

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Several weeks ago this column devoted itself to teen-age job hunters. With a survey report from a national magazine to support our suspicions we noted that many jobs go unclaimed because youngsters are either too choosy or unwilling to work hard.

"It just isn't so," replied one out-of-work teenager in a letter to the newspaper. What's more the writer, a girl, noted what was being done in Plymouth to help unemployed youngsters.

I did some checking and discovered that Plymouth — and Livonia — have created "Youth Employment Services" that have become highly successful in a very few months.

There was no connection between the two community efforts. Livonia set out to find summer jobs for teen-agers. Plymouth was concerned with school drop-outs and recent high school graduates without work.

In Plymouth the employment service was an outgrowth of the YMCA program. It's supported by volunteers and funds from its local community chest.

I talked to Mike Hoben, Plymouth's high school football coach who was hired to run the employment service. Since July 5 when the service began, he's had 200 job applications and has placed 190 youngsters. Wages earned since that date total more than $40,000.

It's been quite an experience for Hoben and the job has advanced far beyond the routine of job-hunting.

It has served as a means for youngsters at loose ends to spill out their problems. They talk to Hoben and a youth commission of adult volunteers. The group has no authority or official standing — that's why youngsters are more willing to turn to it for guidance, says Hoben.

"We've prevented a potential murder and a suicide and have been the difference between failure and success to many youngsters," Hoben reports.

They're offering encouragement in many ways. They have found an $800 per month job for one unemployed 19-year-old. Others are earning 65 cents per hour plus tips waiting on table. But they are off the streets, earning money, achieving a sense of purpose in life with a goal for a more meaningful future.

Many jobs have been unfilled because the youngsters cannot qualify. In these instances special classes are being offered. No interest loans help the youngsters to take night school classes in occupational English, shop and other practical subjects.

It serves industry, the community and the youth. It unburdens rather than adds to the taxpayer's burden. It calls for effort but not necessarily dollars to perform.

I have talked briefly with Northville School Superintendent Russell Amerman about the possibilities of a similar effort locally. He notes that the creation of a re-training program centered around the new Schoolcraft college is already being considered. And he was anxious to discuss the employment service program for the community.

Roger Babson School Expansion

Every fall I become interested in the continuing expansion of our school system, affecting every part of our country. Being an economist, I am particularly fascinated by the impact of the educational process on many different business fields.

Back-to-school Sales Bonanzas — It is estimated that this season will see approximately 50,000,000 youngsters going to school, some for the first time, some for the first time to last year's by 10-20%.

Recent reports show that the nation's school system has become a tremendously important business as a result of the big splurge in school construction. Definite figures are hard to come by, but best estimates indicate that companies which make school chairs, desks, tables, etc., are selling about $100,000,000 worth annually. Special emphasis is placed upon movable furniture since the trend today is toward classes of varying sizes and special groups for different categories of study.

So wide are the needs of the nation's school system that a tremendous number of products are absorbed, either directly or indirectly. So I advise my readers who manufacture goods to look into the possibility of selling them to those constructing, furnishing, or equipping schools. Many services may also find markets in this important field.

Coming from a 77-year-old woman, talk of being legitimate was a little staggering, especially since the girl conversed and flitted about the house like an attractive woman trying to sell 50 or even more bras.

But then Maude Belva Billman of 1975 Marilyn isn't just any ordinary senior citizen. She packs more energy in her little frame than do most men 20 years her junior. She and her husband are still very active in the real estate business.

Off went a letter to Senator Smith. Back came replies, along with reproductions of biographies taken from the Library of Congress. Apparently Margaret Chase Smith was as interested in the matter as the Senator took the trouble to underline sentences of particular interest.

Under the name Belva Ann Bennett Lockwood (1830-1917) was this interesting sentence: "She was the first woman candidate for president of the United States, receiving twice, in 1849 and 1860, the nomination of the National Equal Rights party of the Pacific Coast." ("How I Ran for the Presidency," NATIONAL MAGAZINE, March, 1931).

Like Maude Belva, Belva Ann was a remarkable woman. The first woman admitted to the bar in the Supreme Court of the United States, she devoted much of her life to the struggle for woman's rights.

Internationally famous for her promotions of women's rights, temperance, peace, and arbitration, Belva Ann

Michigan Mirror Equality Emphasis

Official state policy on civil rights is that no citizen should be denied education, employment or other opportunities because of his race, religion or creed.

This policy, a long-standing one, has been spelled out in detail a number of times in recent years. The emphasis throughout the country this year on civil rights has again brought Michigan's policy to the forefront.

Gov. George Romney reminded state agencies of this policy when he first took office. A short time before that, former Gov. John B. Swainson re-issued a statement of policy to all agency heads. Prior to that, long-time Gov. G. Mennen Williams emphasized his support of the equal opportunity policy.

Activities in the South recently prompted the leaders of the two major political parties here to appoint new liaison relations coordinators to improve the civil rights policy in Michigan.

At the same time, the state Attorney General announced a plan to implement the civil rights provisions of new legislation, taking effect on January 1.

