on both sides of Eight Mile road, east and west of Taft road will include 166 homes and 255 apartments.

The two Thompson-Brown projects, together with the proposed Slatkin development on both sides of Center street south of Nine Mile road in Novi, are expected to generate a population of 1,000 or more people each year for the next decade.

Rezoning for Thompson-Brown's township project already has been approved by the Northville township board. And just recently, the preliminary plat was presented to the city planning commission as Thompson-Brown's initial procedures in gaining approval for its unit development project in the city.

The township development, to be called Northville Commons, includes a 10-acre site on the north side of Six Mile road for a future township office complex and a 10-acre site on the south side of Six Mile road for a future school site. The 20 acres are to be donated to the township and the school system.

Northville Commons, like the city project, will be developed in stages. Initial construction will take place on the south side of Six Mile road (right side of the drawing on this page), where 343 homes will be built. However, according to Robert Carey, president of the company, there is a possibility that development of the shopping center area, along the north side of Six Mile road, may get underway before all 343 homes are built. Completion of homes on the south side of Six Mile is pegged at 3 1/2 to 4 years.

Later construction will take place on the north side of Six Mile where all 477 apartment units will be built together with 91 more homes. (Northville State hospital is located in the top left of the picture).

The city development, to be called Lexington Commons, calls for 60 homes on the south side of Eight Mile road, just west of the Taft road intersection (bottom right hand side on the opposite page); 52 homes and 255 apartment units at the northwest side of Eight Mile and Taft roads; and 54 homes on the east side of Taft road, north of the new Ida B. Cooke junior high school.

Homes on the south side of Eight Mile road are to be developed first. Pilot apartment units, to test the market and demand for numbers of bedrooms, will follow. Completion of the total development is expected to take five years.

Homes in both the township and the city developments are expected to be priced in the $40,000 class.

Besides homes and apartments both projects provide for large park areas. In Lexington Commons 20.2 acres has been allotted for parks or open space, while Northville Commons calls for 20.9 acres is set aside for open space.

Not having a reason to save is one of the best reasons for starting a savings account.

Saving is in style:

More and more people are saving . . . and, not necessarily saving for a specific reason. To be sure, there are still a number of those who have a savings objective; retirement, college, or whatever. But there's a steady increase in the number of people who are saving just to have that good "money in the bank" feeling.

And you can save automatically by having money transferred into Savings from your Checking Account. You don't even have to come in to make a deposit. NBD does it for you.

Get that good savings habit, now, at Michigan's largest bank. Open your Savings Account at the nearest office of NBD. You'll find we treat your money as if our business depended on it. It does!

Moderation Means Secret of Living To Angina Victim

It's how hard you do a thing rather than how long that causes the pain of angina; this applies not only to physical activity—running for example—but massive meals, excitement and emotional blow-offs.

In other words, the secret of living with angina is moderation, says a new booklet, "If You Have Angina," issued by the American and Michigan Heart associations.

Many Americans suffer from angina, which manifests itself with recurring pain, ranging from discomfort to agony, usually in the chest, but sometimes in the arms, neck, jaws or upper back. Most anginas are caused by a partial blockage in the arteries that feed the heart, a condition which also underlies most heart attacks. The two conditions, however, are not the same.

Written in simple terms, the 12 page publication emphasizes that only doctors can diagnose angina. Some persons who have recovered from a heart attack develop angina, many do

On Novi Council Wixom Garage Sparks Debate

More of the intricacies of the village form of government came to the front at the Novi village council meeting Monday night as Village Attorney Howard Bond reported on distinguishing legal points between a home rule village, such as Novi, and village government classified under general law.

Stating that not all state and county government officials are knowledgeable and experienced with the different features of the two classifications, Bond pointed out that a home rule village has a board of review for hearings on tax assessments. A general law village has no board of review but follows township services, he said.

Bond advised the council to maintain its board of review and hold hearings to comply with state laws governing home rule villages.

In a related action, the council reappointed Henry Bashian to a three-year term as a member of the board of review.

A shortage of candidates for the board of canvassers prompted some discussion. Membership on the bipartisan board, that functions primarily on election days, is governed by state law that requires members to identify themselves according to political party.

The council assigned responsibility for finding and processing applications in time for the upcoming elections to Village Manager Harold Akeley.

Discussion of garage facilities for storing and servicing village vehicles brought pointed comment from Councilman Donald Fuller when construction costs of a building such as the Wixom garage which was damaged by fire recently.

Fuller objected to the type of construction for use as a garage, pointing out that the city of Detroit prohibits such construction for garage use where welding and other tools, operations, and supplies commonly associated with posing fire hazards are involved.

Election Set April 1 School Voters to Decide Orchard Hills Addition

April 1 was formally set last week as the election date for voting on the proposed eight-room addition to Orchard Hills elementary school.

The board of education unanimously approved the date (President Arthur Heslin, who has been ill for the past several months, was unable to be present at its regular meeting last week Wednesday).

Specifically, the election will ask voters to approve or deny the proposal, and purchase of a future school site.

Last date for registering for the election is Friday, March 1.

