Boundary issue splits planners

By KATHY JENNINGS

"Everybody knows where the middle of it is, we just don't know where the edges are."

With that comment Planning Board Chairperson William Briggs summed up the problem of identifying the boundaries of the Town Center Area that had business representatives and the planning board at odds last week.

A planning board subcommittee has been meeting regularly with a liaison group from the business community in hopes of producing regulations for the commercial district surrounding the Grand River/Novi Road intersection which are acceptable to both groups.

But when the planning board met as a whole last week it objected to the direction the subcommittee was taking, causing some members of the audience to question the role of the subcommittee and whether planning board members would be open to recommendations from the liaison group.

After a sometimes heated exchange, the board tentatively scheduled a December 7 public hearing on the Town Center ordinance.

The board also asked that the ordinance include a grandfather clause for land uses that would otherwise be considered non-conforming under conditions of the proposed ordinance. The subcommittee will present its alternatives to the proposed ordinance December 7.

Planner Thomas Hoskinson, speaking for the subcommittee, said the group in its weekly meetings is concentrating on the northeast quadrant and hopes to have an ordinance for that area worked out soon.

"We feel, as a committee, that we should concentrate on the northeast quadrant because that's the area where we can get agreement," Hoskinson said. "Then we'll return to the other three quadrants."

But other planning board members objected to the subcommittee dealing with one quadrant at a time and expressed concern that the original philosophy of a Town Center — a pedestrian-oriented commercial district including all four corners of the intersection — would be lost.

Others planners said they were surprised to learn the subcommittee was rewriting the proposed ordinance, as they viewed the group's responsibility as informing the business community of plans for the area.

What Ghouliness!

There are ghouls and goblins guaranteed to frighten the b-e-jeebers out of the unsuspecting lurking around the Novi Jaycee Haunted House. The house, located behind Novi Elementary School on Novi Road across from the Big Boy Restaurant, will be open every evening through October 31. Doors to the house creak open at 7 p.m. and remain open as long as people are waiting to get in. The cost is $2 for adults and $1.50 for children. Groups of more than 12 who give advance notice can get in for $1. For more information call 624-9291. (News photo by Steve Fecht)

Collision caused by driver's death

NOVI — A Walled Lake woman collapsed while driving northbound on Novi Road and her car collided with a second automobile at approximately 10:25 a.m. Monday.

Verneda Watkins suffered a heart attack as her car was northbound on Novi Road. Police said preliminary investigation show that as Watkins became unconscious she lost control of the automobile and it crossed the center lane and all southbound lanes of Novi Road traffic.

Her car side-swiped a vehicle on West Oaks Drive. The car continued to travel across the shopping center entrance and then struck a tree near the northwest corner of the intersection.

Watkins was transported to Botsford Hospital where she died approximately three hours later. She was 58.

The driver of the second automobile, Theresa H. Krawczyk of Milford was not injured.

There were no passengers in either vehicle. Both Watkins' automobile, a Ford Maverick, and the Krawczyk vehicle, an Oldsmobile, sustained only minor damage in the collision.

Police said the matter remains under investigation, but is not considered a fatal accident since Watkins' death appears to be unrelated to the collision. There has been just one traffic fatality in Novi this year.

Police recommend Halloween hours

NOVI — Little ghosts and goblins are encouraged by Novi police to confine their "trick or treating" to Monday, October 31 from 6-8 p.m.

Residents with goodies for Trick-or-Treaters are asked to turn on their porch lights at 6 p.m. and turn them off at 8 p.m. or earlier if their supply of goodies is exhausted, Novi Police Chief Lee BeGole requested.

"These are suggested hours, so failure of children to respect them is not an offense," BeGole said. "However, we do encourage compliance, not only for the safety of the children but also for the peace and quiet of our residents."

Other groups contributing efforts to make it a safe Halloween in Novi include the Novi Jaycee Auxiliary, Providence Hospital's Novi Ambulatory Care Center and Novi REACT.

The Jayceettes will offer their annual "paint-a-face" program in the Novi Community Building on Monday from 3:30 to 6 p.m. For a fee of 50 cents per child, the Jayceettes will paint faces on the youngsters so they don't have to wear masks, which can obscure the vision and create a safety hazard.

BeGole noted that it is the parents' responsibility to screen treats for foreign objects or substances. The city can no longer offer this service because of the liability it would incur.

Candy and other treats will be screened Monday from 7-9 p.m. at the Providence Hospital annex on Ten Mile and Haggerty Road. The treats are X-rayed for foreign objects, but the screening will not reveal any chemical tampering.

Parents also are advised that members of Novi REACT, the local citizen-band radio club, will be patrolling the streets throughout the weekend.

Members of the volunteer service organization will be "serving as additional eyes for the police department" and will contact police if anything out of the ordinary occurs.

They have no police powers and will merely be contacting police if they see any suspicious activity, BeGole noted.

Approximately six to eight cars of REACT members will patrol local subdivisions.

BeGole explained the REACT members will be patrolling subdivisions "to make sure that Halloween festivities are not malicious...."

Mother thankful for return of child missing eight weeks

By KATHY JENNINGS

As Ed Marshall (not his real name) drove off with his 11-year-old son, his mother had a sinking feeling the two were not going on a fishing trip as her ex-husband had told her.

Within an hour Judy Marshall was certain her intuition was right and she jumped in her car, heading for her former husband's home in Mayville, Kentucky.

Her worst fears were confirmed when she saw her husband walk out his front door. Bobby had just become one of thousands of children abducted by a parent each year.

Judy went directly to the Mayville Police Department where she learned Kentucky police officials could not intervene in the matter without a warrant.

She then returned home to Novi where she contacted both the Oakland County Prosecutor and Friend of the Court. Although her divorce decree includes an injunction prohibiting her ex-husband from removing her son from the state, neither agency offered assistance.

"Then Mr. Marshall took off with Bobby. That's when the nightmare started," Judy recalls.

That was July 27. It was the beginning of an eight week ordeal for the Marshalls — an ordeal that was to cost them $6,000 in private detective fees, long distance telephone bills, cross-country airplane fares and legal expenses.

Everything from the gas grill and freezer to the pictures which hung on the walls in the Marshall's apartment were sold to get more money to continue the search for Bobby.

The weeks turned into months and the search went on, but Judy Marshall says she never lost faith Bobby would be found. And she attributes the safe return of her son to the Lord.

"I'd like God to get the credit. The Bible says in all things He works for the good. And good has come out of this. My church and my family are all closer. We've banded together out of love," Judy says.

Friends and family proved faithful during the eight weeks Bobby was gone. Judy's brother filled her freezer when there was no food in the house. Her mother and father came up with money when it was needed, even though her father was about to undergo a by-pass operation. Her teenage daughter Helen proved dependable throughout. She is especially thankful for the help she received from her church.

Judy explains: "I cried and I hurt, but I never said: 'God, why did you do this?' I said: 'You allowed this to happen now I'm counting on You to give me my son back.' I believe that's why it only took eight weeks."

Many families go for months and some for more than a year without contact with their children. Judy has come to know others with missing children through groups like HEART (Help Every Abduction Return Today) whose children have been stolen from home.

It was through HEART that she learned of a private detective she hired to recover Bobby.

But after Marshall and his son left Kentucky, even with the detective looking there was no trace of them.

When the school year got underway, Judy began calling the Novi schools daily to find out if her husband had placed Bobby in a new school district.

Finally, he did. The school district in Oregon, had requested that Bobby's records be transferred.

Birthday boys

When Buffer Frizell and Blackie Hoffmann have a birthday, their owners think it calls for a celebration. And that's just what they do every year. Neighborhood dogs, including Herb MacEachern, Molly Sroka, Abby Wasko and Barnaby Ponder, feted the birthday boys at the celebration of their third birthday Saturday. The festivities were complete with party hats, balloons, a cake and treats for all the dogs. We're not certain whether the owners or party pooches enjoyed it most. (News photo by Steve Fecht)

Millage increase proposed

By KATHY JENNINGS

NOVI — As a citizens committee made plans to ask voters for a $4.3 million bond issue for pathways and parkland acquisition, it became obvious to them that they would need to seek money to maintain the proposed facilities at the same time.

As a result the group has proposed a .25 mill increase in the operating millage levied for the Parks and Recreation Department, which will appear on the November 8 ballot. The request comes in the form of a proposed charter amendment.

Parks and Recreation Director Thomas O'Branovic said that the millage is designed to provide funds which will be needed if voters approve the bond issue appearing on the same ballot. The $4.3 million bond issue will finance property acquisition for six parks, development of five existing and the new parks as well as cover the department's share of a city maintenance facility and construction of 18 miles of bike-pedestrian paths.

"When we put this together and looked at what would be done over the next six years, we saw a great amount of activity," O'Branovic said. "Because this is a bond issue we're required to use the money in six years. Within that time our maintenance responsibilities would at least double."

Currently, Novi levies .50 mills for operation of the Parks and Recreation Department. In the 1983-84 budget the one-half mill is expected to generate $210,000 in property tax revenues.

Of the $404,000 Parks and Recreation budget, approximately $90,000 goes to maintaining recreation buildings and existing parks. The city employs two full time parks and recreation maintenance workers and hires seasonal employees during the summer.

Added maintenance responsibilities would be maintenance of 240 additional acres of parkland and snow removal from the 18 miles of pathways.

Orchard Hills sets to host book sale

NOVI — Looking for a good deal on children's books? If so, you'll probably want to attend the annual book sale at Orchard Hills Elementary School today (Wednesday) and tomorrow from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Sponsored by the Orchard Hills PTO, the book sale will be held in the gymnasium and feature a variety of books, stickers, posters, workbooks and bookmarks that have been provided courtesy of Children's Book Mart at Twelve Oaks Mall.

The books are geared for youngsters in grades K-4.

The Twelve Oaks store will donate 20 percent of the proceeds to the Orchard Hills PTO which will use the funds to purchase equipment for the school.

In the past, the PTO has purchased everything from playground equipment to audio-visual and computer-related equipment.

A PTO spokesperson noted that the annual book fair gives parents an ideal opportunity to get an early start on their Christmas shopping.

For more information, call Orchard Hills Elementary at 349-2110.

Auditing the books

The books at the Novi Public Library got a thorough going over by Barbara Gannon last week. No, Gannon is not an auditor; the books she was looking over were the books offered at the library's annual used book sale. Assistant Librarian Brenda Burrell reported that the book sale raised more than $500 which will be used to purchase more books, records and supplies for the library. Additionally, the sale helped more people become acquainted with the library and resulted in the issuance of many new library cards, Burrell reported. (News photo by Steve Fecht)

Novi leads in new mobile homes

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the introductory section of the report entitled "Summary of Development, Oakland County, Michigan, 1982" issued recently by the Division of County Planning in the Department of Public Works. It was prepared by Martin Rubin and issued by County Executive Daniel T. Murphy.

In 1982 residential and non-residential growth in Oakland County continued to occur in communities contiguous to the I-696 (east/west) corridor to Lansing, the I-75 (north/south) corridor to Flint and the proposed M-275 corridor from the City of Novi through Independence Township.

Oakland County maintained its role as the largest provider of new single-family housing in the region, absorbing 40 percent of the regional total.

Residential development in Oakland exceeded 1,700 building permits in 1982, as multi-family units accounted for approximately 59 percent of the county total followed by single-family (40 percent) and two-family units (one percent).

In years past, single-family units dominated Oakland's residential development. This phenomenon has reversed itself in 1982.

Approximately two-thirds of the building permits issued were generated from six communities, two of which (Avon Township and Farmington Hills) accounted for more than half of the six-community total.

RESIDENTIAL GROWTH also has occurred within non-sewered areas of the county (proposed M-275 corridor), measured in part by the number of septic tank permits issued and mobile home development in this growth corridor.

Current population and household projections also indicate that communities along the proposed M-275 corridor will experience a significant population increase over the next two decades (1980-2000).

The City of Novi accounted for 50 percent of the county's mobile home development, while Commerce and DEVELOPMENT is also measured in terms of property valuation changes affecting the tax base of each local unit of government.

More than 30 percent of the county's real estate value was absorbed by the following communities: Southfield, Troy, Bloomfield Township and Farmington Hills respectively.

However, when the value of real estate is measured by the "density of development" (real estate value/average square mile), in each local community, Birmingham, Pleasant Ridge and Huntington Woods represent some of the highest property values in Oakland County.

With regard to specific classifications of real estate, the average selling price of residential dwelling units in Oakland County was $89,531, which is based on a total of 4,686 dwelling units sold in 1982. A strong correlation exists among communities maintaining the highest average household income and communities recording the highest average selling prices of residential property.

Communities within and contiguous to Bloomfield Township, West Bloomfield Township and Southfield have established some of the highest average selling prices in the county.

As a result, certain land areas in the county will be preserved for agricultural development for at least 10 years. Holly Township has preserved more land under Act 116 than any other community in the county—more than 1,200 acres.

Board adopts plan to set tuition rates

NOVI — The school board last week established maximum tuition rates for out-of-district students, but also determined that no one should have to pay the maximum rate.

We thought $3,800 (maximum tuition for secondary students) was a little high, so we looked for a way, a formula, to reduce the tuition," Superintendent Robert Piwo explained.

The formula the administration derived only benefits out-of-district students whose parents are planning to move into Novi during the school year. First the estimated value of the home the parents plan to build or buy is figured.

Secondly, the anticipated taxes on 50 percent of the home and land costs are computed. This amount is subtracted from the "maximum" tuition rate for the actual tuition cost to the parents.

The maximum elementary tuition is $3,675, while the maximum secondary tuition is $3,804. These rates were computed according to an Oakland County formula which simply divides the district's total operating expenses by

Student strikes protest lay-offs

By PATRICIA N. BOWLING

WALLED LAKE — Demonstrations and student "strikes" erupted last week among junior and senior high students protesting the school board's plan to layoff nearly 80 teachers effective November 1.

An estimated 15-20 Walled Lake junior high students were expected to be suspended this week for leaving classes Friday, October 21, and "striking" outside the junior high school at 615 North Pontiac Trail, Walled Lake. Police were twice called to admonish the children to keep out of the path of incoming Pontiac Trail traffic.

"We're going on strike to get our teachers back," the students shouted. "We were suspended for wanting an education."

Also on Friday, about 60 Central High School students engaged in a "sit-in" at the high school parking lot. According to one report, the students planned to leave classes en masse and file into the gymnasium for the sit-in. School personnel blocked the gymnasium entrance, however, and the students then attempted to leave the school building for the parking lot.

Principal Gerald Wallace warned the students they risked suspension if they left the building. All of those who participated in the parking lot demonstration (about 60) were suspended this week.

Central Sophomore Bob Peggatt said many students were disturbed when Wallace told them their "strike" plans would only show their immaturity. "Yet, all we've been taught (by the teachers) is to do the best we can every year is how to go on strike," he said.

Meanwhile, Western High School students were commended by Superintendent Don Sheldon for seeking a constructive manner to communicate their concerns. Nine Western students were suspended for leaving classes Friday, but the majority of the

'We're going on strike to get our teachers back. We were suspended for wanting an education.'

— Students, Walled Lake Junior High

"I feel just like you students, who may feel that nobody knows, cares, or even gives a damn about what's happening to Western High School, the students, staff or its educational program. I want to raise the window and yell — just like the actor in the movie 'Network' — I'm mad as hell and I'm not going to take it anymore!"

But, Smith added, "We need to use every moment we have to work to give a positive impression of our schools — not a negative one. I cannot condone, approve, or permit interruptions to our educational program — no matter how constructive the meeting. We'll know by next week how we can help," said senior Greg Paulus, who also represented students at the meeting with Sheldon.

While Sheldon met with the student leaders inside, other Western students congregated on the steps outside the administration building awaiting a report from their delegates.

"No one from Western marched or participated in sit-ins. We had a constructive meeting. We'll know by next week how we can help," said senior Greg Paulus, who also represented students at the meeting with Sheldon.

In addition, Smith said assemblies with each class to answer questions and help arrange the meeting with Sheldon.

"Communication at our school is great," the group of 20-25 Western students agreed.

Ten Western teachers were included on the layoff list and four have received notice they will be transferred to other buildings. In addition, all counselors at Western were pink-slipped.

"The counselors are our main source of scholarship information," said senior Dawn Fox. Others feared they delivered a "very emotional" plea over the public address system, asking the students to seek a more constructive way to express themselves.

"Anticipated class sizes once the layoff is effective were another major concern expressed outside the administration building Friday. The students cited their worst examples: 42 students in a calculus class, 48 in advanced math, 50 in biology and 55 in business math, according to their claims.

"I have problems learning with 55 in a class, how am I going to make it with 45-50," said senior Dave Holland.

