mike morrow's trivia

Fall is upon us and once again it's time for that stirring yearly tradition of fighting the crowds at the cider mill.

It's nice to know some things never change. The trafflo, crowds and bees are still just as bad as when I was little.

Yet year after year I still go back to buy a jug of cider that sits in the refrigerator until it turns black and can talk and a bag of donuts that turn to lead as soon as they cool off (which was two days before I bought

I don't know why I bother to go when I can get the same amount of atmosphere buying cider at the grocery store on triple coupon day. The reason I feel that way is because in all my years of going to the cider mill, the mill has never once been working when I was there. It's always closed for repairs.

Actually, it's probably for the best that I don't get to see how the cider is made. I'm sure I would get sick if I saw the wormy apples getting smashed by the moldy old machines. It's like this restaurant I went to once that gave you a guided tour through the life of a chicken starting with a fluffy baby chick and ending with a chicken dinner. After the tour I couldn't eat. Sometimes it is best not to know.

Since the mill is always closed when I go, the only place to buy cider is from the little stand manned by two college students and 13,000 bees. Frankly the place has all the atmosphere of a gas station restroom and about the same standard of cleanliness.

There are some people I know who think I'm being overly cynical when I gripe about the cider mill. They say it's one of those childhood memories that lasts a lifetime (so is my tonsilectomy). But I do agree, the memory does linger forever, if for no other reason than that's how long it takes the donuts to digest.

editor's note

The Reminder kicks off its Cattle Rustler Contest this week with photos and entry blanks on pages 10 and 11. We've ran a lot of contest over the last several years in this newspaper, but never have I seen a contest generate as much excitement as this.

Briefly, all you have to do (more thorough instructions are on page 11) is match the cattle rustler (merchant) with the store he or she manages. Sounds easy, huh? Well you better take another look.

Some of these characters (businessmen) have disguised themselves in cowboy hats, sunglasses, and whatever. Some were camera shy, like Rudy of Rudy's Market. Thus, they chose an employee to act as rustler, like Jan Easton for Rudy. Then too, the participants are spread all over Clarkston, Waterford and Ortonville.

But, don't let that discourage you from enterting. Don't forget the winner takes home $60 worth of beef and a number of gift certificates and prizes donated by participating businesses.

To begin our local election coverage, we decided to conduct a poll to find out what registered voters in Independence Township felt the issues were in this political campaign (see page 7).

We went in with some pre-conceived notions. We felt voters were disenchanted with the high taxes they were paying. We felt voters expected more township services than they were receiving. And we suspected township incumbents, would be running fairly even with their oppositions be

Were we in for a surprise. Obviously it would be incorrect to assume our poli is definitive. People may still be disenchanted with their local government. And certainly the vote could still show that in November. But right now, at least according to the people we talked to there's very little interest in changing the status quo.

Dear Editor:

The Board of the Clarkston Community Historical Society, on behalf of its members would like to thank the community for its support of the Sixth Annual Crafts and Cider

We are most grateful to the Village of Clarkston and Mr. Gar Wilson and, also, Independence Township, and Mr. George Anderson and the Lakeview Cemetery for their help with grounds preparation and setup. The Society always receives many comments about the lovely park setting and the open friendly atmosphere it provides.

The participation of area civic groups always insures an interesting, successful fair. This year we are grateful to St. Daniel's Women's Guild, the Clarkston Village Players, the Clarkston Band Boosters, the Clarkston Senior High Mimes and the Clarkston Women's Farm and Garden Club.

We, also, owe thanks to the Clarkston News and the Reminder for their coverage which helped to make this year's attendance the best ever.

The Festival was angreat success. We enrolled 41 new members in the Society during the weekend and added $3,500 to our treasury. Both the new members and the funds will be of great help in our continuing preservation and education programs.

We are already looking forward to the next successful Craft's and Cider Festival, September 18, 19, and 20, 1981!

Sincerely, Clarkston Community Historical Society Susan Basinger President

commentary by Reminder staff writer Dawson Bell

In the next few weeks The Reminder will be interviewing some of the candidates for local office in the Clarkston area.

In the past it has often been difficult to choose between two candidates running for local office because neither had ever expressed any positions more explicit than, "I feel I would be the best man/woman for the job." We thought, then, that if we polled the elctorate to help us understand what they thought the issues were and how they felt about them we would be able to ask better questions...maybe even get opposing candidates to disagree about something specific.

Before we can ask better questions of the candidates, however, it appears we better think of some better questions for our poll.

Regrettably, it was like pulling teeth to get any response from the people we talked to on what local issues they were most concer-

Many hadn't thought about it. And a lot of people simply said, "What do you mean? There aren't any local issues.'

It is understandable, in a year in which many voters can't decide on a presidential candidate, for the offices of township supervisor and clerk to be overlooked.

