

Council Considering Millage for Roads

Mayor Joseph Crupi has asked the City of Novi Council to consider placing a millage request to establish a road improvement fund before citizens at the regular election on April 6.

And Councilman William O'Brien also indicated Monday that he might personally direct a referendum petition in order to have a proposal for one-half mill for parks and recreation to be placed on the same ballot.

Road conditions became a topic of discussion at Monday's meeting of the council when Councilman Denis Berry observed that Meadowbrook between Nine Mile and Ten Mile "is probably the longest I've ever driven over in my life."

City Manager Dallas (Barney) Zonkers explained that Department of Public Works crews have had difficulty maintaining the non-surfaced roadway because of its increasing traffic load. Mayor Crupi interjected that the lack of necessary equipment is a factor hindering the DPW in road maintenance.

"There's no question about this section of road being in terrible condition," Zonkers stated. "But on a gravel road you have to hit it just right - with the weather and all - and then with heavy traffic you soon find yourself right back where you were."

"I think it's a good idea that we consider putting a mill or two mills aside for roads," the mayor said.

Two mills would represent about $100,000 in revenue per year at present valuations, according to city officials. A mill is one dollar in taxes for every thousand dollars in assessed

Michigan Public Service Commission because of the low road elevations approaching the crossing between Novi Road and Meadowbrook.

"We've got to have something done there," Councilman Edwin Pressnell observed. "Frankly, if there was an accident there, I feel we would be liable."

Zonkers revealed that he has been studying alternatives for financing road improvements.

"Let's wait for Barney's survey on this but I think you're going to have to go to the people and ask for two mills for about 10 years," the mayor stated.

Two mills would represent about $100,000 in revenue per year at present valuations, according to city officials. A mill is one dollar in taxes for every thousand dollars in assessed property value. Besides Nine Mile and Meadowbrook, the condition of Taft Road also has been a frequent topic of discussion amongst the council within recent months.

Councilman David Harrison also suggested Monday that the council "start working on parks and recreation."

"I think we ought to have some thoughts on this now because we'll soon be faced with land acquisition here," he observed. "I think we're going to be called upon soon to account for a program in this area."

The Novi Jaycees have revealed that they're in the process of preparing a presentation to be made before the council in regards to community needs in parks and recreation.

O'Brien expressed his support of Harrison's position and he also explained that he has been studying the possibility of an initiative referendum to go back to the people and see if they want to set aside funds for this purpose."

O'Brien, who first introduced the possibility of requesting one-half mill for recreation at a council session early last summer, indicated that he would personally participate in the campaign with hopes of placing the half-mill request on the spring ballot.

Although the mayor did not state specifically, his request for council to consider a millage request for roads was assumed to be directed towards making a decision in time to place it on the same ballot if councilmen supported the idea. The tax rate within the city currently is six-and-one-half mills.

Just Something To Think About

City of Novi Council has anguished for some time now over the general condition of this community's roads and Mayor Joseph Crupi's request that councilmen consider seeking additional tax dollars for improvements is one that should also be taken seriously by citizens at this time.

Acting within the limitations of the City Charter, the council will only decide whether or not to propose a millage request on the ballot at the spring election. And if it makes it to the ballot, the citizens will decide if a road improvement program will make it to reality.

The council's responsibility at this time is as it always is: to act in the best interest of the community, and roads are a key factor in sprawling community like this one.

And the citizen must concern himself with the issue because old roads don't improve themselves. Additional mills means more money to improve the roads.

The new council is expected to place on the ballot for the citizens' decision. It won't be should the roads be improved. It'll be should we improve the roads - and that's where we divide the citizens from the taxpayers.

The issue, however, is simple: it won't be just dollars and cents - it'll be dollars and cents for better roads.

It may be premature to take your stand on more tax dollars for better roads but it's not too early to give it some serious thought. Bad roads are a drag on your wallet and more costly to repair and eventually either this spring or later - you're going to have to decide whether you want to live with bad roads or whether you want to improve them.

The role of the council is to provide a possible road improvement program. Unfortunately, it isn't just a matter of deciding whether or not to place the issue on the ballot. The difficult part of the situation, and this is where the citizens' councilmen are called upon to act, is to make a decision on whether or not to improve the roads. It's a decision that will affect the quality of life in this community.

