Board Closes South Sashabaw

by Mike Wilcox

A crowd estimated at well over 100 watched in silence last Monday, as the Clarkston School Board voted unanimously to close the doors of South Sashabaw Elementary School at the end of the current school year.

The vote, and meeting seemed anti-climatic as no one from the overflow crowd and only one board member had anything to say about the subject, publicly.

Even Board President Janet Thomas seemed somewhat surprised when she invited members of the audience to speak and no one volunteered.

Apparently, all had been said at the public hearing held two weeks ago. At that meeting most everyone had something to say -- and it generally was critical of the administration's recommendation to close the school.

Superintendent Milford Mason has maintained poor fiscal posture and a decreasing enrollment necessitated the need to close an elementary. South Sashabaw seemed a likely candidate because it is the district's smallest school and it's located immediately across the street from newer and larger North Sashabaw Elementary.

The plan is to disburse those students normally scheduled to go to South Sashabaw in 1982-83 amongst North Sashabaw, Bailey Lake and Pine Knob elementaries.

According to Mason, the additional student population at those three schools will not create an unwieldy additional burden.

Members of the North-South Sashabaw PTO, and others had been highly critical of the closing. They suggested cuts could take place elsewhere and the administration wanted the kids out of the school so that they could house non-instructional programs like community education.

Mason didn't deny that, if things could be worked out, an alternative use may be found for the building.

In fact, at Monday's meeting he revealed the existence of a study group that was looking into three options for the building. The options include enlarging the pre-school program, holding daytime adult education programs, or initiating a program for recent drop-outs.

Mason emphasized the programs would only be brought into South Sashabaw if they could pay for themselves. All three would qualify for hefty State subsidies.

"This is a use (one of the three options) I'd much prefer over closing the building," said Mason.

In other action, the Board agreed to send notices of non-renewal of contracts and/or reassignments to thirteen administrators. Mason said the thirteen notices were not definite, but rather, several, depended on the outcome of arbitration procedures.

Mason also announced Clarkston was entering into a tri-lateral Special Education program with Brandon and Holly Schools until the end of this school year. If the program works, the schools might combine the special education efforts on a fulltime basis.

Independence Tables Stiff Arcade Ordinance

by Mike Wilcox

A motion to adopt the much talked about arcade ordinance in Independence Township was defeated last week at the regular Township meeting. Moments later after its defeat, a motion to table the issue was unanimously passed.

Board Trustee Larry Kozma said he simply was not prepared to pass the ordinance as it was, because he had just received a copy of the amendments a day before the meeting.

"It might have been good to have these amendments before tonight," said a perturbed Kozma. "There may be some provisions I might want to talk about or change."

Treasurer Fred Ritter, an outspoken critic of the ordinance and Clerk Chris Rose voted with Kozma not to pass the ordinance. Supervisor James Smith and Trustee Dale Stuart voted for its passage. Trustees William Vandermark and Daniel Travis were absent.

In speaking for passage, Smith said, "I feel it would have been in the best interest of the Township to have passed some ordinance tonight."

The arcade discussion began with Township attorney Gerald Fisher explaining amendments to the original draft that had been discussed at the previous meeting.

Fisher said an extensive survey of the Township had been made, and surveyors found ten businesses who currently operated at least one video game. Two of those businesses, Howe's Lanes and Pine Knob Ski Resort had more than two.

The ordinance according to Fisher, was written to distinguish between those businesses that operated the video games as a primary function; those businesses that operated them as accessory use (up to 15 machines); and those businesses that had only 1 or 2 machines.

Features of the proposed ordinance are:

- All establishments with video games, whether they are 1 or 100, must be licensed by the township.

- Establishments with 15 machines or more must provide a uniformed guard during operating hours.

- The games, under the accessory category, cannot be operated at anytime while the principal use of the business is not open.

- Arcades could not allow anyone younger than 14 years to enter an arcade without a parent or guardian.

- Require that arcades could not open for business until noon on weekdays.

- Require that the Chief of Police file a written report on the reputation and moral character of all license applicants.

Ritter called certain aspects of the ordinance ridiculous.

"I don't expect anybody to agree with me but, I find this arcade ordinance far more reaching than we realize. We are going to preclude arcades from the Township and I just don't agree with that," said Ritter.

He continued, "The requirement for uniformed guards is ridiculous. I can't handle it. I'm going to have to vote no. We are telling people we know better for you than you do."

Smith disagreed. "I can name occasions in this Township when it would have been very helpful to have guards. What this says is prove you don't need them (referring to a clause in the security guard requirement that might allow an arcade owner to forego the expense of a security guard if he could prove to the Township one was not necessary)."

"How can you have fun if you have some

Dental Dialogue

by Gary R. Ushman, D.D.S.

Q. My husband grinds his teeth in his sleep, can this habit cause problems?
A. Yes. Grinding the teeth is called bruxism, and it affects 10% of adults. Even with the best oral hygiene, it can cause periodontal (gum) disease, tooth wear, and if extreme the loss of teeth. Habitual clenching and grinding loosens the teeth in their sockets by damaging the membranes and supporting bone. Eventually the teeth may detach from the gums and infection can set in. To help your husband "fight it," your dentist can construct a rubber guard for him to wear at night for protection.

