Dan Mattingly of Clarkston came away with 2 Super Bowl tickets when his name was chosen from 12 finalists in the Super Bowl contest sponsored by The Reminder and 45 area merchants.

The contest, held over a four-week period, consisted of coupons in The Reminder in which participants were instructed to cut them out and place them in contest boxes at area businesses. A drawing was held each week from which 3 finalists were chosen. The finalists received a $10 gift certificate as well as the privilege to be in the final drawing.

Mattingly, a local businessman and developer placed his coupons at several businesses.

Chuck Renchik claims he kicked smoking through hypnosis.

Did You Get the Snow or Did the Snow Get You?

Did you ever wonder why you have that low back pain after shoveling? Not everybody does you know. Well then why you?

In a normal spine the discs that separate the vertebrae maintain a relatively fixed position.

When you have a vertebrae misalignment the disc protrudes out against a ligament called the posterior longitudinal ligament.

During normal work loads the ligament refrains the disc from bulging out against the spinal nerve directly behind it. But give yourself an extra work load and... well you know the rest, you can feel it. Rest, medications, pain relievers, muscle relaxors etc. only treat the symptoms and not the cause of the problem. That's why the next time you give yourself an extra work load the pain comes back. Do yourself a favor eliminate the cause of the problem by correction of the vertebral misalignment.

Hypnosis Results In

Chuck Quits Cigarettes, Fontaine Falters

by Denise Fox Luczki

Three weeks have passed since The Reminder went to Self-Psych's Stop Smoking Clinic. What are the results? Did the clinic really work?

For Chuck Renchik, sales representative for Nitelife the clinic was a success.

"I think I've kicked it," he said. "I have no urge to smoke at all, I don't even think about it."

At first it was quite difficult. Chuck said he would watch anyone and everyone that was smoking, it's dangerous for someone trying to 'kick the habit.'

During the first week after attending the clinic Chuck admits to having had one cigarette. Then again the next week, he took a drag off a friend's cigarette, only this time reacted differently. His body rejected the cigarette and he gagged on that one puff.

To help get him through these awful days Chuck took the advice of the hypnotist, Sue Weingarden, and cut down on the coffee and pop. When a craving occurred he inhales deeply. (Sue recommended taking a walk, but cold weather steered Chuck off that path.)

Good advice but hard to follow. Chucks's major deviance from his new self-image occurred while he was having a beer with the boys.

Chuck has survived several weeks worth of repetitive car trouble--a major source of frustration in America--without a cigarette. He has gained some weight, a "natural consequence, he claims, but has gotten beyond the irritability stage.

Chuck's wife has not seen him smoking and made no complaints of irritability. "I smoke" she said, "So that makes it hard on him."

Feeling positive about his resolve Chuck said: "I'm just a non-smoker this time." (He has quit many times before for several months at a time, unsuccessfully) "I hope I keep going because I really don't want to smoke."

For former Clarkston Village President, Fontaine Apmadoc, the clinic was not so successful.

"It did not help me," Fontaine said. "I'm not blaming her (Sue Weingarden) I really didn't want to give it up."

Fontaine felt she was looking for an easy way to quit smoking and was not really willing to put forth the effort at this time to work with the hypnotism. "I got right in the car after the clinic and started smoking" she admitted.

However, both Fontaine and Chuck would recommend the clinic to other people, but only if they were willing to work at it and had already determined to give up smoking.

Though he doubts whether he was truly hypnotized, Chuck felt that the program and the literature got him off to a good start.

"Nobody can make you quit," Chuck said. "you really have to want it."

Furnaces Need Check-Ups and Attention just like People

How long has it been since your furnace has been cleaned and checked? This record setting winter has already taken its toll on many heating units.

Neglected furnaces can cause problems from temporary loss of heat to fire and health hazards. Many problems can be detected, corrected or prevented during a routine clean and check by a competent heating specialist.

