

For Michigan Week

Plans Booming in Wixom

Plans for Michigan Week festivities in Wixom, highlighted by the visit here of the mayor and clerk of the Village of Onsted, are moving into high gear.

Michigan Week festivities - May 17 through May 24 - will reach its peak Monday, May 17 (Our Government Day) when Onsted Mayor and Mrs. Robert Ostrander and Clerk and Mrs. Donald Mohr arrive in the morning.

Even before their arrival, however, the Onsted officials will confer with Wixom Mayor and Mrs. McCall and Councilman and Mrs. McCall at a point half-way between the two communities during a coffee break.

The two Wixom officials and their wives will be hosted at Onsted for the day.

Hosting the Onsted officials and their wives here will be Mr. and Mrs. Paul Salo. Salo has been chairman of the visiting officials will be taken to Wixom's "Flowers by John" shop.

Evening hours that day will find guests and hosts at Aunt Jemima's Restaurant for a banquet preceded by a social hour sponsored by The Walter Tobe Company, a Wixom bridge and highway builder.

The banquet program will include organ music by Mrs. Ray Mattson and a film, "Michigan Logging," presented by Glenn Ruggles of the Walled Lake Consolidated Schools.

Additional activities, still in the planning stage, will be announced later.

Northville Patroller Picked for Safety Trip

The Northville area will be represented at Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, May 8-11 on Automobile Club of Michigan's 33rd annual spring school safety patrol trip.

Named to represent fellow safety patrolmen in the area is Brian R. Holloman, 11, of 320 Orchard Drive, fifth grade, Main Street Elementary School.

He will be among 130 youths from 96 Michigan cities taking the four-day, all-expense-paid trip as a guest of Auto Club.

The trip is timed to coincide with National Safety Patrol Week, celebrated this year from May 4-10. Each year, Auto Club sponsors this trip to give recognition to state safety patrolmen who perform their duties as a free public service.

This year in Michigan, approximately 78,000 patrolmen at 3,200 schools participated in the safety patrol program. All total, they spent over 7 million hours at their posts protecting fellow classmates.

Although this year's trip will focus on the Gettysburg area, the first stop for the group will be at Washington, D.

C. Senator Robert Griffin will officially welcome the group at the Capitol Building. Michigan delegates on the trip will leave Detroit in a four-bus caravan at 4 p.m. May 7 from the Veterans Memorial Building. From Washington, patrolmen will travel to the Gettysburg area. They are slated to tour the Pennsylvania Dutch Country near Lancaster on Friday. Saturday the group will tour Harper's Ferry and the Gettysburg National Battlefield. The delegation will return to Detroit Sunday morning.

New District Court System Here Still on Trial

Four months have passed since the Michigan District Court system officially went into operation on January 1. Opinion of the new court ranged from blind confidence in its immediate success to flat disenchantment and the hope that this "new fangled" system would soon fail and expose itself as the hoax it was.

To date, neither expectation has materialized. Comments of three district court judges - Judge Dunbar Davis of Wayne County, Judge Martin Boyle of Oakland County and Judge Bert Hensick of Livingston County - attest to as much.

To a large extent, the current success or failure of any one district court operation in "this transition period" depends on the legacy the presiding judge inherited: the number of qualified people who assumed jobs in the court; the extent of the case backlog and the appropriateness of court facilities.

There are other variables, too, such as the cooperation a district court receives from law enforcement authorities and other citizens, and the geographical location of the court and, of course, the competence of the presiding judge as administrator.

One of the best district courts operations is that of Judge Davis - the 35th district with its seat in Plymouth. It's working "very well," Judge Davis said of his court, but he was quick to point out the advantages which he enjoys that other, usually more rural courts don't.

"I've been fortunate to have trained clerks from Northville and Plymouth," he said. "This has made the transition from the justice courts and small municipal courts quite easy."

Presently, his court staff includes three clerks, a court reporter, bookkeeper and three parttime people in the probation department. Judge Davis also lauded the "very good facilities" in his district, and especially those in Plymouth, which he rated second to none in the state.

There is a court committee, comprised of representatives from the district communities, which he also cites for helping the court to function smoothly.

While admitting his district court was "working as well as anticipated," Judge Davis said, "I know a lot of districts that have been having real problems." He pointed to Livonia, where two district judges were forced to share one courtroom.

"I didn't inherit any substantial backlog," he stated. "We kept right up on the work. We give trials within two weeks. There's no waiting." "It's hard to say," said Judge Boyle, when asked how efficiently the public hearing on the request will be May 12 with the planning board to hold a special meeting on the matter afterward.

Novi Methodist . . .

. . . Joins Willowbrook

The two councils of administration will now work together on the reorganization of the two churches into the new Novi United Methodist Church. The Reverend R. A. Mitchinson and the Reverend Arthur Norris are pastors of the Novi and Willowbrook churches, respectively. Both have worked with the merger study committee - a committee of laymen from both churches - during the past two years. The committee studied the two churches and the Novi community before drawing up the plan of merger.

Two Novi Methodist Churches Merge

First official joint service of two newly approved merged Novi Methodist Churches is slated for Sunday morning, May 25, church officials revealed this week.

Involved are the Novi United Methodist Church, 43489 Grand River, and the Willowbrook United Methodist Church, 41671 West Ten Mile Road.

The merging churches will, with the formal "United Service" later this month, be called by the single name, Novi United Methodist Church. The Willowbrook edifice will house the united congregation.

The vote to merge was taken Tuesday, April 22 in a church local conference at the Novi church and a Charge Conference at the Willowbrook church. The groups differ in name only because the Novi church has been a part of a two-point charge with the New Hudson United Methodist Church.

Each group met separately in its own building with the superintendent from the Ann Arbor District of the Detroit Conference in charge at the Novi church and the superintendent of the Michigan Conference (EUB) in charge at the Willowbrook church.

Following the approving vote, both groups met together at Willowbrook church for fellowship; coffee and donuts were served. Present were the Reverend Garfield Kellermann, superintendent of the East District of the Michigan Conference (EUB) and the Reverend Joseph Edwards, superintendent of the Ann Arbor District of the Detroit Conference.

New Subdivision Plan Unveiled at Beck-10

A resolution approving re-zoning of about 49 acres of Novi property west of Beck road and south of Ten Mile was passed by the Novi City Council Monday night at a joint meeting of the Novi Planning Board and the council.

Public hearing on another re-zoning request was continued until June 2 as property owners attending objected. The approved amendment to the zoning ordinance was requested by Arlington Builders of Southfield which requested re-zoning to R-1, suburban residential from its present agricultural zoning in order to plat a subdivision. The area is in the Novi School District.

While the planning board also recommended adoption of the request. The Novi City Council met Tuesday, April 22, to continue discussion on the agenda held over from the regular meeting April 21. The council decided to adjourn all regular council meetings by 11:30 p.m., even if it meant adjourning them to another day.

In the special Tuesday meeting, the Novi City Council approved the interim budget. When Novi became a city upon voter approval of the charter February 18, the village books were closed. The balance of the budget being the operating budget of the city, subject to council approval.

The council passed a resolution for the second amendment to a contract with the Oakland County Department of Public Works. The amendment raises the interest rate to six percent. Approval was given for payment of two warrants.

The council gave authorization for the purchase of an IBM typewriter to be used by the city.

At the request of the Novi High School, Mayor Joseph Crupi will meet with students to discuss a program by which student representatives can watch the city government in action. A report on the water situation in Connemara Hills was heard. Council also gave approval to placing an advertisement in the centennial issue of the Northville Record. Discussion on membership in the Beautification Council was postponed until the next meeting. Adjournment came at 10:50 p.m.

Wixom Police Seek Union Wixom policemen have taken steps to affiliate with the AFL-CIO, a spokesman told the News this week. The five patrolmen now on the force reportedly have voted to affiliate with the union and are now awaiting word from the state labor board in establishing an official election.

Salary improvement of the police officers, the spokesman said, is the chief reason for the decision to unionize. Top pay for a patrolman today is $7,800. The department is still without a police chief since no replacement has been named for D'Arcy Young, who resigned several weeks ago.

CRAZY QUACKERS - It may be spring but it could just as easily be winter or summer because the dozens of ducks that inhabit the Rouge stream near the Ford Valve Plant are year-round visitors. Flying South or North is out of the question.

