If the Clarkston Rotary Club has any say, the Labor Day Parade will soar to new heights this year.

Rotary Club President Jeff Lichty has been trying to organize an accom-panying parade in the sky this year. He hopes to hire a group of biplane pilots to fly above the parade in military fashion. Though Tom McCloskey, fellow Rotarian and parade chairman, said the added event was not likely, Lichty said he hasn't given up hope.

Growth in the Clarkston area has led the school employees credit union on M-15 to explore offering its services to all Independence and Brandon residents.

Every resident of the townships of Independence and Brandon may soon be able to do their personal banking at the local credit union.

Trustees in Independence Township unanimously adopted Tuesday a resolution of support to expand member ship at the Clarkston/Brandon Credit Union.

Located at 8055 Ortonville Road, the credit union was established in 1957 and currently serves employees and students from the townships' school districts as well as small employer groups based in the two communities

She said credit unions "have more of an opportunity to be flexible in serving their members," not to mention fewer service fees.

Therefore, the bank plans to seek status as a "community-based credit union," through the state's Financial Institutions Bureau.

"It was just a natural expansion for us to seek because we have served the community for such a long time and because of the growth along the M-15 corridor," Bullard said.

Currently, the credit union has 7,800 members and $28 million in assets. Being chartered as a communi-ty-based credit union would mean that all residents of Independence or Brandon townships would be eligible for membership.

Credit unions are owned and operated by their members and return financial earnings back to members in the form of low service fees and interest rates.

Residents' requests for memberships have increased significantly in the past five years, Bullard said, attributing the rise to area population growth. However, simply applying for the

Seed money to help preserve tree canopies

BY CAROLYN WALKER STAFF WRITER

Officials in Springfield Township hope to give nature a hand soon by teplenishing the tree canopies covering rural roads in that community — with the help of a $4,000 state grant. Their first efforts will take place along Bridge Lake Road between Rattalee Lake Road and Davisburg Road. possibly in October.

If all goes well, the Bridge Lake Tree canopy will be replenished with trees rescued from the Shep-herd's Hollow golf course development now under construction at Colombiere Center on Big Lake Road. The one-mile stretch of Bridge Lake Road was recently paved and the planting of trees along its edges was approved as a part of the special assess-ment district terms, said Supervisor Collin Walls. Walls said on Wednesday that he hopes the Bridge Lake Road planting will be the first of many for the township, though an official plan is not yet in place. Last Monday, he convened a meeting with repre-sentatives of Detroit Edison, the township board and planning commission, the Road Commission for Oak-land County and homeowners associations to investigate options for planting in the future.

Officials are considering creating a township nurs-ery on township park property where trees such as hickories and oaks could be cultivated for future transplantation.

The township, he said, received a $4,000 grant from the Michigan Department of Natural Resources several months ago. They used the money to conduct a study of the township's canopy and to put together a multi-faceted, educational program. The Bridge Lake Road reforesting will represent the first facet.

Government officials have since applied for additional money from the DNR and Detroit Edison that could be used in planting, Walls said. They do not yet' know whether they will receive the grants. Approximately 20-25 people attended the Monday night meeting at Hart Center in downtown Davisburg.

They seemed to be pretty supportive, in general, of what we're doing and where we're heading," Walls said.

The township's goal, he said, is "to save, to the extent that we can, our tree-lined roadways. The result of the study will be to look at township, county and utility policies and standards that affect saving

"I presume that the end result of this would impact on township policies and the master plan.

Elizabeth McKenney, who has been the township's planning coordinator since May, has taken on the tree-planting as a pet project. McKenney, a Huntington Woods resident, has a master's degree in landscape architecture.

Of consideration is whether the community would support the expansion, thus the reason for seeking official support from trusteès in Independence Township, Bullard said.

There are many more (credit inions) that are not community based," she suid. However, in the case of the Clarkston/Brandon Credit, Union, membership would grow without disrupting the geographical boundaries of the charter, which would remain within the two school districts. Bullard said she hoped the credit union would submit materials to the Financial Institu-tions Bureau in September, but that it was not possible to pre-dict when the government department would make a deci-

"We're in the very early stages of this ... and there's a lot of paperwork," she added...

Commenting on plans by a group of local businessmen to ppen a state-chartered bank in the former NBD bank building in downtown Clarkston, Bullard said, "Their intent is to serve the business community ... They're taking on a whole different niche in the community."

So rather than competing, the two banks "would strongly complement each other," she said.

lunch in the cafeteria of Clarkton's new high school, some HS students offered these and her initial impressions Thursay. And depending on whom où talked to and what they ere eating — and what kind of day they were having seemed to come down to this: It was the best of eating times, the vorst of eating times, or just not nough eating time.

Time crunch?

Pete Betzing, 16, said he liked the new dining experience, sort

"I think it's great --- as long as you get here early," Pete said. The lines are long (for cafeteria food) and we only get a 25-minute lunch period. In the old (CHS) building we got 45 min-

When asked about the shortened lunch periods, CHS Assistant Principal Ron Santavicca explained that the change resulted from the new school's return to a closed campus.

Because of crowded conditions in the cafeteria of the old building, we used to let the seniors leave the campus at lunch time, Santavicca explained. "We fig. ured that if kids were going to go off campus for lunch, they would need at least 45 minutes to get back and forth and eat. And since we were giving the seniors 45 minutes, we had to give everyone else 45 minutes. too.

Santavicca pointed out that with the opening of the new CHS, space is no longer an issue at lunch time: The school's new cafeteria easily accommodates the entire student body in three lunch shifts. He said that, though food lines dragged and lunch periods overlapped during the cafeteria's first week of oper-ation, each day ran smoother than the day before.

"Before we decided on a 25minute lunch period, we did a lot of research on it," Santavicca said. "We also looked at other schools in Oakland County."

Still, some CHS students said they didn't think 25 minutes was going to be enough time — even after the cafeteria's openingweek glitches were resolved.

