Y2k precautions

There will be no sleeping late for Clarkston Community Schools building administrators or their designee on Jan. 1. Superintendent Al Roberts asked all of them to visit their building that day or the next to make sure there aren't any Y2K glitches. The district also isn't taking chances with its old telephone systems. Instead of wondering whether they'll work after Dec. 31, it's getting cellular phones for every school just in case. Now let's hope the cellular phones work!

Hail to the bus drivers

Clarkston Community Schools Superintendent Al Roberts reported to the board Monday that he rode on different school buses the other day. "We don't pay our bus drivers enough," he said. "They work really hard!"

Bells, not bullets

The Clarkston Area Chamber of Commerce has been getting several requests about where people can buy bells to ring in the new year. It isn't uncommon for people to fire guns to celebrate the new year. Evidently a person or group is hoping to encourage people to ring bells instead, but they have to know where to buy

So if anyone knows where to find bells for sale, call the Chamber at

Asbestos abatement — or removal is going on in four of the older school buildings in the district. These include Sashabaw Middle School and Pine Knob, Bailey Lake and Andersonville elementary schools, all built between the mid-50s to 1964.

The remaining asbestos has been no threat to the students, staff and parents, according to Craig Kahler, director of business services for the school

The asbestos is the type that's contained and no danger to anyone, he explained. It's being removed now due to major renovations to the four school build-

Kahler described asbestos as a fibrous material used in insulation or as a fire retardant. It made its way into a variety of materials until the Environmental Protection Agency determined it was a carcinogen.

When this was discovered, the school district underwent an abatement of friable asbestos—the kind that can become airborne if it's disturbed.

The other kind—the asbestos in building materials—was left because it

Friends and family were saddened Tuesday by the death of Elizabeth H.

Ronk, known for her caring attitude and community involvement.

Ronk, 95, lived Clarkston for 90 years but had been living at the retirement community. Canterbury in Waterford Township for the past five

Elizabeth H. Ronk

Ronk was a lifetime member of the Clarkston United Methodist Church and a teacher at Bailey Lake School for three years. After that she was Postmistress of the Clarkston Post Office for 36 years. She also was a member of the Clarkston/Waterford Business and Professional Women. She retired from the post office in 1970.

Barb Thomson of Clarkston knew Ronk for 48 years.

"Clarkston was a little smaller then," Thomson said. "I would go down (to the post office) daily, and I would see her. We just became good friends.

Thomson said Ronk's warm personality made the post office less like a government building and more like a gathering spot.

She was beloved in this community. With her mothering manner, Ronk was easy to befriend, said former coworker and friend, Connie Keeley of Clarkston.

She was a nurturing person, said Keeley, who knew Ronk for 52 years.

"If you were sick, she worried about

Ask the Orthodontist

am going to a good dentist? How can I tell if I -M. Fox

Although it is difficult for patients to be certain about the quality of the professional services they receive, here are some helpful questions:

1. Does your dentist give you a chance to express your concerns? 2. Are the employees content and courteous and and does your dentist treat them with consideration? 3. Is the office neat and clean? 4. Has he/she been helping you keep your teeth in good health?

5. Does someone in the office spend time teaching proper oral hygiene, including flossing?

6. Does your dentist know your medical history?

Ron Incohelli D.D.S. M.S.

8. Does your dentist consider the health and wellbeing of your whole mouth, including proper teeth alignment, appearance, health of gums and soft tissues?

While no one is perfect, you should be able to answer yes to at least 6 of these 8 questions.

Independence agenda includes discussion of golf course project

BY SALLY SLAUGHTER STAFF WRITER

After causing cross words and an abbreviated meeting Dec. 7, the Clarkston Creek Golf Course plan is on Tuesday's Independence Township board agenda

This time, Supervisor Dale Stuart said he expects to receive public and board comments on the plan and then carry on further discussions among board members in closed session

Township trustee Neil Wallace wanted the item removed from the Dec. 7 agenda because he wanted more information. The board was to consider adopting the complex proposal in concept.

The proposal is for the town-ship to buy the golf course while allowing developer Joe Locric-chio to build 121 townhomes on two of the golf holes. Those holes would be relocated to the driving range area. Also, the township would give up a 14-acre piece of property on Sashabaw Road. ocricchio has an option to buy an adjacent 19-acre parcel owned by another citizen. Retail and office space and a family restaurant would go into that M At the Dec. 7 meeting trustee Neil Wallace, township Clerk Joan McCrary and trustee Jeff McGee voted to take the item off while Supervisor Dale Stuart, Treasurer Jim Wenger and trustee Larry Rosso wanted to keep it on.

Locricchio has offered to sell the golf course property to the township, but manage it and give proceeds to the township. Trustee Jeff McGee thought more of the discussion regarding the project should be done in closed session because not to could mean compromising negotiating points.

Stuart said he thinks board members have enough informa-tion to make a decision about the concept of the plan. To acquire the information Wallace wants would cost money, he said. He doesn't think that is a wise use of funds if the board isn't even interested in Locricchio's plan in

"There is nothing to keep these kids out of the weather," Quinlin

Other important groups the arenas serve include participants in the handicapped riders program and the horse camp given for clients from Oakland County Community Mental Health. Beyond just mere comfort in bad weather, some of the handicapped riders have sensi-tivity to sun, Quinlin said. A covered area would protect them even in nice weather.

Horse shows at Springfield Oaks are normally open events, which means many more than 125 children participate, he said. Often there are children and adults taking part.

"It's a busy place in the summer," he said.

The most urgent need, though, is a place for the children to practice during the winter. Although they do ride in the win-ter now, an indoor arena would offer more flexibility on really Holli Day also is a member of the Horse Council. Her daughter is a member of the Young Riders Drill Team. The youths practice with their horses doing patterns and different paces. Last spring they traveled to a large horse event in Kentucky and entertained. But preparing was a challenge. Day, an owner of Mr. B's in Independence Township, said she often took her daughter and the horse to a friend's ring in another county.

"I thought to myself, this is ridiculous. We have a lot of money, a lot of horses and some great kids (in Oakland County). We seem to have everything else for the kids, why not this?" Day

Day is a licensed builder and oversees new construction of restaurants in her job. She is getting bids and supervising construction once it starts. Plans have been drawn up and it's nothing fancy, she said.

The fund-raising campaign just started. Quinlin said about $5,000 has been raised so far. Day is asking the business com-munity and anyone else who wishes to donate toward the project. People can call Mr. B's at 625-4600 for more information. To make a tax-deductible donation, residents can call Coopera-tive Extension Youth Agent Tom Schneider at 858-0889.

A Valentine's Day dance is the first major fund-raiser planned, Day said. Tickets are $50 per person. Quinlin said he hopes to have the $200,000 raised by the end of the summer. Construction will begin after that.

Pets rescued from fire at Heather Lakes home

No one was home and all the pets were rescued when a home in Heather Lakes Estates burned Thursday morning. Orion Township Fire Chief Jeff Key said a neighbor called in the fire at 10:57 a.m. Dec. 16, not knowing exactly what was on fire. Subsequent callers identified the house on Valleyview.

No one was home but "There was a veritable menagerie" of house pets, Key said. "A bird went home with a deputy; fish went to the neighbors.

The cause of the fire is under investigation. Key said the fire was confined to the second floor central area of the house, though the kitchen below was damaged by falling debris. There is also water damage, so the family will be forced to move out for the holremoval of the black mastic floor tile adhesive found at Sashabaw Middle School.

The tiles were safe for people to walk on, according to George White, the district's projects construction coordinator. But once the tiles were removed and the mastic (glue) with asbestos was exposed, it all needed to be removed.

"Workers will be sanding the mastic off the floors so they can install new flooring. That could cause a problem with the asbestos so it's being removed," he explained.

This project will be completed within a few weeks, Kahler said.

The elementary school abatement projects will take place during school breaks and finished this summer.

The school district contracts with PTM Consulting Inc., a Dearborn-based company, that helps school districts manage various aspects involved in asbestos removal.

The district uses Michigan Environmental Auditors to check air samples before and after abatement.

PTM Consulting Inc. President Paul Milhizer said normally asbestos is removed according to a specific process under negative air pressure.

Asbestos-containing materials are put into either six-millimeter. plastic bags or drums and taken to a land fill marked for: asbestos.

Milhizer said right now most of these are out of state.

Northwest wins bid for nonstop flights to Italy from Metro

Northwest Airlines will begin nonstop flights from Detroit to Rome starting April 2, 2000.

