

Consumers May Combat High Prices

As the weather gets hotter, the economy could get cooler, says Dr. George Dike, Michigan State University agricultural economist.

MILK - New Class 1 price levels have been announced to become effective August 1. The new price will be $6.62 per hundredweight in the Detroit area.

CATTLE - With a booming economy, and the kind of demand seen in June, high prices for choice slaughter steers could again reach $35 to $36 in Chicago in the last half of 1969.

EGGS - The rise in demand which we have been witnessing will probably continue into August and September helping to maintain prices at Chicago around $23 to $24 for 2 1/2 and 3 1/2.

EGGS - Prices paid by wholesale distributors in late June for Grade A large white eggs averaged about 35.5 cents in Detroit.

From July to September, U.S. farm egg prices are expected to average about 34 cents, 2.5 cents below the same months of the previous year.

BROILERS - Wholesale broiler prices in nine major cities are expected to average about 29 cents in the third quarter of 1969 - about 1/2 cent above July to September 1968.

TURKEYS - Wholesale turkey prices in the major marketing period of September through December are likely to be 36 to 37 cents.

CHERRIES AND APPLES - The USDA estimates the 1969 tart cherry crop in Michigan will be 110,000 tons compared to 100,000 tons in 1968.

SUNKIST LEMONS - The American Agricultural Marketing Association's Tart Cherry Division has asked 12.5 cents per pound for the 1969 crop.

APPLES - The 1969 state apple crop is being "guesstimated" at 14 million bushels.

APPLES - The 1969 state apple crop is being "guesstimated" at 14 million bushels. The National Apple Institute "guesstimates" total U.S. production will be 154 million bushels in 1969.

News Around Northville

Last Sunday 24 young people and five adults from the First Presbyterian church of Northville left for a "Work Camp" in Sunset Gap, Tennessee which is near Newport. For a week they will be living and working with the people of the community, helping to clean up and repair.

In doing this work the young people participated in the United Presbyterian National Missions Program of short term voluntary service projects, coordinated in New York City. They will return on August 9.

The Musical Youth International chorus recently returned from Japan, performed at Ann Arbor on Sunday in Hill Auditorium. The five Northville students included in the group are Stacy Evans, Pat Jones, Geniece Daehler, Rob Shafer and Doug Waldren.

Announce Births

Twice blessed as grandparents this summer are Mr. and Mrs. James Cowie of Horton Street in Northville.

On June 17 a baby girl, named Elizabeth Christie, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Boris Dimitroff of Agawam, Massachusetts. She is the former Susan Cowie of Northville. Weighing eight pounds and six ounces at birth, the child joins two older brothers, aged four and five. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. N. Dimitroff of Detroit.

On July 8 Mr. and Mrs. James Cowie the III of Bloomington, Indiana became the proud parents of an eight pound son, named James Harold Cowie IV. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Arndt of Alligan.

Both Mr. Cowie and his wife are now working toward their doctorate degrees at the University of Michigan. He is a sociology major and she has a major in education.

special is the visit here by his great grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah O'Sullivan and their daughter Mary. The O'Sullivans are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Robert Zimmerman of Chigiwidon Drive in Northville, who are maternal grandparents of the baby.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stuber, 345 Orchard Drive, announce the birth of their first child, Wendell Richard. The seven pound, two ounce boy was born July 28 at Women's Hospital, Ann Arbor.

Mr. Stuber is the former Elsa Couse. The grandparents are Mrs. Walter Couse, 18234 Arselot Drive, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Smith who recently moved from Northville to Cape Coral, Florida.

Announcing the birth of a son are Mr. and Mrs. William W. Cowgill of Northville. Born July 28 at St. Joseph's Hospital in Ann Arbor, the baby was named Jeffrey Carl. He weighed seven pounds and nine ounces at birth. He is joined at home by one sister, Susan, aged three and a half.

Also performing with MYI was the Caroline Concert choir of the University of Michigan.

Mrs. Janina Wscieklica, who has been "dead" for 21 years, returned to her home near San Paulo, Brazil Tuesday after a month-long visit with her brother and his family here.

While visiting with the Marian Szczepanski at 46200 Frederick, Mrs. Wscieklica learned that she had "satisfactorily completed" an English language course through the University of Michigan's extension program in Brazil. She took a similar course through Cambridge University, and now speaks fluent English, Polish, Portuguese, French and German.

During World War II, Szczepanski and his sister fought in the Polish Underground. They were later captured and placed in German prison camps. So many people died or turned up missing in these camps, she recalls, that she herself was believed dead by her family. Several years after her release she visited her own "grave." "It's been 21 years now since I learned of my death," she smiles somberly.

Interestingly, the paper that she wrote earning her the English language certificate from U-M concerned "my most memorable experience — liberation from the prison camp" by a Polish detachment under the British command.

Szczepanski, who was imprisoned and tortured in a German concentration camp, was liberated by an American Army detachment.

Educated in Brussels, Mrs. Wscieklica is a former secretary of the National Refugee Organization — a branch of the United Nations.

Mrs. Swank Gets Torch Drive Post

Mrs. William H. Swank of Northville has accepted a leadership post for the residential campaign of the 1969 Torch Drive.

Mrs. Swank has been appointed a division chairman responsible for the "Thanks a Million," door-to-door canvass in Northville and Northville Township.

She will enlist, train and organize workers for the 21st annual United Foundation campaign scheduled October 14 through November 6.

Benefiting will be nearly 200 health and community services in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb Counties.

Annually, the residential campaign brings in more than $1 million of the Torch Drive total and provides every household in the tri-county area with information about the UF and its services.

It also offers housewives, the retired and the self-employed — all those not able to give at work — an opportunity to make their contributions.

Mrs. Swank has worked in earlier Torch Drives as a doorbell ringer and neighborhood chairman. She holds a bachelor of science degree in education from Kent State University, Kent, Ohio.

In addition to her campaign activities, she is a member of the Northville Women's Club and the Northville Historical Society.

Mrs. Swank and her husband, a metallurgist with U. S. Steel Corporation, have a married daughter, Mrs. C. G. Davis, and a teen-ager, Pat.

"Thanks a Million" is the theme for this year's residential campaign which last year accounted for $1,032,215 of the $29,309,546 Torch Drive total.

Does Anyone Have An Unused Piano?

Somewhere in the Northville area there must be a good-but-silent piano just taking up room space that could be used by patients and therapists at Northville State Hospital.

This is the hope of Northville State Hospital Auxiliary which is seeking donations of a number of items needed at the hospital. Record players, television sets, ping-pong tables, outdoor folding chairs and other patio furniture also are on the "needed" list.

In a recent survey of needs of the hospital's eight buildings the auxiliary also found that a small refrigerator would be welcomed by Mrs. Doris King in the admission department to keep cold milk and juice available for incoming patients, many of whom haven't eaten for some time.

Anyone with such items to donate is asked to call Mrs. L. M. Eaton, auxiliary president, 349-1707, or Mrs. James J. Sugrue, Jr., vice-president, 349-1229.

Mrs. Eaton explains that the survey was made as the auxiliary has monies earned through operation of the hospital gift shop. With so many

It's Rock Hard but Fun

She Plays Drums with Combo

When you're only averaging four hours of sleep a night, playing in a rock combo, it seems like pretty hard work. But if you make it it's worth it — it really is.

