Hardy Residents Take Sub Zerio Temp in Stride

Frigid Cold No Big Deal

by Mike Wilcox

Although the frigid cold and high winds that swept through this area last Saturday-Sunday-Monday have been called by many experts the worst ever, life, for most of us went on with nary a hitch.

went on with nary a hitch.

The Oakland County Sheriff's Department reported no fatalities in this area due to the cold. Patrolmen were being kept busy with numerous stalled cars, but few, if any serious accidents were attributed to the nasty weather.

The Independence Township Fire Department reported no fires during the three-day period. That's fortunate because Chicago and Detroit, both encountered extreme difficulties in attempting to extinguish flames while battling the wind and cold.

Pontiac General Hospital reported no frostbite cases, although they did treat one patient for hypothermia.

Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital indicated an increase in first degree frostbite on hands and feet caused by people pushing or jumping cars. A spokesperson at the hospital, noted however, that they anticipated more problems than they had. He attributed the lack of problems to effective media presentations on the danger of cold.

Clarkston Schools, as well as every other school in the area, closed Monday because of the danger of frostbite to children waiting for buses. A blower motor at Sashabaw Junior High was replaced Saturday, but it couldn't be determined whether the cold weather had caused its failure or not.

The Michigan Humane Society reported they had received several calls about animals being left out in the cold, not-none were of grave concern.

Village Total in Clarkston claimed they had no increase in towing calls. However, their garage was busy with an array of problem autos unable to withstand the extreme cold.

Therm Nichols, owner of Nichols Heating and Cooling also downplayed the weather. He did indicate people with oil tanks outside were reporting more frozen lines than normal. He also sounded a warning that after an extreme cold period, many furnaces have problems because they have been overworked.

The picture wasn't-as rosy as some would like us to think, however.

Family Plumbing Inc. claimed their business had quadrupled.

And Pine Knob Ski Resort had to shut its doors at 1 p.m. on Sunday. Mt. Holly followed suit, shutting down at 4 p.m.

Random phone calls to area residents found several complaining of frozen pipes and an inability to keep their homes heated sufficiently.

Mrs. Gordon McIntyre of Dogwood Boulevard, Clarkston, said her water pipes froze solid but she closed all her registers and turned her thermostat up to 80 degrees and her pipes eventually thawed.

Byron Zink of Teggerdine Road in Springfield Township said his daughter's car wouldn't start and his neighbor's pump froze.

Jim Bohl of Pine Knob Road complained of frozen pipes and Walter Osmond of Hummingbird Lane said his house was a frigid 60 degrees despite the thermostat registering at 70 degrees.

The National Weather Service said the temperature was at its lowest point on Sunday when the area wind chill factor dipped to a -61 degrees fahrenheit. The -8 degrees actual temperature, however, was not a record for this date. Back on January 10, 1917, the record low was -10 degrees.

Want to know what the record high is? Would you believe 63 degrees? That's what the National Weather Service reported for this area in 1890!

Q. My husband insists on keeping the same old worn out toothbrush. Can't this be harmful.

A. Worn and unclean toothbrushes can indeed be harmful. Worn bristles do not clean the plaque from teeth effectively, and the frayed ends can irritate gums. Toothbrushes not rinsed properly, and put away damp make excellent breeding grounds for bacteria and mildew. Brushes should be rinsed well, and after removing any excess water, left to dry thoroughly between uses. Buy your husband a new toothbrush. The price tag is small for helping keep his teeth healthy.

Frank G. Ronk, Fire Chief Independence Township Fire Department:

the focus of their work.

In the 15 or 16 meetings held, they reviewed alternatives in other communities, land considerations and studied demographics, met with local senior citizen and related agencies and some hospitals. The also reviewed 1978 studies done by United Community Services. A map created by Maryetta Bullard and Jane Kennedy showed most of the existing senior citizen facilities in Oakland County to be concentrated in the southern portion with few in the northern sector.

An informal interest survey of local senior citizens, a forerunner of the recent one in the township newsletter, showed the greatest interest to be in a retirement village concept fullfilling a variety of senior needs.

Task force members visited a number of facilities in the state but were most impressed with Porter Hills in Grand Rapids with its emphasis on independent living. The complex includes duplexes, garden apartments, suites for singles and couples, and supportive care facilities. There are recreation rooms, a solarium, craft facilities, Volberding said as a result of their investigations they had encountered a number of groups and individuals interested in providing senior citizen facilities in Independence Township. Among them are an lowa firm with a good reputation; according to Volberding, St. Joseph Hospital, some Grosse Pointe people interested in moving their present facility and some local developers. Notable among the local people interested is Hugh Garner who has thirty acres of land adjacent to Deer Lake Farms at 1-75 and the Dixie Highway.

