Multiples Hit High In 1968

Multiple housing is fast becoming the major construction activity in the Detroit metropolitan area, according to a 1968 building report issued this past week by the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SMCOG).

Single family homes, according to the report, reached an all-time low, during the past 17 years, with only 13,494 units authorized. Multiples, on the other hand, reached a new high of 14,020 units.

Since 1961, permits for multiples compared to total permits have gone from 8.3 percent to a whopping 50.7 percent in 1968.

While none of the communities in this general area are among the top 10 in construction of multiples. Northville Township is listed as fifth in Wayne County behind Riverview, Taylor, Westland and Detroit – with a total of 293 units authorized in 1968

According to the SEMCOG report, 78 single family units, 293 multiple-family units, and one demolition permit as issued in NorthvilleTownship for a total of 370 units.

In the City of Northville, on the other hand, only 13 single family and six multiple-family unit permits were authorized. Leading construction in Livingston County was Hamburg Township where 104 single family units and 29 multiple-family units were authorized. Green Oak Township authorized 81 single-family but no multiple-family units.

In the City of Brighton, nine single family and no multiple family units were authorized, while in Brighton Township the figures were 65 and four.

A total of 136 units were authorized in Novi - including all single family units - but this total was far from the top in Oakland County. Lyon Township accounted for 70 single family units and four multiple family units, while the City of South Lyon showed 58 single family units but no multiples.

Neither Wixom nor Walled Lake authorized any multiples, according to the report, but 22 single family units went up in Wixom and three in Walled Lake.

In Washtenaw County a Kroge total of 27 units - all single family units - were authorized in Northfield Township, while 25 single family units but no Borde in Northfield Township, while multiples were given the go ahead signal in Salem Township.

Total county figures show that 30 more new dwelling PUFFS ASSORTED units were issued in Wayne County during 1968 than in 1967; Oakland County showed a reduction of 2,201 (19.3 percent); Washtenaw was down by 526 units (17.4 percent); and Livingston showed an increase of 162 units (22.5 percent).

Highway Plan Told

Alternative highway and rapid transit systems to be tested with a preliminary land use plan for Southeast Michigan have been announced by Irving J. Rubin, director of TALUS (Detroit Regional Transportation and Land Use Study).

Two alternative highway networks and two alternative public transportation systems will be tested, he said.

- Background data, projections, plan alternatives are coordinated in computer runs to produce answers revealing how the alternative proposals would work so TALUS' analysts can modify the preliminary plans to best meet future needs, he explained.

The alternatives are designed to provide minimum and maximum service potential for each system. The highway alternatives assume completion by 1975 of 550.3 miles of freeway in the TALUS region. about 140 miles more than was completed in 1965.

TEACHER OFFICERS - Newly elected officers of the Novi teachers association confer as the association steps up its plans for involvement in a host of community education projects. Among these are a $100 scholarship for prospective Novi teachers - to be awarded for the first time this year - and formation soon of a Future Teachers of America chapter here. "We hope to find a number of ways in which the association can work with and serve the community in helping fulfill the educational needs of Novi," President Milan Obrenovich (center) said. The other officers are Mrs Ernest Ling (left), treasurer; Norman Norgren, vice-president; and Mrs. James Sumpter, secretary.

However, council representatives emphasized that each of its attempts to obtain an estimate at either county or state level has led nowhere. Mayor Joseph Crupi explained that he and other city officials have been told that estimates cannot be had until after an engineering survey is made.

And once the survey has been started - at proportionate cost to Novi property owners - the district machinery will have been put into motion with little likelihood that Novi can withdraw from participation thereafter, officials explained.

Because neither Oakland nor Wayne county will oversee the drainage district establishment, final determination will be in the hands of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, it was explained. A special apportionment board of this state department, citizens were told, would determine Novi's share of the cost and the proportionate costs to benefiting Novi property owners.

In answer to the question of why the city does not pick up the survey costs, officials said it would be unfair to use tax money from areas elsewhere in Novi that would not benefit from the drainage system.

One citizen suggested that Novi limit its share to only the additional cost of oversizing drainage lines and the engineering survey. But officials said cost-share proposal.

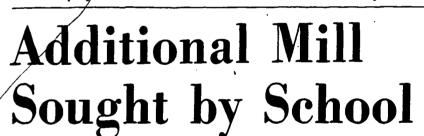

Explaining that the council will "do everything" it can to protect affected property owners from "unfair" costs, Mayor Crupi said the "best" solution appears to obtain an agreement with Northville, prior to submission of the matter to the Department of Agriculture, in establishing a fair sharing formula. Without such an agreement, he suggested, the state will decide a cost formula that possibly could be less desirable for Novi property owners.

He indicated that the state probably would consider a Northville-Novi cost formula in making its own computations.

Deadline Set For TH Award

June 13 is the deadline for applications from area organizations wishing to be considered for Northville Town Hall's annual award.

Since its inception, Northville Town Hall sponsor, Our Lady's League of Our Lady of Victory Church, has shared a portion of its profits with other community organizations in Northville and surrounding areas.

This year, a total of $400 is to be divided among organizations chosen by the Town Hall Awards Committee. Mrs. H. F. Waganschutz, chairman, reminds organizations that they must make application by letter to Northville Town Hall, Box 93, Northville, before the deadline.

She may be reached at 349-2976 by any group wishing additional information. Several applications already have been received by the committee, she noted.

Other Northville members on the committee are Mrs. Martha Milne and Herman Mohlman, Plymouth, Livonia and Farmington also have representatives on the permanent TH committee.

Feeling that Northville Town Hall has been a success because of area-wide support through the years, the committee awards part of its proceeds to organizations with worthy causes in Northville, Plymouth, Farmington and Livonia.

Mrs. Nelson Hyatt, Northville Town Hall chairman, has invited her town hall board, new members and guests to a luncheon at her home on Summerside, Lane at 11 a.m. Tuesday. This will be the final meeting of the TH board until fall.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article about the Brighton Hospital for alcoholics is the third and last installment of a three-part series. Written by Dianne Buell of our Brighton Argus staff, the story presents the views of the hospital's professional staff.

Thomas continued to talk first hand about what an alcoholic feels. "I drank excessively for 10 years.

"I always counted on my eye-opener in the morning. It's alright for an alcoholic to take one drink. It is the second one that's murder. So taking the first one was easy, no rationalizing. By the time I had that one down, taking a second drink was a very good idea. And so the cycle would be set for another day's boozing. "The alcoholic learns to depend on the eve-opener because he feels so rotten physically as well as emotionally. That first drink does wonders to boost his moral. Once that has been accomplished, and it becomes a good idea to take a second drink, it is free sailing. You feel great because alcohol deadens the brain and once that happens, there is no pain."

According to Thomas, it is hard work being an alcoholic. "An alcoholic's defenses have to chief, the budget was approved 4-2 as despite two attempts by three council changes.

Early attempts by council members to change the budget could not fairly nor accurately included:

-A proposal to transfer a $10,000 allocation for lighting of the city-owned softball field, defeated as the council voted 3-3 and Mayor McAtee cast a deciding vote against the measure.

-A proposal to slash $1,000 from salary increases for the clerk, treasurer and clerical staff, defeated when again the measure ended in a 3-3 tie.

Pushing for the two changes were Councilwomen Mrs. Lottie Chambers and Mary Parvue and Councilman Elwood Grubb.