This column is presented in the interest of better dental health. From the office of Dr. Gary R. Ushman, 55 S. Main St., Clarkston, Michigan 48016. Phone 675-2066.

This world we live in is literally a "mess". Our very existence is threatened by tyrannical leaders like Libya's Mohammad Khadafy and Cuba's Fidel Castro; and by powerful countries like the Soviet Union. At home we face a cruel depression that is bankrupting businesses, governments and families without prejudice. Unemployment approaches 20 percent while interest rates and taxes remain sky high.

What can we do about it? No one has all the answers. That's obvious. But a few of us have some answers I'm sure. And, The Reminder would like to help you get your answers, suggestions, opinions, etc. on the desk of our president, Ronald Reagan.

To do this, we've solicited the services of Congressman William Broomfield, who has graciously accepted to see that President Reagan gets your letters.

Now all you have to do is write. Tell Reagan he's doing a good job or lousy job; tell Reagan you're fed up with taxes; tell him you like or dislike his budget; tell him your thoughts on increased defense spending and the pathetic economy. Tell him whatever you want. But for godsakes, tell him something.

Please address your letters to President Ronald Reagan in care of The Reminder, 6569 Dixie Highway, Clarkston 48016. Some letters will be published in The Reminder, also.

Please send them to us by March 31st. We plan to forward them to Congressman Broomfield on that date.

LETTERS

Dear Mike:

Thank you for your thoughtfulness and the courtesy extended to me to be allowed to be interviewed by you, and then to be featured in The Reminder. Honestly, I am flattered by the attention, but I am vain enough to really like what you had to say, and the way it was presented. I appreciate this gesture, and wanted you to know so.

I sincerely hope that you have great success in what you are attempting to do there, with The Reminder. May God richly bless you and your family. Again, thank you for this courtesy.

Your friend,
Paul Vanaman, Pastor

Happy Birthday Clarkston!

This is the 150th Anniversary Sesqui-Centennial of the founding of the village by the two Clark brothers, Nelson and Jeremiah. The intent of this letter is to advise all organizations and service clubs in the area that the theme for our 150th year is "The Way We Were". It is the desire of the Village Council that club and social activities, parade themes, etc., throughout this coming year be channeled along the ideas of the beginning and early days of the village and its settlers.

The council believes that over the next three months a lot of enthusiasm can be generated to celebrate this Sesqui-Centennial event. For example, one group has suggested a party at one of the evening band concerts. Perhaps this could be developed into an old-fashioned ice cream social.

Also, the Village Council is considering building a gazebo that would double as a band shell. Hopefully, this could become a work project with joint community and service club effort. The council would appreciate the support of your organization and input on ideas, activity suggestions, etc., to make this a successful celebration. Please address correspondence to me at the Village Hall, 375 Depot Road, or at my home, phone 625-2007.

Let's throw a party!

Jack Byers
President, Pro-Tem

FRIEND OF THE COURT

by Roland Fancher

The Office of the Friend of the Court is required to initiate and carry out proceedings to enforce child support orders. The procedures to be used in meeting this requirement are established in Michigan General Court Rule 727.

The most commonly used enforcement tool is the Order to Show Cause. This Order requires the delinquent payor to appear in Court at a certain date and time to explain why support is not being paid as ordered. Failure to appear when ordered will usually result in the issuance of a bench warrant for non-appearance, and the subsequent arrest of the person involved.

The notice to appear is served by ordinary mail, as allowed by court rule. For this reason, it is extremely important that the Friend of the Court always be advised of any change in the address of the person required to pay support. If address changes are not reported, the notice will be sent to your old address. If you do not receive the notice, you may find yourself arrested for non-appearance at the hearing. Simply notifying the office in writing when you change your address could save you from being arrested.

When you appear for a hearing, you will meet with a Friend of the Court attorney. He is not representing either party, but is acting as a referee. He will discuss the matter of support with you, and will try to resolve the matter without appearing before a judge. If settlement can not be reached, the matter will go before the Court.

While incarceration may be ordered in clear cases of purposeful disobedience to a court order, it is only used as a last resort. Alternatives to imprisonment are explored, and used where practicable.

One alternative to jail is the Court Community Service Program. The program may be used if the person behind in child support owes money to the State of Michigan for a period of time when the minor children were receiving public assistance. In this program, the delinquent payor is required to perform public service work for a governmental, charitable or non-profit agency. When this work is performed, the payor will receive credit against arrearages owed to the State at the rate of $4.00 per hour. Thus, for 250 hours of service, a $1,000.00 credit is received. Jail is avoided, and the community receives a benefit. The taxpayers also save the cost of incarceration. Participation in the program does not affect the public assistance grant for the minor children.

If a person is employed, the court may order a wage assignment. Child support will then be deducted from wages and sent for the children through the Friend of the Court. Thousands of wage assignments are now in effect. For example, Pontiac Motors and G.M. Truck and Coach respectfully were processing about 1,000 and 900 wage assignments per week. Many persons voluntarily have support payments sent from their paychecks to assure prompt and regular payments.

If you are unemployed, advise the Friend of the Court. Arrangements can be made to assign a portion of your unemployment benefits for child support. In some cases, you can be referred to agencies such as the J.O.B. Placement Service and the Pontiac Area Urban League for help in obtaining employment.

The Friend of the Court can not solve all your problems. They do need to know your situation, and will try to work with you. Don't wait until you are arrested to make them aware of your situation.

