

Miss, Mrs. and Now Ms.

Is Title Important?

What's in a name? It's what you are that counts, not how you're called.

"Untrue!" according to some local business women, while others agree that a woman's name has little bearing upon her professional career.

Substituting Ms. (pronounced "Miss") for the traditional prefix of Miss or Mrs. has definite advantages some say, while others claim that it makes no difference and still others admit they enjoy the status of their current feminine title.

"I've always rather enjoyed being Miss," relates Miss Florence Panattoni, curriculum director of the Northville school system. "To me names are a certain thing which don't really describe an inner personality."

Similarly, Mrs. Winifred Procter, a widow, admits enjoying her title as Mrs. "To me liberation means sleeping in until 10 a.m., then having my morning coffee in bed," laughs the executive secretary to the superintendent of Northville schools.

"I am a Mrs. and I enjoy using the name of my husband and my two adult sons."

"I do appreciate being able to wear pants suits without causing too many ripples in the water, but I still wear my wedding ring. That's pretty old hat, isn't it?"

One woman who does favor a name change is Mrs. Lois Turner, co-founder of the Northville Singles Club. "It's a good idea and I go along with it," Mrs. Turner remarks. "I really do. There is a certain amount of segregation among single and married women on today's job market. Apparently a title has become a reflection on a woman's working status. It shouldn't be, shouldn't make any difference."

Another woman who favors the change is Mrs. Dorothy Lynn, executive secretary for the local board of the selective service system. Mrs. Lynn (divorced) now signs herself Ms., as do several of her friends.

"We've received several letters addressed that way recently," Mrs. Lynn reports. "It looked pretty nice so several weeks ago I decided to try it." A woman's marital status should have no bearing upon her position in the business world, she believes.

Have many women adopted the new prefix? "I've had a number of letters addressed that way lately," reveals Mrs. William Milne, Northville city clerk. "I suppose one reason for this is because people don't know whether I'm married."

Although admitting that the change doesn't bother her in the least, Mrs. Milne does not plan to change herself. "I rarely use a prefix. In most of my correspondence I just sign myself Martha M. Milne."

On the other hand Ms. Ed Ash, Novi city clerk, reports she has had little contact with the new title. "I really don't make any difference to me, although it would be easier to type," she chuckles. In all most of the city employees seem to agree with Mrs. Crispin Hammond, Northville township clerk. The way a woman is addressed is not nearly as important as whether or not she is discriminated against.

Her case, there is definitely some sexual discrimination, Mrs. Hammond feels. "In my job as clerk I've felt that there would be much more respect for my opinions, that I would be included in more meetings if I was a man," she says. "Sometimes men give me the work which they don't want to do themselves—tedious jobs like organizing something."

Her wages would also be different if she was a man, Mrs. Hammond thinks. "The name is the least of it, although it probably would be a convenience to people who don't know your marital status."

Following a successful summer orientation program here, the volunteer parent group was dissolved, and the Huntings are presently helping organize another volunteer parent group while searching for a suitable Montessori classroom for the fall program.

Although several "excellent possible locations are being investigated and considered," said Dr. Hunting, "all advanced enrollment tuition for the fall pre-school program have been returned to parents pending final selection of adequate facilities."

"This action may postpone the opening date of the Montessori program by as much as a week or a month," he said.

Registration and information about the local Montessori program will be made available in a booth during the Northville Fair this weekend.

Meanwhile, Dr. Hunt has announced the addition of a new member of the staff—Mrs. Sven (Jame) Watanabe of Wisconsin. Prepared to answer questions about all phases of Montessori, she was administrator for four years at a Montessori school in Racine, Wisconsin.

She may be reached between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. at 624-3754.

Home from a whirlwind tour of Europe and North America in which he performed over 30 concerts in 38 days—is Richard Shank of 2620 Taft.

He returned Sunday following travel with 100 young people who made up the combined chorus of the band of Musical Youth International. Shank sang tenor with the chorus.

"Basically I gained a much greater appreciation of what I have," Shank said reviewing his travels. "People in other countries have much less, yet they value it more."

The "Other countries" which Shank visited included Canada and countries in Northern Europe. The group left Friday, June 25, on a tour which took them to Toronto, southern Holland, West Germany, the North Atlantic, and Washington D.C.

On tour the youth stayed with host families every place but in West Berlin. In Berlin they were lodged in a red cross youth hostel located near the city square where Hitler burned books. "We only saw what they wanted to show us," he said.

Throughout the tour Shank was very impressed with the enthusiastic reception which M.Y.I. always received. In many cases, he felt, the reception was much warmer abroad than it would have been in the United States.

He Attends World Confab

Dr. Willis B. Hunting, vice president of the World University with international headquarters based in Tucson, Arizona, returned this week to his home in Northville, having attended the 24th Annual Conference of the World University held at Mt. Vernon College in Washington D.C., July 31 through August 4.

His wife, Lucile, program director of Northville's successful first summer Montessori orientation program for 2½ to 10 year olds, accompanied Dr. Hunting as an official member of the conference.

Prior to the World University conference, Mrs. Hunting and daughter, Nancy, attended a two-week Montessori refresher course at East Connecticut State College in Willimantic, Connecticut. Miss Karen Lambertson of Redford, another teacher's assistant in the four weeks summer Montessori orientation program in Northville, also was enrolled in this workshop in Connecticut.

The World University, a private institution with an aim of promoting and coordinating international excellence of education, holds an educational charter from the State of Arizona non-profit academic institution with degree granting rights.

Back in Northville, the Huntings are again working with parents and other interested citizens searching for a permanent site for the Montessori classroom which they are helping local volunteers establish in the Northville area.

Members probably will babysit about once a month, usually in the day-time, explains Mrs. Denis Berry, one of the organizers. "This is particularly useful in the fall, when teenage sitters are back in school. I think it will be very beneficial around Christmas when mothers have to go shopping without their children."

First organizational meeting will be Thursday, August 12 at 1 p.m., Mrs. Berry said. It will be held in her home at 41183 McMahon Circle.

Shank Returns From Europe

Home from a whirlwind tour of Europe and North America in which he performed over 30 concerts in 38 days—is Richard Shank of 2620 Taft.

He returned Sunday following travel with 100 young people who made up the combined chorus of the band of Musical Youth International. Shank sang tenor with the chorus.

Throughout the tour Shank was very impressed with the enthusiastic reception which M.Y.I. always received. In many cases, he felt, the reception was much warmer abroad than it would have been in the United States.

"In Ommersheim, Germany, literally the whole town turned out to greet us. Many families who wanted to observe all our movements with spotlights and binoculars," Shank described.