That's the word according to Susan Schlier, a 1967 Northville graduate, who is now playing drums with a band at the Steering Wheel in Detroit (formerly the Act IV). She's a member of the "Sophisticats" now in their eighth week of appearance at the Wheel, located across the street from the Fisher Theater.

Besides its nightly appearances at the Steering Wheel, the group recently appeared on television — "The Morning Show" — and was interviewed for a feature story by Tempo magazine.

For Sue the road to success has been paved with diligence and hard labor. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Schlier of 43540 Six Mile Road, she joined the group playing drums while she was still in high school. At that time the group played mostly for local teen clubs, including the Caven Teen Club in Northville.

In the fall of 1967 Sue left the band and entered Schoolcraft College to pursue a career as an airline stewardess. Last year she rejoined the "Sophisticats" replacing drummer Wayne Waters who was inducted into the service.

Since then Sue and the other three "cats" have slowly progressed through the channels of show business. They are George Heyman, 22, and Kathy Lindsey and Ginger McKinney, both June graduates from high school.

Originally, George and Kathy started the group six years ago, forming their own duo guitar act. They chose the name Sophisticats just "because we're like cats, you know," and began playing in teen spots around Ypsilanti. They added Ginger about three years ago, and then Susan and Wayne.

Although all four members take turns in the spotlight, Kathy is usually the lead vocalist. She plays lead guitar and violin. George, too, plays lead, rhythm and bass guitar and often serves as a background vocalist. Ginger, the organist, supplies background vocal accompaniment, while Sue handles the drums, the tambourine and sometimes serves as a dancer.

Together they meet and practice in Kathy's basement, writing some of their own songs and all of their own arrangements. "We start out in kind of a jam session," Sue explained, "and work it and re-work it until it comes out."

Although the Sophisticats haven't completely established their own sound yet, they do have a definite style which makes their music distinctive. It's a cross between jazz and hard rock, patterned after groups like "Blood Sweat and Tears" and "Tea Garden and Van Winkle."

Still they are trying to develop

Hunger Hike Set Sunday Afternoon

Sole power, the shoe leather type, comes to Northville Sunday August 10, with a "Hunger Hike" sponsored by St. Paul's Lutheran Youth Group.

The "Hunger Hike" was organized locally by the youth group to raise money to stamp out starvation in the United States and foreign countries.

The hikers will carry cards that are punched by a member of the "Hunger Hike" steering committee for every mile hiked. The cards showing the mileage will be returned to the sponsor who pays the hiker for the trip.

So far 50 hikers of all ages have signed up for the 20-mile hike, with at least an equal number of businessmen, merchants and friends as sponsors. One marcher was reported to have three sponsors.

Amounts pledged range from 5 cents to $2 per mile.

The hikers will assemble at 12:30 p.m. at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, at the corner of Elm and High streets.

The hikers will move down High Street to Main and Center, along Edward N. Hines Drive to the Nankin Mills picnic area. They will return by the same route to the township limits, up Northville Road to Waterford Bend where a short worship service will be held.

Check points have been set up at the Haggerty Road park and the Nankin Mills picnic area. Here canopies will be punched for the miles hiked. Two shuttle cars will travel the route, picking up those who cannot continue and providing food and water.

The money collected in Northville will be sent to the International

Lightning Bolt Damages Radio

A bolt of lightning that a week ago knocked out radio communication at the Novi Police Department caused more damage than originally suspected.

Police discovered later that the surge of electricity caused by lightning striking a pole at the Novi Public Library, next door to the police station, also damaged several business burglar alarms.

Workers had all damage repaired by late last week.

While the repair work was underway at the police station, radio transmission to patrol cars had to be relayed by radio networks of other area police departments.

Interior parts of the Novi radio transmitter were melted by the electrical heat and had to be replaced.

Two Hurt as Truck Hits Car on Novi Road

Two women are listed in fair condition at Botsford Hospital, Farmington, after a car-truck accident Tuesday at 9:10 a.m. The accident occurred at the intersection of Ten Mile and Novi roads.

Mrs. Effie M. Killebrew and Mrs. Grace Waterman, both of Howell, were injured when a semi-dump truck, driven by James Barnes, Detroit, hit them broadside.

Novi police said the car, driven by Mrs. Killebrew, was signaling for a right turn but was traveling in the through lane.

The truck, hauling a load of scrap lumber, started to pull into the right lane. Barnes said he did not see the turn signal because a car between the two vehicles blocked his vision. He thought the car was making a left turn.

The car pulled in front of the truck, was caught broadside, pushed through the intersection and clipped off a tree. The trailer overturned and the car and cab remained upright.

Mrs. Killebrew was treated for a dislocated collar bone, cuts and bruises. Mrs. Waterman sustained a broken ankle, cuts and bruises. Barnes was not injured.

Novi police remained at the scene until 11:30 a.m. The Novi fire department was called to hose down the area because the car's gas tank was ruptured and the fuel tank of the truck was sheared off. Two wreckers hauled the vehicles away.

Barnes was ticketed for improper passing.

Three Councilmen Face Assessments

Whoever it was that said public officials receive special favors had better talk to three of the five members of the Northville City Council.

Names of Councilmen Paul Folino, Wallace Nichols and Kenneth Rathert are included in a list of property owners to be asked to either replace or construct new sidewalks on their properties.

Introduced by City Manager Frank Ollendorff Monday night, the 1969 sidewalk improvement plan calls for construction or replacement of 4,000 square feet of sidewalk throughout the city at a total estimated cost of from $2,500 to $3,000.

It includes all or a portion of walks which the manager has found to be cracked, chipped and in unsafe condition and areas in front of new homes.

CBP Plan Tabled

Krone asked if affected property owners were expected to become "parking typemoons" or was the property considered for public parking.

Ollendorff answered: "What the planning commission is suggesting is that the property be zoned for parking, leaving it open to the present owner, or to the developer of a new business who must provide three to one parking ratio, or to the city which has been continually buying properties, or to existing businesses desiring additional property. Until the present owner wants to sell, the present owner can continue the use he has."

Earlier in the hearing, a letter was read from the Northville Chamber of Commerce that recommended that the business district should remain on Main and Center streets as much as possible and that sufficient flexibility be built in the plan to allow commercial development in each of the main CBP sections.

Northville Council OKs Office Zoning

Establishment of a professional office zoning district was approved by the Northville City Council Monday night following a public hearing.

The district only sets up regulations for the zoning classification and does not spell out any specific area within the city.

Only objections to the ordinance came from Harley and Robert Cole, who found its restrictions too confining for those who develop who might wish to build on a single lot.

However, officials emphasized that the ordinance was designed to be restrictive since the district is intended to be in those areas lying between commercial and residential properties.

Northville Rotary Draws Plaudits

The Northville Rotary Club was praised Tuesday by District 640 Governor Hugh Archer, who visited with the board of directors and committee chairman prior to speaking to the general membership.

Archer, who hails from Dearborn, heads up Rotary clubs in 44 communities in the district, which is unique in that it covers clubs in both Canada and Michigan.

The governor in reviewing Rotary's structure and purpose nationally as well as locally, said the Northville club is one of the "finest and best balanced clubs" in his district. He praised the club, its officers and members for their community service and especially their youth service work.

He noted, too, that the club in addition to its community service also is involved in services on an international level. Presently, he said, a slide and tape program telling "our story" is currently being shown to Rotary clubs throughout the world as a means of improving international relations.

