Reminder Reaches Another Milestone... Twenty Years Under Same Ownership

The Reminder passes another milestone this weekend when current Reminder Zone One owners Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilcox observe their twentieth anniversary as publishers of the newspaper.

As owners they supervised The Reminder through massive growth and changes. The paper when they first bought it was eight pages of advertising that circulated to a mere 2,000 homes.

The more significant changes included the purchasing of up-to-date composition equipment, implementation of their own delivery system, converting from a shopper to a newspaper and starting a second newspaper.

Now the two papers (Zone 2 has since been sold to their son Mike) have an average of 84 pages and over 23,000 circulation. It's composed on the most advanced Harris on-line video computer system available.

Not a small accomplishment in a day and age when most of our competing newspapers have either failed or are experiencing problems. The newspaper business is not easy. It takes an immense amount of hard work and perseverance. It takes experience and intelligence, public consciousness and dedication.

We at Zone Two, wish to publicly salute our founders. We hope you will join us in wishing them well and continued success in the coming years.

Mike Wilcox

Springfield Christian Appreciates Article

Dear Editor and Carol:

Each of us involved in the ministry of Dixie Baptist Church and Springfield Christian Academy owes you and your compatriots at The Reminder our deepest appreciation. Your article and the coverage it was given is extremely appreciated. Each of us is satisfied that if any one of us had written the article, it could not have been said any better than the way you told our story. We are honored that you chose to feature our ministry. You have helped and encouraged us in promoting the job that we believe God has given us to do.

Naturally, I am already biased but, I must compliment you personally upon your journalistic style. It is warm, personable, and humanly informative. I think you did a good piece of work.

Thank you all for this kindness.

Your friend,
Paul Vanaman, Pastor

Why Not Ask Carolyn?

Dear Carolyn,

I am really feeling the post-holiday slump. Besides usually getting a terrible case of cabin fever in January, the bills from Christmas are also really depressing. So, this year I thought I'd go out and get a part-time job. Well, my husband hit the ceiling. He wants me home, saying that's where a wife and mother belong. So, I'm writing to you, maybe you can settle our argument.

Steamed

Dear Steamed,

If I gave you a simple yes, or no, answer, obviously I lose. Being in the middle is a bad place to be. So, let me raise a few questions that I think the two of you should discuss. Ask your husband his reasons for not wanting you to work-you should also know how he feels about working wives and what he objectively thinks. Does he feel his status as the breadwinner will be diminished if you help bring home the bacon? Or perhaps your working would be eaten up in taxes and therefore not make any significant financial contribution.

Likewise, state clearly why you want to work and how you feel about this issue. Many women feel a sense of accomplishment through a pay check that can not be duplicated by a clean house.

Talk from a needs standpoint. What do you need that you feel a job will fulfill? Do you need to feel useful, productive, do you need to fill time? What does he need? Does he need a wife who can travel with him? Does he need a wife who can have meals ready and children cared for so he can meet a demanding schedule?

As a friend of mine often says, there are no easy solutions to complicated problems. Good luck.

Thoughtfully,

Carolyn

WHAT BURIAL BENEFITS DO VETERANS HAVE?

Did you know the Veteran's Administration (VA) provides up to $300 toward burial expense of eligible veterans?

An additional $150 is available as a plot or interment allowance, if burial isn't in a government cemetery. And if a veteran's death is service-connected, VA will pay up to $800 instead of the usual burial allowance.

It is also true that the VA payments will be reduced - or disallowed, if the veteran's employer or some state agency has already made these payments.

Which veterans are eligible for burial in a national or government cemetery? Those discharged under conditions other than dishonorable, and who have served in any of the following:

The Viet Nam War, The Korean War, World War I, World War II, The Mexican Border Conflict or The Spanish-American War.

For specific benefits and/or forms, call on us or you may wish to contact the local VA office.

