

Northville Fair Two Weeks Away

There'll be lots of action and variety at the annual Northville Fair, sponsored by the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce and slated for August 4, 5 and 6 at Northville Downs.

In addition to commercial displays, art exhibits, games of chance and all kinds of rides, this year's fair will feature a unique wild animal show and a demolition derby.

Another touch of variety will be added by the Northville Jaycees who will provide food and frolic in the form of a Bavarian-style Summerfest with dancing and food.

Gene Holter's nationally-known "MovieLand Animal" show will be staged Saturday, August 5 at 2 and 8 p.m.

Highlight of the animal show may be the ostrich race driven by well-known Northville citizens.

Holter is owner of MovieLand Animal Park in Bloomington, California and reputedly owns and trains more animals than any individual in the country.

In addition to racing ostriches the Holter show includes elephants, zions (half zebra, half pony) and ponies (half zebra, half donkey), Appaloosa stallion, llamas, motion picture wonder dogs and stunt men, performing bears, Rocky the elephant featured in "Swiss Family Robinson" and the animal race from the same motion picture.

Sunday, August 6 at 2 and 8 p.m. the action features the demolition derby competition.

What's a "demolition derby?"

Well, here's how it's described by the Nation-Wide Demolition Derby staff that will stage the event in Northville.

"It is simply a well-organized deliberate destruction of automobiles. A typical contest opens with qualifying events in which 10 to 20 drivers competitively crash and smash their cars into each other creating a scene of motorized mayhem in front of a standing, screaming audience. One by one drivers are eliminated as their cars suffer the fatal injuries that prevent movement. The last two drivers whose crippled cars can still move are eligible to compete in the feature event for the glories of championship and the benefits of big money. In the feature the one car that outruns and outdures the others, the one that can still move amid the other smoldering piles of junk, is the one that earns the title of "Champion Destroyer", and its driver takes home the bacon.

So, that's "Demolition Derby" action.

General chairman for this year's fair is N.C. Schrader, Jr. His committee is composed of Jerry Stone, Glenn Long, Les Bowden and Arthur Jahn. The Northville Fair is staged to raise funds for local non-profit organizations.

WORKING HIS WAY TO THE TOP—Novi's 16-year-old Chris Polak, with a lot of help from his friends, nabbed the $5 prize in the Greased Pole Contest at Gala Days last weekend. Sponsored by the Novi Jaycees, Gala Days was hurt by the extreme heat which kept daytime crowds to a minimum. Still, the Jaycees declared the event a success in that it was indeed the biggest Gala Days they have ever put on and was totally enjoyed by those who attended. Chairmen for the four-day event were Philip Cozadd and Jerry Fortenberry.

Assistant Superintendent

Barr Gets Post

Dr. William D. Barr, 42, of Highland Park, was named assistant superintendent Monday by the Novi Board of Education.

His salary was fixed at $22,000.

He replaces T. Richard Hendrickson, who left the district earlier this summer to assume a superintendent's position with the Williamston School District.

Married, with five children, Dr. Barr received his bachelor's degree from Eastern Michigan University (Michigan Normal) in 1955 after teaching for five years.

In 1956 he was awarded a master's degree in general school administration from the University of Michigan, and this past May he received his doctorate in curriculum development at Wayne State University.

After several years of teaching at the elementary and junior high school level, he became principal in the Rochester (Mich.) school system, later was named superintendent of the Kimball Unit School District.

Still later he served as assistant superintendent-business as well as secretary-treasurer of the board of education in the Port Huron area school system.

For the past six years he has been with the Highland Park School District, serving as assistant superintendent-business and as secretary-treasurer of the Michigan School Business Officials' association.

He is also a past president of the Michigan Congress of School Administrators.

He is an elder in the Presbyterian Church and also serves as treasurer.

Dr. Barr and his family hope to move to this area as soon as they are able to find a home.

Board Approves Position Shifts

Three shifts in positions, including a new slot for former superintendent Thomas Dale, were approved by the Novi Board of Education Monday.

Dale, who was replaced by Dr. Gerald Kratz, as superintendent of the district, was named administrative assistant effective August 23. Dale is presently on leave.

Two teaching transfers also were approved.

Mary Hart, first grade teacher at Novi Elementary School, was moved to the Orchard Hills Library, and Carol Smith, third grade teacher at Village Oaks Elementary, is to teach fifth grade at Novi Elementary.

Contracts were extended to two other teachers: Miss Margaret Clarke, of Livonia, a Wayne State University graduate, is to teach physical education at Novi and Orchard Hills elementary schools and at the Middle School, and Michael Haley of Southfield, also a Wayne State University graduate, also is to teach physical education at Novi and Orchard Hills elementary schools and at the Middle School.

Salaries of both teachers were set at $8,234.

The board also named Carol Boyer as superintendent's secretary at an hourly rate of $4.25, and $20 per board meeting she is required to attend.

Edith Vahlbusch, present superintendent's secretary, requested that she be transferred to become counseling secretary in the Middle School effective August 21.

All appointments and transfers were recommended by Superintendent Kratz.

Set Condemnation Hearing Seek to Clean Up Walled Lake Area

Upset with the large number of what it termed "sub-standard dwelling units" within the city limits, the Novi city council Monday set August 3 as the date for a public hearing to begin condemnation proceedings against 10 buildings.

Among the owners of the buildings cited for condemnation are Marvin Stemples, state representative from the thirty-fifth district, and the Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

In requesting the council start condemnation proceedings, City Manager George Athas presented a slide presentation in the darkened council chambers of the buildings he thought should be condemned and torn down. He prefaced his presentation with the comment, "These are nice places to visit, but there's no way I'd want anyone to live there."

Although specific complaints varied from structural to structure, most buildings were said to have sagging floors, ceilings, and roofs; buckled walls; inadequate waste facilities; and either no or improper and unsafe foundations.

In all cases, Athas said, the buildings for which condemnation was being asked were unoccupied, open to trespassing, and constituted a health and safety hazard.

A series of six cement block buildings owned by the Chamberlain Realty Company were reported to have walls so cracked that daylight could be seen through them.

The building owned by Representative Stemples was reportedly slated for improvements in 1970, but no work has ever been done.

Another edifice had been slated for condemnation in 1965, but the initial condemnation proceedings had apparently never been followed up, said Athas.

In every instance, Athas told the council, the owner has been notified at least once of the city's dissatisfaction with the existing state of the building.

If, after the public hearing, the council decides to continue with condemnation proceedings, the next step will be to go out for bids for the demolishing of the houses. The cost of having the homes torn down is charged to the owner and, should he not pay it, the fee is added to the city's tax bill and exists as a lien against his property.

"It is interesting to note and the council should be aware of the fact," said Athas, "that when we began our study of which houses should be torn down some two months ago, the list we came up with was considerably longer than the 10 we requested tonight. Since that time there have been some mysterious fires and a couple of miracles."

"Eighteen demolished in one way or another or improved to the point of acceptability," city officials have long been concerned about the deteriorating condition of homes in the Walled Lake area where many of the cottages were built before housing codes had been adopted.

It was thought that the recent extension of sewage facilities to the area might influence owners to abandon their homes, as the tap-in fee of $2,000 in many cases approached the actual value of the house.

To encourage developers to participate in improving the area, the council in January approved a zoning for the Walled Lake area which would permit construction of high rise multiple-family residences. By offering developers the economic incentive of increased density for their property, it was reasoned, they would be willing to go through the trouble of acquiring small parcels and tearing down the existing sub-standard structures.

Initiation of condemnation proceedings is another move to help "clean-up" the Walled Lake area. Of the 10 buildings cited for condemnation Monday, all but one are in the Walled Lake section of the city.

Athas indicated that the city will seek condemnation of other buildings in the future.

"Frankly, there are a lot more buildings down there that we'll be going after if they are not brought up to standards," he said.

When asked by a councilman what action the city would take if the sub-standard dwellings are being occupied, Athas responded that his concern was solely with the condition of the building.

"On one case last week, we inspected a home where the walls were bowed considerably and our inspector made the man and his family move out," Athas said. "The very next day we had some heavy rains and the building collapsed."

Milliken at Ground Breaking

Novex-One Underway

With Michigan Governor William Milliken in attendance, the Rich-Sullivan ceremony last Monday for its Class A industrial park development in Novi.

Named "Novex one" and located on a 63-acre site north of Nine Mile Road approximately half a mile east of Novi Road, the park will have an estimated developed value of $15 million.

Groundbreaking was marked by the planting of a white pine by Governor Milliken. Developers Irving Rich and Bernard Sullivan explained that the trees of Novi Road, the park will be symbolic of their commitment to preserving and enhancing that natural beauty of the site while blending technology with ecology.

Further landscaping is planned, the developer said. The park is located on the former Heslip property and in honor of its former owners, the main street has been named Heslip Drive.

Cited by Mayor Joseph Crupi as an important development for the city in its efforts to attain a higher industrial ratio in its tax base, the park is zoned for heavy and general industry, but can also accommodate smaller applications.

Conceived for tomorrow's businesses, Novex One's contemporary architecture will blend with the surrounding residential areas.

Other participating in the tree planting ceremony Wednesday were State Representative Clifford Smart, house minority leader; Mayor Crupi; and Richard Helmbrecht, director

Novi Asks County

Plat Act Violation?

The question of whether or not developer Jarvis Schmidt has got to plat "the whole thing" was partially resolved by the Novi city council Monday, as it gave conditional pre-preliminary plat approval and then referred the matter to the Oakland County Plat Board for its action.

