editor's note

On Page 7 you'll find the first of a threepart series that will attempt to outline the political philosophies and ramifications of all the local issues and candidates that will appear on the August primary ballot.

Called Important Choices-1980, this week's excerpt takes a rather thorough look at the County Commissioner candidates in Districts 2 and 3. Editor Mike Wilcox personally interviewed each of the candidates, asking for their opinions on a variety of issues and topics.

District 2 (Western Oakland County) and 3

(Orion and parts of Independence and Pontiac Townships) are probably the two most exciting county level races in Oakland. Five candidates are vying for the position held by Robert Gorsline (he's going into the ministry) in District 2. Five more are after the post held by State Representative candidate Matt Dunakiss in District 3.

I think you'll find the county candidates in these two district to be full of spirit and ideas. They all are campaigning extremely hard-many on platforms that suggest sweeping changes.

Next week The Reminder will take a look at the Independence Township Republican clerk and trustee races—the only primary races in Independence and Sprinfield Township. Both of those races, however, are shaping up to be real cliffhangers as candidates are hitting the campaign trail daily.

Also next week The Reminder will show you what it was like inside the Republican Convention in Detroit. We'll be there with cameras and notepads, looking for feature angles that will make next week's paper one you won't want to miss!

letters Leave Titanic Alone!

Dear Editor:

There is a lot of talk now about raising the Titanic, and there are two missions underway now to photograph the wreck. A best-selling fiction novel, "Raise the Titanic" by Clive Cussler, has been made into a spectacular motion picture by Sir Lew Grade and R.D.R. Productions Inc. The two photomissions are to begin this month.

The purpose of this letter is to express why the Titanic should be left alone.

There is an old seaman's legend which states that any vessel that sails over the spot where the Titanic sank on the night of April 14-15 will be lost and that any person or persons who plans and/or attempts to disturb the wreck will die. On April 14, 1917, the fishing boat Birma vanished within ten miles of the Titanic's last reported position with a loss of 6 lives. On April 15, 1922, another fishing boat, the Augustus Von Fahrnsburg, rammed pack ice and sank. Fortunately, all 16 lives were saved. The first photo mission, Seaonics International Ltd., was to begin this week. Heading it was

William H. Tantum IV, secretary of Seaonics and President of the Titanic Historical Society Inc. Bill Tantum died in late June after going into shock and into a coma. Although it is very odd that these events happened, it is not intended to prove the grave of the Titanic to be another "Devil's Trlangle".

In April of 1912, man's architectural achievement put out to sea. But man was too sure of himself. Because of a complimentary but fatal bit of press exaggeration, the Titanic was believed by nearly everyone to be totally unsinkable. White Star Lines, owners of the Titanic, stated that the Titanic was practically unsinkable because of her watertight door system. Then the press decided to "omit" part of that statement. So the world had complete confidence in the new luxury liner. Her watertight door system was remarkably strong as she stayed afloat for nearly three hours after having foot gash ripped in the bottom of her hull. At the Southampton Docks crewman proudly remarked that ''...God himself could not sink this ship.'' It is believed by some that this remark was ''the straw that broke the camel's back''--a challenge to God. Therefore, God was angered by this and conjured a chain of events that would prove the lie of man.

There were innumerable events, * bad omens. that took place before the Titanic sailed, all spelling doom for the proud liner. Astrological reports show that the stars were against the Titanic on that fateful night so many years ago. Several passengers had strong premonitions that they would never arrive in New York in that ship. The famous author W.T. Stead was warned by a "fortune teller" that he would surely die if he sailed on the Titanic, he was not one of the survivors.

What is the purpose of mentioning all of these superstitious events? The purpose is to show that it was meant for the Titanic to sink and that if God did send her on a rendezvous with an iceberg it is probably his will that she remain on the ocean bottom. To photograph the wreck and/or raise her would destroy her mystique and the public would begin to lose their respect for her. Hers was a gracious luxury that the eyes of man will never see again. Luxury and grandeur that grips the imagination and never lets go. If photographed and raised, although raising such a "sunken city" is almost impossible physically and financially, there would be nothing left to imagine.