So, the next time you're driving along the way, take a moment to think about the condition of the roads. It's just something to think about.

Board to View Debated Site

Doubts On Price

Appraisal of a controversial elementary school site is tentatively scheduled for Friday morning, Novi Community School board of education members were informed Tuesday.

Trustees will accompany Harold Ackley, city assessor, and an appraiser to view the site offered to the school district by Kaufman and Broad Incorporated. The parcel of land, located in the southeastern portion of the district, has been offered for sale at $85,000, while the board values the land at $60,000.

The new elementary school, approved by voters as part of a $45 million building and property acquisition program in early September, is tentatively scheduled to be completed in 1971.

In other business Tuesday, contracts were ratified with the superintendent and the district secretary, a board of canvassers was appointed, a program with Eastern Michigan University was endorsed and the position of principal for the new elementary school was discussed.

A three-year contract with Superintendent Thomas Dale was approved by board members, retroactive to July 1, 1969. Recommended by the board's personnel committee, the contract states that 120 days notice must be given prior to expiration date to terminate or renew the agreement. His salary is $18,800 per year.

The district secretaries were granted a 10 cent per hour increase, retroactive to July 1, 1969. The one-year contract ranges from $1.95 per hour for class one, step one secretaries, to $2.25 per hour for class three, step eight personnel.

Mrs. Claude Earl and James Mitchell were reappointed to terms on the board of canvassers for the district. Their terms will continue through June 30, 1970.

All school district canvassing boards will be abolished on July 1, 1970. All succeeding elections after that date will be canvassed by the Oakland County Board of Canvassers.

'Newsboys' Eye Sale To Aid Unfortunate

Christmas will be a little brighter for many Novi-Wixom families - thanks to the efforts of the Goodfellow organizations in the two communities which next week will conduct their annual newspaper sales.

Said The Novi News, donated by the publisher, is one of the ways the Goodfellows raise funds for aiding families who might otherwise have a pretty dismal Christmas. Receipts from the sale are used to purchase food, clothing and gifts.

While the sales conducted by the Goodfellows of each community are separate projects, they have the same common goal: "Help us brighten Christmas for those, especially children, who haven't much else to look forward to during the holiday season."

Novi Goodfellows will sell their newspapers throughout the community on Friday and Saturday, December 5-6. Persons knowing of a family that can use some help are asked to call MA 4-1248, MA 4-5622 or FI 9-3396.

Wixom Goodfellows will sell their newspapers December 6 through December 8. They will be delivered or sold to homes on December 6 and 7 and will be sold at the Lincoln plant on December 8.

Restaurant Planned At Novi Road Site

A developer has announced that he has received a franchise from a major restaurant chain and that he will locate the business here on Novi Road near the expressway.

Ron Lord, of Orchard Lake, reports that construction of an Elias Brothers' Big Boy will begin "as soon as the ground is ready" with an opening planned for "late spring or early summer."

According to Lord, the facility will be located on about one-acre of property on the west side of Novi Road, south of the expressway. The

Rezoning Request Tabled at Wixom

A request to rezone property on Pontiac Trail near Spencer Airport to accommodate a suburban contractor was heard and tabled Tuesday with the Wixom City Council deferring action to a later session.

Over 'Trial Run' Chief Issues Apology

An emergency trial run by the Wixom Police Department through the city has officially been declared a mistake with Chief Tom McGuire assuming "full and complete responsibility."

McGuire's statement was issued yesterday (Wednesday) one week after Wixom City Council held a closed hearing on the incident, and apparently was drafted in order to clarify the role played by Officer Wally Sprenger in the "test" on October 22.

Mayor Wesley McAtee revealed at a council meeting Tuesday that "the problem has been resolved" with Sprenger, apparently upon the advice of his attorney, deciding against pressing in an earlier demand for a public hearing on the matter.

Sprenger was the driver of a patrol wagon routed over streets with heavy pedestrian traffic.

The mayor reported on November 5 that he had handled the matter as "an administrative affair" and that the chief had been reprimanded. But Sprenger, referring to an article in the November 6 issue of the Detroit News and claiming that his role in the incident had been misrepresented by published comments of the chief, addressed the council and asked for a public hearing.