Do you have question regarding the operations of the Friend of the Court? If so, address them to Roland Fancher, Assistant Friend of the Court, c/o The Reminder. Questions of general interest will be answered in later articles.

TRIVIA

by Mike Morrow

Some of my friends tease me about my taste in food. I have none. I'm the original junk food junkie. My motto is, "If it comes in cellophane, I'll eat it."

That's not to say I don't like other foods. I enjoy a good salad topped with crumbled barbecue potato chips and Twinkie slices or fresh steamed vegetables covered with hot fudge and marshmallow sauce as much as the next person. It's just that my tastes don't stick exclusively to those rigid health foods.

I like the wide variety of dishes you can make with junk food. For example, did you know that there are 47 different ways to prepare and serve a Hostess Ding Dong?

That's why I feel the Ding Dong is one of nature's most perfect foods.

I'm sure many of you out there agree but won't admit it. Be honest now, if you had your choice of a bag of Nacho flavored Doritos or a bowl of bean sprouts topped with a festive sprinkling of Bran, which would you choose? That's what I thought.

I know there are people out there who disagree with me, but let's take a look at them. Most probably they are the type of person who lists Brewers Yeast and dried prunes among their favorite foods and can often be found aimlessly running down the road dodging in and out of traffic. Who do you want to believe in? The choice is yours.

Those people may have a point about my food being filled with chemicals and unnatural ingredients in some cases, but which would you prefer, chocolate covered unnatural ingredients or soy beans covered with anything up to and including hundred dollar bills? The chocolate wins every time.

I realize that mine is a lone voice. Most people who agree with me are too intimidated or too busy wolfing down Ho-Hos to speak out, so it's just me and Sara Lee against the world. But hopefully someday the chubbies of the world will dust the potato chip crumbs off their lap, scrape the chocolate off their teeth, and stand up for what they believe in.

Now that I've said my piece, I hope you'll excuse me, my Twinkie soufflé is about ready to come out of the oven.

SMALL TALK

by Rebecca Roberts

Congressman William S. Broomfield sent me a questionnaire the other day. My first impulse was to toss it because I'm cynical. How effective can my voice be, read from a form printed in blue ink, a form on which the Congressman's photograph on close examination proves to be a cluster of blue dots. Which makes him look fuzzy at the edges. Which pretty much sums up my view of politicians these days.

Nevertheless, I have been wanting to talk to those people on Capitol Hill, and here, uninspiring as it was, was an invitation to do so.

The moment I examined the questions, I knew this was not going to be an in-depth study of the political views of Rebecca Roberts. There were only six or so, and they read like a Nixon speech. Some were so ambiguous as to make me wonder what the real question was. And the yes-or-no format made me feel claustrophobic. There are so many "maybe's?" in the real world. So many "yeh, but's."

And "no, but's..."
For example, one question read something like "Do you think we should reduce defense subsidies to our European allies and make them pay their fair share?"

That's a mean question. It's like a bill with a rider -- those off-hand, tagged-on afterthoughts that make you vote for one undesirable thing in order to obtain some other desirable goal. The tag-end is usually the real issue in the first place.

I didn't like my choices here. If the subsidy goes toward nuclear arms buildup, my answer would be a resounding "Yes!" Reduce the money -- no, don't reduce it, eliminate it. Because I am foursquare against one red cent of my tax dollar going toward additional nuclear weaponry. It's just not a black-and-white, or yes-or-no, issue.

Can we even trust the Defense Department with our money? A recent report says the Department of the Navy lost $300 million dollars worth of inventory from a single warehouse installation. They just can't account for it.

To the question, I answered an unequivocal "neither", which will probably not compute.

I filled out the rest of the questionnaire the best I could, then knowing I had so much more to say, I wrote Congressman Broomfield a letter under separate cover. I told him my feelings about the fuzzy questions, and more importantly, how urgent I felt was the question of nuclear arms, that it foreshadows all other concerns. I urged him and his colleagues to move decisively, not just to curb, but to halt the insane nuclear arms race.

He wrote right back. I was impressed.

But my good impressions were blurred by the letter's tone. I know he meant well, but the letter was written by a politician, not a man named William Broomfield. Oh, it was his signature alright. He even signed it "Bill" Broomfield.

He said: "...I feel we must increase our defense spending dramatically although I don't think we should give a blank check to the military despite that need." He went on to explain the now-familiar "Russians-are-coming" theory of political spending policies, how far behind we are, etc. In what areas are we behind? Troops? F-18's, Grenades? Tanks? And what kind of war will be fought in the next confrontation with the Russians? A ground war? Hand-to-hand combat? Or will it be a war fought with buttons, lasting less than an hour? I want some answers. I don't want campaign speeches. I don't want platitudes. I don't want pats on the head.

Broomfield continues: "We must however avoid escalation of the world's nuclear arsenal...bring peace and stability to this troubled world." Yes, Mr. Congressman, we agree. We agree.

Time is Right For Heating, Repairs, Replacements, and Alterations

Late winter and early spring are traditionally the slower months for heating and cooling companies. Heating contractors, during these slower months, have a little more time to better serve their customers whether it be replacing that old furnace, cleaning and checking a good operating furnace, installing a vent damper, or installing that humidifier or electronic air cleaner the doctor prescribed for your health and comfort.

