Police Problems Discussed

Mrs. Harper Dunlap — Market 4-3300

The West Shore Association held a meeting Thursday, May 22 at the Van Gordon residence on Northaven. Guest speaker for the evening was Nov. Police Chief Lee Bedell. He spoke about some of the police force duties and some of the various problems that confront today's policemen. Chief Bedell answered various questions put to him by the members.

A group of West Shore members that had attended the Nov. charter meeting May 12, told the members present what had taken place and the progress made at the meeting. There will be a board meeting at the home of Bert Fisher May 29 at which time the date of the next meeting will be decided upon. The next meeting will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harper Dunlap, 141 Rexton. Refreshments for the last meeting were donated by the A & P super market and were served by Mrs. Don Woodward, Mrs. John Kubeck and Mrs. Harry Ramay.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Arbour of Northaven have as their house guest for ten days, their niece, Miss Caroline Boyce of Windsor, Canada. Miss Shirley Harkness was the guest of honor at a personal bridal shower May 24 given by her fiancé's sister, Gloria Barker. Also present were Muriel Van Gordon, Darlene Harkness, Pat Graham and Sandy Haver.

Don Woodward and Harry Ramay have been teaching the neighborhood youngsters the art of square dancing.

Mrs. John Kubeck attended a Brownie meeting May 21 at the Angel school in Berkley. Mrs. Kubeck's granddaughter, Linda Allison "flew up" from a brownie to a girl scout.

Harry Ramay, Jr. won a bowling trophy recently at Maple Lane Gardens for high single game.

Guests at the Don Woodward residence May 18 were Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Woods of Detroit.

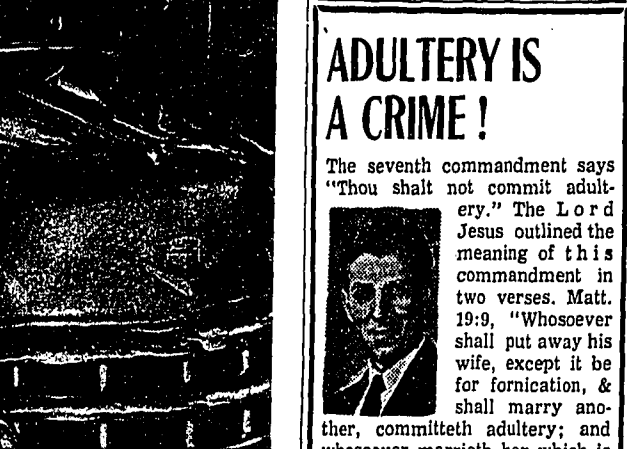

Dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Crum last Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crum of Middle Straits Lake.

Leon Woods of Northaven recently motored to Holland to see the tulips. Making the trip with him were his mother, Mrs. Ted Woods, and his sister, Mrs. Tom Schuster.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wade feded their son-in-law last week end to visit relatives. They returned home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Jensen attended a dinner last Saturday in Lant.

With Hill and Johnson in Europe

Life is Leisurely in Vienna

Looking back on Vienna, Austria, believe that it is one of the show places of Europe and a "must" for the average tourists such as Carl and I.

The city is only in its third year out of the occupation and its "Tripartite" division of the city.

Unemployment and localized inflation plague the people but they are cheerful and apparently grateful to be on their own again. The rate of exchange is 24 schillings to the U.S. dollar and thus the prices for an American are quite reasonable.

Cliff Hill and Carl Johnson returned to Northville this week. A report of their impressions of Russia and other highlights will be published next week.

able. Like other European cities, a black market for U.S. hard cash exists, but not for travelers' cheques on this illegal transaction. You may get as high as 60 schillings for one U.S. dollar.

Vienna is trying desperately to recapture its old pre-war charm. Coffee houses line the sidewalks with a new way of making coffee by forcing steam through freshly ground coffee at high pressures — they are called "Espresso".

These Espresso sell only coffee, tea, and one or two varieties of cake — I'm afraid they'd "go for" in the U.S. but the leisurely Viennese keep them crowded from noon till midnight.

Local management has imported the LaScala opera company from Milan, Italy. We attended Rigoletto there and, while I am not great opera fan, I must admit that it was very good. The scenery and costumes looked "lived" but the music was wonderful.

Cars are prohibited by law from blowing their horns unless an emergency. In the U.S. but the leisurely Viennese keep them crowded from noon till midnight.

During the day all traffic lights are operated manually by the traffic cop in charge of the corner. At night the same light becomes only a caution light. I think the flow of traffic is thus better regulated in the United States. Certainly there is no jam of traffic against a red light while a green light in Vienna is wasted on a traffic free street.

Horse lovers in Northville would enjoy the Sunday morning show at the Spanish Riding school held in an old palace, once the riding hall of the Austrian Kaiser. They use only Arabian stallions and they are excellent performers. I was told an American purchased one of their best horses for $20,000 in U.S. currency this last April.

The Austrian apparently is not too worried about the plight of his country or its living conditions or finances. He is strongly anti-communist, leans slightly toward Socialism, is devoutly religious. The American tourist is heartily welcomed to visit and understand each other the dangers of war would greatly diminish.

The more I see of Europe, the more convinced I am that if the little people of the world could visit together and understand each other the dangers of war would greatly diminish.

School Vote To Name 2 For Board

Candidates for the Novi board of education have until a week from Friday to file nominating petitions for the July 14 election in which two board positions will be filled.

The positions are those of President James Mitchell and Secretary Georgia Larson.

