Lake Oakland Woods Wins Conditional Plat Approval

by Carol Balzarini

On a motion by Treasurer Fred Ritter, the Independence Township Board voted 4-2 to give final plat approval to phase III of the Lake Oakland Woods development despite continued objections of present homeowners in the development. Voting for approval in addition to Ritter were Supervisor Whitey Tower and trustees Jerry Powell and Mike Thayer. Clerk Chris Rose and Trustee Bill Vandermark continued to oppose approval. Trustee Rudy Lozano was absent.

Although working with an abbreviated agenda, the meeting was lengthened by continuing comments both pro and con about the development, the builders Edward Rose and Son, and whether or not final plat approval should be granted before the points in question were cleared up by township attorney Richard Campbell who was on vacation and had not completed his investigation.

Attorney John Schantz representing the builders told board members they were exempted from the wetlands ordinance in phase III because it contained less than 10 contiguous acres as stipulated in the ordinance.

Larry Kozma, representing the group of unhappy homeowners, produced Black's Law Dictionary and gave its definition of "contiguous" as in close proximity but not in direct contact. He suggested the board wait for attorney's opinion. He also felt DNR approval would be necessary because the wetlands area in question abutted Lake Oakland.

Gene Komarynski of Rose Builders stated the question of wetlands had been left up to township engineers Johnson and Anderson to define in the beginning. "We sought their advice," he said, "And followed their direction."

Vandermark stated that in December of 1973 Komarynski made a presentation of the conceptual plat with the wetlands determined by J & A. He offered the opinion that due to the discrepancies between the first report and J & A's letter of December 12 acknowledging satisfaction with the wetlands, the second report was not thorough enough.

After more discussion Ritter said, "As far as I can see everything we need for final approval has been submitted." He suggested the matter either be tabled and to wait for the attorney's opinion or approval should be granted conditionally. He recommended approval based on acceptance of discrepancies by Campbell.

Tower suggested the matter should not have been on the agenda in the first place but Clerk Rose agreed saying, "Anyone has the right to be on the agenda. They are only there as Lake Oakland Woods, not for final plat approval."

Kozma continued to protest and was joined by another LOW resident Ron Forbes who asked, "If you can pass this tonight without legal opinion what's the attorney for? What's the board for?"

He was seconded by Rudy Youmans who said, "If you were waiting to hear from the attorney it seems to me you would wait for his opinion."

Clerk Rose responded that the attorney's opinion was not part of the motion. "We dealt with the request for final plat approval by rejecting it. There has been no formal request for approval since the rejection." He admitted that was a fine point.

Meyers responded angrily that Rose's technicality was "nit-picking." "You're costing us a lot of money," he charged.

Ritter moved to grant final plat approval for phase III subject to the attorney's written opinion expressing satisfaction that it agrees with the wetlands ordinance, that it complies with the plat act as to need for tentative preliminary plat approval (never granted for unknown reasons), and that the final plat as presented agrees with the final preliminary plat as approved.

Your Guide to Community Involvement

A major part of every community are the civic clubs and organizations that share in performing goodwill and sponsoring activities for their communities.

Clarkston and Davisburg are fortunate to have many of these organizations. So many it is almost impossible to keep track of them all.

THE REMINDER thought it would be nice to compile a listing of each organization's functions and duties. We asked clubs to call their information into The Reminder. We then followed up by calling the organizations that didn't respond to our original request.

It was a massive undertaking. We poured over old community directories and listings put out by various groups. We then called and called and called!

If your organization is missing, it isn't because we didn't try to get you. Betty Kratt, Joan Allen, Carol Balzarini and Sharon Springborn spent many long hours compiling the information. But if for some reason you're not included, please let us know.

The result, of all this work we believe, is the most comprehensive listing ever published in this area. Hope you like it!

To the Editor:

This summer one of Calvary's familys brought a lighted manger scene from Wisconsin to be a Christmas gift to those who pass our building. It was a family possession that had originally brought joy to a young man after his father had died. I had wired the figures down so the wind wouldn't blow them away.

This past Thursday night, December 28, someone cut the wires and stole the figures from our church.

Of course, I hope those persons will return these figures.