The price of equipment, parts, and material continues to increase, but because of slower times the best deals can be made now before the weather breaks.

Independence Tables Arcade Ordinance

jerk in a uniform looking over you. I think they cause more problems than they solve," answered Ritter.

Despite voting for the ordinance, Stuart wasn't pleased with the written report from the Chief of Police requirement. "That has no business in this ordinance and I'd like to see it out," said Stuart.

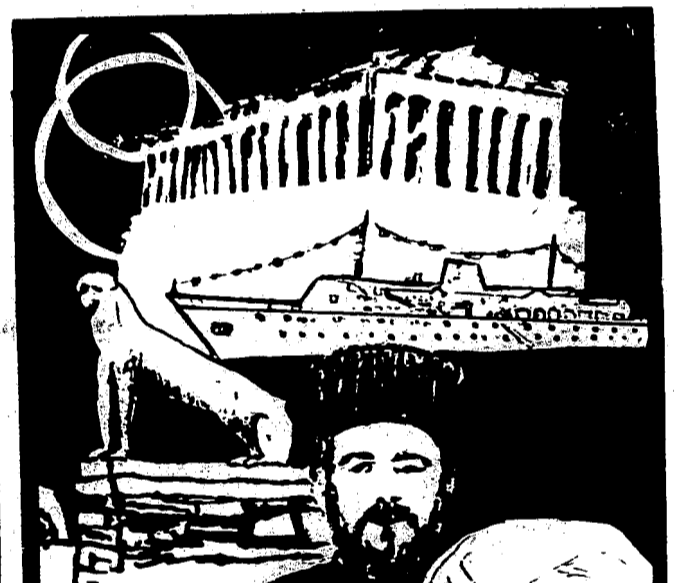

He added, "I don't think a person who is bringing an application before us should have to expose their whole life just to run an arcade."

The fees an operator would have to pay to obtain a Township license were questioned by Rose.

"The fees could become quite excessive," said Rose. "They might end up having to pay a month's rent just to get a permit from us."

But Smith countered with figures he had read from Time Magazine that stated an average machine can bring in as much as $400. "We're talking here $1 a week. I don't feel that's extravagant at all," said Smith.

The arcade ordinance and its amendments will again be discussed at the next regular board meeting.

Board Bucks Audience, Nixes Summer Tax Again

by Mike Wilcox

Independence Township stuck to their guns last week, when they unanimously voted down a proposal by Lake Orion Schools to collect 50 percent of the Township's property tax in the summer.

A similar proposal by Clarkston Schools was defeated in early February.

The Board voted it down despite heavy support from the audience for the summer tax proposal.

In explaining the Township Board's reasoning, Supervisor James Smith said, "Several of us feel that this was not the year to put an additional burden on the taxpayers. This is one of the most drastically hard years that many people here have ever seen."

He further stated that he had received mail and heard many comments from people that would really be in a financial bind if summer tax were to be instituted. He said some area developers, who were already on the verge of bankruptcy, would have to declare, if the tax collection procedure were changed.

Summer tax is a provision whereby Township governments would collect half of the school portion of property taxes in July or August and the other half at the regular time in December. Area schools favor the proposal because often times they must borrow money to cover operating costs during the summer and fall months when they have very little revenues coming in. They figure they could save substantial amounts of interest money if taxes were collected twice.

Townships, however, sometimes balk at twice collection, because, although it is not a tax increase, it might put an additional burden on some taxpayers during the first year it was instituted.

For example, Clarkston and Lake Orion schools want to see the tax collected immediately this summer. People who don't have their property tax money in escrow, might have a hard time paying 50 percent of their taxes this summer after just meeting their December obligations on February 15th.

Smith put it more succinctly, "The problem in essence is you have a doubling up of payments."

He added, "If we could figure a way to get that money out of those escrow accounts, I'd walk to the moon."

Trustee Larry Kozma suggested the schools put the summer tax proposal before the vote of the people. Lake Orion representatives, however, didn't think the proposal would pass and Clarkston representatives have voiced objections to that idea, previously.

Kozma then asked, "Your asking us, knowing the people are going to vote no, to vote yes? That is diametrically opposed to Democracy. This is changing the form of taxation. People should be allowed to vote on it," said Kozma.

One member of the audience agreed with Kozma's assessment. "Don't override what the people would vote for. That's why we put you there," said Mike Clark.

But the architect of last year's successful school millage election disagreed with those that said it would go down to defeat.

"I honestly feel if we educate the people in the community," said Jeanne Molzon, "I believe it would pass. But it would take so much work to do that."

She continued, "But you can't do it to them (property owners) in June (the month of the annual school election) and collect taxes in July. You just can't do that," warned Mrs. Molzon.

One of the founders of CURE, Carol Balzarini, said, "People can be easily convinced that this is a tax increase. An election would be an emotional issue. Don't stick us with an emotional election. It won't work."

Neil Ashley also questioned the magnitude of the summer tax opposition. "Where are all the people who oppose this? Why aren't they here? One person has spoken up in two meetings against this," he said.

Treasurer Fred Ritter noted that if a June advisory vote passed, his department would have little problem with getting out the tax bills for a July collection.

So as they did in early February when Clarkston Schools brought it before them, the Independence Township Board voted to deny Lake Orion School's request for a summer tax collection.