Mitchell, whose term expires in July, said this week he must seek re-election. He has been on that board since 1954.

Mrs. Larson, whose term still has a year to go, has decided to resign. Petitions are available at the Novi school office. They must be signed by 50 qualified electors and filed with Mrs. Larson by 4 p.m. a week from Friday (June 13).

Candidates may file for either the three-year term currently held by Mitchell or the one year remaining in Mrs. Larson's term.

The election is scheduled for July 14 at the school. No other issue is at stake.

Mitchell, who has served seven years as secretary and vice president, said this week he has decided not to run again because he would "like to see someone else have a turn at it."

His 19 years have included two building programs, which have meant countless hours of late night work and constant pressure from the scores of details connected with building a new school.

"I'll be building into our third building program soon," said Mitchell, "and that will again involve quite a few months of long study and work."

Mrs. Larson, secretary for two years of the former Novi No. 8 district, was elected to her present term of office in December, 1956.

The three other members of the school board are Arthur Reskin, Kenneth Bernard, and Jack Crawford — will not be up for re-election. Reskin has one more year to serve, while Bernard and Crawford have two more.

Candidates for the two vacant positions will be running only for a place on the board and not for the office of president and secretary. The board names its own officers after the election.

Present board members were all elected in December, 1956, shortly after the consolidation of four smaller school districts into the present Novi district.

His Brother's His Hero

Danny Closs has found a new hero, high with Danny. — his twin brother, Kenny.

Kenny is Danny's hero because he saved him from drowning last Thursday afternoon when the famous stallion named Topper to rate it as Kensington Park.

With their parents and sister Marlene, two months, they had gone out to the park to put their boat in the water for the first time this year.

Their dad decided they shouldn't go for a ride in it because it was getting late. So he didn't see any of the fun. But he was there when the boat was put in the water.

But one time, he didn't make it. He fell into water more than six feet deep.

Kenny ran to the end of the dock and got his dad. Closs rushed back and pulled Danny out of the water. He was so relieved that he was so close to his brother.

Closs applied artificial respiration. He gradually revived Danny and later was considered for the vacancy now filled by Watz.

"In addition," said Bachert, "Promo would give representation to Willowbrook, which now has none on the board."

Bachert and Harrison, who know Promo personally, both cited his ability "to do a good job" and to follow through on a task.

Sungun then nominated Fred. He pointed out that the attorney would also give representation to Willowbrook and that Fred had shown considerable interest in Novi affairs.

Fried was not present, but Mrs. Shirley Bernard — who sided him in his recent campaign for village charter commissioner — spoke for him and said he would accept the trustee position if appointed.

With that, the vote was taken. Promo was named, and the board turned to other business.

Promo, 36, has lived in Novi for nearly four years and is general manager for an auto jobber firm. He studied accounting for six years at the University of California and Walsh Institute.

A Navy veteran of World War II, he is active in AMVET and VFW affairs. He is married and a father. Promo ran for the Republican nomination for trustee early in 1957, but trailed Clark, Balon and Glen Balow Jr. in the township primary.

He was nearly named trustee last year to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Clark. But after two months of futile discussion, in which Promo had been named for one of four active candidates including Watz, Watz was finally called.

With his appointment Monday night, Promo has less than a year to serve until the township election next spring.

Balon, who won easily in the election last year, was "bumped" out of the trustee position by a state law which prohibits board members from being residents of incorporated cities.

Board Fills Balon's Spot In Quick, Quiet Session

A vacancy on the Novi township board was filled quickly and quietly Monday night with the appointment of Gordon Promo, a Willowbrook Village resident, as trustee.

He succeeds Stan Balon, who was required by state law to resign when Wixom became a city two weeks ago.

Only one other person was placed in nomination for the trustee position. He was David Fried, an attorney and likewise a resident of Willowbrook Village.

Supervisor Fraser Slaman, who votes only in case of a tie, did not vote. He was not present at the election. He was not present at the election.

Unlike the last board appointment, which took a hectic two months and eventually saw Watz named trustee to succeed the late Frank Clark, Monday night's appointment took less than 10 minutes.

In nominating Promo, Bachert noted that he had run for the office in the last township election and later was considered for the vacancy now filled by Watz.

"In addition," said Bachert, "Promo would give representation to Willowbrook, which now has none on the board."

Stan Balon

Since Balon's home is within the Wixom city limits, he was forced to vacate the office when Wixom officially became a city last week.

"It's just as if Balon died or moved to California," explained Attorney Anthony Renne. "It's no longer a resident of Novi township, and therefore can't hold office."

Deadline Nearing For Beauty Contest

Girls wishing to enter the annual Novi AMVET beauty contest on June 13 have just a few days left to enter.

Application forms and tickets are available from Chairman Stan French, who taught at Novi for 12 years.

The beauty contest will be held at Walled Lake casino, under Ray McKinnley, will play for dancing before and after the judging.

Tonight's the Night For 38 Graduates

The school year ended this week for the graduates of Novi students including 38 eighth graders who will graduate tonight.

Careless and exercises will be given at 8 p.m. in the Novi community building.

Dr. Ray Kichon, assistant director of the bureau of school services at the University of Michigan, will deliver the graduation address.

The 38 graduates will receive their diplomas from Superintendent William Medlyn.

Two students, unnamed as yet, will be presented annual citizenship awards by representatives of the Perry Kenner Post 76, AMVETS.

Classes at Novi school ended Wednesday. But all students are to report at the regular time tomorrow (Friday) to receive report cards.

