In Independence Township Full Slate Expected for August Primary

by Carol Balzarini

If rumors and speculation are borne out, Independence Township could be gearing up for an election based on a four-party system. In addition to the traditional Republican and Democratic candidates, there may be those representing, officially or unofficially, the Anti-highrise Party and the Pro-highrise Party.

There is no concrete evidence to support the existence of these latter two parties now nor is it definite they will materialize in the future. No one seems particularly anxious to acknowledge them, but rumors persist nonetheless.

Other equally persistent rumors tally as many as eight potential candidates for supervisor and eighteen to twenty for trustee. Speculation continues as to what present officeholders will switch either parties and/or offices within the township, the county and the state.

And just why are so many people considering running for office these days? There are several answers to that question.

It may be they are simply interested in taking part in the governmental process. Newcomers may feel they can do the job as well as or better than those currently in office.

Maybe those considering entering the political arena do so because they don't like the decisions being made by those already in office.

The third answer is that some people are just plain politically ambitious and equate public office with power.

Whatever the underlying motives may be, interest in the political process such as that rumored here in Independence Township can't be all bad. It's better to have too many candidates to choose from than to have no choice at all.

Anyone remotely interested in observing the political process would be well advised to get a score card and start keeping track of who says what on which occasion about any issue. Start attending township board meetings and see what the incumbents have to say and what those in the audience have to say. It seems that anyone with an opinion these days is a potential candidate.

Although the primary election is not until August, there are nominating petitions available at the township hall. Some are being circulated even now.

Anyone interested in seeking a township office needs to gather only a handful of signatures on those petitions. Democrats need at least 34 but not more than 136. Republicans need at least 32, but not more than 130. June 3 is the deadline for filing for the August 5 primary.

Why Not Ask Carolyn?

Dear Carolyn,

My husband and I have been married 8 years. He is such a good man in so many ways. He's not your typical chauvinist, he helps me around the house and shares in the care of our two children. We have a fairly active life, and because of his job, we entertain a lot. On the surface everything looks great. Well, underneath, I'm wondering if he has another woman. He is affectionate with me, but just never seems to want to make love. He says he's always too tired and if I start something, he just kind of pushes me away. I've tried to talk to him but he just gets defensive and says it's his problem and he'll work it out. Well, it's my problem, too, and I don't know where to turn. Carolyn, Help!

Worried

Dear Worried,

The problem you describe in your relationship is called lack of sexual desire and leads the hit parade these days as the most common problem of sexual functioning. Many reasons could be behind it, such as mental fatigue, pent-up hostilities or possibly another person.

I would need to know more about each of you and the relationship in order to understand what gives rise to this particular problem in your marriage. Difficulties such as you describe really need the intervention of a professional.

Marital and sexual counseling has helped many couples revitalize their relationship. This type of counseling requires a specialization in marital and sexual counseling. Ask your doctor for the names of two or three therapists who he knows, trusts, and thus can recommend, trained in these areas. Then choose the one with whom you and your husband are most comfortable.

Thoughtfully,
Carolyn

Eight Seek Vacant Springfield Trustee Seat

Following the February 1 resignation of Springfield Trustee Glenn Underwood, township officials feared they would have to beat the bushes for his successor. Such was not the case, however.

Fifteen people responded to newspaper articles urging inquiries. Of those, eight returned resumes as requested.

Interviews were conducted by township officials early last week leaving them unable to make a selection prior to the March 5 meeting.

Supervisor Collin Walls told those present at the meeting that night he was gratified by the response but the number of equally qualified candidates had left the board unable to make a decision at that time. Instead it was tabled until the March 15 settlement day, a public budget review held prior to the annual meeting set for Saturday, March 29 at 1 p.m.