"Teachers will be forced to teach college-style," said another student. "It will be a college of immature people that can't handle it," Cary added.

The Western students noted that in many cases three sections of one subject are being combined into only two classes. Besides the sheer numbers, this poses problems when the teacher of one section was farther ahead or slightly behind the teachers of the other sections.

With counselors, coaches, class sponsors and friends on the layoff lists, many students are losing more than teachers in the staff reduction, they said.

"Our (role) models are being taken from us," Cary said.

The students plan to help in the millage election scheduled for December by the Walled Lake Board of Education. "That's our main goal," several agreed.

"Any sane human being would know we're the guts of this whole thing," said Paulus.

But Junior Sue Baglow noted that the students may not have an easy time selling the new millage. "Our teachers could have taken a cut (last year). Many people in the community had to take cuts in their pay. They're going to say, 'We had to take cuts, why can't they?'"

But others have their arguments outlined already. The students suffer from program cuts, staff cuts and labor unrest. "But then the community suffers when we show up," several students agreed.

"We need to show the community we're good kids to invest in," Cary said.

Hospital permit postponed again

By LEANNE ROGERS

COMMERCE — A decision on the Huron Valley Hospital's request for a groundwater discharge permit again has been delayed by the state Water Resources Commission.

The draft permit was withdrawn by the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) staff after the commission asked for additional information on Wednesday, October 19.

Specifically, the commission wanted additional information regarding the flow of groundwater between the site of Commerce Lake and the proposed treatment of viruses within the discharge, according to Robert Hayes of the groundwater permit division.

Residents opposed to the hospital, to be located at Sixth and Benetown roads, have raised past concerns regarding the groundwater flow. Another concern had been the content of the hospital's discharge.

"Viruses appear to be treatable. Whether they are all treatable and the exact method is the question," Hayes commented. "We could possibly have a reduction in the flow or lower the design from 100,000 gallons per day to serve only the 153 beds that area approved."

The commission requested that the hospital's engineering consultants provide additional research on viruses. "They were directed to look into related literature more," Hayes said. "There may be some changes wanted in the permit by staff."

The chemical content of the proposed discharge also has been discussed at length by residents. "Chemicals were really not discussed at the meeting. Hayes said. "Another suggestion in the draft permit was that there be no discharge of carcinogens. That is something the commission has to address in their deal content of the permit."

Carcinogens are suspected cancer-causing agents. Hayes said the detectability level of those toxic chemicals may be much higher than the acceptable voluntary risk level.

"Carcinogens in theory have no threshold of risk. One molecule causes cancer," Hayes commented. "With test levels like one particle per billion, one person in a million could get cancer."

The request for additional information will not require re-opening the permit or scheduling another public hearing, Hayes said. "We will make added information available to interested persons and adjust the permit as requested," he explained. "The department has given the request its best shot. Anything can happen now. We will go before the commission again."

The next commission meeting will be held Thursday, November 17. "I guess that might be a reasonable time for this to be looked over again," Hayes commented.

Pageant offers career, college opportunities

The deadline for entering the Southwest Oakland County Scholarship Pageant has been extended to October 31.

Participants in the pageant have an opportunity to receive scholarships to further their college education, seek formalized training in the arts or pursue modeling careers.

The winner of the local pageant will automatically advance to the Miss Michigan Pageant, which is a forerunner to the Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City. The Miss America Pageant represents the largest scholarship foundation for women in the world.

Young women in Novi, Walled Lake, Wixom, Commerce, Northville (north of Eight Mile), South Lyon, Highland, Milford, White Lake, Wolverine Lake and Milford are eligible to enter the pageant.

A pageant official noted that the West Bloomfield Pageant, which in the past has included women from southwest Oakland, will be a separate pageant under a different name for the first time this year.

"Some girls (from southwest Oakland) are waiting to enter the West Bloomfield Pageant in June. They will be sadly surprised to find out they cannot enter in West Bloomfield any longer," she said.

There is no entrance fee for the Southwest Oakland pageant, which is scheduled for November 22 at the Sheraton Oaks in Novi. To enter, a young woman must have been a resident of southwest Oakland County since May of 1983 and never have been married.

Entrants must be at least 17-years-old as of Labor Day 1983, and not more than 24-years-old as of Labor Day 1984. They must also be a high school graduate as of Labor Day 1983.

Talent competition is worth 50 percent of the points awarded in judging. Contestants also will be judged on personality, poise and swimwear and evening gown presentations. Special workshops will offer tips to contestants on personal grooming, talent presentations, modeling and interviewing techniques.

Anyone interested in entering the pageant may obtain an application form and additional information by calling 537-8658.

Delivery boy's victim of robbery

In Walled Lake

Police are investigating the report of an armed robbery of a Pontiac Trail home on Saturday night, October 22.

A delivery person was delivering a pizza to the Pontiac Trail home when a masked subject allegedly jumped from behind the bushes and demanded the pizza man's money and pizza. The victim reported the subject was armed with a hunting knife.

The subject robbed the delivery person of $35 in cash and the pizza.

There were no injuries in the incident, which is still under investigation by police.

A 23-year-old Livonia man trying to pass a bad check at the Penny Lake Grocery Store on South Commerce Road was apprehended last week by the grocery store owner and a customer.

The subject tried to cash a check from the Allstate Foundation Company of Southfield in the amount of $136 on Friday, October 21. But owner Arkin Jonna told police he recognized the check as the same type that had been cashed earlier in the week and was later found to be drawn on a closed account.

Jonna informed the subject he was going to call police and asked the man to remain in the store until they arrived. The subject agreed, but assaulted Jonna as she stepped out from behind the counter. The subject then tried to flee the store, but was apprehended by Jonna and a customer at the time. The two held the man until police arrived.

Checking with the Southfield Police Department, local officials discovered the Allstate Foundation had been broken into September 23. A typewriter, check printer and several payroll checks were taken.

Police also found the name on the two checks received at Penny Lake Grocery was the same as a man listed on two complaints of passing and cashing checks filed with the South Lyon Police Department.

The subject was charged with writing and cashing a bad check and with assault and battery.

Damage was done to the front door and various electrical wires inside the store. The parking lot of the store when someone apparently tried to break into the building, police reported.

The front door was pried open with a wide bar, police specialized. Numerous Unknown individuals broke into an apartment on Thornwood in the Village Apartments October 20 and ransacked the bedroom.

Entry was gained by breaking the glass in the bedroom window. Stolen property included several pieces of jewelry.

A radiator was stolen October 21 from a 1982 Chevrolet in the Maple North complex.

Reports indicated that the responsible parties broke into the car and removed the radiator by cutting two water hoses and removing the brackets holding the radiator in place.

Four wire wheelchairs were stolen from a 1981 Ford Mustang parked in the lot at the Town and Country Apartment complex on October 22.

A 20-inch BMX bicycle was stolen last week from the garage of a home in the 8500 block of Santa, police reported.

The theft occurred between Wednesday, October 19, and Thursday, October 20, according to the homeowners. The bike was valued at about $200. Police report no suspects in the theft.

In Wixom

One bale of hay was stolen from the Birch Park Hunt Club and two others from an incident that occurred in the area of the club, according to Wixom police on October 21, according to Wixom police.

The complainant told police the bales cost approximately $20 apiece and are used as back stops for bow and arrow target practice at the club on Nighthawk.

A citation has been issued to the C&O Railroad for blocking the Pontiac Trail/Wixom Road intersection on October 22 at approximately 6:30 a.m.

An officer responding to an open alarm at the Acromag Company on Pontiac Trail was delayed by the train for roughly eight minutes. The officer said the northbound train appeared to be excessively long.

A 1973 Honda 500 motorcycle was stolen from the parking lot of the Town and Country Apartments on Pontiac Trail on October 10.

The complainant told police the motorcycle had been left in the lot in front of his residence in Building 6.

A Union Lake man reported the theft of his 1981 Oldsmobile from Twelve Oaks Mall. The man parked the car at 8 p.m., returned two hours later to place items in it and then went back into the mall for dinner. When he returned 90 minutes later the automobile and the $650 worth of merchandise were missing.

Stolen goods included men's and women's clothing.

More than $1,900 in office equipment was stolen in a break-in of the Squire-Cogswell building on Heslip Drive sometime on October 15-16.

Entry was gained by smashing a window with a hard rubber floor mat. Stolen property included two typewriters, a calculator and an adding machine.

Approximately $2,500 in assorted tools were stolen from a vehicle parked in the owner's drive in the 4000 block of Eleven Mile. The owner reported the vehicle was locked before the tools were stolen.

Some $400 in tools and lawn equipment were stolen from a garage on Heatherbrae. Stolen were a $250 chain saw, a $150 snow blower, a tool box and a hand drill.

Stereo equipment valued at $380 was stolen from an automobile parked in the owner's drive in the 2000 block of Lanny's Road. Police said it appeared the audio equipment was stolen by popping open the automobile's sun roof.

Stolen were a $300 AM-FM stereo with a cassette and $80 amplifiers.

Stereo equipment was stolen from two automobiles parked in Twelve Oaks Mall October 11, one parked at the mall October 12 and another October 13.

A Southgate woman employed at the mall reported that rear speakers valued at $60 were stolen from her car while she was at work October 11 from 1-4 p.m.

A Novi man reported a power booster worth $40 was stolen from his automobile while he was in the mall from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m.

Another mall employee reported the theft of a pair of $50 pearl earrings and a stereo amplifier while her car was parked October 13 from noon to 5:15 p.m.

CITY OF WALLED LAKE
MICHIGAN, COUNTY OF OAKLAND

Notice is hereby given that a regular City election will be held in the City of Walled Lake, in the County of Oakland, State of Michigan, on Tuesday, November 8, 1983, from 7:00 o'clock in the forenoon until 6:00 o'clock in the afternoon, Eastern Standard Time, for the purpose of electing candidates for the following offices:

(3) Council members, four (4) year terms and to vote on the following propositions:

PROPOSITION "A"
A proposition to remove SECTION 2.5 of the City Charter, because other sections of the City Charter provide sufficient authority for this proposition, and the specific grant of authority in Section 2.5 is unnecessary, which presently provides for the following:

"In exercise of the powers contained in Section 2.2 herein, the Council shall have the right to contract with persons, firms, corporations or governing bodies to furnish fire protection to property outside the corporate limits of the City for a fee consideration, if the Council shall find that the financial interests of the city are advanced by obtaining payments therefor; and for that the prosperity of the municipality and its inhabitants is advanced through preventing a conflagration which might spread within the city limits or through protecting a fire from industrial or commercial properties in which residents of the city are employed."

shall be removed from the City Charter?

PROPOSITION "B"
A proposition to permit the City Council to act by resolution to establish election precincts.

Shall SECTION 3.3 of the City Charter of the City of Walled Lake which presently provides as follows:

"The City of Walled Lake shall consist of one ward. The Council shall from time to time establish by ORDINANCE convenient election precincts."

be amended to read as follows:

"The City of Walled Lake shall consist of one (1) ward. The Council shall from time to time establish by ordinance convenient election precincts."

A proposition to require nominating petitions and recount petitions for candidates to elective offices be filed at 4:00 o'clock rather than 5:00 o'clock of the prevailing local time.

Shall Section 3.11 and 3.17 of the City Charter of the City of Walled Lake which presently reads as follows:

"SECTION 3.11. The Clerk shall accept only nomination petitions which conform with the forms provided and maintained by him, and which, considered together, contain determinations as to the validity and sufficiency of candidates having those qualifications required for the respective elective office by this Charter."

When a petition is filed by persons other than the person whose name appears thereon as a candidate, it may be accepted only when accompanied by the written consent of the person named in the petition for a recount of votes cast at a petition, notify in writing any candidate whose petition is not known not to meet the requirements of this section, but the failure to do so notify any candidate shall not be deemed an admission that the petition does not meet the requirements. Within three days after the last date for filing petitions, the Clerk shall make his determinations as to the validity and sufficiency of each nomination petition and whether or not the candidate has the qualifications required for his respective elective office by this charter and shall write his determinations thereon on the face of the petition. No petition shall be determined to be valid unless an affidavit of qualifications provided for in Section 3.11 is filed with such office until final determination of any recount is amended to read as follows:

"SECTION 3.11. paragraph three (3)

The Clerk shall immediately notify in writing the candidate whose name appears thereon of his determination. Such notice to any candidate whose petition is found invalid or insufficient or who is found not to be qualified shall be delivered by personal messenger if possible. Any candidate whose petition is found invalid or insufficient shall be allowed to file supplementary or replacement petitions within three (3) days after the last date for filing original petitions; thereafter no further petitions may be filed.

SECTION 3.17. A recount of the votes cast at any city election for any office or upon any proposition may be had in accordance with election statutes. Unless otherwise required by statute (a) the petition for a recount of votes cast at any city election shall be filed with the Clerk by 5:00 P.M. on the second full day on which the Clerk's office is open for business after the board of canvassers has made its official report of the result of the election at which such votes were cast, (b) any recount petition shall be filed by 5:00 p.m. of the next full day thereafter on which the Clerk's office is open for business and (c) no officer shall be qualified to take office until final determination of any recount of the votes cast for such office.

PROPOSITION "C"
A proposition to alter the manner of selecting the mayor pro-tem of the City of Walled Lake. Shall SECTION 4.4 of the City Charter of the City of Walled Lake which presently provides as follows:

"The Mayor shall be selected by election from the city at large at every other regular city election beginning at the regular city election in 1984. The term of office of the Mayor shall be for four (4) years commencing at the first meeting of the Council following each regular city election at which a Mayor is elected and expiring at the first meeting following the next regular city election at which a Mayor is elected."

The Councilman who shall have served a tenure of two (2) years and has received the highest number of votes cast at the most recent city election shall be Mayor Pro-tem unless such Councilman shall in writing notify the Clerk of his declination to serve as Mayor Pro-tem by written ballot and by majority vote of the members of the Council in office at that time.

In case of absence or disability of the Mayor, the Mayor Pro-tem shall perform the duties of the Mayor during the period of absence or disability and in the event of both the Mayor and Mayor Pro-tem being absent or disabled, the Council may then designate another of its members to serve as Acting Mayor during absence or disability of the Mayor and Mayor Pro-tem.

A proposition to provide for a special meeting of the City Council to receive the appointment of persons to appointive offices?

SECTION 4.8 (g) shall be amended to read as follows:

"The Council shall have the duty of the Mayor to nominate qualified persons to the Council and various boards and commissions, and it shall be the Council's duty to accept or reject those nominations."

PROPOSITION "D"
A proposition to provide for a special meeting of the City Council to receive the appointment of persons to appointive offices?

SECTION 4.8 (g) shall be amended to read as follows:

"The Council shall have the duty of the Mayor to nominate qualified persons to the Council and various boards and commissions, and it shall be the Council's duty to accept or reject those nominations."

A proposition to provide for Council approval before deputy officers may be terminated.

Shall SECTION 4.12 of the City Charter of the City of Walled Lake which presently provides for the following:

The Clerk, Treasurer and Assessor may appoint their own deputies subject to the confirmation of the Council, and may terminate the status of their deputies AT THEIR PLEASURE, upon written notice to the Council. Such deputies shall, in each case, possess all the powers and authorities of their superior officers except as the same may be from time to time limited by their superiors or by the Council.

The Clerk, Treasurer and Assessor may appoint their own deputies subject to the confirmation of the Council, and may terminate the status of their deputies UPON WRITTEN NOTICE TO THE COUNCIL AND WITH COUNCIL APPROVAL.

A proposition to provide for a special meeting of the City Council to receive the appointment of persons to appointive offices?

SECTION 4.8 (g) shall be amended to read as follows:

"The Council shall have the duty of the Mayor to nominate qualified persons to the Council and various boards and commissions, and it shall be the Council's duty to accept or reject those nominations."

A proposition to provide for Council approval before deputy officers may be terminated.

Shall SECTION 4.12 of the City Charter of the City of Walled Lake which presently provides for the following:

The Clerk, Treasurer and Assessor may appoint their own deputies subject to the confirmation of the Council, and may terminate the status of their deputies AT THEIR PLEASURE, upon written notice to the Council. Such deputies shall, in each case, possess all the powers and authorities of their superior officers except as the same may be from time to time limited by their superiors or by the Council.

The Clerk, Treasurer and Assessor may appoint their own deputies subject to the confirmation of the Council, and may terminate the status of their deputies UPON WRITTEN NOTICE TO THE COUNCIL AND WITH COUNCIL APPROVAL.

(4) Such other supporting information as the council may request be amended to provide for the following preamble:

"The COUNCIL SHALL DESIGNATE THE CITY MANAGER as the budget officer of the City of Walled Lake. The budget and annual report to the Council on the third Monday in April of each year. AT A SPECIAL MEETING OF THE COUNCIL, at 8:00 P.M., of each year, a recommended budget covering the next fiscal year, and any other matters shall be presented to the Council for its consideration."