They will be dismissed for the summer shortly after 9 a.m.

Faculty members will stay through Friday afternoon to close out their rooms — leaving for the summer.

Students with perfect attendance this year were Don Needham, Debra Harwood, James Schinck, Jay Warren, Gerry Haxleton, Sue G'p'pert, Diana Harwood and Jack Anglin.

The Tuesday Book Club met with Mrs. Phillip Brown, "Duveen," by S. N. Behrman, was reviewed by Mrs. Glenn Cummings.

Joseph Duveen, Lord Millbank, was the most spectacular art dealer of all time. His astonishing career was built upon the simple observation that Europe had art and Americans had money.

His fabulous transactions with men of great wealth — Mellon, Rockefeller, Frick, Kress, Morgan, and others — revealed the perfection of his salesmanship of old masterpieces.

Outdoor Art Show Saturday Features Northville Artists

The Three Cities Art club will have its Annual Outdoor Art Show in Plymouth's Kellogg park Saturday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Artist members of the group will be on hand to demonstrate their techniques and talk with visitors. In case of rain, the show will be held on Sunday, June 14.

The group contains the best creative talent in the Plymouth, Northville, Livonia area, and the show is being held in pursuance of the ideal of the club which is to provide an interest in creative original art in the community.

Art teachers, professional artists, and qualified amateurs compose the members. In addition to the easel exhibits of around 60 paintings, there will be a clothesline exhibit of unframed and matted work.

Here is a time schedule of art demonstrations: Stanley Hensch, 10 to 12 — charcoal; Jessie Hudson, 10 to 12 — oil; Marion Sober, 12:30 to 2 — pastel; Jack Van Haren, 1 to 2 — watercolor; Walt Maurus, 2 to 4 — enameled; Hilda Albert, 3 to 5 — mosaic; and Catherine Hartley, 4 to 6 — watercolor.

Continuing with the theme of Art Appreciation and "What Art Means to Me," the following Northville artists have this to say:

Catherine Hartley: "What is art? It has been a controversial question for centuries. In my opinion, good painting is not more representation, any more than music is. Pure perception of details should be left to the camera, not to discount the art value of good photography. We all know that listening to symphony music requires an effort to appreciate the language of music, which is not representational. Likewise, one cannot look at a Picasso without trying to understand the language of form and color and design. Van Gogh came close to defining what a good painter is trying to do when he said that he was not just painting the hand, but what the hand was doing; I would begin with the feeling that the painter is trying to express, but it has to be expressed with a high degree of organization of form, color, line, and originality to be art."

Marjorie Becker: (Has a Master's Degree in Art Education from Wayne U., and has done work toward a Doctor's Degree. It is Art Co-ordinator in Livonia schools.) "Ev-

Golden Anniversary Marked by Couple

A 18-year-old cousin and a two-month-old great-grandson were present Sunday at a golden wedding anniversary party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Rhodes, who spend their winters in Northville.

Twenty-five guests attended the gathering at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Richard Nash, 430 DuPont.

Among the guests were Mrs. Rita Jolin, 94, of Detroit and Mark Caven, two months of Commerce, Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes' grandson. Fred Welle, journeyed from Chicago to attend.

A second daughter, Mrs. George Swing, came from Singhampton, Ontario, to serve as co-hostess for her parents' anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes made their home in Northville, Michigan, but spent winters in Northville with Mrs. Nash and her family.

She Was There Too!

In cutlines under a picture of the Northville Browns' "Fly Up" ceremony last week Mrs. John Gibson, leader of the troop, was inadvertently omitted.

Mrs. Gibson was shown in the picture with 25 Browns who became full-fledged intermediate girl scouts during the ceremony. Also pictured were Mrs. Mary Conley and Mrs. Marie Leno, assistant leaders of the troop.

To Elect Officers

The next meeting of the American Legion auxiliary will be next Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the Veterans Memorial hall.

POSTER WINNERS — Mrs. Howard Wright presents a check to Carolyn Cockin, winner of the district American Legion auxiliary Poppy Day poster contest this year. Carolyn's poster is now entered in the state contest. Second from right is Susie Jones, who took first place in the Northville Legion auxiliary contest, and at right is Mary Loggans, who placed third. Mr. and Mrs. Ron Moody On Alaskan Honeymoon

Mr. and Mrs. Ron Moody, who were united in marriage at the Southfield Methodist church in an afternoon ceremony on May 24, are in Alaska on their honeymoon. Mrs. William Borowski of 1800 Maxwell street, Private Moody is the son of Mr. and Mrs. K. Moody of 1801 Maxwell street.

The bride was given away by her father at a double ring ceremony in the church decorated with white daisies, with the Reverend Secretary officiating.

For her wedding the bride chose a white satin floor-length gown with a fingertip veil. She carried a Bible with a white lily.

Matron of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. Barbara Rafferty of Detroit. She wore a turquoise tulle ballerina dress and carried a corsage of pink carnations.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Borowski chose a beige dress and Mrs. Moody, mother of the groom, chose a floral print dress ensemble. A reception for 200 guests followed in the church parlors.

The bride and groom graduated from Northville high school. Immediately after the reception they left for Fairbanks, Alaska where Private Moody is stationed. They will return here sometime in January.

Northville and Novi Honor Their Dead

As two unknown servicemen were laid to rest in Washington Friday, Northville and Novi paid tribute to their own dead of three wars.

Parades and Memorial Day ceremonies in both communities marked the annual observance.

