A house at 8872 Dixie Highway went up in flames last Saturday causing a spectacular fire and the temporary closure of Dixie Highway.

According to Springfield Township Fire Department spokesperson Elwyn Hillman, the first alarm sounded at 8:25 a.m. Subsequently Independence, Groveland, Brandon and Holly joined Springfield in fighting the blaze.

Although no injuries to occupants or firefighters were reported, the large home was totally destroyed.

Hillman said the fire started from a heat lamp in a front bedroom, igniting a bedspread, and spreading rapidly.

Firefighters, said Hillman, encountered difficulties with the cold weather. Breathing apparatus froze up quickly and winds shifted on numerous occasions. The house was occupied at the time of the fire by Alan Saeger.

Fifty Clarkston Parents to Attend Lansing Rally

by Denise Fox Lucski

About fifty area parents are going to Lansing to attend a state-wide PTA rally to present a petition to Governor Milliken.

Lorna Kithil and Karen Ohrnberger, both representatives of C.U.R.E. of Clarkston (Oakland County Citizens United to Restore Education), distributed petitions last week to be circulated and mailed to the state PTA in Lansing. As of the first of February about 25,000 people state-wide had signed the petition; 30-35,000 names is the estimated goal.

The petition requests Governor Milliken and the state legislature to end public education budget cuts and to restore dollars to public education. The petition also requests a plan for equitable and adequate financing for public schools.

Clarkston is financially unable to fund public education alone; state aid is imperative. At one point Clarkston was receiving about 50% of necessary school funding from the state. That percentage has dropped to about 30% currently, according to Karen Ohrnberger.

"Whenever Milliken wants to balance his budget he cuts education," Mrs. Ohrnberger stated.

Raising the millage or collecting summer taxes are both unpopular alternatives to cover the cost of maintaining the present school system.

"We are exhausted locally," Lorna Kithil said. "Something must be done at the state level."

C.U.R.E. of Clarkston is also hoping to meet with a few state legislators after the rally to discuss local educational concerns.

Parents are interested in what's happening to the schools. Banding together to rally and forming such groups as CURE is hoped to give parents the recognition they demand.

Mrs. Ohrnberger is optimistic about the effect of the rally. "I believe that since it is an election year that people will pay attention. Education is an issue."

Dental Dialogue
by Garv R. Ushman, D.D.S.
FLOSSING FACTS

Q. I'm a little confused about the type of floss to use and how to use it.

A. You should clean your teeth with dental floss at least once a day. The best time is after brushing at the end of the day. Slip the floss gently between the teeth and floss up and down on each side until the floss makes a squeaking noise. This motion removes the invisible buildup of plaque. Unwaxed floss does this job best. Also be sure to slide the floss carefully under the gum margin of each tooth. If you need more help your dentist or hygienist can provide a step by step demonstration.

This column is presented in the interest of better dental health. From the office of Dr. Gary R. Ushman, 55 S. Main St., Clarkston, Michigan 48016. Phone 625-2066.

A Toast to Big John bearing the names Perigons, or Combrion, had been dug out, cleaned up and squeezed into, in remembrance of bygone days.

The Platterbox was a teenage nightclub, open from 1965-1968, operated by Mr. and Mrs. John Garlak. Open on Friday and Saturday nights until midnight, the club usually drew crowds over two hundred. The "house band" was "The New Breed", featuring lead singer John Garlak Jr. Other live bands were always part of the attraction too; The Platterbox boasts of having Mitch Ryder and the Kingsmen play at their club.

Friday night guests were anxious to see old friends, and Mr. and Mrs. Garlak. The reunion doubled as a surprise birthday party for John Sr., 60.

One reason for the success of the Platterbox was because of the respect for the Garlak's. Apparently they ran a tight operation. Mrs. Garlak always took tickets at the door, giving her the opportunity to screen all patrons. If she smelled alcohol on anyone's breath they were automatically banned for three days. Mr. Garlak took care of any fighting easily--fighting was simply not allowed.

"The kid's knew it's was either going to run nice or it would not run at all," Lonnie Hinz, former Platterbox patron said.

"John kept it straight", Kurt LaDuc remembered. "If you got caught fighting you were thrown out and couldn't come back."