I have studied the Titanic for over eight years more than half of my life, and nobody could have greater respect and love for her. There are, however, 3000 members of the Titanic Historical Society Inc. who are just like me. They all love and respect the illfated Titanic. They too feel same way. photograph and/or raise the Titanic would be a sacrelige, it would leave nothing to imagine, to wonder, to respect about the one and only Titanic; the true Eighth Wonder of the Colder and somewhat drier than normal conditions persisted over our local area in June. Precipitation totals were quite variable across southeastern Michigan with monthly totals generally increasing to our south. Rainfall was especially heavy in the extreme southern counties of lower Michigan during the first half of the month, as Detroit Metropolitan Airport picked up nearly 6 in-PLAN FREE REMOVAL OF YOUR OLD APPLIANCE—SERVICE BY OUR PROFESSIONAL SERVICE DEPARTMENT. ches of rain during the first 15 days of June. Rainfall totals for the month from my volunteer network are as follows: (with calendar year totals through the end of June in parentheses):

Detroit Metropolitan Airport - 6.42 " (19.44")

Elizabeth Lake/Waterford Township - 5.06" (21.34")

Union Lake - 4.79" (18.66") St. Clair Shores - 4.30" (18.60") Northville - 4.17" (16,44")

Oxbow Lake/White Lake Township - 4.09"

Sullivan Lake/Tyrone Township - 3.84" Johnson and Anderson, Inc./Waterford Township - 3.65"

thru

Fenton - 3.02" (17.59")

Northern Clarkston - 2.98" (14.90") Eastern Clarkston - 2.82" (16.04") Van Norman Lake/Waterford Township 2.72" (16.61")

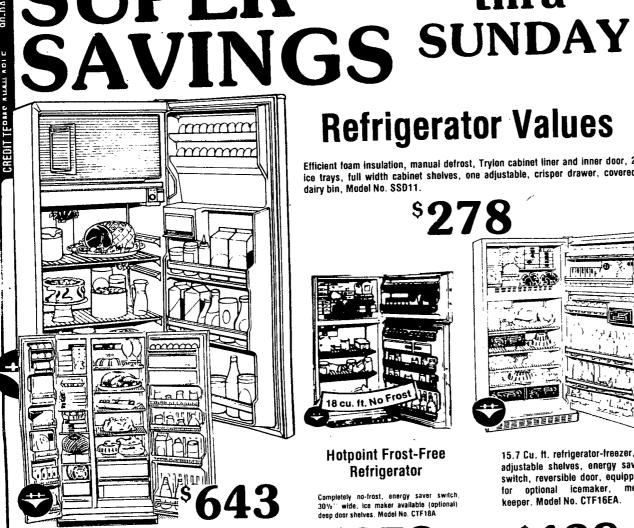

Bishop Airport/Flint - 2.38" (12.41") For the Clarkston area, precipitation was just under 1/2 inch below normal for June. Total precipitation at the eastern Clarkston station for the calendar year 1980 now stands at 16.04 inches, which is a little over an

Temperatures in June were quite a bit colder than normal, especially during the first 3 weeks of the month. Based on data from the eastern Clarkston station, the mean temperature for the month was 62.9 degrees, which is nearly 4 degrees below normal. Temperatures ranged from a low of 34 degrees on the morning of the 11th to a high of 89 degrees on the 26th. Early morning temperatures dipped down into the 30's on 4 mornings during June giving home gardeners quite a scare, but no frost was reported during the month. Daily highs did reach the 80's on 8 different days during June, but 7 of those occurred during the last 9 days of the month.