A special service in the Northville community building was attended by friends and relatives of the dead and by others of those for whom they died. A firing squad saluted them in the city's two cemeteries.

In Novi, a flag-raising ceremony at dawn was followed by quiet services at veterans' plots in two cemeteries. Veterans organizations and mothers of the dead marched along the route between the cemeteries.

So passed Memorial Day 1958, as Northville and Novi again honored their fallen servicemen.

As the Camera Sees It

10—Thursday, June 5, 1958—THE NOVI NEWS

ANNUAL TREAT — Northville area children turned out in droves for the free ice cream bars annually given away by C. E. Langfield of Northville Laboratories on Memorial Day. Some 1,000 bars were consumed this year. The event started nearly 20 years ago and Langfield recalls that he purchased 400 bars and had some left over. He continues the practice in memory of his father who was active in promoting activities for children and was the original organizer of the Northville band.

TAKES COMMAND — Lt. Colonel Harry B. Smith, (left) Main street school principal, recently took command of the 30th Civil Affairs Military Government Group, an active army reserve unit. He was formerly chief of the economic section and succeeds Colonel Bruce G. Booth (right) who retired in February. Smith has been a member of the 30th since its start in 1949. In March of this year his son, Roger, became a member of his dad's Army Reserve unit.

SOME COMMITTEE — One reason for the success of the month-long "Beautiful Northville" campaign was the size of the committee. All the members got together last week for a dinner at the Metropolitan club as a climax to the drive. The dinner was arranged by General Chairman John Canterbury and Mrs. Canterbury.

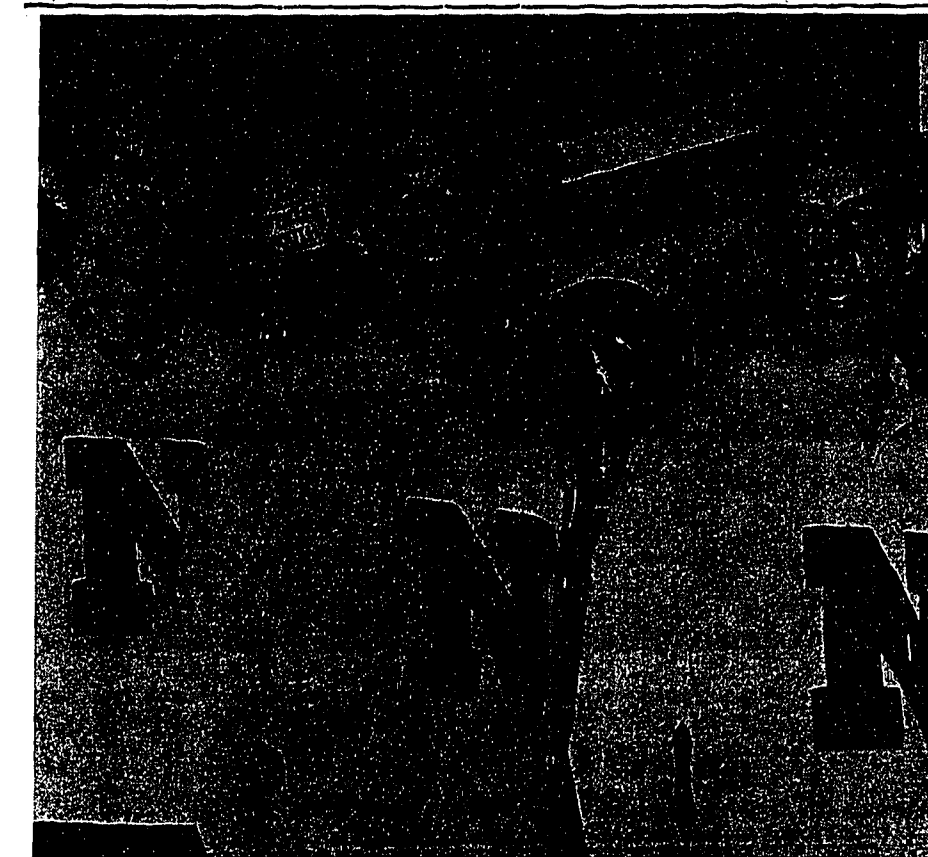

IN NOVI — A color guard from Perry Kenner Post 76, AMVETS, parades down Novi road to the Novi cemetery across from the township hall. The mile-long parade began at Oakland Hills Memorial Garden where services were conducted before a new monument to the war dead.

OLD PRESIDENT, NEW MAYOR — Joseph Stankis (right) is sworn in as first mayor of the new city of Wilson by Everett Pearsall, charter commissioner chairman. Stankis served as village president until the city election May 19, when he was elected mayor.

Cap Pethers, Bill Yahn and Dick Biery: On to College Now

After 27 'N's, It's All Over

A memorable era in Northville sports history ended last week when three Mustang stars wore the Orange and Black for the last time. Cap Pethers, Dick Biery and Bill Yahn — who won a total of 27 letters in four years of varsity competition — will graduate with 13 of their senior teammates next Thursday.

In winning their long string of 'N's, the talented trio not only provided Northville fans with countless thrills but made the era one of the most successful in Mustang annals. They and their fellow gridders and cagers brought home two Wayne-Oakland league football titles, a share of the basketball crown and a handful of track victories including the first state medal in more than a decade.

