Township Attorney Pulls Switch--Rejects Lake Oakland Woods Plat

"It is my opinion that the present partial plat...does not coincide with the final preliminary plat as approved by the Township Board"--Richard Campbell.

by Carol Balzarini

On Tuesday, January 2, the Independence Township Board voted 4-2 to give final plat approval to phase III of the Lake Oakland Woods development contingent upon the written opinion of township attorney

Richard Campbell about certain items of concern.

On January 4, representatives of Lake Oakland Woods residents fired off a carefully documented letter to Campbell stating their position on those items and including documents to substantiate that position. Items referred to included areas they felt were under the jurisdiction of the Wetland Ordinance, although the developers did not agree; that final preliminary plat approval (step two in the platting process) was null and void due to lack of tentative preliminary plat approval (step one). They also felt the board had "improperly and illegally delegated its legislative authority" by leaving approval of the plat up to Campbell.

On January 9, Campbell drafted a letter to Supervisor Whitey Tower which read, in part:

"It is my opinion that the present partial plat, representing the third phase of the subdivision, does not coincide with the final preliminary plat as approved by the Township Board on May 20, 1974, and it is further my opinion that said failure to do so is fatal to the present phase as presented."

Campbell's letter went on to say, "My opinion is based on the fact that the final phase does not contain the approximately 15 acre outlot, which outlot has been designated as a parkland or open space for the residents, though said outlot was contained in the preliminary plat...failure to include this outlot destroys the creditability of the Plat..."

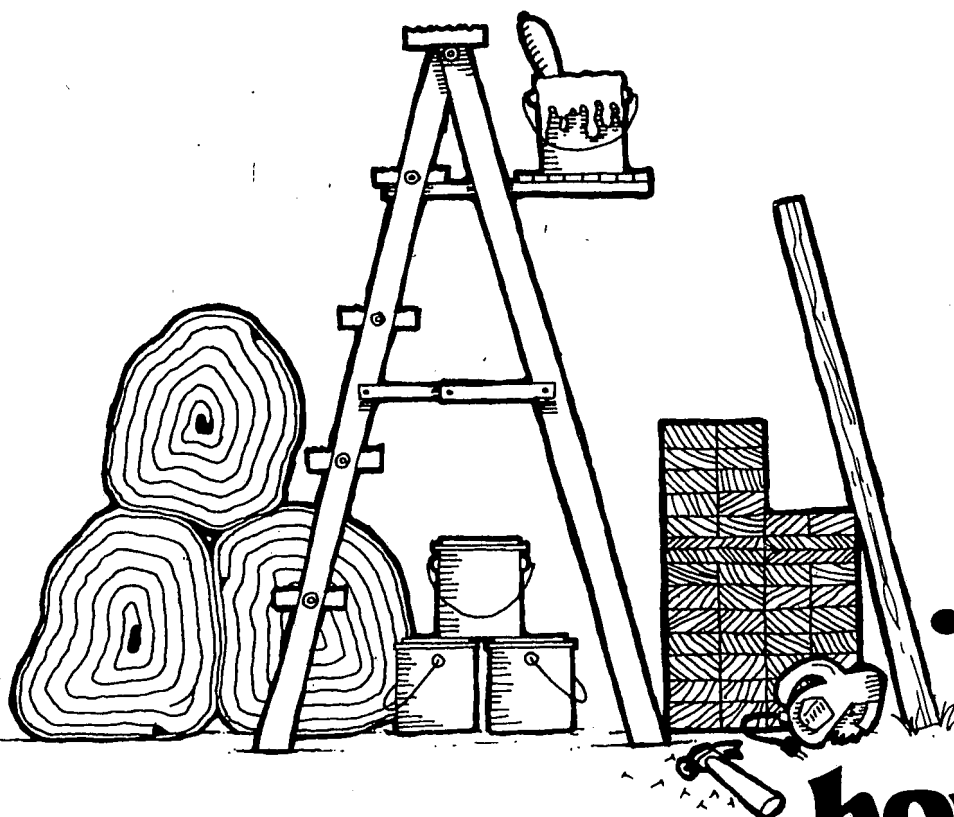

Campbell's letter continued, "in addition, the approximately 15 acre outlot does exceed the 10 acre minimum size requirement as set forth in the Wetlands Ordinance, and accordingly, if there is going to be any development in the 15 acre parcel...a Wetlands Permit must issue." Campbell offered the further opinion that deeding the outlot to the subdivision "did not accomplish the intent of either the Plat Act, the Township Zoning Ordinance or the Township Subdivision Control Ordinance..."

As to the sequence of events of the platting process, Campbell stated, "...I believe tentative preliminary Plat approval is intended solely for the purpose or benefit of the developer and not for the benefit of the Township...It is my opinion that the final preliminary Plat approval waived any requirements for tentative preliminary Plat approval."

Campbell's letter concluded, "Accordingly, based on by my conclusion as it concerns the failure of the final Plat, as indicated by the phase submitted, to coincide with the preliminary Plat, and further, because of the Wetlands question, the Plat in its present form must be considered rejected."

