FACULTY

DEDICATION

With sincere appreciation for all her patience and understanding we, the Graduating Class of 1950, dedicate this annual to our former advisor, Miss Marguerite Bennett.

ANNUAL STAFF

Well kids, after weeks of frantically trying to meet deadlines, collect snapshots, and dream up articles, the yearbook staff is more than happy to present to you the 1950 "Hill-topper". It was first lithographed on new double glossy paper and topped off with a white leather plush cover, as you have probably noticed. Here's hoping you enjoy it.

Guiding the student body, preparing assemblies, and sponsoring activities represent a few accomplishments of our student council. Our main feature of the year was the Spring Carnival.

CLASS HISTORY

As we open the dusty scrapbook of our years in the Clarkston Public Schools, the first thing that we notice is the class picture of the kindergarten. Amid the group of smiling faces we are able to pick out a few. Let's see, here is Betty Stauter, there's a little tow-head that could be no one but Clark Morgan, down in front is Norma Terry, over here we have Carolyn Waterbury and Ruby Powell, and let me see--oh yes, I guess that this little boy over here is Albert Potter. The teacher, Miss Wade is smiling at the whole group. I guess that this picture must have been taken early in the year and she hadn't found out what little devils we were.

In the picture on the third page there are just two new faces, that of the teacher, Miss Dunham, and that roly-poly boy in the corner, Lee Johnson. Oh yes, Marilyn Mortimore and her pigtails right in the center.

In the third grade there are two new faces, Caroline Beardsley and Betty Jane Brisson.

In the picture of the fourth grade we have the usual standbys plus Bob Rioux and our teacher, Miss Fisher.

We find not one, but two class pictures on the next page because this was the year that we were divided into two parts. One section stayed behind with the fourth grade and the other went on with the sixth. In the corner of the room we find the chart of our achievements on the latest scrap drive and on the war bond sales.

Next we come upon the record of our year in the sixth grade. We posed all together once again. The group gained Chuck Collins.

In the picture of the seventh grade we are all smiling with joy because we are at our long dreamed of goal--we are a part of the high school. Among the clippings from the Chatterbox for this year we find an account of a class party and of a noon basketball game lost to the eighth grade. New faces in the class picture include Bob Brown, and the twins, Jenny and Jerry Schroeder.

On the last page of our scrapbook devoted to our days before we entered high school we find Marilyn Mortimore again in our class picture. Hidden behind the picture we find our collection of excuses. Our diplomas, which were presented by Mr. Ridgley, completed our years of junior high.

Now for the journal of our days through high school we turn to our stack of dusty Hilltoppers. Ah! Here we have the one for the memorable year that we became full fledged members of the high school. The group picture shows many new faces--Joan Booth, Shirley Allen, Joan Bradley, Thelma Covert, Joan Fuller, Donna Gobel, Jean McIlrath, Cecil Miller, Georgina Thayer, and Carol Torr. Our photo of the class officers shows Joan Booth, Secretary; and Chuck Collins, Treasurer.

As we dig farther into the dusty pile we find the yearbook for the sophomore year showing only two additions to our little family. One is Nonnette Alexander and the other is Dale Walter Jake "Jitters" Jacobs, Jr. Our secretary for this year was again Joan Booth and the treasurer, Jenny Schroeder.

The yearbook from last year isn't quite so dusty. Here appearing for the first time in any class picture we have Marlene Aiken, Beverly Allen, Cathie Garnier, Dick Guerin, Elmer Hagadone, Carolyn Marshall, Hank Shell, and Bill Switzenberg. The class officers for this year were Shirley Allen, President; Hank Shell, Vice-President; Joan Booth, Secretary; and Jenny Schroeder, Treasurer. Events for the year included the Junior-Senior Banquet and the junior play, "Don't Ever Grow Up."

At last we turn to the newest journal of them all, that portraying our senior year. Completing our class were Peggy Keasy, and Julie Warmouth. The class officers being Hank Shell, President; Bill Switzenberg, Vice-President; Joan Booth, Secretary; and Jenny Schroeder, Treasurer. The first event of the year was the Annual Harvest Home Festival, which was followed by a faculty and senior basketball game. On December 6, we proudly presented our play, "Aunty's Big Joke" under the expert direction of Mr. Heimbürger. At last came our long awaited trip to Washington D. C. We had a very enjoyable time and were sorry that we had to come home, for we knew that exams were awaiting us. Then graduation came and went, leaving us to make our own place in the world.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