Had they been in competition at any other time, their showing may not have been so brilliant. In the past two years, they have been aided by a score of teammates who though less in the limelight—paved the way for the threesome's exploits. But if individual performances and post-season honors are a guide, Biery, Pethers and Yahn may rate as the key to Northville's recent successes on the gridiron, court and cinder path.

Biery picked up nine letters at NHS, winning monograms in football, basketball and track for each of the last three years.

For his crowd-rousing touchdowns runs (12 TD's on runs of 50 yards or more) and his hard charging through the line (an 8.7 average per carry), Biery was twice named all-league and this year added all-urban, all-state (second team) and Nearly five times as many children will take part in Northville's recreation program this summer as did five years ago.

In 1954, daily attendance averaged 150 in baseball, softball, day camp and swimming.

This year, upwards of 700 children are expected to take part in the four activities — plus scores of others in a new girls' program and a scattering of special events.

Attendance figures for 1954 and 1957 show this comparison:

	1954	1957
Baseball	15	110
Softball	0	60
Day Camp	25-35	80-110
Swimming	40-80	75-205

Totals 60-130 325-545

This year, daily attendance is certain to be higher. Baseball alone will draw 250 boys, and softball another 50. Day camp and swimming sessions are expected to have increased attendance.

"Keep in mind that these are just the 'big four' in our summer program, and that other activities — which are just as important but not as large in scope — have experienced the same expansion," said Recreation Director Sam Johnston.

Attendance this year might even have been higher had not the recreation committee been forced to exclude youngsters from outside Northville and Northville township except on a fee basis.

Until this year, outside youngsters — primarily from Novi township — could enroll for the regular fee. But over the winter, the committee decided it could not bear the cost of outside youngsters who last year represented about 15 percent of the total.

This year, Novi and other youngsters may still attend — but must pay an $8 registration fee for the year.

How this will affect attendance remains to be seen.

To pay for the program, which gives every Northville youngster from eight to 18 something to do throughout the day this summer, the city and Northville township have contributed a total of $9,000. The city pays $6,000 and the township $3,000.

At the same time, Johnston has increased his staff from six to 10 and added several new baseball and softball teams, a complete new girls' program, and other new activities.

Johnston said that the city and township are already underway. Other activities will begin according to this schedule:

Class 2 baseball: after school ends
Class 3 baseball: after school ends
Senior girls softball: to be announced

Day swimming: June 16
Night swimming: June 17
Daily girls sports: June 23
Boys softball: June 25
Fee baseball: June 26
Day camp: June 30

A complete report on recreation activities was published in The Record last week. A weekly list of coming events will be published throughout the summer.

Meanwhile, Johnston urged Northville children to register at the scout hall any Saturday morning until school is out or any day after June 16.

Morgan Homers
But Faculty Ties

The Northville varsity finally got to Pitcher Al Jones Monday, but their own errors made them settle for a 4-4 tie in the annual varsity-faculty game.

Dary Morgan spoiled Jones' record of not allowing an earned run in four runs with a home run and a single.

The faculty could get only four hits off Pitcher Joe Krutich, but Mustang errors helped give the teachers enough unearned runs to tie the game.

Last week, the varsity ended its season by falling to Plymouth, 6-2. The Mustangs collected only two hits and scored both runs on a series of walks and errors.

Netters Down Plymouth Eye State Finals Friday

Jim Hammond warmed up for the state tennis finals last week when he won his 13th straight match of the year to lead Northville to a 4-3 win over Plymouth.

Hammond and Tucker Williams, who won the regional doubles crown two weeks ago, will compete in the state tournament at Kalamazoo tomorrow.

Northville's victory over Plymouth was the first in six years and avenged a defeat earlier this season.

Bob Bake and Dennis Fallon joined Hammond with singles wins, and Dick Buckley and Ed Wittenberg took the doubles.

The Plymouth win, Northville's second match of the year, was added to the team's record of 10-0-1 in the Wayne-Oakland league championship.

16 Senior Lettermen Graduate

Sixteen lettermen, including several three-sport stars, will graduate next week with the Northville senior class.

The graduates and the letters they won this year:

Football: Dick Biery, Dick Buckley, Ernie Ebert, Pete Gross, Jim Hammond, Dan Howell, Joe Krutich, Harry Sedas, Dick Sisher, Norm Tibble, Ed Wittenberg and Bill Yahn.

Tennis: Bob Bake, Dave Janetsky, Buckley, Ebert, Hammond and Wittenberg.

Baseball: Krutich, Golt, Gross.

Braves Continue to Make Shambles of Midget Race

The Northville Braves continued their amazing domination of midget league play last week by taking two more wins, including a 5-0 lambasting of the Livonia Police Cardinals.

The Northville Orioles, whose success nearly matches that of the Orioles, were defeated for the first time this year but bounced back with a victory again two days later.

The Braves, who had a 7-0 record as of Friday and led their division, racked up their 154 whitewash of Livonia even though the game was called by rain in the third inning.

Dick Pubanz, who hurled the shut-out, added to his own cause with a booming home run and triple.

Dan Brown and Craig Bell pitched the Braves to a second win last week, as they downed the Elm Pipers, 7-4. Pubanz again supplied the key blow with a double.

(The Braves will play off their tie game at 10:30 a.m. Saturday at Cass Benson park.)

The Orioles were upset for the first time this year when the Brewers stifled the Northville offense and picked up a 5-3 win.

The Brewers blasted out five runs in the second and third innings, and stunning defensive play by the Orioles.

But they were well ahead of the other three class B entries: West Bloomfield (40), Troy (35) and Oak Park (22).