The club's public relations director, Delbert Black, announced plans this week for the club's annual picnic for members and their wives. It is to be held August 19 at The Willows in Cass Benton Park, beginning at 6:30 p.m.

"George Lockhart is chairman of the event," said Black, "and he promises another fine evening of entertainment."

Edison Engineer Enters 40th Year

Ralph F. Timmins, municipal lighting engineer for Detroit Edison in the Northville area, will be honored by the company this month upon his 40th service anniversary.

Timmins, who lives at 9828 Westmore, Livonia, joined the Edison company in August, 1929. He is a member of the Illuminating Engineering Society.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Eleven cities in the state of Michigan now employ the use of an income tax to help support the functions of their respective local governments.

Without exception these communities adopted the income tax because additional revenues were needed to boost badly sagging finances and support ever-expanding public services.

It's highly possible that the Northville city council will recommend an income tax for our local community beginning January 1, 1970.

A report from a council study committee is pending. So the decision depends upon the committee recommendation, the council's attitude and public response.

But if an income tax is proposed for the city of Northville it will not be because local finances are short or services are being expanded and more money is needed.

Instead, and quite uniquely, the proposal will be made to provide a new source of income: it will offer the council (and public) a choice between two types of taxes.

Essentially, the income tax will be proposed as a relief to the property tax.

Preliminary study reveals that an income tax levied in the city of Northville would produce the same amount of money now raised by levying between eight and 10 mills ($8 to $10 of tax per thousand dollars of state equalized assessed valuation).

Altogether, the city of Northville levies 11.4 mills annually ($11.40 per thousand dollars of assessed valuation) against local properties to provide monies to help run the city government.

Thus with the introduction of an income tax it would be possible to reduce the property tax in the city from 11.4 to possibly three mills or less.

When it comes to talking about any new reform proposal designed to provide tax relief in any area, the first question that pops into every taxpayer's mind is: "sounds fine, but how do we know that it's not just another tax to be piled atop what we already have?"

Good question. The best answer probably lies in the fact that, in Northville at least, the council already has the authority to almost double local taxes without a public vote. The millage limit for cities in Michigan is 20 mills. As mentioned above, Northville levies 11.4 mills.

So additional income could be quickly and easily obtained by the council simply by increasing the property tax by a mill or two. And, as a matter of fact, this has been done in previous years.

Further, if an income tax is proposed, there's good reason to believe that the council might adopt an ordinance limiting the property tax to perhaps 10 mills so long as an income tax is levied.

Unfortunately, we're talking about a very small segment of the property tax when we discuss the city levy. It's less than one-third the tax levied against properties to support our schools.

Yet I believe it is a constructive step in the right direction. The income tax would provide some relief for many homeowners now smarting under extremely high property taxes. And it would set the standard for payment on a basis of ability to pay - through earnings.

In many instances the income tax opens up a whole new source of income hitherto untapped for support of local government. By state law every resident of the city levying an income tax must pay one per cent of his taxable income, non-residents employed in the city must pay one-half of one per cent.

While the council has the authority to adopt an income tax, there's also provision for the public to call for a vote on the issue.

It could develop that this fall Northville city voters will be asked to make a choice between two tax sources.

To some it may seem like the choice offered by the judge to the condemned man: "which do you prefer, hanging or the firing squad?"

Schaefer's Conviction Prompts Aid

To the Editor:

Thanks to you and Sally Burke for more and better coverage on Operation Understanding. This is the third or fourth article you've given us on the subject - covering one phase of the program or another.

Let me correct one thing: our participation this summer insofar as the usual routine of last summer and winter, has not been at all approximated, for personal reasons. And as I have, however, attempted to make up for that loss in other ways, particularly of a public relations nature, I think the important thing that should be mentioned is that it was Stan Schaefer who first introduced us to this important program and it was Stan who prompted us to get into our cars and go. It was his belief in and hopes for Operation Understanding that gave us the moral fuel necessary to steer our cars in the right direction.

We have never regretted having the courage of Stan's convictions, nor had he. He listened with great interest to any progress made in this area and was particularly gratified that Northville, if only in a very small way, has understood the necessity for progress beyond the perimeter of its own boundaries.

Thanks again Mary Kelly

To the Editor:

The Northville Jaycee Auxiliary would like to take this means of thanking those who supported our Annual Project on the Fourth of July, Northville Little Miss. The Little Miss was chosen by a penny vote which was collected in canisters placed in the local stores. We would like to thank the merchants who displayed the canisters, the merchants who donated gift certificates, and those who supported the project with their penny votes.

The proceeds from the project have been designated for Project Concern. This is a District Jaycee Auxiliary Project. This money, raised by our auxiliary, will be sent to help a family in Tennessee or Mexico. It will be used to provide free medical and dental care. With this project we feel we are putting our pennies to good use.

Sincerely, Mrs. Omar L. Harrison, Chairman

Dear Bill: My sincere congratulations upon the publication of the Centennial Edition of the Northville Record.

I know that the uniqueness of the edition in so many ways reflects the contribution that your paper has made to the community in its thoroughness of research, its depth of understanding of the community and the changes which are occurring, and its self-discipline to a high level of style and communication.

Warm regards, Marvin L. Esch, Member of Congress

Dear Bill:

Whew, I just now got through reading your centennial edition. (You know how busy editors are). It is a splendid effort; in fact, I've seen none better. Congratulations to you and your staff.

(As far as that goes, I like reading your paper every week).

Jim Fitzgerald, Editor, The Lapeer County Press

Dear Bill: I returned from my vacation in Florida to find my Centennial copy of the Northville Record among my mail. You and your staff are certainly to be complimented on the excellent job.

I've worked in Northville for many years without realizing much of its fascinating history. Your efforts have made me even more proud of my favorite community.

Thanks, Bill! Congratulations, Sincerely, Florence Panatoni, Curriculum Coordinator Northville Public Schools

To the Editor: Enjoyed reading your Centennial Edition of your newspaper, but not enough about the old land marks (homesteads) in Northville of which I know are many. Many thanks for sending same.

Sincerely, Mrs. H.C. Webster, Punta Gorda, Florida

To the Editor: You are to be commended for the splendid Centennial Edition. I enjoyed it all.

To the Editor:

Thank you so much for the gift of the Centennial number of the Record. It brought back many memories to me as I was born in Northville about the time many of those pictures were taken, and have lived here all my life but for 17 yrs. between 1926 & 1943. What a wonderful job you and your staff did on making up such a record of the past.

Thank you again. Mrs. M.F. Meaker 45801 W. 7 Mile Rd.

When C. Harold Bloom, 710 West Main Street, saw this picture in The Record's centennial edition he thought he recognized the Little Guy holding the hand of an adult. Well he might. It's Harold. And to prove it he rummaged through the attic of his home and came up with the Little Lord Fauntleroy straw hat he was wearing in the 1908 picture. The old gentleman with the cane is Harold's grandfather, James Beaty. Harold's holding the hand, he thinks, of Peter Barley who operated the blacksmith shop, behind the group, with Jarvis Plamer (extreme right). The shop was located on the north side of Main Street, just west of where the C. Harold Bloom insurance agency is located today.

The Northville branch of the National Farm and Garden Association was to hold a Victory Garden and Flower Show Monday, August 14. The Northville Rodeo and Carnival was scheduled for the fairgrounds by the Saddle Ridge Club Inc. The rodeo was being produced by Harry Mack, the producer of the last previous state fair rodeos. Oldest Novi Plant Sold

ONE YEAR AGO...