If not, I pray that these figures depicting Jesus' birth will bring some measure of joy to those persons as they did to that young man in his time of grief.

Dear Editor:

As the mother of a nineteen-year-old, I was deeply saddened that the lives of two fine area nineteen-year-olds were lost recently inside a car parked with the motor running.

As the mother of four additional children, I was upset again on Friday, December 29, 1978, around 5:00 P.M. as I was about to enter a large chain store on Dixie Highway, in Drayton Plains. Parked in one of the first spaces in front of the building was a new, red small-sized station wagon with the motor running. Inside were four young children--unattended--the oldest a boy of about seven. I tapped on the window and suggested he roll it down an inch to allow air in, but he refused. Sharing the cargo area with the children was a bottle of windshield wiper solvent which would have been "harmful or fatal if swallowed."

Appalled at the parent's unawareness of the carbon monoxide and solvent dangers, I asked at the service desk if an announcement could be made about the red car left with the motor running. I was told "We don't make announcements like that." A few minutes later an announcement was made that a blue car was left parked with the lights on.

Is one car battery more valuable than the lives of four precious children? What is wrong with a society that puts more value on material possessions than God's greatest creation--a human life? In this case four!

I started this New Year of 1979 counting my blessings at having such lively, healthy, happy children. The mother of the four young children in the small red station wagon should do the same!

Dear Editor:

President Carter has described to the American people his program for combating inflation, our most pressing economic problem. He is absolutely determined to make it succeed.

The program has three major planks: monetary and fiscal restraint by the federal government; reduction in government regulations and interventions that inflate costs and interfere with competition; and the cooperation of all Americans in accepting voluntary wage and price guidelines.

In addition, the President announced on November 1 a comprehensive set of actions to defend the value of the dollar.

The President is already making the difficult budget decisions necessary to reduce the federal deficit. But government action alone is not enough. He has therefore issued explicit wage and price standards for business and labor to adhere to.

The President's program strikes a balance that offers our best hope of bringing inflationary forces under control without plunging us into a depression or putting the whole economy into a bureaucratic straightjacket.

Will it work? Consider the consequences of it not working. It is somewhat like asking "Will America work?" Inflation hurts us all, and we all bear a responsibility to help bring it under control.

I want to express my appreciation of your willingness to inform your readers of the nature of the inflation problem and what their federal government is doing to solve it. That effort on your part is a valuable public service.

Sincerely,
Alfred E. Kahn

Dear Editor:

Over the years, even before I came to the Legislature, in working with the mentally ill and mentally retarded, I have concluded that there are a vast number of people institutionalized that need not be there, and who can sustain a life the same as you and I. They have the right to that equal life as our constitution sets forth for all. And on that basis, I am an advocate of foster care facilities.

Now to address the concerns that have been expressed to me personally both in the newspapers and by phone and to deal with the problems with our present foster care facilities that seem to be being questioned by many people through my district.

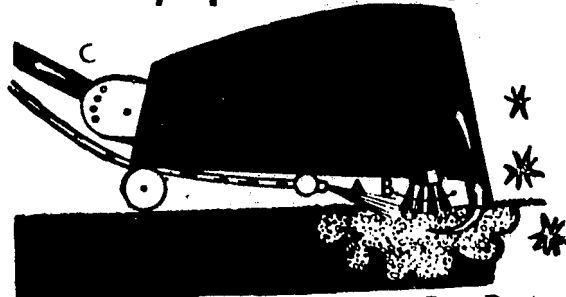

Before the first bills were passed providing that foster care facilities could be licensed for up to six mentally ill or six mentally retarded, there were many homes that had 20 or more such residents. We had considerable problems with those homes. Under the new law, a home can be licensed to care for up to six residents without rezoning. A group home allows up to 20 residents, and homes with over 20 residents are called congregate homes. Group and congregate homes have to be rezoned by the local government to allow them in the community. In a residential home, the setting would be that of a typical family household, and it need not be rezoned. The licensing provision is to assure that the licensees are qualified to care for the mentally ill and mentally retarded, which assurance must be had.

