School Election Set For December 18th

A special election to name a permanent five-member school board for the newly formed Novi community school district will be held December 18.

The election was called last week by a temporary school board appointed for 45 days by the Oakland county school superintendent.

The action followed the recent consolidation of four Novi township school districts — Novi 8, East Novi 2, Putnam, and Durfee — into a new district known as District No. 1, Fractional, Novi and Farmington townships. It will commonly be designated as "Novi community school district."

The five temporary officers appointed last week are: —president, James Mitchell — former president of the Novi 8 school board, and a holder of a degree in education from the University of Michigan; —secretary, Georgia Larson — a Michigan State graduate and a former secretary of the Novi 8 school board.

—treasurer, Kenneth Bernard — former secretary of the East Novi 2 school board.

Petitions for the election may be obtained from Novi school superintendent William Medlyn and must be filed with Mrs. Larson by 4 p.m. November 26.

Medlyn said two terms will be for three years, two for two years, and one for one year. All terms will officially begin next September 1.

At this point of the controversial July 1 of the expiration year, he added.

Voters will cast ballots only for positions on the school board, Medlyn said. The five members will vote among themselves for the particular offices.

The temporary board last week took all duties and responsibilities of the four former districts and signed Medlyn to a new three-year contract as superintendent of the new district.

Sewerage, Planning 'Crucial' for Novi

Upwards of 200 Novi township residents turned out for a meeting Friday night to learn further facts about a proposed race track in the township, but left the meeting after two hours knowing little more than before it started.

Billed in advance as a chance for Novi residents to learn "all the facts" of the controversial track, the meeting fell instead into a discussion of the pros and cons of a township sewerage system.

Backers of the race track, who called the meeting, were admittedly "imprepared" for it. They completed their presentation in less than 15 minutes and were unable to answer a number of questions about the track and its relation to the community.

George Kovacs, one of the track sponsors, said part of the controversy was caused by the fact that the track would be built on a portion of the township sewerage system.

The meeting itself was delayed for almost an hour because a speaker had to leave to attend to a family emergency.

Among the details of the track which did come out was the fact that the track would be built on a portion of the township sewerage system.

Expert Says Township May Lag in Progress

A regional planning expert told a group of Novi township businessmen last week that two steps are essential for the township to keep pace with progress and development in southeastern Michigan.

Paul M. Reid, executive director of the Metropolitan Detroit Regional Planning Commission, said the township must: —get to work on its water and sewerage problems.

—begin planning every aspect of the township's growth and development through a township planning board.

Reid made the statements at a meeting Thursday of the Novi Board of Commerce. Another 150 persons who sat in on the meeting heard his remarks.

"Water and sewerage are essential not only to residential development, but also for industrial growth," Reid said. "Even a plant with only 100 employees must have more than a septic tank system."

With still such returns to come in, Novi had contributed $2,775 or 144 percent of its $4,000 goal. It was the first time Novi had reached the 100 percent mark since the United Fund was started several years ago, and was 100 percent better than its best previous effort.

Township chairman, Wes Cogan again expressed his gratitude to the scores of volunteer workers who made the drive a success.

Speaking of Cogan, Oakland county chairman, Dwyer Sum said, "As a personal acknowledgment to a fine chairman, I can only say that he has done a great deal for the township."

Three other Oakland county townships went over the top this year: Oxford, Commerce and Groveland. West Bloomfield and Addison townships almost reached the top with some contributions to come in.

The United Fund is a give-or-take campaign to aid scores of charitable organizations on the state, county and township level.

Reid said Novi township's possibilities for the future "are not phenomenal" in terms of it being a key center of the state, but added that it definitely should have a place in the development of the metropolitan Detroit area.

He explained that the township would probably turn out to be a residential, since lack of rail facilities might discourage industry to some extent. He stressed again that inadequate water and sewage would discourage industry even more.

On the other hand, he said his forecast could prove wrong if the new Lincoln plant should serve as a magnet for other industry. This would depend a great deal on how well the township plans its future, he said.

Reid estimated that the township's population — now about 7,700 — would grow to 9,000 in 1970 and 10,000 in 1980. It would come mainly as a residential growth from east to west, he said.

Trickey was elected trustee in 1954 and was appointed to fill the township vacancy caused by the death of Russell Woodworth last year.

Race Track Group Reveals Few Details

Improvements that might be necessary by the track? —would the group guarantee it would provide the promised athletic facilities if the track were built?

—has the group ever been told by state or county road authorities that the track would acquire 18 additional miles of roads in the area to handle increased traffic?

—is "Novi Raceways, Inc." officially registered with the Michigan Securities Corporation? (Spokesmen seemed confused on this point. One said it is registered but another said it is not. A member of the audience claimed that the track would be a "novelty" and not a "business" enterprise.)