Tom Rollo attributed the basic no-fighting policy with saving his life. "Me and this other guy, Butch Baxter, were going to get beat up by eight 250-pounders, when John stepped in and stopped the fight."

The club closed in 1968 because the township refused to renew the dance permit.

"These are like all my kids," John said.

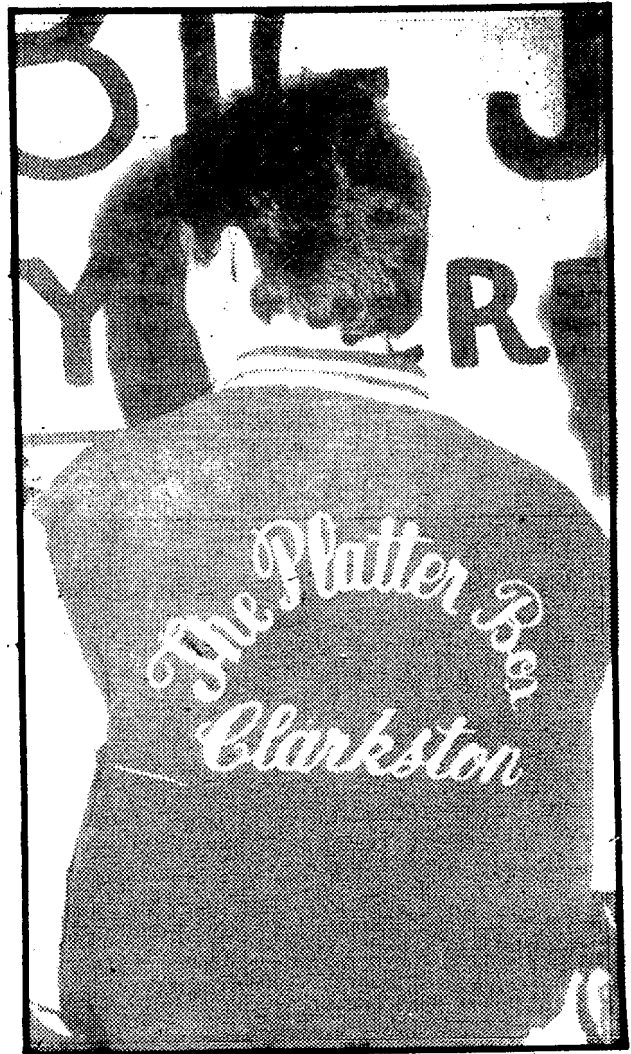

Mrs. Garlak recognized many of the kids by the way they walked or their mannerisms, even if she couldn't quite remember their name.

The band that played Friday was "The Heights", lead singer was of course, John Garlak Jr. Singing with him was Joe Gates, bass player, and John's wife Mary.

Disc Jockey for the evening was Denny

Raye, former Platterbox disc jockey.

The reunion was such a success that more reunions are planned, perhaps on a yearly or bi-yearly basis. People go to reunions to see old friends, but people went to the Platterbox reunion for the same reasons that they went to the Platterbox: to dance and to watch the guys and girls.

This week The Reminder introduces Captain Coupon to our readership. We will utilize the colorful caped miser in our efforts to bring you the best in shopping bargains from local merchants.

If you hadn't noticed already, The Reminder brings you more local ads and more local coupons than any other weekly in the area. We've decided to emphasize coupon advertising even more as can be witnessed with the addition of four new coupons at the top of our Special Events page this week as well as a listing of choice bargains at local stores on Page 1.

Coupons aren't the only thing new at The Reminder, however. Beginning next week, The Reminder will present a new feature magazine style publication. Called Health News 82, the monthly magazine, to be inserted in The Reminder as well as distributed at most North Oakland area medical facilities, will provide readers with informative news and features about North Oakland Health Care.

This month Health News 82 probes the new alcohol rehabilitative facility just opened at St. Joseph's Hospital, discusses child dentistry with Clarkston dentist George

...brings you big savings at a fantastic clip!

Krull and focuses in on a new investigative unit designed to cut down on insurance fraud.

Don't miss Health News 82. It will be available with your Reminder next week.

The results of our 1982 Reader Survey are in and surprisingly two areas that received only mediocre attention last year, led all voting in 1982.

