HAVE YOU HEARD ABOUT OUR "NO-PAYMENT" PRE-PLAN PROGRAM?

Did you know you can pre-plan funeral services at no charge? You can. It will cost you nothing at all to make your wishes known as to your choice of service, casket, music, specific readings from Scripture -- even arrange for your favorite flowers and your clergyman. And these arrangements-in-advance can be made without cost or obligation.

HERE'S HOW TO DO IT: First, come in and complete our Pre-Planning Form with our help. The form covers all the above-mentioned choices and many others. Second, you will receive copies of the form for safekeeping with your lawyer, accountant, designated estate administrator or family member. Third, a copy remains with us which you may review from time-to-time and update as you require.

Pre-Payment Options:

Several pre-payment plans are available, too, if you choose to pay in advance. But pre-planning does not necessarily mean pre-payment. Stop by for full details.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Reader Discusses Library

Dear Editor:

The "Friends" of the Independence Township Library met last Thursday, supposedly to discuss a proposal to boycott its library, according to information provided the Oakland Press. No such proposal was discussed, and the meeting was fairly peaceful. Apparently much was done before the meeting to avert such action. Or the more sensible members reread their charter. It pledges them to support, not subvert, the library.

However, a document was handed out that addressed the "Friends" as though they were the library advisory board. You may recall that the board resigned in protest over the Township's refusal to dismiss the librarian. Since some individuals belong to both the "Friends" and did belong to the now defunct advisory board, they are in some respects identical. I quote from the handout addressed to the Friends:

"Our present structure is that of an advisory board which lack authority over personnel and financing and etc." This is true of both the now non-existent advisory board and the "Friends".

However, this document proposed that the advisory board be reincarnated through political means in order to give it administrative control over the personnel and finance. The "Friends" also rejected this move. They did concede however that as individuals anyone could petition to reincarnate the library board through the ballot box. Again affirming the non-political intent of charter.

This document given to the "Friends" of the library board reasserted its claims about the librarian's incompetence, some of which have already found their way into the local press. Among these claims is that the librarian is not spending the .3 mill required to receive State Aid. I quote: "We could very well lose State Aid completely if the State Library Service becomes aware that local spending is below .3 mill." This hints darkly that the Township is getting money to which it has no legal right. A trot across the street to the library where the librarian was on duty at the desk would have dispelled the fears expressed in the handout. The librarian is spending the money allotted the library, which is .3 mill, and the township receives State Aid because it is entitled to it. The State Library Service is not asleep. Neither is the librarian.

However, this handout to the "Friends" of the library board has an even juicier claim: "The Township Board enjoys $321,000.00 surplus because the Township Board has failed in its obligation to financially support the library." The Township would have had to fail in its obligation to pay the librarian's salary, the salary for the part-time help, as well as maintenance in order to accumulate this amount. And it would have taken about ten years of such negligence to amass such an amount.

The document intended for the "Friends" of the library board makes other claims that need close attention. But why bother. It is intended as a broadside in a political campaign to get administrative control over the library by a very small group of Clarkston residents. It was written by someone, a librarian herself, whose application for position of librarian is already in the hands of the Township Supervisor. A number of the Friends of the library recognized it for what it was: political campaign literature that had not place among real friends.

The nit-picking complaints about the carpeting and the upkeep of the grounds have now been elevated to attacks on the intelligence and integrity of the librarian. Let us pray that Independence Township does not let the library become a political football in the hands of a lobby disguised as friends.

The meeting took place in a church across the street from the library where the librarian was on duty. In effect they are neighbors. What was it Our Lord said about our neighbors?

Letters to the Editor

To: The editors and staff of The Reminder,

Thank you for an honest and enjoyable year of reporting. Your paper is short, sweet, to the point and very credible. Your editorials and reporting are very understandable and thought-provoking. Having been a resident of Clarkston for fourteen years and having subscribed to "the other" weekly paper for almost that long, your paper is a "breath of fresh air". We feel the other paper owes too many people too many favors and reports in a somewhat biased way. Your article on the Independence Township Library in today's paper brought out facts and figures in a clear way without adding confusion to an already confused situation.

We also feel that the Jaycees should be given a second chance on building and maintaining their sign. It does, if properly kept, add another friendly touch to the small-town atmosphere of Clarkston by letting everyone know that we are a busy and happy community, plus it reminds those of us who tend to forget, to support our local activities.

Again, our compliments on your paper. We wish you many more years of continued success. By keeping up the honest, straight-forward approach to reporting, you will continue to win the support of the community.

Sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Irwin
6665 Laurelton

Dear Editor and Members of Independence Township Board,

After questioning the alleged law enforcement of the local township police department, I have been unable to receive any type of an intelligent answer.

Therefore, I am now directing my questions to the Supervisor and Board members of Independence Township.

Why did one of the township's alleged law enforcement officers search my property at 4657 Jerome Road without a search warrant? Why did he totally disregard my wife who was ill at the time, in her repeated requests to get off the property and to talk to me? During this harassment she tried to get in touch with me by phone and while doing so became ill. After leaving the bath room, she saw the dog warden still searching for a two by four which he never found. Again she ordered the warden to leave the premise, and he refused.

The next day the same officer returned with a warrant. My wife Frances asked him to leave and he refused. He then told that both our names were on the warrant and if she did not take it, and I quote, "I will throw your ass in jail, old woman."

