Two Dead in Area Murder - Suicide

Ronald Duane Ferrin, 35, of Cross Road in White Lake Township, killed his 16-year-old daughter, critically wounded his wife, and then shot himself, with a .22 caliber pistol at approximately 2:30 p.m. last Friday.

The murder-suicide took place at the Ferrins' home located on rural Cross Road, near the Andersonville and White Lake Road intersection.

The Oakland County Sheriff's Department and White Lake Township Police arrived at the scene after Mrs. Helen Ferrin, 40, managed to crawl to a phone.

Mrs. Ferrin was listed in serious condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Two other children, David, 6 and Rebecca, 7, arrived home from Andersonville Elementary School by bus, just as Riverside Ambulance was rushing their mother to the hospital.

The murder-suicide came only a week after the Ferrins had decided to reconcile in a bitter divorce case. Ferrin was known to have beaten his wife on numerous occasions, and it was against the advice of her attorney, that Mrs. Ferrin allowed the divorce suit to be dismissed.

Ferrin had been laid-off from Pontiac Motors since December. Mrs. Ferrin worked as a nurse's aide at a nursing home.

Parents to Attend School

Administrators have announced Clarkston Senior High School's first "Switch With a Parent" day. On Thursday, April 29th, students at Clarkston High will be encouraged to stay home if they can be replaced by a parent or guardian. Students who cannot be replaced by an adult are expected to be in attendance.

The purposes of S.W.A.P. day are many. First and foremost, it is hoped that parents will gain an appreciation of what a student's daily routine consists. It is assumed that each parent will gain a better understanding of their own student by seeing the levels of performance and attitudes of the other students. It also should make communication regarding school problems much easier between parents and students. By seeing each teacher in action, perhaps parents can better help their young people in dealing with the academic demands of their classes.

Each student that is replaced by a parent or guardian is responsible for work that is assigned or is to be turned in on April 29th. This means that the parent has the responsibility of doing those things that their child would normally do in school.

For more information call the Clarkston Senior High School office at 625-0900.

WHY DO I NEED A WILL?

It's a common misconception that only older people or those with large amounts of property need wills. The truth is that every adult should have a will to guarantee that his - or her - final wishes will be carried out properly.

If you die without a will, state law will determine who inherits your property. Seldom will your property pass to the people you would choose in the proportions you prefer. With a will, you can choose who will administer your estate, handle financial matters, and act as guardian for your children. Even people in their 20's should have a will to specify their wishes in such matters.

So-called "do-it-yourself" wills often do not stand up in court. Consultation with a competent attorney will assure that your will is legal and binding; his or her fee is small when you consider the peace of mind that a legally secure will brings.

As funeral directors, we have seen the disastrous results when the proper wills were not drawn.

As funeral directors, we can provide counseling if you choose to specify funeral services as part of your will. For all other related matters, see an attorney.

We welcome your questions and commen-

CVP to Present "Same Time, Next Year"

A two-character adult comedy that one critic hailed at its opening on Broadway as "a love letter to the world," will be the next attraction of the Clarkston Village Players at the Depot Theatre March 5, 6, 7, 11, 12, and 13 then at the Deer Lake Racquet Club on March 26 and 27 in dinner/theatre. It is "Same Time, Next Year" by Bernard Slade, that ran for well over three years in New York and broke house records in theatres all over the world. Players production of the phenomenal hit will feature Karen Sage (Doris) and Chuck Haskins (George) starring as lovers who are married, but not to each other.

The entire action of "Same Time, Next Year" takes place in the same guest cottage of a country inn in Northern California. During the 25 years that are covered in the six scenes of the play, the couple spend a weekend there every succeeding year.

As the play opens, they are in bed. They met only hours earlier in the motel's restaurant. He is from New Jersey and on a business trip. She is from Oakland and on her way to a religious retreat. The year is 1951.

