SERVING THE CITY AND TOWNSHIP OF NOVI

Vol. 22, No. 26, Five Sections, 46 Pages

Wednesday, November 2, 1977 - Novi, Michigan

TWENTY-FIVE CENTS

Novi voters will visit polls November 8

Novi voters will approve or reject six ballot issues, choose three council candidates from a field of 18 and one mayor from a field of two when they go to the polls November 8.

Polls open at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m. at seven precincts in the city. The precincts and locations are as follows:

- Precinct 1 — Fire Station 1, 25850 Novi Road
- Precinct 2 — Middle School, 25299 Taft Road
- Precinct 3 — Community Building, 26360 Novi Road
- Precinct 4 — Walter Tuck Fire Hall, 1919 Paramount
- Precinct 5 — Orchard Hills School, 41900 Quince

● Precinct 6 — Fire Station 1 25850 Novi Road

● Precinct 7 — Village Oaks School, 23333 Willowbrook Drive

The first three ballot issues deal with proposals that require additional finances, the fourth asks for approval of a new city charter and the fifth and sixth deal with whether residents along mile roads should be specially assessed.

The first issue asks for money to buy 71 acres of land from the school district to use as a civic center complex site and to construct a new police station.

City officials point to crowded conditions and inadequate holding facilities as reasons why a new police facility is needed.

The 71 acres is also expected to be the site of a new city hall when such a building is constructed.

The second ballot proposal asks for money to complete the library. The plan is to utilize the new library expansion completion as city offices for about ten years.

City offices are now scattered in seven locations but the appointive Novi Needs and Priority Assessment Committee decided available community facilities could be used rather than building a new city hall.

If the proposal is approved by voters, the plan is to give the facilities back to the library after ten years.

The third proposal seeks 1/2 mill for three years for the purpose of establishing and maintaining a Parks and Recreation program within the city. The Needs Committee judged the level of funding for Parks and Recreation as inadequate.

The fourth ballot issue asks voters to approve or reject a new city charter. The proposed charter contains three basic changes from the present charter: a primary election for council, the consolidation of 20 departments into three departments and the clarification and expansion of the city manager's powers.

Backers of the proposed charter point to an increased efficiency of operation as the main reason it should be passed. Supporters say the primary would allow citizens to make a more informed choice of candidates.

Opponents to the charter say it would be costly and could give the city manager too much power. The consolidation of departments, critics contend, would create three uneeded bureaucratic heads at the cost of about $30,000 apiece.

The primary election has also come under fire in some quarters as being an unnecessary waste of time and money.

City Attorney Dave Fried emphasizes that the changes the proposed charter would bring are unclear and subject to council interpretation.

Ballot proposals five and six ask whether residents along mile roads should be specially assessed for road improvements. The fifth proposal is an advisory question and the sixth actually asks whether the city should sell special assessment bonds for the road paving program.

The mile road assessment question was forced after a petition was circulated to bring the matter to a vote. The city proposed an assessment of $10 per front foot against property owners along mile roads.

City officials say defeat of the proposal would bring financial complications to the road program and may cut back the number of miles to be paved.

Voters will also choose three candidates from a field of 18 for city council. Four candidates have withdrawn, but their names will remain on the ballot.

Incumbent councilwoman Pat Karevich heads the list of candidates. She has served on the council for the past two years.

Former councilman and 1975 mayoral candidate Louie Campbell has also decided to give it another shot. Campbell is employed at Detroit Gas Products in Royal Oak.

Other candidates for council are: —Ray Wiedenbach, chairman of the Concerned Citizens Committee. Wiedenbach recently served on the committee that recommended to council the architect to build the proposed police facility.

—Doug Anglin, part-owner of the Anglin Excavating Company.

A special Halloween

A wagonful of Novi special education children found delight in a hayride on the Richard Garlick farm in Wixom. Garlick, maintenance superintendent for Novi Schools, has invited the children for a frolic in his pumpkin patch every year for the past six years. "We let the kids come out here for a hayride and a free pumpkin," he said. "Most of them never have a chance to experience this unless someone takes the time for them." Standing next to the wagon in the foreground is Dr. Pat Best, director of special education for Novi. Garlick is standing just behind him.

May appeal to U.S. Supreme Court

Annexation fight eyed

Novi township supervisor Leo Kalota may appeal the recent state supreme court annexation ruling to the United States Supreme Court.

Kalota says he will discuss the possibility of an appeal to the Supreme Court when he meets with the township board. Kalota says members of the board would have to talk to their legal counsel before a decision could be made.

Kalota is especially concerned with a portion of the court's ruling which states the commission is not required to give a vote to proposed areas of annexation with populations less than 100.

"It's difficult to understand the reasoning behind the supreme court decision that people don't have the right to vote on whether they should be annexed," Kalota says. "I think it is unconstitutional in this land where government is based on the idea of one-man and one-vote."

Kalota says the decision is just "one small hole in the dike," and is the forerunner of regional government and regional school districts.

He says the decision "has much farther reaching effects than people realize."

The state supreme court decision, handed down October 24, upheld the authority of the state boundary commission to annex townships. The court also gave the commission the power to adjust boundaries.

The City of Novi applied for the annexation of seven parcels of land in 1971, which contained a total population of less than 100.

A few months later, Novi applied for the annexation of the Brookland Farms subdivision, which had a population over 100 people, thus allowing a vote.

Residents of Brookland Farms petitioned for a vote and defeated the annexation in May, 1973. The residents of the township asked the boundary commission to adjust the borders of the annexation to combine the seven parcels with Brookland Farms, thus forcing a vote on the entire annexation.

The commission said it could find no authority to adjust the boundaries. The recent supreme court decision gives the boundary commission that authority.

Jim Hyde, executive secretary of the commission, says the commission will hold a public hearing in Novi township on whether to combine the properties, probably sometime in January.

Representing the township at the hearing will be John Bauckham, the attorney from Kalamazoo who argued the annexation case for the township before the supreme court.

"Our original point is that it was improper to exclude them (Brookland Farms)," Bauckham says. "They should have been a part of the other seven parcels. We still maintain that position."

Bauckham says should the eight parcels be combined, 25 percent of the registered electors in the township would have to sign petitions in order for an election to occur.

The 1973 election to decide the Brookland Farms annexation was defeated overwhelmingly — 74 to 4.

Emery Jacques, a Northville lawyer who handled the Novi township case in circuit court, says he would guess the vote, if taken today, would be somewhat similar.

The character of the township has changed somewhat since the city first applied for its annexation in 1971. A mobile home park, Chateau Estates, has been constructed on a parcel located east of Walled Lake.

The park has an estimated population of 1,800 people and that figure is expected to rise to 2,200 by mid-1978 because more homes will be added.

The population of the entire township is estimated at about 2,100.

While the overall crime rate in Novi is steadily climbing, the number of serious crimes reported has declined, according to figures released by the city's police department.

The number of felonies committed in Novi through September, 1977 is 11 percent less than the number reported for the same period in 1976.

Through September, 575 Part I crimes, or felonies, have been reported compared to 647 in 1976. Part I crimes consist of murder, rapes, robberies, assaults, breaking and entering, larcenies and stolen vehicles.

One murder-assault has occurred in 1977.

As a matter of fact, if the present felony rate should continue through the rest of 1977, Novi would have less felonies than it did way back in 1974.

While felonies have somewhat been kept in check, less serious crimes have increased dramatically.

A 15 percent increase in Part II crimes — involving such offenses as non-aggravated assaults, arsons, forgery, fraud, vandalism, sex offenses and narcotics — has been registered through September over the 1976 rate. The rise was from 1,069 to 1,228.

An increase of 20 percent has been recorded in the number of Part III crimes reported since 1976. Part III crimes are minor offenses such as juvenile complaints, warrant arrests, and traffic and miscellaneous complaints. The jump was from 3,839 to 4,770.

As of October 25, 1977, the department had registered a total of 7470 complaints compared to a total of 8229 reported for the year of 1976. If the present rate should continue, the city will experience an overall increase of six percent over 1976 and 23 percent over 1974.

Lieutenant Detective Richard Faulkner says a number of factors have contributed to the decrease in Part I crime.

Faulkner says the department's increase in surveillance operations is one important factor. He also cites a heavy concentration of patrol cars and the education of residents on how to prevent serious crime as contributing to the decrease.

Detective Sergeant Cordon Nelson says the increase in the overall crime rate is caused by the increasing population density of the entire area — not just Novi.

"It's a consequence of the rising population of all the surrounding areas," Nelson says. "There's no steel fence surrounding the city saying it's against the law to commit crimes inside — No Admittance."

"Wherever you have a lot of people, that's where you're going to have problems."

Nelson, a 13-year veteran of the Novi police force, says also that, while the serious crime rate is decreasing in Novi, the number of violent crimes are increasing.

"We seem to have more holdups and armed robberies," Nelson says. "Instead of the sort of assault where two guys go behind a bar and duke it out, we seem to be having more assaults where some kinds of weapons are involved."

Court Services Officer Bill Brown also testifies to the increase of crimes reported in Novi.

"There has certainly been an increase in workload," Brown states. "It's a sign of the changing trend in the city of Novi."

The Court Services Unit was created three months ago to act as a liaison between the police department and the courts for a more efficient operation.

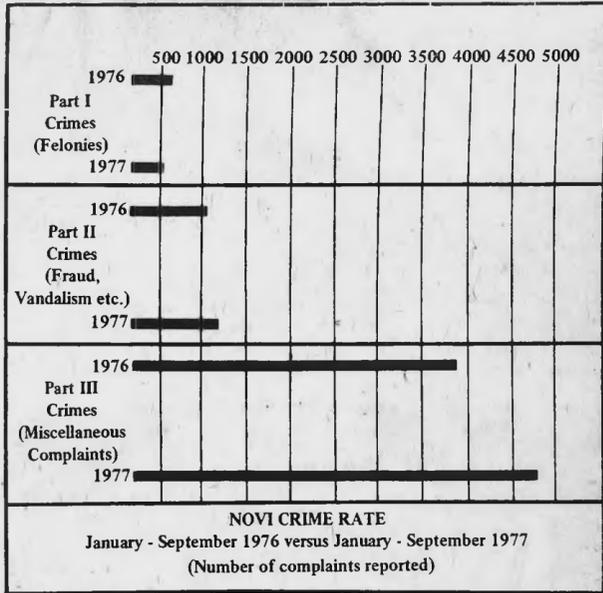

Brown says the number of cases he has handled has increased steadily since he began. He logged 172 work-hours in July, 180 in August and 218 in September. And he says his work will continue to increase in the months ahead.

Detective Robert Starnes, recently awarded a State Police citation for his work on a Novi murder case, cautions that statistics can be deceiving. He says crime runs in streaks and statistics don't always reflect those streaks.

If Part II crimes continue at their present rate through the rest of 1977, the total will be about 23 percent more than in 1974.

If Part III crimes continue at the same rate through the end of the year, the total will be a 39 percent increase over 1974.

City may establish pornography ordinance

Is the porno business headed for Novi?

Whether it is or not, the Novi Planning Board appears determined to be ready should the possibility arise. Planning Board Chairman Robert Bretz last week called for the preparation of an ordinance which will enable the city to exert some control over the possibility of X-rated movies and pornographic book stores.

"We recommended something like this a year ago and got the go-ahead from the council, but nothing was ever done," stated the planning board chairman.

Bretz reported that he was prompted to renew the call for an ordinance governing pornography by the recent Michigan Supreme Court ruling which restricted the rights of local communities to determine what is, in fact, pornographic.

"Whether I'm a prude or not is irrelevant," stated Bretz. "The Supreme Court ruling seems to me to be one more instance of a judge deciding what's good for me."

Bretz added that apparently the only effective means of dealing with the proliferation of the pornography business was through zoning.

He referred specifically to the Detroit ordinance on pornography as the "model" ordinance for the entire country.

In essence, the Detroit ordinance controls the proliferation of pornographic business establishments through zoning regulations. For example, no business operation dealing with pornographic material can be within 500 feet of a residence and pornographic operations must be at least 1,000 feet apart.

City Planning Consultant Charles Cairnes of Vilcan-Leman explained that the legality of the Detroit ordinance is that it does not attempt to exclude pornographic establishments. "It does not exclude them," he said. "It merely regulates them. Any ordinance which attempts to exclude them is likely to be ruled unconstitutional by the courts."

Hearings planned

Consultants to study super sewer

By DAVID RAY

Consultants hired by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) are expected to visit the Huron Valley area within the next month to conduct tests as part of the preparation of an environmental impact statement (EIS) on the proposed super sewer wastewater treatment project.

According to Doug Ehorn, of the EPA's Region V Project Review Section in Chicago, the consultants will test soil conditions and ground water in the 17 communities that have formed the Huron Valley Authority in an effort to "document pollution problems."

Other experts hired by the EPA were scheduled to meet last week with representatives of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG) to review data already compiled on the $146-million super sewer proposal, Ehorn added.

Preliminary work on the EIS — required on projects that are paid for in part with federal grants — have not led to any conclusions so far on the part of the EPA, Ehorn said.

"We're still up in the air on the best way to handle wastewater treatment in the Huron Valley area," he added.

Once the preliminary data has been collected, Ehorn continued, the EPA will begin scheduling a series of public meetings in the area to gather additional information on the need for and impacts of the super sewer project and to explain its procedure on preparing the EIS.

Two of the meetings will be held before the draft EIS is completed, Ehorn said, probably sometime in December.

In declaring its intent to prepare an EIS on super sewer last summer, the EPA staff said the draft report would be ready by mid-November and the final statement would be completed in about 10 months.

Ehorn said last week, however, that the hiring of the consultants has delayed the EIS preparation by three or four weeks.

Wayne County public works officials have objected to the EIS requirement, charging that the EPA has made the super sewer proposal a "sacrificial project" to allay criticisms from the Congress that the agency wasn't ordering enough impact statements on other projects.

Working with Congressmen Carl Pursell (R-Plymouth) and William D. Ford (D-Taylor), the Wayne County officials won assurances from EPA Director Douglas Costle that the EIS would be completed as soon as possible.

Of particular concern to Wayne Board of Public Works Director George Bingham is a proposal from the EPA that sewer interceptor lines might run from west to east and tie into the Detroit sewer system, rather than the north-south interceptor that would connect to a new wastewater treatment plant near Rockwood.

Bingham also has objected to EPA contentions that the Huron Valley project could encourage development in an undeveloped area. The public works director said the area already is developed and deserves a sewer system to meet its needs.

Because of the EIS requirement, the EPA has not approved the start of phase two engineering work on the project, Bingham said, although the federal agency has agreed to allow Wayne County to proceed with plans for the lower valley portion of the sewer system. The rest of the super sewer project area and its possible connection to Detroit facilities will be studied in the EIS, Bingham has said.

Meanwhile, all of the 17 communities in Wayne and Oakland counties that are included in the super sewer project area have ratified the articles of incorporation of the new Huron Valley Authority, according to Canton Township Supervisor Harold Stein, although two of the communities — Trenton and Northville — haven't submitted signed copies of the document to Stein.

Once the articles of incorporation have been submitted to Stein, a legal notice on the formation of the authority will be published in The Detroit News and copies of the document will be filed with the Wayne and Oakland county clerks.

Stein said he hopes to complete that procedure by the end of November so that managing board of the new authority can elect officers and begin its work on the super sewer project.

The Wayne County Public Works Board is expected to complete the phase two engineering work on super sewer, which probably will take 12 to 18 months after the EIS is completed, Bingham said.

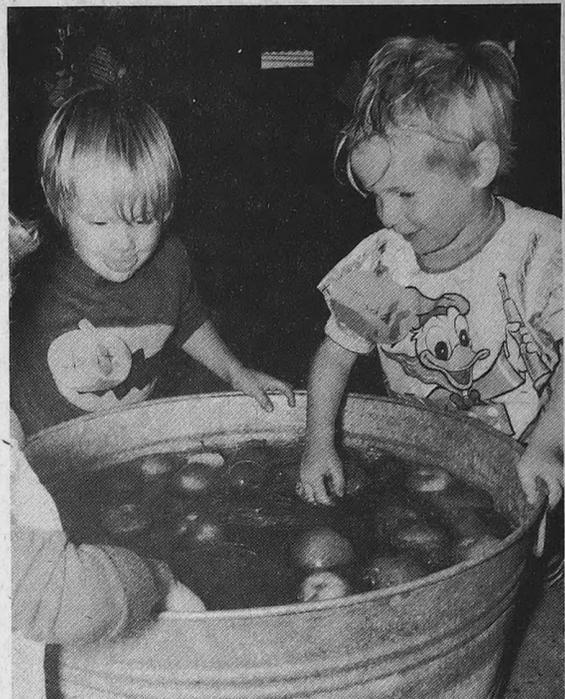

The new authority is expected to handle the phase three construction of the project, including the sale of bonds to finance the 20-percent local financing requirement. The EPA will pay for 75-percent of the cost through a federal grant, and the State of Michigan will cover five-percent of the cost.

Officials in western Wayne County decided to create the new Huron Valley Authority earlier this year when the Wayne County Board of Commissioners reorganized the Public Works Board.

Suburban officials said they were afraid that the Public Works Board was too Detroit — oriented and could attempt to block the super sewer project because Detroit Mayor Coleman A. Young reportedly opposes the new sewer system.

Young reportedly fears that construction of the super sewer will encourage further development in Oakland and western Wayne counties at the expense of Detroit.

Commerce Township and the cities of Walled Lake and Novi have joined the Huron Valley Authority, while Wolverine Lake Village and White Lake Township bowed out of the project earlier this year, citing the high cost.

Lake public hearing moved back a week

By DAVID RAY

The public hearing on the proposed rehabilitation of Wolverine Lake has been rescheduled for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, November 15, according to Village Clerk Irene Savich.

Originally scheduled for Tuesday, November 8, the hearing was moved back a week because the official notice of the special session was not published last week in the village's legal newspaper.

The hearing will be held in the cafeteria of Walled Lake Central High School, Oakley Park at South Commerce roads.

Village residents will have an opportunity at the hearing to express their views on the need for the $525,000 rehabilitation project and the proposed special method assessment district method of financing the work.

The Village Council, at its October 12 meeting, declared its intent to proceed with the lake rehabilitation project as proposed by the WATER (Wolverine Lake Aquatic and Ecological Restoration) Team and to designate all property in the village as part of a special assessment district to pay up to 100 percent of the cost.

The Snell Environment Group, Incorporated, which prepared the report on the proposed rehabilitation project also has been authorized by the council to proceed with an application for federal funds to pay for half of the cost.

Under a proposal presented to the council last month by Village Council President John McLellan, two assessment divisions would be created to pay for the project.

Lake-front property owners would be assessed a one-time special tax of 24.7 mills ($24.70 for each $1,000 of state equalized valuation), while other village property owners would be assessed 6.4 mills ($6.40 for each $1,000 of SEV).

McLellan's report stated that "it has become apparent that abutting lake property will benefit approximately three times as much as non-abutting access property."

"Lake restoration is a public improvement which benefits all property in the village since all property either abuts the lake or has access rights," McLellan said in his report on financing the project.

Since there are three times as many non-abutting parcels of property as lake-front units, both groups would pay almost equal proportions of the rehabilitation cost.

If the village receives the 50-percent federal grant, McLellan has said, the average cost to lake-front property owners would be $267.21, compared to $89.07 for non-abutting access property.

The council has indicated that it will establish a special committee to review assessments in hardship cases.

The WATER Team report calls for a complete lake rehabilitation, including winter drawdown and freeze, removal of four inches of sediment, an additional deep well and total aeration.

Millage proposals to be decided . . .

Novi voters will be asked to express their opinions on three proposals which will affect the city's millage rate when they go to the polls next Tuesday.

According to proponents of the three proposals, however, voter approval of each of the three propositions will enable the city to meet existing needs at a relatively insignificant cost to the individual property owner.

The need is there, they argue. The city will someday in the very near future be in the position of having no other choice but to make the improvements.

Better (and cheaper) now, then later, they maintain.

The three ballot proposals which will affect the millage rates are:

—Shall the City of Novi borrow up to $2,375 million to acquire 71 acres of land as a site for a civic center complex and to construct, furnish, and equip a new police administration building as the first phase of the civic center complex?

In order to pay for the project, the city is asking taxpayer permission to issue general obligation unlimited tax bonds.

—Shall the City of Novi borrow up to $335,000 to pay the cost of completing the construction, furnishing, and equipping an addition to the Novi Library for use as interim city administration offices and future library purposes?

Again, in order to pay for the project, the city is asking taxpayer permission to issue general obligation unlimited tax bonds.

—Shall the City of Novi levy one-half mill for a period not to exceed three years to establish and maintain a parks and recreation program?

Each of those three ballot proposals will appear of the ballot as a result of the recommendation of the Needs and Priority Assessment Committee, a 13-member committee appointed by the city council and comprised of 12 residents and one member of the city administration.

Here's a breakdown on each of the three proposals:

Police Building Proposal

The city is asking to borrow up to $2,375 million to purchase 71 acres of land as the site for a proposed civic center complex and to construct a new police administration building.

Approximately four years ago, the Novi School District purchased a 160-acre parcel on the southeast corner of Ten Mile and Taft Roads for the purpose of developing a joint city-school-library complex.

A Master Plan for development of the 160 acres was drawn up and approved. The new Novi High School and municipal library have already been constructed in accordance with that Master Plan.

Approval of this proposal would enable the city to purchase the property it will need to construct a new municipal complex. Further, as a first step toward that long-range plan, voter approval of this proposal would enable the city to construct a new building for the police department.

According to the Needs and Priority Assessment Committee, replacement of the existing police department on Novi Road is a high priority item.

Library Building Proposal

The city is asking voter permission to borrow up to $335,000 to complete, furnish, and equip the new library.