Task force members were so enthused about the prospect of a retirement village in the township they wanted to continue their work at least through a preliminary proposal to submit to the board. Volberding also suggested the committee be expanded eventually into a larger steering committee of people with experience in banking, insurance, health care, and other areas of benefit to senior citizens.

Volberding cautioned board members that a retirement village did not meet the total needs of the community, that subsidized housing should be a consideration although the present economic conditions put it farther into the future. In the meantime, the village would meet the needs of some Medicare, Medic-aid recipients and would be financed privately without a tax on the community or a reliance on federal funds.

The task force's report was accepted with appreciation and its members were urged to continue their work.

UPDATE INFORMATION

When we reported our serious fire of December 26th, we were not aware that there was far more damage than originally estimated. However, this unhappy situation has been offset by the complete and uncomparable cooperation of everyone involved. Bob Wood, our associate, Diane and I wish to thank each and every one.

Again our special thanks to Bob Coats, owner of Coats Funeral Home in Drayton Plains. We have conducted services from his funeral home and the families assured us they were satisfied and were generous with their comments. Because of Bob's cooperation we are able to remain in business.

It appears that we will be back to normal within the original time schedule. Our new root is completed, heat has been restored and we are continuing to maintain regular office hours and telephone service.

The number of people who have helped and are helping is unbelievable. Our gratitude to all cannot be measured in words.

Sincerely, Lew and Diane Wint 625-5231

Is Our Federal Government a Deadbeat?

According to recent report from the General Accounting Office (GAO) the Federal Government is now averaging 74 days to pay their bills after they become due.

That in essence means the government is borrowing over one billion dollars each year from small business alone, without paying interest.

If we tried to get away with that kind of late payment schedule as individuals, we'd be labeled a bad credit risk, or worse yet, a deadbeat.

But the government continues to get deeper and deeper into debt, and longer and lenger as to when they pay their bills.

The owner of a cleaning business in Connecticut testified before the Senate Small Business Committee that he had been trying to collect $10,000 from the Navy for five months. He pointed out that the money was collecting no interest, meeting no payroll, nor covering any of his operating expenses.

An owner of a New Jersey firm noted he was constantly in a financial bind because of delinquent federal payments. Many others claimed they had similar problems.

Something has to be done about this ever increasing problem and Congressman William Broomfield as well as others are sponsoring a Bill that just may force earlier payments.

The Bill, which is in the hearing stage on Capitol Hill would require the government to pay its bills within 30 days. Bills that were not paid would be subject to interest

Furthermore, the Bill would require that every three months each department and agency publish in the federal register its late payments. In addition they would have to submit an annual report to the Office of Management and Budget and Congress that would detail each late payment.

The time has come that the government treat small business like it expects to be treated. If Uncle Sam expects us to pay him on time, then he in turn ought to be able to pay within thirty days.

Unicameral Legislature Makes Sense

Dear Editor:

On a recent trip to the capitol, I found some very interesting proposals for legislation called Resolution "N". This was recently introduced to the Michigan legislature by representative Claude A. Trim (Davisburg). The basis of the legislation is to change our form of government to a one body house rather than the current, rather confused, two body legislator. (Unicameral rather than bicameral).

This would reduce the number of

This letter is to point out a problem in the above referenced publication. Listed under Springfield Township Fire Department is a Clarkston phone number (625-4802), which is the number at the Springfield Township offices. We do not have a Clarkston phone number for the Fire Department. As you can well imagine, we may have a disastrous situation on our hands if someone attempting to reach the fire department calls the published Clarkston number and gets no answer or gets someone at the township office. I would request that you publish, in a very prominent manner, some indication that the number in your Clarkston Community Phone Book for the fire department is not correct. The proper number for the Springfield Township Fire Department is 634-8611.

Sincerely. Collin W. Walls Supervisor Springfield Township legislators in our state from one hundred and forty eight down to seventy-two and in the process save approximately five million dollars in legislative salaries and would be further expected to reduce total cost by about twenty-five million dollars because of staff reductions, benefit reductions, as well as elimination of duplication services by both houses.