REMAINDER OF SECTION 5.2 REMAINS THE SAME AS PRESENTLY PROVIDED.

PROPOSITION "N"
A proposition to include designated relative and spouses of department heads among those who are prohibited from holding appointive office or employment during the term for which the department head was employed. Shall SECTION 5.18 of the City Charter of the City of Walled Lake which provides for the following:

"The following relatives and their spouses (a) of any elective official or of his or her spouse, or (b) of the City Manager or his or her spouse or (c) of any elective official was elected, or during the term for which said elective official was elected, or during the term for which the department head was employed; namely, child, grandchild, parent, grandparent, brother, sister, half-brother and half-sister. All relationships shall include those arising from adoption. This section shall in no way disqualify such relatives of their spouse who are bona fide appointive officers or employees of the city at the time of the election of said elective official, or at the time of the hiring of said City Manager."

be amended to provide the following:

"The following relative and their spouses, (a) of any elective official or of his or her spouse, or (b) of the City Manager or his or her spouse or (c) of any elective official was elected, or during the term for which said elective official was elected, or during the term for which the department head was employed; namely, child, grandchild, parent, grandparent, brother, sister, half-brother and half-sister. All relationships shall include those arising from adoption. This section shall in no way disqualify such relatives of their spouse who are bona fide appointive officers or employees of the city at the time of the election of said elective official, or at the time of the hiring of said City Manager or Department head."

Cancer Myth #1

Everything causes cancer. That's a myth. It's not true. Actually, only a few causes of cancer in humans are known. Even though a number of other causes are suspected, scientists continue trying to identify all cancer causes. In the meantime, it's wise to avoid the known causes rather than believing that everything causes cancer. Find out what does cause cancer and how to protect yourself in Michigan. NOTICE OF ELECTION

TO THE QUALIFIED ELECTORS OF THE CITY OF NOVI:

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that the Regular City Election will be held on November 8, 1983, in the City of Novi, County of Oakland, from 7:00 A.M. to 8:00 P.M.

The purpose of the City election is to vote on the following propositions and for the election of a mayor and three Council Members.

PROPOSAL A. RECREATIONAL BONDING PROPOSITION

Shall the City of Novi, County of Oakland, Michigan, borrow the principal sum of not to exceed Four Million Three Hundred Thousand Dollars ($4,300,000) and issue its general obligation unlimited tax bonds therefor, for the purpose of acquiring, constructing, furnishing and equipping recreational facilities in the City together with all necessary appurtenances and accessories, including bicycle and pedestrian paths, parkland acquisition and development and the acquisition, construction and equipping of a recreational equipment maintenance and storage facility?

THE PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST OF SAID GENERAL OBLIGATION BONDS SHALL BE PAYABLE FROM THE GENERAL FUNDS OF THE CITY, AND IN THE CASE OF THE INSUFFICIENCY OF SAID FUNDS, THE CITY IS REQUIRED BY LAW TO Levy SUFFICIENT AD VALOREM TAXES ON ALL PROPERTY IN THE CITY WITHOUT LIMITATION AS TO RATE OR AMOUNT. SAID BONDS MAY BE ISSUED IN SUCH SERIES AS SHALL BE DETERMINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL.

PROPOSAL B. CHARTER AMENDMENT PROPOSITION

Shall Section 8.1 of the Charter of the City of Novi, Oakland County, Michigan, be amended so as to increase from 1/2 mill to 3/4 mill the permitted levy by the City for establishing and maintaining parks and recreation purposes?

If Section 9.1 of the Charter is amended, it will read as follows:

"Section 9.1 The City shall have the power to lay and collect taxes for municipal purposes:

"(a) The annual, general ad valorem property-tax levy shall not exceed:

"(a) For general municipal purposes—six and one-half tenths of one percent (6 1/2 mills);

"(b) For specific street and highway improvement purposes—one tenth of one percent (1 mill);

"(c) For Novi Public Library—one tenth of one percent (1 mill);

"(d) For establishing and maintaining parks and recreation purposes—three tenths of one percent (3/10 mill); and

"(e) For acquiring, constructing, improving, and maintaining drain, storm water, and flood control systems in the City of Novi—one tenth of one percent (1 mill).

"Of the assessed value of all real and personal property subject to taxation in the City, exclusive of any tax levied by general statute to be made beyond Charter tax-rate limitations. This tax limitation may be increased for a period not to exceed three (3) years at any time by a majority vote of those electors in the City of Novi voting thereon at any regular City election or special election called for that purpose.

"All Charter tax-limitation increases, granted for a period not to exceed three (3) years, by a majority vote of the electors of the City, pursuant to the Charter in effect as of February 24, 1969, shall continue in effect under this Charter for the unexpired period."

Section 9.1 (d) presently reads as follows:

"(d) For establishing and maintaining parks and recreation purposes one-half tenth of one percent (1/2 mill).

All qualified and registered electors may vote on the above propositions.

The places of voting will be as follows:

Pct. No. 1—Church of the Holy Cross, 4620 Ten Mile Road

Pct. No. 2—Novi Middle School, South, 25299 Tall Road

Pct. No. 3—Novi Public Library, 4545 W. Ten Mile Road

Abducted boy recovered

From then on, Judy says, finding Bobby was like something out of the movies—complete with rented get-away cars and disguises. She hired a private detective in Oregon and flew out to recover her son. They were prepared to go to the school and steal Bobby back. Two cars, a get-away and a decoy, were rented. Judy was disguised in a black wig and appropriate make-up.

She notes that typically when a child is recovered the parent and child take off in one car, while the private detective heads for the police station to tell them the child has been recovered.

But attempts to recover Bobby stalled when they could not be certain he was going to the school they first thought he was attending.

Through all indications it appeared her ex-husband was staying with relatives in Oregon. But when she and the private detective watched the home they could see no sign of the boy. They also never saw him at the school bus stop.

They decided to have someone in Novi call the school district, requesting information that would confirm whether Bobby was attending the school. When the school said they could not give out that information, the person informed school officials Judy was in the area and intended to take Bobby.

School officials immediately contacted the police and the building was surrounded.

"I had every legal document, proving my identity and Bobby's and that I had legal custody. He was 20 feet away from me and they wouldn't let me see him," Judy recalls on the brink of tears.

Instead he was placed on the school bus by a sheriff's deputy and escorted off the bus in the same manner. He was handcuffed to the driver.

In the meantime, school officials, who she says "wanted to do the right thing" gave Judy the name of a lawyer. She contacted him and arranged for the boy to stay with another family over the weekend until the matter could be heard in court on Monday.

"There were five children on the premises so the police decided to back off. They were watching the house, though, so she couldn't take Bobby anywhere," Judy says.

The next day police went out to the home again and Marshall told them Bobby had run away. But Judy assured the police it was a ploy.

In court Monday, Judy could not be sure her ex-husband would show up with their son. When he did

Kidnappings increasing

Every year between 100,000 to 400,000 boys and girls in the nation are kidnapped by one of their parents, and in the last five years the increase in these incidents has been dramatic, according to information from the Michigan Attorney General's office.

Seven out of 10 children taken by a parent will never see the other parent again, American Bar Association estimates show. In many cases the child is physically and emotionally abused.

In Michigan, as well as in other states, child kidnapping has been a growing problem which has proven difficult to deal with legally, the Attorney General's office states. In response to the need for a legal recourse, the legislature has amended the Michigan Penal Code and the Governor signed into law Public Act 138 of 1983.

The new law takes effect on December 1 and contains two parts. The first part provides a punishment of life imprisonment or a shorter prison term to a person "who intends to detain or conceal a child under the age of 14 years from the child's parent or legal guardian, adoptive parents or any other person who has legal charge of the child."

A legal or adoptive parent can be charged under the second portion of the act. An adoptive or natural

"We're stretching under our current budget," O'Branic said. "We've begun to renovate and develop existing facilities—Lakeshore Park previously was not maintained and had limited use. The beach, the dock and the picnic areas all require different maintenance responsibilities."

Added costs requiring additional funds would be incurred with the anticipated increases in maintenance responsibilities. The committee calculated it would cost approximately $10,000 to properly maintain the new parks and pathways, O'Branic said.

"We're identifying those costs up front, rather than come back to the voters a year later and say 'Well, now we need money to maintain what you approved last year,'" O'Branic added.

A majority of the remainder of the $90,000 Parks and Recreation budget comes from program fees charged to those involved in specific activities. O'Branic explained it is the department's policy to keep programs self-sufficient and charge the costs to those who use them. In that way more programs can be offered. If the city limited fees it would limit programming at the

Walled Lake Police Chief Trigger Hook has seen much progress during his 25 years with the city

Hook recalls past, plans future

WALLED LAKE — Wilford "Trigger" Hook said he never really aspired to be chief of police.

"I took a long time to think about it," he recalled. "I felt when I took the job I had something to offer the community. But I knew I was going to pay a price."

When Hook accepted the position of Walled Lake Police Chief in 1972, he had many reservations—reservations that basically were the same as those he had when he first joined the police force 25 years ago, he said.

"I knew I would have to make some decisions that would be in conflict with the way I believe," said the 55-year-old chief, who was honored over the weekend for his 25 years of service to the Walled Lake Police Department.

"I'm strongly opposed to drinking," he noted, "but I'm the guy who has to recommend liquor licenses (applications interfere with my job, but that means that sometimes I go home and can't sleep at night.)"

Performing his job sometimes incurs public disfavor, he added, citing the case of retired Walled Lake school teacher Dora Wood as an example.

"You have to ignore the flak from the courts, from the public, the news media, even friends and family," he added. But the rejection is painful. "For someone who really has a compassion and a love for people, there's nothing more harmful than to be rejected."

"It's very frustrating at times, from the standpoint of what people expect of you. They expect you to be everything under all circumstances."

Hook, who came to Walled Lake in 1958 after working as an train engineer in Detroit, said another of his reservations about becoming a policeman was the fear he might one day have to kill someone, or else lose his own life. In 1960, two years after he joined the force, he nearly made both fears reality in an incident that he claims earned him the nickname "Trigger."

"I caught two guys cracking a safe in a supermarket," he explained. But they saw him coming, and while one escaped, the other armed himself with a crowbar and hid in the dark.

"I went in without calling for backup help," Hook recalled. "He was waiting for me. It had to be the providence of God I wasn't killed. He should have killed me." Hook walked blindly into the man's pathway where the man swung the crowbar down toward Hook's head, narrowly missing him.

A scuffle followed. "I shot at him four times trying to scare him. Finally I ended up shooting him in the leg." "Thinking

One of the biggest changes for the police department was moving out of the original police station on Pontiac Trail, a 24-square-foot building shared with the fire department.

"It was a real rat's nest. When we came here in 1967 it was a real improvement, a tremendous improvement."

The police department is much more professional than it was 25 years ago, Hook noted. The Walled Lake station takes care of all its own fingerprinting out of Nifty Norman's last night so they could start happy hours the day after.

"The chief just had a heart operation—they put one in," Bulgarek continued. "Science is now developing an artificial heart for police chiefs—it will be done as soon as they find the right kind of stone."

"Trigger Hook projects an image of a good will," he added. "His suit, his shirt, his tie—they all come from Goodwill."

Schetz also cast some light on Hook's nickname. "People who think the name Trigger has something to do with a horse are half right," he said.

"Walled Lake has experienced a lot of growing pains in the past 25 years, and Trigger is one of them."

Schetz also said Hook does the work of two men—Laurel and Hardy. "He goes in the office every day and makes two lists: one list of the things he's going to do and another of who he's going to do them to."

"Finally allowed to take the stand on his own behalf, Hook passed out some barbs to the judges as well as City Manager Michael Dorman. But he also had a few serious words, praising the judges and police chiefs from surrounding communities for their assistance when he's asked for it.

"There have been some exciting times and some difficult times," said Hook. "But there's always been a rainbow at the end of the day."

"I just hope I can be the type of positive influence in the community that you've made me out to be tonight."

NOVI-WALLED LAKE NEWS

Western students set good example

While school board, teachers and members of the public have waded through the mire of the crisis in Walled Lake public schools this fall, one group of students has out-classed them all.

Recent school board meetings have been characterized by outbursts of uncontrolled anger, rude comments, even obscenities. The school board has, on occasion, been insensitive to the public. The public has, at times, been unattractive, unfair and uninformed when it was most necessary for them to be all three. With bitterness and defensiveness, the teachers have sometimes worked more against their cause than for it.

The students have more reason than anyone else to explode with anger and frustration. Their scheduling is confused and chaotic. Some of their favorite teachers and best friends have been laid off. Coaches have been cut, leaving some athletic programs in limbo although the school board has committed funding to these programs.

Most devastating to those in the upper grades has been the complete gutting of counseling services at this critical time in the life of high school seniors, they anticipate losing their college and career guidance counselors. The task of advising these young people will be left to building principals after the November 1 layoff is in effect.

Under these pressures a number of junior and senior high students chose to demonstrate their frustration by leaving classes Friday, October 21. Such displays of group emotion typically snowball among teenagers. Like a roaring cheer at a football game, the fervor spreads throughout a student body with little effort on the part of the perpetrators.

But one group set themselves apart, following the advice of their principal "use every moment we have to work to give a positive impression of our schools."

That group was the student body of Walled Lake Western High School, and in particular, those who attended Monday night's board meeting to show their concern about the school.

Said one parent: "They showed more to me than any of the teachers did, because the teachers disobeyed the law. Adults are supposed to be the examples, but in this district, I think it works the opposite."

The students at the board meeting asked questions and waited patiently for answers. They expressed their concerns about how the cuts in counseling services could critically affect the chances for scholarships and acceptance into the college of their choice. They offered time and energy in helping to pass a millage increase in the upcoming election.

While other students left classrooms for "sit-in" demonstrations or "strikes," the Western students planned a meeting with Superintendent Don Sheldon. By asking questions, they have learned more about the school district in the past week than most taxpayers will ever know.

Several students, such as seniors Greg Paulus and Matt Turner, have been identified as "student leaders" — and indeed they are. But in the last week their example of maturity and careful, rational approach to a crisis has proved them community leaders as well.

The compassionate and intelligent leadership of Principal Richard Smith contributed in large measure to the impressive behavior of Western students in the past week. For a refreshing change, the united cheers of affection for Smith at Monday's board meeting were louder than any scolding or jeering from parents, teachers or board members.

With any luck, parents, teachers and board members have taken to the cooperative spirit exhibited by so many Western students this week. If not, they've missed the key to getting the district back on its feet again.

Retain ordinance

Discussion has recently occurred regarding the operation of private cable television systems and communities belonging to the West Oakland Cable Authority. The nine authority members are in the process of granting franchises to Greater Media Cablevision to capitalize on combined population density.

Under the cable regulatory ordinance, Greater Media is to negotiate with existing systems for access rights. Local governing units will have the option of condemnation for access if the negotiations are not successful.

A representative for Edward Rose and Sons, owners of the Village and Goldengate apartment complexes, recently asked the Wixom City Council to eliminate that provision from the ordinance.

The ordinance should remain as written. The provision does not attempt to force an existing system out of business. It is aimed at allowing flexibility in dealing with existing systems.

A franchisee could negotiate for access within an apartment complex or mobile home park. If agreement is reached, the cable company could compete with the existing services. The ordinance does not require the city to exercise its powers of eminent domain on behalf of the cable company, it is discretionary.

If access were obtained, residents would have the option of receiving the existing channels — usually limited to entertainment and sports — or obtaining the competing service with additional services such as local origination and government channels.

systems is an important right for residents. Not allowing that choice would inhibit involvement and knowledge regarding the community and schools. Apartment or mobile home dwellers are residents of the community. Not allowing them access to a service offered throughout the community is exclusionary.

Another factor is that under its franchise, Greater Media will pay the city five percent of its revenues. The systems in the apartment complexes are not franchised and would in effect be denying the city revenues if the ordinance provision is eliminated.

Rather than providing undue advantage to Greater Media, striking this portion of the ordinance would have the reverse effect. The Rose and Sons system would not have incurred franchise fees and not be providing revenues to the city.

Councilman William Wylie make a good parallel comparing cable, legally considered a utility, to sewer and water services. Sewer hook-ups are legally required while water connections are not.

Residents certainly would not be forced to purchase cable services. Private residents could use their own dishes to obtain cable programming for their private use. That is where the analogy breaks down. The city would not permit a private operator to offer sewer or water services.

Private operators should allow access to the franchise holder and let residents have a choice in selecting the cable service. The private operators also should obtain franchises to provide regulation of their operations and revenues to the communities.

