Kriewall's stand comes in response to questions raised by Council Member Ronald Watson regarding whether funds are available to construct a sidewalk on Meadowbrook between Nine and Ten Mile. Kriewall reported the city attorney has issued an opinion that road funds legally could be used to construct sidewalks, but said he has problems with such a proposal. "In the attorney's opinion we could use the one mill road funds. Whether the intent (to use the funds for sidewalks) was there when we offered this program to the community I really don't know," Kriewall said. "Legally, we could do it, but I have some reservations."

Kriewall added that Farmington Hills has recently studied the possibility of connecting its subdivisions with a comprehensive sidewalk program and found it would cost approximately $7 million

'They decided they had a lot of community priorities they needed to address before sidewalks," Kriewall said. The city manager indicated he could not support raiding the road fund for sidewalk construction. Watson responded that he had requested information on date wish to propose a comprehensive sidewalk program to the voters, that proposal would be undermined i sidewalks had been constructed in various places in the

"This could put pressure on the existing road funds and reduce financial support for a comprehensive program,

"The walls of my house are cracking," resident Barry Jay told the Novi City Council."When trucks hit the pot holes it shakes my house. The county has refused to resurface the road. They have let us know that they have priorities before East Lake and are extremely hard to deal with."

Exercise shapes up seniors

In a world where physical fitness seems to be the in thing these days, local senior citizens are no different. Every Monday, Wednesday and Friday, an average of 15 seniors gather inside the Novi Community Building for an hour of physical fitness from 9:30 until 10:30 in the

"I'm not only in better shape," offered Carlson, who regularly attends with his wife Elsie, "but I feel much more relaxed internally, as well." The session itself lasts over a 14week period. There are three per year. Each session costs each senior $1. Not a bad price, considering what each senior seems to get out of it.

"Many seniors think society expects them to slow down at a certain age," said Dimanno, a gerontology major at Madonna College, now in her seventh month as director. "Some think they deserve a rest after years of hard work, but they just don't realize the harm they're

Restaurant broken into, contents of safe stolen

Russell Vail, attorney for condominium developer Kratage, appeared at the township board's March meeting to ask for a substitution on the consent judgment signed in June 1981 by Kratage and Commerce officials. The judgment ended a lawsuit begun by Commerce to prevent the Florida-based developer from building condominiums off Commerce Lake. Township residents opposed the development of 40 condominiums, charging the high residential densiiv would lower water quality of Commerce Lake and protesting Kratage's early work at the site without appropriate permits. Part of the agreement stated that Commerce would sign a surface water discharge permit after completion of a hydrogeological study by Kech Engineering, a noted engineering firm.

Last week, however, Vail requested the consent judgment be changed to allow Kratage to substitute an already completed hydrogeological study done by McDowell and Associates of Ferndale According to Vail, Kech Engineering had quoted a price of $8,000 for the study

Will the Walled Lake School District survive?

The answer is indubitably 'yes:" the real question is — in what shape will it survive?

The 1982-83 budget will be balanced. It has to be; the fund equity (savings) account which has been used to balance the budget over the past several years has been virtually depleted and there's not much else to fall

The school board is confronted with some major dilemmas as it attempts to come to grips with the projected $2.9 million deficit in the 1982-83 budget. And not the least of those dilemmas is knowing just how great the deficit will actually be.

Assistant Superintendent for Business Harry Carlson profinancial crisis is fraught with hazards. however. As Trustee jected the $2.9 million deficit on Robert Cooper has pointed out the basis of a 5 percent increase in the district's state equalized repeatedly, the sale of assets is no valuation (SEV). By John Myers

It was great news to hear Ford Motor Company decided to reopen its Northville Valve Plant. The reopening was a direct result of the new contract hammered out by the United Auto Workers Union and Ford management just a few weeks ago.