Those seeking to fill the remainder of Underwood's term are:

Richard Bunting - a township resident for the past 15 years, manager of Tri-City Aggregates in Groveland, lives on Davisburg Road;

Mary Jean Cox - homemaker and lifetime township resident, lives on Ware Road, has run for township offices in the past;

Douglas Ferguson - lives on King Road, is past president of the Dixie Lake Improvement Association, a township resident for the past 12 years, an assistant plant manager for a Detroit company;

Harry Kirk - current chairman of the board of appeals, lives on Big Lake Road, a township resident for the past seven years, owns an insurance agency;

William Leddy - a teacher and coach in Madison Heights, active in little league, lives on Ormond Road, Springfield resident for four years;

Robert Rothermel - owner of the Old House Inn on the Dixie Highway, has been a resident for 19 years and ran for township offices in the past;

Donald Townsend - is a materials supervisor for General Motors, has lived on Edgar Road for six months;

William Whitley - one of the Gibbs Road Irregulars, works at Pontiac Motors as senior project engineer, chairman of the planning commission, township resident for three years.

Fundraising for "Jaws"

A committee of four, made up of Springfield Fire Department personnel, was formed on March 3 to start a fund-raising drive to enable the Fire Department to purchase the "Jaws of Life", a tool used in the extrication of trapped victims of auto accidents.

"If each family in Springfield Township would give up just one dollar our goal could be reached. That's really not much to give up if the reward is the saving of just one life, and that life could be yours or one of your children's!" said a spokesperson for the committee.

The committee will be placing canisters in many Springfield Township businesses. If you would like to send a donation, write to:

Former students will be contacted by either: Neal Sage, Placement Coordinator, Northwest Oakland Vocation Center, 625-5202 or Marvin Hess, Vocational Education Director, Clarkston High School, 625-0900 between March 17 and April 30. Former students are encouraged to answer the follow-up survey, so they can be represented in improving the vocational programs. The identity of those who answer the survey will be kept confidential. The survey will be used for planning purposes, future funding, and to improve services offered to students.

PRE-PAID PRE-PLAN OR NOT WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE?

One's pre-planned funeral need not be paid for in advance.

Funeral arrangements may be made in advance - music and scripture readings selected, funeral service details are all noted and casket chosen, price range fixed - all without spending a dime at this time.

This manner of pre-planning becomes a guide for your family to follow. It is an expression of your personal wishes. But it is a guide only, until payment is arranged. Your family can take care of pre-payment in advance of - or at the time of need.

If you make pre-payment arrangements in advance, you have assured yourself your wishes will be followed exactly and to the letter. You have the peace-of-mind in knowing the chore is taken care of now. It will not be thrust upon your family in their time of emotional stress.

You may stop by or call for full details.

There are times when the State Department considers it necessary to issue Americans two valid U.S. passports. This applies when a traveler is en route to Nigeria. Since Nigeria will not admit anyone whose passport contains a visa for South Africa, a second passport containing a Nigerian visa is necessary to visit that country. Because second passports are restricted by geography and time, applicants must designate which should authorize unlimited travel for five years.

We can plan a trip to fit your needs. Just call our friendly knowledgeable people at CLARKSTON TRAVEL BUREAU INC., 6 N. Main St. 625-0325 and we will handle everything. FORECAST

by Robert Davis

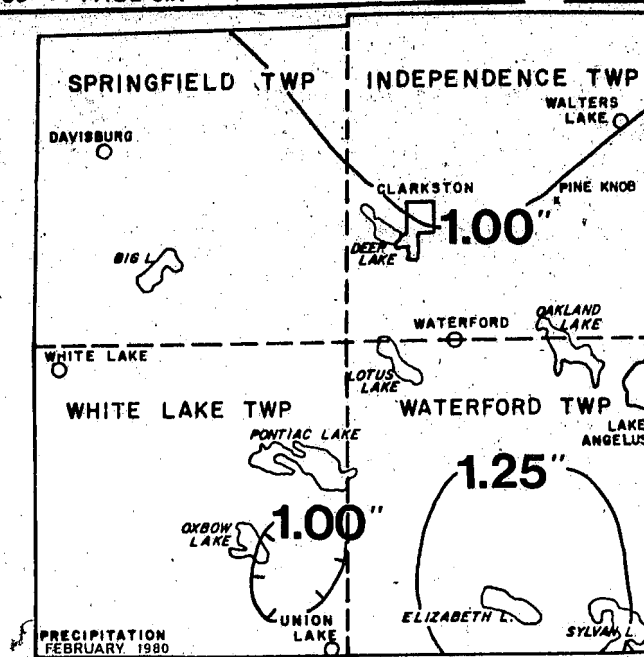

by Robert C. Davis

With the start of the baseball season being less than a month away, shirt-sleeve weather can't be too far away, can it? You couldn't tell it from the weather in February, however, as the cold spell that began near the end of January continued throughout most of the month of February.

