

Out of THE PAST

FIVE YEARS AGO...
 ...Reverend Paul M. Cargo, pastor of Northville's First Methodist Church for six years, was appointed pastor of the First Methodist Church of Caro. He was succeeded by the Reverend S. D. Kinde of Chelsea, who at the time had served in the Methodist ministry for 30 years.
 ...State legislators gave final approval to a congressional reapportionment bill that placed the Oakland County portion of Northville and Novi Township and Wixom in a newly-created 19th Congressional District.
 ...Weather wasn't very cooperative for the 20th opening of Northville Downs. Only 2,892 fans showed up, betting $173,039 on 10 races.
10 YEARS AGO...
 ...Joan Dogan Wroten was back to defend her crown as Queen of the Rodeo at Northville Downs.
 ...In one of the largest votes polled in years Donald B. Lawrence was elected to a three-year term of the Northville Board of Education.
 ...Installation of a water line across the new high property to Northville Heights subdivision and down Hill Street was scheduled to begin.
 ...Northville extended its heart to five-year-old David Rochoon. More than $150 was contributed to buy medicine and pain-killing drugs for the plucky youngster who was doomed by a brain tumor.
15 YEARS AGO...
 ...Albert E. Jones, coach and teacher, was named new athletic director at Northville High School.

OUT OF PAST—Workmen at Manning & Locklin Gravel company mine east of the old Northville depot uncovered part of an old railroad last week. According to oldtimers, the tracks were a spur line used by the DUR many years ago in obtaining gravel for its rail beds. They guessed the spur line was installed about the same time the DUR came into existence in 1899. The DUR, which many residents recall as the principal means of transportation between Northville, Detroit and other communities, was abandoned in 1927. How far the spur line extends beneath the sand and gravel awaits further excavation.

Gribbs to Get Wayne Sheriff Job

Roman S. Gribbs, Detroit Traffic Court referee and a former assistant prosecuting attorney, has been appointed Wayne County sheriff. Gribbs, 42, will finish out the term of Sheriff Peter L. Buback, who resigned effective June 1. The term runs to the end of the year. Gribbs said he will seek election to the sheriff's office in the coming August 6 primary and November 5 general elections. Appointment of Gribbs was made by a three-member panel established by state law. Its members were County Clerk Edgar M. Branigan, Prosecuting Attorney William L. Cahalan and Presiding Probate Judge Frank S. Szymanski. Gribbs will head an organization which, with a staff of 388, is the largest police force in Michigan outside Detroit. The Sheriff's annual budget is $4.3-million. Gribbs has been a traffic court referee (magistrate) for two years. Previously, he was a Wayne County assistant prosecuting attorney for nine years and then was in private law practice for two years. Born in Detroit, he attended grade and high school in Capac, Michigan. He then attended the University of Detroit. He earned a Bachelor of Science degree, magna cum laude, and a Bachelor of Laws degree, finishing third in his class and winning a scholarship award for the highest four-year grade average in his class.

In Wayne County Hearing Delayed On District Plan

A Circuit Court hearing on a lawsuit which seeks to nullify a 26-district plan for revamping the Wayne County Board of Supervisors was continued until this past Tuesday. Opening arguments were presented before Judge James M. Canham, Tuesday, May 28. Canham set another hearing for 10 a.m. Tuesday, June 4. He said he did so to give other communities time to join the lawsuit, which was filed by the Dearborn Heights city administration. The commission consisted of three county officials—the Clerk, Prosecuting Attorney and Treasurer—and the county chairmen of the Democratic and Republican parties. The suit contends that the commission membership was illegal because the two party chairmen were neither statutory chairmen nor appointed by the state central committee chairmen of the two parties, the two stipulations contained in the state law. The suit, filed on behalf of Dearborn Heights Mayor John L. Canfield, three Dearborn Heights Councilmen and the city itself, charges that the five-member appointment commission which devised the 26-district plan was illegally constituted. Canfield later sent telegrams to every mayor and township supervisor urging that their communities join the suit. Under the reapportionment plan, one supervisor would be elected on a partisan basis from each of 26 districts to replace the present 135-member Board of Supervisors.

Former Principal's Son To Graduate at Sparta

Steven Quay, son of former Assistant High School Principal LaGene Quay, will graduate Tuesday from Sparta high school where his father is principal. The former Northville student will enter Western Michigan University next fall on a pre-medical program. Young Quay was a member of Sparta National Honor Society, varsity hand, and varsity basketball, track and cross country teams. The latter placed seventh in the state "B" competition last fall. As a member of the track team, he broke a 27-year-old school record in the quarter mile and was a member of the mile relay squad that broke a seven-year record.

DODGE Charger

The clean machine! Strange. Most car prices have gone up. Except on Dodge Charger. The Manufacturer's Suggested Retail Price on the standard 1968 Dodge Charger with V8 is $88 less than that on the 1967 Charger (exclusive of optional whitewalls and chromed road wheels as shown above). But then Charger has a way of being different. It's styled mean and clean. And quietly thundering under the hood is a spirited 318-cubic-inch V8.

Novi Voters Approve Both School Millage Questions

Both millage propositions won by comfortable margins despite a normal but poor turnout in the annual June election of the Novi school district Monday. A total of 420 persons voted. Winning seats on the board of education were G. Russell Taylor, incumbent, and LaVerne M. DeWaard (four-year terms), and Herbert E. Anderson and Gilbert D. Henderson (three-year terms). While voters were approving both millage propositions—one for a 5 1/2-mill renewal and the other for a 1 1/2-mill addition—voters of the Northville School District, which includes part of Novi, were turning down a 2-mill increase. The 5 1/2-mill renewal in Novi won handily, 288 to 76, while the 1 1/2-mill increase won by a narrower but still comfortable margin, 217 to 125. Taylor, a veteran member of the board, led all candidates, piling up a vote total of 246. His vote barely shaded a newcomer, however, as DeWaard picked up the second four-year seat. DeWaard was leading Taylor, 236-231, until election officials tallied the absentee ballots.

Teacher Contract Settled

Formal ratification of a new master contract for Novi teachers was slated to take place last night (Wednesday) at the regular meeting of the Novi Board of Education. Superintendent Thomas Dale revealed Tuesday that all but "a very minor" area in the contract had been settled with the Novi Teachers Association. The new contract calls for a starting salary of $6,700 for teachers with bachelor's degree, ranging up to $10,295 with 10 years experience. This past year the starting salary was $6,175. Teachers with master's degrees will start at $7,100 and range up to $10,915 with 10 years experience, and those teachers with MA degrees plus 30 additional credit hours will start at $7,400 and range up to $11,383 in 10 years. The starting salaries for MA and MA plus 30 in the 1967-68 contract were $6,575 and $6,975, respectively. In addition to increased salaries, the new contract provides a maximum of $10 per month for hospitalization insurance of the teacher's choice. Dale reported.

Rebuilding To Close Novi Road

Novi Police Department has learned that reconstruction of Novi Road, from I-96 expressway north to just north of 12 Mile road, will curtail traffic during the summer. Removal of trees is scheduled to begin June 17, with resurfacing slated soon after, Chief Lee BeGole said. Completion is set for November 15. The road will be open, part of the time, to local traffic only. Curtailment of traffic is expected to particularly affect the Walled Lake Amusement Park, which attracts many patrons using the expressway. Construction is not expected to curtail 12 Mile Road traffic. Reconstruction is part of Oakland County's continuing plan improve all of Novi Road. First phase of the program included that portion of the road from Eight Mile to Grand River, the second from Grand River to the expressway, and now this third phase.

Sets Planning Orientation

Plans are in the works for programs aimed at orientation of village officials, particularly new ones and for honoring non-paid officials of the village government. Councilman approved sponsorship of both programs at their meeting last week. The local orientation seminar, to deal with aspects of planning, was the suggestion of Planning Board Chairman Kain Johnson following his attendance at an Oakland County planning conference. Johnson told councilmen that often times new members of the planning board assume their posts without thorough knowledge of ordinances and concepts affecting planning nor of the role of the planning consultant. Even those who have served on the board for some time need, from time to time, to update themselves on the newest aspects of planning, he suggested. The council, praising Johnson for his suggestion, quickly moved to instruct Village Manager Herald Ackley to work with Johnson in establishing such an orientation conference to include councilmen, members of the

Chamber Installs Officers

Raymond Warren was installed as the new president of the Novi Chamber of Commerce Thursday evening in ceremonies at Saratoga Farms Restaurant. The new president succeeds Russell Taylor. Other officers and trustees installed by Police Chief Lee BeGole were Richard Burr, vice-president; Florence Harris, treasurer; and Harold Ackley, Kenneth Bassett, and Taylor, trustees. Upon assuming the presidency, Taylor reappointed Peter Alcalá as secretary of the Chamber. Reappointed to the industrial committee are Phil Anderson, chairman; Harold Ackley, vice-chairman; Mrs. Dorothy Farrah, Mrs. Fred Buck, and Edwin Pressnell. Plans also were discussed for the 1968 edition of the annual Gala Days celebration to be held this year on August 24 and 25. It's already being billed as the largest in history.