Examination of three youths charged with kidnapping a Novi police officer was scheduled in the court room of Emery Jacques, Novi Justice of the Peace. The old fish hatchery building is coming down in flames, it was decided by a 3-2 council vote. The two no-voters, Mayor A. M. Allen, and Councilwoman, Beatrice Carlson, favored revamping the facility, and using it in the community recreation program, namely for senior citizen activities.

After nearly nine months settlement had been reached in the longest strike ever involving major daily newspapers. At the Wednesday meeting of the Northville Exchange Club, members in a unanimous vote decided to disaffiliate with the national organization. Specifically, the Northville post disagrees with the national restrictions which discriminate against races, nationalities and creeds. Superintendent of Schools R. H. American returned from vacation just in time to move into the new administrative and board of education offices now located in the old library building. Old offices at the Main Street Elementary School had been converted to classroom use.

TEN YEARS AGO...

The city council opened bids from six side walk contractors and awarded one of two advertised projects. Installation of new sidewalk along the west side of the newly paved Center Street from Baseline to Carlyle was soon to be completed at a cost of 35 cents a square foot. An impatient city council served notice that it intended to push for an immediate decision from the Northville School Board concerning the proposed sale of the community building. After noting that negotiations had dragged on for nearly three years, the council decided to set a deadline of September 1 for disposing of the matter. Oakland County First

Flying Lawman Crimps Felon's Style

Patrolman Terry Cranston flies helicopter for the Oakland County Sheriff's Department. What's so unusual about that? Oakland County, boasting the largest and best equipped Marine Safety Division of any county in the nation, according to its chief, Lt. Don Kratt, was the first law enforcement agency in the state to have its own helicopter. Purchased May 26 from Erstrom of Menominee, a subsidiary of Porex Corporation, at a cost of $47,220 nearly all of which was donated by 12 county businessmen in a six-week drive by Kratt, the helicopter has already logged 150 air-miles. Not only the first in use by a law enforcement agency in the state, this helicopter is also the first non-experimental model equipped to land on water. "This ability to land on water has given us rescue capabilities beyond dreams of most departments," Cranston maintains. The chopper can not only land, but can remain aloft for long periods of time. If necessary, it can also hover at a very low altitude over water. Kratt commented, when asked about the machine's value when opposed to its initial cost, maintenance and upkeep and fuel consumption, that "if we can use it to save the life of a single child, it will have more than paid for itself." Cranston added that "the arrest of a single felon can also mean that much from the public safety viewpoint." He went on to tell how he had used the 'copter to apprehend a youthful car thief just the evening prior to the Friday session with the Herald-Record-News reporter.

"He had fled to a cornfield when we pulled him over. We couldn't get in with any of our cars. I was able to circle the area and, with the great visibility the machine offers, spot the suspect and order him to walk back to the highway."

Equipped with the public address system that makes believers of lawbreakers beneath the helicopter, the machine also is radio-equipped in the same manner as any of the sheriff's department cars.

Kratt praised the pilot for keeping fuel costs down around $165 per month, despite the air time. Maintenance can be costly, but Cranston does much of it himself including a grease job and oil change at intervals of less than 25 hours (air time).

It appears that the county has taken a real step forward with the addition of this machine. "We believe that we have had fewer boating accidents this year," Cranston says, "and that some of the reason is our increased ability to arrest violators."

as he returned the reporter to the central Pontiac office. He received a call to take the helicopter up, but brought the reporter back downtown first.

Enstrom won the Michigan Product-of-the-Year award for this Model F-28A in 1965. Since the Oakland County purchase, the Upper Peninsula company has taken orders for three of them from the New Jersey State Police. Cranston said that, both Bell and Hughes machines were tested, but that Enstrom best suited him and the department.

Cranston stressed that the 'copter is not used as a hospital or prison transport due to the liability aspects.

The eight-game season features contests every Friday through October 31 with all but an October 10 encounter at Bloomfield Hills Andover to begin at 8 p.m.

Head Football Coach Al Klukach, entering his fourth season with a 12-1-1 record, reports that equipment will be issued to candidates on August 22—the Friday before practices begin August 25.

The Mustangs last season were 5-3 placing fourth (at 3-3) in the Wayne-Oakland Counties League.

The Mustangs will open with traditional rival Plymouth here on September 12 and host Livonia on September 19. Homecoming will be on September 26 with Northville playing Milford before hitting the road with games at West Bloomfield, Bloomfield Hills Andover and Clarkston, respectively.

Brighton visits here October 24 in the annual Parents' Nite Game with the Mustangs concluding their season October 31 at Waterford. All but the Plymouth game are Wayne-Oakland Counties League contests.

Coach Art Paddy's West Bloomfield is the defending W-O champion after having posted a 7-0 mark last season.

The Mustangs last year defeated

AN EARLY-SEASON 12 GAME winning streak propelled defending Men's Slow-Pitch League champion Northville Lanes to another title this summer and into the Northville City-Township Recreation Department's All-Star Game on Friday. The champs will play a team selected by managers to represent the remainder of the league with a

All-Star Game Friday Battle Looms for 2nd

The Men's Slow-Pitch League race remained pretty much unchanged last week with Northville Drug-Casterline and Perkins Engines continuing to duel just percentage points apart for second place.

Northville Lanes, who defeated Newcomers' Club, 14-5, last week Monday, has already clinched the title and will play the league all-stars Friday in a contest to conclude the season.

The All Stars-Lanes clash, to be preceded by a home-run derby beginning at 5:30 p.m., will be at Ford Field. Game time is 6:15 p.m.

Both Northville Drug and Perkins won their lone games last week with the engine-defeating in Plymouth State Home, 15-9, on Tuesday and Drugs winning, 6-1, on Thursday over Parker Electric.

Plymouth State Home suffered three setbacks during the week dropping it from sixth to seventh place with Newcomers' moving up.

In the only other play last week, on Friday Parker Electric swept a doubleheader from State Home, 14-7 and 5-2.

Okay, Waddles, Take It Off

Just like it was yesterday - and, oh, how I wish it had been - I can recall the day I began to realize it was catching up with me: my ability to eat large portions of food was surpassing my ability to burn it up.

In other words, I was getting f-a-t which is commonly misrepresented in terms of "putting on a little weight lately."

And I guess it's time (45 pounds later) to do something about it - at least admit it and clear my conscience and then maybe get serious about "dropping a couple of pounds by putting my mind to it."

For how many times have I said that if I really wanted to, I could cut down to a trim 220 (that's take away 25 from the present total) and do the things I used to do - like run across the street when the occasion warranted with an athletic swagger. And I can't remember having to get up a half hour earlier in the morning just to tie my shoes ... but maybe I don't remember so good anymore.

I take that back - touch my toes I can't, but remember I can and things aren't as good as they used to be.

I realized the turning point about seven years ago when we got our team pictures back for the frosh basketball team at college. There I was in the front row with a big grin on my face and - after a second take - it was discernable that what later justifiably was described as a beer belly was budding.

In fact, it looked as if I'd stuck the basketball under my jersey except, no, there it was on the captain's lap. And if I remember correctly - and again, I'm afraid I do - because I had the grinning mug was because just before the photo session had started, me and another guy had polished off the several bags of popcorn left in the machine from the weekend.

That first year at college, eating all those potatoes and rolls in the cafeteria, had been the turning point as I sacked on 15 rounding pounds - "just around the edges," I explained when friends observed: "Why, Don, haven't you...?"