Hopefully we can now bring the curtain down on our 1979-1980 snowfall season. Statistics for the eastern Clarkston station show that we received 45.4 inches of snowfall, which is exactly normal for our area (right to the tenth of an inch). And we experienced 58 days with 1 or more inches of snow on the ground, which is only 2 days below normal.

On the national weather scene, the most significant weather event during June was the onset of a tragic heat wave over the southwestern plain states. Generally higher mortality rates are experienced during heat waves, especially among the elderly. Those people that appear to be affected most are those with heart disease, cancer, influenza and pneumonia.

I'm concerned in what's happening in politics at the local level. Those in office aren't communicating with us. We are having to fight to voice opinions.

Could county government have handled the toxic waste situation better in Springfield and Rose Townships?

There are some very frightened families out there. I had 3 children in my class that were effected. It worried me that they were upset. Where the County messed up is in psychological back-up.

There's no doubt that both levels of government have fallen down. Not addressing the problems have created more fears. We are sitting on an environmental time bomb.

I personally feel it wasn't pushed hard enough. There was sort of a ho-hum attitude. Unfortunately it took major- steps in Lansing before anything could be done.

what I gather From Oakland County doesn't have the problem, but the Department of Natural Resources. Toxic waste certainly is a problem. What frightened me recently was the number of abandoned quarries that have been found in the County. We have to keep our fingers on that problem, too.

So far the health department has done their job. At times they just weren't getting the information out. personally was very involved. I helped start meetings and urged people to do things as an organized group.

District III

About the Candidates

I know county government inside out. I've grown up with it. When I first started it was 300,000 population. Not it's 1 million plus. In the last few years, I have had a lot of close contact with the Board of Commissioners.

I have a fairly decent reputation as an honest man....Many friends have also asked me to run.

I was kind of tired of all the taxation. I think we are going to have to set priorities. The county doesn't seem to have priorities at this time.

I am strictly a watchdog on spending. Our federal and state monies today aren't going to be as great as they have in the past. We are going to have to live within our budgets. Today we need somebody who can come up with good sound ideas and then work for them.

Would you like to see GM that will have to be resolved locate its proposed new by Orion Township. The plant in District III?

First of all it is an issue county can only enter in as a recommending agency. However, I think we would be adversely affected county-wide to lose that plant to another area. The benefits completely outweigh the losses.

I'm very supportive of their efforts. It fit right in with the Master Plan and the location was properly zoned. I'd hate to see it get out of the State. Right here it would be well located next to 1-75. It's not a bad situation. I'm real hopeful that the problems will be small compared to the positive aspects.

I've been fighting for it all along. It will bring more jobs and an added tax base in the years to come.

I think GM being located in Orion is a must. You never drive jobs out of an area, you try to create them. It's a necessity.

new subway for the Detroit feeder system to activity area, of which District III centers, especially for taxpayers will be asked to those who don't have acpartially finance. What's cess to other means of your position on this?

Nobody wants a subway. SEMTA has proposed a We need instead a flexible transportation. A fixed rail system has proven time and again that it does not generate enough patronage to recoup the cost of building and operating.

I'm definitely against the subway. I, would; support just about anything besides a subway. The final cost is going to be way and above the original projections.

I'm very much against the subway. It's a boondoggle and a waste of taxpayer's money. I would work to see that adequate public transportation is made available to you, through increased dial-arides, regular buses, express commuter buses and other approaches.

I'm 100 percent against the subway. I think we need buses, especially for senior citizens. I don't think it is wise to pull out of SEMTA at this time. A county owned transportation system wouldn't pay for itself. You would be generating another big program that would be operating on a deficit.

Some candidates suggest well there is a lot of waste in Republican administration. county government. Do you When you step across 8 agree?

We have a surplus even with Headlee. That speaks of the present mile and meet a federally funded city and a bankrupt county, it makes you happy to be a resident of Oakland County. There are however certain frills at which we should take another look. I believe in zero based burnable. It can be conver-

In one area, the County Executive's security force, needless that's duplication (of the Sheriff's Department) as far as I can see. I'd rather see those people out out on the roads in the hinterlands. I don't think the County Executive needs his own bodyquards.