On the education front, Superintendent of Public Instruction Lynn M. Bartlett turned a state committee on equal educational opportunity. The committee's job is to determine where improvements might be needed to insure that each Michigan citizen gets his full civil rights in education.

It might be observed, that these recent efforts can only serve their intended purpose since the trend today is toward classes of varying sizes and special groups for different categories of study.

Thus, when Bartlett was asked to call a special meeting with the city's sewer commission, for every household in the city. Then, at the suggestion of Councilman R. W. Lohr, the council will agree to call a special meeting with the city's sewer commission, for every household in the city.

Approval was given for a standard 6,000-watt street light to be installed on Flamingo street near Loon drive.

The council discussed feasibility of ordering a copy of its master planning booklet, now being prepared by Villac-Lanning Associates, city planning consultants, for every household in the city. It was decided to request a proof-copy of the booklet and prices for 400. The consultants already are committed to supplying the city with 100 copies.

Robert Wagaitz, representing the planning commission, said it was the group's recommendation to obtain copies for all 500 Wixom families and for prospective industry or business developers.

In a letter to householders the council will ask that residents without house numbers on the house or mailbox install them for their own security.

"Frankly, it's an experiment. We don't know what the public reaction will be," he explained.

Tickets for the band show are available at Northville Durgas and have been distributed to all members of the Jaycees and local service clubs.

Proceeds of the event will be used by the Jaycees to promote their community activities.

In his household letter the city also will point out that residents should call the chief of police's office at 5:30 p.m.

Statistics indicate that young people are unemployed for about three times the rate for the total work force, while some jobs geared for young people go unfilled because of the lack of trained applicants. A concentrated effort by youth leaders in the schools might well be able to spot the bright and energetic who drop out of school and convince the individual that it is in his best interest to remain in school.

Plans for a green-belt planting for the Wixom city hall - recreation field area were inspected by the city council at its meeting Tuesday night.

John C. Lambert, of 1907 Charms road, presented a landscape plan for 11 main plots and accent groups containing 22 mature evergreens.

The plan was designed to provide specific paths to the recreation area, outline the tennis and skating areas.

Lambert, a part-time nurseryman, prepared the plan at the request of Mayor Wesley M. Ate.

Action on the proposal was deferred by the council until it could determine what funds might be available. Councilman Mrs. Lottie Chambers voiced the general feeling of the council in telling Lambert that he realized his cost was not excessive.

Lambert stressed that all trees would be "specimens" plants needed for the city. Then, at the suggestion of Councilman R. W. Lohr, the council will agree to call a special meeting with the city's sewer commission, for every household in the city.

Propose New Novi Road Entrance

The Wayne County Road Commission has submitted recommendations to the Northville city council for possible correction of the Novi road entrance into the community from the north.

The proposal, submitted in sketch form for "review and comment," came as the result of a meeting between members of the Oakland and Wayne county road commissions called to help resolve the criticized intersection of Novi road and the Eight Mile road cut-off. Most sweeping change would be a completely new road that would permit southbound traffic to continue onto old Baseline and Griswold and eastward around the city.

The first proposal calls for re-establishment of the connection with old Novi road. The route would swing east and connect with the Eight Mile cut-off at a point east of the bridge. This plan would leave the entrance curve into the city from Novi road the same. This proposal had no support from the council.

Plan two was more favorably received. It introduced a new road swinging east off Novi road to a point almost directly across from the Allen drive entrance into the Village Green subdivision.

The new road would swing in an arc eastward and south and connect with the cut-off just west of the present intersection of old Eight Mile and the new cut-off. The turn connection at this intersection would be moved westward.

Northville councilmen favored the plan in conjunction with this proposal that would widen the Novi road curve into the city and provide a divided entrance and exit at the cut-off.

The preferred proposal would close off the entrance of Novi road onto Novi street. Novi road entrance and exit at the Eight Mile road cut-off would be moved eastward and divided. The end portion of Novi road where it now intersects at right-angles with Novi street would be closed to traffic.

This would eliminate what police have termed a dangerous intersection at Novi street and Novi road.

Just how near the plan is to realization is hazy. City Manager Bruce Potthoff noted that the county plans were sketchy. He expressed doubt that the proposals had reached the serious drawing board stage.

But Northville councilmen were nevertheless relieved that some attention is being given the condition that has caused traffic problems, both as a dangerous curve and as a funnel that directs all southbound truck traffic down Center street.

Plant Construction Near; Preliminary Work Started

With preliminary work already well underway, construction of the initial building for the Michigan

Tractor & Machinery company was slated to begin here this week or next. Plans for the building have been approved by the village and a building permit is ready to be issued, according to Village Administrator Harold Achy.

Plans call for a concrete and steel structure 252 feet long and 77 feet wide. It will include a paint room, two steam rooms, repair shop, track and roller shop, locker and boiler room and a lunch room.

The rectangular-shaped building will have a second floor at the center of the structure — to serve as a boiler room.