On a one-day tour of East Berlin it took five hours for the young people to clear customs, he related. Once inside their official guide showed them communist national parks and the city square where Hitler burned books. "We only saw what they wanted to show us," he said.

Representatives from five states including Ohio, Kentucky, Illinois, Indiana and Michigan attended the meeting. Special visitors also came from Washington D.C. and North Carolina.

Main purpose for the meeting, Mrs. Merwin explained, was to go over an information packet for the coming year. Locally plans are being laid to collect clothing for school children in North Carolina and books for Saint Mary's Indian School in North Dakota.

Following the regional meeting Mimi Merwin left this week for a CAR Washington Seminar entitled Know Your Government.

THE BEST EVER—Ask just about any merchant in town and he'll tell you Saturday's Sidewalk Sale was the best ever in Northville.

Everyone cooperated—from the weatherman to the customer. People turned out in droves and for the first time the city's new parking deck was completely filled on both levels. More than 80 non-merchants participated in the sidewalk-street sale with booths offering everything from bottles to handmade neckties.

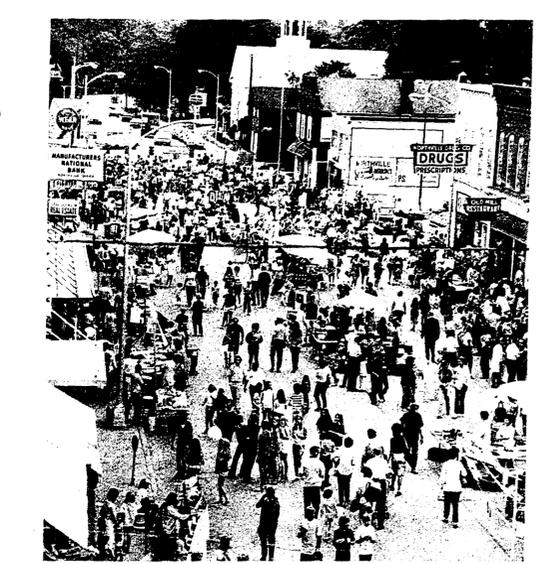

In addition some 28 merchants moved their goods onto the sidewalks where shoppers snugged up the super bargains. Business boomed inside the stores, too, and when day was done both the merchant and the shopper were tired but satisfied that it had been a "good day."

Continue Studies In Yugoslavia

Although admitting that it's a bit lonely out here, Frank Martin must like living in Yugoslavia. He has just re-enrolled for a second year of study at Zagreb University in Zagreb, Yugoslavia.

Martin is one of 18 Portland State University students selected to study at the Zagreb Institute, an overseas extension of PSU's Central European Studies Center.

Now in its fifth year, this year-long academic program allows students to take concentrated study in the field of their choice at the University of Zagreb from October 4 to May 26.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard T. Martin, 20173 Whipple, he became aware of the program while a student at Reed College in Portland. As a language major, Frank will receive college credit for his year in Yugoslavia. He is studying German and Russian as well as Croatian.

A $42,000 grant from the U.S. Office of Education pays the round-trip transportation and a modest stipend for basic board and room costs for selected participants. Students pay only passport fees, personal expenses and tuition.

Victor Dahl, PSU faculty member who served as resident director of the 1970-71 Zagreb Institute, will also serve as resident director for the coming year.

MOST ARE LAW-ABIDING YOUNG CITIZENS, BUT...

Pot Party or Park Picnic? Protests Climb On 'Beer Hill'

County officials and local oldtimers call it Beer Hill. Many young people call it Beer Hill.

Whatever it is called, it spells "trouble," according to police who are faced with an increasing number of complaints of drinking, fighting and drug abuse among the hundreds of young people who flock to the hill on Friday and Saturday nights.

Most are law-abiding young citizens "out for a good time" under summer stars. But, say police, others are not so innocent in their search for "fun" and it's this group that is spoiling it for everyone.

The fact that large numbers of young people are using the park doesn't bother police. It's what some of them do and how they act when they use it. And, unfortunately, misbehavior of few is infecting others who may have had the best of intentions when they waved goodbye to their folkier in the evening, police warn.

While the noise and traffic is a nuisance for others, particularly residents of Kings Mill, it's the young people themselves who may be risking their lives, police say. Fortunately, relatively few reported injuries resulting from fights, accidents and taking drugs have occurred. But tomorrow who knows?

Nisun says most of the illegal activity involves drinking and smoking marijuana. Young people who have been there concur. "But some are using hard drugs, too," adds Nisun.

Neighbors also report "seeing kids coming out of the park with sleeping bags in the morning," he says. But there is no commune there, as has been reported in this newspaper, and no one is permanently living in the park, police indicate.

Carroll Porter, superintendent of the parkway system, concedes that the problem on or near Cass Benton Hill is worse this year than ever in his nearly 30 years with the county. But he adds, "kids have been going there as long as I can remember."

Traditionally, I guess, people have been congregating there for years. There are more of them lately, especially this year, and it is causing some concern," he says. Complaints by residents and motorists are up, he adds.

on hot summer nights. They holler at police cars when they pass and scream obscenities at the top of their lungs. Even the drinking is getting out of hand.

That's the prediction of Gerald Stone, chairman of the Northville Fair, sponsored by the Northville Chamber of Commerce.

He's basing his prediction on the number of organizational booths already scheduled and a number of others that had not yet formalized their plans early this week.

As was the case last year in the revival of the event after a lapse of nearly 30 years, all of the action will take place on the grounds, track and in the clubhouse facilities of Northville Downs.

Back this year are two of the popular shows that last year attracted thousands of spectators — the 4-H Horse Show and the nationally famed Hurricane Hell Drivers.

And sure to spark additional interest this year is the billing of the Diamond — at 5 p.m. and 8 p.m. and two shows by the Hell Drivers are slated Sunday — at 2:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. Both will take place on the Downs track in front of the grandstands.

The free horse show is scheduled to get underway at 9 a.m. Saturday and conclude just before the rodeo broncs start tossing their riders around.

Other special events will be a Jaycee bicycle race slated on the track at noon Sunday and numerous skydiver exhibitions throughout Saturday and Sunday.

Skydivers will be jumping from 10,000 feet. The free fall will be scheduled to get underway at 9 a.m. Saturday and conclude just before the rodeo broncs start tossing their riders around.

NEGOTIATING TEAMS for the school district and Northville Education Association have scheduled a second meeting with the state mediator tomorrow (Friday) at 9 a.m.

FINAL DECISION will be made September 21 on police protection for Northville Township. Township trustees agreed last week to get cost proposals from Wayne County Sheriff's Department in writing and to meet with the City of Northville to discuss their proposals and the possibility of developing a "community" police force.