Mackers Win Two, Then Bow Out

ANN ARBOR - A good thing came to an end Tuesday for Reef Manufacturing of Northville. The recently-crowned Livonia Connie Mack League Nationals champion, a favorite here in district play after two victories earlier in the week, suffered a pair of emphatic setbacks - 11-4 and 13-3 - to Ann Arbor's Baskin-Robbins on Tuesday. The losses dropped Reef from the tourney allowing Ann Arbor to advance to state competition beginning today (Thursday) in Marshall.

"Things just got away from us," Manager Art Adams recounted later. "The gates just kind of boomed."

"It's kind of tough but the kids never quit on us," he added. Northville entered the finals with a 2-0 mark in the tourney while Baskin was 2-1. Two defeats served to eliminate both Westland and Godfrey Moving & Storage of Ann Arbor earlier in the week.

The Mackers start was no sign of things to come as they grabbed a 2-0 lead in the second inning of the first game while fastballing righthander Fred Holdsworth blanked Baskin on one hit in the first four frames.

But the Ann Arbor entry scored once in the fifth before exploding for 10 runs in the fifth. Reef, meanwhile, was unable to score again until the seventh when it rallied for two.

An error, a sacrifice, John Munson's double and a single by Pat Cayley accounted for Northville's two runs in the second. Munson, Jeff Taylor and Benny Fisher all singled in the seventh for two more scores.

Baskin-Robbins' big sixth included three walks, two wild pitches, two doubles and a single.

Holdsworth, a stalwart for Reef throughout the season with his speed and exceptional control usually his strengths, walked four and struck out eight. He was relieved by lefthander Bob Hollandsworth, an addition from Phillippi Service of Livonia, in his decisive sixth.

Munson and Rich Adams each had two hits for Reef in the first game as both swatted a single and double.

Baskin was in apparent control throughout the second game after jumping off to a 5-0 lead in the first inning. Reef scored in the bottom of the first and added two runs in the fourth but Ann Arbor rallied for five in the fifth and three more in the sixth accounting for its 13-3 margin.

Denny Fisher, also formerly of Northville but was relieved by Jeff Taylor in the first. Taylor hurled until the sixth and he had six strikeouts and two walks.

Hollandsworth entered the game in the sixth and finished on the mound.

Baskin used an error, two walks, a double and home run to account for its five runs in the first.

Fisher had two singles for Northville.

Assume Favorite's Role Reef Debut Impressive In Ann Arbor Tourney

ANN ARBOR-Early tournament victories-one a wild extra-inning affair Sunday-established Reef Manufacturing of Northville as a favorite here before Connie Mack competition continued this week Tuesday.

Coach Art Adams' club entered the finals of double-elimination tourney Tuesday with a 2-0 mark while rival Baskin-Robbins of Ann Arbor was two victories and one loss.

Reef won its opener Saturday defeating Westland 2-0 as righthander Fred Holdsworth hurled a five-hit shutout. Later Saturday Baskin-Robbins blanked Godfrey's Moving & Storage of Ann Arbor, 9-0, with the two winners slated to meet Sunday.

In an extra-inning affair finally decided by a bases-loaded walk, the Northville entry edged Baskin-Robbins, 6-5, in 10 innings. Also on Sunday, Godfrey eliminated Westland, 3-2, before falling out itself last Sunday when it lost to Baskin, 3-0.

Reef, remaining in the winner's bracket, only had to play one Sunday and Adams will have Holdsworth rested for the finals. Baskin-Robbins will have to defeat Northville twice to claim the district championship.

The state tourney is slated to begin Thursday in Marshall.

The two victories boosted the

State Lobbyist, Stan Schaefer Dies

STANTON SCHAEFER

Forty-two-year-old Stanton L. Schaefer, whose active professional and civic life was cut short by cancer, died Saturday at the University of Michigan Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Funeral service for the young lobbyist in the Michigan Legislature was held Tuesday at Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church, following a Rosary service Monday evening in the chapel of Casterline Funeral Home.

Born March 5, 1927 in Detroit, Mr. Schaefer was the son of Kenneth M. and Alice Cavanaugh Schaefer, who are now living in Birmingham.

His wife, Andrea, daughter of Orlov Owen of Northville, survives at home, 4700 West Six Mile Road, as do three children, Stacey Ann, Patrick Owen, and Andrew John.

Also surviving is a sister, Mrs. Jan Fraser of Silver Springs, Maryland.

Mr. Schaefer, who had lived in Northville for the past 16 years, graduated from Baldwin High School in Birmingham and was a physical education graduate of Michigan State University. As a lobbyist and manufacturer's agent, he represented several state associations including the Association of General Contractors of America and the Michigan Savings and Loan League before the State Legislature.

Appointed to the Michigan Youth Commission by former Governor G. Mennen Williams, he served in this capacity for several years.

A World War II veteran, he was member of Our Lady of Victory Church, the Waterloo Hunt Club, and the Detroit Rifle Club.

Following the funeral service Tuesday, officiated by the Reverend Fr. John Wittstock, burial was in Rural Hill Cemetery here.

because of its nature, requires highly-qualified instructors," she adds.

"Actually, we've been moving rather slow in this area because we have felt we've got to work to a point of understanding on the subject," South Lyon Community Schools' Superintendent Donald Burns relates. "We're really in the exploring stages here," he surmises. "We aren't teaching a class in sex education, as such, but we're only trying to relate to it."

"Perhaps, if anything, we may be criticized for being overly cautious in this area," Burns says.

Superintendent Thomas Dale at Novi Community Schools reports that they have no formal program "nor do we expect to have in the near future."

"The areas which we feel are important to our students are covered as related to other subjects," he observes.

Youngsters, of course, aren't reluctant to boost their support for the program although they also admit that the intrigue is its main appeal.

And so the area partnership between education and sex education—the facts in living and "the facts of life," respectively—remains a remote one.

Schoolcraft Article

Wins Journal Award

An article published in the Junior College Journal has won an All-American Award in educational writing for Schoolcraft College Librarian Patrick Butler.

The article, "How to Name a College - Sort Of," appeared in the February, 1968, issue of the Journal which is the official publication of the American Association of Junior Colleges. In it, Butler wrote factually, but in a humorous vein, of the naming of Schoolcraft College.

The award was made by the Educational Press Association of America, which annually sponsors a competition for writing by educators and about education.

Three Car Crash Injures Two Here

The Northville Road - West Seven Mile intersection was the scene of another injury accident last week.

A three-car pile-up July 30 at 3:15 p.m. sent Edward Smith and his brother Paul to St. Mary Hospital. Both are Inkster residents.

Edward is undergoing treatment for chest bruises and his condition is listed as "good". Paul was X-rayed for possible arm injuries and released.

Wayne County Sheriff's Department investigated the accident. They reported the Smith car, traveling westbound on Seven Mile, stopped for the flashing light and then proceeded. The car was struck by a vehicle going north on Northville Road.

Driver of the second vehicle was Thomas Gibbons, Livonia.

Smith's car was pushed into the path of a vehicle driven by Floyd Dolmage, Plymouth. Dolmage was traveling south on Northville Road.

The Sheriff's Department said, Smith failed to yield the right of way. No tickets have been issued and the accident is still under investigation.

Western Electric Display Marks Firm's Centennial

Western Electric Company, observing its centennial anniversary this year, will celebrate the event locally with an exhibition in the Livonia Mall today through Saturday, Staff Associate Aubrey Downs announced this week.