POOL DEDICATED - Northville High School's natatorium was officially dedicated Sunday afternoon in a program honoring the late

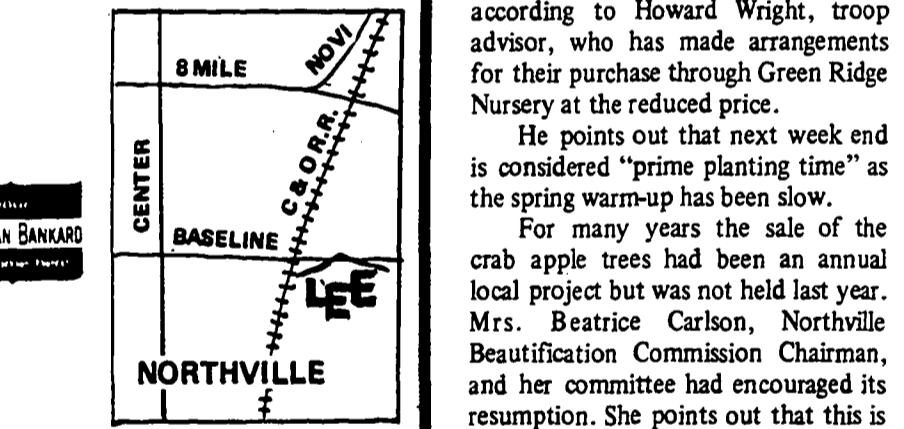

Edward F. Angove, a board member who played a key role in the establishment of the new facility. A plaque paying tribute to Mr. Angove was erected on the wall just outside the natatorium. Appropriately, since Mr. Angove was a sports enthusiast, part of Sunday's program involved a swimming and diving exhibition by members of the Eastern Michigan University swim teams. The dedicatory address was made by Albert Jones, Northville teacher, and Larry Angove gave the response for his mother, sister and brother. Special guests included school officials, clergy and representatives of the architect and local swimming instructors. Refreshments were served by the cafeteria staff following the program.

'Party' A Month Keeps 'em Happy

Members of the Northville Jaycettes are taking their husbands to a "party" every month for which they're bringing the home-baked treats and coffee - and it's all part of the new Jaycette on-the-scene service project at Northville State Hospital.

The project was begun last month as three couples visited the Fieldbrook unit at the hospital to play cards and games with the patients who are recently admitted adults from the surrounding areas. In this unit the average patient's stay is about six weeks, notes Mrs. Ronald Heller, co-chairman of the project with Mrs. John Buckland.

Because their stay is short, she explains, it is important that patients keep in contact with the community - and this is what the project is designed to help in doing. The Jaycettes have committed themselves to the project for a year.

In their long-range plans, Jaycettes hope later to bring patients to outside community social activities.

The first party, attended by Mrs. Heller and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hilton and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Zillich, went "very well," they reported, with time "really flying by."

Three or four couples plan to host such parties on the third Friday of each month with the next scheduled for May 16.

In other action, the board adopted a resolution lauding three retiring teachers for their years of dedicated service to the Northville school system. They are Mrs. Helen Bradshaw, Mrs. Myrtle Funk and Alvin Skow.

The board also voted to request the city of Northville to adopt a traffic ordinance regulating parking and speed on school property within the city. With such an ordinance, authorized by state law, violating motorists — adults and students — may be ticketed by city police.

Board Treasurer Andrew Orphan also asked the administration to begin preparation of a board policy providing for the suspension of student driving privileges when students are found guilty of driving violations on school property.

A request from the Northwestern Child Guidance Clinic for financial support was tabled by the board pending assurance that the Northville

Scouts Plan Pleasin' Feed
Explorer Scouts are promising "a mighty pleasin'" dinner tonight at the American Legion Hall.

The dinner, featuring spaghetti and all the trimmings, is a fund-raising project of Explorer Post 905 as it prepares for a 10-day trip into Canada next June.

Tickets for the 5:30 p.m. dinner are $1.50 for adults, 75-cents for children.

Post 905, only recently organized, has 10 active members, with Legion Commander Howard Wright serving as post adviser.

Golfers Win Triangular
Schoolcraft College golfers fired a team score of 327 at Salem Hills last week to take first in a triangular match with Orchard Ridge and Alpena colleges.

Orchard Ridge, the Farmington campus of Oakland Community College, finished second with a score of 334, while Alpena came in with a 348.

Leading the way for the local golfers was Steve Kazmer, who fired a 79 on the 72-par course. Carl Patron came in second low with an 81, followed by Fred Zrmack with 83 and Tom Karwowski with an 84.

Tomorrow Schoolcraft will travel to Port Huron to battle St. Clair College and then host Lorain (Ohio) on Saturday. Schoolcraft is 3-1 for the season.

Tickets Going Fast For Sports Banquet

"Tickets are going fast — so don't wait until the last minute," remind officials of the Northville Boosters Club which will sponsor the second annual All Sports Banquet Wednesday, May 14.

Limited space in the high school cafeteria means only a limited number of tickets for the dinner are available. The NBC points out. Interested persons are asked to call 349-5816 for reservations.

However, it is noted that persons not attending the dinner may nevertheless attend the banquet program itself, which will get underway at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Highlighting the event will be guest speaker "Bump" Elliott, former head football coach at the University of Michigan. Master of ceremonies again this year will be Andy Bertoni of Northville, and sharing the limelight will be Jim Peterson, last year's Athlete of The Year.

Novi Stages Surprise Mustangs Finish 4th in Relays

With the top field and track stars of 17 Class B schools competing in Saturday's Clarenceville Relays, Cranbrook upset favorite Ecorse in winning the event by a score of 76 to 70.

Bloomfield Lahser took third with 48 points, followed by Northville in fourth with 27.

In a surprisingly strong showing, Class C Novi came up with 18 points—despite the fact that two of its top athletes, Jon Van Wagner and Ken Osborn, were out of action because of injuries.

South Lyon and Brighton finished well off the pace with 6 and 4 points, respectively.

The Mustangs took a second, three thirds, and a fifth in racking up their 27 points. Novi, the only Class C school competing, grabbed a first, two thirds and a fifth. The Lions garnered a second and fourth, while the Bulldogs settled for two fifth-places.

Northville's best showing came in the four-mile relay where Richard Lamp, Rick Bell, Phil Kennedy and Paul Bedford teamed up for a second-place. It was Kennedy who came from behind to put Northville in the lead during the third leg, but Bedford came up with the best mile time: 4:42. Kennedy and Bedford are co-captains of the Northville thinclds.

Cranbrook won the event handsly. In the sprint medley, Bedford, John Stuyvenberg, Glen Heffner and Greg Marshall turned in a time of 3:43 to grab third behind Ecorse and Lahser.

Stuyvenberg came up with a lap of 21 7/8—the best Class B showing—but it was Novi, with the three fine marks of Gary Boyer (19' 8") John Davey (19' 6") and Don Maki (19' 4"), that came up with the big first place. Backing up Stuyvenberg were Bedford (18' 13/8") and Bob Froelich, who had been jumping only two days (18' 1"). The combined Northville effort was worth third place.

Stuyvenberg turned in his best time of the season in gaining fifth place in the 100 yard dash with a time of 10.35.

Fred Hicks, who turned in a put of 49 feet plus, teamed up with Brian Myers and Richard Ruland as Northville claimed a third behind Cranbrook and DeLaSalle. Close behind, in fourth, was South Lyon's Larry James, Leon Lusk and Darrell Mayard.

Jim Riordan, South Lyon's superstar in the high hurdles, took second in this event at Clarenceville to round out the Lions' scoring.

In two open events, Novi athletes were standouts. Mark Earl placed third in the two-mile run with a time of 10:35.5, while Dan McGarry took third in the mile run, setting a new Novi school mark of 4:55.

In the 880 relay, the Wildcats won its best but finished fifth in the overall time with a new school mark of 1:35.6. Novi posted two other school records even though they failed to pick up points for the Wildcats at Clarenceville. Doug Keith took over the shot record from his arch team rival, Dicon Trafalin, by putting 43' 4", and Tom Boyer, Larry Eggleston (freshman), Steve Pomeroy and Rick Hill came in with a new mile relay mark of 3:41.2.