The motion as passed by the Township Board, approved the Plat, subject to these conditions, which conditions have not been met. The Plat now stands rejected. There's no need for the Board to take further action until such time as the developer presents a new Plat, which new Plat does comply with these conditions."

Independent Reflections

by Carol Balzarini

Regular attendance of board meetings, provides an opportunity for the observer to accumulate bits of information and to form impressions that are worth mentioning.

Here's some that may be of interest to people who do not attend these meetings.

Government of the people, by the people, and for the people resurfaced in Independence Township last week. Enough people in Lake Oakland Woods, unhappy with developer and builder Edward Rose, raised enough questions and persisted long enough until the board felt obliged to consult their attorney. Residents were vindicated when the attorney rejected the application for final plat approval of phase III of the development.

Elected officials cannot also be township employees so the board finally got around to naming the wives of the present fire dispatchers, a township trustee among them, to replace their husbands. The fire chief was unsuccessful in his attempt to raise their salary another $500 over the present $4,000, up from $3,600 from last year.

The fire chief convinced the township board that advancing $432 in travel expenses for three men to attend a pump maintenance conference in Minnesota was money saved "down the road."

Village Councilwoman Ruth Basinger deserves credit for continuing to press for Mike Thayer's resignation from the Village Council now that he has been elected to the township board. Ever-increasing complexity in both village and township governments results in ever-increasing demands on the officials' time. Divided attention does a disservice to both bodies.

One of the reasons given for some of the 4th and 7th grade test scores being lower in 1978 than 1977 was the lack of time to "upgrade" new students entering from other school districts, said a school administrator at last week's school board meeting.

Opinions expressed in this article reflect those of the writer, and should not be construed as The Reminder's editorial stand.

Family Warns Public About Dangerous Carbon Monoxide

To the Editor:

We would just like to say to the "mother of five"; what a wonderful mother you must be to care so much, not just for your own, but for other children as well...bless you...

We have all, at one time or another, sat in a parked car while it was running, or left our children in the car because they were just "too much hassle" in the store, without considering the horrible and true to life fact that carbon monoxide, the deadly odorless and ever present gas from all automobiles, could and will snuff out our lives, or someone we loved very much, in a "matter of minutes"!!

Don't let this kind of needless and wasteful death strike your family...keep those car windows cracked open for fresh air, no matter what the temperature is outside and by all means never leave small children unattended in any automobile...at any time, running or not.

If just one life can be saved from this deadly and swift killer, then the loss of our brother and friend can not and will not be in vein...for the great pain and emptiness we feel from losing a brother is only surpassed by our parents, having lost a son...

Independence Clerk a Father

A new Rose arrived last week but was not delivered by FTD. Township Clerk Chris Rose and his wife June produced a future voter and a third generation Clarkston Village Player. Little Abigail proved temperamental, however, and made her debut three weeks early catching her parents unprepared. The new father had to take a couple days off to get the nursery ready.

Dispatchers Fired, Wives Hired

The Independence Township Board has resolved an ongoing problem in the fire department by discharging all three dispatchers and hiring their wives.

The dispatchers work out of their homes every day of the week, 24 hours a day, in addition to serving as volunteer firemen.

The last names of the dispatchers on the Independence Township Payroll. (Thayer, Hess and Goyette) will remain unchanged, but the first names of the dispatchers, instead of being Michael, Jack and Harold, will be Barbara, Gail and Norma.

THOUGHTS 'N THINGS

When I was a lot younger than I am now, I had time for boredom. In fact, I used to hate the first three months of the year because they caused me to be a prisoner. Ice, cold, and snow were the enemies that caused me to have a bad case of "cabin fever." Of course I was aware that a number of people liked the winter. They were the ones who complained about the weather all summer, when I was basking in the warmth of hot, hot weather.

I think that I might never have realized what was really wrong with the way I lived my life if I had been able to read one book after another until the spring arrived, but the worst winters of my life were the ones when our children were small. We lived in the country then, and only a dire emergency would force me to drive from our house to the main roads which might or might not be passable in bad weather. To make matters worse, my husband traveled to Lansing then, and was often gone from Monday until Friday. The children and I seemed to exist in a vacuum during the week, with only an occasional telephone call to keep us in touch with the world. When things really got bad, I would go upstairs and look out the window. From there I could see the house of our closest neighbor. It gave me the feeling that there might still be someone alive "out there." Needless to say, it takes a lot of adjustment for a city girl to move to the country!

I couldn't hide behind books because the children wouldn't let me. They wouldn't let me sew either. They wanted to be entertained.

When our middle daughter started to school, and our youngest girl and I were left alone during the long days, I realized that something had to be done. That's when my sister-in-law told me that there was a child-care center at Oakland University. In order to enroll Jo there, I had to enroll at the University, and it was that, more than any other reason, that moved me to return to college to complete work on my degree. There were obvious benefits to having a degree, of course. It provided a certain amount of "insurance" if anything happened to my husband and I had to go to work. On the other hand, I'd been out of school for about sixteen years, and I'd never set the academic world on fire with my grade average. The biggest problem, of course, was that I was over thirty-five, and I had a house, a husband, and three children besides. Those were major problems back in 1966. A lot of people thought I'd lost my mind!

