ELECTION COMMITTEE - Huddled in a post-election discussion, these ninth grade students review results of the mock school vote on incorporation of Novi with their teacher, Fred Hanert. They are Pat Wilkins, Pat Ritchie, Tom VanWagner; Mr. Hanert, Lynn White and Lenore Frontera.

Cityhood Forum What's The Cost Of Court Battles?

EDITOR'S NOTE - Citizens of Novi with questions concerning the upcoming incorporation election may address their questions to the Novi Jaycees, Novi, Michigan, and an attempt will be made to answer them in either this column or by return mail.

1. Q-How much money has been paid to Emery Jacques (township attorney) in this cityhood matter? How much of the taxpayers' money has been spent by the township for legal fees to block the cityhood movement? What has been the actual cost in terms of Novi village and township taxpavers' dollars in the "city" battle?

A-There are three parties involved in the above question—the citizens' incorporation committee, Novi township and the village government. The citizens group is financially supported by private contributions only and not by in montes. The total cost of all three parties for 1966, 1967 and to date in 1968 (for legal fees) is $8,504.25. According to Edwin Presnell, treasurer of the citizens' group, that organization has spent $3,133,25; Township Treasurer Duane Bell reorts an expenditure of $1,866; and Village Clerk Mabel Ash reports an expenditure of $3,505. The total amount of taxpayers'

same low taxes for the same services I now enjoy? (Total Novi taxes presently for local government-7 mills). A-No. Novi residents can expect either (1) increased taxes just to maintain present services, or (2) a cut in local services to maintain present taxes. Furthermore, proponents for cityhood would argue that annexation of prime Novi property could force the remaining Novi taxpayers to share a larger portion of taxes for these services.

3. Q-What happens to those parts of Novi that are just township now and these areas, if they wish, annex to other cities?

A-At present the most substantial "township only" property is Brookland Farms subdivision No. 1. This area, with approximately 90 residents, could function under a township form of the size would be a disservice to government much like rural townships other property owners in the area, do in Michigan. However, it would mean cing without fire protection, without library services, without police protection and without other services unless these 90 residents are able and willing to contract for such services with a neighboring community. Since this particular area would be entirely surrounded by the city, if the incorporation is approved, it would be unable to annex to any other community except to the new city of Novi. It is likely that the area would voluntarily petition for annexation to the new city. If it is unable to function as a township. the state could force such an annexation.

Proposal for Bigger Lots Discussion and action indicating firming of a policy favoring larger residential lots and animated discussion about Novi streets and roads were highlights in the regular session of the Novi village council Monday night.

Pros and cons of changing village ordinances to raise the minimum lot size requirements from 7,500 square feet received exhaustive exploration. It terminated in a decision to consider the matter with the planning consultant, the village engineering firm, the village attorney, and the planning board at the joint council-planning board meeting next Monday night.

Immediately after the discussion indicating a council inclination to raise the minimum lot size, the council denied a request from builder-developer Dave Pink to change 70-foot lots in Willowbrook No. 2 subdivision to 60foot lots.

Pink's request, aimed at increasing the number of homes permissible on the site, was accompanied by an offer to construct storm sewers and concrete streets with curb and gutters.

Village Manager Harold Ackley informed the council that Pink's offer must be construed as a concession from not included in the "city" area? Can the builder in exchange for council action to permit dwellings to be erected on 60 foot lots,

Councilman Leo Harrawood said. "We had a packed house last week with citizens who turned out to oppose a similar issue," The council voted unanimously to deny the request on a motion by Councilman Ray Evans. The nature and condition of Novi streets and roads received an extensive verbal review as the council considered Ackley's recommendation to purchase a used heavy-duty road grader from the Michigan Tractor company for $16,000.

The suggestion ran into opposition from Harrawood. He questioned Ackley about an earlier suggestion that, because of difficulty of hiring and retaining skilled and qualified personnel to operate the machinery, Novl provide road maintenance by contracting for the services from a qualified firm.

Ackley responded by saying that new bookkeeping requirements by the state had discouraged him from the idea of contracting for street and road work. He added that since the village had been

Public Hearing Set Northville Considers Open Housing

In a previously unannounced action the Northville city council Monday night approved an open housing ordinance for public hearing.

If adopted, Northville would become the fifth city in the state to pass an ordinance prohibiting discrimination in the sale, rental or leasing of housing accommodations because of race, color, religion, national origin or ancestry. Mayor A. M. Allen introduced the ordinance and called upon the council to "face up to its responsibility of community leadership". "I would hope this council and community would approve open housing legislation," the mayor stated. He revealed that he had talked privately during the past week with each councilmember and had been given their assurance of support. He said he had instructed City Attorney Marvin of not more than 90 days in jail and/or Stempien to draft the ordinance and have it prepared for presentation Monday evening.

★ Most Courageous Action says 'Speaking for The Record' – 8-B.

The proposed Northville ordinance is modelled after an ordinance recently adopted in Plymouth, but with some changes. Actually, the Northville document is more liberal. It does not grant an exception to any religious group; it provides an exception only to an owner of a dwelling in which the owner or members of his immediate family resides, who rents or leases three or less (instead of five) housing units in of not more than 90 days in jail and/or a fine not to exceed $500. The ordinance also contains an addition as its final section taken from the city charter which sets forth the procedure for an election on any ordinance. This section states that the ordinance "may be made null and void by referendum vote of a majority of the electors voting in a referendum election thereon which shall be held upon filing with the clerk a referendatory petition addressed to the council, signed by not less than 250 registered electors of the city as of the date of filing the petition which signatures shall have been obtained within 21 days before the date of filing the petition". In the cities of Flint, Birmingham and Plymouth the councils adopted open housing ordinances. Subsequently, citizens filed petitions calling for a vote on the issue. The ordinances passed in all three cities. Plymouth voters ap-proved their ordinance, 988-770, last week. Mayor Allen was joined by City Manager Frank Ollendorff is recommending approval of the local ordinance. Although the June 3 public hearing is officially the time for citizens and councilmembers to air pros and consof the ordinance, it appeared Monday night that there was no opposition to open housing, or any provisions of the ordinance, on the city council.

Patrolman Biggs Resigns Here

An officer with two years experience on the Novi Police resigned his position ast Thursday, causing an added degree of concern for Police Chief Lee BeGole who said that he is hard pressed in attempting a near-impossible task of ceeping two officers on duty.

Patrolman George Biggs, who became a Novi officer in 1966, stated in a letter of resignation to BeGole that he regretted the situation that prevented him from giving the usual two-weeks notice but that "overbearing personal conditions" made that impossible. The resignation was effective May 2.

Biggs was president of the recentlyorganized Novi police officers association that has been seeking council recognition as bargaining agent for the officers. The association claimed membership of all Novi police officers excepting BeGole.

BeGole said that Biggs' sudden departure came at an unusually awkward seeks to schedule hours to permit granting vacations and to attain his objective of keeping two men on duty at all times.

"He was an excellent officer. I'm very sorry to see him go," the chief BeGole said that factors making t difficult to build a work schedule to keep two men on duty include the rising number of calls that must be serviced over a 32-square mile area, no lock-up facilities in Novi, which requires transportation of prisoners to the county jail - involving at least one officer out of the village for every trip.