Although Ford is unsure what operations will be done in the plant, I can only imagine the great sense of relief the workers felt knowing a majority would have their jobs back. It had to be a good feeling for most of the workers that the uncertainties of the future are gone for now since Ford decided not to close the plant permanent-

This same sense of relief was felt by my family Sunday night when the UAW and General Motors Corporation agreed on a new contract similar to the Ford-UAW agreement. First, a little background on why: in early February, not long after contract talks broke off between the UAW and the Number One auto maker, GM announced four plant closings — two of them in Detroit. One of those was a die testing plant where my dad has worked

It came as quite a shock to hear that in six months to a year Dad was going to be out of a job. Even worse, he was practically on his own in looking for new employment once the plant closed. As my dad said at the time, "There are a lot of guys at the plant wishing they were 55 (years old) right now so they could retire, including myself." He also cracked, "I guess I won't be getting my watch for 25 years of service at the plant after all."

Looking at the situation with some laughter made the announcement more bearable. Also, the future did not look quite so bleak because my mother was secure in her job as a secretary at the General Motors Technical Center in Warren, and making enough money for the family to survive the situation. My mom's job helped eased some of the worries my dad had about surviving through tough economic times.

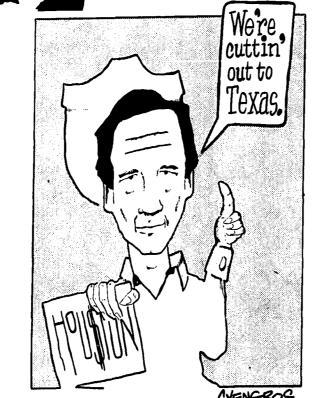

Now the future has become a little brighter with the new UAW-GM agreement canceling the four previous plant closings. The news seemed to put new spirit back in the family, knowing that — for at least 2½ more years — Dad's plant would remain open.

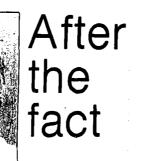

But the big question we wonder about now is how much of the work that had been outsourced to non-union plants will return? That was one of the main reasons the plant was closed in the first place.

It seems ther's an organization named "Better Education thru Simplified Spelling, Inc.," which has mounted a campaign called D.U.E. — Drop Useless Es.

A recent press release from BEtSS tries to underscor the problems with all thes useless Es by pointing out the number of D.U.E. words in Lincoln's Gettysburg Ad-

"Lincoln's Gettysburg Address contains a total of 1,138 letters," said the press releas. "Eighteen of thes ar final Es which misdirect the reader and should be dropped." The release then proceeds to point out all thes dangerous D.U.E. words in the order they occur, starting with "fourscor" and working all the way through "peopl."

So what's the purpos of all this concern over D.U.E. words? Efficiency, of cours. "If these eighteen Es are dropped we can write this passage with 1.58 percent fewer letters," say the people from BEtSS.

"This is not, in itself, a great saving; but it can be crucially important as a good start on the way to the simplification of our irrational spelling."

Ayb F. Citron, a PhD. and executiv director of BEtSS, also notes that other passages hav been analysed and ar found to vary between 1 and 1.8 percent in D.U.E. letters.

To lend credenc to its caus, the BEtSS peopl includ on their stationery a list of distinguished advocates of simplified spelling. The list includes such names as Andrew Carnegi, Georg Bernard Shaw, Theodor Roosevelt, Mark Twain and Noah Webster.

Baran's Jewelry: Living testimony to time-honored b business tradition

Pat Norten, Ed Baran and Frances Baran put family pride in their South Lyon jewelry store

By GREGORY W. GRAESSLEY

Section

The fall of the Roman Empire in the fifth century launched the western world into the medieval age and all its associative traditions which spanned 1,000 years until the Italian Renaissance. But there remains in our society some of the traditions of the

Perhaps one of the most die-hard traditions of the Dark Ages is the sense of family, specifically, the timeless practice of the "son following in the father's footsteps.