Charter Commission Sets Goal

Strong City Manager, Weak Mayor Favored

In its first real working meeting since being sworn into office, Novi's City Charter Commission Thursday night decided 5-3 to build a new document around the strong manager-weak mayor concept. Although the commission was split in its policy decision, it was clear that members are closer to unanimity than the vote would indicate. Nevertheless, it was equally clear that members have no intentions of "rubber stamping" the existing village charter or charters of other municipalities. The only real objection to the strong manager-weak mayor concept came from Vice-President William Dey, who sought to have fellow members consider the strong mayor concept. Russell Burton and Dennis Berry, who voted no, and David Harrison, who abstained, actually favored the strong manager form of government but voted as they did either because the motion did not specify how the mayor was to be elected or because the decision was considered premature. Commissioner Joseph Crupi was absent. Dey repeatedly suggested the commission delay its policy vote until after thorough examination and comparison of both forms of government. Yet, he was adamant in his position that the commission first agree upon a basic philosophy of government before it takes up specific sections of a new charter. The commission vice-president said he favored the strong mayor form of government because it gives the people a direct opportunity to remove him from office if they grow dissatisfied with his performance. "People I've talked to—and I'm representing the people—favor the strong mayor because they don't like what's going on in our government today. They want something so that they can throw the man out of office if they don't like what's being done." Commissioner William Brinker questioned the advisability of a strong mayor government, pointing out that Detroit and Dearborn as examples of governments that have not necessarily produced good, strong mayors. The strong mayor concept, he said, offers too many possibilities for governmental corruption. Attorney Howard Bond, who went through the existing village charter section by section in pointing out specific areas requiring change under a city, noted that the village charter is built upon the strong manager concept. He suggested the commission await arrival of a "model" city charter as prepared by the Michigan Municipal League before it begins writing. Secretary Fred Buck, together with Bond, noted that while the present ordinance calls for the strong manager concept some of the manager's responsibilities have been circumvented by department heads who have taken their problems and suggestions directly to the council and not necessarily through the manager as the charter requires. The present village ordinance rather than starting with another charter or from scratch. Some commissioners, however, favored examination of charters of other communities—particularly the model charter prepared by the MML, while others argued that the commission should "write our own charter" and not rely upon another charter. Several, particularly Burton, were of the opinion the new charter should not differ radically from the existing charter if the commission hopes to get it approved by the people. A radical change, Burton suggested, might result in the charter's failure at election time. Dey, on the other hand, contended the commission should write the best possible charter without worrying about its chances of passage. Furthermore, he said the new charter should be written with the future of Novi in mind. Don't limit it to today's community, but provide for those developments and problems that will face the complex city of the future, he suggested.

Wixom to Provide 24-Hour Dispatch

The Wixom city council announced Tuesday night that arrangements have been finalized to provide full-time dispatching service for police calls. Mayor Wesley McAtee revealed that a one-year contract has been signed with the Walled Lake police dispatching service to take Wixom calls on a 24-hour, seven-days-per-week basis effective July 1. The calls will be taken on the regular Wixom police number—MA 4-1111—and directed immediately to the Wixom police. Mayor McAtee explained that the council had investigated a full-time dispatching service in its own department but found the additional cost would be $25,000 per year. The service is being provided by Walled Lake for $8,000. "We'll have our own telephone exclusively for our calls in their department", he explained. He said the plan will be given a one-year trial. In other business Tuesday night the council approved a plat for Highgate on the Green No. 1, a subdivision of 73 homes on Loom Lake road adjoining the new Loom Lake elementary school. The council also accepted the planned unit residential development. The parks will be reserved for the exclusive use of residents of the developments and must be maintained by them. The council also adopted a pension plan for city employees.

For Police Department

Action on purchase of a road grader, appointment of three planning board members and adoption of the water and sewer department budget, was postponed until the next council meeting, but the council did approve acceptance of the water main extension for the Novi Nursing Home at 10 Mile and Meadowbrook Roads. The main, constructed by the nursing home, now becomes part of the village water system. Approved for payment were bills totalling $25,026.65.

Ann Ware Speaks Vows In Detroit

A small family ceremony June 1 united Ann Elizabeth Ware, daughter of Donald A. Ware, 239 Hutton, and Mrs. Dorothy Ware of Grosse Pointe, and Louis Peter James in marriage at the First Unitarian Universalist Church of Detroit.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Peter James of Detroit and the late Mr. James.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Donald J. Ware, as her father who is recuperating from a heart attack was unable to attend the ceremony.

The bride's gown of white peau de soie was fashioned on simple, unfitted lines. The neckline, long sleeves and hemline were outlined with a roll-effect of the same material. A wedding ring crown held her mantilla of fine Alencon lace.

The bride carried a colonial bouquet of violets surrounded by lilies of the valley, fashioned of flowers picked in her father's garden.

Fresh garden flowers also were used to decorate the bridal table at the reception which was held at the Whittier Hotel in Detroit.

The bride is a speech therapist at Redford Union School. She received degrees from Eastern Michigan University and University of Michigan.

Her husband is affiliated with the psychiatry department of the Detroit Board of Education and presently is working on his doctorate. He was graduated from Wayne University and University of Michigan.

They are making their home in Detroit.

Rita Mary Hyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Hyle, Cincinnati, Ohio became the bride of Lieutenant Robert S. Wetterstroem, son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Wetterstroem of 501 West Dunlap on Saturday, June 1. The wedding was held at St. Martin of Tours Church in Cincinnati, with the Reverend Father Niehaus officiating.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of satin-finish organza and imported Venetian lace. Daisy motifs of the lace encircled the waist and elbow length sleeves with a deep border of the same lace edging the hemline. A detachable train fell from the waistline in the back. The chapel length veil was made of silk illusion with motifs of matching lace scattered along the length. The bride's bouquet was formed from a cluster of sweetheart roses and white daisies.

Clara Hyle, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Other attendants were Maxine and Marlene Engles Mrs. Ted Hyle, Jr., and Karen, Anita and Nettie Wetterstroem. Together they wore gowns made of almond pink silk linen with an empire style bodice and A-line skirt. The bridesmaids wore chapel length veils of matching pink silk. They carried spring bouquets made of pink sweetheart roses and white, pink and blue daisies.

Others in the wedding party included Lieutenant Harry Buckle who served as best man. The ushers were Lieutenant Kevin Brown, Ronald Baily, Ted Hyle, Jr., Frank Hyle, Robert Hyle, and Tom Wetterstroem.

The noon ceremony was followed by a breakfast for the bridal party. This buffet was given at the home of the bride for out-of-town guests. Following in the evening was a reception for 250 friends of the new couple.

After a brief honeymoon, Lieutenant and Mrs. Wetterstroem returned to Ft. Campbell, Kentucky, where the bridegroom is presently stationed.

After the wedding the couple paid a brief visit to the bride's father, who had just returned home from the hospital. The new Mrs. James afterward changed to a two-piece ensemble of rose linen for a short wedding trip. The newlyweds hope to take a longer trip to Europe in August.

The bride is a speech therapist at Redford Union School. She received degrees from Eastern Michigan University and University of Michigan.

Her husband is affiliated with the psychiatry department of the Detroit Board of Education and presently is working on his doctorate. He was graduated from Wayne University and University of Michigan.

They are making their home in Detroit.

THERE'S A FRESH, new face at The Record office this week as Prudence Hartt joins the editorial staff to cover social and club news as well as the activities of Northville's young people.

Prudy is taking over for me this summer and is looking for news of "the young" activities. The blonde daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Hartt, 777 Thayer Boulevard, she has just finished her freshman year at Hanover College, a small liberal arts college in Hanover, Indiana. She is a 1967 graduate of Northville High School.

She plans to return to Hanover for her sophomore year and expects to be on the staff of the college paper. In high school she was co-editor of The Mustang and copy editor of the school yearbook.

A member of the Northville High School model United Nations organization, she continued this interest at college, serving as a member of the Little United Nations Association at Indiana University. She also is a member of the Hanover Young Republicans and Students for McCarthy. She has been social chairman of her college dorm and has affiliated with Alpha Omicron Pi Sorority.

In addition, she has continued piano studies, having previously taken from Northville teachers for seven years.

He is now living in Detroit with his wife, the former Julia Politz, and four children. Presently he is employed by the Detroit Police Department.

Miss Jackson has already chosen her attendants. Serving as matron of honor will be Mrs. Robert Quandt of Allen Park. Bridesmaids are Mrs. Richard Juchartz of Wyandotte and Miss Mary Low of Highland Park. Danielle Juchartz and Kimberly Quandt will be flower girls and ringbearer will be Gerald Watson, nephew of the groom. The wedding is set for June 22, at St. Luke's Episcopal Church in Allen Park.

Two other showers, both miscellaneous, also have been given for Mary. The first, given April 30 by Mrs. Nick Macunovich of Allen Park, was a planned luncheon for several neighbors. The other was arranged on May 28 by Mrs. James Watson, sister of the prospective bridegroom. With the help of sister-in-law Mrs. Richard Clark of Northville she entertained 20 guests in her home in South Lyon.

The most unexpected shower was a surprise luncheon given by the St. Luke's Episcopal churchwomen of Allen Park on May 27. The 25 members turned their regular meeting into a gala meal served on tables set with silver and flowers. The tables were decorated with silver candle holders and silver loving cups filled with blossoms.

Patients Plan Talent Show

Patients of the young adult unit at Northville State Hospital, 41001 Seven Mile Road, will present a talent show, Tuesday evening, June 18 at 8:30 p.m. in the hospital's activity therapy building. The general public is invited.

"This is the second of our talent shows to be presented by our unit," commented Mrs. Royanne Bari, M.T., staff member in charge of the event.

"The patients decided several weeks ago to produce another evening of entertainment. Another fund raising activity we have had has been a car wash. All of these have made an extended recreation program possible with our patients being able to go into the Greater Detroit area to visit Cranbrook, art institutes shows and ball games."

Numbers in the talent show will include: jazz; rock and roll; combos; a choir, singing pop songs; and skits.

Tickets for the occasion—50 cents for adults and 25 cents for patients and students—are available at the door. Preceding the show, parents of the patients will meet at 7:30 p.m. in the building's game room with E. Gordon Yudashkin, M. D., medical superintendent, and Samuel Davis, executive director of the Michigan Association for Emotionally Disturbed Children.