In the final 4-2 vote on the total budget, Grubb joined with the majority to approve the 1969-70 fiscal document. The Wixom charter requires an affirmative vote of four members.

Only change in the budget was transferring of funds from the contingency reserve to put the police chief's salary range up to $12,500. This change received unanimous approval. Until the change was made, the budget allocation stood at $9,000.

Others, especially Neil Taylor, objected to the "low" outlay for the police department, contending that Wixom should be providing money for additional policemen. To this assertion McAtee responded by saying that he, submitted by Mayor Wesley McAtee - too, believes a bigger and better department is deisrable. However, he members to push through two other emphasized that because patrolmen of the department are unionizing salaries will be negotiated and therefore he establish police salaries in the budget.

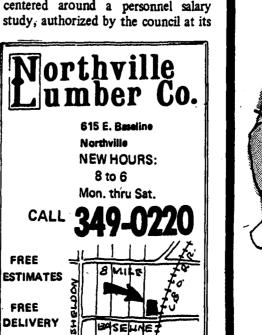

Concerning a related budget matter, McAtee defended a $4,500 civil defense outlay by noting that such money could help provide for auxiliary police and firemen, thus indirectly strengthening the police department while providing the city with a civil defense unit incases of emergency.

Civil defense, argued one citizen, may be commendable but training of auxiliary personnel without properly instructing or training citizens on what they should do in emergencies is too often neglected. Her point was taken under advisement.

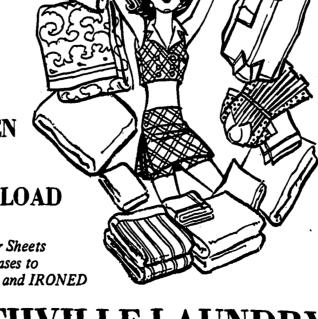

Major budget objections were leveled by citizen Gilbert Willis, who disputed budget items ranging from inspection expenditures to salaries for an administrative assistant and an assistant to the mayor.

It's a little complicated to understand, but considered simply and objectively the proposal afoot to levy more millage in the city for support of local schools than in the remaining portions of the school district is a case of governmental bungling at its worse.

Actually, it all comes about as the result of an illegal practice for several years. And now that the attorney general has pointed out that it can't be done anymore, cutting back to legal taxing limits places the school district in a squeeze it finds uncomfortable.

This writer discovered several years ago that the so-called "15-mill limit" under which counties, school districts and townships are supposed to operate was really a misnomer.

When it was pointed out to a Wayne county official that the respective levies by Wayne county, the Northville school district and Northville township totalled 16 mills, he could give no explanation.

Roughly, at that time, the school district was receiving nine mills, the county six and the township one for operating monies out of the "15 mill

It should be understood that the 15-mill limit represents only a portion of the monies raised to operate schools, township and counties. As local taxpayers know, this school district has voted about 20 mills for operating expenses of the schools in addition to the slice received from the 15-mill limitation. In addition seven mills are levied for building programs. Of course, this doesn't include the 1.77 mills for Schoolcraft College. And while township residents pay one mill for their government operation (which comes out of the 15-mill limit), city residents do not. Instead they pay 11.4 mills directly to their own incorporated city government.

But both city and township taxpayers pay the same county tax -6.1 mills - although city residents enjoy fewer county services than township residents.

It develops, therefore, that of the 15-mill limit city residents pay the county and school tax, but not the township mill.

Anyone familiar with the push-and-pull tactics for millage at the allocation hearings knows that neither school nor county officials would leave this one mill unlevied out of the 15-mill total that can legally be levied against city

Thus, it was later explained by a county official, the decision was made that when a city occupies a major portion of a school district the additional mill can be collected for school purposes and spread on the township roll, too, even though it pushes the total levy in the township to 16 mills.

Apparently, this evened things up in the minds of county authorities. City and township residents were paying the same county and school tax, the township paid an additional mill for its own government and the city resident paid whatever his city levied.

No matter that the levy in the township exceeded the 15-mill legal imitation

Now the rules have been changed. The school district must reduce its levy in the township by one mill - from 8.9 to 7.9 - so that the current levy will total 15 mills (7.9 for schools, 6.1 for county, one for the township).

Ah, but there's still that one mill unlevied in the city. These people only pay for county government and schools. They don't pay a township tax.

So the school board, understandably pressed for money and not wanting to lose anymore than necessary, asks permission to levy 8.9 mills in the city.

And what do you think? It's legal. All the school district has to prove is that city residents benefit more than township residents due to the proximity of schools to their homes.

So that was the argument of Northville school officials as they appeared before the county tax allocation board Tuesday afternoon.

City Manager Frank Ollendorff defended the city taxpayer against the contention that proximity to schools is an advantage to the city resident with these points:

1 - The city provides meeting places and parks for its residents; the township provides neither. Therefore, the school playgrounds and buildings for meetings are of greater benefit to township residents.

2 – The city built the community building and sold it to the school district at a reduced price and the building is frequently used for community functions - city and township.

3 - The city provides some recreation facilities for the community recreation program, as does the school district. The township provides none. Both governments share in the financial cost of the program.

4 - Schools give special services to the township - buses, lunches, thus the city student is less expensive to the school;

5 - The city government provides many services for the schools (even the lone township-located school) and the township provides none. These include police protection, street repairs, crossing guards, fire protection.

6 - City properties are actually assessed higher than township properties especially those in close proximity to schools, thus higher tax revenues are already being paid for this benefit. (Raw land comparisons of city and township property in the vicinity of Moraine school were made to substantiate this claim).

It's too bad such comparisons must be made just for the sake of seeking equal treatment.

In my opinion the Northville board of education, even if given approval by the county tax allocation board at its Monday meeting, would be ill-advised to introduce dual standards in its taxing practices.

If living in the city in closer proximity to the schools is an asset, it's an expensive one that is being supported already. Not one that deserves an additional charge.

If the school district must lose a mill, why not go back to the voters - in all areas of the district - and ask them to restore it at the polls?

To the Editor:

It appeared to everyone present at the recent meeting, that the Planning Commission had already made its decision, unalterably, and that the public hearing called to consider objections to the plan, was a formality only - that anyone who objected to the plan had little recourse, as final decisions had already been made.

It is sad that the average citizen and taxpayer who is unaffected by rezoning of personal property, is unaware of the number of local businesses slated for eventual removal - removal to whereabouts unknown, since the proposed plan is limited very specifically to particular boundaries.

It appeared to this writer that the meeting was handled in the verv poorest taste. People whose lives and businesses will be most adversely affected were treated with complete lack of courtesy; their comments twisted so as to appear unintelligent, emotional, pointless, untimely, and untrue. It is preposterous to think that our local merchants have so little intelligence as to be convinced of the weakest arguments of the Planning Commission regarding the devaluation of their properties.

It is also preposterous to think that any desirable business will be attracted enough to Northville, with the proposed zonings, to buy and attempt to develop, any property designated solely for parking. Therefore, the peoples whose properties are slated to be zoned for parking cannot expand or do extensive improvement on their existing buildings, cannot rebuild them in event of fire, can only maintain existing structures, and have little market for their properties. The city will supposedly acquire all these properties eventually. If only $40,000 is in this year's budget for this purpose, it difficult to imagine how many years would pass before complete acquisition is accomplished. In the meantime, all affected merchants have little incentive to improve any of their businesses, and have little chance of selling them at a competitive market price to anyone the plan, according to the Planning Senior Class Trip. By giving us a day other arrangement produces an narrowly, to help save the movie Commission, was that new business is off from school instead of preventing not attracted to Northville because we lack a specific plan of organization. The logical question to ask, then, is where new business would be located if the present business section, already filled to capacity, is limited to a very specific boundary, and completely surrounded by property to be zoned only for parking.

