AGRICULTURE IN ACTION Y GARY A. KLEINHEN Hichigan farm Bureau

It's an old story, but never boring, about the little guy who beats the giant. Like the tale of David and Goliath, a small group of only 350 school teachers in Detroit are opposing the giant union. It's a miss-match, as if Little Orphan Annie were fighting Jack Dempsey. Honey, pack that sling shot real well!

It's a match of freedom of choice versus compulsory unionism. Miss Christine Warczak. President of the newly formed "Detroit Teachers Opposed to Compulsory Unionism" and a school teacher for seven years, is dedicated to voluntary unionism for Detroit teachers, not compulsory unionism.

The friction began when it was announced that Detroit teachers' new contract. effective in early 1970, requires that teachers either join the Detroit Federation of Teachers (DFT) or pay a fee equal to union dues to the union for negotiation services. "The right to a job should not be conditioned upon paying a union," Miss Warczak said. In fact this poorly financed upstart organization that dares to defy the rich clutching octopus arms of the union is taking steps to challenge the union hierarchy in the local courts - and in the federal courts if necessary. Farmers everywhere will be observing these events with much more than a passing interest. Threatened with farm labor unionization on a compulsory basis (not voluntary), their cause is closely aligned with these school teachers.

"Compulsory unionism is often called the new slavery and essentially this type of unionism adopts the communist theory that there should be only one party to which everyone should give allegiance and support. Inside the party there may be disagreements, but no one is permitted to go outside and support any opposition movement." savs Donald R. Richberg, author of "Labor Union Monopoly, A Clear and Present Danger" and a lifetime fighter for the legitimate rights of labor.

As President Christine Warczak has said, "They want to destroy freedom of choice. It is contrary to everything Democratic, everything we stand for in this country."

Moon Beams For Nimrods

The Hunter's Moon, the full moon of late October, will come at 3:45 a.m. on Oct. 25 and, like the Harvest Moon of September, will rise at about the same hour for several nights in succession, according to University of Michigan astronomer Hazel M. Losh.

The Hunter's Moon will partially compensate for October's shorter daylight, decreasing from about 12 hours at the beginning of the month to about 10 hours 20 minutes by the end.

Two meteor showers are due this month, one around the 9th toward the north, and the other on the 21st. "Although scanty showers, a few more shooting stars may be expected than on ordinary nights," Prof. Losh says.

Capella (the Goat) in the constellation of Auriga (the Charioteer) rises in the northeast around sunset. It is the third brightest star visible from northern latitudes.

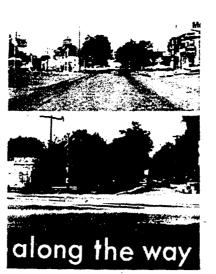

Following Auriga in its rising is the constellation of Taurus (the Bull), made up of two conspicuous groups, the Hyades and the Pleiades. The former, comprising Aldebaran and four fainter stars, forms a letter V, outlining the face of the Bull. The Pleiades (the Seven Sisters) comes up in the east about an hour after Capella and is one of the most celebrated groups in the heavens

"Both the Hyades and the Pleiades have been associated with rainy and inclement weather among the ancients," Prof. Losh says.

By DON KRUPP Citizens Owe Council Respect

I was sitting there - at my 'umpteenth council meeting - and suddenly I realized that a knot was growing in my stomach. And then I found myself on the edge of my chair and I was just about ready to punch someone in the nose because people are people and...

And then Fred Waara stood up and apologized for not being a very good speaker and then made a very good speech.

The scene was a special meeting of the Wixom City Council last Thursday and the chambers were packed with people - mostly adults who choose to act mostly like non-adults in talking about, but not discussing, a storm drain proposed to empty into Loon Lake and alleged to be the turning point in civilization out along that

The thing that hurt so much is that it all could have been so good: there was a large turnout of citizens and a problem to be discussed and it would have been a good time to ressive the issue... but the people who came simply to argue far out-numbered those who came to discuss.

 Citizens who were attending the second council meeting in their lives were harassing councilmen who have served for years and you could see in the faces of Councilman Gunnar Mettala and Mayor Wesley McAtee the disappointment that only abuse can bring.

If that council would have voted unanimously that it was dark outside, the majority of the gallery would have argued it down. 4

Somebody thinks they have come upon a crooked council and I think I've come upon a corrupted bunch of somebodies. I think someone is out to make this council look bad and I think the fact that it'll be election time come spring is less than coincidental. And now again I'm getting tight in the stomach and up on the edge of my chair. *****

But then when Fred stood up and started talking about these people here have taken an oath of office" and what pledging to do your best means to these kind of people. It was a simple observation that the council has pledged to act in the best interest of the city and that it is composed of honest people acting, to the best of their ability, in the best interest of the city.

Suddenly I found that the knot in my stomach had moved up to my throat. ******

Unfortunately, the subject is pollution and nobody can tell anybody that the issue reduces itself to black and white. There's a whole lot of gray area concerning pollution control and in order to understand the facts, you've got to respect the context in which they're applied.

The decision to abandon the project was unexpectedly made in a special session last Thursday after a large delegation of citizens, the majority of whom apparently reside along or near Loon Lake, continued to press for delays pending an extensive study on the degree of pollutant which will be fed into the lake upon the completion of construction.

The meeting had been called to consider revised appropriations for City Police and to decide upon a life

Pate emphasized that under the city's agreement with the contractor, a daily penalty fee is assessed for delays. Continued on Page 13-A

Political Triangle Evolves

The situation evolved last Thursday when the mayor unexpectedly reversed his field and proposed that the council act in halting a $128,000 road improvement program in Birch Park Subdivision upon the request of the senator and in light of the public opposition to the project. Construction began earlier this month on Bell Coney and Maganser streets in the subdivision with plans to install a storm drain, curb-and-gutter and surface the roadways.

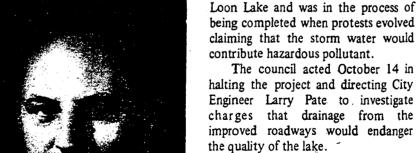

The storm drain has been engineered to empty into Loon Lake at a popular bathing site with a large number of lakeside residents objecting under claims that the storm water will contribute large amounts of pollutant to the

The issue has evoked heated charges against City Council within which various power plays have created a political triangle amongst the mayor, County Supervisor Lew Coy (R-Wixom) and Senator Kuhn. Supervisor Coy is believed to have formally launched the controversy when he called Oakland County Health Department officials in to check the drain on October 7. And then the supervisor brought the issue onto the floor for discussion October 14 with the council confronted by approximately 110 citizens, the majority of which was apparently present to protest installation of the drain according to plans.

Mayor McAtee promptly blasted Supervisor Coy for not bringing the alleged problem to the council's attention before instituting the investigation. The mayor revealed that the first he was notified that the planning was being challenged was October 9 when he received a letter from the County Health Department which stated "the risks involved are too great" in allowing the drain to discharge as watchdog to top dog in administrating the probe near the bathing area.

With rumors gaining prominence throughout the community, the mayor decided to invite residents of Birch Park to the October 14 session of the council in order to discuss the issue. Although Mayor McAtee explained that hazardous amounts of pollutant into the lake. The residents asked delays in construction pending extensive testing but, after Consulting Engineer Larry Pate explained that such a stoppage would result in expenditures jeopardizing the project, the council voted unanimously to halt construction and to begin negotiating a settlement on the $128,000 contract with the contractor and engineers.

And a motion last Thursday by Councilman Gunnar Mettala to relocate rather than abandon the project from Birch Park to Hickory Hills Subdivision was defeated by the council claiming that objections would persist under fears of pollutions through drainage.