According to Thomas W. Piny, official of the firm, current plans call for possible completion of the initial construction yet this year.

Preparations of the Novi road site already are well underway, with installation of concrete drive completed and footing framework started.

The property owned by the firm, some 15 acres in all and including a house just south of the building site, is located on the east side of Novi road.

The rear portion of the Michigan Tractor property is presently used by the Munn Contracting company as a landfilling site. The Novi facility may be expanded to about 30,000 square feet in size and become the firm's headquarters, according to Piny.

The initial building program "is just the first phase of a long-range operation," he said. The first building is primarily a repair and maintenance shop. It is to be located near the east side of Novi road with employee parking provided south of the building.

If proof were needed of this "thirteen-card" fever, it was supplied when Mother's Club announced its first marathon bridge tournament. Fund raising was as easy as a one-bid as three 20-member teams were formed.

Two evening teams of 10 couples each are in play as well as an all-women's afternoon team. First of the scheduled sessions being played this month and next with results being tabbed Mrs. William C. Wiley, Mrs. Harold Wright and Mrs. Gordon Forrer.

Response to the marathon was so enthusiastic that it was decided at Mother's club meeting Monday night to see if an additional team might be formed. This would bring the score to 10 participants.

Mrs. Gordon Forrer also already has hosted her own luncheon bridge group for its first fall session this month.

Returning, too, as youngsters returned to school was another two-table luncheon group which met last week at the Main street home of Mrs. O. J. Robinson.

An afternoon duplicate bridge group is meeting this Thursday at the home of Mrs. George Welts on Grace street with three tables playing.

A former Northville resident, Mrs. George F. Newlin, is entertaining a Northville group at her Farmington home this Friday.

Six couples will be playing Saturday, October 5, when Mr. and Mrs. Blake Couche host their duplicate club at their Nine Mile road home.

MEMBERS OF NORTHVILLE'S DISTAFF BOTANISTS group will be far from bored this Thursday with a luncheon at the Top of the Flame restaurant in Detroit.

Mrs. William Kelly is this year's chairman for the 15-member group of women gardening enthusiasts who have been meeting monthly for the past two-and-a-half years.

HOW LONG IS A NEW RESIDENT a newcomer in the Northville area? For its membership tea last week newcomers club decided — three years. About 60 "newcomers" attended the tea given in the Woodhill road homes of Mrs. John Walker and Mrs. O. J. Evans.

The two-home arrangement worked out very well, the hostesses report, as Mrs. Walker's farm colonial is just four houses away from Mrs. Evans' New Orleans white colonial. Both were delighted that very recently arrived newcomers turned out for the tea with many joining the group.

Taking turns at the tea services were Mrs. E. O. Weber, Mrs. James Telum, Mrs. Fred Sarnes, Mrs. Stewart Dugan, Mrs. Charles VanVleet, Mrs. David Vinson, Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Murphy, Mrs. Frank Sullivan, Mrs. Donald Carr, Mrs. P. J. Weging, Mrs. Carl Henderson, Mrs. Douglas Knapp, Mrs. Orin Howe, Mrs. Walter Avery, Mrs. Elynn Kaake and Mrs. Arthur Hempe.

Mrs. William G. Williams and Mrs. John W. Blackburn will be co-hostesses at a luncheon baby shower to be given Friday at the home of Mrs. Williams of Eaton drive. The 20 guests will honor Mrs. Boris Diminoff, the former Suzie Cowie, who will be home from Michigan State university to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Cowie. Because he is a member of the Spatan football team, Mr. Diminoff will not be accompanying his wife.

GOING, GOING, GONE — These words created plenty of excitement Saturday as hundreds attended the auction-rummage sale during the two-day Fall Festival at Our Lady of Victory. The little girl at the left moved in close to make sure her bid was heard.

Label Fall Festival A Tremendous Success

Officials have labeled the Fall Festival at Our Lady of Victory last weekend as "unusually" successful.

While proceeds and attendance figures were not available by publication time, a spokesman said the event was exceptionally well received.

Winners of the prizes were: Television, Mrs. Luella Gilen of Ann Arbor; $100 basket, Stewart Dugan, 2030 Woodhill; two Town Hall tickets, George Bandoff of 12 Mile road; hair dryer, Mrs. Tom

The employees were permitted to show their friends their particular job and how everything worked.

After the tour the guests were served refreshments of coffee, doughnuts and soft drinks. Over 25,000 doughnuts were served.

There was a 1961 street car complete with plastic horse.

Annual Fair At Hospital Draws Near

Excitement is mounting at Northville State Hospital where patients eagerly await the Eleventh Annual Patients Fair slated for October 1 and 2.

With plans all but complete, only inclement weather can halt the spinning of the bingo wheels, the start of the dice-horse races, the ball throws, and the shooting gallery.

More than 20 groups comprising 150 volunteers, plus hospital employees, will make sure that the 17 booths are monitored and well supplied with prizes.

Should rainy weather take the place of expected Indian summer, arrangements are completed for the outdoor event to be held later that week or the following week, according to Louis J. Schmidt, director of community relations at the hospital.