Conditions were also rather dry around southeastern Michigan, with precipitation totals ranging from 0.88 of an inch at Bishop Airport in Flint, to 1.41 inches at Elizabeth Lake/Waterford Township. Locally, the northern Clarkston station recorded 0.91 of an inch and the eastern Clarkston recorded 1.03 inches of precipitation during the month.

Snowfall was near normal in the Clarkston area, as the eastern Clarkston station received 7.4 inches of snowfall in February. Through the end of February, the Clarkston area has accumulated 27.6 inches of snow this season.

The northern Oakland County area has received substantially more snowfall this winter than the Detroit area. Unless the pace picks up during March, it looks like the Detroit area will experience one of the most snow-less winters on record.

February temperatures were well below normal, as the eastern Clarkston station recorded a mean temperature of 21.1 degrees. This is about 3 degrees below normal, producing 1273 heating degree days for the month.

Although temperatures were below normal, this past February was not nearly as cold as the one we experienced one year ago. The mean temperature for February 1979 was only 14.8 degrees, producing 1406 heating degree days. Therefore, even with the extra day that this leap year provided, you should have used approximately 10% less fuel to heat your home to the same temperature in February 1980 compared to February 1979.

We did have our share of cold temperatures this past February, however. Clarkston temperature ranged from a low of 5 degrees below zero on the mornings of the 17th and 29th to a high of 45 degrees on the 21st. Morning temperatures dropped to below zero readings on 6 different mornings during the month.

Comparing differences between our old 1940-1969 and the new 1950-1979 climatological "means" for February in our area, we find that the biggest change is in mean temperature. The new updated data indicates that the mean temperature dropped from 24.9 to 24.2 degrees Fahrenheit; mean precipitation dropped from 1.54 to 1.46 inches, and mean snowfall dropped from 7.9 to 7.8 inches.

McCormick shoots against Holly.

Clarkston Breezes to District Championship

Clarkston 85 - Holly 52

by John Huttenlocher

The no less than awesome Clarkston Wolves continued to advance in the District games when they defeated the Holly Bronchos, 85-52, much to the delight of the home fans, who cheered on Clarkston all the way.

The only fault in the infallible Wolfpack's game plan was defense. The Wolves gave up 8 points the first period and then gave up an unbelievable 23 points in the second period of play. On the other hand, their offense was superb, scoring a total of 44 points to take the lead at half, 44-31.

Clarkston is a second-half team, which they proved later that night when they took an 18 point lead at the end of the third period and later to finish the game with a 32 point lead.

Tim McCormick, the senior Wolfpack center who does everything but sell popcorn at halftime, finished up the night with a whopping 39 points, 19 rebounds, and 5 blocked shots. Scott McKoin, the man who will hopefully take over for McCormick next year wound up with 24 points, 8 of those coming on free-throws. McKoin was 8-8 from the line, and he was the only other Clarkston player to score in double figures. Also scoring for Clarkston was Ed Haddad with 8, John Sheldon with 6, while Chuck Nicolai and Doug Hagyard both scored 4.

High scorer for Holly was Mike Volz, who shot from just about everywhere, and rarely missed. He ended up with 22 points, and he was also the only Holly player in double figures.

Clarkston 65 - Central 45

by John Huttenlocher

Ralph Grubb, the successful Pontiac Central basketball coach, sat in the Clarkston lockerroom shaking his head. His team had just played about as well as they could, and still they lost. "We did the best we could. We came, we played, we just couldn't beat them," was Grubb's sad statement.

Grubb is used to going to the District Finals. He's been doing it at Pontiac Central for the last dozen years. Central was the team that knocked Clarkston off last year just around this time, in the District Finals.

