B & E's Plague Northville Police

Breaking and enterings and stolen wallets plagued Northville police last week. Two of each were reported as between 15 and 20 blankets, each valued at $4.65, were stolen from Eastlawn Convalescent Home, 409 High Street, Thursday afternoon.

The other entry occurred at Northville High School late Saturday night when six boys allegedly dressed in Northville Varsity jackets entered without breaking and proceeded to take several ice cream sandwiches from an unlocked cafeteria freezer. Three of the youths were nearly apprehended by police, but were able to escape.

One of the thefts occurred at the high school as well, as Cathrine J. Carter of 830 Grace Street and the band director stepped out of his office between 10:30 and 11 a.m. Friday.

Ms. Carter left her purse on Robert Williams' desk and when they returned, it was open and her wallet was missing from it.

Roger N. Ratliff of 7645 Chubb Road lost his wallet in even more rapid fashion Saturday. He was gone from his unlocked car which was parked in front of Cloverdale Dairy for only about 15 minutes, but upon returning his wallet was missing from the front seat.

One Buck Watches Ding Bells

With the introduction of watches that sold for a buck, the old dinner bell popularity fell off and one of Northville's early industries lost business. That's just one of numerous interesting little items to come to light as The Record prepares for its special centennial edition on July 17.

conflict during a recent interview as Gazlay spaded American Bell's history.

According to Bogart, who lived on an Eight Mile Road farm east of town, American Bell had a thriving dinner-bell business, supplying bells throughout the nation.

Bells were sold to Sears for 80-cents, said Bogart who once was secretary of the firm.

The farm business fell off, however, when the Ingersoll Watch Company came out with a dollar watch replaceable in a year.

Placed on six months deferred sentencing for reckless driving was John A. Bennett of 44201 West Ten Mile for the offense of March 7.

Appearing for trial last week Monday on an insufficient fund check charge adjudged from December, 1968, James C. Taylor of Lincoln Park changed his plea to guilty. He was assessed $25 court costs and ordered by District Court Judge Dunbar Davis to make restitution, both to be accomplished by April 17.

Organizations Asked to Join Michigan Week Observance

Northville clubs and organizations wishing to participate in the city's Michigan Week festivities were urged this week to contact the chairman, Mrs. William Slattery, immediately. Michigan Week will be celebrated from Saturday, May 17 through Saturday, May 24.

Girl Scout News

Mrs. Edwin Langtry of Northville was elected to a two-year term on the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council board of directors at the annual meeting of the council last Thursday at Howell Recreation Center.

Girl Scout volunteers from throughout the Huron Valley Council attended the meeting presided over by Mrs. Kenneth Hulsing, president. Mrs. Louis Galan, Dexter, was named second vice-president.

Wyeth Allen, Ann Arbor professor emeritus of the University of Michigan, was presented with the newly-established Best Friend of Girl Scouting Award and a special campership award was established in his name.

Richard M. Nixon has accepted the position of honorary president of the Girl Scouts of the United States, continuing an unbroken tradition begun in 1917 by Mrs. Woodrow Wilson. Mrs. Nixon's two daughters, Julie (Mrs. David Eisenhower) and Patricia have been Girl Scouts.

Northville's Junior Girl Scout Troop 331 observed International Friendship Day by taking a trip to the International Institute in Detroit.

Free baby sitting may be arranged with Mrs. David Cheek, 349-5139. All interested newcomers to the area also are invited to attend.

Area Churches Plan Special Holy Week Services

Holy Week services for area faithful will climax Sunday with sunrise services, breakfasts and special Easter music and sermons in local churches' annual Christian festival in commemoration of the resurrection of Jesus Christ.

The special Easter services will follow Maundy Thursday services and Good Friday observances, including union services in both Novi and Northville.

At 7 p.m. Friday there is to be a Tenebrae Service with a short meditation on "The Seven Words" as candles are extinguished, concluding in complete darkness.

Three Easter services are planned, beginning with a Sunrise Communion at 7 a.m. Family service will be at 9 a.m. and a Festival Communion service is to be at 10:30 a.m. with the Reverend Boerger speaking on "He Came to Wipe Away Our Tears."

The women's guild will serve Easter breakfast from 8 to 10 a.m.

Northville First United Methodist Church plans a continual Maundy Thursday Communion service from 7 to 9 p.m. today.

Union Good Friday service will be at 1:30 p.m. at Northville Presbyterian Church with the Reverend G. C. Branstner giving the sermon.

At the Easter sunrise service at 7 a.m. youth of the church will present a dialogue: "You Are There." The Methodist Men are in charge of breakfast at 7:30 a.m.

Duplicate Easter services are continued on Page 12-A Building Plans Boom

Novi Planners Face City's Growing Pains

Novi citizens may have been wondering, "When cityhood comes, can a building boom be far behind?" An answer has not been long in coming as Novi's planning board recommended that the council approve the preliminary plat of Heatherbrae Subdivision, part of a nearly 1,000 acre complex along Nine Mile east of Meadowbrook Road, as well as a rezoning request on Twelve Mile between Taft and Beck and then went on to set up public hearings on four other areas.

Council listened to the Kaufman-Broad Heatherbrae request presented by Gilbert Franklin at length before granting approval, primarily as the request afforded them an opportunity to learn as they worked what considerations go into preliminary plat approval.

Franklin told of a proposed "key weir" which will connect the lake north of Heatherbrae (and a part of Kaufman and Broad's holdings) to the creek which passes from northeast to southwest to the north of the lake. The weir, he said, will enable the company to control overflow from the lake during any storm which raises the level. It will permit very little water to flow into the creek at any one time, thus protecting homeowners in neighboring Meadowbrook Lake Subdivision from flooding from that source, he said.

Rezoning of a narrow parcel of land along the north side of Twelve Mile was done so the owner, Fred Scott, could use the land as a storage facility for his Farmington-based swing-pool firm. Careful attention was given to protection of the residents by reading the ordinance concerning green belt and fencing requirements which Scott promised to meet.

Kaufman & Broad hopes to soon make a presentation for the development of the remainder of their extensive holdings along Nine Mile to both the board and to the school board. They already have pre-preliminary approval of a portion at the north end of the property (between Los Almas and Ten Mile) as well as the Heatherbrae preliminary approval.

More proposals for residential and industrial developments were presented following the adjournment of the council and public hearing segment.

Public hearings were set for April 28 to consider a rezoning request from Arlington Builders of Southfield and from Meadowbrook Nursing Care Facility and for May 12 on the Richard Gabel - planning board and Edward Andries rezoning requests.

Arlington wants a zoning change from AG to R-1-S (suburban residential) for a parcel between Echo Valley and Beck Road on which they hope to erect some 95 homes. Meadowbrook Care Facility wants an extension of its present zoning in the R-4 district north to permit the addition of a clinic to the present facility.

Gabel's request calls for splitting a present R-1 (single family residential) district, which lies east of Novi Road and north of Nine Mile, into a north-south divided R-4 (multiple family) and M-1 (light manufacturing) district. The M-1 is to serve as a buffer zone between the R-4, which would lie along Novi Road and the heavy industrial (M-3) zone to the east. Council, to avoid spot zoning, added parcels between the Gabel holding and Nine Mile Road to the rezoning proposal.

Andries desires a change from R-1-F (small farms) to M-1 for the former Heslip property east of ABC Photo and bounded on the east by the C&O tracks (an 8.6 acre triangle) to permit development.

Board Chairman Kalin Johnson turned over a request for site plan approval, submitted by John McGuire for a C-2 parcel south of Guernsey Dairy in which he hopes to conform by building a general commercial operation, to Stan Woodhouse, Villan-Leman planning consultant, for study.

Also discussed was the SEMCOG regional planning conference set for April 10 at the Veterans Memorial Building in Detroit. Board secretary George Athas indicated that he would join three council members who already have decided to attend.

Northville Awarded Top State Grant

The Northville School District Thursday was awarded a $19,565 state grant to conduct a feasibility study of the year-round school concept.

Largest grant of its kind made in Michigan, the Northville stipend, according to Superintendent Raymond Spear, is one of six awarded in the state from a $100,000 special appropriation made by the State Legislature. Next largest grant - $19,500 - went to the Utica school system.

A comprehensive study - research program - supplementing a study conducted over the past several months by a school board-appointed citizens Year-Round Committee, will get underway yet this month. Major thrust of the state-financed study, said Spear, will be public informational program, a house-to-house survey, and an analysis of the survey to determine whether or not an extended school year or school day is feasible.

To qualify for the grant, Northville had to agree to make its findings available to other school districts in the state that might wish to consider adoption of a year-round program. Northville's earlier study of the year-round concept had much to do with the state's decision to award a grant to the local school system, officials said.

Announcement of the grant was made by Ira Polley.

Second Time Here Oil Pollutes Bassett

For the second time in 15 months state and county authorities are battling oil pollution in Novi to prevent the destruction of downriver (Rouge) water life.

Meanwhile, police throughout the metropolitan area have been alerted to watch for the illegal dumping of waste oil.

The latest episode in the war on oil occurred early last week when, with the melting of ice, thousands of gallons of waste oil seeped into the Bassett Drain from near 196 and Novi Road and immediately touched off a full-scale pollution battle by representatives of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources and the Oakland County drain department.

Unlike the December, 1967 pollution problem here which resulted from an overturned oil tanker in the same vicinity, this year's contamination apparently was deliberate. Authorities reported that Galloway Creek and Galloway Lake, north of Pontiac, also were similarly polluted.

"Evidence leads us to believe some individual, unknown, who operates a 'waste oil' collecting business, deliberately stopped his tanker on 1-96 and 1-75, turned open the valves and allowed the oil to spill down the bank into the streams," said Brusco.

He said some 5,000 to 7,000 gallons of oil were released in Novi and about 1,000 near Pontiac. "This is not a small job," he said.

The county immediately pressed several men into a daily clean-up operation in Novi. As was done last year, straw bales were constructed to keep the oil from flowing downstream along the Rouge River and into Phoenix Lake, newly stocked with fish.

Oil is being skimmed from the water's surface daily.

"Thus far," reported a spokesman for the county, "we've managed to contain the oil. We don't think any great amount has escaped downstream." However, he pointed out that saving wildlife in ponds adjacent to the Bassett Drain is out of the question since all or most of it was destroyed last year by oil contamination.

He said investigation disclosed that oil escaping into the drain from the frozen earth with such force that it gouged a "foot deep, foot wide" trench down into the drain.

No one is sure when the illegal dumping took place - although most guess within a week or so ago - because it apparently did not actually begin to seep into the water until the thawing of the ice early last week. Until then it probably was kept from the water by the ice layer.

"As first we thought the oil might still be part of last year's problem but when we saw how much there was we knew it had to be new," the county spokesman said.

Councilman Del Black Talks About the Issues

I firmly believe that the improvement and further development of our commercial tax base is not strictly a city government function. The business community will have to be persuaded to pay its fair share. Quite frankly, as a businessman I am disturbed by the growing public sentiment that our downtown merchants do not want new business to come here. Let me say most emphatically that I for one wholeheartedly welcome new business if for no other reason than new

As the only incumbent running for councilman, Black KNOWS the issues and isn't afraid to 'tell it as it is'.

business, with its wider variety of merchandise, attracts a larger shopping client. Many of us realize that competition is healthy. The CBD, I believe, is the instrument that promotes orderly growth of our downtown business section. And it is this growth that can make for a healthier tax base. Many of the programs so vital to our community - implementation of the master plan, development of our recreation program, and continued work towards flood control to name but three - have been undertaken by the present council. As a member of that council, attuned to these specific projects, I believe I can better work towards their completion than can an unseasoned candidate. Implementation of the CBD, for example, has already been initiated by the council and much of what has gone into it reflects my thinking and direction. At this point I want very much to see it through to completion. As chairman of the community-wide Recreation Committee, I am keenly aware of the recreational needs of our community and I am anxious to continue pushing for fulfillment of these needs at the council level. Purchase of the fish hatchery site, in which I played a leading role, is but a start. Development

Beverly Claire Stone Married

The marriage of Beverly Claire Stone to Robert Davidson Lowden at Trinity Church, Newton Centre, Massachusetts, March 15 brought her parents from Largo, Florida, as her father, Roy P. Stone gave her away in the afternoon ceremony.