County government has grown, and its spending has increased in recent years in part because county commissioners haven't been tough enough when reviewing the budget. Right now there are many small items that the county is getting into that I'm against. For one, I'm against the county getting into fire dispatch.

There's a certain amount of waste in any government. A good commissioner has got to be able to detect that waste and do something about it.

A. I don't think the existing county commission has done such a hot job. If we have a one million dollar surplus, why wasn't it passed on to the constituents.

B. Sooner or later the whole damn country is going to realize that onehalf is living off the other half. In order to change the tax situation, you are going to have to convince the other half to be productive. C. Our roads are going to hell. It seems the more we conserve our gasoline the less we have for roads (because of the state gas and weight tax).

A. I would like to see a county-wide Emergency Medical Service (EMS). Mv experience in working with the Pontiac EMS unit has made the life-saving importance of high quality emergency treatment extremely clear to me. All county residents should be able to depend on immediate medical care in an emergency. The county should control it.

B. There has got to be more unity within county government. I'm sure constituents would be shocked to see the arguing going on at commission meetings.

A. I would be in favor of adding additional jail cells. want the jail to be a club setting country however.

B. I'm retired and will be a fulltime commissioner if elected.

Communication is a must. There is a lack of communication between state representatives and commissioners. The people in my district are paying my wages and I would act, with that in mind--I would respond to them.

Horseshoes and Homespun Philosophy

Bob Parsons is probably not your typical farrier, or horseshoer. He combines his work with a running conversation about his work itself, the animals he works with, and about life in general offering what could be called a "homespun" philosophy.

About his work, Parsons calls it physically

'It's hard on you mentally too," he added. "You can turn into a piece of machinery.

week but now he takes Sundays and Mondays off. He needs to have two days a week off, he said, so he won't "sour". He uses one day to rest and the other to do what needs to be done around his Union Lake home.

Surprisingly, the horseshoeing business is nearly a year around one for Parsons. The only slow times are January and half of Febraury. His jobs are booked a month to a month and a half in advance. His business has grown to the point where he won't take any new people now. Since the average horse can go about 8-10 weeks between shoeing, Parsons usually makes the next appointment when putting on the current shoes. To save time and gas he tries to book a day's appointments all in the same geographic area.

An average day's work is eight horses. Shoeing takes about forty-five minutes a horse for straight shoe job with nothing special required such as corrective work.

Parsons says a horse needs shoes basically because he wears down his hoofs faster than he can grow them. The type of shoes a horse needs is determined by the condition of the hoofs and the use of the horse. Variables involved include road-riding, pasture or pavement. And the horse's health. Another is the type of horse itself, gaited or quarter horse, for example. Some even require corrective shoes.

A good farrier has to know how to handle horses if he's to get his job done properly. Parsons says he puts on "Corral No. 5" in the morning just to fool them. "I get along better if I smell like them (the horses)," he laughed. The horse, he added, has a highly-developed sixth sense and he has learned to develop his own for his benefit as a farrier.

In his years of work, Parsons has trimmed dogs, cows, sheep, and a ninety year old woman's toenails in addition to the traditional horses' hooves. As people get older their nails get harder and he gave up trimming dogs after one bit him, he said of two incidents. There is also a current trend to trim the hoofs of dairy cows. They apparently get no exercise, their hoofs continue to grow pulling the leg tendons which, in turn, results in a decrease in milk production.

The demand for farriers is high while the supply is low, according to Parsons. There are short courses to learn trimming but he doesn't think it's a good idea to become a "backvard shoer".

"It takes 10 weeks to learn the basics," he said, "but you need four or five years to become good at it and establish a clientele. It would be nice if there were people who were willing to take on apprentices.'

When Parsons went to school to learn his

Michigan has two schools and possibly a third where horseshoeing is taught.