Added this year to the music, which will be provided by Eddie Schick and his orchestra of Detroit, and an organ recital by the Sunday School choir of Plymouth, will be a busy group of puppets operated on a portable stage by Walter Russman of Bloomfield Hills.

Although many of the patients cannot play quickly enough to win prizes in the games of chance, others have beat with the band or watch extra entertainment that is planned, Schmidt explained.

On the first afternoon of the fair, Mrs. Byron Champion of Plymouth, hospital's chairman for this year's fair, will be honored as volunteer of the month. She was honored last year by the United Community Services of Metropolitan Detroit. Her interest in volunteer activities for the hospital patients date from 1952 and every year, through several organizations, she has given hours of service to patients.

Among these persons from the Northville area who will head up committees for the fair are: Wallace Westerdahl, Northville, and Randy 316, who spends his time keeping room busy at home. Another important member of the family is Miss Roberta Carr, decorations.

Among the local area groups participating or providing financial assistance for the fair and their chairman are:

Northville Newcomers Club, Mrs. F. F. Isabe; Northville Optimist club, Roger McClean; Northville Psychiatric Association, Francis Collins; and Northville State Hospital Auxiliary, Mrs. Gladys Horning.

A carpenter and cabinetmaker by trade, Hartley is a vigorous craftsman who, when he takes time off for resting, listens to the music of Bach and other masters, and then proceeds to write poetry.

Mr. and Mrs. Evert Pettys have left Wixom having spent the summer in Highland. Mayor and Mrs. Wesley McAtee are the proud parents of a new baby girl, weighing over six pounds. She was born in St. Mary's hospital, Livonia Monday, September 23. The McAtees have three other daughters and one son.

James Weatherdons and sons Scott, Brian and Randy

Frequent trips to the Northville area over the past several years led finally to the move of the James Weatherdons family to a new home at 387 Welch.

Now settled in their home after moving from Reelford township about a month ago, James and Ruth Weatherdons and their three sons are convinced they made the right move — even though they felt an attachment years ago while visiting Mrs. Weatherdons' brother, Leonard Boquet, at 4210 West Eight Mile road.

The sons of the Weatherdons are: Scott 11, a seventh grader, Brian 10, a fifth grader at Amernan, and Randy 9, who spends his time keeping room busy at home. Another important member of the family is a friendly black poodle.

Mr. Weatherdons is a plant security employee at General Motors' Detroit Diesel plant. He has been with GM for nine years.

Born and raised in the Detroit area, the Weatherdons had lived in Reelford for nearly 12 years before moving here. "We had been looking for a suitable home in the Northville area for a long time. Our boys

Bids Sought For Post Office

The Post Office Department is seeking competitive bids to build and lease the new Northville post office, Deputy Postmaster General Sidney W. Bishop announced this week.

Under the Department's Lease Construction program, the site selected at the southeast corner of South Welch and West City streets will be assigned to the successful bidder who will purchase the property, construct the building according to departmental specifications and lease it to the Post Office Department for a lease period of ten years with options to renew the lease for an additional twenty years.

Because Northville is located in a redevelopment area eligible to take part in the new Area Redevelopment Administration program, Bishop said the project will be of particular value to the city.

"This is another example of the way in which the Post Office Department, along with other Federal agencies, is coordinating its activities to achieve the goal of the Area Redevelopment Act, in line with President Kennedy's wish that all Federal resources be mobilized to help revitalize communities of chronic unemployment and underemployment in order to make them better places in which to live, work and to do business," Bishop said.

Bidding documents will be available on or about September 25, 1963, and may be obtained from Mr. J. J. Jankowski, Real Estate Officer, Post Office Department, Room 604, 1301 West Fort Street, General Offices Building, Post Office Box 666, Detroit, Michigan 48222.

The real estate officer will supply bid forms, building specifications, lease provisions and other pertinent information. Bids must be submitted to the real estate officer by November 12, not later than 2 p.m.

KEY TO OFFENSE—Mustang back Mike Hall digs for the open spaces against Clarenceville. But it wouldn't be possible without the blocking of a teammate in the foreground. That's what coaches yell for all season long - blocking. Northville got just enough to whip the Trojans, 14-6.

Local Eleven Wins, 14-6

Mustang Defense Hobbles Trojans

An iron-clad Northville defense put the clamp on the Trojans at Clarenceville Friday night, 14-6, to win its first Wayne-Oakland county league contest.

The eight point spread is no indication of the defensive prowess of the Mustangs as they swarmed over their opponents. In fact, the defenders reversed the showing made the previous week against a good Plymouth squad to even the Mustangs' season record at 1-1.

Clarenceville could muster only three first downs and two of these were tainted.

This drive proved costly for the Trojans as a 15 yard interference penalty and the last came in the winning seconds of the game when the Trojans defenses were set for a long pass.

And the defensive unit left just five yards short of punching out the last 21 yards of the game.