Northville Coach Ralph Redmond was pleased with his squad's overall performance even though the team did not do as well as hoped. "Our younger fellows are really starting to go," he said. "The only real disappointment," he added, "was in the shuttle relays. We could have taken it, but Jeff Dawson hurt himself in a silly motorcycle scramble the night before, so we had to substitute a youngster who was untried. Jeff, more than hurting himself, hurt his teammates." Northville's two mile relay squad, although it finished sixth, showed plenty of promise beneath the legs of Steve Kaake, Brad Cole, David Wright and Brian Dyke, said Redmond.

Wildcats Nip Lions, 65-53

A close finish that could have been closer highlighted Novi's first visit to South Lyon's new track.

Novi's Wildcats led by seven points going into the final event of the day—the mile relay—and loss would have meant only a two-point win. They won the event and the meet, 65-53.

Easier wins for the Wildcats were recorded in the two mile run where Doug Earl came within a few yards of lapping the entire field and in the pole vault where limping Ken Osborn went nine feet without removing his sweatshirt.

Earl's time of 10:23.5 brought him home 400 yards ahead of George Berz who gave the Lions a second. Pat Curry of South Lyon won the 100-yard dash in a time of 11.5 seconds into the wind to round out the firsts.

Jim Riordan of the Lions and Tom Boyer of the Wildcats were the only double winners as Novi garnered eight firsts to the host's six. Boyer took the 220 (24.5 seconds) and the 880 (2:08.5) while Riordan won the high (15.6) and low hurdles (22.5).

The two squads traded relay success as Novi won the mile in a time of 3:43.7 and South Lyon ran the 880 in 1:36.6.

Individual field event winners in addition to Osborn included John Davey in the long jump for Novi (19' 5 1/8") and Larry James in the shot put (45' 4 3/8") and Mark Saincome in the high jump (6' 2") for the Lions.

Rick Hill won the 440 for the Wildcats at 53.9 while young Dan McGarry was taking the mile in 4:58.5.

Milford Wins in Seventh Near Perfect Ball and Then . . .

Northville's stellar two-man pitching sensation continued to dominate baseball action this past week as the Mustangs posted two more victories while dropping a heart-breaker.

In losing Thursday — a 4-3 decision at the hands of Oakland County's top ranked nine, Milford — Northville saw one of the finest pitching performances of the season go down the drain.

Ace Hurler Fred Holdsworth, working on a one-hitter going into the final inning, had pitched perfect ball after giving up an opening inning homer. Since that first inning he had held Milford hitless, refusing to allow a single Redskin to reach base. Northville led at this point 3-1.

But when Mark Giegler, Milford's best hitter and one of the most formidable sluggers in the league stepped to the plate in the seventh, Holdsworth lapsed just long enough for the batter to slash a single to right center.

Then later, with a runner at first and third, Stan Nirider fielded a grounder and fired a shot to the plate to cut off the runner. In the ensuing run-down, Pat Cayley fitted a perfect strike toward third only to have the ball bounce off the helmet of the runner into the outfield. Two runs scored — and that was it.

The Mustangs scored all three of their runs in the bottom half of the first. Nirider singled, stole second and then after two were out, Cayley singled driving home Nirider. Jeff Taylor added a single, which together with a fielding error, scored Cayley from first. Holdsworth then slugged one to the outfield where it was dropped by the centerfielder, allowing Taylor to score.

In losing the heart-breaker, Holdsworth gave up four hits — three in that last inning — struck out 11 and walked none. His teammates collected four hits.

Northville had its best day at the plate Saturday in defeating Bloomfield Hills, 6-3. In Bloomfield Hills, the Mustangs were piling up 10 hits, the other half of Northville's pitching duel, Jeff Taylor, was fanning 12 batters, walking two and giving up five hits.

The Mustangs opened the game with three quick runs, added two more in the fourth, and notched a single tally in the seventh.

Nirider opened the attack in the first with a double that came within an eye-ball of being a round-tripper. The ball sailed over the left center fence, but the umpire ruled that it had bounced over the fence, thus holding Nirider to second. Nirider advanced to third however on a fly ball and scored in a play at the plate when Barry Deal hit an infield grounder. Cayley walked and successive singles by Taylor and Rich Adams pushed across two more runs.

Kim Marburger and Nirider walked in the fourth, and Deal singled home two more runs.

In the final frame Cayley and Taylor each singled, and Adams smashed a double down the left field line, scoring Cayley.

Back on the mound again Monday night, Holdsworth made good his one-hitter by blanking Clarkson 2-0 while his teammates were pounding out seven hits. He fanned 12 and walked one.

His effort gave him a .430 earned run average (just two runs in 33 innings). Taylor has given up six earned runs in 42 innings.

Coach Dick Willing, full of praises for his two hurlers, also was pleased with his squad's hitting attack in the last two games. "We batted .333 in those two games and it looks like — I hope — that we're finally coming out of our hitting slump."

Northville iced its victory over the Wolves in the fifth inning. Marburger singled, stole second, Craig Turnbull walked, and Nirider singled to load the bases. Marburger streaked home on a wild pitch and Terry Mills singled home the second run to wrap up the scoring.

City Planning Commissioner George Clark, 63, suffered a severe head cut last week Wednesday when an assailant struck him while he was in the back room of Northville Realty, 160 East Main Street.

Charged with assault and battery and facing trial next Tuesday is John B. Hinman, 21, of 402 Yerkes Street.

According to witnesses, Hinman entered the realty office, formerly owned by Clark, shortly after 11 a.m. and asked to see Clark.

Hinman went into the back room of the office and employees heard a disturbance.

Pre-School Meet Set

Parents of children in the Northville school district who will reach their fifth birthday on or before December 1 are invited to attend the annual kindergarten registration meeting in the high school auditorium at 8 p.m. next Thursday, May 8. (These are children who were born before or on December 1, 1964.)

Letters have been sent to all known parents of youngsters, but new parents in the community and those not contacted are asked to attend also.

Registration forms included in the letters are to be completed and returned. Parents also must present proof of the child's birth date to register him.

Health forms, emergency forms and useful information will be distributed at the registration meeting next week. Visitation Day, when children who will enter kindergarten this fall spend time in the classroom, and the Northville screening program will be discussed by the elementary principals and kindergarten teachers.

In urging parents to attend the registration, school officials say the meeting will be as brief and informative as possible. They ask that children not be brought to the meeting as they will be welcomed on Visitation Day, but both mothers and fathers are invited.

Children not officially enrolled on registration night must be enrolled at one of the school offices prior to September.

Jeanette M. Gensley She's Named Merit Scholar

Jeanette M. Gensley, an honor student in the 1969 Northville High School graduating class, was named a Merit Scholarship winner to Oakland University Wednesday as the National Merit Scholarship Corporation awarded this year's scholarships to "over 3000 of the nation's ablest high school seniors."

Northville's winner is one of six children of Mr. and Mrs. Louis C. Gensley, 48540 Northville. She plans to major in foreign languages at Oakland University.

She is president of the school's National Honor Society chapter, Elks' leadership award winner, first place winner of the Voice of Democracy Award, Veterans' of Foreign Wars contest winner, a varsity debater (league champions and state semi-finalists), awards chairman of the Girls' Athletic League and member of Forensics and Thespians.

All of the Merit scholars were chosen from among the 15,000 students who became finalists. Finalists are those who scored in about the upper half of one per cent of the graduating seniors in their state in the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, who confirmed this performance on a second test and received the endorsement of their schools.

Miss Gensley's Merit award was one of the about 2,000 awards which are four-year scholarships, providing between $400 and $6,000 each ($100 to $1,500 a year). Colleges sponsored about 600 of these four-year awards, selecting their winners from among finalists choosing to attend each sponsoring college.

District Court Still on Trial

2nd division of the 52nd District Court was working. "We're not in full swing yet." But Judge Boyle did say he was "very satisfied" and that the court operation was "going as well as expected."

"We're in the training process, as well as the operative process," he stated. Our efficiency will have to improve."

"We've got a big backlog under control, but it's still there," he added, pointing to the fact that approximate court receipts have steadily increased, from $5,500 in January, to $8,000 in February and $13,000 in March.

The "big backlog" included about 3,000 traffic and criminal cases or files and about 4,000 civil cases.

Court personnel, which includes two deputy clerks and one newly authorized, a court officer and a recorder-secretary, were not trained, Boyle stated. This, too, has made the transition to the new district court with its seat at Walled Lake more difficult.