Tim McCormick was in control of things and he showed it when he scored 34 points and hauled down 14 rebounds, while Scott McKoin put in 15 points to also add to the score. Senior forward Chuck Nicolai had 6 points and John Sheldon put in 4, as did Larry Baylis. Greg Lane, junior forward, rounded out the Wolfpack with 2 points.

Despite the awesome defense put on by the Wolves, Central's tremendous sophomore guard Kevin McAdoo (no relation to Detroit Piston Bob, says Kevin) managed to score 8 points, while junior guard Bradley Boldin put in 9.

Clarkston 80-Northern 45

by John Huttenlocher

In what might of been the best game they played this year, the No. 1 state ranked Clarkston Wolves overwhelmed the Pontiac Northern Huskies in the District Finals, 80-45. It was the first time Clarkston has won the Class A District Championship.

The Wolves were led by Tim McCormick who put in 29 points and pulled down 13 rebounds. For the District games, McCormick scored a total of 102 points. That's an average of 34 points a game for the Clarkston center.

John Sheldon assisted with 12 points, stole the ball 5 times and had 5 assists. Junior forward Scott McKoin also knocked in 12 points. Next in line for the Wolves was Chuck Nicolai. He scored 9.

The Huskies never were really in the game. Sure, they would come within 8 points of Clarkston, but the Wolves would quickly jack up the score to about an 18 point lead. Then, as usual, Clarkston would run away with the score in the third period.

Huskie sophomore 6'7" Lou Rainge fouled out in the early third period, which also put salt on the wound for Northern.

After the game, Clarkston coach Gary Nustad had some comments on Tim McCormick, the Wolves, and the tournament. Nustad on McCormick - "He's a pleasure to be associated with. He's so into what's going on and what he's doing. He's a 17 year old kid with a dream. He's had that dream for 17 years and now he realizes that he's 5 steps away from reaching it."

Nustad on the tournament - "We've got to go into each game like it's our last. This could be the last time you lace 'em up."

Tuesday, the Wolves travel to Flint Central to take on Swartz Creek, the 13-10 team who represents the Owosso District. If the Wolves win, they take on the winner of the Utica-Flint Central game. That game will be played on Friday at 7:30.

Commentary:

On the Way to a State Title?

by Mike Wilcox

The Clarkston Wolves made believers of Pontiac Northern, Pontiac Central and Holly this past week, defeating each district opponent by more than twenty points, on the way to their first district title in many years.