TRAVEL TIP:

Forecast by Robert C. Davis

by Robert C. Davis

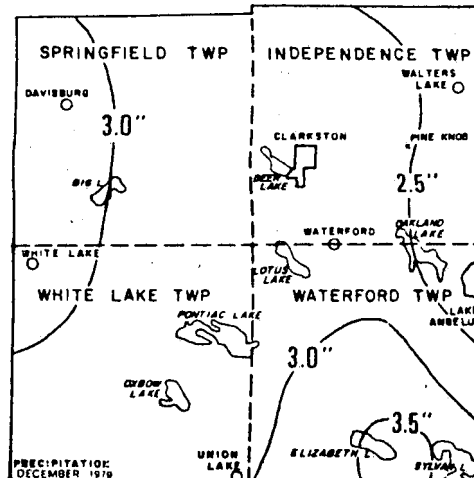

Very mild but wet conditions persisted in our 4-township and surrounding area during December. Precipitation totals generally averaged about 1/2 inch above normal for the month, ranging from 2.30 inches at Bishop Airport in Flint to 3.68 inches at Elizabeth Lake/Waterford Township. Locally, the eastern Clarkston station reported 2.57 inches and the northern

Clarkston station reported 2.62 inches of precipitation during December. These figures include the melted equivalent of snowfall during the month. Snowfall was about 2 inches below normal, as the eastern Clarkston station recorded a total of 5.2 inches of snow in December. Our total snowfall for the season now stands at 12.1 inches, which is still about an inch above normal. Temperatures during December were above normal for a change, as the mean temperature for the month was approximately 31.2 degrees. This was about 3 1/2 degrees above normal per day, and produced 1049 heating degree days for the month. Based on this data, you would have used about 30% less fuel to heat your home to the same temperature this past December than you did in December of 1978. Temperatures at the eastern Clarkston station for this past December ranged from a low of 5 degrees above zero on the morning of the 17th to a high of 57 degrees on the 11th.

As we are now entering into the decade of the 80's, it is time to revise our 30-year climatological "means". As I have mentioned in previous reports, data such as mean temperature, mean precipitation, and mean snowfall for our area during the 70's was based on data averages from 1940-1969. For the 1980's, we will now have to use data averages for the 30-year period from 1950-1979. Beginning with the January 1980 report, I will be using the new 1950-1979 "means" when describing how our weather varied from normal. Month by month, I will also describe how much our monthly "normals" changed based on this new time period.

At the beginning of the new year, we also added 3 new volunteers to our network. I would like to welcome Marilyn Solomon of Birmingham, Linda Strilecky of Lake Orion, and Juanita Robinson of Pontiac to our growing family of rain gage readers. Next week I will present a special report on the weather of 1979, including an isohyetal map for the calendar year of 1979. (The isohyetal map was prepared by Robert C. Davis, and was sponsored by Johnson and Anderson, Inc., Consulting Engineers.)

Economic Development Corporation: What Does It Mean to Independence?

by Carol Balzarini

At last week's meeting of the Independence Township Board, members voted 6-1 to approve Trustee Rudy Lozano's motion to establish an economic development corporation "immediately." The lone dissenting vote came from Clerk Chris Rose. Argument in support of a township EDC was "local control," act quickly before the county establishes one. Rose stated he preferred to wait for the attorney's evaluation of the pros and cons of the corporation and its effect on the township.

Lozano argues in favor of an EDC saying, "Knowing the way Clarkston feels about growth, an EDC gives us a handle on growth."

"The county feels it's an excellent idea," Lozano went on, "And so do I. It's a tax incentive for construction and renovation, but they feel county-wide is cheaper because it's centralized. It's true we will also have input but no veto power."

Lozano said much of his information came from a business contact of his who is a member of the Waterford Township Economic Development Corporation. Lozano said he had been named by the board to investigate EDCs when it was first discussed last May.

The trustee, who is also a realtor, said the EDC qualifications for a project are "somewhat vague and subject to interpretation" but basically need for the project had to be established and it had to provide additional jobs.

Under the terms of an EDC, builders and developers who qualified could purchase bonds at a cheaper rate of interest. Lozano called that a good business incentive, but "people will not be flocking to Independence Township with big projects...the EDC is a fringe benefit" for someone considering locating here.

In answer to a question about why an EDC should be established "immediately," Lozano said, "The county was supposed to have established one by January, rumor now is June or July. I thought it was an excellent idea back in May. Unless you throw in 'immediately' it could go on forever. If it's good, let's do it. If it's not, let's drop it not table it or whatever."