But on Tuesday a spokesman for Hickory Hills informed the council that he had petitions "with about 100 signatures" asking that the road mprovements be instituted in their neighborhoods.

In other business Tuesday, the council took action approving a re-appropriation of money to provide an additional $26,000 in salaries and fringes for City Police and Department of Public Works, accepted a low bid of $5.054.78 for two Mercury police cars from Bob Dusseau Incorporated, Farmington, and also approved contracts of $41,400 for services connected with the survey and planning stages of Urban Renewal for the central business district.

After comments from several citizens, Mayor McAtee responded that he would be meeting this week with Police Chief Tom McGuire to discuss during a high traffic period. The mayor explained that the problem had just been brought to his attention earlier Tuesday and that it would be resolved between himself and McGuire rather than "washing the city's dirty linen in Novi Community Schools' board of education reviewed another proposal from Kaufman and Broad Homes on Tuesday and decided to continue negotiations for more land.

Trustee Ray Warren, chairman of the building and site committee, told board members Kaufman and Broad, local developer, has offered the district a new 9.5 acre elementary school site in a subdivision roughly bounded by Nine, Ten, Haggorty and Meadowbrook

The price of the land was pegged at $71,000.

A proposal aired at a previous meeting offered about 14 acres for $56,760, though the board felt much of this land was unusable. Though the newest proposal gives the school a requested five lots along Willowbrook Road and makes the creek the northern land boundary, a triangle of unusable land is created in the southeast corner of the site.

"I think $71,000 is a teriffic price for the land we are acquiring," Warren

"Forty-five percent of the land they offered," board president Bruce Simmons countered. "Kaufman and Broad cannot use. This is their only

Trustee Gil Henderson proposed the board "get two or three impartial people to give us an appraisal. Then we would have an objective price for the piece of land."

What outwardly appears to be a political concession by Wixom Mayor Wesley McAtee to State Senator George Kuhn (R. Birmingham) over a controversial storm drain proposed to discharge into Loon Lake might eventually prove to be a maneuver designed to place the burden of proof in the issue on the senator's shoulders.

he had personally discussed the situation with health officials and was confident the city was taking proper precautions, citizens re-enforced their objections with the council eventually responding by ordering the project stopped until Consulting Engineer Larry Patc could prepare a report in answer to charges.

The mayor on October 14 and again last Thursday revealed his belief that pollution in the lake was primarily being caused by faulty septic tanks serving lakeside households.

But objecting citizens, claiming Senator Kuhn's statement as an endorsement, insisted that the project be delayed awaiting further testing. Explaining that in accordance with its contract further delay would force termination because of expenses incurred, the council voted unanimously to abandon the project.

The senator's statement, besides asking that the project be delayed, also stated: "I have this date asked each of these state agencies to report back to me, personally, their findings on this controversy. I have also contacted the State Attorney General's office which is willing to stand by to assist the state agencies on any legal matters that may be involved."

Many people in the community feel the issue is being exploited by political aspirants with a city election just months away. Frequent charges against the council for alleged secret meetings have evolved from within the recently-organized league of Wixom voters with the mayor, whose office is one which will be decided in the spring, a favorite target during heated verbal exchanges.

With a thorough pollution study of the lake expected to take a year and realizing that existing fears would plague any project in the Loon Lake area, the mayor apparently decided to promote Senator Kuhn from his proposed role allowing Mayor McAtee to proceed with other business. And meanwhile, he expects that the senator will be taking time to prove the mayor's position both on the potential affects of the storm drain and the existing influence of septic tanks at lakeside.

Year-Round School Curriculum Change Seen as Possibility

Adoption of year-round schools in Northville could do much more than just save money on school construction, according to Miss Florence Panattoni, curriculum coordinator for Northville Schools.

"It could afford all of us, teachers, administrators, board members, parents and students, an opportunity to really revise and improve our curriculum. she said.

"It isn't very often a major change takes place in education which allows us to break away from the two semester approach to our subject matter.

"We will be able to examine new ways of designing blocks of information which could be more interesting, more in line with the needs possible and not depend so much on of our students and easier to what was taught in previous courses or comprehend," Miss Panattoni said.

"The exciting possibilities for improvement could give everyone a new enthusiasm for school which might last for years," she stated.

Changing from a two semester program to the quadrimester or four quarter plan would mean revising blocks of subject matter from the current 90 or even 180 day periods to the 60 day quarters.

Sixty-day quarters would put more of a premium on the time spent in each subject and force teachers and students to be more selective in what is taught and more careful of the way time is Greater flexibility would be built into the curriculum since students would choose courses three times a vear rather than twice a year.

Courses would have to be designed to stand on their own as much as in a following course.

A new method of giving credit for shorter terms would have to be devised and graduation requirements would have to be adjusted.

"Year-round schools would require fresh approach," according to Miss Panattoni, "and a fresh approach to any problem offers the possibility for progress and improvement."

Salem to Air Tax Questions

Do you own property in Salem Township?

If the answer to that question is "yes," then do you know the amount vour current State Equalized Valuation (SEV)? How much you will pay in taxes next year when the current equalization study is completed?

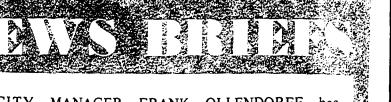

In order to answer these and other questions on property values in Salem Township, Supervisor Philip Brandon has called a meeting for Monday November 10 in the town hall. The meeting will be attended by Washtenaw County's director of equalization, George Kostishak and will begin at 8 p.m.

As property is equalized to the full 50 per cent of its market value, most of it increases in valuation. While this process does not increase your taxes in some cases it has even lowered taxes - it does increase the amount of money you pay for every mill levied. For this reason, every property owner in the township should be present at 7970 Dickerson Road for this meeting.

CITY MANAGER FRANK OLLENDORFF has recommended that Northville Township be notified that as of February 1, 1970, all dumping operations are to be discontinued to permit the city to start getting the property in shape for sale - including levelling, filling, and removal of cars and other junk. Meanwhile, the city's property committee has recommended that the sale price of the property be kept "quite low" to encourage quick industrial development. Sale at an attractive price, however, should include an agreement that development take place within a fixed period of time, perhaps one year, it has been stated.

THE NORTHVILLE township board held an unscheduled and private meeting Monday night. Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg noted that no action was taken, but admitted that the board discussed "the fish hatchery question." At this month's regular meeting the board voted 4-3 against joining with the city in development of the parcel for recreation. Monday night's meeting broke up shortly before midnight. The supervisor declined to say whether any members were ready to change their vote.

AFFIRMATION of the city public improvement plan of constructing a sidewalk on at least one side of each residential street within five years, through special assessment, appears likely. For years people who paid for new sidewalks in the city have asked when others would "be hit" as promised by the council in 1963, officials acknowledge.

WARRANT for the arrest of a suspect who police believe stole drugs from a local doctor's office has been denied by the county prosecutor's office on grounds of insufficient evidence. The warrant was denied because the Wavne police officer did not actually see the suspect drop a bag containing the drugs in Wayne. The suspect, who has a conviction record on narcotics charges, could argue that he merely looked at the bag and then ran, the prosecutor reasoned. Police Chief Samuel Elkins said his department arrested the suspect and held him eight hours for questioning when the prosecutor ordered his release.

Recall Petitions Cite Four Officials School Costs Top $2 Million

Final cost estimates for Northville's 1969-70 school building program have been pegged at $2,012,950.

The figure was disclosed at the Monday meeting of the Northville Board of Education by architects Ralls, Hamill, Becker Associates.

Final cost estimate is $140.305 higher than the schematic phase estimate.