The Jarvis Schmidt matter, deemed especially important as it involves a much-wanted industrial subdivision, has lingered before the council for more than seven months now. One of the reasons for the council's indecision has been the unusually complex nature of the matter.

Schmidt owns a large piece of property at the northeast corner of Novi and Ten Mile Roads on which he would like to develop an industrial subdivision. Members of the council, who would ordinarily jump at the offer to bolster the city's tax base, have been reluctant to go along with Schmidt as they feel he has violated the state's Plat Act.

Under the provisions of the Plat Act, a piece of property must be platted before it can be split into more than four pieces. Although Schmidt has argued to the contrary, it is the consensus of the council that in making six splits—some of them after the council had objected to the number of splits—he is in violation of the Plat Act. The council's opinion is shared by City Attorney Howard Bond.

The question is then how can the city get the industrial subdivision and still not sanction violations of the state law?

Specifically, Monday's action concerned Schmidt's request for pre-preliminary TREE PLANTING CEREMONIES—Instead of the traditional ground-breaking ceremonies, developers Sullivan and Rich dedicated their new industrial park in Novi by planting a tree, symbolic of the developments' emphasis of a "park within a park." On hand for the occasion were (from left to right) Clifford Smart, minority leader of Michigan's House of Representatives; Governor William Milliken; and Irving Rich and Bernard Sullivan of the Rich-Sullivan Company.

Novi Audience Learns

Meditation Helps Life

John Sullivan calls it "a very simple technique." His wife, Mary, says it is "a way to improve one's daily life."

Transcendental meditation is very important to Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan of Pontiac. They have been practicing the technique for three years and have been teaching it since March.

Sponsored by the International Meditation Society, the Sullivans give lectures, mainly in the tri-county area, on the benefits of transcendental meditation and teach the technique to interested persons.

In their introductory lecture last week at the Novi Community Building, the couple explained what transcendental meditation can do to make life better for an individual.

Sullivan explained that transcendental meditation is not a religion, but "has been found by many to be a good supplement to religion." He said it is a "preparation for activity."

He explained that because life is centered on activity, and activity is hinged on thinking, the source of thought or consciousness is what must be reached in order to improve life.

"In meditation," Sullivan said, "there is no loss of awareness, but an increase in mental alertness."

He said meditators have been tested, while meditating and that scientists believe the rest gained through the technique is twice as deep as deep sleep.

One of the purposes of transcendental meditation, Sullivan said is to "dissolve the stress of daily life." The results of the technique are cumulative and the development of the individual when beginning transcendental meditation is a holistic development," he said.

Not just anyone is qualified to teach the method. The Sullivans spent six months studying the current exponent of the technique, Maharshi Yogi. A minimum of three months of training in the finer points is required before one is able to teach and lecture.

According to Mrs. Sullivan, transcendental meditation can lead to world peace. "It is the individual's responsibility to dissolve stress in the world," she said. "By dissolving the stress in the way of free expression, she, the ability to express love comes from within and shows on the outside."

To begin meditating, Sullivan said, there are seven steps. The first two are lectures on the benefits and methods of the technique. The third is an introductory teacher of transcendental meditation. The last four steps are a series of lessons held on four consecutive days.

In deciding whether or not to begin to meditate an individual must consider three things. First of all, he must invest time. In order for the technique to work, Sullivan said, one must meditate for 15 to 20 minutes at the beginning and end of each day. Also, before meditation is begun, one must be free from the use of all hard drugs for at least 15 days. The third is financial obligation.

"The financial obligation is important to make," Sullivan said. He explained that as long as a financial commitment is made to the International Meditation Society, a tax exempt organization, it might help to insure that the individual will make use of the technique.

Godfrey-Dornes Vows Said

Margaret I. Godfrey and Gregory Dornes were married in an early evening ceremony on June 30 at Our Lady of Victory Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Godfrey of Livonia and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Alvin G. Dornes, 42762 Lyric.

Bride Wears

Mother's Gown

Kathleen Ann Bell wore her mother's wedding dress for her July 15 marriage to Larry I. Hunt. The 7 p.m. ceremony took place in the garden of the bride's home.

The Reverend Philip Seymour of Novi United Methodist Church performed the double ring ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Bell, 43485 Fonda, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hunt of Farmington. A flower-covered canopy and fireside baskets filled with summer flowers decorated the garden.

Planiat Denise Ward played traditional wedding music, and Nancy Cotter sang "One Hand, One Heart."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore the same dress her mother wore for her wedding 21 years ago. The traditional white satin dress featured a fitted bodice with an illusion veil and a full sweep skirt. Her fingertip veil was secured by flowered and lace headpiece.

After a wedding trip to Cedar Point, Ohio, the couple will live at 46980 Grand River.

Honored at Luncheon

A luncheon was given at the home of Mrs. Alex H. Lyke on July 19 in honor of her granddaughter Mrs. John Cynthia Smith Sutton former of Northville. The luncheon was given by Mrs. Lyke's three sisters. Mrs. Sutton has lived in Boston for the last year where her husband was affiliated with Children's Hospital.

Dr. and Mrs. Sutton left on July 23 for Ireland to visit his parents. From there they will travel to Geneva, Switzerland, where they will live for one year. Dr. Sutton will be associated with the University of Geneva Hospital.

30-Minute Dinner

Easy Summer Recipe

There may be days during the summer when even the most enthusiastic cooks won't want to be in the kitchen for a long time preparing large meals. Summer can be a time when even the cook might take it easy once in a while. This chicken dish takes only 30 minutes to prepare and requires no oven heatup the house.

Chicken Supreme: 2 chicken breasts split in half, 1 can cream of chicken soup, butter or margarine, 1-3 cup white wine. Melt enough butter or margarine in large skillet to brown chicken. After chicken is browned, add soup and wine, cover and cook over medium heat for 20 minutes. This might be served with rice or buttered Irish potatoes, and buttered French style green beans with almond slivers.

U-Kan will reopen Monday, July 31, in the former fish hatchery building on Seven Mile Road, between Enderbury and Orchard drives.

Open throughout the summer, hours of the counseling center will be 8 to 11 p.m. Monday, Wednesday, and Friday and from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. on Tuesday and Thursday. The new telephone number is 349-1640.

U-Kan will offer crisis intervention center sponsored by the Council for Community Concerns, will be under the direction of Jack Wickens. He will also supervise the activities on Tuesday and Thursday.

Mrs. Edward (Betty) Hancock and Vic Temple will be in charge of activities the other three days.

In addition to the center, the phone-in line will be staffed by young adults who have undergone approximately six weeks of training.

"A person in crisis is at a turning point," Wickens explained. "He faces a problem that he cannot readily solve by using the coping mechanisms that have worked for him before."

"As a result," he continued, "his tension and anxiety increase and he becomes less able to find a solution."

Wickens explained that a "start towards resolution of the problem can sometimes be made through a person's own plan of action. At other times, it may result in a referral to another person or agency better equipped to give further help."

The goal of crisis intervention is the resolution of the immediate crisis, focusing on the present with the restoration of the person to his pre-crisis level of functioning.

In addition to the crisis intervention provided by U-Kan, structured group interaction sessions will be held on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

BRAILLE PRESIDENT—Mrs. John Begle (right) newly elected president of the Tri-County Braille volunteers, discusses new ideas for the group with a former student Mrs. Richard Cooper, of 18100 Shadbrook. Mrs. Cooper and Mrs. Begle are the only two Braille transcribers living in the Northville area.

Transcribe for Blind

She'll Head Volunteers

Mrs. John Begle, 41700 Nine Mile Road, is the new president of the Tri-County Braille Volunteers. The organization has about 200 sighted volunteers in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties who transcribe pleasure and text books for the blind.

According to Mrs. Begle, relatively few people know enough about the work done by transcribers, and as president she will attempt to tell more individuals about the importance of having more books, especially text books, transcribed into braille.

"Very often if a student does not have the necessary text books in braille, he cannot take a class," she explained. Mrs. Begle has been transcribing books into braille since 1959 and has been teaching braille to the sighted since the 1968-69 school season.

Since she began teaching, 44 of her students have gone on to become certified braille transcribers by the Library of Congress which, she said, "involves a lot of hard work."

Some transcribers who have musical knowledge go on to music notation transcription for the blind which requires no further certification from the Library of Congress.

A third type of transcription done by the Tri-County Volunteers is the Nemeth math transcription, a code developed by a University of Detroit doctor, which is used internationally.

Mrs. Begle takes pride in her work for the blind and says that she finds her transcribing as well as her braille teaching "quite challenging," and wishes that more individuals could enjoy the same satisfaction.

Novi Jaycees Hear Recreation Speaker

Thomas Moran, representing the Citizens Committee for Continuing Progress in Recreation, was a guest speaker Tuesday evening at a meeting of the Novi Jaycee Auxiliary.

The meeting was held at 22854 Penton Rise Court. The presentation was part of an informational effort by the citizens committee to inform voters about the August 8 referendum on increasing the 1/2 mill property tax, that supports the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, to 1/2 mill.

Moran explained that the 1/2 mill property tax increase is being sought to carry out the Authority's plans to develop at least three new major metropolitan parks in the five-county area during the next 15 years and to lease and rebuild Belle Isle Park which is now operated by the City of Detroit.

One of the parks presently operated by HCMA is Kensington Park located near New Hudson of US-96.

City Hearing Slated

Changes Proposed For Master Plan

If there is a single theme in committee efforts to revise the City of Northville's master plan it is to shore up the city's residential areas.