N. C. Schrader in the shot put and Bill Yahn in the broad jump picked up firsts for Northville. The Mustangs' only other win came in the 800 relay (Hugh Crawford, Brian Pretzer, Roger Cheeseman and Dick Biery).

Biery added other points with seconds in the broad jump and 220 and a third in the 100.

Yahn, in top shape for the first time this year, added a second in the 800.

Other Mustang points came from George Berryman (second in mile), Ron Loydas (fifth in 800), Dick Rittner (fifth in mile), Larry Clark (fifth in 100), Spike Walker (sixth in shot put), Pretzer (sixth in 400) and the most points of the year was added by Kent Frid, Harry Bathey and Paragon.

Young Door, after three losses, came to life and outlasted Paragon 14-11 in an earlier game. In final action, Phlegaris turned the tables on Young Door with a 10-7 win.

Standings as of Friday:

National Bank	3	1
Phlegaris	2	1
Paragon	2	2
Young Door	1	3

HEAVEN

Tender ties bind us to our homes. Some people have spent years planning and furnishing their homes. Almost every nook has its meaning. Memories are connected with home which simply will not let themselves be erased. Even the poorest people cherish one spot above all others; and that is their home. Many in a naive way refer to it merely as their "place". Truly, home is a sweet place. This accounts for the fact that the song by John Howard Payne is so popular—

"Home, home, sweet, sweet, home,
There's no place like home."
Indeed, we are attached to our homes, but we should never be so attached that we lose sight of our heavenly home. In their proper regard for the home above, the great heroes of the faith mentioned in Hebrews Chapter 11 are an example for us.

Of Abraham it is stated that even though he was privileged to live in that unexcelled land of promise, the land of Canaan, the "flowing with milk and honey," he sojourned in the land of promise, as in a strange country, dwelling in tabernacles with Isaac and Jacob, the heirs

Christian Scientists Hear Challenge of Space Age

LEONARD T. GARNEY
Attention of Christian Scientists in the Northville area was focused last week on the annual meeting of the Mother Church in Boston.

"Humanity's emergence into the space age should be greeted with firm assurance of God's unerring direction and supporting care," the Christian Science board of directors told more than 7,000 church members. Scientific reliance on God's power is showing the way, the directors said, to bring peace and harmony both to the individual and the world. In spite of the material progress being made, it is becoming evident

Install Your Own Ceramic Tile

Simple tools, a supply of ceramic tile and surprisingly little time and money are all you need to turn home maintenance problems into good-looking ceramic tile. Whether you want to remodel the kitchen, bathroom, fireplace or patio, the first step is to check whether the surface to receive the ceramic tile is sound, plumb and free of any material that might interfere with the bond of the adhesive that holds the tile to the wall or whatever. If the surface passes this test, the next step is to prime any areas that will be exposed to steam or water. Seal all openings around fixtures, for example, with waterproof tape.

Natural Inventor Nature was at her best as an inventor when she developed wood, which is one of the best natural insulators in the world. The structure of wood is comprised of myriad cells containing dead air space which retards passage of heat. An ordinary wood wall of siding, sheathing, studs and interior paneling is equal to a brick wall three times as thick for keeping heat in and cold out.

MAKE A PORTABLE WRITING BOARD
A writing board, which can be placed on any arm chair, quickly converts a lounge chair to a temporary desk. It can be used by the youngster for "homework," the school child for homework, and by grown-ups for letter-writing. The sides are made of 1 by 6-inch lumber. The top is made of 1 by 10-inch lumber, 80 inches long. The boards are edge-glued; use of dowels is optional. If dowels are used, the top may be a ready-made drawing board. Assemble with glue and 6-inch finishing nails. Get all nail heads and fill the holes with wood filler. All sharp edges should be rounded. Paint or stain and varnish. If desired, the writing board can be easily converted to a portable compartment desk.

Readers Speak Up: Respect for Flag Missing at Parade

To the Editor:
Traditional parades and ceremonies of Memorial Day held memorial services to memory of America's war dead.

Streets in every corner of our land were alive with color, carrying flags of many hues, gold and silver pipes, drums, horns and children displaying tiny flags.

This Memorial Day I observed the parade in Northville, which had its traditional color, but lacked respect of our flag by men watching the parade from the curb and sidewalk. I noticed men with hats on, slouched over parking meters, leaning against poles and stores, feeling almost 100,000 more votes than the Republican gubernatorial candidate.

Bagwell is on leave from Michigan State university where he heads its department of written and spoken English. He is noted as an aggressive administrator by his colleagues.

The testimonial dinner is open to the public. Tickets may be purchased in Northville from Thomas Carington.

Democrats Hear 3 Top Speakers

Three prominent Wayne county Democrats addressed the newly-formed Northville Democratic club Monday night.

The group heard from Raymond Dandrea, candidate for the Democratic nomination for state senator from the 18th district, and Harvey Beadle, who will seek the Democratic nomination for state representative from the 21st district.

Both districts include Northville and Northville township.

Also on the program was Mrs. Elsie Gelmore, chairman of the Wayne county Democratic organization.