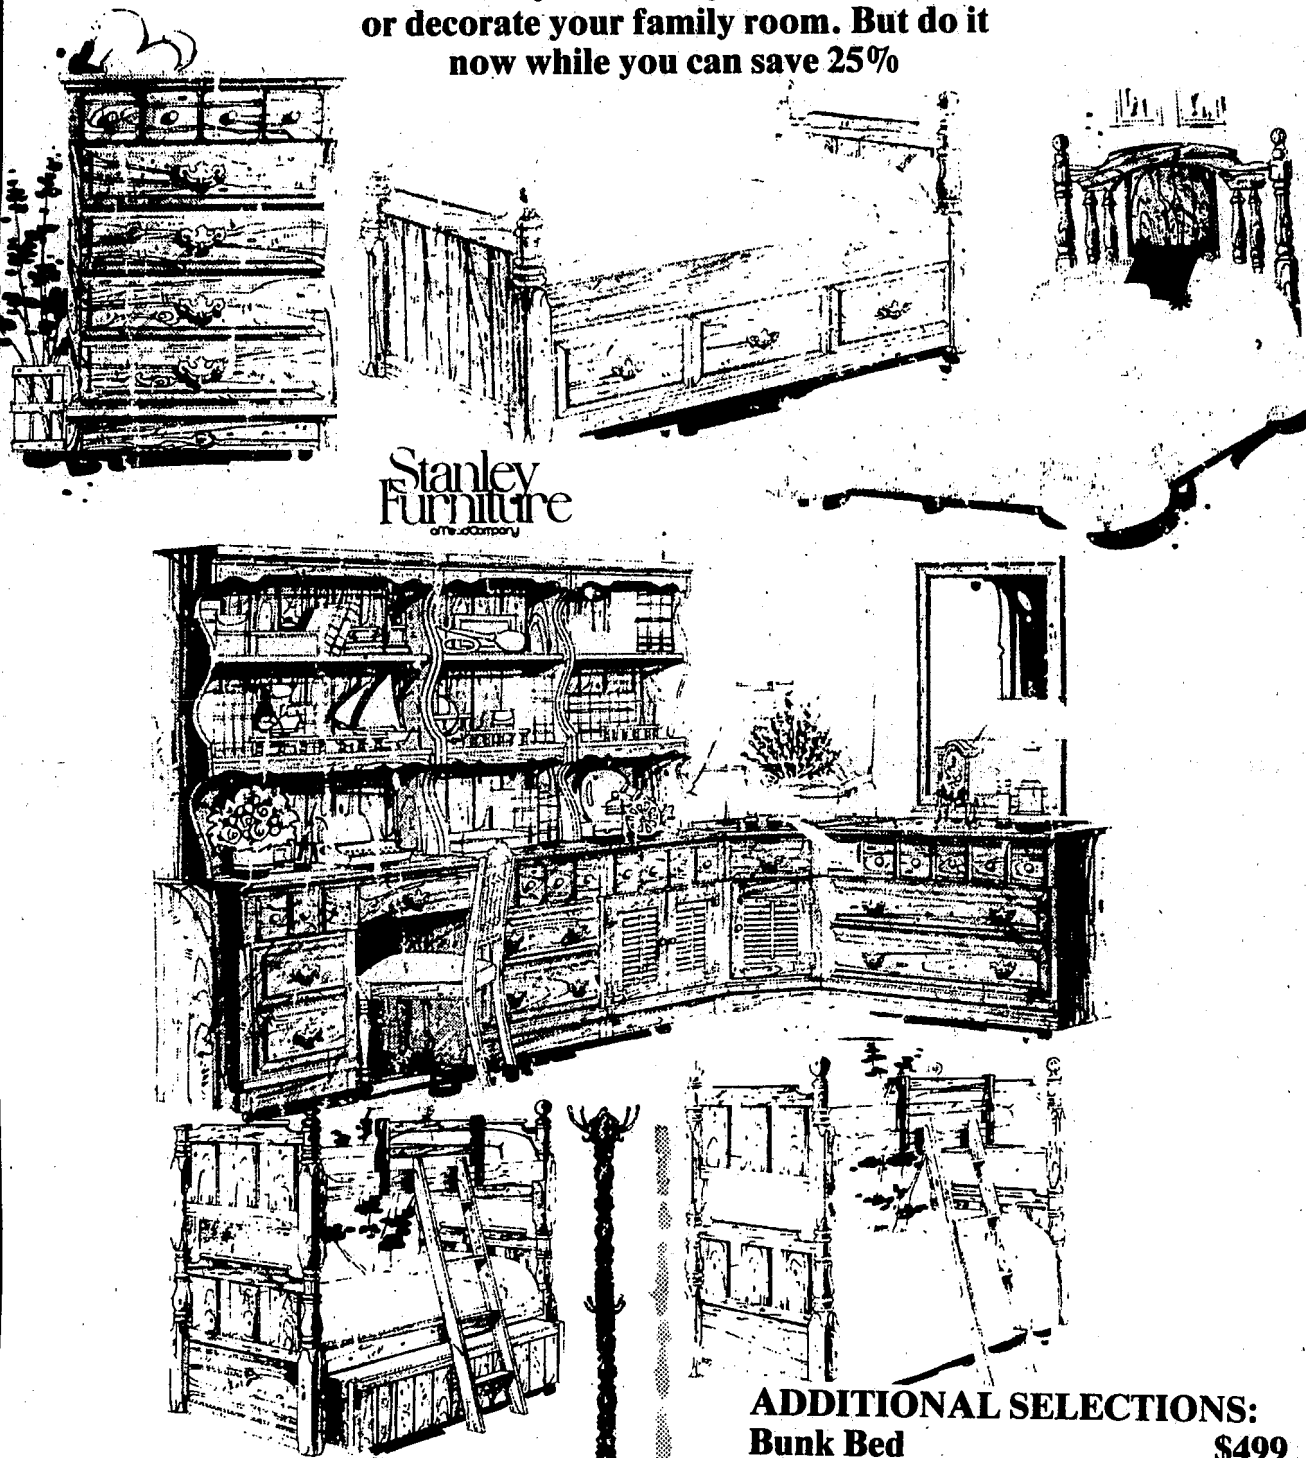

The district tournament was played on Clarkston's home court where the Wolfpack fans kept the

Library, Holcomb Road Get Large Share of Federal Funds

A township-wide energy audit and improvements to the boat launch at Deer Lake and the Senior Citizen Center were the primary losers in the distribution of federal revenue sharing funds at last week's meeting of the Independence Township Board. No allocations whatsoever were made for these projects.

Other losers to a certain extent were the Community Center Committee and the fire department.

The Community Center Committee had asked for $20,000 to replace a like amount previously allocated but then used for another project by the township. Their share of the federal pot when it was all divided up was $11,000, $9,000 short of what they had a year ago.

Frank Ronk, township fire chief, had asked for $50,000 for unspecified "equipment". He came away with a commitment for $20,000 considerably short of what he had sought.

The biggest winners appear to be the township library and Holcomb Road.

Librarian Jim Hibler received $15,000 for books and improvements while $40,000 was allocated for roads in general. In that total, however, is the money necessary to pave the stretch of Holcomb Road from the village limits to the I-75 overpass scheduled to become a reality this summer.

The remainder of the $121,414 was distributed as follows: $20,000 for the Safety Path Committee, $15,000 for dust control and $1,414 for microfilming township records as recommended by the historical society.

Later it was decided the township would pay six cents per linear foot for road chloriding this year as it has in the past. While the township contribution has remained constant, the cost to residents has not, rising from six cents to twelve cents.

Township Tax Cut Not Possible for Springfield

by Mike Wilcox
Springfield Township officials have decided not to seek a ten percent tax cut after failing to convince the Oakland County Equalization Department that Springfield properties have not increased in value as much as county records indicate.

Last week the Springfield Board of Review, made up of chairperson Jack Watson, Sheryl Wendt and Bill Bishop agreed to pursue the 10 percent tax reduction on behalf of the township.