I know there are a great many women who have returned to school since I took that first step, and I wasn't surprised to see men and women of all ages at registration with my daughter. On the other hand, there are still a great many who have thought about it, and wondered if they could "make it." My advice is, of course, to DO it, and think about it later!

In fear and trepidation, I made an appointment to talk to an Admission's Counselor at Oakland University. I almost cancelled that, but my husband wouldn't let me. By the time I reached the campus, I had decided to tell him that I just wanted to "take a course or two" for something to do, and ask about adult education. When he didn't laugh or act surprised when I entered his office, I gained a little more courage, and by the time I left him, I had taken the most important step I had taken in my life. I had begun to take my life into my own hands. What was more important was that I had finally become aware of the fact that I had a life beyond "daughter, wife, and mother."

Then came the entrance exams. I was amazed when I learned that I had actually done well enough on them to be admitted as a student. I think I began to believe in the whole thing then, and my courage left me again. I remembered that I had received a "D" for every language course I'd ever taken. I decided that I would take a language course, to start with. If I couldn't pass it, I would scrap the whole project! I'll never forget that experience. I loved the course! I loved learning! I was not dumb! It was not impossible for me to pass a course in French!

That was the beginning. I have never experience boredom since.

Last week I went back to Oakland University with our middle daughter. She had to register for classes, and I went along for the ride. I'd like to start all over again!

I know there are a great many women who have returned to school since I took that first step, and I wasn't surprised to see men and women of all ages at registration with my daughter. On the other hand, there are still a great many who have thought about it, and wondered if they could "make it." My advice is, of course, to DO it, and think about it later!

When I was a child, some people didn't consider high-school graduation important, and a college education was considered a luxury. Then came the second world war, and the G.I. bill made higher education a possibility for a lot of men who wouldn't have considered it otherwise. That was the beginning of a change in attitudes in this country. Now "continuing education" for men and women is an accepted practice, and the colleges are supportive of any person of any age or economic background! There are scholarships available at most schools which will cover all degrees of financial need, and/or loans, which are not restricted to the young, so that doesn't have to be a major problem for consideration. Interested? Why don't you just call or write some of the schools in the area. and ask them to send you a catalog? It may change your life!

"Should I Ever Dip Into my Capital?"

In her book, "Life is for Living," Theresa Morse maintains that a widow's capital is not always an untouchable commodity, nor need it be sacred. It is intended to be used sensibly for the sake of security but also to help make a better, happier life for yourself.

Ms. Morse points out that, for all the years before you were widowed, you and your husband managed your finances without your children's advice, there's little reason to begin now.

Feel free to do what is important to YOU, without endangering the bulk of your capital. A trip or a special gift to yourself or others may seem extravagant to your children, but extremely meaningful to YOU.

Project the use of your capital wisely, reserving funds for emergencies, but, as Ms. Morse indicates, your welfare and happiness comes first and "your life is for living."

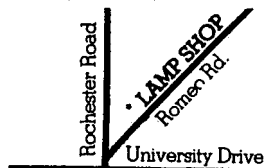

Advice regarding major finances can be sought from a banker or accountant, both professionals on-whose skill you may rely.

month, with at least a trace of precipitation being recorded at the eastern Clarkston station on all but 7 days during the month.

Precipitation (including the melted equivalent of snowfall) for our 4-township and surrounding area in December ranged from 2.02 inches at Detroit Metropolitan Airport to 3.90 inches at Elizabeth Lake/Waterford Township. Locally, the northern Clarkston station recorded 3.05 inches and the eastern Clarkston station recorded 3.08 inches of precipitation during the month. Nearly an inch and a half of rain fell over the Clarkston area during the last 2 days of the year.

Snowfall in December was also above normal, as the eastern Clarkston station reported 11-1/2 inches of snowfall during the month. Our seasonal snowfall through December now stands at 18-1/2 inches. Temperatures in December averaged near normal for the second consecutive month, ranging from a low of zero degrees on the morning of the 28th to a high of 47 degrees on the 4th. The daily mean temperature for this past December was 27.2 degrees. Even though the daily high temperatures were above freezing on 20 days during the month, the eastern Clarkston station reported at least a 2 inch snowcover during the entire month. The maximum snowcover reported was 7 inches in the early part of the month.

The weather for the year of 1978 was basically colder and drier than normal for most of our 4-township area. The year will best be remembered for the great blizzard of January 26-27, and the 33 inches of snow that fell in the Clarkston area during the entire month of January.

During the year temperatures ranged from a low of -13 degrees on February 4 to a high of 95 degrees on July 20 and September 8. The daily mean temperature for the year was 45.7 degrees which is about 2 degrees below normal.

Precipitation for the year ranged from a low of 23.69 inches at Bishop Airport in Flint to a high of 37.55 inches at Elizabeth Lake/Waterford Township. Other yearly precipitation totals include: Oakland Lake/Waterford Township - 25.38", Fenton - 25.99", Detroit Metropolitan Airport - 26.93", northern Clarkston - 27.26", eastern Clarkston - 27.91", and Oxbow Lake/White Lake Township - 32.68".