This proposal is also related to the long-range plan to construct a new civic complex on the Ten Mile-Taft Road site, except that it is proposed as an interim solution to the need for municipal facilities.

The library building has already been constructed. At the present time, however, the library only needs about half of its available space.

The plan calls for the city to move into the unused portion of the library for a period of approximately 10 years. At the end of that period, it is estimated that the library will need the additional space.

City officials also are hopeful that the new police department will have been completed and paid for by that time and that they will then be able to pursue completion of the Civic Center Master Plan by constructing a new municipal complex.

In recommending approval of this proposal, the Needs and Priority Assessment Committee noted that municipal facilities are now scattered in seven locations.

According to Raymond Weidenbach, chairman of the committee, the city should utilize available community facilities (such as the unused portion of the library) rather than consider construction of a new city hall at this time.

"Since the library can provide this space in the unfinished portion that is now vacant, it is felt that this would be to the advantage of the community," he said.

The committee also believes that voter approval of this proposal would have a double advantage. In addition to providing space for municipal offices on an interim basis, it would also provide for the completion of the library facility. Thus, when the library finds it needs the additional room, additional renovation costs will be minimized.

Parks and Recreation

The city is asking voters to approve an increase of one-half mill for a period of three years to establish and maintain a parks and recreation program.

Wiedenbach reported that the Needs and Priority Assessment Committee believes that the present level of funding for parks and recreation has been inadequate to serve the needs of the community.

Mayor Henderson notes that the parks and recreation budget has grown from $2,000 several years ago to the point where it now is a $15,000 to $20,000 line item in the annual budget.

. . . but how much will it cost?

But how much is it going to cost me? complex and build a new police station.

That will probably be the ultimate question when Novi residents make their decisions on the first three ballot propositions on November 8.

Although they may like the idea of building a new police station, using library facilities for interim administration offices, and funding parks and recreation, the proposals will more than likely be decided on a dollar and cents basis.

To help taxpayers determine just what the actual costs will be, city officials have assembled figures which—though complex—should serve to shed some light on the subject.

The three ballot issues which will result in an increase in millage are:

—A proposal to borrow $2,375 million to purchase 71 acres for a civic center

—A proposal to borrow $335,000 to complete the library building for use as city administrative offices.

—And a proposal to levy one-half mill for parks and recreation for three years.

If all three proposals are approved, city officials estimate that the total increase in taxes will amount to 2.04 mills in the first year.

They also point out that one mill which the city is currently levying for fire equipment improvement is slated to expire next June. As a result, the overall millage increase to city residents figures out to 1.04 mills.

Mayor Gilbert Henderson, who is not seeking reelection, is lobbying in favor of all three proposals. He argues that the proposed program is well-conceived and will enable the city to make much-needed improvements at a relatively low cost to the taxpayers.

Further, Henderson maintains that the figures represent maximums. Should certain contingencies fall into place, the costs can realistically be expected to be considerably lower. Here's an explanation of how city officials arrived at their anticipated cost estimates:

Police Building Proposal

If approved, the city will be able to borrow up to $2,375 million to purchase 71 acres for a civic center complex and construct a police station.

In order to pay for the project the city proposes to issue general obligation tax bonds over a 15-year period, which will be paid off through an ad valorem millage.

In preparing cost estimates, city officials assumed that the bonds will be sold at a six percent interest rate and that the city's State Equalized Valuation (SEV) will grow at a five percent annual rate after 1979-80.

As with any loan, interest charges will be highest in the first year. As the principal amount of the loan is reduced, interest charges will drop and so will the amount of millage that is required to retire the loan.

Further, as the city's SEV continues to rise, the burden on each individual taxpayer will continue to fall.

As a result, city officials estimate that it will take 1.32 mills to meet the first year payment. In the second year, it will take 1.28 mills and in the third year it will take 1.18 mills. In the final year of the loan, city officials estimate that it will take .44 mills to make its payment.

Costs to the individual taxpayer could be considerably diminished if the city is able to obtain a grant from the federal government for construction of the building. Officials note hopefully that another round of Public Works grants is anticipated and that the feds have previously looked favorably on similar construction projects.

Library Building Proposal

If approved, the city will be able to borrow up to $335,000 to complete the library for use as administrative offices.

The process is identical to the first proposal. The city proposes to issue general obligation tax bonds over a 15-year period to raise funds and pay off the loan by levying millage.

Cost estimates assume that the bonds will be sold at six percent interest and that the city's SEV will increase at an annual rate of five percent after 1979-80.

The cost of paying off the loan with interest in the first year is pegged at .22 mills. That will decrease to .20 mills after the second year and to .19 mills after the third year. In the final year, it will take .11 mills to make the last payment and retire the bonds.

Again, city officials are hopeful that these costs can be reduced. A federal grant is one possibility. Another possibility is that the city will be able to sell off some of its existing administrative buildings and apply those funds toward retirement of the debt.

Parks and Recreation

The proposal to levy one-half mills for three years for Parks and Recreation is much less complicated.

If approved, the city will levy an additional one-half mill for the next three years.

The Bottom Line

So what does all that mean in dollars and cents?

If you live in a $40,000 house (assessed at $20,000 under the state equalization formula), the total cost of all three proposals will be $40.80 per year. That breaks down to $26.40 for acquisition of the property and construction of the police department, $4.40 for completion of the library building, and $10 for parks and recreation.

If you live in a $50,000 house, the total cost will be $51 per year.

The actual costs are reduced when the effects of the State Income Property Tax Credit are taken into account. The Income Property Tax Credit refunds up to 60 percent of the tax increase when property taxes exceed 3.5 percent of income.

The gross annual cost of $40.80 to the taxpayer with a $40,000 home would be reduced to a net annual cost of $16.32 if he is eligible for the full 60 percent refund under the State Income Property Tax Credit.

Green, Spencer seek mayor's job

Wixom residents will go to the polls next Tuesday (November 8) to elect a new mayor and three new councilpersons.

Polls will open at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m.

Residents will cast their ballots in two locations.

Residents in Precinct One will vote at Wixom Fire Station One at 1305 Wixom Road, while residents in Precincts Two and Three will cast their ballots at Fire Station Two at 50430 Pontiac Trail.

Registered voters will have to choose between two candidates for mayor and six candidates for the three vacancies on the city council.

Seeking election to the mayoral position are Mrs. Lillian Spencer and Melvin Green. Both are presently members of the city council. Mrs. Spencer is mayor-pro-tem.

Mrs. Spencer and Green earned the right to run for mayor in the November general election by defeating a third mayoral candidate, Carlton Oldford, in the August primary. Mrs. Spencer was the top vote getter in the primary, receiving 289 votes. Green drew 227 ballots, while Oldford was a distant third with just 82 votes.

Approximately 25 percent of the registered voters showed up at the polls in the August primary.

The new mayor will replace Val VanGieson who announced during the summer that growing professional obligations prevented him from seeking another term.

Under the Wixom City Charter, neither of the two mayoral candidates is required to yield their city council seats. As a result, the loser in next Tuesday's election will remain on the council.

Six candidates are vying for three vacancies on the council. The vacancies were created by the expiration of the terms currently being served by Gunnar Mettala, Sid Resner, and Fred Morehead.

Mettala and Resner are among the field of six seeking election to the council. Morehead is not among the candidates, however. According to some sources, City Clerk June Buck rejected his nominating petitions under a clause in the city charter which prohibits residents in arrears in their city taxes from holding elected office.

Morehead has reportedly paid his outstanding tax debts and would be eligible to hold office, but missed the filing deadline. There has been no discussion of a write-in ballot.

The six candidates for council are: Mettala, Resner, Dennis Andrews, George Johns, Robert Hoffman, and Shirley Kujala.

Mettala has been a member of the council for 20 years, ever since the city incorporated. He served on the village council and on the city incorporation committee prior to that. He is a technical writer with the Micro-Poise Corporation.

Resner is retired from a supervisory position in the accounting department of the Ford Motor Company. A former member of the planning commission,

Central athlete hurt in locker room fight

By ALAN SCHULTZ

When the Walled Lake Central girls' basketball team makes its final run for the conference title, starting guard Tammy Grames will not be in the lineup.

The diminutive junior is out of action for the season, suffering from pulled tendons and ligaments as a result of a bizarre locker room incident last Thursday at Pontiac Northern High School.

Grames allegedly was attacked by a pair of Northern junior varsity players and beaten to the floor following the Walled Lake-Pontiac Northern basketball game at the Pontiac school.

Several accounts of the incident have been provided by witnesses and officials of both schools and the Pontiac Police.

Grames, who was taken to St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital and underwent surgery early Saturday morning, will be unable to participate in any sport for an indefinite amount of time.

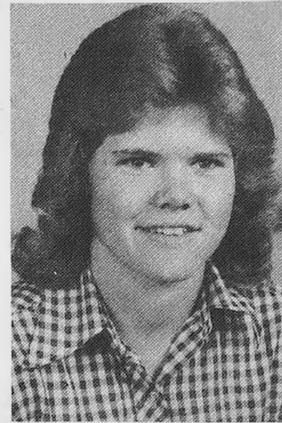

Last week's incident apparently was sparked by an earlier dispute between Central and Pontiac Northern players on September 29.

Following that game, Grames came out of the locker room and began walking toward the Northern team in order to leave the gym, witnesses said, and she was joined by a teammate. Both Central players attempted to bypass the Northern team.

According to a witness, the girls were obstructed from passing by duffel bags thrown in the aisle and by the Northern players sticking their feet out. Then Grames allegedly was asked if she wanted to fight.

"I saw what was happening and that the girls were being threatened," said Central Coach Ken Butler. "I ordered the Northern girls to sit on the bleachers and leave our girls alone. As they were leaving I heard some of them say 'wait until you get to our school, we'll get you.'"

Butler later noticed that some damage had been done to the visitor's locker room, and was aware of the possibility of trouble at the Pontiac game. He asked for separate locker room facilities for his team for the October 27 game. His request was denied.

"I even asked for just a classroom that we could change in, but they wouldn't give us one and said that everything would be okay in the locker room. I then told all my girls to wear Levi's so they could slip them on and we could get out."

As the girls from Central entered the locker room before the Northern game last week, Grames was asked by a Northern player if she was number 32. When Grames answered that she was, she reportedly was told "we're gonna get you."

According to witnesses at last week's game, Grames played an aggressive game and tensions were high as the overtime ended.

Pontiac Coach Joe Carr agreed to keep his girls on the floor so that there wouldn't be trouble in the locker room, witnesses said.

Coach Butler planned to accompany his girls to the locker room, but was told by a Pontiac "adult assistant" that she would take care of the girls.

Witnesses said the woman also identified herself as a security guard, but produced no uniform or badge. Upon entering the locker room, Grames noticed that most of the equipment cages were open and that her's was locked.

According to Grames' teammates, the adult supervisor left the room to obtain a key for Grames' locker. As Grames stood waiting, a Pontiac junior varsity player squirted some water in Grames' face and then threw a plastic water bottle at her. Grames, who was holding a pop can, said she dropped the can in an effort to shield herself from the water bottle.

"All I can remember from there is that someone had a hold of me by the throat, someone was punching me in the stomach, and someone was grabbing my leg. There were at least two, possibly three, I'm not sure. Then I was down on the floor," Grames said.

Although Butler was aware of the possibility of violence at Northern, other school officials apparently were not.

Tom Evans, athletic director for the Walled Lake Schools, said, "I wasn't aware of any previous threatening and we haven't had a problem with them before. I understand that after a recent swimming meet there was a nice tea for the parents afterwards and everything went fine."

Gerald Wallace, Walled Lake Central principal, also was not aware of any previous threats to Walled Lake girls. Wallace did attend last week's game, however, and after the incident had a conference with Pontiac Northern Athletic Director Herc Renda and Principal Dr. Daww.

At Proud Lake

Man killed in scuffle

A 31-year-old Detroit man was killed early Sunday when he was struck on the head with flashlights by two Oakland County Sheriff's deputies who were responding to a robbery complaint in the Proud Lake Recreation Area.

According to Lieutenant Carl Matheny, Anthony Recca Jr. became "belligerent and upset" with the deputies and allegedly pulled a knife on the officers — Michael Vail and Gary Woods — from a home-made camper at the Proud Lake campsite.

The officers told Recca twice to drop the knife, Matheny said, but the Detroit man moved toward one of the deputies and was struck on the head simultaneously by the officers.

"We have three witnesses who substantiated that the deputies told (Recca) to drop the knife twice," Matheny said, adding that the officers had pulled their guns on the man when he came up with the knife.

"I'm sure it wasn't intentional. They were just trying to get the knife from him and make the arrest."

He died at 5 a.m. Sunday in Pontiac General Hospital from head injuries.

A preliminary autopsy report indicated that Recca suffered hemorrhaging of the brain from the blows, police officials said.

Matheny said he expected to present a report on the case to the county Prosecutor's Office yesterday afternoon, and added that he hopes the investigation is completed by the end of the week.

The deputies have been assigned to the Sheriff's Department's Detective Bureau, pending the outcome of the investigation, Matheny said.

According to the lieutenant, the deputies were called to the Proud Lake campsite to investigate an unarmed robbery.

Recca allegedly had approached two Grosse Pointe youths Saturday night at the state park and asked to buy their heater.

When the youths refused, police say, Recca made a $10 bet with them that their campfire would go out before the night was over. He reportedly returned to the youths' campsite at about 4 a.m. and demanded to be paid on the bet, although the fire was still burning.

Officers say Recca punched one of the boys and stole $5 and the heater. He then reportedly returned to his camper where he was approached by the officers.

The stolen property later was recovered from the Detroit man's camper, Matheny added.

Election facts

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Election Day (Tuesday, November 8) in Walled Lake and Wixom.

In Walled Lake, voters will elect a mayor and three council members, all for four-year terms. All Walled Lake precincts vote at the Walled Lake Junior High School, 615 North Pontiac Trail.

Wixom voters also will be choosing a mayor and three council members. Precinct One is located at Fire Station One, 1305 Wixom Road, while precincts two and three are located at Fire Station Two, 50430 Pontiac Trail.

Absentee ballots may be obtained at the City Clerk's office in both communities up until 2 p.m. on Saturday, November 5.

Walled Lake voters will elect a new mayor and three council members in the biennial municipal election next Tuesday, November 8.

Candidates for the four-year term as mayor are former Councilman Reverend J. Moran Hill, Councilman Gaspare LaMarca and Mayor Pro Tem James G. Scott III. Incumbent Mayor William T. Roberts is not seeking re-election.

Seeking the three, four-year council terms are Thomas Brookover, a senior attorney with the Bendix Corporation; Dorothy Dingman, a housewife who is active in the Walled Lake Jaycettes and served on the Lakes Area Transportation Committee; Walter Lewandowski, a potato chip distributor and member of the city Plan Commission; Albert Netchey, as assistant building superintendent at the Pontiac Mall; and incumbent William C. Staman, a semi-retired pharmacist.

The council seats that are up for grabs next week are now held by Staman and mayoral contenders Scott and LaMarca.

And, with the resignation of Allan R. Holdridge from the council, the only members of the present council who will continue on the legislative body are James L. Scott and Heather F. M. Hill, daughter of the mayoral candidate. Councilwoman Hill is campaign manager for her father, an associate pastor at St. John's Episcopal Church in Detroit.

The election campaign so far this fall has been quiet.

Campaigning got off to a slow start around the September 20 filing deadline.

Roberts, 32, took out petitions to run for council, but did not file them. He has served on council since April, 1968 and as mayor for the last four years.

Roberts said Monday that he will campaign for LaMarca, a 60-year-old television repairman who has served four years on council. LaMarca previously had served on the Plan Commission.

The 42-year-old Scott, an employee of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, has served on council for five years.

Hill, 67, served on council in 1973, before losing the race for mayor that year to Roberts.

Hill and LaMarca had announced their candidacies for mayor earlier in the summer, and James G. Scott entered the race for the city's top elective post after he had already filed petitions to run for re-election to council.

Originally, Scott had not planned to run for office this year, he said, but he circulated petitions to run for council when it appeared there would be a small field of candidates.

Hill had planned to back Holdridge for mayor, but, when Holdridge decided not to seek the mayoralty, Hill filed petitions and he now has Holdridge's endorsement.

Staman also had said he wasn't going to run for office this year, but filed nominating petitions the week before the deadline.

Mrs. Dingman has said that she decided to run for council because she read in the newspapers that few candidates had filed for the seats.

game and decided that we didn't want to blow this thing wide open," said Wallace. "We're working together on this so it won't happen again."

One of the main discrepancies in the incident involves whether or not the adult assistant from Pontiac Northern actually left the room before the incident. Central teammates maintain that she walked down the row of lockers and went out the door, but Pontiac officials deny this, saying that she was present when the alleged attack occurred.

"I was told by the Pontiac people at the discussion that the lady never left the locker room," said Central's Wallace. "She turned her back and walked to the door and called to Mr. Renda for a key to open Tammy's locker. I wasn't right there at the time, but I guess the whole thing lasted only thirty seconds."

Don Sheldon, superintendent of the Walled Lake Schools, did not attend the game and wasn't sure what happened.

"It's too premature to say anything right now," said Sheldon. "The Pontiac people are taking action against the girls and we're having a meeting with them to find out what did happen. There was some name calling and I don't know of any pushing or shoving. Right now we don't have all the pieces to the puzzle. Either Tammy fell or was pushed to the floor, we're not sure exactly what happened."

Pontiac Principal Dr. Daw was fairly sure of what happened as he attended the game, but did not see the locker room incident.

"When Tammy came into the locker room, she tripped one of our ninth graders, so one of our jayvees squirted the plastic water bottle into Tammy's face. Tammy then threw a full can of root beer and hit the girl in the back. The girl's sister saw the pop can hit her sister in the back so she knocked Tammy to the floor," he said.

Lieutenant Fritz of the Pontiac Police claims the matter is still under investigation and that the injury to Grames was not a result of the locker room tangle.

"The Grames girl had been injured prior to the game as she had her leg wrapped during the game. Apparently the Grames girl was the instigator as she was called for two unnecessary roughness fouls during the game," Fritz said.

"From what I have, she threw the pop can at one girl and another girl saw it and pushed her to the floor. It's possible she did worse damage to her leg in throwing the can or in hitting the floor."

Grames did not have her leg wrapped during the game, according to her mother, but she was wearing a knee pad and had her ankles taped, a procedure common to many basketball players. She was not called for any flagrant fouls, her mother said.

Pontiac Detective Bachelor was assigned the case and is currently serving as the police liaison officer at Pontiac Northern.

"I've turned in my report and the situation is still being looked into," he said.

Pontiac Police Sergeant Bob Burns listed the incident in his report as an assault and battery charge in which Grames "was assaulted by two black juveniles approximately 16 years of age."

Warren Williams, Walled Lake School Board member, was not made aware of the Thursday night incident by any member of the school administration and finally heard about it Saturday morning through an undisclosed source.

"I've talked with the president of the board (Betty Campion) and asked for a full report," he said. "We'll definitely look into the incident at our next scheduled meeting."

"The next school board meeting is November 14th.

In the meantime, Grames will rest at home for a week and remain in a bent leg cast for six to eight weeks until it can be determined if the tendons and ligaments have healed and if there is any cartilage damage to the knee.

The whole incident doesn't make Mrs. Grames very happy.

Grames, a 5-3 junior guard, was a starter on the Viking team. She also participated in volleyball in the winter and softball in the spring.

A meeting between the officials of the two schools is slated for Wednesday afternoon.

president and an account executive with that organization. This is his first bid for election to the city council.

Mrs. Kujala is an adult education teacher in the Walled Lake School District. She is a member of the Detroit Finnish Association, has served as secretary on the board of directors, and is presently vice-president of that organization's Future Planning Commission.

This is also her first bid for election to a city council post.

Regardless of the outcome of the election, one of the first orders of business for the new council will be to select a replacement for the mayoral candidate who moves from the council to the mayoral position.

503 units proposed for Clark Street Subdivision

A total of more than 500 single family residences may be developed in the area of the Clark Street Subdivision in Novi in the not too distant future.

The proposed development is tentatively slated to take place in an area bounded by 11 and 10 Mile roads on the north and south and by Novi and Taft roads on the east and west.

Representatives from the Petros Development Company appeared before the Novi Planning Board last week to seek plat plan approval for a proposed two-part development of single family residences.

Specifically, Petros representatives were seeking revised plat plan approval for the first phase of their development and preliminary plat plan approval for the second phase.

Petros Development One is slated to include 203 lots, while Petros Development Two is slated to include 42 lots.

A third development of single family residences, Jamestown Green, is expected to come before the planning board sometime in the near future. Jamestown Green, a Pulte homes development, is tentatively slated to include some 260 lots. The Pulte development is located immediately west of the Petros developments.

The two Petros Developments, combined with Jamestown Green, would include a total of 503 lots. All three developments are slated for property already zoned R-4. Under the Novi Zoning Ordinance, the R-4 designation prescribes minimum lot sizes of 10,000 square feet with minimum lot widths of 80 feet.

Although Petros developers requested plat plan approvals last week, the planning board voted to table action on both requests.

City Planning Consultant Charles Cairns of Vilican-Leman explained that neither he nor the city's engineers had received plans in time to do a complete review.

Cairns stated specifically that he wanted to review the Petros plats in conjunction with the Jamestown Green plat in order to provide for a system of interior streets between the two developments.

The advisability of the proposed Petros Developments was questioned in regard to sewer availability by Orville Pelton, a Clark Street resident.

According to Petros representatives, sewer capacity will be extended to the two developments from the 11 Mile Road line.

Pelton said he did not believe there was sufficient capacity in that line to handle the proposed 245 single family residences.

"We attempted to tie into that line in our subdivision and we were told there was not sufficient capacity," Pelton stated.