With Hill and Johnson in Europe

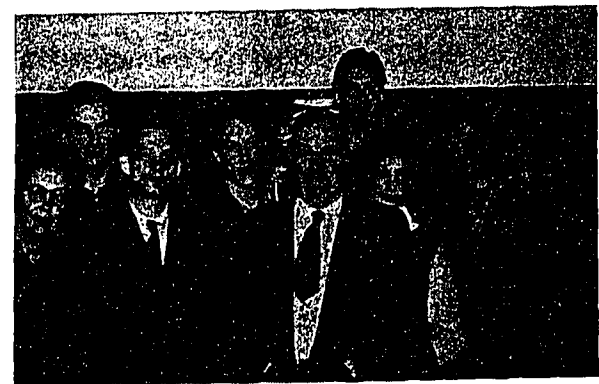

Russian Visit Highlights

Attorney Cliff Hill and Carl Johnson, owner of Johnson's Jewelry and Gift Shop, returned last week from a five weeks' tour of Europe.

The trip was Hill's idea and originally he had planned to travel alone. Johnson became interested in Hill's plan to talk with as many average citizens of Russia, Poland, Germany, etc., as possible and get their impressions of America. Hill believed, and still does, that if the peoples of the world could become better acquainted there would be less likelihood of war.

Finally, Johnson joined Hill and they were off by plane from Willow Run to New York (where they transferred from one airport to another by helicopter) and then to Copenhagen.

Johnson took hundreds of color slides, but Hill proved to be the hit of the continent with a Polaroid camera. No one had ever seen such a contraption and everywhere Hill demonstrated the camera crowds quickly gathered and gazed in amazement.

In addition Hill had a supply of small American flags and "I Like Ike" buttons which he pinned on several Russians. It was all in fun and Hill reports that the Russians were good natured and enjoyed the stunt.

In Russia Hill and Johnson had a regular guide, an employee of the government, who was their constant companion. His name was Tim and he had just graduated from Moscow university majoring in export and import techniques. Tim became their first friend and, perhaps because he was a brand new guide and did not intend to continue in the service, took them to many places they might not have visited with an older hand.

He told them that he was paid $50 per month by the government while attending college.

There were many interesting experiences related by Hill and Johnson concerning their visit in Russia.

May Day parade was very impressive, especially the row after row of people totaling some four millions that took more than four hours to march the review stands.

The average worker makes $40 per month. Cars cost $4000 each and must be ordered four years in advance and then purchased in cash.

Everything is government owned and there is no private enterprise. They saw several churches that had been converted to museums, etc.

Saw Stalin and Lenin in mausoleum where thousands stood in line. Guide took Hill and Johnson to head of the line. Bodies preserved to look completely natural. No cameras allowed, area heavily guarded.

Many buildings in Russia were impressive but inside conveniences were inferior. Hotel accommodations sub-par compared to average American hotel.

Soccer game between two best Russian teams was outstanding and attracted 100,000 people, but only 49 cars in parking lot.

Department stores look good on outside but have very little to sell inside. Not allowed to "shop" or handle merchandise. For example, to buy shoes clerk asks customer what size and whether you desire "black or brown" and then wraps the shoes and the sale is complete. Suits, dresses, etc., are sold in the same manner.

Famous Russian jet airliners apparently saved for high government officials. Russian airliner used by Hill and Johnson also carried foreign diplomat and was definitely a conc-

"Hire Now" Campaign Gains Momentum in State

SMALLER PARTIES in Michigan's political phalanx are stirring up a bit of a stir in the 1958 state election.

Only the most fervent of the faithful dream that any one of their candidates will win in November, but there is a principle to be pursued. They campaign on their beliefs every year, select partial dates for the ballot and stay alive only by devotion to a cause, however unpopular.

The latest party organization, the "Tax Cut Party," fell short of the needed 15,000 valid signatures to go on the November ballot but other, more familiar names made it. They are the Socialist Workers Party, the Socialist Labor Party and the Prohibition Party.

State Law requires them to get three per cent of the total vote to automatically stay on the ballot. In the past few years none has, so they return by petition.

Why is it that these minority parties can obtain so many more signatures to place their names on the ballot than they get votes in the election? he asked.

The answer, of course, has to do with the nature of the man.

By signing the petitions and working for their own beliefs, some go on record and fulfill their own political aspirations as the line of least resistance at the time: forget or ignore the action at voting time.

Michigan has never discouraged minority parties, but rather has encouraged them. The same elections officials had an explanation: "Even the majority parties were once minority factions."

THE HIRE NOW CAMPAIGN, launched earlier this month by the Michigan Employment Security Commission, cannot help but have value to the state's economy. Aim of the program is to remind employers that there is now an unusual good source of skilled workers, and to encourage them to hire as many as they can use.

Obviously benefit, of course, is a job for an unemployed person. Indirect benefit means that the worker and his family will stay in Michigan rather than move to another industrial area.

Economically it means that one more worker will start receiving wages he earns and be taken off the list of those who remain unemployed compensation. Drain of the recession on this fund is tremendous. If strained sufficiently, it could be completely depleted and cause still another serious problem for state government.

Success marked the start of the campaign. Before noon the first day, MESEC offices had 40 new requests for workers. The real results cannot be measured until June 30, when the promotion draws to a close.

Employees seeking skilled or unskilled workers for full or part time jobs are urged by Max Horton, director, to contact the nearest office of Michigan Employment Security Commission. Theme of the Hire Now campaign is "If he works, you profit."

MICHIGAN'S RICH TOURIST industry is expected to feel the first serious pang of the economic slump this summer.

Sees Threat of '48-Hour War

Babson Park, Massachusetts — I am convinced that international developments and the threat of World War III will have a great influence on our economy during the next few years. Events occurring abroad will be increasingly important factors in determining business, economic, and investment trends here in the United States.