Further, Resolution "N" would certainly streamline the legislative process and reduce politicing as well as special interest lobbying. Currently, a bill is submitted to a committee in one house, then to the floor for a vote, then it is transmitted to the other house committee and then to the floor of that house until it is passed - often times it goes to a joint conference thereafter, and some events back through the whole process and back again. Other than being very time consuming and inefficient, it gives the opportunity for lobbyists to do their work more effectively but perhaps not in the best interest of all concerned. Further, it is not uncommon practice for one house to pass a bill knowing fair well that it will, fail in the next house but in the interim legislators will be able to appease certain special interest groups even though the ultimate demise of the bill was apparent -- just further inefficient government.

As a further positive factor accountability should be enhanced because some of the previously mentioned political tricks will be unavailable in a unicameral system. It would also reduce special interest lobbying efforts as they will not have any sources to strike and they will know that each legislator would be more accountable to his constituents.

It should be noted that literally all of our other municipal government systems (i.e. city, townships, counties) are unicameral systems and are not subject to the two house problems; event though at one time most of our local municipalities were a bicameral system as the State legislation now is. Nebraska was the first state to take the unicameral system into their form of government and a recent Kiwanis magazine praised the Nebraska legislature for their quality and effective work at reduced costs.

If I were to bet, I would say Resolution "N" would fail, but Representative Trim and others are committed to a petition drive and I, for one, will be lined up to sign.

Sincerely, Robert A. Olsen

Small Talk

Rebecca Roberts, once a writer for this newpaper--now turned columnist, will be writing "Small Talk" in The Reminder on a regular basis.

Men wearing skirts? Hold that sneer.

Just within the past few years we've supported ideas stranger than that. Since the Era of Information scuttled in with the coming of television, it seems we'll go along with whatever the Doers and Sayers do and say. Somebody said Pet Rock awhile back. We believed him by the millions, making the guy who dreamed it all up a millionaire almost immediately.

From "Mommie Dearest" tattle-tales to presidential peccadillos, we swallow ideas like fish gulping water.

I switched on the Phil Donahue Show the other morning, and there they were. Looking a little like beleagured New Centurions, three men smiled into my living room wearing their slightly hairier model of The

One of the three, a forty-ish permed but rugged looking man, was there plugging his new fashion line--all skirts, or dresses, cut to fit the male physique. Another had long wavy hair, and looked like Tiny Tim in granny glasses. He wore a tradition three-piece business suit, sort of battle-ship blue, with tie. Except, where there were supposed to be trousers, there weren't.

His legs were showing.

A third guest, apparently not wanting to show us his legs, showed us his argyle socks instead. Not pretty, but cleaner - shaven.

Before you form any wrong labels to pin on Donahue's skirted guests, let me say these men made it clear from the opening dialogue that they were neither gay transvestite nor of any other socially unordinary leanings. Heterosexuals, all. Despite this, several members of Donahue's audience dug into their stereotypical trenches and continued throughout the show's hour to take shots at the guests masculinity.

Why, in light of such abuse, would these people go so far out of their way to breach conformity? And as Donahue asked at one point, why does it matter so much?

The first question was easy for the men to answer. It was, they said, a "statement of freedom." If women can wear slacks, why can't men wear skirts?

Why indeed.

That gets us to the second question, one that is a lot more difficult to answer.

The Tiny Tim fellow in the three-piecer claimed skirts are more confortable for History supports these men in their skirts. Jesus wore a sort of wrap-around version, if we are to believe artists' conceptions. Scotsmen have worn kilts for centuries. The Roman toga was really just an early mini-

Not only has tradition shown skirts are not "for women only," during the sixties and early seventies even women didn't wear them. Until somebody talked us back into them.

Donahue's guests suggested clothing is a technology. And like technology, clothing should change to meet the demands of an evolving society. Perhaps men's skirts will be to the fashion industry what computers were to the electronics industry.

Except that computers don't come with built-in gender identification. Skirts apparently do.

In this country, anyway, skirts are feminine

It's such an old idea, that even the more liberated among us would shudder twice before giving it the nod.

But what about the women? Women wear slacks, and nobody calls them names.

As someone on Donahue's forum said, the industrial revolution made all the difference.

Yes indeed.

Technology. Machines. All those moving parts. Grease. Men in pants, doing the world's work. In the forties, the men went to war, and the women went to work - in slacks.