But it is a little bit surprising for local issues to be so little thought of in the year following so many local brou-ha-has.

Although it would be inaccurate to say that the feelings aroused by the Pine Knob and Levy gravel pit questions have altogether subsided, it does seem that they have not stirred much general feeling of unrest among voters.

In fact, probably the most startling result of our poll was the relative satisfaction of the people we talked to.

72 percent said they were satisfied with local government. Perhaps not with the same enthusiasm that they would have said they were satisfied with the way the Lions were playing this year, but certainly not up in ar-

An incredible 71 percent seem to feel that township taxes are reasonable. Again, answers were couched in language like, "Well no taxes are reasonable, but this township isn't as bad as some."

Although the pressure of rapid growth in the township did concern many people, a full two thirds said they were satisfied "with the present rate and quality of growth in the

With notable exceptions for high-rises and gravel pits. 54 percent were still opposed to the Pine Knob Hotel and 77 percent to additional gravel pit mining.

Unfortunately for us, we are not likely to find any of the candidates coming out foursquare behind gravel pits. Nobody wants to make the choice that easy.

For now, the incumbents seem to be in pretty good shape. And if the challengers hope to unseat them, they will have to do a better job of cultivating voter unrest than we were able to with our poll

PP & K October 11

This year P.P. & K. will not be sponsored by the Ford Motor Company and the National Football League as in previous years. However, the Clarkston Jaycees in cooperation with The Coach's Corner are still hosting this event on Saturday, October 11th. at 10:00 a.m. at the Clarkston "Wolves" High School Football Field.

Eighteen trophies will be presented to kids who are between the ages of 8 and 13 years old.

Boys and girls can sign up for P.P. & K. at the Coach's Corner, located at 12 South Main Street, Clarkston or at the Football Field on October 11th.

Hypnosis Clinics Scheduled

The Independence Township Recreation Department will give Clarkston area residents a chance to lose weight and stop smoking with hypnosis clinics that help eliminate the pain that usually accompanies dieting or nicotine withdrawal.

The Self Psych clinics will be conducted by Clinical Hypnotist John Greer on Tuesday, October 14, at Clarkston-Independence Township Hall.

Greer's stop smoking clinic will be at 7 P.M. Tuesday, October 14. His weight control clinic will be at 8:30 P.M. the same evening.

To register, call the Independence Township Recreation Department at 625-8223.

Health Education Day

The volunteer Guild of Sinai Hospital of Detroit is sponsoring its second annual free Health Education Day from noon to 5 p.m. on Sunday, October 12 at the Jewish Community Center in West Bloomfield.

Over 40 exhibits, demonstrations and screening clinics will be featured. Free classes on various medical topics, ranging from weight control to cardiopulmonary resuscitation will also be part of the day's program.

Footrace at County Park

Independence Oaks County Park hosts its third annual Ottawa Nation Footrace Sunday, October 12 beginning at 10:30 a.m.

"The Ottawa Nation Footrace has become a fall ritual for runners who want to get away from crowded city streets and take to the woods for a unique running experience," says Dr. Richard Mach, race director.

"Autumn's vibrant colors should be at their peak as runners of all ages and abilities journey through forests and meadows, and alongside Crooked Lake," he added.

The 2.5, 5.5 and 8.5 mile events will be over terrain varying from flat to rolling and hilly

There are 11 male and female age groups with Ottawa Nation medals awarded to the first and second place winners in each category.

Sponsors for the event are The Racer's Edge Magazine and the Oakland County Parks and Recreation Commission.

For more information on the race entry form, phone 625-0877 or 858-0915.

Why Have I Put Off Pre-Planning My Funeral?

The thought of one's own death is hard enough in itself! There is also the uneasiness of not knowing how to go about pre-planning your own funeral.

Perhaps reading some materials which present pre-plan facts and options would be helpful. We have specially prepared pamphlets you may take home and read at your convenience.

When you become acquainted with the facts, it will become apparent that three general stages of pre-planning are available:

- 1. Pre-Planning discussion of the important items you want included in your funeral with the person most likely to have to handle the details.
- 2. Pre-Arranging discussion of the details with the funeral director.
- 3. Pre-Financing which would include a contract between you and our funeral home covering the extent and cost of the services you specify.

In these days of serious inflation, you might wish to consider our Inflation-Proof Pre-Plan option.

Managers Withdraw

MORC Home Runs Into Snag

snag last week when J. Jamison Inc., the non-profit corporation which was to have managed the home, withdrew their application to the state for licensing.

An official at the Macomb-Oakland Regional Center said, however, that another manager would be found for the home and that no delays would result from Jamison's withdrawal.

Tom Miller, director of community services for MORC, said that Jamison's Gail Johnson, who would have run the home, "might have withdrawn because of the pressure, litigation and bureaucratic delays.'