I came home soon after she received the warrant. At this time she did not tell about the officer's threats and abuse, for reasons that are obvious to any man that gives a damn about his wife.

When I read the warrant and saw that the complainant

By Carol Balzarini

Water has been a recurring topic of conversation at Clarkston Village Council meetings lately. Village residents, particularly those whose property borders Parke Lake, the Mill Pond or the connecting streams, are concerned with the lack of it. They have cited a number of possible causes for the low water levels.

One possibility was last year's dredging done at the east end of Little Walters Lake by the developers of Olde Sturbridge Settlement.

Doug Hargreaves of Hargreaves and Pilarcik acknowledged the dredging but explained that it was minimal and only involved by pulling cattails and cleaning up the small inlet close to Perry Lake Road making it useable for boating and swimming.

Hargreaves said the lake was spring-fed, that the spring was still flowing and there was no drop in the water level despite the dry summer. He lives on the lake himself and uses his dock as a gauge of that level.

The Mill Pond's level is only affected by the level of Little Walters Lake when the water is high. An overflow basin, according to Hargreaves, is located in the corner of the I-75 exit and flows under the expressway.

A check of various stretches of the Clinton River on both sides of I-75 showed the water level to be below normal. Watermarks on a culvert appeared to be some 4-6 inches above the current level.

One look at the lush green lawns on Bluegrass Drive and the wide use of sprinklers would indicate those property owners have been taking advantage of the water in the nearby stream. The dry summer has probably created a greater usage of that water.

A check of the Mill Pond last week indicated a near-normal water level. The permanent dam between the Radcliff and Lambert properties had not water flowing over it although natural seepage contributed to some water flow which continued under Main Street and into Parke Lake. It was evident that the level was lower than normal, as was the flow under both Church Street and Waldon Road.

Another possibility cited by those concerned citizens was whether or not Marc Alan, owner of Clarkston Mills, was purposely keeping the water level low to prevent spillover. As the owner of the property, Alan does, indeed, control the water as did the Hawke family before him and all other previous owners.

According to Keith Hallman, Alan's representative, purchase of any millsite at one time gave the owner legal right to water control. The original owners had control of that water as far upstream as Crooked Lake. Technically adjacent property owners would have to ask the mill owner's permission to even put out a dock.

Frank Walker, developer of Clarkston Mills, referred to the 1970 Oakland County History Book which tells how Butler Holcomb dug a half mile long canal along the east side of the mill pond in 1832. He was then able to get the power necessary to operate a sawmill. It was the Clarks who later added the grist and flour mills and built the

THOUGHTS 'N THINGS

Thoughts 'n Things

A recent letter commenting on one of my columns described a sentence as being "blasphemous." It reminded me of a phone call I received several years ago, when one of my readers commented on a column she'd just read. She said, "Oh, I'm so glad to discover that you are a Christian. I was in doubt until now." These two comments point up my appraisal of communications difficulties. To understand meaning, as well as words, we must understand where the other person is "coming from".

In order to write a column such as this one, it is necessary to put one's ego on the line. There simply is no way of "sizing up" each individual reader, and gearing one's "conversation" to the audience. I am well aware that each column may leave me open to attack! So, as some of my friends have asked, why do I do it?

Money? As most people know, writers, unless they write Best Sellers, do not often get rich.

Ego? I seldom hear from readers -- and my reaction to complimentary readers is usually, "What a nice person, to take the time to say something nice to somebody!" I think ego is something you develop when everything is easy for you. I have confidence. That comes from not being easy. Anyone can develop confidence by working hard at something, and finding out that it 'works'. It is the order of the universe. If you do something again and again and again, you get better at it. Then you begin to believe that you can accomplish anything in life if you just work hard enough at it. It then follows that the same rule of thumb applies to everyone, so ego doesn't enter into it -- just hope and faith, which leads to confidence.

I have hope and I have faith. I have hope for all people. I have faith in all people. Communicating with others, and understanding others, as well as ourselves, provide the keys to unlocking the mysteries of our minds and emotions. They allow us to grow and to develop our potential, and to help others to grow, and to develop their potential. The more people who become the best of what they can be, the better the community, the society, and world will be. I want life to keep getting better for myself, my children and my children's children. I'm willing to make an effort toward that condition.

I did have a Christian "upbringing" and I did have trouble with "obedience" to things that didn't make sense to me. I had trouble believing in things that I could not "see." I think most children do have trouble with concepts and symbolism. I also observed adults who claimed to be good Christians, doing unChristian-like things, and then watched them appear very pious and proper, in church on Sunday. It didn't seem to me that God could be dumb enough not to see through them. Somewhere in there, I decided that I didn't want to do anything that I wasn't good at. By the time I went to college, I decided that I would never be a good church-goer, so I stopped going.

When our first child was about five, I heard her tell her sister that there "is no God." I don't know where she heard it, but I was shocked. I believed in God. I just didn't believe in the hypocrisy of a lot of church-goers. I did a lot of thinking, and decided that children shouldn't have strong opinions about subjects they knew nothing about. I started my child in Sunday school.

Now, I didn't think a parent should send a child to Sunday school unless the parent attended church, so I went each Sunday, and sat in the last row, and tried not to get involved. I was there. I contributed money. I smiled at people. I listened to the music. I did my parental duty. It was not the church I had been raised in, so I had no guilt feelings. I had chosen this church by location. It was the one that my daughter's friends attended.