Chances are your unit is in good shape but you could have one or more problems. The following are just some of the things we find day after day: dirty pilots, burners, nozzles, filters and orifices, worn belts, unlubricated motors and bearings, improper adjustments, plugged heat exchangers, cracked or rusted heat exchangers, restricted vents and chimneys, unsafe controls, improper wiring, gas, oil and water leaks.

Call Now for an appointment for a good furnace or boiler clean and check.

Cinema Reverses Policy, Will Show "R's"

by Mike Wilcox

When "Ghost Story" lights up Clarkston Cinema's motion picture screen this Friday night, it will be the first time in three years that an "R" rated movie has been shown at the family oriented movie house.

When Dan Daniel bought the 266-seat theater in October 1978 he vowed never to show an "R" rated movie. "The Clarkston Cinema has refused to show "R" rated movies in the past. But due to the theater industry's reluctance and failure to manufacture decent family movies, we are forced to rescind our policy," said Daniel.

Daniel claims the movie studios cater to the 17-34 age group because surveys show they make up the vast majority of the movie going public. These people like to see a little violence and sex and the moviemakers have complied to the tune that now nearly 80 percent of the movies made have at least an "R" rating. There just aren't enough good "G" and "PG" movies to keep Daniel's theatre full.

His dilemma is further complicated by the fact that he normally shows second run movies. Thus it is very critical that the movie has been popular the first time around if a good audience is to be expected.

For example, two weeks ago Daniel booked "The Pursuit of D.B. Cooper, a "PG" movie that was mildly successful the first time around. But at the Clarkston Cinema it attracted only small audiences, despite the $1.50 admission price.

Daniel reasons a "Neighbors" or "Sharky's Machine", both "R" rated, would have attracted full houses.

"My only other alternative would have been to raise my prices," said Daniel. "But I wouldn't want to do that. It would be defeating my purpose. The $1.50 is a magic number."

Daniel would also like to make it clear that "My family fare will still be my main fare." At the most, 25 percent of the movies shown will be "R" rated. And those "R"s that are shown will not have a lot of nudity. Maybe a little violence and some strong language, but not lots of nudity, said Daniel.

Daniel said he would not refuse entry to customers under 18 to an "R" rated movie. "It is the parents responsibility to know what their children are watching and where."

Daniel, who recently installed a $10,000 sound system, said he will discontinue Saturday matinees when an "R" rated flick is being shown. Sunday matinees however, will continue.

And he invited parents who may be concerned about a particular movie's content to give him a call and he'd be glad to explain just how much sex and violence are included. I've got kids of my own, and although I'd never try to dictate to anyone what they should allow their kids to see and not see, I certainly can fill them in on a movie's content, so that they themselves can determine whether it's fit for their family or not.

Concessions or No Work, Choice Simple

It was with great displeasure that we learned contract negotiations between General Motors and the United Auto Workers broke off last week. We had been hoping that the UAW would accept the contract concessions, and GM in turn would reduce the cost of cars significantly.

If that could have been accomplished, more car sales would be inevitable, and thus more production would be necessary. More production means more jobs. More jobs means a greater flow of money. More money means more goods bought and an end to our sluggish economy.

Instead we have very little to look forward to. Cars aren't selling and won't sell until a significant price reduction occurs. That can't happen until the UAW takes concessions.

As we see it the autoworker has no choice. He can continue to demand his near $20 an hour wages and most likely have a large hand in bringing about the demise of the domestic automaker and his job.

A more sensible course would be to take concessions and by doing so, helping your employer get back on his feet.

The no concession movement will never get the broadbased public support it needs. How can we, the general public, have sympathy for an autoworker who makes 2-3 times more per hour than the average person working or running a small business? How can we, the general public, have sympathy for an autoworker who makes $8. an hour more than his Japanese peer?

The economy in this area is pathetic, and that's largely because every business is interwoven in some way, with the automobile industry. When the automobile industry is sick, we all are sick. As distasteful as the old axiom may sound as the auto industry goes, so goes Michigan.

Well the auto industry ain't going nowhere. That is probably more the fault of management than their employees. But we cannot sit back, as outsiders, and watch these auto talks crumble. Mr. Autoworker HAS to take a cut in pay, or we all might as well kiss any hopes of prosperity on 1982 good-bye.