The residents of Lake Oakland Woods and the Independence Township Board have both filed suits aimed at blocking establishment of the home. And the whole program seems to be coming under increasing fire all over the state.

But Miller said it was equally possible that Johnson left "because she got a job with another agency."

At any rate, he says MORC's position on the home remains unchanged.

They have an agreement with the home owners, they think they have located a new managing corporation, Karen Adams of Kay-Jan Inc., and if no further delays crop up in the licensing procedure he sees no reason why the home should be held up any longer than it already has been.

That is, assuming that the residents of LOW fail in their bid to get a temporary injunction blocking the home until they get a ruling on their lawsuit, which claims the home violates deed restrictions.

Miller, however, said the judge presiding on the injunction hearing, Hilda Gage, had already expressed her reluctance to block the home, and he seemed confident that occupancy was likely in the near future.

Reminder Polls Independence Township Voters

Between September 26 and September 30 The Reminder conducted a survey of 90 registered voters in Independence Township--all chosen randomly from our new Community Phone Book. There are over 9,000 registered voters in the township so the survey represents approximately 1%. No claim to scientific accuracy is made by us, but we think you will find the results interesting.

What issues do you judge to be the most important in determining your vote in upcoming township elections?

--Only a third of those we talked to could identify a specific issue or attitude that they knew would influence their vote.

Are you satisfied with the direction township policies have taken under current leadership?

--63% yes 25% no 12% undecided

People just don't seem to be thinking very much about township politics yet. Many said they would wait until they read the candidates statements in the paper, or until they had talked to someone who knew the issues or candidates, before they would start thinking about their own positions.

For those who could name issues, "taxes," "budget handling", "fiscal responsibility", and other money matters seemed to be the most important. For others, zoning and building ordinances, police and fire services, and management of growth were significant.

Very few people, however, indicated that they expected to be able to make a choice between candidates on issues alone. Party affiliation, personality, and gut feellings seemed to be just as important.

Whether they were dissatisfied with government in general or not, most people did not seem to feel that things were being horribly managed in Independence Township.

"Yes", in this case, is really more equivalent to, "Well, I guess so." But on the whole, "The bunch they got in there now are doing OK." is close to a popular opinion.

Those who were unhappy with the status quo were just about evenly split between residents who were irked by some particular action or inaction on the township's part (like dumping the local police department or not answering complaints) and those who felt that the present officeholders were "just doing a lousy job", spending too much money on the wrong things or nurturing pet projects.

Do you feel township taxes are reasonable?

--71% yes 24% no 5% undecided

Township taxes don't seem to be a big sore point with area voters. Many people said they had recently moved from areas like Troy or Southfield where they had to pay through the nose" in local taxes and were relieved when they got their first bill from Independence. Others felt that the township board had done a pretty good job of limiting millage proposals.

The overall property tax levy, though, recleved some criticism from those who felt that; either the assessment values placed on their property was too high or the portion allotted to the schools was too large.

Do you feel township services are adequate?

--64% yes 28% no 8% undecided

"For the money, they're pretty good," was a typical response to this question. The fire department, parks, senior center and, to a lesser extent, police protection all received praise in the poll.

Probably half of the negative response on township services came from people who didn't think the sheriff's department was as responsive to local needs as the old township force had been, or from those who thought the township should do something more about road maintenance.

A smaller percentage of residents thought the township should provide more "city" services, like free garbage pick-up and street lighting.

The question of growth and development in Independence Township is seen by many as a crucial issue in this election. Would you say that, in general, you are satisfied with the present rate and quality of growth in the area?

--67% yes 25% no 8% undecided

For all the talk about controlling growth in our area, more than two-thirds of those we polled said they were satisfied with the present rate of growth. Although quite often qualifying their yes by saying, "...as long as it doesn't get any worse."

Of those who were unhappy about the present rate of growth, however, many were outspokenly critical of the role the township government had been playing in the process.

Citing, "haphazard approval of destructive developments", "over-crowding of commercial areas", and "the sell-out of Clarkston's future", these voters called growth in the area--just plain "too fast".

Others called it "too fancy--it's difficult for a middle class family to make it out here anymore." And, a few, "too slow"-- "We need things like Pine Knob to give our kids a place to work."

Are you opposed to the Pine Knob Hotel?

--54% yes 40% no 6% undecided

Opposition to the Pine Knob Hotel seems to have abated somewhat. Our figures don't indicate quite as much widespread opposition to the project as was evidenced at last year's referendum.

Perhaps, since the issue has vanished into the court system people are less inclined to worry over it. Some seemed resigned, having cast their vote and hoping for the best.

At any rate, fewer people who were opposed to the hotel seemed to hold the township board responsible for mishandling the whole business than might have been expected.

Nor did proponents seem inclined to blame the board for ultimately trying to block construction.