Like Boyle, Judge Hensick of the 53rd district, which serves all of Livingston County, inherited a big backlog and largely untrained administrative people. Personnel include four magistrates, four clerks of the court and a personal secretary, and he said he'll probably seek another clerk this summer.

"We're extremely active," Judge Hensick said of his court. "We're getting the job done, but there's more work than I can handle." Located in the Howell court house annex basement, the district court seat is not appropriate, Hensick said.

One of the biggest drawbacks he sees to the operation of his court is the fact that the four magistrates, including the one attorney-magistrate, may accept a plea of guilty on any misdemeanor, yet they cannot sentence the admitted lawbreaker. Judge Hensick said the magistrates may only announce sentence in motor violation cases.

"There's also the question of whether magistrates can arraign people charged with felonies," he stated. "I say 'yes.' Some district judges say 'no.'"

Judge Hensick, like Judge Davis and Boyle, concurs that some of the present statutes governing the operation of the district courts will have to be changed, if the district courts are to operate more effectively.

Saying "I'll never catch up" on the backlog, Hensick explained: "I think Livingston County is on the borderline of the type of area which should have two district judges, instead of one district court." Each district court was to serve 50,000 and Judge Nesick said his district, at the time of re-organization, was near this figure.

Despite the varying difficulties the three judges are having, they agree wholeheartedly on one point: that the persons who appear before them are getting a fair shake than under the old set-up of justice courts and small municipal courts.

As Judge Hensick put it, "barren justice" has been eliminated primarily through adoption of a uniform fine schedule for traffic violations. Centralization in one authority and the fact that the judges are schooled in law also have contributed substantially to improved administration of justice.

At Modern Salem Farm Watercress Cattle Roundup, Nears

It seems strangely out of place in this late 20th Century year but the annual spring roundup and cattle drive is about to begin in Salem Township. It's a roundup and drive with a modern twist.

Early this month 160 Black Angus will be cut from a 350-head herd and loaded aboard trucks for a 150-mile "drive" to pasture in Northern Michigan. Then, come next fall, the calf crop is weaned and loaded for the return for a year's feeding before marketing. They, like the brood cows, are returned to Salem's Watercress Farms, owned by Edward Porath.

Although raising beef cattle and purebred Hampshire hogs is not as demanding as the 125-head dairy herd on a second Porath farm, it's nevertheless a tough job.

"Nowadays," says Donald McKarns, who has managed Watercress for the better part of his working life, "the cattle and hog farmer must be a breeder, a doctor, a land manager and a businessman all in one. My grandfather used to do it with a wagon load of corn and a scoop shovel back in Ohio."

His thumb bandaged and aching from accidentally raming a needle through it while giving an animal a shot of antibiotics two weeks ago, McKarns says that farm animals today are far more susceptible to disease than when his grandfather operated his farm.

"Year after year, limited by space, you raise them on the same land and in the same buildings. What can you expect? The ground becomes polluted, and no matter how careful you are you can't seem to lick it."

Even in the farm's ultra-modern farrowing house — perhaps the only one of its kind in the Midwest — where sows and their young are kept in clean, individual pens and under constant temperature, disease exists, he says. "It's a constant battle."

Lack of space, the death knell of many a cattle farm, "hurts the farmer as much as anything," he explains. "There just isn't enough pasture land available anymore. It's too expensive," he explains, pointing out that much of Watercress land must be put into corn and hay to supply food for the farm stock. The farm has 250 acres in corn, and feeds up to 20,000 bales of hay annually. "That doesn't leave much room for grazing."

Faced with the need for more pasture or failure, Porath and his manager turned to the unique practice of transporting the cattle to two large ranches near Clare for the summer. Strangely reminiscent of the roundups and drives of the west, this practice has other similar stamps. On the larger northern Michigan

Dr. Jamrich, who recently inaugurated an "open office" policy on alternate weeks for faculty and students, is shown here after a discussion with three students who rank in the upper one percent of their respective classes. For College Board

Dildy Announces Candidacy

Dennis Dildy of Northville announced his candidacy this week for an at-large post on the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees.

A teacher at Hawthorn Center in Northville Township, Dildy, 26, is a part-time probation director within the 35th District Court serving Northville, Plymouth and Canton Township.

He is married and has two children. They live at 429 Lake Street.

He received two degrees from the University of Michigan and has certificates for teaching regular elementary school and for special education with mentally retarded and emotionally disturbed children through high school.

Dildy also has received three summers of study and field-work at the University of Michigan Fresh Air Camp for disturbed and delinquent children, where he served as a counselor and on the supervising staff.

In announcing his candidacy, Dildy said he was interested in serving on the board to:

To perform regular duties required, demanded and suggested; promote expansion of a variety of courses at the college prep level as well as expansion, in so far as finances permit, vocational and technical training programs; aid the college in retaining and requiring the finest faculty; and to open and clarify communications between faculty, students, administration and the board as well as the community.

"Despite some minor difficulties that have arisen at Schoolcraft in the last few years," said Dildy, "controversy properly handled, can always lead to good resolutions of grievances on the part of all concerned."

He said students have a great potential and should be listened to rather than condemned as a whole society.

"This does not mean," he added, "that (I) would tolerate illegal behavior on the part of anyone, but, rather, that such behavior would be unnecessary and inappropriate, provided all school officials met conflicts as an alert, open-minded, reasonable and responsible administration and board."

Mary Heslip to Get Ladywood Diploma

A baccalaureate degree in English will be conferred upon Mary Ruth Heslip, daughter of Mrs. Arthur J. Heslip, 42680 Nine Mile Road. She is a graduate of Ladywood High School in Livonia.

One hundred ninety seven men and women will receive their Baccalaureate degrees from Mercy College of Detroit on Saturday, May 10th, at the annual commencement exercise at St. Scholastica's Church at 3:30 p.m.

Reverend Andrew M. Greeley, Ph.D., noted author, lecturer, Director of the New Opinion Research Center at the University of Chicago, and columnist for the National Catholic Reporter will be the commencement speaker.

The traditional blessing of the academic hoods and Baccalaureate Mass will take place that day at St. Scholastica Church at 11:00 a.m. Following the mass there will be a reception for the graduates, guests and faculty in the Student Center.

Candidates for degrees will be presented by Sister Mary Christopher Steele, R.S.M., Ph.D., and they will be conferred by Sister Mary Karl George, R.S.M., Ph.D., President of the College. His Eminence John Cardinal Dearden, D.D., will present the honors and the degrees.

A Friday evening dinner dance at the Student Center marked the opening of the commencement activities.

Youths Face Trial For Novi Kidnapping

Two youths, charged with kidnaping a retired Novi school teacher last February, stood mute upon arraignment before Oakland County Circuit Court Judge James Thornburn Thursday.

They are Kenneth W. Owens, 17, of Ionia, and James M. Fraser, 16, Detroit.

No trial date has been set, however.

The pair was arrested after escaping from Whitmore Lake boys training school. During their short-lived freedom, the youths were apprehended by Wixom police after they allegedly kidnaped Mrs. Ottilia H. Thompson, 45000 West Drive.

They face charges of kidnaping, armed robbery of Mrs. Thompson and unlawfully driving away an automobile.

Fraser, who has been in and out of the youth home several times but who escaped a waiver requested by Detroit police in the past to try him as an adult, will stand trial in adult court on the three new charges. The "adult" waiver ruling was handed down March 28 by Judge Arthur Moore.

Also awaiting trial in Oakland County Circuit Court is Willard Spencer, 22 of Milford, who is charged with car theft and attempting a get-away. He stood mute upon arraignment on March 28 and was ordered to stand trial. No date has been set.

Spencer was arrested March 9 after he led police officers from Novi, Wixom, Walled Lake and Wolverine Lake on a chase at speeds of up to 90 MPH before they managed to force him to a stop on I-96 near South Hill Road.

Novi Court

A Plymouth woman was fined $50 in the district court serving Novi and Wixom Thursday on a charge of driving while her ability was impaired. She had been ticketed by Novi police on Novi Road near the C&O Railroad crossing on April 6.

Three other motorists paid fines for driving violations dating back as far as March, 1966.

Frederick T. Coleman of Detroit was fined $15 for operating a vehicle with a defective exhaust back on March 27, 1966; Marvin W. Campbell of Ann Arbor was fined $15 for driving a defective vehicle back on June 26, 1966; and Marilyn K. Hopkins, 19320 Gerald Avenue, was fined $20 for speeding 40 MPH in a 30 MPH zone on East Lake Drive on September 27, 1967.