Township Government news and our Special Events page were judged most often read by those returning the survey. Many of the readers responding indicated a desire to see greater government coverage. One reader said that's what The Reminder does best -- keeps on the backs of local politicians so that they stay out of trouble for the most part.

Readers also indicated a strong preference for Action Ads and Editorials. In fact, Action Ads was the only category that didn't receive a single "Never Read" vote. Everyone who responded to the survey at least read The Reminder classified section sometimes.

Nitelife Magazine and Trivia by Mike Morrow were also voted popular by our readers. They were closely followed by House of the Week, a once a month feature that apparently has gained a good readership.

At the bottom of the popularity ladder were sports and business related features. Sports always seems to finish poorly, but we find them a necessary part of our news coverage, because the people involved, although they make up a small portion of our readership, are avid readers. One only has to witness our Sports Call contest which continues to grow stronger year after year. At the peak of its popularity in the fall of this year, we had between 50-75 entrants every week.

SMALLTALK

by Rebecca Roberts

Years ago, there was a game show on T.V. called "Who Do You Trust?"

The question is a tricky one, and too far-reaching to remain just a glib reminder of television's pookish past.

Who do you trust? I asked myself that, and it turns out I trust a whole lot of people.

Some of them I've never met. Some I wouldn't want to meet. I just trust them.

Trust is a slippery word. It crops up in some suspect places, like on our money. In a Machiavillian fit of irony, some trusting soul decided our money would be a good place to reassure America that "In God We Trust."

And trust is a word loaded for trouble - as in "You don't Trust me!"

Trust, according to Random House means "Unquestioning belief in the integrity, strength or ability of a person or thing." I trust they know what they're talking about.

At any rate, I do trust, often and blindly. A simple trip to the grocery store in my trusty automobile requires a staggering degree of belief in personkind.

First, the auto. Whoever built it, piece by intricate piece, must've had all the integrity in the world. Otherwise, I wouldn't dare even turn the key.

And the road. If ever I needed faith, it is on that concrete path to everywhere, the open road. Who's out there? Any number of crazies with various mental and emotional afflictions could be lurking at every pass. Does that stop me? Of course not. I turn out onto the highway with the sublime knowledge that all the crazies have taken the day off.

O.K., I've made it to the grocery store. Will the ground give way? I don't even give it a thought. And those cars, nosing about, trying to beat each other to the front spot. I don't wave any red flags or jump up and down in a frenzy to let them know I'm there. I just assume they'll know I am.

Probably one of the greatest areas of trust is the food I buy once in the store. (By the way, I'm positive no one in the store is out to get me.) If driving is the supreme act of faith, then the buying and eating of sausage must be a close second. Forget it. I don't even want to discuss it. All I know is, it smells great and I love it. The food I eat is fraught with potential evils. I simply refuse to entertain the thought that my grocer would let anything bad happen to me. And that goes for all the hundreds of people that had a hand in getting the food from the farm (or Dow Chemical) to the store.

It seems incredible that, in view of the extent to which I must rely on the goodness of others, I'm alive to tell this tale.

After all, it looks as if the very existence of society relies on trust.

Judging from all the traffic out there, I'd say society is alive and well - and trustworthy.

Dear Sirs;

I have just a few words on the subject of the automobile Workers and their duty to concessions. Yes there should be some concessions made by them. but you know that hunter does not point his gun to a hole in the ground when shooting ducks. So please stop pointing your fingers at the automobile worker when talking about the lousy conditions that the politicians have put our country into. There is a parallel of absurdity here.

In June of 1981, after thirty one years as a die maker and other positions, I was layed off from my Flint factory job. I was ultimately forced to option out by retiring. Not ready, but here I am retired.

As a skilled tradesman I was making, with

Editor, Independence Township officials,

As for spending that money from the great Federal government, sent back to our township (taxpayers), I do believe that it should be spread among our fire department, transportation for seniors, and barrier-free accessibility to our township meetings.

I will not be able to come to the meeting to express this because I just got home from Crittenton Hospital after having a heart attack. Our fire department rescue unit and Riverside Ambulance responded to my husband's call for help. Now, I can't drive my car until the weeks go by - to drive to doctors, to get medicine, to get groceries, etc., and because my husband does not drive.