Are you opposed to additional gravel pit mining in the township?

--77% yes 13% no 10% undecided

Gravel pits, for whatever reason, are unpopular with a substantial majority of township residents. "Yes"; in this instance, is equivalent to "Yes".

If you voted today, would you choose to elect:

Supervisor Whitey Tower dem.--39% Jim Smith rep.--29% undecided--32% Clerk Chris Rose rep.--58% Karen Herron dem.--17% undecided--25% Treasurer
Fred Ritter dem.--46%

Springfield-Oaks Fall Festival Features Local Women's Works

Sandy Webster has been weaving baskets for the past three years and teaching the art for almost as long.

Sandy's designs are just a few of the many art creations that will be featured at the Women's Works Festival to be held on October 10th and 11th at the Springfield Oaks County Park on Andersonville Road.

Hidden away in the secluded woods off Dilley Road in Davisburg, the Webster home not only displays Sandy's handy work but also utilizes it in the form of bread baskets used in the kitchen and the plant holders that can be found throughout the house.

In addition to making and selling her own hand woven designs, Sandy also takes "custom orders to suit the tastes of individual buyers."

Most of the "splints", which are thin strips of ash wood are imported from Indochina; however, last summer Sandy was taught by an Indian friend the age old technique of gathering one's own splints. "This was a lot of fun," according to Sandy, "but you have to be a committed basket weaver. It was very time consuming." Kitty Parks of Oakhill Road in Clarkston also has a home that shines with an artist's

How to collect your bounty...

The local merchants on the left have been found guilty of cattle rustling and are "wanted" cow-pokes. If you can correctly match these suspicious-looking characters with their proper place of business (covered wagons) then you will be eligible for the reward ($60.00 worth of beef). Everyone can enter except employees of The Reminder and of the participating merchants.

