Ex-super recalls career

By KATHY LAVAY

After calling Novi home for 16 years, a log cabin near Petoskey and a motor home will be home to Tom Dale and his wife Mary, both of whom retired last week from careers in the Novi schools.

Dale came to Novi to serve as superintendent of schools in January of 1966, and his wife, an elementary teacher and librarian, followed him in September. Dale stepped down as superintendent in 1972, and returned to the classroom, where he taught earth science, conservation, geography and Michigan history.

During his tenure with the Novi Schools, Dale has seen changes in almost everything — the district, students and the educational process itself.

In fact, he worked for some of those changes, especially while he was superintendent, a job he wasn't sure he wanted to take on at first.

"I was offered the job in Novi six months before I took it," said Dale. "I had turned it down, but was contacted again by Oakland Schools and the superintendent of public instruction in Lansing. They said 'they (the district) can't agree on anybody else and we wish you'd take it if you could.'" Dale explained that if Novi had not been able to agree on a superintendent, it would have been split between the Northville and Walled Lake school districts. Convincing the state redistricting commission that Novi was a district worth keeping was a tough initial job.

"My first job was to prove to the state that Novi had some promise for the future," he said. "We did it by population projections and demography.... We showed that the population of Detroit was indeed beginning to move out, and Novi was the last area short of Brighton that had a lot of undeveloped land... people here were supportive and wanted to develop a high school."

Dale said the level of community support for schools in Novi is one thing that has never changed. But other things have.

Today's students, he said, know more than their parents did when they were teenagers, but also seem to have less self-respect and are more concerned with status symbols like driving cars to school.

Teachers, according to Dale, also have changed. The broad, general background that most teachers had 20, 30 or 40 years ago is being replaced by increasing specialization, which may or may not be good.

"We used to hire teachers with two majors, two minors and a minor, four minors... now we get teachers with a strong major and they teach only in that field... it makes it difficult sometimes to connect what one teacher is teaching with what other teachers are teaching."

The educational process itself also has changed. Dale has seen the development of special education programs for learning disabled and handicapped children, which he calls a "change for the better."

And Dale has seen an improvement of academic standards in all classes throughout the schools. "There is more and more high achievement (by students)," Dale said.

In fact, Dale believes the quality of Novi schools is the best it can be.

"The quality of education, the quality of community support of education is second to none," Dale said. How to keep it that way?

"As long as people continue to support schools and have high expectations, those high expectations will be fulfilled."

Novi voters to decide drain issue in August

By KATHY JENNINGS

Drains may be something like electricity — nobody gets excited about them until they don't work.

Faced with facts that the existing drainage system is nearing a stage where people will get excited because it doesn't work, Novi's City Council has decided to ask voters to approve a system of regional-drainage basins.

Voters will be asked in August to approve 1.5 mills for the purpose of developing a coordinated citywide drainage system. The millage proposal includes funds for acquisition of property, construction and maintenance of the system.

Under the proposal going before the voters the city would levy:

- up to one-half mill to maintain a citywide-drainage system;
- up to one-half mill for construction of small detention lakes; and,
- one-half mill to repay an estimated $4 million in bonds to cover construction of six major drainage projects.

After reviewing a detailed report of the generally poor condition of the existing drainage system from engineering consultants Mosher-Kapelczak, Inc., the council voted to place the millage request on the August ballot.

If approved, the plan will represent a major redirection in the development of drainage facilities in Novi.

Currently, most individual developments are required to build ponds on their property to hold storm water runoff and control the speed with which it flows from the land.

Under the proposed citywide system, developments will be able to connect to storm water sewer lines, or drains, flowing into regional basins.

Few problems were anticipated when Novi adopted the current drainage system in the late 1960s when Oakland County required all communities to develop standards for on-site detention basins, according to Engineering Consultant Cliff Seiber. At the time they were implemented Novi's standards were considered among the best in Oakland County.

Seiber noted that because communities had little previous experience with detention ponds "it was thought that if you provided an inlet, an outlet and a fence it would go real well." But as time went on problems with the small on-site basins developed. (See related story).

As a result of problems coordinating and effectively controlling the existing system the council was urged to consider another alternative for controlling drainage citywide.

The council was encouraged to consider that under ultimate development Novi could be dotted with 674 on-site detention ponds, while only 30 ponds will be needed with the regional system.

Novi also could expect "tremendous" maintenance costs if it continues on its current route and nearly 674 basins are constructed, Seiber said.

"The ponds are a tremendous maintenance problem and an ineffective use of property. Ponds may be built in places where there is good buildable property, causing a loss of tax revenue due to the use of buildable land for detention," he added.

Seiber also said smaller ponds have small outlet pipes which are easily blocked with sticks, cardboard and

Schram returns to seat, Henderson wins battle

Incumbent Robert Schram was an easy victor in the race for a four-year seat and Gilbert Henderson narrowly defeated write-in candidate Diana Canup in the race for a one-year term on the Novi Board of Education in Monday's election.

Slightly more than 500 of the districts 10,000 registered voters, not quite five percent, made it to the polls Monday and cast 352 votes for Schram compared to 76 ballots for his write-in opponent Kathleen Mutch in the race for the four-year term.

In the race for a one-year term, Henderson drew 271 votes, while Canup received 198 votes. They were competing for a one-year term created by the resignation of six-year board member Ruth Waldenmayer.

"I hold Diana Canup and her campaign in high regard," Henderson said after his victory. "I'm impressed with her ability to hold a meaningful write-in campaign. It had me worried. It's pro-ably the best organized campaign I've seen in this town in years."

He added that after the vote totals were announced he was "relieved" and now is "looking forward to being back in that arena and the opportunity to serve young people. I look forward to future interaction with other board members and the administrative staff."

"The first few months are going to be demanding as the district negotiates five contact settlements, and I am confident I can help in that process," Henderson said.

Henderson carried only one of three precincts, drawing the majority of his support from Precinct 3 at Village Oaks Elementary where he received 149 votes in comparison with 64 votes for Canup.

He was defeated by nine votes in Precinct 1 at Middle School South where Canup garnered 38 ballots and he received 29. The candidates were neck-and-neck at Precinct 2 at Orchard Hills Elementary where 86 votes went to Canup and 82 went to Henderson.

Canup also received 12 write-in votes for the four-year term, for which she was not running. Mutch received six write-in votes for the one-year seat.

In the race for the four-year term Schram took all three precincts by wide margins. Schram is vacationing and could not be reached for a statement on his victory.

He was first elected to the school board in 1978 and served as board vice president and treasurer in 1981.

Henderson ran for office after five years out of local politics. He was first elected to the school board in 1968 and re-elected in 1971 and 1973. He served as board president in 1970-71 and again in 1975. He resigned from the board in 1975 to take office as the mayor of Novi.

The new board members will take office and be sworn in at the school board organizational meeting July 1.

Charter change delayed

Despite earlier indications, Novi voters will not be asked in August to amend the city charter regarding local election practices.

Council members learned Monday that proposed charter revisions they have considered previously cannot be approved in time for the August ballot.

They also decided Monday to revise the charter review process to include citizens. Three council members now serve on the charter review committee.

Previously council members discussed asking voters to approve:

- eliminating some general elections by electing candidates in a primary election;
- removing the option of nomination through payment of a $100 filing fee; and,
- lengthening the mayor's term from two to four years.

They decided when the measures were first introduced that two of them should be sent to the Michigan Attorney General for routine review. But the council asked the committee to reconsider the proposal regarding the primary.

Home Starr, a member of the former charter commission, urged the council Monday to leave the charter intact.

"The charter is good as it is," Starr said. "We spent over two years developing it and if you change it now it won't be long before you've torn the limbs off it. Someone will decide they want x-more dollars and they'll be raising (the charter maximum on the number of mills the city can levy.) Soon you'll have just a shell."

Starr urged the council to consider "many people don't know what they are voting for" when charter amendments are put before them.

Council members briefly considered whether the three charter amendments should go before the voters in November, but withheld a decision until they received further information regarding the length of the ballot.

Council Member Ronald Watson suggested that the council obtain more citizen input regarding the proposed charter changes.

"I would like to see whether we are imposing our interest in this matter," Watson said. "These are candidate-oriented issues and I think we should see what the public thinks."

Mayor Robert Schmid suggested council members were qualified to make such decisions since they have run for office.

"It's ridiculous to have two elections when we have the number of people running that we have had in the past," Schmid said. "Who knows better than the candidates doing it. I am involved and have run, and I think this is a problem for the city. Two elections are expensive and could discourage people from running."

Roethel enters house race

An eleventh-hour declaration pits former Novi Planning Board Chairman John J. Roethel against Novi City Council Member Martha Hoyer in the Republican primary race for the 60th District congressional seat.

