Champale. Celebrate nothing with it.

It isn't often you get a chance like this. You see, Champale® looks, tastes and sparkles like champagne. The proper way to serve it is well-chilled in a champagne glass. That brings out its sparkle, flavor and bouquet. But it costs only pennies more than beer. And you buy it wherever beer is sold. Which means you can drink it anytime you want to make something out of Nothing. At a meal. A card game. A Television Watching. A Newspaper Reading. A Corn Popping.

It's a superb mixer, too. We'll send you two free booklets full of mixed-drink and gourmet-food recipes. Just write Champale, Inc., Dept. N-2, Box 2230, Trenton, N.J. 08607.

An Editorial Charter Debate: A Healthy Sign

A growing concern is being expressed in Novi relative to the explosive debating among members of the Novi City Charter Commission.

The concern apparently stems in large part from a fear by those who strongly support the incorporation of Novi that differences among commissioners will split the community and ultimately prevent Novi from becoming a city.

Some citizens, and even one or two commissioners, have suggested that the commission write a charter that is substantially the same as the present village charter because the people are satisfied with it and probably would be less apt to oppose a charter with few changes.

In other words, they urge the commission to write a document that stands the best chance of being approved.

Without committing itself to the support of the proposed charter until after its completion, this newspaper has been pleased with the intelligent, thorough job of the nine-member commission. We are especially pleased the commission decided early to write a document that it honestly believes is the best for the community rather than measuring each of its decisions against the question, "Will it hurt chances for incorporation?"

The most important question the commission must and has asked itself is, "Does this charter represent the best that this nine-member body can produce for this community?"

Now that the proposed charter is in the final stage of review and approval, early disagreements among commissioners are erupting anew. We saw nothing wrong with commissioners vociferously expressing their opinions and arguments earlier and we see nothing wrong with it now.

Debating, we believe, is a healthy sign that the final charter proposal will not represent a "rubber stamp" of the village charter or some other community's work.

A charter is the backbone of the community and its writing demands careful exploration of each word, each sentence and each paragraph section by section. In this respect, the Novi commission has worked diligently and, we believe, admirably.

The professional, thorough manner in which the commission has explored conflicting opinions leads us to believe that once the document is submitted to the people, each commissioner will set aside his personal differences and join fellow members in a united support of the entire charter.

Levitt Plans 400-Acre Subdivision On Northville Gravel Mining Site

A 400-acre gravel mining operation in Northville will be replaced by a community of lake-front homes and town houses if the proposed development is approved by township officials.

The project will also mark the entrance of one of the nation's largest home-building firms into the Detroit area.

Levitt and Sons, Inc., confirmed this week that it holds options on property owned by Shanon Hayes between Seven and Eight Mile roads.

The 400-acre site now contains sand and gravel mining operations as well as an asphalt plant.

The only obstacle standing in the path of the project is a request for rezoning that will probably come before the township planning commission in the near future.

Oakland Denied Added Capacity In Wayne Sewer

Members of the Wayne County Board of Public Works Tuesday axed a proposal of George Bingham, board director, that would have provided additional sewer capacity for Oakland County.

Major beneficiaries of the proposal would have been Novi and Walled Lake. Novi, which already owns a small share of the interceptor's capacity (4 CFS), hoped to join with Walled Lake in financing the extension of the interceptor arm into Walled Lake.

The arm, which already extends two miles inside Novi's boundary, was financed by Novi and built by Oakland County.

Bingham's proposal would have permitted Oakland County to purchase up to 16 additional CFS - provided it agreed to finance and build holding tanks near Walled Lake, that would automatically feed stored effluent into the interceptor at low volume periods.

Although the proposal drew vociferous objections from officials of Dearborn Heights and Westland, these objections were by no means indicative of the position of all officials, particularly those in the city and township of Northville.

See related story on Page 10-A.

Councilman Debert Black and City Manager Frank Ollendorff, who attended the board's meeting to gather more information about the proposal, said the county DPW's decision is an

Review of the remaining sections of the proposed charter is not expected to take more than two more weeks, whereupon a copy of the document will be sent to Lansing for approval.

Face Lifting Sought For Railroad Crossing

SIGNAL'S COMING, HUMP TO DISAPPEAR

It appears that something will be done to correct the hazardous Nine Mile Road C&O crossing near Novi Road.

In a meeting Friday afternoon, Novi Police Chief Lee BeGole, Village Manager Harold Ackley and a citizen, Mrs. Keiter Ehrenreich, 2321 S. Balcombe Drive in Willowbrook (the subdivision which initially alerted the state to the hazard) met with a number of representatives from C&O, W. S. Teszlewicz and G. A. Wolfe, railroad safety inspectors of the Michigan Public Safety Commission, and D. MacMillan, the regional engineer of signals for C&O.

Out of the meeting came an agreement that a crossing light system will be installed, that bracing timbers will be replaced in the crossing, and that the approaches will be leveled (the leveling will come under Novi's road improvement program, which Ackley hopes will include a 24 foot concrete road).

The "highway authority" (apparently the village of Novi, though Ackley questioned this and will look into it) and the railroad are to share the cost of signal installation 50-50 (under Section 8 of Act 336, Public Acts of 1931). Maintenance will be borne by C&O except that Novi is to contribute $10 a month toward it.

In other traffic matters brought before Novi Village last week were those contained in a complaint received from Willowbrook Association.

Willowbrook complained specifically about the speed limit on Ten Mile Road, about the racing of motorcycles and motorbikes within the subdivision and about off-street parking problems.

Ackley was directed to write Oakland County Road Commission requesting another traffic study of 10 Mile in hopes of gaining lower speed restrictions at least through residential areas, and for the purpose of trying to get a traffic light at the Novi Road - 10 Mile intersection.

The insurance bids which were accepted this year, from among the seven received (opened and accepted at the October 21 meeting) were Vantage & Cox of Walled Lake for General Comprehensive Insurance at $652.41 (Auto Owners) and Workmen's comprehensive at $2,919.23 (Employers Mutual Casualty) and Northville Insurance Agency at $2,711.83 for fleet coverage (Citizens Mutual).

Wixom Citizens Request Tighter Hunting Controls

Edison case and the revenue problem the new court system could impose upon municipalities, as reported by Attorney Gene Schnez.

Schnez informed council that only parking ticket cases can bring revenue into city coffers under present rulings when the new district court system goes into effect. He said he and a number of other attorneys were working on a solution to this problem.

The Detroit Edison case will come up before the Michigan Supreme Court in Lansing in December, he added.

Council also approved Treasurer Elizabeth A. Waara to make deposits in the bank of the city, a formality which required their action.

Staman Wins Reappointment

The Oakland county board of supervisors reappointed Novi's Frazier Staman to the three-member county road commission Tuesday by a vote of 59-1.

The lone vote against Staman was cast by Supervisor Hadley Bachert of Novi Township.

Staman, who once served as supervisor of Novi township, is currently chairman of the road commission. The chairmanship is rotated annually. Reappointment of Staman to a six-year term was the only action involving appointments taken Tuesday. All others were tabled until December.

The new #27-member board of county supervisors takes over January 1.

Overture-to-Opera Tickets Go on Sale

Although it will be four months until Overture-to-Opera makes its second visit to Northville and six months before the Metropolitan Opera Company visits Detroit for a week, it is the time to order tickets for the seven operas the Met will present and to reserve March 22 for Overture performance and afterward here.