While modified to a certain degree, the Baran family of Baran's Jewelry in South Lyon has retained the legacy of a family-run business. Owner Ed Baran, 64, and his wife Frances have operated the shop in downtown South Lyon since 1964. Prior to his arrival in the "Best Little City," Ed was a horologist in the Statt Building in Detroit. "It's always been my idea and dream to go to a small town somewhere and own a jewelry store," said Ed. "I wanted to offer a jewelry store with for sale by the McIntosh family, Ed moved his family from the Motor City to the southwest corner of Oakland County and set up shop Now, 18 years later, the Barans' children are grown and married but each has a hand in the Foremost on the family-help list is Pat Norten. The lone Baran daughter is a full-time employee at the shop and responsible for the recently-added col-

Jim, on the other hand is "the silent partner," according to Ed. Jim "helped enormously in researching the plate addition,' Ed explained. All the Barans report that the age-old idea of a family-run business is flourishing. Key to that success is knowledge, service and dependability, ac-

"Having a small business allows for an opportunity to get to know all facets of the business." said Ed. If you work for someone else, you only get to see a part of the business — this little corner or that little corner. We all have to get into everything in order to keep the business going."

Norten echoed her father's sentiments. "They (my parents) allow me to give as much as I want, she said. "They encourage me to do what I want. I have an opportunity to explore other things, not just one portion of the business."

Norten added that she gave up a career as a teacher in the South Lyon school district in order to devote her full attention to the jewelry store. "The trend in business today, what's killing the small businesses, is change," said Ed. "The big stores carry a lot of things we just can't carry. They advertise very strongly.

"We offer people the service. People come in here for watch repairs and appraisals for insurance purposes. Any 'ma and pa' store today is service, that's what really draws them in. People depend on the small store. They trust the neighborhood business, if not, they wouldn't come around anymore. We deal with people on a personal basis - not a one-shot Even though Ed and his wife have built a solid reputation, the business has expanded in order to keep pace with the times. 'We've had to diversify," said Frances. "That's really the only way to get new business. That's why we added the plate collection." Still, even with the plate collection, Ed said it is the service which must stand as the foundation of "Being knowledgable about what you sell is very important," he said. "With plate collecting, you can tell more to a customer in five minutes about the plate's history then what they can learn in a book. Cash, credit and loans use wisely

Credit cards

Credit cards can be used to buy gasoline, register for a class or travel through Europe. But unless you understand the expenses and risks, you could be making costly mistakes by relying on credit

Credit cards are popular because they're convenient. Approximately three credit cards exist per family in the United States. But unless they're used properly, that convenience is costly. One way to curb costs is to pay the balance in full each month and avoid finance charges. The cost of "using" money for more than a month will generally outweigh the convenience of using credit cards.

Billing disputes reduce that convenience. Over 400 complaints were registered solely against departments stores in one city last year. But billing errors aren't as widespread as some may think. The most frequent complaints are misunderstandings caused by such developments as cancellations of ordered merchandise. In some cases, the cancellation hasn't been posted, and the correction doesn't appear on the same billing statement as the order.

Other major sources of misunderstanding are the amounts charged for interest and the annual fee. Truth in lending laws stipulate that both the finance charge and the annual percentage rate of interest be explained

Understanding the method used to calculate interest helps you compare costs and understand your bill. Don't rely on the annual interest figures. Different methods of figuring can result in different finance charges.

One of three methods is used calculate interest on bank credit cards like VISA and MASTER-CHARGE. They include the "adjusted balance" method, the "average daily balance" method or the "previous balance" method. Read the credit agreement on the billing statement to find which method is used because it affects what you are charged.