Performing the afternoon ceremony was the Reverend Howard R. Dunbar.

Mr and Mrs. Stone are former Northville residents. Their son, Gerald, is owner of Gambles Hardware Store here.

Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. C. Stanley Lowden of Needham, Massachusetts.

For her wedding, the bride chose an ivory Peau de soie appliqued with Alencon lace. It was fashioned with a sculptured neckline and midway lace sleeves. The lace empire bodice was accented with an A-line skirt with lace appliques, and the gown featured a detachable chapel train. An ivory Alencon lace mantilla was worn.

She carried an old fashioned bouquet of ivory sweetheart roses.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Henry D. Shaw of Newton wore a cordial empire fall gown trimmed with matching lace, and a Dior bow headpiece. She carried a nosegay of pink sweetheart roses and miniature carnations.

Bridesmaids, all dressed like the matron of honor, were Mrs. Charles A. Peirce II of Westwood, Massachusetts; Mrs. David E. Scarlett of Agawam, Massachusetts; Mrs. Martin G. Stone of Livonia; and Mrs. James E. Sullivan, Jr. of Natick, Massachusetts.

Best man was B. Timothy Enos of New Rochelle, New York, and serving as ushers were Raymond J. Berberi of Boucherville, Quebec; David E. Scarlett of Agawam; Dwane R. Stone of Largo, Florida; and Donald P.

Williamson of Glens Mills, Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Raymond J. Berberi of Boucherville was in charge of the guest book.

The bridegroom's mother wore and aqua silk-washed dress with a beaded collar and matching accessories, and a corsage of cymbidium orchids.

Following the wedding ceremony a reception was held at Longwood Cricket Club in Chestnut Hill, Massachusetts.

Wearing a navy dress and jacket, the bride and her husband left on a skiing trip to Aspen, Colorado and then on to Las Vegas, Nevada. Their residence following the wedding trip will be 137 Maple Street in Needham, Massachusetts.

The new Mrs. Lowden, an acturarian with John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company of Boston, is a graduate of the University of Michigan.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Williams College, is a member of the University Club of Boston, the Longwood Cricket Club, the Charles River Country Club and the Williams Club of New York.

Wings Over Bahamas

Metcalf to Close Travel Series

"Come Fly With Me" is the keynote sounded in the sixth and final travelogue of this season's Rotary series.

James W. Metcalf, a Michigan native who once attended the University of Michigan, will present the motion picture travelogue "Wings to the Golden Bahamas" at 8 p.m. next Thursday in the Northville High School auditorium to close out this year's series.

Having become interested in photography in college, Metcalf entered the Professional School of Photography in Winoona, Indiana, on a scholarship. Before beginning production of a series of lecture films on Western Hemisphere countries in 1953, he traveled extensively for the Army producing training films and he operated a commercial and portrait studio in Detroit.

Recently, Metcalf produced educational films for Coronet Instructional Films, Inc., General Electric Co., Cessna Aircraft Co., Heddon Bait Company, Pan American World Airways (LAD) and Walt Disney Films. Among the publishers of his illustrated travel and text books are Rand McNally and Doubleday.

Metcalf earned a pilot's license in 1960 and now flies to his lecture engagements and film assignments. He and his family have flown the length and breadth of the United States as well as making extensive trips in Canada, Mexico, the Bahamas and the West Indies.

"Wings to the Golden Bahamas" is the film through which viewers can visit these islands beginning just 55 miles south of Florida. The wings are those of his private aircraft which was used to travel throughout the 800 islands covering 4,400 square miles of the Atlantic, where Columbus discovered the New World and where history is replete with pirates.

Metcalf, a Michigan native, is always glad to return to the Wolverine State for engagements.

Elegance Earns Spotlight As Town Hall Closes Season

"Elegance as elegance does", and this applies in every sense of the word to Mme. Genevieve Antoine Dariaux, who will speak here April 17 under the auspices of the Northville Town Hall.

Mme. Dariaux is directrice of the world renowned couture house of Nina Ricci.

She is author of "Elegance" published by Doubleday in 1964. Within 10 months it was already in its seventh printing. Public demand established it as the top reference book for fashion, just as Van derbilt's book is for etiquette. Her subsequent book, "Entertaining with Elegance", is also a long-standing best seller.

In her forthcoming book she broadens her scope to cover "The Men in Your Life."

Her interest in fashion first took concrete form through a talent for designing costume jewelry. Since then, daily experiences with a glamorous international clientele have only added authority to her born-to-the-manner knowledge of innate elegance.

A woman of great warmth, a sense of humor and appreciation of simplicity, she has a magnetic appeal to all women. Her experiences, first with her own successful fashion house and currently with Nina Ricci, give her words of advice a ring of genuine authority. She is refreshingly specific, practical and astutely outspoken in setting forth sound rules that cover all contingencies.

She has appeared on most of the leading radio and television interview shows including "Monitor", "Martha Dean", "Arlene Francis", and "To Tell The Truth."

In her lecture she will cover some of the more elusive "Do's and Don'ts" of attire and the current and future fashion trends - all liberally interspersed with amusing anecdotes about her exciting career and the internationally famous client-friends she has made through the years.

The 11 a.m. lecture will take place in the Northville High School Auditorium, followed by a celebrity luncheon at the Mayflower Meeting House. Reservations for the luncheon must be made by April 11.

As an added special for the upcoming lecture program, a bottle of Nina Ricci L'Air du Temps Parfume, brought along by Mme. Dariaux, will be given away. Women will be asked to deposit tickets in a box at the auditorium to determine who wins the perfume.

Tickets for next year's series of lectures will be sold at the April 17 lecture.

Officials Link New High School To Walled Lake Millage Hike

As construction of the new Walled Lake high school near Wyom continues on schedule towards a September opening, school officials see a possible kink in the opening of the new school.

It all boils down to money and an exploding student enrollment. That's why, officials emphasize, that passage of the millage issue on April 29 is vital to the operation of the school system. On that date electors of the district will vote on a 5-mill increase and the renewal of a one-mill levy.

Located on Beck Road, near Pontiac Trail, the school is to house some 1,700 students in grades 9 through 12. Its opening, say officials, will reduce serious overcrowding at Walled Lake Central High School, Smart Junior High, and Walled Lake Junior High.

Plans call for moving ninth graders from the two junior highs and placing them with grades 10-12 at the senior highs. Next year's enrollment in grades 9-12 will be close to 3,000 and the present Central High School, built to house 1,300, cannot accommodate all these students on a full-time basis. Similarly, although Western High School is larger than Central, the new building is not designed to house 3,000 students either, officials point out.

After a thorough study of the enrollment situation, the board of education reports that failure of the millage proposition will mean placing all 9-12 graders in the district on half-day sessions at the present high school.

Another advantage to being able to open Western High School is that it will provide greater educational opportunities for secondary students than is now available, they explain. The selection of courses will be increased from 130 offerings to 164, with many of the new courses being in the vocational areas. Welding, auto mechanics, carpentry and graphics are among the new courses.

According to Rolland Langerman, assistant superintendent, "approximately 50-percent of our students do not go on to college so the expansion of our vocational program is very important. We feel that these additional classes, made possible by the opening of Western, will do much to meet the needs of our students."

To insure equal educational opportunity for all students, pupils will be bused between high schools so that they may take courses not offered in their own buildings. This program, say officials, will also eliminate the need for duplicating costly facilities and equipment.

Courses to be offered exclusively at Western include auto mechanics, graphics, electronics, food service, swimming and metal shop.

"At the time the bond issue for the construction of the Western building was passed in 1966," Langerman said, "the school district stressed that it would need operating monies for the school sometime in the future."

"We did not ask for operating millage then because we were not certain how much costs would increase over a period of three years nor did we know how much state aid and other income would be available at the time the school opened."

"Also, we did not need the money during this construction period and did not want to levy millage for which we had no existing need. This is in line with the general philosophy supported by the Walled Lake Board of Education for many years of not asking for money until it is needed."

Obscenity Cases Unsettled

Schoolcraft's recent obscenity case involving three students, who allegedly used obscenities on the community college campus, has splintered into three separate directions.

Evan Bassett of Plymouth was found innocent, as he had pleaded, when none of the some 23 prosecution witnesses could positively identify him in Judge James Mies' Livonia District Court.

David Sedler, also of Plymouth, 'was found guilty of the charge and has been referred to the probation department for pre-sentence investigation.

Also referred for pre-sentence investigation was Mark Stephens who had pleaded guilty, but had contested the constitutional grounds under which he was being tried.

Further disposition in the cases of Sedler and Stephens will follow the investigation.

Citizens Block Police Pay Plan

But Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg strongly favored hiring Nisun (who has been working on a part-time basis as a township police officer) for 40-hours at an annual salary of $9,500 plus fringe benefits.

At this point it seemed inevitable that Trustees Armstrong and Baldwin would lose their battle for more time and consideration.

But there were three members of the township-appointed police study committee in the audience. Chairman Eugene Guido along with E. O. Weber and Mrs. Constance Wilson took exception to the board's lack of attention to its report that had taken eight months to compile.

And Trustee Baldwin started to recite salaries of police officers on neighboring community forces pointing out that starting salaries were some $2,000 lower than the $9,500 proposed here. He listed Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Milan and Dexter, noting that top pay for a patrolman in Ann Arbor is $8,700, in Ypsilanti - $8,969, Milan - $6,900, and Dexter, $6,500.

Stromberg votes only in case of ties) - and then Lawrence immediately moved to hire Nisun. Mitchell quickly supported the motion.

Readers Speak Says Business Rules the City

To the Editor:

Studying the qualifications of our candidates for the Northville City Council, we find that three of the five men have commercial business interests in the City of Northville. Most, if not all of our councilmen, have interests in the local business community. It is our view that business is represented on our city council. Who is representing the Common Man of this community?

Should not we, the ordinary resident of Northville have our interests represented on our city council? Northville City is fortunate in that the community abounds with talent from many professions and trades. Along with our fine men of business, we believe the voter of Northville ought to consider the possibilities of placing qualified residents on our council.

Sincerely, Mr. & Mrs. Lawrence F. Gucken

(In the city of Northville patrolmen begin at $7,020 with a top pay of $8,710 after three years; sergeants are paid $9,100 and the position of detective-sergeant is paid $9,305).

Baldwin noted that the township has only three ordinances to enforce - trash, hunting and dogs - and that unless the township adopted the state uniform traffic code there would be very little for an officer to do.

"We'd have the highest paid dog warden in the county," Baldwin exclaimed.

The trustee also noted that adoption of the traffic code would bring with it many more responsibilities - court appearances, attorney fees to prosecute cases, record keeping and certain liabilities that come with police enforcement on a larger scale.

A reply by the city of Northville to a request for 40-hour police protection by contract for the township was reported.

It indicated that the city manager and police chief would not recommend a 40-hour service and would only consider full-time protection. It also cautioned that any such contract would have to have council approval.

The around-the-clock service would cost an estimated $70,000 per year. Guido noted that this was close to the same figure given by the Wayne County sheriff's department two years ago.

Baldwin urged getting a reply from the county on the cost of extended service.

Trustee Mitchell pointed out that the proposed salary was not higher than the Livonia or Wayne county sheriff's salary and he argued that the full-time employment of Nisun was not the creation of a new police department.

"We already employ Nisun on a part-time basis. This would only be changing him to full-time," Mitchell stated.

While Armstrong and Baldwin seemed to be losing the battle to fellow board members, the tempo of audience participation in the argument picked up and triggered a turn-about.

Weber wondered why a salary of $9,500 had been proposed. Supervisor Stromberg answered that this was what Nisun had requested. The political job said that "Nisun now has a superior job in Livonia and would like to change". "Don't you call this political?" asked Trustee Armstrong. He criticized the appointment without seeking competitive applications and without setting up salary ranges.

"It's like the building inspector," Armstrong recalled. He noted that both he and Baldwin had opposed a higher salary for the building inspector but that the rest of the board argued that he couldn't be replaced, that he was capable and well-liked. "Now we have a new inspector, we pay him less and you think he's great," Armstrong added.