Novi road plans hinge on vote

Of all the issues facing Novi voters in the upcoming November 8 election, the two ballot proposals concerning the city's road paving program have probably received less attention than any others.

Though perhaps no more important than any other of the other issues, the two questions concerning roads are extremely important and should not be overlooked.

If approved, the city will be able to move ahead with its road paving program.

If rejected, the city's road paving program will in all likelihood have to be drastically overhauled.

Here are the two questions that will be placed before the voters:

— Shall the city council specially assess property along mile roads in the city of Novi in proportion to the benefits derived or to be derived for the paving of such roads in order to defray the cost and expenses of such paving?

— Shall the City of Novi borrow up to $650,000 and issue special assessment bonds, payable primarily from the collection of special assessments against benefitted property owners and secondarily by the unlimited taxing power of the City of Novi, for the purpose of defraying part of the cost of acquiring and constructing street improvements in the special assessment districts in the city?

Basically, the two proposals ask voters to make a decision on the same basic question: Should property owners on mile roads be specially assessed for road improvements?

On March of 1976, voters approved a proposition which provided for the sale of $4.825 million in general obligation bonds for the paving of 18.78 miles of gravel roads.

The cost of retiring those bonds is accomplished in part, through a city-wide millage which is already being levied.

In order to finance the remaining cost of the road improvement program, a $10 per front foot assessment against benefitting property owners was proposed.

In order to utilize the funds generated by the $10 per front foot assessment, it is deemed necessary to sell special assessment bonds and retire those bonds over the life of the special assessment district.

In a move to block the sale of the bonds, residents circulated petitions to require a referendum on the sale of the bonds.

The first of the two proposals on roads (Proposition Five on the ballot) is an advisory question. It does not affect the millage rate.

It asks the voters whether or not property owners along mile roads should be assessed for road improvements.

The city council has previously adopted the policy of special assessing fronting property owners on mile roads to be paved in the 18.78 mile paving program a fee of $10 per front foot.

For example, the city has specially assessed fronting property owners on Taft, Meadowbrook, and Beck Roads $10 per front foot for paving the road in front of their property.

The assessment will defray a portion of the overall costs of paving the road. The remainder of the cost will come from the city-wide millage previously approved by the taxpayers.

If the advisory question is approved, the city will continue its special assessments of property owners along mile roads.

If the advisory question is defeated, the city will lose a portion of its financing package and the road paving program will have to be revised. Residents on mile roads would not be required to pay for a portion of the paving.

The second of the two proposals on roads (Proposition Six on the ballot) involves a $650,000 Special Assessment Bond Issue for paving the roads.

A yes vote would mean that the city should proceed to issue the bonds. The bonds would be paid for by property owners fronting the mile roads.

If you believe the city should special assess benefitting property owners for mile road improvements, you should vote yes on Proposition Five. If you believe the city should not assess benefitting property owners for mile road improvements, you should vote no on Proposition Five.

Commerce budget delayed because of legal ad snafu

After completing seven months of its 1977-78 fiscal year without an officially adopted budget, the Commerce Township Board will have to wait another month to act on its spending plan.

A legal advertisement on a proposed budget hearing, scheduled for November 8, was published last week in the Novi-Wixom edition of the Spinal Column, the township's official newspaper, instead of the Commerce-Walled Lake edition.

As a result, officials have decided to delay the public hearing until the Township Board's December 13 meeting, according to Clerk Robert McGee.

The mistake may help the township, though, McGee said, since officials will have more complete information on budget revisions that will cut down on possible amendments at a later date.

At the public hearing, residents will have an opportunity to offer their views on the allocation of some $135,000 in 1978 and 1977 Federal Revenue Sharing funds.

Supervisor Robert Long has proposed that the money should be spent on police and fire services, although a final determination will be made by the Township Board after the public hearing.

The Commerce budget, which was first presented in April at the annual township meeting, lists revenues and expenditures of $1,014,403, marking the first time the township has topped $1 million with its spending plan.

Judge hears K-mart dispute

Oakland County Circuit Judge John O'Brien heard oral arguments Friday, October 28, on two key issues in the legal dispute between Commerce Township and the developers of the proposed K-mart shopping center.

According to Township Attorney Douglas Chartrand, the judge probably will issue a written opinion on the contested issues.

Under an agreement to settle the case, O'Brien was asked to determine whether the proposed 84,000-square-foot K-mart would be a proper C-1 (local commercial) use under either the present or previous zoning ordinances and whether the department store is a proper C-1 use as it is shown in site plans submitted to the township four years ago.

Chartrand said he was hopeful that O'Brien, who already had received written arguments in the case, would make a decision in the next week or two.

If O'Brien issues a written opinion, Chartrand said, the prevailing party will write the court order for the judge's signature.

Under terms of the settlement, the township gave up its right to appeal O'Brien's decision on the two issues, while the developers — Commerce Woods Development Company, Ramco Associates and Oakland Housing, Incorporated — waived their claim to some $17,700 in expert witness fees assessed against the township by the judge.

The developers have the right to appeal O'Brien's ruling and have agreed to follow site plan drawings submitted to the township in 1973.

Commerce officials also agreed to issue a building permit for a 36,000-square-foot Chatham supermarket, also slated for construction on the 12.4-acre parcel located at Union Lake and Commerce roads.

The developers filed suit against the township in 1973 when the Township Board revoked a C-1 rezoning of the property on the advice of then Township Attorney William Munger and after Building Inspector Bill Mitchell refused to issue a permit for the Chatham store.

O'Brien ruled in November, 1975 that the land was properly zoned C-1.

The circuit judge's opinion was upheld earlier this year by the State Court of Appeals, which also denied a township motion for a re-hearing. The settlement was reached before the deadline for a further appeal to the Michigan Supreme Court.

Take a good look at your future

If you enjoy life, it's probably because you put so much into it. You play hard. And you work even harder. But now is the time to start looking ahead. Some day you'll want to retire and, when you do, you'll want to enjoy that time, too. But it takes money to retire.

Discover I.R.A.

The Individual Retirement Account is a personal, tax-sheltered retirement savings plan that allows you to take money that you earn now and — without paying taxes on it — put it away for retirement.

You are eligible for an I.R.A. if you are not covered by a pension plan where you work. Each year you may deposit up to $1,500 or 15% of your wages, whichever is less, into a tax-sheltered I.R.A. — and qualified married couples may deposit up to $1,750 per year!

If you're already covered by a retirement plan where you work, and you leave your job for any reason, you may take the money you receive from that plan and reinvest it within 60 days in a First of Oakland Individual Retirement Account — and avoid paying taxes on the distribution.

PLUS . . . we are now permitted to offer our I.R.A. customers a special three-year certificate that pays a big 7 3/4% interest per year, paid and compounded quarterly for an effective annual yield of 7.98%!

AND . . . if you already have a First of Oakland I.R.A., you may convert your plan to the new three-year 7 3/4% certificate account without any interest penalty! This conversion must take place, however, before October 31, 1977.

So take a look into your future and begin planning for an enjoyable retirement. Call our I.R.A. specialists today for all the details. There are no fees or service charges at all for this First of Oakland service.

Panel tours drain

Firm installs oil-water separator

By DAVID RAY

The Jim Robbins Company has installed an oil-water separator at its Walled Lake Plant in an effort to reduce the chances of a discharge of pollutants into the Greenaway Drain.

Members of the joint Walled Lake-Wolverine Lake Village Greenaway Drain Committee discovered the new equipment October 25 during a surprise inspection of the drain.

According to Robbins general manager A. J. O'Hara, the separator was installed and hooked into the plant on October 21. A contractor was expected to return to the plant early this week to back-fill, grade and level the area around the separator tanks, which are located at the northeast corner of Robbins' building on 1225 West Maple Road.

O'Hara said the tank and pipes will have to settle before the firm "get(s) an idea on how it will function."

The basic concept behind the new equipment, O'Hara explained, is a gravity feed of water from the company's machines into the two-section tank. Since oil is lighter than water, the general manager said, it rises to the top of the tank, while water is ejected from the separator into the drain, which passes within feet of the plant.

At regular intervals, O'Hara said, the oil, residue and sludge are vacuumed or skimmed off the top of the tank.

Several contractors were involved in the project, O'Hara said, estimating the cost of the equipment and work at about $15,000.

The general manager said Robbins is attempting to meet discharge standards set by Oakland County officials and the Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR).

"We have every intention of complying with all laws and rules and regulations," he said. "We feel we are part and parcel of this community."

The company, formerly known as Jebcco Corporation, manufactures plastic components for automobiles.

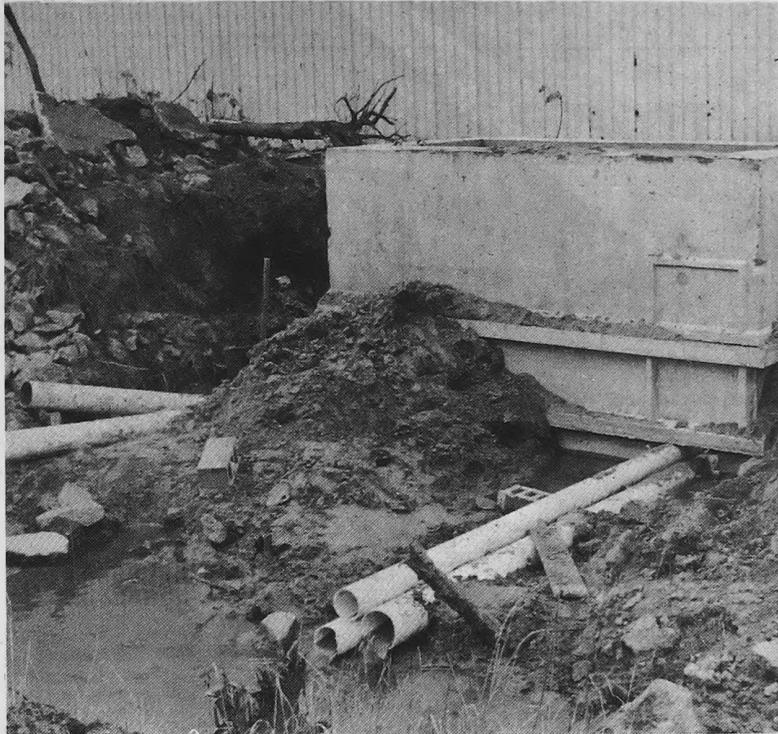

The firm recently was fined by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) for an oil spill that occurred last summer. Robbins also allegedly discharged oil into the drain in August, although company officials denied that the oil spill came from their plant.

Members of the Greenaway Drain Committee seemed impressed with the company's new separator, although Village Council President John McLellan and Village Administrator Bill O'Brien said the drain was in the worst shape last week that they had ever seen it.

Also taking part in the inspection tour last week were Wolverine Lake Councilwoman Pat Howarth, Walled Lake Councilman Gaspare LaMarca and City Manager Peter Parker.

At the committee's last regular meeting on October 18, the officials discussed several other steps that could be taken to keep potential pollution problems in check, the village president said.

McLellan said the committee was "considering setting up various points" along the drain by using cloth to absorb substances for testing.

City to consider porno ordinance

The only opposition to adoption of a zoning ordinance governing pornographic establishments was expressed by Donald Gleason.

"I don't want to see us become so sophisticated that we adopt big city standards before we really need them," he said.

Gleason added that he believed public opinion and the wrath of irate citizens has closed down more porno places than all the ordinances put together.

"If we adopt an ordinance which permits a pornographic bookstore every 1,000 feet, we may be making it difficult for citizens to protest their opposition through pickets," he said. "I don't want to do anything which might help them (the pornographic businesses)."

Gleason also said that he was prepared to wait until Novi was confronted with the possibility of a pornographic operation before attempting to do something about it.

When Gleason suggested that the requirement of 1,000 feet between establishments be extended to one-half mile, Cairns responded that attempts to extend the regulations have been thrown out of court if they become too great.

"The judge will tell you that you are attempting to exclude them through excessive requirements," stated the planning consultant. "You can't exclude them and still have a legal ordinance."

Bretz stated that he personally would permit pornographic business establishments only in the left turn lane of I-96.

"But we're sure to be criticized no matter what we do," he continued. "What might be objectionable to me, might not be objectionable to someone else and vice versa."

"If somebody came in right now, I don't think we'd have any way of legally keeping them out."

"I think it's something we ought to discuss before we're confronted with the possibility," he added.

The three candidates who have withdrawn are: Vivian Vowell, Greg Synowiec and Phil Manring.

In the mayoral race, two names will be listed on the ballot although Vince Williams has decided not to run. Williams was transferred to Ohio a week after filing for mayor.

Councilwoman Romaine Roethel thus became the only candidate for mayor. Mrs. Roethel has served on the council four years.

Here's our choices for Novi election

Romaine Roethel for mayor

Two names — Romaine Roethel and Vincent Edwards — will appear on the ballot in the Novi mayoral race.

There is, however, just one candidate for the office of mayor — Romaine Roethel.

A virtual unknown on the local political scene, Edwards filed for mayor shortly before deadline and shortly thereafter announced that he is moving to Ohio and is no longer a candidate for office.

Over and above this consideration, however, we believe it is important to endorse Mrs. Roethel if for no other reason than to make note of her dedicated service to the city over the past five years.

Her interest and dedication in Novi are above question. We believe she will make an excellent mayor. Romaine Roethel has our strongest endorsement in the Novi mayoral race.

Smith, Weidenbach, Watson for council

We believe that Guy Smith, Ray Weidenbach, and Ron Watson are the top choices for the city council.

In our interviews with each of the candidates, Smith came across as the most knowledgeable, best informed, and most concerned about the future of the city.

This conclusion is based, in part, upon his platform which we perceive to be the most thorough and most in-depth platform submitted by any of the candidates.

We also support the candidacy of Ray Weidenbach.

A low-key, quiet individual, Weidenbach has demonstrated his willingness to serve the city by working as chairman of the Needs and Priority Assessment Committee which recommended the three millage proposals on the ballot.

As a result of having served on that committee, Weidenbach has acquired a strong working knowledge of both the city's needs and financial conditions.

Our third selection for the city council is Ron Watson.

We are impressed with his intelligence and his willingness to work hard. We also find him to be a thoughtful, responsible individual who will make a valuable contribution to city government.

Yes for millage propositions

PROPOSITION ONE has our strongest support.

The concept of developing a joint city-school-library complex on a 160-acre site at the corner of 10 Mile and Taft roads was adopted approximately four years ago.

Because the city lacked finances, the school board acquired the entire parcel with the agreement that 71 acres would be sold at cost to the city at a future date. The new high school and library buildings have already been constructed.

Approval of Proposition One will enable the city to meet its obligation to the school board and acquire the property it will need to develop a civic center complex.

In addition, approval of the proposition will enable the city to commence construction of a police station as the first step toward the civic center complex.

Present police facilities are outdated, outmoded, and inadequate to meet the city's expanding needs. A new police station was probably needed several years ago. It would be a mistake to wait any longer.

PROPOSITION TWO also merits support for many of the same reasons.

The library presently needs only about half of its available space. Approval of the proposition will enable the city to furnish and equip the unused portion of the library for use as administrative offices.

The need for additional office space is not as pressing as the need for a police station. But approval of the proposition will serve the two-fold purpose of providing interim facilities until the city is in the financial position to proceed with construction of a city hall as well as providing for the completion of the library building.

If voters find their pocketbooks can only endure so much, they should look first at PROPOSITION THREE which provides for a levy of one-half mill for parks and recreation for three years.

However, we still support the proposition.

Although police and fire protection are more important, the parks and recreation program probably provides service to a greater percentage of residents than any other.

Yes for new city charter

Probably the most difficult problem in deciding whether or not to endorse Novi's proposed city charter is figuring out just exactly what the new charter proposes.

On the one hand, people will tell you the charter will actually change very little from the present charter. A primary election may take place and there may be some consolidation of functions in city offices, but actually things will stay pretty much the same.

Others cry that the proposed charter should be viewed as the nemesis of all God-fearing, patriotic citizens. They say the charter will make a dictator out of the city manager and cause the wanton expenditure of untold thousands of dollars.

Perhaps the answer is that it is impossible to determine the actual result of the charter's passage. But perhaps a reasonable estimate of what changes it would cause is possible.

First the charter will create a primary for council elections, to go into effect when more than two candidates file for each vacancy. Candidates will have to file in mid-summer, as compared to late September under the present charter.

The second major change the charter proposes is the consolidation of 20 city departments into three.

The third major change the charter proposes is the clarification and expansion of the city manager's powers. The word "clarification" seems the key to understanding these changes.

Basically, the charter prevents a power-hungry city council from usurping the city manager's administrative authority. The change it would bring to the present city council would likely be negligible.

The consolidation of city departments is the primary reason we favor the charter.

Yes for road propositions

At issue is the city's financial program for paving 18.78 miles of mile roads (Beck, Taft, and Meadowbrook, for example). The cost of the program will be paid, in part, by previously approved road millage and, in part, by special assessments against fronting property owners along mile roads.

The key to both propositions is the advisory question (Proposition Five). If you believe it is fair to assess property owners on mile roads for paving the roads, you should vote "yes" on both propositions. If you don't think it's fair, vote "no" on both propositions.

We think it is fair to assess property owners on mile roads for road improvements. In fact, we believe it would be unfair to excuse them from special assessments.

Population growth mandates the paving of mile roads, just as it mandates the paving of interior subdivision roads. Subdivision residents are specially assessed for road improvements; we do not think it unreasonable to assess mile road residents at a comparable rate for road improvements.

Hill, Brookover deserve support

Following an election campaign that has seen little activity and few real differences among the candidates on the issues, Walled Lake voters may have a difficult time November 8 deciding whom to vote for in the races for mayor and three City Council seats.

The one issue that has divided the candidates for mayor is whether Walled Lake should continue with the City Manager-Council form of government or change to a strong mayor format.

While the move to a strong mayor form of government has not been formally proposed for a vote of the people, Councilman Gaspare LaMarca has said that he would favor a charter amendment to accomplish that change.

Mayor Pro Tem James G. Scott III and former Councilman Reverend J. Moran Hill have said they prefer the present Manager-Council format because the city should be run by someone with professional training and experience in governmental administration.

We agree with Scott and Hill on this issue.

The manager form of government offers Walled Lake the opportunity to employ a professional to oversee the day-to-day operation of municipal functions. Further, we feel the manager form of government serves to separate legislative (council) duties and responsibilities from administrative functions. The separation of powers is one of the cornerstones on which the American system of government is built.

Under a strong mayor format, the line between the mayor serving as the city's chief executive officer and as a member of council can become confused.

Of the two candidates who oppose a change to the strong mayor format, we prefer Hill simply because Scott, who at one time indicated that he would not run for office this year, has shown little enthusiasm in his campaign for the mayor's post.

Hill, on the other hand, decided to run for mayor when Councilman Allan Holdridge, who has since announced his impending resignation from council, declined the opportunity to run for the city's top elective office.

Hill wants to improve communications in the city and work for progress. We feel he is well qualified to accomplish those goals.

Scott and LaMarca have served well on council. We also are impressed with LaMarca's energy and enthusiasm for his job as a councilman.

However, if LaMarca is elected as mayor, we will strenuously oppose any move to amend the city charter to provide for the strong mayor form of government.

In the race for the three City Council seats, the five candidates have expressed few real differences on the issues.

However, one candidate, Thomas Brookover, stands head and shoulders above the competition. Brookover, although he is the "newest" resident of the city among the council contenders, feels he can offer the public his experience and expertise as an attorney and "fresh insights" on issues that affect Walled Lake. We agree.

Brookover has called for proper planning so that Walled Lake can mold and control its development rather than react to growth. We feel his experience and intelligence will be valuable assets to Walled Lake in terms of planning — rather than reacting — to its future.

We urge voters to give Brookover their first consideration.

Of the other four candidates — Dorothy Dingman, Walter Lewandowski, Albert Netchey and incumbent William Staman — for City Council, we have no strong feelings, although we prefer to think that Walled Lake voters will not favor Netchey's negative campaign statements.

We should point out that Staman has served 22 years on various city commissions and boards, including six years on the City Council, and Lewandowski has been a member of the city Plan Commission and Zoning Board of Appeals.

Dingman is active in the Walled Lake Jaycettes and has served on the Lakes Area Transportation Committee.

Spencer heads Wixom ballot

In the race for mayor, Wixom residents should use their votes to place Lillian Spencer in office.

On the basis of issues, there appear to be few differences between Mrs. Spencer and her opponent in the mayoral race, Councilman Melyin Green.

We believe that Mrs. Spencer rates the edge over Green on the basis of ability to perform the functions of mayor in Wixom's strong mayoral form of government.

Due to job requirements, Green has had a spotty attendance record on the council over the past year. Although he reports that the demands of his occupation will slacken, we have seen little evidence of that so far.

Mrs. Spencer, on the other hand, has shown herself to be a responsible, conscientious councilperson who has the time to devote to the job.

Andrews, Resner, Mettala for council

In the race for the Wixom City Council, the top choices are Dennis Andrews, Sid Resner, and Gunner Mettala.

We strongly urge voters to endorse the candidacy of Andrews. A Wixom resident for eight years, Andrews is a member of the Northridge Homeowners Association and presently serves on the city's planning commission.

Of all the candidates seeking election to the city council, we find him the most enthusiastic and determined. We are impressed by his understanding of the issues facing city government and by his innovative thinking on solutions to problems.

For the second spot on the city council, we endorse Sid Resner. Formerly a member of the planning commission, Resner was appointed to the city council in June. He is now seeking election to the council.

We find him to be a goal-oriented individual who will work hard toward what he feels to be in the best interest of the advancement of the city. We also believe his background in accounting will serve him well as a member of the city council.