Ticket reservation forms for those very-hard-to-get tickets for Met performances at Masonic Temple auditorium in Detroit now are available from Mrs. Ernest J. Shave, Grand Opera chairman for Northville, and from Mrs. Donald A. Ware, co-chairman and Overture chairman.

Mrs. Ware announced this week that March 22 is the tentative date for the Overture-to-Opera evening with the performance again to be in Northville High School auditorium and the afterglow to be at Meadowbrook Country Club.

The initial appearance of Overture in Northville last year, even though delayed by curfew, was an outstanding success. The 1969 production again will be produced by Dr. David DeChiera. An opera education project of Detroit Grand Opera Association, Overture will present two operas next month, Donizetti's "Il Campanello" and Verdi's "Der Jasager."

The seven operas to be presented by the Met May 26-31 include: Verdi's "Rigoletto," Monday; Cilea's "Adriana Lecouvreur," a Detroit premiere, Tuesday; Strauss' "Der Rosenkavalier," a new production, Wednesday; Verdi's "Il Trovatore," a new production, Thursday; Gounod's "Faust," Friday; Rossini's "Il Barbiere di Siviglia," Saturday matinee, and Puccini's "La Boheme," Saturday evening.

Mrs. Ware reports that the Saturday matinee starring Roberta Peters already is proving popular with Northville opera lovers. She suggests that if enough reservations are made, a Northville opera party may be planned.

Student Gains Teaching Skill

Mothers in such new areas as Kings Mill are asked to volunteer to display the symbol if they will be home during the hours children depart for and return from school.

The girls and Mrs. Deibert walked the Freedom Trail which has 15 historical sites to visit, including old Granary Burying Ground with the graves of John Hancock, Samuel Adams, Paul Revere and victims of the Boston Massacre and concluding at the old North Church. Just off Freedom Trail they visited the U.S.S. Constitution.

The troop flew on Mohawk Airlines and reports the trip was "educational and fun." Part of the fun was a visit with the Deiberts' son, Skip, at Harvard.

News Around Schoolcraft

A Buster Keaton classic and a Laurel and Hardy comedy comprise a double-feature film program scheduled for the Schoolcraft College Film Series on Friday, November 22 in the Liberal Arts Building Theater.

The Keaton film, one of the comedian's most successful, must remain nameless in advance publicity because of a contract stipulation by the distributor of the film to the college.

Laurel and Hardy will be seen in "Double Whoopee," released in 1929, and one of the team's funniest. The film includes a hilarious parody on Erich von Stroheim. Jean Harlow is seen in a bit part.

Kiwanis to Honor Marjorie Watson Novi Postmaster to Retire Friday After 17 Years at Same Post

One of the community's most familiar well-liked women will step out of the spotlight tomorrow when she officially retires as postmaster of the Novi Postoffice.

Retirement will mark the close of 17 years as the chief executive of the local office for Mrs. Harry Watson, 62, who next Tuesday evening will be feted by the Wixom Kiwanis Club.

In those 17 years, the postoffice has grown from a little third-class, one room office to its present quarters on Grand River west of Novi Road with four clerks, two rural carriers and substitute, a janitor, and mountains of mail that dwarf the trickling volume of nearly two decades ago.

Wife of the late Mr. Harry Watson, prominent Novi businessman and community official, Mrs. Watson became acting postmaster under President Harry Truman but did not win official appointment until the start of President Dwight Eisenhower's Republican term three years later.

"It seems a little funny now," laughs Mrs. Watson, "but it wasn't so funny then. The postal inspector came in one day, showed me the office, and then walked out the door, and I didn't know a thing about postoffices."

She had assumed the post of Mrs. Margaret Renwick, who had died, "and I hadn't even worked as a postoffice clerk anywhere before."

When she assumed the top position - "I was the postmaster, clerk and janitor all in one" - the office was located in a little one-room frame building on Grand River just east of 11 Mile Road. It has since been removed.

A couple years later it was moved to the concrete building, where Frazier Staman's insurance office is now located on Novi Road, and then, when this building became too small, her husband had the larger building constructed next door.

Last year the Novi Road building was abandoned and the post office was moved to its present location on Grand River.

Mrs. Watson, who has lived in Novi nearly 35 years, says the earliest postoffice she can recall was located next door to the present office in what is now an antique store. In those days, she explains, it was a grocery store operated by Belle Walters, now living in Florida, who also served as postmaster.

Staman, who had a hand in securing Mrs. Watson's official appointment while he served as township supervisor of Novi, recalls talking to oldtimers who remembered when Farmington, Walled Lake and Northville "owned" the routes in Novi. Some of them became so incensed because Novi could not have its own rural deliveries, he says, that some of them refused to accept mail from "foreign" carriers and instead faithfully traveled to the Novi office to pick up their letters.

The very first postoffice in Novi, according to some historical accounts, was located at the corner of Wixom Road and Grand River - a real swinging place well over a century ago, with several small plants and businesses clustered about the dirt intersection.

Called "West Farmington" in 1827, the area initially included all of Novi, Lyon Township was referred to as "West Farmington, Junior." John Gould reportedly was the first postmaster, Dr. J. C. Emery the second.

Coincidentally, Mrs. Watson will be honored Tuesday by Kiwanians in Aunt Jemima's Restaurant, located at the intersection of Grand River and Wixom Road (now in Wixom) about where the first office supposedly was located.

"What's she going to do now?" "Oh, I don't know. Just do what I want to, I guess, and maybe get another job someday," she laughs, a little saddened by the fact that so many of the people she has come to know so well will probably drift out of her life.

Mrs. Watson will continue to live at 44350 Grand River. Two sons, Douglas and Harry, are residents of Novi as are her four grandchildren.

No successor has been named but, temporarily, the postoffice clerk, Mrs. Carrie Newbegin, probably will assume the reins until an historical is made.

Mailbox 'Bombing' Ends in Arrests

Novi Police Officer Gerald Burnham arrested two youths Saturday evening as they fled from the scene of a mailbox "bombing."

The two 17-year-olds, Christian C. Bowman III of 23058 Gihar and Robert J. Collins, Jr. of 41771 Aspen Drive, were charged with exploding two mailboxes with M-80 firecrackers, one on Grand River belonging to Novi Hardware and the other on Nine Mile Road.

They will be tried by Justice of Peace Emery Jacques today on a charge of malicious destruction of property. The boys, whom police reported as saying they did it "for kicks," also will be subject to federal prosecution.

Firecrackers also led to the arrest of four other Novi youths, one of whom set off a "silver salute" in a locker at Novi High School Thursday morning.

Principal Gerald Hartman said the school has been harassed by firecracker tossing youth for some time, but Hartman said this was the "last straw," and he called in police.

Arrested with three juveniles was David Adema, 17, of 27700 Novi Road. Adema will face court action before Justice of Peace Jacques, probably today. The others will appear in juvenile court. All will be tried as violators of the state fireworks law.

'Skunk Hollow' Happy Valley Now

"I am surprised that the kids were so good this Halloween," Mrs. J. W. Fields of 204 Faywood in Novi told the Novi News last week.

She continued, "I am sure that part of it was due to the fine police force we have here in Novi, but it is the first time in five years that my picket fence has not been pulled down."

She did get some eggs on the side of her house the night before Halloween, but she felt this was minor compared to the pranksterism she has withstood in the past at her home in the area known as "The Grove."

"The Grove" has variously been known as "Skunk Hollow" and "Dogpatch" and has been one of the police department's most troublesome areas. Only recently, one of its 17-year-old residents was arrested and jailed for shooting at a school bus.