Roethel, 62, says he was spurred in his decision to run by the fact that there is no incumbent in the district. "I took a look at the potential candidates and decided I had as much chance as anybody running," he said.

Roethel's candidacy could split the Novi vote between the former mayoral candidate and Hoyer, but Roethel says he feels that Novi candidates should consider the needs of the entire district, not just their own city.

"How much of an effort made by candidates to get votes from other parts of the district will make the difference," said Roethel. "You've got to consider the whole 60th District."

Roethel points to his long involvement with the Novi planning board and his interest in community activities as qualifications for the congressional seat.

"I'm retired from Ford Motor Company, I have time to put into the job," he said. "I am just interested in community activities.... I've worked with the planning (board) for 10 years."

Roethel says his concerns include inequitable tax structures and conservation of land and natural resources.

"A big part of the 60th District is affected by what the DNR does," he said.

Hoyer and Roethel's competition for the Republican nomination include Highland Township's Willis Bullard, Jr.; John VanDyke of Millford Township; and Allen C. Ingle of Northville.

Hippity-hop

They probably didn't tell Assistant City Manager Craig Klaver that participating in the "ankle-ball hop" during Gala Days' "Almost Anything Goes" contest was in his job description when they hired him from Royal Oak last summer. The acquisition of Klaver may have marginally helped the cellar dwelling City of Novi team, however. They finished eighth of nine teams this year.

Intersection nears construction stage

There's good news for Thirteen Mile residents, who have been waiting patiently for a traffic light to be installed at the Thirteen Mile/Novi Road intersection. Re-construction of the intersection is slated to begin August 1, and installation of a traffic light is slated after construction has been completed. Novi officials earlier believed work might begin in late spring or early summer, but the project was delayed as the city's engineering consultants tried one last time to obtain Oakland County Road Commission approval of revised plans for the intersection. "We tried to get them to take a second look because the way the plans call for the paving to go in will take a lot of property," explained City Engineering Consultant Edward Jacobs. "We staked it, figured the cost, and it looked expensive," Jacobs said. "Now we're trying to go within the existing right-of-way and still satisfy the road commission." Jacobs said the city will ask to change the approved plan slightly so the city will not have to acquire as much property as called for in the original plans. If approved the project could go out to bid immediately and construction could begin by early August, Jacobs predicted. Novi has been meeting with the road commission for more than a year to determine an acceptable route for the intersection. Plans to install a signal at the in-

Central names 4 top scholars

Science-oriented careers dominate the plans of the top scholars in the 1982 graduating class at Walled Lake Central High School. Central has two valedictorians and two salutatorians this year. And three of the four say they plan to go into medicine, while the other plans a career in computer science. Valedictorians are Aaron M. Amos and Todd Smith, while co-salutatorians are Mary Krug and Patricia (Trisha) A. Nawrot. Counselor John Niska called the four a talented group. "They've all taken heavy academically-oriented schedules," he said. All four have concentrated on math and science, and all four were members of the Walled Lake Central math team, which won second place in state competition in 1980. Amos and Smith tied for the top spot with perfect 4.0 grade point averages, while Krug and Nawrot were close behind with grade point averages of 3.95. Amos, son of Mrs. Glennella Amos of Union Lake, will attend Dartmouth College this fall and plans to become a doctor. A career in medicine, he says, will give him a chance to help people. While in high school, Amos was president of the student council, president of the Model United Nations Club, president of the Business Office Education club and a member of the National Honor Society. Amos was a state-level winner in extemporaneous speaking, and represented Michigan at the National Office Education Association Conference in Texas. Amos has won the Walled Lake Central Century III Leadership Current Events Scholarship, the Walled Lake Central National Honor Society Scholarship, and the Irene Daniels Parent-Teacher-Student Association Scholarship. Amos also played intramural basketball and was a workshop speaker for the Model United Nations Club. He is a member of the Brightmoor Tabernacle Church. Smith, son of Marie Smith of Union Lake and W. Dean Smith of Orchard Lake, plans to attend the University of Michigan with hopes of a career in internal medicine. A two-year member of the National Honor Society, he travelled to Germany as a member of the German Exchange Club, and also hosted a German exchange student. Smith was a University of Michigan Regents Alumni Scholarship, and is a member of the youth group at Shepherd of the Lakes Lutheran Church. Krug, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Krug of Union Lake, said she is "leaning" toward a career in medicine, but also is interested in engineering and music and will make her career decision after she gets to the University of Michigan in the fall. During high school, Krug participated for four years in chorus and music, spent three years on the Pom-Pon Squad and was a math team member, class treasurer and a National Honor Society member for two years. Krug sings in the church choir at Commerce United Methodist Church, where

BRACE YOURSELF
Q. I'm an adult who needs braces. Aren't there new types that are invisible?
A. In the past few years braces made of plastic have sometimes been used instead of metal ones, especially in the front portion of the mouth. These clear brackets are bonded to the teeth with orthodontic treatment. Just look around you and you'll see more and more adults with braces. So brace up, there is really no reason for you to be self-conscious about correcting your dental health.

PITCHER Kathy Narducci of Wall-ed Lake Central has been named to Sliger-Livingston Publications All-Area second softball team. Narducci and 22 others were named to the first and second teams, which are chosen by the sports editors of The Northville Record, Novi-Walled Lake News, Milford Times and South Lyon Herald. For more about the Sliger-Livingston "Dream Team," see Page C4.

A DEFICIT of kindergartners has the Walled Lake Schools Elementary Education Department worried. Parents who have not yet registered their prospective kindergartners in school are urged to do so immediately. Parents who enroll their children for kindergarten now may save themselves the possible headache of having their children transferred from their regular attendance areas, and can also help save their own tax dollars, since an accurate kindergartner count can help eliminate excess staffing in each attendance area. Parents who cannot come to the school to enroll their children or parents who do not know which school their child will attend should call the Elementary Education Department at 624-5330.

Reeds, Venzke win board seats

Merlin Reeds and Bonnie Venzke out-poled a field of six candidates to win election to two four-year terms on the Walled Lake Board of Education Monday.

Reeds was the top vote-getter by a wide margin as he was named on 947 ballots. Venzke finished second with 850 votes to narrowly defeat Mary Weborg who finished third with 843 votes.

Board President Kenneth Tucker finished fourth with 781 votes, while incumbent David Roddy was fifth with 620 votes and Donald Eby was sixth with 516 votes.

The results of Monday's balloting marked the second consecutive year in which Walled Lake school district voters have turned out incumbents and replaced them with newcomers.

In the 1981 election, voters rejected the candidacies of incumbents Steven Lasher and Robert McNutt and replaced them with Patricia Jackman (four-year term) and Roddy (one-year term). The mantle of incumbency apparently proved to be a disadvantage again in this year's election as both Tucker and Roddy were defeated in their bids for re-election.

The election results proved particularly disappointing for Tucker who was making his first bid for re-election after winning a four-year term in 1978. Tucker has served as board president during the past year.

Reeds formerly was employed as director of the data processing division for the Oakland Intermediate School District and currently is president of his own firm - Merlita Data Systems, a consulting firm in the field of computer technology. He ran unsuccessfully for the one-year term in the 1981 election, finishing behind Roddy and McNutt, but came back to top all vote-getters in this year's election.

Venzke has been active in the Walled Lake schools for the past seven years, working previously as a tutor, coordinator of a pre-school story hour and a PTO president. Most recently she has served on two citizens' committees - the school finances committee and the declining enrollment/facility utilization committee.

In response to a question from The News, Reeds said he thinks the community should be very pleased with the high level of conduct exhibited by all six candidates in a hotly-contested election.

"I believe the community will not accept less than top performance from the elected officials and administrators of our school district," he said.

Commerce for border agreement

By KATHY LAVEY

Stable boundaries are the aim of a 10-year pact already signed by Commerce Township and coming up for review in three other communities.

The Commerce Township Board at its June 8 session authorized Township Supervisor Robert Long to sign the agreement with Milford Township, Lyon Township and the City of Wixom.

The agreement, which is under review in Lyon and Milford townships, was scheduled for consideration last night by the Wixom City Council.

The purpose of the document is to "encourage and establish" stable boundaries to make for stability in "planning and zoning" in the communities, especially in "areas adjacent to mutual municipal boundaries," and to promote cooperation among the signing communities in planning, zoning and development.

The agreement, if signed by all parties, will include creation of a commission to "review planning and zoning which affects stability in mutual boundaries" and recommend action that will keep boundaries stable.

The nine-member commission would include two appointees from each participating community and a member of the Oakland County Planning Division.