In honor of the occasion Karen's mother, Mrs. William McAllister, held an open house last Sunday afternoon at their home on 15674 Lakeside Drive. The affair was catered by Thunderbird Inn and developed into quite a gay gathering, a fitting reception for a daughter like Karen.

After two years of study Karen graduated last Saturday from the Interlochen School of Music in northern Michigan. She was one of a select group of 22 out of a class of 118 who graduated with honors, indicating that she had maintained better than a 3.5 average during her stay at school. As a symbol of her scholastic achievement Karen received a golden rope. This she wore with her black robe in graduation ceremonies indicating the mark of a high achiever.

Karen has been studying music since she was very young and took up the organ, her favorite instrument, when she was about 10. Besides the organ she demonstrated talent in other musical fields by playing the piano and singing in a special choir and madrigal group at school. Karen, who just turned 18 in May, plans to attend the University of Michigan Music School this fall. She was accepted at three other schools but chose Michigan because it was closer to home.

ART SHOW—Patients of Northville State Hospital presented a professional-like art show at the First Methodist Church of Northville this past week, drawing praise from scores of visitors who viewed the exhibit on the stage and in the fellowship hall. It included sculpture, oils, water colors and pastels.

The most unexpected shower was a surprise luncheon given by the St. Luke's Episcopal churchwomen of Allen Park on May 27. The 25 members turned their regular meeting into a gala meal served on tables set with silver and flowers. The tables were decorated with silver candle holders and silver loving cups filled with blossoms.

Two other showers, both miscellaneous, also have been given for Mary. The first, given April 30 by Mrs. Nick Macunovich of Allen Park, was a planned luncheon for several neighbors. The other was arranged on May 28 by Mrs. James Watson, sister of the prospective bridegroom. With the help of sister-in-law Mrs. Richard Clark of Northville she entertained 20 guests in her home in South Lyon.

Miss Jackson has already chosen her attendants. Serving as matron of honor will be Mrs. Robert Quandt of Allen Park. Bridesmaids are Mrs. Richard Juchartz of Wyandotte and Miss Mary Low of Highland Park. Danielle Juchartz and Kimberly Quandt will be flower girls and ringbearer will be Gerald Watson, nephew of the groom. The wedding is set for June 22, at St. Luke's Episcopal Church in Allen Park.

Wrap-Up Near On Unification

The final meeting of all sub-committees together with the steering committee of the Northville city-township unification study will be held tonight (Thursday) at eight o'clock in the Northville city hall.

Councilman Del Black, who serves as chairman of the committee, said that the reports of each sub-committee will be read so that all members of the study will be familiar with the findings of each group.

Within a week or two, Black reported, the steering committee will prepare its final report and recommendations.

The second annual Little Miss contest is being sponsored by the Northville Jaycee Auxiliary in conjunction with the Jaycee festivities on the Fourth of July.

The first 10 entries in the contest will be eligible for the Little Miss title to be awarded on July 4. All 10 of the contestants will ride on a float in the parade. The Little Miss will receive a $10 gift certificate from the Little People Shoppe plus a crown of flowers. All 10 misses will receive recognition gifts.

Girls between the ages of three to five may be entered in the contest. To enter, the child's name, age, address, phone number and parent's names, plus a recent photograph, must be sent to Mrs. Russel Anger, 936 Novi Street, Northville, by June 17. Only the first 10 entries received will be eligible.

Once the 10 entries have been determined, pictures of the little girls will be attached to canisters placed in downtown stores. Penny votes will determine the winner.

Names of the 10 contestants and the locations of the canisters will be announced later.

Mrs. Scantlin's Rug Wins Second Place

Congratulations are in order for Mrs. Jack Scantlin, 46287 Pickford who took second place in the annual Rug Hooking Bee held at Greenfield Village last Sunday.

Mrs. Scantlin was one of the more than 40 experienced rug hookers who, in authentic costume, demonstrated their craft from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on the Village Green. The design of her winning entry was a gold eagle on a medium blue field. As a true artist, she blended and painted with thin strands of wool which she had dyed previously to make six different shades of the same color.

Mrs. Scantlin's rug was second out of nearly 100 hand-made rugs, with first prize going to a rug which was hooked in the shape of a United States

map. After the demonstration a lecture was given on The Therapeutic Value of Rug Hooking, completing the old-fashioned Rug Hooking Bee and Exhibit.

Mrs. Hammond Gets Top Post

The Mizpah Circle of King's Daughters and Sons installed Mrs. Oscar Hammond as president recently, at the annual June picnic. About 40 members were present for the event which was held at Happy Acres, home of Mrs. William B. Walker, Jr.

Other officers were installed by Mrs. John Lisenburger. They are Mrs. Donald Ware, vice-president; Mrs. M. L. Hoystradt, secretary; Mrs. Herbert Brown, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Mary Alexander, financial secretary; and Mrs. Ralph Simons, treasurer.

Cooke PTA Picks Officers

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Massel of 43726 Doris Court were elected co-presidents of the Northville Junior High School PTA at a regular PTA meeting Thursday night.

The presidents and the other newly elected officers were nominated by a special committee and chosen by members at large.

Other new officers include: Dr. and Mrs. John Bethea, 20145 Beck Road, vice-presidents; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Luehrs, 21183 East Chigwidden Drive, secretaries; and Mr. and Mrs. William Heffner, 2100 East Chigwidden Drive, treasurers.

HELPING HAND—Wixom's Helping Hand program is in full swing reports Neil Taylor, Wixom Elementary PTA president who discussed the meaning of the Helping Hand sign with young Wesley McAtee and other youngsters. Homes with such signs are safe places for youngsters to go in emergency situations such as injury or molestation cases, while going to and from school. The program will be in operation throughout the summer as well, Mrs. Taylor adds.

More 'Helping Hands' Needed for Northville

With the coming of warm weather the Jaycettes are making another effort in their drive to secure more mothers in their Helping Hand Project.

All children in the Northville School System have been told that they will find immediate help at any home displaying the wordless sign. However, the drive will be ineffective if there are no helping hands on the child's route to and from school, officials emphasize. "In order to help, mother needn't be home at all times, just the hour or so when the children are traveling to and from school." At the present time there are only about 120 mothers who have volunteered to become helping hands. "Surely there must be more mothers than this who are home with pre-schoolers during the day. It must not mean that one of our local children meet with terrible tragedy before the importance of the program sinks through. The Jaycettes have invested a large sum of time and money to make Northville a safe place to live."

Anyone interested in assisting with this project is urged to contact Mrs. Jan Lynholm, the new chairman, at 349-1596.

Kings Mill

Residents of Kings Mills are having their luck put to test. Coming up next week is a card party to be held in the card room of the club house. The party is set for Sunday, June 23, from seven to 10 in the evening.

Also being planned is the Mother's Club Luncheon which is scheduled Wednesday, June 19. This will provide an opportunity for members of the King's Mills Mother's Club to get together and go out to lunch. Social activities for the next few weeks appear to be blooming, however, due to the recent heat we all social events cancelled for this weekend have been canceled.

BIRTH

Another potential All-American bowled in May 31 as Mr. and Mrs. Steve Judy, 304 Lake Street, became the proud parents of a 7-pound, 15-ounce baby boy at St. Mary hospital.

Little Richard Duane's father is a Northville High School star and a former All-American quarterback at Michigan State University.

Grandparents of the baby are Mrs. Richard Judy of the same address and Mr. and Mrs. Dayton Deal, 20116 Springwood Drive.

STREET SIDE FLEA MARKET—They didn't exactly come in droves, but those who did found plenty of exciting buys at the antique-and-arts flea market, sponsored last week Wednesday by the Northville Retail Merchants Association. Billed as a success, this "first" in Northville was held on Main Street, blocked off at Center and Hutton Streets to permit easy pedestrian access to the two-dozen booths and displays lining the street.

Year-Round School Hangs on Vacation

Fourteen members of the concept and implementation subcommittee of Northville's year-round school study committee agreed practically unanimously at their meeting last week.

NORTHVILLE LODGE NO. 186 F. & A. M. Regular Meeting Second Monday Herbert Famuliner, W.M. R. F. Coolman, Sec.

that "the vacation period still is a strong concern" to Northville school district families.

The feeling was that no plan of expanding or extending the school curriculum or classes could succeed unless a family could retain a unified vacation time.

Beyond this point the group ran into a semantics problem of extended or expanded programs being variously interpreted. Reports were given by individuals who had studied a variety of plans in operation in New York (which showed the year-around, bringing earlier-age graduation, not locally advocated), the community school plans of Flint and Plymouth, and the Marine City plan of longer school days with students able to use the same facility at different times.

Chairman Kenneth Rathert appointed a committee to study proposals discussed and present specific plans with definitions for the final general meeting of the sub-committee at 8 p.m. Monday, June 24.

He named Miss Florence Panatoni, Mrs. Kathleen Johnson, John Hyde, Dr. Paul Hunt and James McCarty to this group. They will meet and evaluate in order to present a specific report from which the concept and implementation committee's final recommendation will be formulated.

This report is due the end of June to the steering committee.

Local Jobs Go Begging

"We're hungry for workers but students apparently are not interested."

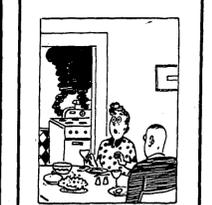

That's the surprising statement of Rudolph Newman, general manager of consulting Services, Inc., located in the new ABC Photo plant on Nine Mile Road near Novi Road.

"We've advertised and repeatedly contacted the school in hopes of attracting graduating senior girls who we could train to become IBM processing employees but without a thread of luck."

Newman said his company is anxious to become a part of the community, and eventually would like to have about 90 percent of its personnel from this area. "But now we're wondering if that will be possible."

Graduating seniors who would like to interview for jobs are asked to contact Newman.