With the Trojans deep in their own territory - on the 17 yard line - they tried a daring pass which was picked off by Northville Linebacker Larry Angove. He scooped 12 yards to the five before he was tackled out of bounds.

Two thrusts by senior Fullback Ron Rice and the Black and Orange hit pay dirt for the second time in the quarter. Rice also scored the local team's first touchdown earlier in the second period and both extra points.

The Mustangs gave up one touchdown in the third quarter.

Trojan Danny Ernie grabbed a fumble out of mid-air on the Northville 27. He raced for the five. Jim Bedeen circled right end behind a host of blockers for the tally.

Key factor in the Mustangs' defensive play was their hard rush of the passer. Five times they tackled a Trojan as he was scanning the field for a receiver.

The Lakers, trailing 19-4 at half time, capitalized on a late drive, according to Coach Ron Horvath, and a lax Holly defense on a kick-off return to turn the tide.

As if the West Bloomfield-Holly scores weren't enough, the Broncos from Holly are bigger than the local gridiron players interested in a fumble, according to Coach Ron Horvath.

And Northville is having troubles of its own because of injuries. Coach Horvath said that the Mustangs will play a defensive game, and pray for the breaks. At the same time, he's hoping the Northville offense will catch fire.

Juday Wins Nod For Starting Role

Northville's Steve Juday will be called the signals for Michigan State University when he starts Saturday.

That's the word from Coach Dudy Daugherty. Juday is the first sophomore pick at quarterback since 1940.

A battle royal raged for the starting job at quarterback between Juday and Junior Dick Proebstel.

On the basis of his performance last spring, Juday led the jump, but Proebstel closed ground on the strength of improved play this fall. In fact, they were running neck and neck.

The Waterloo was last Saturday's scrimmage. Daugherty reportedly studied the game films and finally singled out Juday.

Daugherty declined to tell what was the determining factor, but Juday's passing may have been the difference. He's the better passer.

Unlike the previous year, the Spartans will be passing more to compensate for a lack of size.

Juday was an outstanding passer with the Mustangs in '61 when he led them on an undefeated drive for the Wayne-Oakland County league championship. In the process, he grabbed the starting job by the absence of Cummings, reserve Fullback Mike Hall will switch to tailback. Larry Angove normally a linebacker, and Mike Mahoney, an Artie Fort, an untired junior, will assume Angove's linebacking duties.

Defensive halfback, Gary London and Dale French will share right halfback in the absence of Wilson.

As in the game against Clarenceville, Coach Horvath said that the Mustangs will play a defensive game, and pray for the breaks. At the same time, he's hoping the Northville offense will catch fire.

Next Up: Holly

The Northville Mustangs will be leaving their baskets at home tomorrow night, when they journey to Holly to play the Broncos.

It won't be any picnic. Far from it.

West Bloomfield, last year's co-champions and a favorite to cop the title this year, barely scored out a 29-0 win over the Broncos last Friday.

The Lakers, trailing 19-4 at half time, capitalized on a late drive, according to Coach Ron Horvath, and a lax Holly defense on a kick-off return to turn the tide.

As if the West Bloomfield-Holly scores weren't enough, the Broncos from Holly are bigger than the local gridiron players interested in a fumble, according to Coach Ron Horvath.

And Northville is having troubles of its own because of injuries. Coach Horvath said that the Mustangs will play a defensive game, and pray for the breaks. At the same time, he's hoping the Northville offense will catch fire.

Here's How Grid Contest Will Work

Thrills of football are here again, and so too is the annual football contest sponsored by this newspaper and cooperating merchants.

Get out your pencil, check your fact sheets, and get ready for another fun-filled season.

Rules for the contest (see Page 4, Section 2) are slightly different than in past years so contestants are urged to check them carefully before entering.

Three prizes will be offered weekly, with the top winner receiving $10, second-place winner $7, and third-place winner $5.

Basically, the difference in this year's contest is that contestants are asked to write their "winners" on a plain piece of paper instead of filling out an entry blank.

After numbering from 1 to 20 down the left hand side of the paper, contestants are required:

- to write the name of the sponsor of the corresponding number square.

- to write the name of the winning team following the sponsor's name.

- to pick a score on the outcome of game in square 20.

Disputes School Minutes

To the Editor: For reasons unknown to only a few, or just a misunderstanding of intent; my name appeared in the last official minutes of the meeting of the Board of Education.

Through entering into a discussion with a board member I was quite surprised to read of it in such a confused way. Altho, I am pleased opinions are carried on to the Board meetings, I only hope that other citizens complaints and opinions are relayed as fast as mine.

The words — help, aid, assist — can come from a person as well as spoken to be used for the benefit to one or more persons. These type of words do not come from this writer.

These same words may be spoken to stimulate, encourage, and expect the best from leadership in an elected office in the capacity they represent. These type of words do not come from this writer.

Mr. William Crump, President Board of Education, Northville, Michigan Dear Sir:

It has been brought to my attention via the Northville Record that the Board of Education is planning to increase the number of members from 12 to 20 years olds or adolescent children.

The service building, costing $725,000, is one of the most elaborate installations of its kind in the state.