A LONG STANDING rule requiring city police officers to carry guns during off-duty hours has been rescinded by the city council except "as may be requested by the police chief under extraordinary conditions."

A RADAR UNIT is now a permanent piece of traffic equipment in the city. The council, which has emphasized that the equipment is not to be mis-used by police as a "speed trap" device, voted unanimously to purchase the unit at a cost to the city of $892. This cost represents half of the purchase price, with the other half being paid by the state under a traffic safety grant.

DECLARING a single bid for the city's ambulance unsatisfactory, the council has rejected the $500 offer and authorized the city manager to attempt to sell the vehicle, not including accessory equipment, for $1,500.

SIX NEW TENNIS courts opened for use Friday at Northville High. Open to the public without charge, the courts are located west of the high school parking lot on the site of the former bus compound. The courts were built with funds from the 1970 bond issue and are the only public courts within the City of Northville.

POSTED—Signs posted recently at entrances to Northville Township warn that all roads traveling on the grounds, track and in the clubhouse facilities of Northville Downs.

A LONG STANDING rule requiring city police officers to carry guns during off-duty hours has been rescinded by the city council except "as may be requested by the police chief under extraordinary conditions."

A RADAR UNIT is now a permanent piece of traffic equipment in the city. The council, which has emphasized that the equipment is not to be mis-used by police as a "speed trap" device, voted unanimously to purchase the unit at a cost to the city of $892. This cost represents half of the purchase price, with the other half being paid by the state under a traffic safety grant.

DECLARING a single bid for the city's ambulance unsatisfactory, the council has rejected the $500 offer and authorized the city manager to attempt to sell the vehicle, not including accessory equipment, for $1,500.

SIX NEW TENNIS courts opened for use Friday at Northville High. Open to the public without charge, the courts are located west of the high school parking lot on the site of the former bus compound. The courts were built with funds from the 1970 bond issue and are the only public courts within the City of Northville.

Jones Selected Probation Head

Peter Jones, a teacher at the Milan Federal Prison and a former Plymouth police dispatcher, has been named chief probation officer for the new position serving Plymouth and Canton townships.

Jones, who has a BS and master's degree in education, is responsible for many innovative techniques in counseling and training of prisoners at Milan, explained Dilly. "He also has one of the finest ratings by the volunteer department for his past 2 1/2 years performance as a volunteer probation officer."

Jones was selected from among 32 applicants for the position following competitive examination and interview by a panel consisting of Mrs. Jane Mochie, president of the Schoolcraft College Board, Kenneth Kirkwood, director of the Livonia Probation Department, Carl Berry of the Plymouth Police Department, and chiefs Dunbar Davis, the probation program involving the Plymouth and Northville probation department, respectively.

In announcing the results of the District Court search for the appointment of Jones, Dilly, who lives in Northville, emphasized appreciation for the number and quality of applicants: "We had numerous well-qualified people apply. The second and third candidates were also well qualified, consisting of present part-time paid probation work detail supervisor, who is also a special educator, and a young professional lady who has a university degree in police administration."

Fair Opens Friday
— will surround the Downs and aiming for the target in the center of the race track.

Still another attraction will be an art show, sponsored by the Three Cities Art Club, and commercial exhibits throughout the three days.

The art show will be staged between the clubhouse, and the commercial exhibits will be displayed on the midway as well as beneath the clubhouse.

Games of chance — by the dozens — will be staged in a large tent in the center of the midway, just north of the clubhouse and grandstands in the Downs parking lot. The games will be sponsored by non-profit Northville area organizations.

Wade Show rides — more than 20 thrillers for young and old — will surround the midway tent. They'll be in operation all three days.

A variety of products and services will be available for purchase at still other booths sponsored by non-profit organizations.

Among the activities and their sponsors already booked are:

Jaycee dunk tank, the bicycle race, and game booth; a booth by the Junior Hockey Association; and a game of chance by the Republican Club of Northville;

Pony rides by the Rainbow Girls; game by the Motorcycle Club of Northville; Novi Jaycees; game; Class of '73; game; Novi Co-op Nursery; game; Our Lady of Victory Ladies League; game; Northville Rotary Club; game; Masonic Temple; concession stand; Civician Club; game; Novi Police Officers Wives; game; Gavem Teen Club; game; St. Paul's Lutheran School; game; Mothers Club; game; League of Women Voters; game; Business and Professional Women's Club; game; Civician Club; game; a booth by the Northville Camera Club; and lots of corn-on-the-cob offered by the Fire Department.

Among the sponsors of product and service booths will be the World Center for Peaceful Communication; Queen's Way to Fashion; Helen Zoll's Decoupage; Green Knight; Green Motors; Bottles; and Alisar Aluminum.

The Northville Chamber revived the fair last year in order to give local organizations an opportunity to concentrate their fund-raising activities at one time and in one place.

According to Stone, who is being assisted by committeemen N. C. Schrader, Glenn Long and James H. Erickson, the Chamber hopes to recoup just enough profit to permit it to contract for more crowd-pleasing shows next year.

Wixom Newsbeat
Traveling Teens Return
By NANCY GINDGELEY
"All I want is a peanut butter and strawberry jelly sandwich when I get off that airplane" wrote one of the traveling students to her parents. Other S.O.S. letters received by the mothers — and dads requested big Coke's and lots of ice, a huge hamburger and lots of french fries!

The kids must be ready to come home because the letters are dwelling more and more on food.

One reported having horse for dinner now did that literally mean horse or was it just extra-tough beef? Others commented on squid for lunch adding a big "ick" after the word.

Needless to say, there were a lot of excited parents and happy kids that were reunited Tuesday night at Metro Airport and there may be some good tales to tell now that the Western group has returned from France.

I must say I have enjoyed writing about their letters — some of them have been real joys to read and report. From the last batch arriving in Wixom before the trip home: "We have been shopping, shopping, shopping, spending, spending, spending." Bet that put a shiver in a few spines!

The Western group couldn't go to the Principality of Luxembourg because only ten students could be accommodated. So, the Western group stayed behind in Strasburg. It's really a shame they missed that trip. I understand Luxembourg is really a picturesque country. Other comments were on the trips to museums and mayors' receptions adding that the mayors never showed up. I really had to chuckle over this one: "We do fun things like take trips to the Yegge Mountains — it rained all the way there and all the way back. We didn't see much. The weather has turned rather cold and there has been quite a lot of rain."

As far as school work is concerned, the group has been giving speeches and reports and they have attended some plays by Moliere — and everything, of course, conducted in French.

Winding up their stay in France was a vacation at the "cooley ghouley's" — quite a description. They also had a party at the "Caterpillar" in Strasburg. "It has a clock that has a chicken that crows, angels ring bells and people walk around — it's a famous place to go."