TROGLODYTES Plymouth Apple Corps' Tops

By Daryl Holloman

During a recent discussion at The Cavern Gary Klotz approached me with the following question: "Holloman, where did you come up with a name like 'Trogodytes' for a Cavern column?"

The answer is that a troglodyte is "one who dwells in caves or creeps in and out of holes or caverns." With this in mind, Trogodytes features Northville Teen's comments regarding The Cavern, plus the bands and rock groups which creep in and out of The Cavern from week to week.

Speaking of groups, The Thyme and The Apple Corps put forth a great show last Saturday night which proved to me that their appearance by popular demand was justified.

The Thyme from Ann Arbor always performs well, but I was really impressed with The Apple Corps from Plymouth. They've come a long way in a short time since their debut performance at The Cavern March 23.

The five man group is made up of former members of The Museum, The Phyre, and The Southampton Rowe which had dissolved for various reasons.

I understand that The Apple Corps recently performed at Eastern Michigan University in "Pittidoe the Colormaker," the third rock-musical ever produced following in the path of Broadway's "Hair".

I've also been informed that the group is currently corresponding with major labels for a future recording contract.

However, I didn't spend all of the performance absorbing the sound waves. I ran into a longtime friend of mine who comes up from Miami every summer by name of Albie Curry.

Turning to The Cavern's future events for the summer, a revolutionary new development is being inaugurated the night of Monday, June 17 from 8-11 pm.

On that date, and every Monday night for the remainder of the summer, The Cavern Club Room will be converted into a "Coffee House".

The Coffee House will be free of charge to members, and a 50 cent cover charge has been established for non-members.

Cavern President Sue Jarvis states that "We'll try to have Folk-singers," but the scoop is that the refreshment stand will be turned into a Boutique.

NEW OFFICE—The J. L. Hudson Real Estate company of Plymouth opened a Northville office this week. It's located on the corner of Main and Wing streets. Flanking owner J. L. Hudson are Andrew Birlheimer (left), salesman, and C. A. Smith, who will manage the local office. Smith formerly owned Marquette Realty in Novi.

Welch at Calhoun's

Ed Welch, a former Northville city councilman and resident of South Wing Street, is now employed as a salesman at Leo Calhoun Ford in Plymouth.

The new Calhoun agency is located at 41001 Plymouth Road.

from the Pastor's Study

Rev. Charles F. Boeger
St. Paul's Lutheran, Northville

An outdoor bulletin board in front of a church had a catchy question: "Does God seem farther from you than before?" Beneath these words was another question in smaller print: "Who has moved?"

Who has moved when God seems farther from us than He once did? Most people blame God. They say: "God left me. He isn't interested in me as He once was. When I pray, He doesn't even listen, let alone answer."

That's an odd way to talk about God. If there's one thing His Word tells us about Him, it's this—God doesn't move; He doesn't change. He tells us through the prophet Malachi: "I the Lord do not change."

Many people in the Bible had to learn this the hard way. As a boy, David faced the giant Goliath without running because he trusted that God was with him and would help him. But a few years later David murdered and stole and in other ways often failed to act like God's child. Who had changed? God? No, God continued to love David and brought him back to faith and obedience.

What about Peter? Remember him saying to Christ: "If the world denies You, I will not deny You." Yet a little while later, when a young woman said: "You are one of His disciples," Peter cursed and swore, denying that he ever knew Jesus. Quite a change—for Peter. But God didn't change. He loved Peter and forgave him.

God always loves and cares for us, too. He never leaves us even for an instant. If we ever feel that God is far away from us and that He is no longer our Father, the problem is not with God. He wants to be God and Father to each of us. Who moves away? We do! We refuse to believe He is there with His unfailing mercy, forgiveness, and help.

Let's ask God to keep us faithful, always leaning on Him. He is always near and can be leaned on. "The eternal God is your Dwelling Place, and underneath are the everlasting arms"

Orchard Hills Baptist Plans Bible School, Film

Plans for a two-week vacation Bible school and for the showing of a dramatic documentary motion picture concerning Christian struggle behind the Iron Curtain were announced this week by Orchard Hills Baptist Church.

The vacation Bible school will begin Monday, June 17 and continue through June 28 for children ages 3 through 16. It will include Bible study, worship, creative activity, recreation and refreshments. Five separate departments will be staffed to gear the school for each age group.

The tuition free school will begin each day at 9 a.m. and conclude at noon.

Preparation day will be held tomorrow (Friday) at 9 a.m. Boys and girls are invited to attend Friday to get acquainted and preview Bible school plans. Persons needing transportation are asked to call either 340-9904 or 349-1848.

The film, "Through Blood and Fire" will be shown at Orchard Hills Baptist Church, located at 23455 Novi Road, at 7 p.m. Sunday.

Portions of the full-color motion picture were filmed secretly in Russia and in other Iron Curtain countries in the Rev. Harlan Popov's own unforgettable story of 13 years of brutal Communist torture and imprisonment.

The public is invited to attend the exclusive showing in this area.

God's World: Cleary Graduates Are in Demand

"God's World Wide Family" is the theme of the vacation Bible School planned by the First Methodist Church of Northville beginning next week.

To be held for children ages 4 to the sixth grade, the school will begin Monday, June 17 and continue through Friday, June 28. Times are 9 a.m. to 11:30 p.m.

Attention June Graduates
Summer Term Starts June 24, 1968
Fall Term Starts September 23, 1968

It's not too soon to enroll for summer or fall of 1968. If you can begin classes in the summer you can get a head start on your future career. Because you graduate one term ahead of the larger June classes, you can enter the business world with less competition and have a better choice of jobs. Reserve your courses now at hours to suit your schedule and requirements.

Day and Evening Classes—8 a.m. through 3 p.m. daily; evening class hours available Monday through Friday for one, two or three nights a week.

BALLOON FLIGHT OVER THE FINSTERAARHORN

Six Travel Films Scheduled Rotary Club Plans Another Armchair World Adventure

Northville "armchair travelers" will roam from "The Atlantic Coast" and "The Canadian Far West" to "Adventures in Switzerland" and "Windjammer to Australia" in the eighth season of Travel and Adventure Series sponsored by the Northville Rotary club.

Six well-known travel experts are scheduled for the 1968-69 series to be given at 8 p.m. Wednesday or Thursday evenings monthly from October through April, excluding December, at the Northville High School auditorium.

An innovation this season, Rotary Chairman Robert Webber announces, is a special rate of 50 cents a lecture for students. Adult tickets for the entire series are $6. Tickets may be purchased from any Rotarian or at Manufacturers National Bank branch, C. Harold Bloom Insurance Agency, Northville Camera Shop, Northville Drug Company, or Northville Insurance Agency.

Robert Brouwer, who will speak and show an unusual film story, "Spring Captures Holland," will open the series Wednesday, October 23. Using three screens, several projectors and hi-fidelity stereo music, he will take his audience on a springtime tour of Holland which will include the Keukenhof Gardens—the Dutch bulb growers showcase—tourist towns of Marken and Volendam, fishing villages, canal towns and rural scenes as well as the main cities of Amsterdam and Rotterdam.

Dick Reddy follows Thursday, November 21, with "Adventures in Switzerland." He has made a

Wayne County Receives Grant

Wayne County has received a $31,666 federal grant to help finance initial development of a county master plan.

The grant will be used in a six-month study which will lay the groundwork for development of a comprehensive master plan to guide Wayne County government in establishing programs and setting priorities.

"The master plan will indicate how we can best relate county programs to the plans and needs of the local communities," said County Planning Director Francis P. Bennett, who will direct the study.

Award of the grant from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development was announced in Washington by Senator Philip Hart. The study will cost a total of $47,500, with the county contributing $15,834 in services.

James W. Metcalf concludes the series Thursday, April 10, with "Wings to the Bahamas." The wings are the private aircraft from which visits are made to the Bahama Island off Florida's east coast.

Beginning just 55 miles off the U. S. Mainland, 800 exotic tropical islands dot the Atlantic for an area of 4400 square miles. Here Columbus discovered the New Worlds and a boisterous, fascinating history was in the making before the Pilgrims landed on Plymouth Rock. With Metcalf today's tourist will see such sights as natives trimming sponges in Nassau market.

All the travel pictures are in color and narrated by the photographic artists themselves.

Proceeds from the Rotary club series will be used in the club's community projects.

GM Promotes Frederick Schwarze Youths Beat Hitchhiker In Novi Friday

The promotions of George B. Morris, Jr., to director of labor relations of General Motors and Frederick H. Schwarze of Northville to assistant director of labor relations were announced last week by Louis G. Seaton, GM vice president in charge of the personnel staff.

Morris, who has been manager of the Labor Relations Staff since February, 1966, succeeds Earl R. Bramblett who Monday was elected a vice president of General Motors and named executive assistant to Mr. Seaton.

Born in Detroit, February 26, 1917, Morris joined GM in 1941 as assistant supervisor of labor relations at Fisher Body's Pontiac plant following graduation from Notre Dame University with degrees in arts and law.

In June, 1942, he was promoted to the Fisher Body Central Office at Detroit as one of the four original members of the Division's industrial relations section which was then being organized.

Morris was appointed to the staff of the Vice President in charge of the Personnel Staff in March of 1948, where he has handled arbitration cases with all of the unions with which GM does business and has been a key member of GM's bargaining team in every subsequent round of bargaining with the United Automobile Workers. Additionally, he has responsibility for day-to-day contract administration.

Schwarze has been responsible for the General Motors arbitration

County Forum Set in Oakland

A "Candidate Information Committee" has been formed by the Oakland County Homeowners and Taxpayers Association, it was announced this week by President Glenn Swindler.