"I think Nisun is a fine officer. But maybe we could find equally qualified people if we tried."

Guido Ikens, the high salary proposal to the salaries proposed by Wayne county supervisors. "They're recalling them," he pointed out.

"It's a comparable situation," agreed Baldwin.

"Yes and there's an annual meeting Saturday and I'll be there," noted Mrs. Wilson.

Baldwin said the high salary for a township policeman could cause a problem for the city of Northville police department.

"That's good," retorted Treasurer Lawrence.

But Trustee Mitchell had second thoughts.

"I withdraw my second to the motion to hire Nisun," he stated.

Lawrence agreed to withdraw his motion "only if we agree to take applications for the job".

Trustee Straub, who had remained silent during the discussion except for his vote to hire Nisun, then called for a motion to appoint a committee to study the township police situation.

"Why not use the same committee we had and just have them update the material," Baldwin suggested.

Straub was agreeable, "if others can also be appointed".

It was agreed that the supervisor could appoint more members, but that the members of the two-year-old study would be encouraged to participate again.

Thus the issue was tabled pending a study.

The $12,000 expenditure for a policeman remains in the budget, however. But the budget must pass public approval at Saturday's annual meeting.

It was noted that the annual meeting will be moved to the board of education offices if there are too many citizens for accommodations at the township hall.

In other business Tuesday night the board agreed to place on the May agenda a study of charter township form of government.

Clerk Hammond made this motion noting that there is an increasing need for more money to provide services and that under a charter township millage can be increased up to five mills.

An Open Letter to the Voters of Northville

As a resident and businessman, I am genuinely concerned about the future of Northville. With the rapid movement of people to our area, it is imperative that we plan the orderly development of our central business district as well as every other area of our community. This will substantially increase our commercial property tax base, and it can also maintain the aesthetic beauty of our city.

Closer coordination among our overlapping governmental jurisdictions could be helpful in developing several proposed industrial parks. This is the area in which I would concentrate my efforts in order to gain relief for the overburdened property taxpayer.

I would like the opportunity to serve our city during this critical period. Your vote and support are needed. Be sure to vote on Monday the 7th and help get your neighbors to the polling booth as well.

Next Up: MSU Tomorrow

Mustangs Finish Sixth at Ypsi As Stuyvenberg, Hicks Excel

Following one of the finest invitational performances in history Friday, Northville's Mustangs will travel to Michigan State University tomorrow in hopes of duplicating some of Friday's efforts.

"It's going to be tough - probably tougher than even the Huron Relays," said Coach Ralph Redmond, "but they couldn't do it. And Fred could do even better before the season's over."

Northville's two-mile relay team picked up three points for the Mustangs. Participants, all running an 880 leg, were Paul Bedford, Brad Cole, Phil Kennedy, and Chris Kline. Strong legs were turned in by Bedford at 2:08.7 and Cole, who ran 2:13. Both times were outstanding for the two young competitors. Kennedy and Kline had hoped to do better.

Sophomore Rick Bell was off to one of his best two-mile races in his short career, turning the mile at 5:09, when he was forced from the event because Ralph Soppa of St. Louis High School lapped the entire field. When an athlete laps the field, only the leading runners are permitted to continue.

"It was a disappointment for Rick," said Redmond, "but he's a determined youngster and I think his showing will give him some added confidence."

Perhaps the most disappointed Mustangs were the members of the squad's shuttle relay - Dave Mitchell, Dave Veresch, Jeff Dawson, and Ed Beller. They'd run an excellent 31-second practice mark but could manage only 32.5 at Ypsi. Mitchell, according to the coach, gave the team some extra push with "a very good lead leg. I'm sure you can expect something better from these boys before long."

Stuyvenberg, who is a cinch to set a number of new records here before closing out his career in 1971, took first place in the long jump and became only the second sophomore in the 15-year history of the Relays to cop a first place.

Even so, his winning 20 5/8" mark was a personal disappointment since he already has posted 21 feet in competition at the University of Michigan. Stuyvenberg's very first jump probably would have bettered 21 1/2 feet but he fell backwards. Despite this setback he was marked at 20' 4 1/2" on the leap.

In the 60-yard dash, with 54 runners entered, Stuyvenberg finished ninth. He won his preliminary heat and barely lost out in the semi-finals in a bid for a chance at the finals. He also ran a 220 yard leg - clocked at 23.2 - with Northville's sprint medley, which finished third in a time of 3:52.1. Ecorse won the event in a time of 3:43.

Other members of that third-place medley relay squad were Glen Heffner, who ran a 440 leg, Al Earhart, 220, and Greg Marshall, 880. Best efforts were turned in by Stuyvenberg and Marshall.

Marshall is currently Northville's record holder in the half-mile (2:00.1). In the medley Friday Marshall took the baton two steps behind Mike Hugelst, West Bloomfield's best half-miler, passed the Laker on the third turn and led him by 40 yards at the finish.

One of the biggest thrills of the Relays centered around Northville's other track key - Hicks. The crowd around the pits was so huge, said Redmond, "That I couldn't see what was happening. I heard all this screaming and then one of our guys came out yelling, 'Fred's put one into orbit.'"

And in orbit it was. The 6' 3", 220-pound athlete broke Northville's all time record (48' 7 1/2" set in 1957) with a put of 50' 2 1/2" - good for second place and "seven valuable points."

"We've had some big boys in the past like Jerry Biddle and Bill MacDermid - try to break that record," said Redmond, "but they couldn't do it. And Fred could do even better before the season's over."

FRED HICKS SHOWS FORM THAT TOPPED SHOT RECORD

GOOD EXCHANGE - Making the proper baton exchange is a key to success in any relay event and Brad Cole's "pass" to Chris Kline was instrumental in Northville's sixth-place finish in the two-mile event at Ypsi. Greg Marshall ran the first leg and Phil Kennedy anchored this fine effort.

SPORTS Kensington Park Launches Season

Kensington Metropolitan Park near New Hudson has now opened its two boat launching sites. The 1,200-acre Kent Lake in the park is one of the most popular fishing and boating areas in southeastern Michigan.

Six boats may be launched at one time from the east launching site, where there is space for 60 cars and trailers and additional parking for cars only. The west launching site has space for 125 cars and trailers with 6 to 8 launchings available at one time at the 120-foot ramp.

There is no charge for launching, however, launching permits are required and are available at the park office. The permits are good for the 1969 season. There is a 10 mile per-hour-speed limit on Kent Lake and no water skiing is permitted. Launching hours are sunrise to 10 p.m.

Trailers, cars and boats are not permitted to remain overnight in Kensington Metropolitan Park, except for boats in slip rental spaces.

Arthur W. Stephens, 70, who has been associated with the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority as its land negotiator for over 24 years, will retire on March 31.

Stephens came in contact with the Authority in 1944, when the regional agency was purchasing land for the "Kent Lake Project," which opened in 1948 as Kensington Metropolitan Park covering 4,300 acres. Many area residents still remember "Art Stephens" as the man who carried out the Authority policy of buying land at a fair price. He obtained 96 percent of the parcels needed for Kensington Park through negotiation.

He has been involved in most lands acquired for the other OHMA Metropolitan Parks including Lower Huron near Belleville, Delhi and Hudson Mills near Ann Arbor, and Stony Creek Metropolitan Park near Utica.

Dad's Tips Pay Off For Young Driver

Bobby Williams, who learned the fine points of driving and training from his father Jack Sr. as a youth on the farm near Comstock Park in the Grand Rapids area, has shown harness racing fans in the Detroit area at Wolverine Harness Raceway he was an excellent pupil.

There was a time when Jack Sr., who was driving back in the mid '40s when pari-mutuel betting on harness racing first started, was rated as the most outstanding handler of trotters in the Midwest.

Jack Sr. taught sons, Jack Jr., 39, and Bobby, 32, all he knew about the sport prior to the time he suffered a stroke and had to retire. Bobby had stables at Wolverine and Hazel Park a few years back before he shifted his activities.

But this year Bobby decided to come back to the Motor City and shipped his entire stable in from California, where he competed during the fall and early winter winning the driving championship at Bay Meadows near San Francisco.

The Wolverine meeting was only a few days old when Bobby made his presence known. He won five events during the first week, climaxing the six days with a brilliant victory behind Gaybide The Great. The win was his fifth in a row and came over Sonny Fortune, the great Michigan ace making his first 1969 start.

Only One Experienced Pitcher Mound Worries Wildcat Coach

With only one experienced pitcher returning, Novi baseball coach John Osborne predicts a somewhat dismal season unless he can bring along two other prospects.

Lee Snow is the only hurler back as he pitched in all of Novi's games last year. Last season it was fine, but this year the Wildcats face a 17-game schedule and one man can't carry the load.

Prospects for the staff are Senior Jim Poole and Freshman Bob Plisha. Osborne hopes to start Plisha with the junior varsity, but expects to need him before season's end.

Catching is manned by Osborne's two best hitters. Sophomore Tom Van Wagner, last year's RBI leader, will hold down the post with first baseman and last year's top hitter Paul Faulkner, a senior, backing him up.

Behind Faulkner at first will be Snow when he is not pitching. Osborne has a fine double play combination in junior second baseman Phil McMillan and senior shortstop Gary Boyer.

Third base is also in capable hands where steady junior Dan Flattery returns.

The outfield is somewhat green and uncertain for the 'Cats with only junior center-fielder Rick Dale, the squad speed merchant, set. Three juniors and sophomore Bob Vivian vie for the other two posts. The juniors are Dennis Diem, Fred Cox and Paul Chamberlain.

Osborne sums up his prospects by saying, "We'll go as far as our pitching will take us. We're basically a young but experienced team. Hitting is a problem behind our top two, but our defense is fairly sound."

He went on to enumerate the hitting situation by stating that Snow has power, but is inconsistent; Boyer has the potential but had a poor year last year; McMillan and Flattery are steady but not sensational and Dale is a weak hitter who makes up for it with his speed and improving fielding. Other players are primarily untested over the whole season.

But Hurting in Distance Hanert's 'Solid' in Jumpers

"I haven't any depth in the distance events, but I'm solid in the high jump, long jump and pole vault."

This was Novi track coach Fred Hanert's capsule summary of this year's Wildcat squad.

A solid one-two punch of Jon Van Wagner and Ken Osborn, both seniors, are cause for confidence in the vault and high jump, while Senior Don Maki, Junior John Daley and Sophomore Tom Boyer offer Hanert plenty of long jump depth.

While depth is lacking in distance events, Hanert feels he is well set in the sprints and the quarter and half-mile events.

Top sprinters are Davey and Maki, with Sophomore Lew Padgett and Freshmen Jim Wilenski (also a hurdler) and Steve Telchak backing them up.

Hanert rates quarter-mile Rick Hill and half-miler Boyer as outside prospects to reach the state finals this year. Hill is a junior. Listed in the same category is junior two-miler Mark Earl.

Backing up these runners are Brad Burnham, Steve Pomeroy, Thurman Ridenour and Larry Eggleston, a sophomore, Junior and two freshmen, in that order. Only miler on the squad is Junior Dan McGarry.

While the hurdles are handled competently by Van Wagner and Junior Syd Chapman, who really presses Jon, support for the pole vault and high jump events will fall to Doug Osborn.

Shot putting is a real trouble area, says the coach, as he has to choose among three untried boys, Junior Jerry Sack, Sophomore Dave and Freshman Mike Morrison.

Some help in the relays will come from members of the baseball team such as Gary Boyer, Hanert added.

Best times recorded by this year's runners last season were Hill's 53-second time in the quarter mile, Boyer's 2:07.9 in the half and Earl's 10:45 in the two mile. In addition, Van Wagner has a real shot at the State Class "C" high jump record, Hanert says.

WILDCAT HOPE - Top hope for Novi track success this year in the pole vault (as well as the high jump) is Senior Jon Van Wagner, who could go to the state finals in both events. Other top prospects for Coach Fred Hanert are listed in the story above.

ROBERT A. FRITZ
Robert A. Fritz, 68, of 44670 West Ten Mile Road died suddenly Saturday at St. Mary Hospital.