For nine days with tents, Coleman stoves and lanterns, Vi and Gunnar Metala along with Martha and George Tourin roughed it at the Killarney Provincial Park in Ontario. George brought along his canoe so they enjoyed expeditions on Lake George along with pike and perch fishing.

Among the calamities were two days of rain with two leaky tents. Fortunately, the leaks were over the "boy's beds". After a sixty mile trip to secure plastic to cover up the holes, it quit raining.

Some par for the course. And Gunnar suffered his first accident in thirty-five years of driving — if you can believe this, $200 damage to a pick-up truck, owned incidentally, by a man from Howell, and to Gunnar's Volvo — a broken taillight lens. Maybe those commercials aren't so wrong after all.

And another camping family returned this past weekend. Carolyn and Fred Morehead, along with Nicole and Michelle also journeyed to the northcountry with tent in tow. They too camped at the Killarney Provincial Park on Georgian Bay although they didn't run into our other tenters. Carolyn said the town of Killarney is a rather quiet fishing village with log cabin school. There were

By NANCY GINDGELEY
"All I want is a peanut butter and strawberry jelly sandwich when I get off that airplane" wrote one of the traveling students to her parents. Other S.O.S. letters received by the mothers — and dads requested big Coke's and lots of ice, a huge hamburger and lots of french fries!

The kids must be ready to come home because the letters are dwelling more and more on food.

One reported having horse for dinner now did that literally mean horse or was it just extra-tough beef? Others commented on squid for lunch adding a big "ick" after the word.

Needless to say, there were a lot of excited parents and happy kids that were reunited Tuesday night at Metro Airport and there may be some good tales to tell now that the Western group has returned from France.

I must say I have enjoyed writing about their letters — some of them have been real joys to read and report. From the last batch arriving in Wixom before the trip home: "We have been shopping, shopping, shopping, spending, spending, spending." Bet that put a shiver in a few spines!

The Western group couldn't go to the Principality of Luxembourg because only ten students could be accommodated. So, the Western group stayed behind in Strasburg. It's really a shame they missed that trip. I understand Luxembourg is really a picturesque country. Other comments were on the trips to museums and mayors' receptions adding that the mayors never showed up. I really had to chuckle over this one: "We do fun things like take trips to the Yegge Mountains — it rained all the way there and all the way back. We didn't see much. The weather has turned rather cold and there has been quite a lot of rain."

As far as school work is concerned, the group has been giving speeches and reports and they have attended some plays by Moliere — and everything, of course, conducted in French.

Winding up their stay in France was a vacation at the "cooley ghouley's" — quite a description. They also had a party at the "Caterpillar" in Strasburg. "It has a clock that has a chicken that crows, angels ring bells and people walk around — it's a famous place to go."

For nine days with tents, Coleman stoves and lanterns, Vi and Gunnar Metala along with Martha and George Tourin roughed it at the Killarney Provincial Park in Ontario. George brought along his canoe so they enjoyed expeditions on Lake George along with pike and perch fishing.

Among the calamities were two days of rain with two leaky tents. Fortunately, the leaks were over the "boy's beds". After a sixty mile trip to secure plastic to cover up the holes, it quit raining.

Some par for the course. And Gunnar suffered his first accident in thirty-five years of driving — if you can believe this, $200 damage to a pick-up truck, owned incidentally, by a man from Howell, and to Gunnar's Volvo — a broken taillight lens. Maybe those commercials aren't so wrong after all.

And another camping family returned this past weekend. Carolyn and Fred Morehead, along with Nicole and Michelle also journeyed to the northcountry with tent in tow. They too camped at the Killarney Provincial Park on Georgian Bay although they didn't run into our other tenters. Carolyn said the town of Killarney is a rather quiet fishing village with log cabin school. There were

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

An all-out effort to clean up the litter-lined roads in Northville township is being exerted by township officials.

Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg revealed this week that he is negotiating with the Wayne County welfare department for assistance.

Unemployed persons who would otherwise be on welfare will be made available to the township for clean-up work. The county pays the workers, the township provides the work and supervision.

"We're going to clean up all the trash and litter along every road in Northville township", Stromberg promised.

"And we're going to get tough on enforcement of ordinances prohibiting littering and uncovered rubbish trucks", the supervisor added.

As further evidence of the township's intention to crack down on litterers, Police Chief Ron Nisun was interviewed last Saturday evening on TV-2 as cameras filmed the trash-lined roads in the township. Much of the trash comes from trucks carrying loads of rubbish to the Salem landfill. Chief Nisun and his officers have warned truckers with uncovered loads that it is a violation in the township and that they will be fined.

Work will get underway soon on nearly five miles of waterline in Northville township from Six to Eight Mile and between Sheldon and Haggerty roads.

Township officials are beaming over the 6.2 per cent rate for its $925,000 bond issue, which will finance the project.

A 30-year contract already signed with the state of Michigan for supplying water to Northville State Hospital will provide the main source of revenue to pay-off the obligation.

Supervisor Stromberg also envisions new development as a result of the water source and notes that many residences now served by wells have indicated interest in tapping into the new system.

The project should begin later this month and be completed in five months.

Northville Downs completed its most successful meet ever Tuesday night by reversing the slump that had hit other Detroit-area tracks in earlier this year.

Through the 34th night Monday 191,419 fans had wagered a total of $14,246,393. That's an average attendance of 5,630 fans per night and a handle of $419,038.

Best previous betting average was set last year, $368,000 nightly.

The betting mark was up 13.2 per cent and attendance, 13.8 per cent.

Another 5,000 fans and some $400,000 in bets were expected for the closing night, Tuesday.

Despite the fact that the 35-night summer meet was the shortest ever staged, it turned out to be the most productive.

To the city of Northville it means some $15,000 in rebates from the state's share of the mutual handle.

Needless to say, Downs Executive Manager John Carlo was all smiles this week. He predicted long ago that the Northville track could become the finest harness facility in the midwest (he'd probably say country).

Improvements undertaken by the Downs and the Northville Driving Club (the landlord) have made this prediction come true. A few additions remain, among them more parking, but Carlo's already working on that.

The veteran trackman was surprised as the track closed Tuesday night by a birthday party given by employees of the track. They gave Carlo a pair of diamond horseshoe cufflinks.

He'll be 74 on Friday.

GO, GO...

As manager of the Anchor Inn, a bar that features topless dancers, I have noticed many times that when a man brings his wife in the first time to watch our show, he may have to do some coaxing at the door to get her to come in and sit down.

"Oh, I can't look at that", she'll say. But after husband and wife have been escorted to a table (a policy we never deviate from) they begin to watch and the wife finds herself enjoying the show and paying more attention to the dancer's ability and to the comedy skits we feature than she does the dancer's bare top.