Say You Saw It
In The Reminder

I took a stand on the home located on Oakhill Road, because of the many problems arising out of false rumors with regard to the home, that it should not be licensed in early December. After meeting extensively with the Department of Social Services (DSS), the Mental Health Department, and the regional licensing agent for additional care facilities, Macomb-Oakland Regional Center (MORC), I feel that if certain criteria is met, the home on Oakhill Road should be licensed. At the present time the criteria that needs to be met is that which is necessary to meet the fire codes. A number of aspects have to be looked at in having a home that is suitable for licensing. One is location of the home--is it in proximity to the services that will be needed by the patients of the home, services such as medical facilities, recreational facilities, therapeutic facilities, etc. When those aspects are met, as well as the fire code safety, I feel a home should be licensed. A Mrs. Tipton has made application to care for six mentally retarded residents. If licensed that would be the type she could house, not the mentally ill.

A further item that needs to be discussed is the rumor with regard to the fact that Mrs. Tipton operates eight homes. This is a false rumor. She presently operates the home located on Seedan Street in Drayton Plains. If her license is approved by the Department of Social Services to be able to care for six mentally retarded, it is my understanding that the home supervision would be done by immediate members of Mrs. Tipton's family, in a family-type setting.

There have been concerns that these homes are operated purely for profit. I would like to take this opportunity to point out that a licensee receives $12.45 per day for basic care of a person in one of these homes. If a home is also under contract with MORC for additional services, a licensee could receive from $18 to $34 in additional funds for additional care for the patient. In comparing this to a rate of $80 per day in an institution, you can see this is a considerable savings to the taxpayers of the State of Michigan. I will at this point admit that I do have some reservations in regards to corporate homes, and as to seeing that the $18 to $34 per day is used for the care of the patients needs.

A fear that has been raised in the community is with regard to safety. An in-depth study in this area shows that in the two years that these homes have been in existence in the community, we have instituted a complaint procedure whereby every complaint has been acted upon within five days of filing. To date we have found that there has not been one occasion where a resident has taken action against any of the neighboring persons or properties. This data has been supported by DSS and if there are any exceptions to this, I would like to be advised. I am, however, unhappy to report that there have been incidents where the reverse is true, in that the residents of the homes are harassed and abused.

We are especially fortunate in Oakland County to have a program coordinated by Louella Bingham, the Adult Community Placement Complaint Coordinator of the local Department of Social Services office. Her phone number is 858-4902. Recently she has reported that she has investigated 32 complaints, 19 relative to nursing homes and 13 relative to adult foster care facilities.

In conclusion, as your representative I feel I must daily work to insure the community that patients will be screened properly and that those patients who are capable of living in communities are given a fair opportunity to do so. In order to do this, there will be initiatives on my part in the coming year to introduce comprehensive measures in the legislature. Some may take legislation and some may just take cooperation between the Department of Mental Health and the Department of Social Services. With recent action taken, we did get some answers for the immediate problems as we found that there are areas of agreement and we will be working toward a solution on the long-term programs.

One way in which I will be addressing the issues which are too lengthy to discuss in this article is to involve those people in my district who are interested in being a part of a volunteer program to insure that proper care is given. These people would work with me and we would make unannounced visits to facilities, not only in my district but in other parts of the state as well.

This has not been an easy issue for me, but I feel it hasn't been easy for others either. I hope that with help from above, we will be able to work together to allow all those that possibly can to have a life as we know it.

Rep. Claude A. Trim

THOUGHTS 'N THINGS

To be passive is to accept life as it comes, and the world as it is, and necessitates mental, physical and emotional sedation. Otherwise, internal reaction will automatically occur despite seemingly external calm.

An infant may seem passive at the moment between eating and sleeping, but even then, the eyes may be reacting to light and the ears to sound. Such reaction to external and internal stimuli is the life process, and at any given moment, our minds, emotions and bodies are a marvelous combination of ever-changing reactions, even when we seem to be in a still, relaxed state of being.

Our endless responses to the business of the life forces are often involuntary, and so we take them for granted, just as we accept without question, the air that we breathe, and the ground that we walk on. These responses are barely noticeable and seemingly have little affect on us until our breathing is cut off, or the ground suddenly crumbles under our feet. Then our reactions are traumatic ones that involve our entire beings.