Now, with flex-hours, shorter workweeks, and the eight-hour day, the world of work has loosened up a bit. So there's more leisure. Remember the guy who said skirts are more comfortable? He wants the choice that women have enjoyed for the greater part of this century. He wants us to say it's OK for him and fellows everywhere to come home from the rat race wearing a skirt.

Out there somewhere are at least three men who are doing it without our OK.

The Reminder Sends Reporter, Guinea Pig to Find Out

Can Hypnosis Help You Stop Smoking?

by Denise Fox Luczki

As people filed up to the third floor of the Independence Township offices for last week's self-psych stop-smoking hypnosis clinic they appeared nervous about what was going to happen, unsure about its real effectiveness. Also detectable on faces was a glimmer of hope; hope that the hypnosis would work, that they really could quit smoking.

Sue Weingarden, a certified clinical hypnotist appeared efficient and bright. Her voice was pleasant and reassuring; her message positive and motivating.

"I can't make you quit smoking," she said.

"You have to do that yourself. You had to learn to be a smoker. You are going to learn to pull out non-smoking attitudes from your subconscious."

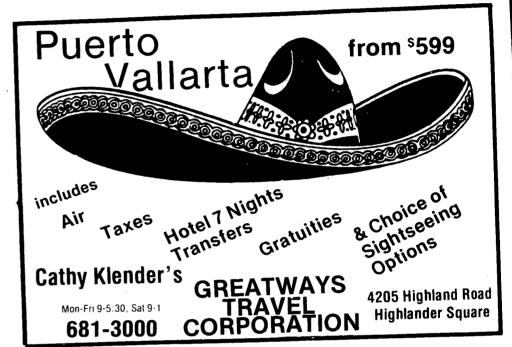

The hour-and-a-half session included four "hypnotic inductions". With each induction hypnosis was deeper and non-smoker attitudes were reinforced.

The background music was base dominated and slow. "Your desire to smoke gets weaker and weaker. You have decided to become a non-smoker." The tone of Sue's voice was even and soothing. "You are proud of your ability to be a non-smoker. This is your choice, your self-confidence, your con-

In addition to the positive motivation reinforced through hypnosis the stop-smoking clinic offers other helpful advice to potential non-smokers. Nutritional tips include the need to cut back on alcohol, tea, coffee and colas. Sue did not recommend eliminating these foods entirely = just cutting back on them. Sweets should be limited and water should be increased. Drinking large amounts of water is supposed to flush the nicotine from the body and calm the nerves. Brisk walks daily and frequent teeth brushing were also recommended.

Each participant receives brochures upon registering as well as a cassette tape. The tape reiterates hypnotic inductions held during the clinic, returning the listener to a hypnotic state for the duration of the tape.

To offset side effects of smoking the induction includes other motivators: "You will not feel irritable...You will not feel the urge to eat incessantly."

Hypnosis is completely safe Sue feels. "The hypnotist could be dangerous if he does not know what he's doing."

Two out of three people have immediate results with non-smoking; the long-term effects over the period of one year is 14 percent.

Fontaine Apmadoc, former Clarkston Village President, attended Self-Psych's stop-smoking clinic and the weight control clinic: "I'm so fond of sweets linever used to eat so many sweets. I have been told many times to guit smoking. But I wonder if I really can do this since I really don't want to."

It has been said that if you do something for twenty-one days it becomes a habit. Sue has clients fill out a progress card and mail it to Self-Psych after several weeks. So, in a few weeks we will be calling Self-Psych for their report, as well as check with Fontaine Apmadoc about her progress. Also, we will be following Chuck Renchik, sales representative for Nitelife. An avid smoker for many years, Chuck is determined to quit and to date has not smoked since attending the clinic. The follow-up story will appear as soon as progress results are in.

State Rec Areas Off Limits to Wood Cutters

Resources spokesman, Steve Dice, want you to know it is not legal.

Although it is illegal, the Holly Recreation Area, comprised of nearly 8,000 acres of wood and gameland, is feeling the sharp, cutting-edge of the unauthorized chainsaw, according to Bos.

State land as well as the State Parks and Recreation Area Rules state that a person shall not commit the following act in a state park or recreation area: "Destroy, damage, or remove state property, living tree or shrub, wild flowers, planted grasses, or other vegetation without first obtaining proper written permission.'

Except for several select cases, however, these free written permits have not been issued since at least 1977 when Bos undertook the position of park manager at Holly Recreation Area. This measure was brought into effect due to the gradual decrease of wood supply within the park acreage.