Born January 17, 1901 in North Saugus, Massachusetts to Anthony and Mary (Dean) Fritz, Mr. Fritz came to Northville eight years ago. He was retired from Evans Products in Plymouth.

In addition to Mrs. Fritz (Hannah), he is survived by sons Robert of Northville and Ronald of Glen Ellyn, Illinois, daughters Patricia Scherer of Garden City, Mrs. Marilyn Schenmann and Sharon, Sandra, and Linda of Northville, nine grandchildren and a brother Roland of New York.

Reverend Cedric Whitcomb of First Baptist Church officiated at the funeral Tuesday from Casterline Funeral Home. Burial was in Roseland Park Cemetery in Royal Oak.

CREIGHTON CARTER
Creighton F. Carter, 67, of 57056 Grand River in New Hudson, died suddenly in his home Friday.

Born September 16, 1902 in Indian Territory (Oklahoma) to Joseph and Lavenia (Field) Carter, the retired General Motors Chevrolet Proving Grounds Division, employee came to New Hudson in 1956. In addition to his wife, Shirley M., he is survived by a son George of New Hudson, two daughters Mrs. Gal Crook of New Hudson and Mrs. Diana Jamison of South Bend, Indiana, six grandchildren, a sister Mrs. Mary Taulman of Loveland, California, and two brothers Dr. Leland F. of Grosse Pointe and Dr. John M. of Ft. Lauderdale, Florida.

Mr. Carter was a member of First United Methodist Church of New Hudson and Northwestern Lodge 529 F & AM and Ben Hur Fraternal Life Insurance Company both of Detroit.

planned for 8:30 and 11 a.m., with the sermon on "Pointed Questions, Number Seven: Whom Do You Seek?" The choir will present special Easter season music.

Northville First Presbyterian Church will observe Maundy Thursday with Communion service at 8 p.m.

Union service with Northville United Methodist will be at the church at 1:30 p.m. The service traditionally is under auspices of King's Daughters.

Easter sunrise service at 7 a.m. will be highlighted with a play presented by the high school youth of the church, entitled "The People Versus Christ," directed by Mrs. George Weiss. A continental breakfast will follow.

At the 9:30 and 11 a.m. services the Reverend Lloyd G. Brasure will speak on the topic, "Many Doorways." Special music will be presented by the choir and the Bellingers.

A Low Mass will be celebrated at 8 a.m. today (Thursday) at Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church, with a High Mass at 8 p.m., together with the Procession of The Blessed Sacrament. Adoration is scheduled from 9 p.m. Thursday until 2 p.m. Good Friday.

At 2 p.m. tomorrow, Liturgical services and Veneration of The Cross are planned. Public Stations of The Cross will take place at 7:30 p.m.

On Holy Saturday, Vigil of Easter services is scheduled for 11 p.m., followed at midnight by Easter Mass. The choir will sing at this midnight service.

Easter Sunday services will be the same as regularly scheduled at Our Lady of Victory, according to the Reverend Father John Wittstock, pastor.

them "I am the Resurrection and the Life" and Lt. Legree will again perform.

A 90-minute, full-color movie will be shown at the 7 p.m. evening service following the Communion of the Lord's Supper. "Beloved Enemy" is the title of the film.

In Novi: Reverend Fred Trachsel, pastor of Orchard Hills Baptist Church, announces that his congregation is participating in the Crusade of the Americas Rallies in the Detroit area during Holy Week. Rallies will be held at Ford Auditorium at 7:30 p.m. today, tomorrow and Saturday.

Regular services will be held on Easter with the observance of the Lord's Supper taking place at the evening service.

Services at First Baptist of Novi will include a sunrise breakfast at 6 at which the men of the church will cook. Guest minister Reverend James Cawley will conduct the 11 a.m. service.

The 7 p.m. service will be highlighted by the Youth Choir presentation of a religious radio drama based on the Easter story.

Holy Cross Episcopal Mission plans a full weekend of observances Maundy Thursday, Good Friday, Easter Eve and

In New Hudson: Reverend Mitchinson has also programmed a full Holy Week observance schedule at New Hudson First Methodist Church, where he is also the pastor.

Maundy Thursday will be celebrated with Communion at 7:30 p.m., tonight while Good Friday will also have a 7:30 p.m. service.

United Methodist Youth Fellowship will conduct the 6:30 sunrise service Easter with the breakfast to follow at 7:20. Regular Sunday School at 9:45 and Worship at 11 will also be held Easter.

In Walled Lake: St. Williams Catholic Church

started Easter Week observances with a Parish Penance Service last night, Father Raymond Jones and his assistant, Father James Maywurm announced.

Last Supper Mass will be celebrated at 8 tonight.

Tomorrow, Good Friday, Liturgy will be heard from 1 to 3 p.m. and Stations of the Cross will be presented at 8 p.m.

Saturday, Easter Eve, an 11 p.m. Easter Vigil Service will be held followed by Mass.

Regular Mass schedule will be adhered to on Easter.

At the 9:30 and 11 a.m. services the Reverend Lloyd G. Brasure will speak on the topic, "Many Doorways." Special music will be presented by the choir and the Bellingers.

A Low Mass will be celebrated at 8 a.m. today (Thursday) at Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church, with a High Mass at 8 p.m., together with the Procession of The Blessed Sacrament. Adoration is scheduled from 9 p.m. Thursday until 2 p.m. Good Friday.

At 2 p.m. tomorrow, Liturgical services and Veneration of The Cross are planned. Public Stations of The Cross will take place at 7:30 p.m.

On Holy Saturday, Vigil of Easter services is scheduled for 11 p.m., followed at midnight by Easter Mass. The choir will sing at this midnight service.

Easter Sunday services will be the same as regularly scheduled at Our Lady of Victory, according to the Reverend Father John Wittstock, pastor.

First Baptist Church of Northville plans Good Friday evening services at 7:30 with Communion, according to Reverend Cedric Whitcomb, pastor.

Easter morning service will follow the opening of a new Sunday School department for beginner age boys and girls (ages two and three) at 9:45 a.m., the time of all Sunday School services.

At the 11 a.m. service, Pastor Whitcomb will bring a special Easter message and the choir will sing "And the Glory of the Lord" from Handel's "Messiah" and a "Hymn for Easter Day" accompanied by a brass ensemble.

The church choir will present John Peterson's cantata, "No Greater Love" at the regular evening service at 7:30. Several choir members will sing solo parts under the direction of J. Richard Rowe. Wilbur Berryman will narrate. Organist is Dewey Gardner and pianist is Rick McCoy.

In Wixom: Numerous religious programs are scheduled for churchgoers at Wixom Baptist Church Good Friday and Easter Sunday, says Reverend Robert Warren, pastor.

The 1:30 p.m. service Good Friday will feature the Pillsbury College Choir of Owatonna, Minnesota, directed by Maurice Knudsen. The 40 voice choir will perform a sacred musical concert and everyone is invited to attend.

Sunrise service will be at 7 on Sunday when the Teen Choir directed by Terry Angles will present an Easter cantata. Breakfast sponsored by the youth will follow at 8 and Pastor Warren says they can handle up to 200 people.

Free balloon day will be one feature of the Sunday School rally at which Lt. Wilbur Legree, the "Singing Cop" will perform a music and object traffic lesson show. Goal for the rally is a record 509 attendance.

Morning service at 11 will have the

10 Mile at Grand River Ground Broken for New Holiday Inn Near Here

Ground was broken last week for a five-story, 153 unit Holiday Inn Motel in Thompson-Brown Company's Farmington Freeway Industrial Park, near the 10 Mile Road-G and River intersection.

The new motel, which will be of contemporary design, will have a dining room, cocktail lounge, meeting rooms and elevators.

Participating in the ceremony were: Mr. & Mrs. Paul M. McElwain of Southfield, holders of the franchise; William Bowman, executive vice president of Thompson-Brown Company; Farmington Supervisor Curt Hall and executives from Bank of the Commonwealth and from Holiday Inns of America, Memphis, Tennessee.

The motel site is just off Ten Mile Road near Interstate Highway 196 and the proposed I-275 in Farmington at the entrance to the 250-acre Farmington Freeway Industrial Park which was developed by Thompson-Brown Company. A helicopter landing pad, near the motel site, will make it possible for guests to reach Metropolitan Airport within 10 minutes.

The Holiday Inn is among more than 40 companies that have chosen the park for future sites. Will Schwehr, assistant vice president of Thompson-Brown Company's Commercial-Industrial Division, says the park is now 90 percent sold and he expects to have the existing acreage sold within the near future.

Opening of the Holiday Inn is scheduled for early in 1970.

Elect a Man With IDEAS... and the Ability and Energy To Get Them Done! FOLINO for COUNCIL

With parents, brothers and sisters, and friends of Cubs and Webelos of the VFW's Cub Scout Pack 721 shouting encouragement, boys raced more than 75 hand-made racers in the annual Derby Thursday night in the Northville High School gymnasium.

When the smoke cleared and the racing "engines" stopped, four youngsters proudly displaying ribbons, claimed the trophies and numerous others walked away, proudly hugging their trophies over their winning cars. (l to r) Mark Goldi, 8 of 632 Reed Court, first-place Cub; Tad Taggart, 10 of 625 Reed Court, second place Cub; Eric Lampela, 11 of 401 Welch, second place Webelos; and John Federspell, 10 of 21150 East Chigwidden, first place Webelos.

At the left, Bob Horner releases the starting gate for another race. Even crutches couldn't dampen the spirits of one of the racers. Pack leader is Peter Voigt.

WORSHIP WITH YOUR FAMILY AT THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE

hymn of the skies

David lived almost thirty centuries ago. He knew nothing of outer space . . . of galaxies hurtling through the void . . . of particles of energy and matter spinning their way from a one-time explosion toward the edges of the universe.

He knew only the skies of his native land . . . their lights and shadows and ever-changing drifts of cloud.

But he knew, as millions before and since, that these skies were no accident. They told him of the Mind and Heart that rules the domain of life. They told him we are not alone.

"The heavens declare the glory of God," he wrote in the 19th Psalm. "The firmament shows his handiwork."

Through those same skies read the star that drew men to the scene of our Savior's birth. Against those skies is always silhouetted the Cross on which He died for us.

Under those skies we'll worship through the Risen Lord.

THE WAY OF THE CROSS

What does it mean to take the way of the Cross? This is an important question for as the hymn writer expressed it: "The way of the cross leads 'Home' and 'there is no other way but this', that does, for, 'I shall ne'er get sight of the gates of light - If the way of the cross I miss.'"

To take the way of the cross does not mean to "take the way that seems right unto a man which ends in death."

Every religious group in Christendom and in the world answers this question by outlining what they consider to be the way of righteousness as it may differ from the way of life taken by many and insist that the only way "Home" for the anxious soul is to take up his cross in the sense of becoming a doer of God's righteousness as it is taught and believed in that group. Thus the

What is the way of the cross that leads "Home"? It is the way of surrender to God without a mental reservation. We must surrender to "Him", for He is greater than any understanding or ideology which forms in our minds and divides us from each other.

The will of God includes everything which He orders or permits for He is in charge of the universe which He has made and all the established laws governing the same. We must believe that "He is and that He is a rewarder of them that diligently seek Him."

Our will, our understanding, our way must be nailed to His will, His understanding, His way, by an act of will or purpose on our part if we would take the way of the cross, for our natural mind is not subject to the law of God neither indeed can be.

When this has been done then we must strive - "agonize" - to bring the cross member of our will into perfect alignment with His will. When this is fully accomplished we are beyond the cross at "Home" with God.

This world has been arranged for this purpose - to give us the opportunity to bring every thought into subjection to God's will. That is the reason we are baffled so many times by what God orders or permits in the natural world about us. We are in the struggle and agony of the way of the cross.

This agony and this struggle will not end until the last member of Adam's race has been brought into harmony with God for it is a program of "everlasting destruction" which God has arranged for the purpose of destroying sin. All of sin must be destroyed in us before we can be the righteousness of God in Him.

God's elect now have the opportunity to take the way of the cross by Grace - by purpose, by will, by faith. Those who have not been, or are not now involved must, in their own order be resurrected and compelled to go into this refining process - that sin may be destroyed and the spirit saved in the day of the Lord Jesus.