For the third spot on the city council, we are somewhat divided between Gunnar Mettala and Shirley Kujala. In the final analysis, we believe Mettala's 20 years of experience on the council and his deeper knowledge of the issues give him a definite edge over Mrs. Kujala.

A Random Sample

By Steve Bell

Some random thoughts concerning the upcoming election:
According to missives recently sent to the Novi News, many of the candidates seeking to sit on the Novi City Council are actually devils in disguise. Evil lurks deep and shallow in the hearts of these candidates and voters should beware lest they should become enraptured in their spell.
It really is amazing how nasty folks can get when they choose to support or oppose a candidate for council. But that's politics.

There are basically three kinds of candidates to choose from this year.
There is the candidate who, if elected, will be knowledgeable on issues, will do his homework and will stay out of the city manager's hair.
There is the candidate who, if elected, would be a noisy little troublemaker who would make life hell for the manager and the mayor.
The advantage to the knowledgeable good guy is that the city manager doesn't get bothered so often and thus is able to get his work done. The advantage to the troublemaker is that the city manager gets bothered so much he doesn't dare not get his work done.

Oh, that's right, I did say there were three kinds, didn't I? The third kind of candidate, if elected, wouldn't do a damn thing.
There are plenty of each kind among the 14 candidates running.

Does Novi have the highest divorce rate of any city in Oakland County?
I doubt it, but I just thought I'd mention it anyway. A couple of my perfectly wretched sources informed me of that dubious statistic, so I called every soul in the county with any conceivable relation to divorce, hoping to find a hot, juicy story. I didn't find a thing. Most likely the statistic, doesn't exist and never has existed.
For what reason I don't know, people tend to come up with statistics on such sordid matters. We've got the most drunks or the most suicides or the most something or other. And naturally such rumored statistics become fact after a while — at least to my perfectly wretched sources.

What's worse is that a thousand people will read only the first line of this item and take for granted that Novi really does have the highest divorce rate in Oakland County. The rumor will spread and the city's reputation as the separation capital of America will grow. Divorce lawyers will move into town by the droves, hoping to make a quick fortune. Quickie divorce shops will line Novi Road. Preachers will jump on soapboxes and castigate the supposedly dissolute population for their evil ways.

I wish I had just kept my mouth shut.
I hate to keep rambling on about statistics because I really do hate them. But I should mention for the edification (edification?) of my readers that the title of this column, A Random Sample, is a statistical term used by pollsters, meaning they've got enough guinea pigs tested to figure out how all the guinea pigs will vote or something like that.

Before I decided on the name, I asked friends and enemies to give me a name that would capture the eye and lasso the heart — a name with equal parts of humor, romance, pathos and tragedy. But here's what they came up with instead: The Ding-A-Ling, The Ringer, The Belltower, The Clapper, (These Bell jokes really sicken me sometimes), The Third Round, Dateline: Novi, Double-Spaced, Stopping By Twelve Oaks on a Snowy Evening, Fear and Loathing in Novi, Tropic of Novi, Up your Block — and many others too obscene or trite to mention.
Ah, what the heck, A Random Sample ain't that bad.

County official suffers injury during Novi tour

An Oakland County official apparently suffered back injuries after falling during an inspection of the Lakeshore Park Community Building in Novi October 18.
Don McKenzie, deputy director of the Oakland County Community Development Program was inspecting the building site in Novi — a necessary step for the city to qualify for federal money.
McKenzie was accompanied by Pat Murphy, a Novi building inspector. Murphy was in another section of the building when the fall occurred.
McKenzie was taken to Pontiac Osteopathic hospital and was released after about a week.
The accident occurred at just about the time McKenzie's immediate boss, John Madole, was reportedly telling McKenzie he could resign or be fired.
McKenzie's wife, Louise, says she has already gone to the county to start the necessary papers for compensation. She said she has been concerned only with helping her husband recuperate and hasn't had time to think of anything else.

McKenzie is already receiving compensation for injuries suffered while he was a member of the Michigan National Guard at Ft. Riley, Kansas.

According to a National Guard citation, Staff Sergeant McKenzie broke his vertebrae, suffered internal bleeding and a slight concussion when he attempted to help other guardsmen inside a disabled vehicle.
He was awarded the Army Commendation Medal, the Michigan Legion of Merit and the Merit of Valor.

Proposed city charter endorsed

To the Editor:
To the people on our major proposed changes for our new charter.

Departments: Public assessment of our proposed Novi City Charter hinges a good deal on understanding some of the proposed changes. Our commission's approach has been to establish a minimum number of umbrella type departments which are assigned responsibility for certain basic functions. This provides a basis for logical grouping of existing units according to supervisory skills required and serves to define the scope of responsibility appropriate to departmental organization.
Our present charter also deals with the council's relationship to the departments in provisions of two chapters. These have been brought together in one in our new charter, eliminating potential areas of conflict and providing a more systematic treatment of the proposed governmental structure. As far as the position of "Public Safety Director", our present charter provides for the same position.
Form of Government: Reaffirmation of council-manager form of government stays, we have strengthened the manager's position and making him more accountable to the council. Under the council-manager plan all powers are vested in the council. The council is responsible for both policy and administration. The appointment of the manager by the council provides the position of a degree of insulation matters, and to supervise department heads. The theory behind the plan is to fix responsibility for policy making in the council and fix responsibility for administration in the manager. Our present charter states that if the manager resigned today, our mayor becomes manager. We changed that and tried to separate the legislative body from the administration that our present charter harbors.

We left our mayor elected by the people. His principal duties are to preside over council meetings and serve as ceremonial head of the city. You may ask why even have the position if it is so limited in power. The reason being that the Home Rule Act requires that a charter provide for that office, designed from township days, but that position means leadership for our city.
Let us talk of the primary. Novi is growing by leaps and bounds and if we are to have a look at long range planning, the electoral process we have now leaves alot to be desired. It is at best a name game election! It does not allow us to address the real issues. The electoral process should afford the electorate a very basic opportunity to be the best mechanics our process has available. To elect a representative without a majority of the vote doesn't seem to me the best mechanics available from the structure of good government. An astute politician could be re-elected time and time again without a majority of the vote. A charter is to empower not to limit.

I hope you will vote yes next Tuesday.
Barbara Shoemaker Charter Commissioner

To the Editor:
The League of Women Voters is non-partisan in that it may not support or oppose any political party or candidate. However, the league is empowered to take stands on governmental issues chosen for study and action. After study the League of Women Voters of Northville, Plymouth, Canton, and Novi support the proposed new city charter for Novi.
We support the council-manager type of government, as well as non-partisan at large elections. The primary provision is far sighted as a good charter should be. In fact, the need is already apparent with the current abundance of candidates for council. We would have preferred a more flexible provision for filing petitions, such as a percentage of the votes cast in the last election, rather than a set number. As for the filing fee, we disapprove of accepting them in lieu of fees. It is our contention that filing fees fail to show any public support for a candidate, and encourage "spoiler" candidates.

We quarrel with chapter 7, section 8 (e) and (f) which give the council the right to ignore the will of the people "after two years", where initiatory and referendum proceedings are concerned.
The added safeguards in the area of finances are commendable. The creation of "umbrella" departments of Finance, Safety, and Public Service should be helpful in delineating responsibilities. Hopefully, it will increase efficiency.
Inasmuch as the two areas where we disagree (filing fees and initiatory proceedings) are no worse than the wording in the current charter, we think the strong points outweigh the weak and, therefore, we urge voters to vote "YES".

Sincerely,
Neva Carter, President
LWV—Northville, Plymouth, Canton, and Novi

No vote urged on road assessment ballot question

To the Editor:
On Tuesday, November 8th, Novi residents will vote on an advisory question, Proposition 5, which in effect asks, should the owners of property along the mile roads be charged for the paving of those roads in proportion to the benefits received.
I suspect that the assessment would be acceptable to the property owners if actually based on the proportion of use of the road by the residents and the public in general; however, it usually winds up with the adjoining property owners paying 40 percent to 50 percent of the cost and the community in general getting 95 percent of the use of the road. To add insult to injury, the property owner suffers the loss of the trees and shrubs that shield him from the road and traffic, and is thereafter subjected to the increased noise and danger from more and faster traffic.
The real question is what is the property owner getting that he does not already have. He has a road that is quite adequate for his needs. That road would not even be considered for paving to benefit only the people living along it. But, now general community traffic has increased beyond the point where the mile roads can be maintained economically. They must be paved to carry the high volume of community traffic, and since the paving is for the benefit of the community, it should be paid for by the community.
Those who live in Novi subdivisions could face the same situation. Suppose the City routed a detour through your subdivision and down the road in front of your house. Heavy traffic would exceed the design capacity of your road and it would be destroyed. You would certainly object to being charged for rebuilding your road after it had been destroyed by the rest of the community.

Likewise, increased traffic from the new subdivisions has either destroyed the gravel mile roads, or made proper maintenance difficult and costly; but, now city officials want the property owners to foot the bill to pave these roads for the use of the community. It is like you telling me to go to my friendly Ford dealer and buy a new station wagon because you want to use it for a trip.
Most small communities have a two or three mill tax specifically for road construction. Novi started this direction when the voters approved one mill for road construction years ago, and recently another average two mills to retire general obligation bonds issued to finance road construction. Now the city still wants adjoining property owners to pay a large part of the construction cost in addition to the voted taxes.
We suggest that a NO vote on Proposition 5 will put an end to the endless public hearings, unfair assessments and costly law suits. It might even start a fair and equitable program of building roads for general community use financed with general community funds.

Twelve Oaks shoplifter arrested

In Novi

A Detroit woman was arraigned for shoplifting in the Twelve Oaks Mall in the 52nd District Court before Judge Gene Schnelz October 27.

Doris Fleming, 44, was arrested in the Hudson's store October 26 when store detectives allegedly observed her placing clothes into a plastic garbage bag. According to police reports, she had $459 worth of merchandise when she was arrested.

Fleming has an extensive arrest record, dating back 26 years, police reported.

She was charged with larceny in a building and placed under $10,000 cash bond.

Rodney Johnson, 19, of Howell, has been arraigned on charges of malicious destruction of property after smashing a window at Sandy's Mobile Station on Novi Road near the expressway.

Johnson reportedly got into an argument with the station manager at 5 a.m. over a $1 fee charged for repairing a wheel. Johnson smashed a tire iron into a large glass window, according to police reports.

The manager lifted the keys from Johnson's truck and waited for the police to arrive.

Johnson was released on $1,000 personal bond after arraignment in 52nd District Court before Judge Martin Boyle.

A shotgun was stolen from a residence in the 47000 section of West Nine Mile October 28. The shotgun was valued at $200.

Someone took a bulldozer out for a very destructive joyride in a construction site at Nine Mile and Cranbrook roads October 29. The bulldozer smashed into a parked caterpillar, two oil tankers and knocked down a Detroit Edison pole.

Two oil tankers were drained of fuel oil.

A color television was stolen from the 48000 section of Nine Mile Road October 25. The TV was valued at $300.

In Wixom

A motorcyclist who was struck and thrown from his cycle by the driver of a car making a left turn remains hospitalized following the accident Thursday afternoon.

Barry Grainger, 36, of Livonia, suffered a compound fracture of the lower leg and a broken hand in the incident at Wixom and West Maple Roads. Grainger's passenger, Gregory Gradinscak suffered minor cuts and abrasions, according to reports.

Allegedly defective equipment on the car driven by Richard Goan of Milford was thought by Wixom Police to have been the cause of the accident.

Gunshots rang out near midnight early last week as a security guard at American Sunroof Corporation on Beck Road attempted to stop a fleeing suspect.

Wixom Police, responding to the scene, reportedly saw a young man, later identified as Stephen Yenshaw of Northville, scaling a fence on the Sunroof property as the guard fired at him.

Police ordered the security guard to stop firing. The suspect escaped from the area. Yenshaw was later apprehended by Northville Township Police.

Yenshaw was thought to have been the person opening the trunks of several new cars parked at the company for equipment installation and removing the spare tires, police said. Four such tires were found leaning against the fence line.

Yenshaw was arrested and lodged in the Oakland County Jail. He was later released pending further investigation.

Police cars purchased by Wixom

Wixom's City Council unanimously approved Police Chief Phil Leonard's proposal for the purchase of three new police cars last week.

Leonard used a strong economic argument in addressing the council on why the current cars should be taken off the road after 50,000 miles of active duty. Leonard produced a dollar chart to illustrate the rising cost of repairs in a car's life after 50,000 miles. Using the three Wixom police auto repair bills from August 1976 to July 1977, Leonard said the average cost of maintaining repairs on the two main cars was $790, and the back up car $340. Each of these cars had hit the designated 50,000 mile mark at this time.

In contrast, the average cost of repairing the vehicles since July 1977 through October was $403, or over half of the entire year repair bill stated earlier. Leonard suggested it would be financially advantageous for the city, to purchase new cars than to pay extraordinarily high repair bills on the 1976 autos in excess of 50,000 miles.

Leonard also submitted to the council a three-year plan for the use of the current 1976 autos and the cars to be purchased in January. The police chief suggested the 1976 cars be kept for use by building officials, police chief, investigators and general city officials.

Dedication rites set for new Novi church

Saturday will mark a special day in the history of the Church of the Holy Family and the 650 families of the Novi parish.

On that day, 11 a.m. dedication ceremonies of the new church at Ten Mile and Meadowbrook Roads will mark a milestone for Father Kevin O'Brien and his congregation who have been meeting at Orchard Hills School since September, 1974.

Growing from a small parish to its present number, many of the families have their roots with Our Lady of Victory Church in Northville. To mark those ties, the Northville parish will serve a luncheon immediately after the ceremonies Saturday afternoon.

Officiating at the dedication of the new edifice and principal celebrant in the mass will be John Cardinal Dearden. Together with other priests including Father O'Brien, Cardinal Dearden will begin the ceremonies by blessing the outside walls of the building.

Entering the sanctuary, the inside walls followed by the tabernacle, altar and cross will be blessed in the tradition-steeped rites.

Father O'Brien said that $195,000 has been pledged to the building fund by the families over and above their regular Sunday offerings. The fund raising drives have been spearheaded by seven men and their wives.

Saving marriages is no easy or cheap job

By MARILYN HERALD

Out of the debris of broken marriages which has increasingly littered the national scene since the 1960's has emerged an ever-growing profession — marriage counseling.

Statistics show that one of every two marriages this year is headed for the divorce courts. The Oakland County rate of marriage casualties runs a little higher than do those of Wayne, Washtenaw and Livingston counties.

Due to this trend the business of counseling has probably expanded with more rapidly than anything since Xerox revolutionized the duplicating world.

And make no mistake about it, counseling is a business — one that fills the yellow pages of telephone directories in the larger cities surrounding this area with long lists of both agencies and individuals who offer all types of counseling.

Counseling, for whatever reason, does not come cheap! In general, agencies which provide counseling services usually charge about 50 percent less per hour than private counselors. Fees at agencies are most commonly set on a sliding scale with $30 per hour as an average rate for a family with a $20,000 a year income and four mouths to feed.

Private counselors, on the other hand, receive in the $50 to $60 an hour bracket for their services.

Partly because of the reduced cost and partly because they feel agencies provide a wider range of marriage and family counseling services, most area pastors and many school guidance counselors recommend agency counseling to those who seek their advice.

Child and Family Counseling Services, which maintains offices in Walled Lake, Howell, Ann Arbor, Whitmore Lake, Pontiac and any number of other cities, rates high on the referral list.

Priests as well as protestant ministers are now required to take

The Light Touch

by ANN L. ROY

Did you hear about the moron that began to read the dictionary and admitted he couldn't wait for the end— He peeked at the last page - the Zebra did it!

Why did the moron take a hammer to the barber shop? He wanted his hair cut in Bangs!

Did you hear about the lady moron who thought a peeping Tom was a night watchman?

Did you hear about the moron who loved fishing so much he married a woman with worms?

Poets' Corner

Has The Little Girl Gone?

As a child she had the dreams and ambitions of any other normal child her age. Her biggest worries were if the picture she had so steadily colored would be as good as the other children's in her class, or if she could run fast enough to reach the teeter-totter first so she and a friend could use it on recess. She would sit for hours on end in the sand box digging; dreaming about what it would be like when she had finally reached China. If she had run into a problem that day, they could all be so easily solved in the arms of her mother or with the wind in her hair as she soared higher than the trees in her favorite swing.

But as she grew a little older, she noticed that teeter-totter that she had raced for each day on recess no longer brought her desire; and her favorite swing that she had so loved no longer had a laughing child in its clutches, and it no longer could soar higher than the trees, only as high as the slight wind could push it.

She wondered about God. Was he really there? Was he watching her in all that she did, when she was awake and when she slumbered?

All these questions began to fill her mind and she was very frightened for all these questions she could not begin to answer. She felt as if she were on a Merry-go-round of confusion and she could not stop, or could not get off.

Now somehow, that little girl has changed. She still sometimes must ride that Merry-go-round for there are questions in life that sometimes none of us can answer. But yet she knows life and is fulfilled as a person. And when she looks at a sunrise coming up over the horizon tears of happiness come to her eyes, for she knows this is God, and God has given to her the greatest gift of all, the gift of life, and she will be forever grateful.

When things go wrong, or something comes out not the way it was planned, she is never to old to find comfort in the arms of her loved ones, for that is the greatest comfort of all.

We all know this little girl. For no matter how old or mature we are, this little girl is found in each and everyone of us.

Obscenity law spurred

LANSING — Following a recent Supreme Court ruling, the Legislature is being spurred to enact a uniform, enforceable obscenity law. The ruling precluded local ordinances from applying standards beyond those of the state.

The problem, however, is that the Legislature has been struggling for years to write such an obscenity law, while local ordinances were keeping the proliferation of obscene materials in check.

On a 4-3 decision, the high court said a uniform, statewide system of obscenity regulation provides not only the fairest, but also the most effective means of combating obscenity.

The court said local obscenity ordinances cannot stand that seek to establish their own definitions and test for obscenity, to modify the state standards for a presumed case of prohibited conduct and to alter the state prescribed punishment upon conviction.

The ruling noted local units may, however, enact zoning ordinances regulating the locale of businesses selling sexually explicit materials. The location ordinance was previously affirmed by the U.S. Supreme Court in upholding a Detroit zoning ordinance.

The state has not had a workable law since 1975 when the Supreme Court then said the current law could not be enforced without further legislative guidance on definitions of obscenity. The court declared the current state law was not enforceable in respect to activities of adults.

The House of Representatives first to act on a bill to give the state such an enforceable pornography law.

House Judiciary Committee Chairman Paul Rosenbaum (D-Battle Creek) said the main battle in the chamber was defeating any attempts to apply the proposed law to nonconsenting and consenting adults.

He suggested such an application could bring about an unconstitutional ruling by the Supreme Court which could set back enactment of an obscenity statute by as long as 10 to 15 years.

Problems with understanding terminology in insurance contracts?

The Michigan Insurance Commission, attempting to make insurance coverages readable and understandable to the layman, will open public hearings on proposed rules applying the insurance industry to the new uniform trade practices act.

The new law and proposed rules are designed to curb abuses in the insurance industry. Misrepresentation in sales, false advertising, shoddy claims practices and unfair discrimination are identified and prohibited.

Another key area prohibits unfair claims settlement practices. Companies would be prohibited from paying claims late and using that as a negotiating tool to get lower settlements.

The new law and rules require companies to investigate and respond to claims quickly and fairly. Interest penalties would be imposed on companies which fail to pay valid claims on a timely basis.

Twenty-three Michigan counties in the northern regions of the state are without enough doctors to meet basic needs of county residents, according to a study by a Republican Legislative Task Force on Health Manpower Resources.

The problem of a lack of family and general practitioners and other primary care doctors was discovered to be most serious in Keeweenaw, Alcona, Leelanau, Lake and Kalkaska counties.

extensive training in counseling during their years in seminary. This has been a growing trend in recent years because of the growing ratio of marital problems.

Father Howard Vogan, pastor of the St. Joseph Catholic Church in South Lyon, is one of several area professionals who are currently attempting to establish a social services office of Oakland County in the area bounded by South Lyon, Wixom, and Milford.

He reports that in most cases where he is sought out for counseling, he can work directly with the people himself. He likes to do this since he feels that faith has an important place in counseling.

When Father Vogan does think further counseling is warranted, he suggests Catholic Social Services which has an office in the Highland-Milford area as well as in most larger cities.

These agencies are open to all regardless of religious denomination.

Father Vogan also finds that in some cases he recommends that the persons he counsels see a psychiatrist or psychologist for additional help.

A distorted feeling and faulty perception of themselves as people is the underlying cause of most marital conflict, according to the Reverend David Hurst who heads Pastoral Care Services in Ann Arbor.

The agency which Mr. Hurst, a Methodist pastor, initiated four years ago with support from various denominations, has grown to include two full time counselors, five part-time and several trainees from the University of Michigan School of social work.

The interdenominational service also includes a psychiatric team of professionals who are called upon when the counselors feel it is necessary to evaluate a case further.

Is any price too high to pay for a healthy marriage?

Most counselors don't think so. They equate maintaining a healthy marriage to maintaining a healthy body.

"If you're ill, you go to see a doctor," says Betty Quenon, an elementary guidance counselor in South Lyon schools. "With a sick marriage, it should be the same. You can't afford not to seek help when you consider the number of people involved and the anguish caused by the harrowing arguments."

While the therapy is only as good as the person who gives it, the first step away from those arguments that split a couple in two seems to be similar to that first step in overcoming alcoholism. The parties involved have to admit that there is a problem that cannot be solved without outside help.

Mrs. Quenon observes that many parents who call her for an appointment to "talk about the kids" really are seeking help for themselves.

