BREAKING GROUND FOR A NEW MEDICAL CENTER

Surrounded by architects, engineers, township officials, and future occupants, orthodontist Charles Munk (left) breaks ground for what he hopes is only phase I of a medical village. The building, slated for winter occupancy, will emphasize all phases of dental care to "fill the void" in health care in the Clarkston area.

editor's note

I predict within the next couple of months that at least a couple of gas stations in this area will be pumping gasohol. Gasohol, a mixture of 90 percent gasoline and 10 percent alcohol, has caught the fancy of the Midwest. One Chicago gasohol attendant says he hasn't sat down in days. The first Saturday he converted, he sold four times the amount of gas he usually sells.

Strangely enough, gasohol is neither cheaper than regular gas, nor does it seem to get better mileage—at least not according to the Environmental Protection Agency's office in Ann Arbor.

But try to convince gasohol supporters of that fact. Customers everywhere say it gets better mileage and is much cleaner than conventional gas. In central Michigan, gas stations that have converted also seem to be sold on the product. Four Minnesota farmers are so convinced, that they are undertaking a $100 million project to mass produce alcohol for gasohol. Their plant, the largest of its kind, will produce 20 million gallons of 200-proof ethanol a year to be sold to gasohol producers.

Finally got a chance to see "China Syndrome," which played at the Clarkston Cinema last week. Its resemblance to the incident at Three Mile Island is frightening. Its major theme as far as I was concerned was that no matter how sophisticated the equipment, human errors and emotions play a major part in the success of an operation.

In "The China Syndrome" it was human error and then an attempt to cover up those errors that caused the disastrous conclusion. The script was nearly the same at Three Mile Island.

I'm not ready to condemn nuclear energy, by the incident at Three Mile Island. However methods of dealing with that type of incident better be upgraded. Did you know that there was no real evacuation plan for residents near the power plant? And that it took three days for the Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) to start monitoring radiation levels near the plant, so that records of radiation exposure are spotty, at best. Most importantly, information about the incident was consistently contradictory—both the NRC and the power company attempted to dismiss the incident as minor.

letters

To the Editor:

Since the resounding defeat of the school millage proposal the school board will now reassess the situation and the direction to take in order to meet the needs of the school system.

Out of concern for what this community NEEDS, WANTS and WILL SUPPORT FINAN-CIALLY I wish to urge all citizens to express their views to the Board of Education.

I feel information on the options considered before the vote and final recommendation to the board by the Citizens Advisory Committee will be of assistance in forming an individual opinion and preference on how to meet the problem of educating our children most effectively.

From a large group of volunteers, 32 members of the community were selected to be representative of the citizens, some in areas of expertise, to function in enrollment (9), finance (8) and facilities (15) sections. Over half of the latter group were or had been actively engaged in teaching from various school systems.

The enrollment section with the professional assistance of Stan Hecker of M.S.U. made available to the facilities section the enrollment projection which provided a base in the final assessment of space needs for state-mandated programs. Storage, media, administrative, sport and artistic needs were evaluated in addition to the classroom space. Site assessments were made and the facilities committee tallied all the deficits. Five major options were finally selected. These were presented to the finance committee for a cost analysis. In a general session, after discussion of positive and negative aspects of each, a vote was taken. Option No. 2 as listed below received the most votes.

Briefly, they were: B-Bond, O-Operation

This is brief and by no means adequate information. Hopefully you will be stimulated to seek more information from the board members, citizen advisory members and/or school officials. Discuss as necessary with family, friends and neighbors, then, state your view, preferably in writing, to your school board.

I personally feel we need to provide the additional space as assessed BUT I do not agree we need to spend 9 million dollars to do that. What do you think???

THOUGHTS 'N THINGS

It's curious that the very mothers who say they hate summer because the kids are underfoot all day, are the very ones to pass up suggestions on how to improve the situation, but that's what grandmothers tell me is the truth of the situation.

It is true that by the time we're adults we think we should be able to handle most things, but that is an unhandy thought that lets us in for a lot of difficulty that could be avoided! The truth is that the intelligent and most mature thing to do about any problem is to consult the experts, add your thoughts, and the benefit of your experience to theirs, and come up with the best from both of you. It just so happens that grandmothers are the experts when it comes to problems with kids.

I should explain that I do not mean that grandmothers are perfect and are filled with guaranteed advice on how to do things and have them come out perfectly. Some of them are just normal everyday people like the rest of us. What I do mean is that each generation picks up a lot of information and advice and techniques, just living from day to day, which we call experience--even though all it is is a list of what doesn't work. (There's a lot to be learned from trying and failing!)

Every generation resists the advice of the older generation as it moves from childhood to adulthood. That's good. Without that normal resistance to the imposition of values, opinions, and attitudes, nothing would change or improve. It's when the adults in society get upset at youth for wanting to resist, and fail to understand and provide for such shows of energy, that trouble brews. When it is understood as a normal part of the growth and maturation process, it soon changes as the young become the parenting generation. The assumption of adult status--independence through assuming total support of the self, brings situations and circumstances that older generations have dealt with. Then understanding between the middle generation and the older generation begins, and the middle generation runs into the younger generation's resistance.

I have discovered a secret to the problems between the generations. Everyone wants to be loved and needed. Everyone wants to be reminded that they are loved and needed. When people feel that they are loved and needed they relax, and they are cooperative. I am not a grandmother, but I love to give advice!

As a matter of fact, the more tolerant parents are about the energy the kids expend in verbal resistance (that is, complaining, moaning and groaning about "what I've gotta do" or "I can't do," the sooner the kids get tired of saying it, and the sooner they're able to admit that parental direction and/or supervision was a big help after all.

There's another point to consider, for people of all generations, and that is that people who offer other people help because they want to be helpful, are usually appreciated. What's more, people come back to ask for more help and advice, (whether they're kids or grown-ups).