What folly to adopt "The Plan" merely because it is the best considered thus far. The plan is unacceptable. Let us zone all the business district as CBD, with the understanding that a three to one parking ratio must be maintained. Big new businesses simply will not fit into spaces the size of the travel agency, the shoe repair, or any of our small stores. Let us enhance what we already have, in a spirit of cooperation, instead of edging out half the businesses we already patronize to facilitate parking for the remainder.

> I object to the plan. Mrs. George H. Miller

 $\star \star \star$

To the Editor:

At the risk of offending those who are so opposed to anyone expressing their views on the Planning Commissions suggestion of the CBD and CBP Mall Shopping Center, I will also present my view on the situation.

Although there are those who feel many of us do not know enough about the proposed plan to offer our opinions, I for one do know how much money we've invested in our home and in turn how much we could stand to lose if the proposed Mall plan is initiated.

I consider the homes on Dunlap (where I live) and the surrounding streets an asset and focal interest to those people who come to Northville and to Northville itself. People drive down Dunlap and streets like it in spring, summer and fall to enjoy the quiet, shady streets with the beautiful old homes. Why do you think people do this, because there are so few shady and peaceful streets left in urban communities now days. The tranquility found in areas of Northville like those old streets are a refreshing change compared to the bare treeless construction we see today. Most people can appreciate these charms found in Northville.

Yet in the name of progress these beautiful old homes are to be replaced with parking area for the hoped for

Of course I realize some would feel that this was a "head in the clouds' attitude and would not understand heritage. Is it more desirable to tear me. down the values of our past heritage or push to attract more business for the almighty dollar. Oh, yes I can see the point of needing more revenue for Northville but the attractions of Northville such as the antique shops, ice cream parlor and other buildings of interest are mentioned as useless and non-profitable. Can't it be realized that this is just why many people come to Northville. Don't you think there are numerous shops to buy shoes, clothing, etc.? People are not going to pass up the Livonia Mall, Westland and other shopping areas to come here when all the attractions of the past and the quaintness is gone.

There is mention about frustration the people's attitude against the Master Plan, what about the frustration of those who want to save and preserve Northville as it is? Don't you think its upsetting to have to listen to vague answers about the city's plans for Northville, when it's an insult to a person's intelligence. Do these people think we were born yesterday? We like to feel that we are able to think for ourselves not have certain people dictate to us what they feel is best for us. Instead of pushing this plan down people's throats listen to their plea to leave Northville the way it is. If new shopping areas are needed in the best interests of Northville build them near the new building sites where they'll be convenient to these people. Don't try to tear down what people have worked for years past. We might think progress is great but the wisdom of the past is not to be neglected. In conclusion I am sorry if I offend some people in my statement of what I feel about the plan, but in the same token they offend me with their

Marshall Fields of Chicago, Macys of New York City, Neimens Marcus of Dallas, Halle Bros. of Cleveland, and Stix Bauer & Fuller of St. Louis – surely an inposing list of companies that should know something about merchandising - all spend a great deal of money on attracting customers with potted evergreens and hanging floral displays.

The big question is will Northville City Council accept a plan wanted by a small handful of businessmen and unwanted by the residents of Northville who will be asked to live with it.

NOTICE PUBLIC HEARING Monday, June 16, 1969 8 P.M. Northville City Hall

There will be a Public Hearing at the above time and place to consider the following ordinance amendment: The City of Northville ordains:

That the Uniform Traffic Code for Cities, Townships and Villages heretofore adopted by the Council for the City of Northville is hereby amended by adding thereto the following sections:

Section 8.25 - Parking between curb and Lot Line:

On all streets within the City of Northville where there is a curb in place, it shall be unlawful for any person to park, or stand any vehicle between said curb and the lot line nearest the street. Said area being commonly known as the lawn extension. Provided, however, that in cases where it can be shown that this prohibition will create an undue hardship and the parking of vehicles within this area will not constitute a hazard to the health, safety and welfare of the general public, the City Manager is hereby authorized to issue a permit allowing parking within this area. This permit shall be issued on an annual basis.

Section 8.26 - Parking on shoulder of streets:

On any streets, or roads located within the City of Northville where there is not a curb it shall be permissible for persons to park, or stand vehicles on the shoulder of said streets, or roads, provided that their vehicles shall be completely off the travelled portion of said streets, or roads. Provided, however, that the Council for the City of Northville may by resolution prohibit parking on the shoulders of the streets, or roads within the City Limits in such areas as it deems that said parking shall be hazardous to the health, safety and welfare of the general public. Where such resolution is adopted, signs prohibiting parking on the shoulder of the streets, or roads shall be posted.

Rexall Drug and Michigan Tractor maintained their edges in the Blue and Red divisions of major competition in the Novi Little League this past week.

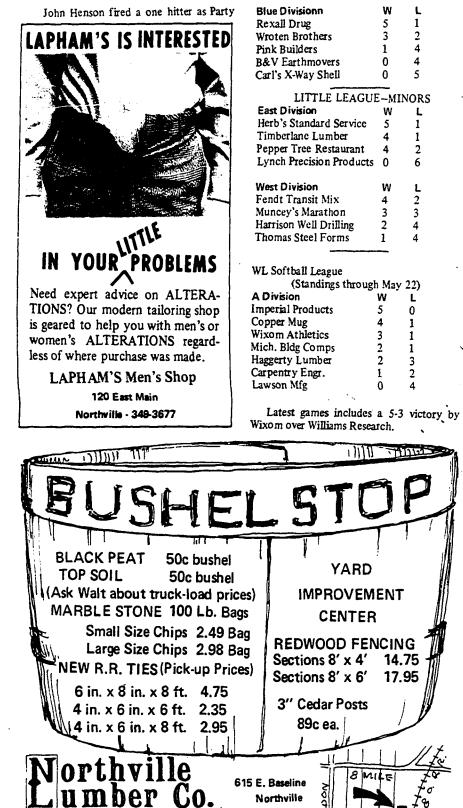

A grandslam homer off the bat of Eric Hansor paced Rexall to a 14-1 triumph over Carl's X-way. Winning pitcher was David Beall, who gave up four hits. Altogether his teammates collected 12 hits.

Another grandslam homer as well as a triple - both off the bat of the Jayhawks' Kevin LaFelche - failed to generate a victory as Paragon came out on top, 10-6, behind the eight hit pitching of Bob Lampi. Don Waldenmeyer also tripled for the Jayhawks.

Dave Piotrowicz, hurling a one-hitter, was the winning pitcher as Pink Builders buried General Filters, 29-0. In addition to his pitching performance. Piotrowicz tripled and doubled and Randy Gunn tripled for the  Rexall downed Wroten Brothers, 11-6, with Eddie Brown taking honors on the mound. Big blow for Rexall was a double by Craig Pelchot and three singles by Jeff Pelchot. Kirk Tyler was the big hitter for Wroten, collecting a triple and a single.