I am in that position where many other senior citizens are and have been for years - of not attending meetings because of those steps up to the third-floor of that township hall. Knowing first-hand now, I do feel that many time other younger citizens, too have been absent from meetings - even when the agenda has affected them and their pocket-book. Our fire department helps all of us. The transportation (as has been with other assists Semta or O'Cart) (I've been told) takes at least four hours for any trip to the doctors, drug store, shopping, etc. - no matter how short. I realize that is a great hardship with so limited facilities.

Feeling handicapped now,
Iva Sommers Caverly

fringes, in the neighborhood of $20.00 per hour. That is the figure that you people across the country seem to have on your minds.

About four years ago I had a plumber come to my house to install a garbage disposal unit. The labor cost for that job was $28. About the same time I had an automobile repair job done. That too was in the area of $28. per hour just for the labor. They were almost twice the rate that I was at that time making as a die maker.

So much for comparisons.

The question looms now over the heads of us all. In 1967 during the lengthy General Motor strike, city employees of the city of Flint, Michigan were negotiating for their contracts. From the Flint Journal I recall reading that the Union and the City decided to rest their efforts until the GM strike was over. Then they could mold their benefits to whatever the strikers at GM got. In other words, they "hitched-hiked." Now to my knowledge I have not heard of one single concession that these very same people have made in the past fifteen years. The auto workers of Flint are the hardest hit of the entire country, and yet they are stuck with those high tax rates to pay for good benefits that the city employees do not want to give up. This is not the fault of the autoworker.

Cola adds to the total pay of the autoworker. It was designed to help catch up to the ever increasing rise in the cost to consumers. It was, therefore, always three to twelve months behind the greedy gouge of local business firms. There was an essence no hope of catching up! The autoworker cannot be blamed for this inequity.

High insurance rates are another area which adds substantially to the fringe portion of the autoworker's pay scale. The "Blues" are forever crying for help from the good buddies in Lansing, and they get it because the Blues is always on the brink of disaster. It may very well be in bad shape. but that is because the doctors who control and operate it are doing so well for themselves. There is absolutely no restraint, and positively no concessions. This situation certainly cannot be put on the shoulders of the autoworkers.

As a matter of fact, just as soon as the autoworkers won in their contracts the vision care, dental care, and the hearing care, etc.the entire medical community wherever GM facilities existed raised their rates on all

Comments:

Dear Editor,

I could not believe what I was reading in the Editorial. You people blame the autoworker for the mess Michigan is in. Now let's put the blame where it belongs for one thing the government has not done to good of a job running the U.S. over all. So why don't we cut their salary, Mr autoworker as you put it can not afford to give up any money!!! Have you seen the prices of food lately? If the government could bring down prices maybe the autoworker could handle a wage cut.

services up to three hundred per cent. (an you really blame that rotten gouge on the autoworkers?)

There seems to be not one politician in the country who has heard of this current recession. They have all enjoyed appreciating salaries with lucrative fringes through it all. These raises to them results in tax increases for the rest of us. You cannot really put this monkey on the autoworker, either.

We could continue to elaborate like this indefinitely by relating the gouging groups, the non-concessioning groups, the non-tax payers, etc. who are not even related to the automobile industry. From it all we would find that the auto worker is just a victim of the real destroyers of our country. He is certainly not the cause of this terrible recession along with the deplorable plight of our nation.

Foreign countries have taken advantage of our "keep-up-with-the-Jones" policies that persist in our country. The autoworker is only a very small percentage of the total. Until we point our fingers towards the real sources of our problems and demand the necessary changes, the situation will continue to deteriorate. We can all go down the tube together, or we can move forward together again.

The autoworker is now in the Lime Light. No he is not the reason for the recession. Yes, he can take some concessions. Who will follow?

Germs and Smoke Beware - The Little Black Box is Lethal

by Mike Wilcox

"Lots of people think the little black boxes are hoaxes. But believe me, they are not..."
Diane Whitney

The air we breathe has long been considered a source for headaches, irritability, nervousness, exhaustion and a host of other human ailments. But now, through the use of negative ions, researchers are combatting that unhealthy air.