The purpose of the committee, formed at the request of members in the southern part of the county, is to learn about candidates who are seeking positions on the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

Announced candidates for the Board of Supervisors will be sent questionnaires. They are asked to contact the organization at Post Office Box 212, Lake Orion, Michigan 48035.

As he did so, the youths began beating him with their fists and kicking him into unconsciousness. About 5 a.m., he regained consciousness, found himself in a barn, and then made his way to a nearby home for help.

The case was to be turned over to State Police for further investigation.

Every Olds is a step-up car—even when it's in the low-price range.

Sure, you know Olds is a step-up car. But we'll bet you didn't know Olds step-ups start down where most of the so-called low-priced cars are found. That's our problem. Too few people know how modest Olds prices are. Fact is, they start at $2512—and we have 16 Olds models under $3000. There are at least that many so-called low-priced cars priced over $3000. So, if you'd like to step up a little from what you're driving now—we've got an Olds for what you are willing to spend.

THIS IS OLDSMOBILE'S SWINGING NEW CUTLASS S. $2632.*

McNally has been Dean of Student Affairs at Schoolcraft since July, 1966, and served as Assistant Dean of Student Affairs from 1963 until 1966.

A resident of Livonia (29550 Robert Drive), McNally was born in Guttenberg, N.J., and received his B.A. degree from Seton Hall University from which he was graduated with high honors. He received an M.A. degree from the University of Minnesota.

Prior to joining the Schoolcraft College staff, McNally was an English Instructor at Delta College and at Bay City Junior College where he was also baseball coach.

He is a member of the American Personnel and Guidance Association, the American College Personnel Association, and the Michigan Personnel and Guidance Association. He is a member of the Livonia YMCA Board of Management.

Schoolcraft College has received grants totaling $13,200 from the U.S. Office of Education under the Educational Opportunities Grant program of financial assistance to college students, it has been announced by Dr. Eric J. Bradner, president of the college.

One grant provides federal funding assistance for students applying for EOC assistance for the first time during the academic year that begins July 1. A second grant provides $4,500 for second-year assistance to enable qualified students to continue their work at Schoolcraft College.

The funds are administered through the Office of Student Affairs at the college.

Three poems by David W. Perkins, English instructor at Schoolcraft College, have been published in the spring issue of Epoch, a literary journal published by Cornell University.

The poems are "The Phoenix," "An Old Plum Tree, Newly Pruned" and "In The Rare Book Room." Perkins has been a member of the Schoolcraft College faculty since 1964.

He received his B.A. degree from Montana State University, and his M.A. degree from The University of Michigan.

Presidential Primaries Not New to Michigan

LANSING—With presidential primaries holding the national and international spotlight, talk about reviving Michigan's presidential primary is again making the rounds.

Michigan abandoned presidential primaries some 40 years ago.

Those favoring such a law, including some political scientists argue that the presidential primary gives voters a voice in the selection of candidates.

Winning candidates would select a list of delegates to represent them at their parties' national conventions.

If Michigan adopted such a law, it would be going back to a system which prevailed in this state through four presidential elections—from 1916 through 1928.

The Michigan legislature passed a presidential primary law in 1912. It was repealed in 1931.

Some illustrious names from the political past were entered in Michigan's four presidential primary elections, including Henry Ford, founder of the Ford Motor Company, and former President Herbert Hoover.

Curiously, Ford and Hoover ran on both Democratic and Republican tickets at various times in Michigan.

Ford won the Republican primary in 1924. But he failed to gain the nomination of either party.

Hoover won the Democratic primary in Michigan in 1920 and the Republican primary in 1928, when he was elected President.

In three out of four instances during Michigan's presidential primary

Under a law proposed last year, the secretary of state would issue a list of presidential primary candidates after observing "individuals considered by the national press to be potential candidates for each party's nomination."

Those named would appear on the primary ballots for each party. No candidate would be permitted to withdraw unless he filed an affidavit stating that he was not a candidate.

Candidates listed would run in a presidential primary to be held the first Tuesday in April.

The solution to summer heat may be right at your feet. All you need to do is cool and dry the air in your home.

If you have a forced air heating system, you have ductwork. And a furnace blower. So you're already moving and filtering air.

That's a big part of an electric central air conditioning system. All that's left is to cool the air and bring the steamy dampness out.

Add two compact units—cooling coil and condenser—and presto, your heating system becomes a cooling system too. A system that cools, dehu-midifies, cleans and quiets your home. For less money.

That's right. Electric air conditioning costs less to buy, less to install, less to operate than the flame type.

Electric cooling works efficiently, like your refrigerator. Cools a 1,200-square-foot house for as little as $24.00 per season.

Call an air conditioning contractor, right away. He'll give you a free estimate and show you how electric central air conditioning is well within your reach.

Novi Justice Court

Three Southfield youths, arrested at Sixteen Road and Grand River, were fined in Novi Justice Court on June 6 for being minors in possession of alcoholic beverage. Each pleaded guilty.

Michael W. Brown, 18, and William E. Richardson, 19, were fined $35 and $10 costs in lieu of 10-day jail sentences and June M. Watson, 20, received a $25 fine.

Other court action included: Fined $15 and $3 cost for being a disorderly person was Earl M. Bacon of Sacramento, California. He pleaded guilty.

Alfred R. Green of Brighton paid a $10 fine for driving with an expired operator's license at Novi Road and Grand River, and he also was fined $10 for making an unsafe start at the intersection. He pleaded guilty to both charges.

For failure to stop for the highway at 44486 Grand River, Ernest C. Tadderson of Farmington was fined $10 upon pleading guilty.

A $35 fine, $15 court costs and six-months probation were handed down to Kathleen A. McFall of 57951 Grand River for fraud involving an illegal check. She pleaded guilty.

Upon pleading guilty of driving without an operator's license, Lee R. Mullins of 128 Mauldin was fined $35 and $15 court costs in lieu of a 15-day jail sentence.

Fined $30 for violation of the Novi village zoning law was Fred Thompson, 1160 Wanda. He pleaded guilty of the charge growing out of a violation at the Hydromation Engineering company, 42300 Nine Mile Road.

James J. Baker of Wayne was fined $35 upon pleading guilty of being a disorderly person on Grand River near Beck.

Official Minutes of the Northville City Council

May 21, 1968
 The regular meeting of the Northville City Council was called to order by Mayor Allen at 8 P.M., Tuesday, May 21, 1968 at the Northville City Hall.
 Present: Allen, Black, Lapham, Nichols
 Excused: Carlson—joined meeting at 9:30 P.M.
 Minutes of May 6th meeting read. Correction on third page regarding Public Hearing on Fair Housing—minutes read "July 3, 1968" for Public Hearing, whereas it should read "June 3, 1968". Minutes stand approved as corrected.
 Bills were explained by City Manager. Moved by Nichols, supported by Black, to approve bills in the following amounts:
Other Government Fund—$116,325.03
 General Fund—$18,294.16
 Water Fund—$1,399.58
 Ayes: Allen, Black, Lapham, Nichols
 Unanimously carried.
COMMUNICATIONS:
 City Manager read letter from Mr. Powell, State Representative, stating bill establishing a State Boundary Commission has a good chance of passing.
 City Manager read letter commendng Officers Pankow and Bauckma for the manner in which they handled an accident call.

 City Manager read note stating contractor should be complimented on the restoration of property in connection with the Grace Street water line.
 Mr. Adams, 960 Allen Drive, referred to May 6th Council meeting regarding Hill Street park area and stated at that meeting all but 3 gentlemen identified themselves; these three were not requested to do so. Mayor Allen apologized for the oversight.
CONVENIENT SHOPPING CENTER:
 Following residents were present and requested a progress report which was given by City Manager: Mr. Robert, Wm. R. Milligan and Robert Carr. City Attorney has notified the owners that we intend to take whatever action he feels is necessary to have certain requirements met. Following discussion of green belt standards, the residents were advised to meet with the Planning Commission.
BOARD AND COMMISSION MINUTES:
 There were no questions on minutes of Zoning Board of Appeals meeting May 1st; also Planning Commission meeting of May 7th.
NORTHVILLE POLICE DEPARTMENT REPORT accepted as reported.

PUBLIC HEARING FOR CITY OF NORTHVILLE 1968-69 BUDGET:
 Sid Frid, 956 Grace Street, made the statement that Township Police Budget is about nil and questioned why City Police answer calls in the township. City Manager stated that City Police are not to answer any calls in the township except in a limited case for the protection of the fire department on a heavily travelled road.
 City Manager read letter from citizen John Canterbury. Mr. Canterbury referred to the proposal to increase property tax rate by more than 4% on our increased assessed valuation. Mr. Canterbury finished his letter with the sincere hope that the City Council would find a way at this meeting to reduce the proposed tax levy as far as they could.
 City Manager gave a report on the uses of proposed new revenue and stated that every item had been carefully studied.
 Mr. Gross, 625 Novi, questioned the $40,000 salary for one new police officer, 2 DPW workers and 1 1/2 clerical help. City Manager stated average employee cost is just under $10,000 including overtime, fringe benefits, etc.
 Motion by Black supported by Nichols to accept the budget and levy taxes as published for public hearing.
 Ayes: Allen, Black, Lapham, Nichols