The day of the Lord Jesus is that day when the redemptive process triumphs. God hates and destroys sin but Jesus Christ loves and saves sinners.

The fact is that we are all now more or less involved in this program and those who suffer the most will love the most.

This is God's way of leveling things out. "The last are made first and the first last."

As the stars differ in glory so do all of God's creatures in the resurrection and God has a place for each one in His eternal plan and purpose. The clay cannot say to the Potter, "Why hast thou made me thus?" God is, in the experiences of life, making each one to fill a particular place.

"When our souls cry out for grace, As life's problems we must face, Bear us up in every test, Let us find in Thee our rest."

May the hand of God we see Work on our humility, When Thy will is hard to bear, Succeed us in every prayer.

Hide us in Thy secret realm (Caral mio) not at the helm, Mind of Christ, so clear, so bright, Oh reflect Thy love and light.

Lo, the will of God unfolds, When His understanding holds, Seed of God, through Christ to man, Mold us in Thy Oneness plan."

OUT OF THE PAST - As Archbishop John F. Dearden was designated a Cardinal by Pope Paul VI last week, area Catholics and non-Catholics were reminded of Detroit's last Cardinal, the late Edward Mooney, whose body was buried in a crypt at St. John's Provincial Seminary on Five Mile Road in November, 1958. Founder of the

Out of THE PAST

Seminary, Cardinal Mooney had died in Vatican City while preparing to participate in the election of a new pope. Throngs of mourners dotted the roadside and the Seminary grounds during the long funeral procession. Here, in a Record photograph, the casket is borne from the hearse.

FIVE YEARS AGO...

...A Northville girl, Diane L. Haynes of 46355 West Main Street, was one of only 30 Michigan seniors receiving a Ford Motor Company Fund four-year scholarship in competition with 1200 candidates.

...Northville city council members upheld the dismissal of Andrew Cain, former police department sergeant in a unanimous decision rendered after a four-hour hearing and another hour of deliberation.

Cain was discharged by City Manager Bruce Potthoff after the officer was found guilty in the Farmington Township court of Judge Allen C. Ingle of a charge of being drunk and disorderly.

Prompt action by Northville police and fire departments saved the vacant, three-story home of the late F.E. Whipple at 46001 West Eight Mile Road from being destroyed by firebugs.

...Northville's Coordinating Council, born in the spring of 1940, disbanded due to a lack of need in the community.

...A deficit estimated at around $50,000 was revealed in Northville's new school budget. Teachers' salaries were the apparent villain in the problem facing the board.

...Demsey Ebert was named chairman of the oral vaccine clinics scheduled for Northville.

...Candidates aired platforms in a public meeting as Wixom's election drew near. Up for grabs were the seats of mayor, three councilmen and justice of the peace.

...Lloyd Preston of 2550 Loon Lake Road was elected president of the Wixom Civic Association.

...Chief of Police Joseph Denton announced his retirement from the Northville force and the search for a successor began immediately. Insiders felt that a member of the force would be named to fill the post.

...Northville's city planning commission voted to rezone Cady Street to permit A&P to build a supermarket at its intersection with Main Street.

...Rev. Rex L. Dye was named the new pastor of the Salem Congregational Church.

...Wixom Council appropriated the money to hire a second policeman for the city to assist Chief Frank Jadzinski.

...Novi's Village Planning Board set up a three-man committee to advise potential industrial developers of land availability. Named were Frank Watz, Harold Burgess and W. J. Flynn.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

...A freak storm sent March out with an eight-inch snowfall in the area.

...Advisors R. H. Amerman, Northville superintendent of schools, and Mrs. Mary Ann Atkinson, Novi superintendent, were named to assist a 36-member citizen group set up to study the area's school needs.

...Mrs. R. M. Atchison was elected president for the coming year of Northville Woman's Club. Other officers included the Mesdames E. A. Chapman, Maxwell S. Austin, James A. Congo and Emmett A. Wirth. New board of directors members included the Mesdames Fred Van Atta, Waldo T. Johnston, A. Russell Clarke, J.R. McColl and Nelson C. Schrader, Jr.

...Emma M. Kehrl, 80, died at Sessions Hospital. She had been a Northville resident for some 57 years.

...Northville's "Rate Your Town" poll was reaching diversified reports as many upheld the status quo while others desired more rapid progress; some felt the village to be "the best of possible places to live", while others expressed the thought that "there was more wrong than right with Northville"; etc.

...John Miller, campaign chairman, said that $1500 had been set as Northville's quota in the Easter Seal fund drive.

...Eleven-year old fifth grader Martha Goodfellow won the Novi School spelling championship. Eighth grader Carol Wendland was runner-up.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

...Northville High School's band, under the direction of Leslie G. Lee, received a Division I rating at the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Festival at Ypsilanti. Frasier was the only other high school in the state competing in Northville's class that was able to do as well.

...Eddie Lanning was elected to the Freshman Honorary Society, Phi Eta Sigma, at the University of Michigan. Son of Mrs. Floyd Lanning of Wing Street, Eddie was a 1948 graduate of Northville High School.

...Mrs. Del W. Hahn was re-elected president of Northville's Woman's Club. Other named officers included Mesdames Louise E. Canfield, Frank Beeks, F. A. Shaw and D. Harper Britton. New board members elected were Mrs. Harry Duerson and Mrs. W.E. McCarty.

...Northville topped its Red Cross fund quota with more money still coming in, chairman George Locke reported.

...Northville High School reported 27 students made the honor roll with the seniors leading the honorees with nine. Eleventh and ninth grades had eight apiece on the roll.

...Northville Fire Department was kept busy battling grass fires with four in less than a week being extinguished.

...Committee chairman named for the annual luncheon of the Mizpah Circle of Kings Daughters were the Mesdames E.B. Cavell, George Hills, William E. Walker, Jr., John Litsenberger, Worth Chapman, Emma Reid and Earl Trinkhaus.

TWENTY - FIVE YEARS AGO...

John Poulos announced that he would follow his annual custom of turning over one entire day's gross receipts from the Northville Restaurant to the Red Cross to aid in their war efforts. All his employees joined Mr. Poulos by donating that day's wages as well.

Ft. Polk, Louisiana (AHTNC) - Army Private Timothy E. Belanger, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Belanger, 23869 Lynwood Drive, completed nine weeks of advanced infantry training Feb. 28 at Ft. Polk. His last week of training was spent in guerrilla warfare exercises.

During his guerrilla training, he lived under simulated Vietnam conditions for five days, fighting off enemy attacks and conducting raids on "enemy" villages. He was taught methods of removing booby traps, setting ambushes and avoiding enemy ambushes.

Other specialized training included small unit tactics, map reading, land mine warfare, communications, and firing the M-16 rifle, M-60 machine gun and the 3.5-inch rocket launcher.

Belanger received his B. A. degree in 1968 from the University of Michigan.

Tom Wright Wins Honors

Thomas K. Wright, son of Mr. Lawrence A. Wright, 40241 Fairway Drive, has been named to the Dean's List for Winter Term at Northwood Institute.

He is a sophomore in advertising. Northwood Institute is a private, co-educational residential college which emphasizes business management and liberal arts programs. It is "industry-oriented" in one of the 16 specialized business-related courses. Dormitories and other campus facilities are provided at each of four campuses located at Alma and Midland, Michigan; West Baden, Indiana; and Cedar Hill, Texas. Northwood has two extension centers at Lima, Peru and Quito, Ecuador.

He hopes to take his rest and recuperation (R & R) in Australia.

Show us what we mean. Say you're in a Chevrolet Kingswood or Concours Walk-In Wagon, when suddenly the road becomes nothing but chuckholes and ruts. Only you can't tell it's rough. You see, Chevy wagons float along on computer-selected coil springs that smooth even the meanest road.

Maybe you're a bit more serious about the great outdoors. So are we. That's why we offer the Chevy Sportvan and Suburban. To an outdoorsman, they're like clear skies and no mosquitoes. So before you head out to see the U.S.A., better stop by your Chevrolet dealer's.

Dr. Geake Files For College Board

Northville psychologist Dr. Robert Geake has taken out petitions and will file for an at-large seat on the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees.

Trustees at-large represent the five school districts served by the college—Northville, Plymouth, Livonia, Clarendonville, and Garden City. In addition, each school district elects its own representative. Northville's representative, William Secord, was elected two years ago and his term has another four years to run.

Trustees are elected on a non-partisan basis for six-year terms. Geake, an administrator at the Plymouth State Home and Training School, holds three degrees from the University of Michigan. He is a life member of the National Education Association and a member of the American and Michigan Psychological Associations. He formerly served on the board of canvassers of the Northville school district and is active in local Republican Party organization work.

Candidates for the Board of Trustees have until April 22 to file petitions. The election will be held June 9 to coincide with local school board elections in the five districts.

Explorer Troop Plans Spaghetti Dinner Here

A brand new, 12-member Explorer troop in Northville has high hopes of celebrating its formation with a week-long hunting and fishing trip to Canada as soon as school closes in June.

To finance the trip Explorer Post No. 905 will sponsor a spaghetti dinner Thursday evening, May 1 at the American Legion hall, Dunlap at North Center street. The Troop is sponsored by the Northville Legion post.

All the proceeds from the dinner will be used for the Canadian outing.

Chef for the dinner will be one of the troop's advisors, Howard Wright. The other troop adult advisor is Frank Brown.

Explorer Randy Brown is chairman of the dinner project. Brown and his fellow explorers have tickets for sale now and are looking forward to a "sellout crowd".

The other Explorer members are: Ronald Brown, Chris Van Ee, Philip Gardner, Bob Cummings, David Wright, Ed Landau, Dave Rooker, Brian Neiber, Doug Ritchie, Kevin Harshorne and Irv. Gaffield.

Armstrong brought out that in the study made by the former Township Police Committee in 1966, the cost for one man in the morning and two men in the afternoon and evening (24 hour protection from the Sheriff's Dept. would be about $70,000 per year. Mitchell pointed out that it was important to install our own police force so that we would not lose local control, and because the costs would be a great deal less.

Baldwin felt that it was important to get costs established, in writing, from the various sources before any decision is made.

Northville Township Board Minutes

Settlement Day Meeting
March 25, 1969
107 S. Wing
Meeting opened at 6:45 p.m.
Present: Board Members Armstrong, Baldwin, Hammond, Lawrence, Mitchell, Straub and Stromberg.
Also present: Attorney Ashton, Officer Nisun, Wm. Siger.

1. Minutes of Library Commission Meeting of February 6, 1969 were accepted and filed on motion of Armstrong, seconded by Straub. Ayes: All.

2. Clerk Hammond moved that the Minutes of the Water & Sewer Commission of March 10, 1969 be accepted and filed, with a second by Mitchell. Ayes: All.

3. Treasurer Siger reported and moved that this report be amended to show the addition of the items on page 3 of the report, making a total of $346,244.32. Supported by Mitchell. Ayes: All.

4. Publication of Budget. Ashton stated that a State Act of 1963 requires that public notice must be given six days prior to a hearing on the proposed Township budget. This notice must include the date and the time, and the place where the budget is being made available to the public for inspection. The budget itself does not have to be published. The necessary advertisement will appear in the Northville Record on March 27, 1969.

5. Proposed 1969-70 Budget for Northville Township. (See attached.) Moved by Baldwin and supported by Mitchell that the proposed Township budget for 1969-70 be approved as presented by the Clerk and Supervisor. Ayes: All. It will be presented for public approval at the Annual Meeting of the Township on Saturday, April 5, 1969 at the Township Hall, 107 S. Wing, at 1:00 p.m.

6. Change in Stated Meeting Day. It was decided to present a request at the Annual Meeting to have the Stated Meeting Day of the Township Board changed to the second Tuesday of the month. The attorney reminded the Board to make provisions for a larger room for the day of the meeting in case the crowd would be too large for the assembly room in the Township Hall. Mrs. Hammond will request the use of the Northville School Board Room.

7. Township Police. The Supervisor distributed copies of the Uniform Traffic Code to the Board. He stated that he had contacted the City and the Sheriff as to possible costs of contracting with each of them for police service. The City Manager had estimated that it would be about $30,000 per year for one man, 40 hrs. supervised, with a car. The Supervisor felt that the Sheriff's costs would be somewhere in the same area, although he had not yet been able to get a definite reply from that department. The Sheriff wished to first study into the matter with the accounting department.