Why the sudden change? Boys who were with the convicted sniper and who told him not to shoot decided that maybe if they left people alone, the people would not bother them. Getting together with Detective Sergeant Richard Faulkner, they asked what they could do to get people off their backs.

Faulkner told the youths that good behavior would go a long way toward improving their relationship, and they might begin by not engaging in their previous Halloween pranks.

"We decided that Sergeant Faulkner had the right idea," one youth told the Novi News, "and we decided to give it a try."

He and another youth, both school dropouts, said they were going into Union Lake Monday morning and hoped to land jobs. The other youths are still in school.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Fields has her fingers crossed, hoping that "Skunk Hollow" has really become "Pleasant Valley."

Sewer Use Denial Stings Pollution Cited Communities

Some Wayne County communities may be happy the proposal to stretch the Middle Rouge Interceptor capacity was defeated but there is no joy in Novi and Walled Lake.

The two Oakland County communities are sitting on a major pollution problem, a $1 million grant from the government, and a sewer plan that is nearing its seventh birthday.

Cited for pollution in 1966 by the Water Resources Commission - Walled Lake for dumping raw sewage in the lake and Novi for doing the same in a branch of the Rouge River - they were given until June, 1969 to clean up or face the wrath of the state.

While it never has been clear just what punitive action the state might take, some officials have stated the state might stop all new construction and for perhaps simple order construction of a sewer and bill the two communities for the work.

If the latter became a reality, the state would be accomplishing something that the two communities have not been able to do. A joint sewer study was completed in September of 1962. In the years since, numerous meetings have been held between the communities and Oakland County in attempting to arrive at the least expensive, most satisfactory solution.

Specifically, it was determined that a logical, temporary solution would be construction of a sewage treatment plant.

Guernsey Dairy Plans Open House

Guernsey Farms Dairy, 21300 Novi Road, announced that the hours of 11 a.m.-7 p.m. Sunday this week are reserved for its annual open house which has attracted more than 1,000 visitors in each of its two prior years.

The open house at the dairy, which produces its own ice cream as well as milk will consist of tours throughout the plant. The public will see Guernsey's modern processing facilities and procedures.

John McGuire, the dairy's owner, said it is a worthwhile trip for the public since this area has one of only perhaps 50 small dairy operations in the entire state.

McGuire employs 35 persons, five of whom are members of his family.

Gun Discharges, Youth Wounded

A service station employee accidentally shot himself early Monday evening.

Douglas D. Smith, 19, of 42640 Eight Mile Road, treated at St. Mary Hospital for a gunshot wound of the left thigh, faces court for his trouble.

According to police, Smith was working at Clark Service Station, 510 South Main, when, in attempting to place an unregistered revolver under the desk, he accidentally discharged it. The bullet struck him just above the knee. He is charged with possessing an unregistered gun.

In other police cases this past week, a walk-away from Northville Convalescent Home was picked up on West Main Street last week Tuesday morning when Officer Roger Beukema arrested the elderly woman walking in an erratic manner.

A Southfield motorist suffered head cuts Saturday evening when his car rammed into the rear of a vehicle making a left turn onto Novi Road.

Treated at St. Mary Hospital was Daniel H. Dohany. According to police he struck a car driven by Bettye C. Cowger of Livonia. He was east-bound on Eight Mile Road. She and six passengers in her car were uninjured.

W-O Picks Barry Deal for First Squad

Barry Deal, the Mustangs' ground-gobbling halfback, was the only Northville player on the first team selections of the Wayne-Oakland 1968 all-league football team.

Tackle Fred Hicks and Guard Glenn Heffner were named to the second squad, while Flanker Terry Mills received honorable mention on the dream team released this week.

Champion West Bloomfield and runners-up Bloomfield Hills Andover and Milford each had three members to lead the list. Vanker and Keough were the only juniors named.

First team selections are listed below:

Mark Giegler, end, senior, Milford; Larry Appleby, end, senior, Andover; Larry Cee, tackle, senior, Milford; Rich Hodson, tackle, senior, Andover; Kevin Gawronski, guard, senior, West Bloomfield; Steve Vanker, guard, senior, West Bloomfield; and Barry Deal, back, senior, Northville.

West Bloomfield also led the second team selections with four players. End Steve Westjohn, Tackle Mike Walosin, Guard Ron VanGorder and Quarterback Robin Brennan.

Also named to the second team, in addition to the Mustangs' Hicks and Heffner, were backs Chuck Palanan and Jeff Roley of Andover and Dave Brandemuhl of Clawsonville, End Eric Hood of Clarkston, Guard Ron Waldrup of Waterford Kettering and Center Dennis Wooster, also of Kettering.

Elevens Face Rebuilding Job Graduation Leaves Gaping Holes

Injuries are bad enough, but when graduation cuts away key players football coaches start sweating.

And the way things look in Northville and Novi, some crying towels are needed.

Statistics elsewhere on this page point out the passing, rushing and scoring efforts of the two squads, but they don't show the loss suffered by the Mustangs when Stan Nirder and Pat Cayley were shelved early in the season by injuries. Nor do they show the lessened effectiveness when the Mustangs lost Craig MacDermaid or when the Wildcats lost Tom Boyer and the fulltime services of Jon VanWagner who racked up 75 points despite not being able to perform on offense at all in the last two games of the season.

Soon to be shovled aside for indoor activities are the accomplishments of such standout linemen as Dave Bingham, Lev Tafarian, Len Beadle, Dale Pohlman and Doug Keith and the defensive efforts of Bingham, Van Wagner, Gary Boyer, Rick Hill and Doug Schott for Novi and the fine performances of such as Fred Hicks, Scott Butler, Kim Marburger, Fred Holdsworth, Glenn Heffner, and Mark Gazley of Northville.

The Mustangs will be faced with

FIRST IN TWO YEARS-It may take some bow hunters a dozen or more years before they score, but not for Art Forth of Conenara Subdivision. A student at Central Michigan University, Forth shot a 144 spike buck in his second year of bow hunting on November 2. Using a 48-pound bow, he picked off the whitetail at 25 yards at Standard Products Company Hunting Lodge near Lovells. He was a guest of the A. C. Parmenter family into which he will marry.

SPIRIT DAY-Now Spirit Day (November 1, of course) was capped by a pep rally in the gym including a skit showing Novi's "Wildcat" knocking out all opponents except opening foe, Hartland. It didn't work, however, as another Wildcat from Flint St. Mary KO'ed Novi 19-0 the following evening. The cheerleaders were actively encouraging victory in this photo prior to the skit.

Colts Leave Friday For Peanut Bowl

Northville's junior footballers ended their regular season Sunday by taking one of three games at Plymouth.

The Colts Freshmen beat the Lions Frosh 20 to 6 in what was termed "their best game of the season."

Northville Varsity also played a hard-fought, well-played game that was probably its best season effort, but lost in the last four minutes to the Lions 21-14.

The Colt Junior Varsity did not fare as well, bowing 19-0 to the Plymouth Juniors.

Although the regular season is behind them, the youngsters are looking ahead to some of the hottest, most exciting action. Saturday night the junior football elevens will play in the multi-heralded "Peanut Bowl" at Cadillac, Michigan.

The first annual Peanut Bowl will be sponsored by WWTN in Cadillac and will be played on the Cadillac High

Grid Upsets Spoil Contest Entries

Take two of the top college football teams in the nation, match them with two sleepers, and you've got trouble for contestants in the weekly football contest.