A one paragraph letter signed by Chief McGuire and released through Sprenger's attorney made reference to the incident and then concluded: "I apologize to Officer Sprenger, to the members of this department and to the City of Wixom for the embarrassment and adverse public reaction the test has caused. Any criticism of the trial run should be directed to me personally as chief of police and to no other individual or group."

Thieves Return To Area

A pair of daylight burglaries in the same neighborhood along Nine Mile Road within a four-day span last weekend has caused the City of Novi Police detective bureau to report its appeal for citizens to repeat any suspicious vehicles traveling in predominantly residential areas.

Household items valued at nearly $500 were reported missing Monday from the Herman Wedemeyer residence at 45189 Nine Mile Road after the house apparently was entered by forcing a door in the daytime.

According to Detective Sergeant Richard Faulkner, listed amongst the missing items were two women's coats, a portable tape recorder and cash amounting to $129.

Faulkner also reported that detectives are investigating the breaking-and-entering last Friday of the John Brueganer residence at 46040 Nine Mile Road.

Method of entry again was by a forced door, the sergeant explained, and missing was a shotgun, rifle, portable television and stereo unit.

"People should be aware that this type of activity is occurring in the city and they should notify us - just pick up their telephones and call - when they see any suspicious vehicles," Faulkner observed.

City of Novi Mayor Joseph Crupi (seated) and Jaycee Chuck Collins share the gavel in announcing a reminder for the special "Ask The Council" session to be held Tuesday at the Community Building. The program, designed to give citizens and councilmen an opportunity to discuss community problems and projects, will begin at 8 p.m.

In Our Town

THANKSGIVING - to Christmas is a 28-day season of reunions, bazaars and parties.

Many local organizations traditionally fele life members or past officers at this time.

This year Our Lady's League of Our Lady of Victory Church will honor the Northville Town Hall committee as well as its past presidents at a potluck dinner at 6:30 p.m. next Tuesday at the church.

Mrs. F. F. Ishac, league president, explains that this seems an appropriate time to honor the town hall workers who have made the current season another successful one. (Since inception Town Hall has been sponsored by Our Lady's League which shares the proceeds with other organizations with the feeling that it has been so strongly supported by the community that others should benefit.)

A blessing of the advent wreath will precede the dinner Tuesday. A program will follow the tributes and a short business meeting. Games and prizes will conclude the evening.

MOTHERS' Club continues the tradition of honoring life members at the Christmas potluck party, scheduled for 6:30 p.m. December 8 at the home of Mrs. H. O. Evans, 20311 Woodhill Road, club president.

Punch and hors d'oeuvres will precede dinner.

Always a popular meeting, the program includes the exchange of small gifts, usually the handwork of members. In addition to greeting life members, the club will be welcoming a new member, Mrs. Edward Hodge.

Mrs. Frederick Hart is hostess chairman of the evening, assisted by Mrs. Richard Huston, Mrs. Robert Bogart and Mrs. Stanley Schaefer.

HOLIDAY plans were made by Northville's Business and Professional Women at their dinner meeting Monday at Hillside Inn. Mrs. A. Malcolm Allen, president, will entertain the chapter at her home at 7:30 p.m. December 29. Each member is to bring a $2 gift for Santa's grab bag.

A World Affairs Night program Monday was under the chairmanship of Mrs. John Kellogg who had decorated the table with miniature flags in gumdrop bases. Each member was notified in advance that she was to serve as a "delegate" of a foreign country.

The program also included a demonstration-talk on graphic analysis by Mrs. J. L. McKinney. She explained the ways in which business and industry use handwriting analyses and briefly analyzed each member's handwriting. She is a teacher of the homebound and has conducted classes on graphic analysis.

FIRST CONCERT of the year for Detroit's illustrious Madrigal Club will be a Christmas program at 8:30 p.m. next Tuesday in the lecture hall of the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Mrs. Kent Mathes, president of the singing group for its 54th year, has been juggling top duties with the singing group and rehearsals with the task of moving.