Our group of hard-working volunteers who were able to record a full year of precipitation in 1978 include A. John Church, Dennis Cox, Susan E. Rosin, Neal Philpott, Sr., the Mike Ashley family, and myself. (The isohyetal maps were prepared by Robert C. Davis and Susan E. Having trouble paying your electric bill?

Help us help you.

All of us, of course, must pay for the goods and services we use. From time to time, many of us may have difficulties making those payments—due to illness, loss of employment, an accident or a disability.

If this happens to you, let Detroit Edison know. Detroit Edison has programs to help you if you're having problems with electric bills and to help you avoid overdue bills in the future. The programs are designed to assure uninterrupted electric service.

You can help Detroit Edison help you by getting in touch as soon as possible—by mail, by telephone or by stopping in at any Detroit Edison Customer Office.

Here are Detroit Edison Programs to help when your bill is overdue:

Bill Payment Counseling

Company Customer Representatives will offer advice and assistance and suggest ways to obtain aid in paying Edison bills through public assistance programs such as social service or welfare agencies, if needed. So call or stop in at any Customer Office and talk things over.

Payment Plans

If an extra-large overdue bill seems impossible to pay, don't despair. Payment plans can be tailored to fit your situation and clear things up.

These Detroit Edison Programs can help you avoid problems arising from overdue bills:

Double Notice Protection Plan

When you sign up for this plan, if your overdue bill could result in a service shutoff then a friend, relative or community agency is notified so they can remind you that your bill must be paid, or pay it for you. This plan is especially helpful for the elderly, the sick, the shut-in or persons who spend extended periods of time away from home.

Senior Citizen Rate

If you are 65 years or older and the head of a household, this new rate can help lower your electric bills if you use less than 548 kilowatt-hours a month—848 kilowatt-hours or less if you have controlled electric water heating combined on your regular meter. If you want more information, call or stop in at any Customer Office so that a Customer Representative can review this new program with you.

Steele-Beadle Combine to Win CHS Gong Show

Wednesday night, the Clarkston High School Student Council presented their version of Chuck Barris' Gong Show in the school auditorium. The 2nd Annual show, emceed by John Fletcher (school clown) and judged by Mr. Larry Mahrie, Mr. Gary Nustad, Mrs. Addis, Mr. John Kirchkessner, and Mr. Jim Wenger (all members of the high school's faculty), hosted acts such as: "Worm Baby, Worm," by Squig and the disco crawlers; "Army Boots," by Prez and the Dents; "King Tut," by the Funky Pharaoh and the Punk Tuts; and a few other "interesting" acts.

But the act that stands out the most was the song "This Moment" (written by Lisa Steele), performed by Lisa Steele on piano and Chris Beadle on vocals. They won the show without the slightest doubt in anybody's mind.

Incidentally for all you people that saw the show: The unknown comic was...

Men's Club Sponsors Fish Supper

The Methodist Men's Club of the Davisburg United Methodist Church is sponsoring their 46th Annual Fish Supper.

This yearly event is attended by many. Last year 70 people were even turned away because they ran out of fish. Serving time is 4:30 p.m.-7:30 p.m. on January 20.

This story was related by Bob Walters, general chairman; one of the cooks (normally one Ray Biskner) hand picks the best lemon pie every year for his own consumption. When confronted with the evidence of deptomania, Ray didn't deny it. Instead, he told of the time his plan was foiled. "One year I was hiding the pie in the nursery and it was dark. I wanted to put the pie on top of the crib that I thought had a lid on it. You guessed it, there was no lid," Mr. Biskner said.

The Business Beat

Carpet Shoppe Moves Into New Building

The Carpet Shoppe has moved into one of the area's finest new facilities. The new building located on M-15 at West Glass Road is spacious with a huge parking lot and large window display area in the front.

The new building built by the Delta Enterprises, has been a dream of owner Ray Terry's since he began his business nearly three years ago in the Plaza Mall. His carpet store was one of the few businesses in the mall to grow and become profitable.

And according to Terry, he's combined great service with a good product to make his business a success.

Terry says his carpet installers are some of the best in the business. They've had lots of experience and are prompt and accurate in their work.

Besides a large selection of carpeting, including brand names like Mohawk and Barwick, the Carpet Shoppe has lots of linoleum including Armstrong, GAF and Congoleum to choose from.

Because Terry's got more space, he's been able to expand his selection to whole carpet roles. The rolls come directly from the mills, and if you so desire, you can choose your carpeting from the rolls, thus eliminating the time needed to order carpeting from samples.

Terry claims since he's moved to his new location (early December) his business has increased significantly.

Terry invites anyone who is in the market for carpeting to drop by and investigate his selection. He feels his prices are as good as you'll find anywhere and his service is unbeatable.

Springfield-Oaks Gets Ready for Winter Carnival

by Betty Good

Local skiers--both downhill and cross-country--have long known that some of the finest skiing to be found anywhere is available right here in Oakland County, with Pine Knob and Mt. Holly close by...in addition to Oakland County's park system.

Now other winter sports enthusiasts--especially youths and families--will get a chance to enjoy their favorite activity on January 20, 1979, at The Winter Carnival to be held at Springfield Oaks Park, Andersonville Road, Davisburg. Anne Clinton, Director of Springfield Oaks Youth Activities Center, stated the building will be open during the Carnival. Outside, a multitude of winter sports will be going on simultaneously -- free and open to the public. Cross-country skiing, sledding, tobogganing, ice skating and a snow sculpture contest are on the day's agenda.