It is very sad when parents use their power over little children for their own benefit and to fulfill their own needs, rather than in the child's best interests. The children don't have to be very old before they recognize that the parent or parents are selfish and insincere. Then, since they generalize about parents and life at home, they think that the rest of the world is the same as their family, so to cope with it, that is, to be "safe" in it, they have to be the same way.

The story gets sadder when the children are older and display what they have learned in their action and attitudes toward their parents, who are also older, and sometimes dependant on the children. Not liking your kids because they are selfish and insincere is a miserable situation when you've spent years of your life raising them!

But what if the parents don't realize they are being too possessive of their kids because they "need" their presence and attention? Well, that's when grandmothers (and grandfathers) can be of help. They'll usually tell you things like, "you need some time away from the kids, and they need some time away from you, so why don't you let us baby-sit while you have some time to yourself?"

In the winter, he skis with his buddies who don't complain, don't nag, don't expect him to shovel the sidewalk, but he does take his kids with him.

In the spring, he fishes with still another set of friends. They don't complain, don't nag, don't expect him to take out the garbage or mow the lawn. After all, the mayflies are hatching.

In the summer, comes the "real" escape from the daily routine and more fishing, but this time not just one little old weekend. Many days are possible and as many as possible are preferred, each one deemed necessary to his health and well-being.

In the meantime, school is out and little league season has begun. How does this working mother cope with the little sluggers and the vacationing father? Barely, but bravely!

Considering summer baseball can take some three hours a day for each game and some mothers may spend as many as four days a week at it, it's tough. Whatever Mom's job may be, it takes a beating. Just ask her employer.

Aside from the beating her job takes, what happens to mealtime? An afternoon ball game provides two choices--before or after. The problem is compounded by the fact the kids don't want to eat before and Mom's too tired to cook after.

By the time summer is over, many mothers are considering writing a Cookbook for Little League Mothers, guaranteed to be an overnight success. In the meantime, the kids would have profitted nicely as shareholders in a fast food chain.

Successfully surviving the days between the middle of June and Labor Day is a tribute to the working mother. And, in spite of all obstacles placed in her path, she will survive!

Joan Allen

Feature Editor

Believe me, that is not a joke. There are a lot of parents who would give their eye-teeth for such an offer, but there are an equal number who are afraid to let the kids out of their sight. They are the ones who really have a rough time in the summer because they have to worry all day, instead of just while the kids are out of school for a few hours a day. Their fear of "something happening" keeps the kids imprisoned physically, mentally, and emotionally, because it doesn't take long for them to learn fear too.

Of course, it is true that a lot of grandparents don't learn much in life, or don't remember, and they say, "What! Another baby-sitter! You should stay home with your children. They won't be little forever, you know!" Sometimes they are right to remind parents of that, but when you haven't been apart from the kids since last August when they slept out in the yard in a tent, I don't think it is something to be concerned about.

I have discovered a secret to the problems between the generations. Everyone wants to be loved and needed. Everyone wants to be reminded that they are loved and needed. When people feel that they are loved and needed they relax, and they are cooperative. I am not a grandmother, but I love to give advice!

Here's what to say when you're not sure you are doing something right, "Uh, I am having a little anxiety about my opinion in this matter, and I wonder if you ever ran into something similar." (That's how adults talk to each other when they are going to "cooperate" on a matter.)

And, here's what to say when somebody offers help that you don't need. "Thank you for being so helpful. It's really great to get somebody else's opinion on things."

How you say something to people who are younger or people who are older than you makes a difference to them--not what you say! Don't believe me? How about giving it a try this summer--and while you're at it, try it on people your own age too. It might just get to be a habit!

Why women, you ask? Why not? Who has a choice?

Take your average working mother of today with normal active children. Chances are she's married to a man who requires a two-day weekend to recover from a five-day work week and to prepare for another one.

WHAT IS "WIDOW'S WALK?"

Old and historic homes built along the seacoasts often have a fence-like railing on the roof which is called a "widow's walk."

This "widow's walk" provided a lookout for those awaiting the return of loved ones from the sea. In early America, many families were dependent on the shipping business for their livelihood. Many lives were lost at sea. Many ships were to depart, never to return again. "Watching from the widow's walk" became a common experience for countless wives and sweethearts in the early history of our country.

The expression, "widow's walk," has been used to entitle a booklet by Jane Woods Shoemaker. A widow can receive comfort and constructive ideas to help her adjust to her new way of life by reading this warm and moving experience of another widow.

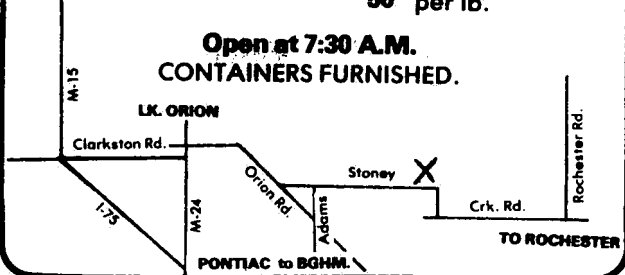

Your problems are our concern. Please feel free to call on us about them.

To Build or Not to Build The Pine Knob Hotel Proposal Has Area Buzzing

Editor's Note:

The following is a letter written by Maranatha Baptist Church Pastor Philip Somers to Independence Township and a rebuttal letter written by Joe Locricchio, Pine Knob owner.

MARANATHA BAPTIST CHURCH

We are vitally concerned with the operation of the Pine Knob consortium. Within the interlocking relationships which characterize the operations of this group it is very difficult to fix responsibility for anything.

Since our experience has been that the representatives of Pine Knob will make oral commitments if pressed, but will make no written commitments whatever, we are interested in several unanswered questions growing out of more than seven years of development, in the light of the latest request for permission to build the hotel.