That's what topless dancing is all about. Pure and simple, it's a form of entertainment if handled properly. Since the time of Christ there have been dancing girls and I suspect that for many more years than you or I could imagine there will still be.

I won't deny that our bar decided to go to topless dancing to bring in more customers. But just having a lot of girls moving back and forth on stage with no bras will not keep a business going. That's why I hire girls with personalities, not just according to bust sizes. And they must be able to dance and have good senses of humor.

Sure topless brings them in, but it's entertainment that brings them back again.

Speaking for Myself

Topless Dancing?

NO, NO...

I have not gone to many go-go bars because those I have attended turned me off. I sat and watched those women dance and wondered how they could be so far out of step with the music.

If a woman must display her wares, I feel it should be done in a burlesque show or a house of ill-repute. I'm sure their talents would pay off much better.

Sex is as old as the world but history tells me that the downfall of morals means the downfall of nations.

If these women would cultivate their personalities and dress so a man's imagination would keep working, I'm sure it would be to their advantage.

The average person would spend more time waiting for the unexpected to happen. Woman's biggest asset is man's imagination.

Men, stop and think! What if that was your wife, sister or daughter displaying her body to the public?

Our nation travels the same road as our morals and our roads are deteriorating fast.

Pastor Refutes Opera Critic

To the Editor: I read with interest "Speaking for Myself" on July 27, 1971, about the opera, "Jesus Christ Superstar". The response labeled "Profound" was pertinent and well taken. It is the response labeled "Profane" to which I feel compelled to reply since it contained inaccurate statements not only about the rock opera, but about the Bible itself.

The author states that the opera says Jesus "had an affair" with Mary. Rereading the lyrics I must concede that this interpretation could be defended. But the deeper significance of the way Jesus changed Mary's life is lost through such a superficial understanding.

In the eyes of her contemporaries, the harlot Mary Magdalene was the "professional" when it came to "love". Then Mary encountered Jesus and her whole life was changed, so much she seemed "like someone else". The song does not describe an "affair". It describes Mary's confusion over Jesus' love for all his fellow men, and this kind of reaction, is to be expected from a woman like Mary who has encountered the love of God for the first time in her life.

Further, the author blames the opera for saying Jesus wanted to be betrayed by Judas. Yet the opera is consistent with scripture. In both, Jesus knows Judas will betray him, he accepts it, and he sends Judas on his way.

The author criticizes the opera for saying Jesus was damned. Has he forgotten Matt. 12:24 where Jesus is accused of being a servant of Beelzebub, or John 8:48 where he is accused of "having a demon"? Both accusations are tantamount to being called "damned".

Dem Praises Senator Griffin

To the Editor: I would like the people of Michigan to know about a very gratifying experience I have just had with Senator Robert Griffin. I feel he has dramatically proven that our system of representative government is not only workable but is truly responsive.

I am a 24 year old medical student who wrote to Senator Griffin and Hart about a solution that could alleviate the critical shortage of physicians in rural and ghetto areas. Apparently Senator Griffin, who was aware of the problem, felt my idea had merit. It less than one month Senator Griffin transformed my basic concept into an amendment to the health bill. The amendment was then passed by the U.S. Senate. Presently the bill is in the Conference Committee where I hope the amendment will remain as part of the final bill. If not, the Senator has assured me he will draft an entirely new bill concerning this matter.

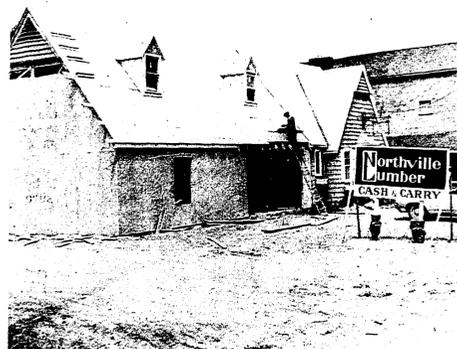

I want to point out that I am an ordinary citizen who is opposed to the war and I am to vote democratic. I have no prior political experience, no money, no connections, or political influence, yet I was able to convince Senator Griffin of the validity of my solution. He then took the action which he deemed to be the most rapid and effective. The results of the Senate vote are a testimony to his skill as a legislator.

I wish I could relate this experience to every citizen of this nation and especially to those who feel the individual citizen cannot be heard. Certainly, the credit must go to Senator Griffin who recognizes his responsibility and listens to his constituents irrespective of their political views and financial influence. Although I tend to vote democratic, I sincerely hope that the people of Michigan are assured that the bill he is accused of making excuses, is seldom good at anything else.

Sincerely yours,
Sol Edelstein

So There!

To the Editor: This is directed to the Conscientious Junior, Bill Hoy. The Yoke! yodels, "He who is good at making excuses, is seldom good at anything else."

EXPANSION—Northville Lumber's addition now under construction will triple the firm's display area according to General Manager Walter Doan, who expects the new facility to be completed and operational early in September. "We'll have an open house to show off our new building at that time," he said. Northville Lumber is located at 615 East Baseline.

Refutes Opera Critic

Continued from Page 8-A The author ends a long list of specific criticisms by stating the opera says Jesus was not a king or God. Again I must direct him to the Bible. See John 6:15 where Jesus hides from the crowd who wants to make him king, and also Mark 10:18 where Jesus rebukes a man for addressing him as "good," saying "There is none good but one, that is, God."

I must confess my initial reaction to the folk opera was negative. But as I studied it, comparing it with the gospels, my appreciation for "Jesus Christ Superstar" grew. Though, I still have two personal criticisms. First, the Superstar Jesus is more like an angry young man than I imagine Jesus would have been. Yet we are living in a time when righteous indignation is coming into vogue; the same emotion shown by Jesus in the temple. See Mark 11:15-17. So the opera does not violate scripture on this point. This remains a point of personal interpretation.

Second, the opera fails to include direct reference to the events of John 20:21: the empty tomb, the resurrection, and the appearances. This I consider a major fault. Yet the opera does record the "voice of Judas" speaking after his death. So it does include the foundation for a belief in resurrection, and again it does not violate scripture by denying the empty tomb. Whenever people begin to talk about, or describe, Jesus, invariably there will be disagreement, quite often violent disagreement. This is to be expected. Each of us must encounter his presence in our own individual way. We can give others a glimpse of our faith, but we can never really show them our inner most beliefs.

We need to approach the images others have given of

Form College Committee

Citizens Start Millage Drive

Residents from all sectors of the Schoolcraft district have answered the school's call for help in gaining approval of a one-mill tax increase to be voted September 13.