Videomania Arcade A Family Affair

"We challenge any Doubting Thomas that thinks these games are not fun, that they are not educational, and that adequate supervision is not available to come in and visit our arcade and see for yourself."

That challenge was issued by Tom Higginbotham, who with Bob Lamson, recently opened The Videomania Arcade at 5433 Dixie Highway in Waterford.

Higginbotham, in the roofing and siding business for 25 years and Lamson, in the pool business for 15 years, say they had family entertainment in mind when they began their arcade.

And true to their word, family entertainment is the greater share of their business. For example, Sunday is called Pee Wee Day, children under 12 are offered tokens at a discount price.

In explaining, Higginbotham says, "We find that under 12, the kids go through tokens twice as fast as the older kids so this day is a definite advantage for families.

The Arcade is available for churches, fund raising organizations, and private parties. David Graeser, youth director of Williams Lake Church of the Nazarene is one person who has used it for a private party, and according to Higginbotham, he plans to return on a monthly basis.

Monthly high scorers are published in The Reminder and twelve former monthly champions will be called in at the end of the year to compete in a playoff to become grand champion, said Higginbotham.

Another unique aspect of the business, is the concession stand. Unlike most video arcades that have only vending machines, Videomania has a complete concession stand, manned by adults that sell pizza, submarines, chips, pop, candy, etc.

Videomania Arcade is open weekdays from 11:00-11:00 and Fridays and Saturdays from 11:00-12:00.

Dr. Paul Vanaman: Building for God

by Mike Wilcox

In 28 years, Dr. Paul Vanaman and his Dixie Baptist Church have accomplished more than most churches accomplish in a century. Dr. Vanaman and his followers have built from scratch a church that holds 600 faithful parishoners every Sunday, a preschool - 12th grade private school, and now are about to complete a beautiful new gymnasium.

For Dr. Vanaman, an amiable, out-going type from New Jersey and Bob Jones University, it's been like a miracle come true. He never dreamed when he came to Michigan in 1953 that his life would unfold in such a dramatic fashion.

Dr. Vanaman's Michigan ministry began at Andersonville Community Church. "The first Sunday I was at Andersonville," recalled Dr. Vanaman, "there were thirteen people present. Four of those thirteen were my wife, my two children and myself. In less than 6 months we were running nearly 200."

For ten months, Dr. Vanaman pastored at the Andersonville Church before he yearned for something more challenging.

"I really prayed to God for some leadership and wisdom, some direction on what to do. I really thought we ought to be out here on Dixie Highway," said Dr. Vanaman.

After driving up and down the highway for several months, Dr. Vanaman inquired about a site at the corner of Dixie and what is now I-75. The owner, a generous man by the name of Myron Laten rented the sixteen acres and a small building to Dr. Vanaman for upkeep and maintenance of the property.

Dr. Vanaman was in business. He now had a church. The next step was to fill it.

"I just kept on doing what I'd been doing - knocking on doors. I'd say I've knocked on altogether 8, 9, 10 thousand doors," said Dr. Vanaman.

A year later, Dr. Vanaman was prepared to expand, again. The congregation had outgrown the small church building and was ready to build a new one. Dr. Vanaman approached Laten about purchasing his land, and the two worked out a land contract agreement.

On the church's first anniversary the congregation celebrated the groundbreaking. A couple of months later, footings were poured. That project all but wiped out the building fund. But little by little the church was constructed. Carpenters and suppliers, alike, donated supplies and services to the church. By 1958 it was ready for occupancy.

Or so it seemed. All we had was a basement floor and a roof over our heads, said Dr. Vanaman. We walked up and in the church on 2 x 4's, something like a gangplank.

To finish the church, Dr. Vanaman went to James Clarkson of 1st Federal Savings and "Evolution is a monstrous dirty lie," he readily professes. "The whole philosophy of evolution is what's killing this country. Kids are like they are today, mainly in part, because of this philosophy of evolution. When you rob people of God, there's a vacuum there. Some people turn to other things like sex, drugs, booze and wild times."

Loan of Oakland. He told Clarkson he needed a mortgage of $26,000 to finish the church. Lo and behold, First Federal granted the loan and Dixie Baptist became the first church ever to receive a mortgage from First Federal.

Dr. Vanaman's empire building didn't stop there. In rapid succession his congregation funded an auditorium in 1964, a new building in 1969, the hi-way pulpit in 1970, a bus garage in 1971, and the purchase of the present high school building and vacant land across the road in 1972.

"God was not through making people, but he was through making land. I decided I was going to get all the land I could," said Dr. Vanaman.

Thus the empire continued to grow until about 5 years ago. At that time the church owed $512,000 on six mortgages. They were paying $6607 a month in mortgage payments. Dr. Vanaman decided it was time to stop going into debt.

"I devised a 'get out of debt' campaign," said Dr. Vanaman. Right now we are sitting on 36 acres and ten buildings and only owe $15,000. The church managed to wipe out nearly a half million dollars in debt in five years.

I believe that God saw the hard economic times coming and directed me to devise the "get out of debt campaign. If I hadn't, Dixie Baptist Church would have been long gone by now, confessed Dr. Vanaman.

Since 1972, a great deal of Dr. Vanaman's time has been devoted to the Springfield Christian Academy, a private school for children age 3 to 18. Dr. Vanaman claims the school was started because "that's what God intended for us," not because he was concerned about the poor quality of education found in public schools. However, he does admit, a preference towards private schools, particularly when the subject of evolution is discussed.