1. Was there ever any consultation with the DNR at the time of the Flemings Lake draw down? If not, why not?
2. Why is it necessary to grant every request from Pine Knob in order to increase their profits?
3. If permission is granted to build the proposed hotel, on what basis can any other developer be refused the same kind of liberty? Why must Independence Township become another Troy?
4. Why the emphasis upon broadening the tax base when this group openly prides itself on not paying its taxes? And why the most favorable climate which allows the complex to always be in arrears?
5. After seven years of refusal on the part of the township board to enact and enforce a meaningful sound ordinance to regulate the theater, what possible confidence can we have that the ski slope would not blast us all winter with announcements and music? We regularly get the announcements from the present system. Another 400 feet of height, and sound to compete with the Northern lodges?
6. What will be the impact upon the water table from the needs of 1500 guests and additional employees?
7. How many young people from the area will really

"Every time they want to expand they expect to be accommodated. Does the board really believe it was elected to give away the property rights of the residents..."

want to be bellhops or waitresses, and how many parents will want their young people exposed to a hotel type of operation?

8. In short, and how much longer will the township ask its residents to underwrite the Pine Knob operation?

9. No matter what the management of Pine Knob does, is there anyone on the board who really thinks that Pine Knob can compete with Caberfae or Boyne Mountain, or any other Northern lodge?

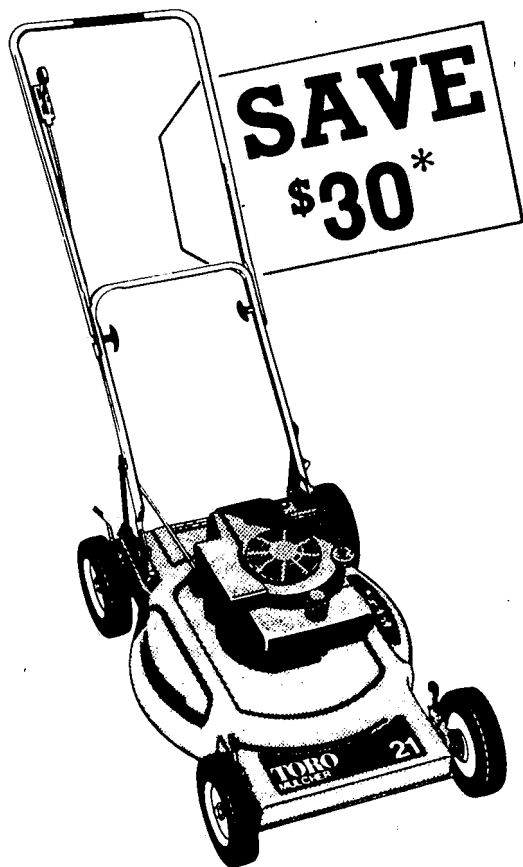

At the time the present owners of Pine Knob bought the property they were surely aware of the restrictions. Yet, every time they want to expand they expect to be accommodated. Does the board really believe it was elected to give away the property rights of the residents of Independence Township? Can we really say that there is respect for the rights of all concerned within the township? At what point will the board call a halt to the Pine Knob pressure?

We have tried to cooperate with the Pine Knob management. Agreements which were entered into orally have not been honored by the group. Last summer we tried three times in writing and once by phone to get up-to-date schedules, for example, without avail.

Taxpayers are about to embark upon a massive restructuring of the I-75-Sashabaw interchange, wholly brought about by the Pine Knob operation. The last widening of Sashabaw only worsened our position here.

A word of approbation is in order here for the Fire and Police Services Departments of Independence Township. These will stand comparison with anything comparable in Michigan. Chief Ronk and Chief Kimbel are to be commended for their efforts on behalf of the township. They have been two of only four officials in this entire county who have ever attempted to assist us here at the church. In the light of a growing list of unprofessional incidents involving the sheriff's department locally, it is crystal clear to us that we must have our own police department in this township. This will be especially true if the high-rise trend is allowed to take root.

We sincerely hope that you will defeat the hotel proposal. If you allow it, please set up, in writing, legal safeguards which will assure proper control of the complex in the future.

Sincerely,

PINE KNOB

I would like to take the time to enlighten Mr. Somers and clarify some of his obvious mis-interpretations.

Mr. Somers' first question was: "Was there any consultation with the D.N.R. at the time of the Flemings Lake draw down?"

Answer: Yes. In 1971 at the onset of the lake restoration project the D.N.R. was contacted by our independent engineering firm, Nowak and Fraus Company. The D.N.R. visited the site to review our proposal to restore the lake to its natural state (Fleming Lake was a dying lake with almost all of the original open water area then filled with peat and root mass). The D.N.R. was fully aware of our plan to remove this peat and muck which was de-oxygenating our lake and causing its ultimate demise. A letter approving our renovation project was received by our engineers in 1972 which reflected the D.N.R.'s concurrence with our restoration methods.

The terms "lake draw down" is totally erroneous, as in actual fact Flemings Lake had to be constantly supplemented with water because of the blockage of the underground springs by peat.

Today Flemings Lake is Oakland County's cleanest lake (purity has reached drinking levels), and its original shorelines have been restored. Total cost of this project exceeded $600,000.

Next Mr. Somers asked: "Why is it necessary to grant every request from Pine Knob in order to increase their profits?"

Answer: I am completely at a loss as to what request I, or Pine Knob have ever made to the township board to increase the profits at Pine Knob, as a matter of fact we have never varied in concept from our original Master Plan presented to the township board in 1970, and since that time Pine Knob has never requested a zoning variance other than the request for "high rise" now before the board.

The original Master Plan shown to the township board in 1970 had a hotel structure in the south-west corner of the Pine Knob property and was shown at that time to be a high-rise structure. This can be supported by photographs still on file in the township offices.

I myself nor anyone else affiliated with Pine Knob has ever consulted the township regarding profits or losses from the operations of any of the Pine Knob amenities.

Mr. Somers asked: If permission is granted to build the proposed hotel, on what basis can any other developer be refused the same kind of liberty? Why must Independence Township become another Troy?

Mrs. Harry Wacker reads her letter from Rep. William Broomfield, telling of the flag's history.