Thinking out loud

By KATHY JENNINGS

Another baffling thing about driving in this area is the pentacharacters seem to have for giving their streets more than one name.

You can either take Fifteen Mile or Maple. In fact, you can take them at the same time. That road has the dubious distinction of turning into West West Maple at Walled Lake's western boundary, so as not to be confused with East West Maple. I'm certain Lord have mercy upon my lost and wandering soul. Surely one name is enough for any street.

I have given up altogether on the highway system.

Sure it's well-marked, but if someone has told you to take the Southfield and all you can find is this highway with numbers on it which exit do you take?

There's the Lodge, the Jeffries, the John R. and the Chrysler. But nobody takes the Walter Reuther, they drive on 696. And when was the last time someone told you to drive 16 miles west on the Morris Adler Memorial Highway? Northwest, yes. But not the Morris Adler.

And just when you think you've figured out which name goes with which set of highway numbers, you find out you can't go that way because it's under construction and the detour takes you around a cloverleaf, shooting you onto a highway with a different set of numbers matched with a completely different name.

When someone told me the I-96 that stretches from here to Lansing is not the same as the one on the east side, or at least that you can't get from there to here on it, I simply shook my head in disbelief.

Just to keep this in perspective I suppose it's only fair to reflect that things could be worse. Instead of listening to cheery drive-time traffic-reporters telling us to watch out for the slowdown in the westbound lane of the Jeffries, we could be stuck in traffic on a west-coast highway waiting for the CHPs to remove the boulder lodged in the left lane during the latest road slide.

Perhaps it all made sense when someone was first naming this confusing collection of roads, but along the line things got out of hand.

Framework

By Steve Fecht

Harvest

Ever since I moved to Oakland County five years ago I have been baffled by the road system.

My sense of direction has never been keen. Telling me your house is five miles west of Beck Road is not nearly as effective as saying it's past the third horse farm on the right. And after dark nearly all directions are useless.

In moving to the metropolitan Detroit area I found what little sense of direction I did have was responding to a different north pole than the one used here. Moving from central Michigan to southeast Michigan had thoroughly confused any navigational instincts I might have had.

Then there was the mystery of Mile Roads. It took awhile, but eventually the logic behind Mile Roads began to make sense, especially after someone informed me they all go east-west. At least I thought it made sense until I came to Ten Mile and Grand River and the mile road I was on appeared to have ended. I was lost and I hadn't even made a turn.

But the roads that really befuddled me were the ones that changed into something other than what I was just driving on without any warning.

Take for example Sheldon Road which somewhere along the line changes to Center Street, or Milford Road north of Grand River, which also could be Pontiac Trail, depending upon whether you go into Milford or Wixom.

The strangest situation I've seen yet is in Commerce Township where you can sit at one intersection and drive down Commerce Road — in any of three directions. The signs don't say, North Commerce or West Commerce — they all four say Commerce Road.

Try and explain that to some poor map-illiterate soul.

The problem is further complicated when adjacent communities, like Novi and Walled Lake, have different names for the same road. How do you explain to someone that north of Fourteen Mile their driving on Walled Lake Drive, but south of Walled Lake they're on East Lake Drive? And if they're not careful when they get south of Thirteen Mile they will be on Novi Road.

After the fact
By PHILIP JEROME

I just got back from two weeks of vacation. There's no way for you to know that, of course, because I wrote two weeks' worth of "After the fact" before I left for three days in Saugatuck and 11 days of washing windows.

Actually, it wasn't my idea to write a couple of new "After the facts" before my departure. With all the last minute details that have to be wrapped up before I take off, I have plenty of other things to do besides writing a couple of columns so nobody will realize I'm gone.

My big plan this year was to dip into the archives and run some columns I wrote several years ago. You know what I mean — "Phil Jerome is on vacation this week so we are running one of his best columns from 1981."

It's an old ploy — almost all columnists do it. "Mike Royko is on vacation this week so..." or "Jim Fitzgerald is on vacation this week so..." You get the idea; it's done all the time.

And I was going to do it this time around until the idea was dismissed rather unceremoniously by my staff. When they asked what to do about "After the fact" while I was gone, I told them to select a pair of my best columns from a couple of years ago.

Unfortunately, the suggestion received a less than enthusiastic response. "You want us to try to find one of your columns that is worth running again?" asked one, a look of skepticism on her face.

"That's not going to be easy," observed another, more candidly. "The Best of After the fact" is something of a contradiction in terms."

"I'll do everything I can to help out while you're gone," commented another. "But please don't ask me to find one of your old columns that's worth running again. I can only do so much."

I had an eerie feeling that they were beginning to enjoy the topic more than dedicated, loyal employees who want to curry the favor of their boss really should so I quickly terminated the discussion.

"If that's the way you feel," I told them, "I'll just write a couple of new columns." The resultant cheers were deafening.

Student asks residents to approve more millage

To the Editor: I am writing to you about the problems connected with our schools.

As you probably know, 80 teachers have just been laid off. The school board is there to protect the interests of the students. By laying off 80 teachers they are harming — not helping — the students.

With so many people in each classroom, it will be harder to concentrate and learn. The teachers will be spending less time with each student. Some of the classes already have over 40 students. You cannot add any more if they are expected to learn anything. Something has to be done, but the kids can't do anything about it.

I am not the only person who feels this way. The students have threatened to go on strike if the teachers are not rehired.

We want our teachers back. Please help us.

Board to go to the administration and demand that they take an actual wage freeze. Not a wage freeze with an eight percent pay increase, which in reality is no wage freeze at all. I challenge this board to look into every avenue to save money.

If this board chooses to accept this challenge, I pledge my time and energy to work with them on passing a millage. I will go to my friends and neighbors and ask them to vote yes for their children's education.

Many of my friends and neighbors haven't worked in two years. Some have lost their homes. Some have to get food boxes to help feed their families.

I. Prior to the initiation of airport expansion plans, there were serious thoughts about locating an Oakland County land fill (dump) just west of the airport property. If the airport expansion does not proceed, the residents of this district and tell them that the necessary sacrifices have been made, by teachers and administration, and every avenue has been looked into to save money. I'm sure they will vote for millage.

If we can't vote to the people in this district and tell them that the necessary sacrifices have been made, by teachers and administration, and every avenue has been looked into to save money, I'm sure they will vote for millage.

If this board chooses not to accept this challenge, I will use all the time and energy I have pledged to fight you. I am not a politically active person. I do not know how to start a recall. I don't even know who to ask. But I can assure you, I will find out. I do not make this statement lightly or without much consideration. But in view of the facts, I feel I have no choice but to take this stand.

I am sure that other parents feel as I do, and I do not take this stand alone.

Airport is boon

To the Editor: As an interested citizen, I feel there are certain facts that should be made known to the residents of Wixom regarding the planned expansion of the Vernon Spencer Airport.

1. Prior to the initiation of airport expansion plans, there were serious thoughts about locating an Oakland County land fill (dump) just west of the airport property. If the airport expansion does not proceed, the residents of this district and tell them that the necessary sacrifices have been made, by teachers and administration, and every avenue has been looked into to save money. I'm sure they will vote for millage.

Wixom faces cable debate

The arguments raised about restraint of trade could arise in other member communities. There are six other existing enclosed cable systems in apartment complexes and mobile home parks within the consortium area.

Myers conceded that the Village Apartment system did not offer the school services, local access and other amenities negotiated from Greater Media. He added that the private system offered the most popular premium channels such as movies and sports.

Mr. Rose was informed of the cable consortium early in the process. This ordinance is not to give undue advantage to one company," said Mayor Assistant Stephen Bonczek. "Greater Media is offering many more services and will generate revenues for the city."

Until all the private systems offer the most popular premium channels such as movies and sports. Mr. Rose was informed of the cable consortium early in the process. This ordinance is not to give undue advantage to one company," said Mayor Assistant Stephen Bonczek. "Greater Media is offering many more services and will generate revenues for the city."

William Wylie said the cable television franchise could be compared to sewer and water utilities. He said sewer hook-ups are mandatory but water services are not.

Personally, I think we would have cable in Wixom for many years because the Village has its own system and there isn't enough density in the rest of the community," said Wylie. "I think that Greater Media will have to sell this service to residents."

The Village Apartment system could seek public franchising to compete with the Greater Media system, Dorman said, providing the city with its five percent revenues. "The decision would really be left to the subscribers which system they would use," he said. "Beyond the revenues for the city, there is the more serious philosophical issue. Is there a community within the community?"

Residents of apartment complexes and mobile home parks are part of the community and should be able to utilize a cable system offering community access and local programming, Dorman said.

"People should be allowed the choice. That is the issue at hand."

Regarding the question of competition between the two systems, Dorman said Rose and Sons's firm Electron Enterprises seems to be afraid of competing with the larger system offered by Greater Media.

Attorney Thomas Connelly said Greater Media would not have been seeking the franchise without the possibility of servicing multiple residential developments. "If that area is removed there is a chance the grantee, Greater Media, won't accept the franchise," he added.

Greater Media representative Mac McCormack said eliminating the Village Apartments from the franchise area would have a definite impact. "We have not discussed it yet but 2,000 households is about half the number in Wixom," he commented.

"We have met twice with the Village representatives and basically their attitude was to see us when we had the final franchise," McCormack said.

Board members also agreed it would be unwise to have the millage renewal coincide with the negotiation of a new teacher contract in 1986.

Limited to many scenarios that could be considered," said Wright. "This one is the bare bones." At the end of the three-year period the district would be left with an estimated fund balance of $112,000, said Wright. "Nothing in a $66 million budget, one mishap, not even a half month's payroll."

"We have no hard information," said Trustee Merlin Reeds. "I would like to be a tad more businesslike. I'd like to see hard numbers and I'd like to know exactly where the money is going to be spent."

District resident Steven Hatt told the board it should consider a larger millage increase. "We can't dare risk coming back to the public with the same problem in three years." Hatt suggested the millage election might be the "one opportunity this crisis has given us — to $1 on every $1,000 of assessed valuation. Therefore, if a district resident has a home with an assessed valuation of $40,000, one mill to that tax payer would equal $40, and an additional four mills would increase his tax bill about $160 per year."

tion does not proceed, the residents of this district and tell them that the necessary sacrifices have been made, by teachers and administration, and every avenue has been looked into to save money. I'm sure they will vote for millage.

4. Contrary to the common impression, Lillian Spencer does not own the present airport, named in honor of her late husband; but is donating other property which has been in the family for years to aid the airport expansion.

5. Wayne Glessner, Chairman of the Airport Study Committee and presently running for Mayor of Wixom, feels that the expansion would act as a catalyst in attracting high technology industry and thereby become a major contributor to community-controlled rather than uncontrolled development. The expanding businesses would also provide opportunities for the locally unemployed.

In closing, I emphasize to the citizens of Wixom that development in this area is inevitable and that this type of development will allow Wixom to attract desirable types of business for a positive future, and that to do nothing will allow development which we may not be able to control, or do not want.

Bikepaths needed

To the Editor: I read with interest the article which appeared on October 19 titled "Residents Oppose Pathways."

I disagree almost completely with Mr. Grim and Mr. Brooks and those who object to the proposed bike paths which are part of the Parks and Recreation department's four point program which will appear on the November 8 ballot in Novi.

I believe there may be a case to be made for separating the bike paths from the rest of the program, but only because I believe the paths are urgently needed additions to our community.

Novi is not a heavily residential area which has grown up around rural thoroughfares. The increase in population, especially young families, means large numbers of pedestrians and hikers, most of them young children, must use the same roads as vehicles traveling 30-55 miles per hour. It is dangerous for children to walk or ride their bikes along Meadowbrook Road or Ten Mile Road. Ten Mile Road from Meadowbrook to the high school is especially hazardous, particularly in the area of the Novi Road intersection.

The paths will provide a safe route for young people to travel by foot or bike to schools, parks and the library. Think how much gas would be saved by parents who no longer need to drive children to everything out of fear for their safety.

Mr. Grim believes the bike paths would worsen the already congested traffic condition on Meadowbrook Road. I believe the opposite is true. The path would provide a specific place for those already using Meadowbrook to travel safely. It will be no more difficult to back out of a driveway than it is now, nor that it is for those of us who have sidewalks. Rather, the driver will know where to look for defenseless pedestrians.

I strongly support and urge the passage of the Parks and Recreation bond issue. Meadowbrook, Glens Homeowners Association, of which I am an officer, has gone on record in support of the proposal.

Controversy surfaces on Town Center planning

"You're not accomplishing what the Town Center is if you treat these as separate entities," objected Planner Kenneth Albers. "The whole concept has been a Town Center. Why segregate one quadrant? Won't that cause problems with other quadrants?" Hoskinson said the subcommittee was taking the one-quadrant-at-a-time approach because it believed the intent was to protect vacant land in that area from future development which could conflict with ultimate plans for the area, and most vacant property is in the northeast quadrant.

Briggs said he supports the committee in preparing a new proposal, but cautioned that the full board ultimately may or may not support the committee's recommendation.

"The board will see what the people involved think and we'll be able to review intelligent, well-thought, sensible alternatives. As a result we may change the ordinance, and send it to council with extensive revisions, minor revisions or no modifications at all."

He noted that while the planning board as a whole could not guarantee it would adopt the recommendations of the subcommittee, "we won't treat them frivolously."

Emory Jacques, representing a property owner, suggested the subcommittee responsibilities be better defined. "After they've put in 150 hours on this, what good is it if you tell them: 'Thanks that's swell, but we wanted you to look at all four corners?' You don't want to get into the situation where you're telling the subcommittee: 'to hell with you, this is good planning.' I don't think that's why you have this committee."

Temper flared as the board discussed locations where the proposed Town Center district may eventually be applied.

Hoskinson and members of the audience told the board the deliberations were hampered by a lack of definition of the boundaries of the proposed Town Center.

Business representatives told the planners much of the opposition to the ordinance has arisen because property owners are uncertain whether the ordinance will apply to them, causing many of them to feel as if their futures are in limbo. If boundaries of the proposed district were known business owners would know whether the ordinance applies to them and many fears could be eliminated, business representatives said.

The businessmen appeared disgusted that they could not get a firm commitment on the location of the standards apply to the particular property in question. When the rezoning is complete the boundaries have been set.

Frank Stevens, told the planners that business representatives want to know the facts that can be presented to others.

But Cairns said there really is nothing to tell business owners, because "the facts are not established."

The Town Center subcommittee and the liaison group from the business community were to continue their meetings in preparation for the upcoming December public hearing.

By the time he was done, Clogg had read off a list of 15 new shops and restaurants.

With the new additions, Twelve Oaks is approaching capacity. The 15 new stores that have opened since July bring the total number of "residents" in the regional shopping center to 172, not counting the four major tenants — Hudson's, Sears, JCPenney's and Lord & Taylor.

Since Twelve Oaks will accommodate approximately 190 stores in addition to the four majors, Clogg said the shopping center is about 90-95 percent capacity.

How does the Taubman Company, which manages Twelve Oaks and numerous other major retail centers across the country, go about selecting its tenants?

Why is a Mays of Michigan, for example, welcomed to open arms, while another prospective tenant might be turned away and prohibited from joining the mall community?

The process of selecting the proper tenants... is complicated and scientific. More than that, it's extremely important, if not critical, to the success of the mall.

At the core of the process are the marketing studies. Twelve Oaks does a major study of its market area every two years, attempting to obtain a profile of the consumers who use the center.

The marketing studies, the statistical analyses of the consumers, are a vital part of determining which stores will

MENTAL HEALTH INFORMATION

Stephen P. Stocker, A.C.S.W.

AGORAPHOBIA

As a service to our community, Psychotherapy & Counseling Services would like to periodically provide helpful information on interesting mental health related subjects. Agoraphobia is one such subject.

Agoraphobia encompasses a multitude of fear provoking situations which can cause extreme anxiety. These situations can include fears of going outside, going far from home or other "safe" places, being alone, being in crowded places, being confined, going over bridges, waiting in lines, etc. Because of the fear, the agoraphobic will try to avoid places or situations which would trigger the anxiety. This anxiety may be experienced in the form of sweating, rapid heart rate, trembling, fear of passing out or going crazy, and, in it's extreme, a sense of terror or panic.

Agoraphobia may develop gradually and become progressively more severe. As time goes on the agoraphobic may experience more and more fearful situations. Life becomes increasingly restrictive and the sufferer finds it more and more difficult to carry out necessary daily activities.

Until recently agoraphobia was considered a rare psychiatric condition. Many health care professionals were, and still are, unaware of it's existence. We are just now becoming aware of how really common this condition is. Generally, agoraphobia begins between the ages of eighteen and thirty-five, and it is estimated that about two-thirds of all sufferers are women.