"Evolution is a monstrous dirty lie," he readily professes. "That whole philosophy of evolution is what's killing this country. Kids are like they are today, mainly in part, because of this philosophy of evolution. When you rob people of God, there's a vacuum there. Some people turn to other things like sex, drugs, booze and wild times."

He continued, "It's not that we have school here like a hot house where we protect our children from the evils of the world. We are just trying to give them the character and motivation so that they can cope and deal with and fight the wrongs. It doesn't mean that we are trying to be better than anybody or we know it all."

The preoccupation with Springfield Christian Academy and getting out of debt hasn't deterred building plans. At this very moment, workers are putting on the finishing touches to a large, new gymnasium.

Dr. Vanaman is particularly proud of this project because the congregation has been paying cash for everything. We pay as we go, said Dr. Vanaman, from donations that average less than $100 apiece.

Dr. Vanaman expects to utilize the same method in building classrooms once the gym is finished. The classrooms will be located on the far side of the gymnasium.

"We're going to build it so, that we can build them one at a time, and someday we will move the entire high school over there."

Where does Dixie Baptist Church and Dr. Vanaman go from here? Dr. Vanaman claims to take life one day at a time. But with a twinkle in his eye, he does admit to some thoughts.

"I still have a very, very tender spot in my heart for children who need a home," he said. If the Lord wants me to, I'll build them a home."

Then he begins to rattle off statistical information about homeless children. "Did you know that the Midwest has more children that are homeless, than any part of the country," he asks. And I'll tell you something else - Oakland County is the center of that. It's shocking isn't it. I just wanna reach out and grab them all."

Don't be too suprised if that home is built in the next two or three years. Dr. Paul Vanaman has a history of doing what he says he's going to do.

Rooney Attends Conference

Michael R. Rooney of Creative Financial Planning has just returned from Hawaii where he attended a top-level sales conference sponsored by the Alexander Hamilton Life Insurance Company of America, of Farmington Hills.

Richard H. Headlee, president of Alexander Hamilton said Mike was selected from 4400 Hamilton sales representatives to attend the sessions "because of his leadership in our industry, demonstrated by his personal production."

Mike has been a resident of Clarkston for three years. Active in the community, he is a member of Clarkston Rotary Club and a member of the Board of Directors of "The Business Association of Independence Township."

Joint Fire Boards Subject of Bill

State Representative Claude A. Trim (D-Davisburg) has introduced legislation which would give villages and townships the authority to form joint fire administration boards.

According to Trim, existing law allows cities and townships to enter into such agreements, but there is nothing in the law that provides for villages and townships. "My bill would clarify this, removing any legal obstacles to this type of agreement between villages and townships," he said.

Trim said that several villages and townships, including the Village of Holly and Holly Township, are interested in forming joint fire administration boards, but there is a legal question as to their right to do so.

The joint fire administration board would oversee fire protection for the participating villages and townships. This would include preparing an annual fire department budget which would be submitted to the local governing bodies.

The joint board could be formed by two or more adjacent townships, incorporated villages or cities. Each would appoint two members to the board, other than an employee of a fire department. Board members would serve without compensation, but would be reimbursed for expenses.

Wolves Double Overtime Winners

by Ron Wagner

The Clarkston Varsity Basketball team finished its regular season up last week with wins over Bloomfield Hills Lahser on Tuesday and Milford on Friday. Both games took place in the Clarkston gym. The victories put Clarkston's overall record at 11-8.

The first half of Tuesday night's Lahser game was all Clarkston. The Wolfpack ran to a 14-5 lead by the end of the first quarter and increased the margin to thirteen at halftime, 33-20.

"We played an excellent offensive first half," said coach Gary Nustad.

Mike McCormick scored first in the second half to put the score at 35-20. From then on, it seemed as if the Knights were unstoppable. They out-scored the Wolves 14-3 for the rest of the third quarter to make it 38-36 Clarkston.

The Knights won the fourth period tip-off and scored to bring the score within two points. Five minutes later, two Lahser free throws put them on top 45-44. With 2:45 left to play, Lahser scored again to go up by three. The Wolves took the ball down the court and Ray Kubani was fouled while he was shooting. His shot was good and he converted the three-point play to tie it up 47-47. Lahser stalled for two and one half minutes, before calling time out with ten seconds to play. The Knights put up a shot and McCormick came down with the rebound, calling time with three seconds. The Wolves called a second time out and then passed the ball in. They did not try to score, sending themselves into their first overtime of the season.

Clarkston won the tip-off of the three-minute extra period, but lost the ball. Lahser scored first on free throws to go up 49-47. The Wolfpack lost the ball again, but got it back with 30 seconds to go. Craig Kulazewski then called time out with 16 seconds on the clock. Clarkston passed the ball in and Kubani scored to tie it again. Lahser got the ball and took a final shot which was no good. This caused another overtime.

Clarkston won the tip-off again and this time, Kubani tipped in the rebound from a McCormick shot and the Wolves took the lead. Kubani stole the ball, and in the ensuing scramble, was fouled. He sank both of his free throws to make the score 53-49. The following Lahser bucket was answered by another from Kubani and two foul shots by McCormick to give the Wolfpack a six-point lead. The Knights scored and then called time with 26 seconds on the clock. Mike Dearborn was fouled and scored on his first shot. Kubani caught the rebound from his second shot and scored. Lahser had one final basket to put the final score at 60-55 Clarkston.