The agreement would automatically be renewed at the end of 10 years unless one of the participating communities notified the others of its intent to terminate its participation.

Under the terms of the agreement, the commission would have only advisory power. Its duties would be to "receive and review input from each municipality regarding changes in existing planning and zoning," and "make recommendations regarding planning and zoning or proposed planning and zoning changes which affect territory within one mile of mutual boundaries."

According to Commerce Supervisor Long, the agreement has been on the drawing board since early this year and stems from the planned expansion of Spencer Airport in Wixom.

"When the Wixom airport first came up, I've met as to the effects of the airport on the townships and on the city," said Long. "It was discussed, and all felt it would be good to have some type of understanding as to this in the future - to more or less sit down and look at things that were going to have impact."

Barriger has pride in work at Maple El

Even on snowy, slushy, muddy days, the entryways to Maple Elementary School in the Walled Lake School District are clean and polished.

There is never any dirt or debris in the halls or gym floors, and even the boiler room is spotless with every tool hanging in its appropriate place.

As grandma might say, "You could eat off the floors."

This showplace of cleanliness is the private domain of Robert Barriger, custodian and employee of the Walled Lake School District for 21 years.

"No matter what you do," said Barriger, "you should have pride in your work. It reflects back on you - what you are."

Barriger is blind in one eye, which has limited his job opportunities. "A lot of companies wouldn't hire me because of it," he said. "And that was really hard to face when I was young."

He wanted to go on to school, but the huge reading requirements and the accompanying pain and fatigue it caused him made him abandon the idea. After high school, he worked for a floor-covering company, doing contract work. He left that job for a job with the schools, which he feels provides more job security.

"There's a lot of routine, but it's also diversified," he said. "I'm always trying to improve things. Sanitation, especially in the kitchen and bathrooms, is important to me. There are more good days than bad if you are doing a good job and feel good about it. I like it clean for myself."

With the recent budget cuts, Barriger said he has to work a little harder. But the teachers are more helpful with keeping room clean, he added.

"The principal makes a difference," Barriger said. "It's important to him to have a clean building he'll work with you and insist others in the building help."

Principal Robert Voss calls Maple Elementary one of the most immaculate and well-maintained buildings he has ever seen.

Voss added that Barriger is the epitome of what he looks for in an employee - one who cares about the children and the building.

Barriger and his wife Beverly, a medical assistant, live in Birmingham and enjoy hiking, bicycling and square dancing. They have no children.

"It's no more than I'd do in my own home," said Barriger.

Dignity is not something given by someone else. It is what we ascribe to ourselves when we feel both proud and confident about what we are and what we do.

Barriger, said Voss, is a man of dignity.

Why A Zoom Lens
The zoom lens revolution is here and cannot be ignored by anyone who enjoys photography. With a variety of focal lengths at one's fingertips, it is no longer necessary to carry around a bag full of lenses when just one or two will do it all.
Zoom lenses are now available in a large variety of focal length ranges, from wide angle up to telephoto, so choosing the right one should not be difficult at all.
Besides their great convenience and the cost savings of purchasing fewer lenses, zooms allow greater creative freedom. By adjusting the focal length (or image magnification), you can enjoy limitless picture possibilities in every scene. This allows critical framing of the subject, which is usually easier to do in the camera than in the darkroom.
While in the past fixed focal length lenses were superior to variable ones, today's quality zoom lenses, featuring new techniques and computer designs, have eliminated problems of picture sharpness and contrast. They now offer the 35mm camera photographer infinite possibilities for creating new and exciting pictures of excellent quality.

Western broadcast program facing axe

By KATHY LAVEY

When it comes to keeping or cutting the radio and television program at Walled Lake Western High School next year, it's an all-or-nothing proposition.

And it looks like it's going to be nothing.

The 100 students who are enrolled in the curriculum next year have been told to reschedule because Donna Schaefer, the only teacher qualified in radio and television production, has been pink-slipped.

Schaefer, who has seven years' seniority, is realistic. "My chances of being called back are not real terrific," she said, but she's more worried about the program than her own job.

"We're not very far away from having cable (television) ... and the program at Western could be a definite part of it," she said.

She said it's not unheard of for a cable television company to hire someone with experience in television production right out of high school, and if the program is maintained her students might have that chance.

"We have audio and video ... we can do radio shows, we have two color cameras. The amount of equipment used by most cable companies could be used by most students (in the advanced class)."

And, she said, there's really no other way to break into the field. "You don't see people walking into commercial television or radio stations and getting jobs. The only students currently getting jobs are at very small radio stations or in cable," she explained. "Having the program would give Western students an advantage in the job market."

"There are only two or three other high schools in this area, in this half of the state, that have the program we do," she said. "With cable we can say there is a potential job for these kids right out of high school."

Also, Schaefer explains, students who go on to study broadcasting in college may find they have an edge over others in their college programs.

Another concern if the program is cut, Schaefer says, is that the cable television companies traditionally supply television equipment for schools to use. However, since Western already has equipment, if the radio and television curriculum is not in operation when the cable companies come, they may not feel obligated to offer Western new equipment.

Schaefer, who fills in her part-time radio and television teaching schedule with English and drama, says if the program could just hang on until cable comes, it could go full time.

"I'd like to give a shot at going into radio as an announcer or producer ... taking the classes helped in making the decision."

But, he said, if the program is removed for even a year he will have to restructure his schedule and take other classes, probably oriented toward a different career.

Tim Shasteen, who as a senior next year intended to take an independent study in radio and television and serve Schaefer as an aide in other radio and television classes said loss of the program will "hurt" him.

"I have a lot of projects, a lot of ideas that I want to work on next year," he said.

Studying radio and television at Western, Shasteen says, has given him a career goal that he previously lacked.

"Before, I wasn't planning to go to college because I didn't know what I was going to do ... this is the only thing I could get into ... this has really given me direction, it's the only thing that appealed to me."

Schaefer, Holland, Shasteen and the others will have to wait to see what happens to the program.

Cable group to meet L.A. consultant

The West Oakland County Cable Study Group may come one step closer to beginning their cable television plan tomorrow (Thursday) night when they meet for the first time with consultant Carl Plinick of Los Angeles.

The study group plans to contract Plinick's firm, TMC (Telecommunications Management Corporation) for Phase I of the cable television project.

According to a draft of the contract Plinick will be asked to design Phase I consists of "the development of cable television implementation alternatives and related matters," which includes "analysis of community need and priorities" for cable television and "recommendations for financing requirements."

Representatives to the cable study group from 12 western Oakland County communities, including Walled Lake, Wixom, Wolverine Lake and Commerce Township, and "as many elected officials as possible," will meet with Plinick to discuss the study group's plan to begin their cable television project.

Plinick will be in the area next week doing cable television consulting work for the City of Wixom.

Although Plinick is a consultant, Plinick's firm, TMC, who is also Walled Lake City Manager and represents Walled Lake on the study group, noted that there may not be adequate time to gather all the data needed from the 12 communities for the study group's report. Study representatives should bring along as many elected officials as possible.

"I think it would be essential to have as many representatives as possible. Plinick has noted that he doesn't have a lot of time, and Richard Ched, Commerce Township representative, said study group representatives expressed hope that meeting with Plinick will help them sharpen their understanding of cable issues and what cable television will mean for West Oakland County."

Many questions that the study group representatives are asking about the project, Plinick says, "probably be best answered by Plinick. Various members of the group noted that the availability of services and the utilization of rates for sparsely populated communities by those with heavier concentrations, as well as concerns about Plinick's report."

"These are tough questions at best," he said at Walled Lake. "I don't know if I can answer the question."

The study group will meet Plinick on Thursday at Walled Lake. Other representatives from Highland Township, Keego Harbor, Wixom, Milford, Milford Township, Orchard East, Wixom, Walled Lake and White Lake Township.

Other communities in the study group include Highland Township, Keego Harbor, Wixom, Milford, Milford Township, Orchard East, Wixom, Walled Lake and White Lake Township.

'Red water' comes from 10 Mile landfill

The red water flowing into a Meadowbrook Road ditch looks worse than it is, according to one city official.

Groundwater flowing through a landfill west of Meadowbrook Road north of Ten Mile has been cited by the Oakland County Environmental Health Department as the source of the "red water" problem.

But Novi engineering consultant Patrick Keast said the water was tested a year ago by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, which found the discolored water was not a severe health problem since it was low in ammonia and sulfides.

The discoloration is caused by a high rust content in the landfill which turns the water red, Keast explained. It became highly visible with the amount of water running through the landfill when snow melted this spring.

Additionally, water collects in a low area on a portion of the landfill and seeps into the landfill.