Senior Katherine Williams, 17, aid pupils needed about 35 min-

Freshman Rochelle Donahoo swallowed a mouthful of pizza and said, "I like it. There are more choices here than there were in middle school." According to Janet Meads, the district's director of food service, the new CHS cafeteria does fea

"I like the pizza," Dan said. "T eat pizza almost everyday."

So why was he munching on a turkey sandwich? "I have a cross-country meet today," Dan said with a smile. Junior Brett Quantz agreed that the school's food made the grade. "The food's not bad," Brett said, between crunches of. nachos. "I can deal with this everyday. I like the basics:

pizza, nachos, burgers Senior Andreas Nielsen, who was dining on a salad that day, also had no complaints about the cuisine. "It's good, so far," Andreas said.

However, some CHS tastetesters disagreed on the verdict. Francis Hodges, a junior, said that he missed having "Little Caesar's Pizza" as a choice in school lunches. And when he was asked if he would like to see commercial fast-food vendors in the school cafeteria, Francis said, "Yeah, that would be good."

"It was better before, when kids could go out (for lunch)," Shaun said. "You can't go out to eat Taco Bell, anymore. I wouldn't mind staying in if we could have something better to eat ... I thought we were going to have something like a McDonald's in here. Last year, they told us that we were going to have something like that.

When Shaun was reminded that CHS has a cafeteria contract with Pepsi — and McDon-ald's sells Coca-Cola — he said, "Well, Taco Bell, Wendy's and Pizza Hut sell Pepsi, so those wouldn't be a conflict." Katherine Williams, a senior, agreed with Shaun that the food quality didn't match the ambiance

'I really don't care for it,' Katherine said. "They spent a lot of money on the cafeteria and I just think the food could be better. It's still cafeteria food."

Shaun Chiodo, Katherine Williams and Pete Betzing said they would welcome commercial food in the cateteria

"This school's so big so we don't see our friends like we used to," Katherine said. "This is the only time we get."

Dave Sage, a junior, agreed. "In the old days, you could go into the lobby to talk," Sage said. 'Now you have to sit at your table ... Even if we got out at 2:25 (p.m.) again, I'd like a longer lunch."

Food: fans and foes

And speaking of lunch, some students described it as "mmm, good."

Junior Lisa Smith said she didn't like the idea, however. Lisa, who explained that she always packs a lunch from home because "it's cheaper," said making commercial food available to students would promote an unhealthy message

"It's the fat content in commercial food that I don't like," Lisa said. "Too many people eat out regularly and are heavy-set because of it. This would just be encouraging it.

The food fight notwithstanding, students unanimously endorsed their surroundings.

Blake Coe, a junior, praised the spacious lunch room. "There's actually a place for everyone to sit," he said. Lisa Williams added, "I like the colors they chose - the bright yellow walls. I also like all the windows. There's a warm and open feeling in here. You don't feel isolated. You can see the trees.

"We have surrounded ourselves with the things we love," says co-owner Sue Rontal. The women's venture began in Franklin 11 years ago with a shipment of painted furniture from Taos, examples of New Mexican art that Sue and her husband had collected for years. Close friends and sisters-in-law, Ellen and Sue were convinced that the Detroit area should be introduced to Southwest decor, so they rambled down dusty dirt roads and onto reservations in New Mexico on a quest to bring home the best of the West. Their Franklin gallery spawned an area-wide interest in Folk Art and silver jewelry that endures today.

In the new Mesa Arts storefront, art-glass plates and Mission-style lamps share space with Hopi Indian ceremonial masks, figure paintings by Native American medicine men and primitive whirligigs. You'll find contemporary ceramics, quilts, porcelains and hand-wrought jewelry.

The furniture, all made by hand, is imbued with a mix of cultural traditions, including Native American, Mexican, Spanish and Scandinavian. You can personalize it to fit your own design tastes. "The pieces are so sophisticated they complement every decor," says Ellen.

Since the mid 1980s, eyewear has emerged as a fashionable accessory. Perhaps it took a while to recover from the bloated styles of the disco decade. But more likely, said Gogosha, it's been the heightened awareness about fashionable clothing, from formal attire to casual clothing to sneakers. In many ways, the popularity and talk of evewear as an "art" parallels the recent emergence of jewelry as an accepted artform, said Dr. William Koppin, an optometrist and owner of Shades

Several highly acclaimed jewelry exhibits have toured the country, including a show two years ago at the Cranbrook Art Museum.

Next year, Koppin plans to sponsor an exhibit of eyewear created by European artists commissioned by Anne et Valentin, a leading international retailer of eyewear. The exhibit, said Koppin, likely will be held at a local

Should they or shouldn't they? Observers wonder about an Engler, Fieger debate

The Observer & Eccentric/ SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1998

BY PAT MURPHY STAFF WRITER Even at the risk of being splattered with mud, Gov. John Engler should debate Democratic challenger Geoffrey Fieger at least once maybe more, according to Oakland County Republi-

"Debates generally help to inform the public," said Jim Willoughby, a delegate from Birmingham. "But would a debate help if it ends up in name calling?" • Our affection for Chablis also has a very personal side.

About 20 months ago, we paid a visit to Chateau Chantal on Michi-gan's Old Mission Peninsula. The winery was hosting a winemaker intern with deep family roots in France's Chablis region. Jean-Francois Bordet had an infectious grin. We knew he wanted to speak to the peo-ple in our group, but he couldn't. He spoke only French. Part of his internwhin was to learn to speak English. Eleanor engaged in French conversa tion with him and learned his family history.

In no time flat, Bordet learned English. Several weeks ago, we visit-ed his family in Chablis and met his 75-year-old grandfather Roger Seguinot, the man behind Bordet's

"I love chili, and I love supporting the different groups it will benefit," said Horn in between cus-tomers on a busy morning at Native West, a Southwest gallery she co-owns with her husband, Ken.