The event is co-sponsored by Oakland County Parks and Recreation and Oakland County 4-H. Several busloads of 4-H'ers from the southern part of Oakland County are scheduled to arrive, insuring many youthful participants in the activities. "We want families to come and bring their own equipment and just have fun," continued Anne Clinton. "There will be a big bonfire, a barbeque available, and hot chocolate and coffee served.

Families may bring their own food and utensils."

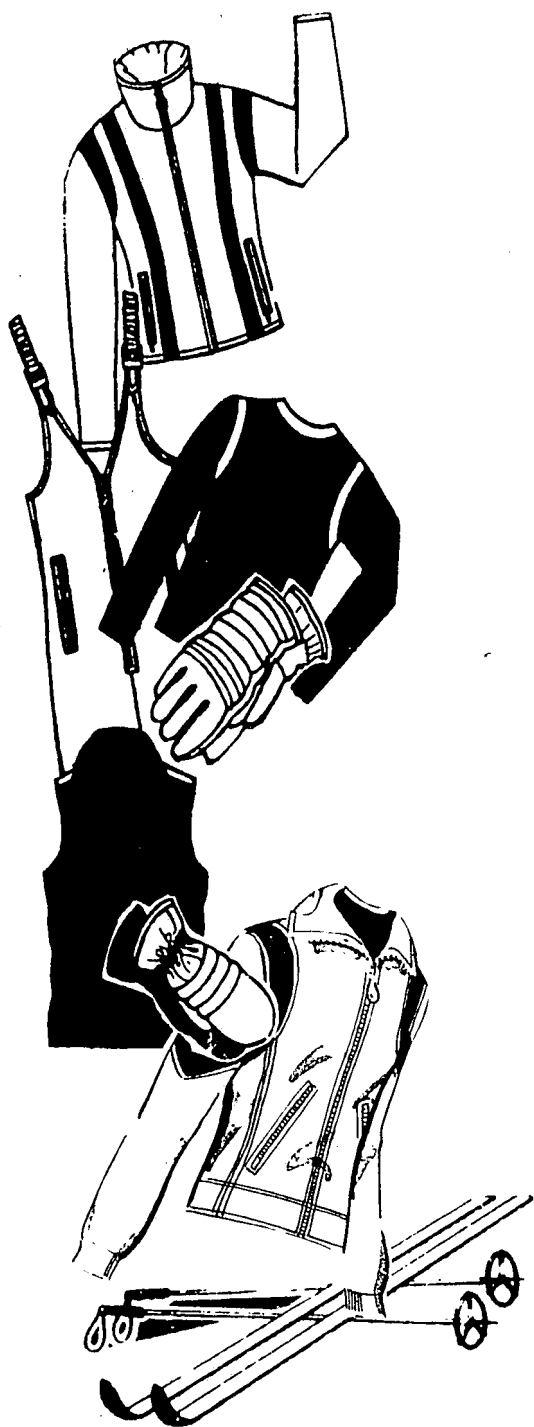

A volleyball net will be set up inside the activities building for those who prefer their winter exercise indoors; however, no skates will be allowed inside the building on those who come in to warm up. Tentatively planned to round out the day is a snowmobile safari if a suitable leader can be found.

Ms. Clinton states that the purpose of the day is to "showcase" the park's facilities so county residents will know what is available to them at Springfield Oaks as Oakland County Parks and Recreation launches its winter season.

The large ice rink, located in the horse arena behind the warm-up building, finally opened Wednesday, January 10th, after being delayed by bad weather. Tentative hours of operation are 8:00 to 5:00 weekdays, and 8:00 to 3:00 Saturdays until public response has been measured.

Pine Knob Site For Easter Seals Ski Weekend

by Carol Balzarini

Pine Knob Resort and the tri-county Easter Seal Society have teamed up to present a fund-raiser called "Super Ski Weekend" featuring the North American Snow Dance Company, an appearance by noted free style skier Wayne Wong, prizes and skiing for the whole family. The weekend is January 27 and 28 at Pine Knob.

The fund-raising comes in two forms. Participating skiers will be soliciting paid in advance pledges from friends, neighbors, relatives and anyone else they can talk into making a contribution to the Easter Seal Society. Prizes for top money collectors include ski weekends in Colorado, skis, bindings and poles donated by the K2 Corporation, boots and goggles donated by Scott USA, and Pine Knob Resort season passes. There are three categories for skiers to enter: downhill, cross country, and adapted skier. An adapted skier is one who is handicapped in some way.

The other way to contribute to the charity is to donate money that weekend for the privilege of skiing with the celebrities or participating in free style and racing clinics and various races planned for the two-day fund raiser.

The appearance of the Snow Dance Company will give spectators as much entertainment as the skiers. Bill Bostick, a Michigan free styler now based in Colorado, says the ballet theatre featuring eight of the top free style skiers in the country will put on a choreographed, costumed show to rival any ice show. They have scheduled three performances, two during the day and one Saturday evening. With interior lights dimmed and spotlights on the hill outside, indoor resort patrons are sure to enjoy the evening performance.