FRIEND OF THE COURT

A question often asked of the Friend of the Court staff is whether payments of child support may be made directly to the custodial parent and not through the office of the Friend of the Court. Except in rare instances, the answer is no, and direct payments will be in violation of the court order.

Michigan General Court Rule 729.(3) requires that all payments of support be paid through the Friend of the Court "except as otherwise provided in the Order or Judgement." Therefore, unless the support order specifically allows payments directly to the custodial parent, they must be made through the Friend of the Court.

There are many reasons for this requirement. Many persons do not keep accurate records of payments they have made or received. If a dispute arises as to whether payments are current, the Court has no way of determining which party is right. In addition, Michigan General Court Rule 727.2(5) requires the Friend of the Court to regularly check the payments to see if enforcement is necessary. This can only be done if payments are made through the office. If payments are made directly, the Friend of the Court will have no record of them, and enforcement action will be taken.

A parent making direct support payments may not receive credit for these payments. Oakland County Circuit Court Administrative Order 78-2 prohibits the Friend of Court from giving any support credit without a court order allowing credit. Even if the custodial parent stipulates in writing that a payment has been made directly, an order must be obtained for credit.

To obtain a credit by stipulation, the Friend of the Court attorney, or private counsel, must prepare the order. This must be typed by the secretary, signed by the custodial parent, and sent to the Court for entry. The Judge's clerk will review the proposed order, and submit it to the Judge for signature. It will then be sent to the Circuit Court clerk, who will file the order, have it entered on the computer, and return copies to the Friend of the Court. The Friend of the Court must then enter the order on its records, give credit on the computer records, and mail copies of the order to the parties.

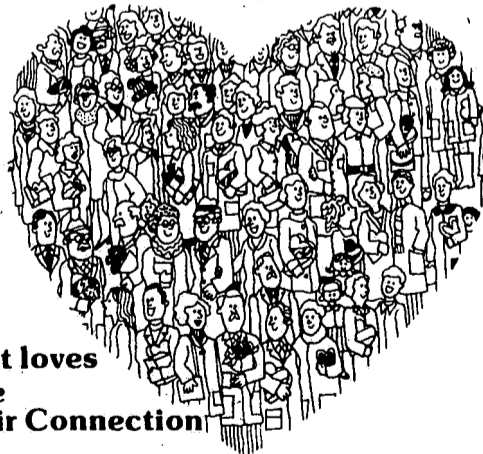

Obviously, each direct payment credit results in an extreme amount of unnecessary work for the court employees, and unnecessary taxpayer costs. For this reason, the Court will often impose costs of $50.00 to $100.00 for processing a credit order, especially since simple compliance with the order requiring payments through the Friend of the Court would have avoided this expense.

If you and your former spouse want to make direct support payments, and to avoid the Friend of the Court, contact your attorney to obtain an order permitting this. Most, but not all, Judges will grant such an order. Be advised, however, that if there is a problem with payments and they are being made directly, the Friend of the Court will have no records to rely on. Any disputes as to support will have to be settled through private counsel, and may require considerable expense to all concerned.

This is one of a series of articles by Roland C. Fancher, Assistant Friend of the Court for Oakland County, concerning the operations of that office. If you have questions regarding the functions of the Friend of the Court, address them to Mr. Fancher in care of this publication. Questions of general interest will be answered in later articles. Questions regarding individual cases should be submitted to the Office of the Friend of the Court.

TRIVIA

by Mike Morrow

Letter writing is a lost art. At one time it was the major means of communication between people. Nowadays it has been replaced by the telephone call which is "almost like being there" and by the sappy Hallmark card which makes the recipient glad that you aren't.

Somewhere in the shuffle, people have lost the ability to write a letter or even recognize the different types of letters. The following quiz will tell you if you are one of those people. Circle the correct answer for each type of letter.

To whom it may concern:

I will gladly shop in your store again...the day Hell freezes over! I have received better treatment at the hands of a mugger than I received from your salesclerks.