The U.S. Department of Transportation issued Northwest a permit Tuesday to operate that flight and a Detroit-Milan, Italy, route. The daily flights will be operated in coop-eration with Alitalia Italian Air-lines and KLM Royal Dutch Airlines as part of the airlines' proposed tripartite agreement.

The DOT granted anti-trust immunity for a Northwest/Alitalia/KLM alliance on Dec. 3 to allow the three carriers to closely align their routes in the weeks ahead. In addition, the DOT announced Monday that an Open Skies" agreement had been reached between the United States and Italy.

Effective April 2, Northwest flight 66 will depart Detroit Wayne County Metropolitan Airport daily at 5:30 p.m. and arrive at Rome's Fiumincio International Airport at 8:25 a.m. the following day. Return flight 65 will depart Rome daily at 11 a.m. and arrive in Detroit at 3:10

In the Milan market, North-west flight 64 will depart Metro at 5:25 p.m. and arrive at Milan's Malpensa International Airport at 7:45 p.m. the following day. Return flight 63 will depart Milan at 9:50 a.m. and arrive in Detroit at 1:30 p.m. The Rome and Milan services will operate with Northwest DC-10 aircraft.

Northwest will operate connecting service to and from the Italy flights at Detroit from major markets throughout the Midwest, southwest and western regions of the United States. Northwest operates more than 500 daily departures at Detroit, Rome and Milan are Alitalia's two primary hubs.

Northwest officials plan to offer service beyond Rome and Milan to major cities in Italy, southern Europe and the Mediterranean, according to Ray Vecci, Northwest's president of Michigan operations and executive vice president of customer

"These convenient schedules will include all the benefits of seamless travel, including issuance of all boarding passes at initial check-in, luggage check (sent) to final destination and convenient flight transfers,"

Pledging allegiance

94 new U.S. citizens sworn in

BY PAT MURPHY STAFF WRITER pmurphy@oe.homecon

Richard MacDonald could hardly contain his happiness. "It's an overworked phrase," he said, "but this really is a land of opportunity."

Moments earlier, MacDonald and 93 others — with friends and relatives watching at the Oakland County Commissioners' Auditorium — took an oath of allegiance to the United States. They were finally citizens.

"I feel exhilarated," Mac-Donald said Friday. "It's been a long wait, but it's finally over. I'm an American citi-

House adjourns without final action on charter schools

BY MIKE MALOTT HOMETOWN NEWS SERVICE mmalott@homecomm.net

Unable to find the necessary votes among Representatives, Gov. John Engler and the House Republican leadership gave up hopes of raising the cap on charter schools by the end of this Despite approval by the Senate last week of House Bill 4959 - a bill already voted out by the House but amended in the Senate to contain verbiage raising the limit on university-authorized "public school academies" from the current 150 to 200 in the coming year - House leadership didn't even take a vote before adjourning for the year early Thursday morning.

A handful of House Republicans could not be convinced of the need to raise the cap. The primary concern of opponents, on both sides of the aisle, was accountability of charter schools to the public and the state legis-

Locally, two lawmakers were among the holdouts who defeated the bill - Rep. Patricia Godchaux (R-Birmingham) and Rep.

Gerald Law (R-Plymouth). Law explained that charter schools have been allowed to operate like private schools, but get taxpayer money to pay for operations. He wanted provisions added making charter schools as accountable for their spending as public schools are.

Godchaux said the charters draw money away from public schools. That makes it even more difficult for failing school districts to improve their performance. In the meantime, the state is doing little to support those students left behind in the distressed school districts.

Engler had wanted the limit increased by the end of this year so that new charter schools could open next fall. According to his spokesman, John Truscott, some 140 schools are already in operation in the state and another 100 are ready to seek approval.

Options

With the failure of the bill, new charter schools will have to (a) wait a year, (b) seek authorization through an agency other than a state university, such as a school district or community college, or (c) count on lawmakers passing the bill early next year with enough additional votes to give it immediate effect.

move the bill the previous week, Republican Senators took over the initiative. Starting with House Bill 4959 - a non-controversial bill allowing gifts made to school districts to be moved to foundations, already approved by Representatives and awaiting action in the Senate - lawmakers in the upper chamber added the verbiage to raise the cap on charter schools. The amendment would have raised the limit 50 in the first year, then by 25 more in following years. On the floor, Sen. Dianne Byrum (D-Onodaga) sought to amend the bill to increase accountability. Her proposal would have required charter schools to release audits to the state, obtain criminal records of employees, require credentials for teachers, provide special education services, adopt conflict of interest policies, comply with state procurement policies and review complaints made by par-

"This is straightforward. It is reasonable ... I'm not against charter schools. These will help them to be successful," she said.

Sen. Mike Rogers (R-Howell) said all those requirements were

When the House could not in the bill already since it required that charters follow existing state laws.

"Let's not be afraid of a little competition," Rogers countered. "We ought not just put up barriers, pulling in the reigns on kids who need our help. Public schools cannot be all things to all people," he said.

Sen. Gary Peters (D-Bloomfield) proposed an amendment which would require charter schools to report publicly what they pay to management compa-nies when such firms are contracted to run those schools.

"Disclosure is needed to safe-guard public monies," he argued. Once it is in the hands of the management company, it becomes private."

Rogers disagreed again. "I wish the minority had taken the time to read this bill because it is already in there," he said.

Both amendments failed in 15-22 party line votes.

approved the bill 22-15, only to have the bill stall again in the House

Here's how area lawmakers voted:

Yes; Sens. Bill Bullard (R-Highland); Mat Dunaskiss (R-Lake Orion) and Shirley Johnson. (R-Royal Oak).

No: Sens. John D. Cherry Jr. (D-Clio) and Gary Peters (D-Bloomfield).

Resolve to rejuvenate your skin

DISCOVERING

New Years resolu-tions are made and are meant to be broken but a precious few should be kept.

The ones that can change your life – the way your look and, more importantly, the way you feel. This time of year many of us are getting away to warm places and though we know we all look great with a tan, it's a fact that sunexposure (even casual exposure such as walking the dog, or sitting looking out a window) causes age-revealing spots, crow's feet, and potentially deadly skin cancer.

Fortunately for the vacationing sun-worshiper, it's not too late to start behaving and taking care of ourselves. Skin repair itself through regeneration. By just using a strong sunscreen everyday and reducing the sun exposure to your skin, you will réverse some of the damage.

Find a formula that not only works with your skin type but also works with vour lifestyle.

skin care.

I highly recommend Power Peels. Skin care specialist Carolyn Shy per-forms this procedure which does everything from brighten complexions to reducing fine lines and age/sun sion treatments that have been used in Europe for years. This procedure is helping men and women in the United States experience remarkable improvements in their skin texture. Power peels are a safe, non-surgical approach to skin care.

An extremely effective age-battling at-home regimens include topical antioxidants such as Vitamin C (the most concentrated form is L-Ascorbic acid which is present in Cellex-C and SkinCeuticals).

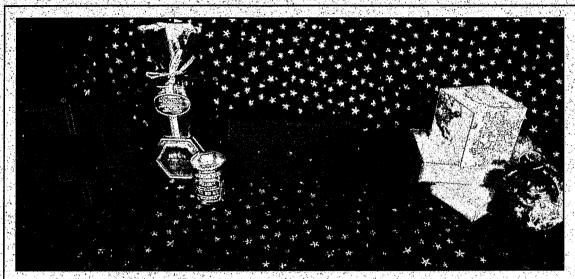

Another topical solution is Vitamin A (retinol) which accelerates cell turnover, evens tone and improves smoothness and texture. Vitamin A can be found in Giovanna's Anti Age

Also, alpha- and beta-hydroxy acids exfoliate dull sun-damaged surface cells. This procedure takes more time to see noticeable improvement but it's worth the effort in the long run. Antioxidants stabilize cells so they metabolize properly which can help prevent skin cancer in the future. So while you're pledging your alle-giance to New Year's resolutions keep in mind the long term rewards you can gain by keeping them. Good health and good looks for years to come, is worth all the effort to keep your resolutions throughout

Don't panic

There's still something for everybody on your list

BY NICOLE STAFFORD SPECIAL EDITOR
nstafford@oe.homecomm.net

Everybody forgets. Everybody procrastinates. It's human nature.

That's why retailers and malls have extended their hours next week and are making sure shelves and display cases are stocked with merchandise that's easy to see, snatch and purchase.