Kubani led the team with 25 points, his personal best, and 8 rebounds. Fourteen of those points were among the last sixteen of the game. McCormick scored 16 points and pulled down 12 rebounds.

Friday's game was Parent's Night and the last game of the season. The starting five was altered a bit and included, Kubani, McCormick, Klaus Ohrnberger, Duane Cahill and Greg Hodgson. The game got off to a sluggish start, it took two and one half minutes for McCormick to score the first points of the game. Clarkston stayed out in front for the rest of the first quarter, which was highlighted by a slam-dunk by Kubani. He hung on to the rim and was called for a technical. Milford made the free throw and that put the score at 11-8. The Redskins scored once more before the end of the period and Clarkston led by only one point after the first eight minutes of play, 11-10.

Milford scored first in the second quarter to take the lead 12-11. The lead bounced back and forth until McCormick tipped the ball in to put the score at 17-16. Kulazewski put in one free throw to make it 18-16. Milford answered with one foul shot, but a Scott Temple bucket put the lead at three. This made the score 20-17 for the end of the first half.

Clarkston came out at halftime and out-scored Milford 8-2 at the beginning of the third quarter to make the score 28-19. The Wolves kept the lead and the third period ended with the score at 32-24.

Temple scored first for Clarkston in the final quarter to make it 34-26. That was followed by a basket by Kubani and Clarkston was up by ten points. The Redskins narrowed it to five at 38-33, but Clarkston then scored twelve points to Milford's three to make it 50-37. The Wolfpack coasted through the final minutes to win 54-45.

Junior Center Kubani again led in scoring with 24 points, McCormick added 12 and was good for 10 rebounds. Temple broke double digits with 10 points. The Wolfpack was superhot at the three throw line, shooting 82 percent (14 for 17). Coach Nustad was both pleased and disappointed with the game.

"We wanted it to be a primer for the districts; however, it is difficult...when it is the last home game of the season and Parent's Night." With the lack of sports in the Pontiac schools, Clarkston is in a district with Kettering, Mott, Township and Lake Orion. When asked of Clarkston's chances in the district tournament, Nustad answered, "We will be ready."

"This district probably features more evenly matched teams than any other district in the area," he continued.

The Greater Oakland Activities League All-League team was also announced this week. The eight-man team consisted of Dave Meyers and Greg Yates, Kettering; Pete Vartabedian, Mott; Brent Reed and John Trouba, Rochester; Todd Rich, West Bloomfield; and Mike McCormick and Ray Kubani from Clarkston.

Junior Ray Kubani had his finest week ever scoring 49 points, 2 from this awesome slam dunk.

Pressure Gets to CHS Grapplers

The Clarkston grapplers were only two points out of first place at the end of the second round of matches at the State Wrestling Tournament over the weekend. Unfortunately, "they just froze up," in the words of Coach Rick Detkowski. It was a rather disappointing end to an otherwise brilliant season for the Clarkston wrestlers.

SAY YOU SAW IT IN THE REMINDER

"They did a good job getting there," said Detkowski. "I hate to put a damper on it (the season). They had a good year."

All of the four wrestlers, Greg Ellis, Bruce Burwitz, Tom Hecker and Jeff Miracle, won at least one match. Miracle lost his first, but won his next four and finished fourth. His career record of 110-15 had set a new school record. Detkowski felt that the pressure of the State Tournament was just too much for his charges. None of them had been to State before and the Coach felt that if there had been a larger crowd from Clarkston, they might have done better. He pointed out that about ten people came from Clarkston and some schools had as many as 1000 fans in East Lansing.

"You're not going to lose when you have 1000 people cheering for you," lamented Detkowski.

SCA Represents State in Basketball Regional

Springfield Christian Academy is on their way to LaPorte, Indiana this weekend where they will play in the American Association of Christian Schools Midwest Regional Basketball Playoffs.

SCA earned the right to play in the regionals by defeating Grand Traverse Christian 58-39, to win the Michigan Districts.

SCA will take a 26-5 record with them that includes a Southeastern Christian Conference Championship and runner-up position in the Michigan Association of Christian Schools Championships.

The MACS Championship was held last weekend. SCA swept by Grand Traverse Christian but bowed to Temple Christian of Detroit, 81-59 in the finals. Until the Temple defeat, SCA had played fifteen games in a row without meeting defeat.

According to head coach Tom Norton, this is the best team SCA has ever had. He credits a balanced scoring attack plus a strong bench as the major reasons for their remarkable record.

SCA is lead by senior transfers Jerry Gould and Matt Anderson, and junior point guard Brad Dunn. Gould leads the team in scoring with 19 points a game. The 6'4" Anderson averages 13 points a game as well as leading the team in assists. Dunn, who was injured over the weekend and unable to play against Temple, directs the team's offense and is a stalwart on defense.

Junior Ken McClusky has come on real strong since the beginning of the year, using his 6'3" frame to muscle down rebounds inside. Senior Tigg Vanaman, is also much improved, particularly as a receiver on the fast break. Off the bench, Mike Sanders, Tom Cox and Nate Hayward provide substantial defensive talents.