(Last week-end the Mathes family moved from Willowbrook to the former home of Mrs. Beth Lapham on West Main Street. Mrs. Lapham and Mrs. William Cansfield now are settled in the former's new duplex on First Street.)

Mrs. Mathes suggests that anyone interested in attending contact her at 349-7334, or another local member of the Madrigal Singers, Mrs. Ronald Heller, 349-0910.

A highlight will be the performance of conductor August Maelker's new composition, "On December 25th," a series of three carols.

AN EARLY Thanksgiving was celebrated Sunday by the James Cowies, who entertained 15 for dinner at their home at 845 Horton. Guests included Mrs. Alex McCarroll who is visiting in Sterling Heights from Scotland.

Living Lord Sets First Service Date

Survey work on the new congregation in the establishment of the Living Lord Lutheran Church is progressing with plans to hold the first family worship service on December 14, according to newly-arrived Pastor Norman Borsvold.

The church is located in a new building at 40700 Ten Mile Road and Pastor Borsvold has been assigned here from Flaxville, Montana.

The pastor also has announced the arrival of Barbara Williams, a parish worker for the American Lutheran Church, to assist in organizing the new congregation.

Miss Williams, a resident of Rochester, is a 1964 graduate of Lutheran High East in Detroit and she presently is conducting a survey "to determine who will be interested in affiliation with the new congregation."

In revealing the date for first family worship services, Pastor Borsvold also announced that the first classes in Christian education will begin December 21.

The clergyman, his wife and two daughters live at the church's parsonage at 24260 Hampton Hill. He is a graduate of St. Olaf College and Luther Theological Seminary in St. Paul, Minnesota, and was ordained in June, 1960 at Detroit's St. Olaf Lutheran Church.

SPEAKER — Marvin R. Stempien, State Representative of the 35th District, will speak December 3 at Our Lady of Victory Social Hall. The topic will be "Education and Taxes." The meeting begins at 8 p.m. and is open to the public.

Holidays Are Bright Thanks to Youths

There will be a happy Christmas in Sunset Gap thanks to the high school youth of the First Presbyterian Church of Northville.

The youths are sponsoring a special holiday project entitled "Christmas in Sunset Gap."

Last summer, members of the group spent a week at the Center in the foothills of the Smokey Mountains, participating in a work camp. Sponsored by the Board of National Missions of the United Presbyterian Church, they worked closely with the staff at the Center.

The youths built a museum for the local citizens by transporting and re-building a century old cabin. Log by log, the cabin was moved three miles from its original site to the Center.

The group is collecting, sorting and fixing up clothing and toys so they may bring a little Christmas cheer to the people there.

Anyone wishing to help should contact the Presbyterian Church, 349-0911, for information or pick up service.

Assembly Explains Exchange Program

The newly formed exchange parents group presented an assembly to sophomores and juniors at Northville High on November 20.

The four exchange students presently enrolled at Northville from Holland, Germany, Finland and France spoke to the students, relating some of their experiences.

A representative from Youth for Understanding, sponsor of the exchange program based in Ann Arbor, also showed a film, hoping to stimulate interest among the students to participate in one of three phases of the program.

Included are summer exchange programs to foreign countries, a thirteen year program and a musical and choral group. This year a wind ensemble will be formed and will tour abroad.

Over 3,000 students are expected to participate this year.

The same day, Northville's exchange students were guests in the homes of Livonia families.

Zoning Battle Looms

Industrial zoning shown above in the two shaded areas marked I-1 will be approved or disapproved by Northville Township electors at a special December 8 election. The map shows the route of the proposed north-south expressway and the planned or zoned development in adjacent areas. Livonia has zoned heavy industry for the area between the expressway and its Haggerty Road boundary. In addition to the zoning question, a proposition concerning park land acquisition also will appear on the ballot. For details of both propositions turn to Pages 8-A and 9-A.

School to Use Existing Space

In discussing the second semester high school program, Superintendent Raymond Spear has told members of Northville's school board he "will not recommend the rental of portable classrooms."

Spear said by September, 1970, there must be a new approach to scheduling or "the costly item of portable classrooms."

He listed split class schedules or an extended school day as alternatives.

Unanimous approval was given to the final plans for Amerman and Moraine elementary school additions.