Broken down by projects, Main Street Elementary, with added sidewall acoustical material, painted roof beams and new lights in the gymnasium, will cost $111,030; Moraine, with a new drainage system, $310,280; Amerman. $451,000; Cooke Junior High, with added electrical service, $421,640; and Northville High, with added ventilation for interior rooms, relocation of electrical service and addition of a folding wall, $719,000.

Rejected in the remodeling Main Street Elementary was an added $2,000 cost for the entrance.

The renovation of the entrance is included in the $111,030 figure, but the architect proposed masonry above the canopy, extending down the sides of the doorway and abutting the steps. Eugene Cook, trustee, said "I'd rather see the $2,000 added something else. This is not functional only pretty."

"I do not care what the building looks like," Trustee Richard Martin agreed. "It may be beautiful, but I'm concerned about whether it is doing the job."

The proposal was unanimously defeated. A cost of $140,906 for the architect's seven percent contingency will be added to the cost estimate A fixed fee of $139,800 was agreed upon by the board for the architect. Included is $32,800 for preliminary and schematic drawings, $80,000 for preparing the plans and $27,000 for supervision of construction.

While the date for the bonding election has not been established. January 26, 1970, was recommended by the architect as the date for awarding the bids for school construction. Bidding before bonding is unique in Michigan and school districts throughout the state are watching Northville to see if the procedure results in less cost as anticipated.

The time schedule includes November 10, construction drawings of

Court Doesn't Stop Tax Fight

Tuesday.

"We won't let it die," declared Delaney following the Ingham County Circuit Court's dismissal Friday of a suit against the State Tax Commission by his clients George N. Bennett of Northville Township, Gerald Sixbey of Green Oak Township, Robert Dwyer of Plymouth and Professor Eugene Kolb of Alma.

Specifically, the plaintiffs charged the state tax commissioner with failure the laws.

He Attorney Robert Delaney hinted maintained that the plaintiffs, headed by Dwyer, were merely expressing a general grievance rather than showing that the tax commissioner was not doing his job.

> "Naturally, I am disappointed that the court ... did not see fit to accept the challenge presented in the issues raised in the suit," said Delaney. "We must now explore other avenues by which my clients can obtain the relief they are entitled to receive.

The suit claimed that developed areas and municipalities in many areas in the state were in effect subsidizing the undeveloped areas for tax purposes It also claimed that areas, where the assessment policies were substantially below the 50-percent market value as required by law, are receiving a greater amount of state school aid than they are legally entitled to receive. While Roesch admitted that assessments in many areas are incorrect and unlawful, he argued that the "culprit" was not the tax commissioner, who owed no specific duty to the plaintiffs, but that "the fault must be laid at the door of the local assessors."

Among the communities studied to determine the extent of inequitable assessments, only Northville was found to be assessing almost entirely within the law, Delaney said.

In granting the delay, the commission stipulated that the hearing must be held November 25 whether the applicant is ready or not.

Levitt seeks to rezone 33 acres of land from multiple housing to a retail opportunities to meet people in my district are extremely important to me. The only way I can effectively represent all residents is to know their views, to know their problems, and what I can do for them in Washington".

"At the same time these visits give voters a chance to get a better gauge of their Congressman, which I welcome."

Esch said, "I am interested in hearing views on the many key issues before Congress, most of which influence our lives. Many are difficult, especially in this time of national stress, but I do believe that the best chance to solve them comes through candid discussion. We need all the wisdom we can get".

Northville Township Supervisor Plymouth, with Wayne County and the between the city and township of Plymouth-and he doesn't like it.

The fracus revolves around a proposal by the City of Plymouth that the Tonquish Drain, which originates in Northville Township, at Five Mile Road, be cleaned, widened and diverted to prevent flooding of Plymouth city property. The drain passes through Plymouth Township property, crosses city property, and then re-enters the township on its way south into Canton Township and eventually into the Rouge River.

Cost of the project, under Plymouth's proposal, would be shared by the city and the township of Gunnar Stromberg has been tagged as City of Detroit picking up the tab for the "unwilling referee" of a battle that portion of work proposed in Northville Township.

The Tonquish Drain, inside Northville Township, lies entirely upon property of the county's Child Development Center and the Detroit House of Correction, according to Stromberg, so there is "no danger" that Northville Township would have to share directly in the cost of the project.

It has been determined that two of the three major municipalities affected by the drain (the city and township of Plymouth and the township of Northville) must sign an agreement with the county to authorize the work. Such an agreement would force the

3. They voted to pay the police officer retroactively from May 13 to April 15, "which constitutes payment of township funds to a person not yet hired by the township board."

4. In disregarding the report of the police committee they "exhibited a disregard for safety and welfare of the taxpayers in Northville Township in that they are without sufficient and desired police protection."

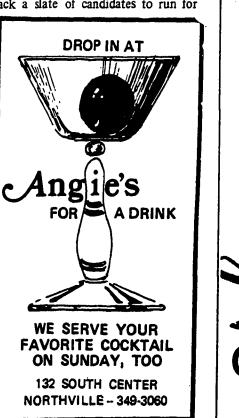

If sufficient signatures are obtained and the matter is put to a vote, and if electors vote by a simple majority to oust the officials, they are immediately removed from office. A second election would then be necessary to replace them.

Should all four members be removed, the remaining three members of the board would not constitute a quorum, which, according to one legal consultant, would mean no board meetings could be held until after new members are elected to replace those ousted.

In recall elections, the bill of complaint must be stated on the ballot in 200 words or less. Furthermore, defendants may state their defense on the ballot also in 200 words or less. It has not been definitely established if a single bill of complaint and a single defense is sufficient for all involved officials or if the ballot must contain separate complaints and separate defenses

Such a ballot, an attorney said, "could become pretty cumbersome."

According to Armstrong, if the recall drive and the election is Pancakes have become part of the tradition known as Homecoming here with the Presbyterian Church Men's Club annually hosting a supper in conjunction with the observance at Northville High School. Varying amounts of enthusiasm - probably dependent somewhat on how many 'cakes you've already eaten – is evident on pretty young faces, from top, of Cheerleader Jane Forrer, Denise Dildy and Jennifer Fieldma.

THE NORTHVILLE RECORD-NOVI NEWS

Homecoming probably means a little something different to most people and nothing to some but it's happily looked back upon or forward to by many students and alumni at Northville and Novi high schools

In Northville it's a pancake supper at the First Presbyterian Church followed by a parade through town to the football field, the football game and a big dance usually during which last year's graduating class returns to tell stories of adventures post-graduation. And this fall at Novi, homecoming had a historic significance with the event to welcome back the young school's first graduates - the Class of '69.

Blessed by chilly but pleasant weather, both homecomings feature plenty of beauty in their queens, genius in their floats and happiness for hearts young and old as an occasion for recalling pleasant memories became a pleasant memory itself.

Smiling faces were the order of the evening as Dr. John Brown presented his beaming daughter, Julie, to the homecoming crowd (above) and as Novi's lovely homecoming queen, Barbara Reska, is crowned by last year's queen, Cathy Carr (bottom left). Adding special color and excitement to festivities were the student-made floats that paraded around the field. Typical was this first-place "lunar craft" (below) produced by Northville seniors.

1a. Report on Fishery Recreation area. Baldwin reported that the City of Northville has put 23 thousand dollars into the project so far and expects, when completed, to have spent around 120 thousand, over a five year period. The expense will average about $27,500 per year. The city requested that the township join with them in this community project, as we do with the costs of the operation of the recreation department. Our share would be about fourteen thousand dollars a year. The city has applied to the state for funds to assist with this and the request has been approved

ROLL CALL: Present: Allen, Folino Lapham, Nichols and Rathert, Absent: None. ACCEPTANCE OF MINUTES: Minutes of the Sept. 15, 1969 meeting were accepte with the following corrections: page regarding C & O Depot - "Fire Chief" instead of DPW Supt., page 3, Request for Stop Signs in Northville Estates - add " Hump on Elsmere Dr." - to motion and "signs to let people know." Minutes of Sept. 22, 1969, accepted as submitted.