"That's why, in as many instances as is possible, we prefer violators to be released on bond," he said. BeGole added that time must also be found for the officers to undergo the training programs deemed neces-

Contests seem assured for the June election to fill four seats on the Novi board of education as petitions for candidates have been taken out in the names of eight citizens, school officials report. To qualify as a candidate, completed petitions must be filed at the board of education office by Friday, May 10. One incumbent, Secretary Russell Taylor, is among those circulating petitions. The term of board president Arthur Heslip, who has been ill for several months, is the other vacancy among the present five-man board. With growth and reclassification, the district now comes under a law that requires a seven-member board, which accounts for the two additional vacancies. Petitions have also been taken out in the names of Laverne Dewaard, Mrs.

Dorothy Farah, Harley Beech, Lisabeth Berry, Gilbert Henderson, Benjamin Pierce, and Robert Radke, Reports reaching the Novi News indicate that petitions are being circulated for another candidate, Keith J. Branch, Harrawood's comments about main tenance of present roads found a degree of support from former councilman and road administrator Russell Button, who was in the audience.

Referring to several troublesome soil conditions, including those along Meadowbrook road, Button told the council that graveling and grading would always remain uneconomical, stop-gap procedures until a "base' was built up to support a road.

The grader purchase matter was temporarily solved with a motion by Councilman William Duey that the lease arrangement be continued for another month, with 90 percent of fees be applied if the council decides to purchase. The motion permitted exploration of contracting for street along with costs and desirability of training and retaining a qualified operator for the village.

Duey's motion carried by a 4-1 vote, with Young voting against continued leasing of the grader.

Among other business the council opened bids for a new police car. The low-winning bid was submitted by Wheaton Chrysler and Plymouth, Inc., of Walled Lake. The bid to supply a 1968 four-door Plymouth equipped as a police car was for $2,485.78 less a $950 trade-in allowance for a 1967 Chevrolet.

In another action the council approved changing to a flat rate system of $100 per month for mileage reimbursements to Ackley and building inspector Everett Bailey. Designed to free Ackley and Bailey from a clerical work load of recording distances many short trips, the rate of payment was based on a study of mileage recorded in past months.

Parade Plans Moving Ahead

Plans are moving along for Novi's annual Memorial Day parade, sponsored by the Novi Chamber of Commerce.

Chamber President Ray Warren has been named chairman of the parade committee. Duane Bell will act as parade marshall. Among vehicles in the parade will be three new Lincoln automobiles supplied for the ceremonies by the Wixom Lincoln plant.

to produce sufficient numbers to make the business a success. That, plus the fact Chinchillas require daily attention soon discourages all but the determined ancher, she explains.

'It takes a lot of work, but we've found it to be a fun business," she says, emphasizing the words "work" and "business".

Business means raising the animals, which are native to the mountaineous regions of South America, removal of pelts, sending the pelts out for curing, and finally shipping them for sale to a producer-owned and controlled cooperative marketing oranization.

Chinchilla pelts for garments are expensive-more so than mink because it takes about three Chinchilla pelts to cover the same area as a single mink pelt. Prices today average nearly $40 per skin, which means that some pelts sell for less than $20 each. A highly specialized animal, the Chinchilla was first successfully imported for breeding purposes in 1918 from Chile where its natural habitat was dry, desolate mountain plateau areas. In captivity, the cardinal rule of Chinchilla care, therefore, is to keep the animal dry.

As is true of many gentle vegetarians like the Chinchilla, it is nocturnal by habit. It weighs between 16 and 24 ounces, with the female being larger and more aggressive than the male. While its nearest North American relative is the porcupine, it more closely resembles a squirrel. It is a somewhat more blocky animal, however, relatively odorless and has large dark eyes, thin transparent ears, a bushy tail, and extremely fine, dense fur. Another distinctive characteristic of the animal is its stiff, five-inch whiskers which act as effective "feelers" during its nighttime activity. Also, it has tiny fingernails instead of claws like the somirrel.

The bluish gray Chinchilla today is the most highly prized color.

Unlike some ranchers who mate pairs only, the Trapps mate several females with a single male. With a gestation period of 111 days, a single female can have as many as three litters annually but the average is slightly under two. A litter usually consists of two animals. Breeding pensare located in the basement of their home where the baby Chinchillas are raised. Adults

They have 100 'babies'', but few from $600 to $800), but it takes years (an animal can produce a good pelt but six months) used for pelts are kept in an outside building, air conditioned in summer and heated to just above freezing in winter. Although Mrs. Trapp has become attached to many of the animals, giving each of the young ones special names (rather than the standard procedure of identification by numbers), she has become proficient at the delicate-and to some, distasteful-job of removing pelts from the animals. But she leaves the job of "deceasing" them to her husband, who uses the electrocution method, "I just can't have a part of it," she admits.

Actually, one of the most important jobs in this business is that of picking out the Chinchilla at just the right time for pelting. That means, explains Mr. Trapp, selecting those animals whose fur is not in the "growing" stage. It means selecting animals for their color, density of fur and size. "Prime fur" on an animal usually occurs in the colder months, thus accounting for the Trapps' practice of pelting from January to June. Pelts of animals whose hair is still growing are usually less valuable.

"A pelt taken too soon or too late can be an expensive mistake for the rancher. Buyers are very selective," he emphasizes.

Fortunately, adds his wife, good pelts are never late or early. "Chinchilla garments always seem to be in fashion."

EAST LANSING-Excessive drink- and city police and it has been reported ing continues to be one of the major factors contributing to traffic fatalities in Michigan, Is the state's new "implied consent" law helping to take the overindulging driver off the road?

The law, effective since November 2, 1967, states that drivers operating a motor vehicle in Michigan must consent to a chemical test for blood alcohol content if arrested for driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor (DUIL). Since November, 4,477 DUIL stops have been reported by state, local that 417 drivers have refused to take a chemical test. Under the law a driver's refusal can result in the suspension or revocation of his driver's license from 90 days to two years.

Since the law specifically states that a suspect has the right to demand that only a breath test be given, 4048 motorists received this type of chemical test.

Current statistics indicate that far more DUIL arrests are now being made than before passage of the law.

as the Northville high school golf team took the measure of West Bloomfield at Meadowbrook country club, 168-184. Tenth-grader Ken Neisch showed Mustang Coach Al Jones and his junior class teammates the way around the course as he fired a 37 for the ninehole match. Dan Condon shot 42, Tom Fagan, 43, and Billie Thomas, 46.

The Mustang golfers meet Brighton today at the Burroughs course in Brighton and will match strokes with West Bloomfield again Friday at Pine Lake country club.

Earlier the Mustangs pulled off a 'real upset" win over highly tauted Walled Lake by a score of 211 to214. Walled Lake had won 10 matches, losing only one before coming up against Northville.

Fagen carded a 38, Thomas 41, Condon 43, Neisch 44, and Jim Penrod 45.

But the Mustangs' underclassmen shaded the defeat with a superlative 70-17 victory over Brighton, a team defeated earlier by Northville in a triangular here that included South

Noting that three of his top performers guns were missing against the Lakers, Coach Ralph Redmond quickly added, "we've got no excuses; they've got a fine team."

Missing were Chuck Keegan, Bill Harrison and Mike Ratliff.