Children's Pictures At WIL Art Exhibit

An exhibit of pictures done by children the world over sponsored by the Art for World Friendship committee of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, has been on display in the Northville library for the past two weeks.

The committee was established ten years ago to enable children of different lands to become acquainted through exchange of pictures.

Children of any age can draw pictures about their lives, their homes and their friends for distribution in other countries and in turn receive one from someone in their own age in another land.

Because the committee sends art supplies to children who cannot buy them, funds are solicited for this purpose and also for mailing costs.

"Pioneer Girls" Now Organized

The organizational meeting of the Pioneer Girls was held Monday at the First Baptist church of Northville with 26 girls joining. Subsequent meetings will be held each Thursday, beginning November 15, from 8:45 to 9:30 p.m. All girls, grades three through nine are welcome to participate in this program.

The broad aims of Pioneer Girls are to train the girls in good habits of Christian living, to equip them for Christian leadership and service, and to encourage the development of well rounded lives and gracious personalities by the provision of interesting and worthwhile activities for their leisure time. There is an achievement program geared to the needs and interests of every girl, with a system of awarding ranks and badges.

The first organization of Pioneer Girls in 1941, was carried on entirely by volunteers for nearly two years, to answer the demand of girls in a small suburb of Chicago for a Christian program for girls. In the summer of 1943, the first board of directors was formed and the organization was placed on a business basis with a salaried general secretary to direct its affairs. In December of that same year, Pioneer Girls was incorporated under the laws of the state of Illinois. Its growth has been steady.

Champion U-M Tumblers Please Northville Caowd

A small but enthusiastic crowd gathered at the Northville community building last week to watch the national champion University of Michigan gymnasts in an arousing display of skill on the tumbling bars and trampolines.

Edward Gagner, a national champion who will represent Canada in the 1956 Olympics, stole the show with both his gymnastic work and prowess as a juggler and monkeyologist.

Other highlights of the evening was a trampolining finale, complete with one clowning gymnast who bounced and flipped his way around on the spring canvas.

The Northville high school band, directed by Robert Williams, accompanied the gymnasts with suitable music, drum rolls and gymbal clashes.

Reaction to the event was enthusiastic, and hope was expressed that more people would see the gymnasts if they make a return to Northville.

The exhibitions are given by the Wolverine gymnasts to help pay their expenses to the national championship meet at Sarasota, Florida.

A share of the proceeds also went to the Children of the American Revolution, Plymouth Corners Society, to use in helping needy children in mountain and India schools.

Northville City Proceedings
Regular meeting of the Northville City Council was held at City Hall Monday Eve., Nov. 5th, 1956 at 8:00 P.M.
Present: Mayor Claude N. Ely, Councilmen Canterbury, Reed and Stuberoll.
Absent: Councilman Allen.
Minutes of last regular meeting were read and approved.
Bills amounting to $11,519.94 on the General Fund and $1801.10 on the Water Fund were presented, and it was moved by Canterbury, seconded by Reed, that same be allowed and paid. Carried unanimously.
Contract for rental of one additional Shop Vacating Machine was duly approved.
Resolution adopted by the Wayne County Library Board as to the distribution of cost of operation of their library branches throughout the County was discussed, and it was felt that the percentage of the cost of operation of our local library allotted to the City of Northville as compared to that allocated to Northville Township was not equitable, and the matter was held over until the next regular meeting of the Council to give Atty. Ogilvie an opportunity to get the answer to the question as to why the big difference between the City and Township.
Mayor Ely reported on a meeting he had with Mr. Hilz of the Wayne County Road Commission regarding the resolution passed by the Council of Garden City as to the recent flooding conditions which have plagued the metropolitan area of which the City of Northville had received a copy, and it was urged that a similar resolution be adopted by our City Council asking that the Housing and Home Finance Agency of the Federal Government be contacted and asked for assistance in devising federal home finance regulations that will provide for the elimination of flood hazards in this area. Mr. Hilz stated he had seen the resolution, and that it might be well if the City of Northville adopted a similar one.
Mr. Smith, owner of Lot No. 8 of Green Valley Acres, was present to ask the Council whether or not they had decided to acquire some property on the other side of Gerald St. for him in exchange for Lot No. 8 which the City wishes to acquire. Atty. Ogilvie reported that he had talked with Mr. Smith about this matter, but was unable to arrive at any figure as to what the property is worth. The Council is not inclined to agree to acquire property in exchange.
Regarding the Baxter property in Green Valley Acres, Mr. Baxter is willing to sell at $2,000, claiming he has a buyer at that price. Atty. Ogilvie asked if the Council is prepared to set a minimum figure which they are willing to pay for the property. It was decided they were not in a position to set at this time. An informal meeting will be held Monday Eve., Nov. 12th, of the Council as a whole to discuss this matter.
Councilman Reed inquired as to what progress had been made about the division of Northville Township assets, and was informed that the auditor's report has not yet been received, but it was expected that same would be received early this month, when a meeting will be arranged to complete these negotiations.
Letter was read from the Michigan State Health Dept. containing their recommendations on various water sites for the City. Councilman Stuberoll reported regarding a change in parking meter fins and method of collection. The tentative proposal includes a charge of only 50c if paid within 48 hrs., and the new parking tickets will be printed in envelope form which can be deposited in boxes which will be conveniently located in the business district. The fine if not paid within 48 hrs. would be raised to $2.00.
Councilman Canterbury moved that it would be a good idea to publish a summarized version of the minutes of Council proceedings in the Northville Record, seconded by Councilman Reed. Carried unanimously.
Councilman Canterbury brought up the subject of the usage of the Community Bldg. and proposed that a meeting between the City Council and the School Board be arranged to discuss the matter.
Atty. Ogilvie reported on the progress of negotiations regarding the dedication of street leading into Fairbrook Court; he reported that arrangements would be completed in the near future.
No further business appearing, meeting was adjourned at 10:07 P.M.