Four-hit pitching of Scott Parsons together with two singles off the bat of Ken Beers gave Michigan Tractor a 9-2 victory over Carl's X-way. Michigan Tractor collected six hits. *****

Ex-Postmaster, Leland Smith Dies

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon for Leland V. Smith, Northville postmaster for 16 years and active participant in community affairs.

Mr. Smith died Sunday at Northland Geriatric Center in Detroit. He had been in ill health for the past four years.

A 40-year resident of Northville Mr. Smith resided at 419 Yerkes. He was 66 vears old.

A popular and well-liked figure in the community, the ex-postmaster was known best by friends as "Smitty". He was also often referred to as Northville's "Mr. Democrat". He was well known to and actively campaigned for Martha Griffiths and G. Mennen Williams in the early years of their political careers.

He served as Northville's postmaster from October 1, 1949 until May, 1965. It was the longest term of any Northville postmaster. Mr. Smith was also owner of EMB Market on Main street from 1944 until December 1963 when he sold to the present owner, Ray Garrod.

Mr. Smith was born February 5 1903 in Holloway, Michigan the son of C. Fenton and Jennie (Pocklington) Smith. He is survived by his wife, Virginia: three daughters, Mrs. Robert (Sandra) Wagenschutz of Plymouth, Mrs. Kenneth (Carolyn) Beyer of Northville, and Mrs. Janice Nowland of Livonia; two sons, Stephen of Northville and Francis of Spring Valley, Calif.; a sister, Mrs. Harley Watson of Adrian; and twelve grandchildren.

Prior to his service as postmaster Mr. Smith was employed in the office of the Wayne County Register of Deeds. He was a member of the First United Methodist Church of Northville and a senior active member and past president of the Northville Rotary club; president of the National Association of Postmasters, Wayne County Chapter; member of the Retail Merchants Association; active in PTA work and chairman of the PTA carnival celebration on several occasions; attended Adrian college and was a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

Funeral services were held at Casterline Funeral Home at 1 p.m. yesterday (Wednesday) with the Reverend Paul Cargo, formerly pastor in Northville and now of the Plymouth First Methodist church officiating. Burial was at Oakland Hills Memorial Garden in Novi.

community at large" so that the community and parents should have some involvement

Hottest criticism from the board came on the question of the sought open-lunch policy. After students said a survey of 337 students showed 28 percent would go home for lunch, and would police themselves with a student court for offenders taking advantage of such a policy, Board President Johnston asked students how they could do so when the board had a long list of vandalism at the high school. "I am particularly concerned," he said, "about the list of vandalism that includes defaced tables, ripped-out telephones, removal of catsup and silverware, and the use of profanity.

"Start doing a bit of policing of the stupid people doing these things," he declared, "then we can talk of allowed, but the administration did policing and setting up a student court system

> "You kids see these things being done," he continued, asking them. "When are you leaders going to assume responsibility for this serious out-and-out vandalism and malicious destruction that your parents are paying for... the administration can't be out like cops all the time."

When students pointed out that it was a small minority of "perhaps five per cent" doing the destruction. Johnston pointed out that "as the board needs to go to the people to ask for operating and bond money, some code and lunch policy." Spear pointed citizens will vote no because of the out that both requests "deal with the actions of such few students."

displayed their skill as auto machanics by winning third place in the Plymouth cars. Trouble Shooting Contest for southeastern Michigan schools. Perry Long and Mike Terry combined their talents to finish in the top three in competition with 31 other high school teams.

Their instructor, J. Thomas Handy, was particularly proud of the performance in that Northville high is offering the auto mechanics' course this year for the first time.

"Really our boys have had only one semester of work and we haven't covered some of the material they had to answer in the written portion of the competition. This counted 30 per cent", Handy noted.

"They found all the mechanical problems with the car and had the engine running right to specifications, which is really the important thing in auto repair", he pointed out.

In addition to a large trophy which will remain at the high school. Long and Terry, both seniors, were awarded individual trophies for their performance.