They met with Herman Stephens, manager of the Equalization Department, who agreed to review the situation if Springfield Township could substantiate the rollback with evidence. Unfortunately for township property owners, the proof wasn't documented and the Board cancelled their next meeting with Stephens.

"What we found was we were right but we can't document it," said Township Supervisor Collin Walls, who sits with the Board of Review as a non-voting member.

Walls claimed economic and environmental conditions in the township are as such that the proposed 18 percent assessment increase would exceed the actual market value. In 1978, the Equalization Department penned the township's market value at $54,915,802. It was increased by $17,165,238 in 1979.

The Board of Review's ten percent proposed rollback would have reduced that figure by 7.5 million. Walls said he felt that was a fair reduction because it has been indicated in a trend of reduced property and home sales in the township.

"But the (trend) hasn't been happening long enough to be reflected in sales figures," said Walls. Thus they had no way of proving their claim.

"We probably couldn't have carried it through anyway," continued Walls. "We can't make a blanket (township wide) reduction. There's no statutory authority."

In other words the township has no authority to reduce taxes enmasse. If they had tried it's very possible the State would have come in and ceased their tax rolls, or at the very least, a factor would be "slapped" on the rolls.

Walls noted that the City of Northville tried to reduce their assessment last year and ended up with more problems and headaches, than accomplishments.

"It points out the frustrations in that the changes that have to be made have to be made by the legislature," he said.

So what happens now? Are Springfield residents stuck with the 18 percent increase?

"Now we will drop back five yards and punt," explained Walls. "We (Board of Review this week) will look at each individual appeal on its own merits."

Walls did say that the number of appeals this year are not that much greater than 1979. Several come from owners of newly developed land.