"Fall Festival needed something a little differ ent this year, and the cookoff fits in, so why not!" So far, 38 people have signed up to cook in the International Chili Society sanctioned event to benefit-Plymouth service organizations, and, school groups. During our interview, six people called for information, and there was an applica-tion from a cook in the mail. Horn is expecting to fill all 50 spots with cooks from Michigan, and all over the Midwest. She has gotten calls from cooks in Texas, New York, Oklahoma, Pennsyl-vania and Kentucky who are interested in participating. The winner of both the Sep 12 and Oct. 4 cookoff advances to the World Championship Chili Cookoff Saturday, Oct. 10 in Las Vegas, and a shot at the $25,000 grand prize. The winner of the Sept. 12 cookoff will Horn got booked after attending her first chill cookoff in 1983, "Everyone was having so much fun, and I wanted to be part of it," she said. In 1985 she and Ken cooked together at a cookoff in Saline, and even though their Fireworks Chili placed eighth, they decided to return in 1986 for another try at a trophy. They placed third and won first place in 1987.

They competed together until they got to the point when "I wanted to add a new spice, and he said 'no.' He wanted to add heat, and I said 'no.' got to the point when the chili was being pulled in two different directions, and it made. sense for us to make our own."

Since Annette thought of the name, her chili is Fireworks Chili No: 1, and Ken's Fireworks Chili No. 2.

Eating healthy food helps kids who need it most

Between 40 and 50 percent of chil-dren who start school this fall will be LIVING BETTER SENSIBLY labeled as having Attention Deficit Hyperactive Disorder. Some of these kids may have major hearing losses that are undiagnosed, some may fidget a little more than others, but most are simply "being kids" and labeled as having ADHD. These kids will be over-medicated on drugs such as Ritalin whose use is impaired growth These kids generally have a poor diet to begin with.

The effect of sugar and artificial colors and dyes on the behavior of children remains controversial. In children with ADHD, the consensus seems to be that sugar in conjunction with caffeine, artificial colors, dves, and additives can exacerbate this condition. A twelve-ounce can of caffeinated soft drink consumed twelve-ounce can of calibrated soft drink consumed by a child is equivalent to the effect of four cups of coffee consumed by an adult. Elaine Webber, a nurse practitioner at Botsford General Hospital in Farmington Hills, says "The problem with the diets of children who are truly ADHD is not what they are eating, but what they are not eating." Too much junk blocks out the ability to obtain healthy nutrients which can help the brain to A CONTRACT OF A function more efficiently." She also hits the nail right on the head by saying, We educate our kids in the classroom on the hazards of drug abuse, but then provide them with junk food (i.e. "hotdog lunches") and line them up at the nurses office for their daily dose of Ritalin or other powerful mood altering drugs." According to Scott Price, Recreational Therapist and Supervisor at Southgate Center for Mentally Ill and Mentally Retarded Adults, "We need more information to determine the chemical breakdown of foods and how their excesses or deficiencies can control behaviors. Psychotropic drugs are always the first line of therapy used when treating the mentally ill which can cause weight gain and other unwanted side effects. Although clients may feel that they are limited by an altered diet, healthy eating can help them tremendously and is definitely implemented for their benefit." On a different note, 5-year-old Alec Popp of Walled Lake, was diagnosed with cerebral palsy since birth. He has very low muscle tone and his trunk is specifi-cally affected. He requires a great amount of physical, occupational and speech therapy. On a positive note, he is highly motivated to eat a healthy diet, and takes a variety of nutritional supplements which have helped him manage his condition. Alec's mom, Debble, met a woman at Alec's physical therapy clinic who told her about a treatment at "Euromed" in Poland with an Adeli "space" suit. This is a modified version of the Cosmonaut space suit and is customized for each child. When Debbie and Alec flew to Poland for this treatment, they found that wearing the suit put Alec's body into normal body posture for the first time in his life. When in the suit, joints and muscles get kinesthetic information and Alec is able to do things he normally can't do. Alec goes for therapy for an entire month every three to four months, wears the suit six days per week for that month, and has four to five hours of therapy per day with two to three therapists. It is estimated that he will need six bouts of therapy, and this can vary for each child with cerebral palsy. This treatment is quite costly, and efforts are being made to start a program in the United States. You can donate to the Adeli Suite Fund by sending a tax deductible con-tribution to P.O. Box 4583, Troy, Mich. 48099-4583, or call (248) 585-4042 for more information.

Plymouth isn't the only place chiliheads are gathering. Al's Copper Mug in Walled Lake is hosting its 12th annual Chili Cookoff on Sunday, Sept. 18.

No beans about it, this cookoff, although not officially sanctioned by the ICS, follows its rules, and is seriously fun. "We start cooking at noon," said Al Karner of West Bloomfield, who is hosting the cookoff with help from his daughter Patty. "We'll have 15 or 16 cooks. Everyone has a good time. People really get a kick out of it." In addition to bragging rights to having the best chili, cooks are competing for first, second, third or the People's Choice Award. The cookoff will feature the Rambling Country Band, and 50/50 raffle. Hot dogs, Italian sausage, Buffalo burgers and hamburgers will be cooked on the outside grill, Event proceeds benefit the Oakland Food Bank, and donations of canned goods are appreciated.

doesn't take long to realize that when Valerie Yova talks, she's holding back. Not emotionally, but vocally.

Her voice shifts gears. There's a slow, even modulation. A lighter, high-er-pitched expression. Then, of course, there's aural nirvana.

much from the world. This is my way of giving something back. For me, it's a spiritual issue."

Over the last 15 years, Yova has learned what a person does when time, fate and desire intersect. She's stood at the proverbial crossroad where time engaged in making art is replaced with time spent thinking about art and planning performances for other artists.

The lesson learned well, Yova is moving on. Getting back to her spiritual roots. Shifting into a higher gear.

Practical realities

Since winning the prestigious Metropolitan Opera Auditions, in her last year as a grad student at New Eng-land Conservatory, Yova's spirit hasn't flown as much as she would've liked. Practical realities dictated that she pursue jobs outside of singing. In the late 1980s Yova toured with regional opera companies, including the Pittsburgh Opera Company, where she performed the Countess in "Marriage of Fiagaro." Feeling a bit burned out, she moved from her home in Akron, Ohio, and took a job as music director at St. George Romanian Orthodox Cathedral in Southfield.