Clerk Chris Rose began his analysis of an EDC by saying, "It's a good thing if we want the township to grow. It promotes business, it promotes growth, it promotes development. I just don't think that's what the people of the township want."

"Limiting growth is one thing but it's another to pass an EDC encouraging it. The problem is the board is faced with a question of a county EDC versus a township EDC, but it seems there will be one," Rose concluded.

He referred to a township EDC, however, as "senseless duplication...it's like the township having its own police reserves."

"There was no reason to act immediately. There was no information for the board. We could have waited to see what the county was going to do. Campbell (the township attorney) didn't recommend it unless we wanted the township to grow," Rose said.

One of Lozano's arguments for acting quickly had been a request for an EDC. Rose said the only one he knew of had been made by Hamady Food Centers some time ago but the board had shown no interest and had taken no action at the time. He said Supervisor Floyd Tower had told him of three additional applications but Tower seems to be the only one who knows who made them.

Dr. Charles Munk, a local orthodontist, has apparently expressed interest in an EDC. Munk plans construction of a medical building on South M-15.

Patrick Nowak, deputy county executive, said the county was considering setting up an EDC so that every unit of government in the county didn't need one. With 64 units of government, Nowak said it would be like "reinventing the wheel" sixty-four times. One central staff would be cheaper.

He assured there would be no loss of local power if a county EDC were established. The county would not be dictating to local communities. Any project considered, Nowak said, would be sent to the township first for approval even if the county was approached initially.

What is an EDC?

"It's a financing vehicle," Nowak said. "It allows businesses to take advantage of tax-free municipal bonds at better (lower) interest rates."

Nowak explained that some banks or lending institutions were reluctant to loan money for certain projects because of the high interest rates and added the increased interest in EDCs was due to the current money situation.

An EDC, he said would provide a plus for the township in an increased tax base from new businesses thus reducing the individual tax burden. It encourages business, he said.

If, on the other hand, the township did not want to encourage business, growth and development can still be controlled by local zoning ordinances or whatever other controls it had. Growth would not be forced on a community, Nowak said.

Each business, he continued, would still be judged on its own merits and the bank or lending institution would still have the right to deny funds for it.

"Tax abatement" was another term mentioned at the township board meeting. What does that have to do with an EDC?

Tax abatements are not necessarily related to an EDCs, Nowak said, and they should not be grouped together. Tax abatements are covered under another law entirely but are another business incentive allowing a reduced tax rate for a certain length of time.

At the present time, the question of a county EDC is in the public service committee being studied by the county commissioners. Nowak explained that a task force had already deliberated and recommended to the county they form one.