With two-way walk-in coolers and freezers, food can be stored from one end and removed for cooking from the other. To facilitate food handling, the kitchen equipment proceeds from storage coolers to the kitchen coolers to preparation area to cooking area to heated carts.

The cooking area has overhead ventilation with a steam jacketed boiler.

Under the direction of the Department of Mental Health, Plymouth State Home & Training School was established for the mentally retarded in July, 1958.

The present site of approximately 250 acres was purchased from Wayne County for one dollar and construction of the hospital-administration building began the same year.

In December of 1961, the primary building was completed, providing housing for an additional 220 severely retarded children.

The present patient population is approximately 700, including 30 children who have been returned to the community.

Officials anticipate the population to reach 1800 when the expansion program is completed.

Planning money has already been appropriated for a two-story patient building for young ambulatory children was completed. To reduce the cost of operation of the present building, the 220 patients in Farmington were transferred to the new building at Northville.

The Kinder intervention program can put on the appeals board's apparent position is that they are ready to run away from a first pogon goes off.

No doubt a future issue of the Record will tell the voters how this rubbish fill will be unique. It won't have garbage and smoke and fires and rats like any other dump, because our courageous township officials will have safeguards to rigidly control this dump.

The Record reported our Northville township attorney theorized and opined that "to deny any landfill operation could result in a court decision to do with the laundry and maintenance buildings yet to be considered, it is estimated that an additional eight to 10 million dollars will be expended to complete the building program at the school.

Detroit Offers 20 Acres As Possible School Site Here

Northville school officials have received an inquiry from the city of Detroit concerning possible sale of a 20-acre parcel of Maybury Sanatorium property for a school site.

According to Superintendent Russell Amerman, an official of the Detroit planning commission asked him if the school district would be interested in having Detroit reserve a 20-acre parcel for that purpose.

I appreciate the consideration given me and am pleased to see the School Board is concerned with the thoughts and opinions of its citizens.

Respectfully yours Mrs. Arthur Hempe

Champ Thrills Crowd with Billiard Finesse

The place was Minneapolis. A good-size poolroom. Spectators everywhere but on the cue racks. "He was a hot-tempered guy, anyway. So when it was over he tossed his cue against the ceiling and said something like 'Why, that little squirt! He's never had a run like that and he probably never will again.'"

Others who rate among the top in the champ's book are Andrew Ponzi, Erwin Rudolph and Andrew St. Gene. "It was the late Greenleaf, of course, who held the world's championship for 12 years before Mosconi grabbed the title from tournament play in 1938. He played two exhibitions daily, 200 days each year, from the end of the country to the other. But there was a time when practice was a daily business. He recalled with a wry smile that as a youngster he once practiced with round potatoes when his father locked up the billiard balls because he was neglecting his chores.

EASY VICTORY — Playing former state champion Frank Serra of Livonia during his demonstration in Northville, Willie Mosconi had little difficulty in wrapping up another victory. But the world's champ had plenty of praise for his aging opponent who drew a loud round of applause for his finesse.

MISS... AND RIP — This perpendicular shot, according to the world champion billiard player, isn't too difficult. But with the tremendous downward force of the cue, a miss could be a little disastrous for the table covering.

At the age of 15, he started playing seriously. Then when he turned 18 he became a professional, winning the national tournament and placing second in the world's tournament. It took him eight years before he finally won the biggest title of all — the world's championship.

As a tournament player, he put together 15 world's championships, and established the all-time record high run of 520 balls. Mosconi, who plans to retire at 51 and settle down with his family in New Jersey, noted Thursday that this once very popular sport, which suffered a serious setback with the development of professional football and basketball, TV and family bowling, is now "coming back strong."

Years ago some 25 million people were engaged in the game, but it soon lost its popularity and the estimated participants dropped to about 2 million. "It's back up to between 20 and 21 million now and I'll venture to say it'll hit 25 million again in a few years," the grey-headed champ said.

The new surge in billiard popularity, he explained, is due to a "rediscovery" by the youngsters of the nation. Older people forgot the game, he added, and their children out looking for something different are discovering it for themselves.

Admitting that the old-type pool hall was a "hang-out" for smokers, hoodlums, etc., he maintained that this element is fast disappearing.

"Don't tell me about the 'burns,'" he said, "I've seen more of them on a golf course than I've seen in these places."

Regarding his role as instructor for Jackie Gleason and other members of the cast for the movie, The Hustler, Mosconi said he stars were quick to pick up the tricks of the game. "It's really not difficult if you know what you're doing."

And no one can appreciate that statement more than a reporter for this newspaper, who after a whispered pointer from Mosconi, surprised both himself and the audience Thursday by plunking six balls into six different pockets with one shot.

Religion Like a Wedding
When people make up their minds to be critical they have no difficulty finding subject matter. Trying to please someone who has decided not to like you is an impossible task. One inch from the mythical line to rectitude and at once there is the scorn of the critic.