At the time, she was also auditioning for singing roles. An audition before Fedora Horowitz, founder of the Lyric Chamber Ensemble, proved especially fateful.

Shortly after winning the audition, she was asked to join the Lyric's administrative staff. That was eight f you're thinking about r you re thinking about calling two of this sea-son's early fall art fairs "quaint," just a few words of homespun advice: Forget about it, Neither the elegant "Art in the Park" in downtown Birmingham nor the sprawling "Art & Apples" in Rochester – both ranked among the top 20 art shows in the country by Sunshine Artist magazine - could be considered as weekend folly or a mere stroll through the park.

through the park. Both art festivals will be held Saturday-Sunday, Sept. 12-13, Arguably, "Art in the Park" and "Art & Apples" offer insight into how art festivals can bring together a community and raise funds for local nonprofit organizations.

The 33rd annual "Art & Apples" is the single largest event in the Rochester area, with most proceeds going to the orga-nizing agency, Paint Creek Cen-ter for the Arts.

Meanwhile, this year, money raised during "Art in the Park" will be shared among several Birmingham-based nonprofits and Common Ground, a countywide service organization that provides crisis intervention, drug education and victims assistance programs. Until this year, Common Ground, which has organized "Art in the Park" for the last 27 years, used funds generated at-the art fair to cover costs to operate its crisis line.

Earthy: The unglazed, colored porcelain figures by Carolyn Dulin of Rochester are featured in "Art & Apples," held in Rochester Municipal Park.

Earlier this year, however, the Birmingham City Commission held up Common Ground's permit to hold the art fair in Shain Park. Reportedly, the commission yielded when Common Ground agreed to share part of the funds raised with local nonprofits.

Yet another strange case, perhaps, of politics mixing with art.

Rite of passage

Over three decades, these two art-for-the-masses festivals always held on the weekend after Labor Day - have become so widely anticipated that organizers proudly claim a role for their respective events in the annual rite of passage into fall. "There's a feeling that people just expect ('Art in the Park said Nancy Clark of Bloomfield Hills, chair of the event, which fills Shain Park and adjoining streets with 170 artists booths, live entertainment and food vendors.

"We're considered a kick-off to fall, a celebration of the closing of summer and the beginning of autumn."

Several miles away in Rochester, where "Art & Apples" began in the mid-1960s as a way to promote the season of applepicking, cider-making and piebaking, the "rite of passage" has become a full-fledge tradition for Oakland County residents.

But that may change to include residents of Wayne County.

In recent years, more than 80 percent of the upwards of 100.000-person two-day crowd has come from the county.

This year, "Art & Apples" has

Shortly after President Clinton ordered the bombing of a terrorist camp and a chemical plant in response to the U.S. Embassy bombings in Africa, the comparisons to "Wag the Dog" were immediate, and, perhaps, inevitable.

It's not just conspiracy nuts who find connections between reality and makebelieve of the silver screen.

For many Americans, movies are an escapist delight, and a means to inter-pret history. Or with "Primary Colors," Wag the Dog," and "The American President," some might argue, also a Hollywood backdrop for current events.

Noted film critic Gene Siskel has a simple warning: "You can over-interpret movies.

Yet conversely, argues Siskel, some movies need to be taken to task and challenged for perpetuating simplistic or stereotypical characters.

(McFarland & Co., $28,50) A Place for Summer: A Narrative History of Tiger Stadium By Richard Bak

(Wayne State University Press, $34.95)

BY HUGH GALLAGHER

B5(NO)

Baseball is almost as much fun to read about as it is to watch. Every year sees the publication of new books on the sport that was once "America's Pastime." Though baseball has lost some of its status with sports fans, this year has helped to revive interest with the New York Yankees winning at record pace and Mark McGwire and Sammy Sosa battling for the home run record.

In Detroit, it hasn't been a pretty year. But as we say good-bye to Buddy Bell and get ready for the World Series (Yankees and Braves?), these two books will provide lots of material for discussion.

Edward Pappas GLORY teaches in the communications department Wayne State University and lives in Warren. Wil Ri , ball Hall of La Linkugel teaches at the University of Kansas. These baseball wonks have written a fascinating book profiling 17 players who blazed briefly, brilliantly in the major leagues before their careers were cut short, denying them entry into that most hallowed of Hall of Fames, the one in Cooperstown.

Actually, the book makes the argument that some players deserve consideration despite slightly shortened careers. They provide strong statistical and anecdotal evidence that Minnesota stars Kirby Puckett and Tony Oliva deserve considera-

But the majority of players profiled never had a chance to rack up Puckett and Oliva statistics. They were sometimes vic-tims of their own enthusiastic playing and sometimes victims of tragic accidents, on and off the field.

Perhaps the saddest case of all was Tony Conigliaro. The Red Sox hometown hero was touted to join the pantheon with Ted Williams and Carl Yastremski until he was hit by a pitched ball on Aug. 18, 1967. Conigliaro spent eight days in the hospital and would never be the same again. He tried several comebacks, none successful. Tony C died in 1990 at only 45 years old, after experiencing years of medical problems and a growing personal bitterness.

On the other hand, Cleveland pitching ace Herb Score's career was destroyed when he was hit in the head by a line drive off the bat of Gil McDougald, who never got over the injury he caused to

Other fascinating stories include Pistol Pete Reiser, the sensational Dodger outfielder who would surely have joined his Brooklyn teammates of the '40s in the Hall of Fame except that he kept smacking into walls chasing fly balls; Thurman Munson, who was on target to be another Yankee in Cooperstown except for his love of flying that ended in a tragic crash during a flight home to Ohio; and Smokey Joe Wood the Kansas Cyclone who was regarded as a rival to Walter Johnson and Cy Young until he ruined his arm in a fall.