Though I learned as a child that church congregations were different according to what they believed in, I couldn't help but hear the minister saying the same things to this congregation that I had learned as a child. I began wondering what the "big deal" was about the differences. I became a member of the congregation.

By that time I was aware of a great number of negative things going on in the world that my parents had protected me from during my childhood. I realized that there were a great number of people who were deliberately doing cruel things to other people, and they often banded together in "gangs." At the same time, the churches were becoming emptier and emptier. I felt good when I went to church though, because I felt safe there. I figured that most of the people that sat around me that everyone wasn't crooked or mean, and I was glad that my kids could have that reassurance every Sunday, it was like giving them plenty of vitamins and sunshine!

I returned to college, and to complete credits for my degree, I was told that I had to study two non-Western civilizations. I did not look forward to either course. I took the Introduction to China, and Introduction to India.

They proved to be two of the most interesting and enlightening courses I ever took.

While studying the religion and philosophy of those two groups of humans, I began to understand things that I had been taught, and things that I had felt, but never understood.

I finally realized that what is -- is, no matter what we call it. By that time I was struggling with the acceptance and understanding of the death of my father. My mother had been talking to him, had turned away for just a moment, and when she turned back, he was gone. Only the physical part of him remained.

I had a great deal of difficulty dealing with such finality. Nothing in my life or learning had prepared me for that reality, and I was terribly grateful that we had understood each other, now that it was too late to say or do anything more about our relationship. Always before, there had been time for mind-changing, repentance, understanding, forgiveness, and all the human dealings we have with each other. I was glad that I had no words or actions to regret. I did, however, have regrets about the things I might have said, and the things I might have done, but didn't.

After the first feelings of gratitude that I had nothing to regret, and recognition of the things I might have done, but didn't, came depression, and fear of the unknown power that could whisk a loved one away so suddenly. I kept wondering about death -- and what it was. Of course, I didn't let anyone else know that I was thinking such "crazy" thoughts, until one day I told my mother. She said, "Why do you worry so much about where you're going when you never worried about where you came from?" That hit me funny. I was expecting our third child then, and never wondered about birth -- only death.

Joan Allen

I had learned a lesson. It no longer mattered to me about "life before birth," or "life after death". It only mattered what I did with the time in between. What seemed important then, was that I gather together everything I had been given in life, and everything I had learned, and that I share it with others, just as I hoped they would share the things they had with me. This column grew out of that. My mother's comment had opened a window, and there was suddenly sunshine where there had been darkness and distress. It was such a simple remark -- and tossed out because she never could understand why I took things apart and analyzed them in the first place! It seemed to me that there must be a lot of people suffering as I had, and that perhaps I could "scatter the seeds" of ideas that might open doors and windows for them -- and that would be a good thing to do.

When I sound "unChristianlike" or "blasphemous," it is not my intention to be either. I am simply aware that we all have unanswered questions, and we are all searching for answers, and that we all create symbols for our feelings and beliefs. We share life, but we often have trouble sharing symbols because they are not the feelings and beliefs -- just the the things that stand for them. The letters that make up the word "God" are only letters of our alphabet, and not the meaning, and though there are other words of other languages that would be alien to us, their meaning is the same. Meanings are what we must be concerned with, for man cannot change them. Symbols, however, differ among different people, and even our own have been changed through the centuries, as well as during our lives. To live in peace with one another, we must move beyond the symbols to understanding -- That is the promise of the future of man.

Do You Have a Daughter Under 14? Here is a Sample of What You Have Ahead

by Carol Balzarini

This article is intended only for parents of little girls between the sizes of six months and teen 14. Beyond that size it's too late, you already know what I'm talking about. But, for the uninformed, I want you to appreciate and enjoy the peace and quiet you and your daughter have left together.

All too soon that dear little girl will grow up. She will develop a figure that is somewhere between Twiggy and Racquel Welch; she will develop a flair for clothes that is somewhere between K-Mart and Vogue; and she will have a father whose income is somewhere between poverty level and that of an Arab sheik. All of this will happen when she outgrows size 14.

It is then you will discover that no clothing manufacturer ever employed a model built like your daughter. You will also discover that he never bothered to ask the "typical" teenage girl what she would like to wear. And he obviously never asked her parents what would be a reasonable price to pay for the clothes she liked. If, indeed, he made them in the first place!

Nowadays, if a growing girl's feet get ahead of her body, she'll be wearing heelless, toeless platform wedgies at the age of eleven. If her top half grows faster than her bottom half, she'll be wearing a slinky black see-through blouse with her brother's jeans. If the opposite happens, you may find her in satin pants with a t-shirt with Winnie-the-Pooh on it.

It's very difficult for a young girl with her own ideas of what's fashionable to go shopping and come home with those ideas realized. Just try to imagine her looking for something she'd like and finding it. And then try to imagine her finding it at a price her dad could live with!

But caught between the expectations of the daughter and the income of the father is good old Mom. She is the one who has to trail the teenager through rack upon rack, row after row, of clothing pursuing "the impossible dream." Then she must go home and explain how that skimpy, shapeless piece of cloth can cost so much.

This is also the age when mother and daughter must shop together for a number of reasons. First, Mom doesn't have the foggiest idea what size her daughter wears or where to find it. And, too, her daughter wouldn't be caught dead in anything Mom liked anyway.