8. Armstrong brought out that in the study made by the former Township Police Committee in 1966, the cost for one man in the morning and two men in the afternoon and evening (24 hour protection from the Sheriff's Dept. would be about $70,000 per year. Mitchell pointed out that it was important to install our own police force so that we would not lose local control, and because the costs would be a great deal less.

Baldwin felt that it was important to get costs established, in writing, from the various sources before any decision is made.

9. Area Development Corporation—March 8, 1969. (Re: Clark Ave.) Armstrong moved that the Corporation answer the letter and advise the Corporation that the Township presently has a suit pending against owners of trailers in that area. We would be very glad to get together with the Corporation Committee to study the matter further if need arise. Second by Lawrence. Ayes: All. Nays: None. Absent: Baldwin. Motion carried.

10. George E. Zauner—March 23, 1969. Stromberg stated that he had sent copies of this letter to Dr. Gyzynski and to the Northville Coach Line. Mitchell moved that, if the two offenders had not remedied their situations within thirty days, the matter be turned over to our attorney for legal action. Second by Straub. Ayes: All Baldwin absent. Motion carried.

11. Board of Education—March 18, 1969. (Re: Tax-exempt land.) Moved by Mitchell and seconded by Straub that this letter be accepted and filed. Ayes: All. Baldwin absent. Motion carried.

Meeting adjourned at 9:15 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
Eleanor W. Hammond, Clerk

Urges Citizen Aid In Cleanup Drive

EDITOR'S NOTE—With the start of Clean up—Paint up—Fix up Week rapidly approaching, Northville's Beautification Commission wrote the following reminder in hopes of generating more interest in this annual project. It is directed to all citizens of the community.

Ron Cates Named VP

Ron Cates, 574 Langfield, has been appointed vice president—sales and a director of the homestead Corporation, manufacturer of pre-engineered homes which are constructed on owners' lots in Michigan, Ohio and Indiana.

Cates previously was employed by Armour & Company in its Abrasive-Tape-Adhesives Division and was affiliated with the Chevrolet Division of General Motors Corporation.

Look at the beauty nature has given you. Have you neglected that beauty by not properly caring for it? If you feel the answer may be "yes" lets do something about it.

Consider your yard as consisting of three parts: a public area, a service area and a private area. Is your front lawn, as presented to the public, a source of pride or is it not all shrubbery growing over the sidewalk and into the neighbors yard? Are the driveways and parking areas neat and free of discards? and in the private area or back yard, has the picnic table seen better days? Has the trash burner become the city dump? Have the garden shed and fence fallen into disrepair? And has the rambling rose rambled too far, and the flower garden turned into weed beds?

Very little money, a bit of hard work and a few repairs here and there can restore neatness, beauty and pride to your home. Sidewalks and planters free of litter in the business district would enhance our shopping area.

Michigan Week, May 17th, Civic Pride Day, through May 24th, is Clean-up—Paint-up—Fix-up Week. Start with the team that will again put Northville in the running for a beautiful city award and end with the most beautiful lot or business in the community. To help you do this there will be a RUBBISH ROUNDUP April 28th. Put your rubbish at the curb the night before and the City trucks will haul it away.

Before and after pictures of your projects will be appreciated for the scrap books that will be judged in Washington. Lets fill the pages so it can be said—NORTHVILLE'S PRIDE IS SHOWING.

Speaking for The Record

Black, Rathert Best for Total City

By BILL SLIGER

All elections are important, but some more so than others. And in the case of the upcoming Northville city council election I view it as probably the most vital since incorporation more than a dozen years ago.

Mayor A. M. Allen returns automatically for another two years as an unopposed incumbent. But there are two council seats open and five candidates conducting a keenly-contested race for the vacancies.

In my mind two candidates stand out above the others. They are Incumbent Councilman Del Black and Kenneth Rathert.

The city voter who is really interested in the future level of residential property taxes, insofar as the city is concerned, should rally to the support of Black and Rathert.

This is not a scare tactic. It is simply a matter of knowing exactly what is at stake.

Let's review the present city status and what has gone into its planning for the future. Nearly a decade ago, shortly after the first city council settled down to its responsibilities and employed its first manager, it was determined that a community facing such a growth potential must by necessity adopt a master plan to cope with its increasing numbers.

While the master plan sets forth a zoning pattern that provides for orderly development in all sections of the community, its most important (and controversial) portion deals with the development of the central business district. It recognizes that from a standpoint of taxbase, the city of Northville has little industrial potential and therefore must rely heavily upon a healthy commercial center if homeowners can hope for a relatively low tax rate on residential property.

Aside from Northville Downs, the Ford Valve Plant and a few other smaller industries the city of Northville has few non-residential sources of tax dollars, other than the commercial business district. Specifically, the business district provides nearly one-third of the total tax base in the city of Northville. Add to that local industry and you come up with 55 per cent of the total tax base.

Until now Northville's city councils have been successful in holding the lid on its tax rate. Presently, the city levies 13 mills, although by law it could levy up to 20 mills without a vote of the people. Past councils have recognized that school taxes come from the same pockets, and in terms of priorities it has evolved by unwritten policy that education ranks at the head of the list.

Nothing on the horizon would indicate the present council anticipates a tax increase in its 1969-70 budget currently under study. Quite the contrary, a millage decrease might very well be recommended in the light of increased property valuations.

Throughout the past decade, and during the past four years in particular, the city council has made giant strides towards its avowed objective: the adoption, in principle, of the master plan for the central business district.

In a nutshell, this means that the city government is providing leadership to see that the business district has ample parking and proper traffic flow so that commercial development may take place to meet the demands of the future.

It does not mean wholesale demolition of existing buildings; it does not mean the adoption of a giant federal urban renewal program; it does not mean the creation of an inflexible plan that refuses to negotiate compromise in face of economic opportunity.

It does mean that the council has decided to take the initiative in protecting a valuable investment; it does mean that the council feels it must provide leadership if the concepts of the plan are to succeed; it does mean that the council believes (in fact, knows) that commercial interest in sites within the central business district becomes more intense as area population increases; it therefore follows that the city must be selective, must exercise care in how it disposes of areas within the CBD.

In short, the council fully recognizes that regional shopping centers will be attracted to the city's boundaries as its population grows. But it believes that the kind of community shopping center we now have can be improved enough to satisfy the needs of thousands of shoppers and therefore insure the salvation of a prosperous commercial district—serving the public with more than just commodities, but also with a sound tax base to reduce the burden on homeowners.

Development Corporation, working together, have acquired a number of key parcels within the CBD which are now available for future offstreet parking or commercial building; Thirdly, the council has announced its intention of employing a development coordinator—a business-finder—to seek out and work with prospective commercial developers; And finally, a new era of understanding and appreciation for the plan is being born in the minds of alert businessmen within the community who realize its importance.

This council has been highly successful in gaining the active participation of many local businessmen. And they realize that the investment is not alone for the city to make, but that a proportionate stake rests with present and future business interests.

Black and Rathert fully understand the council's program. They are both businessmen—commercial property owners—and homeowners. They have plunged full depth into time-consuming assignments designed to bring the total community of Northville a good balance of sound taxbase for the future.

Black has proven his ability as an energetic and untiring worker for the past four years on the city council. He stands as the perfect answer to those who criticize the businessman for not providing leadership. Black has found time for home, business, church and community. He deserves another term; the city council needs him.

In several committee appointments Rathert has also demonstrated his ability to perform. He makes judgments based on fact, not emotion or prejudice. These characteristics win the confidence of his fellow committee members, as witnessed by his frequent appointment as chairman.

Take away this effort and you run the risk of mass exodus from the central business district... you invite a federal urban renewal program for assistance in a depressed area.

For those who have been closest to the city's master plan it may seem that progress has been interminably slow. To those who have had no knowledge of the plan it may seem that there is no progress at all.

But definite and promising steps have been taken in several forms: First, the plan is complete after years of study and consultation; Secondly, the city and Northville Area Economic association president. There can be no question of Vernon's qualifications.

Association are working together to see that the plan is implemented.

He has billed himself as "the citizens candidate", an approach that may imply other candidates are not for the citizens. Personally, I am deeply disappointed by this approach and his stated opposition to city leadership in development of the central business district.

Undoubtedly, the suggestion to citizens that the council is wasting taxpayer money by investing it in the development of the business district will gain favor in many circles. I cannot believe that anyone who has studied the city's master plan program, and considers all the implications as outlined earlier in this column, would make the following statement:

"I do not believe the citizens of Northville are ready for a downtown shopping plaza that could destroy the tradition that is Northville"... or "attracting commercial and industrial developers is normally a function of the Chamber of Commerce".

Vernon has staked his campaign on this approach. I do not believe that the drafters of the central business district plan envision "a plaza", which implies some sort of modern monstrosity. To repeat, they do believe it is an important investment to help plan and provide an area for orderly commercial development.

Further, while some textbooks may assign commercial and industrial development projects to chambers of commerce, practical experience has not followed this course.

Most aggressive communities in this state and others conduct strong campaigns to gain new business. Rising taxes on residential properties has taught government that this area is far too important to the welfare to leave to the volunteer efforts of business alone.

If Vernon is elected, I would hope that he would restudy all the objectives and aims of the council's long-standing program. I think it is the "program for the citizens".

Bea's for Black, Bingley

To the Editor: As you know I am not running for re-election to the City Council. However, I am very much interested in the future of Northville.

Realizing there are many very vital problems that have been studied, even need more diligent study before a decision can be made, and knowing the tremendous responsibility a Councilman has in policy making decisions, I urge all citizens eligible to vote next Monday to do so after much serious thought.

Experience on the City Council for four years is invaluable to the candidate and the welfare of the City and I urge the re-election of Del Black. I have remained non-committed to any candidate so that all could freely solicit your support as well as mine, but now after due consideration; experience on one of the important commissions, plus other civic services and the candidate's views, I urge the election of Bill Bingley to the number two spot.

It is gratifying that there has been a competitive campaign. My best wishes to whomever the majority elects. To the other candidates I hope you will continue to be interested in some service to your city.

Sincerely, Beatrice B. Carlson

Cleanup Needed

To the Editor: By the looks of our vacant areas and others, it looks like the people of Northville and surrounding areas need to be reminded:

- 1. Where the local trash disposals are. 2. The hours they are open. 3. The penalty for dumping on private property.

Perhaps you can help us out! Thank you Interested and the letters to the editor and I think Jack Hoffman's Top of The Deck quite frequently is worth saving.

Mr. Hoffman's style is refreshing, funny, serious, informative and often hits so close to home and children that I think sometimes he must have been a mouse at our house during the week. I would never miss his column—though sometimes some other "important" item might not get my deserved attention and father has to ask me to read it.

We enjoy our newspaper. Keep it up. And thanks especially to Mr. Hoffman.

Criticizes Story

To the Editor: First of all, I would like to commend you on the fine job that you are doing in providing this area with its only local newspaper. Its importance as a community service and source of information cannot be taken lightly. However, in your last edition, I was very unhappy with the article published concerning the return of Rev. Cook to the First Baptist Church of Novi.

There are several reasons for my displeasure. First of all, the article as written, while it was a little better than what you have published in the past, it was still a little better than what you have published in the past.

Major and most widely used plastics are the thermoplastics (materials which soften with heat and harden again when cooled). Polyethylene, polyvinyl chloride (PVC), and polystyrene are the big-volume thermoplastics. Because of a less rigid building code, use of plastic pipe is also increasing rapidly. Currently, some 2 billion pounds of the above polymers are consumed annually. By 1970 some 7 billion pounds, and by 1980 between 10 billion and 12 billion are expected to be consumed yearly.

Attitudes of Abortion Law Revisions Changing

LANSING - Public attitudes toward abortion law reform are changing in favor of removing some of the ancient restrictions, say two state Senators.

To reflect this sentiment, Sens. Gilbert Bursley, R-Ann Arbor, and John E. McCauley, D-Wyandotte, are sponsoring a pair of bills in the legislature to liberalize the abortion law.