APPROVAL OF BILLS: This to b considered later on Agenda. COMMUNICATIONS: (a) Application for Parade Permit from Louis Westfall, Asst. Fire Chief, For Wed., Oct. 8, 1969, was read (Application has been approved by Police Dept.) Moved by Rathert, supported by Folino. o approve Parade Permit for observation of National Fire Prevention Week, for 7 p.m., Wed., October 8, 1969; route as stated in application. Unanimously carried.

(b) Communication from Michigan Public Service Commission regarding a Public Hearing at 9:30 a.m. on October 13, 1969 in the office of the Commission, Seven Story Office Building, Lansing, Michigan, to determine if proposed Michigan Bell Telephone Company's proposed Maintenance of Service Charge is just, reasonable and in the public interest.

to Council Members. COMMUNICATIONS FROM CITIZENS: Mrs. Beatrice Carlson, Chairman of the Beautification Commission, asked regarding the progress of the possible demolition of the C & O RR Depot. City Attorney said he had talked to the C & O and they are checking this possibility. Paul Steencken, 562 Randolph, requested a re-hearing regarding reimbursement for improvement of property on Randolph St. Mr. Steencken explained the situation created when Randolph St. was paved, relative to his property and the work he had done grading this land. City Mgr. felt that Mr. Steencken's explanation was an accurate one but questioned whether the City should be responsible. Matter turned over to City Attorney, Mr. Steencken also requested aid for a second driveway; stated it needed 10 yards of road gravel. This request was referred to City Mgr. and City Engineer; City Atty. asked that City Engineer review the work that had been done and meet with Mr. Steencken on same and then he, the City Atty, would meet with Mr. Steencken.

BOARD & COMMISSION MINUTES Zoning Board of Appeals' minutes of September 3, 1969 and Planning Commission minutes of September 16, 1969, were placed on file to be discussed at next meeting. PUBLIC HEARING FOR CENTRAL BUSINESS DISTRICT: City Mgr. stated that the Public Hearing had been held and was adjourned on July 7, 1969 until October 6, 1969 Council Meeting. He also outlined the proposed are to be rezoned (using a map). People speaking to the question were: Harley Cole, S. Center St.; Mr. W. Kron, attorney for Beckels at 114 N. Wing St.; the building. ATTY'S REPORT ON CHARTER REVISION COMMITTEE: The City Attorney explained the process for Charter Revision - Initiatory Resolution that is necessary and that 3/5 vote of Council is necessary in order to put on ballot for election. (Charter Commission can be elected at same time). He explained that Charter Amendment necessitates same process with Council proposing specific amendments. This matter to be discussed at a Work Session. At the next meeting there should be a choice made between a Committee or Commission NORTHVILLE ESTATES TRAFFIC

SAFETY REPORT: City Mgr. read his Memo No. 69-16 regarding the conclusions of the committee's conclusions on speed control and signing for Northville Estates. City Attorney suggested that City's Insurance Company's opinion be incorporated in a final report. This to be held over to October 20th

POSITION DISCUSSION: City Mgr. reported that in the last 2 or 3 weeks he has talked with two people that are interested in the position. Council suggested interviewing?

STREET PAVING PROGRESS REPORT: City Mgr. reported that Hill St. paving job was about 1/3 to 40% done on oth streets; actual paving will be done within next 2 weeks. With 3 exceptions all will be using their driveways by that time. (Councilman Folino inquired about Allen Drive widening project - City Mgr. hopes this will be done by November).

PLANNING LIASON REPORT: Councilman Rathert and the Ctiy Mgr. met with representatives of the Planning Commissions of both City and Twp. of Northville and representatives from the Northville Twp. Board. The group will meet roughly 4 times a year for an exchange on their respective planning - this would not be a regional planning body - strictly liason committee. It was also suggested that representatives from Novi and Canton be invited to attend some of these quarterly meetings. Not probable that Planning Consultant would attend these meetings.

APPROVAL OF BILLS: Moved by Folino, supported by Lapham to pay bills in the following amounts: $13.017.50 Debt Service Account . .35,597.08 General Fund . 77.02 Other Government 256.90 Public Improvement Fund. Street Fund 688.79 . .25,232.38 Water Fund U.C. CITY INCOME TAX: This discussion

One of the real traffic trouble spots in Northville's future is the intersection of Seven Mile and Northville roads.

Already it can be classified as dangerous. The elevated railroad crossing has been the scene of several train-vehicle crashes in the past decade or so and at least one death.

Imagine the traffic confusion when Levitt completes its 1,600 dwelling units on Seven Mile road and when a shopping center is finally located across from the development.

Even without a railroad crossing the Northville road-Seven Mile intersection is the most accident-inviting junction for vehicles in these parts.

The tracks are but a final challenge to the motorist who has successfully traversed the main portion of the obstacle course.

Local officials, both city and township, have appealed to the county road commission as well as the railroad. And now that a substantial boost in traffic is imminent, and consequently a greater chance for accidents, perhaps the time is ripe for second efforts.

Biggest hazard at the intersection is for the southbound Northville road motorist turning east on Seven Mile. He cannot see oncoming northbound traffic because of the rise in the road. When he finally decides it's safe to make his turn, he instinctively accelerates to avoid a possible collision and immediately comes upon the tracks at the top of a crest. If it happens to be during early morning hours, his vision is further blinded by the sun.

To a lesser degree the northbound Northville road motorist faces a risk as he approaches Seven Mile road. Although he has the right-of-way, there's always the chance that the southbound motorist is attempting a left turn and fails to see the approaching car as it comes up the rise.

About 15 years ago, when the so-called Seven Mile road cut-off was completed, the best plan for removing the Seven Mile-Northville road hazard was introduced.

(The "cut-off" is that portion of Seven Mile road between" Hines drive and Northville road on which John Mach Ford Sales and Good Time Party Store are located).

Under the road commission proposal the existing intersection at the railroad would have been eliminated entirely.

The Seven Mile road cut-off would be extended directly east across Northville road and under the elevated railroad track. Hence Seven Mile road would swing gently southward and join Seven Mile road near Reef Manufacturing, or the existing Gerald Avenue area.

Eliminated would be the dangerous left-turn over a blind rise; the railroad track crossing; and a degree of confusion that arises for strangers trying to follow the path of Seven Mile road.

Now that Northville road traffic has increased sharply with the addition of Kings Mill townhouses and Seven Mile road faces dense development within a very few years, county officials should dust off that old plan and take another look at the hazard facing motorists on Seven Mile and Northville roads.

You expect the kind of creeps who decorate walls with filthy phrases to hang around crummy latrines.

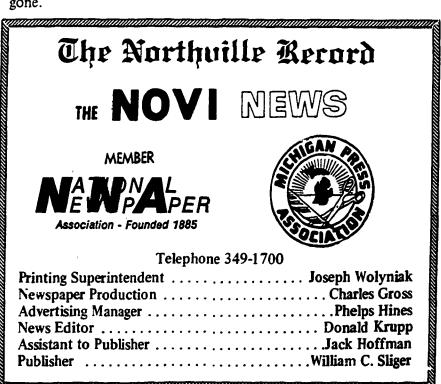

You're disappointed when they display their restroom artistry outside the walls of an institution of learning.