Watercress Farm Cattle Roundup, Drive Nears

ranch, horses are used to round up the cattle. And, adds McKarns, cattle rustlin' isn't dead. "We don't have a heck of a lot of trouble but once and while one of our animals turns up missing. It would be a lot worse, I guess, if we left them up there during the deer season. But we make sure they're back before the shooting starts."

The farm manager grows a little nostalgia when he talks about the 400-acre Salem farm. For him, an earlier more colorful era of the farm was more exciting than today's successful enterprise.

"Sure I'm happy here," he says. "I'm proud of Watercress. But years ago when our business was raising and showing the finest Belgian Draft Horses in the nation - that's when I was happiest."

In recalling that earlier period while flipping through old pictures, McKarns turned back the pages - past those days not so long ago when Quarterhorses filled Watercress stables and grazed on its land along Six Mile Road - to the animals that triggered its operation.

Its founder, the late Julius Porath, an enterprising emigrant built himself a fortune by hard work and keen business mind a half-century ago. It was he who graded streets, dug sewers and poured ribbons of concrete throughout the city of Detroit back in the day when the animal meant horsepower. His Detroit stable of Belgians was the largest in that city and it was these animals that literally pulled his excavating business to the top.

When mechanical horsepower took the reins, Porath continued to raise Belgians - but now for show. He purchased the Salem farm and became a breeder, continuing to raise the animals that he'd come to love while they were flexing their muscles on the streets of Detroit.

A young young man, then only recently graduated from Michigan State College where his wife also graduated the same year, McKarns was "loaned" from the college farm to Watercress not long after it was started.

"It was during the Depression years," he recalls, "and I came for a couple weeks but never left. Don't forget, those were tough times and work was scarce. So I stayed."

Any kind of job would have satisfied the young agriculture major, but in this case McKarns landed the best. He had grown up on a farm where teams of Belgians worked the fields and he, like Porath, loved these hulking giants.

During those early years, Watercress became the workplace of the Midwest and its magnificent animals captured prize after prize. By 1940, McKarns became the farm manager and the man responsible for showing Porath's Belgians in showings across the country.

Early in the Forties, however, Porath sensed the passing era of the draft horse - for show and work - so his avocation turned to a second farm, also called Watercress and located on Six Mile Road two miles west, where he transferred his foundation herd of Brown Swiss dairy cows from the Belgian farm. Today that farm continues to thrive and boasts the oldest Brown Swiss stock and one of the largest herds in Michigan.

Eventually the Belgians that had gained fame for Salem and Watercress were sold off. Some of its Belgian line, incidentally, can be traced to the prize-winning Belgians now at Meadow Brook Farms west of Howell.

After his father's death, Edward Porath turned his attention to Quarterhorses. And just as the senior Porath had insisted on excellence in Belgians so too the younger owner demanded excellence in this new breed.

Within years Watercress was again attracting nationwide attention with the smaller but powerful horse that made cow punching an art. The farm's now unused, silent trophy room, filled with ribbons and trophies, attests to the farm's success with the Quarterhorse.

Six years ago Watercress began plating out the Quarterhorse and the breeding and raising of beef cattle took its place. Today, except for the trophy room, a training corral, and the stables (now housing hogs) there's little evidence remaining of either the Quarterhorse or Belgian eras.

Instead large herds of cattle and hogs are making the new name for Watercress.

What's been the key to the farm's success over the years? McKarns hardly hesitates: "Uniformity... the best breeding stock.

Mr. Porath never liked a conglomeration."

"But what's so uniform about cattle and hogs?" "Oh, that. The hogs are my doing. I don't have the Belgians anymore, something I could really put my heart into," he says wistfully, "so if you're going to work your tail off you might as well have something special you really like."

FEED LOT - Seen from the window of a silo complex, the Watercress Farm feed yard features a concrete floor, shelter sheds, covered feed bunk, and an electrically operated feed auger.

WATERCRESS - Business has changed from horses to cattle and hogs, but Watercress Farm still commands the respect of farm specialists throughout the Midwest.

BEST STOCK - One of the big reasons why Watercress has remained tops in whatever kind of animals it has raised, explains Farm Manager Donald McKarn, is that owner Edward Porath has insisted on the best breeding stock available.

The Model

"Now I'm big—with a hat like Mommy's!" Amy was really full of herself when we went shopping yesterday.

I was amused, too, as I watched her imitate her mother on the way to church the next day. She really had that walk down to a "T."

I'm glad her mother is her model. She couldn't have a better one. Mary's love of God is reflected in everything she does. Her happiness in serving God and His church is contagious. I should know.

When we were married, I was a sometime church-goer. Now, I teach Sunday School, sing in the choir and am chairman of the building committee. I find it deeply satisfying to know that my church needs me.

Every church needs the dedicated effort of its members. Experience the joy of serving God.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Fund drives can become pesky things. Conversely, however, they can be very worthwhile.

Such is the case with an appeal that gets underway today and extends through the month of May.

Adult supporters of The Cavern, Northville's popular teen club, hope to raise $6,000 to help finance The Cavern's move to new club headquarters and to provide funds for an advisor's salary through 1970.

During its first three years The Cavern was self-sustaining. Thanks to the efforts of the Mothers Club, and particularly Mrs. Gordon Forrer, the club grew from an idea to the center of social activity for area youngsters.

Any adult who has ever served as chaperon at one of the Cavern dances can attest to the fun it provides for teens. Despite the pulsating tones of the amplified music (?) that tend to deafen over-40 eardrums, The Cavern dances are fun-affairs for kids.

(Yes, there have been disturbances at The Cavern. But the fun-spillers are in the minority and auxiliary police in addition to adult chaperons are on hand to bring such incidents under prompt control).

Right now The Cavern is faced with some extra-ordinary problems. It must vacate its old quarters in the Community building to make way for board of education offices. An unused area in the basement of the old junior high school is being converted into clubrooms, while dances will be held in the old junior high school gym.

And the responsibilities of club advisor have been assumed by a popular friend of the teens, the Reverend Tim Johnson.

While the teen club manages to meet its normal expenses - rent, cost of bands, etc. - the move, remodeling and salary for an advisor must be raised through contributions.

Cavern youngsters have done their share in helping raise funds for other causes-like the March of Dimes, sponsoring a Christmas party for local children, donating money to help a burned-out teen club in Detroit, providing baby-sitting services on election day.

Now The Cavern needs help.

An adult committee is sending out letters to parents of teenage youngsters and to other persons interested in promoting such worthwhile facilities.

They're asking that donations be sent to The Cavern, Inc., Box 185, Northville 48167.

Like I said, fund drives can be pesky things.

But where else can you spend five or ten dollars and receive more visible dividends.

And think of the audible returns...just drop by The Cavern on a dance night.

CAPITOL COMMENTS

FROM LANSING AND WASHINGTON

Senate passage of a bill to prohibit convicted felons from becoming police officers was praised this week by Senator GEORGE W. KUHN (R-West Bloomfield).

"Police work is such a sensitive and responsible occupation that it should not be entrusted to convicted felons," said Kuhn, who introduced the bill passed by a 30 to 12 Senate vote.

"There are plenty of other jobs available for persons who have been convicted of violation of major laws. Michigan cannot afford to put ex-criminals into a position that would endanger the safety of our society."

"At present, with the change of 'police brutality' being constantly raised by minority groups, we must be careful to upgrade, rather than downgrade, our police departments."

In a move designed to give towns and township a voice in intergovernmental relations, U. S. Senator ROBERT P. GRIFFIN (R-Michigan) has introduced legislation to add their representatives to a federal advisory board.

Griffin's proposal would add two delegates for towns and townships to the 26-member commission, which now represents the executive branch, the two houses of Congress, governors, state legislatures and city and county

Homeowners Slap Oakland Spending

To the Editor:

Following is an excerpt of a statement made by George H. Williams, president of the Oakland County Homeowners & Taxpayers Association, at the public hearing on the tentative Oakland County budget. It may be of interest to your readers:

County spending in the last five years has been scandalous. The courthouse gang has taken complete advantage of the 50-percent property valuation, greedily latching onto millions of dollars of tax money with complete indifference to the increased

A Thorough Job

Babson Report

Why Municipal Bonds Attract Investors

WELLESLEY HILLS, Massachusetts - Having recently completed their annual accounting with state and federal tax agencies, investors are most conscious of taxes and their effect on income. The higher-bracket taxpayer is particularly aware of the tax bite and consequently should seek out opportunities that will allow him to retain more of his investment income. Some will look at oil ventures and cattle ranches, which while providing high expense deductions, could prove to be too risky for most investors. It is at this point that consideration should be given to tax-exempt municipal bonds.