One measure would give women the right to legal abortion for any reason, including family planning; provided the operation was performed by a licensed physician in an accredited hospital.

The other would not go that far. It would limit legal abortion to cases where the mother's physical or mental health is endangered; where pregnancy results from rape or incest; or there is reason to believe a deformed child will be born.

Bursley said he talked with doctors, lawyers, nurses, housewives, social workers, sociologists and theologians about the subject and concluded that change is badly needed. McCauley said he would prefer the Legislature remove all restrictions because the question to whether to abortion law change last fall. A group called LIFE (Life, Individual, Family, Education) was formed in Parishes around the state.

The Catholic Church teaches that abortion, under any circumstance, is the same as murder in the eyes of God. FARMERS are fewer, larger and more productive in Michigan, says Dr. Karl T. Wright, MSU agriculture economist. He estimates there are now about 80,000 farms in the state, a drop of 16% from the last official census in 1964.

The amount of land tilled is dropping too. Figures indicate that 18 million acres under production in 1940 dropped to 13.6 by 1964. Wright expects the reduction to continue to 10 million by 1980.

Michigan's record is similar to other states. There is a general decline in the number of farms with farms growing larger.

EFFICIENCY in farm machinery permits bigger profits, but a farmer must have large amounts of land to work if he is to realize benefits of new methods. New techniques and careful management produce much more food and profit per acre than ever before, but they leave no room for small farmers who continue the methods of the "old family farm."

More than half of Michigan's small farmers have other means of employment. Wright says the 56%, mostly in the lower part of the state, work at jobs in addition to farm work.

Wayne County Juvenile Court Eyes New Probation Program

Plans are being made for experimental use of neighborhood residents as probation officers at Wayne County Juvenile Court in an effort to help young offenders avoid future mistakes.

The program is intended to have a double-barreled effect: to reduce juvenile delinquency, while at the same time grooming low-income persons for better-paying careers in youth work.

Plans for the one-year program, for which a $150,618 federal grant will be sought, were approved last week by the Juvenile Affairs Committee of the County Board of Supervisors. Approval by the Ways and Means Committee and the full board is required.

"I'm really excited about this concept," said Supervisor Jerome A. Szymanski, of Detroit's 6th District. "It could help solve Juvenile Court's two biggest problems - over-crowding at the Youth Home and the heavy caseloads of the probation officers."

Juvenile Court Judge James H. Lincoln has blamed inadequate supervision and a lack of facilities for the fact that half the youngsters who come before Juvenile Court are repeat offenders.

Three experienced probation officers will supervise the experimental group.

Juvenile Court would provide $27,775 worth of services for the project.

The full Board of Supervisors met Thursday, March 20, and gave preliminary approval to plans to clothe prisoners at the County Jail in uniforms and to hire a professional jail administrator to run the jail under over-all direction by the Sheriff.

The two items are part of a $123,750 package of top-priority improvements which were recommended in a study of the jail by the Citizens Research Council of Michigan. The package also provides for three social scientists to screen out dangerous and suicidal persons from among new prisoners.

The package will be up for final approval at a board meeting April 3.

The Legislative Committee, headed by 19th Dist. Supervisor Harvey J. Beale, of Redford Township, reviewed 14 bills which are in the State Legislature at a meeting Monday, March 17. The committee endorsed nine measures and opposed five.

The Public Works Committee, meeting Tuesday, March 18, launched a study of a proposal for a county-wide refuse disposal system. The system was recommended in a report by the consulting firm of Cosser Townesend, Frank B. Swappa, Dearborn Heights, 20th Dist. Supervisor is Public Works Chairman.

The probation assistants would spend their first two months on the job training. In-service training would continue throughout the program.

In addition, four probationers who have reformed will serve as youth interns, working with younger boys.

Michigan Week

Ford Executive To Speak Here

A Ford Motor Company executive will be the guest speaker during the Government Day program of Michigan Week, Chairman Mrs. William R. Slattery announced this week.

Peter Ponta, director of Ford's manufacturing development office, will speak at the noon luncheon hosted by the Northville Rotary Club on Monday, May 19, at the First Presbyterian Church social hall.

As in the past, Rotarians have shifted their usual Tuesday meeting date to Monday in order to accommodate the Michigan Week program.

Among other activities in connection with Michigan Week revealed by Mrs. Slattery are:

-The League of Women Voters will serve as hostesses during a coffee hour, May 19, as local officials host guests from the community's exchange city.

-The Our Lady of Victory sponsored flea market will take place on Community Pride Day - Saturday, May 17 - with numerous local organizations participating. Also, the Garden Club will plant a tree on that Michigan Week kickoff day, and the Northville Jaycees have tentatively planned to sponsor some kind of community pride program.

-A Michigan Week tea, saluting Northville women, will be sponsored by the Woman's Club and a school bus drivers banquet has been scheduled for Our Livelihood Day. (See Jan Day's In Our Town column on Page 2-A).

-In support of Education Day, displays sponsored by Northville students and classes will be exhibited in windows of downtown stores.

-On Friday, May 23, the annual PTA carnival has been scheduled to occur during Michigan Week. A special antique display, focusing on Northville history, will be one of the highlights of the fair.

-Plans are incomplete, but The Cavern teen club may sponsor some special event on the final day of Michigan Week - Saturday, May 26.

Vandals Break Windows Here

Malicious destruction of property continues to plague Northville police as two more cases, both involving broken windows, were reported last week.

Mary E. Lapham of 835 West Main Street had a window broken and drapes torn when a "blacktop rock" was thrown through a window. The noise was so great, she told police, that she thought a gunshot must have accompanied the missile.

Calvin Cross parked his pickup truck on North Wing Street near West Main all day Saturday and returned around 3:30 p.m. to find that a hole had been broken in his windshield by a BB gun, slingshot, or some similar item. Cross lives at 42435 Five Mile Road.

Both cases are currently under investigation.

King Memorial Program Set

A commemorative program marking the first anniversary of the death of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. will be held 10:30 a.m.-11:30 a.m., Friday, at the Orchard Ridge Campus of Oakland Community College.

Junius Griffin of Motown Record Corporation will deliver the principal remarks at the program.

The Orchard Ridge Learning Resources Center has been named in honor of the late Dr. King.

Orchard Ridge Campus is located south of I-696 between Farmington and Orchard Lake Roads, Farmington Township.

For further information interested persons are asked to contact Father Steven Recker, 476-9400, ext. 294.

Train Crash Of '07 Recalled

"The suffering, groaning and screaming were so terrible I have never completely gotten over it."

That's how Mrs. William H. Parks (Sadie) of Novi, recalls what was probably the worst accident in this area's history - a catastrophe that will be described in detail in the special July 17 centennial edition of The Northville Record.

Now 86, Mrs. Parks was a nurse on that day in July, 1907 when a train crash claimed the lives of at least 30 persons and injured a hundred more in Salem near Six Mile Road. She worked for Dr. Thomas Henry, a Northville physician who was one of the first doctors to reach the scene.

"Dr. Henry drove an old car -

At the time she had only recently become the bride of Mr. Parks, who died last January. He was born near the Novi school on Novi Road on May 8, 1884 - the same day Harry S. Truman was born. She was born the previous year in Tawas City. They were married in Northville while she was in nurses training.

Mrs. Parks, who lives at 1980 Austin Drive, gave The Record a picture of the train accident, commenting "the younger people just aren't interested so I thought the paper might like it."

Subscribers will receive the 100-page centennial special free - but it will cost all other $1. See advertisement on Page 6-B.

TOP SELLER - Dawn Wilkinson, Northville High freshman, receives a book "In Wilderness Is the Preservation of the World" for the high school library from Paul Hamlin (right) of Tagnr of Plymouth. John Steinel, Northville March of Dimes chairman, looks on as the top seller in the school March of Dimes campaign receives the presentation.

BLUE-AND-GOLD - The Boy Scout - Cub Scout couples dominated as Troop 903 held its first annual Blue and Gold Banquet at the Recreation Building of the Wayne County Child Development Center. Scout Leader Herbert Nash and assistant Paul Bailey pose with a group of scouts before enjoying the barbecued chicken dinner in their honor Friday.

College Chorale, Choir to Perform

The combined Schoolcraft Chorale, Symphonic Choir, and the college orchestra, under the direction of Bradley Green, will perform Felix Mendelssohn's "Elijah," at 8 p.m., Friday, April 18, in the Lois L. Waterman Campus Center. Admission is free.

"Elijah," is one of Mendelssohn's greater successes, and exhibits his talent at its full maturity. As an oratorio its success lies in its dramatic scheme enhanced by a powerful and remarkable text.

An Old Testament prophet, Elijah lived in the days of Ahab, king of Israel. During a drought which Elijah foretold, he was fed by ravens by the brook Cherith (1 Kings xviii 6). Elijah opposed the prophets of Baal and challenged them to a contest on Mt. Carmel, where two altars were built: one to Baal, one to Jehovah.

In the dramatic context of faith that followed, Baal proved deaf to the repeated entreaties of his prophets. But Jehovah answered Elijah, according to the Old Testament, by sending fire from heaven.

Mendelssohn presents Elijah, for all his nobleness of character, as an individual with very human qualities. His task is to wrestle with titanic forces: nature, evil, and the frailty of the man in the street.

Eternal principles are stated in the oratorio by small groups of voices, angelic choirs, and in the solos assigned to the tenor, contralto and soprano. In general, Mendelssohn used the large body of voices to state universal attitudes of humanity. The "Elijah" choruses express the emotions of mankind in general, faced with various crises and swayed always by the forces of the moment.

The first performance of "Elijah" was given Aug. 26, 1846, at Birmingham, England. Mendelssohn's reaction to this performance can be best expressed in his own words: "Nothing of mine ever went so well as the first performance, or was greeted so enthusiastically by the musicians and the public."

How Students Learn to Read Is Examined

A few months in first grade devoted to preventing reading failure is worth several years of remedial reading instruction in the later grades," reports Dr. Rachel Baker, language arts consultant for the Wayne County Intermediate School District. Dr. Baker is currently engaged in a federal research project that examines the complex process of learning to read.

The $10,000 federal grant will allow Dr. Baker to finish a study of the effects of first grade prescriptive teaching based on weaknesses as diagnosed by Kindergarten pre-reading tests.

Major objective of the project will be to reduce the incidence of reading failure through early identification of potential reading failures and appropriate intervention before failure can occur.

Kindergarten children who are potential reading failures have been identified by tests that accurately pinpoint areas of weakness. These children, so identified, have been assigned to first grade teachers who have special training in the observation of children, expert knowledge about the kinds of weakness exhibited by failure-bound children, and special skills in developing a curriculum which meets each child's specific, identified needs.

This "reading failure prevention" study, in operation since January 1, 1968 will be continued for one year with a federally-supported grant (January 1, 1969 to January 1, 1970) and will have the following objectives:

Identify kindergarten children who have learning difficulties that are highly predictive of reading failure.

Utilize appropriate materials and develop new ones, as well as teaching strategies to be used with each child in his diagnosed area of weakness.

Conduct a prescriptive teaching program for first grade students whose test profiles predict reading failure.

Validate a group test which has predictive value.

Evaluate the effectiveness of the prescriptive treatment by comparing reading test scores of treatment and non-treatment groups.

The aim of the study is prevention of reading failure, not remediation.

College Hosts Student Editors

Editors of newspapers of Oakland County high schools attended a press conference at Oakland Community College, March 21.

Attending from Novi High School were Mrs. Mary Warren, advisor, and Randy Beach, art editor, of the "Wildcats Roar."

OCC President Joseph E. Hill addressed the group at a noon luncheon that was held at the College's Orchard Ridge Campus in Farmington Township. Ron Lee, president of the Orchard Ridge Student Government, discussed College activities from the student's point of view and OCC Director of Community Relations Mitchell Tendler provided historical data regarding the College.

The conference was coordinated by Editorial Assistant Sandra Dalika and press kits including a College catalog, pictures of the College and other materials of interest were distributed. Following the press conference, OCC student guides conducted a tour of the campus.

Juvenile Faces Adult Court For Kidnapping

A juvenile, who took part in the kidnaping of a Novi woman in February will face justice in adult court, Novi police learned Friday.