Stephen Paul Stocker, ACSW, is Clinical Director of Psychotherapy & Counseling Services. He has developed and directs the new Agoraphobia & Anxiety Disorders Program. He has prepared a report which provides more detailed information on the nature and treatment of agoraphobia. This report is available at no charge by contacting the Clinic.

Roger B. Smith, chairman of General Motors Corporation and U-M alumnus is honorary co-chairman. Robert E. Niederlander is campaign chairman. Honorary vice chairman is Harry A. Towseley, U-M professor emeritus of pediatrics and communicable diseases. Three vice chairmen are Sarah Goddard Power, U-M Regent and former deputy assistant secretary of state; John E. Riecker, member of the University Development Council board of directors; and A. Alfred Taubman, developer and philanthropist.

The campaign goals will be in three major areas:

- To enlarge the University's endowment by $50 million in support of faculty and students;
- To fund capital construction and renovation totaling $50 million in support of key instructional, research and service programs; and
- To substantially increase annual giving in support of operating revenues.

The $50 million for building construction and renovation is earmarked for seven projects — Chemical Science Facilities; hospital replacement; construction of a new library, computing facilities and new quarters for the executive education program of the School of Business Administration; construction of a library and classroom facilities on the North Campus for the College of Engineering; construction of the department of ophthalmology, W.K. Kellogg Eye Center; School of Music performing arts wing; and Tappan Hall renovation and fine arts library.

The $50 million in endowment will be used to endow professorships ($40 million) and to endow student support ($10 million) through undergraduate and graduate fellowships and to endow libraries ($10 million) and assist special projects.

The applicant wishes to erect a 16'x8' (256 sq. ft.) wolmanized wood ground sign at 28080 Wixom Road in a B-3 Zoning District. The applicants request is nonconforming according to the Zoning Ordinance. This meeting will be held at Wixom City Hall, 49045 Pontiac Trail, Wixom.

University program to fund expansion, improvements

A five-year project to raise $100 million in private gifts was announced this month by the University of Michigan.

The most ambitious fund-raising campaign ever undertaken by a public university is being led by Gerald R. Ford, 38th President of the United States and U-M graduate, as honorary chairman.

Roger B. Smith, chairman of General Motors Corporation and U-M alumnus is honorary co-chairman. Robert E. Niederlander is campaign chairman. Honorary vice chairman is Harry A. Towseley, U-M professor emeritus of pediatrics and communicable diseases. Three vice chairmen are Sarah Goddard Power, U-M Regent and former deputy assistant secretary of state; John E. Riecker, member of the University Development Council board of directors; and A. Alfred Taubman, developer and philanthropist.

The campaign goals will be in three major areas:

- To enlarge the University's endowment by $50 million in support of faculty and students;
- To fund capital construction and renovation totaling $50 million in support of key instructional, research and service programs; and
- To substantially increase annual giving in support of operating revenues.

The $50 million for building construction and renovation is earmarked for seven projects — Chemical Science Facilities; hospital replacement; construction of a new library, computing facilities and new quarters for the executive education program of the School of Business Administration; construction of a library and classroom facilities on the North Campus for the College of Engineering; construction of the department of ophthalmology, W.K. Kellogg Eye Center; School of Music performing arts wing; and Tappan Hall renovation and fine arts library.

The $50 million in endowment will be used to endow professorships ($40 million) and to endow student support ($10 million) through undergraduate and graduate fellowships and to endow libraries ($10 million) and assist special projects.

New stores opening at Twelve Oaks

By PHILIP JEROME

Mays of Michigan ... Gelato Gelato ... Nawrot Pendleton ... Redwood & Ross for Women ... Kay Baum. William Clogg, general manager of Novis Twelve Oaks Mall, ran down the list of new stores which either have opened at Twelve Oaks in recent weeks or are scheduled to open before Christmas.

By the time he was done, Clogg had read off a list of 15 new shops and restaurants.

"The typical family in our market area has two to four members and falls in a median age group of 25-45 years ... They're higher income, well traveled, well informed and sophisticated ... they respond to active new lifestyles and stay up with latest trends."

become tenants of the mall.

"Everything starts with the marketing studies," explained Clogg. "You have to know who you're trying to serve and what their needs and interests are before you can serve them."

Marketing studies were instrumental in the decision to develop Twelve Oaks in the first place. "The studies told us," said Clogg, "that the area was an extremely desirable corridor for the proper type of development."

"The market analyses also told us it was a relatively affluent area that lacked the type of retail uses found in a regional shopping center."

"The second major consideration in tenant selection is 'mix' — the proper ratio of each type of merchandise."

"A good analogy is that a regional shopping center is really like a giant department store," said Sheila Armstrong, director of sales promotions and public relations at Twelve Oaks. "We allot a certain amount of square footage to different merchandise areas based on marketing needs and trends."

"If you have too many jewelry stores, for example, it's not a good situation," added Clogg. "We are concerned about the health of our tenants; we know it's a bad situation to have six jewelry stores if there's only sufficient market demand for five."

Mays of Michigan, which is slated to open this month, is a good example of how the tenant-selection process works.

A prestigious men's and women's clothing store, Mays of Michigan is headquartered in Grand Rapids and maintains stores in Lansing and Boca Raton, Florida, as well as its Grand Rapids outlets.

"The store is celebrating its 100th birthday this month. The original store was designed in 1883 by Frank Lloyd Wright, who also designed some of the original window displays."

Mays of Michigan is one of the tenants which was actively recruited by the Taubman Company.

"We had a void in that particular merchandising category when Hughes-Hatcher went out of business," explained Clogg. "We were familiar with Mays of Michigan because they also maintain a store in the Woodland Mall in Grand Rapids."

"We knew the company, we knew their merchandise and we knew their approach to retailing. They were the type of store that could fill the void left by the departure of Hughes-Hatcher so we called them and said we felt we had

Stephen P. Stocker, A.C.S.W.

AGORAPHOBIA

As a service to our community, Psychotherapy & Counseling Services would like to periodically provide helpful information on interesting mental health related subjects. Agoraphobia is one such subject.

Agoraphobia encompasses a multitude of fear provoking situations which can cause extreme anxiety. These situations can include fears of going outside, going far from home or other "safe" places, being alone, being in crowded places, being confined, going over bridges, waiting in lines, etc. Because of the fear, the agoraphobic will try to avoid places or situations which would trigger the anxiety. This anxiety may be experienced in the form of sweating, rapid heart rate, trembling, fear of passing out or going crazy, and, in it's extreme, a sense of terror or panic.

Agoraphobia may develop gradually and become progressively more severe. As time goes on the agoraphobic may experience more and more fearful situations. Life becomes increasingly restrictive and the sufferer finds it more and more difficult to carry out necessary daily activities.

Until recently agoraphobia was considered a rare psychiatric condition. Many health care professionals were, and still are, unaware of it's existence. We are just now becoming aware of how really common this condition is. Generally, agoraphobia begins between the ages of eighteen and thirty-five, and it is estimated that about two-thirds of all sufferers are women.

Stephen Paul Stocker, ACSW, is Clinical Director of Psychotherapy & Counseling Services. He has developed and directs the new Agoraphobia & Anxiety Disorders Program. He has prepared a report which provides more detailed information on the nature and treatment of agoraphobia. This report is available at no charge by contacting the Clinic.

across the country, go about selecting its tenants?

Why is a Mays of Michigan, for example, welcomed to open arms, while another prospective tenant might be turned away and prohibited from joining the mall community?

The process of selecting the proper tenants... is complicated and scientific. More than that, it's extremely important, if not critical, to the success of the mall.

At the core of the process are the marketing studies. Twelve Oaks does a major study of its market area every two years, attempting to obtain a profile of the consumers who use the center.

The marketing studies, the statistical analyses of the consumers, are a vital part of determining which stores will

TWO MEN FROM WIXOM are reviving the ancient craft of glass etching with their new company, known as "Magic Glass."

Business Briefs

The revival of period styles has provided Pate and McDermott with a new market for their craft. Most recently, they have provided a custom grapevine design for the glass doors of the Appet'esser restaurant's wine cellar in Milford.

Their art work can be done on doors, windows, storefronts, table tops, cabinets, drinking glasses, plates and other table ware, from designs chosen by the customer. The Magic Glass partners can be reached at 669-4871 or 669-9343.

COMPUTER BUFFS in the South Lyon area have a new store catering to their interests. The Computer Corner, owned by Lyon Township resident Ron Wilkes, features Texas Instrument software and hardware.

The software includes games, business programs, programs for computer buffs, word processing programs and educational programs, Wilkes said.

The business programs cover such areas as accounts payable and receivable, budgeting and inventory control. The educational programs includes K-4 reading and mathematics (geometry, algebra and systems equations).

The store, opened in late September and located in King Plaza on Pontiac Trail between Nine and Ten Mile roads, also carries such hardware as computers, disc drives, auxiliary expansion equipment, telephone modems and cables. Also in stock are books and magazines on different aspects of computer use.

Wilkes, the sole proprietor of the Computer Corner, said he decided to stock Texas Instrument equipment because of the company's interest in educational programs. Wilkes, who also teaches at the University of Detroit, said he was putting together his own programs for handicapped children.

The Computer Corner is part of a three store partnership with identically named stores in Warren and Oak Park.

PEACH'S HAIR SALON is a new beauty salon in Tish's Center in Highland. Barbara Cooper, owner of the salon, seated, will be working with, standing from left, Mary Ann Hayes, who has four years' experience; Nancy Sharpe, manager who has eight years' professional experience; and Kathy James, formerly of Kalamazoo.

Cooper said a new atmosphere has been created, with light brown and white lattice work, plenty of plants and a cocktail, while the "coffee is always on and the conversation is friendly and warm."

The new shop is a beauty salon, featuring hair care, manicures, nail wrapping and tips, eyebrow arching and excellent perms and hair coloring, according to Cooper.

The salon is located at 1103 South Milford Road, Highland. It is open Tuesday and Thursday from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m., Wednesday and Friday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. an opening they could fill and be successful.

Two other new stores recruited by Twelve Oaks were Capelco and Redwood & Ross for Women. Capelco specializes in fine women's shoes and leather accessories, while Redwood & Ross features fine women's clothing.

Both stores illustrate how Twelve Oaks relies on its marketing studies to determine what types of tenants are needed and will be successful.

"The typical family in our market area has two to four members and falls in a median age group of 25-45 years," explained Armstrong.

"They're higher-income, well-traveled, well-informed and sophisticated. They respond to active, new lifestyles and stay up with the latest trends. Many of them have two professional people — men and women in the managerial, technical or administrative fields."

Capelco and Redwood & Ross were brought into the mall to answer the needs and demands of the modern, career-oriented professional woman.

Wilkes, the sole proprietor of the Computer Corner, said he decided to stock Texas Instrument equipment because of the company's interest in educational programs. Wilkes, who also teaches at the University of Detroit, said he was putting together his own programs for handicapped children.

The Computer Corner is part of a three store partnership with identically named stores in Warren and Oak Park.

Clogg said the new Gelato Classico store falls somewhere in the middle ground of tenant selection. "There was a mutual interest," he explained. "We wanted them and they wanted us. It was a good situation for both of us."

Clogg and Armstrong are pleased with the present and excited about the future at Twelve Oaks. The only negative consideration at the present time is that the center is approaching capacity.

"It's not a good situation to be 100 percent filled," said Clogg, noting that tenants at Twelve Oaks have 10-year leases. "You always want to have some space available so that you can respond to new trends and new demands... so that you have room to add tenants which answer changes in trends and lifestyles."

Other than that, however, the future looks rosy. "The Novi/Twelve Oaks area is one of the strongest in terms of land development, population growth and housing starts," noted Clogg. "The economy is changing and our sales figures are responding well," he added. "Everything seems to be coming together pretty much as our marketing studies and planning had indicated it would."

Happyland is among new stores greeting mall shoppers

Michigan Mirror

By WARREN M. HOYT

Governor James Blanchard recently outlined 20 areas that constitute his framework for long-term economic growth in Michigan.

In announcing his program to a joint session of the Legislature, the governor said his program, most of which was first raised in conceptual form in last year's election campaign, will help to pioneer the economy of the 21st century by building and rebuilding, moving Michigan ahead.

None of the initiatives is yet complete enough to be discussed in specifics, aides said, but Commerce Director Ralph Gerson said they would be released in "excruciating detail" in the weeks and months ahead.

Gerson said all the programs — about three-fourths of them require legislative approval — would be introduced yet this year, but the governor does not have a timetable for their enactment.

Blanchard said his plan represents "a three-part formula for rebuilding our state's competitive strength." That includes investment in job training, public facilities and businesses; a commitment to quality and efficiency; and a commitment to cooperation, he said.

The governor's program, which aides said amounts to putting his agenda into a "conceptual framework," includes, among other things, an announcement this month to turn welfare spending into a "workfare investment" offering work as an opportunity, not punishment.

Other proposals include securities regulation reform to make it easier for business, particularly small and emerging ones, to raise capital; the removal of legislative barriers to make it easier for franchisees to come to Michigan in part by shifting the franchise fee from those entities which operate in the state to the out-of-state franchising company; the in-progress work to streamline the processing of worker's compensation cases.

Because of structural changes in the state economy, the governor's plan covers efforts for diversification, including a proposal for aiding forest products industries, assisting food processing and encouraging auto suppliers to locate and expand in Michigan, sponsoring a statewide tourism conference and working with business and environmental groups to cut the cost of complying with environmental regulations while maintaining standards.

Gerson said although the governor in drawing together those ideas has not really said much that is new, the economic program reflects the governor's cabinet council on jobs and economic development, said the range of proposals represents the second phase of the governor's economic development program, following the short-term summer jobs and public works program begun earlier this year and the Strategic Investment Fund proposal now being developed in the Legislature.

Peter Plastrick, director of the governor's cabinet council on jobs and economic development, said the range of proposals represents the second phase of the governor's economic development program, following the short-term summer jobs and public works program begun earlier this year and the Strategic Investment Fund proposal now being developed in the Legislature.

During the past 100 years, the U.S. population has increased by 4 times. Remarkably, the white-tailed deer population has increased by 24 times.

Around the turn of the century, there were only some 500,000 white-tailed deer in the U. S. Total U. S. population in 1880 was 50.2 million.

Incredibly, there are today over 12 million whitetails throughout America, with populations in most areas near or at the capacity of the range. That's an increase in population of 24 times.

The reason? Over the years, tremendous strides have been made in developing strategies that have brought back a number of wildlife species from critically low population levels.

Through the efforts of wildlife management, especially in the restoration and preservation of critical habitat, a wide variety of native wildlife exists today in healthy numbers throughout their historic range.

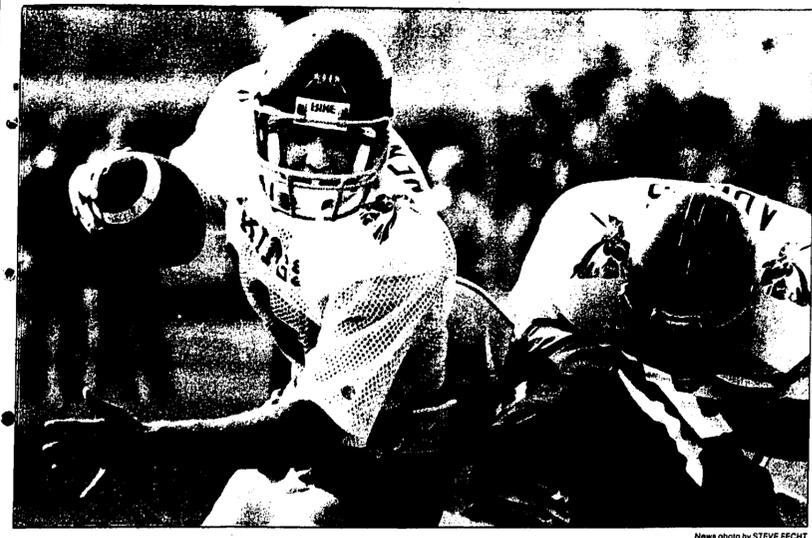

American sportsmen have long played a key role in this success story, both through focusing attention on the needs of wildlife and promoting sound conservation practices as well as providing billions of dollars through license fees and special taxes they pay.

Quarterback Tom Menard hopes to lead Vikings to state play-offs. News photo by STEVE FECHT

Adams, Menard spark Vikings to WLAA crown

"I was really, really, happy with the team effort. Being able to come back like that, I'm real proud of our guys." That summed up Coach John Van-Sicklen's feelings following Walled Lake Central's 28-25 come-from-behind victory over previously undefeated Plymouth Salem.