Norton said, "I'm very proud of them. It's been a lot of fun."

Cubpack Romps Past Milford in Finale

by Ron Wagner

The Clarkston JV Basketball team split in their last week of play. They lost to Lahser on Tuesday and demolished Milford on Friday.

"We got killed in the first quarter and came back and played good basketball," said Coach Don Peters of the Lahser game. The score at the end of the first period was 21-8, the Knights in front. They increased their lead to fifteen points by halftime 36-21.

Lahser stayed way in front through the third quarter 48-35, but the Cubpack scored as many points in the final quarter as they did in the first half, out-scoring the Knights 21-14, to make the final margin only six, 62-56. Craig Nicolai scored 20 points and Ken Temple scored 15 for Clarkston.

Friday's game was a field day for the Cubpack. "It was a healer, it made them (the team) feel good about the season," said Peters of the 73-44 blowout. Clarkston opened right up, scoring 12 points before Milford could add their second point. It was not until there were 7 seconds in the first quarter that the Redskins scored their first field goal, and the score at the end of the first eight minutes was 12-6. John Powe scored first in the second quarter to make the score 14-6. Towards the end of the half, Nicolai put in a basket to make the lead 13 points. The half ended with the score 26-15.

Clarkston poured on the points in the third period. With three seconds in the third quarter, John Spiker scored to make the Cubpack lead 20-45-25. Milford scored first in the fourth quarter, but the Clarkston lead continued to grow. Unanswered points by Nicolai, Powe and Temple put the score at 60-31. Two free throws by Bob Ruelle make the lead thirty points 68-38. With 1:30 left to play, the Cubpack broke the thirty-point lead on a free throw by Tracy Flood, 69-38. Tim Dangle then scored to make it 71-40. The Redskins got in the final shot to make the score 73-44 at the end of the game.

Nicolai was the high-scorer with 13 points and 9 rebounds. He was followed by Temple with 12 points and 11 rebounds. Powe added 10 points and 9 rebounds.

Volleyballers Ousted from Districts

The Clarkston Volleyball team finished its regular season with a loss at Oxford on Monday 15-12, 15-13. On Tuesday, they traveled to Port Huron for a pre-district match against Port Huron Northern. They lost 15-5, 9-15, 11-15. "The team (Northern) was not very strong and we beat them badly the first game," said Coach Linda Denstaedt. "Then they relaxed." That seemed to be the doom of the team all year long.

Denstaedt did praise three of her seniors, Lanette Whitehead, Michelle Ulasich and Sandy Mason for their all-around performances this season.

Meet Your Community Businesspeople

Robinson Furniture Here to Stay

Joe Pfeiffer knows he's got not only the economy to beat in his quest for a successful business, but he must also live down the practices of the store's previous owners.

Before Pfeiffer and his business, Robinson Furniture Company, set up shop in January, the store at 6460 Dixie Highway, Clarkston, had went through several name changes and going out of business sales in a short period of time.

Pfeiffer expects all that change. "We at Robinsons want to do our utmost to assist the people in the community. Unlike the previous occupants of our building, we will not follow the previous pattern of running "Going Out of Business Sales"," said Pfeiffer.

Another philosophy Pfeiffer and sales assistant Cooley Pope hope to practice is helping people to select the right furniture for the right purpose rather than using pressure sale tactics.

"Our function is not specifically to "sell" furniture, but to help people buy it," said Pfeiffer.

Robinson Furniture offers a complete selection of quality furniture with expert sales and decorator assistance. Pfeiffer says his store will be competitive at all times in quality, price, service, and especially understanding.

Pfeiffer has the knowledge to be understanding, having 20 years experience in management, merchandising, decorating and color coordinating. He's studied at the Chicago School of Interior Design and spent four years as a store decorator for the area's largest furniture chain.

Robinsons is open from 10:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. daily and 12:00-5:00 p.m. on Sundays.

In conclusion, Pfeiffer noted, "Considering present business and financial conditions, we feel that having enough confidence in the area to open a new store here is a good indication that we want to help make good things happen."

MG...22 Years of Success

MG Sales has a simple formula for success. It's called servicing the customer with satisfaction, and their 22 years in business ought to attest to how well it works.

Bill and John Manuel, father and son owners, sell Case lawn and garden equipment, Suzuki motorcycles, Echo back pack blowers, weed trimmers and chain saws, Arctic Cat snowmobiles and Corona kerosene heaters, at their Drayton Plains Dixie Highway location.

The store's speciality is the Case equipment. According to the Manuels, their store is the only one in the area that sells the famous Case brand name.

The Manuels say they like the Case equipment because they're made of sturdy construction and are practically maintenance free. In 1981, MG Sales was named one of the top ten Case dealers in the Nation.

Believe it or not, the Manuels say 1981 was a good year for snowmobile sales. They claim a lot of people bought the snow machines to use them on area lakes.

Big races like the Super Bowl Snowmobile Race in downtown Pontiac enhanced their popularity this year also. As MG has been in the past, they were one of the sponsors of the Super Bowl race.

Their service department, wouldn't be what it is without the expertise of employees and service manager Dave Palawski. Palawski practices what the Manuels preach, by providing service that satisfies the customer.

MG Sales, in business at the same location for the last 17 years, is open Monday through Friday from 9:00-6:00 and Saturdays from 9:00-1:00.