Second, it's very difficult to compromise between the clothing desired by the daughter and price her parents are willing to pay. Mom has to be the cost arbitrator. Chances are, if the teenager likes it, they can't afford it. Or, if they can afford it, she won't wear it.

Third, the daughter is too young to drive although her mother swears she herself is getting too old to shop with a teenager. There is a definite generation gap during these years that widens considerably during a shopping trip.

And why, you ask, is this article being written? What prompts this outburst of frustration? Why is Mom tired of looking at mannequins that look ready for Halloween? Why is Dad getting grayer looking at his bank balance? It's back-to-school time, of course!

The Plant Doctor

By Gregory Patchan
Extension Horticulture Agent

Dear Plant Doctor:

This year, my flowering crabapple tree has produced a lot of fruit that are fairly large. Are these fruits edible or should I just throw them away?

C.P.-Pontiac

Dear C.P.:

Crabapples are edible, as they belong to the same genus as apples. Although they are edible, their quality does not match that of eating apples. Generally, flowering crabapples have a very bitter or tart taste. They may be used for making jam, jellies, and sauces. This can also be done with flowering quince.

Dear Plant Doctor:

Our lawn seems to be full of crabgrass. What can we do about this weed at this time?

R.S.-Waterford

Dear R.S.:

I suggest you let nature run its course. crabgrass is an annual, and it will be killed by frost. Post-emergent killers are available, but they are most effective on young crab grass. At this time, crabgrass is quite tough and difficult to kill without the risk of injuring your desirable grasses. Be sure to apply a pre-emergent crabicide next April to prevent the crabgrass from reappearing in the bare areas created by this year's infestation.

Dear Plant Doctor:

All of a sudden one yew in a shrub planting turned brown and died. The shrubs have been planted for two seasons and the surrounding yews are completely healthy. What happened?

P.P.-Pontiac

Dear P.P.:

From your description of the problem, a disease or insect attacking the foliage is not the problem. Some type of injury has interrupted the sap flow in the shrub. I suggest you closely inspect the trunk including several inches below the soil surface. Girdling by mice could be the problem. Quite frequently shrubs are girdled by wires and synthetic fibered ropes left around the trunk. As the trunk expands, the wire or rope will strangle the shrub. Years ago when natural fibers were used, girdling seldom developed because these materials rapidly decayed. Root damage from vine weevils could also be a problem. In this case, most of the feeder roots will have been destroyed, and the needles will have notches cut out of them. Vine weevils can be controlled by spraying the shrubs and soil with Lindane at the end of June. When you remove the shrub, a close inspection should reveal one of the problems.

Dear Plant Doctor:

My tomatoes are developing rotted, sunken spots on the bottom side of the fruit. They are not on the ground and I have not noticed and slugs or insects. What's my problem.

A.P.-Pontiac

Dear A.P.:

Your problem is Blossom-End Rot, a physiological disorder that occurs to some extent, where ever tomatoes are grown. A small water-soaked spot first develops at or near the bottom of infected tomatoes. The spot enlarges and darkens; it becomes sunken and leathery. Blossom-end rot is related to an uneven moisture supply and a calcium deficiency. Often the calcium deficiency is a result of an overabundant amount of nitrogen in the soil, due to over fertilization. Excessive nitrogen should be avoided. Uniform watering is also important. Mulching your garden to retain an even moisture level is often helpful. Usually the first fruits are affected and if you stabilize the water supply, the problem should diminish.

Dear Plant Doctor:

The leaves on my tomato plants are disappearing. What's going on?

R.M.-Holly

Dear R.M.:

Tomato hornworms can completely defoliate a tomato plant in a short period of time. They are big green worms, sometimes up to 4" in length, with a prominent red horn on the end. The best control for these insects is to handpick and destroy them.

Just One of Those Days

It was a boring, hot, muggy, day at the Waterford Wave Pool, and one of the employees spent some time trying to think of some way to liven things up and keep his co-workers awake. He finally hit on something that he thought would activate them by making them laugh -- so he got on the public address system, and said (so everyone in the pool and out could hear) "Would Mark Fidrych please come to the office?"

The sudden rush of autograph hunters to the office, looking for their idol, had more than the desired effect - in fact, it almost caused a riot! - but the poor guy who forgot his bathing trunks, and bought a white pair at the pool (because cut-offs are not allowed) only to find they were "see-through" when wet, claims his day was worse than the practical joker's -- so we don't know who wins this week's award for "Just one of those days!"

"A TIME FOR TRUTH"

by Steve Dice

William Simon, former Secretary of the Treasury in the Nixon and Ford Administration, has recently published a book, titled A Time For Truth, which details some of the financial atrocities and constitutional violations that go on daily in our governmental process.

Simon's professed reason for writing this book is to awake an extremely apathetic American public to the fact that this country's increasingly rapid shift to a welfare state is costing us our liberty, freedom, and plunging us into bankruptcy.

Although he doesn't admit it, Simon probably wrote the book also to substantiate many of his unpopular policies as Treasury Czar.

Nonetheless, there are many startling and valuable pieces of information contained in A Time For Truth. Some of the most notable include; "The United States imposes the highest corporate tax of any nation in the world." "In 1952, A.F.D.C. (Aid to Families with Dependent Children) served two million recipients. Today there are over eleven million recipients. Rather than helping people solve their problems the system has created more people to help."