THIS IS:

a love letter
a letter of complaint
the letter J

Dear Elected Official,

Your stand on every issue really makes me sick! You are a big jerk!

THIS IS:

an invitation to a birthday party a letter to an elected official like screaming into the wind.

Dear Mike Morrow,

You are absolutely brilliant! I have never read a funnier person in my life.

THIS IS:

a brilliant move on your part.
a fan letter
a letter I will never see.

Depending on your outlook on life, the answers may vary but in each case the textbook answer is the second choice.

0-1 Have you heard of the alphabet?

2- Good, but could be better. Practice by writing the last letter over and over again.

3- Excellent, you probably regard a pen as something other than an instrument to pick your teeth with.

Colorful flowers brighten your life!

Small Talk

by Rebecca Roberts

He's a small man, not much over five feet tall, and he weighs less than a hundred pounds.

When I first met him, in 1961, he was heavier, but still not very big. He wore a Panama—a straw hat that shielded his face from the afternoon sun. It was June.

He and his wife Irene and children had just traveled by car all the way from Massachusetts, and were now waiting at Lenard's Gas station three blocks from my house.

It was his first time in Michigan, and of all places, he was at a gas station on Superior Street on the industrial side of Alma. Right across the street was Lobdell's, a long low grimy building that stretched a full block, and even on this sunny day, it looked sooty and broken down and old.

Somehow, it's all mixed together in my mind, like random bits of cloth—the small man in the Panama, who for some reason made me think of Ernest Hemingway, or a movie producer, at least; the grime and boredom of that small midwestern town where I grew up; the warm sun. It was the hat that's what I imagined movie producers wore, I guess. The hat was like a prop out of South Pacific.

Both he and his wife looked so cosmopolitan, so knowing. I don't remember much of what was said as we exchanged what must have been somewhat awkward hellos. But I remember how fascinated I was by the clipped and elegant New England accent. In my mind, right then and there, I decided here was a man who was very wise.

I was right.

Throughout the years, we have exchanged hundreds of letters. His letters to are chronicles—of joy, of anger, bemusement, frustration, and always that silly humor period. They are a journal of one man's willful journey.

The letters gripe, they cajole, they snicker and smile sometimes, they fall into poetry. They have always given me my share of things to think about.

Several years ago, he and Irene packed their bags and moved to California. His health was failing fast and the doctors said move to a warmer climate—or else. With great regret, he left Massachusetts town where he had lived all his life, and moved to the desert. In the letters that followed, he nipped at the heels of fate for making him go. He truly is a Yankee at heart, and with its dry raspy winds, fitful torrential rains, the brownish landscape and empty skies, the desert to a die-hard New Englander is anathema.

But beneath the bloody little battles he has fought with Fate, I suspect he knows the decision to "go West" probably saved his life.

Despite the stream of invectives he took so much relish in using to describe his great dislike for the desert—mudhole, dry gulch haven (he said it didn't deserve to be capitalized), Palmdale-on-the-Bulge— he has had some pretty productive years out there. For a long while he worked in a clock shop, fixing clocks. And he has made many good and loyal friends.

Unfortunately, due to a chronic vascular condition, over the past few years he has had to endure many painful and gruelling operations. He has been in and out of the hospital so often, he says he feels he belongs. Through it all, haltingly, but un-faillingly, the letters have continued to come.

In a recent letter, he wrote of the many good things that had happened to him during a particularly difficult hospital stay. The surgery was dangerous and few were even very optimistic that he could survive it. He wrote of the kindnesses of so many, not, he said, great dramatic events, but crucial to his will to survive. "When you live a little life," he wrote, "you have to get your satisfaction from little things."

You see, I knew right from the beginning that he knew things. He turned out not to be a movie mogul. Something better. A few days after that auspicious meeting at Lenard's gas station, Louie Roberts became my father-in-law.
Love ya, Pop.