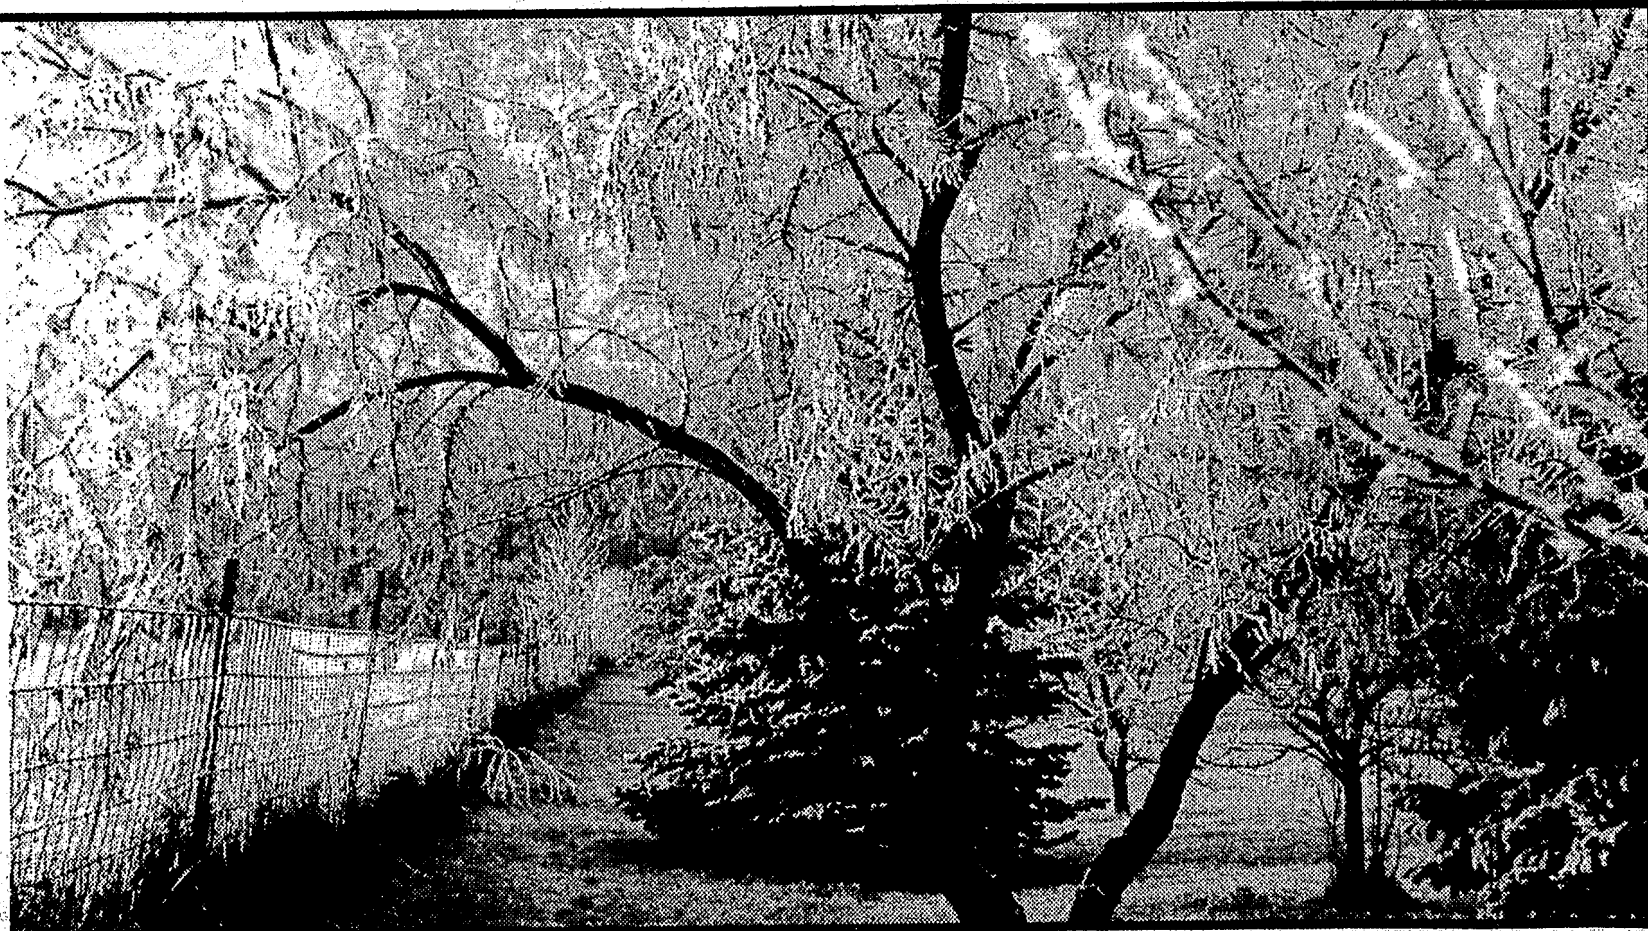

If its establishment is approved, County Executive Dan Murphy would appoint a minimum of nine people, probably more, to make up the EDC's board of directors. These people, Nowak explained, would be from the fields of law, business finance, banking, citizens from the entire county. Even if the board were stacked with people who were pro-business, Nowak assured the lending institution still had to approve the project as would the community where it would be located.

Nowak made reference to a county-wide EDC being cheaper than many local ones. He said the expenses connected with the corporation would be in the hiring of the executive director who would process all of the paper work. Costs incurred, however, could be made up in application fees.

Four Car Accident Injure NWOVEC Students

A four-car accident on the Dixie Highway near White Lake Road last Thursday morning injured three students on their way to the Northwest Oakland Vocation Education Center (NWOVEC).