Most of the young life of humans is involved with reactions—first the unconscious ones, and then the conscious ones, and it seems enough to deal with our reactions to love, hate, anger, jealousy, envy and the like. Once we have learned to deal with those reactions, however, we grow to a state beyond mere reaction. We reach maturity or a state of acting. This is also regarded as a state of responsibility, and it requires the development of awareness; the awareness of the possibility for internal and external changes. It is the age that one reaches understanding of free will and learns to put it to use.

Reaction is acknowledgement -- action is a controlled and planned process. It is often a response too, but it goes beyond simple reaction. It sets solutions in motion. It originates positive structures and relationships, and it recognizes and seeks to fulfill needs and wishes, through the accomplishment of directed energy.

There are, of course, differing degrees of involvement concerned in any positive activity or action, but man has long realized what can be accomplished by group action,

There are, of course, differing degrees of involvement concerned in any positive activity or action, but man has long realized what can be accomplished by group action, when each member has only a limited amount of time and energy to devote to its goals and achievements. when each member has only a limited amount of time and energy to devote to its goals and achievements. The combined force of many people who are willing to put ideas and dreams into a state of action builds hospitals, schools, museums, churches and fortresses against enemies.

Unions, clubs, societies, orchestras, drama groups, volunteer organizations and what have you -- they all begin with a purpose, and the combined effort of many people affect other people on a grand scale, and belonging to such a group allows an individual to contribute to a dream or an ideal or a solution in a manner which is impossible when working alone.

I have lived in a large city, in a small town, in a rural area, and in a suburb. I have been an "outsider" and an "insider" and have had the experience of being ignored and befriended. I have been warned about people and groups being cliquish and unfriendly and closed. In other words, I am a human being who has been treated in the same manner as other human beings -- and the people I've dealt with have varied from place to place, and time to time, and I've learned something about life as a result. As usual, I intend to pass on what I have learned.

People who are honest, sincere, responsible, and hard-working, are welcome in all groups and all areas of society. People who are out-going, pleasant, and willing to give other humans the benefit of the doubt are the first people to be invited to join groups with limited membership. People with special talents and abilities are the top people on waiting lists if membership is temporarily closed. Shy people hesitate to join groups, and need aggressive friends to push them into things, and people who complain loudly that everyone is a snob and every group is cliquish, seldom get asked to join anything. Now how is that for a mishmash of information?

Add to that, that people who join groups to get their name on a membership list, and then refuse to attend meetings or accept responsibility, often find themselves without friends.

People who are overloaded with work because they belong to one or more hard working groups need read no further. You are doing your share for society. The rest of this column is meant for those who have time on their hands.

The best way to become a part of a community is to belong to an organization or club. If you are interested in a special kind of activity, find the organizations that are involved in that particular activity, and write them a letter which tells them of your interest in their groups. If there is no group established - ORGANIZE ONE! Put an ad in The Reminder, asking people with similar interests to get in touch with you.

If you are shy or uncertain, show up at the next meeting of a church group or a political group. Those two groups always need and want more helping hands, and it's a wonderful way to meet people who are involved in other activities that you might enjoy sharing. Establish the fact that you are a worker, and you'll have more opportunities than you can handle. The nicest thing about sharing a work load, is that you'll forget to be shy or uncertain!

And now, a special word to those who feel that a wall stands between them and a new community, or an old one that appears, at first glance, to be an unfriendly one.

Everyone feels "left out" sometimes! There's a rather simple explanation for that. We "human" birds of a feather do tend to stick together, because we enjoy associating with people who have the same interests as we do. People who feel "left out" usually are those who want to belong to something, but haven't developed their interests to the point that they are recognized by those with similar interests; or those who expect other people to go 95% of the way toward establishing communication! That, in fact, is often taken for lack of interest! And - believe it or not, tying oneself to a group that is the wrong group is worse than not being involved at all! As a matter of fact - it's a sure sign of "reaction" to boredom or loneliness. The answer is to take "action."

If nothing else, start a group called "Strangers Anonymous" and take it upon yourself to make other people feel welcome! You'll be glad you did!