"They can come to me about their children without having to first admit that there is something they can't handle with their marriage. I try to listen with that third ear and I often find out where the basic problem is that is also adversely affecting the children," adds Mrs. Quenon.

Although the number of counseling sessions it takes to resolve problems in a marriage varies with each couple, Mr. Hurst says that with those who really make a continuing effort 10 to 15 sessions (usually one hour each in length) will be adequate.

His organization records approximately an 80 percent success record in helping couples to mend broken marriages. Sometimes this is achieved in conjoint meetings and sometimes in individual counseling sessions with each party.

"We have others who continue through 50 sessions or as in one case, as many as 100. We encourage the couples or individuals to come back whenever they feel they can't handle a crisis situation. This may be two or three months after their regular weekly counseling was terminated or maybe as much as a year or two years later."

Mr. Hurst relates that often when a marriage is not saved that one or the other of the couple will continue in counseling to help them face the problems created by divorce and loneliness.

Most of the persons seen at the Pastoral Care facility which has offices in St. Andrews Episcopal Church in Ann Arbor are referred there by pastors or personal friends.

Most counselors report that many of their clients come to them because a friend has had a successful experience in solving his or her problems. This seems to indicate that most individuals' original reluctance to admit that they have a problem is erased after counseling. They then become willing to share the successes of counseling with friends.

Lack of communication between the two principals in a marriage is a major stumbling block in resolving conflict.

Mr. Hurst recalls one couple who were totally unable to communicate with even a modicum of courtesy.

"At the first sessions, they would interrupt each other, call each other names and speak condescendingly. Even when I would try to change the subject and work toward being able to converse with them, they would go right back to the name calling and recriminations."

"We agreed at that first session that I would meet individually with each of them for a while."

"So we did in an effort to take some of the steam out of things and to build up their own individual feelings of adequacy and self-confidence."

"We finally were able to meet part of the time in conjoint sessions but after eight months of counseling the husband said he felt counseling was not accomplishing anything. His wife also became disenchanted, feeling that if he wouldn't try neither would she."

"At this point I'm not seeing either of them by their preference. The door is still open, but unfortunately this looks like one of our failures."

Those who set up private marriage counseling services in Michigan must be certified by the state.

Criteria for becoming a certified marriage counselor is mandated by law and requirements are generally demanding. In Michigan, a private marriage counselor must have a Ph.D in psychology, a Ph.D in theology or a master's degree in social work with five years supervision under a certified marriage counselor.

Mrs. Quenon says that the American Psychological Association is working with the states to make certain changes in licensure requirements which would allow those who have taken comparable course work to take a "so-called bar exam" for certification.

Is there a trend in what causes marriage conflicts? Most counselors agree that there is and that general areas where trouble arises involve money, children, in-laws and sexual relations.

"These are really symptomatic of the more basic thing — a feeling of inadequacy," says Mr. Hurst. "Although it may manifest itself in selfishness, stubbornness and criticism of their partner, often the basic problem is a feeling of failure."

According to Mrs. Quenon, no one goes through life without meeting crisis situations from time to time. She feels that everyone, big and small, needs a little "stroking" from time to time.

She reports that many of the parents she sees in connection with student problems often seek her aid a second or third time.

"They find that things go so much better after they understand the basis of their own and their children's problems that they will call me at the least sign of trouble."

One couple which Mr. Hurst successfully counseled into a happier relationship had trouble at first adjusting to the fact of recurring crisis situations.

"They seemed to feel, particularly the husband, that if they had another crisis situation after counseling they had actually gained nothing. He seemed to think that if he lost a battle, he had lost the war."

"We finally convinced him that everybody suffers crisis at some time or other. The problem is in learning to cope with them as they arise."

BACH ENGINEERING & ASSOCIATES, a business dealing directly with energy management and conservation, has established an office at 331 East Main in Northville. Bernard R. Bach, a registered professional engineer with 25 years' experience in the electrical control field, heads the new business. Currently involved with energy management in industry, Bach predicts that heat reclaim fans, fixed temperature thermostats and peak load demand controls will play a major role in saving energy for business and industry.

DR. JOHN R. SWANSON, 435 North Pontiac Trail, Walled Lake, recently attended an orthokeratology seminar in Dearborn.

Orthokeratology is defined as the reduction, modification, or elimination of refractive anomalies by the programmed application of contact lenses or other related procedures. Dr. Swanson is a practitioner of orthokeratology.

Speakers at the seminar included Dr. Albert Fontana of Chicago, Dr. Ned Paige of Toronto, Dr. Milt Meyer of Detroit, and Dr. Cowans, also from the Detroit area.

A SOUTH LYON MAN, Christian A. Krauter, vice-president of Easco Sparcatron, Inc. in Ann Arbor, has been on the speaking circuit across the country for the Society of Manufacturing Engineers.

During the first week of October, he was in Portland, Oregon at the Monte Carlo Club speaking to a cross section of manufacturing personnel on the subject of the original manufacturer and on-board maintenance of turbine engines used in the new super tanker ships in the merchant marine. Other aspects of his talk dealt with the electrical discharge machining of manganese and super alloys used in marine and heavy equipment applications.

In Chicago, Illinois, last week, Krauter was chairman of a series of presentations entitled "contemporary developments in EDM" during the Engineering Conference and Tool and Manufacturing Exposition.

In addition, Krauter presented a technical paper on the latest developments in the fields of electrical discharge machining and in total form machining — a new process developed by Easco.

Vice-president of U.S. operations for the Ann Arbor-based firm which designs, builds, and sells EDM and TFM machines worldwide, Krauter is much in demand as a speaker.

This week, Krauter is at the Pacifica Hotel in Los Angeles giving a presentation on total form machining, a new grinding process used to manufacture electrodes 90 percent faster than the present three-dimensional NC processes now being used.

TWO SPIKER FORD-MERCURY employees have recently attained membership in the Ford Society of Professional Sales Counselors for 1977.

The Ford Division of the Ford Motor Company announced that Terry Anderson and Mike Duffie recently achieved Membership in the organization.

Society membership can only be obtained by those Ford Salesmen who display outstanding sales achievement during the calendar year. Anderson and Duffie have been members of the Spiker Ford-Mercury sales staff in Milford since 1968.

STEPHEN BARNES, 26, of 4181 Aspen in Novi earned one of the highest scores in the Broker's Associate Tests conducted in Lansing October 3.

Barnes scored 97 out of a possible 100 on the test. He is employed with Realty Workd on 12 Mile in Farmington.

REALTOR OREN F. NELSON of Whitmore Lake, a member of the Ann Arbor Board of Realtors, just returned from New Orleans where he successfully completed a course in commercial and investment real estate.

These courses were put on by the Realtors National Marketing Institute and covered a comprehensive analysis of all types of investment real estate.

ROBERT J. WISEMAN was appointed vice president and general manager for Ex-Cell-O Materials Handling Company, a subsidiary of Ex-Cell-O Corporation in St. Paul, Minnesota.

Prior to this appointment, Wiseman was director of management information services at the corporation's Walled Lake facility. He joined Ex-Cell-O in 1966 and has held various positions in corporate systems.

He graduated from the University of Detroit with a BA degree in accounting.

Wiseman and his wife have two children. They will make their home in the St. Paul area.

KEITH COLLINS (right) of Novi, Fram Automotive Division District sales representative in the Detroit area and a recent graduate of the Autolite Spark Plug Training School, receives his diploma from David Bowman, Director of Autolite Technical Services.

The course is one of a series held at the Autolite Training Center in Fostoria, Ohio, for Fram-Autolite sales management personnel. The four-day program is designed to present an overview and working knowledge of the manufacturing, engineering, and quality features of Autolite spark plugs, marketed by Fram Corporation.

GUARDIAN Industries Corp. of Novi reported that both sales and earnings for the third quarter and first nine months ended September 30, 1977, were substantially ahead of the same period a year ago and a record for any quarter or nine months in the company's history.

For the third quarter, net income was $4,723,000, or 68 cents per share, up 15 percent on a per share basis from earnings of $4,317,000, or 59 cents per share, in the same quarter last year. Sales during the quarter were $42,252,000, a gain of 16 percent over sales of $36,383,000 in the third quarter of 1976.

XENDORA THE WITCH, Dianna Hobbs, met all the little trick or treaters who visited her Halloween night at the James C. Cutler Realty located across from the Burger Chef on Center Street, Northville.

Dianna, secretary at Cutler Realty, was busy for the last few weeks making her costume, experimenting with weird make-up, and getting her act together to add to the scary fun of Halloween.

WILLIAM LEE WALKER, Sr. of Northville has been named president of the Walway Company of Southfield.

With more than 40 years in the business, Walker assumes the post formerly held by his father, the late William B. Walker, Jr.

Over the years, Walker moved up through the ranks from sweeper to top executive status.

Paul Beard of Northville is vice-president of Walway.

Walker, who has five married children and 11 grandchildren, lives at 42625 East Seven Mile Road with his wife, Bette.

A member of the Meadowbrook Country Club, Walker has been a resident of the Northville area for more than 40 years.

WM. WALKER, SR.

PAUL VERNON of Northville has been re-elected to the board of directors of the Equipment and Tool Institute. The institute is a national organization of manufacturers of tools and equipment for the transportation industry.

ROBERT MAYNES has purchased the 21-year-old Staman Insurance Agency, 25939 Novi Road, Novi. Maynes, a Livonia resident, intends at least temporarily to retain the company name.

The company's founder, Frazer Staman, former Novi Township supervisor and Oakland County road commissioner, is retiring from business. He lives in Wixom.

THOMAS GARDNER has successfully completed Ziebart Rustproofing Company's technical training announced Joanne Waite, owner of the Ziebart Auto Truck Rustproofing facility located at 5955 Whitmore Lake Road in Brighton.

The technical training was designed to familiarize Gardner with the details of Ziebart automotive rustproofing.

With the Ziebart process, all rust-prone metal throughout the bodies of cars and trucks are coated with an exclusive rust preventive sealant. Small holes are strategically placed throughout the vehicle body, allowing Ziebart's patented spray tools to be inserted into all hidden, "box-in" sections, such as rocker panels, headlight rims and door assemblies.

These are the areas most prone to rust. They trap and hold moisture and seldom have a chance to completely dry out.

Ziebart Rustproofing Company is a subsidiary of Ziebart International Corporation, the licensing organization for more than 500 independent Ziebart Dealers throughout the world.

NAUTICAL ENGINEERING has purchased a building in Northville, and the manufacturing operation has been relocated to 19442 Gerald.

The firm's new building, which is more than double the size of its previous location, also provides greater work space for service and office personnel.

The move was prompted by Nautical Engineering's expanding line of marine hardware, and increased demand for their products.

TWO TECHNICAL sales representatives have been added and two promotions announced by Thermofil, Inc., Brighton based producer of engineering thermoplastics.

Ronald M. Sohr, vice president, marketing said the new personnel and related advancements will provide strengthened sales coverage in several new market areas.

James V. DeMattei of Atlanta, Georgia has moved to Thermofil after 20 years experience in the plastics industry with Nosco Plastics and ITT. He will be based in Atlanta and cover seven southeastern states as technical sales representative.

Michael Irish of Cary, Illinois has joined Thermofil from Union Carbide of Chicago, and will handle technical sales in Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa.

Ken Snooks and Ron Crossman have been named District Sales Managers.

PAUL J. FENELON has been named technical director for Thermofil, Inc., a Brighton-based producer of engineering thermoplastics, it was announced by Ronald J. Woods, president.

Dr. Fenelon joins Thermofil after eight years with the Chemical and Plastics Division of Borg-Warner Corp. Based at its headquarters in Parkersburg, West Virginia, he served that company most recently as technical manager responsible for the product development of high nitrile thermoplastic resins. He is a respected authority of polymer rheology and polymer impact modification.

At Thermofil, Dr. Fenelon will head up research and development activities for the four plant manufacturing operation and will be based at the corporate laboratories in Brighton.

Dr. Fenelon has had a number of important papers on thermoplastics and plastics processing published in leading trade magazines and engineering journals.

Women find slimnastics course fun—but no 'piece of cake'

By NANCY DINGELDEY

"I thought for sure I was going to have a heart attack," said Peggy Weisenberger puffing slightly.

Linda Dauzy, Karen Coapman and Nancy Bulgarelli uttered the same thoughts.

"I suspected I was out of condition," laughed Linda, "and after the first session I knew it."

Slightly flushed from their activity, the ladies eyes darted to the front of the room all the while they were talking. Listening and watching, attention was only momentarily diverted.

Heart attacks, puffing, flushed, watchful eyes... ominous words. One wouldn't expect the ladies could easily add, "It sure is fun."

They and 27 other women of all shapes and sizes meet twice weekly at Keith Elementary School for two hour-long sessions designed to pull and tug at every muscle in the body.

With lithe, professional model Sally Peters leading the way, the women bend and stretch, bend and sway through fast moving callisthenics, Swedish dances and disco steps.

"I never thought I'd make it that first day," said Peggy. "I thought for sure I was going to collapse."

Peggy took the class because her daughters talked her into joining them there. She admitted to a slight weight build-up over the past year and thought she might lose some of the pounds.

"I haven't really lost any weight but my clothes fit better and I feel great." Intently watching the instructor, Peggy copied her movements. "This is great fun," she added.

Muscle tone and figure control are not new or innovative programs. But this slimnastics class is a program with a few added twists.

Differing in the fact that the recreational program is held in a school facility during daytime hours, its other first is the fact that it offers child care facilities for the mothers.

Coordinated with the Walled Lake School's co-op program and using students from both central and Western High Schools enrolled in the child care and development area, nearby nursery care is provided while mom's exercise.

Coming from Novi, Karen Coapman said the program was a great opportunity for both she and her child. A petite young woman, Karen said the class kept her energy level up which she felt had been waning.

Pointing to the nursery program, Karen said she could not have taken the course had it not been for the nursery. "I couldn't have afforded the baby sitters every week." She noted the cost of the nursery through the program. "It's only $3 for the 10 week period and my child has a great time in there."

In an adjoining room, 18 little ones ranging in age from eight months to slightly over four scurried about. Gathered around adult supervisor Irene Rundell, one group was busily bouncing to music from a phonograph.

Others were crawling about pushing wooden toys while students were urging them on. Blocks, huge blow-up balls, and colorful objects were scattered about in close reach to exploring hands.

Every child was busy having a good time. There were no tears, just lots of smiles, even to strangers. Co-op students Mandy Harville and Barb Messinger, both from Central were enthusiastic about the program. Together they played with their little charges, making sure they were occupied.

Still intent on their exercises, Linda Dauzy of Wixom commented she knew she needed the exercise. "I really wondered if I'd make it through that first class, or the second or the third for that matter. But Sally inspires me and I feel good."

Nancy Bulgarelli of Walled lake said she took the class to get into condition for skiing this winter. With a baby approaching two years, Nancy said she wasn't getting enough of the right exercise. "I couldn't make it thru a whole hour of this for the first couple of classes."

It was not hard to understand why. With bouncy fast moving music in the background, the exercises were strenuous by any stretch of the imagination. It was easy to see how each muscle could get a thorough workout in one short hour.

No chance to chatter in the class. The ladies were too busy doing bouncy disco steps, their arms and legs and backs constantly moving then quickly switching to a bend and stretch, extend the leg, point the toe exercise.

Some students moved a little slower than others but they were exercising just the same. "The idea is to get those muscles in tone," said Sally who with Gerry Sutton of the Community Education Department developed the program.

"We use our muscles and help coordination by incorporating modern

Novi's Kittenettes close third season with flourish

Fifteen pretty young ladies from Novi High School made their final appearance of the year at the football game Friday night.

Winding up their third year as an organized drill team, the girls have taken on the name "Kittenettes" and have become a recognized portion of half-time activities on the field.

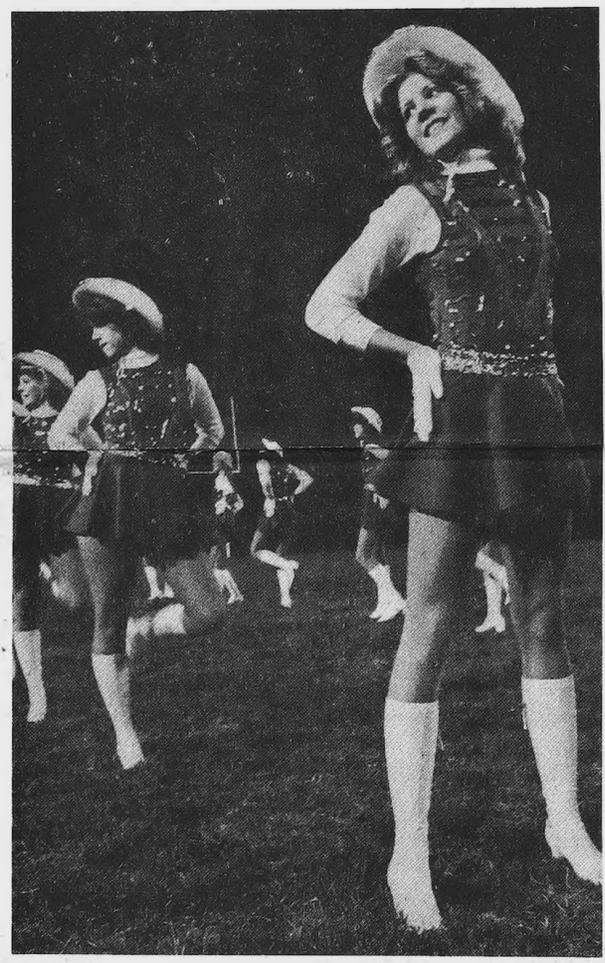

They've sharpened up so much and have never looked so good," said Mrs. Marilyn Pretty with pride.

As advisor of the team, Mrs. Pretty said the girls have worked extremely hard this year on their routines done along with the Novi marching band.

The girls will not go into retirement however. Mrs. Pretty said there might be activities later in the year that could use the high-strutting girls outfitted in cowboy hats, white boots and fringed and spangled outfits.

Senior Debbie Pretty is captain of the Kittenettes with Judy Kroetsch the assistant captain. Squad leaders are Debbie Morandy, Leslie Tyler and Julie Guthrie.

music in the exercises. We also touch on aerobics for the lungs and heart.

Although cardio-vascular toning comes with swimming, biking, and jogging, Sally said that some exercises can be incorporated in the program leading to aerobics.

Special guest teachers are brought in for one-half hour each week with demonstrations on exotic dancing or belly dancing, yoga and modern jazz.

Again exercise and muscle tone but done in a fun, revitalizing way.

"Ten minutes from now I may feel like I'm going to collapse in a heap," said Mrs. WEisenberger, "but tonight I'll feel great."

Moreover, the little kids feel great too.

The child care portion of the program was enthusiastically received by co-op coordinator Jenda Mills. For the students participating in the program the nursery is considered "hands-on experience" or lab time.

"It also gives those students in child development, the first level of the co-op program, the opportunity to deal with little ones directly," said Mrs. Mills.

Providing a variety of toys and ideas to the students, Mrs. Mills encourages them as they relate to the children.

Junior students Geri Corella, Jody Maitland and Marcia Reimer, all of Western made sure the toddlers were getting their exercise.

By the Way...

with Nancy Dingeldey

We have survived another Halloween. The kids didn't get massive stomach aches from overindulging, the dogs have stopped barking and I no longer have to hunt up "just one more candle for the pumpkin." It seems impossible that November is upon us and soon snowflakes will start falling. If I were wise I would take a hint from the neighbors who string their outside Christmas lights now, while the weather is still decently warm.

And the windows. As some readers already know, I have a "thing" about washing windows. I hate it! Rather than being clever, I inevitably wait until those first flakes fly to wash windows... outside. Although I resolve never to do it again, it happens every year. I call it the "November blue hand syndrome."

November also brings us a delightful array of things to do from Ski Prix '77 to open stage theatre to a clever auction to Boutique shopping... all in the first three weeks of the month.

"Ski Prix '77" should prove to be one of the superbly fun evenings of the month especially for people geared to Alpine or cross-country skiing and to those who have an interest in supporting a U.S. Olympic team.

Usually held in the Rochester-Troy area, "Ski Prix '77" this year will be the pre-season event at the Alpine Ski Area on M-59.

Chairperson for this year's gala on November 12 is Peg Gemmill of West Bloomfield who comes to the job with three years prior experience on "Ski Prix" committees. Mrs. Peg Turner of Edgewood Park Drive, Union Lake is adding her energies to the planning committee. Lending her talents to the all-important decorations is Mrs. Joan Lissolo of WarBonnet.

On hand during the entire evening will be skiing luminary Stein Erikson and members of the U.S. Ski teams. Mary Seaton from Hancock and Nordic jumper Kip Sundgaard of Minnesota are just two of the many team members who will attend the affair. Mary will also be the house guest of the Gemmill's.

The evening will begin at 7:30 p.m. with a cash bar followed from 8 to 10 p.m. with a chuck wagon buffet. Horst Buller's Austrian Band will entertain throughout the affair.

Dress is definitely apres ski, definitely comfortable. Also beginning at 7:30 and running until midnight will be a continuous write in or silent auction. Guests may bid on Alpine and Brighton ski season memberships, TV's, ski equipment, the Big Mac bus, haircuts and poodle trims.

"There will be large and small items to bid on," said Mrs. Turner, remarking that committees have been gathering a varied selection of items affording everyone the opportunity to bid.

Benefiting the U.S. Olympic Ski Team with a portion of the proceeds designated to the Young Michigan Racers Association, tickets are a tax deductible $15 per person.

Limited reservations are available through ticket chairman Mrs. Donald Thomas, 17325 Cambridge, Southfield, 48076.

Using an open stage format, the emerging theatre group "Stage One Productions" will present the "Tender Trap" this Friday and Saturday at Walled Lake Western's cafeteria.