Hospitalized were Edward Frank Musiel, Jr., 16 and his passenger John P. Cook, 17. Both are students at Waterford Ketting High School and enrolled in the radio and television repair program at NWOVEC.

Musiel's car was struck by a car driven by Robert R. Long of Swartz Creek who crossed the center line striking the youth's car head on. All three were hospitalized.

Treated and released was NWOVEC commercial art student Laurel Elizabeth Hellhake, 17, of Drayton Plains another Kettering student.

Also hospitalized was Charles Paul Perrault, 53, of Clarkston, the driver of the fourth car involved in the accident.

According to the report of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department, Long's car was eastbound on the Dixie Highway when he crossed the center line and struck the car driven by Musiel head on. The third car driven by Perrault was unable to stop and struck the second car in the rear knocking it into the outside lane where it was struck by Miss Hellhake's car.

A sheriff's department spokesman said no tickets had been issued due to the extent of the injuries and the accident was still under investigation.

Pine Knob Considers Adding Amusement Park

by Carol Balzarini

In an apparent attempt to expand the recreational offerings at Pine Knob and extend its operating season, owners Joseph Locricchio and Gary Francell are considering installing an amusement park on about four and a half acres located on what is now the intermediate ski hill between the music theatre and the lodge.

Tim Palulian, head of the Independence Township building department, said Pine Knob had approached him about the plan but that nothing official had been done as of last Friday afternoon. He was waiting for the application and site plans to be filed and the petition fee to be paid before placing the item on the January 24 agenda of the planning commission.

Palulian said tentative plans are for twelve rides plus a gondola to the mansion. The dismantled rides now piling up in the Pine Knob parking lot are reportedly from Edgewater Amusement Park no longer in business.

Palulian added that Pine Knob representatives told him their amusement park would be ancillary to the music theatre and provide entertainment for early concert-goers and operate after the concerts also.

An operation of this type would come under a provision for fairgrounds as a permitted principal use in a recreation district, Palulian said. He added it would be subject to planning commission approval although he could see no basis for refusal.

Factors to be considered by the planning commission, he said, would include noise, traffic, hours of operation, controls, the extent of the amusement park itself, its appearance, and its effect on the surrounding facilities.

Independence Reinstates Police Reserve Program

by Carol Balzarini

On a motion by Trustee Bill Vandermark, the Independence Township Board voted 5-2 to reinstate the local police reserve program. Clerk Chris Rose and Treasurer Fred Ritter continued their opposition to the township staying in the police "business."

It was Ritter's motion at a December meeting that disbanded the local department including the sixteen reserves as of February 2. Under the terms of the reinstatement, the reserves will serve under the command of a reserve sergeant reporting to Township Supervisor Floyd Tower.

Although Ritter had a number of questions about who the reserve sergeant would be, his pay, and the Pine Knob contract, Vandermark indicated he was not anxious to get specific at that time. He did say, however, the reserves would continue their public service functions.

Ritter reminded board members that many of the things they anticipated the local reserves would be doing; the Oakland County Sheriff's Department had already agreed to do. "County reserves will cost us zero," he said. "Why spend $7,000 (the basic cost of a local reserve program) unnecessarily?"

Vandermark replied the cost of the local reserves was "negligible" and not a major consideration because any of the contracts would pay for themselves, school, village and Pine Knob.

Rose argued that if the sheriff's department would handle all those things, why should the township keep the reserves?

When asked about the situation later, Chief Charlie Kimbel said Chuck Smalley was a reserve sergeant but that he, Kimbel, expected to be offered the command job first as a certified police officer.

Although Kimbel will be out of a full-time township job on February 2, he said he had a number of prospects in related fields including another police department and a district court job. He did not anticipate giving up law enforcement work.

In the meantime, officers Tom Cavalier and Dirk Feneley continue to patrol the township Monday through Friday during the day. Since the Oakland County Board of Commissioners has not met to decide on more hiring in the sheriff's department, the officers do not know if or when they will become county deputies.

On the subject of parades and other local functions, Kimbel said he anticipates the township reserves will ultimately be responsible for monitoring them as they have in the past. The school contract should continue through the remainder of the school, he said. The Pine Knob contract will come up for consideration in the near future.