Nays: None
FISH HATCHERY PURCHASE AUTHORIZATION:
 A lengthy discussion followed on the purchase at 50% or 16,375 and have it remain the property of the Government. City Manager reported that property can be purchased in the future at 50% of the then assessed valuation less the rent allowed for the time we have occupied it. This property is strictly for recreational purposes. Board Member Nichols is not in agreement with purchasing it at 50% and thus having it remain the property of the Government.
 Motion by Black, supported by Lapham, that we purchase the Fish Hatchery property at 50% or $16,375.00 as GSA has offered.
 Ayes: Black, Lapham, Carlson, Allen
 Nays: Nichols
 Motion carried.
NORTHVILLE POLICE OFFICERS' ASSOCIATION CONTRACT:
 City Manager stated new contract has been approved by Police Officers' Association subject to Council's approval.
 Motion by Black, supported by Lapham, that we approve the contract and that Mayor Allen be authorized to sign same.
 Ayes: Black, Lapham, Nichols

police are required to call an ambulance. It was agreed that if after 90 days Mr. Caterline is unable to collect the fee, the City will assume the bill and will make an attempt to collect from the individual. Each bill have to be approved by the Council.
 Motion by Lapham, supported by Nichols that we agree to the above conditions.
 Ayes: Black, Nichols, Lapham, Allen
 Nays: None
 Passed unanimously.
 Transfer of ownership of 1965 Class C and SDM licenses at 111-113 W. Main St. from John Asimacopoulos to Theodore T. Tomosovich was then taken up. Mr. Tomosovich and wife were present in their behalf. Due consideration was given to Mr. Tomosovich's violation of Ordinance H-63-6, Sec. 8.1, 8.2 and 8.6 (Gambling) on which defendant was found guilty on 9-23-65; also the fact that gambling is an item which must be closely guarded in Northville.
 Motion by Black, supported by Nichols, that the petition to transfer ownership of Class C and SDM licenses at 111-113 W. Main St., Northville, from John Asimacopoulos to Theodore T. Tomosovich be denied.
 Ayes: Black, Nichols, Carlson, Allen
 Nays: None
 Abstained: Lapham, on unanimous agreement of remaining Council members.
 Passed unanimously.
 Harold Penn, City Engineer, was present and submitted plans on Taft Road and estimated cost.
 There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned at 11:45 P.M.
 NEXT REGULAR MEETING MONDAY, JUNE 17, 1968.
 Respectfully submitted,
 Hilda Boyer

They and their neighbors live on Lakeside Drive, just east of Phoenix Lake.
 The Fitches first became interested in Mexico as tourists years ago. After several exciting archeological excursions into Southern Mexico and Central America, they decided they'd like to provide some kind of dental care for the remote areas of Mexico which have no dentists.
 So with that in mind, Dr. and Mrs. Fitch loaded their Piper Tri-Pacer plane with as many supplies as they could handle and set off for Mexico in May of 1966.
 They set up their headquarters in the student center of their own church—the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints—at Saltillo. From there, in the company of a missionary, the Rev. Rodney Northrup, they traveled into four remote villages south of Saltillo.
 It was a thrilling experience, they recalled, filled with heart-tugging incidents involving poor but independent and appreciative adults and children, many of whom sought out the "healing" of a doctor for the first time in their lives.
 "They came to us, voluntarily, with all kinds of diseases, even though we were equipped with but the barest essentials for treatment of teeth. About all we could do—and about all we'll be able to do this time—was to pull teeth and pass out medicine for mouth diseases."
 The Fitches quickly learned that these people are not looking nor will they accept handouts. They insisted on paying, so the Northville couple—out of necessity, charged token fees ("maybe 25 cents") just to satisfy their patients. In some cases, though barely able to survive off the land, the Mexicans of Indian and Spanish ancestry offered food as payment.
 Sleeping in sleeping bags and traveled in to the bush country of Honduras, Central America, about 80 miles from San Pedro Sula. Their trip was even more rugged than the one they're on now. They spent seven days of continuous work, walking for miles in mud and, in one case, they were forced to ford a swollen five-mile wide lake to reach an even poorer, more isolated people.

 "We had one banner day," laughed Mrs. Fitch, "213 extractions!"
 This summer the Fitches are going crude. They've taken with them a modern but dependable dental chair and portable drill that operates off an equally portable generator, and, of course, their new assistants. They and their Northville companions will experience the same living conditions, however—sleeping under the sky, eating food from cans, and enjoying only a few changes of clothes.
 "We'll be living out of the station wagon," said Dr. Fitch, who practices dentistry in Plymouth.
 This year the cost of Dr. Fitch's project will be partially underwritten by the Plymouth Kiwanis Club of which he is a member. It'll represent the club's international relations' project. As in the past, however, most of the cost will come out of the doctor's pocketbook. "Really, we don't mind at all. It's our way of spending a good vacation."
 This year's itinerary calls for this unusual dental team to arrive in Saltillo on Sunday. They'll leave Saltillo, after volunteer dental work at the student center, on June 22 and drive 160 miles over the roadless countryside to set up their primitive clinic. With them will go cartons of donated medicine and piles of trinkets for the children. They'll spend three full days in the area—and "if we're lucky" they'll sleep one night in an old schoolhouse. They'll arrive back at Saltillo on June 25.
 "How do you know the people will be waiting?" Dr. Fitch was asked. "No worry about that," he replied. "The word's already out: 'the doctor is coming!' We've already been told the people are waiting."

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING TUESDAY, JULY 2, 1968 NORTHVILLE CITY HALL

The Planning Commission on their own motion will consider the amending of Paragraph B of Section 3A.01 of Article III-A, and Section 13 A.04 of Article XIII-A, respectively to read as follows:
3-A.01B Public, parochial, private and nursery schools, churches, community buildings, community hospitals, municipal facilities, municipal parks and playgrounds, with the prior approval of all the above uses by the City Planning Commission and in accordance with Article XIII-A.
13-A.04 PURPOSE. The purpose of site plans and architectural approval is to determine compliance with this ordinance and to promote the orderly development of the City of Northville, the stability of land values and investments and the general welfare, and to help prevent the impairment of depreciation of land values and development by the erection, addition or alteration of structures in improper locations, and without proper attention to siting, or to unsightly, undesirable or obnoxious appearance.
 Please take notice that a Public Hearing will be held on the above changes to the Text of the Zoning Ordinance at the time and place specified above.
 This notice is given pursuant to the provisions of Section 4, Act 207, of Public Acts of Michigan for 1921, as amended.
 George Zerbel, Chairman
 Northville City Planning Commission

CITY OF NORTHVILLE ORDINANCE # 143

THE FOLLOWING ORDINANCE, WHICH WAS ADOPTED BY THE NORTHVILLE CITY COUNCIL AT ITS REGULAR MEETING OF JUNE 3, 1968 IS HEREBY RE-PRINTED, IN SUMMARY FORM:
 An Ordinance prohibiting discrimination in the sale, rental, or lease of housing accommodations, or living quarters of any sort within the City of Northville; prohibiting discrimination in lending transactions; prohibiting discrimination by real estate brokers or salesmen; prohibiting discrimination in the terms and privileges of such transactions; publication indicating certain preference prohibited; providing certain exceptions with reference thereto; inducement of violations of provisions of ordinance prohibited; prohibiting the making of false claims or substantially misleading statements to the authority charged with enforcement of this ordinance; and providing penalties for the violations hereof.
 This ordinance shall become operative and effective when adopted, but may be made null and void by referendum vote of a majority of the electors voting in a referendum election thereon which shall be held upon filing with the clerk a referendatory petition, addressed to the Council, signed by not less than 250 registered electors of the City as of the date of filing the petition which signatures shall have been obtained within twenty-one (21) days before the date of filing of the petition.

Volunteer Dental Team on the Way Mexican Toothaches Awaiting Northville Remedy

Today, somewhere in the hills of Mexico's isolated scrub-bush country, some painful toothaches are awaiting the arrival of a special Northville Township remedy—called Dr. and Mrs. Gerald H. Fitch.
 The Fitches, joined this summer by their neighbors Mrs. William (Lois) McAllister and her teenage daughter, Karen, left Northville Wednesday in a bulging station wagon on their annual volunteer dental expedition into Mexico.
 Hardened to the rigors of the hills and the elements and already brimming with the satisfaction that goes with this annual dental project, the Fitches this year expect to get their biggest kicks "out of watching the reactions of Lois and Karen."
 "It's sure to be an experience of a lifetime for them—just like it was on our first trip," predicted Dr. Fitch. "We'll be able to relive those first precious experiences again through them."
 They and their neighbors live on Lakeside Drive, just east of Phoenix Lake.
 The Fitches first became interested in Mexico as tourists years ago. After several exciting archeological excursions into Southern Mexico and Central America, they decided they'd like to provide some kind of dental care for the remote areas of Mexico which have no dentists.
 So with that in mind, Dr. and Mrs. Fitch loaded their Piper Tri-Pacer plane with as many supplies as they could handle and set off for Mexico in May of 1966.
 They set up their headquarters in the student center of their own church—the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints—at Saltillo. From there, in the company of a missionary, the Rev. Rodney Northrup, they traveled into four remote villages south of Saltillo.
 It was a thrilling experience, they recalled, filled with heart-tugging incidents involving poor but independent and appreciative adults and children, many of whom sought out the "healing" of a doctor for the first time in their lives.
 "They came to us, voluntarily, with all kinds of diseases, even though we were equipped with but the barest essentials for treatment of teeth. About all we could do—and about all we'll be able to do this time—was to pull teeth and pass out medicine for mouth diseases."
 The Fitches quickly learned that these people are not looking nor will they accept handouts. They insisted on paying, so the Northville couple—out of necessity, charged token fees ("maybe 25 cents") just to satisfy their patients. In some cases, though barely able to survive off the land, the Mexicans of Indian and Spanish ancestry offered food as payment.
 Sleeping in sleeping bags and traveled in to the bush country of Honduras, Central America, about 80 miles from San Pedro Sula. Their trip was even more rugged than the one they're on now. They spent seven days of continuous work, walking for miles in mud and, in one case, they were forced to ford a swollen five-mile wide lake to reach an even poorer, more isolated people.