Other activities scheduled for the weekend include an auction of ski equipment and other ski related items Saturday evening prior to the performance of the Snow Dance Company and three aerial shows featuring the Parahawks, skiers who get to the hill by way of kites instead of the customary chairlift.

Honorary chairman for the weekend is Barry ZeVan, Channel 2 weather forecaster and host of the Saturday afternoon television program "Ski Scene," featuring many of his own films as well as those provided by resorts and air lines. ZeVan recently returned from filming in Scotland; he specializes in highlighting out of the way, little publicized ski areas in the world. His ZeVan has also been showing his movies to area ski clubs who request them with all of the money raised going to the Easter Seal Society. He will continue to do this even after the "Super Ski Weekend."

Co-chairpersons for the weekend event are Steve Still of WWJ-radio and Char Margolis, a professional psychic and Easter Seal volunteer. She and ZeVan may be able to do something about the weather on January 27 and 28. Participation was way down last year as a prior blizzard discouraged many skiers and stranded some of the celebrities.

The Easter Seal Society is just one of many charitable organizations whose operations rely almost entirely on volunteer workers. The Oakland County chapter located on Telegraph Road in Pontiac is in need of volunteers particularly at this time of the year when most of their fund raising activities are planned. The weeks between now and April 13 have at least five events scheduled: the Marc Avery golf outing in Florida in February, the annual telethon the end of March, Coffee Day in participating restaurants, and Lily Day in shopping centers, in addition to the ski weekend.

In addition to fund raising volunteers, others are needed on a year around basis to assist in the occupational and physical therapy programs. The Society also works with the Waterford Schools in a therapy program for handicapped school children.

Money raised in Oakland County stays in Oakland County although the local chapter is affiliated with both the Michigan and national societies. Their research program is conducted on a national basis investigating not only the causes of crippling diseases but also appliances to aid those affected by the diseases. The research program has resulted in such appliances as a wheel chair which responds to voice control and an arm put together by a computer, referred to by some as a "bionic" arm.

To become a volunteer with the Easter Seal Society is as simple as picking up the telephone, dialing 338-9626, and telling them you'd like to donate some of your time and effort. They will be glad to have you.

Personality Profile:

MARTIN: Hermit With a Heart

by Mike Wilcox

You could call Sennate (Sam) Martin the last of the hermits. His home sets back nearly a half mile off of Oak Hill Road. He lives alone. No wife, no family. Just a dog. His beard is long and rugged. His clothes ragged and dirty.

But Sam, is more than an old, forgotten man. He's a storyteller and a critic. He's an avid reader and repairer of junk and fine merchandise. He's been a hobo and a trash man, a merchant and a road builder.

At 74 years of age his physical strength is no longer great. Nor are his eyes and ears as good as they used to be. But, his mind is still sharp, and old Sam still has a lot to say.

You claim you're 7/8 Indian, why?

My people were on the death march to Indiana, Michigan and Ohio. All the old people who were left in the camp were killed. Of course that lost colony you read about--they mixed with the Indians in order to exist. My great uncles, you'd swear were full blood. Do you know the hair on my head is still worth $50.00 to the President of the United States? They never cancelled that law. It's still on the books!

Why do you live in such seclusion, way back in the woods?

I was born and raised in the woods. I helped clear a lot of this country.

Tell me more about your homestead. I see you got eleven acres and a rustic sign out on Oak Hill Road, that calls it "Bittersweet."

People tell me it (original house, still standing but no longer in use) was haunted. They would move in one day and move out that very night. A dog and cat came out of there like they were shot and you wouldn't see them for two or three days. The marks of a woman who burned to death are still there.

It's really built up a lot around here now. Lots of new homes. It must be quite different from what you remember?

It was all farmland when I first came here. Even where The Nickelodeon is, that was farmland. In fact near there is where they used to change horses for the pony express. That's before my time, but I've been told stories about it.

Do you have a lot of visitors?

Not so much anymore. These here kids have growed up now. They're busy, so they don't come around. Of course, I used to, when their parents weren't home and they had nothing to eat, I had stuff to feed them with here. But it's gotten so now if one of them were to get sick or anything like that...I would be accused of poisoning them. That's why I don't mess with Halloween anymore.

How have you been employed over the years?

You name it and I tried it. Work is work. But what burns me up today is everything is tomorrow. When a man tells you he will see you tomorrow, you might as well forget it.

Didn't you use to manage the old dump on Ortonville Road?

I started it! They use to have a gravel pit there. And it also use to be a lake. I had to look after it and make sure everything was disposed of and the paper wasn't scattered all over creation. You know they had a chance there on that place. For some dollars they could have put up a building there right across from Solleys, and it would have been for the two townships (Independence and Brandon). But they turned it down. They could have still had that dump going if they would have did what I told them 40-50 years ago. They needed to put a furnace in there where they could separate the metals and then burn the doggone stuff. Then they could use the smoke for chemical purposes like we used to do years ago when we took burnt coal and made all kinds of chemicals and wood out of them. Dow Chemical Co. was one of them oldtimers that worked on that stuff years and years and years ago.