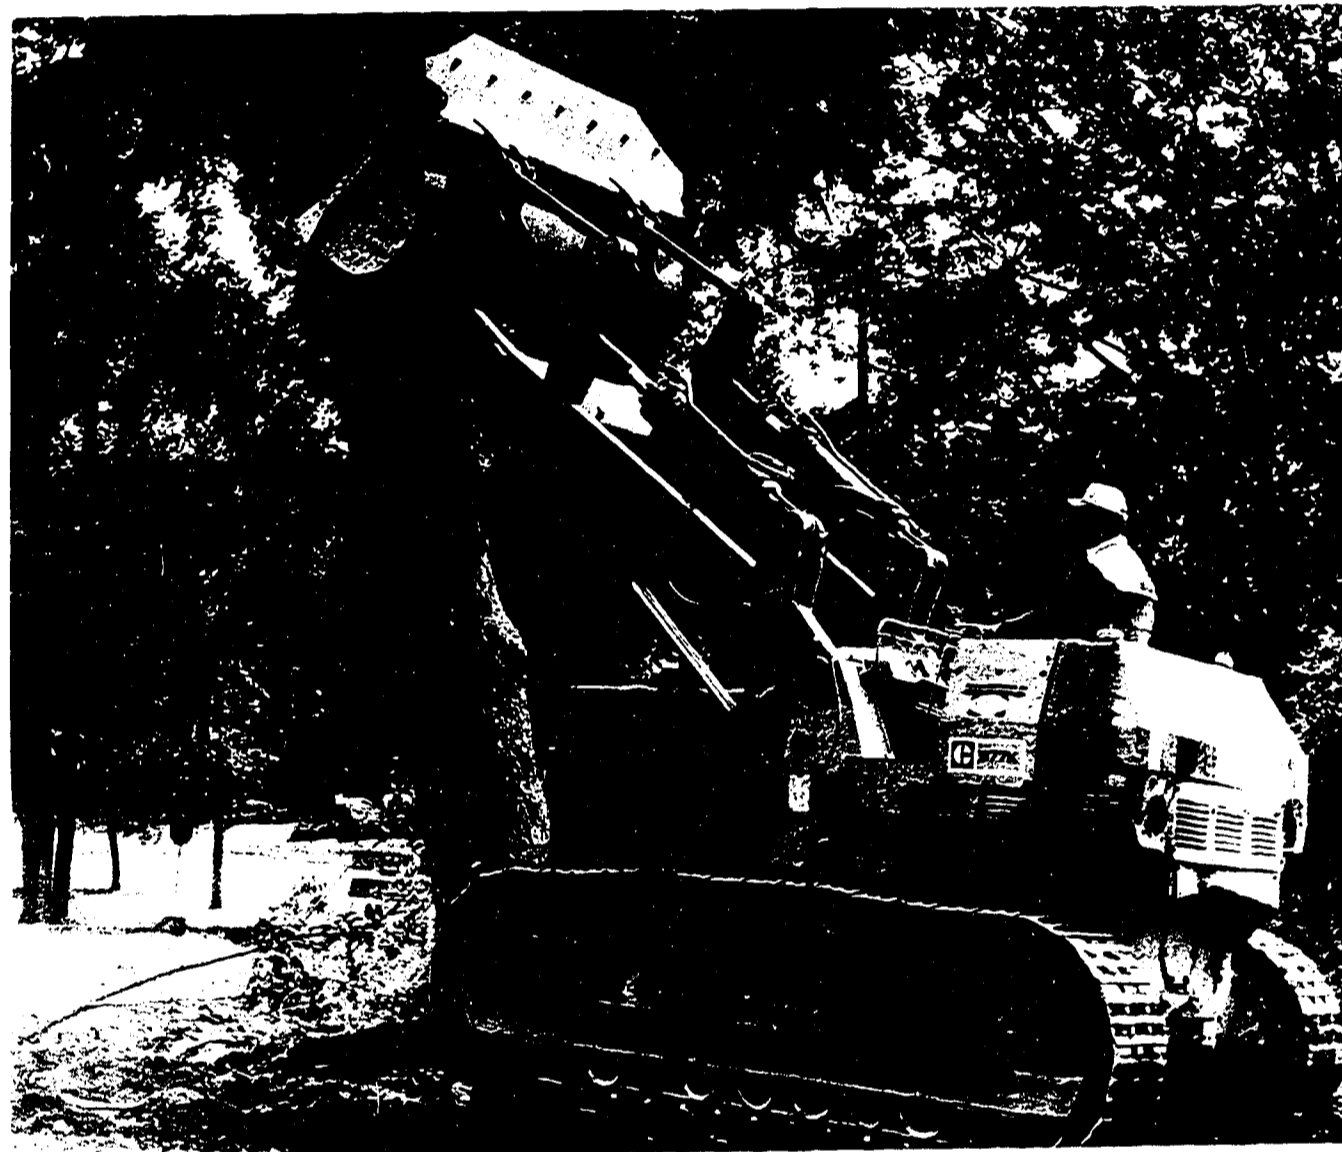

Even so, not all officials are likely to agree with the initial recommendations.

Specifically, the committee's contention that commercial zoning should not be permitted to extend north of the Chatham supermarket on the west side of Center Street, and its recommendation that the proposed new Northville Square development east of Wing Street between Cady and Main streets, Developer Richard McManus, who said there simply was no possible way to save the two towering pines, had them sawed into logs.

Request for multiple zoning continue to come before the township planning commission as two developers were granted public hearings in September.

Continuing the committee notes that Center Street "is not now adequate for traffic problems already created."

Representatives of city, township, county and state governments are expected to be present Monday when the program opens, Spear said.

SITE PREPARATION—All remaining buildings and two large pine trees were removed last week as workmen began site preparation for the proposed new Northville Square development east of Wing Street between Cady and Main streets.

Oldtime Pastime Hangs On

Another favorite which doesn't appear regularly here anymore is the Cardinal or Red Lobelia (Lobelia cardinalis).

Growing along lakes, streams, or marshy areas, this flower has flaming clusters of two-lipped scarlet blossoms that appear in July.

Nearly everyone has seen Queen Anne's Lace, though many refer to it as a noxious Wild Carrot.

Despite man's effort to eradicate it, the Wild Carrot (Daucus carota) survives and continues to grow profusely along Northville-Novl area roads.

In Mrs. Hinman's youth, this flower was especially despised by the farmer because it had an unwanted faint flavor or aroma to the milk produced by the cows that grazed on it.

But like it or not, the Wild Carrot survived cutting and burning, growing back with the first steady warmth of the following summer.

Youngsters sometimes refer to the Wild Carrot as the Bird's-nest Plant because, as the flowers begin to fade, the outer edges of the bloom curl upward to form a cuplike enclosure that looks like a bird's nest.

Another wildflower that still grows abundantly here is Chicory (Cichorium intybus).

A roadside flower that blooms persistently but irregularly throughout the summer, it was first brought to this country from Europe by the early colonists who considered it a useful plant.

Growing to a height of about three feet with "zigzag stems," it has a sparse display of ragged leaves that clasp stems at joints.

Some people call chicory either Blue Daisies or Blue Dandelions because of the shape of the flower.

The root of the Chicory, dried and ground up, is used as a filler or flavoring agent in coffee mixtures.

It grows to a height of two to three feet, with flowers looking somewhat like blue candles. The tubular flowers have four-fringed blue petals.

There are some two-dozen species of Gentian in North America and many other species in Europe and Asia.

With some 60-odd species of Thistles native to North America, many find their homes here.

Among those with which local area residents are familiar are the Pasture Thistle (Cirsium pumilium), Swamp Thistle, and Pitcher Thistle.

All are notable, of course, for the sharp prickles that stick out from the leaves and other parts of the growing plant and also for the "thistle-down" that appears at the end of the blooming season.

Most Thistles have purple flowers, but there are some species that come in pink, yellow, cream, and white.

This sweet-scented variety is more abundant and more widespread than the Tuberosus White Water-Lily, but it is frequently difficult to distinguish them.

Its long stems grow up through the water, placing large circular leaves on the surface where the flower appears to be floating on the water.

The Yellow Pond-Lily or Spatterdock also grows in area waterways. What looks like petals are six sepals of glowing golden-yellow color.

Like Chicory, the common Mullein (Verbascum thapsus) is an old World import that found fine growing territory.

During its first year of growth, the Mullein spreads its big flannel leaves just above the ground, and then the following year it sends up a stiff flowering stalk that today, as in the past, challenge boys to use them as dueling swords.

Growing to a height of up to seven feet, the spike's buds at the top are arranged somewhat like kernels in an ear of corn.

Centuries ago dried stalks of Mullein were soaked in oil and used as torches in funeral processions.

The Orange Hawkweed or Devil's Paint-brush (Hieracium aurantiacum) flowers throughout the summer, especially in open sunny spaces of western Novi fields.

Its flower head is composed entirely of individual strap-shaped flowers of a mixture of yellow, red, and burnt orange color.

Many years ago people used it to make a soapy lather for washing, hence the name "Soapwort" (Saponaria officinalis) for one of the popular local wildflowers.

Most people, however, know it as Bouncing Bet, a sprangly branched perennial with flowers of white or pinkish to pinkish lavender.

Many other wildflower varieties cling to the cracks of urban living. And while many of the woodlands Mrs. Hinman remembers have disappeared, finding and identifying wildflowers is still a pleasant pastime for a quiet Sunday afternoon.