OF THE CLASS OF '50

Marlene Aiken wills her giggles to Jim Huttenlocher to go with his smile.
Nonnette Alexander wills her tininess to Joan Rexford.
Beverly Allen wills her quiet ways to Skipper Roebke.
Shirley Allen wills her dancing ability to stay engaged to Mary Ellen Curry.
Joan Booth will her book "How to Keep Your Man" to Mary Lou Althouse.
Joan Bradley wills her enthusiastic cheers to Delores Pacer.
Betty Jane Brisson wills her slimness to Steve Huntoon.
Chuck Collins wills his irregular attendance to Sylvia Peterson.
Thelma Covert wills her artistic ability to Steve Bilbey.
Joan Fuller wills her engagement ring to Johnnie Curry so he can keep it in the family.
Cathie Garnier wills all of her belongings with Clark Rouse's name on them to Rose Sarvis.
Donna Gobel wills her natural blond hair to Barbara Waggener.
Dick Guerin wills his pretty brown eyes to Jim Smith.
Elmer Haggadone wills his remarks in class to Beverly Covert.
Dale Jacobs wills his forward ways with women to Bob Sharrock.
Lee Johnson wills his knowledge of government to Mr. Bonner, who needs it once in a while.
Peggy Keasey wills her pep, energy, and vigor to Pat O'Mara.
Carolynn Marshall wills her cute walk to Martha Masters.
Jean McIlrath wills her piano playing ability to the next chorus pianist.
Cecil Miller wills his physique to Bob Anderson.
Clark Morgan wills his shy ways to David Vincent.
Marilyn Mortimore wills her personality to whoever has enough nerve to take it.
Albert Potter wills his freckles to Mary Beattie.
Ruby Powell wills her bluntness to Lila Bailey.
Bob Rioux wills his whisker to Bob Lindahl.
Jenny Schroeder wills her bedroom eyes to Joyce Spooner.
Jerry Schroeder wills her ability to keep the servicemen happy to Marie Orr.
Hank Shell wills his fear of railroad tracks to Earl Lamberton.
Betty Starter wills Freddy to anyone who will return him when she gets back from college.
Bill Switzenberg wills his winning ways to Don Dawley.
Norma Terry wills her four stripes to anyone who can earn them.
Georgina Thayer wills her willingness to help her class make money to Joice Carte.
Carole Torr wills her rosy complexion to Warren Hagyard.
Carolyn Waterbury wills her good history marks to Bonnie Wells.
Julie Warmouth wills her pretty black hair to Irene Woods.
Bob Brown wills his crutches to anyone who rides motorcycles.
To the Junior class we leave our vacant seats and we hope that they will enjoy their senior year as much as we have.
To the Sophomores we leave Mr. Bonner so that they may enjoy his history classes as much as we did.
To the Freshmen we leave our four years of high school memories with the hope that you will make good use of them.

AUNTY'S BIG JOKE

This was the senior production given by the class of 1950.

The Fletcher family consists of Henry, the father (Dale Jacobs); Jessie, the rattle-brained mother (Shirley Allen); Tess, the oldest daughter (Bettie Stauter); Ruthie the youngest, (Joan Booth); and Ronnie (Cecil Miller), the only son who wants to "Go steady" with the flirtatious Sybil Walker (Donna Gobel), but needs an automobile so that Sybil will no longer "date" Ronnie's rival, the cocky Barry Orr, (Hank Shell). When Mr. Fletcher's wealthy sister, Aunt Tessie, dies, the family immediately start to get everything they've wanted for years----even before the will is read----because everybody knows that Henry was her favorite brother, and she herself has said that she would leave him a lot of money. So Mrs. Fletcher sells her old furniture to a second-hand man and buys a lot of new stuff, expecting to pay for it when the money is received. Not to be outdone, Ronnie buys a brand new car, turning his own old wreck in as a down payment. Now that she can go to college, Tess goes out and buys a whole new wardrobe----charging it, of course. Then the lawyer, Mrs. Weir (JeanMcIlrath), arrives to read the will and the family are horrified upon learning that all dear Aunty has left them is a diamond ring! So Tess must take back all her beautiful clothes, Ronnie must give back the car, and the furniture has to be returned, while Mrs.

Fletcher is forced to pay the second-hand man more than he gave her in order to get the old stuff back. Then a letter comes from the lawyer, in which she encloses one from the deceased aunt, which the lawyer was supposed to send the Fletchers twenty-four hours after the reading of the will. In this letter, the Aunt tells them that the ring is the key to most of her fortune, which lies waiting for the family in a safety deposit box in New York. But by this time the ring has changed hands, has been lost, and found again----and now nobody knows where it is! Then it is discovered that Susue Maud (Peggy Keasey) the funny colored maid, has swept it up in the vacuum cleaner, which she emptied into a waste paper basket, which in turn was emptied into the trash box by Honey Chile Marc Antony Kearns (Dick Guerin), the colored gardener, who is also a prize fighter and student of Shakespeare! Honey Chile dumped the trash into the garbage truck, which has taken it to the city dump! Well, the mad scramble that follows when Mr. Fletcher and Ronnie drive out to the dump and search for the lost ring, which is finally located on the finger of Susie Maud, who has accepted it from Honey Chile as an engagement present, is terrific.