Negative ions are oxygen atoms or molecules that have gained an electron. Their proponents claim they have the capacity to remove smoke, dust, pollen, odors, fungus, and mildew spores from the air. They are beneficial to the plants and animals, and lethal to germs, bacteria and viruses.

Lightening, fire and waterfalls are said to produce more than their fair share of negative ions. That is why, scientists claim, that persons get an exhilarated feeling when they sit in front of a warm fire.

That is also why persons working in an office the entire day often complain of headaches and generally, the blahs. They are breathing dead, lifeless air, hour after hour.

Recently, however, several companies have begun to mass market ion generators. Ion generators are basically little black boxes which you plug into normal house current and out of the other end come trillions of negative ions into the air. They cost from $100. to $200., and according to their believers, make a world of difference.

One of those believers is Diane Whitney of Foster Road, Clarkston.

My mother was listening to a talk show on the radio one day. The topic was negative ions and how these new ion generators were helping people. She became a believer right away, but myself, I just laughed.

Later, my mother offered to go get me one of the generators as a gift. "I told her I thought it was a joke. A little black box for $100, you have to be kidding," said Ms. Whitney.

Not wanting to disturb her mother, Ms. Whitney decided to give the little black box a try. Besides her daughter was allergic to cigarette smoke, and maybe this generator would be beneficial to her.

It worked far beyond Ms. Whitney's expectations. My daughter's sneezing stopped, my cat's eyes no longer watered and I no longer felt the blahs.

"Lots of people think the little black boxes are hoaxes. But believe me, they are not," claimed Ms. Whitney.

Evidence is mounting that Ms. Whitney may be right. Burn centers across the nation are utilizing ion generators to keep the air around patients clean and kill any bacteria that may tend to grow and inhibit rapid healing. When Richard Pryor, Hollywood movie star and comedian, nearly died from serious burns, it was an ion generator that received a great deal of credit for his rapid recovery.

Ms. Whitney warns however, not to expect an ion generator to cure your ailment. They don't cure anything, they only help purify the air around you, which usually makes people feel good.

At one time the Food and Drug Administration closed down the entire ion generator industry because the machines were producing too much ozone and making excessive health claims. That is not the case anymore. Many manufacturers are producing the little black boxes--with blessings from the FDA.

SAY YOU SAW IT IN THE REMINDER THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 1982 PAGE THIRTEEN

"I'm really impressed," said Ms. Whitney, "For us they've done a world of good."

TRIVIA

by Mike Morrow

The TV show 20/20 has done it again. Another milestone in television journalism. This time it's for dumbest story idea ever (surprisingly, Geraldo Rivera was no where to be seen.)

In the introduction Hugh Downs informed us that the following story was about severe depression and its treatment. Not bad so far but here comes the dumb part. Included in the story was a test to tell us if we suffered from severe depression.

Now, maybe I'm unique, but if I were suffering from severe depression I'm sure I'd be the first to know it. I wouldn't need a quiz to let me know my life was a mess.

First I would look for the little tell tale signs that I was unhappy like uncontrollable sobbing and an unnatural attraction to razor blades (loss of appetite would be too much to hope for). If for some reason I missed those obvious signs, I could look for more subtle signs like sleeping 22 hours a day and repeatedly banging my head against a wall the other two hours.

Those are pretty much dead give aways, at least to me, maybe I'm just looking at the obvious though, maybe I should dig deeper, after all 20/20 had a quiz on it, there has to be a reason.

I wonder if it's the stuff you wouldn't expect that indicates a severe depression, stuff like smiling and laughing. Perhaps that is why it is such an insidious disease, you never expect it. You could be at a party laughing and smiling and be suffering from a severe depression and the scary part is that you would never know it.

Wouldn't that be horrible, you could spend your whole life and never know that you were miserable. You might think it was all pretty good and deep down you were miserable.

Unfortunately I missed the quiz itself, you see I had people over and I couldn't hear anything because of the laughter but now I can't wait for the re-run because I really want to know if I'm suffering from it.

Just think, if it weren't for 20/20 thousands of people might never know that there lives were wasted. Now that's depressing.

Comeback Effort Aids CHS in First GOAL Win

"We were really ready to play today," said volleyball coach Linda Denstaedt about Friday's win over league rival Rochester. The match was their only one of the week. Games scheduled for Monday and Wednesday were cancelled due to the snow. The win was their first league win and puts them at 1-1 in G.O.A.L.