Issued by cities, towns, and other local governmental bodies, "municipals" provide the funds to carry out major municipal projects. (One may also include in this group municipal industrial development bonds, issued to finance commercial ventures within a community.) Income from such bonds has been exempt from federal income taxes and also, in some instances, from income taxes of the issuing state. Hence they bear a coupon rate lower than corporate issues.

A word about "yield." Prices for bonds are usually quoted in terms of yield to maturity, which is a reflection of coupon rate and the length of time the bond has to run to maturity. This also translates into a dollar price for the bonds. (Dollar price runs counter to yield - as price declines, yield rises.) A bond priced below par will have a yield to maturity higher than its coupon. Also, if held to maturity, a portion of the proceeds could represent a capital gain. Recently the average corporate bond yield, as expressed by Moody's averages, was 7.21 percent. On the same date the average yield on municipal bonds was 5.28 percent. This latter rate would, in itself, seem highly favorable - tax exempt! But the advantage is even greater for the higher-bracket taxpayer, as the following table illustrates:

| Yields on | Equivalent Yields on Taxable |
|-----------|------------------------------|
| 3.0%      | 3.0%                         |
| 2.50%     | 3.44%                        |
| 2.75%     | 4.30%                        |
| 3.00%     | 4.70%                        |
| 3.50%     | 5.17%                        |
| 3.75%     | 5.47%                        |
| 4.00%     | 5.87%                        |
| 4.50%     | 6.25%                        |
| 5.00%     | 7.04%                        |

An investor in a 50 percent tax bracket holding a municipal bond bearing a 4 percent coupon receives the equivalent of an 8 percent return on a taxable bond.

With the great number of state and municipal subdivisions in existence, there is obviously a wide choice of municipal bonds available. However, in selecting an issue we must look beyond the purpose of the issue or over the yield. While most municipal bonds imminent and accurate, they pushed through an emergency spending program of over $3 million for buildings, and at the same time they knew that they would be needing a new jail for which they had, in fact, reserved earlier to use this surplus. Had this surplus been used for the jail, it would have saved the taxpayers untold millions in interest payments.

It is our recommendation that the county budget be reduced to $26,500,000. This is $6.5 million more than was spent in 1968 and $1 million more than the 1969 budget. At 26.5 million budget is not a retrenching program. It simply means holding the line.

We further recommend that the property tax millage requested be reduced from 5.28 mills to 4.5 mills. This will give the county $18 million in property taxes, approximately the

Says Spock

In New Left

To the Editor: Do people realize that Dr. Spock is a prominent member of the New-Left Politics? Do they also realize that the new-left is nothing more than the old left - Communism, pure and simple. They have the same objectives:

1. Destroy the morals of American youth.
  2. Create riots and dissent.
  3. Destroy our will to resist.
- This is what's happening today. It was advocated by Karl Marx 100 years ago.
- We are fighting the same enemy in Vietnam as the one who shot down and killed a Northville boy last week.
- We have a choice of either standing up and being counted as Americans or submitting to Spock and his comrades.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Publication of two letters received by this newspaper recently await the writers' signature. Readers are reminded that the policy is to publish only those letters that carry the writers' signatures - even though the newspaper, upon request, will withhold publication of the names. It is not enough to type signature - it must be handwritten. If the writers of the two letters in question, one pertaining to a local business place and the other about a horse riding stable, will acknowledge their letters in writing they will be published.

Somehow - and it's never really explained - humanity creeps into both men. Maybe the absence of guns, which can kill a man at a safe distance, is at least a partial explanation. Maybe it's the distance from battle and homeland that mitigates the thirst for blood. Whatever, neither man can draw blood.

"Hell" would have been comely if the antagonists - the American and the Japanese - had embraced each other as shining examples of the brotherhood of prices (and produce lower yields) than those of lesser quality. This is also true of the bonds of a large, well-known community, as compared with those of a small community; the bonds of the lesser-known issuer will be less marketable, especially in small or odd lots. In this situation it is possible for an investor to find himself forced to hold bonds to maturity because there is no ready market at realistic prices. Tax-exempt bond investments, perhaps more than other types of investment, must be personalized. But we offer, as suggestions, a few issues which look attractive to the Babson's Reports staff. First is the Illinois Toll 4 3/4% of 1998, yielding 5.05 percent to maturity. Second is the Fairfax County, Va. Water Authority 5 1/2% of 2007, yielding 5.22 percent. Also, we like the Austin, Texas School District 4.90 percent of 1991, yielding 5.25 percent.

Millikens Stay in Apartment Until Mansion's Debt Free

LANSING - That marvelous mansion on the banks of the Grand River in Lansing remains unoccupied by Gov. William G. Milliken because the motorized drapes, antique chairs and hideaway bar inside are proving a bit too rich for political philanthropists.

Milliken and his wife Helen refuse to move from their two-bedroom apartment in East Lansing to the posh "Governor's Residence" until the $250,000 fund drive to purchase furnishings is successful.

Reportedly, the campaign, headed by a committee of former governors, is $100,000 short. Plans to obtain $25,000 pledges from select industrialists have been scrapped.

THE GOAL should be met soon, said Senate Majority Leader Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, after foundations and other organizations interested in contributing hold their meetings.

"The delay is only temporary," assured Lockwood. "We'll get the money by the end of May, and the marble fireplace in a massive sunken living room."

NEXT YEAR'S state Supreme Court elections will determine if the Democrats or Republicans benefit from Legislative redistricting in 1971.

That's the prediction of Justice Eugene F. Black, who is not up for re-election.

Presently the court is comprised of four Democrats and three Republicans, though members are technically elected on a nonpartisan basis. The terms of two GOP members expire in 1971.

Black predicted the court will ultimately redistrict the legislature because of a deadlock within the apportionment commission following the 1970 federal population census.

"WE ARE APT to see a partisan-divided Supreme Court deciding in 1971 whether the Legislature shall be elected for the next 10 years according to a strictly one-sided Democratic plan, or a strictly one-sided Republican plan of legislative apportionment," Black said. The Justice proposed the Legislature change procedures for nominating court candidates at party conventions and make the selection process purely nonpartisan.

AS AN ALTERNATIVE, he suggested the parties nominate candidates "willing to commit themselves to an open presentation" of their views on criminal justice and other key issues.

"Michigan needs such a Supreme Court contest," Black said. "We then could have a campaign turning upon a really genuine as well as publicly critical issue - not one of those fake issues like last year when each candidate went about the state saying only: 'Don't you like me better than the other candidates?'"

A LOOSE LEAF

By ROLLY PETERSON

"Hell in the Pacific" is one of the most unusual films to come out of the second world war, primarily because there are no bloody battle scenes where men die by the score, nor do the good guys win, whoever they are.

"Hell" simply, yet dramatically with the suddenness of a cold Spring shower, blows to smithereens the idea that in war anybody is a winner. What it does make emphatically clear is that everybody is the loser.

The simplicity of the story can't be overstated. Two soldiers - one a Japanese, one an American - are marooned on a Pacific island. They should be, so the history books tell us, the worst of enemies; they are, so the movie goes, the worst of enemies.

Both men are capable of being killers as the opening scenes and apply their own techniques of psychological warfare as they stalk each other. But when the knives are drawn and the jugular is bared, no blood flows.

Somehow - and it's never really explained - humanity creeps into both men. Maybe the absence of guns, which can kill a man at a safe distance, is at least a partial explanation. Maybe it's the distance from battle and homeland that mitigates the thirst for blood. Whatever, neither man can draw blood.

WEEKLY CROSSWORD

Here's the Answer

Cars just naturally hate me - but this emotional display certainly is not a one-sided affair.

Our mutual admiration grows out of the hypothesis that if there is a loose nut to be found it will show up inside the automobile that inhabits our oil-slick driveway.