In addition to offering a variety of services aimed at streamlining last-minute shopping trips, includ-ing gift-wrapping and valet parking, most retailers have stocked up on holiday favorites, from winter gloves and scarves to holiday ornaments to cashmere sweaters to decorative, scented candles and boxed fragrance collections.

Some stores and malls also plan to offer discounts to last-minute shoppers. At Wonderland Mall in Livonia, for example, 19 stores are offering 20 percent discounts through Christmas Eve.

Anything cashmere: Everybody loves cashmere and there's still plenty in stores. A pair of cashmere gloves in classic or off-beat colors makes for a useful, luxurious and relatively inexpensive, gift, $35 at Ann Taylor stores, $40 at Saks Fifth Avenue and $75 at Cole Haan.

Generally, sales and discounts depend on how the season has been," said Tom Scott, spokesperson for the Michigan Retailers Association. "You will generally see deeper discounting and more discounting, if the season has been less than expected for retailers." On the other hand, if sales are high, last-minute shoppers will have less merchandise from which to choose, Scott said.

If stores are in short supply and you're unable to find a suitable gift, you probably shouldn't buy one, said Bren Hillis, manager of Select personal shopping at Hudson's Twelve Oaks store in Novi. "I don't believe people should buy something just to buy something and box it." Instead, purchase a gift certificate, Hillis said. "Put some kind of a smaller gift in the box, maybe an ornament, and put a nice little note in there saying 'this is what I planned, and I couldn't find what I wanted for you."

A gift certificate and note is more thoughtful than giving a gift that doesn't suit the recipient, said Hillis. "Besides, people don't return gift certificates." she said.

Christopher Radko holiday ornaments, fragrance collections and cashmere clothing and accessories, from gloves to sweater-sets to evening wear, are last-minute shoppers' best bets, added Hillis. Both items appeal to women (since most last-minute shoppers are men) and are being carried in abundance by local retailers.

Other expert tips from Hillis included:

■ Wearing comfortable shoes and lightweight clothing that will keep you cool

Making a gift list with several ideas and a budget for each recipient before heading out to shop.

Taking advantage of retail services, which include gift-wrapping, package pick-up, valet parking and personal shopping services, for convenience and to save time

■ Making sure to set aside enough time to accomplish your goals

Spending a day at the mall, rather than just a

■ Planning to take an enjoyable lunch or coffee break

■ Shopping with someone whose opinion you trust who will not rush you.

hroughout the year we answer thousands of questions about food preservation, cooking, baking and canning from people who call the Michigan State University Extension/Oakland County Food and Nutrition Hotline Generally around the holidays, the questions turn to baking. I hope the following questions and answers will help you with your holiday baking.

- Q. How can I avoid crystallization of the sugar when making candy?
- A. Make sure the sugar is completely dissolved before it reaches a boil. Stir the sugar and liquid together thoroughly. Bring the sugar syrup slowly to a boil, stirring occasionally. Cover the pan while the syrup is coming to a boil, the condensed steam will wash down the side of the pan and help prevent crystal-

"I loved steaks. I'd ask my mom to cook me steaks all the time, one for breakfast, one for lunch, one for dinner. She went out and bought a countertop broiler and left a few steaks in the fridge, and I was on my way, Jack. That was my starter kit."

Today, Johnson has perfected his mother's technique. He starts with a two-pound black angus porterhouse, pokes both sides with a sharp knife to ten-derize it, then sprinkles both sides with seasoned salt, pepper and some garlic powder, Sounds ready for the grill or

Always use a meat thermometer since the internal temperature is the best indicator of doneness. An ovenproof meat thermometer is inserted prior to roasting and remains for the entire cooking time. While technically, it takes only three weeks to get bubbles, by law in the Champagne region, a non-vintage sparkler must be aged 18 months on the yeast in the bottle before disgorging when the yeast sedi-ment is expelled.

We personally enjoy champagnes or sparkling wines a year or two after disgorging. In that time, they develop more richness and palate weight.

Bubbly styles

Sparklers labeled Blancs de Blancs are almost always 100 percent chardonnay. They are delicate and dry. It is traditional to match them with oysters, smoked salmon, caviar or paté. They pair with soft cheeses, such as brie, goat cheese and gorgonzola. Non-vintage (NV) bruts represent a producer's style. They are generally blends of chardonnay and pinot noir. Vintage-dated bruts represent the characteristics of a particular year, and are generally only made in top vintages. Both take to salty foods, such as nuts, thin slices of Parmeg-giano-Reggiano cheese, prosciutto or freshly-popped popcorn

(no kidding). A sparkler labeled Extra Dry is slightly sweeter than Brut. A Blanc de Noirs is made from pinot noir and takes to any dish with mushrooms. It's also excellent with game birds or poached salmon. For dessert or ushering in the millennium in a special way, serve it with chocolate-dipped strawberries and amaze your guests. A Brut Rose and rack of lamb is sensational. Sterling says that she likes Brut Rose with steak or Mediterranean cuisine, including grilled tuna with a tomato, olive oil and garlic sauce. It's her first choice with duck or venison.

special cheeses now and freeze them for gifts later?

A. It depends on the variety

Q. Can I buy a cheese ball or of cheese. Hard cheeses such as Cheddar, Swiss, Mozzarella or Colby can be frozen safely, but these cheeses will be drier and more crumbly after freezing. Only keep cheese frozen for about three months. Thaw in the refrigerator. Q. What is the liquid measurement of an egg? How do you measure part of an egg? A. For a recipe that gives a measurement instead of a number, use this rule of 1 large egg (2 ounces) equals 1/4 cup

1 medium egg (1 3/4 ounces) equals 1/5 cup 1 small egg (1 1/2 ounces)

equals 1/6 cup

To use only part of an egg in a recipe that you have to cut in half, beat the egg slightly, measure out about 1 1/2 tablespoons to equal part of an egg. Q. Why won't my fudge get

A. Fudge that doesn't "set up" hasn't been cooked long enough. Scrape it back into the pan and add a couple of teaspoons of water, keep cooking and stirring. Use a candy thermometer and watch the temperature. Some things cannot be hurried. Q. How do I use gingerroot? A. Gingerroot is used just by peeling. It can be sliced, grated or made into a sliver to add to Asian dishes or stir-fry foods.

Q. Are egg substitutes safe in a raw product?

A. Yes, because frozen egg replacers are made from eggs that have undergone pasteurization at temperatures to kill microorganisms. Pasteurization does not cook the egg nor effect its color, flavor or nutrient content. Do not eat raw eggs, you may get sick.

Q. Why do my ice cubes taste

A. Ice cubes get old and lose their freshness just like food. Cold surfaces absorb odor compounds faster than warm ones. Empty the ice cube tray and bin once a week, wash them with soap and water an refill. The ice cubes will taste fresh and not funny.

Q. Can you give me some general baking tips?

A. If your bread or cake browns too quickly, place a small pan of warm water above it in the oven.

■ Pie crust rolls better if it is refrigerated first.

Use well chilled margarine to make flaky tender biscuits. Work quickly so that the margarine stays cold.

For evenly rounded tops on nut breads and muffins, grease baking pans or muffins tins only 1/2-inch up the sides. Do this and the batter clings to the sides instead of sliding back

Fabulous dishes beef up holidays

See related story on Taste

David Bowers and Sharon Bowers, authors of Bake It Like a Man" (William Morrow and Co. Inc. $16), claim a well-cooked steak needs little more than a glass of strong red wine and a buked potata. But if you're can't resist a sauce, they suggest the following sauces:

Blue cheese sauce: Using a fork, mash a clove a garlic to a paste with 1/4 teaspoon salt in a small bowl. Add 2 tablespoons brandy and blend well. Stir in 3 tablespoons heavy cream and 1 tablespoon olive oil. Gradually beat in 6 ounces of blue cheese, such as Maytag blue, Stilton or Roquefort. Spoon some sauce over each cooked steak and put them under the broiler for just a minute to melt the cheese.

Horseradish sauce: Blend 1 cup sour cream with 1 teaspoon sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, a few grindings of black pepper, 1/4 cup finely grated fresh horseradish (or 1/4 cup prepared horseradish), and the juice of 1/2 lemon. Serve on the side.

Mushroom sauce: Melt 1/4 cup butter in a large skillet over medium heat. Add 2 cups thinly sliced mushrooms (white ones are fine, but try the flavorful shitake, chanterelle, morel or porcine) and 3 minced shallots (or a small onion and a clove of garlic). Saute about 5 minutes. Add 1/2 cup white wine and simmer over medium heat until the liquid is nearly gone. Add 1/2 cup beef stock, the juice of 1/2 lemon, and 2 tablespoons chopped parsley. Bring to a boil and spoon over cooked steaks immediately.