The novice may start with the best-known flower in the world—the Taraxacum officinale. Try the back yard first.

Plat Act Violation?

Three councilmen - Denis Berry, Donald Young, and Raymond Evans - approved the plat. Young called it a "practical compromise" and Evans said it seemed the only solution for letting Schmidt correct his mistakes.

Nevertheless, the platting of the subdivision drew the criticism of other members of the council.

Councilman Louie Campbell objected on the grounds that Schmidt had only plat that section of the property on which the industrial subdivision - Novi-Ten.

Architects on the project are Rockink-DeBard of Mount Clemens. Engineers are John El Hilt Associates of Detroit and Pave-Way of Sterling Heights is the general contractor.

SCHOOL BOARD trustees will meet Monday, July 31, at 8 p.m. in the board of education offices.

The Candidate Involved in Community Affairs VOTE AUGUST 8 PRIMARY

A motion to approve the plat failed 3-3 for lack of a majority.

Presnell then introduced a second motion, giving conditional approval of the plat for the purpose of forwarding it to the Oakland County Plat Board for its review of what appears to the city council to be a violation of the Plat Act.

It now becomes the responsibility of the county to weed through the interrelated issues and, if deemed justified, take action against Schmidt.

Architects on the project are Rockink-DeBard of Mount Clemens. Engineers are John El Hilt Associates of Detroit and Pave-Way of Sterling Heights is the general contractor.

Land development funding is being handled through the Michigan Bank.

Wildflowers Oldtime Pastime Hangs on Today

"They were lovely times, such pleasant ways to spend a quiet Sunday afternoon."

That's how Rachel Hinman, 70-year-old Northville resident, recalls days gone by in which entire families hiked into neighboring woodlands in search of wildflowers.

Although the encroachment of an urban society has eliminated or greatly reduced numbers and varieties of wildflowers growing in this area, they remain an attraction for many local residents who see in them a beauty that rivals the cultivated, hybrid garden varieties so popular today.

Favorite stomping grounds for the oldtime nature hikes, recalls Mrs.

Hinman, included "Bloom's Woods," off Main Street; Curtis Lake, now part of Highland Lakes subdivision; and Balden's Hill, now a section of Cass Benton Park north of Seven Mile Road; and all along Beck Road.

"Curtis Lake was a beautiful area, always full of wildflowers," she remembers. "I had one of the most beautiful stands of beech trees in this area. It was a lovely thing to see early in the spring when the leaves first started to appear."

One of her favorite wildflowers—a flower "you just don't see around here anymore"—is Dutchman's-Breeches (Dicentra Cucullaria).

This flower, as the name implies, has some four to 12 "little breeches" hanging from stalks five to 10 inches tall. The lacy leaves, cut into innumerable feathery green ribbons, are almost as attractive as the flowers.

It is a natural children's flower, growing in patches, in or near rich woods soon after snow disappears.

For Year Round Volunteers School Opens Monday

When school doors open Monday morning at American Elementary, Northville will become the first district in Michigan to operate on a year round schedule.

That's the day the school district's experimental voluntary 45-15 program goes into effect.

For 170 students in grades kindergarten through five, it means 45-15 days of school will alternate with 15 days of vacation throughout the year.

Wixom Councilmen OK Stop Signs

A request for no parking signs in Hickory Hills was granted by the Wixom City Council Tuesday, while a plea for street lights on Fairfield street in the Finn Camp was tabled.

Police Chief George Von Behren has been given permission by the council to order the placement of two no parking signs at the pedestrian entrance to the path leading to the beach on Lakeridge Drive in the Hickory Hills subdivision.

The action was spurred by a letter received by Von Behren from the Hickory Hills Civic Association. The residents complained that the entrance to the path was blocked by the automobiles of one Lakeridge resident and his wife, and the residents whose children made use of the path feared for the safety of their children.

Councilwoman Mary Parvu expressed concern about the degree to which the no parking order would be enforced once the signs were erected.

Councilman Robert Dingeldy, president of the Hickory Hills Civic Association, said the residents' cars were up in arms that the police would be called as soon as so much as a bumper is past the sign.

The motion was unanimously carried.

Another letter to Von Behren from a resident on Fairfield street asked the council to pay for lighting on the street.

Councilman Val Vangieson asked if Fairfield was an approved city road. Mayor Gilbert Willis explained it was in the area of the Finn Camp and the roads there had not yet been approved by the city for maintenance.

Director of Public Works Robert Trombly said that the roads must have been approved by council at one time, for he was receiving state funds for their maintenance.

Rathert and Edvard DeWind, who to provide services and facilities for the clients of both firms by using the principals.

The DeWind firm has specialized in manufacturing insurance, with worldwide accounts. This specializes in contracting insurance, which Rathert, a city councilman here, is involved in wide ranging accounts.

The merger also means they explained, that the existing facilities will be substantially increased in size.

A 40-foot addition to the rear of the building is planned and probably will get underway by fall with completion by spring or earlier.

Three Fun Events Set in Northville

Northville Recreation Department Head Robert Prom residents that three big special events are coming up in the days ahead.

Tomorrow, Friday, July 28, the Men's Golf Tournament will be played at Sun Hills Golf Course. There is an entrance fee of $7.50 and tee times range from 10 a.m. until noon. Prizes will be awarded for low net, low gross, closed and best strokes on a designated hole, and lowest strokes on a designated hole.

A frisbee contest is planned for Saturday, August 5, at Ford Field. Categories include long throw and a two-man slating contest.

The Pat and Doll Show is scheduled for Wednesday, August 9, at 6:30 p.m. behind the Scout-Recreation Building. Prizes will be awarded for various categories of bikes, dolls, floats, dogs, cats, and other pets.

Information on all Recreation Department events is available by calling 354-0202.

Unemployed Candidates:

William J. Kabinist, Democrat, for the 24th State Representative District.

George Kettunen, Democrat, for the 35th State Representative District.

OBITUARIES

SANDRA KAY BOWEN Services will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday, July 22, for Sandra Kay Bowen, 15, who died Wednesday at home following an illness of 14 months.

She was born May 12, 1957, in Detroit, the daughter of Marvin J. and Gloria S. (Hamilton) Bowen. She lived at 2360 Willowbrook Drive in Novi.

She was a student in the tenth grade at Novi High School, a member of Church of the Holy Cross and Rainbow Girls' Assembly 29 of Northville.

Surviving besides her parents is a sister, Nancy, and grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Bowen, of Whitcomb and Mrs. Lorne Hamilton of Detroit.

Funeral services were held at the Church of the Holy Cross on Friday, July 21, at 10 a.m. Burial will be in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery, Southfield. A complete obituary will appear next week.

Society Sets Meet Tonight

Background information on how the village of Franklin obtained Federal Historical designation will be disclosed this evening at a meeting of the Northville Historical Society.

The 8 p.m. meeting will be held in the Scout-Recreation Building, 215 West Cady. Members of the public are invited.

One of the speakers will be Max Altkruze, of the local society is in the process of attempting to gain historical recognition for designated homes and sections of the City of Northville.

Members also have been busy making repairs on the old brick building, which together with an old Northville house, was recently moved to the Ford property on the west side of Griswold Street.

Born May 25, 1889, in Alabama, she was the daughter of Adam and Ida Gorden. She moved to Northville three and one-half years ago from Detroit and was a member of Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church.

Her husband, Jacob S., preceded her in death.

Surviving are two daughters, Jane Mitchell of Northville, Mrs. Louis (Dorothy) Haley of Holly, one brother, two sisters and four grandchildren.

Services were held at Mount Olivet Cemetery in Detroit where the Reverend John Wittstock of Our Lady of Victory officiated. Funeral arrangements were made through Schrader Funeral Home in Plymouth.

Among many other activities during the Festival will be the Queen of the Festival contest, which will be held tomorrow (Friday), at 10 a.m. on Herbert T. Olsson, 475 River Street who died July 22.

FORM CORPORATION - Principals in the newly formed insurance corporation, Northville Corporation, are (l to r) J. Edward DeWind, William A. Thies, and Kenneth R. Rathert.

Insurance Companies Form Corporation

The diverse talents of several men, providing for a continuity of the firm, better marketing results through increased volume and international efficiency.

DeWind, chairman and treasurer of the corporation, will move his operation to Northville, thus placing the corporation's three principals under one roof. The other existing facilities will be substantially increased in size.

With the merger, the new corporation will represent some 93 years of insurance experience. It will include seven employees, including the principals.

The DeWind firm has specialized in manufacturing insurance, with worldwide accounts. This specializes in contracting insurance, which Rathert, a city councilman here, is involved in wide ranging accounts.

The merger also means they explained, that the existing facilities will be substantially increased in size.

A 40-foot addition to the rear of the building is planned and probably will get underway by fall with completion by spring or earlier.

Plan Festival in Farmington

A horse show designed especially for children will be held at the Farmington Industrial Park Saturday at 1 p.m. as part of the 1972 Farmington Founders Festival.

The industrial park, located on the eastern edge of Novi, is at 10 Mile Road and Grand River.

Among many other activities during the Festival will be the Queen of the Festival contest, which will be held tomorrow (Friday), at 10 a.m. on Herbert T. Olsson, 475 River Street who died July 22.

College Promotes Officer
A patrolman in the Campus Security Department at Schoolcraft College has been promoted to the rank of Sergeant, the first in the Department's four-year history. He is Walter Moore, a member of Schoolcraft's Campus Security since 1970, and a retired Detroit Police Sergeant. His promotion was announced by Fred W. Wrenbeck, Director of Security. Sergeant Moore will supervise the afternoon shift at the College, and will have charge of all extra curricular evening and night functions. He will also conduct investigation of all criminal complaints. Schoolcraft Security was organized by Wrenbeck in 1969, and now includes five full-time and four part-time employees.