Admittedly, we are both stubborn and inconsiderate and we eat too much.

But for all my faults I can say with honesty that I have never purposely tried to injure my horseless carriage - a claim the car cannot make. During our three-year acquaintance I have been pummeled, skinned and burned by this bundle of tin. And the physical abuse has been compounded by a ruthless mental torture, not to mention the resulting loss of hard-earned money.

My car has been in the garage so often the mechanic wants to charge rent. They long ago cut up the warranty and used it for a gasket. The car has undergone surgery so many times it doesn't have an organ it can call its own. I don't dare drive past a junk yard anymore because, just like the salmon, its homing instinct

from the Pastor's Study

Rev. Guenther C. Cranster
First Methodist Church of Northville

Once upon a time there was a man who came to a certain point in life, and his boss said, "You must retire." So the company gave him a dinner, a watch, and a set of golf clubs to go with his pension. Everybody seemed to laugh a lot and have fun. And, he was retired.

And it came to pass that he was mightily bored. He cut the grass. He painted the porch. He took down the storm windows and put up the screens. Being a true sport, he even went to the supermarket.

He did not lack for money. He had been thrifty, worked hard, and all that. He had enough and it seemed good.

He was in reasonable health. For he had taken care of his body. He had exercised, eaten with some moderation, and his weight and cholesterol were maintained at happy levels.

He now had more time than ever before. One day, for want of something better to do, he went, quite alone, for a long walk.

He was soon at the outskirts of town and his idle wandering took him by the quiet hillside cemetery. He thought to himself, "It would be a lot more unusual if it were a noisy hillside cemetery." He laughed at his own pookish humor, aware that it teetered on the edge of happy irreverence. He walked on, more slowly now, as the gray presence of the cemetery shadowed the greenness of spring. After all, he was an honest man. He prided himself on that, and he had made a number of trips this way in the tidy decency of funeral processions. That old bit about death and taxes pattered across a corner of his mind.

"Really now, no reason to get grim about this," he mused. So he did the bold thing, turned back, and took the little shortcut up among the tombstones. Epitaphs are always interesting. This one: "Rest in peace." Not very comprehensive idea of what is needed and who might best accomplish it.

Only at an annual meeting or a budget hearing does the average citizen have a vote in the decisions reached. Sadly, many of these meetings are poorly attended - would you believe one average citizen, maybe even six, seldom more than 12 take the time to be present for these hearings?

Wherever you live - South Lyon, Northville, Brighton, Novi - you will be asked to elect school board officials in June. Are you prepared?

Do you make an honest effort to know what the school problems are and how they are being handled? Do you attend when a "meet your candidates" night is held? Or are you content to take someone else's word for who will do the best job when it really counts?

Remember it is your kids - and mine - who are or aren't getting an education. Remember you and I are the ones who are paying the taxes.

When it comes to the city or the township, it's your car - and mine - that's taking a beating if the roads aren't kept up. It may be your street that needs a sidewalk, street lights - the drains fixed.

And it is your pocketbook - and mine - that hurts when industry isn't encouraged and zoning provided so that a higher tax base can be attained.

It's your community that is growing right out of its blue jeans and into big city clothes. If you don't show an interest now, you may find it outrageous you too.

Public meetings are for everyone. You may not have an opportunity to express an opinion, but you surely will have the chance to form one. And next time there is an election, be it for millage or to elect officials, you will have a pretty imaginative. Over here: "Together at last." Hmm, wonder how they got along down here? "Asleep in Jesus." Wonder what that means?

His personal favorite was Robert Frost's own epitaph, found in one of his poems, "I had a lover's quarrel with the world."

It was a pleasant thought. But did he really mean it? If a man had a lover's quarrel with this world, where could he start? At city hall? The school? At Rotary? Maybe down at some church? Of course, he didn't attend church because he knew for a fact that some of the people were hypocrites. Quite suddenly, without his understanding where it came from, an alien idea surfaced in his mind. Wasn't it just possible there might be some hypocrites at the city hall, downtown, even over at the school? The rather abrupt perception of his own density brought an unpleasant twinge. A good thing he still had that sense of humor!

He was a little tired now, the natural price tag of all that walking and thinking. He headed home. Might be a good idea to drop around the corner next Sunday and see what's going on at the church these days. With all those hypocrites they wouldn't notice one more! He almost laughed out loud when the full impact of his thought struck home. Gored on the horns of his own sense of humor. The ultimate in humbling experience...

"A lover's quarrel with the world." What intriguing possibilities! And up from some remote portion of his sub-conscious echoed familiar words. "God is Love." Sunday School was a long way behind him, but he knew that was where he had heard it... or, was it that little motto on the wall, somewhere in the dim past? Well, no matter. The idea came thru clear and strong.

He was on the front porch now. He was home again.

If you're looking for comedy relief this week, don't stop here. This week's column is more apt to produce headache number 483 than provide a laugh.

The question is, are you a doer or a griper?

How many times in the past year have you complained vocally and at length to your neighbors, friends and passers-by on school problems, township inadequacies and/or the city's weaknesses? Once, ten times, - not at all? If you're human and honest, I'll bet you've joined in a gripe session several times.

Now for the other side of the fence. How many times in the past year have you attended a school board meeting or the monthly meeting of your local municipality? Once, twice - not at all?

Again, if you're human and honest, you will probably have to admit a failure to show interest in how the governing bodies function.

If my job didn't require periodic attendance at these meetings, I would probably be paddling the same canoe.

Maybe you feel that attending public meetings is for the elected representatives of the people or for the guy down the street who has an "axe to grind".

Public meetings are for everyone. You may not have an opportunity to express an opinion, but you surely will have the chance to form one. And next time there is an election, be it for millage or to elect officials, you will have a pretty automatically touches off the turning signal.

Whenever it goes to the operating table, specialists gather just to inspect the latest mechanical phenomenon and to trade greasy diagnoses.

It has been suggested by a man wiser than myself that the inspector who watched my car come off the final assembly line had a seeing-eye dog.

You can be sure of one thing: if the manufacturer ever sends me one of those registered letters saying a washer needs replacing to ensure my safety I'm going to take the washer and give them the car.

But the feeling's mutual, as I said before.

Frankly, I've abused the car, too, although mine are sins of omission. It's not that I don't want to care for the car - it's just that my mechanical skills are all used up in trimming my nails.

I can spend a half-hour just getting the hood up. And then when it's open, wow! It's like looking at the inside of an Appaloosa at luncheon: all that horsepower wrapped up in pulsating intestines and belching gadgets that defy prodding.

The standard procedure in checking under the hood is to wiggle a few wires and to inspect the dip stick. Anything beyond that, such as removing the air filter or whatever you call it, is a major operation. Once, regrettably, I tried adjusting the generator in an effort to tighten the fan belt only to have my best gray stained tie chewed up and my neck throated.

Same thing under the dashboard. Just getting into a position to replace a fuse is difficult. My legs draped over the back of the seat, my head resting on the clutch pedal, a flashlight in my mouth, I'm usually three-quarters into a coma before I've found the fuse box. Fuse box - that's a laugh. You've got to have wires for fingers to get into the confounded thing.

For the smart alecks who suggest I ought to have an expert check it, let me point out that if you don't know what to tell him to look for - and you don't know what they call it even if you know the trouble - what do you say, I know, and I say it: "Give me a dollar's worth and clean the windshield, please."

Clean-up Drive Underway

Northville's annual spring clean-up campaign, which will continue through the month of May, got off to a rousing start this past week with local organizations joining with the city in general beautification projects.

On Saturday, as part of an annual club activity, members of Northville's family camping and hiking club, the Tumble Weeds, cleaned the roadside and boulevard along South Main Street (right). Before they had finished several truckloads of trash had been hauled off to the dump.

Also on Saturday members of the Lyon 4-H Club (left), with members from Northville as well as South Lyon, cleaned the roadside along Nine Mile between Curtis and Napier roads.

Tons of trash were picked up here on Monday as the city, through its department of public works, conducted its annual trash pickup throughout the community.

Meanwhile, Northville's Beautification Commission has encouraged other organizations of the community to sponsor similar clean-up projects in an effort to get Northville ready for the Michigan Week Kickoff-Community Pride Day - on Saturday, May 19.

Bids Sought For I-96 Work

A long winter of discontent for Michigan's highway program ends May 7 when the Department of State Highways takes bids on 42 construction and maintenance projects costing an estimated $34.1 million.