James M. Fraser, 16, of Detroit who accompanied Kenneth W. Owens, 17, of Ionia on a wild joyride after the pair escaped from Whitmore Lake boys training school, will appear with him in Oakland County Circuit Court next Thursday.

The ruling that Fraser, who has been in and out of the youth home several times and escaped a waiver requested by Detroit police in the past to try him as an adult, to stand trial in adult court was handed down by Junivie Probate Judge Arthur Moore.

Fraser will face three counts in circuit court. He is charged with kidnaping Mrs. Ottilia H. Thompson, 45000 West Drive; with the armed robbery of Mrs. Thompson, a retired Walled Lake substitute school teacher; and with unlawfully driving away her auto. The older youth, Owens, will appear on similar charges.

11 Area Students Win U-M Honors

Northville won special distinction at the University of Michigan Honors Convocation Friday morning as 11 students were cited for academic excellence.

The number of students so honored from Northville was one of the finest representations from community's of its size. To win honors students had to maintain at least "B" grades for two consecutive terms. They were:

Earl Cherne, Susan Conley, Kathleen Erwin, Mark Hesse, Patricia Hicks, Susan Hill, Lawrence Hurlburt, David Kerr, Susan Reinackel, Larry Thibos, and Carol Yahne.

Guest speaker for the morning program in Hill Auditorium was Dr. James R. Lawson of Fiske University.

caused awkward, choppy sentences.
The verb tense changed, without the use of a transition device, four times in the six paragraphs; once in the middle of a sentence. Probably the most obvious error was in the use of the phrase, "half-dozen years". The term "half-dozen" refers to a quantity of things and is awkward and incorrect when used to express a length of time.

Miss Sandra Thomas
Editor's Note: The above letter is published exactly as received.

To the Editor:
As a senior social work major at Valparaiso University and as a resident of Northville, I would just like to say that I am interested in the educational welfare of the children in our town. As of yet I do not know the results of the special school millage election, but I would sincerely hope that at last, after three attempts, the people of Northville would realize that the future of their city depends upon the youth and then have voted accordingly.

Certainly any ordinary school system could do without extracurricular activities, art and music programs, psychologists, and good libraries. The Northville school system is not and has not been just an ordinary school system. It has given children many opportunities to excel in many areas. We read about these children and their activities every week in The Record. Schools, now more than ever, have to educate for the total person. They can not only concerned with history, math, and science. Music, art, recreational, and social activities should receive just as much focus. For it is the growth of the whole person that is the aim of education. I would sincerely hope that the passage of this millage is just the beginning of future cooperation and support on the part of the citizens in order to make and to keep the Northville School system a better one.

Finally, I would like to see my own sisters receive an education at least equal to what I received, preferably, though, a little better! Diane Raftery

THE EASTER BUNNY WAS MOBBED AT THE LUNCHEON PROGRAM IN NOVI SATURDAY.

300 Welcome
Easter Bunny
At Novi Lunch

"There he is!" shouted 300
youngsters who greeted the Easter Bunny at the "Lunch with the Easter Bunny" Saturday sponsored by the Novi Jaycee Auxiliary at Novi High School.

Following the lunch, the Easter
Bunny passed out candy for each child.
In addition, baby ducks and packages of feed were awarded winners of the poster contest. Posters were displayed about the room.

Winners included:
At Novi Elementary - Danny
Main and Herman Conner, first grade;
Neil Wiles and Robert Stambaugh, second grade; and Polly Ridenour, third grade.

At Orchard Hills Elementary - Kelly Mills and Brett Kelley, first grade; Kim Reid, Steven Lamb and John Cunningham, second grade; and Richard Ling, third grade.

Entertainment included a dance presentation by Miss Hazel's Dance Review. And the young audience was thrilled with an impromptu performance on stage by the Easter Bunny, who joined the Snowman as a surprise dance partner.

Another special was the puppet show, "Hansel and Gretel".

43035 GRAND RIVER E. of NOVI ROAD 349-0122

ON SCHEDULE - The addition at Orchard Hills Elementary School has reached the enclosed stage on the outside and should have work begun on tiling and on the ceilings yet this week. Superintendent Thomas Dale told the Novi School Board that "work is progressing satisfactorily" and this statement was reiterated by an on-site foreman who said that construction appears to be progressing at even a more rapid rate than initial plans required. The addition will contain eight rooms, six regular classrooms and two for special education.

Fix Nine Mile
Council Urged

Novi Council learned Monday that industries on Nine Mile between Novi Road and Meadowbrook want action now on hard-surfacing their thoroughfare.

ABC Photo circulated pictures taken of the bridge between Novi Road and the C&O crossing to show its condition as well as the condition the road despite the city's efforts to keep it up. Also presenting views were Hydromation Industry and a resident of Meadowbrook Lake Subdivision who also spoke for the schools on the dangers of the C&O crossing.

The citizens were told the road has been given first priority. City Manager Harold A. Copley added that the engineering firm of Johnson and Anderson was to have presented plans for the construction of hard-surfacing of the road (two plans, one for bituminous, the other for concrete) at this meeting.

ABC Photo maintained it would be willing to build the road in cooperation with other industries along Nine Mile if the city could enter into some form of payback agreement with it.

Council was uncertain as to the

Judge Ziem
KO's Township

Oakland County Circuit Court Judge Frederick C. Ziem made Novi a de facto city Monday.

Judge Ziem disallowed Novi Township's (Charles G. Goers) application for leave to file quo warranto proceedings to test the cityhood of Novi on the grounds that the township presented nothing new from a case Circuit Court Judge
William Beer had previously disallowed.

Following this decision, the next step for the city is to set up a process with the township for division of assets, turning over of records, etc.

Novi Council resolved Monday to give City Attorney Howard Bond the power to act in behalf of the city and to take legal steps if necessary if the township has not moved by today to begin these actions required of them.

Novi Jaycees are seeking the Students throughout the area - in Novi, Walled Lake and Northville - are invited to draw up a seal suggestion and submit it to the Jaycees.

Board Delays Bonding Election

A bonding proposal for the construction of a middle school will not appear on the annual June election ballot, the Novi Board of Education decided last week Wednesday.

Following a report by Superintendent Thomas Dale on reasons why the bond issue cannot be put to voters in June, the board voted unanimously to conduct a special election on this matter in September - provided such an election is approved by the county and state.

Originally, the board had hoped to conduct an election this spring but delays in planning and research prompted it to consider June 9 instead.
Now the date, according to Dale, appears an impossibility. He gave the following reasons:

-The school district valuation is not yet available because the assessment-legality dispute between the new City of Novi and the township has not been resolved. The new valuation figure, he explained, is a necessity in drawing up bonding papers.

-The bonding attorney cannot begin his work until the board determines the amount of the bond issue. And although the board discussed construction costs during Wednesday's meeting (see related story) this matter was not resolved.

-Preliminary qualification of bonds by the State Department of Education will take two or three weeks after work by the district's bonding attorney has been completed.

In scuttling plans for a June election, the board decided not to pinpoint the September election date until it can be certain what date in that month would be acceptable to the county and state.

Without the bonding issue, June's ballot will contain only the names of candidates for three board of education's posts - one for one year, one for two years and two for four years. Bruce Simmons and William MacDermaid, plus board appointees Ray Warren and Claude Earl, must stand for re-election if they desire to remain on the board.

Nominating petitions, available at the board offices beginning April 14, must be filed not later than 4 p.m. on May 12. They must contain a minimum of 20 acceptable signatures of registered voters of the school district.

Novi Middle School
Plans, Costs Aired

Novi's school architect sent up a trial balloon last week, and, although the board of education was staggered by cost projections, officials were elated with the long-range proposal for the 80-acre high school site at Taft and Elvelev Mile Roads.

In addition to viewing a total 80-acre site development plan, the board also saw a preliminary idea plan for the proposed middle school - the first new building (since construction of the high school) slated for the site.

The middle school, which now appears certain to be included in September bond issue, will house sixth, seventh and eighth grades. Because of the later-than-anticipated election date, this school probably will not be ready for occupancy until September 1971 - or at best midway through the 1970-71 school year, board members learned.

According to the site master plan unveiled by the architect, Lane, Riebe & Welland, the middle school probably would be located southwest of the present high school. The plan also envisions an elementary school at the southern edge of the property and an administrative building near the corner of 11 Mile and Taft.

All of these buildings - together with existing high school athletic facilities, other playground facilities for the two other proposed schools, perhaps an outdoor instudy area, access streets and feeder paths and streets between facilities on the site - represent a campus-like educational complex.

The total plan excited board members, who indicated citizens of the district are likely to find it just as exciting when the wall plan is converted soon into a table model for public display.

According to Architect Alex W.
Riebe, the location of the middle school southwest of the high school represents the most economically feasible placement. The same reason was given for placement of the sanitary sewer disposal plant for the middle school at some distance in front of the school rather than placing it in an out-of-sight location, he said.

Riebe said his firm envisioned the initial bond issue as covering construction of the middle school, development of the site and athletic grounds adjacent to it and construction of the disposal plant and a storm water collection pond in the swampy area near Taft Road.

Cost of building construction was put at $1,825,000; earthwork at $47,000; site drainage, $41,000; road and walls, $50,000; site improvements, $19,000; laws, planning, etc., $18,000;
site contingency, $20,000; utilities, $108,000; equipment, $184,000;
surveys and documents, $3,400;
bonding costs, $2,300; professional services (architect, attorney, etc.), $139,000; interest, $75,000; and construction contingency, $68,000.

A decision on how many square feet the middle school should include and whether or not the September bond issue should provide for acquisition of other school sites, construction of an elementary school and enlargement of the gymnasium is expected to come up again in May.

Also, it was re-emphasized that consideration should be given, too, for inclusion of future school site purchases in this bond issue. And before the meeting ending, the board also began thinking of including the enlargement of the high school gymnasium in the issue.

Turning to estimated costs of the middle school, the architect said a building of 72,000 square feet and the related expenditures, would approximately $2,600,000 on today's market. On-the-spot cost estimates of the elementary school, school site purchases, and enlargement of the high school gymnasium boosted the total outlay to well beyond $3 million.

The $2,600,000 middle school estimate, the architect said, would increase correspondingly with any increase in the square footage of the building. His comment was sparked by observations of staff and board members that allotment of some classroom-gym space within the 72,000 square feet may be too conservative.

While the architect's idea plan showed classroom sites and locations, Riebe emphasized that the plan does not yet incorporate the thinking of the staff. Discussions with staff he said will be the next step before the plan can be formalized.

Based on the 72,000 square feet plan, the building would include eight classrooms and two conference rooms for the sixth grade; four classrooms, two conference rooms, and two areas for science and math for each of the other two grades. It would include space for vocal music, industrial arts, home economics, a gymnasium,

Black Loses
In Northville

With 42.2 percent of the city's 2,635 registered voters turning out at the polls Monday, Paul Folino and Kenneth Rathert won election to the Northville City Council as the lone incumbent, Delbert Black, went down to defeat.

Paul Vernon and William Bingley finished fourth and fifth, respectively, behind third-place Black. Mayor A. M.
Allen, running unopposed, topped the ticket with 700 votes.

Rathert, who ironically was an early choice of Black as a running mate, edged the incumbent councilman by five votes - 445-440.

But it was Folino, a hard-campaigner who barely lost out in a bid for council election two years ago, who came up with the biggest surprise. By claiming an overwhelming lead in the city's smallest precinct, he turned back strong bids by opponents in the other two precincts to capture the greatest number of council votes - 495 for a 50-vote margin over Rathert.

District Court

Judge Martin Boyle of Walled Lake District Court apparently fronts on people who throw beer cans on public highways.

At least Jack Fox, who was arrested in Novi for that offense, would claim that this is the case. Boyle fined him $75 for the charge last week.

FOLINO'S FOR ALLEN

Aside from the incumbent, there is no other candidate for Northville city council who has attended as many council sessions as I have.
It is my observation that the wisdom Mayor A. M. Allen brings to the council through his many years of community service needs stronger support.
If elected, I intend to bring that support to the many programs for community improvement that Mayor Allen has introduced.