That's what happened this past weekend as only seven entries managed to come up with fewer than four mistakes.

With a mountain of entries on hand, The Record-Nowi News judges could find only two contestants who accurately predicted, for example, Minnesota's upset over fifth ranked Purdue.

And only a few more picked Oklahoma to edge third-ranked Kansas.

As a matter of fact, all three of the top contest winners, each of whom had three bad picks, had picked Purdue to whip the Golden Gophers. Two of them failed to predict Oklahoma's victory.

Out of THE PAST

Five Years Ago . . .
 The Mustangs were held to a 13-4 tie on an icy field here and wound up tied with their opponent, the Clarkson Wolves, for first place in the Wayne-Oakland League. Both sported 54-4 league marks.
 . . . Steve Juday, Northville's promising starting soph quarterback at Michigan State, was knocked out of action when he suffered a shoulder separation in the Wisconsin game.
 . . . Steve's brother Bill also had his shoulder injured in Vanderbilt's game with Boston College. Unlike Steve, Bill was expected to be in action in the Commodores' next game.
 . . . Also in sports, former Northville football coach Ron "Skip" Schipper was making a name for himself as Central College of Iowa's head coach. One of his star backs, Dave Hay, had been a Mustang star under Schipper.
 . . . Three Northville United Fund chairmen, Mrs. Paul Hughes, LeRoy Stone and William Keith reported that the fund had passed its goal even though final tabulation had not been completed.
 . . . Racing Commissioner Berry Beaman had received a request to bring thoroughbred racing to the Downs for the 1964 season.
 . . . State historical officials lent their support to the fight to keep Northville's library building intact.
 . . . Would Sheldon Hayes get a landfill permit? This was the question of the day, as the township board delayed any decision until a full board could be present.
 . . . The records showed that Northville was feeling growing pains as the population made an unprecedented climb to 4,400 for an increase of 433 in the three years since the 1960 census.
Ten Years Ago . . .
 . . . The Mustangs clinched at least a tie for the Wayne-Oakland League title as they clobbered Clarkson 47-0 for their 24th consecutive win. Northville had climbed to sixth in the state Class B ratings.
 . . . Northville voters failed to name a single winner in the off-year election. From Martha Griffiths, Phi Hart and G. Mennen Williams right on down the state, the state and local offices were won chiefly by Democrats, while Northvillians voted solidly for Republican candidates.
 . . . A public hearing was set for the necessary zoning change to establish a special multiple family residence district.
 . . . Election issues in neighboring cities, defeated ruled the day. Plymouth failed to vote in Litchfield by the glass, five of the six precincts in Litchfield's $8 Million Civic Improvement Proposal fell by the wayside with only the new fire station being approved and two incorporation proposals failed as parts of Farmington township were not incorporated into the cities of Clarenceville and Farmington Woods.
 . . . Northville's 1958 Torch Fund drive fell short of its $4,858 goal.
 . . . A review of policy showed that the school board did not permit use of public school buses for private use by parochial schools. Debate was touched off when the board allowed Our Lady of Victory the use of its buses to transport an honor guard to the funeral of Cardinal Mooney.
 . . . The Northville planning commission set a meeting to determine whether to allow wintering of horses at the Downs.
Fifteen Years Ago . . .
 . . . Holly beat the Mustangs 7-6 to cloud the league picture. The loss dropped Northville into a tie for the lead with Keego Harbor at 3-1. Clarenceville was just a step behind at 2-1-1.
 . . . Wheels were set in motion toward construction of a new elementary school building, Eural Clark and Nelson C. Schrader, Jr. were the committee set up to negotiate for a school site.
 . . . $6,000 was pledged to the Retail Merchants Association parking lot fund by businessmen and property owners. Association president Nelson Schrader, Jr. said that oral pledges of another $3,000 had been received toward the projected goal of $16,000.
 . . . Northville marked National Education Week with a series of meetings and open houses designed to

Year-Round School Committee Reports Oakland Denied

EDITOR'S NOTE—Following is a report of the steering committee of the Citizens Year-Round School Study Committee.
 During the recent campaign for local, state and national elections one of the all-pervasive issues was education. Vice-president Humphrey spoke frequently for maximum use of the educational plant. President-elect Nixon, in a recent statement, recommended that with the approval of Congress he will initiate a system of lump sums to be allocated by the states in the field of education.
 Obviously, the emphasis is on a higher degree of educational sophistication, revitalization and academic excellence. One of the ways of achieving these goals here in Northville has been selected, after careful study of many systems, for citizen review. This way is known as the Quadrimester approach and will be carefully outlined and detailed for the public in subsequent articles in this newspaper.
 The steering committee of the Year-Round School Study met recently in the school board office to hear the reports of the research, concept and implementation committees. These committees agreed that the Quadrimester approach is the most appropriate route for the Northville school system to consider and this agreement was based on the very careful, very extensive study that went on over a long period of time.
 Prior to recommendation to the board, however, a careful study on the part of the citizens of Northville might be noteworthy, particularly in view of the fact that there has been much stated concern here over the use of the local tax dollar and the maximum use of the local educational plant. Northville appears to be highly in favor of greater use of the plant. The Quadrimester approach would facilitate that use within realistic limitations of family units and without unreasonable alteration of the present system.
 The financial and facilities committee is in the process now of preparing an in-depth report on the feasibility of the Quadrimester concept.
 Northville's school system will absorb an anticipated increase of 500 students next year. Additional growth is anticipated beyond that period. It behooves the residents of Northville, then, to plan accordingly for the wise provision of the most practical, most economical, overall use of the local school facilities, to take advantage of all available moneys at state and federal levels to implement new methods as we specifically need them, and to continually increase the quality of education as it is developed and proven effective.
 Citizen reaction to the articles outlining the Quadrimester approach will be seriously studied and measured in terms of future recommendations to the board of education and the desirability and feasibility of transition from one system to another.

Township Leads Area Building

Construction of houses in the rapidly expanding Meadowbrook Lake Subdivision was a key factor in Nov's construction rate.
 Three major factors have underlined Wixom's leap forward. One of these was the first industrial lot in the Nick Martin Industrial Subdivision, the other two home permits in two subdivisions, the Ward Ross Palmer Thompson-Brown subdivision south of Six Mile Road.

Building Inspector Gets Added Duties

The Northville township board approved a number of recommendations made by its water and sewer commission.
 An appointment of John Kizer, building inspector, as superintendent of the water and sewer department. Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg explained that Kizer would be paid $2,160 for these duties, $8,000 as building inspector plus $600 for car allowance.
 The township recently completed its inspection department with the appointment of Russell Fox as electrical inspector at $3,000 annually.
 Establishing a minimum size for sanitary sewer lines at 10-inch.
 Not to allow unions in copper water pipe of one-inch or less up to 100 feet in length and 1 1/2-inch pipe up to 60 feet.
 To charge cost plus 30 per cent for water service connections to apartments and $175 for installation of one-inch water line on 60-foot streets and an additional $2 per foot over the 60-foot street.
 To increase charge from $10 to $15 for installation of water meters on 1/2 to 1 1/2-inch line.
 To install two fire hydrants to serve Edenderry and Shadbrook subdivisions, as petitioned by residents.

The opportunity of life consists in the ability and privilege we have to make decisions. The decisions we make determine the kind of a life we live.