The same people attacked of Jesus because he made a too great claim for himself as because another was making religion too easy.
John the Baptist was too austere; Jesus too social.
John's disciples fasted, Jesus' did not. Jesus' reply was that you do not expect people to fast and mourn at a wedding. He suggested that religion should be like a wedding.

This suggestion was quite different and anything different to the conventionally well established. Different ideas open too many doors and introduce too many new possibilities. Someone might question the established order and disturb our Great Belief that there is "safety in custom." It may not produce efficiently but it is "safe."

When the Good News of Jesus introduces new Christ there is a wedding
— a wedding of my life to
His. The Bible does not talk about religion. The Bible is a record of a living God who contrasts man, then and now. Religion is often social custom, institutionalized ethics, tradition-ridden.
The Faith that Jesus proclaimed was "revolutionary and full of expectancy. Look at the people with whom Jesus was concerned; those with human need, the lame, the maimed, the blind, the sick — sick in body, in soul
and in mind; the outcast;
the untouchables; the downtrodden; the sinner; those who suffered injustice.

Today, if we are going to follow Jesus and be a part of his wedding party, worship the God of the living and not the dead, we must share His concern. We must share His concern not only in church but also in the life we live with our family, our neighbors, our neighborhood. The voice of the Prophet of the Old Testament and the Christ of the New Testament must never be silenced when it cries out against injustice. We must listen, and then we must follow, wedding our lives to His.

of Reformation" and will be

WHY ADVERTISE?
There's only one businesslike reason to advertise.
You can make more money WITH advertising than you can WITHOUT advertising. This means your advertising is an investment... not an expense.

- HERE ARE FIVE WAYS ADVERTISING PAYS DIVIDENDS:
1. Advertising builds a desirable reputation for your business. You must sell your store as the place to buy before you can sell your merchandise.
 2. Advertising attracts new customers to your store. Before you can really sell, you have to bring customers to your store. Advertising attracts new customers, brings back former customers... many more and much faster.
 3. Advertising helps you meet and overcome the fierce competition in today's retailing world. Advertising helps you maintain and protect your business.
 4. Advertising is informative... it tells your customer what's new.
 5. Advertising increases profits by building volume. Competition tends to trim profits on each sale, so volume becomes the key to success. Advertising gets your selling message to enough people to build volume sales.

It's Time To Enjoy Colorama

Michigan's annual color extravaganza is at hand. It is the time of year when motorists fly the thousands flock to county roads to view nature's vivid colors. Almost any area becomes an attraction.

Michigan offers many opportunities for color tours, points out Jerry E. Fisher, Automobile Club of Michigan touring manager.

"Tours begin in Michigan's Upper Peninsula about mid-September, reach a peak in the northern half of the Lower Peninsula in late September or early October, and make a last stand in the southern half of the state about mid-October." Fisher said. "The time depends on the arrival of killing frost."

Fisher suggests five widely separated areas where motorists can enjoy Indian Summer to the fullest. He adds, however that this is merely a sampling and that the motorist will likely pass through many other areas of equal beauty. These are his locations:

1. Munising area of the Hiawatha National Forest; take US-2, then leave the main highway for maximum enjoyment.

2. Grand Traverse Bay area, from Traverse City north to US-1 to Traverse City, then county roads.

3. Newaygo area of Manistee National Forest. Take M-46 or M-57 to Newaygo, then the back roads.

4. Tawas - Oscoda area along Lake Huron. Take US-23, then the county roads.

5. Oakland county, with particular attention to Kensington Park on 146 and county roads in the northern portion.

Practice Session
Practice is the key to top-notch performance by Northville's jazz band. Members practice together at least once each week, and section groups within the band practice individually as well. These two pictures were taken at a practice session last week when Director Robert Williams was filling in for a missing player (back row). According to the director, the band has been invited back for another performance at the National Collegiate Jazz Band Festival at Albion.

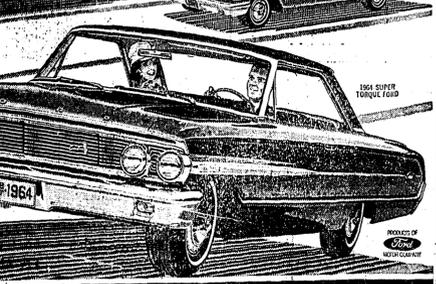

Goodwill Pickup
The next visit of Goodwill Industries pickup trucks to Northville is scheduled for Monday. Goodwill trucks collect household discards of clothing, shoes, hats, toys, most types of furniture and other household discards.

To arrange for a Goodwill Industries truck pickup, ask the operator for toll-free Enterprise 702.

The '64s from Ford are here: The Year of the Test Drive starts today!

Ford cars have changed. Only a test drive can tell you how much. Races and rallies, economy runs, braking and acceleration tests have bred into our 1964 models the kind of total performance you just can't create on the test track alone. They are hard-muscled, fast-moving, sure-footed. Open competition helped make them that way. They offer you substantially more car than anything at their price. You don't have to take our word for it. We're willing to rest our case on our cars.