Beginning at 8 p.m., tickets are $1.75.

Pointing with pride to rising attendance records with each production, producer-director Bill Kennel said the average age of the group is 16. "The kids are terrific. They go to school, do their homework and still make time for the theatre."

After closing Saturday night, "Stage One" will hold auditions on November 9 at Western for the upcoming production of "Plaza Suite." Anyone above 12 is welcome to try out for the group.

Of the play this week, Kennel added, "It's gonna be great."

The Wixom Historical Society is putting the final touches to their upcoming Holiday Boutique scheduled for November 19 at the Wixom V.F.W. Hall.

An even larger group of artists and craftsmen are expected at the annual event this year which is a fund raiser for the society.

Pottery, outstanding pen and ink sketches, toys, knitted articles, stained glass, kitchen and decorating items, Christmas ornaments and macrame are just some of the items that will be offered for sale at the one-day event.

Hours are 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. with a 25 cent donation asked at the door.

Apparently recuperated from "Spirit Week" at Western High School, students there are turning their sights to another project requiring their boundless energies.

Another event open to the public is being planned by the Northville-Novu AAUW. It's their annual "make-it-bake-it-sew-it-grow-it" auction led by Shari Clason.

The fun-filled evening with handmade items offered up for bid will be held Tuesday, November 8 beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the Northville High School cafeteria.

An ideal opportunity to do early holiday shopping, all proceeds go to the AAUW Educational Foundations Fellowship Program providing scholarships for graduate, doctoral, post-doctoral and research work.

For more information on AAUW and its programs, contact membership chairperson Joyce Murdock at 455-3059.

In the autumn of his mayoral career, Val Vangieson was honored at a surprise dinner party given by Wixom city administration department heads Saturday night.

The department heads have worked under Val since he took the city reins nearly four years ago. Choosing not to run for public office again, Val will be leaving the post in January.

A specially baked Black Forest torte was the crowning glory to what was described as a fantastic dinner. Val was also presented with a lovely watercolor painting as a remembrance of his years in office.

Coming to Novi November 10

Providence slates diabetes tests

Providence Hospital will offer free tests for diabetes in three Oakland County communities during the observance of Diabetes Detection Week in early November.

The screening program will be conducted in cooperation with the Michigan Affiliate of the National Diabetes Association.

Providence laboratory personnel will perform the blood tests from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the following locations:

- Tel-Twelve Mall in Southfield on Monday and Tuesday, November 7-8.
- State Savings Bank in South Lyon on Wednesday, November 9.
- Security Bank in Novi on Thursday, November 10.

In order for the tests to be accurate, a meal should be eaten two hours prior to the test and completed within a 15 minute period. Nothing else is to be eaten or drunk, except water, until the test is completed.

Recommended meals are:

Breakfast: Fruit (canned fruit, banana, or large glass of orange juice), one cup of cereal (cooked or flakes), one-half cup of milk, three teaspoons of sugar, two pieces of bread or toast, one tablespoon of jam or jelly, and coffee or tea (with cream or sugar if desired).

Lunch: Hamburger and bun, french fries or potato chips, and a large glass of pop (not diet type). Or. Vegetable or cream soup, five crackers, meat or cheese sandwich (with two slices of bread), dessert, and one cup of milk.

After tests are processed by the hospital laboratory. Those individuals with positive results and their physicians will be notified by the Michigan Affiliate of the ADA.

According to the Michigan Affiliate, as many as 500,000 state residents could have or could develop diabetes during their lifetime.

Persons considered to be in the high risk category are those who are over 40, overweight, and have diabetic relatives. However, diabetes may occur in any person of any age with symptoms, which may include excessive thirst, frequent urination, constant hunger, weight loss, changes in vision, or the slow healing of cuts and scratches.

Enjoy square dancing? Here's your big chance

In the bicentennial year fervor for the old-fashioned, Americans launched the square dance into a new era of popularity. For West Bloomfielders who have the square dance habit, or who wonder why their neighbors do, the West Bloomfield Parks and Recreation Department and the Orchard Mall have joined to bring the community its first square-dance-in-a-mall.

The dance will be free of charge and open to the public from all areas. It will be held Saturday night, November 5th from 8 to 11 p.m. The Orchard Mall is located on Orchard Lake Road, just north of Maple Road.

According to Parks and Recreation Director, Michael Teichman, the square dance is a pilot project. He feels that the community is really interested in this type of recreation. "If the turnout Saturday night proves it, we'll do more," he commented.

The center court of the 34-store enclosed mall bears little resemblance to the old-time favorite spot for the square dance. But the calls of professional square dance caller Geoff Baxter will send the flavor of the 1800's ringing to the "rafters" and into the wings of this modern-day substitute for a barn.

"I don't worry about whether people know how to square dance," commented Mr. Baxter. "Just give me few minutes and I'll have everyone dancing like an old pro and having fun. I usually start out simple, with everyone in a big circle," he continued. "We circle left and circle right and promenade. From there we go to squares. After we've done some simple squares I usually yell, 'hey, you want more,' and they yell back 'yes' and then we go on to some more sophisticated squares."

Refreshments at the November 5 dance will be made available through Staffords Restaurant. Anyone wishing information on the dance may call the West Bloomfield Parks and Recreation Department between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. at 661-2240-1.

Seniors can get discounts

Senior citizens aged 60 years of age or older may have their photographs taken for ID cards during November at various locations in Oakland County.

The identification cards enable seniors to receive discounts on merchandise from over 850 participating merchants through the Oakland County Senior Discount Program.

Discounts range up to 40 percent. The discount program is administered by the Oakland Livingston Human Service Agency. OLHSA is seeking new locations for the camera schedule.

Agencies, organizations, churches, union halls, service clubs, etc. who would like to have the discount program offered from their locations may telephone Clara Westbrook, OLHSA Field Supervisor, at 858-0152. The camera locations in the month of November are:

- November 10: VFW Hall on Loon Lake Road in Wixom from 1-4 p.m.
- November 14: Pontiac Mall from 9 a.m. to noon and 1-9 p.m.
- November 15: Pontiac Mall from 9 a.m. to noon and 1-9 p.m.
- November 16: Farmington Senior Center at 28600 11 Mile in Farmington Hills from 10 a.m. to noon and 1-3 p.m.
- November 28: Lakes Area Multipurpose Center in the Old Novi Elementary School at 26350 Novi Road from 1-5 p.m.

Ready for auction

Members of the Northville-Novu Branch, American Association of University Women, display some of the plants and hand craft items that will go on the block at their annual auction at 7:30 p.m. November 8. From left are Lucia Danes, Dotty Segowski, Shari Clason, who will serve as auctioneer, and Michele Buelow.

Need some boots?

Viking Boosters to sell equipment

Looking for a pair of ski boots or do you have a pair to sell? Maybe mom decided to take up bowling and would really like her own ball.

Given up fishing or taking it up? How about golf, tennis, volleyball or soccer?

The Walled Lake Central High School Boosters Club will hold a super all sports used equipment sale Saturday that could provide sports outfitting for the whole family.

The five hour sale will begin at 8 a.m. in the Central High School gym. The sale returns 75 percent of the sale price to the seller, while 25 percent remains with the Booster Club.

According to Peg Turner, one of the hard working Boosters, monies earned through the sale will be used to purchase equipment and supplies needed in the sports programs carried out at Central.

Anyone who has outgrown or no longer used sports equipment is welcome to bring their items to the school Friday between 4 and 8 p.m. Equipment will be tagged with the owner's name and asking price and added to the collection.

The Boosters ask only that the equipment be in good condition, usable and saleable.

A fine supply of ski equipment as well as ice skates, roller skates, snowmobile equipment, tennis racquets, baseball mitts, bowling balls and bicycles are expected to roll into the school Friday night.

"Outgrown ski wear will also be available," remarked Mrs. Turner, "but just what exactly is there depends on the people."

Looking forward to a large turnout, the equipment sale is the first fund raiser for the active parents' group this year.

West Oakland YMCA seeks more swimmers to round out Marlins

The West Oakland YMCA "Marlins" swim team has places open for swimmers from ages six to 17 years old. Both boys and girls swim on the age group swim team.

The Marlins swim in 10 different age and sex groups against other YMCA's in the YMCA 'B' League. The team members practice on Monday at the Walled Lake Western High School pool from 7:30-9:30 p.m.

Swimmers who can swim the front crawl, backstroke, and breaststroke can call the YMCA at 685-3020 about joining the Marlins.

The Marlins swim against other YMCA's in a Metropolitan conference. The meets take place on Saturdays and some Sundays. The team is usually very competitive and will be especially strong in the 15-and-up young men, in the eight and under, and 11 and 12 age groups this year.

Gordon Wallace of Wixom, a team alumnus, is beginning his second year as coach. He will be assisted by Dick Thompson of Milford and Alice Condon of Union Lake.

Fred Lindholm, YMCA Executive Director, said that one of the most exciting meets this year will be against arch-rival Farmington.

"We only beat them by two points last year," he noted. "Both our teams are usually very strong and we sure enjoy beating them. I just hope it's not so close this year."

Home Decorating with Howard & Lois Green

Firebox or chimney — it's the place where the fire snaps and crackles and is a decorator's delight. If it's in good condition and the flue works, make your fireplace the focal point of your room. You might want to alter its proportions, add a new mantle or face it with a different material. Then you are ready to arrange your furniture. Twin sofas or loveseats facing each other with a large low table between can be an informal place to serve cocktails or dine. Pull-up chairs or a swivel lounge can be added to the grouping for company and conversation. Make the wall important with bold color and texture. Hang your favorite picture, mirror or clock, build bookcases on either side — center interest on the fireplace.

GREEN'S CREATIVE HOME CENTER, 107 N. Center St., 349-7110, will be happy to help you to coordinate your rooms. We feature the famous FULLER O'BRIEN PAINTS' top name wallcoverings which we discount from 15 percent to 25 percent, window shades, woven wood shades, unfinished furniture, etc. We have all the necessary supplies for the do-it-yourselfers such as brushes, rollers, drop-cloths, etc. We are more interested in helping our customers decorate their homes beautifully and in good taste, than in just selling merchandise.

DECORATING TIP: In warm weather, fill the fireplace with flowering plants or greens in interesting containers or baskets.

Blue Star Mothers celebrate 35th anniversary

By Jeanne Clarke

The 35th anniversary dinner will be held at Jimmy's Restaurant in South Lyon on November 3. Final plans have been made for the luncheon and card party being held on November 10 at the Novi Community Building. Lunch is $1.75 and this entitles you to stay for the card party also if you wish.

There will be table prizes and door prizes. Tickets are available from President Winnie Dobek at 349-1904 or any Blue Star Mother. There will be some gift items available. This luncheon is one of few projects this group has in the community to raise money to aid with their work at the Veterans Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Personals

Gregory Albert Cabadas is the new baby boy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cabadas in Pioneer Meadows. He was born October 20 at Botsford Hospital and weighed nine pounds and eight ounces. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Dacigulpo of Detroit. Gregory joins the other children at home, Marguerita and Ray. Mrs. Cabadas is known to many in the community as Mary Ann in the Novi City Clerk's office.

New residents on South Lake Drive are Mr. and Mrs. Byron Caswell from Milford.

Marie Pietron was guest of honor at a dinner birthday party on the occasion of her 17th birthday at the home of her parents — Mr. and Mrs. Mike Pietron and Julie Tobel.

Mr. and Mrs. William S. Brewer are proud parents of a new baby boy, William Paul Brewer. He weighed seven pounds 12 ounces and was born at St. Joseph Hospital in Pontiac. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Valentine Rodowski of Walled Lake and Mr. and Mrs. Steve Brewer.

Mrs. Gayle Watson Funk was the honored guest at a baby shower on Sunday, given by Mrs. Doug Watson, Jr. of Milford.

Leon Dochot has returned from hunting at his home in Beaverton where he was very fortunate in getting a partridge, rabbits and pheasants. He was accompanied by Eugene Choquet, John Pate and Margaret Caswell.

Novi Senior Citizens

Thirty-one senior citizens have returned from a tour of the Dow Chemical Complex and Dow Gardens followed by a delicious luncheon. They report this one of the most educational and scientific tours they have been on and are looking forward to a repeat trip next year. The next outing will be November 14 at 10 a.m. to Franklin Village for a tour followed by a lunch at the Elks Club. Anyone wishing more information can call 349-0288.

At the last meeting Anna Ortwin won the silver dollar. The Sunshine Committee reported sending cards to Anita Starke, Peg Wilcox and Helen Lamp. The nominating committee prepared the following slate: President Leonard Butler, Vice-presidents Al Weiss and Wally Cheaney, secretary Florence Bachtle and treasurer Madeline Butler. The election will be held November 22 and nominations may be made from the floor. The next covered dish luncheon will be November 9 at the Novi Methodist Church and hostesses will be Mrs. Emilie Newhouser and Jesse Mawdsley.

Welcome Wagon

Novi Girl Scouts

The Orchard Hills School now has all their troops organized and have started meeting. There are three Brownie troops with the following leaders: Kathy Paulson, Mrs. Harma, Sharon Leper and Karen DeWackter, Betty Davies and Eileen Kidd. The Junior troop leaders are Caroline Ziegler and Roxanne Walega. All troops in the Novi area are asked to get the name of their calendar chairman and the count of calendars wanted to Mrs. Pat Grey at 349-7157 as soon as possible. The calendars will be coming in soon with the actual sale starting on November 12. Anyone wishing one of these very colorful and helpful calendars can call Mrs. Grey at the above number.

Novi Library

At present some 15 lucky four year olds are treated every Friday afternoon to a story hour at the Novi Library. The time is under the direction of Mrs. Georgine Sugden of Village Oaks and the youngsters are not only having story reading time but are doing pantomimes, finger plays, etc. The library has already established a waiting list for the next program that will be starting after the first of the year. Call 349-0720 for more information. The library hours are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday and Tuesday, 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Friday, and 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday.

North Novi Civic Association

This fast-growing association reports a very good turnout at their last meeting with many of the candidates for council election being present for questions and answers. They plan their next meeting for November 15 at 8 p.m. at the Novi Community Building. At this time, there will be a representative from the Watkins Disposal Company at the meeting to discuss renewing the contract. You are invited to attend if you live north of Twelve Mile Road. For more information call new president Mary Kotrych at 624-4663.

NESPO

All parents of children in the Novi Woods school system are urged to start attending these meetings. At the meeting on November 8, a display will be available regarding safe and educational toys and how to identify them. The sweatshirt sale will be planned. November 16th is the date set for the next roller skating family night at the Lakeview Roller Rink in Brighton.

Classes are having a contest vying to see who can bring in the most Campbell Soup and Franco-American labels. These will be used to obtain new audiovisuals for the school.

Novi Lions

The next regular meeting will be November 9 at the Holiday Inn at 6:30 p.m. Final plans will be made for the Ladies Night scheduled for November 16 at Northville Downs under the direction of Gary Bennett, chairman.

Lion member Joe Toth is chairman of the annual Candy Cane Sale and will be kicking things off at the Thanksgiving weekend at the Twelve Oaks Mall. This is the biggest fund raiser the Lions have to aid them in their work. During the past month they have purchased an electric wheelchair for a Novi resident. At the last meeting special guest was Deputy District Governor Paul Nichols from the Royal Oak Club.

Novi Athletic Boosters

A meeting will be held at the new high school November 2 for this club starting at 8 p.m. until 9:30 p.m. Plans are continuing for the sports banquet on November 14 and the Donation Days on December 7. For information on the club or on projects call Mrs. Spielman at 349-0228.

Village Creek Garden Club

Village Creek Garden Club will have their next meeting November 9 at 8 p.m. Sally Hargreaves will be leading those present in a holiday decorations workshop. Anyone who is interested is encouraged to attend the meeting. For information either about the club activities or other information call Pat Lundberg at 349-8450.

Orchard Hills Boosters

A workshop on making pine cone wreaths was held on Thursday last week. A workshop on crocheting will be held November 2 at the Orchard Hills School in the portable units. Come and bring two skeins of yarn and one eye hook, and you will learn how to make a child's scarf.

The date of the bazaar will be November 19 and even though the workshops are going on, every family is expected to turn in at least one item or several small ones. Contact Ginger Gillick at 349-9967 or turn the items into the school. There will be an executive board meeting November 2 at the Orchard Hills library. Everyone is invited to come as it is an open meeting.

Parents Without Partners

Starting the activity calendar for November will be a Scotch Doubles bowling program on November 4 at the Northville Lanes at 9 p.m. There will be a fund raising dance at the Airport Hilton with Plymouth-Canton hosting the dance starting at 9 p.m. on November 5.

On November 6 there will be touch football and a picnic with the Novi-Northville unit playing against the Plymouth-Canton chapter. Everyone is asked to meet at 1 p.m. at Waterford Bend. November 8 will be the general meeting at the Northville Park Haus with dinner at 6:30 p.m. Special speaker will be John VanDerBerg from Associated Counseling Services who will speak on "Behavioral Contracting."

Novi Co-op Nursery

A board meeting was held at the home of Trish Swanson on Thursday evening when final plans were made for the wine tasting party to be held on November 12 at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Farmington at 8 p.m. Tickets are available by calling 478-0536.

Proceeds will be used to make purchases for the Toy Lending Library, which will contain many educational puzzles, toys and tapes. The nursery has some openings for four year olds in both morning and afternoon sessions. The youngsters had a good time over the Halloween season with their very own witch who came visiting both Friday and Monday and allowed the children to paint her face.

Novi Band Boosters

Kickoff date for the Novi Band Boosters citrus fruit sale will be November 10. Orders for delicious oranges, grapefruit and tangelos from the Indian River, Florida area will be available in either cases or half-cases. Band members and band boosters will be taking orders until November 29. Delivery dates will be in time for Christmas gift giving. For additional information call Ella Kepner at 349-5123. A reminder of the next regular meeting of the boosters on November 10. Call Elaine Smith, 349-8155, for information.

WHERE TO FIND HELP IN CRISES
"The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom..." (Psalm 111:10)

A sociology study published in the Journal for the Scientific Study of Religion states that religious people are more apt to help in crises as well as day-to-day situations. It stresses he is more likely to give aid than a non-religious person. We would prefer to say, when in trouble turn to the nearest Christian (born-again) person available for help. The reason is quite simple. He is in touch with God, the treasure of all wisdom and knowledge.

Providence opens health series with program on CPR training

"CPR — The Minutes That Save Lives" will be the subject of the opening program of the 1977-78 community health education series sponsored by the Providence Hospital Family Practice Center.

At the first program, scheduled for Monday, November 7, family practice physicians and paramedics from the Southfield Life Support unit will offer instruction in the proper methods of cardiopulmonary resuscitation, the lifesaving technique which can keep victims of cardiac and respiratory arrest alive until medical help can be obtained.

The lecture series, entitled "Focus on Health," will include seven programs on topics of interest to the general public. The sessions will be held at 7:30 p.m. on Mondays in the hospital's Fisher Center auditorium, 22500 Providence Drive. Because of limited accommodations, free tickets should be obtained in advance by telephoning the Family Practice Center at 424-3441.

The topics for the remainder of the series are:

—December 5, 1977 — "Obesity: The Fat of the Land." Effective weight control measures will be discussed and the matter of liquid protein diets will be explored.

—January 9, 1978 — "Rearing Children, the Most Difficult Assignment." How to be an effective and successful parent.

—February 6, 1978 — "How to Have a Heart Attack." A discussion of the causes and measures which may prevent coronary disease and heart attacks.

—March 6, 1978 — "Are Home Remedies Effective." What traditional remedies and over-the-counter medications can be used to successfully treat minor illnesses.

—April 3, 1978 — "The (High) Cost of Living." How the health care consumer can help reduce the cost of medical care. The series will conclude May 1 with "Are We Conquering Cancer?" The speaker will be Clarence Vaughn, M.D., Ph.D., director of the cancer research and treatment program at Providence.

Community Notes

LWV announces plans for cheese and wine party

Wine, cheese, punch and hors d'oeuvres will be served at the League of Women Voters' of Northville, Plymouth, Canton and Novi annual Wine and Cheese Party on Friday, November 11.

LWV members, local governmental officials, finance advisors, contributors, and legislators will gather at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dumont Hixson, 512 West Dunlap, Northville.

Proceeds from the party held from 8 to 10 p.m. will be applied to LWV projects and the cost will be a minimum donation of $7 per couple.

Reservations can be made by contacting Lois Hoffmeister at 348-1016 or by sending a check payable to the LWV to Annalee Mathes, 835 West Main, Northville, 48167. Those reservations must be made by Wednesday, November 9.

Senators Geake, Cooper and Faust along with Representative Fessler, Brown and Smith and Congressman Carl Pursell have been invited to the affair.

Family Fitness

The Walled Lake Community Education Department has announced its annual Family Fun and Fitness Program. The program will start Sunday, November 6, and run through March 19, 1978.

Cost is $1.50 per family or 50 cents per person. The program is offered at Walled Lake Western High School at 600 Beck Road from 1-3 p.m. every Sunday.

Activities include recreational swimming, basketball, volleyball, gymnastics apparatus, weight lifting, wrestling, badminton, tumbling, and table tennis.

Food Ways

A Nutrition Caravan, a fun fact-filled program designed to help make sense out of today's nutrition nonsense is planned for Thursday, November 3 at St. Mary's Parish Center, Milford.

The free program which is designed to run from 9:30 a.m. until 3 p.m. is made available through the courtesy of the National Bank of Detroit with nutritional materials and program guidance provided by the Dairy Council of Michigan.

Specialists will discuss good nutrition for the family, suggest ways to win at the supermarket game, ways to weigh less and how to read between the lines on food labels.

Games, nutrition prizes and a box lunch are additional bonuses which make the program even more exciting.