Christmas Season To Be Heralded By 'Sparkle House'

Christmas glitter will decorate the home of Mrs. Joseph Crump, 4100 9 Mile road, as "Sparkle House" of this year's Holiday House Party.

The annual affair, sponsored by the Our Lady of Victory School's Club, will start Northville's Christmas activities on November 29 from 1 to 5 p.m.

Mrs. Hugh G. Godfrey, named general chairman by Mrs. Lewis W. Alexander, president of the club, has selected the home of Mrs. Andrew A. Berton, 4040 8 Mile road, as "Sparkle House" of this year's Holiday House Party.

For many weeks groups have been making arrangements to make this a most interesting and successful affair than ever before. These groups include Christmas Decorations committee led by Mrs. Richard James, bazaar committee led by Mrs. Eugene A. Kungman, Mrs. Clifford Dunder and Mrs. Herman Hattner, and ticket committee led by Mrs. Frank Bosak.

Since the number of guests is limited, tickets can be secured only by calling Mrs. Frank Bosak at Northville 980-J1.

TAKE A PILL & BE HAPPY

I suppose one would be utterly amazed if they knew how many carloads of pills Americans swallow every day. We have a pill for just about everything. The most recent discovery in pills are called "Happy Pills". When persons are depressed, they take a "Happy Pill" and presto, they feel better right away. One psychiatrist refers to them as "peace of mind" pills. Another speaks more truthfully when he says, "These people are looking for an aspirin of the soul and they think they have found it in the tranquilizing drug. They are mistaken; drugs will never cure their neurosis." If people would only realize that so much of their mental depression, the dependency and frustrated lives is just the fruit of the sin of leaving Christ out of their lives. There can be no real peace to the wicked. One says, "The way of the transgressor is hard." When one's mind and heart is properly adjusted to God through belief and acceptance of the Gospel there will be real peace which will surpass all human ability to understand. Then as the believers mind is stayed on Him, he shall be kept in perfect peace (Isa. 26:3). Receiving Christ as your Saviour will give direction and purpose for living. This is the healing foundation for happiness.

Northville Auto Dealer Aids AMVETS Membership Drive
Gordon Promo, senior vice-commander and membership director, announced this week that the Perry Kenner Post 65, AMVETS, with the cooperation of G. E. Miller Sales and Service of Northville will participate in AMVETS National Membership contest.

A Dodge auto company has given the national AMVETS organization three 1957 automobiles to use in a renewal drive.

All members renewing their dues for 1957 become eligible to win one of the cars December 31. Another car will be given a post whose name is revealed on the same date.

To be eligible the post must renew 75 percent of its 1956 membership by December 31. At this writing the post has renewed some 60 percent for 1957. Some 92 new memberships and renewals have signed up, bringing the membership total to 162.

THANKS, MOM! That's probably what Charles Haynes, winner of last week's football contest, is saying. For while he received the $10 first prize it was the entry of Ruth Haynes that judges declared the winner. "He really made the selections," said Mrs. Haynes. Charles, 13, was the only contestant to predict the Detroit Lions' upset. Charles missed on two games, the Navy-Duke tie and the Texas-Baylor outcome. The Haynes' reside at 4935 West Main. Freddie Steeper of 19320 Marilyn won second prize of $5 with three misses.