More than 40 persons have joined a citizens coordinating committee which is responsible for assisting a board-appointed steering committee in the millage effort. Coordinating committee members are assigned to six sub-committees, including those which will conduct local campaigns in each of the college's five member school districts.

Schoolcraft College is a community college serving the northern portion of Wayne County. Its member districts are Clarenceville, Garden City, Livonia, Northville, and Plymouth.

Chairman Lindner, expressed gratitude for the number of citizens willing to work, "while we have not quite gotten the geographic representation we were hoping for," he said, "we are certainly fortunate in that so many community leaders have joined the coordinating committee. There are a capable hardworking group of people." He added, "their presence adds an early, positive dimension to our effort."

Lindner said there is a need for more Livonia and Clarenceville residents to help. Livonia is the largest member of the Schoolcraft family. It has been divided into four sections for millage campaign purposes, and at least 16 are needed for the coordinating committee. Only half that number have joined to date.

Besides the local campaign committees, the working sub-committees are to handle materials and publications, special presentation, a speakers bureau, training, and fund raising. They report to the steering committee, but are solely responsible for all activity in their assigned area of the total campaign.

Two meetings of the coordinating committee have been held, while sub-committees are meeting in accordance with their separate working schedules.

Citizens forming the coordinating committee, by member district, include:

- CLARENCEVILLE: Mrs. Midge Ellis, Mrs. Lorene Erickson, Harold Weiss.
- GARDEN CITY: Mrs. Mildred Bergquist, Miss Paula Bettencourt, Mrs. Margaret Oldenburg, Mrs. Rose Schluski, Robert Stover, Mrs. Antoinette Strader, John Strader, William Van Horrick, Robert Wildish.
- LIVONIA: Edward Baugh, Mrs. Jean Eagle, Mrs. Delores Eaton, Mrs. Diane Holden, Albie LaBarge, James Melosh, other two, 13.

DeWayne Nutter, Robert Sigmund, Mrs. Audrey Becker, Mrs. Gladys Evans, Mrs. Jeanne Federspill, Mrs. Mary Jane Freydl, Mrs. Ardye Hildebrandt, Steven Juday, Mrs. Mary Lou Laruwe, Jan Reef, Mrs. Linda Starr, Fred Stafanski.

PLYMOUTH: Frank Brosnan, Edward Draugelis, Sam Hudson, Mrs. Einar Hultquist, Raymond Kenyon, Mrs. Stella LaDow, Charles E. Lowe, Mrs. Janet McNamara, Larry Ordowski, Mrs. Carol Selman.

Freeway Study Set

1275 will parallel the east side of Haggerty Road, from I-96 and I-66 in Novi, south along Northville Township.

Pecke sought and received council endorsement of the study, and reported that he would be the liaison between the city and local councilmen.

In other business Monday, the council—

Agreed to provide adequate police protection, at city expense, at Northville Downs during this weekend's three-day Northville Fair.

Amended three city personnel rules, providing an additional holiday (from nine to 10), one additional personal leave day (from two to three), and increasing the longevity pay schedule from $20 to $40.

Recommended the granting of an SDM (beer) license to Chatham Supermarket, 437 North Center Street.

Approved a loan of $1,000 from the public improvement fund to the local street fund (repayment expected within six weeks upon receipt of state gasoline tax rebates).

Named Councilman Paul Polino to review permit fee schedules with the city manager and directed Attorney Philip Ogilvie to prepare an ordinance on building fees and resolutions on electrical and plumbing fees for council consideration.

Agreed that Ogilvie should prepare an amendment to permit naming of two alternate zoning board of appeal members.

Purpose of the alternates is to ensure that an adequate number of voting members are present at board meeting. Under the present situation absence of two members can prevent passage of an appeal, even though the majority present favor it, because of the existing two-thirds majority rule. (Passage requires favorable approval by six of the nine members).

The alternates, as proposed, will have voting rights only when serving in the absence of regular members. The two thirds rule would continue.

Ford Gets City Pot Party or Picnic? Truck Contract

Contracts were awarded Monday for asphalt repair and purchase of a dump truck and a garbage truck at a combined cost of $30,271.

Northville City Council made the awards following review of bids open Friday.

The asphalt contract went to Detroit Concrete Products of Novi at a total cost of $15,300.

In awarding this contract, however, councilmen conditioned it upon satisfactory start and finish of the asphalt recapping jobs in the city.

Although Detroit Concrete Products was the low bidder, councilmen came close to picking the second-low bidder, Howell Construction Company of Northville ($18,450), because of the long-delayed completion of the Allen Drive project by Detroit Concrete.

While city officials voiced displeasure with the company's past delay, they nevertheless were satisfied with the workmanship.

Contracts for both of the new vehicles — a dump truck chassis and a packer chassis — went to John Mach Ford Sales of Northville at prices of $6,569.45 and $8,402, respectively. The latter includes a $1,172 automatic transmission.

Ford was low bidder on the packer and $36 higher on the dump truck. However, the council picked Ford over G. E. Miller Sales of Northville, which bid $6,533 on the dump truck, because Miller could not supply the specified 50-gallon gasoline tank.

IT'S OFFICIAL — With formalization of a purchase agreement this past week, the city acquired the building near Dunlap and Center streets, which houses D & D Floor Covering and Northville Collision bump shop. The two businesses will move into new buildings to be located on property purchased from the city. D & D will be located on the east side of the Spinning Wheel building off Cady Street, while Northville Collision will be located on part of the former city dump property on Gerald Avenue. City Attorney Philip Ogilvie (left) makes the final payments to the business owners (1 to 3), William Ahern, Donald Bingham and Donald Stevens. The building and land purchased by the city will be razed eventually for municipal parking.

Mile south of West Main, west of River, Beal and Church streets and east of the city limits.

On the basis of areas, the greatest number of persons ages 65 and over lived in Area IV, the census showed. The biggest bulge in the 5-17 age bracket appeared in Area I.

The census showed that the city had in 1970 a total of 5,375 whites and 25 non-whites. Non-whites included nine Negroes, six Indians, and 10 "others."

The census showed all nine Negroes lived in Area IV. The Indians lived in Area II, III, IV, and V.

While only nine Negroes were counted in the 1970 population, the census showed 12 Negroes owned homes here.

A total of 12 vacant housing units were up for sale during the 1970 census, and 37 housing units in the city had roomers or boarders.

Based on data concerning rents, the census indicated that of the 1,688 housing units in the city only 42 were being rented. The greatest number of rented units were located in Areas IV and V.

The greatest number of housing units were being rented for less than $40 and 11 of them were in the $20 to $29 rent bracket.

According to the census data, there were 223 housing units in the city with from 1 to 3 rooms; 894 with from 4 to 6 rooms; and 555 with from 7 to 8 rooms.