Keast said Oakland County has asked the developers (Holzman and Silverman) to fill the low area so water will not be collected. If the low area is filled, water will run off the site instead of seeping into the ground.

Oakland County contacted Holzman and Silverman in late May informing them of the need for an "extensive leachate" program at the landfill.

The notification gave the developers 30 days to correct the problem. County officials suggested filling the pond with "inert fill material, grading the top of the fill site to promote surface run-off toward the drain trenches, and capping the east edge of the site with clay."

Keast said the water was tested a year ago by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, which found the discolored water was not a severe health problem since it was low in ammonia and sulfides.

Free seeds offered

"People just don't believe there's no catch."

That's the word from Lisa Foote out at Foote Gravelly Tractor which is offering free pumpkin seeds and plowing to all Novi residents.

"All we're trying to do is help kids and show we're part of the community," said Foote about the free pumpkin seeds and plowing offer.

The special giveaway is designed to raise money for the Novi Parks and Recreation Department and the Leader Dog School in Rochester.

Here's how it works. Anyone who wants free seeds and plowing must register with Foote Gravelly Tractor to get their free seeds.

Pumpkins must be returned in October when prizes will be awarded for the biggest, funniest-shaped and smallest pumpkins. After prizes are awarded, pumpkins will be placed in front of the Foote Gravelly dealership at 46401 Grand River and sold. All proceeds from the sale will be divided evenly between the Novi Parks and Recreation Department and the Leader Dog School.

This is the second year Foote Gravelly has sponsored the contest, which last year brought in a total of $350 which was turned over to the Leader Dog School.

Foote said she already has received a good response to the offer but still has lots more seeds to give away.

Seeds can be planted as late as June 30 and still have plenty of time to grow before October.

Anyone interested in registering for the free pumpkin seeds and plowing can call the Parks and Rec Department at 349-1976 or Foote Gravelly Tractor at 348-3444.

"We want to be a contributing part of this community, but we need people's help," said Foote. "We just want people to be positive about Novi and positive about helping other people."

Man critically injured in crash

In Wixom

A Farmington Hills man remained in critical condition Tuesday with head and multiple injuries after a van he was driving struck a tree off Charns Road, Wixom police said.

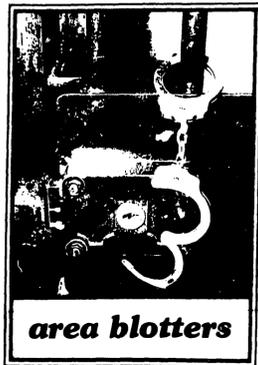

According to police spokesperson Al Blasfield, the 33-year-old victim, Paul Frederick Clark, was alone in the 1974 Dodge van when the accident occurred between 4 and 4:30 a.m. Sunday (June 13). The accident was not reported until 5:30 a.m.

"When the accident was reported, the van had been there a while with him in it," said Blasfield.

Blasfield said Clark was apparently on his way home from a party driving eastbound on Charns Road when his van went through a stop sign at North Wixom Road and struck an oak tree about 40 feet off of Charns Road.

"It's a very large tree," said Blasfield. "All the impact was to the front of the van... (Clark) was not wearing a seatbelt." Blasfield speculated that a seatbelt would have reduced some of Clark's injuries.

Since the van's tires were in "good shape" and there was no sign of any braking, Blasfield said, area blotters area blotters

Police speculate that Clark may have fallen asleep or blacked out at the wheel.

Blasfield said Clark was removed from the van by the Wixom Fire Department, who used a "Jaws of Life" tool to cut through the van and get him out.

"The doors were pinned shut due to the damage from the accident," said Blasfield. "The fire department did an outstanding job of getting him out."

Removing the victim and "stabilizing" him for the trip to the hospital took between 30 and 45 minutes, Blasfield said. He was then transported by Fleet Ambulance to Botsford Hospital in Farmington Hills.

In Novi

For the second time in one week cash has been stolen from the A&P store at Ten Mile and Meadowbrook Road.

Early Friday morning, some $300 in cash was removed from a metal cash drawer. Employees told police the theft occurred between 4:30 and 4:45 a.m.

Register children now for fall kindergarten

Where have all the children gone? That's the question being asked by Walled Lake School officials in light of smaller-than-expected enrollment for 1982-83.

School officials have projected 626 kindergartners for 1982-83, an increase of approximately 50 youngsters over 1981-82 enrollment figures. However, only 534 entering kindergartners have registered to date at Walled Lake's 11 elementary schools — 92 less than projected.

Officials are concerned because distribution of kindergartners is dependent on knowing where they are. Planning is hindered if parents wait till the last minute before enrolling their children in kindergarten.

One employee told police the cash register was locked prior to the theft. Employees were in other parts of the store when the theft occurred and did not see or hear anything to arouse their suspicion.

Police are investigating the matter in conjunction with a June 5 theft in which $2,000 was stolen from the store's cash room.

Police are warning residents to keep track of their electronic bug killers. Three bug killers, valued at approximately $89 apiece, were stolen last week. They were taken June 8 from the 2000 block of Gibraltar and the 2000 block of Emsiboro.

Police say bug killers should be hung so they can be taken indoors when not in use or hung in spots where they're not easily observed from the road.

A man was arrested after he was allegedly observed taking hub caps from a vehicle owned by a Novi Inn employee. The owner told police she stepped out of the bar for a breath of fresh air and saw a man kneel down next to her car. She looked closely and saw three wheel covers missing from her vehicle.

She was able to corner the suspect until police arrived to take him into custody. He was lodged overnight at Novi police headquarters, pending issuance of a warrant for his arrest.

More than $1,300 worth of silk material was stolen from the Showcase of Fine Fabrics in Twelve Oaks Mall. An employee told police the fabric was last seen June 4. Two rolls of silk worth $300, two rolls worth $230 and a roll worth $245 were stolen.

A 26-year-old Novi man reported the theft of his 1980 Toyota from the Twelve Oaks parking lot. The vehicle was later found by Commerce Township firefighters in a field off Gengary Road in Commerce Township where it had been torched.

A 1977 Chrysler valued at $1,900 was stolen from the Twelve Oaks parking lot. The owner told police she left the car in the lot overnight and it missing when she returned the next day.

More than $100 worth of clothing was stolen from Winkelman's at Twelve Oaks Mall, police report. An employee told police a young woman came into the store during a busy period and took a black bathing suit and three other garments into a dressing room. She was not seen leaving the store, but when employees checked the dressing room, the girl and the merchandise were gone.

Stolen were a $31 bathing suit, a $23 bathing suit and two pairs of pants worth $25 apiece.

According to Hugh Davies, elementary education director, the absence of enrollment information can occasionally necessitate transfers of students from their regular attendance areas. Transfers can be avoided, he said, if all potential kindergartners can be accounted for.

Davies also said dollar savings can be realized through proper staffing which depends on knowing the number of kindergartners in each attendance area.

Parents who have not yet enrolled entering kindergartners are urged to contact their school immediately. Parents who cannot be present at the school at this time or do not know what school their child will be attending are asked to contact the Elementary Education Department at 624-3330.

CITY OF WALLED LAKE

LAKE NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON INCREASING PROPERTY TAXES

The City Council of the City of Walled Lake will hold a public hearing at 7:00 p.m. on Tuesday, June 22, 1982, in the City council chambers in city hall, 1499 E. West Maple Road, to receive testimony and discuss a proposed additional 1982 City operating millage rate.

Last year (1981) the City levied 16.556 mills ($16.56 per $1,000 SEV) for city operating purposes. Because of a new state law (Act 5 of 1982), the City's base tax rate is reduced to 15.7414 for 1982. However, the City has complete authority to establish the number of mills to be levied from within its authorized millage rate.

In order to maintain basic city services, the city proposes to levy an additional millage rate of .7698 mills (77¢ per $1,000 SEV) above the 15.7414 mill base tax rate or a total operating rate of 17.056 mills ($17.06 per $1,000 SEV). This will provide an estimated 1/2 percent increase in city operating revenues. Public comment on this proposed increase is welcome at the public hearing.

Person to Person... Please Don't Get Religious!

Dr. James H. Luther

Salvation is something entirely different from religion. Rather than being man's effort to reach God (religion), it is divine love reaching down to men (salvation). When our Lord came to this lowly stable, He came to show us the Love of God. When accused of "receiving sinners", He answered that He had come to seek and to save the lost (Luke 19:10). You see, when Christ died on the cross for sinners, He actually took our judgment on himself. "For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life" (John 3:16).

Religion has never saved anyone, but "receiving Jesus Christ" in a faith experience guarantees eternal life (John 1:12). Stop depending on church membership, "good works", baptism, or social achievements. Admit your sin to God and place your faith in Jesus Christ today.