For Detroit fans, the story of Mark Fidrych will be a reminder of one sweet summer when "The Bird" was the talk of baseball and America. Fidrych burned up the American League in his rookie year and drew crowds with his transcendental mound activities. As we all know, Fidrych threw out his arm and never knew any but a "touch of glory" after his 19-9, 2.34 ERA ensational 1976 season

Pappas and Linkugel are good storytellers and provide a statistical rundown on each player. The book is also graced with fine black and white photographs of each player. Richard Bak, who previously chronicled the history of the Tigers in his book "Cobb Would Have Caught It," has released "A Place for Summer," an excellent history of Tiger Stadium, just as the days are dwindling down for baseball at Steres: Michigan and Trumbúll. Bak does more than just chronicle the history of a building. He writes about the history of baseball in Detroit

from its earliest days, relates the stadium's history to that of the city and also chronicles the years when football was played in the elements and the Lions ruled the NFL.

Bak provides opinionated and interesting profiles of the leading players in Detroit sports - athletes, executives and broadcasters. Of course, some figures loom particularly large - George Arthur Vanderbeck (the father of baseball in Detroit), Frank Navin, Ty Cobb, Hughie Jen-nings, Walter and Spike Briggs, Mickey Cochrane, Hank Greenberg, Al Kaline, Harvey Kuenn, Bobby Layne, Buddy Parker, Alex Karras, John Fetzer, Sparky Anderson, Van Patrick, George Kell, Ernie Harwell. Just listing the names conjures rich memories of summer and autumn days when Detroit was the "City of Champions.

This is a well-researched, gen-erally well-written account of just how important that particular bit of real estate is to the collective memory of southeast Michigan. Bak also presents the various arguments pro and con for the now inevitable new stadium

"A Place for Summer" is printed on special, heavy bond slick paper that enhances the wealth of black and white photographs.

Anyone who has ever entered Bennett Park-Navin Field-Briggs Stadium-Tiger Stadium will love this memory book. Hugh Gallagher can be reached by calling (734)953-2118

Handbook gives balanced view

Michigan in Brief: An Issues Handbook, 1998-99 (Public Sectors Consultants, Inc. $50)

BY HUGH GALLAGHER

Anyone with an avid interest in public issues will find this sixth edition of "Michigan in Brief" invaluable in clarifying facts and divergent opinions.

The book is produced by the Public Sector Consultants Inc. with the sponsorship of the Michigan Nonprofit Association & Council of Michigan Foundations (funded by the W.K. Kellogg Foundation and the C.S. Mott Foundation). It is a balanced, objective and clear presentation of 65 public policy idents favor the death penalty). concorn t Michie an ci The subjects covered show the izens. It is a book that anyone diversity of policy issues that interested in holding public lawmakers and citizens have to office should read and anyone confront and the complexity that with a serious interest in public many of those issues entail. history and facts and figures about the Great Lakes State. The heart of the book, though, is the cogent analysis of issues from A (abortion) to W (welfare reform). The books special value is that it has no political agenda, no axes to grind. It offers the talking points on each issue, statistical background and a summary of opposing points of view. It also offers a list of sources for "additional information" that covers the political spectrum. When there isn't a group on an opposing side, the handbook makes note of the fact as in its chapter on capital punishment, which says that at present there is no group organized in support of the death penalty (though the chapter notes the majority of res-"Michigan in Brief, 1998-99" is available in paperback, on CD-ROM and on the World Wide Web at www. michiganinbrief.

rg. "This edition of 'Michigan in Brief' is the first phase of the Michigan Public Policy Initiative, an effort to facilitate a strong working relationship among nonprofit, philanthropic. public and private sector leaders to address policy issues in Michi-gan," said Sam Singh, president of Michigan Nonprofit Associa-

Answer: Implants are one of the most significant advance-ments ever made in dentistry. They have provided many people with benefits like increased comfort, better chewing capability, improved cosmetics and more confidence. Of all the dental pro-cedures I perform in my office, implants have created the most significant improvement in a patient's well-being. Implants are artificial tooth root replacements, more specifically they are metal pegs placed under the gums in an area where there is no tooth.

There are several situations where implants are beneficial. Let's say that a person experiences trauma to the mouth and a front tooth is knocked out, or in your daughter's situation, an adult front tooth is never formed. In order to replace this tdoth so your daughter can speak and smile normally, we must examine several options

In order to have the protective enamel because fixed permanent teeth that do the large nerves inside these not come out, there are two options: fixed bridge work or "tooth's surface. implant supported teeth Although your daughter would implant supported teeth. A bridge, as its name implies, is something that "bridges the gap" between two teeth on either side of a space where a tooth is missing. This accomplished by grinding down one or more teeth on either side of the space and then making a bridge, which is a collection of crowns (same as caps) connected together from the first ground-down tooth across the space to the last ground-down tooth. This option is great if teeth on either side of the space need to be ground down anyway for crowns, due to existing breakage or the presence of large worn out fillings, But what if a person, like your daughter, is missing an upper front tooth and nothing is wrong with the teeth on either side of the space? The most common situation that takes place in my office sounds very much like your daughter's dilemma - a teenager who never formed an upper lateral incisor (the small tooth just either side of the two middle upper front teeth). The vast majority of these teens have on a person desiring permanent replacement of the space with a tooth, we would have to grind down the teeth on either side of the space to make the bridge. As a patient with perfectly sound, healthy teeth on either side of the missing tooth, your daughter may not want to have her teeth ground down. Another drawback that the nerves in these teeth are often quite large, especially in someone your daughter's age.