Greatest number of the 7 to 8 room units were located in Area I (149) and in Area II (148).

Greatest number of the 1 to 3-room units were located in Area V (95) and Area IV (82).

The number of persons per housing unit — the formula that is used by school districts in projecting student enrollments — differed significantly by area.

opening of college this fall, he added.

And just as the enrollment from communities elsewhere in the district has zoomed upward, so too has the enrollment of students living in Northville increased dramatically. It rose from 72 in 1964, he said, to 192 last winter and it will hit 223 this year.

Approximately one-third of the student body is made up of non-resident students, Dr. Grote said. These, however, pay a higher tuition rate that attempts to equalize taxes paid by parents of students from within the district, he explained.

Although no official action has been taken by the board, Second said members and administrators feel confident it will be necessary to levy only part of the millage immediately if approved by voters.

in all five districts.

Greke is one of the three incumbents whose terms are not up because they ran and won election on the at-large basis in an earlier election.

Besides the election of five board members from the slate of 18 candidates — two for two-year terms and three for six-year terms — the September election ballot will include a split millage proposition.

Voters will be asked to approve a one-half mill increase for operation and a one-half mill increase for building.

Clarenceville — Barry M. Sherman, 1929 Renssler, two-year term.

Garden City — Gerald L. Cox, 3276 Maplewood, two-year term; and Ernest L. Schmitter, 31179 Dawson, six-year term.

Plymouth — Leroy C. Bennett, 14387 Northville Road; Milan A. Emanuel, 15047 Lakeside; and Archibald E. Vallier, 138 Penniman; all for six-year terms.

Livonia — Mary E. Dumas, 17659 Lovelands; Harvey Hershey, 38450 Ladywood; Paul Kadish, 18687 Purlingbrook; Wayne Larcinese, 29210 Lori; Ron Martindale, 10655 Camden; Lawrence Nolan, 31175 Minton; and George F. Shirley, 34618 Spring Valley Drive; all for two-year terms.

James Bowley, 16385 Farmington Road; Roger Carver, 29722 Jaquelyne; James E. Higgins, 4949 Linda; Rosina Raymond, 15906 Oak Drive; and Ivan G. Smith, 10056 Deering; all six-year terms.

None of these candidates are incumbents. However, Bennett is a former board member.

Car Stunts, Rodeo Top Second Fair

Three big shows, one of them free, will headline the second annual edition of the Northville Fair at Northville Downs this weekend.

Of course, besides the show events, there'll also be literally dozens of rides, concession booths, and fun activities during the jam-packed three-day event.

Kicking it all off Saturday at 9 a.m. will be the free 4-H Horse Show that will stretch into the afternoon. (See Horse's Mouth, Page 3-B).

The Diamond S. Rodeo, making its first appearance at the fair, will cap the 4-H show with thrilling demonstrations and competition at 5 p.m. and again at 8 p.m.

This featured wild west show, with performances in front of the glass enclosed, air-conditioned grandstands, boasts some of the country's best cowboys, cowgirls, and clowns who will exhibit their skills in bucking horse riding, bronco bull riding, calf roping, and fancy riding, trick and facing roping, and bull whip manipulating.

An Indian trick horse, high jumping horse, an educated mule, and trained dog also will be part of the fast, action-packed 90 minute display of western entertainment.

Returning to Northville where it thrilled capacity crowds last year, the nationally famed Hurricane Hell Drivers will put on two performances Sunday—at 2:30 p.m. and again at 7:30 p.m.

Highlighting this event will be the breath-taking ramp-to-ramp jump over four parked cars by a motorcycle champion, while movie stuntman and show producer, Dan Fleener, will drive his car down the Downs track on two wheels.

The show includes performances some of the world's greatest auto drivers and circus clowns.

Climaxing each of the two-hour performances will be the Diamond S. Rodeo.

Her Birthday's Not Ordinary

TOUCHING SURPRISE—There were tears in "Grandma" Sophie Huegel's eyes Saturday when she was surprised at the Martin Luther Home in South Lyon with a gigantic cake honoring her on a memorable occasion—her 107th birthday! State officials believe she may be the oldest living resident of Michigan.

Abraham Lincoln was still living when "Grandma," who celebrated a birthday Saturday, was born.

It wasn't an ordinary birthday. No, indeed.

It was a birthday marking 107 years.

And that's no ordinary birthday in any of the world's languages—even in German, the native language of Mrs. Sophie Huegel who was feted at a party Saturday at the Martin Luther Home in South Lyon where she has lived for the past five years.

Easily the oldest resident at the Luther Home where she is affectionately called "Grandma," she may be one of the oldest—if not the oldest—in Michigan.

Officials of the state's Lansing office of vital statistics know of no one older, nor does the regional headquarters for Social Security. "She could be the state's oldest resident," they say.

No matter. She's something special. Even President Richard Nixon thinks so. He sent her birthday greetings last week, just as he and former President Lyndon Johnson did in previous years.

Still alert and cheerful, "Grandma" Huegel isn't as impressed by letters from Presidents as she is by the attention she receives right at her home.

Her health? "Well," says one of her three Northville area grandchildren, Mrs. Fred Casterline of Northville, "she doesn't have to take aspirin or pills."

As a matter of fact, if she had her way it would be Wheaties for breakfast every morning and sauerkraut and sausage every night.

Born in Alsace-Lorraine, France on July 31, 1864, "Grandma" was married in 1888 and came to the United States in 1914. They settled in Detroit and later bought a farm in Mt. Clemens.

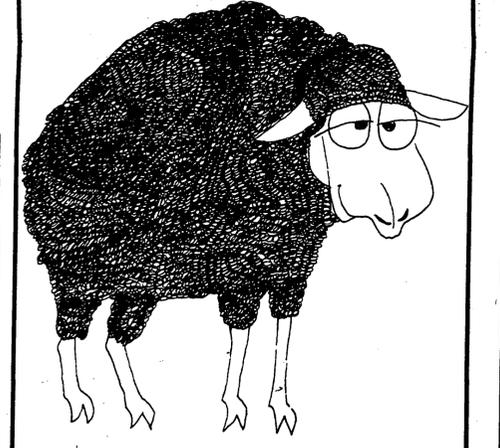

She and her husband, Henry, celebrated their golden anniversary in 1938—two years before he died. While she speaks only German, she has little difficulty communicating. Mostly it's about her family.

And what a family. It's still growing. Even though only five of her eight children are still living. It includes 11 grandchildren, 17 great grandchildren, and three great great grandchildren.

Besides Mrs. Casterline, two other grandchildren from this area include Mrs. Fred Balko and Julius Sauer.