SPECIAL FLAG TO FLY ON 4th of July

by Betty Good

When Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wacker "hoist the colors" on July 4th, it will be no ordinary flag that flies from the pole in the backyard of their Waterford Township home.

Their personal "Star-Spangled Banner" flew over the nation's Capitol on January 1, 1976--the first day of the Bi-Centennial year.

Mrs. Wacker, whose various homes always had flagpoles, likes to give flags to relatives and friends. The one they are presently flying was a gift to her husband, Harry.

Mrs. Wacker noticed an article in the newspaper inviting constituents and others to write U.S. Representative William Broomfield (R-Michigan) for the flags during the Bi-Centennial celebration. Enclosing the proper amount to cover cost, she received her flag, along with a letter explaining its history from Representative Broomfield.

The Wackers can enjoy the Stars and Stripes blowing in the breeze whether they look out the back or the front windows of their home. A flag they gave neighbors, the Paul Rosses, flies from a flagpole across the street. Grace is quick to point out, however, that it exceeds the standard three foot by five foot size.

Neighbors note that Mrs. Wacker's community-minded efforts include welcoming newcomers, mowing lawns for vacationing neighbors, and retrieving runaway pets.

Just One of Those Days

It really seemed great to have all the kids back under the family roof again. Only the youngest of the four had doubts about it all working out when his brother and two sisters all landed home for the summer. On the other hand, since it meant that there would be several cars around, he figured it might prove to work to his advantage.

It did work out too, since the older siblings all had jobs of sorts, and were up and out early in the morning, and he had nothing to do but a few chores, because one of the conditions of the others being at home was they they shared the work around the house.

Anyway, it was great until a recent Sunday evening when dad happened to mention that he had arranged (at eldest daughter's request) to have some repairs done to her car the next day, so he would drop her off at work after she dropped her car off at the shop.

Then his wife reminded him that he was not going to the office the next day, but to a neighboring town to give a speech before a breakfast meeting. Daughter then said, "then you have to drive me mom," and mother said, "but, I can't, I have to pick up three women to take them to Lansing." Everybody turned to eldest brother who said, "not me, it's my turn for car pool and there isn't any room. We don't go that way anyway!" So that left second daughter, who didn't have to be at work until two hours later, but it just so happened that she had made a dental appointment at the only time she could get in, which was the first thing in the morning, and it was an emergency of sorts so she couldn't cancel it.

By that time, eldest daughter was really upset because the lack of consideration and the lack of cooperation in the family "always got her down" and her voice was rising, and her mother was trying to calm her down when second daughter started insisting that her older sister "always gets so personal" and the men of the house began making negative sounds about women getting upset over the least little thing, when suddenly younger brother finally managed to get someone to listen to him. He had been trying to get his sister's attention since somewhere in the middle of the uproar, and finally had to yell.

When everybody stopped talking all at once, they heard him say, "I fixed your car."

The way his mother tells it, she thinks he said, "All that was wrong with it was that you needed a new snuffle for the rourck, so I went to the hardware and got a snoovel and tightened the breek and it's good as new." At least she thinks it was something like that. Anyway, the car was fixed, as everybody discovered when they trooped out to check it out.

Mother says, "it was just one of those days and I don't think I can live through another--not very soon anyway!"

KIER ROAD GETS OKAY FROM SPRINGFIELD PLANNING COMMISSION

by Mark Wilson

The Springfield Township Planning Commission last week unanimously recommended the controversial Kier Road development after an earlier attempt to raise the development's minimum lot size failed to get a majority. The proposed residential development, located in the township's west corner, will have 42 lots on an 80 acre piece of land.

The smallest lot on the project will be 1.5 acres, which many nearby residents felt was too small. The township currently required single dwelling lots to be at least 1.3 acres, according to Township Clerk Cal Walters.

Two weeks ago, the residents petitioned the Commission at a public hearing to recommend creating a new zoning category with a minimum 2.5 acre lot size then apply that to a large area of the township which included the Kier Rd. project.

At the hearing the Commission did recommend the new zoning category, but failed to gain a majority, 3-3 tie, to recommend to the Township Board that this new category be applied to the project and other areas.

This then cleared the way for the Commission's recommendation by 4-0 margin last Tuesday, of the proposed development, including the 1.5 acre lots.

The project, according to developer Karl Lundquist, will be identical in lot size to the adjoining development now there.

"It will be adjoining Green Tree Farms, so the people can drive through and get an idea of what this project will look like," said Lundquist.

Lundquist, 40, of 8999 Cooley Lake Road, Union Lake, didn't feel the lot sizes were inadequate. "An acre and a half is not small for a family to live," he said.

He and developing partner Roger Roeser expect the development to be completed in the next two years. "There are more and more people and they need places to live," said Lundquist.

The Commission's recommendations go to the Township Board July 5th for approval.

Mrs. Judith Russell (left) hands over trophy from last year to daughter Andrea for winning 1979 season in the Great Lakes Sled Dog Association competition.

Husky OWNER BRINGS HOME Sled Dog HONORS

Pippi, a seven year old registered Siberian from the kennel of Mrs. Judith Russell of Clark Rd., Davisburg, won the weight pull for the entire winter season, pulling each weekend in the under 50 lb. dog class.

For the 1978 season Mrs. Russell worked with Pippi and the honors for the Great Lakes Sled Dog Association went to the Russells. For the 1979 season with three youths all in different classes and herself in the seven dog sprint races, it was Andrea's opportunity to work with Pippi each Saturday to qualify and Sunday to pull in the official weight pulling contest.

Requirements are to pull the specially built sled a distance of 16 feet or 5 meters in a one minute time limit. Usually bags of dog food are used for weight on the sled and more is added after each heat.

Pippi worked all season on Andrea's five dog team as the leader, then went on to pull later in the day. Her honors will be announced in the "Team & Trail", a national magazine for racers. Presentation of the award was made at the Annual meeting in May in Lansing's Royal Scott Club.