Drop Duplex Request
A request to rezone one lot to permit construction of a duplex was withdrawn and a request for business zoning to build a lounge was referred for study following public hearings. The hearings were held Wednesday, July 19, before Northville township planning commission members. He noted the area is surrounded by a cemetery, a dump and a gravel pit. Svatara, who currently is living on the parcel, said "trucks and dust make it intolerable as a house." The commission also heard a request from Richard W. Svatara to rezone the northeast corner of Six Mile and Napier roads from residential to general business. Svatara said he wishes to operate a lounge in the property. He noted the area is surrounded by a cemetery, a dump and a gravel pit. Svatara, who currently is living on the parcel, said "trucks and dust make it intolerable as a house." The request was tabled for study with a decision to be made by the commission at its August 29 meeting.

When you have a paint brush you want to soak, say, overnight, before you use it again, turpentine is one of the best solvents for keeping the brush soft and usable until the next time. Simply pour the turpentine into a tin can or milk carton and stir the handle of your brush onto this to keep the bristles from touching the bottom of the container. You can buy all your paint and painting supplies from NORTHVILLE LUMBER CO., 615 E. Baseline, 349-0220. We carry DuPont paints, Olympic stain and Minwax stains. Space-age technology comes to Michigan
This summer, in a modern office building in Flint, researchers will throw the switch on one of America's space-age marvels—the natural gas fuel cell. Silently, and with no harmful emissions to the air, the fuel cell will transform natural gas into electricity. It is a similar fuel cell which supplied electricity for the highly successful Apollo moon missions. Consumers Power Company researchers, in their quest to provide new, efficient energy sources, have joined with the Team to Advance Research for Gas Energy Transformation (TARGET). Among the scores of fuel cells to be installed and tested under actual field conditions, the Flint fuel cell will provide all the electricity needed for the office building's lights and office machinery. Fuel cells someday may become an important source for supplementary energy supplies in Michigan. Meanwhile, Consumers Power Company is actively engaged in dozens of important research projects to improve the quality of the air, the water—and life. That's what it means to be on TARGET.

Novi City Council Accepts K&B Right-of-Way
The right of way for Village Wood Road—the avenue which runs through Kaufman and Broad's Lakeshores—conterminous section of Village Oaks was accepted by the Novi city council Monday, but not without some deliberation.
City Manager George Athas told the council that acceptance of the road right of way should be an open and closed matter. "Usually the right of ways are accepted as a part of the platting," said the city manager, "but because this portion of the road is not on platted property, the road right of way has not yet been dedicated to the city."

Legion Taps John Roethel
John J. Roethel of Novi was elected to the Office of First Vice Commander of the American Legion Department of Michigan at the Annual State Convention held in Detroit, July 13-16, 1972. Roethel, a native of New York, joined The American Legion in 1951 in the Northwestern Post 150, in Detroit, and has been affiliated with the Post ever since. The 52-year-old, World War II Navy veteran, has been Judge Advocate from 1968-1971, 1965-1966 and 1963-1964 for the Department of Michigan. An active asset to his post, to the Department of Michigan and to his community, Roethel will serve in the capacity of Department Vice Commander for the First Zone for Legion Year 1972-1973. At the present, he is a patent attorney for the Ford Motor Company and has served in this capacity for a number of years.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

RAY WILCOX

EMERY JACQUES

Speaking for Myself Township Office: Non-Partisan?

YES . . .

Elections at the local level should be conducted on a non-partisan basis.

I believe everyone would agree that any man seeking public office should be judged on his qualifications and capabilities with total disregard for party affiliation. (Let me add at this point before I am accused of being a chauvinistic pig, that I refer to man in its broader sense; referring to mankind, not man as opposed to woman) This becomes more difficult at the state and national level, so many times we fall back upon basic party philosophies when selecting an individual to represent us. Even this guide line loses its significance today since a moderate in the "other" party may better represent our position than a liberal in our own party.

At the local level there is no need to get caught up in the liberal, conservative, moderate, or liberal conservative tag turmoil. It is entirely possible to determine not only a man's qualifications and capabilities, but his stand on local issues which do not relate to or are affected by basic party differences.

On the other hand, how about the extreme anti-annexation group?

Is the course that they would chart for Northville township more economical to the taxpayer than the other extreme (unification with the city)?

The "status-quo" guy may recognize deep down that things just can't stay the same forever. But he'd like a little more time before making a decision.

And he must surely wonder about those who would build themselves an empire.

So while he can't bring himself to endorse annexation to the city, he's not sure either that he isn't stepping onto a treadmill to bigger, more costly government when he climbs aboard the anti-annexation bandwagon.

What the "middle-man" in the township would like is a new alternative, a slower, less painful path to follow.

Personally, I've come to the conclusion that it's nearly impossible to find the leadership that has the determination to steer such a course, once elected.

They must be endowed with the grit that it takes to drive a hard bargain for the township with the city, and they must possess the resistance to temptation that comes when power beckons and monumental structures await only the formation of a building authority.

If such leadership does exist, it cannot be provided by those who are anti-city.

I'll vote against these candidates August 8.

And I hope there are other township voters who may feel "caught in the middle" who will give sober thought to their selections at the polls.

I firmly believe the community of Northville can "co-exist" amiably and economically in an engagement period leading to a marriage that will be more beneficial to the taxpayer—both in services and dollars saved.

Next week I'll suggest the candidates I feel are best qualified and let the charges of a "biased and profit-seeking press" fall where they may.

This period in the history of our community—both the city and township—is too important to sit idly by and regret later that we didn't try harder.

NO . . .

It has been said by many astute political observers that our own local city, village and township government should be the battleground for efficient, responsible government. We should not expect responsible government in Lansing from our hundreds of legislators if we do not demand it from our local township board.

Responsible government starts with partisan election to office, and if it has failed in some instances, it is not the fault of the process. Rather, the voters have failed to hold the political parties accountable for the action of the partisan official.

We must return to active political party involvement in defining the issues and in taking political party positions on local issues. The candidates for township board office should be actively involved in this process. The voters can then elect their local officials with some intelligence.

It may be popular to advocate abolishing partisan elections on the township level, but if we did so, we could be striking at a consequence of public apathy. We would find our elected officials extremely unpredictable, township board meetings the forum for publicity seekers, and the public interest sacrificed.

Let's Leash King Kong

By Jack W. Hoffman

Look, I've nothing against trucks.

They're basically friendly, considerate, overgrown beasts who, like King Kong, terrify people by their size, not their demeanor. Ol' Kong didn't really want to eat people, he just wanted to fondle them.

As a former public relations representative of a major trucking manufacturer, who had to parry anti-truck diatribe, I am aware that trucks frequently are unfairly maligned.

And I am fully cognizant that trucks pay for much of our ribbons of concrete through taxes and that they play an essential role in transporting the nation's cargo.

But, alas, like so many other motorists, my admiration for trucks

Praise Police For Assistance

To the Editor
We would like to take this opportunity to thank the Northville Township Police for staying on the job until it was finished.
We had the occasion to need help when our son hemorrhaged after a tonsillectomy.
The police contacted an ambulance service for us. The first one summoned had some difficulty and was unable to make the call. But the police were concerned and considered enough to stay with us until they had contacted another and my son was safely enroute to Children's Hospital where his doctor met us. Drew was then admitted for three days of treatment.
We and Drew's doctor feel that if the police had not been here to contact the other ambulance services serious complications could have developed.
A special thanks to Chief Ronald Nisan for all his help during our time of need and for inquiring as to how our son was recovering.

A LOOSE LEAF

By ROLLY PETERSON

The stifling heat, produced by a combination of high temperatures and equally high humidity, took its toll in daily sweat and discomfort last week and much of the weekend. Some people barely even moved during the hot spell that as of Monday still hadn't abated significantly. My wife is one of them.

She'd sit in the back yard shade, turning over so slowly the pages of her book. If anyone came near her, she'd shout, "Get away from me, it's too hot!"

The kids would look wide-eyed at usually affectionate mamma, nagged by her sharp peevishness. I, in turn, none too happy with the heat, still acted normally.

The heat, you see, doesn't really bother me. I attribute that to the fact that I once worked on the railroad. It was while I was going to college and I needed the money badly. There were no jobs to be found. Every day I'd get out of bed, wondering if I'd have any luck. A call here, a visit there. No jobs.

The iron mines were the big thing around my home town of Ironwood. They did take on extra help during the summer. But unfortunately my father didn't work for the mining company, so I was out of luck.

Finally, a buddy of mine found a job. And several workers were needed. Like some mad man running for an office, I jumped into the car and interviewed for the job.

They put me on the end of a shovel, told me to start throwing gravel onto the raised track bed and not to quit until told to do so. The hours were long, nine hours a day, five on Saturday and no overtime. And they meant it when they said "keep shoveling".

Blood blisters popped out on my hands. Four on one hand, three on the other. My muscles ached at the end of the day. It would have been all right if there had been enough gravel and sand at trackside, but there was barely enough.

The newcomers who joined the extra gang with me called it quits after a few days. "There must be a better way to make money," they said. I stuck with it. A job change in mid-summer and I would probably wouldn't find another.