The estimated dollar volume qualifies the letting as the second largest ever conducted by the department. The largest was $42 million on December 7, 1960, when bids were taken for construction on a half-dozen freeways.

Locally, the only project anticipated in the bidding procedure is for roadside mowing along Interstate 96. Estimated cost of mowing 828 acres along the expressway between the Livingston-Oakland County line and Farmington Township is put at $5,000, with completion set for September 15. Roadside mowing along Interstate 696 from Novi and Southfield, involving 540 acres, is expected to cost $5,000.

CHAMBER GUESTS

Novi Chamber of Commerce President Raymond Warren (left) greeted two special guests at last week's dinner meeting at Saratoga Farms Restaurant. Harold Miller, past president of the chamber and a life-long resident of the community, was paid a tribute for his long service to the chamber and the community. Mrs. Agnes Morris was a guest speaker, explaining operation of community blood bank programs.

Blood Bank Plans Zero in on July 18

Plans for a Novi Community Blood Bank to be held July 18 were made at a dinner last Thursday, sponsored by the Novi Chamber of Commerce, at Saratoga Farms restaurant.

Representatives of all clubs and organizations in Novi discussed bringing a blood bank to Novi.

Mrs. Agnes Morris of the Southeastern Michigan Chapter of the American Red Cross spoke on the benefits to the people of the community in having a Novi Blood Bank established.

A Novi Community Blood Bank Committee was formed and drew up the following resolution: "Anyone in need of blood, from the Novi residents and people who have participated in the blood bank who work in Novi, may receive blood in an unlimited quantity, free of charge, for their immediate family and parents."

Dr. R. J. Stiles was named chairman of the committee, composed of Russell Button, Dorothy Farah, Betty Harbin, Florence Harris, Byrle Hines, Margaret Marshall, Mary Jane Masters, Lillian Miller, William D. Skelbis.

It was planned that people of the community will be contacted to contribute to the blood bank on Friday, July 18, for the "benefit of themselves, their community and others."

The blood bank will be located in the Novi Community Building. The committee stresses that "participants are greatly needed to make this vital service by the American Red Cross successful."

Walled Lake Fetes Ayers

E. V. Ayers, principal of Walled Lake High School for the past 22 years, will be feted Sunday, May 18 at an open house in his honor sponsored by the PTA and interested citizens of the school district.

The open house will be held from 2 to 4 p.m. at Walled Lake Central High School on South Commerce Road at Oakley Park Road.

The retiring principal has been active in education for 44 years, working in six school systems before joining Walled Lake. During the past 22 years he has seen the district grow from one high school and three grade schools to eleven elementary schools, two junior highs and two senior highs (when the new Walled Lake Western High opens in the fall of 1969 and the present facility becomes Walled Lake Central).

A resident of Farmington, he holds degrees from Eastern Michigan University (Michigan State Normal) and the University of Michigan. Married, he is the father of a son and daughter and has five grandchildren.

On-the-Job Training

New Program to Aid Students

There's a new concept in education at the Novi High School — cooperative education.

The cooperative education program, under the direction of John A. Ishler, is the first of its kind in the Novi school system and it will be launched this summer.

The program is designed to place students in an on-the-job training situation coordinated with an in-school program.

Four areas that will be included in the program are office practice, trades and industry, distributive education (selling techniques) and health fields such as child care, practical nursing and nursery school.

Junior and senior students are eligible for the cooperative education program but they must be 16 or older. Juniors must take classes related to the jobs they are placed in, such as typing, metal shop or home economics.

Seniors enrolled in the program are required to take a general related class set up by the State Department of Education. The class, taught by Ishler, covers such topics as budgeting, taxes and money management.

Ishler will interview students and employers to seek compatibility and to fill the needs of the employer. More than one student may be placed with an employer at the employer's request.

The students then compete for a specific job with other students in the program. Businesses covered by the program are in the Novi area with students furnishing their own transportation.

The employer serves as an off-campus teacher. The student works at his job on a part-time basis, either after school or in the afternoon if the job requires him to. Those participating in the program will receive credit as well as earning money.

Ishler will remain in close contact with students and their employers during the program. He will visit the work stations at least once a week. The work must not exceed 48 hours in one week including time spent in school and on the job.

This summer the program will offer full-time positions for students with attendance of the related class required, according to Ishler.

Ishler said the school became interested in the cooperative education program after numerous businesses and industries in the Novi area expressed a desire to employ students on a part-time basis during the school year.

Many of the jobs may turn into full-time positions for the students after they graduate.

He feels the program is valuable for the students in that it helps them "get experience in the world of work and teaches the student responsibilities of our society."

Ishler will remain in close contact with students and their employers during the program. He will visit the work stations at least once a week. The work must not exceed 48 hours in one week including time spent in school and on the job.

84 to Get Diplomas

Two Girls Top Novi's First Graduating Senior Class

Marjorie Marque and Patricia Erwin have been named valedictorian and salutatorian of Novi's first graduating class.

The 1969 senior class, first in the history of the new high school, will be graduated in ceremonies June 10 at 8 p.m.

A total of eighty-four will receive diplomas at the first commencement exercises to be held on the high school athletic field, conditions permitting. In an emergency, the graduation will take place in the school gymnasium.

Each student will receive nine tickets which will be needed only if the exercises are held in the gym. No tickets are needed for the outdoor ceremonies, Principal Gerald Hartman stated.

Miss Marque, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Marque, 24030 Glen Ridge, has maintained a perfect 4.0 average for four years.

Miss Erwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Erwin, 40401 West Ten Mile Road, has an overall average of 3.9.

The graduates will wear gowns of the school colors, with the girls wearing white, while the boys wear green gowns.

The class has chosen green and gold as their colors and the yellow rose for their flower. Their motto is "Our glory is not in never failing, but in rising every time we fall."

"The Impossible Dream" has been selected as the class song.

A full slate of activities has been scheduled by the graduating class for the last five weeks of school.

May 16-18, the seniors will take a class trip to Gay El Rancho Ranch in Gaylord. The trip is a parent sponsored activity. Seniors are not required to attend classes May 16, whether or not they take part in the trip.

The following weekend, May 24, the Junior-Senior Prom will be held at the Novi High School. The theme will be "Peppermint Park," featuring an outdoor atmosphere in red and white.

June 5 is the date set for the Senior Honors Convocation. The convocation will begin at 8 p.m. at the high school.

This year for the first time the convocation will be a senior activity, though it is open to all Novi residents.

Spring Concerts Coming Up

Two annual spring concerts will be given at 8 p.m. next Tuesday and Wednesday at Novi High School.

Seventh and eighth grade bands will perform at the junior high school concert Tuesday night. Included on this program will be the fifth-grade string class and the sixth-grade band. Students from both Novi and Orchard Hills elementary schools will participate.

This will be the first year Novi has had a string program; it is one of the very few schools of its size to have had such a program. The senior high concert will be held Thursday evening and is to feature both of Novi's high school bands, the Symphonic Wind Ensemble and the Concert Band, along with the high school chorus.

Numbers to be performed include "Highlights from Carousel" by the concert band, several marches and pop tunes by the Wind Ensemble, and "Felin Groovy" by the chorus.

The community is invited to attend with admission being complimentary.

Instructors are Keith R. Rolston, band; Janith M. Rolston, band and strings; and Donna Danielson, chorus.

Through the cooperative education program the student will learn the entire operation, not just one phase of a business, by rotating his duties on the job.

Ishler estimates the program will involve 20 to 30 students in the fall term when the part-time school-work phase begins. There is no ceiling set on the number of participants, though Ishler stressed the Novi program will concentrate on quality and not quantity.

Students interested in the program should apply at the high school office. They will be interviewed by Ishler for the cooperative education program and then each student will be scheduled for job interviews based on his field of interest and the positions available at the time.

'Clean-Up' Week Set

Novi Mayor Joseph Crupi has proclaimed May 11 through May 17 as Clean-up, Paint-up, Fix-up Week in Novi.

In signing the proclamation, the mayor noted that the council has enlisted the active support of several organizations, individuals and business firms in reminding citizens about littering and anti-litter laws.

"One of the chief purposes of clean-up, paint-up, fix-up week," he said, "is to stress to all residents that clean-up is a year around program in which continuous effort is required to attain a more beautiful city."