Readers Speak Up:
SAYS CULVERT NOT INSTALLED AT TAFT ROAD
Dear Sir:
In regard to the statement in last week's News that a new culvert has been installed under the expressway near Taft road, there has NOT been one installed.

My neighbors and I feel we have been fair. We have not asked for property damage due to the fact that it is a new road and the damages would only come from the taxpayer. But we do not intend to put up with it after it is finished. It would have been cheap last spring, but once it is paved they will have to bore—and that is expensive. It will come out of your pocket then, Mr. Tax Payer. If there is property damage, it will be the taxpayer who pays.

The Novi township supervisor has told me that if anyone changes a natural stream of water and causes damage, all that has to be done is to sue and the township will back us 100 percent. It would still be the taxpayer who would pay.

I have lost over $500 in wages plus phone calls and gas the past year trying to find out who has jurisdiction over the stream, only to get buck-passing answers. So I have sent all newspaper clippings to Governor Williams asking him who has jurisdiction.

Thank you,

Apartment Building Near Completion

A new 5-unit apartment building is nearing completion this week at 229 Hutton. The brick structure is owned by Donald Ware of 219 Hutton, who has planned and directed construction of the building.

Atom Age Comes To Northville

The atomic age has come to Northville — heralded by a spark-shooting device made of cupcake tins and mixing bowls. The device goes by various names among scientists. Some call it a "particle accelerator." Others say it's an "electrostatic generator."

To the layman, however, there's a simpler term for it: an atom smasher.

But its maker, Northville high school senior Bernhard Mueller, is quick to assure neighbors and fellow students that he does not intend to go around smashing atoms. The device is purely for demonstration and has been built so as to be harmless.

Bernhard constructed the atom smasher in six weeks, using materials that could be found in the kitchen. It consists of a pair of metal mixing bowls, a vacuum cleaner motor, a few strips of foil and a couple pieces of plastic. Total cost of the home-made power plant: $20.

Theoretically capable of putting out 380,000 volts, the atom smasher plays many tricks on those who get too close to it. Hair suddenly stands on end. A tie can be whisked up parallel to the ground. And though it doesn't try it, it can deliver a jolting poke of electricity.

Bernhard says he modeled it after the first atom smasher built years ago by Professor R. V. Van DeGraff of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He noted, however, that Van DeGraff's machine was a mile long and cost $100,000. His own is only a good understanding of the theory.

For such an awesome device, the atom smasher is basically simple. A vacuum cleaner motor drives a felt belt which runs on a piece of plastic and creates a positive charge. Electrons (negative particles) then attempt to rush up a ground wire to neutralize the positive charge, but are intercepted by the moving felt belt.

The belt transports the electrons up to a dome made of joined mixing bowls. There they are collected and discharged—glowing eerily—into surrounding air.

In a full-scale atom smasher, the electrons would be gathered and, bombarded against the element being smashed. But in Bernhard's device, they are collected by a grounded electrode made of two cupcake tins and transported harmlessly back to the ground.

The generator, which could well have come from the workshop of Rube Goldberg, is Bernhard's biggest effort to date. In the past, he has limited himself to setting up an inviolable model train layout and putting in physics or chemistry in preparation for later study in either medicine or dentistry.

Bernhard, 17, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Mueller of 2707 Novi road. Future plans of the science-minded senior call for enrollment at the University of Michigan where he will take up physics or chemistry in preparation for later study in either medicine or dentistry.

It's a Laugh a Day at Amerman School

Few sayings have more truth in them than the familiar "Out of the mouths of babes oft times come gems."

And it's no different in Northville than anywhere else. A generation of junior comedians is sprouting right under the amused eyes of Principal Richard Kay and the teachers at Amerman school.

A first grader was late for school regularly, and with each tardiness he seemed to have a different excuse. One day, his teacher stood at her door with a "I wonder what the reason will be this time" look on her face as she saw the little guy come surrying down the empty hall with his coat half on and half off and dragging his lunch box with him.

She was left with nothing but a smile and a deeper sense of affection for her little problem when he looked up at her and said, "Am I late for recess yet?"

Another little girl said, "I have no brothers or sisters at home. She replied, "No, no brothers or sisters, but we're going to get some animals."

After the second day of quizzing a little kindergarten girl as to what she learned in school, her parents had received only the "Yellowbrook National Park."

As the first graders entered their room, noise and confusion filled it from floor to ceiling. Their teacher looked at one youngster and said, "Why are we so noisy when we enter the room?"

"I don't know," was the reply. "Just nervous, I guess."

A Northville exchange teacher in France had been telling her class the intricacies of democratic procedure.

One day, when a child brought a guinea pig to school, another student asked if it were a boy or girl guinea pig.

The flustered teacher couldn't answer. But little Pierre in the back of the room called out, "I know how we can tell, teacher. The teacher sensed danger, but asked for his answer anyway.