Our welfare programs are not welfare programs, they are redistribution programs.

"General Motors employs over 22,000 people just to process Federal paperwork. Government regulation for G.M. costs over 113 billion dollars a year, not including taxes and hardware for production."

"There are over one trillion federal regulations covering the hauling of freight in the U.S."

"Actual profits for business in the U.S. have plummeted over 50 percent since the mid sixties, while retained earnings have dropped eighty-five percent. During that same period, taxes 'all' have increased 320 percent."

"Sixty percent of the actual federal budget is earmarked for social welfare."

"In 1976 the federal expenditure on social welfare programs was 286.5 billion dollars. By definition there were some 25 million poor people in the United States at that time. If these people would have received that money directly, they would have received over $8,000.00 apiece, or $32,000.00 per family. Because of the federal government's why of doing things these people actually received only a small portion of this money."

"The Interstate Commerce Commission requires in some cases that if truckers haul loaded one way they must return empty, mileage on some of these routes exceeds 1,000 miles."

"The only government subsidized medical hospital in the United States is in New York. That system is characterized by a serious excess of staff, empty beds, and larger operating costs than private systems."

"It was not so much the welfare programs in New York that caused its bankruptcy - the New York welfare burden is not proportionately larger than that of other cities. Rather, this fact that the city's municipal union employee's receive over twice the dollar amount of fringe benefits as compared to the national standard. That difference between what New York Employees get and what the rest of the nation gets is the difference between a one billion dollar deficit and a one-half billion dollar surplus for New York City."

"Freedom is not presence but an absence - an absence of governmental constraint .... Freedom does not only give you the opportunity to succeed but also to fail - not just the opportunity to be wealthy, but also to be poor."

Volunteers Needed to Answer Phones For Jerry Lewis Telethon

Volunteers are needed to answer telephones and record pledges during the 1978 Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon for Muscular Dystrophy. The Telethon, telecast for the fourth straight year by WJBK - TV 2, will begin a half-hour earlier this year at 8:30 p.m. E.D.T., Sunday, September 3rd and will continue until 6:30 p.m. Monday, September 4th.

Those wishing to help at any area Telephone Center, either on the phones or as clerical helpers may register by calling Telethon Headquarters at 399-8800 399-8800.

Sixteen Percent of those Tested at Perry Drug Stores Had Elevated Blood Pressure

More than 1000, or approximately 16 percent, of the upwards of 6,000 people who participated in the recent Perry Drug Stores, Inc., blood pressure screenings were found to have elevated readings and were referred to their family physicians.

The blood pressure screening program was conducted on a 12-week period in each of the 54 Perry stores located in 39 Michigan communities. Guidelines for the screenings, which were conducted by nurses from Medical Personnel Pool, were approved by the Michigan Heart Association.

Robert A. Shapiro, Vice President, Professional Affairs said that the blood pressure check was the second phase of the Perry Redcoat Community Service Program. "The first phase entitled 'I'm O.K.' is an on-going senior safety project. Other community service projects will be offered throughout the year," he said.

Perry also sponsors Hypertension Education Seminars with cardiologists, nutritionists, nurses and pharmacists as panel members. The seminars offer an additional opportunity to learn more about the heart and the effects of high blood pressure."

Clarkston Village Days

By Sharon Springborn

This year, the Village of Clarkston will celebrate Village Days beginning on Wednesday night, August 30th, with a concert at the Village Bandshell in the Clarkston Village Park on Depot Road.

The concert, sponsored by the Clarkston Village Business Association and Village Band is by an Old Tyme Folk and String Band Ensemble--Simple Gifts and Buffalo Nickel.

A good time will be offered for all, beginning on Wednesday night, August 30th at 7:00 p.m. until 10:00 p.m.

The following day, Thursday, August 31st marks the beginning of the Sidewalk Sales. Most of the Clarkston merchants take part in the sales because they (the merchants) know that this is the biggest sidewalk sale of the year. According to Joan Kopietz, of Tierra Arts, this is a kind of welcome to fall, and kind of like Founder's Day, only it's called Village Days.

The sales will continue through Saturday and at the same time, on Friday and Saturday, August 31st and September 1st, Drungo and the Minstrel Mongers will be performing in different places in Clarkston. The Minstrels will be performing on a truck bed, and the truck will be able to move them to a different location in town. These two day performances are in preparation of a benefit performance by Drungo and the Minstrel Mongers.

After the Village Days conclude on Saturday, September 2nd, and a one day break is taken on Sunday, the Township of Independence cranks up for their celebration of the Labor Day Weekend.

Starting things off on Monday, September 4th is the Pancake Breakfast sponsored by the Independence Township Firefighters. The breakfast, which is an all you can eat affair, will be held from 7:00 a.m. until 10:00 a.m., with all proceeds going to Muscular Dystrophy.

At 10:00 a.m., the Rotary Parade through downtown Clarkston will be held. The parade's theme is "Once Upon a Time" and all of the floats will have as a subject a favorite fairy tale.

When the parade concludes, the Clarkston Village Players will hold their drawing in the park, and the lucky winner will receive a prize of the ugliest goat that can be found.

The raffling off of a goat or the "Goat Vote" means that you can buy a chance on a goat for either yourself, or a friend. Then the chances will all be put in a barrel, and the Goatherder of the Year's name will be drawn. Then the "winner" will have the goat staked in his yard, or if he happens to be present at the drawing, paraded all over town and then given the goat.