Isn't it time you traded religion for reality?

paper, causing flooding if not properly maintained. He explained downstream property along the drainage system actually may face flooding as a result of the design of small ponds, because they are designed to hold water and discharge it at a slow rate. During a storm, water flowing from upstream combines with the water being held in the ponds and creates flooding conditions.

Small ponds also are considered ugly by some, Seiber added. "They have generally not been considered an aesthetic betterment of a site. They usually become the depository for sediment and urban litter."

He went on to say that on small pieces of property detention ponds actually contribute little to flood control, but ponds must be required to offset the accumulated effect of runoff from the small sites.

Seiber urged the council to consider construction of regional basins on unbuildable wetlands, providing a method to protect Novi's natural resources.

Regional basins also provide the most efficient control of floodwaters by holding large volumes of runoff and gradually releasing it into a main stream.

Because the ponds are larger and water flows slower and there is less erosion, improving water quality, Seiber added.

Regional ponds also are expected to be cheaper to both the developer and the city than on-site ponds.

Novi will face the cost of maintaining or enforcing maintenance of more than 600 ponds, while developers do not have to "stink their money in a hole in the ground," Seiber said.

"Regional basins would eliminate the need for many on-site basins and thereby provide greater city control over the remaining regional basins. The requirement for maintenance enforcement of hundreds of privately-owned basins would be eliminated. This would mean less inspection, less enforcement and better city control," Seiber said.

Large ponds also could be used for recreational purposes, he continued.

Since regional ponds cannot be constructed in areas where Novi already is developed, a combination of regional/on-site ponds are proposed.

Council members learned it is expected the entire regional drainage system, including the construction of 23 basins would be constructed for $2.3 million.

Commerce signs pact

on adjacent communities.

"What one community does can certainly have effects on another community. Certainly a major thing like an airport can have considerable effects on townships for miles around."

Long said he thinks the agreement is one of the first of its kind in the state. In fact, he said, this type of boundary agreement was recommended in a State of Michigan report in May of 1981.

"As far as I know this is one of the first communities (to implement such a plan)," said Long, noting that he was "very, very surprised" to discover, after the proposed agreement was printed, that the May 1981 report of the Governor's Task Force on Small and Rural Communities recommends a "suburban growth plan" similar to the proposed boundary agreement.

The agreement would safeguard Commerce Township, which has an ongoing annexation dispute with the City of Walled Lake, from entering into similar disputes with Wixom.

Revisions postponed

Watson countered by saying a primary is necessary in certain instances. "The point is not necessarily whether this is a good or a bad idea, but the way it was generated, it was completely from the council. The process bothers me. I would like to see the process altered in some way."

Council Member John Chambers agreed. "Other charter members have expressed the same concerns as Mr. Starr. They are saying don't touch it, don't change it. I don't know if we've had ample opportunity to learn why the charter commission did what it did when it proposed the document. I would like to see if they anticipated the problems we see now that we've had some experience with the charter. I think their input could strengthen the whole process."

Council members subsequently decided to send the proposals back to the charter review committee and asked that group to develop a new method for obtaining citizen input into the proposed changes.

CITY OF WALLED LAKE NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON INCREASING PROPERTY TAXES

The City Council of the City of Walled Lake will hold a public hearing at 7:00 p.m. on Tuesday, June 22, 1982, in the City council chambers in city hall, 1499 E. West Maple Road, to receive testimony and discuss a proposed additional 1982 City operating millage rate.

Last year (1981) the City levied 16.556 mills ($16.56 per $1,000 SEV) for city operating purposes. Because of a new state law (Act 5 of 1982), the City's base tax rate is reduced to 15.7414 for 1982. However, the City has complete authority to establish the number of mills to be levied from within its authorized millage rate.

In order to maintain basic city services, the city proposes to levy an additional millage rate of .7698 mills (77¢ per $1,000 SEV) above the 15.7414 mill base tax rate or a total operating rate of 17.056 mills ($17.06 per $1,000 SEV). This will provide an estimated 1/2 percent increase in city operating revenues. Public comment on this proposed increase is welcome at the public hearing.

As We See It

New board faces conflicting tasks

For the second consecutive year, voters in the Walled Lake school district have said "no" to the incumbents and "yes" to new faces on the school board.

In the 1981 campaign, voters rejected the candidacies of incumbents Steven Lasher and Robert McNutt in favor of Patricia Jackman and David Roddy.

History repeated itself this year in the sense that incumbents Kenneth Tucker and Roddy were turned out of office in favor of Merlin Reeds and Bonnie Venzke.

If, in fact, incumbency is an onus in Walled Lake school board races, it represents a disturbing trend. Virtually every school board in the state must wrestle with difficult problems during these troubled economic times—problems for which there are no easy solutions.

Hopefully, the courage to confront those difficult problems will not lead to a revolving door of school board members.

The results of Monday's balloting in Walled Lake leave us with mixed emotions. We are basically pleased with the voters' choices (Reeds and Venzke), but also feel sorry for the two incumbents (Tucker and Roddy) who were removed from office.

Although we have had some differences with Tucker and Roddy in the past, we believe they have left a positive legacy which can and should be expanded.

Tucker was an extremely hard-worker during his tenure on the board, while Roddy demonstrated open-mindedness and a high sense of decency.

Progress was made during the last year despite what the election results may belie. There was a new openness and a new cohesiveness—a cohesiveness that evolved from open debate of the issues, taking each issue on an individual basis.

Just as importantly, there was an attempt by six of the seven board members to put aside some of the bickering which has marred the district's image and ability to function in the past. Further, there were new attempts to improve the district's public image by accentuating the achievements of students and teachers.

We are convinced that the new board members—Reeds and Venzke—will be able to pick up where Tucker and Roddy left off. Although some voters were turned off by Reeds' campaign rhetoric and showmanship, we believe he can be a valuable asset due primarily to his familiarity with school management.

Venzke is an articulate and intelligent woman who has served the district for the past seven years in a variety of capacities which range from teacher's aide to PTO president.

We hope one of the first tasks undertaken by the new board will be to establish a set of goals and objectives. Those objectives should include continued research into improving the tool for evaluating the superintendent and development of objective criteria for dealing with declining enrollment.

More than that, however, we would hope the new board pursue a pair of intangible objectives—a pair of intangibles which may appear somewhat contradictory.

First, the board must establish an atmosphere which permits educators to educate. One of the current problems which must be overcome is the uncertainty among middle-level management (principals) people over who is in control, i.e. the status of the superintendent.

Secondly, the board must make absolutely certain that issues are debated on an issue-by-issue basis. Administrative recommendations must be dissected and inspected. By no means should votes be based on preserving administrative prerogative when more is at issue.

That, in essence, is the balancing act we would hope the new board achieves. On the one hand, it is important to demonstrate support of administration; on the other, it is important to maintain open debate and encourage divergence of opinion.

We feel both are important goals if the district is to continue to make progress in educating children and convincing the electorate of its efficiency.

Novi's gala event

The City of Walled Lake successfully defended its championship by winning the "Almost Anything Goes" competition at Novi's Gala Days this year despite some heavy competition from both the City of Novi and Novi-Walled Lake News teams.

Led by City Manager J. Michael Dorman, the Walled Lake team powered its way to a sizable victory over a team from Novi's Pioneer Meadows subdivision for top honors in the competition which is patterned after a former television show.

We won't tell you where the Novi-Walled Lake News team finished in the final standings except to say that it was ahead of the Novi City Council team.

The "Almost Anything Goes" competition has become something of a tradition within another tradition—the annual Gala Days festivities sponsored by the Novi Jaycees.

Gala Days has been around better than 10 years now, and the Jaycees continue to demonstrate their prowess at consistently upgrading the annual community fair.

It's no secret that Gala Days experienced some unfortunate moments back in its early days. But no more. Despite the numbers of people, there were relatively few incidents this year and the event came off well.

The Jaycees are to be commended for the way they operate Gala Days as well as for helping to create another Novi tradition.

Sure we're upset that our team didn't win "Anything Goes." But life is full of ups and downs and, besides, we plan to win next year.

Thinking out loud

By KATHY JENNINGS

I guess I have to get serious about this marriage business—my family keeps telling me so.

At Thanksgiving Grandpa kissed me on both cheeks, slapped me on the back and said, "I hope you find yourself a good man."

At Christmas Aunt Beverly suggested I move to South Bend so she can set me up with some of the good-looking, financially secure customers who frequent her restaurant.

Grandma wanted to know if I had heard from that young man I had been seeing. "Wasn't his name Steve?"