According to Superintendent Thomas Dale, the election was established at a date separate of other elections coming up in Novi because of the misunderstandings that might arise over eligibility. He pointed out that the school district does not include the entire village. Thus, not all persons eligible to vote in the May 20 city incorporation election would be eligible to vote on the school's proposal.

Concerning the school district's operational millage levy, Dale pointed out that part of the voted millage currently in existence will soon expire and that it will be necessary to ask voters to approve renewal of this millage.

Dale said such approval would be for renewal of 5 1/2 mills.

Presently, the operational millage levy is 10 voted mills and 8.6 county allocated mills.

Trustee William MacDermid expressed the opinion that the necessity of returning to the people periodically to renew existing millage is a poor policy, though required by law. It jeopardizes the operation of the entire school system, he noted, since reduction by the people would necessarily mean reduction of services.

It stands to reason, he asserted, that cost of operation will never decrease.

Dale pointed out that the local school system's 18.6 levy is low in comparison with 27 other districts in Oakland county. He said Novi ranks number 23 of these 27.

Renewal of this millage is particularly important to the school system at this time because of the planned expansion of the high school next fall to include a 12th grade. Cost of hiring new teachers and other resulting operational costs is already causing some concern as the board tackles preliminary work on the 1968-69 budget.

Preliminary estimate — based upon early estimates of new valuations of the district, state aid, etc. — points up a shortage of operational funds, Dale told board members. He said the board should begin to firm up estimated incomes and outlays at its March meeting.

Concerning the need for additional teachers, the board last week authorized the superintendent to begin search for up to seven new elementary teachers and six secondary teachers. Three of the elementary and all six of the secondary teachers, he emphasized, definitely will be needed next fall. The remainder of the authorized additional elementary teachers could be shelved until a later date.

Board authorization was by a 3-1 vote, with acting President Bruce Simmons casting the dissenting opinion. Simmons said he opposed authorization that did not tie down the number of teachers Dale would hire. It was apparent that he preferred authorizing only the secondary and three elementary teachers that Dale considered immediately essential.

The proposed additional faculty positions, Dale said, include: At the secondary level, physics, industrial arts, government-economics, business, English and mathematics; and at the elementary level, counselor, mentally handicapped, speech correction, physical education, art, remedial reading, and librarian.

He labeled the mentally handicapped, remedial reading and "one other not yet decided" elementary positions as essential with the start of school in the fall.

Other action by the board included approval to purchase shade materials for windows at a cost of $778, tabling of lights for the football field pending receipt of additional quotations, and informal agreement to have the superintendent represent the board in teacher contract negotiations.

Jaycees Plan Gambling Fun

Novi Jaycees are inviting the community to "blow millions and satisfy that gambling urge" at their first "millionaire's" party to be held at 8:30 p.m. Friday, March 1.

Their "casino" will be the American Legion hall at 31775 Grand River in Farmington. Decorations are coming directly from the famous Harold's club in Reno.

Proceeds from the event, which is $6 a couple, are earmarked for community projects, especially voter registration and civility. To start the evening each couple is given the first million dollars of play money free. Beer and pretzels will be supplied.

Tickets are available from any Jaycee or auxiliary member or from Jim Cheroff, 470-6191, party chairman. Others on the committee are Dennis Berry, John McCormick and Norm Somers.

JH Principal Sought; Staff Given Edge

Search is underway for a Novi junior high school principal.

Members of the board of education authorized the superintendent to begin search for the new administrator, who is to assist High School Principal Gerald Hartman.

According to board members, first consideration is to be given to qualified personnel already employed in the school system who may apply for the position.

The new principal, the Superintendent Thomas Dale explained, would, in addition to his regular principal duties, be involved with adult education and federal programs.

Concerning the superintendent's recommendation that all three of the school system's principals be re-employed next fall, the board tabbed the matter to the board of education to consider the superintendent's related recommendation that the principals be given "adequate" salary increases.

Also shelved was a proposal for hiring a business manager, Dale, in suggesting that this matter be set aside, emphasized that it could be brought up again perhaps in a month or a year — but that it should not be forgotten.

Graduation Criterion Established

In anticipation of the next school year's first senior class in the history of Novi, the board of education last week approved requirements for graduation.

These requirements meet the standards of the North Central Accreditation as well as Novi's own new criterion for graduation. Enrollment for the first senior class is expected to begin within a month.

Basically, the approved requirements call for a minimum of 18 unit hours for graduation as compared to North Central's minimum standard of 16 academic units, that the graduate be required to spend a minimum of four years in high school (thus, preventing graduation in a shorter period), and that one unit of United States government and one unit of American history be required in compliance with North Central, which requires only one-half unit of U.S. government and one of American history.

(Northville currently requires 18 unit hours, but next year will increase this to 19 and to 20 the following year.)

Novi's own requirements for graduation call for four years of English; one year of math (algebra or general math) in the ninth grade, either science in the ninth grade or biology in the 10th; American history in the 11th; American government in the 12th; and two years of physical education.

Novi will offer four units of math, four English, three sciences, two physical education, three social studies, one government, and one history.

Among the additional subjects being considered for the next school year are English IV, government, economics, sociology, physics, trigonometry, solid geometry, additional French II, business machines, dramatics and merchandising.