Even so Northville picked up six firsts: Jim Peterson (6') in the high jump Ron Gloetzner, 12' in the pole vault; Phil Kennedy 2:10.1 in the 880; Gloetzner in the high and low hurdles (15.5 and 20.5, respectively); John Stuyvenberg (tied) at 19' 3 1/2" in the long jump; and the mile relay (Al Earehart, Phil Kennedy, Peterson, and anchor man Greg Marshall).

The Mustangs were able to slam the hurdles as Randy Simpson took second (15.8) and Peterson third (15.9) in the highs, and Simpson second (20.8, his best time) and Barry Campbell third (21.2) in the lows.

Because of his squad's easy victory over the Bulldogs in the earlier triangular, Redmond sent most of his underclassmen to the starting posts in the dual meet against Brighton.

Bolens Estate Keeper out-tractors the rest

If we've heard it once, we've heard it a thousand times: "Say, this Bolens Estate Keeper really is different." Every time we hear it, we're proud all over again. Difference is what we wanted. Not difference for the sake of being different. Oh, no. The Bolens difference means a better compact tractor. A more efficient compact tractor. We designed the Estate Keeper in two units. Control, seat and mower in front. Engine in back. Steering mechanism in the center. That's the real difference. Center-Pivot Steering. With it the Estate Keeper literally curls around trees and corners in one pass. Mows in a 21-inch radius. That's maneuverability-plus. It's different. And the difference is designed, with performance in mind. Why don't you test-maneuver an Estate Keeper? At your Bolens dealer. Today.

Northville Streak Ends At 8 Games

Northville's eight-game winning streak came to a screeching halt Monday as second-place Holly pounded out an 11-8 victory on its own diamond. The Redskins came up with a sevenhit. 10-run barrage in the bottom of the fifth to ice the victory despite a late Mustang rally. Northville's loss-first of the season-followed its 9-5 win over Clarenceville here Thursday afternoon.

Despite his squad's loss, Coach Dick Willing praised his players for their "back to the wall" effort in the final two innings that nearly pulled out a victory. 'I'm really proud of the way they fought back. They played like champions," he said.

The Mustangs were down 11-4 going into the sixth. They scored three runs in the sixth, another in the seventh. In that final inning, Northville twice had the bases loaded. Once, with bases ----

Clinton Hangs First Loss On Novi's 2nd Place Nine

After being floored by the Clinton Redskins 9-3 Friday for their first loss of the season, the Novi Wildcats came back Monday to take an extra inning win over Ypsilanti Roosevelt.

The Wildcats now stand 5-1 on ompleting the first round of league play. Clinton leads the conference with 600 record.

For five innings in Friday's contest with Clinton, Coach John Osborne's young squad was moving along great in a pressure-packed game. Behind their strong right-hander Lee Snow, Wildcats had put together a 3-0 lead picking up one run in the first inning and two more in third by taking advantage of free passes, an error and a passed ball.

Novi's defense was tight in the early innings. Snow appeared strong, fanning two men in the heavy part of the Clinton batting order in the fourth and retiring the side in order on ground balls in the fifth.

The first man up for Clinton in the fatal sixth reached first on an error, advanced on a single as Snow gave up the second Clinton hit of the game. The third Clinton hitter made it a 3-3 ball game with a round-tripper.

Snow came back to strike out the next two men, including Butch Hoelzer, the pride of Clinton and all-everything Class C high-school athletics. But two successive singles followed by an error, another single, and another miscue in the field made it Clinton 6, Novi 3 before the side was retired. Clinton's coach immediately moved Hoelzer from shortstop to the pitcher's

Hanert pointed to Lev Tafralain's first time to hit the 40 foot shot mark and Tom Boyer's 2:08.1 half mile as other bright spots. Boyer's time was the best in the league this year over

The wildcats took all three places in the shot event, as Tafralian's 40' 7" toss was followed by second and third place efforts by Doug Keith and Joe Morrison. Other second-place points came from Davey in long jump, Ken Osborn, pole vault and high jump, Davey in the 100 and 220 dashes, Beadle in the mile run, and VanWagner's second to Roosevelt's Packard in the low hurdles.

Saturday Hanert took his first-year squad to gain some experience in the fast school-boy competition of the Central Michigan Relays. The best performance was a second-place medal for VanWagner in the high jump, despite a 5' 9" jump that was far short of his 6' jump against Roosevelt.

After last Tuesday's meet with Whitmore Lake, the last dual league meet of the season, the trackmen go to the Linden Relays Saturday to test themselves against 15 other teams in preparation for state regional and conference meets that lie ahead.

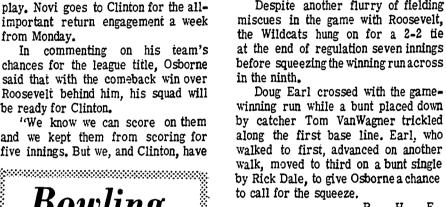

With an assist from a recent addition to the squad, Novi's thinclads swept to their fifth straight victory Tuesday afternoon, defeating Whitmore Lake, 68-50.

Mike Farrah, who only recently joined the squad, set a new school record in the long jump, sailing 20 5"-best effort in the Lakeland C League this season. He also picked up second place points in the 100 and 220 yard dashes.

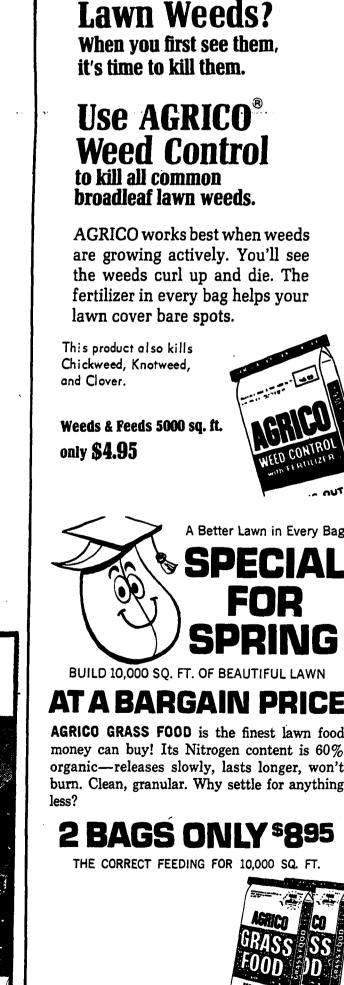

VanWagner continued his winning form, taking first in high jump (5' 8'' and the high hurdles (17.7) and notching second place in the low hurdles and pole vault events. Beadle swept home with a first in the mile (5:15.9), and Tom Boyer took first in the half-mile (2:11.4).

Still undefeated, the Wildcats' mile relay team posted another first place in a time of 3:57.4. Also finishing first was the Novi 880 relay squad (1:41.7) where Farrah was teamed up with Maki, Pomeroy and Davey.

School Board Urges 'Yes' Vote

To the Citizens of the Northville Public Schools School District: ON MONDAY, June 10, 1968, the Citizens of our School District will be asked to again exercise their rightas a free and responsible member of our society to vote in a School Millage Elec-

The Northville Board of Education, elected by the people, to represent them as well as to provide the leadership and direction for our "Program of Excellence" in Education for our children, have long deliberated the question of increased operating millage.