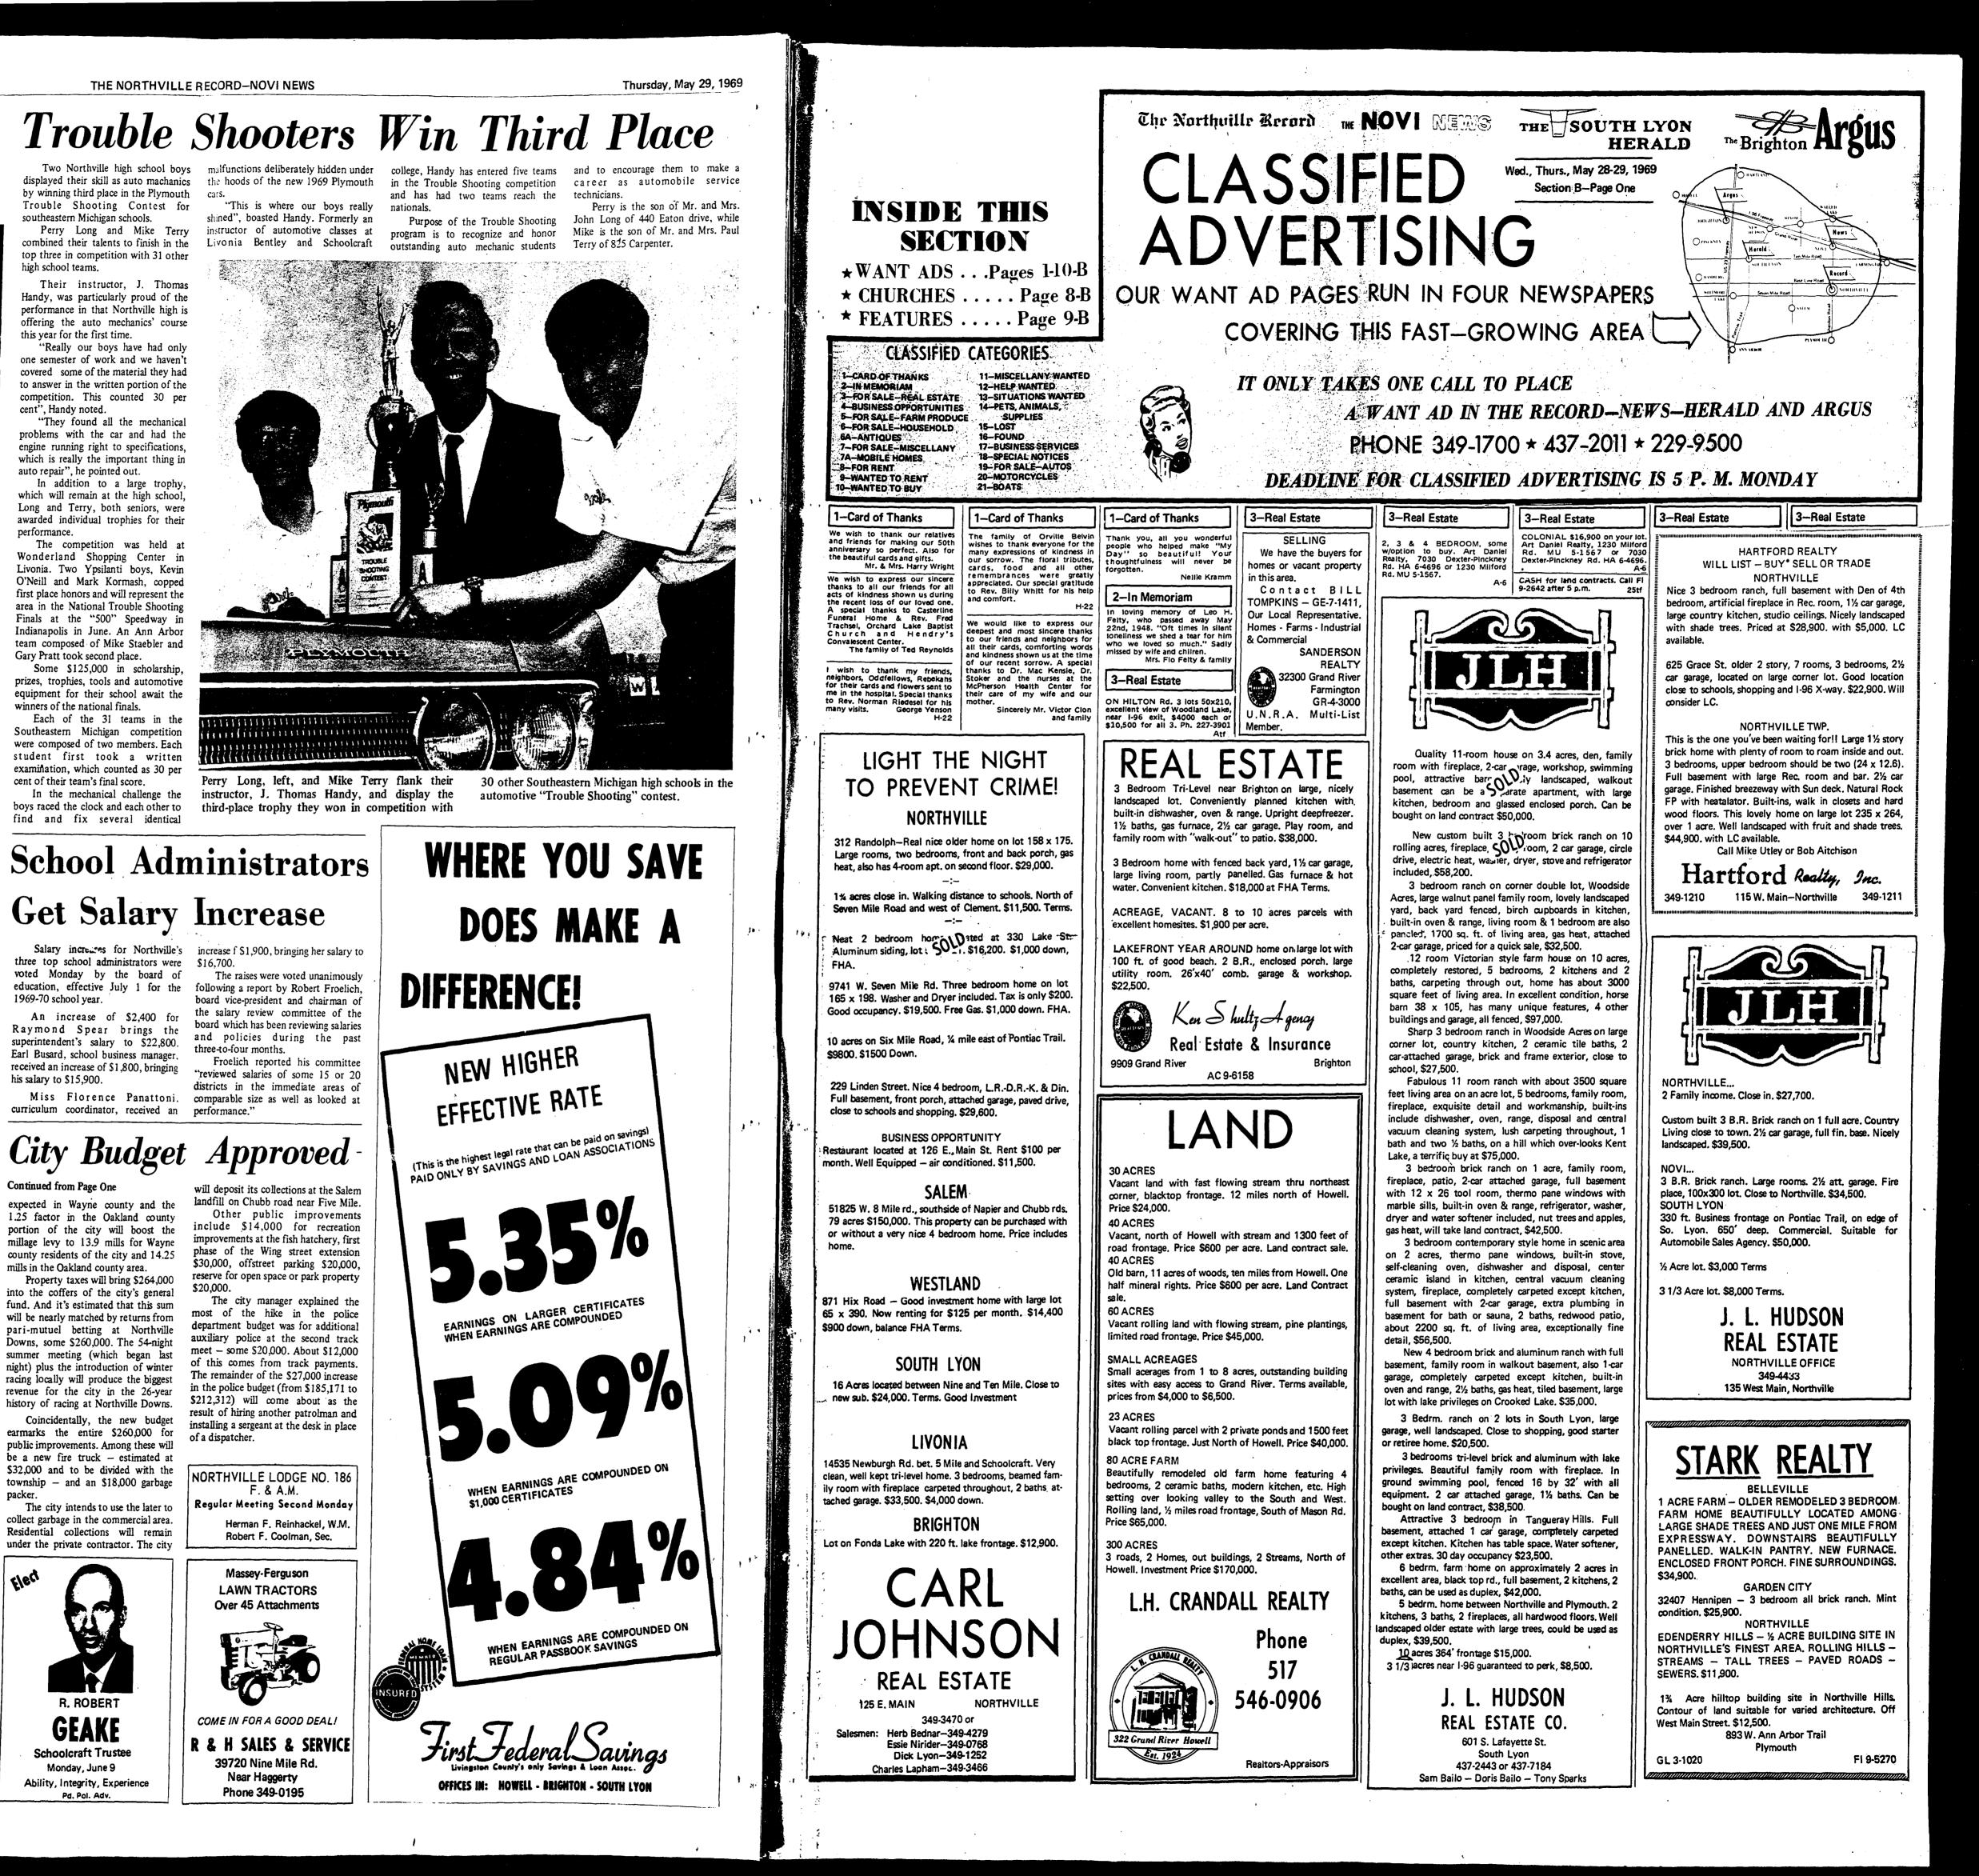

The competition was held at Wonderland Shopping Center in Livonia. Two Ypsilanti boys, Kevin O'Neill and Mark Kormash, copped first place honors and will represent the area in the National Trouble Shooting Finals at the "500" Speedway in Indianapolis in June. An Ann Arbor team composed of Mike Staebler and Gary Pratt took second place.

Some $125,000 in scholarship, prizes, trophies, tools and automotive equipment for their school await the winners of the national finals.

Each of the 31 teams in the Southeastern Michigan competition were composed of two members. Each student first took a written examination, which counted as 30 per cent of their team's final score.

"Buil's-eye!" The arrow flew straight to the heart of the target

And so, straight to the heart of the matter fly the minds of young people today. In this age of advanced technology and far-flung communication, youngsters are better informed, geographically, politically, scientifically and economically than at any other time. No vague generalities, no sugar-coated probabilities will satisfy them. They want the facts and straight-tothe-point answers.

That's why your church recognizes the importance of having trained and devout leaders and teachers for its youth programs.

Graduation time salutes these people who give so much of their time and training to the Christian development of our children. Their dedication and devotion reflect their love of God in their ministry to the men and women of tomorrow.

Holy Trinity, June 1 Trinity! Here is a word, that is not even in the sacred scriptures, and yet it is very central to all that Christians believe and teach. "Trinity" means three Persons in one God. The word itself may not be in the Bible, but the meaning behind the word is.

The Bible is almost fierce in its assertion that there is only one God. "Hear, O Israel: The Lord our God is one Lord... You shall not go after other gods, of the gods of the peoples who are round about you; for the Lord your God in the midst of you is a jealous God; lest the anger of the Lord your God be kindled against you, and he destroy you from off the face of the earth." (Deuteronomy 6)

And yet, when our Savior commissioned his apostles to go forth into the world to proclaim the gospel of salvation, he said, "Go therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in Son and of the Holy Spirit ... " (St. diagnoses the problem and salvation to us as individuals, since Matthew 28).

God who is Three in One. "Glory a patient is really down and out, it the Holy Spirit also uses the be to the Father and to the Son takes a nurse to administer the cleansing water of baptism to seal and to the Holy Ghost." - potion. So the God of our Life is us in our new status as "people of "Through Jesus Christ, thine only three Persons, actively causing our God." And then he incorporates Son, our Lord, who liveth and coming to splendor! reigneth with thee and the Holv Ghost, ever one God, world without end." - "Thou only, O planned to salvage us. Babson Report Teens Buck up Apparel Industry

BABSON'S REPORTS – Wellesley Hills, Massachusetts - Once a drab and unappealing segment of American business, the apparel industry has gradually gained a greater measure of investment interest. In the past ten vears, it has shed its ugly duckling appearance and taken on a more sophisticated stature. During this period, consumer outlays for apparel have fared better in relation to the trend and total volume of disposable income than they have in the past.