Parsons' grandfathers were a blacksmith and a buggy maker, but he said he didn't know that until after his decision to become a farrier. Traditionally, he explained, a blacksmith was not a farrier or horseshoer. He was a metal worker who made all of the tools needed in those days including those for shoeing and the shoes themselves. Usually, he said, a man could not be a blacksmith and a farrier and be good at both.

Parson's father was a shop worker and factory foreman. Parsons himself worked in a factory for a time but knew that it wasn't the job for him. When he developed back trouble, the doctor, who was also a horse owner, suggested he quit and become a horseshoer. There was a need for them then that still exists today. Parsons says the horse population has gone up while the number of horseshoers has declined.

conversation. He's a sort of homespun philosopher who has his own ideas about progress, politics, religion, whatever. He brings to mind the song that advises it's "time to get back to the basics of life," the days when people were less concerned about material wealth and led simpler lives. But maybe that's a point of view to be expected from a man whose trade has it's roots in another time.

Although the farrier does not make his own shoes, he does make some adjustments for each individual horse

Charles Jr. and Mary Jeanne Whitlock of Lake Orion have a unique situation; each have a father and a father-in-law campaigning for a political office. Clarles Whitlock, Sr. is running for county commissioner and Ray Genereux for township supervisor--on different tickets.

Not wanting to show any favoratism or partiality, the younger Whitlocks constructed a 4 foot by 8 foot sign in front of their home on Heights Road with one side advocating Whitlock and the other supporting Genereux.

District II County Commissioner Candidates

Candidates seem to be advocating more communications with the people. Why and what would you do along these lines?

Cavanaugh

I feel we need a vocal commissioner that's an environmentalist and will go to the people on a personal basis. I want to put a hotline in right to my home.

Regan

I think one of the most important things is you need to be available. I run my own business and can leave at any time. The people have to know that their needs will be met now, not when it is convenient for me.

Rogers

I know the county. If people have problems, I would be their liaison person. I would also like to send out a newsletter, periodically, to registered voters, so that people would know some of our accomplishments, goals and things that are transpiring.

Cagney

I don't think there is a problem with communications. People will only call you when they get mad about something. And I really don't think it's right to go and interfere in township meetings. Rather, my job is to keep them appraised of situations and to be available when I'm needed. Plus people can call me 24 hours a day at my home or business.

Firu

I want my constituents to feel the politician is representing their voice. I think people care, but there is a lot of mistrust and I hope to bring it back with openness. Let's let them know what their commissioners are doing. I'd do it with a "commissioner's corner'' local newspapers and by holding weekend meetings in township halls. I'm not asking people to vote for me because I have something to prove. "I'm asking them to vote for me because they'll get a voice that'll come back.

I'm against it. We have railroad tracks all around. Why can't we utilize them?

SEMTA has proposed a new subway for the Detroit area, of which District II taxpayers will be asked to partially finance. What's your position on this?

I feel what SEMTA has proposed is a fiasco. Oakland County has been sold down the drain. The county has had several years to come up with an alternative but they have been sitting on their proverbial fannies. Most of the people believe we need a transportation system, but they're not going to buy a big hole.

Being very realistic, we must propose some means of transportation. However, SEMTA's subway is not the answer.

Our representation on the SEMTA board is appalling. The auctioning of a vote for a vote in the State Legislature that day the subway was approved was a shame. We were sold down the river, because it will never benefit 95% of the people who live out here. But I also realize we can't drop out of SEMTA. The cost of starting a system from scratch is horrendous. Instead I want to make SEMTA more aware of Western Oakland County and transportation for the elderly.

Any politician in North Oakland County that's for it is committing political suicide. It's not going to benefit us. Busing is all we can use in my area and that's all I can be concerned about. But, by no means do I feel we can pull out of SEMTA. I don't think the majority of people want to pull out, but I don't think they want to be blackballed either.

Some candidates suggest there is a lot of waste in county government. Do you agree?