Then why are the trees making a mysterious disappearance leaving only the telltale signs of unwanted brush and sporadically located stumps?

It's not a mystery to Bob Bos or to Steve Dice. They say for the most part people are confused. "If they knew it was illegal, most people would not cut the trees," says Dice. .

"The public, invariably, is advised by the media - television programs and also newspapers -- to go to the nearest state land and pick up as much wood as they need because it is free, without mention of the required written permission," he says.

In some remote areas of the state this is a very true statement and it does apply. However, the fact is, cutting trees from state land and recreation areas without a written permit here in southern Michigan as well asportions of northern Michigan has been illegal since the late 1920's and if you are charged with this misdeameanor, it can include some very stiff fines depending upon the quantity and type of tree that is cut.

Both Bos and Dice are concerned that people, regardless of whatever else they may hear, should be informed that without written consent it is illegal to cut wood from all state land in Southern Michigan. This is so, even though it can be an appealing proposition in these times of rapidly rising fuel costs to those who have added wood stoves to their homes in an effort to save money in heat

As to why these treasured written permits have not been issued in over five years at the Holly Recreation Area and many other surrounding state parks as well, is simple. No longer is there a need to remove extra trees to help rebuild the woodland, as there has been in the past, says Dice. There used to be a time when the public was encouraged to help clear the land, but today, with the wood stove mania, the problem has gone to the other extreme.

During the past year, Bos said, three individuals were caught and issued substantial fines for illegally cutting trees within the Holly Recreation Area. "Just exactly how much of it goes on is really difficult to determine, but, as a conservative guess, three times more illegal incidents occur than

According to Bos, there are two major contributing factors to this problem, in addition to the lack of clarification of the laws. First, Holly Recreation Area supervision has been largely decreased as a result of cutbacks in state employment. And second, interspersed within the vast tract of land that makes up the park, are a number of privately owned sections of land. This, he said, also makes it difficult to effectively control activities.

The most recent incident of wood theft within the boundaries of the park occured off Jossman Road, just south of Grange Hall Road. Dice estimated at least six pick-up truck loads of wood were lost at that particular site alone.

They feel the only viable solution to the problem, prevalent on state property all across lower Michigan, is to make people aware that this practice is illegal and of the penalties that can be involved; also to encourage those people desiring to cut firewood from state land to contact the Department of Natural Resources to be issued the required written permit, when and if available.

Grapplers Boost Undefeated String to 7

The Clarkston wrestling team boosted their dual meet record to 7-0 Thursday, beating West Bloomfield 51-13 at West Bloomfield, but dropped in the state standings to 10th. Winning for Clarkston were: Greg Ellis at 100 pounds with a pin at 1:55, Al Wall at 107 pounds by a void, Mike Conway by a 7-0 decision at 114 pounds, Jeff Miracle at 140 pounds with a pin at 2:37, Andre Gourand with a pin in 4:57 at 147 pounds, at 169 pounds Bruce Burwitz pinned his opponent at 2:32, Tom Hecker at 187 pounds with a pin in 3:45, and Keith Edwards at 200 pounds and Mark Karrick at heavyweight both won due to voids.

Saturday, the grapplers went to Plymouth Salem for a tournament. Clarkston finished fourth with 132 points behind first place Salem with 172.5, Montrose with 145.5 and Westland John Glenn with 145. Although the Wolves lost by 40 points, their three matches in the finals that could have turned things around. Conway, Miracle and Hecker all reached the finals to come away in second place. Miracle's match was especially close as he lost a 2-2 tie on criteria. Others placing were Ellis and Jeff Lawrence with thirds, Wall finished fourth, Karrick and Burwitz were fifth and Gourand ended up sixth.

Injuries have begun to plague the matmen.

Starters Brad Moshler and Brian Dennison are both out and Hecker was hurt in his final round of Saturday's tourney. Coach Rick Detkowski still feels that his charges are not performing at their peak. "In the critical situations, the seniors aren't coming through." Reflecting that his team was losing to teams with coaches that have been around for a long time, Detkowski took some of the blame on himself, "It is a good possibility that I'm getting out-coached." He continued that he hoped he could find the mistakes in time for the Clarkston Invitational this Saturday at Clarkston High

Wolves Fall, 50-42

by Ron Wagner

The gym was packed to standing room only by the time the Varsity game started at Waterford Kettering last Friday. The overabundance of fans did not help Clarkston, however, as they lost 50-42.