Final plans for Northville High and Main Street Elementary schools will be considered at the Board's December 8 meeting, along with specifications on all projects.

Tentative schedule for the building program includes bids due, January 22, 1970; review of bids, January 26; bond issue vote, February 14; bond approval for sale, March 10; bond sale, March 23; construction beginning, April 1; construction completion on all projects, April 1, 1971.

The schedule is based on the approval of the bond issue.

Approval was given to the appointment of three citizens to the Northville Public Schools Board of Canvassers, George Clark, Republican, will serve until December 31, 1971; Joseph Fiorilli, Democrat, will serve until December 31, 1973; and Dr. Paul Hunt, Republican, will serve until December 31, 1973.

Mrs. Eugene Guido, Democrat, appointed in 1967, completes the board, serving until December 31, 1971.

Trustee Glenn Deibert cast the lone dissenting vote on the appointments, saying he does "not object to the people, but I am against the discriminatory way we must appoint the board, eliminating the minority segments of the community."

"This smacks of the establishment."

City May Trigger Sale Monday

Northville City Council is expected to make a decision on the proposed sale of the city-owned well site property off Novi Road Monday night.

And if council comments, expressed during and following a discussion with neighboring property owners this past Monday are any indication, the sale proposal probably will receive the green light.

Councilman Kenneth Rathert appears to be the only council member who favors retention of part of the property for open space park land as suggested by Village Green subdivision residents.

Other councilmen, including Mayor A. M. Allen, contend the site is a "poor one" for open space recreation.

If the present sale proposal is approved next Monday, the property will be advertised for sale to the highest bidder above, a yet-to-be-determined minimum price for development of a multiple housing complex of perhaps 30 units or more. While the buyer will be acquiring the total acreage (4.91 acres), he will be permitted to build only on land east of the stream crossing the property. However, he will be permitted to use the entire acreage — or nearly all of it — in computing the density of his development.

The proposal also suggests that the

Orlo Owen Ends Career In Racing

After more than 25 years of developing and promoting harness racing in Michigan to a position of leadership in the country, "Mr. Harness Racing" of this area has finally called a halt.

Orlo G. Owen, personable vice president and general manager of Wolverine Raceway since 1952, has decided to retire because of ill health and devote his attentions to his family and his Northville farm located on West Seven Mile Road.

Following Owen's request, Wolverine President Frederick L. VanLennep yesterday made the retirement announcement. Owen, who for years has been one of the most influential persons in Michigan harness racing circles, is expected to spend a portion of his time in a consulting capacity because of his wide knowledge of the standardbred business, but will retire from active management duties.

"It is with sincere regret that we accept Orlo's retirement," said VanLennep. "He has played a most important part in the success and growth of Wolverine ever since he became a member of our executive family back in 1952 when we first took over the operation of the harness racing activities at the Detroit Race Course."

Owen, age 64, has been associated with night pari-mutuel harness racing since it was first pioneered by Northville Downs in 1944.

At that time he served as announcer and assistant to Sam Wiedrick, who then was manager. He gained a reputation as the "golden voiced" race caller of the midwest and could still call a race with the nation's top announcers at the time of his retirement.

A graduate of Eastern Michigan University, Owen served as a high school coach, proprietor of a men's clothing store, owner of a restaurant and owner of an automobile agency in the Northville area before turning his attention to pacers and trotters.

As it turned out, he was particularly qualified in this field because of his general personality, ability to handle all situations with a smile and his manner of making a friend almost from the moment he met a person, plus his life-long love of horses.

He always had time to sit and talk with everyone at the track — groomers, trainers, drivers, owners and all track personnel.

Maybury to House Federal Program

A residential work training center for 250 young men and women in the 16-21 age group will be opened early next year on a 140-acre Maybury Sanatorium property site.

The program, newly designed by the Nixon administration and now being introduced in 30 major cities throughout the nation, will be fully federally financed.

An annual grant of $2 million for a minimum of five years has already been awarded the city of Detroit for the project.

Northville township board members were told Monday night that the only formalities remaining are Detroit common council action granting a "use permit" to the federal government for the site and state approval of the program by Governor Milliken.