Slowly they become acquainted. She is Catholic and the mother of three. She never finished high school. He is a C.P.A. and the father of three. They fall in love with each other, but not out of love with their respective mates. They decide to meet again the following year.

And so we see these two at regular intervals in their extended relationship. Both of them change drastically through the years. They have arguments, they make up, they compress into the short time they have together all the appearances of a marriage. Meanwhile, she starts to improve her mind in a systematic progress from Book-of-the-month Club through high school and college, ending as a very successful businesswoman.

The man's development is never as steady as hers. His conservative attitudes waver considerably. He loses faith in the comfortable visions of life he once held, and even has a fling as a cocktail-bar pianist. The most stable thing about these two innocent adulterers is their enduring love for each other.

The laugh-laced action of "Same Time, Next Year" will be directed by Homer Biondi and produced by, wife, Violet Biondi.

After the opening night curtain on Friday March 5, the audience is invited to an "afterglow" at the Depot to share reactions with cast and crew with complimentary wine punch, cheese and crackers.

Tickets for all performances are on sale at Tierra Arts and Design, 20 S. Main, Clarkston. The Depot Theatre, 4861 White Lake Rd., tickets are $3.50 and reservations can be made by calling 363-0188.

Dinner-theatre tickets for March 26 and 27 at Deer Lake Racquet Club are also on sale at the Club and at the Back Court Restaurant. For reservations call Denise or Judy at 625-6111 or 625-8686. A $15.00 ticket includes a buffet dinner served from 6 p.m. and the play beginning at 8:30. There will be a cash bar.

The Thursday March 11 performance is a benefit for the Clarkston Women's Club. For ticket information call Pat Bresler 625-8923. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. for all shows except for Sunday March 7 when it will be 7:30 p.m.

Fire Destroys Clarkston Home

A house owned by the Edward Levy Co., at 5960 Clarkston Road was over half destroyed by fire last Saturday morning.

According to Independence Township Fire Department Captain, Dale Bailey, the department answered the alarm at 1:28 a.m. The F. Delgado family, renters of the house, were not home at the time of the fire.

Bailey said the cause of the fire was still under investigation.

Wanna put your mouth where the money is?

The Reminder is offering a night on the town (2 second row seats to a Detroit Pistons basketball game followed by dinner for two at the newly refurbished Old Mill) to the person who helps us find the worst pothole in Independence and Springfield Townships.

You see, Dennis Pajot, spokesperson for the Oakland County Road Commission, has already given us his "two cents" worth. He's named ten stretches of road "the worst" as far as potholes go in Oakland County. None of those roads are in this area.

That's hard to believe. I can count off a half dozen roads I've been down the past week that, in my opinion, are not fit to travel.

Thus we've devised The Reminder's Worst

Road Contest, in which we hope you will help us designate the worst stretches of road in this area. Hopefully, by making people more aware of unfit sections of road, caution and care will be utilized when traveling down those treacherous sections. You may also be assured, the winners of the contest will be passed along to the Road Commission for their review.

To enter The Worst Road Contest, simply fill out the coupon below. Please include your name, address, and phone number. Judging will be done by members of The Reminder staff. Deadline is March 15, 1982.

Why not give it a shot. The Pistons provide an exciting show and the food at The Old Mill is absolutely delicious.

You won't find North Oakland Nitelife in this issue of The Reminder. Due to the poor economy, we've found it much too costly to continue inserting the monthly entertainment magazine in The Reminder.

That doesn't mean the magazine's dead, however. We've expanded pick-up points to nearly 150, many right here in the Clarkston area. So if you've liked it's content in the past, you'll want to pick it up at your neighborhood tavern, restaurant, or pharmacy.

This month, star of Channel 7's early morning "No Nonsense Exercise" program, Charlie Heavenrich, is featured.

SMALL TALK

by Rebecca Roberts

I've always wondered if there really is a difference between small-town people and big-town people.

They say there is.

Big-town people are smarter because, well, they're exposed to, uh, more people.