Pierre remembering the lessons of a few days before, replied thoughtfully, "We can vote on it."

After reading about the psychological analysis of children's drawings and of hidden implications contained in them, a mother was concerned to see her three-year-old drawing picture of the entire family. The reason for her concern was that, minutes before, she had had to spank the child. Horror filled her heart as she watched the little girl color her picture of Mommie in very deliberate and careful strokes of black. Finally the mother could stand it no longer, and she asked, "Why did you color your picture of me in black, darling?"

Fearing the worst, and with heavy heart, the mother saw her smiling daughter turn to her and say, "Why, mommie. Don't you know that's the only long crayon I got?"

A teacher was investigating a child's complaint that the boy next to him had scribbled on a girl's well-earned card for another student. She asked him why he had done that.

"I don't scribble," he replied. "I write mine in Chinese."

Mustangs Take Finale over West Bloomfield

Topsy-Turvy W-O Standings Show Strange Results

Northville Coach Ron Schipper's pre-season prediction that no Wayne-Oakland team would go undefeated proved to be wrong — for his own Mustangs went through their schedule with only a tie marring their record.

V.F.W. Northville Post 4012
438 Plymouth Ave.

Regular Meetings: First and Third Tuesday of Each Month

But Schipper's forecast did point out one fact: that the league was in for some rough-tough football.

That's just what happened. Except for the champion Mustangs, member teams of the Wayne-Oakland league were at each other's throats constantly, with the result that league standings changed almost every week.

And with the end of the season, there were some strange results in the standings: —the second place team lost half its games. —the third place team won only two of its six games.

Northville Triumph As Biery Goes for 75, 89

Northville's play was almost as cold as the weather last Friday night, but with the aid of fullback Dick Biery's running the Mustangs managed to pull out a satisfying — though not spectacular — 20-7 win over West Bloomfield.

The Mustangs, playing their last game of the season with the championship already in their possession looked as if they had only one thing on their minds: to get the game over with and find warmth somewhere.

But in so doing, they almost forgot about football—until West Bloomfield came dangerously close to tying the score and perhaps walking off with the contest.

Going off the field at halftime, the Mustangs held a comfortable 14-0 lead. Fullback Gary Holman had scored from the 1 the first time Northville had the ball. And Biery had streaked 75 yards — behind the best down field blocking Northville showed all season for the second score.

But before Northville could run a play from scrimmage in the second half, West Bloomfield had scored. After recovering a Mustang fumble on the 48, the Keego graders moved the entire distance in five plays, scoring on a 54-yard pass into the end zone.

West Bloomfield kept the pressure on until well into the fourth quarter, but could not score. After recovering a fumble on the 25, West Bloomfield kicked up only one yard in four downs. Again they drove deep to the Northville 10, but lost the ball on a fumble.

Biery chose this situation to break away again, going 88 yards for a touchdown, as his teammates led the way in another devastating show of downfield blocking.

West Bloomfield, banking on the passing arm of its quarterback, went for 44 quick yards in the final minutes, but a 15 yard penalty ended the threat. Northville gained control of the ball and ran the clock out on its last game of 1956.

Biery once again led the Mustangs offensively, picking up 135 yards in 21 rushes, scoring two touchdowns and gathering in two passes for 48 yards.

Statistically, Northville outplayed West Bloomfield. But if Biery's two long jumps were discounted, the statistics—and the score—could have been much closer.

Honors, awards and words of praise filled a banquet hall Monday night as Northville paid tribute to its three football teams—all of which came through the season with winning records.

Highlighted by the appearance of two Michigan State stars, the banquet saw numerous and letters presented to nearly 100 young graders.

The banquet — first of a series honoring all Northville athletes, including high school girls — was held in the First Methodist church building under sponsorship of the Northville Exchange club and four local "boosters": Allen Buckley, Gil Glason, Dr. L. W. Snow and Dr. J. K. Eastland.

Receiving tribute were the Northville high school Mustangs (7-1) and the Wayne-Oakland championship, the junior varsity Colts (8-2), and the junior varsity team (3-2).

Among the awards and honors presented were:

—the Wayne-Oakland League trophy by the champion Mustangs.

—the Detroit Times league championship trophy (to be formally presented to Coach Ron Schipper at another banquet next week).

—the Mustangs sportsmanship award to center Henry Fisher, the first time the award has been made.

—Northville 'N' to Dr. O. J. Robinson and Dr. R. M. Aichison for their services at Northville games. (Dr. Snow was not able to be present.)

—letters and team photos to all Mustangs, presented by coaches Schipper and Don Van Ingen.