WE'RE GLAD YOU ASKED!

"What are the Rules for Funeral Traffic?"

Traffic rules governing funeral processions differ sometimes from those governing other traffic. These tips may help if you are in a funeral procession (or to be remembered if you encounter one):

1. Use the funeral flag we provide.
2. Keep your headlights on. It identifies your vehicle as part of the procession.
3. If the procession is crossing an intersection while the traffic light changes to red, continue through. Do not stop. The funeral procession has the right-of-way. The lead car, of course, will stop and obey all posted signals.
4. A policeman, if available, may direct funeral traffic through busy intersections. We, as funeral directors, appreciate the escort service which our police department provides. The mourners consider this civic safety service both thoughtful and welcome.
5. Obtain and read the state traffic regulations regarding funeral processions.
6. If you are NOT part of the procession, remember it has right-of-way. Do not cross it or join it.

GUEST EDITORIAL

Looking back and summarizing what has happened in Springfield over the last couple of years seemed like an easy task when "The Reminder" first asked me to write an article. All you have to do is look around you to see the new construction took off like a rocket. Even with mortgage interest rates pushing 11%, new home construction continues high. During late spring and early summer of this year new construction reached or exceeded the $1 million level during each of five months. Contrary to what one might think, the size of new homes is increasing rather than decreasing and costs exceed National averages.

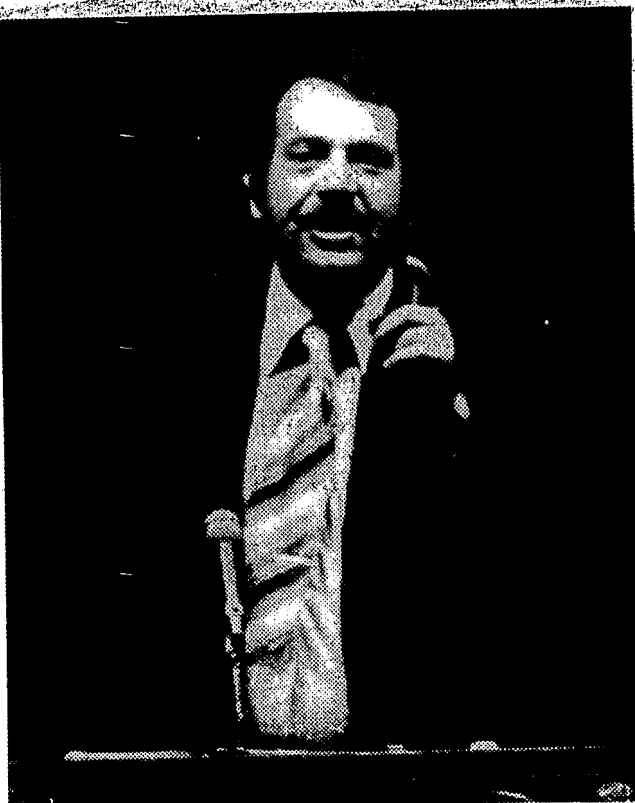

During the last two years the Township has acted on over twenty subdivisions in some phase of the platting process. They have ranged in size from two lots to forty-eight lots and represent a total of just under five hundred new building sites. During the same time splits (acreage divisions) have been taking place at an ever increasing rate.

All of the growth in Springfield has not been residential. Two of the proposed subdivisions were for industrial development and when completed will give us over eighty sites for new industrial facilities. The two most obvious commercial facilities which have been opened were Bordine's on Dixie Highway and the Davisburg Medical Clinic on Andersonville Road. We have also seen the expansion and improvement of several businesses and a few new businesses move into the Township.

We have begun an active planning process in some new areas. Federal funds have been set aside and a committee set up to study and document the needs of our Senior Citizens. We are also actively involved in a Senior Citizen Housing Study for the six townships in Northwest Oakland County. We have also set up a committee to study our roads and prioritize an improvement program. The Parks and Recreation Commission is beginning a Recreation Master Plan and we are just completing an update of our Township Master Plan. We feel that an active planning process is necessary to keep us up-to-date and to help us allocate and obtain funds to provide the services needed in our community.