Your Board has studied the proposed budget and educational program for 1968-69 very carefully at many long meetings during the past four months. During these deliberations, it has asked many probing questions of the Administration, which resulted in four revisions of the original proposed budget, and several very simple facts have been uncovered. They are:

1. The Northville school district is now at the most critical crossroad in its history. In order to maintain and upgrade our "Program of Excellence", ve need to receive from the people, a mandate in the form of a favorable vote to increase our operating millage.

2. The citizens of Northville have, in the past, provided more local support for their educational system than all but some 56 other districts in the entire State of Michigan. Our average cost per pupil this year 1967-68, will be approximately $724.00 per resident student. In contrast the state average in 1966-67 was $581.40, while the national average was $535.00 per pupil in 1967-68. This additional per pupil expenditure is what provides our "Program of Excellence" for the children of Northville.

3. There is tremendous competition for qualified teachers. Northville must continue to be in a position to provide a reasonable and competitive salary schedule for teachers and administrators.

4. Rising costs of living, along with increased cost of supplies and materials effect the school system, as well as the individual. We must continue to provide salary adjustments for ation where as the equalized valuaall support personnel as well as funds tion of your home and land goes up for necessary supplies, materials, et cetera.

5. Many of us will pay more in taxes next year due to the re-assessment of all property in the district. You may ask, and rightly so, "Where will all this extra money go"? Well, unfortunately, our school system does not get all this extra money, because lars in valuation, therefore, we lose the State Aid formula creates a situ- $46,880.00 in State support, or ap-

the Northville board of education to participate financially in the paving of Bradner road, property owners along the road found the board had already given the green light for such action. Reversing its action of last fall not to participate "at this time", the board adopted a resolution calling for the district to accept its full share of the road improvement assessment. The decision means the school district will pay approximately $3,900 towards the improvement, based upon a county unit formula covering the 17-acre school property adjacent to Bradner. The reversal was prompted by recent rapid land development preparatory for Thompson-Brown's subdivision which will necessitate a new elementary school in the area, current use of the road by school buses, and by construction of new housing by eenspan.

Property owners in the area had turned out to urge school participation because without it remaining property and it seems fitting that each year we set aside a week when the family and its importance in society is reflected upon. No one can deny the importance of the family and marriage, yet there seems to be a great decay in this chief social institution. The divorce rate in the United four marriages ends in divorce. Yet, this does not take into account the number of homes where marital unrest takes its toll on children and young people daily where there is no divorce. People live together and are so selfcentered and selfish that they cannot help each other or their children, All parents should seriously think about the job they are doing in rearing their children. Maybe your family is well adjusted and love prevails based on a close relationship with God; then, thank Him. Or maybe you will discover that you lack understanding and are motivated by selfishness with little ability to give security and love to your family or anyone else. Then, do something about it.

Family unrest very often results from incompatibility on the part of parents. Two people can live together under the same roof; yet, can be total strangers. All the niceties of marriage can be swept away. Romance is no longer alive. Too soon for many couples the honeymoon is over and they settle down to a relationship of disgruntleness. What about the intimacies of marriage such as a night out, a walk in the park, the affectionate word, etc?

"For this reason a man shall leave his father and mother and be joined to his wife, and the two shall become one." There is a need for this oneness approach. Richard Boye writes, "Husbands, replace your tendency to be a disinterested, clumsy clod with a gentleness befitting genuine masculinity. Seek first to give love rather than get. Remember that your wife is a person and not a thing." "Wives: reuse that feminine charm that used to drive your man crazy before you were married." The Bible is not as dull as many think for in I Cor. 7:3-5 we read these shaking words from Paul. "The husband should give to his wife her conjugal rights, and likewise the wife to her husband. For States is staggering. One out of every

the wife does not rule over her own body, but the husband does: likewise, the husband does not rule over his own body, but the wife does."

The passage then goes on to speak to those who lack sensitivity for the needs of others and to certain religious fanatics.

"Do not refuse one another except perhaps for a season, that you may devote yourselves to prayer but then come together again, lest Satan tempt you through lack of self-control.

The key to a happy home life and marriage is a vital relationship with God. Some will say. "This I don't need." Then, why your unhappiness? Is it possible that the son or daughter you no longer can reach might have been different had your life reflected some of the attributes of God? It is true that when we love God and commit ourselves to a higher cause we find a more vital love relationship with our family and others. Sacrifice must be present if a family is to survive. This calls forth the love that does not count the cost; love full of forgiveness and compassion.

There is a story told of a man who became a thief who finally decided to go home and tell his wife. "You've married a thief. He said, expecting her to leave him. Instead. she looked at him and said, "We'll bear this together. I married you, so we're one."

What a redemptive institution the family is and can be when love is the motivating force.

The Cavern Slates Top Rock Combo

The Cavern, Northville's number one teen attraction, will be hosting The Rationals, Michigan's number one rock combo, this Saturday night from 8-11:30 along with The Children possibly the number one unknown group in this area.

The Rationals have slowly, but steadily, climbed to the number one slot of popularity, unaided by the meteoric rise to national fame and recognition as is usually the case.

However, The Rationals have never suffered the disasterous drop to obscurity by which such a rise has often spelled the death of other groups. The group, from Ann Arbor, has two smash singles to its credit from a half dozen releases in the past. "Respect" is a well known Rational hit included among CKLW's all-

3 Teens Attend TARS Convention

Three Northville teen-agers were among the 300 Michigan Teen-Age Republicans who attended a mock national Republican convention on the Michigan State campus May 4.

The TARs from throughout the state nominated John V. Lindsay for president on the second ballot.

Every TAR attending wasa delegate and was assigned a state upon registration. In addition to considering the candidacies of Nixon, Rockefeller, Reagan, Percy, Lindsay. Romney and many favorite sons, the convention also adopted a series of resolutions on mational issues.

John Johnson, Michigan TAR Governor of Muskegon Heights, presided over the convention which was sponsored by the Republican State Central committee and the Michigan TAR Advisory Board directed by Mike Dively of Traverse City.

The Honorable Governor George Romney received the vice-presidential nomination. Wayne Miller was chairman of the District of Columbia delegation.

The Morning Ride is the name given to each student radio showat NHS, conceived by Gary Becker, Bob Shafer, and Kurt Wiley.

Forensic Result 'Best in History'

Northville high school's entry in the State Forensic Contest's Girls' Extemporraneous Speaking Division finished seventh in a field of 21; while the NHS entry in the Multiple Reading Division placed approximately tenth in a field of 22. Dianne Holdsworth competed in a field of eight finalists, finally finishing seventh. Girls' Extempore consisted of three rounds for Dianne, in which she had one hour to prepare a four to six minute speech on a topic drawn at random. The topics could pertain to one of three areas - The '68 Elections: Issues and Candidates, The Fiscal Year, or

Protest Movements: Causes and Effects, The NHS Multiple Reading selection was taken from Lewis Carrol's Alice in Wonderland. The all-senior group finished approximately tenth out of 13 groups competing in the semi-final round, but didn't place high enough to be selected as one of the seven groups to be represented in the finals. This was, however, the best performance ever delivered by an NHS Multiple Reading Group in the history of NHS Spring Forensics. This honor has been achieved by

Kevin Barnes, Gregg Carr, Everett Greer, Darvi Holloman, Rick Jameson, Alison Lyke, Claudia Ricketts (formerly an original member of the group), and

100 Persons Boost 'Birdie'

"Bye Bye Birdie," the Northville High School all-school musical, is rapidly approaching completion. Performances are scheduled for the weekends of May 17-18 and May 24-25 on a reserve seat basis. Curtain time is scheduled for 8:30 p.m. May 17, 18, and 24; and at 7:00 p.m. on May 25.