The Vikings' Wayne Adams scored two touchdowns in the last five minutes of the game to pull out the victory. The win sets up a rematch between Central and Farmington Harrison this Friday for the Western Lakes Activities Association championship. More on that game later.

Salem opened the scoring in the first quarter with a five-yard touchdown pass and then added the two-point conversion to go on top 6-0.

The Vikings tied the score on a 70-yard drive with quarterback Tom Menard going the final four yards. Menard then hit Jeff Schneider on the two-point conversion to knot the score at 8-8.

Salem recaptured the lead in the second quarter on a 1-yard run by Scott Juerk. But the Vikings again rallied as Menard scampered 24-yards for the touchdown and Jim Ziola booted the extra point to make it 15-15.

Salem went ahead 18-15 on a 25-yard yard field goal by Mark Dixon in the third quarter, and then increased their lead to 25-15 in the fourth quarter on a 16-yard run by quarterback Mark Tindel.

Then came Adams Time. The Vikings' outstanding senior running back scored on a six-yard run set up by a 45-yard punt return by Dave Chwalibog. The Vikings could not convert their two-point attempt.

Following an interception by Menard on Salem's next possession, Adams scored with a 1:32 left in the game on a 30-yard screen pass from Menard. Ziola booted the extra point to close out the scoring.

Menard had another big game for Central. The senior completed eight of 13 passes for 182 yards and one touchdown, and rushed for another 95 yards.

Howell defense tames Wildcats

Novi's football squad bid farewell to hopes for a 500 conference season last Friday when the Howell Highlanders dealt the Wildcats a 15-6 setback.

Novi's record stands at 2-4 with only one league contest remaining — South Lyon. The Wildcats are 3-4 overall.

This time there weren't any fumbles to blame, or any near-misses. The Highlanders simply shut down the sputtering Wildcat offense in the first half while sustaining two good offensive drives, then held on to the ball in the second half too long for the Novi troops to come back.

The Wildcats' only score came on their first possession in the second half. After Howell coughed up the ball on downs at the Novi 24, the Wildcats put together a 78-yard drive capped by a two-yard touchdown sneak by quarterback Todd Crutchfield.

Seventy-two of those yards came on passes from Crutchfield to Eric Balk, who had a tremendous game with eight receptions for 135 yards. During the drive, the duo connected on passes of 15, 17, 21 and 18 yards.

"We had a couple different ways to run that combination," Novi coach John Osborne said. "Eric had a great game. He caught everything going his way and did a real good job overall."

Crutchfield didn't have a bad day himself, completing 12 of 34 passes for 182 yards with one interception — but the Wildcats could not uncork a ground game, managing only 73 yards on 25 rushing attempts. Good enough to pick up 10 first downs, but not good enough to break anything open.

The Highlanders, on the other hand, shredded Novi for 182 rushing yards on 42 attempts and picked up 70 yards on six of nine passes.

All Howell's points came in the second quarter. A fumble on a punt return by Dave Whitehead set up the first. The Highlanders recovered on the Novi 40 and took 13 plays to march the ball in on running back Rusty Frever's six yard misdirection play touchdown.

The Highlanders quickly put Novi further in the hole by adding a two-point conversion. Howell quarterback Ross Korjana swept outside with an option keeper and Novi found itself down 6-0.

"That was discouraging," Osborne said. "When a team gets eight points on you like that, you know you've got to get the TD and the two extra points just to tie."

Howell added seven more on a 38-yard Korjana-to-Shawn Allen touchdown strike and Brent Earl's extra-point kick.

In the first half, Novi could only get as far as the Howell 42 before fizzling, despite collecting five first downs.

The offense got untracked late in the game when Whitehead, playing strong safety, pounced on a loose ball at the 50. An 18-yard pass to Balk set up the backbreaker for Novi, however.

On the next play at the Howell 34, Crutchfield sling a well-executed screen pass out to fullback Steve Korte and the beefy senior powered down to the Highlander 19 — but the yellow flags went up and offsetting penalties brought the play back.

On the next play, the Wildcats were docked 15 yards for holding. "That was our last chance," Osborne said.

The Novi defense appeared strong enough. Tom McSweeney led the defense with six first hits and eight assists, and Brooks and Bragg were effective on the pass rush, each registering a big sack.

The Wildcats will try to get back into the win column when this Friday when they play host to South Lyon. The season will come to a close the following week against Northville.

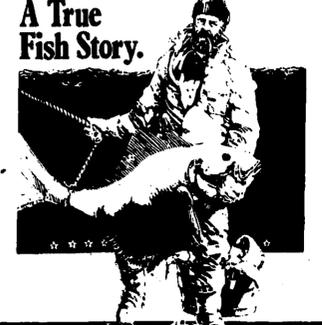

"They look like they're in our bracket," Osborne said of the Lions, hungry for a win after two tough losses in the last two weeks. "We're going to change our strategy a little," he added. "We plan on winning."

'We're going to change our strategy a little. We plan on winning.'

Western five ups record to 14-0

With Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) playoffs and the MHSAA district tournament just around the corner, Walled Lake Western's awesome girls' basketball squad kept its win streak alive last week.

The Warriors dumped Farmington Harrison 42-21 on Tuesday and Farmington 42-21 on Thursday to up their record to 14-0 on the season. Western confronts Redford Union and Plymouth Canton before starting WLAA playoffs on November 3.

"We're starting to look toward the playoffs and districts," admitted Tom Stienler, coach of the undefeated Warriors. "Even if we drop two games it's not the end of the world right now. We're gearing toward improving with each game so we can be at our peak for the tournaments."

Against Farmington, the Warriors started off slowly but came on strong in the second half. Western tallied 13 points in the first quarter and just two in the second to lead 15-7 at the intermission. "We didn't play well in the first half. I attribute that to the Farmington defense. They did a nice job on us," Stienler said. "We didn't execute in the second quarter thanks to their defense."

Western added 11 points in the third quarter and 16 in the fourth quarter, while holding Farmington to six and eight points in each stanza. Defensively, Sue Baglow and Nancy

Leach were the standouts, according to Stienler. "They took away Farmington's top two scorers throughout the game," he said. "Offensively, Leach led the way with 11 points, while Val Hall dominated the boards again with 17 rebounds and four blocked shots. She also scored nine points; Baglow added six."

Western had one of its best offensive games of the season against Harrison as seven players hit the scoring column.

"We're starting to flow on offense," said Stienler. "We played good defense and took it to them on offense." Hall paced the Warriors with 11 points and 13 rebounds. Betty Gross scored 10 points, while Leach added nine more. Carol Croll and Sheri Davis each contributed eight points, and Lisa Edwards and Pam Rowen hit for six points apiece.

The Warriors jumped off to a 16-9 lead in the first quarter and extended it to 40-15 at the half. Western added 22 points in the third quarter and nine in the fourth, while limiting Harrison to five and seven.

Western travels to Canton tomorrow for its final game before league playoffs. "It's going to be a war," said Stienler of the upcoming Canton game. "They gave us a battle the first time we played them and I expect it again." The Chiefs are 5-6, but that's deceiving, according to the Warrior mentor. District action begins on November 17 at Lakeland.

Slumping Wildcats suffer losses

By B.J. MARTIN

Anyone who had predicted that Novi's basketball team would finish under the .500 mark in Kensington Valley Conference (KVC) action would have earned nothing but scorn at the start of the season.

But fraught with illness, injury, hard luck and much-improved opponents, the Wildcats will have to struggle to get to .500 by season's end.

Brighton and Pinckney — two of the KVC's middle echelon teams — both came back from fourth quarter deficits last week to beat the Wildcats. The losses dropped Novi's KVC record to 4-5. The Wildcats are 3-0 in non-league contests.

The three-game losing streak is somewhat unusual for the Wildcats who have not lost three straight since 1980.

Brighton's Kathy Maciejewski caused Novi a queen-size headache. The Bulldog guard couldn't miss with her long-range howitzers, gaining 22 points, mostly from the 15-18 foot range, to lead her team to a 48-37 win.

"She was just hitting these bombs," said Novi Coach Bill Ayotte.

Meanwhile, the Wildcats again were troubled by poor shooting. In the previous week's game against South Lyon, Novi shooters went 4-for-29 in the second half. Against Brighton Tuesday, it was something of a replay. After playing to a 21-21 tie at the half, the Wildcats hit less than 30 percent from the floor and converted only five of 13 free throws. "That reflects the way we've been shooting the past three weeks," Ayotte said. "It's especially frustrating because we got the shots we wanted. They just weren't falling through."

Five of Novi's missed free throws came in the fourth quarter, and three were the front ends of one-and-ones.

To be fair, Novi had a few bad breaks: Barb Ede, the team's 5'11" center, was sidelined with appendicitis and is doubtful for the remainder of the season. Sue Rasinske, the team's leading scorer, was fighting off a sprained ankle and chronic asthma, and Sherri Lawton, the team's point guard, was beginning to lose her fight to an illness that landed her in a hospital later that week.

Rasinske led Novi scorers with 13 points, and Peggy Wilson, increasingly pushed to the Novi offense, contributed 11. "Peggy's our best defensive player," Ayotte said. "She has a lot of poise and we've asked her to do a lot of things out there. She's been doing a good job for us with her floor game."

Without Ede and Lawton against Pinckney on Thursday, Novi found itself in a hole right from the start. But it took the Pirates an overtime period to finally top the Wildcats 54-46 in a brutally physical game that frequently got out of hand.

After scoring 22 of Novi's 23 first-half points, Rasinske was benched with her fifth foul in the third quarter. "She hadn't been dominating the way we knew she could," Ayotte said of Rasinske, "but in the first half she was all over the place. Pinckney couldn't stop her until they put three or four people on her and at that point it got very physical."

Rasinske had 20 points by the time she fouled out. "That's a pretty decent game," Ayotte noted. "It's kind of unusual for her to foul out, but a lot of calls were going against us. She gave us a very encouraging performance, like she was doing at the beginning of the season."

With Rasinske on the bench, Ayotte relied on Wilson to pick up the scoring slack. She responded with a couple of key third-quarter baskets and then the Pirates caught on and laid a heavy body-contact double-team on her. The result was equally disastrous. Wilson, frustrated at the constant contact, pushed a Pinckney player and got tossed out of the game.

Novi's center, two leading scorers and point guard were gone. What could be worse? How about this — Sally Saum, filling in for Lawton at point guard, broke her arm in the first half on a jump ball. She was unaware of the fracture until the next day, but played in pain throughout the second half, scoring five key fourth-quarter points.

"We just lost too many players," Ayotte sighed.

Novi still wasn't out of it. Ayotte ordered a four-corner offense against the Pinckney starters and got some strong bench play to stay in the game. In particular, backup forward/center Darcy Reisch came off the bench and did what Ayotte called "a super job."

Reisch pumped in eight points, including six of eight free throws and contributed some solid defense. But Novi was unable to offset a Pinckney advantage of 15 free throws.

The score was tied 46-46 at the end of regulation time, and in overtime, one play led to Novi's downfall. Reisch drove the lane to shoot a tying basket and "got hammered" in the opinion of Ayotte.

Unfortunately, the referee not only didn't agree, but stopped two technicals on the Wildcats. "And that was the game," Ayotte said.

"I'm really happy with the way the girls played," Ayotte said. "A lot of people who had seen a lot of playing time did a good job. The kids were very positive about the game."

Warriors suffer setback to tough Mustang squad

Things aren't getting any easier for the Walled Lake Western football team.

The Warriors ran into a big, tough Northville squad last Friday and suffered an unexpected 46-7 defeat that dropped their record to 3-4 overall and 2-2 in the Western Lakes Activities Association.

"They just manhandled us," Western Coach Chuck App admitted. "We were outmanned on the front lines. I felt the kids played with heart and we didn't lose because of lack of effort or preparation. We just met a better team that night."

Northville, experiencing an "up" year this season with a 5-2 record, scored a touchdown in the first quarter, added 19 points in the second, seven in the third and 13 more in the fourth quarter.

Western's lone touchdown came midway in the final quarter when Bob Billingshurst ran four yards into the end zone on an off-lack dive. The fullback's effort capped a 69-yard drive that included key runs by Billingshurst and Denny Atwell, as well as a 17-yard pass completion from John Doria to Roger Hubbell. Scott Wandelowski kicked the extra point.

"That was our only sustained drive of the night," said App.

Western was held to 73 yards on the ground in 22 carries and 76 yards through the air. Western quarterbacks Mickey Robinson and Doria threw 17 passes but completed just four with one intercepted by Northville defensive back Steve Smith for a second-quarter touchdown. The Warriors also fumbled away the football twice and were charged with 45 yards in penalties.

"Northville is a very good football team," said App. "We didn't play up to our potential and they took it out on us."

App added that his team needed to throw well against the Mustangs. "We had to be effective in the air to beat them and obviously we weren't," he said. "It was a sub-par game for us."

Warrior defensive end Greg Paulus played his first game since returning from a knee injury and played well, collecting five first tackles and five assists. Linebackers Scott Coulter and Rob Adams also had good games on defense — Coulter had eight first hits and 15 assists, while Adams collected nine firsts and 12 assists.

The Warrior defense, to its credit, mounted a dramatic goal-line stand in the first quarter that shook up the Mustangs, thwarting Northville on four downs inside the 10. And Western contained the Mustang passing game, allowing only three completions in nine attempts for a mere 18 yards in the air.

But the one-two running tandem of Steve Smith (two rushing touchdowns) and John Quinn (130 yards) gave Western all it could handle.

Western faces Livonia Stevenson in its WLAA playoff game this Friday. Game time is 7:30 p.m. at the Stevenson field.

"Stevenson always has a good football team," App said. "We're just going to have to forget about the Northville game."

Vikings win crown

yards on eight carries, two of which concluded in the end zone.

Chwalibog caught four Menard passes and did a "super job," according to VanSicklen.

The Vikings have not won a league title since they won the Inter-Lakes League championship in 1976. The Harrison game marks the second time in three weeks the two teams will face each other. Harrison handed Central its only loss of the season, a 31-7 white-washing in their first encounter.

"We're looking forward to it," said VanSicklen of the rematch. "We want to get a little egg off our face from the last time. I'm sure we are going to give them a better game than the first time."

69 yarder, for an average of 47 yards. The win gives Central the Lakes Division championship and the right to play Harrison for the WLAA title. The Vikings must beat Harrison to have a chance of making the state playoffs.

Novi cross-country coach predicts bright future

By B.J. MARTIN

Sports challenge: Find the bright spot in the Novi boys' cross-country team's Kennington Valley Conference season.

Tick tick tick... time's up.

Answer: Of course the team is 0-7 in KVC play, following a 17-45 wallowing by South Lyon last week. But what many people don't know is that their Wildcats are still babies — there are two seniors, two sophomores and five freshmen on this year's varsity squad.

"This is a very tough conference," commented Coach Norm Norgren. "But we've got some people who are running very competitive times right now, and they're going to be around for a few years. Two seniors, two sophomores and five freshmen — that's not too shabby."

Unfortunately, Bob Peery won't be back. The senior registered a reasonably good time of 17:25 at Cass Benton to take fourth against South Lyon, which not only swept the top three places against Novi, but also took fifth, sixth and seventh.

Tim McBride, one of those freshmen, placed eighth, hustling around the C-Benton in 19:10, the first time he has run under 18 minutes.

Sophomore Bill Huotari was close behind in 19th place in 18:08. Freshman Mike Dillon was 12th (18:37); Paul Sumner, a soph, was 13th (18:43); freshman Chris Howard was 16th (19:08); senior Greg Mobray took 17th (19:10); freshman Mike LaHale 18th (19:32); and classmate Alex Milam was 19th in 19:34.

Novi completed its dual-meet season with a 3-8 record by posting a 24-40 non-conference win over Oak Park Thursday. Peery trimmed 10 seconds off his Tuesday time to take second place in 17:15.

Jim Kohli, hobbled by a thigh injury throughout the season, clocked 17:42 for fourth place and then the Wildcat pack came in. Bill Huotari took fifth in 17:50. Sumner was sixth in 17:58. Howard seventh in 18:22; Dillon eighth in 18:33 and McBride ninth in 18:59.

LaHale finished 11th in 19:43 and Milam 12th in 19:51.

"It was an excellent effort," Norgren said. "Four boys under 18 minutes — and I'd run a killer practice the day before."

The girls team capped a good league season by beating South Lyon 22-36 to finish at 4-3 in KVC play.

"That was our goal and we met it," Norgren beamed. "When we started the season, I said if we could go 4-3 it would be terrific. The three teams we lost to are all state-rated."

Novi took first and second against South Lyon and all six of the Wildcats' top finishers clocked personal bests. The girls, too, are a young group.