These are just a few of the things that have happened during the last couple of years. Especially during this time of year all of us are very aware of the rapidly increasing property values. We encourage all residents of the Township age 65 and over to take advantage of the Homestead Property Tax Credit. This credit is available from the State and can be used by tenants as well as property owners. This year for the first time a Fuel Adjustment Credit is available. Forms and assistance in filling them out is available at the Township Hall. If you are 65 or over, please call and find out if you can take advantage of these tax credits.

Davisburg Elementary 6th Graders to Spend Week at Tamarack

130 6th graders from Davisburg Elementary School will be going to Camp Tamarack during the week of Jan. 15 for an outdoor education and democratic living experience. This will be the 13th year that the kids have gone camping, but this will be the first time they've gone in the winter.

Camping will incorporate many things, such as studying how woodland creatures live during the winter, and the kids and their chaperones (their teachers) will get in some cross-country skiing.

The 6th graders earned their own money for the camping trip with 2 separate fund drives. During one money-making drive, the kids sold candy and during the other sold cheese and sausage.

Goodrich B & E Suspect Apprehended Near Clarkston

On December 28, 1978, a breaking and entering was committed at the Sunshine Food store, on Hegel Road and M-15, in Goodrich. An alert citizen observed a car leaving the scene of the crime and notified the Goodrich Police Department.

After this the G.P.D. contacted the Oakland County

Sheriff's Department, and the two departments co-operated in locating the persons who committed the breaking and entering.

Oakland County Sheriff's Deputy Gary Spalo apprehended the car at Hubbard and M-15, north of Clarkston. Spalo took one subject into custody, while 2 others escaped.

The Oakland County K-9 Unit and officers tried for approximately 3 hours to apprehend the subjects. Finally, two youths were taken into custody in a house located in the Waterford area.

The adult subject, a man named Thomas Ott, was arraigned in the Genesee County District Court on a charge of breaking and entering, while the juveniles were placed in the Oakland County Juvenile Home.

After checking on the vehicle that the three drove, a 1978 Cadillac, the police also found that the automobile was stolen. Other items that were in the possession of those arrested were found to be from a burglary in the city of Flint. The Flint Police Department will also bring charges against the three.

Just One of Those Days.

We know a "sadder but wiser" mother who read one of those helpful hint columns that other mothers send in to a magazine. It suggested that hiding coins in a child's room might encourage the child to do a thorough job of cleaning.

Our mother decided to encourage her two teen-agers to clean her house while she was at work, by hiding the money that they normally got for an allowance. Each of them was assigned certain rooms, so that neither could get the lion's share of the money. She did promise, however, that they could have any money they found in the rooms which they cleaned.

Poor mother! When she arrived home, the house was cleaned, but her offspring were in an uproar, and fifteen year old son was not speaking to her. It seems that mom had forgotten that she had hidden a ten dollar bill in a vase on top of the breakfast in the dining-room. When twelve year old daughter, intent on doing a better dusting job than her brother, bested even her mother's dusting job, she found the prize! Naturally, brother thought it was a put up job!

Well, the house was unusually clean, but it cost mom an extra $20.00 over and above allowances, because she had said "all the money," and had to be fair. She had to give son a ten too! So, it turned out to be just one of those expensive days. Mom did get the last word though. She told the kids that if they could do such a super job on that occasion, they could do it all the time -- so she's raised their standards of workmanship on them -- and no allowance until it's done!

Snowmobilers Attempt 2200 Mile Journey To Raise Funds for Diabetes

By Leona Hutchings

Saturday morning as the sun was rising in the east a crowd of well wishers, family and friends watched as three men began an adventure as well as a purpose as they began a 2200 mile trip by snowmobile.

The scene was Jan's Sport Shop in Goodrich. The dedicated men are all members of the Snofinders Snowmobile Club of Genesee Co. The purpose of the trip is to raise money for the Diabetes Association.

Dallas Fisher, 41 of Columbiaville, and his brother Doug of Davison with Loren Matthews of Flint headed along the snowmobile trails for the north. The fourth member Dick Moore, also Flint, joined the group at Gaylord where they began the second day of the journey on Sunday.

The group will stay in motels and eat in restaurants and plan to cover 230 to 250 miles each day.