The exhibits will portray the company as it developed over the years from a small electrical shop to the major supplier of the Bell Telephone System.

Manning the exhibits will be attractive Western Electric girls who will provide handouts and literature for interested spectators. Technical exhibits will be demonstrated by men who will answer questions regarding the company and its operation.

Northville area residents, including the many employees of the Western Electric plant in Plymouth, are invited "to stop by and see us."

Enrollment Hits 1,182

A Summer session enrollment of 1,182 students - an increase of 130 over last year and the highest ever for the session in the history of the college - has been reported by Schoolcraft College Registrar Norman E. Dunn.

The enrollment was significant in another way than simply setting a new high for the summer session, Dunn said. Technical-vocational course enrollment for the period reached 50 percent of the total student body, highest ever for the career curriculum at Schoolcraft.

Dunn said that there has been a steady increase over the years in the career programs enrollment in virtually all formal sessions of each academic year, and added the technical-vocational enrollment topped 40 percent for the first time with the 1968 fall term enrollment.

Piecing together what happened on July 18 on Chappaquiddick Island is no mean feat, for not all the facts are known, nor are they likely ever to be, unless an inquest into the death of Mary Jo Kopechne is indeed begun in the state of Massachusetts, or unless the facts are clearer in Senator Edward Kennedy's mind and he decides to elaborate on statements already made.

Yet, America's two major weeklies, Time and Newsweek, undertook to do exactly that last week - to recreate, insofar as the facts are known, what happened after Ted Kennedy and Miss Kopechne left a cottage on Chappaquiddick Island.

More conclusive than anything that the two magazines say, however, is the indelible fact that Newsweek, after years of working in the shadow of Time, has emerged as the better of the two weeklies.

Time and Newsweek both work with essentially the same facts - Ted Kennedy's belated police statement, his 17-minute television broadcast, brief comments from one of the "Boiler Room" girls, and sketchy comments from a hotel co-owner who was the desk clerk that fateful night, from a ferry boat deckhand, and from a part-time deputy sheriff.

Both magazines reach basically the same conclusion: that Kennedy's chances as a presidential candidate in 1972 are nil, that many crucial questions

The Irish Hills—Popular Area Entertainment Stop

Traveling between Clinton and Cambridge Junction on US-12 in northeast Lenawee County finds you surrounded by the popular resort area of the Irish Hills. The Irish Hills Tower is a major landmark denoting the hub of attractions which includes St. Joseph Shrine (upper left) along with numerous antique shops and popcorn wagons (bottom) along the way. And someone has hung up his shingle announcing that at his shop - where he's apparently pushing his line of crickets - the sportsman can purchase bait around-the-clock. Travelers are advised to allow enough time for congestion on the highway caused by heavy traffic - both motor and pedestrian. The Irish Hills is less than two hours from the Northville- Novi-Brighton-South Lyon area.

Just Look About You A Drive-A-Long Leisure Paradise

It's a little bit of rural America plus the man-made attractions recreating days gone by plus plenty of small lakes framed by hillsides in piece and quiet. It's a popcorn-candy apple-hot dog stand every few miles plus a friendly tavern and a state park.

The park has numerous attractions neighboring it along US-12 ranging from area transformed to the wild west-featuring real live bandits robbing a stagecoach right before your eyes-to a peak into prehistoric times with monsters sticking their heads through the tree tops.

And lakes-big lakes, little lakes, twin lakes and hard to get to hard-to-visit lakes-are everywhere with enough area to provide a spot for all water sports.

US-12 actually crosses the southern portion of the state from Detroit to New Buffalo with access from one southeastern Michigan at numerous points along the popular route.

Antique shops and restaurants housed in historic structures are frequent throughout the hills with a large auto speedway-attracting thousands on race days-located just west of Cambridge Junction. St. Joseph Shrine is a favorite visit while the variety of other attractions in total seemingly offer something for everyone.

And the expense? It can simply be the cost of gasoline plus a handful of hot dogs or it can include elegant dining and a carload of novelty items. The scenery, of course, is a major attraction and it's priceless.

It's a live bait sign, emphasizing crickets as a specialty, and announcing that the business is open 24 hours-insurance, in itself, that the fish there bite around the clock.

It excites the young and relax the old.

It's a strip of US-12 and it's the Irish Hills with wooded hills a-plenty cuddling around attractions smothered in carnival atmosphere.

St. Joseph Shrine is a favorite visit while the variety of other attractions in total seemingly offer something for everyone.

The Irish Hills, an area commonly identified as a strip along US-12 in southeastern Michigan's Lenawee County, offers attraction-upon-attraction along the winding roadway which, unfortunately, multiplies the driving problems as autos (and people) casually make the rounds.

HOW TO GET THERE: The Irish Hills surrounds a section of US-12 in the northeast portion of Lenawee County so residents from southeastern Michigan can visit the area by intercepting the highway at Detroit, Ypsilanti, Saline or Clinton and traveling westward. The area is less than two hours from the Northville- Novi-Brighton-South Lyon area with most direct access at Ypsilanti.

Walter J. Hayes State Park, located between the highway and US-12, is a center of attraction along the strip between scenic Clinton and Somerset. The 654-acre facility includes access to both Wampalers and Round Lake, a beach and bathhouse and outdoor center and camping sites.

HOW MUCH WILL IT COST?: Actually, expenses can vary with the budget and a variety of activity. Fees for use of W. J. Hayes State Park are standard - free on a season pass or $1 for one day - plus camping rates. Commercial attractions are generally priced within reason while food and other accommodations range from cheap to expensive.

what's a funny place for a phone? That depends a lot on your sense of humor. If splashing through the house to answer a telephone leaves you a little cold, then perhaps there is nothing funny about an extension telephone in the bathroom or dressing room. Extension telephones save steps and let you do your telephoning from where you are. Call your Michigan Bell Business Office or ask your telephone man. For as little as ninety-five cents a month (plus tax) you can have an extension telephone in any funny old place you'd like. Michigan Bell Part of the Nationwide Bell System

Michigan Mirror Where's Critics of Drunk Driving?

LANSING - If automaker critic Ralph Nader could show a feature in cars which could be connected with 24-percent of fatal accidents in the state, the public would be demanding that corrections be made. But when figures show that 24-percent of highway deaths are connected with drunk driving, there is very little public reaction. The public reacts no more when told that 72-percent of drivers involved in fatal accidents were drinking to some degree before the accident. These figures, from a study by Automobile Club of Michigan, indicate early the direction which must be taken if traffic deaths are to be reduced significantly. But the public does not seem to show an inclination to face up to the real problems of traffic safety. Those who doubt the involvement of the John Birch Society in the anti-sex education campaign whose effects now are being felt in Michigan need look no further than the group's own publications to satisfy their doubts. Again and again this year, the group's bulletins have spoken of the need to combat sex education programs in any shape or form. The drive is being spearheaded by groups calling themselves MOTOREDE committees. MOTOREDE stands for Movement to Restore Decency. The January society bulletin said there is "one more urgent requirement" for MOTOREDE committees besides merely organizing. "That requirement is organized, nationwide, intensive, angry and determined opposition to the now mushrooming program of so-called sex education in the public schools," it said. NO MORE ACCURATE description of the organized opposition in Michigan could be found than "intensive, angry and determined." The same bulletin described sex education programs as a "subversive monstrosity" and a "filthy communist plot." It said sex education programs have three "communist objectives": "A final assault upon the family as a fundamental block in the structure of our civilization. To destroy one whole generation of American youth. To help all of the other forces at work to destroy completely the very concept of morality." The February bulletin devotes more than five pages to "The Principles and Purposes of the Movement to Restore Decency" and offers pamphlet reprints of the article. PAMPHLETS SPEAK first of a "contemporary breakdown of morality and manners." It then asserts: "By far the most dangerous and disastrous step in this whole program to promote degeneracy is the present increasingly widespread efforts to introduce 'sex education' into our schools all the way from kindergarten through high school." The pamphlet also said, "We do not believe that the current drive for sex education is even intended by its originators and promoters to provide a needed and beneficial service in the schools. It is their sinister objective instead to create an unceasing and dangerous obsession with sex in the minds of our children."