Concerning the Goat Vote, Russ Inman, President of the Village Players, said "They (the winner) gets it (the goat) if they want it or not. It's all done in fun. There's nothing vicious about it."

And then, after the excitement of the Goat Vote has died down, the American Legion Post on Ortonville Road (M-15), will hold a corn-on-the-cob roast beginning 12:00 noon.

State Champ From Clarkston

by Mike Wilcox

Clarkston has a state champion in bicycle motocross racing.

Mike Youich, 15, of 4900 Sashabaw, captured first place in the Michigan State Championships held August 20th in Jackson.

He and racing partner Bryan Barlow of 6075 Sunnydale, have claimed fourteen trophies between them in bike racing this summer.

Besides the state championship, Youich took a second and third at Coldwater, a fourth at Plainwell and another fourth at Jackson.

Barlow won two races at Coldwater, another at Battle Creek and finished fourth at Plainwell.

Bicycle motocross is similar to motorcross. Object of the race is to be the first across the finish line after maneuvering around numerous sharp curves and berms and jumping off several strategically placed ramps.

The s-shaped track is short by motorcross standards. It's barely a quarter-mile long and takes less than 30 seconds to complete.

Youich and Barlow have been on tour across Michigan most every week and this past summer. Sometimes they race 2 or 3 times a week.

Both race Schwinn Scramblers, sponsored by Scarlett's Bike Shop in Pontiac.

Youich said, "We go all over because we like the competition."

His mother, Velve Youich is as enthusiastic about the races as her son. She claimed she couldn't talk for two days after the state championships.

Her major project at the moment is to get a motocross track in Oakland County. Area bicycle motocross enthusiasts now practice behind the "wave pool" in Waterford. But that track, according to Mrs. Youich, is not adequate for organized racing.

She said the closest official BMX tracks are in Owosso and Woodhaven.

"We're really trying to push for them to put a track around here like others are getting," said Mrs. Youich.

Until then, she will continue to tour with her son and friends across the United States in the pursuit of more championships and trophies.

Drag Boat Racing

Drag boats reaching speeds close to 200 MPH will be competing for numerous trophies and a $5,000 purse in the Eastern National Drag Boat Races on September 2, and Sunday, September 3, at Holloway Reservoir in Columbiaville (North Lake Road off Columbiaville Road). This race is expected to be one of the largest sporting events this season for the Columbiaville site.

The race, sponsored by the Michigan Chapter of the National Drag Boat Association in conjunction with the Genesee County Parks and Recreation Commission and the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, will be held from 12:00 Noon until approximately 6:00 P.M. Time qualification trials will be held on Saturday and eliminations on Sunday.

Several thousand spectators are expected to be on hand to watch drag boats that have come from all over the United States to participate in this event.

Bethine Serra, a spokeswoman for the National Drag Boat Association also noted that several known Michigan drag boats will be in the race. These include: The Sting from Pontiac; Ambush and Dirty Harry from Walled Lake; and Odyssey from Sterling Heights.

Also highlighting the weekend activities will be a demonstration of radio controlled model boats by members of the Wolverine Miniature Race Boat Association. These model boats have been known to reach speeds in excess of 80 MPH.

For more information, contact the Genesee County Parks and Recreation Commission at 736-7100.

The clinic, for which there is no charge, is sponsored by the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service. Gregory Patchan, the Extension Horticulture Agent, and many other Master Gardeners, will be on hand to answer all of your questions.

So gather up your sick plants and come to the plant clinic at the Southfield Senior Citizens Garden. Park at the Civic Center, and walk south to the garden area.

POEMS BY GLENNIA FUNCK

THE LITTLE OLE BOOK SHOP

When you stop at the little Ole Bookshop
And pick up a book for me
Just remember I love poetry
That has a very simple Key.

I'm not a Thomas A. Edison.
Neither an Edgar A. Guest.
But just an everyday person
Trying to fill your request

Some poems are melodramatic.
Some I can't repeat.
Some are Sad and Lonely.
And some are very Sweet.

I love the little Ole Bookshop
And the books on its worn Shelf.
But there's one thing I regret Sir.
There's none written by Myself.

Oh maybe in the near future
I hope it will not be long.
That I can write a Poem Book
And call it my very own.
Then when I visit the little Ole Bookshop
And drool around its Shelf,
I'll find in it's wee Small Corner
My own book by its Self.

HOME

Home is what you make it.
A place to rest and plan.
A place for family gathering.
The best place in the land.
A place to relax when weary
A place to call your own.
It is your own dear castle.
And you sit on the throne.
Make it a place of comfort.
Make it a place of cheer.
Make it a place most holy
And God will bless you there.

WHEN I GROW OLD

When I've grown old and weary
In life I've lost my way
Oh may I turn to Heaven
And find a better day.

I know the time is coming.
My feet begin to slow.
My body's losing vigor,
For which I used to know.

So when my Savior calls me
Across death's chilly sea
I pray that I'll be ready
For the home he's prepared for me.

CHRIST DIED FOR US

When life seas are rough and rugged
And the boat is hard to row
Or when you try to progress forward
And life crops are hard to hoe
Stop and think awhile my brother.
Did our Lord who put us here
Always have everything so easy
And make this earth without a care.
He had many a care I'll grant you
With such souls as you and me.
And for us I'm sure good people
His son died on Calvary.