Then the heat came. Massive waves of it. The trees stretched tall above the railroad track on both sides, acting as a wall to shut off any wind. The sun just poured down on glistening bodies and sweat rolled in rivers off the shirtless crew.

The thermometer in the canvas covered put-pat soared to 125, 130 degrees. "If you wanna get paid, get those shovels into the dirt," the straw boss shouted between the ears. They were merciful, however. A bucket of water and salt pills were brought around every hour or so. Some men collapsed and were given a few moments respite in the clammy shade along the railroad track. Watching the few lucky ones lying on the ground, I prayed that I, too, would suffer the same fate. But no luck. My body wouldn't give out.

If you think I quit that job after one summer, you're wrong. I went back two more summers. It's not that I'm a bear for punishment. And there were other jobs available in the next two years.

It's just that the extra gang work had become a challenge. It was a matter of pride that I had withstood everything the rotten bosses and the cruel weather had to offer. At times, it became a personal duel between me and the heat.

Looking back on those days, I now shake my head. But whenever the humidity and the temperature get together to conspire in a heat wave, it seems like small potatoes.

Handle's Averaging $363,178 at Downs

Northville Downs ends its 36-night summer harness racing meet next Tuesday, August 1 and won't re-open again until November 6 when Jackson opens its 47-night meet through December 30. Through the 28th night of racing, last Saturday, the Downs averaged $363,178 in mutual handle per night.

That's below last year's betting rate, but Executive Manager John Carlo points out that the local track is competing head-to-head this my underwear.

Take last week, for instance. Driving along I-96 in Novi, a bullet smashed into my car, scaring the dickens out of me and my passengers. Luckily, my heart survived a momentary stoppage, and the wet seat wasn't really blood.

Nevertheless, the gaping wound in the windshield was painful enough.

The bullet, of course, was shot out of the empty trailer-truck bouncing along the freeway in front of me. Everytime chassis and trailer kissed each other over a pavement crack, a shower of stones came rifling out of the truck and ricocheted off the concrete into the car.

Dodging the hailstone, I sashayed up beside the cab of the truck and, as best as can be done at 60 MPH, signalled a fistfull of greetings. We couldn't hear the trucker's reply of course, but he appeared to be testing the wind velocity with a finger waving out the window.

Had this been a first, I might have overlooked just another insurance claim. But it isn't. It has happened at an increasing rate in recent years, and my friends tell me that they're being fired at regularly, too.

Novi Road Speed Will Not Change

A traffic survey conducted by the Oakland County Road Commission has shown the posted speed limit of 40 mph on Novi Road south of Allen Drive need not be lowered. According to a report received recently by the Northville City Police Traffic division, 87 percent of the vehicles using the road travel at 41 mph speeds or lower. A survey taken of 224 vehicles on May 24 between 2:35 and 3 p.m. on Novi Road from Allen Drive south to the curve showed the average speed to be 36.87 mph. According to state figures, a speed below which 85 percent of the vehicles travel is considered proper for the area.

City and school officials requested speeds on Novi Road be lowered following a fatal accident in April involving a pedestrian. According to Police Chief Samuel Elkins, the county has replaced speed limit signs with larger signs and has put up additional signs warning motorists of the 40 mph zone on that portion of Novi Road.

Pirates Head for Title

The Del's Shoes Pirates have got it made. The leaders of the Northville Recreation Department's Knottville Baseball League don't seem to do anything but win; and their closest challengers for the league crown, the Northville Hardware Colts and Choo-Choo Car Wash Warriors, are so busy battling each other for second place honors, they barely have time to worry about the top spot.

Cellar Dwellers Foil Jaycee Bid

When the Novi Jaycees look back on their 1972 softball season, it will have to be with a certain amount of regret. The Jaycees have a problem. They have no trouble at all in beating the first division teams, it's those second division clubs that have all but deprived the Jaycees of the championship of the Novi Parks and Recreation Department's Slow Pitch Softball League.

Giants Boost Mets' Hopes

Sharing fourth place in Knottville Baseball are the Wolverines and the Orioles. And although both teams suffered losses last week, they also posted victories to keep their seasons' records at the .500 level.

Summerfest Planned For Northville Fair

As a Community Fair "first", the Northville Area Jaycees and Jaycettes are hosting a Bavarian style "Summerfest" complete with Brass Bands, pitcher beer, knockwurst, dancing, sing-along, and all the other things that make this type of festival so much fun.

Located in its own 40 x 100 foot tent just off the midway, the Summerfest will run all three days with continuous music next weekend. Evening music will be provided by Herby Hang and Tony Shuster, two bands well known for their authentic Bavarian music.

Besides light and dark beer by the glass and pitcher, knockwurst, pretzels, and German wines all during the daytime hours, dinner consisting of knockwurst, German potatosalad, sauerkraut, rolls and butter will be served from 5 to 7 p.m. each night. The Summerfest, which runs from 4:00 p.m. to Mid-

Involved in the program are six teachers. Principal William Craft and a full time staff member for the learning disabilities center.

Teachers include Mrs. Virginia Krietz, Mrs. Coral Adams, Miss Patricia Martin, James Honey, Jack Thibault, Mrs. Marjorie Sliger, Mrs. Joanne Coligan in the learning disabilities center and librarian Mrs. Marian Hines.

Working closely with staff members in planning the curriculum and setting up teacher workshops has been Miss Florence Panattoni, curriculum director. "We've been involved in workshops for the past three weeks," she commented, "which are designed to meet the needs of children not achieving up to their potential because of learning disabilities, developing materials to use in the classroom, working on new approaches to teaching and establishing objectives for each learning area."

"This will be activity oriented learning," she stressed, "with some paper work, but the students won't just be going from one workbook to the next." Working directly with the staff on a part-time basis will be Dr. Barbara Bonach from Eastern Michigan University's education department. Miss Panattoni said the center has completed interviews with more than 20 students and has come up with materials to be used with the individual in areas of reading and math.

Gravel Pit Claims Life

A Garden City youth drowned early Saturday morning while swimming in the gravel pit off Griswold Street in Northville township. Michigan State Police recovered the body of Stephen VanSteedes, 19, shortly before 5:30 a.m. He had been swimming with friends, police said, dove off the bank into 15 feet of water and did not return to the surface. State police began the search for the youth at 1:45 a.m.

The area where he drowned is part of the Highland Lakes development and is private property. State police have routinely been clearing swimmers from the gravel pit area on weekends during the past several years. The drowning is the first in a number of years at that gravel pit.

Detroit Tiger Debut

Fred Holdsworth May Hurl Today

By PHILLIP JEROME

It was right there in black and white on page 13 of the April 22, 1971, edition of the Northville Record-Nov News. "Would you believe," the article asked, "a starting rotation of Lolich, Coleman, Niekrö, Chance, and Holdsworth?"

Joe Niekrö and Dean Chance are no longer around, for one thing; and for another, not only has the idea of starting Fred Holdsworth crossed the mind of Billy Martin, the Tiger mentor has actually named the 20-year old Northville High School graduate as the starting pitcher in the second game of this afternoon's (Thursday) double header with Milwaukee.

For Fred Holdsworth the rise to the major leagues has been a rapid one. Just two years ago he was leading the Northville High School baseball team to just about every baseball title in sight. Soon after graduating (he was class valedictorian), Holdsworth was picked by the Detroit Tigers on the 20th round of the free player draft.

Holdsworth signed for a small bonus shortly later and was assigned to Detroit's Bristol, Virginia, team in the Class A Appalachian League. He promptly began performing like the best 20th round draft choice the Tigers have ever made and hasn't let up since.

In his first year of pro ball, the Northville alumnus led the Appalachian League with an ERA of 1.31 and was named to the League's All-Star team. His success continued through the 1971 season, as he pitched for Detroit farm teams in Lakeland, Florida; Rocky Mount, North Carolina; and Montgomery, Alabama.

and shipped him off to Toledo, where, in his first performance on the mound, his cheek bone was fractured in four places by a one-hop line shot back through the box.

An operation and several weeks of inactivity followed, but then Holdsworth returned to action.

Two weeks ago Saturday, when he showed up for Toledo's night game, his teammates told him the sad news. "You've been shipped back to Montgomery in the Double-A League," they told him. The opposite, of course, was true. The Tigers had summoned him up to the major leagues.

Wednesday morning, one day before leaving with the Tigers for a four-game series with the Texas Rangers, Fred Holdsworth was asked his impressions of minor league baseball, Billy Martin, the Tigers' pennant chances, and his own aspirations for the future.

Q. When the Tigers finally decided to call you up to Detroit, how were you notified? A. We were scheduled for a night game in Toledo that Saturday and I had just driven down to the park from Northville. Johnny Lipon, he's the manager at Toledo, called me into his office. I was scheduled to pitch Sunday and I thought he just wanted to tell me to throw a couple of innings in the bullpen.

during the game, but he told me the Tigers wanted me to report Sunday. It caught me completely by surprise.

Q. Had the Tigers given you any prior indication that they were ready to bring you up?
A. In spring training when they sent me down, Billy Martin told me there was a good chance I might be called up before the first month of the season was over, but that was before I broke my cheek bone.

Q. You're a pitcher. How do you feel about the big time?
A. I don't see how the Tigers can become a "country club" team with Billy Martin as the manager. He's terribly competitive. He would never let the Tigers become a "country club" team.

Q. Your record at Toledo (a 5-4 win-loss record in an earned run average of 4.24) was considerably short of impressive and yet the Tigers decided to call you up anyway.
A. I was pitching rather erratically for awhile. I'd have one good game and then just a so-so game. I was struggling, trying to find my rhythm.