To some extent, yes. I'm wondering why the drain commission and road commission don't consolidate. But it's not all bad, believe me.

The County has a $90 million budget, but still escapes outside audit. Until they address that they will continue to have overstaffing. There's no accountability. When you can spend hundreds of thousands of dollars on buildings and you can't find a bench to sit on in Human Services, priorities are out of line.

Without being involved directly with the county, it would be ambiguous for me to sit here and say there is waste. In any business or industry there are ways of cutting costs, but I don't feel it is a dramatic, major issue.

It is the time to cutback whenever possible, but I can't find fault with a system that has a surplus at the end of the year.

I'm not so sure. Before we start to cut any more services, we have to look and see what they are doing and how they are being managed. I don't believe in any drastic change. I believe in tapering off.

What either concerns would you like to discuss?

A, I'm not happy with our roads. I think South Oakland County reaps the rewards. We could get more of our share of tax dollars for their improvement.

B. Why doesn't the county and state come to the people in time of need. A mini-center for the unemployed could be located in Clarkston or Holly, instead of having people going all the way to Pontiac to stand in line for hours.

C. I've accepted no campaign donations and don't plan to. We are a frugal organization. Every day i go out from 9 to 5 knocking on doors in hopes of covering the entire district on foot. That's the way we will campaign.

A. It bothers me to see the Road Commission in a huge lawsuit (against the County Executive) that has nothing to do with roads.

B. No one ever communicates. The drain commissioner doesn't talk to the road commissioners. The road commissioners won't talk to the prosecutor. The prosecutor won't talk to the sheriff. The sheriff won't talk to Kratt...and no one talks to Murphy.

A. It seems a far cry that we have a district 200 miles that has the same vote as a district with 6 square miles. It's not truly fair when South Oakland County can come up with a block of commissioners very easily.

B. I think if anybody were to take a ride down Haggerty Road between 7:30-11 p.m. Sunday night they would see the need for M-275. I hate to see rural areas disturbed, but we must face reality. When our own county road commission realizes some form of transportation is needed here...we must call on the State to do something. We lost i-96, we lost M-275, but we got the subway! That's not right.

I really believe we should have a sunset provision on all laws. Let them all die at their limit and then if they are good enough bring them back again.

A. I always thought the job of a commissioner was always somewhat fulltime...at least the obligations are. I feel I can give at least as much service as District II has been getting and Gorsline was a very hardworking commissioner.

B. I'm concerned that the two law enforcement agents in the county are not getting along.

"Through The Wonders of His Creation'

Rolling and rolling, white capped waves break and topple against a sweeping shoreline of crystal granules of white silver sand. Drifting and floating, pieces of water soaked timber and debris are pushed and forced upon miles of sandy beaches. The golden rays of a sunlit sky now penetrate the haze that blighted the grandeur of the horizon beyond.

Graceful white winged birds are circling and gliding down upon the azure blue and green water's crest. The sounds of nature are rich and harmonious. The lull of the waves are distant through silent fir and pine trees of the northern woods. There is solitude in its density. There is tranquility in the magnitude of its beauty.

As night draws nigh, an evening sky veils the land in fiery scarlet and crimson reds. The radiance of the summer sun is now dim and fading away. As day is done an alabaster moon, suspended in all its fullness in the firmament above, illuminates a silvery path across calm dark waters of the night.

It shall cast a light of direction for the wayward traveler. He might reflect upon the awesom spectacle and ponder the source of such greatness and mystery. What do the wonders of nature speak of to man? Can he not feel - can he not hear - can he not see -God revealed through his creation.

WORDS - 1977 I want to say I love you with words I cannot find I feel so dumb and foolish, no thoughts are on my mind

Except the need for touching you beyond the touch of skin

As if your wistful, gentle eyes could somehow let me in

In your life I'd choose to stay and when our lives are through

Somewhere beyond at last I'll say a simple "I love you."