The team's season-long iron woman, junior Jeannette Lemieux burned a 20:06 at Cass Benton for first place. Freshman Christine Huotari took second in 20:26, and junior Mindy Park clocked a 20:41 for fourth.

Sophomore Heather Litman was seventh in 22:33; classmate Leslie Heiling finished eighth in 22:42; Freshman Becky Frost took ninth in 22:54 and sophomore Kelly Devlin ran 11th in 23:16. A pair of seniors took the next two spots, Erica Wren was 16th in 24:31 and Mollie MacEachern 18th in 25:36. Sophomore Lisa Riedel took 19th with a time of 26:57.

"Those are good individual times," Norgren said. "Litman, Prost and Heiling are really burning up the course in the remainder of the pack."

Oak Park was unable to field a girls team to play Novi Thursday, so Norgren arranged a non-league three-way meet with Farmington Harrison and Plymouth Canton.

Harrison had beaten Novi twice in previous encounters, one a dual meet at Harrison and once in the Oakland County meet. But this time there was no denying the Wildcats, who raised their non-league record to 3-1 by defeating the Hawks 29-40. Canton was third with 80 points.

"The girls were just hungry," Norgren said. "I talked with them late, just sat down with them and said this is what you have to try to do this good, and they did it by taking third through

Novi tankers suffer first defeats

Novi's swim team returned to earth last week as strong teams from Northville and Brighton handed the Wildcats their first losses of the season, snapping the team's dual meet win streak at seven.

The Northville meet exceeded the expectations of coaches for both teams, who were aware the teams matched up very evenly — it was Northville's pre-stops against Novi's depth. The Mustangs prevailed by a nose, 88 1/2-84 1/2.

"Our depth kept us in the meet," Novi coach Larry Tehan agreed. "It was very close. Right up until the last relay, one more third place we got and they didn't would have made it a tie."

There were only three Novi firsts, but one was noteworthy — the Wildcat 200 medley relay team of Lynn Wohlfel, Deb Wohlfel, Linda Isell and Kris Blom clocked a 2:05.0 to qualify for the state meet.

Dawn Plankc gave Novi another first by winning the diving event.

Despite Northville's domination in firsts, the lead seasawed throughout, with Novi gaining the lead after diving, losing it after the Mustangs took 1-2 in the 500 yard freestyle, then regaining the lead when Deb Wohlfel won the backstroke in 1:10.9 as Melissa Beckold and Maggie Sigler were finishing third and fourth.

But Northville's Karen Brining touched out Isell in the breast stroke by 3 seconds, and Northville's six-point lead proved insurmountable with only the freestyle relay remaining. Novi won with Blom, Mara Delina, Lynn Wohlfel and Sue Johnson clocking a 4:11.0, but the Mustangs took second and third easily to hang on for the victory.

By contrast Novi's meet against Brighton Thursday was anything but a contest. The Bulldogs, one of the top Class A teams in the state, simply "blew us out of the pool," Tehan said. The score was 122-52.

"We didn't swim well, although we didn't really have any kind of a chance," Tehan said. "There was a bit of a letdown after the Northville meet, which the girls were really keyed up for. We had to be realistic and we really weren't very well prepared mentally."

Only the medley relay team swam well, clocking a 2:05.7 to better its state qualification time — but still the foursome could only take second.

Lynn Wohlfel took Novi's only first place with a 1:11.3 in the 100 backstroke.

"So far so good, I guess," Tehan said to sum up the team's progress this season. "We need to keep working and improving to achieve what we're capable of."

The squad will again find the going rough with a meet against Farmington Harrison on Tuesday, November 1. "They're a good team, it'll be a good test for us," Tehan said.

Warrior harriers post undefeated season

For the first time in history, a Walled Lake Western boys cross-country team has compiled a perfect dual meet record.

Dennis Keeney's 1983 harriers achieved that feat last week by defeating Livonia Churchill 29-31 in their final dual meet of the year. The Warriors finished the season with a 4-0 record in the Western Lakes Activities Association and a 7-0 state overall.

The Warriors will run in Class A regionals at Marshbank this Saturday in an attempt to qualify for the state meet.

"The problem is we have a perfect record, our best record ever, but you don't qualify for state on the basis of your dual meet record," said the warrior coach. "If we could get to the state by our dual record I know we'd finish in the top 10."

Three teams will advance from Western's regional, which includes 18 teams. Western faces tough opposition from Lakeland, Milford and Holly, according to Keeney. "The kids are just going to have to come through. It's not out of reach," he said. "The main slated for November 5 at Harland.

Against Churchill, Kyle Chura finished first, setting a new course record at the Warriors' home course of Willis Park. Chura clocked 16:41, bettering the previous record of 16:46 set by a Northville runner in 1981.

Rich Peck was fourth in 17:41, Don Mazur finished fifth, 17:44. Steve Creech was sixth in 17:49 and Tom Kallman claimed eighth place with a time of 18:09. Mark Tucker finished 11th in 18:43 and John Thompson came in 12th in 18:48.

"I feel good about our chances in the regionals," said Keeney. "We've got a mostly senior group that's worked very hard all year."

Central cagers net two more victories

The Vikings back in the 12th century never had it so easy.

The Walled Lake Central girls' basketball team won an easy pair of games last week, whipping Waterford 40-45, then downing Northville 55-40. Between them, Moti and Northville have a grand total of four wins this season.

Sherry Strohs led Central pumped in 19 points to lead the Vikings over Moti. Patty Fitzgerald and Shanna Anderson chipped in with 18 and 11 points respectively.

The Vikings only led by five going in to the fourth quarter, but outscored Moti 23-11 in the final stanza.

Rich Peck was fourth in 17:41, Don Mazur finished fifth, 17:44. Steve Creech was sixth in 17:49 and Tom Kallman claimed eighth place with a time of 18:09. Mark Tucker finished 11th in 18:43 and John Thompson came in 12th in 18:48.

"I feel good about our chances in the regionals," said Keeney. "We've got a mostly senior group that's worked very hard all year."

Floto paces Western

Walled Lake Western girls' cross-country squad saw its dual meet season end on a sour note as the Warriors dropped a 23-32 decision to Livonia Churchill last Thursday.

The setback gave the Warriors a final record of 6-2. Their only other loss was against Northville.

Lori Floto led the Warriors by finishing third with a time of 21:10, which established a new freshman record for some course at Willis Park.

Sara Nimmo was fifth overall for Walled Lake in 21:36, tying her best time at Willis Park. Heather Gillespie finished sixth with an effort of 21:39, also a personal best at Willis Park.

Betsy Giagola and Audrey Skoneczny finished eighth and 10th, respectively. Giagola clocked 21:49 and Skoneczny 22:39.

"The girls were definitely happy to run that last time at Willis," said Western coach Kim McKinley.

Western will run in Class A regionals at Marshbank Saturday morning against 18 other teams, including three of the toughest teams in southeast Michigan — Milford, Rochester and Rochester Adams.

Western, which finished sixth last year, will probably finish fourth in the state, according to McKinley. "We have the hardest regional in the state," she said.

The state meet is slated for November 5 at Harland. Only three teams from Western's regional will qualify.

The pool also is available for rental by community groups.

Holman wins contest

South Lyon's John E. Holman was guessed by Northville's Peter Lehr, take home the $10 first prize in this and the 47 points guessed by another Novi's Northville Record/Novi-Walled and the 47 points guessed by another Lake News Football Contest.

The tie-breaker was needed to differentiate Holman's entry from two other entrants who also missed just two games. His "guessimate" that 41 points would be scored in Saturday's Washington/Oregon battle was six too low.

NOVI-WALLED LAKE NEWS

The balloons provided a colorful event

Band fest successfully takes off

Bands and Balloons, a recent fundraiser sponsored by Novi High School Band Boosters, was high-flying success.

"We hope to make this an annual event," reported Neil Austin, fund raising chairperson. Austin also organized the event which brought in seven high school marching bands and 17 balloonists.

"This is a cultural and recreational activity we think can become a part of an annual activity," Austin said.

Based on the number of cars in the parking lot throughout the day, Austin estimated 2,500-3,000 people turned out for the event. The stands were filled for the band presentations, he said.

A pep band played before the two balloon lifts which were a feature of the event. Two hot air balloon races were held. In the morning race balloonists aimed at a target, working to drop a baggie on it. Those coming closest took first, second and third place.

In the second race, known as the Hare and Hounds, the balloonists chased another balloon.

The races were sanctioned by the American Ballooning Association. Balloon Pilots earned points toward the national competition.

Further activities included a pancake breakfast, following the morning race. To make the day even a little sweeter, the Novi High School band took a First division rating in the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association district competition held in conjunction with the festival.

This is the fourth consecutive year the band has received top ratings. The band was judged on its performance during a 15 minute period in which it presented a show. Judging begins the minute the band enters the field, and ends when the band leaves the field.

Each band is judged on execution of drill, style of marching, musical tone, difficulty of musical selections and the length of performance.

Novi's presentation included Beethoven's Ninth Symphony, "What a Feeling" from the movie Flashdance, featuring a trumpet solo by Paul Knopp and a trombone solo by Sean Murphy. It ended with "Greatest Love of All" which featured Melissa Jordan and Chris Viers on the F horn and Trumpet. The band is directed by Craig Strain.

High school marching band from Fowlerville, Southfield, Waterford, and the Novi High School were among those participating in the event.

The boosters charged $1 parking to help defray the cost of the event.

They also conducted a raffle throughout the day. Top prizes were a hot-air balloon ride for two and a toilet weekend for two at Sheraton Oaks.

Both prizes were won by Novi residents.

The amount raised is not yet known since receipts have not been tallied. But boosters are calling the day a successful one.

Proceeds of the event will go toward the purchase of band equipment and uniforms. A portion of the fund also will be earmarked for a major trip taken by the band as it represents the City of Novi and the school system.

Austin said he believes the event will be repeated, because it "draws folk in the city and will continue to build civic pride. We think we can draw a lot of people. It's a dramatic fall event."

He also offered thanks to the many parents who helped make the event successful. Commercial sponsors who "bought" a balloon for the day, also helped make the event a success, he added.

Bands and Balloons is the first of what Austin views as alternative ways of fund raising the group will be trying in the future.

However, until it is known whether the new types of fund raising will work the group will continue with the tried-and-true methods, Austin added.

Baptists mark 150th anniversary

The First Baptist Church of Walled Lake is celebrating its 150th anniversary with a series of special worship services at 7:30 p.m. November 2-6.

Evangelist during the series will be Dr. John Canine. Special music will be provided by James Burnett.

Featured speaker at the Wednesday, November 2, service will be Gary Cobb, captain of the Detroit Lions. Worship services in the morning race balloonists aimed at a target, working to drop a baggie on it. Those coming closest took first, second and third place.

The women of Bushnell Congregational Church of Novi will have their Christmas bazaar at Mill Race Historical Village, located on Griswold near Main Street in Northville. The bazaar is Friday, November 4 from 10 a.m. - 4 p.m.

Booths will offer Christmas decorations and ornaments, plus knitted, needle work and craft projects. There also will be jams, jellies, and baked goods, as well as forgotten treasures.

Cider, coffee and doughnuts will be available.

After the children went through local neighborhoods they returned to the church where they watched magic performed by "John the Magician" Hovanestian of Farmington, who donated his time for the show.

This is the fourth year the Faith Community's Outreach Committee sponsored the project.

Novi women involved include Debbie Timmerman, Peg Pointon, Molly Daley, Patti Hokett, Connie Ahrens, Clara Geddis, and Roberta Collins.

Faith Community United Presbyterian Church annual UNICEF Trick-or-Treat day was Saturday, October 22 from 2:30-5:30 p.m.

Program on elderly set to help family, friends

Having an elderly parent or friend can raise a variety of questions. Those questions can be answered by a program being sponsored by Oakland County.

The Oakland County Health Division is conducting a series of four weekly classes for individuals who are concerned with helping their parents, aging relatives, or friends maintain independent living.

Information will be offered on physical and psychological aspects of aging; safe use of drugs, communication difficulties; availability of community resources and dealing with situations and feelings. The classes will offer an opportunity for sharing of experiences to answer questions when advancing age creates special concerns and problems for families.

There is no charge, but pre-registration is required. Please call 424-7099 to register or for more information. Attendance will be limited.

Historical society invites conservation speaker

HISTORICAL SOCIETY: Dr. Karl R. Hosford of the state Department of Natural Resources will be the featured speaker at the 8 p.m. Thursday, October 27, meeting of the Commerce Township Historical Society. The meeting will be held at Stonecroft on Pontiac Trail, one-half mile south of West Maple Road in Walled Lake.

Hosford's topic will be "The History of Conservation in Michigan," a slide show and lecture tracing the conservation movement in Michigan from the 19th century to the present. The program is free and the public is invited to attend.

WALLED LAKE LIBRARY: The Walled Lake Library will sponsor a carved pumpkin contest at the library on Saturday, October 29, at 3 p.m. Those interested are invited to bring a carved pumpkin to the library for judging. Mayor Caspare LaMarche will be the pumpkin judge.

The library also plans a free Halloween make-up clinic Monday, October 31, from 5 to 6 p.m. Make-up will be applied free to trick or treaters ages 5 to 12. Children must be accompanied by an adult. For more information on the pumpkin contest or make-up clinic, call 624-3772.

WIXOM LIBRARY: The Wixom Public Library will show the film, "The Notorious Jumping Frog of Calaveras County" at 8 p.m. Wednesday, November 2. The movie presents Mark Twain's story of a frog jumping contest. For further information, call the library at 624-2512.

WIXOM VOTERS: Wixom residents are encouraged to attend a "Meet the Candidates" night for the upcoming Wixom city election. The meeting, sponsored by the League of Women Voters of West Oakland County, will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday, October 27, at Commerce Township's 150th anniversary hall scheduled for November 7 at the Commerce Township Richardson Center, 1485 Oakley Park Road. Everyone interested in participating in the sequential celebration is invited to attend the 7 p.m. meeting.

COMMERCIAL ANNIVERSARY: A meeting to plan the celebration of Commerce Township's 150th anniversary will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday, October 27, at Wixom City Hall. Attendance is free.

TWIN BEACH PTA: Deadline for entering the first annual Twin Beach PTA Christmas Craft Bazaar is November 1. The fee is $10 per seven-foot table. The Bazaar is scheduled for Saturday, December 3. For more information, call Bev Henderson at 363-1941, or Bev Earl at 621-2020.

HAUNTED HOUSE: The Walled Lake Jaycee Haunted House continues this week, Thursday through Saturday, from 7 p.m. to midnight. The house is located at 4594 Pontiac Trail. The house was constructed barrier-free to accommodate the handicapped.

Proceeds from the haunted house go toward Jaycee projects such as Christmas food baskets for the needy.

LAS VEGAS NIGHT: The Knights of Columbus Council 4064, will sponsor a Las Vegas Night from 7:30 p.m. to 1 a.m. Saturday, October 29, at St. Williams Church Hall, 135 O'Fishery, Walled Lake. Admission, which includes four gambling chips and a ticket for the $100 door prize, is $5. In addition to cash prizes, there will be beer, wine and food available.

BUSINESS SEMINAR: The Lakes Area Chamber of Commerce will present a business seminar on stress management at 4 p.m. today, October 19, at the Richardson Community Center, 1485 Oakley Park Road. Cost is $3.50 for Chamber members and guests and $5 for non-members. James Schmidt of Oakland University is the speaker.

DECKER PTO: The Decker Elementary PTO will sponsor its sixth annual Holiday Bazaar December 3. Crafters interested in renting space should contact Lynda McEvoy at 624-5292 or Carol Logan at 624-6855. Tables and space will be rented on a first come first served basis.

THEATER TRIP: The Wolverine Lake Parks and Recreation Department is sponsoring a trip to the Birmingham Theater on Friday, November 18, to see "Shot Thru the Heart," a musical comedy for mature audiences. The bus will leave the parking lot at village hall at 6:30 p.m. The play begins at 8 p.m. Tickets are $9, including transportation. Call Rita Klaviter at 624-1710 or 624-9197 for reservations or more information.

FREE IMMUNIZATION: The Oakland County Health Division will offer a free immunization clinic for Walled Lake and the surrounding area from 9:30 a.m. to noon, November 1, at Wixom Elementary School, 301 North Wixom Road.

Immunizations for measles, German measles, mumps, polio, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough are available. A parent or guardian must accompany children under 18 years of age. Please bring records of any previous immunizations.

The clinic will be held at the same time and place the first Tuesday of each month, with the next clinic scheduled December 6. For more information, call 424-7045 or 424-7046.