The village, the school system and Pine Knob have officially expressed satisfaction with the work of the local reserves and supported their reinstatement.

Board Allocates Community Development Funds for Park Land Acquisition

Since Independence Township first began receiving Community Development (CS) funds in 1975, the annual amount coming in has increased from some $30,000 to $120,200 for the 1981 fiscal year.

After a second hearing on allocation of those funds due in September, the township board voted 5-2 to disburse the monies as follows: $30,000 for parks, $20,000 for safety paths, $20,000 for senior citizens, $30,000 for fire, $16,200 for roads, $2,000 for planning and management (consulting fees for township planner Tod Kilroy) and a final $2,000 for contingencies.

The two negative votes were cast by Trustees Rudy Lozano and Mike Thayer who opposed allocating any more funds for park land acquisition. In the past Lozano has opposed action which would remove land from the tax rolls.

Park funds will go toward the purchase of some 14 acres off Maybee Road. A park in that area qualifies for CD funds because it is located near what is referred to as "census tract three," or an area of low and moderate income in the southern portion of the township. Board members authorized Director of Parks and Recreation Tim Doyle to have the property appraised and to make an offer. Anticipated price is somewhere around $110,000.

Thirty thousand dollars in CD funds be spent to improve the Maybee Road fire station while $16,200 for road improvement will be used for gravel, grading, and storm drain work on the private roads surrounding Woodhull Lake.

Funds allocated for the recently opened senior citizen center on Clarkston Road will be used to make both stories barrier-free with the possible addition of an elevator. Doyle also told board members the parking lot must be paved by September according to directives from the Oakland-Livingston Human Services Agency at an estimated cost of $11,000.

Still more funds will go into the rehabilitation of the carriage house on the site for both interior and exterior work. Some work will also be done with the small house on the .6 of an acre next to the center recently acquired by the township. That house may become a caretaker's home in the future with details still to be worked out.

THE IMPOSSIBLE SCENE

There on the screen of our T.V.
Appeared a sight so hard to see.
A child whose eyes were full of pain,
Spilling tears like clouds spill rain.
With courage he faced the camera's eye.
He seemed to say, "Please tell me why!"
"Why are my arms and legs so weak?"
"Why does my mouth no longer speak?"
"Why does my stomach puff like this?"
"Why do I have just an empty dish?"

Our Children sit, all nice and clean.
They watch the horror on that screen.
They turn to look at one another.
They ask, "Where is that poor boy's mother?"
"Doesn't she know he's really hurt?"
"Do you suppose she's still at work?"
"Where's the house, the food, the Dad?"
"If I was him I'd be so sad!"
That child's misery they just can't know.
The love in his world died long ago.

We listen to our children's words.
What if their world was so disturbed?
Could they survive in such despair?
When all they've known is right and fair.
We've pampered, patted, kissed away,
The hurts of each and every day.
We think we're helping them along.
But will they really be so strong?
Would their heads lift off that bed
In silent thanks for a piece of bread?

Trim Applauds Allocation

In response to Governor Milliken's announced addition of 42 million dollars in the area of community placement, Representative Claude A. Trim (D-Davisburg) Chair of the Mental Health Committee, stated that he was very pleased.

Representative Trim also commented that he realized this was a three-fold increase.

"I fully support the Governor in this endeavor but at the same time would caution that these funds are difficult to obtain in this year of austerity," stated Trim. Representative Trim commented that money is only one of the key factors in assuring success of the state's community placement efforts.

"I feel that equally important to the money issue is the matter of communication between the Governor's office, the Department of Mental Health and the Legislature," stated Representative Trim.

Trim further stated, "Only through this communication are we going to be able to address the problems of proper community placement screening and assuring people in the community that adequate services are available to mental health recipients living in the community."

"I also feel that we must assure that there will be 24 hour supervision and monitoring of these community homes. This is the first and foremost issue that must be addressed to assure that, indeed, these patients will reside in the type of atmosphere that the state intends," stated Trim.

This Week:
Frames by Marilyn

On Mill Street in the Village of Ortonville is a quaint storefront which only hints at all the artistic delights inside. Frames by Marilyn is not just a frame shop; although there is over 2,000 ready-made frames and 1,000 corners to choose from. This shop is also an art gallery with original oil paintings and prints at reasonable prices.