Birdie will be done just as it was on Broadway in 1960, the NHS proluction having entailed the efforts of nearly 100 people either on stage or behind the scenes. Tickets are presently on sale at the high school auditorium before school, during lunch hours, and after school

Weather bulletins are yet another source of humor as Sunny Daze reports The Cloudburst Weather Report: "There will be a 100 per cent chance of showers in the locker room

Unwanted Deliveries

A Northville resident and several Northville business places had their patience tested last week as deliveries of flowers, pizza, and a plumber answering a service call were made to a man's home. He neither needed, wanted nor ordered the products and services.

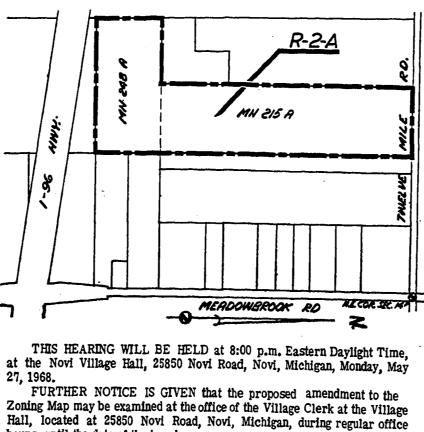

There is some optimism that orders for the unwanted goods will cease. Northville police officers held a conference with a boy living in the neighborhood of the recipient of the orders. The mother of the youth was involved in the conference.

Schoolcraft Interested in a caree that virtually assures employment to qualified applicants after one year of training? lf so, a new program starting in the fall at Schoolcraft college to train occupational therapy assistants may be just the thing for you. "We are terribly excited about this program," said Mrs. Harriett Sattig, director of instruction for health careers at the college. "Employment opportunities are practically unlimited. We have already received requests for three graduates from agencies which heard we were going to start the program.

What is an occupational therapy assistant? "The OTA is a trained sub-professional who works under the direction of a registered occupational therapist assisting in the rehabilitation of patients with physical, emotional and psychological handicaps," Mrs. Sattig explains. "The work involves teaching of skills that not only rehabilitate the patient, but provide him, in many instances, with a means of livelihood."

Patient age, according to Mrs. Sattig, ranges from pre-school youngsters to senior citizens and includes accident victims of all ages and other handicapped persons in general hospitals, nursing homes, and other institutions including outpatient rehabilitation cen-

The Schoolcraft program is unique in Michigan, Mrs. Sattig explained, and evolved at the request of the Michigan Occupational Therapy Association, There is, at present, no other one- or two-year program being offered in the state to train the corps of OT assistants needed by Michigan hospitals and other institutions for the handicapped.

"The MOTA needed a program of high quality, and one that was of short duration and that encompassed sound educational principles," Mrs. Sattig said.

The one-year program was developed with the active assistance of Miss H. Barbara Jewett, chairman of occupational therapy at Wayne State university, one of three Michigan universities offering a fouryear program leading to a bachelor's degree in occupational therapy.

The Schoolcraft program will cover three semesters of work to complete 39 credit hours in classroom studies and practical experience. The course starts in the fall term, continues through the winter semester followed by a 12-week springsummer session devoted exclusively to practical experience in both physical and psychiatric rehabilitation work.

Details on the program are available at the college from Mrs. Sattig, or from the Admissions Office, The telephone number is 591-6400.

Northville Township Board Minutes —

April 2, 1968 Northville Township Hall

Meeting called to order at 8:00 P.M. Present: Supervisor Merriam; Clerk Hammond; Treasurer Lawrence; Trustees: Baldwin, Armstrong, Stromberg: Consultants: Ashton, Mosher; Press: Hoffman; Visitors: Mr. Russell and Mr. Gadwell, Thompson-Brown Co.

of March 5, 1968 approved. Treasurer's report for March read and accepted.

Office Receipts and Bills Payable for the Township and for the Water and Sewer Commission were reviewed. Moved by Armstrong and seconded by Stromberg that the Water and Sewer bills be paid for the current month.

Ayes: All. Motion carried. Moved by Stromberg, supported by Baldwin that the General Township bills be also paid. Ayes: All. Motion carried.

CORRESPONDENCE 1. A letter from the Probate Court, Judge Lincoln, regarding aid to youth was placed on file.

2. A letter and a manual (Michigan Law Regarding Civil Disorders) was received from the Wayne County Sheriff's Department. The manual was turned over to attorney Ashton for review.

3. Mrs. Hammond read a letter from Draugelis and Ashton regarding a change in their fees to $30,00 per hour. This is the amount recently set by the State Bar Association as the minimum fee. Armstrong moved that the firm of Draugelis and Ashton be retained as set forth in their letter at the rate of $400.00 annual retainer. payable quarterly, and $30,00 per hour. seconded by Stromberg. Ayes: All. Motion carried.

OLD BUSINESS 1. Clerk Hammond reported that all preparations had been made for the Detroit Edison Franchise Election to be held on April 29, 1968. Mrs. Mattison is the Chairman of Precinct #1 and Mrs. Angell of Precinct #2.

A letter from Thompson-Brown was already gives the building inspector of the deposit funds for work completed to April 1, 1968. Stromberg moved that $49,680.00 be paid to Thompson-Brown Co. from the funds held in escrow, seconded by Armstrong, Ayes: All. Motion carried.

3. CLEAN-OUT of Huff Drain: Mr. Merriam explained that the Huff Drain is the one that crosses Seven Mile Minutes of Township Board Meeting Rd, at Clement. The people in the area are often flooded in the Spring. About 1000 feet would need to be cleared of brush, etc. Armstrong commented that he did not see how the Twp. could do this for people in one area and not others. The cost might be $5000. Baldwin felt that in dealing with property improvement, the affected property owners should pay for it and moved that the Township notify these people that they must take care of the matter themselves. Seconded by Armstrong, Ayes: All. Motion carried. NEW BUSINESS

1. Group Life Insurance: Mr. Rathert, representing the Aetna Life Insurance Co., presented a plan for group paid up life insurance for employees and officials. Ten persons would be needed to implement the plan. Continuing employment or disability insurance was also presented, which plan would not be available unless the Life Ins. Plan was accepted by the Twp., and it would require participation by eight people.

Mr. Merriam stated that sick pay is usually provided by the employer, while life insurance is a matter of Board policy. Mr. Merriam said he would get more quotations.

2. Building Department recommendation: Mr. Ashton read the proposed ordinance amendment to the Building Code which imcorporated some of the changes suggested by Mr. Salow. Stromberg moved to adopt the amendment as proposed, seconded by Baldwin, Ayes: All. Motion carried.