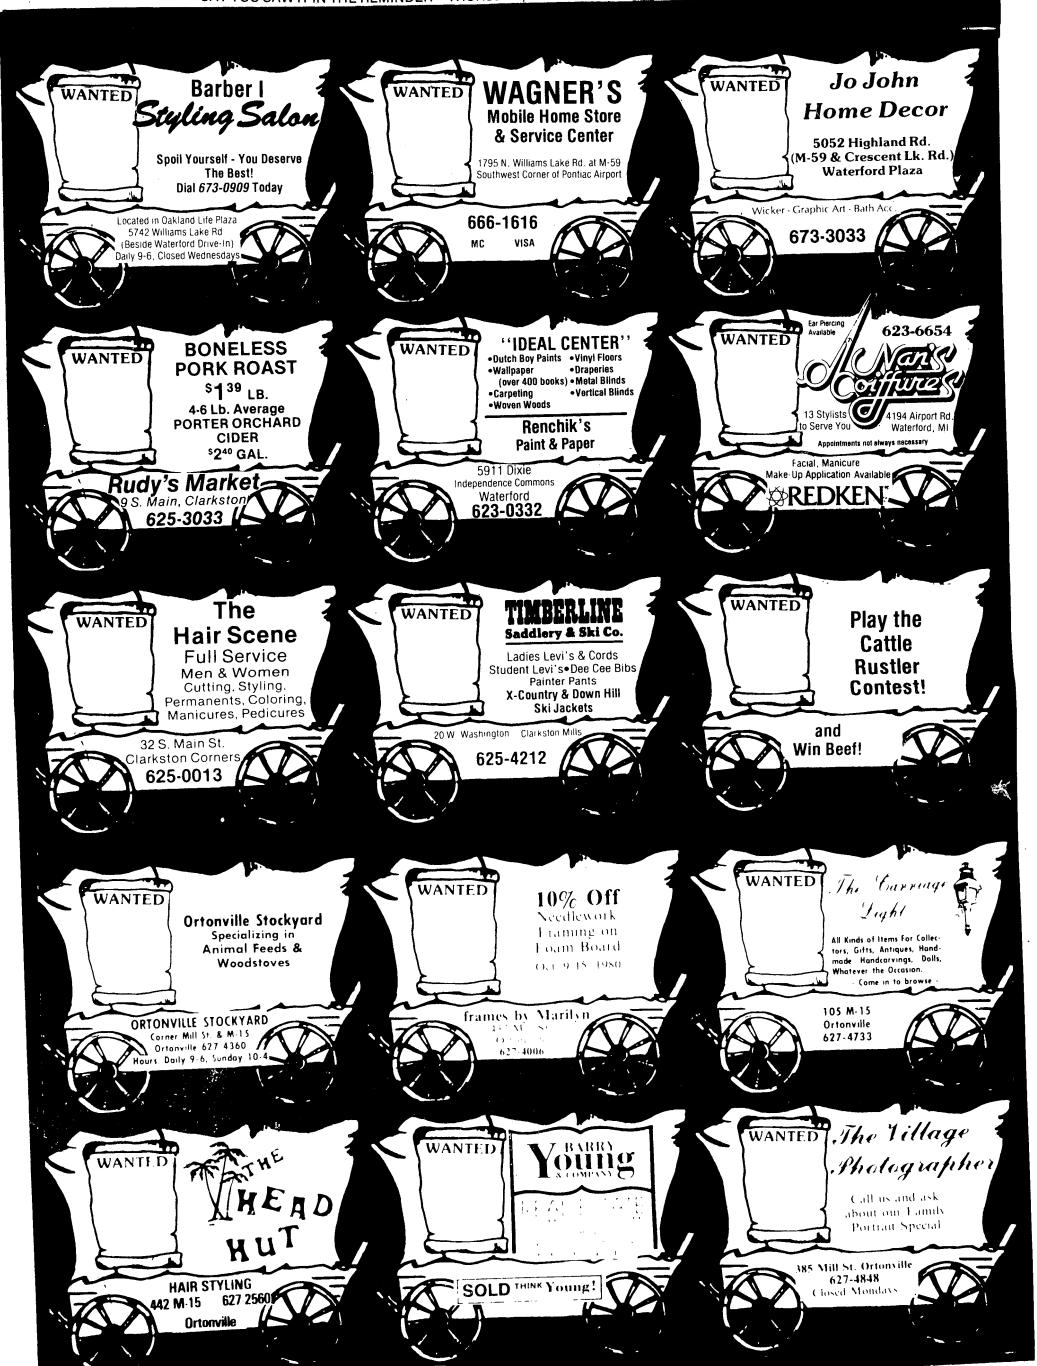

Just cut out their pictures and glue or tape them on the wanted posters on each covered wagon. Then mail or bring these pages to the Reminder office at 6561 Dixie Hwy., Clarkston, Michigan 48016.

The first correct entry drawn each week will receive the reward. Enter now, enter often.

Take a few minutes, get a posse together (the kids) and have some fun.

Springfield Discuses BOAC Code

by Kathy Rush

The regular monthly meeting of the Springfield Township Board held on Wednesday, October 1, began with a discussion of a letter sent to the board from Fire Chief, Marlan Hillman, requesting that the BOAC Fire Prevention Code which requires regular, periodic inspections for commercial and industrial facilities and private homes be Supervisor, Collin Walls, displayed a reluctance to adopt the complete package which includes the inspection of already existing homes on the basis that this action could constitute invasion of privacy. "We should make sure we do not get in over our heads.'

'It also scares me there will be no one doing this job on a full-time basis," said

Walls will arrange a meeting with Hillman, Building Inspector, Lewis Benfield and the Board to discuss this Code and its enforcement prior to any decision on its adoption.

As in past years, the Tax Collection Fee was waived as was the penalty fee for senior citizens who have filed but not received their Homestead Tax Credit prior to February 14th.

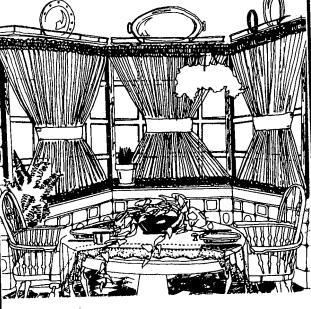

Another important topic of discussion was the 9 member Economic Development Corporation (EDC) Board, approved at last month's meeting. Adoption of the by-laws and setting up funding procedure were the two main objectives of the debate.

The EDC Board, which reviews and approves the tax-exempt bonds for the funding of new construction and additions, has had several meetings recently, during which the members set up proposed by-laws by which the board will be governed. These by-laws were accepted and approved by the township board.

A decision to allow $500 to be made available to the EDC Board if needed from the Building Departmennt also was approved.

Clerk, Calvin Walters, the one township board member who is required to be a member of the EDC Board said that, "the money may not be something that is required immediately," but feels it necessary to have the funding be made available "in case we do need it.

Holly Performs at MSU Band Day Halftime

On Saturday, September 27, the Holly Marching Bronchos played "How the West Was Won'' while performing a two-minute marching routine in their special pregame show at Michigan State University's Band Day in Spartan Stadium. Holly was one of 34 bands featured before the start of the football game between M.S.U. and Western Michigan University, which M.S.U. won, 33-7. This was the first time that the Holly High School Band, under director William Deal, performed individually at M.S.U. Band

At the halftime of the football game, all of the 34 bands which came to Spartan Stadium marched onto the field and into a formation of the initials, "M S U'', the Holly band formed the upper part of the "U". The massed bands performed the songs "Love Boat'', ''One'' (from the musical, ''A Chorus Line"), "Hot Stuff", and the opening theme from Picture" before a sellout crowd of 76,000 people.