A representative of the national Job Corps Task Force reported that both Mayor Cavanagh and Mayor-Elect Gribbs favored the proposal, and that the existing and new common council had expressed approval. The governor has also indicated support.

Richard Jaffe, projects manager for the Job Corps Task Force, and David Nelson, an assistant to Mayor Cavanagh, outlined the program in a special meeting of the township board Monday night.

Actually, the purpose of their presentation was for information purposes only. Community support for the program is naturally desired, but legally speaking Northville township cannot restrict the city of Detroit from making public use of its Maybury property.

It was noted that the 140-acre parcel, which would include the administration buildings in the westerly-most area of the 900-acre site, would not interfere with local efforts (city of Northville and possibly Northville township) to acquire from

Levitt Plan For Stores Cut in Size

Plans for a huge shopping center were trimmed Tuesday night as Levitt & Sons revised its zoning change request to include only 13 of the 33 acres of land it is acquiring on the south side of Seven Mile Road west of Northville State Hospital.

The revised request was referred by the Northville Township Planning Commission to Consultant George Viliam for review and recommendation by the planners' December 30 meeting.

Explained by a team of Levitt representatives, the plan calls for rezoning of 13 acres in the front portion of the property for the shopping center, with the remaining acreage developed in multiple housing as it is presently zoned. Originally, Levitt sought commercial zoning for the total acreage.

The shopping center proposal calls for approximately 103,000 square feet of floor space, with four building complexes constituting a shopping mall. In addition, it calls for a service station near one of two 27-foot wide drives to the shopping center and to the housing development in the rear.

Levitt proposed building 250 apartment units in the rear of the property, separated from the stores by an existing green belt of trees and a stream that crosses the land.

The shopping center complex is expected to include a large supermarket, a variety of stores and shops, offices and a bank. Preliminary plans call for these facilities to be built in a cluster around a shopping mall made of some "special material" other 200 to 400 acres for community recreation use.

Jaffe described the program as one for youngsters "not disadvantaged in talent, but in opportunity." He said the purpose of the training would be to prepare youths for specific jobs and to give them enough ability to progress in their jobs.

Specifically, Jaffe pointed to these aspects of the national work training centers as unique and improved over previous efforts in job corps training:

- smaller, fully controlled facilities with a maximum of 250 youngsters and an operation staff of between 100 and 110 including instructors and counselors;
- a five-day, five-night program with home-visitation on week ends;
- placement commitments prior to training;
- voluntary enrollment program with parental approval and certain qualifications including youth "relatively free of any offenses;" Jaffe explained that this meant that the youngsters "could not be certified by the court as offenders;"
- youngsters would not be uprooted from environment, or shipped from one part of the country to another as previously practiced;
- fully controlled environment; Jaffe emphasized that students would not be permitted to leave the school area, that they would be taken by bus to and from their homes on weekends.

"The program has been successful elsewhere," Jaffe noted. He explained that training covered a six to eight month period and that in addition to

NEWS BRIEFS

FRIGHTENED by the possibility of a large number of "very high density" townhouses and apartments in neighboring Novi, Levitt & Sons has asked Northville township planners to consider permitting it to substitute multiple housing units for 350 single family homes it has planned for its "gravel pit" development stretching from Eight Mile to Seven Mile roads east of the city. Levitt believes Novi's high density units could adversely affect its development, making it economically unwise to proceed with plans for homes in the $40,000 to $45,000 class near Eight Mile. Caught by surprise, planners took the request under advisement Tuesday night.

PUBLIC HEARING on the proposed rezoning of the northeast corner parcel at Taft and Eight Mile roads for development as a Boron service station will be conducted by the city planning commission next Tuesday night. Meanwhile, planners are studying the request of George Lloyd of Detroit for rezoning of 2.7 acres of adjoining property to a professional office classification.

SENIOR CITIZEN HOUSING is likely to become the subject of a city study soon — and don't be surprised if the council eventually suggests rezoning of the block opposite the high school for such a project. Officials have informally discussed what should be done — zoning wise — with the property along Center Street and they have generally agreed that entrance and exit from Center would be hazardous. They would prefer that access be made from Grace Street. Senior citizen housing is part of the city's five year improvement program, and the Center Street property is seen as a possible place for its development.