The Wolfpack got off to a good start, winning the opening tip-off. Starters Mike Mc-Cormick, Rick Williams, Scott Temple, Ray Kubani, and Chris Bruce could not do much with that and allowed the Captains to take a 14-9 lead by the end of the first quarter. Early in the second quarter, Sophomore Craig Kulazewski stole a Kettering pass which was taken down the court for a Clarkston score. That put the Wolfpack on top with a score of 15-14. The Captains came back and the half ended in Kettering's favor 24-21.

Kettering retained a three to five point lead through the third quarter and most of the fourth. It was not until the final minute and one half that Kettering took a bigger lead. In trying to catch up, the Wolfpack committed fouls and turnovers instead of scoring points. With 11 seconds left on the clock and losing by a score of 50-40, coach Gary Nustad signaled for a timeout. Nustad "called the kids together and told them that I was proud of them." A last second shot put the final score at 50-42 in favor of Waterford

Kettering.

Turnovers and missed free throws were the biggest problems for the Wolfpack. According to Nustad, "We had to have had 20 turnovers," and they "missed free throws at key times." Overall, Nustad seemed pleased with his team's performance, including Kulazewski, who was moved up to Varsity to play point guard and allow McCormick to move to forward. That payed off as McCormick led the team with 19 points. Kubani had 14 points and 10 rebounds and Williams had 7 rebounds. The loss put Clarkston's record at 2-3 overall and 2-1 in the league.

What have you missed?

- Equity of a year of home ownership.
- Tax deductions
- A year's appreciation of value

Instead of napping for another year, why not talk to one of the Youngsters about finding just the right home for you...one with a cozy den, if you like.

Yes, you could just roll over and sleep until next year hoping for the housing market to change — there's always that chance. But most likely you'll wake up, a year from now, to find that nothing has really changed... except that housing costs have risen again.

Volleyball Team Shoots for 3rd Title

The first week in December, volleyball coach Linda Denstaedt held her try-outs. What she has come up with is a "very tough" team with a lot of potential. She has split the G.O.A.L. title with Rochester for the past two years and hopes to do the same, if not win it outright.

Denstaedt will rely most heavily on the abilities of her senior co-captains Michelle Ulasich and Sandy Mason. Ulasich is a strong setter and runs plays "like the quarterback on a football team." Mason is the strong hitter, passer and blocker of the team. She plays center blocker, who does the most blocking and is generally the best athlete on the team. 6'1" Kathy Weber also looks promising. "She is like a wall, nothing gets past her," said Denstaedt. The team appears to be very deep in the area of hitters with Lanette Whitehead, Jamie Howenstine, Annette Ulasich, Diane Pfahlert, and Stacey Wasik. Finishing off the twelve-girl team are setters Shaun O'Brien, Dawn Willett, and Marina Hamlett, and Becky Buhl, who is showing promising ability as a server.

Cubpack Sweeps by Kettering, 63-48

by Ron Wagner

The Clarkston JV got off to a shaky start Friday, but pulled together for a 63-48 blowout over Waterford Kettering. The turning point for the Cubpack came in the final seconds of the first quarter. Ken Temple tipped the ball in for two points to bring the score to a 12-12 tie.

From then on, it was all Clarkston. The JVs led 27-19 at the end of the half and outshot SAY-YOU SAW IT IN THE REMINDER THURSDAY, JANUARY 14, 1982 PAGE TWENTY THREE he Captains 36,29 in the second half. Shawn Mosele led with 18 points and was aided by Craig Nicolai who scored 14. Both players were previously members of the Varsity team and were involved in a switch that sent Sophomore Craig Kulazeski up to the Varsity

Inspite of the two outstanding individual performances of Mosele and Nicolai, coach Dave Smith stressed that the victory was the result of a "real good team effort."

by Ron Wagner The Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes

basketball team split this past week's pair of home games, defeating Marine City Holy. Cross 57-47 on Tuesday and losing to Detroit Saint Hedwig 58-46 on Friday. Joe McMahon scored 15 points and Jerry Losh pulled down 10 rebounds to lead the Lakers to victory

On Friday, Tony Rana was the top scorer with 10 points and Bill Mountain had 10 rebounds. According to coach Mike Boyd. the team "played fairly well on Tuesday with 15 turnovers, but on Friday we had 39." Boyd was also disappointed with Friday's shooting. The Lakers connected for only seven field goals out of thirty shots in the second half. "We weren't ready," said the