Dixie Merchants Want Light Where Plazas Meet

by Mike Wilcox

Residents and businesses living and working on Dixie Highway south of Andersonville Road have begun a drive to get a traffic light installed where the busy 4-lane highway meets traffic from Waterfall and Harvard Plazas.

Michigan State Police statistics show that Dixie Highway in Waterford Township had more accidents (554) than any other stretch of highway in the state of Michigan last year. The stretch from Andersonville Road to Hatchery Road had 486 accidents alone in 1979 and 1980.

In the vicinity where residents are asking for the traffic light there are two shopping centers, Our Lady of the Lakes Church and School and the Waterford Post Office. All have indicated a desire for the traffic light.

But this isn't the first time a drive for better traffic control in that vicinity has taken place. As early as 1976 the Department of State Highways and Transportation has noted correspondence on the matter.

Before Waterfall Plaza was even built, the owners of Harvard Plaza campaigned to clear the congestion on Dixie Highway in front of their shopping center.

In a letter to Edward T. Boutrous, managing partner of the Harvard Company in 1976, Paul Riley, District traffic and safety engineer for the Department of State Highways and Transportation noted, "The district office has made a request for widening US-10 into a five lane pavement. This would provide for two lanes in each direction plus a center left turn lane for vehicles entering into the private drives and assisting them in exiting from those driveways."

Unfortunately for the shopping center owners the request never got off the drawing board.

In 1977, state representative Claude Trim indicated his support for a fifth lane. In a letter to Waterford Township Supervisor James Seeterlin in January of 1977 Trim said, "I personally believe that the five-lane highway is the way to go... I am committed to that, but I am also concerned as to the amount of lights that will be needed."

"At the present time, there could feasibly be one at the K-mart mall, one in front of the mini-mall (Waterfall and Harvard), the already existing light at Andersonville, and I have received a package of over 500 names asking for a signal at Rockcroft Street (at the base of Waterford Hill in Independence Township), as well as a light at the new (district) court location."

In 1978, Riley again reiterated the department's plans to widen Dixie Highway to five lanes.

In a letter to Waterford Township, Riley indicated "We have not programmed actual construction funds, only preliminary engineering. This is due both to funding problems within the department and other areas of the state that are also experiencing rapid growth and critical congestion problems."

The temporary warning seemed to be permanent. Because of funding problems the state has not pursued the additional lane.

Not until now, anyway.

Gene Metzger at Big Red Q Quickprint in the Waterfall Plaza has been busy printing letters asking Waterford Township to pursue a course of action to alleviate congestion at Dixie (preferably a traffic light) where Waterfall and Harvard Plazas meet. He said Our Lady of the Lakes has requested two hundred letters, the Post Office many more, and several merchants in Waterfall, enough to display on their countertops.

Metzger said the purpose of the letters was only to get the ball rolling. We're not sure what is the proper course so we decided to get a letter campaign going in hopes that the township or whomever would take the ball through the proper channels.

Rochester Eliminates Wolf Title Hopes

by Ron Wagner

The Clarkston Varsity Basketball team seems to have slipped a little in the past week. Tuesday they squeaked past Bloomfield Hills Andover and Friday they lost a tough game to league rivals Rochester. Both games were away.

Clarkston won the opening tip-off, but the ball was promptly stolen. Junior Ray Kubani scored Clarkston's only four points of the first quarter, and it took him three minutes to make them. For the final five minutes of the first quarter, the Wolfpack could not score and allowed Andover to catch up for a score of 4-4 at the end of the first eight minutes.

The Barons scored first in the second quarter to take the lead. Free throws by Junior Rick Williams and Senior Duane Cahill put the Wolves back on top. Andover recovered and went ahead. They stayed there until the final seconds of the half. Scott Temple stole the ball allowing Clarkston to score, making the halftime score 18-17 in favor of Clarkston.

Although Kubani was the first to score in the second half, the Barons soon took the lead. It bounced back and forth until the Wolfpack spurred ahead to a six-point lead 31-25. This caused Andover to call time out. A drive under the basket by Mike Dearborn provided Clarkston with its largest lead of the game, 33-25. Andover scored three more and the quarter ended with Clarkston leading 33-28.