Let's say you have a billing statement for $300 and you pay $200, leaving a $100 balance. During the billing cycle, you charge an additional $200. The annual interest rate is 18 percent, 1.5 percent

Under the adjusted balance method you are charged interest on the last cycle's unpaid balance - in this case. the previous balance method, your finance charge is figured on you last balance of $300. a total of $4.50. Companies that use the average daily balance, however, calculate the finance charge until the end of the cycle Payments are also subtracted from your balance the day they are received. Interest is charged on the average daily balance. So when you charge items makes a difference. Using the same scenario, the $100 unpaid balance would exist for the entire cycle and would thus accrue $1.50 interest charges. If you charged the $200 at the beginning of the cycle, it would also accrue interest for 31 days and the charge would be $3 for a total of $4.50. However, if you charged the $200 with only 10 days remaining in the cycle, you would have a $300 balance for 10 days ($3,000) and a $100 balance for 21 days ($2,100). Your average daily balance would be $164.52 ($5,100 divided by 31 days) and your interest charge would be approximately $2.47. According to the Fair Credit Billing Act, consumers don't have to pay disputed charges until the company in estigates the claim and proves itself correct. If you don't pay, however, and the original charge is not an error. you're liable for any finance charges that accrue.

To insure your rights, notify the company in writing of your complaint, including the amount of the charge and your account number. The company must, acknowledge your complaint within 30 days.

Loans

Whenever a loan is made, there's always the risk the money will not be repaid. In supplying a mortgage, banks, savings-and-loans and other financial institutions protect themselves by requiring escrow. If you're applying for a mortgage, inan agreement. Be sure you know wha the escrow is for, when deposits are due, if they earn interest and when the account is debited.

By definition, escrow is a document or fund held by a third party and delivered upon completion of an agree ment. If you have an escrow account for a mortgage, the money is probably set aside to pay property taxes. The fund assures the lender that taxes will be paid if you go broke or declare

Not all banks and savings-and-loans pay interest on escrow. So, check your state banking commission (about local regulations) and individual banks and savings-and-loans before you open an escrow account. If there is a state law requiring interest payments to depositors, see where the highest rates

If there isn't a law, check if your money can earn interest anyway. In some states, financial institutions pay In some states, where interest payments are required, the rates may other states, mortgage lenders are required to match passbook rates

Regulations might differ for savings and commercial banks. The difference can be important depending on when the escrow accoun is debited and credited. The amount of money, of course, correlates to the taxes paid. But a larger difference is whether you pay all your taxes through the bank, your account being credited and debited periodically; or if the bank holds one tax payment until your mortgage is paid off. For example, even at three percent interest, $300 for one quarter's payments yields $9 for the first year is is held. If the mortgage holder required escrow until the mortgage is paid off money is then either applied to the last tax payment or subtracted from the last mortgage payment. On the other hand, if your account is credited monthly and debited each quarter, your earnings will be lower. On the same $300, you might earn only $4 in interest for the year. If an entire quarterly payment is held for three months, the interest would be $2.25 per There is no set amount of money you can plan for escrow until you know your taxes. Usually, the required monies equal one property tax payment, monthly or quarterly, although they sometimes include casualty insurance or assessment costs. So if your taxes are $2,400 yearly, your escrow amount would be $200 or $600 if taxes were paid quarterly. Any interest earned on this money is taxable. Some consumers regard escrow accounts similar to withholding since it's money automaticaly set aside to pay future taxes. And, like withholding, you may be better off using an escrow account only if it's required by your mortgage holder. If you budget for taxes and keep these funds in a liquid investment, you can earn interest on your account, the interest will, in almost all

Service contracts

After buying expensive appliances. consumers are often angry when confronted with high repair bills. Service contracts offer insurance against these bills, but before you sign a binding contract, decide if your repair bills really warrant insurance.

A service contract guarantees repairs for a period of time in exchange for a premium. It's similar to buying a warranty. You can buy contracts from a manufacturer or any of about 40,000 independent contractors, dealers and appliance repair shops.

What the contract covers, how long it's valid, whom you buy it from and the age of your appliance all figure in the cost of the contract.

Not all contracts are the same. Some cover only parts; others include only labor. If you feel that high repair bills are caused by labor costs, you might need a contract that pays for labor Manufacturer contracts generally cover labor costs, but some independents do not. The difference in contract price could be $20 or $50, but that savings could be cancelled by labor costs that add $12 to $40 per hour. Both labor costs and contract prices vary across the country. Some contracts allow more service calls than others. In a "preferred" contract, your free calls are limited and each additional call could cost you about $10. Others stipulate that all calls are free, after a deductible of anywhere from $25 to $75.