Rochester won the first game 15-13, but Clarkston came back and won 15-9 then 15-4.

"This was the first time that they've worked together as a team," said Denstaedt. "It was a big step for us." Leading the team were Sandy Mason and Diane Pfahlert in hitting, Lanette Witehead and Kathy Weber in blocking and Becky Buhl in passing. Denstaedt emphasized, however, that the victory was the result of a team effort.

On Saturday, the Lady Wolves travelled to Dearborn for a 16-team tournament. Unfortunately, they did not get past their pool. They beat Edsel Ford 15-12, 15-6: but lost to state finisher East Kentwood 15-5, 15-10 and to Mount Clemens 15-10, 15-7. Denstaedt was somewhat pleased in that the girls got better as the day went on.

"They started out weak against Kentwood then, in the next match they did really well. The day was a movement forward."

Wolves Squeeze Past Tough Township

by Ron Wagner

What could be more of a crowd-pleaser than for the home team to pull off a come-from-behind victory? Both of the Clarkston Basketball teams provided this type of win in their only contest this week on Tuesday against Waterford Township.

The JV's started the evening off with a thriller. They were down most of the game and at halftime, the score was 17-13 in favor of the Skippers. They came back in the second half and were within one point with 15 seconds left to play. The Cubpack got the ball and called time out with 7 seconds to go. They worked the ball in and Ken Temple scored to give Clarkston the game 53-52.

The team was led by Shawn Mosele and Craig Nicolai, each with 13 points and Temple scored 11.

The varsity game saw Township jump out into the lead, scoring six unanswered points to start the game. By the time the Wolfpack got on the board, the score was 10-2. Clarkston refused to be put away that easily and, at the end of the quarter, the score was a more respectable 16-11, the Skippers still in front.

The Wolfpack poured it on in the second quarter, and with 2:45 left in the half, foul shots by Mike Dearborn put them in front 25-24. Township scored to take the lead back, but Mike McCormick sank two free throws for Clarkston. The Skippers scored again and Clarkston couldn't answer back. This left the halftime score at 32-28 in favor of Waterford.

A little more than three minutes into the second half, Craig Kulazewski tied it up for the Wolves 36-36. He then sank one free throw to put the Wolfpack up by 1. He missed his second attempt, but Ray Kubani caught the rebound and put it in for two. This gave Clarkston a three-point lead 39-36. The Wolfpack kept the three-point margin through the rest of the third quarter and it ended with the score 47-44.

Rick Williams scored first in the final quarter and Clarkston went up 49-44. Each team scored two points, then Township put in five unanswered points to tie it up 51-51. Dearborn, McCormick, and Kulazewski combined for seven points of their own and Clarkston went up 58-51. That spurt put the game away. Both teams each scored another seven points apiece and at one time, Clarkston commanded an eight-point lead. The game ended and the score was 65-58, with Clarkston on top.

Free throws were a big part of the game. Clarkston was out-shot by Township from the floor 25-21, but the Wolves had 23 foul shots to the Skippers' 8. Township was only given 13 chances at the line and Clarkston did not commit their fifth foul in the second half until there was 34 seconds left to play. Kubani led the scoring with 22 points.

JV Volleyballers Defeat Falcons; Record Now 6-1, 2-0

The Clarkston JV Volleyball team was victorious in their match against Rochester Friday. The win put their record at 2-0 in the league and 6-1 overall. They won in two games 15-8, 15-12.

"I thought we controlled both games pretty well," said JV coach Nancy Foster. The stand-outs for the JV were Kelli Keating and Lin Klinger in hitting, blocking and serving. At the service line, Klinger went 12-12 and Keating was 8-8. Renee Mercier excelled in the back row.

The JV's also had a tournament on Saturday, but they went up to Lansing Waverly. They tied for first in their pool, splitting with East Lansing 10-15, 15-12 and Howell 15-8, 13-15 and beating Holt 15-7, 15-9. Their place in the pool sent them to the quarterfinals. There, they lost to Brighton 15-13, 16-6. They are looking forward to their own tournament next Saturday at CHS.