 "We had one banner day," laughed Mrs. Fitch, "213 extractions!"
 This summer the Fitches are going crude. They've taken with them a modern but dependable dental chair and portable drill that operates off an equally portable generator, and, of course, their new assistants. They and their Northville companions will experience the same living conditions, however—sleeping under the sky, eating food from cans, and enjoying only a few changes of clothes.
 "We'll be living out of the station wagon," said Dr. Fitch, who practices dentistry in Plymouth.
 This year the cost of Dr. Fitch's project will be partially underwritten by the Plymouth Kiwanis Club of which he is a member. It'll represent the club's international relations' project. As in the past, however, most of the cost will come out of the doctor's pocketbook. "Really, we don't mind at all. It's our way of spending a good vacation."
 This year's itinerary calls for this unusual dental team to arrive in Saltillo on Sunday. They'll leave Saltillo, after volunteer dental work at the student center, on June 22 and drive 160 miles over the roadless countryside to set up their primitive clinic. With them will go cartons of donated medicine and piles of trinkets for the children. They'll spend three full days in the area—and "if we're lucky" they'll sleep one night in an old schoolhouse. They'll arrive back at Saltillo on June 25.
 "How do you know the people will be waiting?" Dr. Fitch was asked. "No worry about that," he replied. "The word's already out: 'the doctor is coming!' We've already been told the people are waiting."

Today, somewhere in the hills of Mexico's isolated scrub-bush country, some painful toothaches are awaiting the arrival of a special Northville Township remedy—called Dr. and Mrs. Gerald H. Fitch.
 The Fitches, joined this summer by their neighbors Mrs. William (Lois) McAllister and her teenage daughter, Karen, left Northville Wednesday in a bulging station wagon on their annual volunteer dental expedition into Mexico.
 Hardened to the rigors of the hills and the elements and already brimming with the satisfaction that goes with this annual dental project, the Fitches this year expect to get their biggest kicks "out of watching the reactions of Lois and Karen."
 "It's sure to be an experience of a lifetime for them—just like it was on our first trip," predicted Dr. Fitch. "We'll be able to relive those first precious experiences again through them."
 They and their neighbors live on Lakeside Drive, just east of Phoenix Lake.
 The Fitches first became interested in Mexico as tourists years ago. After several exciting archeological excursions into Southern Mexico and Central America, they decided they'd like to provide some kind of dental care for the remote areas of Mexico which have no dentists.
 So with that in mind, Dr. and Mrs. Fitch loaded their Piper Tri-Pacer plane with as many supplies as they could handle and set off for Mexico in May of 1966.
 They set up their headquarters in the student center of their own church—the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints—at Saltillo. From there, in the company of a missionary, the Rev. Rodney Northrup, they traveled into four remote villages south of Saltillo.
 It was a thrilling experience, they recalled, filled with heart-tugging incidents involving poor but independent and appreciative adults and children, many of whom sought out the "healing" of a doctor for the first time in their lives.
 "They came to us, voluntarily, with all kinds of diseases, even though we were equipped with but the barest essentials for treatment of teeth. About all we could do—and about all we'll be able to do this time—was to pull teeth and pass out medicine for mouth diseases."
 The Fitches quickly learned that these people are not looking nor will they accept handouts. They insisted on paying, so the Northville couple—out of necessity, charged token fees ("maybe 25 cents") just to satisfy their patients. In some cases, though barely able to survive off the land, the Mexicans of Indian and Spanish ancestry offered food as payment.
 Sleeping in sleeping bags and traveled in to the bush country of Honduras, Central America, about 80 miles from San Pedro Sula. Their trip was even more rugged than the one they're on now. They spent seven days of continuous work, walking for miles in mud and, in one case, they were forced to ford a swollen five-mile wide lake to reach an even poorer, more isolated people.

 "We had one banner day," laughed Mrs. Fitch, "213 extractions!"
 This summer the Fitches are going crude. They've taken with them a modern but dependable dental chair and portable drill that operates off an equally portable generator, and, of course, their new assistants. They and their Northville companions will experience the same living conditions, however—sleeping under the sky, eating food from cans, and enjoying only a few changes of clothes.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

The swift action by President Johnson following the latest Kennedy tragedy in calling for a commission to study the causes of violence in our nation seems entirely appropriate and necessary.

When the President asks what it is in our nature that moves us to violence, he poses a question that promises to hold many answers.

Why are the seeds of hatred so easily planted, so fertile? The findings of the latest Presidential commission may well be the basis for a new approach to many old American customs.

But whatever the recommendations, we have known the answer for centuries. It's the application to our daily lives that presents the difficulty.

While Novi and South Lyon voters were approving school millage requests Monday, Northville's two-mill bid lost by the narrow margin of 14 votes.

There are many disturbing aspects to the Northville election. First, only 20 per cent of the registered voters voted. Secondly, the closeness of the vote and the apparent need for the funds makes it almost a certainty that another election will be held next month on the same question.

Finally, it's unfortunate that one candidate for the board used a tactic in opposing the millage that went unchallenged. It must be assumed that at least some voters were persuaded by the argument.

But let all Northville school district voters be assured of this fact: county and state tax authorities have declared that our district is assessed at the 50-per-cent level as prescribed by law.

The truth of this statement is proven by our equalization factor, which is "one". If our assessments were not up to the level required by the state, then we would be penalized by a factor of 1.2 or 1.5, or whatever would be necessary to hike assessments to 50 per cent.

Recommending an increase in assessments to gain more operating millage would cost taxpayers much more than a tax hike of two mills for schools, mainly because the new assessments would also be used for all other taxes, such as city, county and township.

Further, and more important, it would remove from the taxpayer citizen the right to vote for or against a tax hike.

Increasing assessments is an easy method of raising taxes without asking the public.

Some councilmembers are reportedly having second thoughts about burning down the huge fish hatchery building. In fact, firemen have been told it will not be burned down.

It's news to City Manager Frank Ollendorf, who will still recommend destruction of the building. He reports estimates of between $30,000 and $40,000 to make the building safe for public use.

Novi's missing a great show—and it's really too bad.

The basis for a new government is in the making at Novi but so far the action of the newly elected city charter commission appears to be of little interest to the community's citizens. In the first two weeks of its existence only one private citizen has bothered to attend the commission's public meetings.

Meetings are held each Thursday at 8:30 p.m. in the Novi Village Council Chambers.

Apparently, Bewitched, Dragnet and Peyton Place are too entrenched. That's unfortunate because none of them are as interesting nor as exciting. And there's no commercials.

Here is grass roots government at work—the kind of stuff so many of us complain is being eaten out of our society by big government. But we complain after the fact, not before.

College students returning home for the summer and high school students, for that matter, would do well to audit the governmental process underway at Novi. It may not be as much fun as drag racing, hopping from drive-in, or invading administrative offices but it's safer and a whole lot more educational.

In the wake of last week's tragedy, some of my friends questioned the validity of the statement that we are a "sick nation" guilty of assassination. I do not. And I don't think we need a commission to tell us why. We need only look at the breakdown in the family to find the answer.

For years the professionals have cautioned against too much parental control and influence over our children. Don't stifle individualism lest you mar initiative and creativity, let your children express themselves, give them a role in determining parental decisions, and above all, don't spank them.

Hogwash! It's this kind of parental permissiveness that says "maybe the other kid did it but certainly not mine," that dictates leniency in our elementary and secondary schools and forces teachers to turn their cheeks, that supports storming of college administrative offices, and that spawns the crime in our streets.

The only problem with my peculiar philosophy is that I'm probably meeting out sufficient justice with my own youngsters to make up for the lack of it elsewhere. As a matter of fact, the topic so inflames me I think I'll go home and get in a lickin' or two just to be on the safe side.

Here's Bouquet For the Gal

To The Editor: I was privileged to have attended the Northville High School G.A.L. banquet given by the cheerleaders.

It was truly wonderful to see the relationship between the girls and their sponsors. Both Miss Bubel and Miss Dorrain are to be commended for their time and effort they have contributed in making this organization so successful.

I shall never regret the after-school trips between home and the high school gym after seeing the wonderful results.

I am sure each Senior G.A.L. Member will leave with regrets but will take with them only the fondest of memories I know for I, too, have been a G.A.L. member.

Mission Impossible?

- I'm looking for: -a gasoline station attendant who wipes the windshields clean, front and back, and won't let gas run over when the tank's full. -a store clerk who really cares whether I find what I want. -a businessman who smiles whether I buy or not. -a conscientious technician who really fixes my broken mower. -a driver who drives with care. -a garbage man who replaces the lid. -a neighbor who controls his pet. -an elected official who doesn't politick. -a newspaper that gets things right. -people who take pride in doing a complete job. -a community of responsible citizens. -the end to violence. -the end to stupid prejudice. -people with compassion and understanding. -a world without hatred. -a world without war.

'Gun Nuts', Not Guns Disturb Him

To The Editor: The time has come to shout "Arouse and Beware" for once again, the gun nuts are abroad in the land. Let me define a gun nut as one of the minor, but irritating, brand of bleeding heart liberals who insist upon solving people problems by attacking things. To get rid of political assassinations is simple, they conclude, you stamp out guns. The fact that political assassinations were here at least 4,000 years ahead of gunpowder doesn't seem to bother them a bit. These same people would solve a host of problems in this simple fashion (for example: to get rid of slum people you trot out the bulldozer and eliminate the slums. The theory being that a displaced and homeless bum is somehow less a bum).

I deplore the shooting of public figures, but I cannot logically arrive at the firearm as the villain of the piece. It is only a thing, a thing without life or purpose. It is a tool which can serve or destroy man just as the atom can. If you permit yourselves to be stampeded into outlawing firearms because someone has used one to kill a famous or beloved person, then you must permit me to outlaw the Christian cross on the same grounds.