LaLeche League to Hold Meetings

The PLANT DOCTOR

by
Gregory Patchan
Extension Horticultural Agent

Dear Plant Doctor:

The home we just purchased has an established asparagus bed. How long can we eat the spears and then what do we do?

N.H.-Highland

Dear N.H.:

An established healthy asparagus bed can be cut for 6 to 8 weeks. After this time, stop cutting and allow the ferns to develop which will produce stored food for the crowns to use next spring. In the spring, apply 30 lbs. of 5-10-5 fertilizer per 1,000 sq. ft.

Dear Plant Doctor:

I say we should dethatch our Merion lawn now, but my husband says to wait. Who is right?

M.K.-Holly

Dear M.K.:

I will have to agree with your husband. Dethatching that is properly done will shock the grass; therefore, dethatching should be timed with period of rapid grass growth for recovery. Usually the best periods are in May and again in late August through mid-September. If you dethatch now, weeds are likely to fill in the bare areas created because grass growth has slowed down due to hot weather and moisture stress.

Dear Plant Doctor:

Why do droplets of sticky sap keep falling from our willow trees? This is a real nuisance.

D.E.G.-Ortonville

Dear D.E.G.:

The droplets of sticky sap are called honeydew. They are caused by the feeding of sucking insects called aphids. Frequently a black sooty fungus will grow on the honeydew. You can eliminate this entire problem by spraying with Malathion. However, the feeding damage by the aphids seldom injures the tree.

Dear Plant Doctor:

Our tomato plants wilt and die when planted near our walnut trees. Is there a relationship?

T.Z.-West Bloomfield

Dear T.Z.:

Definitely! The roots of walnut trees release a chemical substance that is toxic to tomatoes. Many plants are adversely effected by this substance. Potatoes, asparagus, azalea, lilacs and Russian olive are just a few plants reported to be sensitive. I suggest you relocate your garden area. Also, tomatoes like full sun, and generally they will do poorly near any large trees.

Bother Me!

by Mandy Mitts

Dear Mandy,

My husband and I are fairly well off financially and we don't argue or have secrets about money or how we spend it. I am in a difficult position right now though, and don't know exactly what to do about it. About a month ago, our married son asked me to loan him 300 dollars for an investment. He said he would pay me back in six weeks. He didn't want my husband or our daughter-in-law to know about it until he had made money on the deal. I promised him I wouldn't tell anyone. This afternoon, my daughter-in-law asked if she could talk to me in "confidence". It seems that she saw the money, worried about the fact that my son had it, and the fact that she didn't know where it came from, or where it went to. I couldn't explain it to her without betraying my son's confidence, and I can't betray her confidence by telling my son, because I know he'd be angry even if he is glad we are close to each other. Eventually she is going to find out that I lied to her when I said I didn't know about the money. I lose no matter what happens. Any suggestions?

"Mom"

Dear "Mom",

He's your son, and it's time for a heart to heart talk with him without betraying your daughter-in-law's confidence. Tell him that you have thought about this matter and don't like withholding money matters from his dad, and are going to tell him about the loan. Then give him good solid reasons for telling his wife about the loan and what he did with the money. No matter how good one's intentions are, this sort of "secret" is bound to place a strain on a partnership (and marriage is a partnership). This sort of "behind the scenes" intrigue may be the cause of future mistrust among the four of you, if it isn't stopped now, though I do think your daughter-in-law would forgive you this time if she understood that you had promised to keep it a secret.

Mandy

Dear Mandy,

I suppose it's none of my business and I should forget it, but I can't stop worrying about the children next door to us. Our children are grown now, but when they were little, I watched them all the time. The young woman next door has four youngsters between two and ten years old. The other day, I went over to ask her something and she wasn't home. The ten year old said her mother was next door having coffee. I smelled something funny while I was talking to the child--and pushed past him. I found the six year old roasting marshmallows on a table fork--over the gas burner of the stove. I turned off the flame and went and got his mother. By the time we got back, the marshmallows and the fork were nowhere to be seen. The kids denied that he'd ever turned on the stove, and my neighbor said, "my children don't lie to me--if they say the stove wasn't on--I believe them." I didn't know what to say. My husband says it isn't my worry, that I tried to tell her. I do worry though, that those kids will set a fire and it will result in tragedy. Please tell mothers not to leave their kids alone, and not to scare them of telling the truth, will you, Mandy?

Another mother

Dear Mother,

I sincerely hope that the mother of those children was simply embarrassed by your discovery and her neglect, and believed you though she said she didn't. A ten year old child who is responsible should be able to look after younger brothers and sisters while his mother is next door, but only if they aren't the curious, in-to-everything type! The only thing you can do to relieve your mind is to keep an eye on the house, and check on any evidence of smoke that you see in the future. If you have further cause for alarm where these children are concerned, you might talk to their father.

Mandy

The Clinton River: It Begins in Independence

by Carol Balzarini

Inside the entrance to Independence Oaks, the largest of Oakland County's parks, is a sign designating the headwaters of the Clinton River. Although it is not the actual point of origin, it is the most accessible.

The actual source is Upper Bushman Lake on private property but a narrow trail through the wetlands allows a closer view of the river's journey into the park.

With park naturalist Kathleen Dougherty as a guide, a hike along the nearly overgrown trail is one of nature's delights. Ferns grow in abundance. A cinnamon fern gets its name from its brown spores. There's also a bead or sensitive fern.

Boots squishing softly in the black marsh mud blend with the sounds of wind, rustling leaves and birds. Our tracks are added to those of the deer found in the park. A redheaded woodpecker scurries up and down a dead tree looking for insects. A turkey buzzard circles overhead.

Beside the path a Canadian mayflower, or wild lily of the valley, grows out of a dead tree stump. Further on a clump of showy lady's slipper orchids blooms in pink and white splendor in its protected environment.

More of nature's delights are found in ripe wild strawberries glowing red in the grass. An odd rough plant called a horsetail lines the path. Dougherty explains it's a species some two million years old, tree-sized at one time, now only a foot high.