Owner Marilyn Greve explains that because of her low overhead and by having only one employee, Rena Bernor, "Frames by Marilyn can keep the prices low and the quality high."

Marilyn also highlighted her limited edition prints priced to fit any budget. "The limited edition prints are a good investment because they will increase in value." Frames by Marilyn is a Mill Pond Press dealer and also carries local D.D.S. Leonard Wade's prints. Many catalogues are also available to browse through so Marilyn can order that "perfect" print for you.

Naturally Marilyn will frame any painting or print whether you purchase it from her or not. As a matter of fact, Marilyn will attempt to frame most anything she confided she has framed one newlywed's memorable moment in housekeeping—a plastic spoon that had melted (by mistake) into the shape of a flower.

Marilyn frames awards, ribbons and medals in attractive arrangements. She has even framed well-loved clothing such as a baby's christening dress.

Collages are a specialty of Frames by Marilyn. Just bring in a collection of your favorite photos and Marilyn will arrange and frame them for display.

"I try to find out if the customer has anything special they would like framed," said Marilyn. "Old portraits, children's artwork, and awards make personal and attractive decor ideas."

Marilyn continued saying, "Most people like to hang something that has meaning. I try to identify the personality of my clients by finding out their occupation, hobbies and interests so that their decorated walls will be a reflection of the owners."

Marilyn Greve, owner of Frames by Marilyn

Marilyn will even go to the customer's home to see what wall space is available and to get ideas from the furnishings on how to decorate.

To emphasize this point, Marilyn states, "I try to help the customer by framing the picture best I can. I take into consideration the room it will hang in, the environment, and the subject of the picture." Marilyn points out, "When the customer wants help, I give it; if not I do whatever the customer desires."

She continues, "I have gone to great lengths to satisfy my customers. If a person does not like our work, I will not hold them to a purchase. I have never insisted a customer take a custom frame or special order item if they were not pleased. I would rather lose money than customer good will."

Frames by Marilyn offers the largest selection of frames in the area and also very friendly service. "Basically what we offer is personalized customer service whether it be ready-made frames, custom frames or your own frame," concluded Marilyn.

McMillan Makes "Misbegotten" Worth Seeing

by Carol Balzarini

Eugene O'Neill's last completed drama "Moon for the Misbegotten" opened last week at the Meadow Brook Theatre to a rather small audience due, perhaps, to the recent holidays. Or perhaps O'Neill is just a little too heavy to begin the new year.

However polite the applause may have been for the play in general, it was more than enthusiastic and appreciative of the performance of Lisa McMillan as Josie Hogan. Feminists will rejoice to see a truly strong female character for a change.

In Act I, Josie comes on strong as a lusty female with a free and easy manner and dubious reputation who does not hesitate to chase her father around with an axe handle during one of their disagreements. In terms of her day (the play was written in the 40's but set in the 20's), Josie's language and manner are shocking to all but her hard-drinking and cantankerous father Phil (Robert Donley).

Donley looked the way O'Neill must surely have visualized him, small, feisty, grizzled, and Irish! He is probably best explained by his contemptuous regard for his late wife's family who were too busy preaching temperance to have time for a drink and too busy confessing their sins to sin. He schemes to bring his daughter and James Tyrone together.

Tyrone (Peter Brandon) is described in Meadow Brook's press release as a "dissolute and drunken ham actor." He is also the owner of the Hogans' farm which Phil fears he may lose if Tyrone decides to sell thus Phil's scheme to bring Josie and Tyrone together.

The contrast between the earthly Josie and the unearthly Tyrone is almost too much to accept. She overwhelms him both emotionally and physically. It makes one wonder how in the world she could possibly be attracted to him; Tyrone seems more dead than alive. Their parting after a soul-searching night under the moon should surprise no one.

No fault can be found with the acting assuming it was director Charles Nolte's intention that Tyrone's character be so pallid. The characters played by Donald W. Dailey and David Jeffrey also pale before the energy exuded by McMillan and Donley.