In the past the Christian standard has been to turn our lives over to God and allow Him to make all of our decisions for us. Many wonderful Christians have testified to having had a definite experience with God wherein they decided to do this and that since that time they have been conscious of another Person making decisions for them.

This type of a life was prescribed upon my father by an experience he had in Kansas many years ago — (around 1903). This experience had a very definite and positive affect upon my father's life. God was very real to him in his inward consciousness and made His will so clear that he was happy in the assurance of doing exactly what God wanted him to do.

If a person could always live in that way today it would be a most wonderful life. But such does not seem to many in the past and this has distressed them greatly as they have wondered why?

Our only hope is to surrender to the mind of God as it is revealed now in the Body of Christ. If you go on in an independent spirit following your "leadings" or your "understanding" as to what the bible teaches" you will die in division.

"Turn ye, turn ye, for why will ye die"

SHORT OF A MIRACLE

Rome's Coliseum, partly tumbled into ruin, is considered one of the wonders of the world. It was built in 80 A. D.—and that is a long time ago, to be sure. Yet it is but a second when measured against the ages that have passed since God created the world.

The Coliseum—wonder that it is—also is visible proof of the limit of man's accomplishments. We consider it nothing short of a miracle that something built by man has endured that long. Yet those things created by God remain endless and eternal.

God's works should, indeed, fill even the wisest of us with wonder, with awe, and with gratitude. We tend to take them all too much for granted. We tend, at times, to forget them—and even to forget Him—entirely.

Discover God again, in the church of your choice and in the process, rediscover yourself.

Novi Police Department
Thefts, Car Injury Tops Blotter

Three Detroit youths, who fled police in a stolen car early last week, were apprehended at a roadblock near Kensington Park.

The juveniles were turned over to Detroit police. In addition to the car, stolen from Detroit, Novi police also recovered a tape recorder reported stolen in Detroit.

When the youths failed to dim their lights, Novi Officer John L. Johnson tried to get the driver to pull to the side of the road. He refused, made a U-turn and sped west on Grand River.

Johnson gave chase and clocked the vehicle at speeds of up to 110 MPH. Park officers set up a roadblock, the car was stopped and two of the youths quickly apprehended. But it took an assist from Novi Corporal Dale Gross and his police dog, Banner, to arrest the third who tried to escape into a nearby woods.

A breaking and entering at Timber Lane Lumber Company, 42780 Ten Mile Road, was reported last week. The thieves apparently knew their way around, police said, because they broke into the desk in which the cash box containing $100 was kept and touched nothing else in the building. The case is under investigation.

When Officers John Johnson and Frank Barabas of Novi Police attempted to arrest Patrick H. O'Bryan of 204 Endwell for fighting at Dave's Hamburger Stand, he became disorderly. Taken before Justice of Peace Emery Jacques, O'Bryan pleaded guilty to the charge of disorderly person and paid a $50 fine.

Two personal injury accidents were reported by Novi police last week.

Michael Utley of Northville rolled over a truck belonging to the Godwin Sod Farm on Ten Mile Road west of Wixom Road. Utley claims he skidded on the wet road when an unidentified car in front of him suddenly applied its brakes. He suffered multiple facial lacerations when his head went through the passenger's side window.

The other accident involved two cars at the intersection of Grand River and Meadowbrook Road. John Carrier of 40840 Elm Hill Road suffered minor facial injuries in the mishap.

Police warn that hunting without a permit or hunting in a posted area can result in a $100 fine, 90 days in jail or both. Officer Gerald Burnham told the Novi News that there has been a rash of these offenses.

Police also warn that the rash of dumpings on Novi Streets is going to have to stop or some people are going to be receiving some very stiff penalties.

Novi police investigated a breaking and entering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Coy Lowman of 1705 East Lake Drive last week, Tuesday morning.

The home was burglarized some time between 1:30 and 6:30 p.m. the previous evening. Among missing items were some $11 in cash, diamond rings valued at $250 and a savings pass book worth $257.

BOOK FAIR PROMOTERS—Making posters for Northville Mothers' Club's benefit Book Fair to be held Friday and Saturday at the Cavern headquarters on West Main Street are Mrs. Kalin Johnson, left, and Mrs. Halton Axstell, chairmen of the two-day project. Everyone in the community is invited to drop in and browse from 10 a.m. until 8 p.m. Friday and until 4 p.m. Saturday. The all-new books include "bargains" from publishers' remainders and paperbacks for children.

John Canterbury Heads ONU Gifts Campaign

Dr. Samuel L. Meyer, president of Ohio Northern University, in Ada, spoke at a kick-off dinner for a general gifts campaign for the $6,910,000 university development program Friday in Detroit. A recently prepared color film entitled "A New Day at Northern" was also shown.

Approximately 300 alumni, parents and friends of the university were invited to the dinner which was the start of the fund raising campaign.

John S. Canterbury, AB '38, of 204 Randolph Street, Northville, was host for the dinner and is chairman of the Detroit campaign. One of the vice-chairmen was Eugene P. Light, BSCE '29, of 234 Sheldon Road, Plymouth.

Canterbury is serving his second year as the national chairman of the Ohio Northern Alumni Association. Mr. and Mrs. Canterbury are the parents of two students at Ohio Northern.

My Pledge... to represent all citizens of Livonia and Northville with my fullest energies, without regard to political affiliation.

Marvin R. Stempien

Novi Police Department Thefts, Car Injury Tops Blotter

The case is currently under investigation, but Novi police have no leads. The burglar was apparently no stranger to the Lowman's German Shepherd because it was tied outside the window through which the entry was gained, police said.

Transfusion of 10 pints of blood was required for Raymond Barbara of South Lyon following a two-car collision in front of 40033 Eight Mile Road Thursday.

Barbara, driving a Volkswagen, struck the Ford Econoline driven by William Hall of 345 Sherrie in Northville as it was pulling into the driveway at 40033 Eight Mile. Both vehicles were towed from the scene.

Casterline Ambulance transported Barbara to University Hospital in Ann Arbor. Novi police told the Northville Record Barbara suffered a severe open fracture of his right leg that caused massive bleeding.

Novi police apprehended three youths as they were pulling out of a driveway in an attempt to avoid a fight. The youths had all been drinking, but two were underage, police said.

Larry J. Warner of Pontiac and Owen T. Prather of Union Lake, both soldiers, were turned over to military authorities. Randolph F. Siple of Pontiac will appear before Justice of Peace Emery Jacques tomorrow on a charge of minor in possession.

Novi Justice Court

Mrs. James F. Scheets of Livonia became worried and called police last week when her husband and Herman Pekkonen of Detroit did not return to shore at Walled Lake.

Novi sent two patrol cars to the scene and succeeded in getting the men, who appeared intoxicated, safely ashore. Scheets and Pekkonen, however, became disorderly when ashore and had to be restrained forcibly.

Appearing before Justice of Peace Emery Jacques in Novi Justice Court Thursday, the two men pleaded guilty to having been disorderly persons and each paid a fine of $35 and $10 costs in lieu of serving five days in jail.

One Novi man had his case dismissed on the same day. He had been charged with being "aroad at unusual hours."

In other justice court cases: William F. Truist of Walled Lake pleaded guilty to disorderly person for fighting at Dave's Hamburger Stand and paid a $25 fine.

Joseph Smith Jr. of Berkley entered a plea of guilty to speeding 90 MPH in a 70 MPH zone between 1:06 and Meadowbrook on December 21, 1967 and paid a fine of $30.