Small-town people think small. They don't know much about Real Life. Unlike people from bigger towns, they don't see much, are mostly concerned with The Crop, and say "Huh?" a lot.

Big-town people have more stores. Their streets are wider and they have more cars to cross in front of, and to find parking spaces for.

But then, they have more parking spaces.

Big-town people look down when they walk-unless they meet someone from a small town.

Then they look up. At the pigeons? the stars?

It's hard to get someone's attention when they're looking up.

Small-town people have mud on their shoes. Sometimes the mud is so heavy, they can't lift one foot after another. And they leave clots of mud wherever they go.

Big-town people are shiny, like stones that have been washed too much. This makes them slippery, hard to pin down.

Small-town people have small eyes, the better to see close up. Small-town people have to see close up, because without Real Life, they live a lot in their imaginations.

Big-town people know this. So they make up stories about small-town people.

But the small-town people don't see much. And with mud on their shoes, they move slow. But they do move.

Sometimes to a big town. When this happens, it becomes much harder to pin them down. They begin to move fast and to fix their eyes upward, or downward, depending.

They start shining and making up stories.

They see more. More cars, more stores, more, uh, people. Occasionally a pigeon or a star.

They become smart.

When this happens, a small-town person looks just like a big-town person.

Nobody can tell anybody apart.

This is especially confusing if you happen to be from out of town.

TRIVIA

by Mike Morrow

I'm writing this at 3:30 in the morning. Normally I don't write at 3:30 in the morning. In fact I don't normally do anything at 3:30 in the morning, including breathing. But this was an exception. One of my dogs woke me up by sitting on my forehead and crying. Being the smart guy that I am, I realized that I had three seconds to get her out the door before she couldn't hold it any longer and drowned me.

While she did her duty I waited. You see, if my animals were like other, normal animals, I wouldn't have had to wait. I could have shoved her out the door and gone back to bed. Unfortunately my pets are different. They are more like humans. They have no desire to be outside at 3:30 in the morning on a cold winter morning and if you tried to force them to stay out there they would scratch at the door and wail until they were let in, much like anyone else would do. So I waited. While I waited I noticed something. Early morning looks remarkably like late night. It's dark. I had never noticed this before because one of the benefits of being a full-time writer is that you can get up whenever you please. In my case, that means rarely.

Naturally, the commotion woke up my other animals who both felt a trip outside at that particular moment would be just the ticket, so I waited again. This time as I waited I became alarmed. It was much darker outside than it had been just ten minutes before, it was so dark I couldn't see a thing. Then I realized that my eyes were closed.

Eventually I had to bribe my cat and dog to come back in because I kept falling asleep on my feet and my knees were buckling causing me to crash to the ground.

You would think that since I was so tired standing there, I would fall asleep immediately when I got back to bed. No such luck. I just laid there listening to my animals snoring peacefully.

No matter how I tossed and turned, I couldn't sleep. So now I'm sitting here writing a column at a time when all decent people are unconscious. Life is not fair.

Since I'm awake anyway, in an attempt to make it worthwhile, I think I'm going to try to watch the sunrise. People have told me it is quite spectacular. I hear the sun actually rises in the sky instead of just turning on as I always thought it did.

I guess I shouldn't pass up the opportunity to see something like that, especially since it is a once in a lifetime thing because as soon as the animals wake up, they're getting toilet trained.

Don't Have to be Gifted to be Interested

Mr. Wilcox:

I once took nine little girls to a bee farm, fourth graders all, some eligible, but none in, a gifted program. These girls enjoyed, asked "hundreds of questions" - some funny, some very perceptive, all interesting. Our bee keeper was so impressed with their active interest, their wanting to know, that he even kept their thank-you notes, and regaled relatives and friends with tales of the "Campfire Nine" for months afterwards. Our bee keeper is a mechanical engineer, by the way.