There was discussion about the necessity for an amendment to cover small portable buildings. Ashton said 2. Thompson-Brown Fund Release: that Section 4 of the Building Code

3. Hospital Water: Ashton said that he has called Mr. Seeley of the State Administrative Bd. The contract is before the Budget Committee on April 3rd, but there was no indication as to when it would be before the Ad. Board. 4. Subdivision Control Act: In a letter from Mr. Ashton regarding Subcrimination.

One of the largest audiences to attend a city council meeting in at least a year or more was on hand Monday night. But, ironically, most of the visiting citizens missed the most significant action ever undertaken by an elected governmental body in the history of the total community in North-

About 40 residents attended the session to inquire about a proposed neighborhood park or complain about litter, bright lights and noise created by a new commercial development near their homes.

All but nine departed after these subjects had been aired and before the council proceeded with its agenda. One of the items appearing on the agenda was the proposed 1968-69 budget. It was approved for public hearing May 20. It contains 3.8-mill ($3.80 per thousand dollars of assessed valuation) tax increase.

Not on the agenda, however, was a proposal to adopt an open occupancy ordinance.

In a surprise action Mayor A. M. Allen announced that he had instructed the city attorney to draft such an ordinance, that he had consulted privately with each councilmember on the matter. and that he was calling upon the council to set a public hearing June 3 to act on the proposed amendment.

The mayor called for his council to exert its obligation of leadership and adopt the legislation.

By unanimous agreement the council set June 3 as the date for public hearing on open housing. And there was every indication that the council stands ready to support the ordinance.

Mayor Allen has earned a new respect from this newspaper for his courageous action. He has taken an initiative that is unquestionably right, morally and legally. He has done so after private soul-searching without group pressures from any extremes and with full realization that he may have committed political suicide.

I cannot believe that he has; further he has gained a stature that few leaders within our entire state can boast: he has the solid support of his full council in this controversial legislation.

It was to be one of those fishing trips that anglers dream about but seldom snag. Naturally, it was a flop -although we did discover the world's largest muskie.

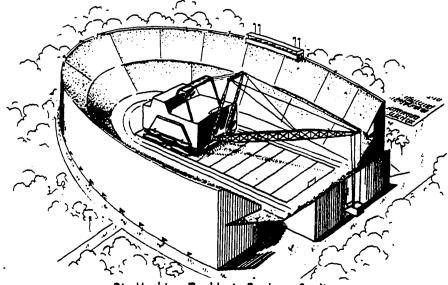

"Plenty of big, battlin' bass," South Lyon's band director and I had promised The Record's plant superintendent, Bob Blough, upon inviting him to join us on our annual trek to Ohio's southeastern border, in the heart of a vast coal deposit.

Hundreds of crystal clear ponds have been carved out of the hillsides by strip miners and, over the years, they've been well stocked with fish. We've had some exceptionally good catches in the past-catches that get better with every telling.

So Bob was adequately primed for adventure as we headed southward last

Not only was the fishing poor, but the waders we loaned our guest leaked, he was nearly drowned on one of our effective but defective fishing floats, it was colder than the temperature in Marquette, Michigan, it rained, and we dunned him for a good hunk of the gas

Fortunately, chance discovery of a gigantic earth mover made it a worthwhile trip for all of us. Now under construction and slated for completion next fall, this metallic monster is rising up out of the foothills like a hungry brontosaur. Its owner, the Ohio Power company, will pour some $20.000.000 into its construction before it starts gobbling up the hills.

Readers Speak Will 'Liberals' Help Negro Find House? To the Editor:

Recent articles in this column regarding the hiring of a Negro teacher have left an air of amusement in my My wife and I have both been very closely associated with Negroteachers in our brief careers as educators and we have high regards for the experiences these people have guided and assisted us through.

During one experience I found myself being one of three white teachers working with 450 children, roughly 400 being Negro. I was traveling teacher in the program so I had weekly contact with all 450 children. Although felt I did what I was paid to, plus expose myself to the Negro children as a "white" teacher, the classrooms considered to have the more rounded experiences for the children were those that were integrated.

So to you "Liberal" parents here in Northville who feel hiring a Negro teacher is going to be the answer to "preparing your children for adulthood" you'd better do some serious thinking. The previous articles in this column have invited the Negro to come here and "teach", nothing has been suggested as to where he will be expected to live. Are you "Liberal" parents who are on the bandwagon to "display" a Negro in front of your children going to be the same ones who will help him secure housing in your neighborhood??? I doubt it ...

For Civil Rights To the Editor:

In 1965 a group of Northville citizens formed a Human Relations Council with a membership of 35. When the Council was formulated a set of aims and purposes were as follows:

1. To provide educational programs which will promote harmony in human relations in Northville.

2. To work towards obtaining an official Human Relations Commission in the city government. 3. To support the Michigan Stat

Civil Rights Commission. 4. To commit ourselves to be an active influence for peaceful and orderly solutions to local human relations problems. The Council before it became inactive did have a series of lectures pertaining to human relations.

The remaining members of the Council feel there is a need to again reorganize a group of this type, A meeting has been set for May 10th at 8 o'clock in the Social Hall of the Catholic Church on Thayer Blvd, in Northville. The itinerant circus is slowly dying amendment to the United States Conin America as only a few have survived in this technological age. But millions of people throughout the United States and the world associate one man with the circus, its clowns and animals, tight rope walkers and specialty acts.

He's P. T. Barnum, whose name, along with a man named Bailey, are now legendary. At one time, a major annual event was to attend a Barnum Bailey circus, and even now, the name Barnum Bailey is synonomous with circus. Writers, in fact, often refer to outlandish events as Barnum Bailey.

Despite the fanfare over Phineas Taylor Barnum, born July 5, 1810 in Connecticut, little is known about his life. And even less about his political accomplishments, his tenure as a legislator in Connecticut House of Representatives.

Politically, as perhaps in other phases of his life, Barnum was a maverick, one of those singular men who would be dear to the heart of Walter Lippmann, Barnum wasan independent thinker, a man who adhered to the obligations of public office and its obligations to the people, yet depended on his own sense of fair play.

In an age and country where Republicanism was fashionable, when railroad trusts infiltrated and controlled government, when the Democratic party was considered a heretic fringe group, in 1865 to be exact, Barnum was a Democrat.

He fought the trusts and succeeded in severing railroad control of the state's railroad commission. "I enlisted as many as I could in an effort to strangle this outrage before it became too strong to grapple with," he stated in his autobiography.

But in the light of present day happenings-widespread civil protest for civil rights-Barnum's unerring quest for the truth and human rights s manifest in his most significant achievement-striking of the word white as a voter requirement in the proposed Respectable businessmen are also concerned with shady operators, and realize that the unsatisfactory performance of one company may injure an entire industry.

BABSON PARK, Mass, --- Now that the reply was contrary to what mothers auto, Obviously, today's youthful workwe have so many features of the and fathers of the upcoming generation "welfare state" built into the basic pattern of our economy, one might think that the grand old virtue of thrift would be entirely obsolete. But even social security, unemployment insurance, medicare, and widening pension systems have not been able to smother the pioneer habit of saving. It's still important to the vast majority of citizens.

A study reported last October by the National Association of Bank-Women, 60 E. 42nd St., N.Y.C., is surprising to many of the "older" generation. Despite the widespread view that young men and women are more interested in spending than saving. this study shows that four-fifths of all young people own savings accounts. And the better educated, the higher the percentage of youthful wage earners-especially the married onesdevoted to saving.