Q. Speaking of your injury, how is it?
A. It required two operations to fix it. The cheek bone was broken in four places. They fixed two of them by going in through the side of my head and then went up through my mouth to get to the other two.

Q. Now that you've been a major leaguer for all two games, what do you see as the primary differences between minor league and big league ball?
A. It's a whole different world in the majors. The atmosphere is different. The playing conditions are a lot different.

Transpo 72

GM Tours Slated

General Motors exhibits which appeared recently at Transpo 72 near Washington, D.C., will highlight the summer tour program at the GM Technical Center.

The Transpo exhibits will remain at the Technical Center in suburban Warren, D.C., for about a month, through August 20. Housed in a large red and white striped tent just inside the Tech Center main gate on Mound Road, the display includes two experimental urban cars—the 512 gasoline model intended for short trips

Q. In what way do you feel the atmosphere is different?
A. Everybody in the majors is so much more relaxed. They've arrived at the top and really have it made. In the minors it's strictly dog-eat-dog. In the minors there is much more individual competition.

Q. The Tigers have been portrayed as a "Country club" team. Again, calling you your two-days worth of experience, do you feel that label is justified?
A. I don't see how the Tigers can become a "country club" team with Billy Martin as the manager. He's terribly competitive.

Q. The same day he called you up, Martin announced you'll be pitching in Milwaukee on July 27, almost two weeks away.
A. He sure is and I'll give you an example. In our game with Chicago last night, Eddie Brinkman hit an easy infield grounder and wasn't really hustling down the baseline.

Q. I've read that pitching in the major leagues is a little like a guessing game between the pitcher and batter.
A. It's one of the reasons Lolich is so good. He'll get an 8-2 count on the hitter and the batter expects Lolich to try to catch a corner with a curve ball or make him go fishing on a bad pitch.

State Features Religious Sites

From the depths of Little Traverse Bay at Petoskey to a bluff overlooking Burt Lake at Indian River, Michigan has a wide variety of religious attractions for travelers of all faiths.

Perhaps the most unique is the Skin Diver's Shrine at the bottom of Little Traverse Bay. The life-size figure of Christ, weighing nearly a ton, is made of white Italian marble and black white.

At St. Ignace, where he founded a mission 1871, is an impressive memorial to Father Marquette Memorial, a marked place where the famed missionary and explorer died in 1675 while returning to St. Ignace.

The Shrine of the Snowshoe, erected this summer after a delay, is a memorial to Bishop Frederick Baraga, first bishop of Upper Michigan. It rises six stories above the Red Rock Bluffs, overlooking Lake Superior's Keweenaw peninsula and across the Precious Blood in Stephenson is a replica of the Lourdes Grotto, an attraction popular with tourists.

Our Lady of the Woods Shrine in downtown Mio is an open air memorial to Christian endeavor. Sunday services are held here in the summer. Across the state at Boyne Falls is Our Lady of the Snows Shrine atop Boyne Mountain. Dedicated in 1955, skiers pass there as a safety and good luck gesture. The simple shrine consists of a small statue protected by a wooden covering no larger than a birdhouse.

Known also as the Mason Chapel in honor of the late George W. Mason, Michigan philanthropist sportsman and automotive pioneer who donated a large tract of the Sable riverfront property to the state, the Fisherman's Shrine is accessible only by boat or canoe on the famed trout fishing waters. Quiet, impressive Chapel in the Pines is in Hartwick Pines State Park, five miles prenticeship in the minor leagues, you're 27. At the time you hit the majors. By starting right after high school, you're ready for the majors at 22 or 23. I'm sure that Fred's age is one of the reasons the Tigers are so interested in him. They know if they develop him properly he'll be around to help them a lot longer than someone four years older."

"Yes, there's a great deal of similarity between the way Fred pitches and the way I pitched," the senior Holdsworth admits. "I was never overpowering fast and I had to control it. I think the one thing I've instilled in Fred is that we both know that to get batters out you've got to be able to put the ball where you want it."

Turner... Billy L. Turner, Democratic candidate for the U.S. House of Representatives from the Second Congressional District, recently commented

"Kids learn in school, not on buses!" Re-elect your Congressman Jack McDonald August 8 Republican Primary 19th District from the Pastor's Study

When this article is printed, we will be on the return leg of a cross-country journey home Northville to the Pacific. Staying in several National Parks, viewing the scenic areas of our great Nation, visiting with old friends, all add up to a wondrous experience.

This is the Centennial year for our National Parks system and I can't say enough for this plan of preservation of the beauties of God's miraculous creativity. Our country pioneered in this type of national planning as we set aside for public use and natural wildlife restoration vast areas in Parks, Monuments, and Reservations.

There is increasing pressure to do even more for restoration of proper balances in nature of both flora and fauna. Yellowstone National Park was first established by act of Congress in 1872, "dedicated and set apart as a public park or pleasure ground for the benefit and enjoyment of the people". The law also provided that park regulations should "provide for the preservation from injury or spoliation of all timber, mineral deposits, natural curiosities, or wonders within said park, and their retention in their natural condition."

Administered very efficiently by the National Park Service, Dept. of the Interior, this program is a fitting testimonial to our conscience regarding God's creation.

Rev. Lloyd Brasur, Pastor,
First Presbyterian Church
Northville

From that beginning in 1872 has grown a system of over thirty Parks, as well as Monuments and Recreational areas. "The heavens are telling the glory of God; and the firmament declares His handiwork." These words from Psalm 19 call to mind the faith of many centuries past, when the author put this thought in writing. I believe it is significant to read on and find out in progress in belief and statement. So we hear him saying, "The law of the Lord is perfect, reviving the soul; the commandment of the Lord is pure, enlightening the eyes." And then, in conclusion, "Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in Thy sight, O Lord, my rock and my redeemer."

Appreciation is one thing, for the person who is inspired by the beauties of God given in nature. It should lead to the desire to preserve and to enjoy, and also to an attitude of worship of the One who made it all possible. Then the fact should be one of commitment of a way of life that shows forth, in personal living, a true sense of order and beauty, of goodness and truth.

The order of the Psalmist could be our pattern. May our inspiration lead us to more than exclamations of wonder and amazement. Let us go on to work in the Kingdom as disciples of the Living Lord who calls us to serve the Father of all worlds, even God Himself.

Summer's Fun

Prize pickles, plump 'porkies', ferris wheels and fancy work are the order of the days of August, according to the Michigan Tourist Council. It's fair time in Michigan and the eighth month has 44 scheduled including the big one at Clinton County Fair—opening August 25 for 17 great days.

Filling the first week of the month is the Eaton County Fair at Mason; Clare County Fair at Harrison; Tuscola County Fair at Caro; the Washenaw County 4-H Youth Fair at Ann Arbor; Ravenna 4-H Fair; Gratiot County Fair for Youth, Alma; Northville Fair, the Flushing Community Fair and the 57th Ionia Free Fair.

Also of great concern to Kuhn is the need for a very thorough and complete audit of all the past and current practices. More and more as the campaign progresses, I am convinced that the entire problem is like an iceberg with only a tip of the berg showing and many more problems are still unexposed and must be uncovered.

The changes promised by Kuhn are:

- (1) Demand a thorough internal audit of all operations to be sure the office has a clean bill of health.
- (2) The establishment of whatever new internal controls necessary for managing the cost and progress of each drainage project.
- (3) Invoke new and tougher procedures by which contractors could collect on "over-charges" that occur too frequently on various drainage projects.
- (4) Absolutely eliminate any past practice of the so-called pre-bidding on any contract.
- (5) Provide more public exposure on all financial business of both the Drain Office and the decisions of the Drainage Board.
- (6) Provide periodic management-type reports to the Board of Commissioners and to the public on the cost and progress of all open programs.
- (7) Seek state legislation (H.B. 5894) to facilitate the merger of both the Drain Office and the DDTF.
- (8) Work towards the successful merger of both offices to avoid overlapping and duplication of efforts in building drains.

Kuhn concluded by saying, "I firmly believe it is absolutely essential that a professional administrator be elected with the purpose of professionalizing the entire operation and with a pledge of complete honesty and integrity in the handling of the affairs of this office." "This office has too great a financial responsibility to continue to be run as obscure county function," said Kuhn.

On August 13 for the 51st edition of the Gogebic County Fair.

Coming on strong the week of August 13 will be the Midland County Fair; Lenawee County Fair at Adrian; Clinton County 4-H Youth Fair; St. John's; Northern Michigan Fair at Cheboygan; Sanilac County 4-H Youth Fair, Sandusky; Branch County 4-H Fair, Coldwater; Newaygo County Fair, Fremont; Berrien County Youth Fair, West; Michigan Fair at Ludington; Armada Fair, Wayne County 4-H Fair, Belleville; Upper Peninsula State Fair at Escanaba and the Iron County Fair at Iron River.

During the week of August 21, you can help yourself to the fun and flavor of the Emmet County Fair at Petoskey; Kalamazoo and Alpena County Fairs; the Calhoun County Fair at Marshall; Huron-Union Community Fair; Isabella County Youth and Farm Fair, Mt. Pleasant; Mackinac County Agricultural Fair, Allenville and the Michigan State Fair in Detroit.

The Northwestern Michigan, Eastern Michigan and Manistee County Fairs open the week of August 28.

Although fairs dominate the month, August does have a broad range of other events filling its days. Leading the list is the Coast Guard Festival at Grand Haven, August 1-6. The Festival Board reports that this year's event will have a "new look" and a greater appeal to more people.