I once took these same girls to Greenfield Village for an overnight. I watched those faces, rapt in the darkened, closed Museum at night, listening to, and asking questions about, the journey of a Conestoga wagon across the U.S., and it made me immeasurably proud of my "average" kids.

This kind of interest or intelligent questioning could have resulted in a normal classroom situation, it does result from average kids. Gifted children are special kids, my kids, too, are special kids. I've seen that kind of involvement and interest -- and not just from gifted kids. I do resent your veiled implication that kids outside the gifted program, can't grasp, can't use, can't handle the wonders of a guest speaker, or a field trip, or an experience outside the normal classroom. Of necessity, school budgets can't provide too many of these anyway.

My nine year old is a "nearly all A" student (minus the handwriting). Her reaction to your editorial was one of mild surprise that you feel she wouldn't be interested in hearing you discuss your work, and also that her life academically is simply squeezed between her recesses. "I work for those A's!"

I'm glad you enjoyed the kids, very glad the program itself has finally seen the light of day. Do not, however, assume intelligent questioning is the exclusive realm of the gifted child. It's not.

about are skilled tradesmen who go to school for four years or more to earn their wages. Agreed, a man working on the line may not be worth the pay he receives, but the skilled workers can make the same wages many places. Many of the workers are willing to make concessions, if the savings will be passed along for the entire length of the concession contract! This was not GM's thinking. They would not promise that it would be handled that way. Also, check the wages of the executives against the Japanese. Check the number of salary or management personnel against the Japanese. In some cases G.M. employs one foreman for six men. This proportion has increased greatly in the last few years. Also, the management personnel were promised that any cuts in vacations, etc. would be reinstated in three months or as soon as cars started selling but yet U.A.W. members would be locked into an 18-month agreement. Lastly, will everyone make concessions? How about grocery clerks, utility workers, doctors, lawyers, garbage men? Auto workers are not living at a high standard. Most are struggling from one pay check to another. Many have more than one job. Now tell me could you live on less money? How long are we going to buy G.M.'s stories? Please check the facts, all the facts.

Carpet Crafters Thrives Because of Service, Variety

"We are obviously doing something right for our customers, to still be surviving in these hard pressing times that we have been going through," says Denny Potulsky, who owns the Carpet Crafters with Keith Dutcher.

That something right includes a variety of products and the very best service possible.

The Carpet Crafters, located at 9768 Dixie Highway, Clarkston, stocks paints, carpets, linoleum and wallpaper. The paints come from world famous "Dutch Boy" and include a full line of paint sundries and supplies.

Linoleum can be purchased from four manufacturers including GAF, Mannington, Congoleum and Armstrong. Carpeting is available in a variety of types and colors. Wall coverings can be selected from over 300 books at a discount of 25% all the time.

The Carpet Crafters has been in business for seven years. Before its opening, Dutcher spent four years in the carpet business at another store and Potulsky was involved in business management for ten years.

Potulsky said both he and Keith give personal attention to their customers from start to finish. An example of that would be the fact that they personally install all of their own carpeting at a bargain $2.00 a square yard.

"When all is said and done the business that gives their customers quality products that last, at reasonable prices they can afford, along with friendly courteous service before and after the sale, well frankly - those are the businesses that survive... and Keith and I are living proof of that," said Potulsky.

The Carpet Crafters are open from 8:30 a.m. to 5, Monday-Friday and from 9 to 3 on Saturday.

Country Cords Celebrates 4th Anniversary

Offering Storewide 20% Off Sale

Country Cords is currently celebrating its 4th anniversary at its downtown Clarkston location. The store, located in the Clarkston Emporium, has a complete line of children's clothing from infant through pre-teen girls and student size boys.

Owner Sandie Bruce says there is no need for parents to drive the longer distances to larger malls because her store offers a wide variety of styles. In all, she said, Country Cords has approximately sixty brand names it offers.

One of the more important features of her business is the emphasis on personalized service. Mrs. Bruce says she and two helpful employees, Cathie Arnould and Carol Wilkinson, work diligently with their customers.