Several factors have accounted for industry. The most important factor has been the remarkable growth of personal income, particularly with respect to income per capita and per family unit. As the decade of the 1950's drew to a close, consumer expenditures for clothing burgeoned. The progress of income growth and the accompanying expansion of buying power via consumer credit altered the attern of consumer spending to the legree where an increasing proportion of discretionary consumer buying power has been flowing into the apparel field. The affluent environment has made it possible for most consumers to maintain larger wardrobes, and has encouraged greater fashion consciousness.

Furthermore, the growth of nation's population and the change in its profile - wherein the teenage and young adult groups have been experiencing rapid increment recently - have benefited the apparel industry.

Credit for the progress now being expected increase in volume of business enjoyed by the clothing field must also should enable most clothing be given to changes within the industry in the form of knitted fabrics, mixtures of synthetic fibers, bonded fabrics, and stretch fabrics.

THE APPAREL industry is a fragmented structure composed of many firms, most of which are small and either privately or closely held. It must be recognized that the element of risk is an inherent part of the field. It is subject to the ravages of sudden and very radical changes in fashions and styles. The element of foreign competition is also of great mportan*c*e

However, the over-riding consideration is that apparel manufacturing enjoys the status of being a business which is basic to consumers. Looking ahead, the industry is not likely to lapse back to obscurity.

A CONTINUING record level of personal income, and consumer acceptance of new and colorful fabrics and fashions point to fresh sales gains

The fundamental social and economic progress of this nation, though not without problems, bodes well for the continued affluence of the buying public. Moreover, the years ahead will see a significant increase in the 15-30 age group, which wields much power in terms of demand and fashion receptivity. for the apparel industry in 1969.

Despite pressures on profit margins, the are apt to tell me all the stuff I was happier not knowing.

This unusual hour of arising has other drawbacks. The radio is not programmed to my time change. For years and years we have eaten breakfast to the accompaniment of the 7 a.m. news broadcast and I just can't get used to the lack of pertinent data at 6:30.

Hunger doesn't hit me at 6:30 either. The fried eggs seem to be glaring at me. I suppose I could eat later with one of the kids but this is just too far beyond the realm of reality. The teenagers drink their breakfast from a vertical position propped against the counter, while our ten-year old slurps his honey-dripping toast from a semi-horizontal position while watching TV.

The thought of either of these alternatives upsets my stomach. I prefer a solitary meal with a good book for a companion but in the early morning, I'm apt to fall asleep and drop my head in the cereal bowl.

My youngest has a solution for all my roblems "Why don't you let Dad get his own breakfast

Michigan Mirror Project to Increase Black Police Fails

LANSING - A year-long, federally-funded project to increase minority representation on Michigan police forces failed due to lack of enthusiasm by local officials and strict recruit standards.

That's the conclusion of a Praise God from whom all Michigan State University expert, Mrs. Carolyn Stieber, following an in-depth study of the "Police Recruitment Project of Michigan, Inc."

Mrs. Stieber, a staff member of the MSU national center on police and community relations, appraised the project, financed by a $15,000 U.S. Justice Department grant, in a recent edition of the monthly Michigan Municipal League Magazine.

THE PROJECT was conducted from June, 1967, to June 1, 1968, with a goal of getting at least 1,000 police recruits, many of them Negros.

Mrs. Stieber said final figures showed that 1,636 inquires and 371 applications were received - but that only a handful of blacks were actually hired.