I would like two separate rights to possess firearms. First, I have the constitutional bill of rights which states clearly that I may keep a firearm. Second, I have a fundamental legal right to protect my person, my loved ones and my possessions. I have observed an alarming tendency of liberal political "vecutives to look the other way during rioting and burning, particularly where decisive action might cost a few minority votes. Can you return any congressman to office who would strip you of these fundamental rights?

The chief gun nut was Senator Dodd (Dem.-Conn.). He can't front for the group any more since he is under censure for showing less concern for property in handling campaign funds than his concern for firearms. I see some evidence that Senator Hart of Michigan is making noises like a gun nut. I would hope that the voters would point out the error of his ways.

Dislikes Track 'Detour'

To The Editor: I would like to express what I think about this one auxiliary policeman Saturday night, 6-1-68. He was trying to direct traffic for the races. I live in Northville and pay taxes to live here. I worked eight hours last Saturday and was stopped for 10 or 15 minutes to allow these race fans to get out of the parking lots. I was traveling north on Sheldon road, but was detoured east to go two miles out of my way to get home. I told this auxiliary policeman I did not live that way and yet he made me turn east and go out of my way to get home.

I believe that they should allow traffic to pass and hold up some of the race fans traffic. They were using my right of way to go north on Sheldon road to let four lanes of traffic to go south and southeast. I ask you if they are more important or privileged than I.

Mr. Cummings Northville Resident

JH Students Praised

To The Editor: I'm writing this letter because I believe I have some information that the people of Northville will be interested to learn. My husband passed away on April 26th after a lengthy illness. He was a math teacher of the Ida B. Cooke Jr. High School. The last day he worked was January 5, 1968. Upon learning that my husband had used all of his "sick pay" project (students) started a fund raising project for him. They sold candy.

Last Wednesday, Mr. Van Ingen, the principal, called on me. He brought three students who had quite a bit to do with the candy sale, with him. They presented me with a sizeable amount—the profits from the candy sale. One of the students had sold eighty-five boxes alone. Realizing all of the time and effort that went into this project, I believe the students at the Ida B. Cooke Jr. High are to be commended. I wish my husband had lived long enough to know what they had done for him, he'd have been so proud—Northville certainly can be proud of their children.

There's Probably a Lobbyist in Your Corner

LANSING—You may not know it, but chances are good that your interests in government are represented by at least one lobbyist. This thought comes as a shock to many, especially those who consider a lobbyist to be a little bit evil.

Lobbyists, who prefer to be called legislative agents—perhaps to avoid the sinister aspect of the older title—are like any other group. Most of them are honorable, hard working gentlemen, trying hard to get their job done. And most of them suffer to some degree because of the reputation of a few.

A very strong lobby, for example, is maintained by educators. Teachers, school boards, school administrators and colleges all have lobbyists at the state Capitol to look out for their interests. So do doctors, lawyers, nurses, insurance men. Farmers are well represented, big labor and big business too. Retail merchants are well represented. Funeral directors, food dealers, churches, movers wine makers real estate people, bankers; you name the group, and chances are you'll find it has a lobbyist. Even state employees have lobbyists. The only group which doesn't have a lobbyist among the 200 registered with the state might be the lobbyists themselves.

Main responsibility of a lobbyist is to protect the interests of the group he represents. He does this by counseling with legislators when legislation is proposed which affects his group. He is expected to supply information about the proposal and the effect it will have. In other words, he states the reasons his group supports or opposes these proposals. Sometimes he can suggest changes which eliminate the damage to his group while permitting other changes to become law.

Because government is somewhat ponderous and confused at times the lobbyist is expected to trace the progress of each proposal affecting his group and keep the group informed.

Legislators depend on lobbyists to reflect attitudes of voters in their own constituencies and to supply information which helps them make wise decisions. Woe comes to the lobbyist whose reputation is blighted by trying little tricks which mislead legislators.

The lobbyist's most important tool is his own integrity. Each one guards this carefully, for once he is labeled as less than dependable, his effectiveness is lost.

Lobbyists, or legislative agents if you prefer, perform an important function in the lawmaking process. If you don't know who your lobbyist is think about it awhile. You probably have several whom you didn't realize existed.

WHETHER OR NOT motorcyclists can be forced by law to "keep their hats on so they won't lose their heads" may be settled by the State Supreme Court.

Attorney General Frank J. Kelley is appealing this question following a decision from the Appeals Court that a 1966 law requiring helmets for those riding motorcycles is unconstitutional. In the meantime, at least one county prosecutor (Ingham) has ordered policemen to arrest anyone riding a motorcycle who is not wearing protective headgear.

The legal point may be decided by the high court. The logic of the law is in safety figures.

According to State Police, there were 8,200 more motorcycles in 1967 than in 1966 and more accidents. But since the law was passed, there have been fewer deaths. In 1966 one death was registered for each 12.8 registered cycles. In 1967, this dropped to one death per 10.4. In 1966, there were 104 killed in cycle accidents; in 1967, when there were more vehicles, the death toll dropped to 86.

Tips For Returning Servicemen

BABSON PARK, Massachusetts—June 13. The end of the Vietnam war is not yet in sight. But even now, thousands of servicemen (and women) are returning to civilian life each month. If you have relatives or friends due to be discharged, or if you are an employer, you should know what Uncle Sam is doing to help these veterans.

All vets who were employed before entering service have 90 days after discharge to apply for restoration to their old jobs. If you know any returning serviceman who is having trouble getting his old job back—and this is not uncommon, especially in small companies whose owners or managers just don't understand what the law requires of them—tell the vet to contact the nearest Veterans Re-employment Rights Office of the U.S. Department of Labor for assistance.

Vets who worked for Uncle Sam before going into service, or who would like to work for him now, should contact their local U.S. Civil Service Commission Office. Note that the Federal Veterans Preference Act accords former servicemen priority on government jobs for which they qualify. Many states give a similar break to vets qualifying for state civil service jobs. In addition, President Johnson has empowered federal agencies to hire vets for some government jobs without requiring competitive examinations.

ALL VETERANS who have had more than 180 days of active service, or who have been discharged for service-connected disabilities, are entitled to one month's schooling for each month of active-duty service, for a total of no more than 36 months' schooling. Such instruction may be taken at any public or private secondary school; vocational, correspondence, or business school; junior college, normal school, or teacher's college; college or university; professional, scientific, or technical institution.

The Veterans Administration administers this program. Government help amounts to $130 per month for a single vet in a full-time educational pursuit. With one dependent, the total rises to $155, with two to $175. Assistance for each dependent after the first two is $10 monthly. Not widely known is the fact that veterans may receive a monthly allowance if they choose to take farm co-operative training comprising institutional agricultural courses plus related work on the farm. For a single vet, the allowance is $105 per month; $145 for a vet with two dependents, $7 for each additional dependent.

All discharged military personnel possess a most important asset in their Servicemen's Group Life Insurance policy. This protection is continued for 120 days after they leave the service. If not converted to a commercial-type policy within that period it lapses. So, if you have a query about GI insurance, don't guess, or be content with partial answers. Get in touch directly with the Servicemen's Group Life Insurance, 212 Washington Street, Newark, New Jersey.

MOST OF US are aware that vets have 10 years from discharge date to get a VA-guaranteed home or farm loan. But many do not realize that, to this 10-year, an extra year is added for each three months of active duty. Loans are made by private lenders with VA guarantee. For homes, the guarantee ceiling is now $7,500, or 60% of the loan (whichever is less); for farm real estate other than acquiring a home, the ceiling is $4,000, or 50% of the loan. Legislation is now pending in Congress to raise these guarantee ceilings.

VA disburses disability compensation on a monthly basis to vets who have incurred wounds in line of duty, or who have suffered injuries or contracted diseases while in service. Such payments range from $21 to $850 per month. All through life, veterans are also entitled to full care in VA hospitals at no cost for service-connected disabilities; and for treatment of non-service-connected illnesses when beds are available and they can certify they are unable to pay for hospital care elsewhere. For complete, up-to-date information on total possible benefits, contact your local VA office.

If you'd like to save some money, you'll be interested in Direct Distance Dialing. It's a more economical way to call Long Distance because direct dialed calls are all Station-to-Station instead of Person-to-Person.

It's easy, too. Just dial "1", then the Area Code, if it's different from your own, and the number you want. For an idea of how much you can save, here's an example. A 3-minute Person-to-Person call between Detroit and Chicago costs $1.30 at the day rate. Dial direct and the cost is only 85¢.

Northville Library Plans Story Hour

A story hour and film program series has been arranged at the Northville Public Library for four Wednesday mornings during the summer for children from kindergarten through fourth grade.

A reading award program for children in third through fifth grades also has been established with youngsters to register at the library. Certificates for the number of books they have read during the program will be given at the end of the summer.

Films will be shown at 10:30 a.m. June 26, July 17, 31, and August 14.

June 26 films to be shown are "Apryl and Her Baby Lamb," "The American Cowboy" and "Bicycle Safety."

July 17 will have "The Cuckoo Clock That Wouldn't Cuckoo," "Bear Country," "The Beaver" and "Water Safety."

July 31 films are "Disneyland U.S.A.," "Playground Safety," "Birds of the Countryside," and "Children in Summer."

August 14 will have "And Now Miquel" and "Safety on the Way to School."

Motorcyclist Injured

Northville police were called last Tuesday night to an accident on West Main Street caused when a car driven by Charles R. Hoskins of Detroit traveling west, started to turn into the Northville Convalescent home.

Michael R. Grant of Plymouth, riding a motorcycle, started to pass on the right and hit the right front door of the car.

He was taken to St. Mary hospital and treated for minor injuries.

 THINGS TO DO

DINO CROCETTI, better known as Dean Martin, has been a gas station attendant, mill hand, professional boxer and a croupier in a gambling casino. But his fame and fortune came first as a member of the comedy team of "Dino and Lewis" and since 1956 as actor, recording star and host on his own radio and television shows.