Likelihood of World War III I do not expect a "World War III" in the near future. But the threat of a "48-hour war" between the United States and the Soviet Union is very real. A Korean-type war could also occur at any time. So explosive are international conditions that a 48-hour war between Russia and the U.S., if it comes, would most likely start from accident or unauthorized shooting. Under such circumstances, it is folly not to be well prepared for any fighting that may occur and for the atomic "fall-out" that would accompany it.

None of the alternatives to World War III or a 48-hour Russia-U.S. war, or to a continued "cold war" are likely to happen soon. So we must be prepared to make the best of what will be a more or less prolonged period of uncertainty in international affairs. At home, I predict we shall endure more inflation, with the value of the dollar trending steadily, though not rapidly, downward toward 25 cents.

In the light of these conditions, I favor wide diversification in stock market investments at this time. Certain retail chain store securities look good to me due to geographic distribution; but I would hold only two or three of the big transcontinental railroads. Railroads generally are facing poorly and will for several years, the dollar value of the vacation industry has ranged between $500,000,000 and $600,000,000. Last year, the volume slipped slightly.

This year, the Michigan Tourist Council is campaigning for Michigan residents to vacation in their own state, rather than taking expensive vacations elsewhere. Logically, such a course would result in these three nations federating. It all sounds fantastic to me. If it ever comes, I forecast that such a "federation" is far in the future.

Another alternative to war would be the emergence in Russia of a less ruthless, though probably still leftist, form of government. In my opinion, there is no immediate hope of this happening. Still a further alternative to war would be the appearance of a strong coalition of nations other than Russian and the U.S., as the third formidable world power. Nasser's federation of Arab states is nearly big enough for such a task, but it is possible Britain, France and West Germany together might eventually exert a new commanding influence.

Glenn Miller Band to Choose AMVET Queen Tomorrow

Carole Spewock

Phyllis Stanke

With the music of the renowned Glenn Miller orchestra in the background, 13 pretty misses will compete tomorrow night for the annual NOVI AMVETS beauty crown.

The winner will go on to a state and possibly a national judging. The Miller orchestra will play for dancing from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m., with the contest to begin shortly after 10 p.m.

The 13 contestants will appear first in evening gowns and then in bathing suits. Three finalists will be selected from the 13, and the queen will be chosen from among the three.

The Miller orchestra, under the baton of Ray McKinley, will judge the contestants. McKinley himself will serve as master of ceremonies.

The 13 contestants include: Jo Ann Lambert, a senior at Northville high school.

Linda Stewart, of Livonia.

Barbara White, of Garden City.

Carol Ann Spewock of Dearborn.

Rene Wasserman, Shirley Colter, Marlene Brochure, Joanne Bar-

Usselle Kemmala of Royal Oak.

Jane, Patricia Piarce, Eleanor Yallone, Phyllis Stanke, and Joyce Johnson, all of Detroit.

Though Novi and Northville girls have usually been outnumbered in the contest, they have fared well in the judging. Two years ago, the crown went to Jane Williams of Willowbrook Village and last year to Betty Wilson of Northville.

Each contestant will receive a corsage and three pair of shoes, with the winner receiving a $50 bond in addition. The queen will compete in the state AMVETS contest later this summer and in the national contest still later.

Tickets are good for both the dance and the contest.

Budget Up For Action In Wixom

After a year and a half of changing from township to village to city status Wixom appears ready to settle down and begin the business of running its community tonight.

The new council will hold its first official meeting and begin a newly adopted schedule calling for sessions to be held on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month.

First order of business is almost certain to be the adoption of the proposed $106,382.32 budget.

A public hearing on the 1958-59 budget was held last Thursday with less than a dozen citizens attending. No major changes were made in the budget.

Actually the city's first budget represents a two year's accumulation of expenses. Wixom started doing business as a village last July. Bills incurred by two charter commissions, the cost of operating as a village during the past year, and the anticipated expenses during the coming year are included in the first budget.

Wixom taxpayers can expect to get their first tax bills shortly after the first of July.

The budget calls for a maximum of eight mills, which Mayor Joseph Stanke points out is necessary to provide for the city's first year needs and pay off last year's bills. Nearly $11,000 in accumulated expenses are included in the budget.

Some of the major expenses listed under the budget include:

— $7800 planning consultants and consultant.

— $10,000 police department;

— $5000 fire department (for protection from Commerce and Novi townships);

— $5000 street lighting and public works department;

— $40,000 department of public works for employees, maintenance of roads and equipment.

Based on an eight mill levy against the $2,494,040 assessed valuation of Wixom the general property tax will provide $74,112.32 of the budget. The remaining receipts will come from state taxes, licenses, permits and other fees.

It also marked the last year in which Novi would have all its elementary students under one roof.

Next fall at least part of the city school near Willowbrook Village will be ready for classes.

In Northville tonight, a number of Novi students will be among seniors who will graduate from Northville high school. Commencement exercises will begin at 8 p.m. in the Northville community building.

They will be on sale in Novi business establishments.

Goodfellow Flares

Go on Sale Sunday

Road flares will be sold by Novi Goodfellow starting Sunday to help raise funds for their Christmas charity program next winter.

The flares, which burn when a cap is removed, are designed for use by motorists when changing tires or waiting for road aid.

They will be on sale in Novi business establishments.

Thunderbirds Have

Biggest Month Yet

More than 4,300 four-passenger Thunderbirds were sold during May, the highest for any month since the new luxury car was introduced last February 15.