Babson Report Railroads Give Top Priority To Technological Advances

WELLESLEY HILLS, Massachusetts - Creation of a Department of Transportation at the Cabinet level in the Federal Government is symbolic of the growing awareness of the need for a unified transportation industry to meet the requirements of an internationally oriented industrial nation. The important role that American railroads see themselves playing in this new concept of a total transportation facility is indicated by the high priority that railroad management has given during the past twenty years to incorporating advances in mechanical and electronic technology to their operations; integrating as much as possible with the trucking air freight, and ocean-going cargo industries for their mutual benefit; and at the same time, satisfying the increasingly complex demands of shippers. MAINTAINING a current location status report of its rolling stock has always presented problems to rail carriers. At one time, it frequently took a matter of days and even weeks to locate a misdirected shipment. Furthermore, one railroad may have had a freight yard of uncommitted tank cars, for example, while another carrier a few hundred miles away was in dire need of such equipment. These problems are being solved today by the development of Automatic Car Identification (ACI) and Tele-Rail Automated Information Network (TRAIN). The electronic computer is the basic component of both of these systems. ACI will provide instant information as to location and destination of every car in its system, together with pertinent data concerning its cargo. This information is available not only to the railroad concerned, but also to the shipper, the receiver, and the carrier. Among other things, the "biggy back" has led to the vital link that the railroads are just beginning to establish in the Europe-Orient "land bridge." This is the revolutionary concept that embodies using rail container flat cars traveling across the U. S. to carry cargo moving between Europe and the Far East. As shippers in the European and Far Eastern markets see the savings to them in the use of this route, vital new revenues should accumulate to the railroads. The potential market seems important enough to justify intensive development of this concept.

"Joy and Sorrow"

"Laugh and the world laughs with you, weep and you weep alone."

The world loves a jovial person. It is popular to be witty. To be a little hilarious is not commonly regarded as a fault. No one likes a "sad sack".

It is well to emphasize the value of a cheerful disposition. Religion can become too long faced. It is well to remind ourselves that the gospel of Jesus is good news. That is the meaning of the word "Gospel."

However, we face the fact that life consists of both joy and sorrow, pleasure and pain, health and suffering. Sorrow is like the rain. "It falleth alike upon the just and the unjust." Sooner or later it comes to everybody.

The Bible reminds us that Jesus knew the meaning of sorrow. We are told that upon one occasion, "Jesus wept." He has been called a "man of sorrows." Upon the cross he felt so utterly alone that he cried out. "My God, why hast thou forsaken me." To be a disciple of Christ does not excuse one from his share of grief, pain and suffering. In fact, the more truly we follow his teachings the more certainly we shall be called upon to endure suffering.

The question that arises is this—How many followers of the Master meet such experiences when they come? There are three ways. First, sorrow may be hidden. Sometimes it should be concealed. We need to learn that there is a time to cry into one's pillow. We need to smile when our hearts are breaking. The courageous soul learns how to discipline his sorrows.

Second, sorrow may sometimes be shared. St. Paul said, "Let every man bear his own burdens" but he also said, "Bear ye, one another's burdens." The troubled heart sometimes needs to be unloaded. We all need some other person or persons in whom we may confide. To share our sorrows with one who understands and has a sympathetic heart may be a great blessing. Confession is good for the soul and to share one's sorrows may be a healing experience. Finally, Sorrow may be used constructively. Jesus used his sorrows for redemptive purposes. The tragedy of our world is not entirely that it has become a vast Gethsemane, but that so much of the world's suffering is being wasted. We, like our Master, should use suffering for redemptive purposes that by our stripes future generations may be healed.

Sooner or later suffering becomes the lot of every human being.

We may bear it and that is brave. We may share it and that is helpful. We may use it and that is Christlike.

Meteor Shower Near Peak

Perseid shower, the annual "downpour" of meteors, will reach its peak around August 10, according to University of Michigan astronomer Hazel M. I. ...

The annual Perseid shower provides as many as one shooting star every minute, compared with perhaps one per hour on an ordinary night, the U. M. astronomer explains. The best time to watch them is from midnight to dawn. Although they may be seen in any part of the sky, their paths, when traced back, seem to intersect in the northeast where the constellation of Perseus rises around 10 p.m. ...

Most shooting stars are no bigger than a grain of sand, Prof. Lush says. These pieces of iron and stone plunge into the earth's atmosphere at the speed of some 40 miles per second. Most of them burn themselves out in the plunge, and those that survive the fall are called meteorites. ...

"Today we believe that comets and meteors are related. What created comets is not known, but because there are comets we have meteors," Prof. Lush says. "These swarms of debris are probably provided by the gradual disintegration of comets, and this swarm of particles that produces the Perseid shower is believed to be more or less uniformly strewn along its entire orbit, and is of about equal intensity each year." ...

Also, at the beginning of August, the planet Mars and Antares are found directly toward the south as darkness comes. Prof. Lush notes. "On August 11, Mars will pass a little more than a degree north of Antares, the planet being about six times brighter than the star." ...

The U.-M. astronomer adds, "One should locate and become acquainted with Mars for popular speculation points to it as the next target after the moon for space exploration by man." Pictures of Mars were recently sent to earth by Mariner 6. ...

A decision by the City of Novi Council to increase the rate of its meetings from two-per-month to every week is an honorable gesture... the value of which I have some doubts. Basically, the problem is that either there's too much to do for semi-monthly meetings or there's too little getting done. ...

And trying to be as tactful as possible, I believe it's the latter. City government admittedly is becoming more complex with older cities having problems because they're old and younger cities because they're young. It's not an easy job because ours is a society where, ironically, the government is to pick up wherever the people leave off. ...

And Novi has its problems, like any growing community, and the council realizes that... which is an honorable gesture. Councilmen obviously are "putting in their time." Sessions average four hours and often run for days, literally, as they're continued on and on until what appears to be a rather modest agenda is completed. ...

But generally speaking the council comes to meetings unprepared necessitating many lengthy discussions concluded by tabling an issue into the review so councilmen can review their thoughts and arrive at a decision. However, when the issue is returned for a decision at a later date, councilmen too often have to re-stage old discussions which frequently wander on to the point of mental exhaustion where a councilman often becomes happy to just vote and get it over with before trying to go to another issue which threatens to take an eternity to resolve. ...

"Being a councilman is a thankless job" is a common but invalid comment. If there's things to be done in your community - the place where you're raising your family, and if those things aren't getting done then it's your responsibility to do something to get them done. And if that means being a city councilman, then you're a city councilman who has the satisfaction of getting those things done. ...