Furthermore, the Bank-Women inquired what young workers would do with a sudden "windfall," Here again

Buf, according to the study, it does make a difference to the young marrieds what they save for. The idea of preparing for a "rainy day" seems to have gone out with the bustle. The youthful wage earners look at life insurance as the way to prepare for the unexpected. Evidently the fear of another depression has been blotted out by the long period of prosperity and by the easy accessibility of welfare if misfortune should strike.

THE PLAIN fact seems to be that the young earners save to spend. There may be a special purpose, such as for education or some large-tag item; bu the main reasons are to have emergency, or ready cash, funds. Only a tiny few save, however, to buy an

It is still common for corporations to authorize payroll deductions for the purchase of government savings bonds by their personnel. To Mother To the Editor:

A mother is made by the Lord above. God created her out of goodness. understanding, and love. She will laugh with you when you are happy. She will cry with you when you are sad. And when you do things wrong, she will explain to dad.

We take her for granted because we see her everyday; she does so many things for such a small pay. She cooks, cleans, and washes, and picks up our things. Sometimes she's so happy she dances and sings.

She will take food from herself to see that we are fed, and she will always provide a place to lay down your head. She will never tell you if she's sick or in pain and she will hold her family together like the links of a chain.

Now one day you will have the greatest price to pay, when the angels come to take her away. They will take her to heaven through the Golden Gate, and if you remember what she has taught you, you will walk strong and straight, Debi Muscat an inflated, Victorian style, Barnum often diverged during his legislative plea, picking anecdotes to illustrate a point. Speaking of white indifference to the Black plight, Barnum cited the man aboard, who, normally indifferent, was informed the ship was burning: "Fire away," he said, "I am only a passenger."

Negro enfranchisement, just as today it is granting the Negro what is rightfully his. To ignore the plight of fellow passengers is inimical to all.

Barnum wound up his plea to the Connecticut house with these words: "Knock off your manacles and let the man go free. Take down the blinds from his intellect, and let in the light of education. When this is done you have developed a man. Give him the responsibility of a man and the self-respect of a man, by granting him the right of suffrage.'

The constitutional guarantee of suffrage was granted. But Barnum's plea for recognition of the Negro as a man has not been practiced.

Perhaps most indicative of the thriftmindedness of certain household heads is the occurrence now and then of open borrowing to establish a savings account. By way of an installment loan. such funds can be borrowed and then placed in a savings account. The borrower is forced to pay off the loan on a monthly basis, so the nest egg is guaranteed if he lives long enough to complete the transaction. aluminum siding" offer. The homeowner is approached by a well-dressed man. usually driving an expensive car, and told that his house has been selected for "advertising purposes."

The homeowner need only sign four papers: a credit check to make sure the individual is "respectable" enough to merit the offer; an authorization to let the company show the outside of the home to future prospects; an agreement to bind any new owners of the home, if sold within 60 months, to the show-authorization, and a final paper which says the homeowner is satisfied with the deal and "appreciates" the offer.

The papers are cleverly folded and stapled. The only paper which is as represented is the top sheet applying for a credit check. The other three: a mortgage, a promissory note and a 'completion form'' which specifies that the work is satisfactory,

Once the papers are signed, the 'official" immediately sells the mortgage to a finance company. Workmen arrive to install the siding the next morning, and within a few days the homeowner finds he is in debt at a cost much higher than a reputable firm might have charged.

Take a day to think about the offer before accepting it, the Attorney General suggests. Most confidence men pressure their victims into signing something "right now." before they have the chance to think and check out the offer. There are many sources which consumers may use to verify the reputation of a company: chambers of commerce, better business bureaus. city hall, local prosecutors, even friends and neighbors. The Consumer Protection Division will check their files for consumer complaints.

Consumers who feel they were victimized are urged to call the Attorney General so the complaint can be investigated. Often, a single letter from the division will bring a satisfactory conclusion. Sometimes court action is necessary.

A SAFE CAR will probably never be built, according to Chrysler Corporation's chief engineer, Roy C. Haeusler, if what is meant by "safe" is a car in which no one will be injured to any degree in any collision, rollover or accident.

However, cars are being designed which are "more forgiving" of driver error, he said, "If better car design still does not enable avoidance of the inattentive or drunk driver who ... crosses the center line into opposing traffic, then better design may reduce the seriousness of the injury in the ensuing accident."

Safety is a relative condition, he noted, and many of the most elaborate safety devices are of little value unless the occupants of the car use them. Some safety features, such as interior padding, safety glass, and energyabsorbing steering columns do not require driver or passenger cooperation. Others do.

Haeusler suggests a six-point check before putting the automobile in gear: adjust the driver's seat, lock doors, adjust inside and outside mirrors. check instruments and controls, fasten seat belts, and check for pedestrians.

Hospital Patients Work to Recover

Patients residing in the D, F. G (geriatric) unit of Northville State Hospital are busy working in a sheltered workshop which was recently set up in that area.

Bernard Plummer, previously associated with the Institute of Gerontology at the University of Michigan, has been named the Coordinator of this workshop. He is being assisted by an activity therapist and an attendant nurse who returned in December from a 14-week course in Gerontology at the Institute.

State Farm Agent Paul Folino of Northville announces that State Farmlargest writer of automobile and homeowners insurance in the world-is now offering health insurance in the state of Michigan. Folino, 115 W. Main sells the company's six health insurance plans, called Medi-Cash.

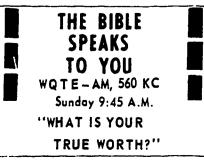

State Farm-which markets auto, life and fire insurance lines nationallyspecially designed this program in 1965 to help meet the needs of people in these inflationary times when hospital and medical costs are climbing at a steady rate.

Many health insurance policies cover hospital and doctor bills, but State Farm's Medi-Cash is differentit pays cash for each day the insured is confined to the hospital.

This tax-free money may be used to pay monthly bills...to buy groceries ...to make house payments...to pay babysitters...to lighten other financial burdens. Folino calls it "a natural companion to group health insurance plans."

Some Medi-Cash plans offer "get well benefits" after the insured leaves the hospital, benefits for emergency room treatment, and maternity coverage beginning with the first day of hospitalization.

Folino has all the Medi-Cash details,

The program has been so success ful in the few weeks of its existence that the plan now is to expand to include other areas of the hospital.

It is hoped that eventually the hospital will be able to enter into contracts with nearby industries for piece work as well as the making of cloth and clothing items, rug, and wood articles, officials said. The emphasis is not upon a financial return, but it is primarily upon the hope of the hospital staff that the patients involved in the workshop may be able to leave the hospital for their own communities "Our beginning at Northville has been very encouraging and success, in part, has been accomplished through the personal involvement and/or donation: of a humanitarian public," commented Plummer. A heavy school election ballot was assurred this past week as 10 candidates filed for the board of education and two local millage propositions were approved for voter consideration.