After the end of the game, some of the best bands in the state, including Charlotte, Grandville, and the national champion band, Flushing, performed full shows for the many remaining bands and fans to watch.

Oakland Parks Acquire Orion Land

The Oakland County and Recreation Parks Commission at its regular meeting Wednesday (10-1-80) voted to join the Michigan Department of Natural Resources in the acquisition of property in Orion Township owned by the Chrysler Corporation by acquiring some 900 acres of the 2,400 acre tract.

The Oakland County Parks contribution to the purchase totaling $5.5 million would be $500,000. The remainder of the purchase price will come from federal and state funds.

The parks commission also directed manager R. Eric Reickel to research possible funding alternatives for Oakland Counportion of acquisition and recommendations within 60 days.

Oakland County The Parks and Recreation Commission does currently have an excess of funds to make such a land acqusition at this time, according to Reickel.

"We will be vestigating methods of purchasing the property without jeopardizing plans for our existing capital development program,' Reickel explained.

poetry

Employees celetrated the Clarkston Cinema's 2nd Anniversary under the ownership of Mr. & Mrs. Dan Daniel by presenting the owners with a cake and the following poem:

We all know how hard you've worked
To make the Cinema a better place
And although we try real hard,
it's not easy to keep up with your pace,
We know when business is slow,
You'd love to scream and shout
But isn't it just worth the nights
You've said "Sorry, we're sold out!"
You've helped out local charities.
And kicked rowdie's out just the same
But in the two years you've been here,
You've given Clarkston Cinema a better

In conclusion Mr. & Mrs. Daniel in our eyes you both are winners So here we are at Nanjo's And we hope you enjoy Your dinner's.

DREAMS

For here I am oh yonder heart A beating dream where love will start My pulse it races, my blood runs thin I long for my love, to begin.

As I sit in my old seat Waiting for my love to meet The more I wait, the more I yearn Soon my heart will start to burn.

If my love should now appear I'd hold her close and call her dear For she be sent from up above And be the one I'd call my love.

Library Topic Junk Food

The Independence Township Library's 11 AM Pre-School Story for Wednesday October 15 includes the Junk Food Film and Junk Food Man, two films that take a comic look at the food we often eat.

The 4:30 PM Movie Hour features Brake Free, a story set in the White Mountains of New Hampshire, and the Boy With Glasses, a sensitive look at a young boy growing up.

The Friends of the Library is sponsoring a Paperback Book Sale at the Library on October 22 - 23 in honor of Michigan Library Month. For further information, contact the Library at 625-2212.

Holly High Starts New Jazz Band

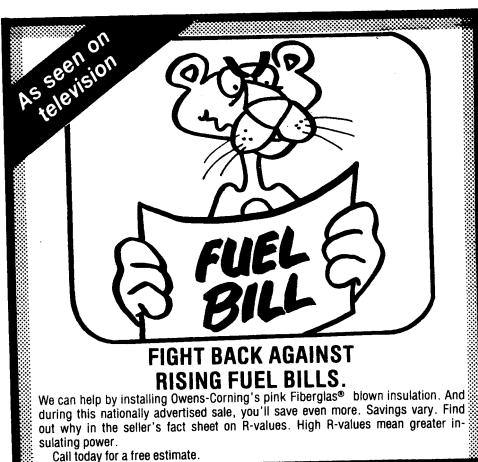

A jazz band has been started as a new course at Holly High. Now having fifteen members, the jazz band, under band director William Deal, will put on four concerts during the year and will operate entirely independent from the full high school band.

The jazz band plays old jazz, rock, pop music and folk rock in a more-or-less informal band setting. The band now has four saxophones, three trumpets, three trumbones, three drummers, one pianist and one guitarist.

Thieves' Carnival Opens Meadow Brook Theatre

Harry Ellerbe and Polly Rowles at Meadow Brook

Vereen, Brenner, Rivera Headline Music Hall

Ben Vereen, the high energy singer and dancer who was the biggest hit of Music Hall's highly successful Headliner Series last year, will return to lead a veritable parade of stars into the 1980-81 edition. Nine different show business "names" have been signed for this five show series, resulting in multiple attractions for several of the engagements.

Vereen, who went on to star in television's 'Tenspeed and Brownshoe" will appear the week of November 11-16. Broadway star Chita Rivera is next on the series, December 2-7, with Julius Wechter and the Baja Marimba Band opening that show.

Comedian David Brenner, will bring his Las Vegas one-man-show to the Music Hall for the week of February 24-28 as the third Headliner attraction. From March 31 through April 5, singer-songwriter-humorist Paul Williams will share the spotlight with musical comedy star Carol Lawrence, and Count Basie and his orchestra will climax the series May 26-31 with a show that also features singers Anita O'Day and Joe Season tickets, are now on sale and orders will be accepted until October 17. Those interested in season tickets or free brochures should call 963-6943.