Understandably, the board of education has decided to take a "hard line" in finding and charging those responsible for the week-end painting at Northville High School.

It was a lousy trick. Even the perpetrators must realize this now.

A little advice for what it's worth. Confess. March up to Superintendent Spear and tell him you did it. Don't expect sympathy. Be ready to suffer the consequences.

That's the only possible good that can now come from the unfortunate episode. And when you're caught, that possibility is

If the example used either less pupils per teacher or a lower tuition amount per pupil, the Parochiaid benefits for the Church would be, of course, considerably larger.

It should be understood that any relief of a Church's school budget, regardless of whether that relief takes the form of goods, money, or services, would clearly result in a benefit to that Church.

Now that we have seen how Parochiaid would work, we can ask questions about the money the Church would save.

Q. How would the Church use the money it would save?

Ex-Trustee Slaps Township Bloc Vote

To The Editor:

Your Editorial "Speaking for the Record" could not have been more welcome, or come at a more opportune time. You wrote about only one instance where four of the Township Board Members voted in a bloc to have nothing to do with the City of Northville. If the residents would look back to other board meetings they would find that these same three have always voted together, and now they have a fourth cohort.

I believe Straub put it out in the open, and was speaking the sentiments of Mitchell and Lawrence, when he said in the interview with the Northville Record a few weeks ago, "If it has anything to do with the city – I am against it." The Fish Hatchery Recreation is only the last time they have voted together, and not for the residents, giving my reasons for leaving the Township Board, I stated that thought I could better serve or do more as a private citizen than I could while on the Board of Trustees. I have started recall for three out of the four, Lawrence – Straub and Mitchell. Smith cannot be recalled for 45 to 90 days after he has been in office. The recall petitions are being circulated in the Fownship now, and if any resident who has not been called upon and wishes either to sign or circulate a petition, please call me at 349-9944. There are residents who care and are concerned about what is going on in our township, and I am confident that they will be heard.

Speaking for Myself Scrap 'Trick or Treating? YES . . . NO . . .

Should kids 'Trick or Treat'?

One of my fondest memories of childhood is that of going door to door on Hallowe'en and begging, or 'trick or treating' for whatever that household had to give me. I believe I even recall fondly the belly-ache I usually suffered the following day.

The weather was usually nippy, sometimes it even snowed. But, if anything, foul weather heightened the anticipation and overall fun of the occasion.

We planned ahead for Hallowe'en - it was an occasion that only three events of the year overshadowed (birthday, Christmas and the last day of school, not necessarily in that order) - and kept "bugging" our parents daily about "why isn't Hallowe'en here vet?"

My two-year old son won't cover a very big area of town on his first Hallowe'en outing this year, but I'll bet he'll love every minute of it. And I would not, for anything in this world, deny him this opportunity to meet his neighbors and have good, wholesome fun at the same time.

I say, long live 'trick or treating'. Ernie Brown

The recent payoff of $50,000 by Mr. Carlo further obligates the city. We individuals would be foolish to believe that our voices could be heard after the city has prostituted itself to Mr. Carlo and the track.

To The Editor:

A few years ago I stated in a letter to the editor that the track expansion was a creeping paralysis, in which each rezoning lowers adjacent property values which are then grabbed off by the track at the deflated values. It is obvious and has been for years that it is the premeditated plan of the race track to methodically exploit the Beal Town area. Their presence is nuisance enough to lower values, forcing residents to sell at depreciated values.

The fate of a branch bank on Eight Mile Road, presently operating under a special variance granted by the administration, apparently will be decided next Tuesday by the Board of Appeals after indications from the City of Novi Council that it is satisfied with existing arrangements.

The City of Plymouth wants the work done, the Township of Plymouth does not, and the county is ready to get started. So the city has asked Supervisor Stromberg to sign the agreement in the absence of Plymouth

"Whatever I do I'll make enemies," explains Stromberg. "If I sign, the township won't like it and if I don't sign the city will be down on me."

To date the Northville supervisor has managed to avoid a confrontation by purposely stalling. "I've instructed our engineer to meet with the engineers of the city and township," Stromberg explains. "Besides, the Plymouth Township engineer is suppose to make a report on the drain and I'd like to see

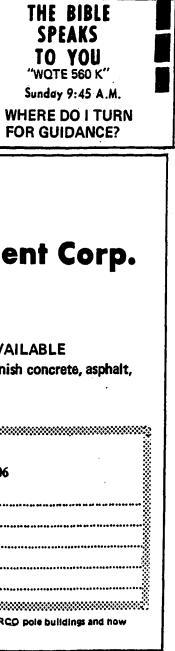

That report was slated to be evealed this week. Plymouth Township Supervisor John McEwen declines to give advance details of the report but nevertheless makes it clear that the engineer doesn't favor the city's proposal. The engineer suggests, according to McEwen, that it would be more economically feasible for the city to re-route the drain - by tunneling directly east into the Rouge River than cleaning out, widening, and re-routing the drain inside the township.

McEwen admits that this tunneling proposal would result in considerably more expense for the city - "but it would be cheaper for the other not nor is it likely to flood city property because of any conditions existing in the township. Furthermore, he argues that diversion - changing the route of the drain inside thhe township - could interfere with housing development plans there.

Andover - West Bloomfield Showdown: A Repeat?

It's that time of year again: There's a chill in the air, the leaves are falling regularly and seem to be blowing into your yard from every other yard in the neighborhood, the Lions are looking ahead to next season, the Pistons are looking ahead to next season, the Tigers are looking back and West Bloomfield and Bloomfield Hills Andover are preparing to square off in order to decide another Wayne-Oakland League football title.

Battin' the Breeze

The conference race - unfortunately, another duet - concludes Friday with the eyes and hearts turning towards Bloomfield Hills where Coach Art Paddy, the W-O's answer to Woody Hayes, sends his Lakers against the Barons of Coach Bob Kefgen, hopefully Andover's answer to Art Paddy. "It looks like it's going to be a real good ballgame," Kefgen, succumbing to the tendency amongst coaches to try and reveal as little as possible before The Big Game, observes. "We're hoping for a good ballgame," Paddy explains making the unfamiliar assume that the only difference between Paddy and Kefgen is the difference between hoping and looking. *****

Several others throughout the league are also looking for a real showdown but - and somewhat unexpectedly - many are favoring the hopeful Paddy and his rugged club.

But first the facts, for what they're worth when two neighbors get together for a little tackle football: West Bloomfield has a 5-0-1 record in the league, 5-1-1 overall while Andover is 6-0 in the Wayne-Oakland and 7-0 for the season with a fist full of shutouts; the Lakers are a rugged running team but have a reputation of being weak defensively while Andover, with five shutouts under its belt, appears to be proven on defense with a versatile attack.

Ironically, how the game appears on paper and how it will be played probably will have only incidental similarities. Many veterans in the league possess tremendous respect for Paddy and what he's able to do with what he's got. But, then again, Kefgen has proven himself keeping his club in contention for another year.

* It was this time of season last year when the Barons, with only one loss, were attempting to get a share of title action by defeating the unbeaten Lakers. And West Bloomfield won, 34-13.