The brush clears and before us is a small stream bisected by fallen logs and edged with arrowheads, cattails and pungent watercress. It is the Clinton River in its infant stage, clear, quiet, a breeding ground for damsel flies and dragon flies iridescent in the morning sun.

This is the river that winds its way through the park down into the Mill Pond in the Village of Clarkston. Fed by Parke Lake it continues on through to Greens Lake and out of the township, its ultimate destination Lake St. Clair.

This is the river that runs past the Drayton Plains Nature Center, once a fish hatchery, and on through Waterford Township where it provides water for both canoeing and fishing. This is the river that continues on into the most urban part of its course in Oakland County, the City of Pontiac.

This is the same river whose outlet into Lake St. Clair is at Mount Clemens. Here the Army Corps of Engineers has plans to spend $135 million tax dollars to create a concrete ditch to solve occasional flooding problems, a plan not viewed as the only solution by many groups including the Clinton River Watershed Council formed in 1972 to look out for the interests of communities located in the watershed.

But that's the end of the line. Our concern for the moment is with the headwaters, described by Dougherty as "unique." Why unique?

Because, she explained, there are forests and fields, swamps and a lake. The area is the headwaters of the Clinton River in addition to being accessible to a large metropolitan area.

Independence Oaks itself is some 580 acres but it is surrounded by many more acres of wetland, acres the county would like to acquire for the primary purpose of preservation "before it is overrun by development."

In November of 1977, the Oakland County Parks and Recreation Commission supplied the Michigan Land Trust Fund with pertinent data relating to the proposed acquisition of 308 acres south of the park's boundaries. The application stressed the importance of wetlands to the quality of the environment as well as its role in determining the quality and quantity of the water supply.

The application called attention to threats to land and zoning saying, "Although this area remains in an unspoiled condition, adjacent development has already been initiated. Intense residential subdividing is presently underway (in the area)...indicative of the tremendous growth that will occur during the next 10 to 15 years. The result will be the loss of the original character of the land due to the dredging and filling that will be required to support residential development."

The worst fears of the Commission were realized several weeks ago when a company sought approval from the Independence Township Planning Commission for a gravel operation in that very same area sought by the Parks and Recreation Commission. Although the plan was denied, the matter may not necessarily be considered over.

It seems "nostalgia" has always been with us. This poem, first published in 1944, shows a child's longing for pre-WWII days.

JULY FOURTH

What has become of the July Fourth
Grandma talk about
When children got up at 6 a.m.
And were out in the street with a shout

They ran from house to house
With firecrackers in every pocket
Playing until nightfall
When they could set off a rocket.

Now when July Fourth in the early morning comes around
The children are all asleep, in the town there's barely a sound

Four gunshells have taken the place of crackers and bullets the place of rockets
Now there're dimes for War Stamps jingling in the children's pockets.

by Wortman
Written in 1944

CHILDREN

Children are precious, in all shapes and forms
They all need a rainbow, to comfort the storms;
They all have a heart, that cries in despair
They all need to know, that someone does care.

It's not just your own, tucked so softly in bed
That you've kissed good night, and rubbed on the head;
What of the others, who lay all alone--
Who'd give all the world, if they had a home.

Today little Joey--who's all of age three
Fell in the play yard, and skinned up his knee;
It wasn't so bad, and he'll be alright
But oh, for a mommy, to just hold him tight.

And Sarah, well, she'll be eleven real soon
Her biggest dream is to have her own room;

She no longer prays for that family to come
Why, who'd pick her out--she still sucks her thumb.

Or Bernie who's fourteen, with acne so bad
Oh God, how his heart aches, to just have a dad;
Or Jim--he's so clumsy, and Grace cries too much
And Mary's too fat--too homely to touch.

Tony spells trouble, you can tell with one glance
And Donna, she's hopeless, why give her a chance;
Kelly has nightmares, John wets the bed
Stevie, at his age, don't talk it's been said.

The children are countless who cry out of sight
Who long for a mother to kiss them good night;
Who have needs inside them, that they cannot share
Because there's no mother or father to care.

Yes, children are precious in all shapes and forms
They all need a rainbow to comfort the storms;
They all have a heart, that cries in despair
Oh God! for the children--let someone be there.

PINE KNOB HOTEL

Answer: I cannot answer this question except to say that if another developer presents a plan that has merit and will effectively help the community as a whole (as I'm sure this proposed hotel will), then that developer should be given proper consideration in spite of criticism from a few uninformed dissidents.

Mr. Somers asked: Why the emphasis upon broadening the tax base when this group openly prides itself on not paying its taxes? And why the most favorable climate which allows the complex to always be in arrears?

Answer: Mr. Somers is evidently not informed about tax payments nor burdened with taxes as I'm sure his church is tax-exempt. If in fact he were a tax-payer he would realize the necessity of amenities such as this proposed hotel to absorb the burden of school taxes and municipal services.

As to the question of Pine Knob not paying its taxes this again is a totally erroneous statement. True Pine Knob has been late in paying certain tax assessments,

"I myself am always in mind of Pine Knob's responsibility to this community...and because of this reminder have always kept a quality standard in the development of Pine Knob..."

Joe Locricchio

but late or not the taxes have always been paid and for the penalty of paying our taxes late Pine Knob has paid dearly (some 9% per annum with penalty charges).

To further clarify this point, as every tax-payer should know, taxes must be paid or properties are ultimately sold for satisfaction taxes, so that in any event the Governmental agencies always receive their dollars.

Pine Knob and its facilities have paid in excess of $1,000,000 in property taxes and personal property taxes since 1974 and as far as Pine Knob owing taxes, it will always be in tax debt as is everyone who is not exempt as is Mr. Somers.

Mr. Somers asked: After seven years of refusal on the part of the township board to enact and enforce a meaningful sound ordinance to regulate the theater, what possible confidence can we have that the ski slope sound will not blast us all winter with announcements and music? We regularly get the announcements from the present system. Another 400 feet of height, and sound to compete with the northern lodges?