Although your daughter would not feel the drilling because of the anesthetic, the nerves may be quite sensitive. Furthermore, it's not unheard of for these teeth to require root canal therapy after undergoing the trauma from drilling. I would be hard pressed to try to convince you. or your daughter with beautiful teeth and one missing upper tooth, that the best plan of action to replace the missing tooth would be to drill down healthy teeth on either side of the space. And risk the possibili-ty of root canals or future decay hen there are alternative plans that do not involve drilling down teeth and do not involve a removable appliance. With an implant procedure, our daughter can have a permanent replacement tooth for the space without grinding down other teeth. Here is how this any works: A dental implant, made of titanium metal, is placed under the gums in an area where we wish we had a tooth. This will act like a root. The person placing the implant must be highly trained and experienced in this procedure because it's very exacting. Your family dentist may send your daughter to another office for this phase of the implant therap

Implants are most frequently placed by general dentists, such as myself, who have had additional training in both the surgical and prosthetic phases of implant therapy, or by oral sur-geons or periodontists. Regardless of who places the implant, care must be taken to plan the tooth or teeth that go on the implant before placing the implant. With most implant systems, resting period will occur while we wait for the jawbone to bond to the implant. This process is called "osseointegration." During this time your daughter goes about her business as usual with nothing visible in this area as the gums cover the implant during healing. She will also wear a temporary tooth to hide the spac

After the proper time has elapsed and the implant and bone are bonded together, the next phase of the therapy can begin. This is where a metal peg is fastened to the implant; this peg can look very much like a natural tooth would look if it was ground down for a crown. Next, the restorative dentist (usually your family dentist) fits the tooth for an implant crown and the procedure is complete.

There are several advantages to this implant solution over the fixed bridge we mentioned earlier. First, no teeth were drilled to place the implant. Second, an implant can never decay! Fixed bridge work can fail for a variety of reasons, the most common being decay. Over 37 percent of bridges on natural teeth that fail do so due to decay, often requiring the replacement of a multiple tooth bridge. Compare this with an implant crown which exhibits a success rate of well over 90 percent Even if an implant crown did require replacement – due to trauma for example – only the one tooth would need to be replaced and that is much less expensive than replacing an existing bridge. One other advantage of implants over bridge work is ease in home care. A single implant crown can be brushed and flossed just like a regular tooth, whereas a bridge requires the use of a "floss threader" that threads the floss through its opening to clean under the bridge. Because it's inconvenient to keep bridges flossed properly, people often neglect this necessary part of their home care and often get inflamed, red and bleeding diseased gums, or decay that neces sitates multiple visits in the dental office to get the gums healthy and replace the bridge.

Implants are not for everyone however.

Some people have medical con-ditions or dental problems that make implants inappropriate. But for the most part, an implant would be the first alternative I'd consider in your daughter's case. Ask your family dentist for more information.

You may not want it...

...but, we'll bet someone does.

Is your attic or basement or garage filled with stuff you don't want anymore? Maybe you don't have anything quite as weird as our toy Martian, but like most of us, you may have some odds and ends you can do without.

Our 3-2-1--SOLD! offer is just what you need when you have things to sell for under $200.

Here's how it works:

You get 3 lines to describe your item (remember, you have to be asking less than $200)
 You get to run your ad for 2 days (one week)
 You get 1 low price—just $19.95.

You could say our 3-2-1 plan is as easy as 1-2-3! Call us today.

Last season, Clarkston dropped its season, Charkston Royal Oak Kimball, 21-7. Things didn't look great again to start on Friday as the Wolves trailed Kettering 3-0 following an 18yard field goal by junior Ryan Thomas with 5:16 left in the second quarter. Up until that point, Clarkston had mustered only 11 yards total offense.

On 1st-and-10 from the Clarkston 21 yard line following the Captains' field goal, Mitchell took a hand-off from senior quar-

Wolves rebound with rout of Wildcats

In the second game Thursday, she made sure it didn't happen again.

Morgan, a 5-foot-6 junior, scored 12 points, most of them helping keep Clarkston afloat, and the Wolves rebounded from a poor start to post a 66-45 rout of Oxford in the consolation game of the Lady Wildcat Invitational at Oxford.

With her Wolves trailing 14-6, Morgan drained a 3-pointer with 2:07 left in the first quarter, then followed it with a layup to cut the deficit to 14-11. Her layup on a drive through the lane with 6:55 left in the first half started a 15-point run that saw the Wolves jump -Clarkston basketball coach to a 26-18 lead then never relinquished.

The easy win was a stark contrast to the last-second loss to Oakland Christian Tuesday

"I thought I lost the first game because I was standing on the 3-point line instead of behind it," said Morgan. Tonight I stepped back and hit the 3's. I felt a lot more confidence in my shot tonight."

The entire team played with more confidence, after the first seven min-utes or so. Oxford jumped out to a 14-4 lead behind the phenomenal play of junior center Liz Holbrook, who finished with 31 points. But the Wolves picked up the defensive intensity, particulary on Holbrook in the middle, where Deana Kanipe, Lindsey Prudhomme and Rachel Uchman held her at báy.

The 15-point run in the second quarter included tough plays, underneath. Senior Corinne McIntyre rebounded a that run was five points - 39-34 -- as Holbrook put back a Tonya Seidl miss, then canned a 10-foot jumper with 5:00 left in the third quarter. Kanipe's baseline drive stopped that spurt. Oxford closed to 47-41 by the end of the period, but McIntyre shook loose for an inside bucket in the opening seconds of the fourth quarter, igniting an 8-2 burst that included two baskets from Kanipe that left Clarkston up 53-41.

The Wildcats never threatened again

Lowney was particularly happy with the Wolves' defensive intensity, especially on Holbrook, who had to create most of her points on jumpers and offensive rebounds.

"We wanted to make her beat us from the outside and on putbacks, Lowney said. "They (Uchman, Kanipe and Prudhomme) made her do things she isn't used to doing.'