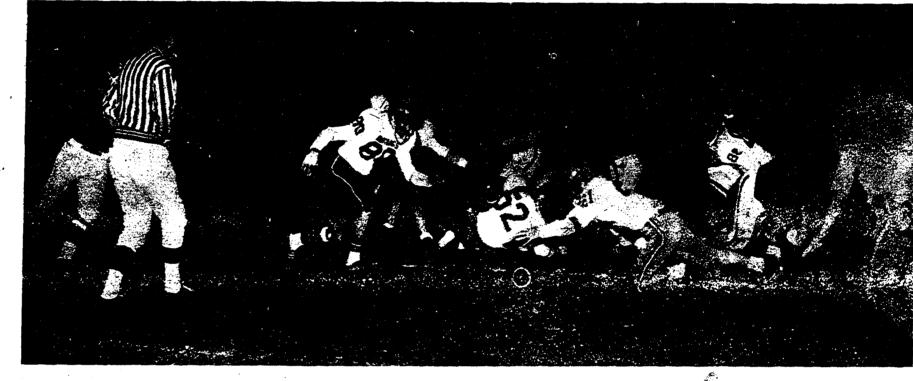

"I think West Bloomfield is going to win - there's no doubt in my mind," Mustang Coach Al Klukach relates. "They execute so well." "I would say probably Andover," first-year W-0 mentor Keith Anderson explains from Brighton. "I think they're stronger physically."

Anderson also observed that the Lakers have no proven passing threat making it reasonable to assume that an already tough Andover defense can stack against the run. "Andover definitely has got a better aerial game," he adds. "I think it's going to be an offensive game (West Bloomfield) against a defensive game (Andover)," Clarkston's Paul Rakow, another first-year coach in the league, states. "I'll have to pick West Bloomfield." ******

to bet, I'd pick West Bloomfield," Kettering Coach Jim Larkin sums referring apparently to the Lakers ability to prepare for the big games. "The record really goes out the window at this point," ex-Mustang Coach Ron Horwath, now principal at Cooke Junior High School, observes. "I'll favor West Bloomfield, not necessarily on record but on terms of personnel and defense - I think they hit harder.

"I'd have to go with West Bloomfield from what I've seen earlier this year." Mustang Athletic Director Bob Kucher reports. "I thought their execution was real good against us and I think they have better backs.

"The only advantage I see for Andover is they pass better," he continues. Paddy, the league's dean of coaches in his 13th season, immediately responds to any inquiries with his automatic nonchalance. It seems that big Terry Urguhart, the Lakers' 239-pound center, has missed the last two games and is doubtful for Friday with Paddy the first to observe that without him. his line averages only 164¹/₂ pounds per man.

And West Bloomfield is also coming off a 16-16 tie last Friday with Milford which ruined its chances at a perfect league record. But as Klukach has said from the outset, Milford has good personnel and was a bonafide contender when the season began.

Kefgen, on the other hand, is more the aggressor than Paddy being a few years younger and just naturally a pretty aggressive guy. "I hope to be ready for them," he explains. "They're quick, fake well and are well-coached.

"But I think we're stronger defensively and I think the game will be decided on defense." he concludes. Kefgen obviously has been right about a lot of things this season -6-0

Unfortunately - or fortunately, the Wildcats can identify with last year's St. Mary team since things haven't been going so well for them this season and hopefully they can pull an upset over the Flint school, victorious in its last four games which - fortunately or unfortunately - is similar to experiences preceding an upset in the 1968 contest.

The Wildcats will be taking a 1-5 mark into Friday's game with the losses all coming following an impressive victory over Hartland in the opener. St. Mary, however, was able to shake a losing string early in the year having three consecutive defeats at the beginning of the season.

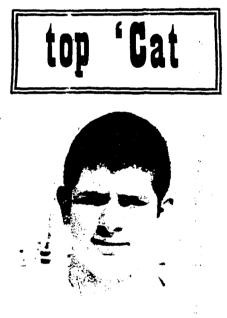

Osborne and his charges will naturally be expecting a rough game because the parochial school has a spoil a drive that originated at its 30 reputation for being rugged, win or

Game time, contrary to that announced earlier in the season, will be 7:30 p.m.

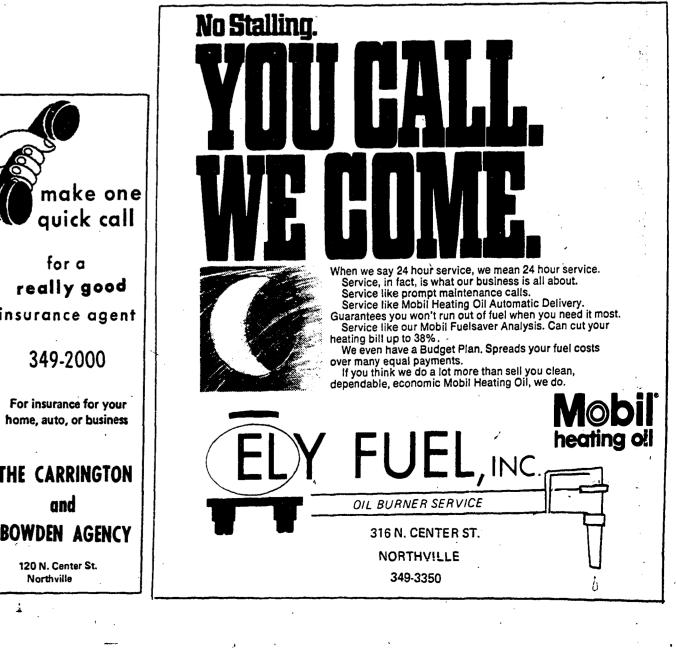

Osborne sums up Friday's 12-6 loss to visiting Ypsilanti Lincoln in one word: "Frustrating."

The Wildcars statistically dominated the contest but, seems that Friday everytime the Wildcats fumbled in was deep in Lincoln territory and right into the Jap of an opposing player.

Osborne plans to give sophomores Steve Bosak and Rick Marvin considerable playing time in the offensive backfield Friday with hopes that the more rested regulars can hang Wildcat lineman Tom VanWagner has been cited by Coach John Osborne this week for his performance against Ypsilanti Lincoln last Friday Osborne reported that a majority of the team's offensive yardage was gained through holes provided by the junior tackle.

Underground Swamp Boosts Cost of Amerman Addition

Northville school board members learned Monday that it will cost an additional $25,000 over and above the cost estimate of $451,000 to build the Amerman school addition.

Architects revealed to the board and the 30-member audience that test borings showed the proposed addition site at the west end of the school will require concrete piers varying from seven to 23 feet in depth.

The land is the site of an old swamp that was thought to only extend beneath a small portion of a corner of the addition. Borings revealed the swamp extends beneath more than half of the addition site.

Mumblings of "Everybody knows there's a swamp on the site" were countered by the board. Trustee Eugene Cook said "We found an old site plan that has the swamp sketched

The architect said concrete beams could be put over the piers to support the walls and the floor would be constructed on a reinforced concrete

There were those in the journalistic profession who went a step beyond objectivity, into the realm of interpretation. The New York Times, for one, follows this policy of interpreting events for the reader in news stories.

Interpretation isn't liable to raise any eyebrows, not as long as the reporter keeps his finger on the age-old practice of objectivity. Nevertheless, it was a crack in the argument. Just how far should one other policy areas, and are willing go to interpret?

The editorial page was the only legitimate place to express one's opinion, old timers insisted: for the newspaper in the form of an editorial clearly identified, for the reader in the form of a Letter to the Editor.

As one newspaper man put "Maybe I'm old-fashioned, but I feel very strongly about the purity of the news columns. Pure objectivity might not exist, but you have to strive for it anyway."

Now a new breed is beginning to stir. The activism that was on the streets has now mounted the stairs and entered the editorial offices. Staffers within the publishing community are now questioning the old values.

To them, "Objectivity" is a myth which should be consigned to the waste basket where it properly belongs. So what's new? says the old hand. Just this.

New staffers of some major daily newspapers and weekly news magazines are taking active sides on the scene, while covering news events. They say: "Look, I'm a person. I'm involved. I won't sit on the fence, because personally I'm not on the fence. Objectivity is a mere pretense.