FINAL APPROVAL for rezoning of nine lots for track parking in the Church-Cady Street area was granted John Carlo, executive manager of Northville Downs, for track parking by the city council Monday night. No one appeared to object at the public hearing. Earlier, the planning commission had recommended the rezoning from a residential classification. In rezoning, the council stipulated that the matter of green belts be left in the hands of the city manager.

Youth Cut During Attack

An 18-year-old Whitmore Lake youth was attacked and cut with a broken bottle November 18 near East Main and Hutson streets. William Fink, Jr., told police he was delivering candy and cigarettes to local businesses when a man, between 28- and 30-years-old, came at him with what he believes was a broken bottle. He was taken to St. Mary Hospital, Livonia, where the half-inch cut on his upper left arm required stitches. The incident occurred shortly after 5:30 p.m. The suspect fled on foot. Fink said the man was six feet tall, 180 pounds with short dark hair and wearing a three-quarter length blue jacket. Fink said at no time did the man say anything to him.

Levitt Plan Cut in Size

Continued from Record, Page 1 than standard concrete and further enhanced with fountains. Parking would be provided on the east and west sides of the complex, with no interior traffic permitted from one to the other. Drives on either side of the complex would serve these parking areas and continue to the rear and service the apartment units. Levitt indicated it had taken a closer look at its original shopping center plan and, after professional review, concluded that it would be unrealistic to utilize the entire acreage for shopping. Representatives emphasized that the shopping center would be very different than common centers, buffered from Seven Mile Road and its housing development on the opposite side by an attractive eight-foot high retaining wall and landscaping and from the apartments in the rear by the existing trees and stream. Lone objection to the proposal came from James Ginn, attorney for Stuart Oldford, who has sought unsuccessfully to convince planners to use the property for a shopping center adjacent to the railroad and west of the Levitt site. Recalling that planners found his client's shopping center proposal as a likely traffic hazard, Ginn said the Levitt center poses real traffic problems because of the bend and hill on Seven Mile Road near the project. "The shopping center plan, assuming it will be developed that way," said Ginn, "but it is not a good land use for this parcel."

James Littell, attorney for the William B. Walkers who are selling Levitt the land, took the "exact opposite view" of Ginn in calling it an excellent site for a shopping center. He noted that presently the property zoning would permit the highest multiples density permitted in the township.

from the Pastor's Study The Brevity of Life

Pastor Geo. Tiefel Jr., Immanuel Ev. Luth. Church

There is a play called "The Time of Your Life" which is currently being revived. Its message is so up-to-date that it is hard to believe it was first performed thirty years ago.

Some old-time Roman of pagan ways also understood the brevity of life and opportunity. "Carpe diem," he said - Seize the day!

We Christians remind ourselves of this, and bear witness to friends and neighbors, including you, dear Reader: there is one thing needful, above all others, to get done during the brief and uncertain span of years allotted to us here.

That is the truth to know and believe, and toward which to orient your life, before this brief "time of grace" is gone. Do you understand yourself as a redeemed child of God? Do you know the upward call of God in Christ Jesus? (Philippians 3).

Season to be...? Bah Hum-Bug—Taxes Up

Because it's that time of year (the holidays and all), 'tis the season to be jolly. And many people aren't because it's that time of year (tax notices and all).

Wixom Road Project Finds Self in Court

A temporary injunction has been filed against the City of Wixom halting the planned resumption of construction on a controversial $128,000 road improvement program in Birch Park Subdivision.

Recognizing parks and recreation as a problem now and taking steps to plan a complete program will keep parks and recreation from growing into an excuse used for not being able to consider some other problem.

Contrary to what the more enthusiastic might think, we don't need a covered stadium downtown to accommodate our existing needs. Nor do we need large amounts of additional property.

Flashy Nuisances? Signs Irritate Citizens

Flashing signs used by local developers to attract prospective customers to their model units have also caught the eye of the City of Novi Council after claims by citizens that the devices - often used late into the night - are nuisances in residential neighborhoods.

A request to locate an auto service station on Novi Road near the expressway was unanimously denied Tuesday by the Board of Appeals on the basis that it would create a safety hazard.