What accounted for so few responses

"While the sincerity of the police seems beyond question, the recruitment efforts appear passive and routine," Mrs. Stieber concluded. "The prevailing departmental attitude seems to be 'we are here come join us! We do not discriminate. This formula does not appear to be convincing many recruits of any race. Moreover, she added, requirements

"Chicago, on the other hand recently gained 122 new men, many of Latin or Oriental descent, by lowering equirements from 5-8 to 5-7." Mrs. Stieber asked that "why, in a that even fewer gain promotion beyond patrolman accounts for hostility amount Negroes toward law officers, the MSU researcher said.

"For many policemen the only Negro they ever see up close is the lawbreaker; the men with whom they work and the neighbors in whose midst they live are all white," Mrs. Stieber said.

"The only policeman many Negroes ever see is an armed, unsmiling agent of the white 'establishment.' If there are some Negro officers on the force, they are quite often viewed with great hostility as agents of their oppressors, so that Negro policemen may take on the added burden of a double minority."

Mrs. Stieber said the recruitment project did prove that Negroes will apply for police work but did not demonstrate how many blacks can be hired

And, she added, odds "are probably against a dramatic success" in future efforts to get more Negroes on police departments.

Nonetheless, Mrs. Stieber offered these recommendations:

-Increase Negro representation on a force so that it is at least near the proportion of blacks in a community. "Large departments that add only one or two Negroes will be no better off than they are now in respect to recruitment." she said.

-Re-examine recruit standards so they are relevant to police performance and not merely tradition, convenient or expedient.

-Central-testing of recruits. "Each department insists on its own test, and there is no coordination among the 400 or so municipal departments or the various townships and sheriff's departments." Mrs. Stieber said.

-Agressive recruitment in the Negro community, especially with regard to returning Vietnam servicemen.

Here's Way To Dispose Of 'Junk'

At the time of year when thoughts turn strongly to cleaning up the basement, the garage or the attic and "getting rid of that junk". Goodwill Industries makes a special appeal to householders to help keep the area around the Goodwill Collection Centers on the supermarket lots neat and unlittered.

When discards are in quantity, the burden on the Collection Center increases. and it is difficult to keep the Center cleaned out even with more frequent pickup days.

The donor of a bag of clothing or an article of fumiture can hurt Goodwill more than he helps if he leaves his donation on the lot outside the Collection Center to become weather damaged and strewn around by wind and the curious. Should a householder find a Collection Center choked with materials and spewing the excess over the lot, Goodwill would appreciate a telephone call at 873-3600, locating the lot.

This space was donated to Goodwill by the supermarket owners as a public service and its purpose is to be mutually convenient to both the shopper and Goodwill by making it easy to drop in a bag of discards, and more conomical to Goodwill to pick it up. When the area around a Collection Center becomes littered and an eyesore or health hazard, this purpose is defeated. If the condition persists, Goodwill may be required to remove the Collection Center, and evervone loses. At no time in its 48 years of existence in Detroit has Goodwill Industries been in greater need of good, useable materials that are no longer needed or wanted by the householder. The special emphasis is on the need for repairable clothing, wooden furniture, repairable electrical appliances, wringer type washing machines, stoves and refrigerators that are in working order, lawn furniture, garden tools and glassware.

Goodwill will schedule truck pickup of these bulkier items through the pickup office, 873-3600. If tax deduction is desired, the donor should so specify, and give the driver an itemized list. After the donated items have been inspected, a letter will be sent to the donor stating the condition in which it was received. The Internal Revenue Department will accept this form as evidence supporting the deduction on Federal Income tax.

Fireworks Need Permits

With the public fireworks display season beginning in Michigan, organizations and communities interested in these exhibitions are reminded by the State Police that certain applications and permits for them must be cleared first.

Forms for applications and permits concerning public display and storage of fireworks may be obtained at any State Police post. This is according to a 1968 amendment of the fireworks law.

Councils or commissions of cities and villages and township boards are the only units of government which may legally accept applications for fireworks displays and issue permits.