—Mementos to the members of

Debate Squad Picks Teams, Prepares for Meets Soon

The debate squad, with Miss Florence Panatoni as coach, met last Wednesday morning and selected the affirmative and negative teams.

On November 19, the squad will have a practice debate with Farmington.

On December 1, Northville debaters will go to Thurston for a day of practice debating with various other schools. This will enable them to gain experience in debating and also give them an opportunity to meet others interested in this activity.

December 11 will find Northville at Holly in the first round of scheduled debates. The NHS affirmative will meet the West Bloomfield negative, while the NHS negative will meet Clarenceville's affirmative. This year Northville hopes to get the title in high school debating.

At Holly the Northville affirmative will be upheld by Becky Coleman and Lillian Zimmerman. The Northville negative will be represented by Sandra Strasen and Bernard Mueller, all members of Northville's varsity squad.

Library Members Have Busy Meeting

At the last staff meeting the members of the library discussed such topics as the new book ready for student reading and the decorations to be put up for Book Week.

One problem that was talked over was the trouble the students have in checking out books. Many library patrons are still doubtful as to how a book is checked out. The library staff is now trying to correct the problem.

There are about 15 members on the library staff. Miss Ione E. Palmer and two assistants, Penny Niece and Margaret McGee head the staff meetings. Miss Palmer and the two girls are planning to visit a distant high school to view the running of its library.

Freshman Class Plans Bake Sale

If a group approaches your door tonight, don't wonder if it's Halloween once more.

It's only some members of the freshman class trying to take orders for a coming bake sale.

This bake sale will be different and should be helpful to the busy housewife.

The freshman class will go out between seven and nine o'clock to take orders for homemade baked goods. Fifty percent of the total price will be collected at this time.

On Saturday morning the class will deliver the baked goods and collect the remaining cost. There will be homemade cakes, pies and cookies and good bargains for all.

PTA Told of 'Special Classes'

Members of the Northville Parent Teachers Association last week heard a panel discussion of a number of "special classes" in the Northville school system.

The PTA meeting was held last Wednesday in the Community Center meeting room.

The panel consisted of Mrs. Rosella Lee, Miss Patricia Dorian, Mr. Don Van Ingen and Mr. Frederick Stedenski, with Principal Elroy Ellison as moderator.

Mrs. Lee told of her six weeks reading class in which those students who have difficulty in reading may receive special and individual attention.

College Night Draws 500

Representatives of 24 colleges were present at Walled Lake high school last Thursday to answer questions about college put to them by parents and juniors and seniors of five high schools.

Some 500 parents and students were present.

Northville high school played host, but due to inadequate facilities the meeting was held in the new Walled Lake school. Students from the five schools acted as aides to the college representatives.

Comments were written on comment sheets which will be used for reference next year.

A number of the representatives stated it was the best group of students they had ever worked with.

37 Seniors Take Scholarship Test

In the NHS study hall to take a scholarship qualifying test last Wednesday. The purpose of this test was for preliminary selection of candidates for various scholarship programs.

The test, which took two hours, was divided into two sections. The first section pertained to word relationships and the ability to read with understanding. The second section was concerned with the ability to understand and solve mathematical problems. Seniors should have the results of the test in two or three weeks.

Hoops Bring Giggles At Play Rehearsal

Hoops my dear! That's what the girls in the senior play cast are saying this week! The hoops vary in age from left-over bridal dresses to those that great-grandmother used to wear.

Miss Florence Panatoni, director of the play, feels that the girls should begin wearing them at rehearsal so as to learn how to handle them.

The first few nights, the hoops proved to be quite a problem, and the lines were regularly interrupted by hysterical giggles. In addition the girls had to learn how to sit on a chair so the hoops wouldn't spring up in their faces.

Juniors Prepare For Annual J-Hop On November 23

It will be held November 23 in the Community Building with Floyd Sawyer and his band playing for it.

The juniors are keeping in suspense as to what the theme is. They have decided not to reveal it until the night of the J-Hop itself.

The decorating and planning committee have come up with new ideas to decorate the Community Building and expect that no one will be able to recognize it.

For the boys, juniors have this word: If you haven't asked your favorite girl as yet, be sure to do so soon for the time is getting closer and closer.

She entered the Toby David radio program Crazy Cash contest, which offered a prize to the person who could produce a Dewey campaign button if his name were drawn.