The last Board of Review meetings will be held Wednesday, March 12th, from 1-5 p.m. and 7-9 p.m.

SNAPPER garden tractors were designed by agricultural engineers with quality features like an inline drive train for efficient power transfer and welded steel frames for ruggedness. Another great feature is the ability to "quick change" attachments so you take less time getting ready and spend more time getting the work done. You have the choice of gear, or hydrostatic transmissions with "memory"; manual or hydraulic lift systems; rear power-take-off; 42", 48" and 54" cutting units; and 16 or 18 H.P. engines.

Resolution to Oppose PK Purchase Tabled

by Carol Balzarini

A motion by Trustee Rudy Lozano to send a resolution to the County stating Independence Township's opposition to the county purchase of Pine Knob was tabled until the next meeting ostensibly to give the entire board a chance to vote on the resolution.

Two board members were absent from last week's meeting. Treasurer Fred Ritter was on vacation and Trustee Jerry Powell is a basketball fan particularly at tournament time.

Lozano, a long-time foe of government-provided recreation, said he opposed the county purchase of Pine Knob because it would remove it from the tax rolls.

He told board members Borg-Warner, owner of some 200 acres and the condominiums at Pine Knob, was a "viable alternative" as far as a purchaser was concerned.

County purchase, he said, would result in tax losses and job losses having a "devastating effect" on the township.

Trustee Make Thayer agreed with Lozano that private interests should buy the recreation complex.

Clerk Chris Rose and Trustee Bill Vandermark shared the opposite point of view as far as the resolution itself was concerned. Neither felt the township should interfere at this point. Rose added, however, that if 22-story hotels and carnivals were a possibility under the present ownership, he'd rather see the complex in county hands.

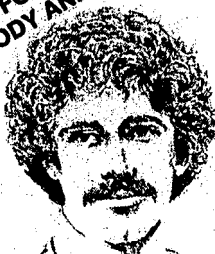

The possibility of adding still another lawsuit to an already lawsuit-ridden situation was discussed if the township should go on record as officially opposed to the purchase.

Hugh Rose, brother of the clerk and an owner of Spring Lake Golf Club, told board members they should have an opinion on an issue of this size. He told them not to hide behind a possible lawsuit.

Attorney Dale Stuart, on the other hand, told them they should be "prudent" because of the $30 million lawsuit the township is already faced with brought by Pine Knob for denial of the building permit for the hotel. Stuart said recommendations were preferable to out and out opposition to the purchase.

Rose's motion to table the motion was approved on a 3-2 vote, Rose, Vandermark and Supervisor Floyd Tower approving, Lozano and Thayer dissenting.

GET THE BEST! A CASE Tough Tractor.

Terrific Tiller.

Case can talk tough because Case has the only garden tractor with durable hydraulic drive. Case has the only tiller that's hydraulically driven. No auxiliary engine, extra belts, shafts or pulleys. Hydraulics give infinite control of tilling speed and that gives you optimum tilling in heavy clay to sandy loam. Tilling rotation may be reversed to dislodge stones and trash. Case, one tough, terrific garden machine.

Don Lovett of Lovett Jewelers, Clarkston Mills, congratulating Shirley Wollerman on her winning entry.

Shirley Wollerman

Shirley Wollerman and husband Chris as you read this are basking in the sun in the Bahamas.

Shirley's name was drawn for a free vacation for two, at Lovett Jewelers in the Clarkston Mills.

Shirley and Chris live in Clarkston with children Chris 14, Wendy 12 and Glen 10.

When told about the trip, Shirley very excitedly replied, "Life is just so good to me."

When asked if she had won anything before, she said, "Yes, I'm very lucky about winning."

Bordine's

Bordine's name was drawn for the winning merchant in the Zone 2 Great Escape contest.