Leasing a Saturn isn't like leasing a lot of other cars. For one thing, we explain everything in simple terms, so it's easy to understand. And when the lease is up (in three years), you get a couple of choices. You can either finance what's left. Or you can just give the car back to us. And we can go our separate ways. Because no matter what happens, we'll always have our memories.

seats also spin around to give you array seat ing in the living area. The American Eagle has a fabric couch that folds down into a twin-size bed. Arrows from the couch is a love seat that is also fab-ric, with a fold down center section with cupholders. Leather is an option on both the love seat and couch. The couch and love seat have developed to storing for all over cent love seat and couch. The couch and iove seat have drawers for storage. In all, you could carry up to seven passengers comfortably. Below the dash is a 20-inch Sony TV with remote. While driving, the television is tucked away in an oak cabinet. When ready to watch TV, just push a switch on the pas-senger-side dash and the television lifts from the floor. Just adjust the height for everyone to use Nubrdy hears a tiff neck or everyone the floor. Just adjust the height for everyone to view. Nobody has a stiff neck or sore syse. When you're done watching television you simply press the button again to lowsrit. Another plus is a 13-inch Sony TV with remote in the bedroom. Now if you're into watching videos, no problem. Just pop that videocassette into the Sony 4-head hifl cas-sette recorder.

sette recorder. The model we had came with a Winegard RV Antenna. Another option is a satellite dish. 15 E E

Tor music lovers, the Eagle has a 10-disc Sony CD player and an AMFM cassette car-stereo. All this sound comes through coastal speakers. The sounds you get with the stareo power amplifier are fantastic. You feel like you're there live with the musicians.

you're thers live with the musicians. Our test drive vehicle had carpeting over two thirds of the floor. The galley had marble tile but oak flooring is an option. All the win-dows had day night blinds. We really appre-ciated these blinds because they gave us the privacy you might want during the day and total privacy at night. The galley offers many great features. An optional KitchenAid gas two burner receased cooktop and Sharp Carousel microwave oven made preparing meals a real treat. Moen fausets complement the galley sink, bathroom sink, and shower. The atainless bathroom sink and shower. The stainless steel galley sink comes complete with a water filter by Hydro Life. Fleetwood gives you Corian counter tops in the galley and bathroom sink areas. New for 1999 are Corian tops on the nightstands.

We had a queen-size bed with a Sealy Innerspring mattress that offered great nighttime rest. The bathroom is roomy enough to dance the tango. The Eagle has a pocket door that you pull close and lock. The bedroom has a louvered bi-fold door you can close, leaving plenty of space in the bathroom for all your needs.

A great idea is the cedar-lined wardrobe closet in the bathroom area. Everything you need is right at your fingertips. How convenient.

We were amazed to find a washer and dryer on board. You put your dirty clothes in and wash them, turn a knob and dry them all in the same machine. How wonderful.

The heart of the Eagle is a Hydro Flame 8500 series furnace by Atwood. Coleman supplies the two roof air conditioning units -and two Coleman thermostats. The brain of the Eagle is made by Heart Interface specifically designed for Fleetwood American Coach. It is called the source manager. This is truly the brain because it will automatically convert your power supplies to whatever source is available. You don't have to do a thing but to sit back, relax and enjoy your Eagle.

Another great idea the engineers at Fleetwood had was to install a spotlight by Jabsco on the roof of the motor home. Operated from the driver seat, this spotlight is great for finding anything in the dark. There are canvas awnings by Carefree of Colorado on just about every window. Also, the Eagle has a Milwaukee leveling system that was so simple to operate our 10-year-old daughter Amy did it. The jack leveling sys-tem will support 16,000 pounds of weight. This is important because it not only levels the motor home but also takes away the amaying from side the side that the set swaying from side to side that you get in other motor homes.

Fleetwood offers you standard safety equipment like a carbon monoxide alarm by Atwood, a liquid propane gas leak detector by CCI Controls, a smoke alarm by Firex and a fire extinguisher.

Let's just says the American Eagle by Fleetwood is a top-of-the-line motor home. It sure impressed us.

Our first test drive of the season. An American Eagle S.E. by Fleetwood. S.E. meaning Special Edition because of the new for 1999 electronic diesel engine. Inside of the test model was the 1998 style but because Fleetwood received their new motors before they were ready to redesign the interior, Fleetwood decided to go ahead with production of the new motors.

The inside of this motor home bathed us in beauty and luxury. At first blush, it left us speechless. It was like Christ-mas morning, waking to find all the gifts under the tree. The Eagle turned heads and made people do double-takes on the express-way. At our campsite, the Yogi Bear Jellystone Park, even employees of the Ranger Station went to our windows to sneak a peak.

During our test, we were asked many times if we were giving tours of our motor home. Of course, we complied. People at campsites stood in line just to walk through the bathrooms. We found people's reaction the same wherever went. we

We took our Eagle from Warren. Mich., a suburb of Detroit, to rural Indian River, Mich., which is about 260 miles north. One of the first things I noticed was the quietness and smoothness of the drive. With the rear engine design, this Cummins diesel turbo 8.3liter engine was super quiet. You could not hear that roar of the motor like those big V 8s give you. The engine genverates 350 horsepower and offers 1,050 foot pounds of torque at 1400 rpm. Cummins, the top name in diesels, got a little help from the world class transmission from Allison.

Six forward automatic speeds and a lose shift lockup electronic control have greatly improved performance and fuel economy this year. The people at Fleethave made radical changes in their own lives. I just heard a great atory about a successful dentist who chucked it all, moved to Colorado bought a back-hee and now works 30 hours a week digging itenches. He spends the rest of his time hiking and fly fishing and, according to my source, is financially poorer, but psy-chically richer. "Why am I doing this?" you ask yourself or "Is this what I want to look back on as my life?" Heavy stuff Valid questions. I think we need more philosophiz-ing about work. Really. Every person should have an underlying rationale for why he or she works. Is it to buy things and maintain a certain lifestyle? Is it to save enough dough to buy your way into another lifestyle (like the dentist)? Is it to build an estate for the kids or at least get them through college? Is it to find personal

Look, if you can't leap, take baby Look, It you can't leap, take baby steps. Action begets action. Try send-ing out a few resumes or taking an interview just for practice. Many of the professionals we recruit tell us that they weren't really "looking" until we called. After an initial inter-yiow and a bit of selection papels for view and a bit of reflection, people fre-quently become more active, then serious, and eventually land new positions. According to an old German proverb, all beginnings are hard.