Red wine sauce: Melt 2 tablespoons butter in a skillet over low heat and add 1 finely minced garlic clove. Sauté 1 minute, making sure the garlic does not brown. Add 1/2 cup strong red wine, such as a Bordeaux or Cabernet Sauvignon. Bring to a boil and cook until the wine is reduced by half. Add 3/4 cup beef stock, 1 bay leaf, and 1/2 teaspoon coarsely crushed black peppercorns. Return to a boil, reduce the heat and simmer for 10 minutes. Just before serving, whisk in 2 tablespoons butter.

Herb butter: Blend 1/2 cup softened butter with 1 teaspoon dried mustard; 1 minced garlic clove; 2 tablespoons each of fresh, finely chopped parsley, tarragon and chives; a few grindings of black pepper; and a splash of cognac or brandy. Place a dollop of the butter on top of each hot steak just before serving.

STEAK DIANE

2'6-ounce strioln or strip steaks Salt and freshly ground black pepper 1'tablespoon olive oil 3'tablespoons butter

- 2 tablespoons cognac
- 3 shallots, minced 2 tablespoons mediumdry sherry
- 1 teaspoon Dijon mustard
- 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1 teaspoon fresh lemon Juice
- 1 tablespoon chopped fresh parsley

With a mallet, pound each steak until it's about 1/4 inch thick. Season well with salt and pepper on each side. Heat a cast-iron skillet over high heat for several minutes. It should be very hot. Add the olive oil and 2 tablespoons of the butter. Seconds later, as soon as the butter is melted, slap in the steaks. Sear them for about 40 seconds on each side.

Very carefully, because the pan already is so hot, pour in the cognac and ignite it with a match. When the flames die down, remove the steaks to a warm serving platter and cover.

Reduce the heat under the skillet and add the remaining tablespoon of butter and the shallots: Cook; stirring occasionally, until they are transparent, 4 to 5 minutes. Stir in the sherry, mustard, Worcestershire and lemon juice. Heat until ingredients boil.

Pour the sauce over the steaks on the warm plater and garnish with the chopped parsley. Serve immediately.

MEDITERRANEAN BEEF PINWHEELS

3/4 pound well-trimmed deli roast beef, thinly

- 1 container (8 ounces) soft cream cheese with chives and
- onions 4 large (10-inch) flour tortillas
- 1 cup finely chopped, seeded cucumber
- 1 cup pitted, chopped Kalamata or ripe olives.

Spread cheese evenly over one side of each tortilla. Top with equal amounts of cucumber and olives. Layer deli roast beef over olives, leaving 1/2-inch border around edge. Roll up tightly and wrap in plastic wrap. Refrigerate at least 2 hours or up to 4 hours before serving. To serve, cut each roll crosswise into 8 slices. Makes 32 appetizers.

EFFORTLESS BEEF PROVENÇAL APPETIZERS

1 package (about 2 pounds) fully cooked boneless beef pot roast with gravy

1/2 teaspoon dried thyme leaves, crushed

1/4 teaspoon pepper

2 15-plece packages (2.1 ounces each) prebaked frozen mini phylio shells

Chopped parsley

Heat oven to 375 degrees. Remove beef pot roast from package and transfer gravy to large saucepan. Shred enough beef with 2 forks to measure 2 cups. Add to gravy. Reserve remaining beef for another use.

Add thyme and pepper to saucepan. Cover and cook over medium-low heat 7 to 10 minutes or until heated through, stirring occasionally. Place phyllo shells on baking sheet, Bake at 375 degrees 5 to 8 minutes or until hot. Spoon beef mixture evenly into phyllo shells and sprinkle with fresh parsley. Makes 30 appetizers.

BEEF & PISTACHIO PATÉ

2 pounds lean ground

- 1 cup soft bread crumbs 1/2 cup shelled unsalt-
- 1/2 cup shelled unsalted pistachio nuts
- 1/2 cup chopped onlon 3 cloves garlic, minced 1/4 cup chopped fresh
- parsley
  1 egg; slightly beaten
- 1/4 cup brandy 1/4 cup heavy cream
- 1-1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1 teaspoon cracked black pepper
- 1 teaspoon dried thyme leaves
- Vegetable cooking spray Thin slices of French bread

Heat oven to 350 degrees. In large bowl, combine beef, bread crumbs, nuts, onion, garlic, parsley, egg, brandy, cream, salt, pepper and thyme. Mix lightly but thoroughly. Lightly spray bottom of 9 x 5-loaf pan with cooking spray. Press mixture into pan and cover tightly with aluminum foil. Place in 13 x 9 baking pan and transfer to middle rack of oven. Carefully pour hot water into outer pan until water reaches halfway up loaf pan. Bake 1 1/2 hours.

Cool slightly and carefully pour off drippings. To weight pate, place heavy cans into a second 9x5-loaf pan. Cover pate loosely with foil and place loaf pan with cans on top of pate. Refrigerate overnight.

To serve, loosen sides of paté with knife, invert onto serving platter or wrap tightly and refrigerate up to 2 days. Out crosswise into thin slices, then cut each slice in half. Serve with French bread, Makes about 80 slices.

Make ahead appetizers fit for New Year's Eve

The last thing you need on the last day of the millennium is the stress of slaving in the kitchen as you prepare for a New Year's Eve extravaganza.

There was never a better time for make-ahead appetizers – treats so special and so nutritious that they're a perfect way to welcome the 21st century.

century.

Avoid the last minute frenzy by preparing, combining and cooking most everything ahead of time. The key is selecting recipes that allow for a comfortable sequence of preparation and that store well in the freezer or refrigerator. It helps to include one or two items that keep well at room temperature, such as snack mixes.

Vegetables add color and nutrition to a holiday buffet. Try elegant asparagus bites, made by cutting asparagus on the diagonal in 1-1/2-inch sections, boiling for two minutes, then tossing in a mixture of soy sauce, olive oil and sugar. Cover and refrigerate until ready to serve. Or, serve celery boats stuffed with a mixture of light cream cheese, grated low-fat cheddar, raisins, chopped orange, grated orange peel and minced scallions.

Marinated veggies are always a hit. Marinate artichoke hearts and cherry tomatoes for up to 24 hours in a mixture of fat-free chicken broth, olive oil, thinly sliced green onion tops, lemon juice, apple cider vinegar, dried thyme leaves, basil and a bit of salt.

Don't forget the legumes. Make red bean hummus by combining garlic cloves, drained and rinsed canned red beans, and a little sesame oil and ground cumin. Process in a food processor or blender until smooth. Chill until party time and serve with pita wedges.

ture of red bell pepper, black olives, olive oil and balsamic vinegar on garlic rounds. Or, mix cooked crabmeat, low-fat sour cream, chopped scallions and black pepper and spread on cucumber slices, then sprinkle with paprika.

Fruit kabobs can be premade and refrigerated until the last minute. Skewer seedless red grapes, pineapple chunks, mandarin orange segments and strawberry halves. Serve with a pineapple dip made with plain, nonfat yogurt, honey, minced fresh gingerroot and canned, crushed pineapple with juice.

Dips and spreads are always popular and usually benefit from advance preparation to allow the flavors to meld. Salmon Spread can be made a day in advance and kept chilled until your guests arrive.

SALMON SPREAD

15 ounces canned red salmon, well drained, with bones and skin pieces removed 4 ounces dry curd cottage cheese

- 4 ounces light cream
- cheese, softened
- 2 teaspoons onion, finely chopped 1-1/2 tablespoons lemon
- juice 1/4 teaspoon Worcester-
- shire sauce 1/4 teaspoon white pepper
- 1/4 teaspoon dried dill
- 1/4 tsp. dried chives

In a food processor, blender or with an electric mixer, blend together all ingredients until smooth and creamy. Fold into serving dish. Chill several hours before serving. Garnish with parsley or dill. Can be made a day in advance. Makes 2 cups.

Searching for a balance between literal and abstract

here's a thin layer of ice on the small, spring-fed pond outside of Patrick McCay's 150-year-old farmhouse in Franklin.

While he could rather easily capture the stillness with a brush, paint and canvas, McCay resists the temptation to replicate the image of early

The notion of mere landscape painting doesn't hold McCay's attention. And it's not because he couldn't create a striking representation on canvas.