Principal Gerald Hartman emphasized that the graduation requirements are minimum standards only and in no way suggest that students cannot go beyond these in pursuit of education.

OK More Band Uniforms

Uniforms will be available for bandmen in all four high school grades next fall — thanks to cooperative efforts of the board of education and the Band Boosters club.

The board last week, as it did last year, voted to share the cost of uniforms with the Band Boosters.

The latest agreement, which followed a request by a representative of the club, Mrs. Dorothy Farah, and Band Director Keith Rolston, calls for purchase of 33 additional uniforms and 17 skirts. Cost has been estimated at $3,000, with the boosters sharing half and the school system the remainder.

With this purchase, Rolston pointed out, there will be sufficient uniforms for bandmen at all four grade levels, nine through 12. The uniforms are expected to arrive prior to the opening of school next fall.

Last year, under a similar agreement, the first uniforms — 82 in all — were purchased.

Wixom Vote Cuts Allred

William E. Allred was eliminated from the Wixom council race Tuesday night as 273 voters cast ballots in the city's primary election.

Allred received 71 votes compared to 124 for Charles McCall, 121 for Gunnar Mettala, 120 for Mrs. Mary Parve, 117 for Oscar Simmons, Jr., 93 for Mrs. Kathryn Miner, and 86 for Neil Taylor.

Band Concert Slated Tonight

Novi high school's concert band has been invited to participate in exchange concerts today with the Linden concert band, which has received top rating in the district and state band festivals for the past four years.

After presenting a joint concert for the Linden student body in Linden this afternoon, Novi bandmen will be entertained for dinner in the individual homes of Linden band members.

Both bands then are to come to Novi to present an evening concert for the general public at 8 p.m.

In announcing the exchange the Novi band stated it considered it an honor to be chosen to participate in the annual Linden Exchange.

Novi Changes Village Hall Phone Lines

"I know now when the police phone rings that it is a potential emergency; someone might be needing help, and I can give it my immediate attention. Before, I never knew whether it was an emergency or someone wanting to know where they could dump trash."

Those were the words of Novi's communications chief, Lawrence Fest, while describing equipment changes that made available three additional lines for handling incoming calls to Novi village hall.

Already Novi citizens are getting better service on phone calls to police and fire departments and to village and township administrative offices, he said.

The most significant improvement should be evident in speeding up emergency calls to police and fire departments, he explained. Prior to the equipment change which was made last week, overburdened lines did cause delay at times, making it necessary for an operator to cut in on a call to complete an emergency call.

Teacher View of Year-Round School 'Helps Student Experience'

EDITOR'S NOTE — Following is the third of a series of articles on the year-round school concept, which currently is receiving a good deal of attention in Michigan as school districts face critical financial problems that ultimately can affect the education of children.

"Of course our schools should be in session all year. Most of the reasons given against it are nothing but excuses.

"What is so bad about our schools that youngsters should not attend more than 180 days each year? If some parts of the school experience are so bad that students and teachers can't endure a longer or different schedule, then perhaps we should look for that which is so bad and try to correct it."

This is one teacher's response to the current interest in year-round school operation. He is now on a year-round schedule, working for a county intermediate district that involves him with teaching, counseling, and program development.

While his work schedule is longer, and his salary larger than most teachers on the conventional school schedule, his response is similar to that of other teachers questioned. Teachers usually weigh the idea with a view of improving the school experience for students.

This view differs from the motivation behind the current and growing interest in the four-quarter year-round plan. Reports from Lapeer, Portage, and Ann Arbor all stress the financial advantages of enrolling only 75-percent of the total enrollment during any one quarter of a four-quarter school calendar.

One point usually made by classroom teachers and counselors is that they relief that might be gained in the present crowded schedule and curriculum, such as a summer term, should provide the student with opportunity to take courses he might need and want but cannot get under present conditions. The elective subjects — home economics, industrial arts, art, and business education — are usually mentioned as courses that many students must bypass to keep in step with the sequence of courses and to meet college or graduation requirements.

This particular difference in objectives, improvement in the students' programs or financial efficiency by reducing the number of youngsters enrolled for any one quarter of a four-quarter year, might be resolved by some permissiveness on attendance during a fourth quarter.

This appeared to be the intent of a bill introduced in the Michigan House last year. The bill proposed amending the Michigan School Code to read "Any district may divide its school term into four quarters of 60 days each quarter. Pupils shall be required to attend three of the four quarters but may attend all four quarters."

If such a measure became law, it would provide local districts with permission to adopt the four-quarter calendar and the authority to schedule students for attendance for any three of the four quarters. It also would protect the student's right to attend the fourth quarter, which might satisfy the educators who view an extended school year as opportunity to provide a higher quality school experience.

Educators voice concern with the optional fourth quarter, noting that students could use it to graduate at an earlier age. Those graduating today who do not go on to college find it difficult to obtain employment. Graduation at an even earlier age, they argue, would make the problem of finding employment even more difficult.

Such a measure written into state law might prove critical, for the teacher's willing cooperation is important to thorough exploration and discussion of the schedule, before any attempts to implement such a schedule.