What does it all mean for the journalistic profession? It means some turbulent, if not interesting, times ahead. It means a close look at editorial and other publishing policies.

But it won't solve one thing. It won't answer the question of objectivity. That is a moot argument. Call it objectivity or fairness, the ends are the same: truth in reporting, which all responsible newspaper men are seeking.

AIP politicoes are taking dead aim on the 1972 presidential election, with George Wallace once more in the forefront.

"George Wallace is going to run for governor of Alabama in 1970," said Robert Miles. former secretary for the Michigan AIP who is now coordinator for the state group and its prime spokesman. Miles lives in Howell, seat of a very active cell.

"I was down in Alabama just three weeks ago," he said. "All the effort right at the moment of the governor (Wallace, although he presently is not governor) and his people is concentrated in Alabama."

Miles said Lester Maddox, the segregationist governor of Georgia, is the odds-on favorite as Wallace's running mate. "Leaving all publicity aside that appears in all the newspapers...If you ever met the guy, he isn't the redneck that he's been painted up north," the state party coordinator said.

"He has good relationships in Georgia, generally, with the black colored police," he added. "The man is not a college man, but he's highly well read. And I think that Maddox would do a very good job."

Miles admitted that Wallace and party workers view the governorship of Alabama as merely a launching pad for another presidential bid. As governor, Wallace would command more attention and prove his appeal as a political candidate has not diminished as a result of his 1968 election defeat That's not all that the AIP has or

It was LeMay's response to questions about use of nuclear weapons in Vietnam that sunk Wallace's chances, Miles declared. Now I don't know how you cut it, but with 200 million people, of which vou've got 178 million being White, vou can't call it anything other than a White man's country."

The AIP espouses a three-part society to advance their separatist ideas: White communities, black communities, and integrated communities. Each community, Miles says, would have the power in a "grandfather clause" to determine who would be included in it and excluded from it.

"Our point," Miles said, "is that you're going to have separatism by natural means anyway. It doesn't have to be forced. The White people have been clearing the block not because the Black man is Black, it's because his culture, his ways, his instincts are different than the Whites."

"Possibly," Miles continued, "in the integrationist theories are correct, the buffer cities (mixed or integrated) will expand. They will gradually absorb the other communities through educational processes."

The AIP coordinator says that at least in Livingston County a large number of John Birch Society members are members of the AIP. Yet, Miles says the two organizations are not in lockstep.

"Well, the fact that our position on states rights is comparable to their belief that the state is supreme, not the federal government" appeals to John Birchers, Miles explained.

"We're anti-Communist to the extent that we are willing to take militant actions if necessary on the part of police forces or anything to subdue any demonstrations or any activities of Communists or pro-Communists. So Continued on Page 8-B

Priorities For Safety Revealed

Noel C. Bufe, executive director of the Michigan Office of Highway Safety Planning (Governor's coordinator) has submitted to Governor Milliken the following list of priorities for action by the 1970 Legislature:

1. Legislation to reduce the presumptive level of blood-alcohol from the present 0.15% to 0.10% - the determinant of whether a motorist is driving a vehicle under the influence of alcohol. Repeated tests and surveys show that the 0.15% level is too generous, that this level of intoxication is far beyond the so-called "social" drinking standard, that alcohol is a factor in more than 50 per cent of all fatal auto crashes, that the heavy drinker is involved in far more crashes than other drivers, that a person at the 0.15% alcohol level is 25 times more likely to be involved in a crash than the driver who has not been drinking and that the person with 0.10% alcohol level is seven times more likely to have a crash than the person not drinking. Twenty-four states now have the 0.10%

2. Legislation to establish uniform procedures for determining the blood-alcohol level of victims, drivers and adult pedestrians in fatal auto accidents who die within four hours of a crash.

3. Legislation to permit the chemical testing of drivers who survive accidents in which some one else was killed.

The reasons for No. 3 are same as for No. 2 - to establish a foundation for effective countermeasures. 4. Legislation to require that a motorist be examined and licensed for the class of motor vehicle he will be

5. Licensing and regulation of commercial driver training schools and their instructors. At present Michigan only regulates commercial schools training youths under 18 years of age. Many authorities have pointed to cases of incompetency and even fraud by some commercial schools, especially those catering to the uneducated and disadvantaged.

6. Statuatory establishment of a medical committee to advise driver licensing authorities on medical and visual standards for licensing and to evaluate individuals whose mental or physical conditions may be making them a hazard to other drivers. Presently this task is performed by the administrative personnel of the Department of State who do not have the technical skill to do the job properly. The purpose of the legislation would be to make sure that only those persons mentally and physically competent may drive and also to protect the driving privilege of persons whose abilities have been unfairly challenged. 7. Legislation requiring mandatory training of police recruits.

Michigan has an outstanding program of in-service training for police officers and recruits - but it is wholly voluntary. The purpose of the recommendation is that all new police officers be trained before they go on the job, including traffic law enforcement.

8. Legislation to permit law enforcement officers to make sure vehicle defects are corrected after they have been detected in the random check-lane inspection program. Presently only about 11 per cent of the cars found to be defective in the check lanes are returned for re-inspection to make certain the defects have been corrected. The federal government has been pressing Michigan to adopt compulsor periodic motor vehicle inspection but has indicated it would accept, at least for the time being, the random check system works.

Submission of these proposals to Governor Milliken does not mean that h necessarily will recommend them to the Legislature when the next session starts i January.

Senator Flops In Hero's Role

If it's not said anyplace else I feel it must be said here: State Senator George Kuhn (R-Birmingham) is playing the Loon Lake drain issue for what it's worth politically, in his own best interest, and I feel that such "leadership" will prove costly - indollars-and-cents and, more importantly, in relations within this community.

The senator entered the controversy on October 23 and requested that work on the drain, and therefore the road improvement program of which it is a part, be halted "subject to final review and approval by the SOakland County Health Department, the State Health Department and the State Water Resources Commission."

By unanimous action of City Council on October 14 the project had been ordered to a standstill pending a report by Consulting Engineer Larry Pate concerning allegations that upon completion, the storm drain would feed hazardous quantities of pollutant into the lake at a: popular bathing site. ******

In commynis ULGES HOM THE COUNCIL - MON advised Ben Fyke and Sons contractor for the project the following day "to cease all sewer installation work over the balance of the week" to allow further time to clarify the future of the program.

Work then was halted on Thursday, October 16 but resumed October 22 in order to advance the project to a practical point of termination be it permanent or temporary. On October 225 the engineer directed a report to the council "as a result of action taken ... October 14" in which he reviewed the program's status and introduced a proposal to continue the project after at sampling and testing procedure is established to check the flow from the drain and fif such tests prove waters of the lake at the beach. area in question, the city willre-locate the outlet further downstream or do whatever else is practical – physically and financially - to relieve the problem."

And then on October 23 the senator, obviously acting on hearsay rather than fact, requested work stopped where work had already been stopped, and proposed review. of the issue which had just been received.

Hosting a session, in Lansing last Thursday, Senator Kuhn proceeded to discuss things which had already been discussed and then it was decided it would be reasonable Continued on Page 9-A

A request necessary to continue operations of a branch bank on Eight Mile Road near Haggerty Road was refused National Bank of Detroit on Tuesday by the Board of Appeals after a heated discussion which included charges issued by Chairman Kenneth Bassett that opposing members acted out of order on the

Vol. 16, No. 25, 24 Pages, Two Sections

Building Inspector Earl Bailey yesterday (Wednesday) informed officials of the NBD that their Eight Mile Road office would have to be closed immediately in accordance with the board's decision.