Yes, I do still hear from Steve, the young man I haven't been seeing for at least 18 months now. I owe him $75 which he calls out periodically.

There are engineers from TRW and dentists from Orange County another aunt tells me she is willing to set me up with—I move to San Diego.

Mother is most concerned. She tries to hide it, but those nonchalant questions about who I'm going out with these days give her away every time.

She gets depressed when I tell her I haven't had a date since August.

She is convinced I'm making excuses when I tell her I don't have time because I have too many meetings. She doesn't believe me when I tell her not even my plants recognize me anymore because I'm never home.

Mother says a person makes time for the important things in life.

"Besides, Kathy you're no spring chicken anymore, you know."

With a 26th birthday looming just 12 days ahead who can contradict such arguments? Can spinsterhood be far off?

I haven't had the heart to tell her I was stood up for a blind date last week. She might believe a person who has met me would not show up as pre-arranged. But she would never understand how a person who hasn't even seen me could do such a thing.

For some reason the situation hasn't improved now that my little sister, the baby of the family, is making wedding plans. Nothing is announced yet, they want to wait a year until she is a "full 20," she tells me. She expects less parental hassle if she has reached that mark and acquired all the wisdom and maturity which comes with no longer being of teen age.

Why in this enlightened age is 19 considered too young for marriage, but a 26-year-old is nearing the hopeless stage?

Even the fact my parents have grandchildren to gladden their golden years has not helped.

My middle sister and her husband presented them with twin granddaughters five months ago. Wouldn't you think they'd be satisfied?

I shudder to think what will happen if my fourth sister should suddenly acquire a boyfriend. Since she is 24 it would be acceptable in the family's eyes for them to wed. Then I would be the sole remaining single daughter. All my relatives' collective match-making energies could be directed at one point. It's unthinkable.

Overly solicitous friends are no better. "What's the matter? Are you afraid to get involved? Is it Steve?"

Surely my heartbroken, woman-scorned manner would discourage them from asking such delicate questions.

I will never make them understand that eating by yourself in a restaurant is not particularly threatening. (You hear a lot of married people having interesting fights there.)

Loneliness? They reject my arguments that people by their nature are perpetually lonely whether they are married or not.

They can't comprehend that going to movies alone is better than not going to movies at all.

While I have not summoned the courage to enter bars unescorted, and I have not yet developed a fondness for cooking for one, I have overcome concerns about talking to myself.

My strides along the road to independence do not impress them.

But then I'm not eating dinner alone to impress anyone. I do it because I'm hungry.

After the fact

By PHILIP JEROME

By trade, I'm a journalist.

But I was raised to play second base for the Tigers.

Back when I was growing up in a small town named Erie near the Michigan-Ohio border, my brother and I could count on seven hours of practice per day on the ragged old ball diamond next to the church where my father was minister.

Every night, right after supper, my Dad would take bat and ball in hand and proceed to hit us grounders and then pitch batting practice—sometimes until it was too dark to see anymore.

It wasn't for lack of practice that I didn't make the majors. The biggest problem was my inability to hit. I couldn't hit a fast ball, much less a curve. In fact, I used to bail out every time I saw the ball headed for my ribs. It was with great consternation that I endured the spectacle of watching the old horsehide bend neatly across the plate for a called strike. Pitchers loved me, I was an easy out.

I think my Dad and I both realized early on that I would never replace Charlie Gehringer, and so we then took a fling at tennis where I could have been great if I had ever managed to perfect my father's famous backhand "bloop" shot which invariably caught the net and dropped into my court.

To this day, I regret that I failed to recognize the skill involved in his repeated success with the backhand "bloop." I regret even more that several successful backhand "bloops" would send me into a tirade that would make John McEnroe blush.

I eventually turned to track and cross-country where I enjoyed a modicum of success on the high school level.

Cross-country was a new sport at our high school in those days. In fact, it was the only fall sport other than football, and quite frankly, runners just didn't receive the same adulation reserved for football players.

The "crowd" at our meets on those beautiful fall days at Cass Benton Park in Northville invariably consisted of just one person—my father. He was always there, rain or shine, watching his son, the second baseman, running up and down those hills.

Father's Day is Sunday. And it's about time, I said, "thanks, Dad, and Happy Father's Day."

Schools need financial support

To the Editor:

Last Tuesday night, June 8th, the Walled Lake Western High School choir, orchestra and band held their final performance of the year.

Those in attendance enjoyed an outstanding and entertaining concert. Gary Weidenaar, choir director, and Mr. Al Johnston, orchestra and band director, have done a fantastic job. We are lucky to have two men so dedicated. The level of performance far exceeded what one might normally expect. The winners, of course, are the kids.

The self-esteem and confidence gained through these activities are difficult to measure. Be it music, forensics or athletics, all give added dimensions to the student.

The losses are, and would be, any voting adults not willing to financially support these programs. No one enjoys paying more taxes. However, watching Tuesday night's performance makes our support of these programs even stronger.

Oh, yes, the two-hour performance of talent, humor and excitement was absolutely free.

High school praised

To the Editor:

It was with tears in our eyes and heavy hearts when our last student graduated from Novi High School on June 6, 1982.

We would like the residents of Novi and surrounding areas to know what dedicated teachers they have at Novi High School.

Since September of 1972 we have had one student (some years three students) attending Novi High School at the same time.

We would like to thank the teachers for their courtesy, helpfulness, patience and understanding. We would like to list each and every teacher, but would be afraid of missing some one.

We would also like to thank Dr. Dilzhay, Mr. Nanas, Dr. Youngberg and Mr. Orenovich.

Teachers, thank you for being there when our students needed you the most.

Nice going, Novi High School graduates...

Photos by Steve Fecht

There were cheers and tears, valedictorian and salutatorian speeches, inspiration for the future and plenty of hijinks when Novi High School's Class of 1982 received their diplomas during commencement exercises a week ago Sunday. As valedictorian Sujata Sanghvi and salutatorian Brian Jordan addressed the graduates, members of the Class of '82 were well armed with an assortment of bubble pipes and water pistols.

We congratulate the graduates of 1982

McGuires keep dairy all in the family

By KATHY LAVEY

John McGuire must be able to make the dairy business look like fun — why else would 11 of his 14 children, several daughters-in-law and three grandchildren (so far) follow him into the family enterprise?

John, the McGuire family patriarch, has been running the Guernsey Farm Dairy in Novi with the help of various family members since 1945, when he and then-partner Fred Russell bought the dairy from J.A. Applehof, after whose herd of Guernsey cows the dairy is named.

McGuire bought out Russell's share of the dairy in 1952 and was left to run it on his own — with a little help from his family.

All seven of McGuire's sons work at the dairy. Jim, Joe and Mike handle retail and delivery of the dairy's products, which include milk, buttermilk and ice cream. Hugh, Marty and Paul are responsible for dairy operations, producing the products that the others sell. And Tom, the oldest, runs the restaurant and ice cream store.

Youngest daughter Karen and her sisters Mary and Lucy handle office work, while sister Rita and sisters-in-law Donna and Mary also do tasks around the office and restaurant.

Not to be left out, three grandchildren, Kris, 15, and Carrie and Rose, both 14, have begun helping out in the dairy — and McGuire expects more to follow as they become old enough.

Family members who don't work at Guernsey must have pretty good excuses — like they live in Florida or Washington D.C. Mother McGuire, who according to her husband has "never worked a day in the dairy," has a special excuse.

"She was too busy raising kids," says daughter Karen.

It seems it would take a lot to keep the family and their employees (about 40 in all) occupied — and if three to four thousand gallons of milk per week, not including cream for ice cream, seems like a lot, then it does.

But the dairy retains the atmosphere of a small, family operation, dealing with small-business customers, and that's what the McGuires want.

The dairy's customers, John McGuire says, still include about 300 home-delivery customers, "lots of small stores and health food stores," restaurants and many area schools, including Northville, Novi, South Lyon and several area parochial schools. The Guernsey Farm Dairy also has a retail outlet in Livonia.

"Stop and buy fresh milk," commands the sign on the front of the dairy on Novi Road, but, McGuire says, fresh milk is not the only specialty available from Guernsey Farm Dairy. Customers can buy the dairy's buttermilk, a "secret" formula purchased two years ago from Frank and Erna Jansen when they retired and sold their popular buttermilk stand on Grand River Avenue in Novi. Those who like ice cream can find variety at the Guernsey Farm Dairy — the McGuires make more than 50 flavors at different times of the year.

And selling dairy products isn't the McGuire's only occupation — the dairy's restaurant features such specialties as chili and broasted chicken.