GENERATION ON

They hit the road early, these youngsters of today.

They cover a lot of miles. At a pretty fast pace.

And what they need most are the moral and spiritual values that do not change in a fast-moving age.

The role of the Church and the family is becoming more crucial every day. Wise parents realize their children should have the advantage of religious training. They sense the importance of their own example in encouraging positive Christian principles.

We need not worry about our youngsters growing up so rapidly . . . as long as they grow up well.

PGA: Nostalgic Event

When Gene Sarazen stands on the first tee of the Oakland Hills Country Club in Birmingham, August 3-6, it will mark the 50th anniversary of the first time he won the PGA Championship.

The 54th Championship returns the classic to Michigan for the first time in 1955 when it was held at Northville's Meadowbrook Country Club. It was held at Plum Hollow in 1947 and at the Birmingham Country Club in 1933, all of these clubs being in the Detroit area.

Since all former champions are eligible, the Championship becomes a nostalgic event with the oldtimers mixing with the youngsters.

Historians will note the presence of Lionel Hebert, the late Walter Hagen, who lost for the first time in 1917, and Doug Finsterwald, Hebert's last-round victim who found stroke play more to his liking the following year. And then there's Don January who has been involved in the only two 18-hole playoff since 1958. He lost to Jerry Barber's incredible putting in 1961 but was ousted Don Massegale in 1967.

There will be memories 1967.

Fairs Top Michigan's Summer Fun

Mackinac will be in port and the public will be welcome to board the ship.
The National USLTA Junior and Boys 16 Tennis Championships will be taking place in Stowe Stadium at Kalamazoo during August 6 and the Michigan State Champion Roller Skating-Speed Section meet will also take place at Midland during the first week.
If unusual events attract you, you might like to attend Satan's Holiday Square Dance. It will take place August 5 in Hell... of course!

Ethnic events scheduled include Polish Festival Days at Bronson August 10-12. A mock Polish wedding, polkas and Polish folks will highlight the occasion. Two Indian Pow-Wows will take place August 12 and 13 at Cross Village and Charleston Park near Hastings. An antique fair, fairy tale parade, strolling bands and Smorgasboards will be top attractions at the Danish Festival, August 18 and 19 at Greenville.

Tawas City and East Tawas have double barreled activity opening August 5 in the form of the Tawas Bay Water-front Arts and Crafts Show and Tourist Festival. All total, there are 12 art shows and fairs listed for August throughout the State.
Other events worth noting on your summer fun list include the National Motorcycle Hill Climb at Muskegon, August 6; the Pere Marquette Canoe Race at Ludington, The National Buttery Regatta on White Lake at Whitehall, August 15-18; the Paul Bunyan Festival August 17-20 at Oscoda; the Ausable Longboat Regatta at Grayling, August 20; State Musical Regionals August 23-29 at Battle Creek; and the Howell Melon Festival, August 25-27.

The forecast is "Fair" with a strong "fun front" holding over Michigan through August. Enjoy it!
A complete listing of August events is available from the Michigan Tourist Council, Lansing, 48926.

Meadowbrook Stars Soprano

Martina Arroyo, leading soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company, is still planning to sing "Aida" at the Meadow Brook Music Festival on August 3 and 5.

"She did cancel several engagements, but a recent check with her office indicates that her doctor has given her the go-ahead to resume her tour. She is, in fact, now singing in Argentina. All our information indicates that she is rested, and will appear as scheduled."

Martina will sing the title role in Verdi's "Aida" to be presented in concert form on Thursday, August 3 and Saturday, August 5, at the Meadow Brook Music Festival. Other leading roles will be sung by Mignon Dumm as Amneris, Charles Hindley as Rhadames, Morley Meredith as Amonasro, and Detrolboom Ara Berberian as Ramfis.

Jan Albricht (the Priestess), Gabriel Balassone (the King of Egypt), and Edward King (the Messenger), all members of the Overture to Opera Company, will also sing in supporting roles.

A chorus of 200 voices, the combined Meadow Brook Festival Chorus and the Overture to Opera Chorus, will sing in the evening's famed triumphal scene, which will also feature the traditional "Aida" trumpets. Dr. Raymond A. Alvin will direct the chorus.

A special extension is being built on the front of the pavilion stage to accommodate the over 300 persons on stage during the triumphal spectacle. This concert performance represents the largest scale artistic effort to date at the Meadow Brook Music Festival.

Both Thursday and Saturday performances will begin at 8:30. Tickets are available at Hunt's and Grinnell's, and the Festival box office. For ticket information, call 377-2010.

We label it like it is!

Most supermarkets give special names to their meats, no matter where they're cut from. These names are usually based on how the meat is sliced, boned and trimmed. We do the same. But we go the others one better. We tell you what part of the carcass the meat comes from. And we say it right on the label.

A Chatham label tells you the special or fancy name—London Broil, Family Steak, Club Steak, etc. It also tells you the name of the basic cut, sirloin, rib, chuck, round, etc. With this honesty in labeling, you always know exactly what you are buying, no matter what it is called or how it is packaged.

You always get your money's worth, too. That's because Chatham does not charge fancy prices for fancy names. No matter what the cut, we label it like it is... and we price it like it is. Chuck is priced like chuck... round like round.

It's important to note that, no matter what the cut may be, each carcass of Chatham meat is selected by experts and cut by skilled specialists. So you can be sure you're getting high quality meat, cut and trimmed to cook and taste the best. As proof, we will give you double your money back if you are not satisfied with your meat purchase.

Helping shoppers get the most for their money is a tradition at Chatham. And our new meat labels... together with "Actuals" pricing on packaged goods and the lowest overall prices in town... will help you save money. Try us! We know you'll like us.

SERVING THE CITY OF NOVI AND THE CITY OF WIXOM

Vol. 17, No. 12, Two Sections, 34 Pages • Thursday, August 3, 1972—Novi, Michigan • 15c Per Copy, $6 Per Year in Advance

Stop Order Halts K&B Construction

All Kaufman and Broad construction projects in Novi were shut down Thursday, as City Manager George Athas issued a stop order and had all construction sites cleared of personnel.

The order was delivered at 1:30 p.m. At the same time telegrams were sent to John Tedesco, president of K&B's Michigan operations, at his Southfield office and Eli Broad at K&B headquarters in California informing them of the action.

By 5:15 p.m. Thursday the stop order had been lifted and work was resumed Friday morning.

Implications came in the form of questions to the city manager while the council was discussing the legal ramifications of the work stoppage imposed on Kaufman and Broad Thursday night.

Shortly after the telegrams had been sent, the city manager's office was deluged with phone calls and by 4 p.m., Athas reported, "there were more lawyers in our office than were at the last Michigan Bar Convention."

At Monday's session Bond offered a further reason for the stop order. "When George brought this up," he said, "I agreed that things had reached a point where there was complete frustration on the part of the city and something had to be done to get them back in line."

Novi Grants Request

A request from Kaufman and Broad to construct four sales models on their Bufmeyer Farms property was granted by a 4-3 margin by the Novi city council Monday.

Almost as soon as the request was granted the three K&B representatives left, even though discussion of the shut down appeared on the agenda shortly thereafter.

Although similar requests are granted to other developers as a matter of course, it was obvious that the events of the past week in which Kaufman and Broad's Novi construction projects were temporarily shut down had created hard feelings between some of the council members and K&B.

The Bufmeyer Farms property is located in the northwest sector of the city, immediately south of Pontiac Trail and west of West Road. Although the site contains 109 acres, K&B is presently here and see what we had to say about the shut down instead of following his usual custom of leaving as soon as he gets what he wants."

Road Report Ires Council

A report issued by Councilman Donald Young has aroused the ire of other members of the Novi city council and led Councilman Edwin Presnell to charge that he will ask Mayor Joseph Crupi for a full investigation of Young's actions.

Residents are getting the short end of the stick in the resurfacing program," said Young. "In essence, Young took the amount of Act 51 monies given annually to the city as its share of state gasoline taxes to be used for maintenance of local roads, divided that figure by the number of miles of local roads in Novi, and then, using figures supplied by D.P.W. Head Edward Krewell, determined the difference between the first figure and what is actually spent to maintain subdivision roads."

Hold Forum For Candidates

Novi's Jaycees are sponsoring a "Meet Your Candidate's Night" program tonight, Thursday, August 3. The program gets underway at 8 p.m. in the Novi High School Auditorium at the corner of Taft and 11 Mile Roads.

For State Representative

Cliff Smart, Republican candidate for the state legislature from the 24th district; Herbert Cooley, Republican candidate for the 24th district; Anthony Renne, Democratic candidate for Oakland County prosecutor; and Glen Betts, Republican candidate for Oakland County Commissioner.

For State Representative

Joseph Pochter, Jaycee chairman for the event, announced Monday that seven candidates for state and county offices had indicated they would be present for the program.

For State Representative

Those seven candidates are William Broomfield, candidate for the Republican nomination from the 19th United States Congressional district; William Kabzinski, Democratic candidate for the Michigan legislature from the 24th district; Sam Ballo and Residents of Kaufman and Broad's Village Oaks subdivision have been asking the city to shut down the developer for some time. Their pleas reached a crescendo in late May and Wixom's regularly scheduled council meeting slated for Tuesday, August 8, at 8 p.m. has been rescheduled because of the primary election to be held in the City Hall that evening.

The meeting will be held Wednesday, August 16, at 8 p.m. in the Wixom City Hall, City Clerk June Buck announced this week.