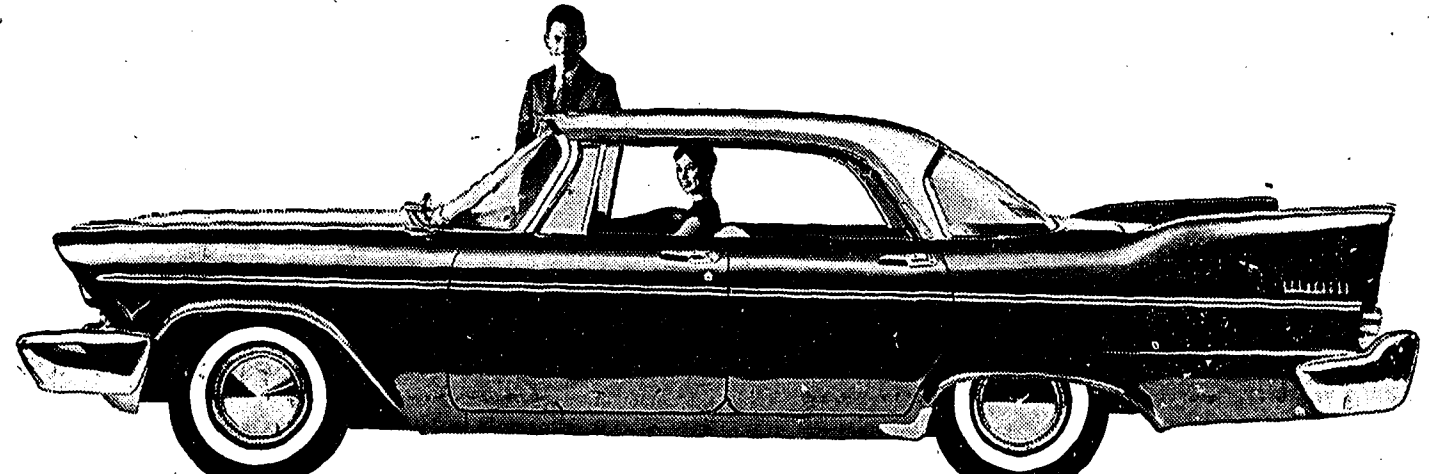

Nancy didn't hear her name announced over the radio, but Mrs. N. C. Schrader of West Main street did. She called Nancy and offered a Dewey button she had so that Nancy could collect.

Northville Marine Asks Help For Orphans

Editor's Note: The following is an excerpt from a letter written recently by Marine Private Nelson Stratton, now stationed in Japan, to his mother, Mrs. Clarence Stratton of Gerald street.

"We have approximately 500 kids here at a TB sanatorium for orphans. In charge is a young Christian minister just getting started with his work — and he needs help. The men in the chapel group have elected me as one of the committee to help them.

"Would you talk to the people at church and see if they have any used children's clothing they could send me?"

"Mom, if you could just see them faces of these kids when we walk in the hospital — you can't explain it, or put it into writing, or even say it or think about it without getting a lump in your throat."

State Officials Face Huge Tax Refund

A $50 MILLION HEADACHE confronts state officials and all Michigan taxpayers. This is money the state might be forced to refund to several out-of-state corporations. Furthermore, future revenue may also be reduced by $20 million a year.

Trouble stems from a recent State Supreme Court decision that Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co. cannot be considered to be operating in Michigan and subject to the state franchise tax. Now the United States Supreme Court refuses to review the finding, an action which in effect upholds the State Court decision.

The specific case decided by the Michigan Supreme Court was that Panhandle is not required to pay a franchise tax on gas produced elsewhere and then piped into Michigan. According to the court, such a levy is an "arbitrary and unjust" burden in interstate commerce.

Panhandle is a Delaware corporation and most of its gas is produced in Texas.

Big concern of state officials is that the decision threatens a precedent. It might apply to other firms. Future decisions could cover Michigan's business receipts tax. Estimates of the $50 million loss are based on this interpretation.

Some Capitol spokesmen believe the decision may touch off a rash of claims against the state requiring considerable litigation.

A Michigan income tax is mentioned as an alternative if considerable revenue is lost by the state through the Supreme Court decision.

State fiscal experts told the United States Supreme Court that if the decision is allowed to stand, it would give impetus to passage of an income tax act to regain lost revenue.

Michigan officials watched the problem develop slowly but resolutely, through the courts. Now they can only wait while time answers the question of what effect the decision will have on the state's finances.

A direct rebuff of the Fair Share Bargaining association which had vigorously attempted to unite farmers in the ranks of labor, the MMPA action declared that many of the goals of union organizations are directly opposed to the interest of the farmer.

A Stitch in Time

Three significant events, reported separately in current editions of The Record, are most closely related. They are bound together by one common cause—their very reason for existence—a growing Northville.

November 1st a city manager shouldered the business responsibilities of the community; November 8 a proposed merger of Depositors State and Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit was announced; November 11 it was revealed that voters of the community will be asked to approve a $3,000,000 bond issue for the construction of a new high school.