McGuire has "always" been in the dairy business — he got started when he went to work for Borden's in 1931. As a dairyman and father of 14, he swears by the nutritional value of milk, and daughter Karen agrees.

"We (the 14 children) drank a lot of it and we're pretty healthy," she said.

McGuire says it just seemed natural that the children would follow him into the dairy business. In fact, he said, younger members of the McGuire family are often anxious to get started. But having so many members of the family employed in the family business surprises him as much as it does anybody.

"I had no idea they would all come here," he said. "But I wouldn't be here if they didn't stay with it... it's kind of nice to have them around."

The Guernsey Farm Dairy is located at 21300 Novi Road, just outside Northville. Hours are 6 a.m. to 10 p.m. Monday through Friday, and 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Deadline near for community education classes

Better hurry if you want to take advantage of the Novi Community Education Department's summer programs. Friday is the last day for registrations. Room is still available in a six-week pre-school program that meets 9:30 a.m. to noon on Wednesday and Friday. The Tuesday/Thursday session is still open.

Charlie Smith was given an honorary membership, Diana Canup was named Rotary Citizen of the Year and Dr. Bob Stiles was named Rotarian of the Year. Winners of Rotary scholarships were Greg McConnaughy, who will attend University of Pennsylvania, and Sujata Sanghvi, who will be studying in Leonne France.

Community Ed Director Clara Porter is now planning the fall program and would like to hear from anyone interested in teaching a class. Call 348-1200 for details.

FAITH COMMUNITY: The Faith Community Presbyterian Church will hold its "Church in the Park" service at Lakeshore Park on Sunday, June 27. Following services will be a picnic, softball game and organized activities for youngsters.

Everyone's encouraged to pack a picnic lunch and attend. Workers are needed for the Vacation Bible School program July 19-23 from 9:30 a.m. to noon. Registrations are being accepted for the Bible school which is open to youngsters from three years old through sixth grade. There will be "Live in God's Love."

ROTARY: Police Chief Lee BeGoole received the World's Fair this year, and nobody really knows what kind of honors the band will win next year.

Novi band set to begin camp

Novi's award-winning high school band earned top honors at the World's Fair this year, and nobody really knows what kind of honors the band will win next year.

But one thing's for sure—the band will be ready. Craig Strain, instrumental music director for the Novi Schools, said summer band camp will begin next Monday (June 21) and run for six weeks through July 30.

All students in grades 5-12 are eligible to participate in the summer instruction. Strain said there will be three separate divisions: beginners, intermediates and concert. The beginner and intermediate sessions will practice Monday through Friday from 9:10-11 a.m., while concert band will practice Monday through Friday from 10:30 a.m. to noon.

All sessions will be held at Novi High School. Summer band camp costs $6 per week or $30 for all six weeks. Free Novi band T-shirts will be given to everyone who participates for at least four weeks.

Strain said a combination picnic/concert will be scheduled at the end of band camp. For more information about summer band camp, call Strain at 349-3155.

Novi Highlights

By Jeanne Clarke 624-0173

CIVIL AIR PATROL: Anyone 13-30 years old is urged to attend Civil Air Patrol meetings every Tuesday at 7 p.m. in Room 106-108 at Novi High School. Commander Bill Charles said the group is for young people interested in flying and aerospace.

Cadet Jeff Arthur has been promoted to first lieutenant and William Hogh has been promoted to master sergeant. The chapter will participate in a search-and-rescue mission at New Hudson Airport July 24-25 and take in an air show in Wisconsin on July 30-August 3.

Adults are still needed to assist with the program. Recent additions to the staff include Bill Chisholm, administrative officer and public relations; Christopher Porter, aerospace education officer; and Debra Janet, finances and newsletter.

SENIOR CITIZENS: Al Weiss and Ted Bremer were auctioneers at a "silent auction" at the May meeting which netted almost $100 for the club treasury. Aimee Langford won the 20/20 drawing. Hostesses at the potluck luncheon were Mary Ann Gravel, Elizabeth Cheating and Florence Harris.

Novi Parks and Recreation will sponsor a senior citizen swimming party at the high school on June 28 from 1:30-3 p.m. The seniors enjoyed their recent trip to Bob-Lo despite being caught in the rain, and Tour Chairman Gordon Wilcox said more trips are planned. More information about club activities is available from Al Weiss, 478-9306.

VFW POST 1519: Delegates to the national convention will be picked at the June 13 meeting in the post home on Grand River. The Post Honor Guard assisted Novi police with the 21-gun salute during Memorial Day services. Post Commander Donald Roe has received a gold gavel pin from the fifth district and plaque from the Oakland County Council because the post has surpassed 100 percent of its 1982 membership.

President Betty Jaeger, Nancy O'Hara, Winnie Dunham, "Dee" Aileen Voin and Betty Roe are the auxiliary delegates to the State VFW Convention on June 24-27. Harry U'ron, Peter Radowick and Norm Jaeger were the top salesmen in the post's successful Poppy Sale.

Post meetings will be held just once a month — on the third Friday — during the summer. First Monday meetings have been cancelled.

PERSONALS: Berniece Frederick was installed as president-elect of the Detroit Association of Retired School Personnel at a June 4 luncheon at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

Mrs. Kathryn Bachert of Fonda Street entertained her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Parks of Flint, last week. Mr. and Mrs. Rhea Johnston of New Stiles.

Mrs. Signa Mitchell attended homecoming activities at Felch in the Upper Peninsula on Memorial Day. She was accompanied by her sister, Ruth Elwell of Farmington, and a friend, Aivida Lundberg of South Lyon.

NOVI-WALLED LAKE NEWS

All-area softball team glitters on diamond

By JOHN MYERS

If ever a team could be labeled a "Dream Team," this is it.

In fact, the members of the 1982 Sliger/Livingston County Newspapers All-Area girls' softball team are real "jewels of the diamond." The squad has it all—solid pitching, strong defense and excellent hitting. It's the kind of team coaches dream of.

Remarkably, only four of the 11 players named to the first team by sports editors of The Northville Record, Novi/Walled Lake News, Milford Times and South Lyon Herald are seniors. The rest of the squad contains three juniors and four sophomores.

Novi, Walled Lake Western and Walled Lake Central each had one player on the first team. Novi's Cheryl Shankel, Western's Peggy Hathaway and Central's Robin Wheeler.

* Named to the second team were Kathy Narducci and Mary Ann Gregart from Central and Kelly Hunter from Western. Two Western players and one Central player received honorable mention recognition.

Here are the Sliger/Livingston County Newspapers first and second team honorees:

FIRST TEAM

Part of the "400 Club" around the infield was Central's ROBIN WHEELER. The sophomore firstsacker hit a hefty .486 with four homers, five triples and two doubles. She also had 19 RBIs and stole eight bases. Her fielding average was an impressive .982.

One of two Lakeland players named to the infield, junior LISA CRUMP was as tough at the plate as she was on the mound. Crump had four home runs, six triples, four doubles and 30 RBIs on her way to a .412 average. As a pitcher, she recorded a mark of 9-2.

Lakeland sophomore ANN MARIE NOREN joins Crump on the infield with a .417 average. She stole 14 bases and scored 26 runs, while slugging one homer, one triple and three doubles. She had a fielding average of .894.

Whitmore Lake's LYN WATSON checked in with an even .400 average and showed a unique ability to drive in and score lots of runs. The junior infielder touched home 28 times and drove in 26 runs. She also had two homers, five triples and two doubles.

The statistics speak for themselves on the hitting prowess of Northville's senior outfielder SHERI ROBINS: 30 hits in 46 at bats for a .652 average, 10 home runs, one triple, three doubles and 10 stolen bases.

In a notable game against Waterford Mott, Robins collected four home runs and 10 RBIs in an 11-8 triumph.

Lakeland's CHERYL HASLOCK rounds out the outfield. A sophomore, she was no slouch at the plate with a .397 average. Haslock connected for one

Harris, Hopeck shine in meet

Walled Lake schools were well-represented by Kati Harris and Tracey Hopeck in the Midwest Meet of Champions Saturday in Fort Wayne, Indiana.

The meet matched up the top senior athletes from Michigan, Illinois, Ohio and Indiana in a dual meet format. Michigan finished on top in both the boys' and girls' meets.

Harris, the outstanding Walled Lake Central star, continued to shine in her 800-meter specialty. She clocked a personal record time of 2:11.94, but was nosed out at the tape and had to settle for second.

"That's really an excellent time," remarked Central coach Brian McKenna. "She ran the race I told her to and she got kicked down in the stretch. The other girl had a little more leg speed."

Hopeck, the Walled Lake Western standout, also notched a personal record in the elite invitational as she cleared 5-7 in the high jump to finish in a tie for third among the premiere female high jumpers in the Midwest.