Davisburg Elementary Staff Attend Training Session

Seven staff members of the Davisburg Elementary School attended a full day training session on the DISTAR reading program held in Bay City, Wednesday, August 23. DISTAR, an acronym for Directed Instructional System for the Teaching of Arithmetic and Reading, has been used with some student groups at the Davisburg Elementary School for the last two years. It has proven itself to be a good tool for use with students who need a highly structured phonetic approach to reading.

Jim Kelly, Principal, and Janet Nuckles, Reading Specialist, accompanied first grade teachers Cheryl Ford and Wilma Klak, and aides Beverly Beecher, JoAnn Ferdon and Jean Misenheimer on Wednesday. Janet Nuckles returned to Bay City for the Thursday sessions with kindergarten teacher Susan Visschers and teacher aide Karen Clark.

All of the participants felt the training sessions were very worthwhile and the ideas garnered will assist them in doing their jobs even better.

The training session was presented free by the publishers of DISTAR, Scientific Research Associates.

dam to provide additional power.

Hallman, also the village president, said he has always been opposed to village control of the water whenever this was suggested by the citizens. Liability would have been the greatest problem. He feels private ownership is preferable to control by any governmental body whether village, township or county.

Hallman said Alan realizes he has a great deal of responsibility with water control in his hands but that Alan also appreciates the aesthetic value the water lends to his development. It would certainly not be in his best interests to tamper with that.

Hallman went on to say that water complaints in the past generally dealt with levels that were too high rather than too low. He explained the previous owners would leave a key to the gates with Gar Wilson whenever they left enabling Wilson to lower the level should a great deal of rainfall occur in their absence.

Walker said the gates had been opened once several weeks ago during an inspection by the Department of Natural Resources. Any water flowing below Clarkston Mills now is groundwater and runoff. It did, indeed, look somewhat stagnant that day.

Reacting to the water situation and its current and future problems, a study committee is planned to be headed by Councilwoman Ruth Basinger with the aid of the Clinton River Watershed Council. It was hoped also that some of the citizens who signed a petition seeking to have the water levels increased in their streams would join this research committee.

Aside from the Watershed Council, information and assistance will be sought from the DNR, the U.S. Geological Survey and experts in the field of hydrology.

Springfield Library Planing Grand Opening

Last October, Springfield Township's new library didn't look very promising. The old schoolhouse at Hogback and Andersonville Roads caused more than one passer-by to shake his or her head in disbelief. The structure gave little promise for the future -- but thanks to the hard work and dedication of a number of people, the grand opening of the new library will be held in the near future, according to Gail Fleming, the township librarian. (The exact date of the opening will be announced as soon as it is decided on.)

Ms. Fleming is pleased with the increased use of the present library facility, and hopes that the library will become even more helpful to the community when the forthcoming move is accomplished. She is grateful to the number of people who have promised book donations, but are holding them until the move has been made.

A number of programs and activities are still in the planning stage, just waiting to be activated; and Ms. Fleming feels that the new facilities will be able to adequately serve the needs of the township at present, from pre-schoolers to senior citizens.

Historians will be pleased to note that the original schoolhouse has been restored, wherever possible, so that the building will not be unlike it was when first built.

lived next door, I called him out and told him to remove his property, which was a yard gate and post, off my property within five minutes and never come on my property as long as he lives. In five minutes, I removed his gate from my property onto his property. I could not remove the post for at that time I had no shovel. It was removed later.

About twenty minutes later here came Kimbel, head of the local police. When this alleged police officer came out he drove out, around or over nearly one hundred violations of the state or local ordinances. When he left, I followed him back to the township hall. When questioned, he told me that I had destroyed the man's property and should be charged. What kind of law enforcement do we have that says you cannot return property to the owner.

Through out all this inquisition no one ever asked one question about what had happened. I had been tried and hanged before any action had been take.

In the week following Floyd Tower informed me, he sent Kimbel out. That afternoon, when I arrived home, my wife told me what the dog officer had said and the threats he had made. At this time I realized that Tower and Kimbel had condoned and approved what had been done to my wife and I.

Now I am sure by this time the Board is fully aware of what has happened and nothing has been done clarify the Gestapo-like performance of our local law enforcement.

Why not give it to the News Media like it really is. Do not lead them to believe the dog warden quit. A witness indicates that the officer was ordered to remove his uniform and get out, he was fired. Is that the way the U.S. Government says you shall terminate a C.E.T.A. Employee? I will know in a few days, I have asked for information that relates to this type of treatment. I have been informed that other funds have been spent without due process and that records are not being kept as required by law.

Signed Luther C. Fletcher

Village of Clarkston, Minutes of Regular Meeting
August 14, 1978, Village Hall, 375 Depot, Clarkston

Meeting called to order by President Hallman at 7:30 p.m. followed by the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

Roll: Present-Basinger, Byers, Thayer, Weber.

Absent-ApMadoc, Schultz.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Moved by Weber, seconded by Byers to pay the following bills:

Wages	$1407.75
Municipal Services	4726.99
Administration	3051.85
Legal Fees	347.80
Insurance	53.91
Sewer Charges	9473.20
Total	$19,061.50

Roll: Ayes-Basinger, Byers, Thayer, Weber.

Nays-none. Motion carried.