You're very critical about a lot of things. What are some of your pet peeves?

Seat belts! When they first started monkeying around with them I told a health inspector when lused to run the dump, if you put that thing on you'll never make it to Pontiac...and he didn't! Right at the top of the hill he got clobbered. He couldn't get out of the way because that belt was holding him...I used to play car polo. They used to run automobiles around that batted a big ball. Of course we had seat belts for that, but they were better than the ones they got today. It happened to be one day I got a new one and didn't get a chance to put it on. But I'll be a son-of-a-gun, there were eight other guys who had them on in the other cars, and every damn one of them was laid up because of the seat belts. Since then I have never worn seat belt and once more I never intend to!

I get the impression you think there are a lot of crooked politicians in this world, huh?

I don't think. I know it! We haven't got a lawyer, judge, legislator or any of them guys that are American citizens. They violated there oath of office. We haven't got a school house that's got a person inside that is an American citizen. When they tell me I can't say a prayer in my school and salute the American flag, that's crazy. I wouldn't tell them that they had to...but they better not tell me that I can't.

You've been in and out of the hospital many times. How come?

As a young guy I got shot. So I was in the hospital and I had some friends who has a son who was going to die. They gave me his kidney. That was nearly fifty years ago. I got a bad heart too. I've been pronounced dead ten times. I've heard them pronounce me dead three times!

Why have you had so many heart attacks?

Overworked. During the war I went 80-90 hours without a rest.

When was the last time you were in the hospital?

A year ago this last Thanksgiving. I went down to eighty pounds from dehydration.

What do you think about 1979? Is it going to be a good year for everyone?

If they don't change their ways, they'll never live to see 1980. I doubt if we will make it to '80, unless some miracle happens that I don't know about.

How about you? How long would you like to live?

Well when the old man tells me my job is done, he'll call me. I'm looking forward to it. I'm not scared.

Are you enjoying life?

Being in misery every day of your life, if you call that enjoying it, then be it. But, then on the other hand, like the man who cussed because he didn't have any shoes and then looked out and saw a man who didn't have any feet to put them on. If I hadn't been through some of this stuff, I probably wouldn't know how to feel good.

A LADIES DELIGHT

20 W. Washington
Clarkston Mills

Mon. thru Sat 10-6 Fri. 10-9

Just One of Those Days

Some people didn't send out Christmas cards this year--and some did, and wish they hadn't. One of those ladies found herself in a real pickle over her's! It seems that relations with the in-laws had not been as friendly as some of them would like to have had them. Our friend was trying to improve matters, so she included a cheery little note on Christmas cards to them.

It wasn't until they were all written, addressed, sealed, stamped, and dropped off at the post office, that she realized what she had done. It seems that the lady was already thinking about making the adjustment from 1978 to 1979 when she wrote the notes, and she over-compensated, and closed each of her cheery notes with, "We are so anxious to get together with you, and we really must get together soon. How about sometime early in '80?"

"Surely," she said to her husband, when she realized what she had done, "they will realize that I just got confused!"

"You don't know my family," he said. "They'll take it like it's written."

Our friend called each member of her husband's family, explained her confusion, and set a definite date, early in 1979, when they could all get together. It was just one of those awful days, she says, but maybe it's all for the best, and things will improve. "At least everyone sounded friendly over the phone," she added optimistically.

WINTER WONDERLAND

It's For The Birds!

"It's for the birds"--perhaps, that is what this congregation of ducks and Canadian geese were thinking as they declined to "fly in" for the Annual Bird Count at Kensington Metro Park, near Milford, on a recent Saturday. An all-day affair, the 10:00 a.m.-4:00 p.m. event drew many people, both as participants in taking the bird census and as spectators.

The feathered friends pictured seem to prefer wintering over at the familiar Drayton Plains Nature Center, on Hatchery Road, near Dixie Highway. So accustomed to food "handouts" are they, that the photographer's camera was attraction enough to cause dozens of them to fly across from the far side of the pond and settle at her feet. A few minutes later, they were rewarded for their "posing" by a gentlemen and little girl in a pickup truck who stopped to feed them five loaves of bread.

(It, also, solved another problem. The photographer's husband had previously said "Now how are you going to feed all those ducks with only two crackers?" To which she had replied, "Look at the birds of the air, they sow not neither do they reap..." Oh, ye of little faith!)

Word has it from another source that several area residents make an annual practice of presenting the ducks with the edible trimmings from their Christmas trees--strings of popcorn, cranberries, etc.--after the holidays are over.

Clarkston Drops 1st Ski Meet to Pontiac Northern

Seth Scott cuts a sharp turn around a gate to finish first overall.