Complete coverage means all parts and labor costs are insured. This isn't always true. Auto contracts might not cover the brakes or the electical system. You can buy a service contract for only the television picture tube. If an uncovered part of your appliance breaks, you have to pay for it yourself. Contract prices depend on the age of your appliance. For the second year of your television's life, a contract might cost $90; for the third year the price could increase to $120. If your appliance isn't currently under contract and is more than a year old, you might be required to pay $25 or $30 for an initial service call, inspection and possible repairs. The older the appliance, the more costly the contract. But once your appliance gets to a certain age, you can't buy contracts because the probability of repairs is too Keep in mind that most appliances are virtually trouble-free for the first two or three years, the period contractors most like to cover. If you decide to buy a service contract, don't buy when your appliance is still under warranty Even if you buy future coverage for the appliance, the contractor has the loan f your money during that year.

Make sure your contract provides for in-home service or compensation fc pick-up and delivery expenses. If it's a contract for a car, inquire whether you can have the repair done at a local sho and whether towing, charges are provid overestimated price of repair, experience might convince you to buy a service contract. But since you can't predict when you'll need insurance. compare the cost and services of different contracts before you sign.

Questions? Write to Attorney Larry Korn, care of Sliger-Livingston Publications, Post Office Box 160, Northville, Michigan 48167. Questions will be answered on a space-available basis. Answers in this column are directed at specific facts and may not apply in all situations.

Q. I have obtained a ticket for a drawing in which the grand prize is a $238,000 English Tudor home. If I won, what income tax would I have to pay for this grand

A. If the cash market value of the English Tudor home was $238,000 you would pay a tax on the $238,000 less the cost of the ticket as ordinary income on your income tax. That could run as high as one-half of the $238,000.

Q. I was divorced five years ago in another state. In addition to providing support and medical coverage, the divorce agreement states that I had to make payments on and provide for the jointly-owned marital home until all children ad reached the age of 18.

My ex-wife has a boy friend living there. Can I have the divorce agreement amended to allow the house to be sold under these conditions? Could proceedings take place in Michigan or would I have to appear in the other state? A. You would have to make payments on and provide repairs for the pintly-owned marital home until all children reach the age of 18. Had your udgement of divorce provided that you would make payments and provide repairs until your wife re-married or permitted another man to reside in the marital home, that would have terminated your responsibility

I doubt that after the judgement of divorce has been in effect for five years that any judge would permit you to modify the judgement at this time. The motion to modify the judgement of divorce would have to take place in the state where the judgement was rendered.

Q. Would you explain briefly how to buy treasury bills or treasury notes? Also, is the income deductible from my income tax? Would you also explain bout municipal bonds and whether they are deductible? A. Treasury bills and treasury notes are obligations of the United States.

Freasury bills are generally of 13-week, 26-week or 52-week maturity. The ninimum amount that you can use to purchase a treasury bill is $10,000. Treasury notes range in maturing periods from one to 10 years. They are ssued in denominations of $1,000, $5,000, $10,000, $100,000 and $1 million. There is no service charge for the purchase of treasury notes or treasury bills if the purchase is made directly through the Federal Reserve Bank. There is a charge if you purchase treasury bills or treasury notes from your The Detroit Branch of the Federal Reserve Bank is located at 160 Fort Street West (P.O. Box 1059) Detroit, Michigan 48231, The telephone number is 1-313-961-6880, extensions 372 or 373. You can call the Federal Reserve or write them for information on how to buy treasury bills, notes or bonds. The income from treasury notes, bills or bonds is subject to all taxes imposed under the United States Internal Revenue Code. However, their income is exempt from state and local income taxes.