But it's a hard job and not one you can do just to be a nice guy. It takes much time and preparation - and let's emphasize "preparation" - to get the job done. And you've got to get the mileage out of your fulltimers - your administrators - so that when you make your decision, you can do it after the benefit of their recommendation. ...

Meetings-after-meeting you can't continue to start from the beginning and discuss a multitude of problems and resolve none and table a multitude of problems for discussion at a subsequent meeting. Good men need to feel the sense of accomplishment after investing valuable time. And the City of Novi Council is good men who owe it to themselves to become better organized. ...

Threatens Court Action Council Sets Deadline

A City of Novi-Nowi Township feud, brewing all summer long, escalated another step Monday with City Council threatening court action if a division of assets isn't completed by September 1. ...

The decision came near the end of a four-hour session Monday after Mayor Joseph Crupi read a letter from Township Supervisor Leo Kalota who, after inferring that the city had been responsible of delaying the property settlement, asked councilmen to "keep their cool" until the issue can be resolved. ...

Kalota's correspondence obviously aroused Crupi, generally mild-mannered, and apparently incited the council to establish a deadline for division of assets along with the into-court ultimatum. Following an election last winter, all but eight parcels spotted throughout the original township became incorporated in the new City of Novi effective February 24. ...

The two newly-organized governments were required by law to divide assets proportionately by mid-May although a settlement has yet to be decided. City Attorney Howard Bond has advised councilmen that he has filed and been granted an order of the court to set on the matter but the city has delayed action in order to allow township officials to organize. ...

However, the mayor emphasized last week Monday that the city was anxious to resolve the issue because its existing offices—housed in a building originally owned by the township—are in need of expansion. Bond has advised the council that until ownership of the building is determined, its alteration is legally prohibited. ...

The present city constitutes approximately 97 percent of the former village-township area and its expected that the city will assume a proportionate share of ownership of joint and original township properties. Mayor Crupi and Bond have been negotiating informally with Kalota and Emery Jacques, township attorney, in regards to the division of assets. ...

The mayor on Monday read Kalota's three-page letter in its entirety several times during the session. The mayor emphasized that township officials are serving in part-time capacities and that summer vacations have delayed further progress on the issue. Mayor Crupi, before reading the letter, related that Kalota apparently was blaming Bond for failing to draw a stipulation for payment of minor bills— shares of which are to be decided and retroactive upon the official division of assets. ...

Contract Appears Resolved

Novi Community Schools' board of education moved one step closer to ratification of the master contract with teachers Tuesday night. Superintendent Thomas Dale said the board and the Novi Education Association agreed on a settlement last Friday. ...

Waste Dump Halted By Order from City

Admittedly caught by surprise, the City of Novi Council responded to an emphatic appeal by a large delegation of citizens Monday and ordered an immediate halt to surface disposal of effluent by septic tank agents until councilmen can institute permanent control of the practice within the coming week. ...

A large crowd of approximately 120 people packed into City Hall on Monday forcing officials to breeze through a scheduled public hearing and then relocate the session down the road in the more spacious Novi Community Building. Monday's discussion aroused tempers and reached new bedlam at points before Mayor Joseph Crupi concluded arguments by announcing that an immediate halt would be ordered through Police Chief Lee BeGole to allow the council to prepare permanent legislation on the practice. ...

The City of Novi Police, according to a report reviewed during the meeting by the mayor, ticketed two agents— Charles Patten and William Reimer, both of Walled Lake— last Saturday for dumping effluent without proper authorization. The police also issued notification to Patten's company, A&H Sanitation of Walled Lake and C&C Septic Tank of Commerce Township that they would be cited if they did not receive the approval of the Oakland County Health Department. ...

Surprise—Novi Site For New Post Office

Novi has been designated as the site for new U.S. Post Office building more than four times the size of the existing facility, according to an announcement by Congressman Jack McDonald. Disclosure of plans for the new office, apparently planned to accommodate future growth anticipated for the community, came as a complete surprise to Acting Postmaster Edwin Presnell. ...

Presnell explained that he knew nothing about the plans until he was approached by The News for a response to the announcement. He said that in the past he has frequently advised residents in the city preferring a Novi mailing address to a Walled Lake one to appeal to their congressman. He indicated that the complaints might have influenced the decision by federal officials. The existing post office has been at 43539 Grand River Avenue since April, 1968 when it was moved from the Stamen Insurance Building on Novi Road. Presnell, appointed acting postmaster in January, has seven employees. ...

Contract Appears Resolved

Novi Community Schools' board of education moved one step closer to ratification of the master contract with teachers Tuesday night. Superintendent Thomas Dale said the board and the Novi Education Association agreed on a settlement last Friday. ...

The board and education association will meet separately to approve the contract. Final ratification is expected at the August 26 meeting of the board, with school tentatively scheduled to open September 3. Tuesday night's meeting also saw the rejection of a site for future elementary school construction, tabling blacktop work at Orchard Hills Elementary and the high school an approval of bids for fuel oil, gas, milk and insurance. ...

At the request of the board, Kaufman and Broad Homes, Inc. of Southfield, offered the district an 11.59 acre future school site off Willowbrook Road. The board had rejected the same site at their July 22 meeting. Kaufman and Broad proposed rerouting the creek and filling in the present site. The board directed Dale to again request a site completely south of the creek. ...

The board tabled a motion to grade the blacktop at Orchard Hills School to relieve drainage problems until they are certain of the direction of flow. Blacktop repair work at the high school was delayed until comparison cost bids on hot and cold patch can be obtained. The board did agree to purchase a corridor gate with cabinet for Orchard Hills for a total cost of $717, installed. ...

Lowest bids for fuel oil and gasoline were approved with Standard Oil of Novi getting the contracts. They bid 10.95 cents per gallon for fuel oil and 15.5 cents per gallon for gasoline. Guernsey Farms of Northville was awarded the milk bid submitting a price of 5.9 cents for white milk and 6.4 cents for chocolate in bottles. The resignation of Margaret Sheniman, Orchard Hills fifth grade teacher, was approved. The Shenimans have adopted a child. ...

Claims Story Mishandled Newspaper Blasted By Mayor McAtee

City of Wixom Mayor Wesley McAtee lashed out against a Detroit newspaper reporter Tuesday claiming that the journalist had made "a fool out of himself and a fool out of this community" in a recent article which described the city as a decaying whistle-stop. Referring to a story in the Detroit News earlier this month, the mayor observed: "That's been a very touchy matter with me for the past 10 days. I personally think that the City of Wixom has done a tremendous job on our capital projects. ...

"I feel compelled to demand the editor to print a retraction statement after having sent a cub reporter out here and allowing him to make a fool of himself and a fool of this community," he added. The article was written by a reporter who spent one day in the community and then prepared a major story with pictures claiming that Wixom is a sleepy little hamlet divided—and almost conquered—by a railway crossing through the existing business district. The reporter also quoted Deputy City Clerk Donna Thorsberg on three occasions—all of which were incorrectly stated, according to Mrs. Thorsberg. ...

There are thousands of words that could have been written about what we've done," Mayor McAtee emphasized. "The Detroit News Company hasn't heard the last about this." In other business Tuesday, the council conditionally approved accepting $125,000 in federal funds to be used in a study preliminary to the council on Urban Renewal for its downtown business district pending legal clarification that the city would not be responsible for repaying the money if it eventually decided against enacting the proposed project. The council also decided against continuing its membership in the Huron River Watershed Council. ...