Sponsored by the Huron Valley Title I Parent Advisory Group and the Oakland Livingston Human Service Agency reservations are necessary. Contact may be made at 624-5520.

Christmas Bazaar

Hand made candy, baked goods, arts and crafts and needlework perfect for holiday gift giving for both children and adults can be found at the St. Marks Lutheran Church Christmas Bazaar this Saturday.

Beginning at 9 a.m. and running until 3 p.m. the bazaar will be held at the church at 7979 Commerce Road, Union Lake.

Carnival

The annual school carnival featuring games and goodies will be held at Oakley Park Elementary School Saturday, November 5 from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m.

Lunch and bake sale items will be sold throughout the day.

The main fund raiser at the school, proceeds of the carnival are used to bring a variety of programs of interest to the children to the school.

Hats Off

A special barbershop rendition of Rodgers and Hammerstein's music will be presented by the South Oakland County Chapter of Sweet Adelines in two Friday and Saturday weekend performances beginning November 11.

The show, "Hats Off to Oklahoma!" will be held at Our Lady of Mercy High School auditorium, 11 Mile Road at Middlebelt in Farmington Hills.

Each production will feature the S.O.C. Chapter chorus, other Sweet Adelines and Detroit Barbershop singers. Ticket donations are $4.50 each and are available by calling 398-2629.

Proceeds of the four shows will be given to the Oakland County Easter Seals Society.

Road Rally

Time is short to make reservations for the Lakes Area Lifespan Benefit Committee road rally scheduled for Saturday, November 5 at 7 p.m.

Tickets for the rally are priced at $6 each and include dinner at the end of the rally.

Further information and tickets are available by calling John Riley at 363-5030 or Kathe Caldwell at 624-9843.

Gospel Singers

The Bethel Baptist Church on Crumb Road, Walled Lake will host the Detroit Bible College gospel singers at the 10 a.m. Sunday School classes and again at the 11 a.m. worship services Sunday, November 6.

Speaking at the morning service will be Reverend Ian Leslie, an instructor at the college. Following the service, a pot luck dinner will be served in the fellowship hall.

The community is cordially invited to the services.

Card Party

The Mother's Committee of the Commerce DeMolay will hold a card party on Friday, November 11, beginning at 8 p.m.

The public is welcome to attend the card party with tickets priced at $1 each. Refreshments will be served with small table prizes and a door prize awarded.

The party will be held at the Commerce Masonic Temple on Broadway in Old Commerce Village.

The DeMolay is open to any boy from 13 to 21 with no Masonic affiliation necessary to belong. Further information on the DeMolay is available by contacting the dad advisor, Jim Wilson at 682-6667.

Church Bazaar

Eighteen seek three Novi council posts

Eighteen individuals filed petitions to run for the Novi City Council. Three individuals — Gregory Synowiec, Vivian Vowell, and Philip Manning — have announced that they have dropped from the race. Charles Bickes announced after suffering a heart attack last week that he is no longer a candidate. Bickes announced Monday, however, that he has reconsidered and is again an active candidate. Candidates were asked to submit a 200-word position statement. Eugene Yzquierdo, Thomas Sumiec, Synowiec, Vowell, and Manning did not respond to the request. Sumiec, however, submitted biographical information.

Doug Anglin

L. Douglas Anglin, 27, is employed with the Jack B. Anglin Company, a Novi-based excavating firm.

He holds an Associates Degree from Schoolcraft College.

He is a member of the Novi Chamber of Commerce and the Novi First Baptist Church.

Single, he plans to marry Suzanne Wharry in December.

He resides at 42750 Grand River Avenue.

I am in favor of progress, but with the very best of planning available.

There is spiraling development taking place in our community. Our news schools, the Twelve Oaks Mall, new housing development and our open country side has confirmed our continued growth. If we learn to manage this situation constructively, I feel sure we can shape our rural into a distinctive community, well planned and governed.

This growth is the factor behind the need for upgrading our roads and streets, extending utilities to meet the demand for housing and industry and adequately keeping our police and fire departments operating at full capacity, updating according to our needs.

I also believe we should concern ourselves with a program to assist the younger members of our community. Education is a very important factor in our children's lives, but recreation and organized competition as well as part-time employment plays a key role in the younger generation. We need to strive for a working program to assist them in any way possible.

I feel my eight years of experience and knowledge in the construction business will help further the development of our community.

Hence, if elected to the city council, I will strive to be an interpreter for the people, to be involved, informed, and on the job.

Charles Bickes

Charles W. Bickes, Jr., is a Certified Public Accountant in private practice in Novi.

He is a 1951 graduate of the University of Detroit.

He has been in public accounting for 27 years. He worked 15 years as an outside auditor for federal, state, and local governmental agencies. He has also worked as a consultant to city managers, finance directors, the Michigan Highway Department, mayors, and city councils.

He and his wife, Helen, have 11 children. They reside at 22617 Shadow Pine Way.

The future growth and development of Novi must be a well thought out concept, giving the utmost consideration to proper balance of residential, multi-purpose dwellings and industrial centers. The theory is to have a solid tax base in order that one particular area is not burdened by more property taxes than others. A permanent fire department should be a major consideration.

I know the duties of the mayor and council are numerous, but basically they are to legislate, appropriate revenues, control expenditures, and provide for the needs of the city. They should establish a good working relationship with the city's appointed officials and employees, as this lends itself to an efficient governmental unit. They should be held accountable to the citizens of Novi and be available to listen and be the voice of their constituency.

In the areas of consulting with various cities and agencies, this gave me direct exposure to finance, budgeting, five-year projections, procedures and systems, and accumulation of statistical data for court cases. This background has given valuable experience in being able to better cope with the numerous problems that confront the city council daily.

Charles Bietler

Charles E. Bietler, 30, is a Certified Public Accountant with Gerald C. Schroeder and Company in Southfield.

He has an Associate Degree from Henry Ford College and a Bachelor of Business Administration Degree in Accounting.

Club memberships include the Novi Jaycees and the Bassmasters' Association of Michigan Conservation Club. He is also a member of the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants and the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. He and his wife, Michele, reside with a daughter at 42042 Ridge Road.

The following statement summarizes my opinions about the campaign issues and why I feel my election to the city council would benefit Novi.

A. Civic Center Complex: The city needs a new police station, since the existing facility does not meet current federal standards to house prisoners. If the city does not purchase the property at this time, future costs may be prohibitive.

B. Library Building Completion: Having the municipal offices spread throughout the city is economically inefficient. Considering the rising building costs, completing the library at this time is good future-oriented economic policy.

C. Parks and Recreation: The city's recreational facilities are inadequate. There is a need to improve present parks and purchase property at a reasonable price for future development.

Novi is a growing community and to help it to continue growing in a responsible fashion it needs a city government of concerned and qualified people. I believe that I possess the necessary qualifications for a city councilman.

My professional accounting background and auditing experiences in city government as well as about both and federal and state grant programs would be a definite advantage for our city.

If elected, I would make every effort to carry out my council responsibilities in an ethical and concerned manner. It is my belief that government exists for the benefit of the citizens and I believe I can help make that happen in Novi.

Romaine Roethel heads Novi mayoral contest

Two individuals — Romaine Roethel and Vincent Edwards — filed positions to run for the office of mayor in Novi. Shortly after filing deadline, Edwards announced that he is moving to Ohio and is no longer a candidate for mayor. His name will appear on the ballot, however. Candidates for mayor were asked to submit a 300-word position statement. Edwards did not respond.

Romaine Roethel is a wife and a mother.

She is a high school graduate and attended business school.

She has served on the Novi City Council for the past four years and presently serves as mayor pro tem.

She is a member of the League of Women Voters, Village Oaks Home-owners Association, and the Village Oaks Common Areas Association. She is parliamentarian of the Novi Business and Professional Women's Club.

She is also national constitution and bylaws chairman of the American Legion Auxiliary and Boys State Chairman for American Legion Novi Post 19.

She is a member of the Urban Affairs Committee of the Michigan Municipal League, a Michigan Municipal League delegate, a member of the Council on Regional Development, a city delegate to Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG), and the city's representative to the National League of Cities.

She is a member of the Church of Holy Family in Novi.

She and her husband, John, reside at 22451 Brook Forest. They have four children.

The position of mayor in the City of Novi, under a council-manager form of government, is basically ceremonial. The mayor has but one vote, the same as each member of council, with no veto power. However, experience and leadership qualities can do much to lend a very cohesive effect on that body as well as on the citizens and employees of the city. Having served 4½ years as councilwoman, I feel I can offer the experience needed. The leadership qualities have been developed over 30 years of volunteer service in both administrative and executive positions held in the American Legion Auxiliary.

Over the past 4½ years, I have taken what I consider a balanced position in regard to zonings in Novi. We are not, nor can we ever be, considered a bedroom community. Our proximity to the expressways, railway bisecting the city, and a regional shopping center all have a deciding effect on our growth pattern. Continued review and input in the planning process is a must. This, in my opinion, is one of the most important responsibilities facing this city today.

The ballot issues before the voters deserve some discussion, also. Each issue was placed on the ballot because the council, as a whole, knows the desperate need for the purchase of land for a police facility, the need for recreational land acquisition as well as the development of the land already zoned and the expansion of facilities for the employees in Novi. One only needs to visit city hall, the police station, either of our two fire stations, the building department, or any of our many facilities to know that employees are piled one on top of the other. These types of situations fail to encourage efficiency.

Please give serious consideration to the issues and the candidates as you go the polls on November 8.

We endorse the following propositions as recommended by the Novi Citizen Needs and Priority Assessment Committee:

2. Library Building Completion Bonding Proposition

3. Parks & Recreation Proposition

Chamber of Commerce.
He has served as a trustee of the Novi Methodist Church.

I believe that the city is meant to serve its residents, not the residents serve the city. Also, the first obligation of the city is to its residents, and not to some outside interest.

I firmly hold that government is obliged to furnish the service that people want and are willing to pay for. Officials should not decide what the people must have.

I recognize zoning as a tool for orderly growth, not a weapon to stifle development.

Through my many years in business and in government, I have often shown that most problems can be solved on a person-to-person basis, rather than by some high-handed decree. Cooperation and respect build cities, not petty politics.

Louie Campbell

Louie C. Campbell, 45, is a salesman with Michigan Gas Products of Ferndale.

He holds a BS Degree in Civil Engineering from the University of Wyoming.

He was a member of the Novi City Council from 1969 to 1975. He was defeated by Gilbert Henderson in the 1975 mayoral race in Novi.

He is a member of St. Paul's Catholic Church.

He and his wife, Eileen, reside with three daughters at 24121 Lynwood.

Having served as a city councilman for 6½ years, I have the experience and knowledge of city government that I feel is needed during this explosive growth rate that we are now experiencing.

In the City of Novi, we have many problems to solve such as police protection, improved fire protection, road improvements, continued water and sewer programs, city-wide storm system, and zoning, schools and city government working together for the mutual benefit of the citizens at large. If I am successful, I shall strive to solve these problems.

David E. Collins, 30, is employed in the field of pharmaceutical sales.

He holds a BS Degree from Western Michigan University and has done graduate work in public administration and business administration.

Besides the election of three council representatives and a mayor, Novi voters do have six city proposals on the ballot. Though some people may not be interested in the "political" aspects of choosing representatives, they should take an interest in these important proposals. The Needs and Priority Assessment Committee has well researched the issues before us.

The first three propositions do increase the millage assessment. Comments that this is the best time for action because it will never be as inexpensive again, are true. The consideration should also include that these are purposeful and reasonable requests by, and for, the city. The new charter maintains the low operating tax base and can increase department manageability.

The decision, of course, is the citizens. The city has placed the propositions on the ballot for just that purpose. Do give thought to both sides of the issues, and also consider alternatives.

Whatever your decision and whatever your feelings for the candidates or propositions, please consider others, and vote on November 8.

Gary Gustafson

Gary R. Gustafson, 31, is employed as an accountant with the Ford Motor Company in Detroit.

He holds a BA Degree from Michigan State University.

He is a member of the Village Oaks Common Areas Association.

He and his wife Karen, reside with a son and a daughter at 40476 Village Wood Drive.

Throughout the campaign, the main issue that seems to be on the minds of both the voters and candidates alike is that of growth in Novi. I feel it is on this issue that the next council will be judged.

My feelings, as I have previously stated, are that we should maintain a high quality environment in Novi, based first and foremost on the needs of the people who live here.

We must have strict zoning and building codes and they must be rigidly enforced. Residential growth must be such that new neighborhoods will not detract from existing ones. Business growth is also important but like residential growth, it must be carefully thought out and planned.

I also feel that a councilman should provide leadership in the development of a positive community spirit and identity. If elected, I pledge my efforts towards these ends.

Pat Karevich

Pat Karevich, 34, is a wife and a mother.

She attended Central Michigan University.

She was elected to the Novi City Council in 1975 and is now seeking reelection. She presently serves on the Community Block Grant Committee and is an alternate on the Regional Fire Planning Committee.

She and her husband, Leonard, have three children. They reside at 25904 Clark Street.

I have served the people of Novi as a city councilman since 1975 and am willing to continue to serve Novi and its people during the next four years. The knowledge and experience I have gained as a councilman will assist me toward effective and realistic solutions to the problems facing our growing community.

The major problem facing Novi during the next several years is growth—commercial and residential growth stimulated by 12 Oaks Mall. This development will seriously affect the quality of life here in Novi as well as place excessive burdens upon city resources and impair the city's financial stability if not carefully and thoroughly regulated by our elected representatives on the Novi City Council.

As the initial step towards effective community planning, I propose the establishment of a separate Planning Board and a Zoning Board. This step is necessary to insure these prime elements of community planning are given full consideration. As a councilman, I will strive to interject the concerns, needs and rights of the residents into this process. I will continue to be available to all residents and I will devote the time and effort necessary to get the job done and done right.

Carol Merriman

Carol Ann Merriman, 43, is a wife and a mother.

She is a high school graduate and attended LaSalle University.

She is a member of the St. Williams Church.

She is a member of the Lady Lion's Club, Main Comber, and the North End Civic Association. She was co-chairman of Lions' Gala Day and is a past president of the PTA. She has been active in the American Cancer Society, chaired the Huron Health Committee and has been a Brownie Leader, a Girl Scout Leader, and a Cadet Leader.

She and her husband, Wayne, have two daughters and two granddaughters. They reside at 608 South Lake Drive.

I would like to discuss the growth, potential, and future of the City of Novi. My husband works for the building department, he brings home material for me to research.

As of September 30, 1977, there are 141 buildings under construction in the City of Novi: 58 mall stores, five industrials, eight commercials, 63 mobile homes, one apartment house of 16 units, and 22 condominiums of 96 units. So, as you can tell, Novi is a growing community.

To me, the council and the mayor should have a working and guiding relationship. The council should be the voice of the people and should work in conjunction with city officials in the best interest of the City of Novi.

Kathleen Roman

Kathleen Roman, 30, is a wife, a mother, and a student.

She is a senior in the pre-law curriculum at Eastern Michigan University.

She is a parent coordinator of the Bucket Brigade at Village Oaks School; a VOICE board member at Village Oaks School; a member of the American Rose Society; and a member of the Schoolcraft Symphonic Choir.

She and her husband, Ronald, reside with two children at 40472 Franklin Mill Road.

My basic concerns in this election consist of the following:

1. A watchful eye on the expenditure of tax dollars, based on community needs and priorities.
 2. Judicious guidance of community growth through far-sighted (and pain-staking) zoning.
 3. Coordination of county-city services to eliminate duplication and to emphasize county responsibility.
 4. Continuing search for "no-strings" federal, state, or county funds to be used for community improvement.
 5. Expansion of parks and recreation services in proportion to community needs.
- The obligations of a city council member are:
1. To be responsive to the needs and wishes of the total community.
 2. To listen to both sides of an issue, fairly, and to do thorough research before reaching a decision.
 3. To be prompt and reliable in regard to city council attendance to meet deadlines on time and to cheerfully fulfill other commitments which may be made by council.
 4. To be answerable to the taxpayers of Novi.
 5. To act as a cordial and helpful liaison between the community and city employees and officials.

He has a BA in Accounting from Michigan State University and an MBA in the Advanced Management Program, also from Michigan State University.

He is chairman of the Novi Citizens Finance Committee. He is the incorporator, director, or officer of the Novi Community Band, VOCAA, Village Oaks Homeowners Association, and the Novi Foundation for the Performing Arts. He also served on the Needs Assessment Committee for Novi Schools.

He was twice nominated for the Novi Jaycees' Distinguished Citizen Award. He is a member of the Northville Presbyterian Church.

He is a member of the Society of Mayflower Descendants, sons of the American Revolution, Sons of Confederate Veterans, The Hereditary Order of Armigerous Augustans, the Augustan Society, Inc., and the Missouri Historical Society.

He and his wife, Carol, reside at 22638 Chestnut Tree Way. They have two children.

I can give Novi a positive plan of action — not merely generalities and platitudes.

I will:

1. Handle Novi's financing on citizen "need" rather than on a bureaucratic "want" basis. I recognize fully the heavy federal, state, and local tax burden residents are now asked to bear and will not unnecessarily add to that burden.
2. Follow a consistent zoning policy favoring residents, not commerce and industry. I am more concerned with the negative effect a zoning change may have on the living environment of residents than in increasing the city's tax base.

3. Foster improvement in the council's handling of routine matters so that the council will be an efficient and effective legislative body.

4. Initiate a program aimed at improving Novi's Building Department, particularly in upgrading the city's building code.

5. Promote a reestablishment of the Novi Police Department Traffic Bureau at the earliest possible date.

6. Develop an effective program of protecting and improving the quality of Novi's lakes, especially from increased sedimentation.

Thomas Sumiec

Thomas E. Sumiec is a realtor associate with Rymal Symes Company.

He is a high school graduate and is presently working on his RAMS Certificate at the University of Michigan.

He is a member of the Novi Jaycees and currently serves as treasurer of that organization. He chaired the Novi Jaycees' community auction to raise money for the American Cancer Society. He is also a member of the civic and legislative committee for the Western Wayne County Board of Realtors.

He and his wife, D'Anna, have three children. They reside at 22525 Heatherbrae.

Ronald A. Watson, 30, is a self-employed attorney in Northville.

He graduated from North Farmington High School in 1965, has a BA Degree from Michigan State University (1969) and a Juris Doctorate Degree from Wayne State Law School (1972).

He is a member of the Novi United Methodist Church. He is vice-president of the Country Place Homeowners Association.

He is a member of the State Bar of Michigan and the American Bar Association.

He and his wife, Donna, reside with a daughter at 41783 Onaway Drive.

At this crucial time in our development, the inevitable growth of the city must be directed in a responsible manner for the good of the people of the community. We must avoid the temptation which has befallen other cities who have been in our position, of growing for growth's sake alone. Certain aspects of the character of Novi, such as the natural open areas, would be preserved at all costs. Using the example of similar communities, we must responsibly choose from the many directions our city might take, the one which enables Novi to continue to be a good place for people to live.

The primary responsibility for a councilperson is to be constantly attentive to the wants and needs of the community. Councilpersons must be capable of listening calmly and rationally, and capable of analyzing impartially all sides of issues. After firmly supporting resolutions which most benefit the community, councilpersons must work harmoniously together and with city employees to effectuate them.

The individual councilmember, by speaking out emphatically and often on behalf of what he perceives to be the best future interests of the community, can engender a consciousness in the entire council to have foresight and concern for responsible development.

After leaving Haskins and Sells, he joined his present employer, National Sales Engineering Corporation. Currently, he is treasurer of National Sales Engineering Corporation and Johnson-Schultz Machinery Sales, Inc. He also manages the office operation at National Sales Engineering Corporation.

Previous experience with the City of Novi includes: chairman of the Needs and Priority Assessment Committee, a member of the Police Building architectural Review Committee, and a member of the Concerned Citizens of Novi — Ballot Proposal Committee.

He is a member of the Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church. Club memberships include the Catholic Infant Society of Oakland County, Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants, and the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

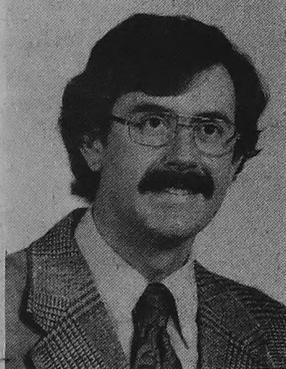

He is a veteran of the Vietnam War. He and his wife Carolyn, reside with their three children at 21865 Bedford Drive.

As chairman of the Needs and Priority Assessment Committee, I was able to get a good insight into the needs of the city and the feelings of the people. I support the three millage proposals as being a sound and reasonable means for the city operations to expand services to the citizens.

Zoning was the first thing that awakened my interest in city government. Novi is in an expanding growth period where numerous requests for zoning changes are being made. The city has a master zoning plan that was developed through careful consideration and I do not believe in any change to that plan that would destroy the residential character of our community. No change that is not good for both the residents and the community should be considered.

With a growing city came the problem of an adequate storm drainage system. The current environmental laws make water retention a big problem. The next few years are going to be crucial in the development of an adequate system that is environmentally sound. We have had several problems that demonstrate the need for adequate planning and development of a master storm drainage system.

State eases requirement for TB tests

State Representative Richard Fessler reports that school employees will no longer have to be examined annually for tuberculosis.

The regulation previously requiring the annual exams has been revised to now require an examination every three years. Under the new revision, a MDPH form is required. These are being printed and will be distributed in six to eight weeks.

Fessler offered a Concurrent Resolution (381) on September 19, requesting the State Department of Public Health to promulgate new rules pursuant to Act 290 of the Public Acts of 1966. Under the authority of Act 290 of the Public Acts of 1966, the State Department of Health requires some persons engaged in certain occupations to submit to yearly chest x-rays.