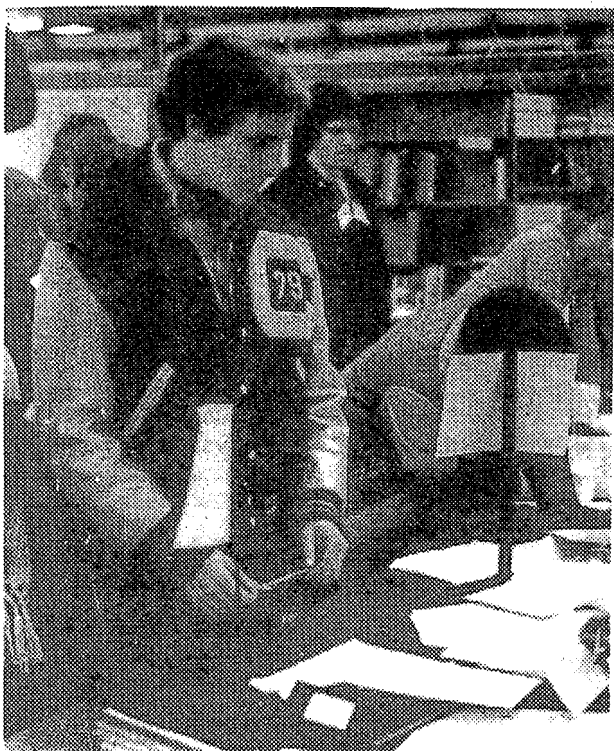

No skier wants to wipe out before finishing a race...

During and After

...Dale Hurteau just needed a little time alone afterward.

Last Wednesday it was time for the semi-annual heartbreak as Clarkston High School students registered for next semester's classes.

Chaos was the word to describe it. Students were running back and forth and forth and back and...gosh, I even got confused.

No, it really wasn't that bad, in fact some faculty members remarked that it was going much smoother then in the past.

Lions Share of Springfield Community Development Funds Likely to Go to Fire Department Improvements

The anticipated $33,000 in Community Development Act (CDA) Block funds may go towards the improvement of the Springfield Township Fire Department after the funds' priorities were established last Tuesday.

After the priorities were set up, the township board members said the grant should be awarded in September. The grant money is available as part of a program in which Springfield Township has participated since 1975. So far, the township has received $41,550 in federal funds.

The township plans to build a fire station on a one-acre parcel of land, which is presently being leased from the Oakland County Road Commission. No construction date has been set, but the township officials are presently attempting to save money for building and equipping the new station.

The federal grant money would pay for fire protection improvements such as hoses, communication equipment or resurfacing the parking lot at the proposed station. The amount spend on the fire department is estimated at approximately $10,000.

Other priorities include park development, landscaping and economic development. $10,000 has been allotted to construct one restroom and renovate the existing restroom at the Mill Pond. Officials said that the park has only one restroom presently, and that one doesn't work.

Also allotted was about $3000 for landscaping around the library and $4,500 for the construction of sidewalks near the township hall, or along Andersonville Road to Andersonville School, if enough funds are available.

Other uses for the fund are $5000 for road improvements and $500 for research into the possibility of establishing an Economic Development Corporation.

The CDA money that has been previously allotted to Springfield Township has been used for library renovation, road improvement drainage and culvert construction.

If more than the expected $33,000 is received, the board plans to spend the extra funds on sidewalk construction. If less is received, allocations will be cut from the bottom of the list of priorities.

Wolfpack Edges Grand Blanc 45-39 in Sloppy Contest

Now 9-1 Overall Clarkston Has Easy Time

With Milford, 70-57

The Wolfpack is back on the track as of Friday night's game against Milford. The Wolves jumped ahead early in the first period and went into the lockerroom at half-time with a 38-28 lead. The final score, 70-57, in favor of Clarkston, showed much improvement in their offensive game over Tuesday night.

Also back on the track after having an off night

This victory gives Clarkston a 3-0 league record and a 9-1 overall.

Coach Nustad commented, "We were playing well off, but we need work on our defense. Games are always good in the win column."

The team's leading scorers were Scott McKoin with 30 points and 10 rebounds, and Brad Sheldon with 8 points.

who served them at the official residence for more than 50 years--from the presidencies of William Howard Taft through Dwight D. Eisenhower--is revealed in BACKSTAIRS AT THE WHITE HOUSE. The novel will be published for the first time anywhere as a Bantam Release TV tie.

Based on the true-life experiences of Maggie Rogers--the first black woman afforded the privilege of working on the "Family floor" of the White House--and her daughter Lillian Rogers Parks, the novel is written by the husband-wife writing team of Gwen Bagni and Paul Dubov, who also wrote the teleplay for the upcoming NBC-TV nine-hour mini-series of the same title.

An account of two extraordinary women and of the eight administrations they served, the novel is, in part, the eyewitness "backstairs" drama of the professional and private triumphs, conflicts, and sorrows of the Presidents, their families, and their partners in history.

BACKSTAIRS AT THE WHITE HOUSE is based on source material taken from the 1961 nonfiction bestseller, My Thirty Years Backstairs at the White House by Lillian Rogers Parks and Frances Spatz Leighton, as well as upon extensive recent interviews with Mrs. Parks, who is now in her 80s.

The nine-hour mini-series from Ed Friendly Productions is scheduled to be aired over four consecutive nights in mid-January. One of the most heavily publicized and widely anticipated dramatic television events, BACKSTAIRS was predicted to be "the bright entertainment highlight of the mini-series season" by the Christian Science Monitor.

A hardcover edition of BACKSTAIRS AT THE WHITE HOUSE will be published by Prentice-Hall. First serial rights have been sold to the National Enquirer.