Q. I live with my father. My father has his own car which is insured and I have my own car which is insured. I was driving my father's car when I was involved in an accident. The accident was my fault.

My father's car has minimum liability limits. Can I use the bodily injury liabilily of my policy to help pay for the injuries that the other driver received because of my negligence?

A. The No-fault Act requires policies to provide for residual liability coverage for the use of the motor vehicle. Some companies have an exclusion clause for a relative residing in the same household. That clause must be looked at carefully by your attorney A recent case held "The No-fault Act requires policies to provide residual ability coverage for the use of a motor vehicle." The exclusionary clause co flicts with this requirement. Further it is a matter of law that the phrase, "furnished or available for the frequent use or regular use of the name insured," is repugnant to the No-fault Act. Have your attorney carefully review your policy as an insurer may be able to exclude the owner of an insured autmobile from liability coverage during his or her use of an uninsured automobile.

Q. I am the owner of a piece of property that is now several years behind in taxes. The treasury wrote and said that they were going to take my property away if I did not pay the taxes. What should I do?

A. Either write or call your treasurer and advise the treasurer that you would like to make monthly payments on the back taxes until they are caught up. Many cities like Detroit will permit you to make part payments of taxes until the arrearage is paid in full.

Q. My father died leaving a will which left me all his property. My father remarried after my mother died and I am wondering whether or not my stepmother will have any interest in the estate that my father left 100 percent to me.

A. In Michigan, a widow has the right to either take under the will or to elect to take under the Michigan Statute of Descent and Distribution or take her dower rights. Since your stepmother is going to receive nothing under the will it is quite likely that she may elect to take under the Statute of Descent and Distribution because she would then receive her homestead rights, her rights to furniture and furnishings and her right to a marital allowance which means that she could get from $100 to $500 a week for her support for one year from the death of

She might also elect to take her dower. I would have a talk with your stepnother and see what her wishes are. If she elects to take under the will, then your father's wishes would be respected, and perhaps that is what she would

Q. I filed a complaint to divorce my husband in the circuit court. My husband has not answered my complaint or filed any pleadings. We bought a house in 1970 out of which I paid $4,000 down and my husband paid $1,000 down. The house is now worth $35,000 and we owe $15,000. Will the judge give me the

A. If you paid for the major portion of the down payment and you have made most of the mortgage payments on the marital home, it is quite likely the ludge will award you the house as your own sole and separate estate.

However, if your husband has worked hard over the years and provided for you and the children and made all the mortgage payments on the marital nome, it is quite likely the judge will conclude there is approximately a $20,000 equity in the marital home.

He will probably take into consideration the fact that you paid $4,000 more than your husband did on the down payment and award you the marital home with the provision that you pay your husband anywhere from $5,000 to $10,000 when the youngest child is 18, when you remarry, or when you sell the marital home or whichever comes first.

Q. My husband is about to enter the hospital for a serious operation. I am concerned about being able to cash his Social Security check. Can I sign his

A. Rather than sign his name to the Social Security check, I would suggest that you first have your husband execute a Power of Attorney. This will give you the authority to sign his name, sign his checks, sign him into the hospital

A Power of Attorney is a simple instrument and I would recommend that you see an attorney immediately to have one executed by your husband.

Q. My husband and I have substantial amounts of property in our own individual names. Would we have to pay any taxes if we each executed deeds transferring all the property to ourselves as husband and wife?

A. President Reagan had a new tax bill passed under the terms of which a husband and wife may transfer assets to each other without any tax liability. No gift tax is assessed in the transfer of property from a husband to a wife or from a husband and wife to each other.

Walled Lake Western: 1982 Team of the Year

Western wrestling coach opts for early retirement — for now

Another era has passed: After serving 13 years as the only wrestling coach Walled Lake Western has ever known, Carl McBride is counting himself

With intentions of devoting more time to his family. McBride announced late last week that he is officially retiring from the coaching ring — for a short while, at least.