Answer: The only reason the township board has not enacted an ordinance to regulate the operation of the theater, is that we have always accommodated the township in their request for changes and rapport has existed between Pine Knob and the various Township boards since the inception of the Music Theatre.

Is not this the best method of control or should Pine Knob be singled out and refused the right to operate its own business like every other business in this community, which means without special restrictions.

Mr. Somers asked: What will be the impact upon the water table from the needs of 1500 guests and additional employees?

Answer: Water tables are more simply defined as layers of porous strata (sand, gravel) between layers of more impervious strata, which support water.

Many of these "water tables" can exist before reaching bed-rock or a totally impervious strata.

The state of Michigan must agree that water volumes are great enough in a water table to accommodate a development of this nature, otherwise another strata or "water table" must be reached.

We are fortunate in North Oakland County to have an abundance of fresh water, and we will comply with all state requirements before extracting that water for the needs of the proposed development.

Mr. Somers asked: How many young people from the area will really want to be bellhops or waitresses, and how many parents will want their young people exposed to a hotel type of operation?

Answer: This question must be answered by area residents who will have a right to allow themselves or their young people to be involved in a hotel type operation.

The opportunities arising out of this type of employment are of a wide spread scope and nature ranging from service help to top management.

Mr. Somers should keep in mind that employment of this type has many merits and I see no reason for a parent not to be proud of himself or his "young people" to be associated in a realm of business in which colleges all over the world offer special courses to train people in "Hotel Management" which include training in service areas.

Mr. Somers asked: In short, and how much longer will the township ask its residents to underwrite the Pine Knob operation?

Answer: A question such as this implies a subsidy or some sort of supportive select treatment.

I know of no subsidy being received by Pine Knob today and I am at a complete loss as to why Mr. Somers would even infer an "underwriting" by area residents.

In truth and fact I will innumerate some of the things that I am sure Mr. Somers is unaware of which would indicate differently.

A. Pine Knob has paid for 95% of the Sashabaw Road widening program (the balance was borne by the County).

B. Pine Knob has paid for in full all those costs incurred to extend the Clintonville interceptor (sanitary sewers) to its property lines after which many area residents elected to "tap in" to that sewer with no cost reimbursement to Pine Knob, also Pine Knob procured all of the off-site easements necessary to extend that sewer.

Other developers in this community have requested rebates for this same accommodation, but not Pine Knob, we have absorbed this cost totally. (Total cost in excess of $500,000.)

C. Pine Knob pays the township a 100% plus reimbursement for police services at Pine Knob Music Theater including allocation for cars, gas, flares, flashlights and batteries.

D. A complete on-site water system was constructed along with water mains and hydrants and after completion by Pine Knob at a cost nearing $700,000, this facility was granted to the township for no cost.

Pine Knob now must pay the township a water usage fee for that water facility which cost the township nothing.

E. All services such as snow removal, garbage removal, township police services, traffic lights, road signs, are either furnished by and/or paid for by Pine Knob.

F. Pine Knob has always given complete cooperation in allowing usage of its facilities for community functions, such as commencement exercises, band expositions, Chamber of Commerce functions, and varied community activities.

Mr. Somers asked: No matter what the management of Pine Knob does, is there anyone on the board who really thinks that Pine Knob can compete with Caberfae or Boyne Mountain, or any other northern lodge?

Answer: If an entrepreneur does not believe that his product can become the best of its kind then he will have an inferior product.

I cannot answer for the township board, but I can personally represent that Pine Knob in most all aspects is the top development of its kind in the state and the ski operation can become the best of its kind in the entire state if we are allowed to upgrade this facility with a hotel of the nature proposed.

To sum up these answers to Mr. Somers' questions, I would like to say that Pine Knob has never requested a zoning variance other than the one requested for the high rise (which should have been granted at the time of the board's allowing the P.U.D. zoning in 1970), and I see no "giving away of any property rights of any residents of Independence Township" as Mr. Somers has indicated. Also the comment by Mr. Somers as to pressure being applied by Pine Knob is totally false as each member of your township board knows.

It is my sincere wish that the high rise hotel project be judged on the factual merits and detriments to this community as a whole and for the township officials to rule accordingly.

I myself am always in mind of Pine Knob's responsibility to this community and the surrounding communities and because of this reminder have always kept a "Quality Standard" in the development of Pine Knob.

City officials also have a responsibility to the residents to select and support the development of first class amenities.

I will await the honest and just decision of the township board.

Sincerely yours,
Joseph J. Locricchio

Reminder

IN CONGRESS, JULY 4, 1776.
The unanimous Declaration of the thirteen united States of America.

When in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation. We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. — That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed, — That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its basis on such principles, and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, indeed, dictates that Governments should not be changed too often and therefore the wise People will not be rash and unwise enough to change them too often. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object, evinces a design to reduce them to absolute Tyranny, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such Government, and to institute new Government, laying its basis on such principles, and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. We declare, therefore, that the United States are, of right and by the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God, free, sovereign and independent States; that they are absolved from all allegiance to the British Crown, and that all future interferences with their Liberty and Independence are hereby prohibited. We the Representatives of the United States of America, in General Congress assembled, do hereby declare that the United States are, of right and by the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God, free, sovereign and independent States; that they are absolved from all allegiance to the British Crown, and that all future interferences with their Liberty and Independence are hereby prohibited.

Clarkston plans to celebrate their 4th of July with a parade. The fire department, which is sponsoring the parade, is asking for all types of marching units, bands, floats and subdivision participation to really make this parade the biggest and best ever.

Since the fire department is sponsoring the event, spectators can count on seeing quite a few pieces of fire-fighting equipment in the parade.