Fined on two counts was John A. Burgess of Detroit in a case originally scheduled before Justice Robert Anderson, since resigned. Pleading guilty to having operated a defective vehicle (no muffler or brake lights, etc.) without a valid operator's license

Pat Bubel Visits Mexico Trip to Olympic Games Caps Dream

"If you love sports, attending the Olympic games always is a goal."

For Miss Pat Bubel, Northville high school girls' physical education teacher, this dream came true last month as she spent two weeks at the summer Olympic games in Mexico City.

Four years ago when it was announced that Mexico City would host the 1968 games, she and a friend who teaches in Oak Park began planning to attend. Then two years ago they corresponded with the Mexican agency running the Olympics. Their tourist cards were issued, and reservations were made at an atmospheric older hotel, considered "Mexican."

This reservation, Miss Bubel relates, was one of the pluses of a thrilling trip. Part of the Italian press corps was headquartered at the same hotel, contributing to the international atmosphere.

The long-planned adventure was not at all disappointing. Pat Bubel adds, for they found the Olympics very well run. There were 109 countries participating. In events such as the high jump and track they watched the United States entries compete with those of all the other countries. It was an exciting moment, Miss Bubel recalls, when the jumper from the United States won. They also saw swimming and gymnastics competitions.

The summer Olympics, the teacher explained, also includes events like basketball with only two countries competing in teams at one time.

"The spectators won medals," Pat Bubel says, "for making transportation efforts. Transportation to all events was practically free as the Mexicans went all out — 150 per cent — as the proud people of a small nation sacrificed to have the Olympics."

The games were played during Mexico's summer season with temperatures averaging 80 degrees. The teachers saw "quite a bit" of Mexico City just attending the various Olympic events as the sports facilities, Miss Bubel explained, are spread out. They also took a couple of side trips.

Even the shacks in the slum areas of this fifth largest city in the world were "decorated with the symbolic Olympic rings," Miss Bubel said, describing the downtown area as "like Christmas" with stores-high neon signs, artistic posters and outstanding graphics advertising the Olympics everywhere.

Well expressed, they felt, was the major theme: "Everything is possible in peace."

The theme was most impressively carried out, Miss Bubel said, with a dove emblem. Black Power demonstrators were scorned, she added, not for their stand, but as being out-of-place and in bad taste at the Olympics. On the other hand, she remembered that every Czechoslovakian entrant was loudly applauded as a gesture of sympathy.

Teachers, Miss Bubel found, are very respected in Mexico and that occupation stated on their tourist cards was noticed — adding luster to the experience that began with a conversation at a meeting of physical education teachers. The next summer Olympics will be in Munich, Germany, and the winter ones in Japan. And Pat Bubel sounds as though she's planning another dream trip.

No One Feels Shake Here

The great Midwest earthquake was apparently not felt in the Novi-Northville-Wixom area Saturday afternoon.

A check of the area police stations revealed that they received no complaints of the tremors being felt in this area.

The earthquake registered 5.5 on the 10 point Richter scale and was centered along the Mississippi River near St. Louis. Tremors were reportedly noted as far away as Omaha, Nebraska and Kincheloe AFB in Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

He Performs With Chorus

Announcement is made by Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, that a Northville-area student, Rick Sabel, 7705 Pontiac Trail, is a member of the university's A Cappella chorus.

Plans are being made for 100 of the A Cappella Singers to accompany the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra on a tour of major European cities next May and June. The A Cappella Singers have performed with the orchestra almost annually for a number of years. It is pointed out that this is the first time a university choir will have made a European tour with a major symphony orchestra.

An unusual feature of the planned trip, which will begin with a concert May 16 in Philharmonic Hall in New York, is the invitation for friends of the orchestra and alumni of the university to make the journey on a specially arranged Patrons' Tour. Additional information is available from the orchestra or Miami University.

Welfare Law Draws Fire

The Wayne County Board of Supervisors has asked Gov. George Romney to appoint a citizens committee to examine the present welfare system in Michigan and make recommendations for its improvements.

A resolution adopted by the county legislative body described the present system of public welfare in Michigan and the United States as "archaic, punitive, and inadequate to meet human needs."

The supervisors stated further that the present welfare system "is undignified for both clients and social service workers and only contributes to the continuation of the cycle of dependency." In addition, the present welfare system "requires the costly maintenance of a huge policing bureaucracy to supervise the distribution of public assistance," the resolution declared.

Wayne County is required by State law to contribute up to $9.5-million annually to support of welfare recipients. The welfare system is operated by the Michigan State Department of Social Services.

SUITS FOR PATIENTS—Business was brisk during the recent trade-in sales days at Lapham's Men's Shop — and patients at Northville State Hospital were delighted. The sale netted 132 trade-in suits and more than 100 ties, all of which were taken to the hospital by Chris Holman and Chuck Parton, store employees, for use by male patients.

45-Percent of Your Day Spent Listening to Others

How good a listener are you? Chances are, not too good.

According to recent research, if you are a salesman, or work in some managerial or supervisory capacity, you spend about 45 percent of your working day listening to other people. And you listen only at about 25 percent efficiency.

In short, about 75 percent of any given conversation or talk is lost because of low listening ability. Can listening skills be taught, along with other communication skills such as reading, writing, and speaking? Yes, says the experts.

One technique for teaching listening skills is now available at Schoolcraft College and is currently being evaluated by faculty and staff members.

Called the Effective Listening Program, the technique was developed by Dr. Ralph G. Nichols, professor of rhetoric at the University of Minnesota and a leading authority on communication skills and listening.

As a member of the Michigan Council of Community College Administrators, Schoolcraft College was licensed by the Xerox Corp., to offer the ELP program on campus.

According to LaSalle S. Mayes, chairman of the college English Division, ELP will be opened to Schoolcraft students as well as individuals and groups in the college community after Nov. 16, following the faculty-staff evaluation period. Mayes explained that ELP is a taped training device. The program takes three hours to complete and will be administered in two 90-minute sessions.

"ELP is a training instrument and is not a test," Mayes said. "It is a taped series of statements designed to train individuals to listen effectively."

"We are interested in the program at Schoolcraft because of the importance of good listening ability in the communicative aspects of the learning process."

"ELP has great value to any business organization seeking to improve the verbal communication skills of its personnel, and it should be of particular help to salesmen, and management and supervisory people."

Persons planning to enroll in the program can make an appointment by calling Miss Gale Buchanan, Audio-Visual Librarian at the college; telephone 591-6400, Extension 335. Details about the ELP program are available from Mayes, Extension 210, or Miss Buchanan.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Bob Silbar, a friend and business associate of mine, is publisher of The Fenton Independent newspaper.

Anyway, Silbar writes a personal column called "Bobbing Around" that covers a multitude of subjects.

He recalled with fond memories "F.P.A." (Franklin Pierce Adams), "A Line O' Type or Two", and Malcolm Bingay.

That's why, Silbar claims, readers enjoy a regular humor feature of his newspaper called "Fiddle Faddle".

The Fenton publisher doesn't stop with these accusations, he names the culprit newspapers, listing The Northville Record among the lifters.

Having read several feature stories and in-depth political interviews in The Fenton Independent that are deadening for original material churned-out by our staff,

"Fiddle Faddle" might go over in Fenton, but how could anyone expect Northville's sophisticated readers to enjoy such trivia?

Here's some of the typical "com" dished out under the guise of humor:

"The mother of a Fenton high school girl screamed at her daughter: 'Janice, you're wearing my brand new raincoat!'"

"Home is that place where a man goes when he is tired of being nice to people."