Trustee Thayer will check on prices for street lights on Glenburnie and Middle Lake Road.

Trustee Basinger was given approval by the council to proceed with a study to outline the hydrology of the waters in the area through the Clinton River Watershed Council. She would like help from volunteers for a committee on this.

Letters from Clarkston Mills and the Oakland County Drain Commissioner were read, concerning our letters to them about the low water levels in the area. Clarkston Mills responded by assuring us that they will maintain the level of the Mill Pond to permit water to flow into Parke Lake and Middle Lake as long as weather conditions permit, and the county stated that none of the waters in this area are under their jurisdiction, but that they have forwarded our letter to the Dept. of Natural Resources for their review.

Trustees Byers and Weber will check with the Clarkston News on the price for printing a synopsis of the minutes of our meetings rather than the entire minutes.

Another letter will be sent to the Detroit Free Press to remove their newsstand on M-15 which is still there.

Trustee Schultz will be contacted to see if he can follow through on speeding up the stump removal, especially on N. Holcomb.

The Clarkston Jaycees presented plans for a new signboard to the council. They are working on lining up donors for the estimated cost of $5000, and have received one donation for $1500. The need for a signboard and conformity with our sign ordinance were discussed by the council. This will be reviewed again at the next meeting.

The Jaycees reported that they will not be having a Labor Day Carnival this year, but would like to combine efforts with the Historical Society and sponsor a beer tent and chicken barbecue during the Crafts and Cider festival. Independence Center Children's Theatre would also like to put on a play in the park on that Saturday.

Moved by Weber, seconded by Byers to grant permission to the Jaycees to have a beer tent and chicken barbecue and to the Independence Center Children's Theatre to put on a play in the park during the Crafts and Cider festival this year. Motion carried unanimously.

Moved by Weber, seconded by Thayer to approve a request by REACT and the Minstrel Mongers to hold a benefit in the park on Oct. 7th. Motion carried unanimously.

The council discussed the possibility of adopting a new sign ordinance or starting to enforce the present one that's contained in the zoning ordinance. Getting input from the business establishments was recommended.

Moved by Weber, seconded by Byers to send a letter to all businesses in the village stating that the council is considering the drafting of a new sign ordinance, and inviting them to the Sept. 11th meeting to review their ideas on what changes should be made if it is decided to adopt a new sign ordinance. Motion carried unanimously.

Moved by Byers, seconded by Weber to approve the hiring by the township of a crossing guard for students at the M-15-Middle Lake Rd. intersection for the upcoming school year, with the village paying the salary for this guard at the rate of $3.00 per hour, the cost being about $45.00 per week. Roll: Ayes-Basinger, Byers, Thayer, Weber. Nays-none. Motion carried.

A request was made by Dick Leaf of 104 N. Main to purchase some of the road right-of-way on Robertson Ct. so that he will have enough square footage to split his lot and build another house on it. The council and attorney discussed whether selling this would establish a precedent for similar future requests.

Moved by Byers, seconded by Weber to refer this request to the attorney to research the feasibility and propriety of selling portions of road right-of-way and to also refer this to the planning commission for their opinion on this matter. Motion carried.

Some residents from N. Holcomb were present to complain about the loud noise and vandalism at the park. The council discussed the problem and decided to write a letter to the Oakland County Sheriff stating that we expect better service on patrolling the park and enforcing current ordinances. A more inclusive ordinance may be needed later.

Moved by Basinger, seconded by Thayer to extend the deadline for payment of 1978 village taxes to the third Monday in October, October 16th, 1978. Motion carried unanimously.

Moved by Weber, seconded by Thayer to waive our right to any portion of the 1978 returnable licensing fee from Marc Alan's transfer request of a 1978 12 month Resort Class C and SDM licensed business, as per the request of the Michigan Liquor Control Commission. Motion carried unanimously.

The council agreed to authorize the changing of the records for assessment purposes of Lots 20 and 21 of Assessor's Plat of Clarkston, to reflect the exchange of three feet and four feet on these lots that was done in 1955 and recorded in 1961.

Mr. Hyde of Waldon Rd. complained that the Methodist Church didn't have a permit to expand their parking lot without installing a greenbelt. This parking lot adjoins his property. The attorney said that a permit or a greenbelt isn't required, since the parking lot originally was there before the present zoning ordinance was adopted.

Moved by Basinger, seconded by Byers to have the planning commission consider the portion of the zoning ordinance dealing with greenbelts by parking lots and expansion of parking lots so that the situation that occurred with the Methodist Church parking lot won't happen again. Motion carried unanimously.

Correspondence from the Oakland County Road Commission concerning their plans for the improvement of the Depot-White Lake-Holcomb intersection will be referred to Kieft Engineering for their review.

Moved by Weber, seconded by Byers to adjourn at 11:20 p.m. Motion carried unanimously.

Bruce Rogers, Village Clerk

A lot number is used in urban centers where there had been a concentrated development of land. A property is transformed from farm or vacant land into a subdivision laid out in numbered lots. The plan, if approved, is accepted by the municipality and recorded. The property would then be identified as "Being all of Lot #162 in the Bower Hill Plan of Lots (for example), as recorded and laid out in the office of the Recorder of Deeds of Dauphin County in Plan Book Volume 18 Page 113, being designated as B block 14, Lot 44 in the Records of the Dauphin County Deed Registry Office."