Three prizes will be awarded to participants in the parade, but a 1st, 2nd and 3rd prize won't be offered. The prizes will be for (tentatively) Best Float, Most Patriotic and Best Kids' Float. According to a fire department employee, the group winning the prize doesn't necessarily have to be a float, but "if a band or something is really good, we may award them the prize."

The parade route is from the Junior High School on Church Street, to Main Street, down Main Street to Clarkston and Miller Roads where the parade will disperse.

What hotel to choose when traveling? Deciding upon which class hotel suits your family's taste and budget is usually dependent on one's destination. "First Class" or "Deluxe" accommodations are usually the finest the area has to offer. But that does not necessarily mean that they are the best by everyone's standards. In general it is best to seek out the advice of an experienced traveler. Or ask us to outline some norms for the areas your family plans to visit.

Seek out our advice at CLARKSTON TRAVEL BUREAU INC., 6 N. Main St., 625-0325 before you make any travel plans. It might sound strange, but--if you are planning to travel over the Christmas vacation now is the time to call us for reservations. Places like Disney World are booked many months in advance of any holiday. Open: Mon. thru Fri. 9:30 a.m. - 5:30 p.m., Sat. 9:30 a.m. - 1 p.m.

Kennedy Optical has been a Russell family business since the Miracle Mile store opened in 1976. Russell's father, mother and brother work at the Bloomfield store. Mr. Russell Sr. has been an optician for 40 years. "I learned my trade from my father," claims Tim.

Tim, a Farmington Hills resident, says his main objective in business is "To provide good quality service at competitive prices."

Dr. Frank Middleman is available to do vision examinations, then Mr. Russell will fit your glasses or contacts.

"Right now I can have most prescriptions ready in 24 hours," Tim says. "A lab is in the process of being installed here in Waterford to give even faster service."

Kennedy Optical carries glasses for the sports enthusiast...from shooting and racket ball glasses to prescription goggles for swimming, scuba diving and motorcycle riding. They also handle safety glasses and are currently under contract to GMTC and Fisher Body

Holly RECREATION AREA KEEPS ON IMPROVING YEAR AFTER YEAR

by Leona Hutchings

The Holly Recreation Area covers 7,371 acres in Groveland and Holly Townships. Part of this area has been used by public since 1943 but it was 1948 before it was officially opened to the public. During the first twenty years many changes were made to encourage Oakland County people to enjoy recreation close to home.

Park Manager Robert Bos has been with the Dept. of Natural Resources at several parks. He was at Hadley Recreation (Big Fish Lake) several years before coming to Holly. There are 6 employees during the winter but at the peak of the busy season in June on thru the summer there are 29 employees.

It is a busy place for campers, swimmers and hikers. It is an area which can expand and grow. At present a new campground which will have 150 campsites is underway. The main roads are in, and blueprints have been made. It is located in a wooded part of the recreation area. Many of the trees are a hundred or more feet tall.

Not far away, plans are developing for another man made lake known as McGinnis. It now covers 14 acres but will be dammed up 7 ft., to cover approximately 44 acres. Just below this lake are natural ponds for ducks and geese.

At the Hess Rd. recreation area a horseman's staging area is new with a trail of 8 miles.

Somewhat new is the Put and Take program which is north of Grange Hall Rd. Beginning around Aug. 15 thru Nov. 15 the Department put out pheasants three times a week and certain restrictions for hunting must be observed with this project. The pheasants are raised at Mason and Dansville, Michigan, and trucked here to release.

Meadow Brook Offers Children's Concert Series

Meadow Brook Music Festival has expanded its Children's Concert Series this summer to include several unique programs, designed especially to interest and amuse youngsters.

The first, scheduled for Saturday, June 23, offers a combination of mime and music and is entitled "A Toy Store Morning." The music will be provided by Detroit's foremost professional chamber ensemble, The Pastiche Wind Quintet. Featured mimes are Patricia Roan-Judd and Thomas A. Aston.

On Saturday, July 21, the Oakland Youth Symphony, conducted by Erv Monroe, will present a concert which includes Britten's Young Person's Guide to the Orchestra. "The Amazing Symphony Orchestra," a newly arranged piece by Mr. Monroe that focuses on the creation of mood in music will be performed. State Senator Jack Faxon, of Detroit, will narrate.

An introduction to the ballet for young people is scheduled for Saturday, August 11, when "The Gingerbread Man--A Ballet for Children" is presented. This is a world premiere performance featuring an original score by Martin Scot Kosins and choreography by Michelle Levine. Music by The Pastiche Wind Quintet and narration by Senator Jack Faxon.

The three Saturday morning programs will begin at 11 a.m. and will run approximately one hour with no intermission.

All concerts will take place in the outdoor Baldwin Pavilion on the Oakland University campus in Rochester. Food service, designed to appeal to young appetites, will be available at reasonable cost at Trumbull Terrace, immediately following each Children's Concert.

Tickets for Saturday mornings may be purchased at the Meadow Brook Box Office or at any Hudson's, Sears, Grinnell's or Discount Records ticket service. For additional information, call 377-2010.

HAPPENINGS

Bob White, Inc.

5856 S. Main Street, Clarkston, 625-5821

Today most mortgages are amortized loans. What this means is this: the borrower is required to make a fixed periodic payment, usually monthly. The payments include interest (and in some instances, taxes and insurance), as well as reduction of the principle of the mortgage debt after each payment. During the early years of repayment, a large share of each payment is for interest. As the borrower keeps paying, however, a smaller share of each payment is for interest and a larger share is available for repayment of capital.

The price of real estate that you can afford will vary depending on many factors. If the property is older, the taxes may well be less thus allowing you to expend more on mortgage and interest. If the property is income producing these monies will affect your cash situation and will alter the price range you can afford to pay. At BOB WHITE REAL ESTATE, 5856 S. Main Street, your area broker since 1947, we have the experienced staff capable of analyzing and determining all these factors so as to afford our clients the widest choice possible in the selection of real estate. Open 9-9, til 6 Friday & Saturday, 11-5 Sunday. Telephone 625-5821.