No, Saturday wasn't an ordinary birthday. Even if it didn't include strudel.

Watch Out for Poisoning

Summer is get away time... you can get away to picnics, barbecues, beaches, but don't get to get away with careless food handling.

"It can lead to a messy case of food poisoning," warns Maryann Meldrum, Michigan State University food marketing agent.

"Bacteria that cause food poisoning enjoy food and summer temperatures as much as you do. They develop and thrive at ordinary summertime temperatures of 50 to 120 degrees," Miss Meldrum says.

The first rule of proper food handling is to keep food clean, she points out. When preparing food, wash your hands thoroughly and often. Keep insects and animals away from food.

Secondly, keep hot foods hot, cold foods cold. Several thicknesses of newspaper and insulated containers help hold heat or cold. Use them when transporting food to the picnic or barbecue area.

Heat or chill food containers and insulated carriers as well as food, Miss Meldrum recommends. Then put the hot or cold food into the carriers.

Place bags of ice cubes or cans of pre-frozen special liquid around the food. You can even freeze milk cartons filled with water and put them in the traveling cooler when you're ready to go, Miss Meldrum says.

Conglomerates Winning Back Their Popularity

By 1968 the merger pace reached a crescendo. Many companies gobbled up other firms simply to add earnings that could be instantly reflected in the parent companies' net per share. To finance the acquisitions, convertible securities or warrants were usually issued, thus raising the parent companies' leverage and senior capital ratios, thereby increasing the vulnerability of the situation.

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass. — What group of stocks won popularity contests in 1967 and 1968 but couldn't find a friend in 1969 and 1970? Answer: The conglomerates. This year, however, some of them have been among the better stock market performers, though, for the most part the issues remain well below their former peaks. The following table shows the ups and downs of some of the leading conglomerates in recent years:

Company	1967-68	'70	Recent	Approx. Price Range
Aeco	$ 65 3/8	$ 9 1/2	$ 13	46
City Investing	39 1/2	10 1/2	20	94
Engle-Picher	35 1/4	16 3/4	23	37
GenCorp	20 7/8	5	9	78
Gulf S. Western	64 1/4	12	26	174
I & T	62 1/2	30 1/2	65	113
Kinney Services	44 7/8	20 7/8	31	50
Lincoln	169 1/2	7 1/8	14	91
Litton	109 1/2	14 7/8	29	77
Ogden	52	6 5/8	17	157
Signal Cos.	47 7/8	11 1/2	18	58
Textile	57 7/8	15 1/2	26	96
U.S. Industries	36 3/4	11 3/8	26	131
White Consolidated	42 1/2	8	22	223

IN THE LATE sixties conglomerate companies were not the only ones that were carried away with the acquisition craze. Investors too were just as enthusiastic about making acquisitions — but in their case it was acquiring the stocks of the leading conglomerate companies. Thus, prices were driven up to fantastically high levels.

The conglomerate heyday was shortlived. By early 1969 most of the issues were in headlong retreat. This was largely the result of both government antitrust threats and proposed changes in securities laws to regulate mergers and acquisitions. There was also increasing investor skepticism about reported earnings and the accounting methods used to achieve them. As the companies increasingly lost their aura of glamor and the overall market declined, their stocks plummeted rapidly — most reached rock bottom in 1970.

FROM THEIR low points of 1970, many conglomerate stocks have scored good rebounds. Although much of the rise has been accounted for by institutional buying, the conglomerates have recently regained many other friends.

The improved outlook for the conglomerate companies has been due largely to their moves toward consolidating their acquisitions, spinning off or otherwise disposing of unprofitable units, extensive cost-cutting, and a general tightening of their overall operations.

Drunk Driving Arrests

Up in First Half of '71

More drunken drivers have been arrested in Michigan during the first six months of 1971 than during the same period in 1970. According to a report recently released by the Michigan Department of State Police Safety and Traffic Division, a total of 13,331 drivers have been arrested for drunken driving by police departments throughout the state. Of those, 10,435 have submitted to the breath test while 2,896 have refused to take the test.

IF YOU CHECK ONE OF THESE BOXES WE'VE STRUCK A NERVE

Do you have a "ring" on your phone handset?

Do you have a "click" when you dial?

Is your hair "falling" after you shampoo?

Is your auto dry and noisy after you wash it?

Do you wish your laundry would wash better?

For the painless way to have soft water call and say

HEY CULLIGAN MAN!

Have the best for as little as $10.00 per month.

The cost of your long distance calls will not be affected by the new proposed rates.

Don't expect the new proposed rates to make a big difference in your phone bill. Because they won't. The new rates will apply mainly to your basic rate and would not in any way affect the charges for long distance calls within Michigan. For example, you can make a one-minute call from Flint to Traverse City for 30¢ or less (depending on whether you dial direct). The same call would cost exactly the same under the new rate proposal.

Though the new rate proposal will not increase long distance rates, your bill will still go up or down in direct proportion to the number and length of such calls. So, to a great extent, the size of your bill is up to you. You can lower it by making fewer and briefer long distance calls, if you choose.

If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to call your Michigan Bell Business Office. We want to help.

But, as always, the more toll calls you make, the more you pay.

Have You Learned Value of A Friend?

Rev. Robert Beddingfield, First Baptist Church of South Lyon

A story is told of a company of knights, travelling through a strange section of China, who came to camp one night beside a dry stream. As they rested from the day's journey, a voice spoke, "Take a handful of pebbles from the river bed and you will be both sorry and glad."

"The knights gathered up handfuls of pebbles, tucked them into their pockets, and set out before daylight on their long journey. By noon they had travelled far and stopped for lunch. Remembering the voice, one of the knights reached into his pocket and pulled out the pebbles. In the glare of the noonday sun the men saw that the pebbles were actually rubies and diamonds. Each knight discovered the same treasure and only then realized what the voice had meant; they were glad that they had taken a handful of the pebbles and sorry that they had not taken more."

"So it is with friendship. A friend is one who is with you through life, many are the opportunities missed to gather precious jewels of friendship. And only when it becomes too late do we realize and regret our failures. As a minister I have many unique opportunities to gain friends, and many wonderful friends I have, but many opportunities to cultivate warm friendships I have let slip away."

A woman celebrity was recently quizzed, "If you had your life to live over what would you do differently?" The unexpected reply, "Make more friends." Wealth will perish. Health will fail. Possessions will decay. Success fades. True friends remain although they can be counted on the fingers. Have you learned the value of a friend?

There is one friend that we dare not forfeit—Jesus. He has already called himself our friend. This friendship is eternal. It continues when others must pause. He has proven to be our best friend. He has passed the supreme test of friendship: "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends." Do you know Him?