The bank located at the site, zoned for commercial-thoroughfare (C-T), late in September and addressed its appeal to the board at the October session. But members tabled the request asking for clarification from City Attorney Howard Bond on its authority in the matter.

In accordance with zoning regulations, a bank must receive permission from the Board of Appeals before being allowed to operate in a C-T zone.

According to Bailey, bank officials established offices in a trailer unit at the site in September and were notified by the building inspector that they were out of order. At the direction of Bond, Bailey granted the bank a special variance to be in effect until the Board of Appeals could decide the issue.

Member Ray Warren moved that the appeal be granted and received support from Bassett, Fred Buck and Roger Christensen but Andre Hansen and Louie Campbell voting in opposition denying the request the necessary two-thirds of seven necessary for approval.

Bassett stated after the vote that he felt "some members" hadn't considered the request but had instead been influenced "by other factors.'

Hansen, in questioning NBD representatives at the session, asked: "And all the time you've been in this community, you haven't become aware of its ordinances?'

The bank spokesman emphasized his feeling that NBD had been mistaken in its procedure but he stated that its appeal was on the hove a sector use. "Would you say then that the National Bank of Detroit valued our money potential and not our ordinances?" Hansen asked. "I for one am not very impressed by that type of operation. "The strength of our laws is the respect of our laws," he added. "You of all people should realize that."

"I believe that this type of business is completely consistent with the others allowed in this zone," Bassett stated. Buck questioned the intent of the bank in establishing itself without following proper procedures. "I don't know what their intent has to do with this," Warren responded. "We're to rule on the use of this property." Warren then moved that the appeal be granted and Christensen supported. Hansen was the first called to cast his vote and he asked to be passed in order for more time to consider the issue.

Warren, Bassett, Buck and Christensen then voted in favor of the appeal with Campbell, and finally Hansen, opposed. The charter requires that a two-thirds majority of the seven-member board – regardless of whether or not the total is present – be received for approval on certain issues.

"I have previously stated to this board that in voting on a motion, I want a decision on that subject and not on a sidetrack," Bassett observed. "This is what has happened here and my advice hasn't been honored.

"I'm definitely against the matter in which this case has evolved but this cannot alter my opinion on the use of that property," he added. "And we're to decide the use of that property as requested by this appeal and not that procedure."

An emergency trial run from Loon Lake Road through the city to the Wixom Credit Union near the expressway has at least temporarily put Police Chief Tom McGuire on the defensive at City Hall. Appealing to City Council to restrict the practice, Mrs. Jill Hall, of 2915 Maganser Street, revealed last week Tuesday that she had instituted a one-man investigation into the incident and found it to be "very irregular" within area police departments. "I've talked to several people and I just don't think I'm going to sit back and let these test runs be held at these times of day," the housewife emphasized. Mrs. Hall explained that she had learned that the chief had ordered a patrolman to drive a police car from Loon Lake Road to the credit union "about 3 p.m." one weekday with siren blaring and lights flashing at a time when youngsters were enroute home from school.

The mayor responded to Mrs. Hall's observations by stating that he had first learned of the incident himself

A controversy over installation of a storm drain at a popular bathing site in Loon Lake, having dominated a spirited series of Wixom Council meetings within the last three weeks, returns home from Lansing this week with apparent agreement amongst state and county officials that the project can safely be continued if a special testing procedure is instituted.

Mayor Wesley McAtee revealed Friday, after a session the day before with Senator George Kuhn and state and county health officials, that he plans to ask council to re-consider its $128,000 road improvement program - probably at the next regular meeting Tuesday - with his recommendation that it act in reversing an earlier decision in order to proceed with the project under provisions that the quality of discharge from the drain satisfy standards set by the Oakland County Department of

The mayor explained that Thursday he and several other city officials and citizens, along with County Supervisor Lew Coy (R-Wixom), met with Senator Kuhn and, after lengthy discussion with officials of state and county health agencies, agreed that the project could proceed without danger of hazardous pollution if the council would agree to meet conditions proposed by Consulting Engineer Larry Pate in a October 22 letter to the city.

The conditions, revealed briefly by the engineer at a special council meeting October 23 and apparently discussed in detail Thursday, stipulate that the County Health Department establish a sampling and testing procedure to check the flow from the drain and "if such tests prove unsatisfactory when related to waters of the lake at the beach area in question, the city will re-locate the outlet further downstream or do whatever else is practical - physically and financially - to relieve the problem." Pate's proposal apparently evolved after he was directed by the council on October 14 to review the project during a delay in construction ordered that night after a delegation of approximately 110 citizens expressed fears that if the drain was completed, it might serve to contribute large quantities of pollutant to the lake.

The drain is incorporated along with curb-and-gutter and surfacing in a major road improvement program for Bell Coney and Maganser streets in Birch Park Subdivision. Mayor McAtee emphasized Friday that the future of the project would be decided by the council. He also observed that he thought the contractor - Ben Fike of Novi - would consider resuming the project which has been shut down since October 22. Council voted October 23 to abandon the road improvement program after citizens mounted objections claiming that the drain, designed to service the roadways, would contribute hazardous amounts of pollutant to the lake.

A large delegation of citizens, the majority of whom apparently were lakeside residents, had launched the confrontation with the council on the issue October 14 after Supervisor Coy, also a Birch Park homeowner, had ordered tests and then alleged that drainage from the outlet would endanger earlier Tuesday and that he would proceed to consider and resolve the matter but emphasizing: "I will not wash the city's dirty linen in public." "So other words you will handle this without the public participating,' Mrs. Hall stated.

"This is an administrative matter and that's how I'll handle it," Mayor McAtee explained. "I would like all the information you have on this."

The mayor revealed he had arranged to meet with the chief and patrolman in order to discuss the incident last week Wednesday and then proceed with its disposition.

"It's a pretty embarassing situation to try to have administrative problems handled from both sides of the fence," Mayor McAtee stated. "I've never made a practice of washing the city's dirty linen in public and I don't plan to start now."

The chief, appointed to head the department in mid-August, also came she challenged rumors that an effort men to fill two additional positions in the department. "There's a lot of concern amongs citizens about out-of-state policemen, Mrs. Parvu, an out-spoken critic of McGuire since his arrival, related "What I'm saying is that certainly we have qualified men here in Oakland County.

The councilwoman explained that she had learned that candidates from Maryland and Washington, D.C. are being considered for employment in the department. Chief McGuire was an special agent with the Department of Defense in Washington before assuming his position.

Mayor McAtee labeled Mrs. Parvu's concerns as "a little premature and misguided."

"I'm just telling you how the people feel," she summed. Councilwoman Parvu, addressing could investigate allegations and prepare a report to clarify the status of the project.

Then on October 23, called together in a special session primarily to consider re-appropriations for the police department and to decide pending life insurance for municipal employees, the council was again confronted by an aroused crowd of citizens with heated discussion advancing progress report on Pate's study to a point of decision with unanimous approval by the council to abandon the project and to begin negotiations with Fike for a settlement.

Pate explained at the October 23 session that delays incurred for extensive testing requested by citizens would increase the cost of the project to a point which would be prohibitive for the city to assume. He also stated that a detailed study to evaluate causes of pollution in the lake would take "as long as one year" - too long, Pate explained, to delay the project under conditions within the existing contract.

Senator Kuhn (R-Birmingham) entered the controversy on October 23 when he addressed a telegram to the mayor asking that "you stop further work on this project subject to final review and approval by the Oakland County Health Department the State Health Department and the State Water Resources Commission."

Mayor McAtee last week Tuesday announced plans to meet with Senator Kuhn-and officials from the State Health Department and State Water Resources Commission in Lansing on Thursday.