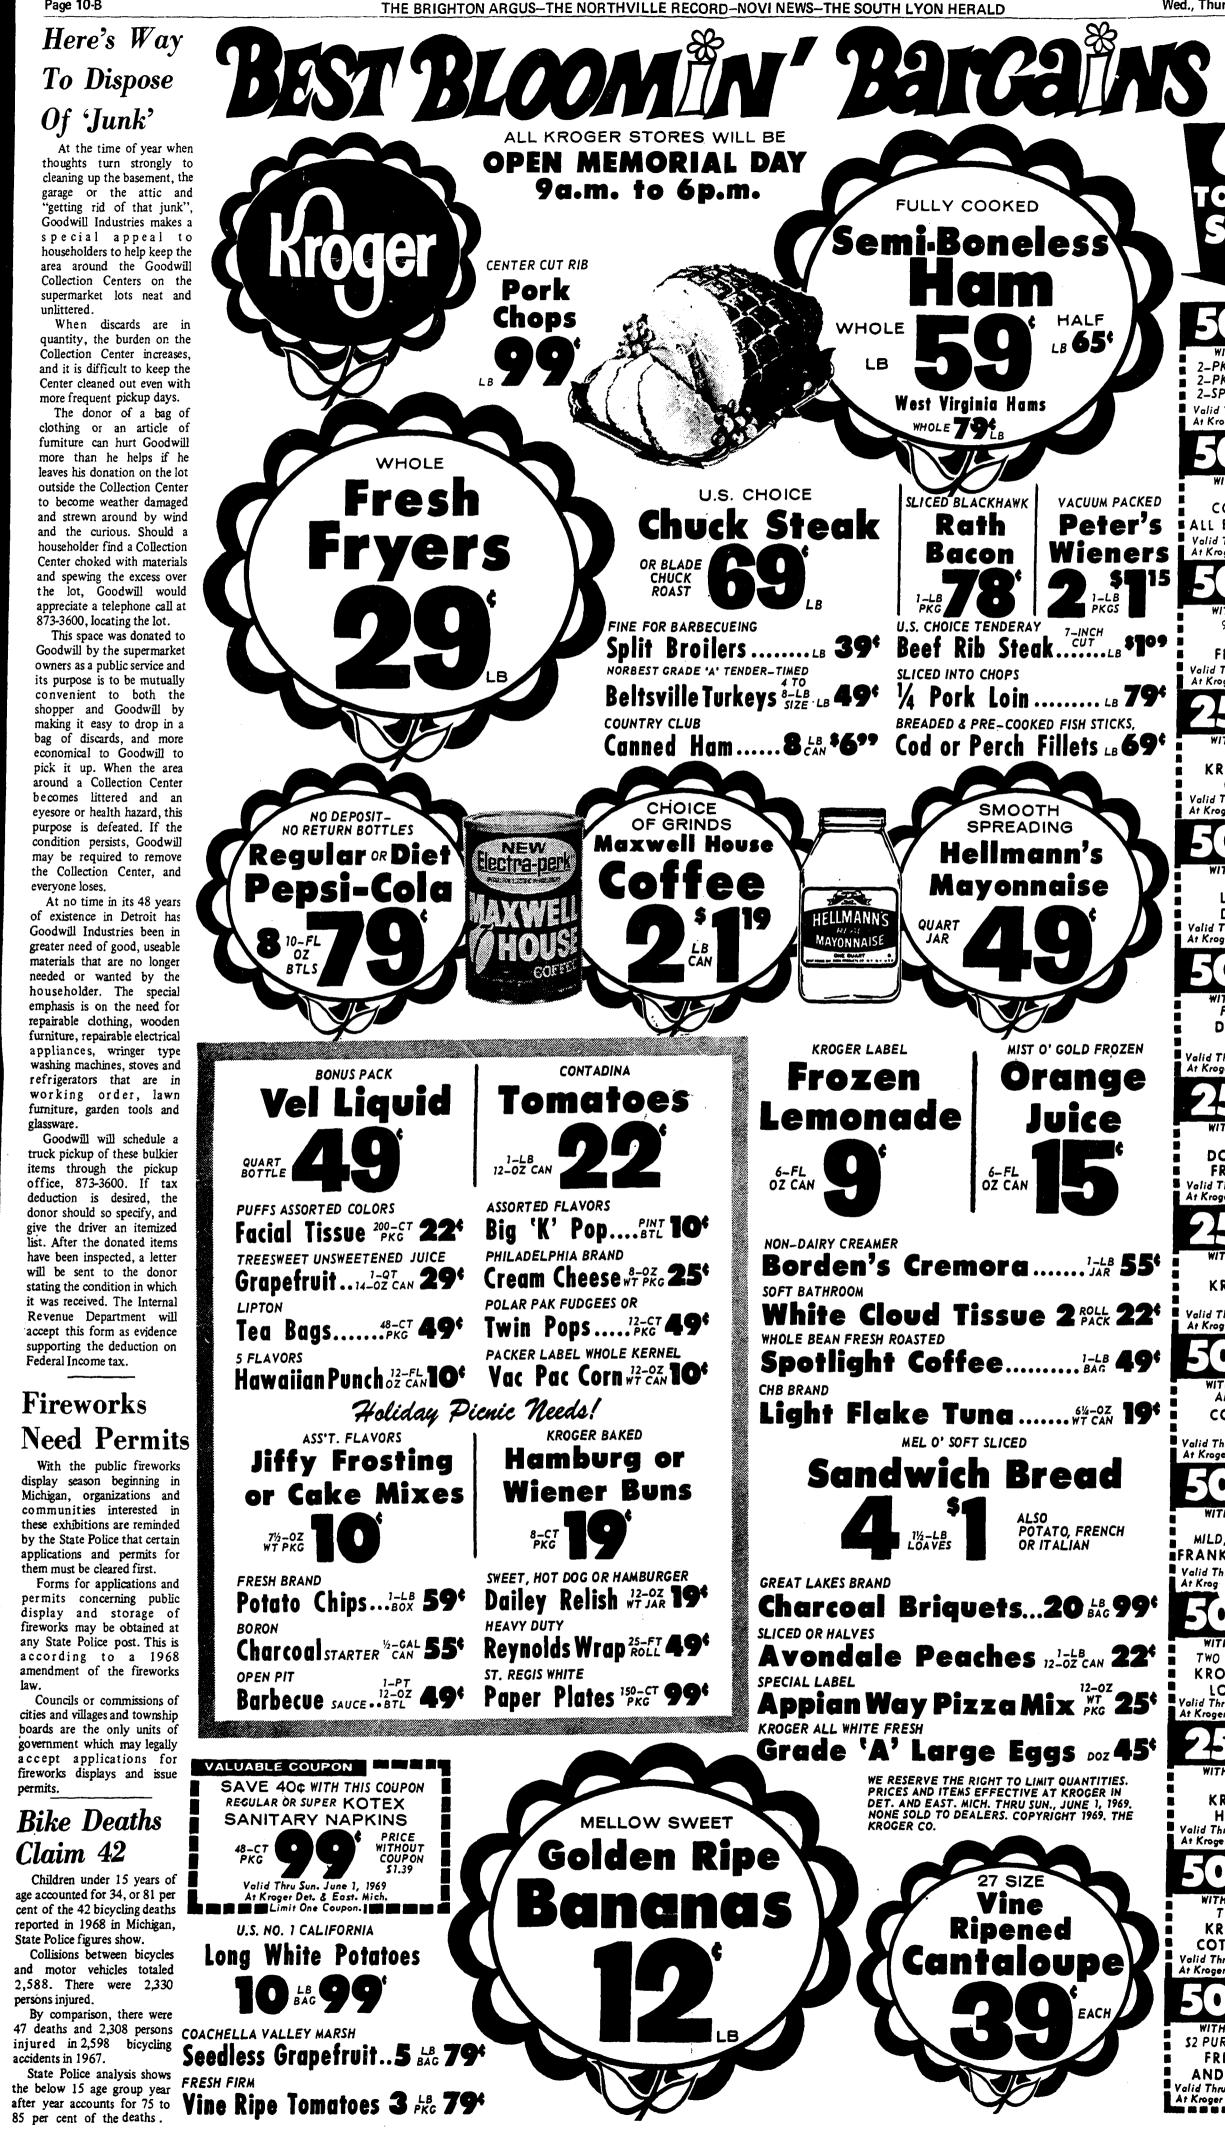

Bike Deaths Claim 42

Children under 15 years of age accounted for 34, or 81 per cent of the 42 bicycling deaths reported in 1968 in Michigan, State Police figures show.

Collisions between bicycles and motor vehicles totaled 2,588. There were 2,330 persons injured. By comparison, there were injured in 2,598 bicycling accidents in 1967.

Court Stops Money Flow

City officials are a little hesitant to sav it out loud, but it was noted Monday night that township opposition to city incorporation appears to have come to an end.

In a report to the council, it was reported that Circuit Court William J. Beer has ordered the township to make an accounting of its assets and has demanded a "freeze" on the use of all existing township funds.

A spokesman for the city attorney said Judge Beer ordered the accounting within 30 days. In ordering the township to stop dispensing assets of the township, he stopped all payments except salaries of library personnel, it was reported. Payment of any other bills will take court permission.

"As far as we know the case (court opposition to incorporation) is complete," said City Manager Harold Ackley, who reported he had been told no other township litigation is contemplated.

Only minor changes, affecting the total outlay, were made at the Monday public hearing. Among these were changing the title "manager" to "manager-assessor" and removing the $15,000 assessing department allocation from the salary schedule and placing it in the operational category. Ouestions from the audience none were critical and, as a matter of fact, citizen Raymond Evans praised the council for its work in preparing the first city budget. During the budget discussion the following comments were made: - The $83,300 allocation for police officers in the budget (not including police chief and sergeant salaries) includes funds for three additional policemen and a "fair' salary increase. The specific salary schedule of officers, under negotiation during the past several months, was not disclosed. If final settlement exceeds budgeted monies one, two or all of the additional officers could be scrapped, it was noted. - "I wish we had more money," said Councilman William Duey, who noted that there is insufficient money in the budget for an adequate road improvement program. Councilman Edwin Presnell suggested in tongue-in-cheek manner that, with more money allocated for building inspection, problems like the "duck pond" on 10 Mile Road, may be prevented. He was referring to storm waters, resulting from housing development, that have flooded the road near Orchard Hills. - Mayor Joseph Crupi noted that the city faces a quarters shortage at the city hall and that, possibly, an addition over the fire hall station might be a temporary solution.

- Councilman Donald Young, commenting on why the budget does not reflect any assets that might be gained through the division of assets with the township, said it would be "poor business" to predicate budget expenditures on an unknown income. City officials said they have no idea how much money the township might have in its treasury.

- Mayor Crupi emphasized that the budget includes monies for services that previously have been provided by the township.