Terence Kilburn, the Artistic Director of the Meadow Brook Theatre, announced the cast for the professional theatre's opening play of its 15th season, Thieves' Carnival, which will bow Thursday, October 9, on the campus of Oakland University.

Authored by French playwright Jean Anouilh and translated by Lucienne Hill, Thieves' Carnival is a comedy romance set in a French resort in 1912.

features The cast Meadow Brook favorites and several Meadow Brook newcomers. Returning favorites include Polly Rowles who has given outstanding performances in Meadow Brook's productions of The Show-Off and Ring Round The Moon. Harry Ellerbe, who has appeared in 13 Meadow Brook plays, most recently captured audiences and critics alike for his portrayal of Grandpa Vanderhof in last spring's Meadow Brook closer, You Can't Take It Withh You.

Opening week performances of Thieves' Carnival are scheduled at 8:30 p.m. on Thursday and Friday, 2 p.m and 8:30 p.m. on Saturday and 6:30 p.m on Sunday. The following three weeks will offer performances at 8:30 p.m., Tuesday through Friday: 6 pm and 9:30 p.m. on Saturdays, 6.30 p.m. on Sundays and 2 p.m. on Wednesdays The threatre is dark on Mon-

Tickets for Thieves' Carnival, which will run from October 9 through November 2, 1980, may be purchased by calling the Meadow Brook Theatre box office, 377-3300, after October 1.

Patti and Debbie, who attend many seminars throughout the year on make-up artistry, are both certified beauty advisors, a requirement for all employees of the studio.

"Merle Norman Cosmetics have proven themselves to be the very best," said Debbie, as shown by their upcoming 50th year anniversary. "They go beyond FDA standards," she added.

Patti says, "I refuse to sell any other brand of make-up and personally I would not switch to any other type...ever. It's that good!"

Both Patti and Debbie agree that many of their older customers testify to this fact.

"Last week we had two customers--one 88 and the other 96 years old, who have been faithful users of Merle Norman Cosmetics for at least thirty years. They had complexions like that of a thirty year old," they said.

As a part of their program, Patti's New Image evaluates each person individually and designs a customized skin-care and/or make-up regime for each customer.

The studio also offers free sessions that teach the customer how to apply the make-up plus free follow-up consultations.

Expect to Visit Hair Salon Once a Month in 80's

Nancy Overfield has been styling hair since 1965 and has some very definite ideas on the state of the art at present and what to expect for the future.

"The woman of the 80's will visit a salon about once a month to have her hair trimmed and styled or perhaps permed or colored." Nancy feels the customer should expect the stylist to teach her how to maintain this style between visits.

"Women who have in the past maintained their own hair, will more and more depend on the hair stylist for new designs.

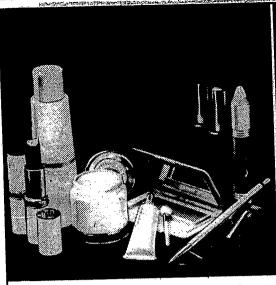

"Because hair is taking on a more dressed looked, it is probable that natural drying will phase out by the mid 80's." Probably by that time new types of drying systems will be introduced, Nancy believes.

"At the moment hair is being worn longerit's likely that hair will be worn straight and shorter by 1982, although, not as hard as in the 60's and early 70's.

"Hair coloring is the big fashion trend for the early 80's. Hair ornaments such as hair clips and combs are also becoming increasingly fashionable.

"Deep penetrating hair treatments are becoming more acceptable, generally, rather than just hair conditioners." Nancy credits hair conditioners to doing little more than untangling hair.

function of every good style and it must be perfect. It should be cut at least every four weeks. If it is left a longer time, it will become far too untidy since hair does grow unevenly. Very short hair should be cut every three weeks."

Nancy is owner of Nan's Hair Designs on Airport Road in Waterford. Her main objective in her business at this point is motivating and educating her thirteen stylists.

"I am spending an astronomical amount of money on educating my girls on all the new techniques." said Nancy. This is caused by the fact that she has professionals brought directly into her salon for on-the-job training rather than attending the usual seminars where the stylists outnumber the teachers many times over.

On the subject of hair care products, Nancy says, "The public at large purchase their hair care products at drug and department stores. Only 20% of the public currently buy products from the hairdressers and, yet, research shows that most customers--as high as 90%--would feel more comfortable and confident buying from a professional hairdresser."

Nancy realizes the mini hair care center in her own salon which stocks a complete section of professional products is a must as they are the professionals and the most competent to advise the public on hair care.

Nancy foresees fewer once a week customers and many more once a month clients. "This means that it is imperative that a stylist not only know what she is doing, but why, so she is able to pass on a self-care technique to the client.