During his formal education at the Glasgow School of Art in the early 1970s, McCay learned painting from the portraitist who claims a hefty fee for his renditions of Britain's Royal Family.

A portrait that McCay hurriedly painted of a female student leans against the wall in his studio. He picks it up, noting that it only took about 45-minutes to capture the expression of his subject.

He knows that he, too, could probably be attracting big money painting portraits of the rich and famous.

But for now, McCay sets down the portrait and turns to his own work. His style, he explains, is somewhere between the literal and abstract.

A striking chord

Whether in the academic world or as he stands before a canvas, McCay faces the challenge confronted by every contemporary artist: How do you create series of his latest lushly painted work inspired by the form of a piano. "I really don't know anyone who's doing this."

Originality is only one of the features of McCay's recent work, cur-rently on exhibit at a gallery in Toledo. He refers to his canvas as having "residual references" and "clues" to draw the viewer into his work.

When people 'make connections,' there's an energy about the work," he said.

Too literal and people will look past the paint and think they're staring at a photo. Too abstract and people will feel disaffected, Somewhere in between, he hopes, there's a connection with the artist.

McCay granted rights to the image from his painting, "Concerto in Red," to be used for a scholarly book about piano compositions. And recently, he's been contacted by people from the Baldwin plano company for a painting to hang in their corporate headquarters.

The piano motif, he admits, has struck a popular chord. (Pun not

Cherished fairy tale presented as opera

ALICE RHEIN STAFF WRITER arhein@oe.ho

As best as Dina Kessler can recall, the idea for her and Patricia Willington to start Great Lakes Lyric Opera was when both were on a bus ride through the upper peninsula while touring with the Michigan Opera Theatre's traveling company.

"I think I looked at Pat and said,
"Why don't we have this on our area?" said Kessler of Royal Oak.

That query planted the seed for the family-oriented opera company that makes its premier on Tuesday, Dec. 21, with a performance of the classic children's tale, "Hansel and Gretel," at the Southfield Centre for the Arts.

"We'll be performing it in English rather than German. We'd like the audience to get exposed to the music without having to pay attention to subtitles," said Kessler, who plays Gretel to Willington's Hansel.

The 1893 Engelbert Humperdinck play was also chosen because it's often with the Michigan Bach Festival, and Southfield resident Willington, who has appeared with opera companies throughout England, Belgium and the United States, are veteran singers and performers in the Detroit area. The duo plans to put on two or three shows a year, including adult operas. By spring, they hope to hold auditions for their next production. They expect to take the current production of "Hansel and Gretel" into Detroit schools.

Willington's brother, John Giaier, who owns a production company, provided an initial sum to get the company started. And Kessler plans on applying for grants as soon as their first production is behind them.

"We're not in this to make a lot of money," said Kessler.

Rocking with the likes of yocalist and front man Peter Wolf, guitarist J. Geils, harmonica player Magic Dick, keyboardist Seth Justman, D.K. and new drummer Sim Cain has always produced unmatched party-hardy excitement.

Rockin' in 2000: The J. Geils Band looks a bit older, but don't dare tell them that they've mellowed.

"We are totally focused on rocking the city of Detroit," said Justman, taking time out during a recent rehearsal. "We're committed to rock the Motor City because

And play together they did as three sold out July shows at Pine Knob brought back memories of the late '70s and early '80s when five and six consecutive nights of electrifying, dancing on the ceiling, dancing on floor bluesy rock 'n' roll kept everyone coming through the door.

Conversations from page B4 well, okay, then what? What's it about?"

intended.)

Pretty straight

In these days of "anything goes" in the art world, McCay believes that his greatest challenge as a teacher is to help students at the Center of Creative Studies - where he's associate dean - stay away from clever and derivative alternatives.

"Whether students are in animation, interior design, fine art or digital media, there's a common denominator - we're all visual artists. We're all looking to get beyond the obvious.

In some ways, McCay is from the old school, where technical ability comes before conceptual talent. "The discipline and technical merit come first." He doesn't hold back his views about the fleeting ideas pushed around by many contemporary artists. "If an artist works with chicken wire and chicken vomit, literal and abstract, McCay's language is straightforward. "Probably because I was raised in Scotland," he said. "Scots are pretty straight about a lot of stuff." Finding his way The rolling hills of Franklin aren't quite the rugged high-lands of western Scotland where McCay grew up. But there's no mistaking the solitude it pro-vides for McCay, and his wife, Jennifer Muir, a staff member at the Birmingham Bloomfield Art Center. Two months after moving to Franklin from Indian Village on Detroit's east side, McCay is still finding his way around the twoacre property. Inside the living quarters, he proudly points out an antique porcelain sink still in use in the kitchen. And he's quick to offer a While his paintings are both tour of the barn, where the smell of horses is ingrained in the wooden floors and walls.

As soon as he makes his first million, he promises himself, he'll renovate the old barn into a

But it's outside, as he imagines the impending changes to the natural landscape, when it becomes clear that McCay's pursuit of merging the literal with the abstract isn't a mere academic concept. For a moment, being an artist and teacher are inseparable. "Working with students, it's like you're feeding them, and they're eding you."

Like a spring-fed pond that turns still in early winter.

"We've always had a special love affair with Detroit," said

Justman. "There is a real appreciation from the band that connects us with our fans in Detroit. They give us the energy we need and we go out and give 150 percent and try to leave it all on stage." Look for the never-say-I'veheard-them-enough classics like "Give It To Me," "Whammer Jammer/Hard Driving Man," and "Detroit Breakdown" to propel the evening into a frenzy. And, oh yes, don't forget to save enough energy to join in on "Centerfold," "Freeze-Frame" or

"Just Can't Stop Me." Any new music? "We have some new ideas, but right now they're in the think tank," Justman said. That's OK because bringing back the favorites makes all J. Geils fans feeling like they "Just Can't Wait."

Hitting the stage prior to the J. Geils Band will be another local favorite, Detroit's own Romantics

Editor's Note: Jim Toth has been preparing for the concert by dancing in halls and continually singing "Detroit Breakdown. Not a pretty sight.

COSTA RICA. YOU CAN REST UNDER A RAINFOREST CANOPY AND A SEASIDE CANOPY ON THE SAME DAY.

Pack your swimsuit and your hiking boots. You're off to lush, tropical Costa Rica where Travel Charter International offers 7 and 14 day vacations at a wide choice of beautiful beachfront resort hotels. Our resort vacations center in the Pacific Northwest region, where long, deserted beaches nuzzle against forested mountains, steaming volcanoes and breathtaking countryside. Here all kinds of exciting daytrips are offered. Raft a river lined by howler monkeys, mot mots and egrets. Hike among geysers, craters, monkeys and sloths. And more.

New kids' books make great gifts

VICTORIA DIAZ SPECIAL WRITER

Want to make this final Ohristmas of the century truly memorable for that special youngster on your list? Any of the following books will prove to be a gift that continues giving; even as we move into the next millennium

"Sector 7," by David Wiesner

(Clarion Books, $16).
This enchanting picture book by the author/illustrator of "June 29, 1999" contains not a single word of text, but is nonetheless an extraordinary literary experience. Ever engaging, sometimes comical, and ultimately moving, "Sector 7" shows us an Imaginative schoolboy who, on a "field trip" with his class visits the Empire State Building's observation deck. There, he meets a companion-able cumulus who whisks him away to Sector 7, a magical place in the sky where clouds are designed and manufac-

The concluding scenes of this book are truly exceptional both in themselves and in how they are exquisitely linked to the preceding pages.

"Knock at a Star: A Child's Introduction to Poetry." by X.J. Kennedy and Dorothy M. Kennedy; illustrated by Karen Lee Baker (Little, Brown and o., $10.95). This newly-revised edition of

"Knock at a Star" is all about the delights of words and word-play. In sections titled "What Do Poems Do?," "What's Inside a Poem?," "Special Kinds of Poetry," and "Do It Yourself," kids can enjoy becoming better versed with verse.

From anonymously written nonsense rhymes to the works nonsense rhymes to the works of such greats as John Updike, William Carlos Williams, Robert Frost; Michigan's Theodore Roethke, and many more, this well-organized anthology more than lives up to its subtitle. Best of all, it's a book the entire family can savor one the together.