"I always wanted a child with long hair, but I was hoping it would be a girl."

We asked a man in his 90's to what he attributed his longevity. He replied promptly, "Never waste any energy resisting temptation."

"Well, Doc," the guy who had just had a physical examination asked, "how do I stand?"

The father of a seven year old was patiently listening to his son practicing the violin.

The Record steal material from The Independent? Fiddle Faddle!

If the University of Michigan football team doesn't let its number four national rating lull it into a false sense of security

And if the Blue passes the test in Columbus, Northville will be represented in a major bowl contest for the fourth time.

Last time it was Steve Juday for MSU in the Rose Bowl. In the late forties it was Al Wistert, now a Northville resident

And way back in 1938 it was Nelson Schrader playing tackle for MSU in the Orange Bowl.

Endorsing candidates for political office is an unhappy assignment at best. But it's one we'll continue so long as we believe

Probably the sharpest reaction we've ever had came from Republican Lew Coy.

We told our readers that Ray Lahti, a government teacher, Wixom councilman

Trouble is, Lahti is a Democrat and running in Republican country he lost out by about 150 votes.

Coy declined a congratulatory handshake with the comment "you'll have to earn it."

We probably never will, Lew. But rest assured, we'll be interested observers during your upcoming term on the county board.

A LOOSE LEAF

By ROLLY PETERSON

Fact, it is often said, is stranger than fiction. The movie, "The Boston Strangler," doesn't do anything to dispell this idea.

Every kind of perversity society has ever spawned is graphically shown as the fantastic story of the hunt for the Boston strangler

It's not a pretty picture. It's abnormal because it deals with abnormality — the sex murder of 13 Boston area women, young and old alike.

Even the steps police and the State of Massachusetts were forced to take were abnormal.

The beginning salaries still fall short of the goal set by the 60,000-member Michigan Education Association.

The MEA also wants $16,000 in 10 years for teachers with master's degrees.

Throughout Michigan in 1967-68, experienced teachers were getting a maximum average of $9,589 for a bachelor's degree.

What gains this year will mean to next year's negotiating sessions is hard to say.

The screen is divided into frames, much in the manner of the split view on television.

The movie unequivocally proclaims that Albert DiSalvo, the man who is now confined to the Massachusetts mental hospital at Walpole, is the murderer.

DiSalvo is, at least in the movie, deemed the killer of all 13 women, whereas the facts in Frank's book did not establish an airtight case against DiSalvo.

Truth of the matter is the guilt of the man will never be established in court.

Operation Understanding and our small part in it let us say this: It Works. Once tried, once satisfied.

Incidentally, just who is going to pay the principal and interest on the bonds? Oh, I see.

Let's keep a good thing going! Norom N. Estrew (and all five offspring)

The chuckling aroused a sleeping wife. "What's so funny?" she asked.

"This story about the missing piece of cake. It's great. Didn't you read it?"

"No, what's it about?"

So I told her about the giant cake the brass of an American warship had ordered the galley to whip up last week for a celebrated potentate of a friendly nation.

When the recipient unwrapped his gift, the beautiful big thing had a gaping hole in its side.

"You sir, are made of the same stuff that the undisciplined crew of Captain Bligh was made of.

"Well, unfortunately, it says here" that the "Phantom" has been detected and is undergoing corrective treatment.

"Serves him right," she said and went back to sleep.

Absolutely no sense of humor, I thought. Then, flipping her electric sleeping blanket on "high"

"Phantom strikes again!"

"Phantom strikes again!"

"Phantom strikes again!"

"Phantom strikes again!"

"Phantom strikes again!"

"Phantom strikes again!"

State's Teachers Now Among The Highest Paid in Nation

LANSING—Final figures from 1968-69 contract negotiating sessions show Michigan teachers this year are among the best paid in the Midwest and the nation.

Only five years ago, a teacher armed with a bachelor's degree could expect to collect $4,985 the first year on the job.

But MEA officials say starting salaries aren't the only areas they're interested in.

"We're trying to keep teachers in the profession," said Kai Erickson, assistant MEA secretary.

Erickson said a large number of teachers are lost to industry and business in the third and fourth years because of the pay difference.

Figures show that Erickson is right about the salary boosts for experienced teachers.

Van Dyke School District is an example of the move to retain teachers.

Last year, teachers there with bachelor degrees could expect no more than $10,600 a year.

Through Michigan in 1967-68, experienced teachers were getting a maximum average of $9,589 for a bachelor's degree.

What gains this year will mean to next year's negotiating sessions is hard to say.

A modern, uniform code oriented toward performance standards is necessary if we are to be receptive to the technological changes and improvements which are rapidly occurring in the housing industry," he said.

In Next Film Story Rotary Spotlights Swiss Adventure

"Adventures in Switzerland," second Northville Rotary Club Travel and Adventure Series program of the 1968-69 season, will be presented at 8 p.m. Thursday, November 21, in the Northville High School auditorium.

The film story will be related by Dick Reddy, a native of Texas, who for the first time has made a conscientious effort to trace the coach tracks and footprints of Mark Twain who set sail for Switzerland in 1878.

From the towering peaks of the Jungfrau to the cold, dark dungeons of the Castle of Chillon, the audience is taken on balloon flights, sleigh rides and flights over the Alps.

The speaker's first introduction to Switzerland came after World War II when he commanded one of the first troop trains carrying GI's to Zermatt for an Alpine holiday. Snowball fights with the friendly Swiss and two weeks of winter wonderland, he said, made it impossible not to return. A graduate of the North Texas State University school of journalism, Reddy also holds a master's degree and has served as a teacher and school administrator. He studied cinematography at the University of Southern California.

Like such other early travelers as Elizabeth Barrett Browning, Mark Twain was unable to resist the lure of the Alps. After retracing some of his journey, Reddy takes Rotary travelers across the blue-white glaciers of the Valais in winter and through mountain pastures of Appenzel in the spring. There is a visit with a Swiss family and a Swiss Christmas celebration.

Series tickets still are available for the Rotary travel series of six lectures. Ticketholders may use the six punches all at one program or individually. Series price is $6. Individual tickets are sold at $1.50 for adults and 50 cents for students at the door.

Students Give Edge To Richard Nixon, Too

Even before President-elect Richard Nixon's victory announcement last week Wednesday afternoon, Northville had an inkling of who would be the nation's next president.

Students in Northville, who may or may not have been expressing the political preferences of their parents, gave Nixon the top spot in school elections.

He was the winner at the high school and Main Street and Moraine Elementary schools.

But if votes at these schools were indicative of parental preferences, what happened at Amerman Elementary and Novi High School? In Northville's precinct 3, the area of Amerman, and in Novi Nixon won the adult election handsily. At both schools, however, he ran second to Vice-President Hubert Humphrey, schools, however, he ran second to Vice-President Hubert Humphrey.

Students at Northville registered a 75-percent turnout — not much off the percentage turned in by the adults.

Novi students supported all three proposals (Daylight Savings Time, Clean Water, and Recreation) on which they cast ballots. Recreation passed by the narrowest margin, 360-265.

Municipal Court Judge Philip Ogilvie of Northville returned Detroit House of Correction escapes Douglas R. Honeycutt of Royal Oak to that institution for three days following his appearance on November 2.

On October 31, Judge Ogilvie fined Obeley L. Head of Plymouth $100 which he paid in lieu of 20 days in jail. Head had pleaded guilty to driving under the influence of liquor.