"I'm particularly interested in watching my own boys (wrestle) for a while," expressed the popular

40-year old Warrior kingpin and father of four (including three boys)

All three of McBride's boys, Steve (10th grade), Tim (7th) and Mark (a five year old) attend the Novi schools. The eldest, Steve, is currently a sophomore and sported an impressive 39-19 record at the 167-pound level under the guidance of Wildcat grappling coach Russ Gardner. Should McBride's middle boy, Tim, decide to follow in typical McBride tradition and continue with the sport, McBride says he would probably be out of coaching (at Western, at least) for at least "But he (Tim) is more into basketball so it may be sooner than that - maybe only two years," said Where McBride returns, however, may be just as "up in the air" as when the veteran coach returns.

"If the varsity job is open I'd probably take it," asserted McBride, "but ninth grade and junior varsity levels may be other options. It just depends on if and where there is an opening.' As for the vacancy left through his own departure, the 14th- year Walled Lake Western physical education instructor expressed a desire that his own assistant. Dick Watson, be awarded the job. In McBride's 13 years as coach, Western compiled a 141-55-2 won-loss-tie record. The Warriors

'My Fair Lady' staged by Central's students

It's a story that has been told many times. But "My Fair Lady" is always fresh in its musical tale of the transformation of a streetwise Cockney girl to a sophisticated lady.

Back on stage locally, "My Fair Lady" will debut at Walled Lake Central Monday, with a week-long run at Central's auditorium. Performances are slated for 7:30 p.m. Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, with tickets priced at $3.50 each. Monday is senior citizens' night and all seniors with identification will be admitted to the show for $2. Reservations are recommended for the weekend shows. A matinee will be performed at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday (March 31). That showing will offer a special price of $2.50. Publicity Chairman Jody Darling notes that the entire Central Orchestra will provide musical accompaniment to the performance. The orchestra will be under the direction of Thomas Stubbs. Classic tunes like "The Rain in Spain," "On the Street Where You Live" and "I Could Have Danced All Night'' will be performed. Chorus teacher Roger Longrie is directing Central's annual musical. "My Fair Lady," the musical adaptation of George Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion," is the story of Liza Doolittle (played by Dana Williams), who is used by Professor Henry Higgins (Jeff Garland) to prove that with the proper training.

Body's Warning Signals and Chiropractic Science

How long has it been since you really felt good? How long since you got up in the morning with the energy and bounce that make you glad to greet the new day?

How long has it been since you really listened to your body?

The human body is a marvelous machine. It's a carefully integrated unit, not just the sum of its parts. And when any one of those parts isn't functioning properly, the body sends its signals, just as your car does when there's something wrong.

aware that it's "running a little rough." You may not be getting the miles per gallon you once did. If you have learned to recognize the warning signals, you know when it's time to take your car to the shop, to prevent a total break-

But many of us fail to listen to our bodies as well as we listen to our automobile engines.

Nobody likes pain.

So instead of listening to their bodies, many people's first inclination at the sign of an ache or pain is to take a medication to cover it up. This is like turning off a fire alarm without attempting to put out the fire.

PAIN IS IMPORTANT to your well-being. It is nature's early warning signal, a life-and-death message relayed through your nervous system that tells you when something is wrong.

As such, pain is merely a symptom and not the cause of most health problems. Therefore, the sensible approach to nealth is not merely to turn off the pain (or treat the symptom), but rather to find the causes and correct them.

Chiropractic recognizes that nerve interference is the underlying cause of many types of painful disorders, for interference with nerve control impairs a wide variety of bodily functions.

ropractic seeks to maintain the neural integrity of the body, free from spinal defects and postural distortions. He seeks to establish normal function in order to allow body organs to work properly.

natural restorative powers to operate the body to eliminate basic health problems as well as associated pain and discomfort.

Never judge the seriousness of a pain by its location. The central nervous system originates in the brain and extends through the spinal column, reaching every major part of the body.

With more than three million impulses generated in the nervous system every second, an atomical or functional disturbance can result in pain or malfunction at most any point of the body.