"It's an exciting future for both customer and hairdresser because there are so many options that give us the opportunity to reflect the individual personality of each client."

Going Natural (Foods) Is In

Going natural is the "in" thing these days, from childbirth to hairstyles to food consumption.

Watch out Hamburger Helper, Captain Crunch and Shake and Bake because "Simply Natural" has recently come to town.

Simply Natural is a health food store located in the Waterfall Plaza which opened a short time ago under the management of NancyGalbraith from Waterford.

The store carries a wide variety of health promoting products; unrefined flour, soybeans, bread, cheese, wheat germ, milk, eggs, yogurt, butter, honey and Haagen-Dasz ice cream.

Nancy also has a complete line of natural vitamins and a counter filled with soaps and beauty aids.

One of the most unique features at Simply Natural is the 3-stool bar located in the back of the store. One will not be offered a Gin and Tonic, Ameretto or Beer at this bar, but rather a variety of different juices including Pineapple and Papaya; also frozen yogurt and peanut butter processed right before your eyes that contains no added preservatives.

Nancy has been interested in health food for the past twelve years.

"In the ten weeks I have been in business, I've met nothing but very happy, pleasant people," said Nancy. Also she stressed her surprise in the number of young people who are actively interested in health food.

My job here is to make recommendations, please my customers and hopefully help people to stay healthy," added Nancy.

Julie LePere and Alex Campe

Athletes of the Week

They Take Their Tennis Seriously

by Dawson Bell

Life on the courts for the CHS girl's tennis team isn't quite as hilarious as it once was. After two winless seasons in a row, they are now playing perilously close to .500.

Things have changed too for last year's "dynamic duo", senior doubles team Julie LePere and Alex Campe.

Playing competitive tennis for the first time last year, that is, learning how to keep score for the first time, was, for them, more than a learning experience--it was something of a carnival.

In head-to-head competition with veteran doubles teams from tennis powers West Bloomfield and Rochester they were often overpowered.

But Julie and Alex earned respect in other ways. Like passing out fortunes before a match, or providing formidable opponents with "brownies for better backhands".

This year, playing on a team that actually wins once in awhile, their social program has been toned down a little.

Julie and Alex took a few lessons at the Deer Lake Racquet Club to improve their strokes and strategy, and they no longer have trouble keeping score.

Sometimes it's even in their favor.

As teammate, Merci Sanchez, pointed out, "They still make friends with the other team."

But then, neither Julie or Alex are aiming for the Virginia Slims circuit; they can afford to be friendly.

After high school the girls say they will continue to play tennis recreationally and both play other varsity sports - Julie, volleyball and Alex, softball.

But after the close of the fall season tennis coach, Becky Craig, will be looking for another doubles pair. And, perhaps more difficult, she'll have to find some new social directors".

21 Points Second Half Keeps Wolves Unbeaten

by John Huttenlocher

Despite the snow and freezing winds, the Clarkston Wolves held their ground and battled back for a 21-0 homecoming thrashing over the Lake Orion Dragons.

The Wolves did not seem very motivated the first half, and took a 0-0 tie into the lockerroom. The second half was more typical of the Wolves. Clarkston clawed away at Lake Orion's offense, resulting in a number of Dragon penalties and turnovers.

Midway through the third period Wolves quarterback Brad Sheldon hit tight-end Kevin Krause in the end zone for a 27-yard The kick touchdown. failed, but Clarkston finally had scored. Minutes later, the Wolves scored again. This time it was Karl Fritzinger scampering 31 yards for another Clarkston touchdown. Clarkston's Mark Hughes ran in the ball for 2 extra points and the Wolves were rolling along 14-0.

In the fourth quarter Kraus scored again. This time on a 2-yard pass from Sheldon. Defensive standout Ron Fenely added the extra point to finish the game 21-0.

The Wolves out rushed Lake Orion by 223 yards. Brad Sheldon threw all his passes to Kevin Krause. Krause caught 5 passes for 92 yards and Sheldon's sixth pass came up short.

Clarkston goes to 3-0 in the G.O.A.L., and 5-0 overall. Clarkston's chilly Homecoming Queen was Nancy Dennis.

or convalescence room. The living room and dining room are rectangular in shape and are endowed with wall space for furniture placement.

The breakfast room and dining room are about the same size but the breakfast room has built-in desk and pantry. The adjacent kitchen is also large and includes all the modern conveniences.

There is a central full bath and there is a laundry adjacent to the double garage entry. The family room boasts a permanent stair to bonus room, a wet bar, fireplace, vaulted ceiling and deck access. Deck access is also from the breakfast room.

The plan is Number 3117. It includes a total of 3,169 square feet of heated area including game room. All W. D. Farmer plans include special construction details for energy efficiency. For further information write W. D. Farmer, P.O. Box 49463, Atlanta, Ga.