ART COMPETITION: Area artists are invited to participate in Oakland Community College's Purchase Prize Art Competition. Entries must be submitted by Thursday, November 3, at the Orchard Ridge Campus Art Department. Paintings, prints, drawings, sculpture and ceramics are acceptable. Entries will be on exhibit from November 9 through December 14, in the Orchard Ridge Theatre Art Gallery. Two $500 purchase prizes will be awarded. Prize money comes from the Helen L. DeRoy Testamentary Foundation.

DSO schedules concert in Novi

NOVI - The Detroit Symphony Orchestra will appear in Puerst Auditorium at 8 p.m. November 18, as part of a series of performances in five suburban cities.

Each of the five concerts feature a program of familiar and light classical music with broad stylistic appeal. The opening of the concert series coincides with the week of the orchestra's 70th anniversary celebration.

Entitled "Fit for a King," the program will include Beethoven's King Stephen Overture, Handel-Hart's Suite from Music for the Royal Fireworks, Bizet's "L'Arlesienne," Mussorgsky's "Promenade of the Nobles" and J. Strauss' "Empress Waltz". More familiar works include sections from Lerner and Loewe's "Camelot" and the Wedding March from Mendelssohn's "A Midsummer Night's Dream".

Michael Krajewski, assistant conductor of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, will conduct the performance.

ROBERT A. GRISSOM was involved in a NATO sponsored exercise participating in the Army's return of control to Germany and the Air Force's crested cap exercises. The exercises are designed to develop uniformity of doctrine, standardize procedures for rapid response to a crisis and demonstrate solidarity in commitment to NATO goals and objectives.

Grissom, son of Lloyd and Gladys Grissom of Northville, is a helicopter repairer with the First Armored Division in Hanau, West Germany.

ROBERT A. NACE, JR. has been assigned to Shepherd Force Base, Texas, after completing Air Force basic training. He is the son of Kathy and Monty Cerda, of Wixom. Nace will now receive specialized training in the aircraft maintenance field.

RORY WILSON has been appointed a sergeant in the Air Force after completing training in management, leadership, human relations and non-commissioned officer responsibilities. The son of Robert and Joyce Wilson of Novi, Wilson is a ground equipment mechanic at Sawyer Air Force Base, Michigan, with the 41st Munitions Maintenance Squadron. He is a 1979 graduate of Walled Lake Western High School.

SAMUEL C. POLLOCK has completed basic training at Fort Dix, New Jersey. He is the son of Beatrice Pollock of Novi. During the training, he received instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, tactics and other subjects. Pollock is a 1983 graduate of Lakeside High School.

BRIAN S. COTE has been assigned to the Air Force after completing training in management, leadership, human relations and non-commissioned officer responsibilities. The son of Robert and Joyce Wilson of Novi, Wilson is a ground equipment mechanic at Sawyer Air Force Base, Michigan, with the 41st Munitions Maintenance Squadron. He is a 1979 graduate of Walled Lake Western High School.

MICHAEL J. GARDELLA, son of Howard and Luella Gardella of Novi, has been promoted to the rank of sergeant in the Army. He is a fire control systems repairer at Fort Polk, Louisiana, with the 11th Infantry Division. He is a 1978 graduate of Novi High School.

PAUL W. PAPINEAU has reported for duty with the Commander-in-Chief U.S. Naval Forces Europe in London, England. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Papineau of Union Lake.

THOMAS E. PAIGE recently completed an around-the-world cruise. Paige is a crewman aboard the aircraft carrier USS Coral Sea, which recently changed homeports from San Francisco to Norfolk, Virginia. Ports visited during the cruise included Hawaii, Pusan, Korea, the Philippines and Cebu, France. Paige is the son of Edward and Joan Paige of Walled Lake.

Novi Parks staff slates several autumn events

Novi Parks and Recreation has a number of fall activities planned. There will be a visit with the Great Pumpkin for pre-kindergarten children Monday, October 31 from 3:30-5 p.m. at the Middle School South Cafeteria.

The fee of $1 per child will be collected at the door. There will be fun and games for everyone. Stories, cider and doughnuts also are planned.

Coming up in November is the annual Arts and Crafts Fair.

The event is scheduled November 5 from 10 a.m.-5 p.m. and November 6 from 10 a.m.-5 p.m.

It all takes place at the Novi Middle School North activities center, on Taft Road south of Eleven Mile.

Refreshments and entertainment will be offered.

Co-sponsors of the event are Novi Community Education and Novi Youth Center.

For further information contact 349-1976, 348-1200 or 349-8396.

Cable access group in need of volunteers

The Cable Access Committee of the Southwestern Oakland Cable Commission would like to invite citizens to participate in the health access advisory committee in order to provide a consolidation of resources of those interested in producing, programming, or providing technical support for cable television shows.

The commission serves Novi, Farmington and Farmington Hills.

A member of the cable access committee and Lark Samouelian, the SWOCC executive director, will moderate the initial meeting.

The initial meeting will be at Botsford General Hospital, November 2 at 2 p.m. in the Administration Building, classroom C.

The Access Advisory Committee will be governed by the rules prepared by the cable access committee.

Participating in the cable access programming will help insure the community progressive growth in technology, according to Samouelian.

Girls Scouts' ready to continue calendar sales

The Girl Scouts have finished taking orders for calendars and will deliver them from November 11-23. Calendars will again be available for direct sales at that time. Contact Carolyn Greenlee, area calendar sales chairperson for information.

A recent decision has made the basic leadership course mandatory for anyone participating with a troop, whether they are already with a troop or plan to be in the future. Barbara McKenzie is planning to set up a basic Leadership Course here in the Novi area if she hears from 10 people who are interested in obtaining this training close to home. Call her at 348-9385 or Sarah Eheart at 348-6596. The next leaders meeting will be for just Junior and Cadette leaders and will be at Village Oaks Elementary November 10. There must be one representative from each troop at the meeting or else call MacKenzie. Final Plans will be made for the December 7 date set for Carolling-for-Cans and for the December 8 Leader meeting and Christmas Get-Together.

TROOP 407: Three boys, Mark Skodak, Matt Chirgwin and Chris Shultz have returned from a Boys Leadership Training weekend at Camp Agawan. They were accompanied by Gary Skodak and Gil Shultz. They were taught skills which they in turn will be sharing at an upcoming weekend when they will compete with other area Boy Scouts.

The number in this troop has doubled, making it necessary for the troop to start looking at way of transporting their gear. Presently they are conducting a Candy Sale to obtain funds to help with overhauling a flat bed trailer to suit their need to carry gear.

The next committee meeting for adults connected with the troop will be November 9. The troop is looking for even more boys in the age group 10½-18 years. Even those with no prior Scout experience are invited to join the troop that meets Monday evening at 7:30 p.m. at Middle School North.

October 17 at Pontiac General Hospital. Beth Columbine weighed five pounds and five ounces and April Marie weighed six pounds two ounces. They join a brother Scott, 5. Grand parents are Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Skeltis of Novi and Dr. and Mrs. C.W. Rember of Utica and great-grandmother Mary Skeltis of Novi.

Mr. and Mrs. John Tymensky of Whipple Street attended the first Holy Communion of their granddaughter Deborah Ann at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Hersh in Dexter, with a family dinner following. Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. John Tymensky, Jr. and family and Mrs. Mary Skeltis.

Mrs. Anna Gargalino, a longtime resident of Novi and director of OLHSA services in the Lakes and Novi area for more than seven years, was guest of honor at a retirement party last Wednesday at the Novi Community Building.

Special ceremonies commemorating the graduation of Reverend Richard Henderson from the Drew University doctoral program were held at the Faith Community United Presbyterian Church Friday Evening.

BEVERLY MANOR: The Beverly Manor Community Council sponsored a program on "The Confused Person" last week with Linda Mondoux coordinating the program. She is a member of the council and a clinical nurse specialist at Harper Grace Hospital.

Members of the Novi community who would like to work at Grace Hospital are asked to call 477-2000. John Christensen, Activity director has instituted a new program call "Ah La Carl" which is a bedside program for patients who cannot come to the program. He brings a stereo, plants and other things to them.

Special entertainment this week was 10 members of the Novi High School National Society who came and sang. They also furnished refreshments. Another group will be coming in with guitars and banjos this coming week.

KinderCare Nursery school will be helping with the Halloween party when all 35 will come in costume and prizes will be given. This group recently adopted four of the residents as grandparents.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY: Officers Cheryl Marshall, Audrey Blackburn and Carolyn Polhman attended the Fall Conference in Flint. Committee Chairpersons highlighted the auxiliary programs and goals for 1984 and a school for presidents and secretaries was held.

The Auxiliary is planning to send several Novi High School girls to "Girls' State" at Central Michigan in July. It has been several years since Novi has been represented and we would like some co-sponsorships from the community. If your organization or business would be interested in helping a student, call Cindy Polhman at 474-7048.

The fourth Tuesday every month members of the Post and Unit meet for a social evening. This past Tuesday a film "Two Worlds of Hong Kong" was shown. Next regular business meeting will be November 8 at the V.F.W. Post Home on Grand River. Women are eligible for membership in the Auxiliary if they are a mother, wife, sister, daughter or granddaughter of an American Legion member or a deceased veteran, or were a member of the Armed Forces themselves. If you would like further information call Loretta Olson 453-2347 or Audrey Blackburn at 474-8504.

ATHLETIC BOOSTERS: The next meeting will be Wednesday, November 2 at 8 p.m. in Room 107. An invitation is again extended by President Jack Fisher to everyone, not only parents, who is interested in the athletic program at Novi High School. Plans will be made for the Fall Banquet with Jan Paquette acting as chairman when parents will bring desserts and coaches will meet with player and present awards, letters, and other things. Ron James who has been heading up the very successful concession stand project will report on the sales of painter's hats, the new license plates in green and white reading "Novi Wildcats," and T-shirts.

Everyone is reminded of the family season passes that still are available from Jack McGillup, membership chairperson. Following the program film clips will be shown of the last few football games.

ORCHARD HILLS PTO: An organizational meeting was held with officers for the coming year elected. They are President Joan Weinberg, Vice President Jan Gray, Secretary Mary Sallee, and Treasurer Sandra Baetens. Plans were made to work with the other two elementary schools to have special speakers such as the very successful one held last week with speaker Mary Pascucci who spoke at Orchard Hills School with about 80 in attendance.

The P.T.O. also planned to start their annual membership drive during the parent teacher conference October 26 and 27 in conjunction with the annual book fair. Membership per family is $2 per year. It entitles members to discounts on school activities. The monies from the membership drive will be used on special projects like a special assembly or special speaker for the children.

County offers health services to needy

A new health care program for people in the Lakes Area is being implemented through the Walled Lake office of the Oakland Livingston Human Services Agency (OLHSA).

Purpose of the program is to help people who do not have health insurance but need medical attention. Offered in conjunction with the Citizens for Health Care Committee, the program will provide free or reduced cost medical attention for eligible residents.

Doctor W.R. Rech of the Walled Lake Medical Clinic and Doctors Ronald Hurwitz and Robert Landsdorf of the Pontiac Trail Clinic, along with other area physicians, have volunteered their services on a rotating basis to provide care for people who have no health coverage due to unemployment or other circumstances which have led to the loss of health insurance benefits.

Medicaid recipients are not eligible for the program.

Individuals applying for the service must contact the OLHSA office in Walled Lake at 624-5520. Appointments can only be made through OLHSA personnel, and there will be a screening procedure to assure that individuals seeking medical attention are genuinely in need and do not have medical insurance of any kind.

In some cases, extenuating circumstances regarding need will be considered by the committee on a case-by-case basis.

For more information and specific details, call the OLHSA office at 624-5520.

Course in adjusting to divorce offered

A series of four group sessions designed to help people cope with divorce is being offered by the Third Judicial Circuit Court of the State of Michigan, Friend of the Court, Family Counseling and Mediation Division. The sessions are for those exploring divorce, who are in the divorce process or who have already divorced.

Jack Bradford, a staff member of the Family Counseling Mediation Division, will lead the educational group meetings at the Newburg United Methodist Church, 36500 Ann Arbor Trail in Livonia. The church is located between Wayne and Newburg Roads. The meetings will be from 7:30-9 p.m. Wednesday evenings beginning November 2. The cost is $3 each night or $10 for the series. Those unable to pay are still welcome. Discussions will focus on "Coping with Personal and Emotional Turmoil" — November 2, "Dealing with Attorneys and the Court System" — November 9, "Helping Your Children to Cope" — November 16, "Developing New Social and Interpersonal Relationships" — November 30. For further information call 224-5266.

Methodist church sets biennial harvest dinner

The United Methodist Women's group of the Northville First United Methodist Church has scheduled its biennial Harvest Dinner and Mini Bazaar November 8 in the church fellowship hall.

Dinners have been scheduled at 5, 6 and 7 p.m. Ticket holders may choose the setting best suited for their schedules. Since seating is limited at each time, early ticket purchase is suggested.

Dinner tickets will be available after Sunday services as well as in the church office during the morning hours. Adult tickets are $5; for children 10 and younger they are $2.50.

The menu will feature a traditional chicken pie served with potatoes, gravy, vegetables, salad, rolls, beverage and a choice of homemade pie.

In addition, diners will be able to do some pre-holiday shopping at the mini bazaar. United Methodist Women members have contributed a variety of stuffed animals, craft items, Christmas decorations and ornaments, needlework, children's novelties, jams and jellies, etc. Most items sold at the bazaar will be priced under $5.

For further information, call the church office at 349-1144 before noon.

Juried art show slated

The Oakland County Cultural Affairs group will present a juried exhibit of the paintings of Farmington Artists' Club to be displayed throughout November at the County Galleria of the Executive Office Building, 1200 North Telegraph Road, in Pontiac.

This active group of 150 artists has been in existence since 1964 and members must not only be working artists, but offer service to the community as well.

The Farmington Artist's club offers free classes to senior citizens, supplements the Picture Lady program in the schools, and members have worked with the Arttrain.

The exhibit of approximately 75 paintings is open to the public without charge Monday through Friday during business hours. A reception for the artists, to which the public is invited, will be Friday, November 4 from 5-8 p.m. The Oakland County Cultural Council is made possible in part from a grant from the Michigan Council for the Arts.

Parts and Service

We offer fast, dependable service with experienced mechanics and a large stock of genuine John Deere parts and accessories. Come in and see for yourself.

John Deere has rugged, dependable chain saws for every woodcutting need.

John Deere's chain saws are built tough to handle woodcutting jobs quickly. And you can buy any model with confidence because we don't cut corners on quality, even on our smallest saw. With 10 models — 27.9 to 78.6 cc's — available, there's a saw right for your particular needs: professional, casual or somewhere in between. All models have a sprocket-nose guidebar — 12 to 27 inches long — for less friction, longer chain life. Deep tining chisel or semi-chisel

Ten models — 27.9 to 78.6 cc's. All have sprocket-nose guidebar, 12 to 27 inches long. Automatic oiler. Counterbalanced crankshaft. Most models also have an isolated engine for operating comfort and a throttle-trigger interlock system.

chain with built-in guard links to help prevent snagging. And a counterbalanced crankshaft connecting rod for smooth operation. The adjustable automatic oiler has just two moving parts for easier maintenance. The V-series saws also have an isolated engine that dampens vibration for more operating comfort. Plus a throttle-trigger interlock to guard against accidental operation. See us today for a quality-built John Deere chain saw.

RELIEVE YOUR CENTRAL HEATING SYSTEM WITH A KERO-SUN® PORTABLE HEATER—AND SAVE MONEY. Stay warm. Save money. Put a Kero-Sun® portable heater to work for you and give your costly central heating system a break. With its advanced design, a Kero-Sun® portable heater is 98.9% fuel-efficient—far better than coal, wood, central gas and oil heating. The money you spend on fuel returns to you as heat. And it costs just pennies per hour to run. KERO-SUN® HEATERS SAVE YOU MONEY WHILE THEY KEEP YOU WARM.

1 KERO-CAN & 5 gals. of fuel at half price with NEW HEATER PURCHASE

"AND THINGS THAT GO BUMP IN THE NIGHT"

Halloween is for kids—and taking pictures of them. Snap some shots of them dressing to go out in their costumes. You might try some of the new high-speed film for pictures by porchlight. Set your camera to UNDEREXPOSE about 2 stops to create scary silhouettes. Low-angle shots make tots—and young goblins—look bigger.

The new 100 speed film, now labeled ISO 1000, is great for low-light pictures. If your camera will only set to 800, that is close enough for good results. Use 1/60th or your widest aperture as a basis for auto exposure.

If you wish, you can use regular-speed film and flash. Be sure to warn children before you shoot, or you might frighten and even temporarily blind an unsuspecting youngster. "Redeye," caused by a flash too close to the lens, will make kids look even spookier. Multi-image filters and color filters also put more fun in Halloween photography.

For more ways to save the Halloween fun, see us at