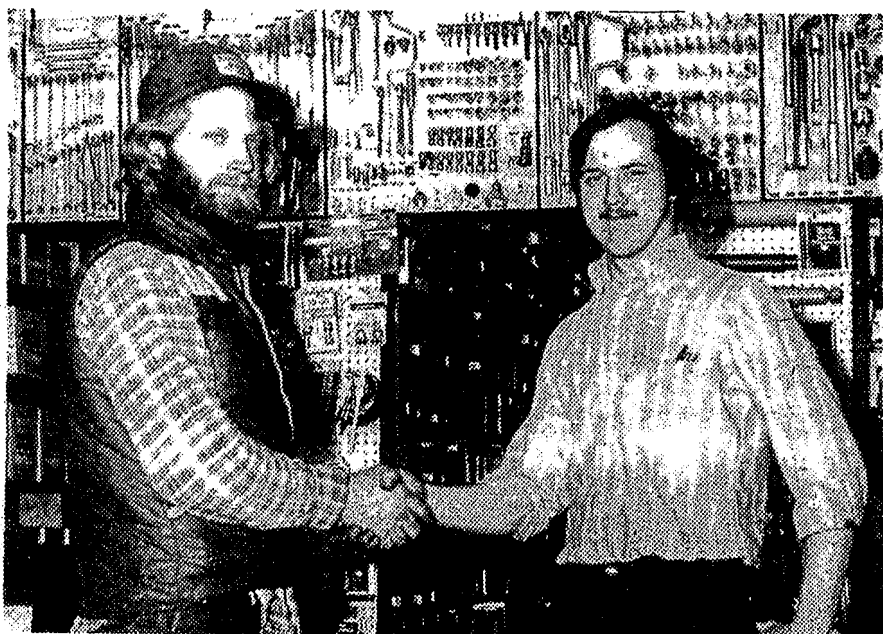

Robert Theisen, Bordine's General Manager of the Clarkston store, and his wife will be taking the trip. They picked the Bahamas and are going the end of March.

Theisen's response when told he had won the trip was, "Wow, we never have won anything in our lives." Theisen lives in Clawson and has 5 daughters.

Bordine's was started in 1939 as a greenhouse in Rochester on a couple of acres and has grown to 30 acres, with a hobby and craft store.

The second store and nursery on Dixie Highway, just 1/4 mile north of I-75 exit, was opened in the Spring of '78 on 35 acres.

gymnasium under a deafening roar for the total 32 minutes of playing. Against the Pontiac Northern Huskies, the fans were at their best, cheering every halfway decent move a Wolf made. After the game, everyone stayed to continue the cheers as the Wolfpack received their District trophy and medals and then proceeded to ceremoniously cut the basketball nets.

The district tournament, at least the finals, were also played before a number of college coaches and recruiters eager to get their mits on Tim McCormick, the 6'10 1/2" all-state center for the Wolves. There was U of M coach Johnny Orr, in the midst of preparing his team for a second round game in the NIT, sitting and watching intently every move McCormick made. His able assistant Bill Frieder, a now familiar face in Clarkston, chatted amiably with Dan Fife. Across the court sat MSU coach Jud Heathcote.

Pontiac Northern was expected to provide a challenge to the Wolves. They have height (6'7", 6'3", 6'2") and they have quickness. They beat an exceptional Waterford Township team to get to the finals.

But from the opening whistle, as it has been for each game all season, the Wolves took command with baskets from McKoin and Sheldon, and then easy hoops by McCormick and after only four minutes you knew the game was over.

Clarkston has exceptional talent. McCormick is everything a big man should be—unselfish, soft touch, good free throw shooter, hard worker. No one is better than John Sheldon in bringing the ball upcourt, and the same can be said about Ed Haddad's defensive abilities. Look out for Scott McKoin. He's an exceptional shooter and rebounder and you can bet college scouts will be drooling over him in 1981, his senior year.

The talent doesn't stop with the players, however. Gary Nustad has masterminded a brilliant game plan, refusing to build his program entirely around McCormick. By utilizing the talents of the other four players on the court, when Nustad's plays call for McCormick to get the ball, he is all the more devastating.

It's quite incredible that Clarkston has yet to run into an opponent capable of playing with them. I suspect that will change soon. What will happen when they meet a team of equal physical measurements? What will happen when McCormick gets into foul trouble (he has before)? We'll soon find out, won't we?