Last week Wednesday, the board unanimously approved two millage propositions, including one for renewal of 5 1/2 mills and another for 1 1/2additional mills. And the following candidates filed nominating petitions by the deadline: LaVerne DeWaard, Benjamin Pierce, Russell Taylor, and Ralph Mac-Kay for four-year terms, and Harley Beach, Lisabeth Berry, Keith Branch. Dorothy Farah, Gilbert Henderson and Herbert Anderson for three year terms,

Taylor is the lone incumbent. His and the board post of Arthur Heslip, who has decided not to seek re-election because of illness, must be filled as must two additional board seats. The additional seats, boosting the board membership from five to seven, is the legal requirement of school districts with a kindergarten through 12th grade educational program. Novi will reach the K-12 status with the opening of school next fall. In placing the millage renewal proposition on the ballot, the board emphasized the "absolute necessity" for its passage. Members voiced concern that the proposition itself gives the false impression that the 5 1/2 mills represents an additional levy. But, Superintendent Thomas Dale explained that the wording of the proposition, as it refers to an "increase", is equired by law. "With this renewal," said Dale,

An Editorial Novi Future Hangs On Cityhood Vote

For the third time since Novi became a village nearly 10 years ago, citizens of the community will be asked Monday to either approve or disapprove city incorporation for Novi. The Novi News supports incorporation for the community and urges the voters of Novi to do likewise when they go to the polls.

We are convinced, after years of watching and writing about the controversies arising from the present dual government (village and township) in Novi, that the only logical remedy for settling the matter is to dissolve both existing governments and to substitute in their place a single city form of government.

Futhermore, we are convinced that if Novi is to protect its present territory from further annexation to adjoining communities, it must incorporate as a city to protect its borders. Novi is in the enviable position of having a sound industrial tax baseprobably the best in the area, but as this development continues at an increasingly rapid pace choice Novi property becomes more and more attractive to adjoining communities. A negative vote Monday will be an open invitation for annexation.

To those who would argue that if these properties are so attractive they would already have been annexed we would remind them of previous substantial annexations to both Northville and Wixom (Novi once included a good portion of Wixom, including the Lincoln plant site, and parts of Northville that included, among others, the Northville high school site, manufacturing properties along Base Line, and the Northville Estates subdivision on west Eight Mile road.) Furthermore, we would point out that while the question of in- their community to the best of their corporation and the proposed election has been argued in the courts over the past months, annexation proceedings legally could not be initiated.

The opposition's argument that city incorporation will necessarily mean additional taxes is difficult to contest. Most certainly cost of government will continue to climb in years to come. But this cost will climb whether Novi remains a village-township or whether Novi becomes a city.

But just as the village charter limits the operational levy to 5 mills, so too writers of the city charter can, if they desire, establish a city millage limitation. And, of course, the city charter must be approved by the voters,

It is equally important to remember that, within its present borders, Novi has an industrial-business tax base which provides about 40 percent of present village tax monies. With its present industrial land potential this tax base can grow still bigger. Any reduction of this base would necessarily mean individual homeowners would have to share a larger percentage of the community's taxes.

Argument by township officials that annexation will mean the loss of their jobs, though true, is certainly not a valid one so far as electors are concerned. Township officials will, if Novi becomes a city, be entitled to seek election to the city council just as they are entitled to seek election to the township board or to the village council. That some township officials-not all by any means-would oppose incorporation because they would lose their salaries is, in our opinion a selfish motive not characteristic of most elected officials whose first and uppermost posts is, and should be, to fulfill the lawful duties of office and serve ability. Their salaries, which in most cases are but token compensation for many hours of public work, are and should be secondary.

Wage Hike Called Insufficient Novi Okays Record High Budget

A $316,700 general fund and a $126,500 highway fund budget was adopted by the Novi village council at the end of a three-hour public hearing session that nearly turned into a bargaining session for street and police department employees.

The 1967-68 general fund budget, up $36.224 from last year's record budget of $280,576, provided for a six percent across-the-board-increase for all village employees.

The estimated 1968-69 highway fund allocation provides for expenditure of $69,382 on major roads and $57,118 for minor roads. Last year, according to the budget figure reported last week, this department was estimated at $43,070 for local roads and $46,800 for major roads. The 1968-69 increase over 1967-68 was pegged at $35,630.

Still to be approved by the council is a proposed water budget department budget, which has been estimated at approximately $74,000. Last year an expenditure of nearly $73,000 was anticipated.

Despite the six percent wage in-crease for village employees; "That's not enough," was the immediate pro-test of a 12-year member of the street lepartment, Edward "Butch" Shoe-

His protest opened wide-ranging discussion and debate among council members on possible consequences affecting obtaining and retaining employees the village will require if the village does not remain competitive in the hiring market.

The discussion gained momentum, rolling over President Raymond Harrison's attempts to keep the session focused on considering the proposed budget, when Harrison informed Police Chief Lee BeGole that his request for three additional patrolmen had been denied - (see story on Page 4-A).

Significant points about the new budget that were brought out in the discussion were: Revenue for the coming year will be bound to the present five mill tax Increased valuation following assessment and growth provide an increase of $4 million in valuation, which, at $5,000 per million valuation means $20,000 added income to the village.

While not final, an estimate believed to be accurate set a $14,000 figure for income the village should receive from the new state income The only budget adjustment made during the public hearing was to move $2,000 from the public improvement fund to the police department to provide an extra man for 18 weeks during

"the budget will be very tight," In view of the financial situation, he said he had revised his earlier estimates that it would take 3 additional mills to produce a balanced budget. Instead, he said the district would need about 1 to $1 \frac{1}{2}$ additional mills. Upon this recommendation, the board approved placement of the second millage proposition on the ballot. According to Dale, the 1 1/2 additional mills-based upon the district's new equalized valuation of \$26,738,200 -will produce about \$39,000. This amount, he said, would be sufficient

Finally, the circuit court set down a so-called composite decision encompassing all previous litigation which in a nutshell, said voters could not vote on the question. At this point the citizens' committee carried their fight to the state Appeals Court, which reversed the circuit court decision and gave Novi permission to vote on the question. Subsequent attempts by the township to contest the higher court's decision were squashed.

On the question of legality, proponents for cityhood, including state elections officials and the Michigan Municipal League, contend the 1909 law which prohibits incorporation for Novi is antiquated and should be scrapped. They note that villages with smaller populations than Novi can, under this law, incorporate as a city. Opponents argue that since the law exists it must be obeyed.

While the legality issue was prevailing contention throughout litigation, township officials also contested the legality of petitions calling for the election because it would leave the township with but about two-percent of its present township area and that such incorporation would be harmful to the township officials who presently hold office since, under the incorporation, they would lose their jobs and livelihoods.

While township officials have not tipped their hats, it's a pretty safe bet that even if the incorporation is approved by voters the matter probably will be again contested in court until the law is either changed (several movements are contemplated in this direction) or until the Supreme Court finally decides the constitutionality of the law.

$\star \star \star$ Last Ditch Effort Fails

A last ditch effort by officials of the township board to upset Novi's incorporation election was throttled by the Michigan Appeals Court, village officials learned Monday.

The township had petitioned the Appeals Court to the latest decision of Circuit Court Judge William Bee to permit the election. The lastest appeal was based on grounds that the election, if it approves cityhood, would do irreparable harm to the townshir and lead to costly court battles.

Apparently, the Appeals Court which earlier had ruled in favor of the cityhood election, tossed out the township's petition because it was made after the 20-day deadline in which to appeal.