OFTEN THE LOCATION of the pain has no known correlation with the source of the health problem. If the pain alone is treated, the health disorder may be left to become more serious.

As a Doctor of Chiropractic, I urge you to listen—really listen—to your body. And if you pick up warning signals, don't mask them with pills or pain-killers.

Make an appointment today for you and your family to have a spinal examination.

work again"

Recently I had a strange accident. My son used my truck to go to work. So I had to use my wife's car. I am a 6 feet tall while she is only 5'-3". While struggling to get into her small car and adjust the seat to my comfort, felt a click in my neck. Before I got to work, I felt pain. By noon I could hardly turn my head. At 1:30 I went home because of the pain. The next morning I could not raise my head to get out of bed. It hurt terribly.

I went to Dr. Nick for x-rays and he told me my neck bones had misaligned and I had a severely pinched nerve. I am a brick mason, and my back and neck is essential to my work. In two days I was feeling much better with the Doctors treatments. I could feel myself becoming progressively better each day. I found strength thought I had lost 10 years ago. My appetite has increased and I have found my job is not a drag anymore. I have fun at work now and laughing is easy. My family has noticed the change in my attitudes and that to me is very important. In closing I must thank the Doctor and his staff for making me feel ...let's say "young" again. At 54 years, its fun.

Thanks Dr. Nick. Em Snowden

When Dr. Nick opened his office my family and I decided to put ourselves in his care. I have more energy and stamina than I've had in years. I'm sure that thanks to Dr. Nick I will soon be I hold a job with a lot of physical stress. Without Chiropractic care I just couldn't function.

over 200 different causes of headaches. Head pain can be a dull throb, a severe ache, a sharp, constant pounding or any variation in between. They may be classified as mechanical, functional, toxic and reflex. These are the most common types and they are caused by one common factor: nerve pressure.

When tension builds up in the neck muscles it causes tremendous pressure on the nerves. And that pressure is responsible for the headache.

"COULDN'T WALK DOWNSTAIRS"

I live in a high rise apartment for senior citizens. It used to be that the walk from my room to my car was too much for me. I saw an advertisement for Dr. Nick's office so I decided to see him. After examining me, he found that my neck and hipbones were not lined up right. He started me on a program of adjustments and in a short time I found I could make it to the car non-stop and not be out of breath either.

I have also noted that I feel stronger and more relaxed which lets me sleep a lot better. My nerves have eased up and now l can hold my food down. Before seeing Dr. Nick, I used to vomit and had diarrhea a lot.

If you're tired of going to doctors that tell you "you're just getting old" or "it's just your nerves," then see Dr. Nick. You'll feel better for it.

CHIROPRACTIC WORKS!

As a twig is bent so grows YOUR CHILDS SPINE

The condition of your child's spine and nerve system during the early formative years may determine his or her whole future health. Children do suffer misalignments of the spinal vertebrae through falls, sports or minor accidents and stress. The onset of childhood, and later adulthood illnesses can in many cases, be traced to seemingly unimportant spinal injury. For this reason it is especially important that children's spine be periodically examined by a doctor of chiropractic. Prevention beats correction every time.

The average patient in our office spends less because the "cause" of his affliction is arrested. This includes necessary instrumentation, spinal x-rays, and office visits. With children, the average costs are considerably less because of a child's fast rate of responsiveness. MANY PEOPLE SPEND MORE JUST FOR RELIEF ...PRESCRIPTIONS, PAIN RELIEVERS, TRANQUILIZERS ALL COST MONEY ...AND YOU STILL END UP SICK ...YOU HAVE SPENT MONEY AND TIME ...AND STILL HAVE THE TROUBLE ...the old cliche that "you'll just have to live with it," or "it's your nerves" just doesn't make sense in a chiropractor's office ...LET'S GET RID OF THE TROUBLE SO YOU CAN LEAD A HAPPY, HEALTHY LIFE ...you are entitled to it ...so why not have it?