Regular customers receive special treatment. Before a major sale breaks, Country Cords calls those regular customers and allows them a few days before the sale is publicized to come in and shop.

Mrs. Bruce said she has a "sincere interest in providing Clarkston and neighboring communities with a better and more convenient place to shop."

A 4th anniversary sale will be held

March 3-6 at which everything in the store will be marked 20% off. In addition, outerwear is marked 40% off and winter stock has been marked down 50-75% off.

Chances are, if you have young children, this is one sale you won't want to miss.

Oxford School Rates One of Michigan's Five Best

Spring, for many, is a time of renewal of nature's beauty.

The Oxford School of Cosmetology renews nature's beauty all year long, but Jenny Zelinski, the owner, finds this spring particularly promising.

The school will celebrate its 5th Birthday this April. Since opening they have become nationally accredited and are proud of the fact that they are rated one of the top 5 cosmetology schools in the state.

Ninety percent of the school's graduates are working in the area.

The Cosmetology curriculum is thorough, covering anatomy, chemistry, electricity, massage management and all facets of hair care.

The course entails 1,500 hours of instruction which can be completed within a year.

All the school's work is done by students with over 350 hours of training before allowing them to work on the public.

Classes start the first Tuesday of each month and in order to teach on a one to one basis, classes are no larger than 10 per class.

The previous owner Ann Romberger of Ortonville whose daughter Jenny, now owns the school, have been in the business for over 30 years.

4 CHS Grapplers Seek State Titles Place 3rd in Regionals

by Ron Wagner

The Clarkston Wrestling team placed third in the Regional Wrestling Tournament, which was held in Troy over the weekend. Bay City Western finished first with 66½ points; Flint Northern, second with 62 points; Clarkston, third with 59½; Troy, fourth with 49½ points, and Anchor Bay, fifth with 44 points.

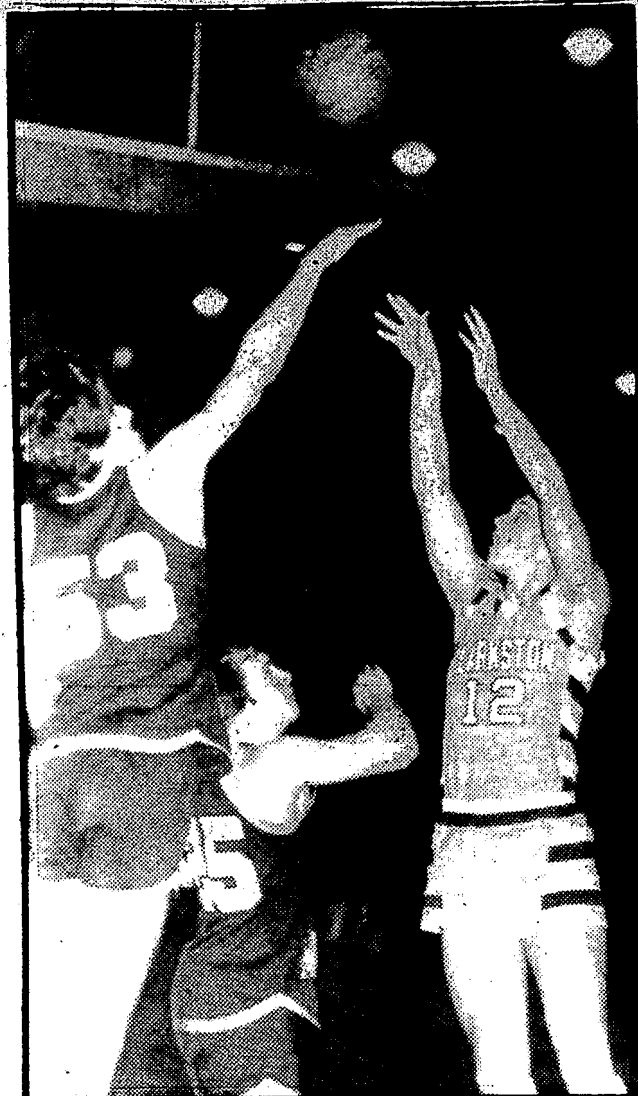

Four Clarkston grapplers placed in the top four and qualified for the State Tournament, to be held in Lansing next week. Jeff Miracle and Tom Hecker finished second, Bruce Burwitz was third and Greg Ellis placed fourth.