"The Very Noisy Night," by Diana Hendry; illustrated by Jane Chapman (Dutton,

Little Mouse is trying to be brave, but the wind is making a frightful racket. Ditto for that spooky old owl, and a "burglar" bent on breaking into the tiny mouse house (said "burglar" is a tree limb, scretching at a window). Big Mouse ultimately succeeds in providing just the right ceeds in providing just the right touch of cozy comfort, however, and all ends happily in this charming bedtime mouse tale. There's definitely nothing mousy about Chapman's art-work. It's as colorful and fun to look at as your granny's crazy

"Here Comes Mother Goose," edited by Iona Opie; illustrated by Rosemary Wells

(Candlewick Press, $21.99). In this fat volume, Wells' lively artwork adds new punch and pizzazz to such classic favorites as "Mary, Mary, Quite Con-trary," "Pease Porridge Hot," "As I Was Going to St. Ives,"

Some verses - such as "What Are Little Girls Made of?" – have been freshened with a con-temporary twist. Throughout, the zany cast of characters is headed up by dozens of our furred and feathered friends. Ducks, chicks, hamsters, kittens, bunnies, and (of course) geese abound. "The Gargoyle on the Roof," by Jack Prelutsky; illus-trated by Peter Sis (Greenwil-low Books, $16).

Though tiny tots may be spooked (especially at bedtime), older kids will probably find this inventive collection a spine-tingling, rib-tickling delight. In verses like "Mother Gargoyle's Lullaby," "Bugaboo," "My Sister-is a Werewolf," and "A Vampire Speaks of Grooming," Prelutsky displays his wonderful way with weird. Sis' oddly tinted illustrations add yet another turn to the bizarre bill, and hit the spot

"The Birchbark House," by Louise Erdrich (Hyperion, $14.99).

A National Book Award finalist, "The Birchbark House" tells the engrossing story of an Ojib-wa girl growing up in the Lake Superior region in the mid-19th century,

For the legions who enjoyed Laura Ingalls Wilder's "Little House on the Prairie," this book may hold special appeal, It is Erdrich's ("Love Medicine") first novel for young readers.

Classic cagers

Versatility is trademark of '99 All-Area girls hoop team

Scoring, rebounding, ball-handling and defense the ingredients needed to be a well-rounded basketball player – were evident on area courts during the 1999 girls high school basketball season.

Spearheaded by Suzanne Morrison of Class B state champion Birmingham-Detroit Country Day, and Miss Basketball finalists Liz Holbrook of Oxford and Rochester's Paig Harris, this 1999 Eccentric All-Area Girls Basketball Team features individuals schooled in every aspect of the game.

Following is a brief profile of each player named to the first three teams, as selected by a panel of

FIRST TEAM

CRYSTAL ANDREWS, Birmingham Marian: A 5-10 senior, the versatile Andrews helped her teammates advance all the way to the state quarterfinals. She had an outstanding season despite the fact she was double-, and sometimes triple-teamed in most games. The four-year varsity per-outing.

"She has played a lot of positions for us," Marian coach Mary Lillie-Cicerone said. "She's versatile,

Tanie Moe - Troy Athens

LISA COPELAND, West Bloomfield: Versatility on the court has made Copeland a special contributor to the Lakers program the past three years. Taking over point guard duties in '99, the 5-10 junior led the Lakers in scoring (15.6), rebounding and assists. She had a high-game of 33 points and strung together 33 consecutive free throws during a stretch of the season.

"She asserted herself more offensively this season," West Bloomfield coach Lance Davis said, "We moved her to point guard and she really took charge of the team

PAIGE HARRIS, Rochester: Moving up from third team to second team and now to first team over the past three seasons, the 5-10 senior, who signed early with University of Massachusetts, culminated a stellar four-year career by averaging 14 points, 5.5 steals and five assists per contest Consistency helped the two-year captain topple the 1,000-point career mark. Harris finished 11th in the voting for Miss Basketball.

"We had a great run with her in the lineup for four years," Rochester coach Tom Hawes said. "She worked hard the entire time and really improved this year taking the ball to the hole.

LIZ HOLBROOK, Oxford: Signing on with Clemson, the 6-1 senior, who played two seasons with the 23-1 Wildcats after moving in from Georgia, owned the post position by averaging 22.9 points,10.9 rebounds, 3.9 steals and 2.6 blocks per contest. She connected on 50 percent of her tries from the floor and 73 percent of her free throws in 22 games, and finished 10th in the Miss Basketball voting. TANIA MOE, Troy Athens: A part of the Red Hawks program the past four seasons, including the last three as a starter, Moe culminated a stellar prep career as the school's scoring leader (963 points) and second in assists (317).

"She's a solid player," Athens coach Joe Clinton said. "She hit a lot of big shots for us. We'll miss

SUZANNE MORRISON, Birmingham-Detroit Country Day: A force at both ends of the court, the 6-0 junior forward drained 58 percent of her field goal attempts and 75 percent of her free throws to average 16 points and 8.2 rebounds for the championship season. A threeyear varsity performer, Morrison garnered All-State Third Team honors

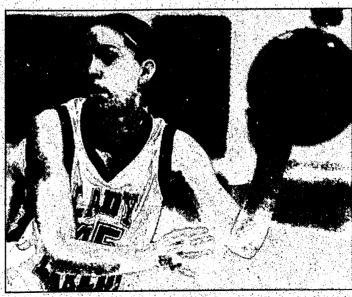

"She just had an excellent year," DCD coach Frank Orlando said. "Her offensive rebounding was outstanding and she just became a tough player to defend.

SECOND TEAM
JEN KRISTENSEN, West Bloomfield: After transferring in for her final two years of high school play, the 5-7 Kristensen became an integral part in the Lakers success. The '99 campaign saw Kristensen connect on 41 percent of her 3point attempts and toss in 14.4 points per game.

AMBER MAZZA, Birmingham Marian: The Mustangs' 6-1 junior held down the post position in her second season of varsity play. Extending her shooting range, Mazza was able to net eight points per game, in addition to hauling down seven rebounds per contest.

"Amber really worked hard and stepped up her overall game," Lillie-Cicerone said.

SARA POTTS. Rochester: Improvement on both ends of the court allowed the Falcons' 5-11 junior forward to bag a team-leading 17 points and snare nine rebounds per outing.

"Sara extended her shooting range to create more shots and became tougher to defend," Hawes said. "We'll look for her to be the leader next year.

VANESSA THOMPSON, Bloomfield Hills Lahser: One of the area's best ball-handlers, the Knights' 5-6 point guard set a single-season school record with 130 assists, including 14 in a game against Oak Park. A three-year varsity player, the Knights captain connected on 40 percent of her attempts from the field and 76 percent from the four line in averaging 11 points per game

"She loves basketball and works hard," Lahser coach Chris Drogosch said. "She sees the court very well and just improved her all-around game."

BECKY THURAU, Birmingham Groves: Competing in her second season of varsity play, the 6-3 junior became comfortable with her allaround game to average nine points, 10 rebounds and three blocks per game for the 16-5 Falcons.

"She's tremendous," Groves coach Don Colpaert said of Thurau. "She has high expectations of her-self and I think that helped lead her success."

KIM WILBURN, Birmingham-Detroit Country Day: A sophomore with an all-around game any senior would cherish, the 5-6 backcourt nom converted the decisive basket in the Yellow Jackets thrilling finals win over Flint Powers. In her second season of varsity play, Wilburn averaged 15 points, five steals and four rebounds per contest. Included in her efforts was a state-record nine steals in a championship game.

"She is very skilled going to the basket and has worked hard to improve her outside shot," Orlando said. "She can really create a lot of opportunities."

THIRD TEAM

KATIE BRADACS, Auburn Hills Avondale: The Yellow Jackets senior captain, a starter for three-plus seasons, led her teammates in scoring (12), rebounding (6) and blocked shots. Handling duties at nearly every position on the floor, Bradacs also found time to collect three steals per DAWN MAYNARD, Lake Orion: A 5-11 sophomore forward, Maynard contributed 11 points and 9.6 rebounds for the 7-15 Dragons in her first full season of varsity play. Among Maynard's totals was a 24-point, 21-rebound outburst in the district semifinals against Pontiac Northern.

"dawn is a very athletic kid who runs the floor weel and improved her all-around game as the season went along," said Lake Orion coach Steve Roberts, "Both athletically and mentally, she has the potential to be one of the best-ever at Lake sophomore, the Highlanders backcourt star earned team MVP honors by leading her teammates in scoring (12 scoring points) and assists (3.2),while finishing second rebounding (7.2). Kuhl improved shooting range to drain 41 percent of her'3point attempts.