Wildcat nine falls short in bid for regional crown

By JOHN MYERS

There must be something about the MHSAA Class B regionals that doesn't agree with the Novi baseball team. For the third time in eight years, the Wildcats have been eliminated from the state tournament during regional action.

This time, Bay City Handy sent Novi to the sidelines with a hard-fought 5-2 victory in the MHSAA Class B regional final in Mount Morris Saturday. The loss put an end to an otherwise successful season for Novi at 17-12.

Although knocked out of the tournament, coach Bob Weinberger said he was proud of his squad's accomplishments.

"With only eight teams left in the state, you know you're going to see some tough teams," he said. "We didn't embarrass ourselves."

Eight years ago, Novi was pounded by eventual state champion Flint Powers 13-0 in the Class B regional championship. In 1977, the Wildcats lost to Fenton 9-3 in an opening round regional contest.

"We were up there with the big boys," a somewhat disappointed Weinberger added. "We got beat by a club better than us."

"But, we battled them right down to the wire."

Novi threatened to knot the score against Handy in the top of the seventh of the quarter-final match. Trailing 5-1, Tim Bunker singled home Mark Moran to cut the margin to 5-2. The Wildcats then put two runners aboard with two outs, but senior first baseman Mark Stonier popped out to end the game and Novi's hopes of advancing to the semifinals.

The Wildcats stranded a total of 10 runners on the sacks in losing to Handy. "We had a lot of opportunities to score," Weinberger noted.

Novi's other big threat came in the third when the Wildcats loaded the bases with one out. Designated hitter Pat Couits rocketed the ball 390-feet to straight away centerfield for a sacrifice fly and Novi's first run of the game. Couits missed a grand slam by five feet. Stonier ended the inning with another long fly to right-center.

Both of those balls probably would have been home runs anywhere else, said Weinberger.

"If Couits' ball had cleared the fence, it would have made a difference," he lamented.

Couits also sent a ball 330-feet to left-center, but it was easily caught by the Handy outfielder. "(Couits) was seeing the ball well," Weinberger noted.

Handy came out swinging against starting pitcher Eric Delaine, pushing across three runs in the bottom of the first on two doubles, a single and walk. Novi ended the inning with a double play.

(Handy) was tattooing the ball. It looked like it was going to be a long game," Weinberger offered. "They were very aggressive at the plate."

Handy scored again on a home run in the third and added another run in the sixth to complete its scoring. "We hung in there. (Delaine) kept us in the game," Weinberger praised.

Harding and Rodney Siekles hammered home runs in the game.

In Pony League action, J.S. Trudeau handed Cone Zone a 10-6 setback. Ed Cote and Daniel Krause led Trudeau with three RBIs apiece. Jim McMahon, David Pantch and Rob Vetro had three hits apiece for Cone Zone. Defensive highlight was a triple play started by Cone Zone's Jamie Hicks. With the bases loaded, Hicks snared a line drive for one out, stepped on first for the second and then fired to third to catch the runner off the bag for the third out.

Trudeau also outscored McWenney Electric 7-5 in another Pony League clash. Krause led Trudeau with three hits, while Denny Moon, Tom Coonce, J.J. Mullett and Shannon Jones played well defensively.

In Strong hitting and pitching by Brad Lewis lifted Jack's Meals to a 7-2 triumph over Novi Firemen. Matt Chingwin stroked a double and triple, while Matt Gdowski and Greg Houtari added singles.

In Minor League action, Jason Kaja hurled six strong innings as Poured Brick Walls beat Novi Auto Parts 4-1. Jason Earl, Dave Opalka and Dan Plumley paced the offense, while Murray Kamish and Jeff Hyland contributed strong defensive plays.

Bruce Jones gave up just four hits and one run in hurling General Filters to a 1-1 victory over Seven-Eleven in another Major League contest. Sean homer and two doubles, while scoring 23 runs and knocking in 16.

Lakeland's STACEY REDA carried one of the "weaker" batting averages on the squad. The senior catcher finished at .333 overall (.394 in the Kensington Valley Conference). She scored 16 runs, drove in 13 and stole 12 bases in addition to being a top defensive receiver with a .917 fielding average.

Designated hitter is Lakeland's DONNA GEMIGNANI. Another sophomore, she had a .373 average with seven doubles, 14 RBIs and 17 runs scored.

With hitting and fielding like this, pitchers CHERYL SHANKEL of Novi and KAREN WONGSTROM of South Lyon might have checked in with better records.

Despite an overall 11-11 record aside, Shankel is one of the area's best pitchers. The hard-throwing righthander had 185 strikeouts in 158 innings. She issued 82 walks and had an ERA of 2.17.

She also had a .278 batting average with one homer, one triple, two doubles and 12 RBIs. She had a fielding average of .970 in 101 chances and led the team in assists with 79.

Another hard-throwing pitcher was Wongstrom. Only a junior, she pitched in all 21 games to record a mark of 12-9 with an amazing 198 strikeouts in 184 innings.

SECOND TEAM

Two Northville players made the infield with senior shortstop JILL MATEUCCI leading the pack. She hit .417 with one double and led the Mustangs with 20 stolen bases.

Sophomore CHERYL BERRYMAN was the other Mustang named to the infield. She hit .333 after a slow start with one homer, two doubles and 12 stolen bases.

Lakeland also had two players on the infield. Senior THERESA CAMERON had a .286 average with two doubles and triples, 12 runs scored and 13 RBIs.

Junior CHRIS GOTBERG batted a hefty .408 for Lakeland. She scored 24 runs, drove in 13, walked 17 times and stole 15 bases.

Central's MARY ANN GREGART was the top outfielder. A junior, she batted .375 average with one double, eight RBIs and seven runs scored.

Western's KELLY HUNTER, one of five seniors on the squad, stroked out a .327 average with 16 RBIs and 16 runs scored. As a pitcher, she was 4-1 with an ERA of 3.30.

Whitmore Lake's LINDA JOHNSON carried a .368 average and possessed an excellent arm. She touched home 29 times and drove in 15 runs.

Northville's NANCY LaPLANTE anchors the catcher's spot with a .326 average. A junior, she had six sacrifices, seven stolen bases, one triple and three doubles.

Milford's TERRI CRAIG was honored as the designated hitter with a .327 average.

Both Central's KATHY NARDUCCI and Lakeland's MO KAPANOWSKI were named to the second team as pitchers.

Narducci, a senior, hurled a no-hitter against Western in posting an overall mark of 6-8. She also had a one-hitter in a loss to district champ Howell. Narducci hurled 101 1/3 innings with 72 strikeouts and 103 walks.

Kapanowski was one of the main reasons Lakeland went 14-0 in winning the 1982 KVC title.

Warriors earn All W-6 honors

Seven Walled Lake Western standouts have been named to the 1982 All-Western Six (W-6) Conference baseball team.

Pitching ace Guy Whittington and hard-hitting outfielder Oakley Watkins were named to the all-conference first team, while five more Warriors were selected for second team honors.

Western players on the second team were pitcher Dan Gabriel, catcher Rick Hunter, infielders Mitch Panczyk and Doug Day, and outfielder Mark Johnson.

Plymouth Canton, which swept to the W-6 title with a 8-0 record and now stands just two victories away from the state championship, dominated the 1982 all-conference squad with a total of nine selections — seven of them on the first team.

Western, which finished second in the W-6 with a 5-3 record, had seven all-conference selections, while Livonia Churchill had four selections. Northville and Farmington Harrison each placed one player on the all-conference team.

Steve Demar, coach of the Western nine, said he was pleased so many Warriors received all-conference honors.

"My only disappointment is that we didn't place one more infielder on the first team," said the Warrior mentor.

Whittington and Watkins — Western's two first-team selections — earned all-conference honors with outstanding seasons. Whittington, a right-handed junior, was Western's top pitcher this year. He posted a 5-2 record with an ERA of 2.09.

Watkins, another junior, was simply awesome at the plate as he lashed the ball at a .417 clip with eight home runs and 28 RBIs — all three are single-season records at Western. In addition, Watkins set single-season Warrior records for runs (23), hits (30) and extra base hits (13).

Gabriel, the only freshman on the all-conference team, posted a fine 6-1 record with an ERA of 1.72 for the Warriors this year.

Hunter, a junior, was named to the W-6 second team as a catcher on the basis of his steady offensive and defensive work. Day, a senior, played a steady shortstop, hit four home runs and collected 10 RBIs for the Warriors this year, while Panczyk, a junior, hit a sound .316 with nine RBIs.

Johnson, another junior and a second-team choice in the outfield, rapped the ball at a .356 clip with 14 RBIs.