Peter-William Hicks' single set of the Hogan farmhouse is effective as is the lighting by Larry A. Reed and Mary Lynn Bonnell's costumes. "Moon for the Misbegotten" continues through January 27.

Wolves Coast Past Milford

by John Huttenlocher

The Clarkston Wolves kept their win streak alive at 8 games when they defeated the Milford Redskins, 65-36. The Wolves were almost assured the win before they started, Milford was 0-6 and the "Wolfpack" was 7-0, but that didn't stop the Redskins from trying. They opened the game with a bang, taking an early 6-5 lead. The Wolves were off to a slow start, their starting point guard, John Sheldon was out with a pulled thigh and a sprained ankle, so Larry Baylis filled in.

"It was Larry's first varsity start, and I thought that he played very well and showed a lot of poise," said Wolves coach Gary Nustad on Baylis.

The first quarter ended with Clarkston on top, 18-8. The second period wasn't much better, as the Wolves found themselves turning the ball over a number of times. It seemed that the words of Coach Nustad seemed to be coming back. He has repeatedly said that Clarkston is a "second half ball team." If you've seen any of their games, you would know that that statement holds true.

Clarkston came out in the third period hustling up and down the court. A number of steals and blocked shots by Ed Haddad, senior Wolves guard, and Tim McCormick, senior Wolves center, got the adrenalin flowing through the Wolves. A spectacular play by junior forward Greg Lane and good substitutions from the bench kept the pace until the close of the game.

McCormick was high scorer with 24 points, and Tim cleaned the boards 17 times. Scott McKoin, junior forward, scored 11, and he pulled down 13 rebounds. Senior forward-guard Chuck Nicolai, who the Wolves will be hearing more of, scored 6 along with Larry Baylis.

The Wolves are now 8-0 overall and 4-0 in the G.O.A.L. The Wolves take on the tough Grand Blanc Bobcats on Tuesday, at home, and Rochester on Friday, at Rochester.

JV's Win Easily

The Clarkston Wolves junior cagers defeated a tough 6-1 Milford team Friday night, 57-44.

The Wolves came out hot in the first period, but were quickly cooled down by fouls and missed shots. But the Wolves bounced back and started running some good offensive patterns, and at the end of the first period, it was Clarkston 15, Milford 7.

The pace of the game quickened in the second period, and Milford started to play catch-up-basketball. Three quick baskets on Milford's part got them within five points, but they couldn't keep up with the hungry Wolves.

The third period and the fourth period were filled with turnovers and physical ball playing as the two teams didn't give up much. Milford was a little more careless than the Wolves and Clarkston benefited from it. The Redskins posed a small threat in the late fourth period, but the Wolves held off to win, 57-44.

The Wolves have a tough game coming up on Friday when they play the undefeated Rochester Falcons. Coach Larry Marhle of Clarkston said that the Wolves have to "Go out and get Rochester." Marhle also stated that "We have to win at Rochester to be in contention for the G.O.A.L. title. We've won it the last three years and I feel that we can win it again this year. We're going for Rochester!"

The Wolves are 3-1 in the G.O.A.L. and 6-3 overall. On Tuesday they play the Grand Blanc Bobcats at home, and Friday they play the Rochester Falcons, at Rochester.

Neighborhood Interest comes to Clarkston in a grand way ...opening with an Olympic offer.

We have a great interest in Clarkston. That's why we've opened our newest bank here. We want this growing neighborhood to grow to its fullest, with the help of our full range of banking services.

And naturally, we're interested in meeting our new neighbors during our grand opening celebration, Wednesday, January 16, through Saturday, February 2. So we're offering a choice of many gifts for opening a new checking or savings account of $250 or more - including a special Olympic offer of Bruce Jenner's Guide to the Olympics or an official 1980 Olympic knit hat. When you choose one of these Olympic gifts, we will make a cash contribution to the U.S. Olympic committee, an effort we consider so worthwhile.

Our manager, Dan O'Connor, and his staff will be happy to familiarize you with services such as our "no-service-charge" checking account, our many savings plans, and the convenience of Cash Line, the preapproved loan you write yourself.

Please join us for refreshments and a free momento during our grand opening celebration at 7199 Ortonville Road. We'll give you an Olympic-sized welcome.

That's what we mean by Neighborhood Interest.