"Erin was one of those kids who got better as the season went on. coach

Fran Scislowicz said, "She sees the court very well and became much better on the defensive end."

Ray Robinson

CHIZZY NWANKO, Troy Athens: The Red Hawks' 5-6 junior forward, in her second season as starter, used her quickness to contribute 9.8 points and 8.7 rebounds to the season-long effort.

"Chizzy got better and better as the year went on," Clinton said. "She's an extremely versatile, athletic player and a great team leader."

HEATHER ROBBINS, West Bloomfield: A four-year starter and two-year captain for the Lakers, the 5-11 Robbins contributed 11 points per

Wolves hold off Ferndale

BY DAVID SAUNDERS STAFF WRITER

Clarkston has been known over the years for its annual arsenal of three-point shooters. But on Friday in the fourth quarter against Ferndale, the Wolves nearly got a taste of their own medicine.

Ferndale had only connected on 2 of 13 shots from behind the arc through three quarters, but suddenly found its range from 3-point territory, hitting three triples early in the fourth, which helped close a 10-point deficit at the start of the fourth quarter down to just four points at 61-57 with 3:33 left in the game.

However, the Wolves buckled down with their perimeter defense and weathered Ferndale's hail storm of three pointers in the fourth quarter to post a nail-bitting 70-65 Oakland Activities Associ-ation Division I triumph over the host Eagles.

Clarkston senior guard Ryan Marino, who scored game-high 39 points, canned six of the Wolves final nine points to keep Ferndale at bay and help the Wolves bounce back from a loss at Pontiac Northern. Marino came into the game averaging nearly 24 points per game.

Clarkston (3-1, 1-1) were sharp from the field throughout, hitting 25 of 47 shots (53.1 percent), while Ferndale managed only a 25 of 73 (34.2 percent) performance.

"It's a big win for our kids on the road and to win on the road, but in fairness to them they had their big kid out, but in fairness to us we had our point guard (junior Ryan Kaul) out," Wolves coach Dan Fife said. "For us, it's a trade off because when you don't have your point guard you don't have your quarterback.

"Their press kept them in the game. We're going to win the game if we break the press and lose it if we can't, because we'll be able to score," Fife said.

Clarkston got out to a quick 8-0 lead - a lead they would never relinquish the first quarter. Marino hit for eight points in that quarter and sophomore guard Mike Blicher scored four of his eight points in that frame.

After Ferndale (3-2, 1-1) closed the gap to 30-24 at halftime, the Wolves went on a 9-2 run to start the third quarter on two treys by Marino and one by senior forward Rocky Lund to give them a 39-26

"We came out and hit the threes, then all of a sudden we're letting them back into the game," Fife said. "It's a game we deserved to win and (a game) we (almost) lost and it's just through silli-

Ferndale's press began to wear on the Wolves and the Eagles went on a 10-2 run in the middle of the third to cut the lead to 43-27. But Marino exploded for 16 points in the third to offset Ferndale's surge.

"I felt we should have won the game by 10-15 points, but I give credit to Ferndale — they kept themselves in the game and cut it to four at a crucial time and it seems like we tried to keep them in the game.

"We started breaking their press a little bit and that helped us," Fife added, "We were having such a difficult time breaking their press.

Offensively, Marino was unstoppable.

"Marino! — 39 points against a team like Ferndale, that's tough to do," Fife said. "He's worked hard all summer long to find himself as a player. We're just trying to get him to work on other things now. Marino made some big free throws down the stretch.

"I thought Adam Schapman was outstanding at both ends of the floor. He made good decisions with Senior center Adam Schapman added nine points for Clarkston.

Birmingham Unified ices Clarkston

For the second straight game, Clarkston did not cover well in its defensive zone, and it cost

The Wolves were surprised The Wolves were surprised by Birmingham Unified 5-3 on Wednesday at Lakeland Arena this week for their second Oakland Activities Association Division I loss of the season. The defeat drops state-ranked Clarkton two games behind first-place Royal Oak Unified in the division standings — and likely Trivision standings — and likely Tfrom the Division I state Top 10.

Unlike earlier this season when Clarkston pounded Birmingham 8-3 in the Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook Thanksgiving Tournament, the Wolves not only had more breakouts on offense, but they had the pucks bouncing their way.

Nevertheless, Clarkston coach Bryan Krygier gave no excuses for his team's shoddy performance. Host Birmingham received better play out of its goaltending and defensive positions and nearly equaled the favored Wolves in shots on goal.

Krygier, whose team falls to 6-3 overall and 1-2 in the division, "They were ready to beat us after that Thanksgiving tournament. Clarkston never led in the contest, but Adam Postal and Jason Stoecker helped the Wolves tie it at two goals apiece late in the first period. That was the last time the Wolves would be even with Birmingham. Alan Marchio added a tally later in the contest, but it wasn't enough.

Robinson, who formerly coached the boys basketball team at Mott, switched to the girls program several years ago.

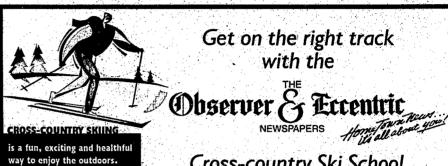

According to Ray's son Ryan (also the girls junior varsity coach at Mott) the seasoned coach switched schools of thought along the way as well.
"I played for him. I know what it was like," said Ryan. "Back then, it was yelling and screaming and that was it. This season, he has off-court meetings and discussions with the girls ... we never had meetings or talked about anything!

The usual comment when most people see Saturn's new world's first is, "Why didn't they do that before?" The idea is really an application of the third, and now the fourth doors, that three-door coupe, touted as a have been available on extended have been known to drive straight across Antarctica. The Hummer is also loaded with special optional gizmos that extend its versatility.

Consider, for example, the optional inflation system that gives the driver control over tire pressure on the fly. With the flip of a switch, the pressure can be decreased to respond better on loose terrain such as sand with out so much as slowing down one mile per hour.

Of course, being able to do all those things doesn't mean the average civilian owner will ever actually try them. The last time anyone checked, running to the grocery store for eggs didn't involve scaling rocky inclines and fording rivers.

"Most of our customers already have a Porsche, Jaguar or Mercedes in their driveway. This is another toy, something that the next-door neighbor doesn't have," Feltner said.

Detroit typical customer, Feltner explained, is the successful small-business owner, Although he admits to dealing with some local celebrities, including the organical Red Wing.

local celebrities, including the occasional Red Wing.

cab pickup trucks for a couple of Like on pickups, the third door is hinged at the rear so it swings open suicide-style to a nearly 90-degree angle allowing easier access to the backseat.

You do have to open the drir's side door to get to the handle for the third door. Saturn says the new door does not decrease the vehicle's original crash-worthiness

Once open, it is easy to load in bags of groceries, throw in a gym bag or strap in the grand-children's car seats. And while it makes for easier passenger entrance and exit, it does not increase the rear passenger seat accommodations. This is still a coupe, and the rear seat is best suited for smallish passengers on short trips. The back seat is prefect for carrying grandchil-

there is no center post to inter-fere with access to the rear seat. Like the rest of GM products, Saturn's Mobility Program reimburses owners for the cost of aftermarket driver or passenger mobility equipment up to $1,000.

The 1999 Saturn coupe comes in two versions, the base SC1 and the upscale SC2. Both feature the third door as standard equipment. The SC1 has a 1.9-liter SOHC (single overhead camshaft) 4-cylinder engine that is rated at 100 horsepower at 5,000 rpm and has 114 ft-lbs. of torque at 2,400 rpm. The SC2 features the same basic 1.9-liter 4-cylinder engine, but with a DOHC (dual overhead camshaft). This boosts output to 124 horsepower at 5,600 rpm and 122 ft-lb. at 4,800 rpm. Both engines are offered with a five-

speed manual or a four-speed electronically controlled automatic transmission

The 1999 Saturns are quieter than their predecessors, which were often faulted for their somewhat noisy interiors. This comes from a quieter engine and exhaust system. Saturn has been working on reducing noise, vibration and harshness for years, but finally accomplished this in 1999 models.

While Saturns have a very loyal following of owners, Sat urn sales been sagging in the past few years. This is not because it is not a good car with an excellent repair record, but because it has so many great competitors. Innovations such as three-door plus Saturn's undentable and no-rust body panels are good selling points, but what Saturn needs is a new car. That will come with all-new year 2000 models that will include a larger L series alone with a redone S series.