Foul shots by the Barons brought the score within one point, but Junior Mike McCormick scored to make the margin three. The Barons had a chance to tie it up on a free throw, but a lane violation nullified the tying point. Kubani and McCormick each scored points to make the tally 43-37. A clear basket by Sophomore Craig Kulazewski with seven seconds left was called off by the referee. The official thought that a Clarkston player had touched the ball before it had gone through the net. He was mistaken, as it was an Andover player. This left the final score at 43-37.

Kubani was the high scorer with 20 points. He scored 10 of his team's 15 field goals. His high mark was largely due to the "Hillsdale" offense that Coach Gary Nustad used. Although that offense had been used quite frequently by last year's team, this has been the first time that it has been successful for the Wolfpack this year. McCormick had 7 points, 8 rebounds and 6 assists. Kubani also led in rebounds with 11.

Nustad was somewhat disappointed in the sloppiness of his team's play. He seemed glad that it was over and was looking towards Rochester, "we're really pouring for Friday night."

Unfortunately, Nustad's "pouring" wasn't enough to overcome the Falcons of Rochester on Friday. Clarkston got off to an acceptable start, scoring first and preventing Rochester from scoring for almost the first four minutes. At the end of the first quarter Clarkston led 10-6. The Falcons almost caught up, but the Wolfpack still held the lead at the end of the first half 21-20.

Rochester scored first in the second half and took the lead for the first time. The lead bounced back and forth for three minutes until Temple scored to make it 27-24. The Falcons tied it, but under heavy press, McCormick took the ball along the baseline to score the final points of the third quarter. The Wolfpack led 33-31 going into the final eight minutes of play.

Rochester scored ten points to Clarkston's two to make their lead six points with only a few minutes in the game. Clarkston then missed some key free throws, but managed to catch up within one with fifteen seconds on the clock. With 5 seconds left, the Falcons called time out to relieve the full court press of Clarkston. Then with three ticks on the board, the Wolves committed an intentional foul to try to get the ball. That failed as the Rochester player sank both his shots icing the game. The finals score was 47-44 Rochester.

Clarkston actually scored more field goals than Rochester, 18-16, but they were beaten at the foul line. The Falcons were 15-25 while the Wolves were only 8-13. Nustad pointed to four factors that caused the loss, they were out-rebounded for the first time 21-16, they were out-scraped at key times, they missed important free throws and they committed 20 turnovers. According to the coach, if any of these areas had been better, they would have won the game.

It seems that the Wolfpack is now mathematically eliminated from the league championship. With that in mind, Nustad said his team will have to "set sights on other things."

Grapplers Prepare for Key Matches with Mott Shutout

The Clarkston Wrestling team must have had their more difficult work-outs during practice last week. They were idle in tournament play, the first time in three weeks. Their only match was against a very weak Waterford Mott team. The grappler's second home contest was also their second shut-out. They won by a score of 76-0. This was made easier by the fact that Mott only produced five men out of a possible thirteen to wrestle.

Four of the five matmen for Clarkston pinned their opponents. Jeff Miracle, Andre Gourand, Bruce Burwitz and Mark Karrick took those honors. Todd Thompson won by a 12-1 decision. The win makes Clarkston 4-0 in the Greater Oakland Activities League and undefeated in dual meets.

Coach Rick Detkowski is looking forward to this Thursday's crucial double dual meet. It will be held at Clarkston High School starting at 6:30. It is Parent's Night, and the last meet of the year, so he hopes to have a big crowd. The grapplers will face league rival Lake Orion, which is also 4-0 in GOAL, and Hazel Park, the only team to beat them in the Oakland County Tournament. This meet could hold many possibilities for the Clarkston pinpack. It should decide the league, and, if they win both, they would be the first Clarkston team to have a perfect season.

"We will finish the year undefeated," said a confident Detkowski of his team, which has moved up to 6th in the state rankings.