The invasion of hundreds of new residents to the area is bound to tax the facilities of the community. It is to the credit of the city council, the school board and directors of the bank that they have not stood idly by and watched the inevitable growth creep upon us.

Their planning and preparedness should serve as a guide to each of us, as businessmen or citizens of the community. Nearly every resident will have a part to play in this "preparedness program."

Most important to the average citizen is the active interest he, or she, takes in activities of our governing body. The city council, the school board and directors of the bank. Members of the school board and city council welcome this interest and often look to citizens for support and advice.

Simmons noted that an all time high was reached this year. Payments received $80 million for milk, an increase of $7 million over 1955.

IF AN APPLE A DAY keeps the doctor away, business may drop off considerably in the medical profession during the months ahead.

A bumper crop—some 10,000,000 bushels of Michigan apples—is reported by Holland F. Patterson, executive secretary of the Michigan State Apple Commission. The yield is valued between $20 and $21 million.

"The crop would reach halfway to the moon if laid end to end," Patterson reported as growers in the state harvested more than one and one-half billion apples.

The Michigan crop is the third largest in the nation. Only Washington and New York produce more.

While such favorites as Jonathan, McIntosh, Northern Spy, Red Delicious and Wealthy continue to be the most prominent Michigan apples, there are 40 varieties marketed from our state.

"Because this year's apple crop is superior in quality, flavor and color and because nationwide apple production is down, Michigan growers are in a favorable spot," Patterson concluded.

What effect the decision will have on the state's finances.

A STRONG non-unionization resolution passed the annual meeting of the Michigan Milk Producers association held recently in East Lansing. Some 400 delegates representing 60,500 farmers throughout the state, unanimously passed a resolution opposing all efforts of organized labor to gain control of farm groups for any purpose.

A direct rebuff of the Fair Share Bargaining association which had vigorously attempted to unite farmers in the ranks of labor, the MMPA action declared that many of the goals of union organizations are directly opposed to the interest of the farmer.

Elsewhere in this edition of The Record you'll find minutes of the last city council meeting. From this date minutes of each meeting will appear the week following council meetings.

On the motion of John Canterbury the council approved this action unanimously. In doing so, Councilman Canterbury expressed the hope that residents would show more interest in business of the city and attend meetings. We'll echo this thought by pointing out that the council meets the first and third Monday at 8 p.m. in the City Hall.

While you can read reports of the meetings, as well as detailed minutes, first hand attendance is even better. Why not show your interest in your community and elected officials? You'll enjoy the experience.

Novi Wins Another Annexation Fight

Sewerage System Still Being Studied By Novi Engineers

Engineers this week were continuing to investigate the feasibility of a Novi township sewerage system, but it was called "doubtful" that much would be done about it until the spring.

Novi township supervisor Fraser Staman said the township has retained engineers and that they have been making preliminary studies during recent weeks.

But he added that no decision is yet to be made until after the township election on November 18, after which time the sewerage project would become the problem of members either elected or re-elected to the board.

Staman said the biggest hurdle will be passing qualifications of the state health department. The engineers retained by the township are making their studies within the framework of state regulations.

Initial steps toward the sewerage system were taken a month ago when Staman disclosed that it had been determined that a $3,000,000 - $4,000,000 sewerage system could be financed. He said the network would probably be paid for by subdivision developments.

The system would also include a sewage disposal plant costing about $800,000. The plant would be paid for by revenue bonds, with the initial money coming from private investors.

When completed, Staman said, the system could serve up to 15,000 customers in the township and would be so designed that more lines could be added in the future.

Staman estimated that the system would cost between $300,000 and $500,000 a mile.

Staman said the township board was confronted by local citizens demanding to know how they could fight the race track proposal. Leonard is to report his findings to the board.

Leonard said this week he has determined that such a race track would be a legitimate business in a "heavy industry" area and that it could not be barred without risking a legal suit.

Leonard pointed to the recent township zoning amendment permitting trailer parks in the township.

Leonard stressed that if the rezoning is approved and not contested, the race track apparently cannot be barred.

"A race track would be just as legitimate in the eyes of the law as a factory," Leonard said. "The law does not allow exceptions to be made simply because a given industry might be unpopular."

As long as a race track is not expressly forbidden in the zoning ordinance, it must be allowed."

Novi Attorney Says:

Zoning Would End Track Fight

Novi township residents very likely will be unable to prevent establishment of a race track in the township if rezoning of the proposed site goes through.

The answer, according to Leonard, is apparently "yes"—with one exception. Township citizens can petition for a vote on the rezoning within 30 days after it is approved by the township board, Leonard said.

Circuit Court Refuses Motion to Dismiss Suit

Novi township has won the first round of a legal fight to keep another part of its territory from annexing to the city of Northville.