Multipurpose vehicle drops the army drab for civilian life

By Ken Van Steenkiste

You think your sport-utility is capa-

By conventional standards, it may

But there's nothing conventional about the High Mobility Multipurpose Wheeled Vehicle, or Hummer as it has. come to be known.

Designed as a military replacement for the trusty, yet time-worn Jeep, the Hummer was created to be even more dogged than its predecessor. The first prototype hit test tracks around 1980 and after exhaustive tests the manufacturer, Am General was awarded a contract for production of 55,000.

After initial interest from consumers, AM General decided to offer the vehicles to the general population in 1991.

Somewhere along the way, despite being one of the most intrepid vehicles ever produced, the Hummer has ordered with such creature comforts as a six-disc CD changer, remote keyless entry, and a heated windshield. Air conditioning is standard equipment.

Hard-nosed drill sergeants across the nation would probably see red if they knew their beloved combat vehicle now came in "candy apple" red, "competition yellow," and a shade of deep purple aptly dubbed "mesa dusk," There are a variety of body styles such as the two and four door configu-rations that resemble a pick-up truck on steroids. Then there's the which looks like a Jeep Cherokeelon steroids.

And most new models will only set you back about $80,000. But rest easy, bargain hunters, used models are commonly found for a mere $60,000.

"They come off the same (production) line as the military Hummers, at some point they just split off and certain things are added and changed," said

Sergeant's nightmare: Bryan Feltner, Detroit Hummer sales manager stands by a line of brightly colored Hummers, The vehicles come in red, yellow, white and purple..

Southfield

Detroit Hummer moves about six of the vehicles a month, a substantial figure, considering the vehicle's hefty price tag. The dealership ranks fourth in sales volume in North America.

Feltner admits his job isn't always tough, because it doesn't take a "hard sell" approach to move the Hummers off the lot.

"Most of the people that call here or come down know exactly what they want," he explained.

"What they want" is half unstoppable juggernaut of the backwoods, half status symbol. The Hummer is the ultimate extension of the sport-utility

They come with all the amenities you'd find in a typical luxury car," Feltner noted.

At some point even the cushiest sport-utility must yield to the ele-ments. But little can stop the Hummer.

Because of it's unrivaled ground clearance of over a foot, it can scale rock faces with the agility of a billy goat. The nimble Hummer climbs 60 percent grades without huffing and puffing. That's steep enough to bring the average passenger car to a halt.

A low-slung design means it can drive along the sides of hills, undaunted. In fact, the Hummer is oblivious to 40 percent side slopes, which would flip most trucks like a gymnast doing somersaults.

And while Michigan winters have been known to be harsh, Hummers

You must have worked at least 20 weeks before you were laid off or fired to be eligible for unemployment," said Garcia. You also need to earn at least $154.50 a week while on the job to be eligible for unemployment benefits."

If an individual is single, he or she could earn $87 a week based on having received $154.50 a week while working. That rate increases to $92 a week if you are married.

"The maximum benefit you can receive is $300, but you must have earned $520 a week while you were working as a single person or $535 a week as a married person," Garcia said. "These rates are based on 70 percent after tax earnings.'

Once a claim for unemployment is filed, the individual has what is called a "benefit year" or one year to make use of the 26 weeks of unemployment benefits. Only one claim can be filed each workforce that are most vulnerable for layoffs and unemployment. Garcia said it's actually seasonal workers who are most prone to filing an unemployment claim.

"We are seeing individuals working in landscaping, construction and even on golf courses coming in here to file an unemployment claim," she said. "Some are from the automotive industry. We recently have had some from Chrysler."

If an individual is fired, the process to receive unemployment benefits is similar to being layed off, however, a claims examiner must first review the case.

"The most important thing you have to remember is to file a claim the week you become unemployed," Garcia said. "Many people wait too long."

The Michigan Unemployment branch offices also offer "Profiling" for those individuals who are approved for unem ployment benefits as well as a "Talent Bank". A person's resume will be entered in the Talent Bank where businesses are looking to hire. The Talent

"We provide these individuals re-employment services. This involves a Michigan Work Agency person helping individuals with many aspects of re-entering the work-force which includes putting together their resumes and understanding what to expect from a job interview."
Westland resident Britt Martin may soon need to educate himself again on organizing a resume. Martin, 35, has been working for the cable industry for 12 years as a production assistant. For the first time in 12 years he finds himself in a potential layoff situation.

"We have been told that we can expec to be laid off early next year," he said.
"I'm half nervous about having to go out and look for a job after 12 years. I'm also thinking about making sure I have enough money set aside to pay the bills if I am laid off."

Martin works for Media One which is on the verge of being acquired by AT&T. The cable industry has been known to be very fragile, especially within the last five years, as the telephone industry and cable industry have become technology partners. In fact, when Martin was first hired, he worked for Continental Cablevision in Dearborn Heights. After a few years, Continental Cablevision was bought by Media One. Leaving a steady full-time job is going to be difficult, according to

Bloomer Ridge gives you a piece of country

You really have to know where you're going to get to Bloomer Ridge.

But once you find the platted community west on Bloomer Road where John R ends in Rochester, you encounter a platted residential development of 27 lots on a rolling piece of land in a peaceful setting that builders tout as country living in the city. "It's privacy, quiet, hidden, very treed, as natural as can be," said Anna Grassi, project manager for P.E.G. Con-struction. "We have wildlife here, deer. "It's close to Bloomer Park and downtown (Rochester), within walking dis-tance," said Guido Grassi, president of P.E.G. Construction and Anna's father.

"I think the location is great," Anna added. "It's not off a main road. It's small, not a lot of run-through traffic. We have easy access to M-59, I-75. We're by the Palace, Silverdome, Mead-ow Brook."

Work centers," Guido said. "Plenty of restaurants are here; shopping centers are here, all amenities five minutes away," Anna said. "The houses, themselves, we feel they're in line as far as price," Guido

"very open floor spaces." Three floor plans are offered to prospective buyers.

A ranch of 1,850 square feet with three bedrooms and 2-1/2 baths carries a base price of $274,900. A story-anda-half of 2,300 square feet with three bedrooms and 2-1/2 baths goes for $314,900. A colonial of 2,700 square feet with four bedrooms and 2-1/2 baths runs $334,900.

All plans include at base price fireplace; first-floor laundry with cabinets and sink; two-car garage; basement; oven and dishwasher in the kitchen; 90-percent energy-efficient furnace carpeting throughout, and a $1,200 light fixture allowance.

A jet tub and separate shower are standard in the master suite of the story-and-a-half and colonial. Ceramic flooring in the foyer and hallway is standard in the story-and-a-half and ranch, hardwood in the colonial.

Price of the model as is – with land-scaping and walk-out – is $359,000.

"Other plans are available, and we're willing to work with people for changes," Guido said.

Lot premiums range from $5,000-$18,000, but base-price lots are still available. Walkouts, which include doorwall, two large windows and rough drywalling, cost $15,000.

They (visitors) tell me it's a wellkept secret," sales rep Rick Beverly said of the site. "You don't know it's back here. They love the trees and that it's such a beautiful area.

Let's Talk About Real Estate

"IT'S NOT OVER TILL IT'S OVER!"

Yogi Berra, the often quoted ex-baseball player with the New York Yankees, said in response to a reporter's question that "It's not over till it's over." This saying can apply to a real estate transaction also. Here are some of the things that can adversely affect a sale:

IMPROPER ASKING PRICE

You should price it right from the outset. It must be high enough to give the seller maximum profit and also compete with similar homes on the market.

LOCAL ECONOMY

The ability to sell your home depends on the buying power of potential purchasers. Their decision to buy a home will be affected to some degree by their optimism about their career and local economic indicators.

INTEREST RATES

Demand for homes is usually strong during flat or rising interest rate periods. Falling rates, however, often cause people to wait until the rates hit bottom before deciding to buy.

FEELINGS BETWEEN BUYER AND SELLER

A home purchase is a major event in the lives of both buyer and seller. This may cause feelings to be aroused by things said or done by either party.

UNACCEPTABLE HOME INSPECTION

2 1/2 baths

Many offers are made with a clause that makes the sale dependent upon a satisfactory inspection of the physical condition of the home by a professional home inspector. If the inspection reveals some material problem, the purchase can be voided by the buyer.

RUVER'S REMORSE

Even after the purchase agreement is finalized, there is the possibility that the buyer may have a change of heart about completing the sale.

ADVICE: Avoid as many of these pitfalls as possible. Hire a professional Realtor* to represent you in the marketing of your home.