Volleyballers Lose to Lake Orion

by Ron Wagner

The Clarkston Volleyball team had a shortened week last week as Monday's game was cancelled by school closings. On Wednesday, they lost their first league contest to Lake Orion, 15-12, 15-11. While Sandy Mason and Lanette Whitehead had strong, consistent serving, the team suffered from overhitting and hitting out-of-bounds.

"It was the same old story," said coach Linda Denstaedt. "We were ahead 7-0 and we reverted to Dr. Jeckyll." She was referring to their habit of relaxing when they get ahead.

"The momentum slowed, but it did not stop," she said. Denstaedt feels that this is a sign of improvement. The volleyballers are looking at an active week next week with games on Wednesday, Friday, and a tournament on Saturday. Monday's match was cancelled again.

"We usually have two matches a week, but Friday's is a make-up," explained the coach. Apparently the lady Wolves will add a make-up to the following week.

Ski Team Continues to Dominate

The Clarkston Ski team has extended their undefeated record to 6-0. With wins over Bloomfield Hills Lahser on Tuesday and Waterford Mott on Thursday.

Icy conditions and a determined Mott team combined to give Clarkston a bit of a scare as they narrowly won 16-20. Craig McLeod finished first with a time of 35.12. Brant Volberding was third at 38.33, Fred Roeser was fourth at 39.52, and Mike Roeser was eighth at 55.80.

NOTICE SPRINGFIELD TOWNSHIP
The Springfield Township Zoning Board of Appeals will hold a meeting on Thursday, February 18, 1982, beginning at 8:00 p.m. at the Springfield Township Hall, 650 Broadway, Davisburg, Michigan to hear the appeals of:

1. Davisburg Elementary School, Parent-Teacher Organization, 12003 Davisburg Road, Davisburg, Michigan for a variance from the ordinance-regulations to allow them to construct a two-sided sign measuring 4' x 8' (32 square feet). The property is zoned residential; therefore a 10 square foot sign limitation is in effect. SW No. 07-18-477-004.
2. James R. Hull, 10179 Graham, Clarkston, Michigan for a variance from the ordinance regulations to allow them to construct an unattached garage 40 feet from the roadway. The ordinance requires a 50 foot setback. SW No. 07-10-278-004.
3. Charles W. Evans, 12190 Carriage Trail Circle, Davisburg, Michigan, for a variance from the ordinance provisions to construct an energy efficient house designed with the west, north and east sides bermed. The property address is Clark Road. SW No. 07-16-401-014.
4. David Schubert, D & J Lawn Co., 9840 Trotter Lane, Clarkston, Michigan for a variance from the front yard setback requirement to allow him to construct an industrial building 50 feet from the roadway rather than 75 feet as required in order to facilitate parking at the rear of the site. Lot No. 26, Valentine's Industrial Sub-division.

Notice is further given that the proposed variance and any maps may be examined at the Springfield Township Clerk's Office, 650 Broadway, Davisburg, Michigan during regular office hours Monday through Friday until the date of the public hearing.

of our Action Ad section
FREE.

You heard it right. The Reminder is offering you membership in our Action Ads Unlimited Club (normally cost $20) FREE with the purchase of a year's voluntary subscription to The Reminder.

Action Ads Unlimited allows you to place as many classified ads as you desire for a year's time. The only limitations are: 1. Ads cannot be used for commercial purposes. 2. Only 1 ad per week will be allowed. 3. Ad cannot run over 10 words in length. A voluntary subscription means that we would like your help in offsetting our huge delivery costs. However, if you decide not to contribute, don't fret, The Reminder will continue to be delivered to your home each week. In other words, unlike paid subscription newspapers, The Reminder has to totally rely on advertising to offset its delivery costs. If you like us and can afford the extra expense, we would sincerely appreciate a $10 subscription. To show our appreciation, we will make you and your family a member of Action Ads Unlimited. If used every week, your membership could save you as much as $146.00. Not bad for $10 subscription, right?

Please enroll me in the "Action Ads Unlimited" club. I enclose $10 for each membership or charge to my MasterCharge or VISA card.