"He (Ellis) is only a sophomore, and to qualify for State is great," said Coach Rick Detkowski.

The weekend was not without misfortune for Clarkston, however. Mike Conway's back finally gave out on him, and he did not qualify for State. He had injured it early in the season and further aggravated it in both the League and District Tourneys. Conway finished his high school career with a record of 103-17-1. His injury was especially disappointing as he was a three-time league champ, a two-time State qualifier, and he finished fourth in the State last year.

"It would have looked better with Conway in there," said Detkowski of the team's chances at State next week. "But with all things considered, it looks good." Detkowski was also honored at the tournament by being named Regional Coach of the Year by the Michigan Wrestling Association.

"I could not have done it without my six seniors," said the Coach. He explained that this year's seniors are the first group that he has coached for a full three years, as this is only his third year as head coach.

Buzzer Shot Misses, Wolves Lose by 2

by Ron Wagner

"Losing is a bitter pill to swallow anytime," said Clarkston Coach Gary Nustad, but Friday night's game against Waterford Mott must have been especially tough. The Wolfpack led through most of the first half, lost the lead in the second, and listened as the buzzer beat Ray Kubani's

Volleyballers Capture GOAL Title with 2 Wins Last Week

by Ron Wagner

The Clarkston Volleyball team finished off their league season Thursday with a victory over Waterford Kettering. This put their league record at 7-3 and the girls are all alone at first place in G.O.A.L. This is the third year in a row that the girls have had some share in the league crown, but the past two have been shared with Rochester.

They started off the week with a win over West Bloomfield on Monday, 15-8, 15-11. That was the Wolves' final home appearance of the season. On Wednesday, they travelled to Waterford Mott and lost 13-15, 15-11, 14-16. The scores for Thursday's contest were 15-6 and 15-9.

The week's momentum unfortunately did not carry over to the weekend for the Clarkston Invitational. According to Coach Linda Denstaedt, the day's results were "not so well in win/loss, but they played well. It was a good day in preparation for districts." East Lansing Waverly took first place honors in the tourney. They were followed by Royal Oak Kimball.

Denstaedt mentioned many girls who have played well this past week. Lanette Whitehead, who is the starting server has been blocking at a 75 percent rate and turning in fine all-around performances. Sandy Mason has been hitting very well and Michelle Ulasich has excelled in setting. Kathy Weber has been blocking 50 percent of the hits near her and has had good hitting. Next week, the girls will play against Oxford on Monday and then journey to Port Huron for a Pre-District Match. This game, against Port Huron North, determines whether or not they go to the District Tournament next Saturday.

Ski Teams Place Third in Regionals

Members of the Clarkston Boys Ski team were beside themselves after Wednesday's League Ski Meet at Mt. Holly. They avenged their Regional and District places by taking second, beating several teams that were slated to go to the State meet. Cranbrook finished first with 42 points; Clarkston, second with 108; Grand Blanc, third with 114; and Andover, fourth with 141. Craig McLeod was fifth in the giant slalom event, Andy Balzarini finished seventh in the slalom and Fred Roeser took eleventh place in both events.

The Girls team scored better, but ended up in the same place. Grand Blanc took first place with 77 points; Clarkston, second with 93; Kingswood, third with 125; and Lakeland, fourth with 133. The team was led by Angela Balzarini, who took third in both events. Petra Dziallas finished eighth in the slalom and tenth in the G.S. and Lisa Burkemo was tenth in the slalom event.