According to Fessler, inasmuch as the mandatory yearly x-rays have not detected a substantial number of active cases of tuberculosis and since medical science recommends that unproductive exposure to all ionizing radiation be minimized, a reasonable balance between the need to protect persons from exposure to tuberculosis and the need to minimize exposure to ionizing radiation was necessary.

School employees who were examined this year will not need another examination for three years. However, they will need to have one of the new forms filled out based on this year's examination.

Any examinations prior to this year will not be considered valid for the purposes of this new regulation.

Roberts steps down as mayor

Hill-LaMarca, Scott campaigning to head Walled Lake City Council

Three candidates for mayor — John Moran Hill, Gaspare La Marca, and James G. Scott — were asked to submit a 300-word position statement. James G. Scott did not respond to the request.

John Hill

John Moran Hill, 66, is a parish priest (priest-in-charge) at St. Hilda's in River Rouge. He is also a chaplain at both Children's Hospital of Michigan and the Detroit Medical Center and an adjunct professor at the Wayne State Medical School.

He has a BA degree from McGill University, a S.Th. from St. Chad's Theological Seminary, and a Doctorate of Divinity from Burton Theological Seminary. He has also had clinical and graduate studies in family and marital counseling and terminal illness counseling.

He worked with the Juvenile Court in Canada and was also a chaplain with the Royal Canadian Air Force.

He previously served on the Walled Lake City Council and as an advisor on youth to the council in Lincoln Park.

He was a Boys Clubs of Canada organizer and a Boy Scouts of Canada Commissioner. He has also served on Community Services in Detroit, the Greater Detroit Council on Alcoholism and Substance Abuse, and was police department chaplain in Lincoln Park.

He is also a cancer foundation counselor.

He is a past president of the Lions' Club, a 32nd Degree Mason, and is a member of the Ministerial Association.

He is a member of the College of Chaplains, the American Hospital Association, the Association of Clinical Pastoral Education, and the Council for Continuing Education for Health Care Professionals at Wayne State University.

He and his wife, Isabell, have two children. They reside at 1143 Sigma.

I believe that the business and industrial community has been silent too long and that the time has come for them to be given an opportunity to give input to the City of Walled Lake. They are an integral part of the community. What people fail to realize is that they pay a majority of the taxes, and yet, seem to have no say. I will listen if elected mayor.

There are three areas of deep concern to the citizens of Walled Lake, namely, roads, water and sewer. The following is my position on these:

Roads: At the present time, there is some road improvement being made on Maple and Decker Roads, and this will help to relieve the traffic burden. However, there has to be an in-depth research made to facilitate the traffic that will ensue in the next five years, as growth is inevitable, and with the new shopping mall, the citizens of Walled Lake will have to have a better means of entering and exiting from the city. To this end, I pledge myself.

Super Sewer: With regard to Super Sewer, I agree with the present council in entering into an initial program of research. However, with the knowledge that I have acquired about Detroit and the surrounding district that it serves and the increase that has been imposed upon them, I have some doubt as to the validity of entering into a Super Sewer System. Should it be proven cheaper, after phase one and two have been thoroughly investigated, and it also is proven that our service would be inadequate and more costly, then, I with the citizens' welfare at heart would make my recommendation to become part of it.

Water: Water is a necessary commodity and there is an abundance in the ground, but our present facility is inadequate to supply the demand. Originally this was intended to be a money-making venture, but in this area it has failed. However, with improved equipment (pumps and de-ironizer) this ambition could be fulfilled. To do this, as mayor, I would endeavor to involve the surrounding industry financially, along with the city, in making this a feasible project and thereby reducing the cost to the citizen of Walled Lake.

Gaspare LaMarca

Gaspare La Marca, 60, operates a television repair business.

He is a high school graduate and has an electronics degree from Trade School RTS.

He was a member of the Board of Appeals from September 1972 to November 1973, a member of the Planning Commission from July 1971 to November 1973, and served as chairman of the Planning Commission from February to November 1973.

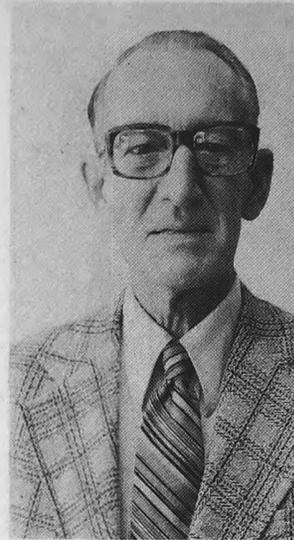

He has been a city councilman since 1973.

He is on the board of directors of the Walled Lake Rotary Club.

He and his wife, Jean, have four children. They reside at 200 Hillcroft.

If I am elected mayor of the City of Walled Lake, my efforts will be directed to the following:

First, improve our communication system with the citizens of Walled Lake to win their help, respect, and understanding of all city problems; to create an open and honest policy; to see that all complaints be solved quickly and justly for all.

Second, to complete all plans that are now in the works, such as widening of Maple Road and paving of Decker Road (I have spent three years with the council to get these and other projects through). Also, safe pathways for our citizens to walk and bicycle in safety.

Third, to involve all of the citizens in the beautification of our city, including the planting of trees on both sides of our main roads.

Fourth, to encourage a study policy of action on our water and sewer systems which will need improvement in the near future.

Fifth, to put forth all effort to solve the Greenaway Drain pollution problem. This would help create cooperation and understanding with our neighboring communities.

Sixth, to form a citizens' committee to study and bring our City Charter up to date.

Seventh, to establish a Senior Citizens Commission and a Youth Commission. Both of these segments of our population's needs must be solved.

Eighth, to encourage our city to work closely with our churches, community service clubs, businesses, and industrial leaders in the involvement of their problems and events in Walled Lake.

In this manner, the health, welfare, and safety of all of us will be improved.

Five candidates vie for three city council openings

The five candidates for council were asked to submit a 200-word position statement. Walter Lewandowski and Al Netchey did not respond to the request.

Thomas Brookover

Thomas W. Brookover, 33, is a senior attorney with the Bendix Corporation in Southfield.

He has a BA from Yale University and a Juris Doctorate from the University of Michigan.

He served as a Peace Corps Volunteer in Nepal from 1966-68.

From 1971-74 he practiced law with Shearman and Sterling, a Wall Street law firm in New York.

He is a member of Peoples Church in East Lansing. He is also a member of the State Bar of Michigan and the American Bar Association.

He and his wife, Cicely, reside at 45400 Pontiac Trail.

Whether we like it or not, growth and change are coming to Walled Lake. We cannot stop them, but with imagination and foresight in our planning we can benefit from them. We must work to keep existing and attract new business, while maintaining an attractive city. We must take further steps to improve the traffic situation, and encourage people who now just pass through Walled Lake to stop and shop.

High taxes are a problem, and we know costs will continue to rise. We can seek ways to operate more economically, but an increased tax base is an important long-range goal. Encouraging new business and industry to develop the property zoned for that purpose will result in increased revenues and ease the tax burden on the homeowner.

Communication is vital in planning for the future. We must improve the exchange of ideas among the council, the residents, and the businessmen of the city. As a small city, we must also foster better communications with neighboring communities. I pledge to seek out and listen to the views of all the people in the city, and, whether or not elected, I challenge other members of the council to do the same. I invite all citizens to share their ideas and visions with me, so we can work together toward a better future.

Dorothy Dingman

Dorothy Dingman, 34, is a wife and a mother.

She attended Michigan State University.

She is head coordinator of the Lakes Area Food Co-op; secretary of the Lakes Area Transportation Commission, and has been a member of the Walled Lake Area Jaycettes for 12 years. She is a past president of the Jaycettes and currently serves as treasurer of that organization.

She is also a PTA member, a volunteer at Pontiac State Hospital, and a member of the POW Committee of Michigan. She has served as chairman of the Toys for Tots Christmas program for the past four years.

She is a member of the Commerce United Methodist Church.

She and her husband, C. Dale, reside with two daughters at 1432 Oakshade.

Lower taxes through increasing business properties. These businesses would then take over the burden of the taxes from the individual home owners.

No Super Sewer. Our sewer system at the present time to superior to that of Super Sewer. Also, we still have the right to regulate the price. If we went with Super Sewer, we would be dependent on Wayne County's determination of the cost.

More federal and state aid. We need to utilize the funds available through the county, state, and federal governments to improve on our water system, roads, and help with our drainage problems.

Better public transportation. We now have a split Dial-a-Ride and Fixed Route System. We need a Dial-a-Ride for our area with more than one bus.

Voter Participation. We need to know more about the major issues that come before the council. Major legislation should be put to a vote of the people first.

William Staman

William Staman, 71, is a semi-retired registered pharmacist.

He is a graduate of Plymouth High School and the Detroit College of Pharmacy.

He has been involved with municipal government in one form or another since Walled Lake was incorporated in 1954.

He served seven years on the Board of Review, six years on the city council, seven years on the Parks and Recreation Commission, and one year on the building authority.

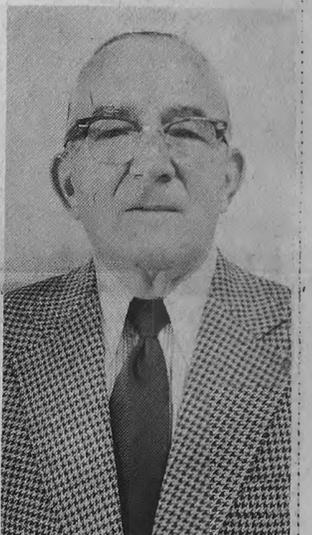

He is a life-long member of St. Matthew's Lutheran Church in Walled Lake. He is also a member of the Walled Lake Rotary Club and has served as chairman of Crippled Children, a department under community service.

He and his, Anna June, reside at 634 Pontiac Trail.

This background should prove to the interest I have in city government and working to improve conditions and the public welfare, promoting future growth and better living conditions.

Mel Green, Lillian Spencer vie for Wixom's mayoral position

The two candidates for mayor of Wixom were asked to submit a 300-word position statement. Both candidates - Melvin Green and Lillian Spencer - responded to the request.

Melvin A. Green, 43, is employed by the Western Electric Company in Southfield.

He has a BA from Albion College and an MBA from Michigan State University.

He is a member of the Wixom city council.

He is a member of the Crossroads Presbyterian Church.

install a telephone line specifically for incoming calls from citizens and no other city business would be allowed on this line. Each call would be logged and weekly reports would come to me showing disposition of each inquiry.

3. Interdepartmental communication: I would institute regular department head staff meetings to promote a free exchange of information and improve communication flow.

4. I would strive very hard to keep budget increases proportional to the increase in our tax base as the city develops, thus maintaining a constant operating millage.

5. I would solicit citizen input by offering to be available at homeowners' association meetings, if invited.

I consider Lillian Spencer to be a close personal friend and plan to continue this relationship after the election. I would simply invite the citizens of Wixom to carefully consider all of our qualifications and cast their vote for the person they feel is most qualified to run the city.

Should I be so fortunate as to become elected mayor of Wixom my goal would be to manage city affairs as effectively as Mayor VanGieson. I do see some areas, however, which I would seek to improve upon:

1. Planning: Planning in the City of Wixom has historically been weak. We have now arrived at the point where this can no longer be tolerated. A prioritized five-year capital expenditures plan, reviewed and updated annually, is a must and would receive my top priority.

2. Response to citizen inquiries: I wonder if we are doing an effective job in follow-up of questions and complaints from our citizens. I would like to

NOTICE OF REGULAR ELECTION

TO THE QUALIFIED ELECTORS OF THE CITY OF NOVI:

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that at the Regular Election to be held in the City of Novi, County of Oakland, Michigan, on the 8th day of November, 1977, from 7:00 o'clock a.m. to 8:00 o'clock p.m., there will be submitted to vote of the qualified electors of said City the following propositions:

Library Building Completion Bonding Proposition
Shall the City of Novi, County of Oakland, Michigan borrow the principal sum of not to exceed Three Hundred Thirty-Five Thousand Dollars ($335,000) and issue its general obligation unlimited tax bonds therefor, for the purpose of paying the cost of completing the construction, furnishing and equipping of an addition to the Novi Library Building, together with necessary site improvements and all related appurtenances and attachments thereto for use as City administrative offices and future library purposes?

Civic Center Complex Land and Police Building Bonding Proposition Shall the City of Novi, County of Oakland, Michigan, borrow the principal sum of not to exceed Two Million Three Hundred Seventy-Five Thousand Dollars ($2,375,000) and issue its general obligation unlimited tax bonds therefor, for the purpose of paying the cost of acquiring approximately 71 acres of land in the City as a site for a civic center complex and for paying the cost of acquiring, constructing, furnishing and equipping a new police administration building and all necessary appurtenances and attachments thereto, as a first phase of said civic center complex?

Special Assessment Bonding Proposition
Shall the City of Novi, County of Oakland, Michigan, borrow the principal sum of not to exceed Six Hundred Fifty Thousand Dollars ($650,000) and issue its special assessment bonds therefor, payable primarily from the collection of special assessments against benefited properties in Special Assessment Districts nos. 32, 33 and 35 to 40, inclusive in the City and secondarily by the unlimited taxing power of the City of Novi, for the purpose of defraying part of the cost of acquiring and constructing street improvements in said special assessment districts in the City?

Each of the above bonds will be payable in not to exceed thirty (30) annual installments, with interest on the unpaid balance at a rate of not to exceed 8 percent per annum, or such higher rate of interest as may be authorized by law.

THE PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST OF THE SAID GENERAL OBLIGATION BONDS AND IF THE SPECIAL ASSESSMENT COLLECTIONS PROVE INSUFFICIENT, THE PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST ON THE SPECIAL ASSESSMENT BONDS SHALL BE PAYABLE FROM THE GENERAL FUNDS OF THE CITY, AND THE CITY IS REQUIRED BY LAW TO LEVY SUFFICIENT AD VALOREM TAXES, IF NECESSARY, FOR THE PAYMENT THEREOF UPON ALL TAXABLE PROPERTY IN THE CITY WITHOUT LIMITATION AS TO RATE OR AMOUNT.

All qualified and registered electors may vote on the above bonding propositions.

The places of voting will be as follows:
Precinct No. 1 — Fire Station No. 1 — 25850 Novi Road
Precinct No. 2 — Novi Middle School — 25299 Taft Road
Precinct No. 3 — Novi Community Building — 26350 Novi Road

School and Carnegie Institute. She has formerly served on Wixom's Board of Appeals and has been elected to two terms on the Wixom City Council. She presently serves as mayor-pro-tem of the city council.

She is a member of the Wixom Historical Society, Friends of the Library, Goodfellows, and Wixom Social Service Club. She is also an appointed member of the Senior Citizens Commission.

She was named Wixom's outstanding citizen by the Wixom Jaycees in 1976.

She is a member of St. Matthew's Lutheran Church.

She resides at 51225 Pontiac Trail.

I have been interested in the progress of Wixom since 1958. I have served on the Board of Appeals and have been elected to two terms on the city council. I am presently serving as mayor pro-tem.

Wixom must establish priorities, then work toward those goals. The traffic problem will be my number one goal. I would prevail on the county, state, and federal governments to assist the city in finding a solution to alleviate the congestion in the downtown area. The council has appropriated funds to correct the dangerous intersection at Pontiac Trail and Beck Road. We most certainly need a small shopping center, an adequate recreation program for all of our citizens, a study to determine the need for senior citizen housing.

Wixom is a young city and growing rapidly and progress will place many demands upon us. We cannot keep our heads in the sand and ignore the pressures of progress, but progress must be at a price we can afford. I am positive that I can provide strong leadership and manage the city in a business-like manner. I am willing and able to devote my time and efforts to the office of mayor. My experience in business and city government makes me well qualified to be elected the next mayor of Wixom.

During the four years that I have served on the council, my attendance record has been excellent. Due to my opponents' position with Michigan Bell, he is out of the city a great deal of the time and has missed many important council meetings. Wixom needs a mayor who will be able to attend to the daily business of the city.

I would appreciate your support on November 8. Keep Wixom on the move.

ROBERT HOFFMAN

SHIRLEY KUJALA

GUNNAR METTALA

SID RESNER

In Wixom election

Six candidates seek three city council vacancies

The six candidates for the Wixom City Council were asked to submit a 200-word position statement. George Johns did not respond to the request.

Dennis Andrews

Dennis E. Andrews, 38, is a manufacturer's representative and general contractor with the Pecor Corporation in Lathrup Village. He is a member of the Wixom Planning Commission. He and his wife, Jeanne, have one son. They reside at 1902 Hopkins Drive.

I have been a resident of Wixom for eight years; I plan to be here for quite awhile longer. As a member of the City Planning Commission I can see that in the next few years there will be many difficult decisions that will have to be made — I want to be part of making those decisions. There has been some effort and considerable talk by the city in trying to lure a bank onto the Korex property after it is torn down. I feel this would be a serious mistake. I also doubt any bank would be interested in an area where a switching train would leave customers trying to exit the bank trapped in the parking lot. My feeling is, after a portion of the land is used to modify the flow of traffic, the city should plant grass, trees, and shrubs, etc. and put in a monument or fountain. Most small towns in the United States have parks in the center of town — Wixom should, too. This would change the property from an eye sore into an area the citizens can look to with pride, and parks do not generate traffic and congestion.

Robert Hoffman

Robert J. Hoffman, 30, is a vice-president and account executive with Unimart International Ltd. He is an international trade and licensing specialist.

He has a BA in Economics from Oakland University and is working toward an MA in Economics at Wayne State University. He and his wife, Nancy, reside with three children at 2605 Hillcrest.

Long range plans. Use federal funds for business district development to prevent tax increases. Roads, sewers, and parks.

Shirley Kujala

Shirley Bernice Kujala is a wife and a mother.

She is a member of the Detroit Finnish Co-operative Summer Camp Association and past secretary on the board of directors. She is currently vice-president of the Future Planning Committee.

She is affiliated with the Antioch Lutheran Church. She resides with her husband, Allen, at 2035 Euna. They have two children.

The reason I'm seeking a position on the Wixom City Council is my genuine concern for it's future. I do want to be a part of Wixom's growth and plan to expend a great deal of energy toward making this an even better place to live.

Our population has more than doubled in the past few years. We will continue to grow and the citizens of Wixom deserve to have a council that acts responsibly on their behalf to insure and maintain a sound united leadership.

I believe Wixom can maintain it's "small town" image, but keep in step with our surrounding communities. However, one of our biggest problems today is and has been traffic flow within the city. A solution must be sought in the very near future.

The Master Plan calls for a ring road to eliminate the bottleneck of vehicle versus railroad traffic. I would rather see an alternate plan sought. My reasoning being the cost involved in erecting a concrete "four-leaf clover," not to mention the land that would be put to poor use if this is accomplished.

As our city grows, so do the needs of the people. Services such as police, fire, and public works must be expanded to cope with the projected increase in population. An obligation of any elected person is to wisely serve the community and it's people. I will do that.

city of Wixom Charter Commission, and has been a Wixom city councillor for 19 years.

He has also served 19 years on the Wixom Zoning Board of Appeals.

He is a past president of the Hickory Hill Civic Association, a past president of the Wixom Elementary School PTA, and is secretary of the Wixom Goodfellows.

He served 4½ years (1941-1946) in the United States Army. He was a captain in the Corps of Engineers and was Chief Administrative Officer at the Reclassification Center of Allied Force Headquarters in Africa and Italy.

He and his wife, Violet, have two children. They reside at 2752 Loon Lake Road.

I have served on the Wixom Council since we became a Village 19 years ago, and have seen our town grow from a population of 500 people to almost 5,000. That growth came about because all the people the voters of Wixom elected to office during those years worked toward one goal — to make Wixom a better place to live in — for ourselves and for our children.

We were either lucky or wise because most of the decisions we made turned out to be good for Wixom. Our town did become a nice place to live, and others have joined us — over 4,500 of them — to enjoy the atmosphere we originally wanted only for ourselves.

When you have the foresight to plant a young tree in an open field and give it love and care and watch it grow into a beautiful shade tree under which you hope to some day spread your blanket for a picnic — you must also expect someone else will also appreciate the good thing you have done and want to spread his blanket under the same tree. We have a good thing and must be willing share it with others.

I only ask that the good people of Wixom continue to elect people to office — good people — with the foresight to plant another tree in another open field for another people yet to come.

Sid Resner

Sid Resner, 60, was a supervisor in the accounting department of the Ford Motor Company prior to his retirement in 1974.

He is a graduate of the Detroit School System.

He was appointed to the Wixom City Council this past summer. Prior to the appointment he was a member of the Wixom Building Authority and the Wixom Planning Commission.

He is a committee chairman with the Multi-Lakes Conservation Club. He is presently treasurer and a past-president of the Northridge Estates Homeowners Association.

He is a World War II veteran, serving in the Army Air Force from 1940-45. He is a member of the United Methodist Church.

He and his wife, Barbara, reside at 2040 Hopkins Drive. They have two children and two grandchildren.

The growth of Wixom and surrounding communities has made our road situation a requirement for immediate consideration. Beck Road at Pontiac Trail must be straightened with the least amount of delay to correct a dangerous intersection. The extension of Beck Road to Loon Lake Road to service an ever expanding home development area in the northeast section of the city also requires serious consideration.

The Railroad crossing congestion continues to be a major problem without any easy solution, but with the cooperation of Oakland County a more realistic traffic signal control can move a greater volume of north-south traffic and, at the least, be a start in relieving a very irritating situation which also must be minimized by eliminating the practice of the C&O railroad of standing trains blocking not only Wixom Road but West Maple and Beck Roads.

We also need and must encourage participation by the residents in voicing their opinions in the operation of the city. A calendar published monthly for scheduled meetings and their agendas could hopefully provide the incentive for public involvement.