The group was given a special escort across the Mackinac Bridge. They are following trails across the Upper Peninsula and Wisconsin. They have special permits to ride roads in Minnesota. From St. Croix Falls, Wis. they will cross Minn. to Fargo, North Dakota and across the state towards Billings, Montana drop south to Bozeman, Montana and enter Yellowstone through the town of Livingston.

Last year a group rode 1530 miles in the Upper Peninsula raising money for the Diabetes Association, so this type of adventure is nothing new.

Doug Fisher's 16 year old daughter Laurie suffers from the disease. All pledges may be made by calling 1-742-5120.

The men are riding Yamaha's 440 Exciters donated by Jan's Sport Shop. Raffle tickets are being sold on 2 of the snowmobiles with a knowledge that these two machines really made the long trip to Yellowstone for a cause.

The last report received at Jan's Sport Shop was Sunday after the group crossed the bridge at 2:30 and all the conversation sounded full of enthusiasm for the long drive ahead.

To Rollback Gas, License Plate Fees Area Residents Back Petition Drive

One of the major backers of a petition drive to freeze motor fuel taxes and license plate fees is pleased with the way people have responded to his call for signatures in this area.

60th District State Representative Claude Trim (Davisburg Democrat) said, "I have had different people circulate as many as fifty petitions. I have personally taken ten thousand to Lansing, myself."

Trim claims one person, Dick Deardow of White Lake Township has personally circulated and collected signatures to fill six hundred petitions.

The purpose of the petitions is to freeze a gas tax increase from seven to nine cents a gallon. That hike was supposedly to have taken place at all gas stations on January 1, 1979.

The petitions, if certified, and barring successful court challenges, would freeze gasoline taxes until after a vote of the people. This issue would be placed on the November 1980 General Election ballot.

The petitions would also keep motor vehicle weight taxes at 1978 levels until after that election. Persons who have already bought their license plates at the higher rate could get a rebate from the Secretary of State.

The higher motor fuel taxes and license plate fees were expected to be the main sources of revenue for the 165.5 million dollar program to improve highways, bridges and mass transportation systems in the state.

Rep. Trim said the new transportation package included several inequities. For one, it wouldn't insure this area of adequate transportation for senior citizens. "I want to assure the senior citizens that they have transportation," he said.

Rep. Trim also voiced concern about the planned bus system. A bus system would mean a reduction in automobile gas consumption. Thus if we tax gasoline, to support buses, said Trim, less automobile gas consumption would mean less money to work with to support the bus system. That, in his mind, just didn't make sense.

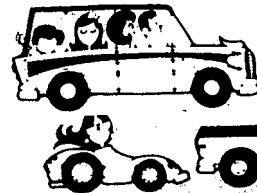

Another type of transportation system might be supported by Rep. Trim. He said he plans to sit down with area school systems and industries to get new ideas. But, he warned, the legislature couldn't possibly come up with a viable alternative for several years. The present transportation system package has been debated since 1972.

Nearly 300,000 signatures have been gathered, said Trim. However, petitions are still being circulated, and Trim emphasizes, if you still have a petition out, to please return it as soon as possible.

The financially responsible buyer, possibly an executive coming in from out of town, will steer clear of the fast-talker type of broker. Choose a reliable, conservative agent, someone who won't forget for a moment that he represents you, and one that won't try to pressure you into a quick sale at a lower price than the house deserves, for the sake of a fast commission. The kind of listing arrangement you sign with your broker can make a lot of difference. It is wise to make a careful choice, and have a mutually satisfactory understanding.

For the real estate professionals that you will understand and that will understand you, come to BOB WHITE REAL ESTATE, 5856 S. Main St., next to the Clarkston Post Office. Our reputation and success is built on the mutual understanding that we develop between ourselves and our clients. We understand the community and their needs and they understand that we are here to provide them with the best service possible. Come see us today--we're very understanding. Open 9 a.m.-9 p.m., Fri. & Sat. til 6 p.m., 11-5 Sun. Tel. 625-5821.

Helpful Hint:-

As a seller, it is often necessary to have a lawyer approve any contract of sale between you and a buyer.