Judge Ogilvie also heard these cases on Thursday:

Richard C. Groth of Plymouth was charged with being a disorderly person, drunk on October 13. He stood mute at his arraignment on October 24, and a plea of innocent was entered on his behalf. At his trial, Groth was given the verdict of nolle prosequi upon payment of $25 court costs.

Four Jones of Westland paid $5 for pleading guilty to violation of a temporary instructor's permit on October 9.

An improper lift turn causing an accident on Center Street on October 28 cost Thomas C. Coggins of South Lyon $15 when he pleaded guilty.

Being drunk enough to be a disorderly person on November 2 cost Alex Barclay of Detroit $20 and $12 costs in lieu of six days in jail. He had entered a plea of guilty.

Two five dollar fines were assessed of Robert E. Lavigne of Detroit for improper license plates and defective equipment (headlights out). He was arrested on October 20 at Hutton and Dunlap and had entered a plea of guilty.

Also pleading guilty to two counts and paying five dollars on each was Sue L. Grant of Detroit. When she was stopped going the wrong way on one way South Main between Beal and Johnson on

Ambulance Service Threatened by New Requirements

Ambulance owners throughout the state are faced with another crisis, one which may find many communities without ambulance service come July 1, 1969.

That's when the new state law that outlines minimum standards for ambulance drivers and assistants will go into effect. Among other provisions, the law requires that personnel complete an advanced Red Cross safety course or the equivalent and that they be 21 years of age.

South Lyon is one of those communities that will be without ambulance service. Owner Richard Phillips of Phillips Funeral Home said he will definitely discontinue the service on July 1 because he is unable to find qualified persons.

Fred Casteline, owner of Casteline's Funeral Home in Northville, said that he'll wait to see what other owners will do before making a decision. "If they all go out, I will," he stated.

Harbin's Funeral Home of Novi operates an ambulance on an emergency basis only.

As of January 1 all funeral homes in Monroe and Livingston counties that are still in the ambulance business will quit the ambulance service, it was decided recently by funeral director organizations in both counties.

Recently, in an attempt to resolve some of the nagging financial problems of ambulance operators, the City of Northville and the Village of Novi adopted new subsidizing policies that provide for municipal payment of

Specifically, in Northville the city agreed to pay delinquent bills for ambulance service requested by the police department. The arrangement is similar in Novi, only there the village has agreed to pay only $25 per call plus 50-cents per mile. In both cases, the municipality attempts to recover the costs from the persons billed.

"I'm not making any money on it," Casteline stated. "It's purely a service to the community." Phillips, likewise, said there was no profit in ambulance calls, that he inherited the service and continued it as a service to the community.

Many ambulance owners, plagued by mounting costs and troubles in collecting fees, are using the new state legislation as an out. One owner said in many instances this was true.

According to Phillips, Pinckney and Brighton will also be without ambulance service after July. McDonald's in Howell has already

Council Applies Clamps To Industrial Proposal

"Don't fence me in," was the cry of the developer of Hydromation Industrial Subdivision.

Residents of Meadowbrook Lake, the adjoining subdivision, and members of Novi Council did not buy the song, however, and tailored restrictive clauses into the pre-plot approval of the industrial subdivision at the public hearing continuation portion of Monday night's meeting.

Lack of good faith as to the required fence and green belt and the open ordinance violation pertaining to storage and disposal by Hydromation's current plant stirred protest from the Meadowbrook Lake citizens and brought the following council action:

Approved was the pre-plot, but with these restrictions: the ordinance specifically prohibits any outside storage and this must be adhered to; the 10-foot-high chain-link fence must be constructed before any sewer or road construction can be undertaken; and the 10-foot-wide, six-foot high green belt must be installed between each plant and the residential sub before any occupancy permit will be granted.

Traffic was the topic of the majority of the remainder of the evening's discussion.

Three specific traffic problems were aired at the meeting.

Harold N. Ackley, village manager, told council he had personally contacted Robert Osgood, Oakland County Road Commission's traffic engineer for signal lights, who didn't feel the Ten Mile Road — Novi Road intersection was busy enough to warrant any signal light. Ackley did get him to promise to take another traffic survey, however, and still holds out hope that something may be done.

The CAO crossing on Nine Mile Road was another traffic discussion item. The request for a signal here came originally from Meadowbrook Lake Subdivision in a letter from Mrs. Keith Ehrenreich, 23215 Balcombe Drive.

Cost of a signal light installation is to be investigated by Ackley and Howard I. Bond, village attorney. But council did authorize Ackley to begin preparing the approaches immediately to bring the road up level to the crossing for 150 feet east and west of the crossing.

Still another traffic problem was discussed as a result of a letter received from Peter Baker who complained of the difficulty parents of elementary school children who stay after school for meetings have in getting back onto Novi Road due to traffic. Public Safety Director Lee DeGole and Ackley will look into the possibility of "slow down" type signal lights in the school zone.

Council accepted the resignation from the planning board of W. Harold Tuck, with regrets, effective December 1. It also approved the appointment to the board of attorney Merle R. Jenkins as per the request of board chairman Kain Johnson, also effective December 1.

In the attorney's reports, Bond brought up the request of Richard Herbel to split his parcel adjoining Brookland Farms Subdivision into four lots. Herbel has yet to satisfy Bond as to his ownership of out lot A which separates his parcel from Cottisford Road. He promised to do this and the split will be on the agenda of the next meeting.

Ackley reported that the Orchard Hills sewer problem has been licked and then brought out specifications for a new police car. The only changes from prior specifications will be a

For Novi School Projects Bricks, Tiling, Dining Room Ok'd

With construction and remodeling work at Novi's two elementary schools zipping along at a satisfactory pace, the board of education last week took action in several areas affecting the building program.

Among decisions by the board were:

—Selection of brick for the addition to Orchard Hills Elementary School.

—Approval to remodel a storage room in Novi Elementary School for use by teachers as a dining room.

—Ratification of a $53,712 contract with the Oakland County Intermediate School District for payment of two special education rooms at Orchard Hills.

—Authorization to spend up to $100 for installation of alphabet and numeral inscribed tiles on the floor of the Novi kindergarten room.

Remodeling of the Novi School storage room for a teacher's dining room was approved by a split vote. Russell Taylor, who was especially concerned that better eating facilities be provided for teachers, cast a lone "no" vote because fellow members declined to increase the $4,496.70 outlay by nearly $450 for covering walls with a wallboard rather than painting them.

Taylor was the lone dissenter in another vote — this one involving a motion to seek additional bids for a tractor, snow plow blade and mower. Taylor saw the delay in making a purchase as perhaps necessitating the hiring of snow removal as was done last winter. Hiring snow removal work, he reasoned, may nullify any savings that the district might realize by seeking additional bids.

School Committee To Air Findings

A joint meeting of the school building study committee and the Novi Board of education has been scheduled for 8 p.m. Monday. Committee officials are expected to report the findings of the committee.

Contest Extended

Contestants for the Pick the Cabinet contest introduced by this newspaper last week will have an extra week to enter — thanks to a goof.

Two cabinet posts were not included in the list of 12 cabinet posts last week — one of them was listed twice.

The contest originally slated to end today has been extended to Wednesday, November 27 in fairness to readers. Entries must be postmarked no later than November 28.

Contestants are asked to submit the names of the men or women who they believe President-elect Richard Nixon will choose for his cabinet. The person picking the largest number of correct cabinet selections will win a handsome two-volume edition on United States presidents.