There is also a significant risk in being the first person in a new slot. Sometimes, it's almost impossible to tell if the goals that have been estab-lished for the job are realistic. When interviewing for an established posi-tion if a massible to see shout the side tion, it's possible to ask about the suc-cess or failure of other people. In a new position; you're the guinea pig. Communication about how the job is progressing becomes vital. After a few weeks; ask "Is this what you expected and are we on the right track?".

Not to scare you, but sometimes brand new positions are "rethought." After seeing how the position meshes with the overall business strategy, managers might decide that they don't need a person in that role after all. Gee, we thought it was a great idea and we appreciate your efforts, but adios!

Try to/determine if the need is real and listen for a strong company com-mitment to the position. Talk with employees other than the hiring manager to make sure organizational structure isn't habitually tweaked at the whimsy of those in control. But don't be too alarmed if they can only outline the job in broad terms. Job descriptions usually don't reflect real-

For La Cour-the-person being DWIT means helping others achieve their goals. In a recent interview in Ironman Magazine he spoke of a thank-you'letter he received from David Grillo and their subsequent conversations. Grillo, a martial-arts black belt, has been weight training about ten years He has cerebral palsy, no legs and La Cour's no excuses attitude. La Cour doesn't like excuses. Letters from so-called "hardgamers" (bodybuilders who believe they'll only achieve minimal results regardless of how

ASK THE EXPERT Ceiling should be 7'6" high

By POPULAR MECHANICS FOR AP SPECIAL FEATURES

Q: The ceiling in our living room is in pretty bad shape. expense of fixing it, we plan to install a lowered ceiling. Are there any guidelines as to ceiling height? Rather than go to the great

A: The height of a new ceiling should be no less than 7 feet 6 inches. In some cases 6 feet 6 inches is acceptable under beams or bay win-dows. You can construct a slightly lower ceiling in a kitchen, provided at least half of it is at least 7 feet 6 inch-

In a roof space the ceiling height should be a minimum of 7 feet 6 inch-es for at least half the area of the room. However, this area might not represent the whole floor. Mark all the sloping ceilings to the desirable minimum height above the floor, then use a plumb line to mark the floor directly below. The area of the floor within the marked lines represents the actual area used to calculate the ceiling height.

Q: We live in an area where there is a constant water shortage. Consequently, watering our lawn is often prohibited, and our water bills, when we are permitted to water the lawn are high. Is there anything we can do to keep our lawn green and healthy and still conserve water?

A: There are some steps you can take that will help you maintain your lawn by using less water. The first step for conserving water is to mulch everything. Buy or rent a shredder to turn lawn waste into mulch. Spread a layer at least four-six inches thick around trees, shrubs, and in flower or vegetable gardens. Mulch helps hold moisture, reduces moisture loss from

Showcase of Homes names winners

The fourth annual Showcase of Distinctive Homes, a scattered site of new models, gives potential buyers and curiosity seekers a focused look at who's doing what in southeast Michigan. doing what in southeast Michigan. A competition held in conjunction , with the upcoming Fall Remodeling , Show drew 45 entries. A panel including several architects, determined the best plan in various price categories based on design, architecture, special features and value for price

"Basically, these are spec' homes geared in some respect to the common denominator," said George Erdstein, a Lathrup Village architect and judge. "We look for something a little special that fits the salable formula, something a little out of the ordinary ... that turns your head a little from the next house for curb appeal," Erdstein added. A Showcase of Distinctive Homes plan book containing renderings, features and location maps for all entries is available at Standard Federal Bank offices.

The information also is available on the World Wide Web at http:// www. builders.org The plan book also will be available during the run of the Fall Remodeling Show Sept. 24-27 at the Novi Expo Center.

Showcase of Distinctive Homes is sponsored by the builder's association, Standard Federal Bank and DNA

A smaller deck adjoins the large kitchen. Imag-ine sipping your morning coffee here, or enjoying a leisurely lunch and siesta. Plants flourish in the bright corner where the kitchen sink faces out across the deck, and the room boasts plenty of stowage and counter space Expanded by a wide window sy, the main level master suite is bright and luxurious. Amenities include: a walk-in closet, spa tub, oversized shower, double vanity and private toilet. The lower level master bathroom is less luxurious, nut closet space is nearly double. Utilities are on the Catkin's Contracts are on the Catkin's lower floor, adjacent to the garage, bedrooms and family room. A patio and deck add to the outdoor living space. The deck houses a large hot tub, and a stairway to the upper deck.

green and healthy. This total includes whatever rainfall you've had during this period. It's best to water less often but deep. Keep track of the rainfall in your area for two weeks, then water the lawn enough to bring the total up to 2 inches. If you have an underground sprinkler system, it will have a meter that will let you gauge exactly how much water you want to apply to your lawn. If you use a hose and sprinklers, paint marks inside plastic pails or in coffee cans at the 1- and 2- inch levels. Set the pails-cans about the lawn and check when you have the right water depth in the container, then shut off the hose to avoid wasting water.

Other things you can do to reduce water lawn usage: In hot weather, set your mower height at 2 inches. Taller grass will help the lawn hold water and avoid evaporation from the soil by shading it. On very hot days, sprinkle the lawn lightly at sundown. This practice, called syringing, will cool the lawn and help the grass survive during hot weather.

Want to get rid of it?

How about joining the 3-2-1-SOLD! club?

If you've been out in the garage, down in the basement or up in the attic recently and said to yourself, "Gosh, I'd love to get rid of some of this stuff, but it would cost too much to advertise it?"

Our 3-2-1-SOLDI offer is just what you need when you have things to sell for under $200. Here's how it works:

1, You get 3 lines to describe your item (remember, you have to be asking less than $200)

2. You get to run your ad for 2 days (one week)

3. You get 1 low price-just $19.95.

You could say our 3-2-1 plan is as easy as 1-2-3! Call us today