Expect great things from Chevrolet again for '64

Today... Jet-smooth Luxury '64 CHEVROLET

Chevrolet was luxurious before, but today you should see it now. With smart styling, the '64 Chevrolet looks even longer (but isn't). There's even Super Sports—with front bucket seats as standard equipment. (The new Impalas and Bel Airs are more luxurious, too. Even the lowest priced Biscaynes have new foam-cushioned seats front and rear and are fully carpeted.) Of course, you expect more than just luxury from Chevrolet. A choice of 16 power teams for instance—a 6 and six V8's up to 425 hp (optional at extra cost). And quieter transmissions. Jet-smooth ride with Full Coil suspension. Flush-and-dry rocker panels, Delecotron generator, self-adjusting brakes* and other low-upkeep features. If you've ever wondered how luxurious Chevrolet could get—with all the extra-cost options there are to choose from—that's entirely up to you.

OUR GOAL — Torch Drive leaders with their quota for Wayne County's northeasternmost region. Mrs. Jess P. Santo, regional chairman, holds up the figure for Harold G. Weber (left) Ford Motor Company executive, who is regional co-chairman for business solicitation, and William R. Keith, assistant manager, Northville office, Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit, who is special prospects chairman for Western Wayne county. Region 21 includes Northville, Livonia, Redford and Franklin townships, and Garden City. Quotas by divisions show that Northville residents, to be solicited by volunteers directed by Chairman Mrs. Paul Hughes, 39915 Harbert, are to raise $1,996, while business solicitors led by LeRoy Stone of Gambles Hardware are to obtain $1,483. Business solicitation in Western Wayne county is to start September 30 and run through Friday, October 25. Residential solicitation will be from October 16 through 25th.

Novi Methodist Church Promotion and Rally day is scheduled for September 29 at the church hour. Also dedication of Sunday School teachers and presentation of Bibles to Sunday School children. Each school hour there will be a special program put on by the church school students. All parents are invited to attend.

The M.Y.F. meeting will be held at 7:00 at the church with leaders, Mr. and Mrs. Dirk Groeneberg in charge.

The W.S.C. and church school is sponsoring a collection of mittens and socks, used or new, any size; men, women and children; to send to their missionary, Mrs. Shaw in Korea. Since they will be sent by boat to save expense all donations should be made by the last of September.

The official board meeting was held at the church this Wednesday evening.

Next Wednesday church members are invited to attend open house at the Brighton Methodist church from 3-4 p.m. Sunday, September 29.

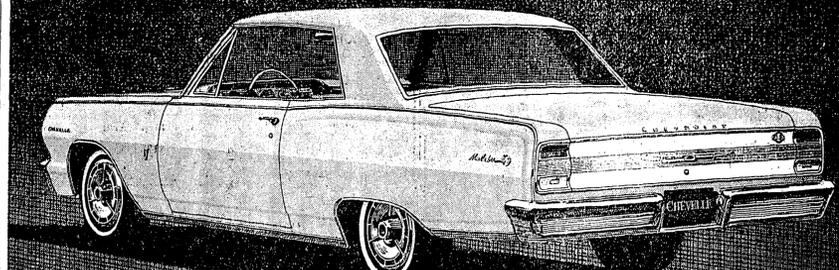

Quarterly Conference is held Thursday (Monday) at 6:30 in Ypsilanti.

More members are needed in the adult choir. Practice at 7:30 Wednesday evenings.

The first fall meeting of the Novi Farm Bureau was held Tuesday evening at the Novi Community hall. The meeting began with a 6:30 potluck supper.

The new officers are as follows: President, Mrs. Margaret vice president, Robert Crantell; secretary and treasurer, Gladys Burgess; minute man, chairman, Ed Egan; women's committee, Lillian Miller, and sick committee, Ed Ash.

Take your first look at the first CHEVELLE!

CHEVELLE! by Chevrolet

You've never seen anything like this totally new line of cars before. Chevelle is new in everything but Chevrolet quality. Chevelle is a good foot shorter than the big cars, so it parks easily. Yet the interior of its body by Fisher gives you a generous supply of passenger and luggage room. The ride is surprisingly smooth with a rugged coil spring at all four wheels. And not so surprisingly for Chevrolet, the new Chevelle offers a choice of engines ranging from an economical 120-hp 6 to a 220-hp

V8 (optional at extra cost). Choose the Chevelle you like best from the three series — the Malibu Super Sport, the Malibu and the 300 Series, eleven models in all — at your Chevrolet dealer's. (This good-looking Malibu Super Sport maybe?)

Area Residents To Test Drive New Fords

John Mach of John Mach Ford Sales announced this week that 22 area residents will be participating in the first phase of a national consumer opinion program instituted by Ford Division of Ford Motor Company.

Ford calls the program the "Million Mile Review." The idea, according to Mach, is to have more than a million miles of miles totaled in test drives.

"During the next 28 days," Mach said, "selected Ford dealers all over the nation will be loaning out new Fords for 24-hour periods. 'Review' program participants are expected to number more than 22,000. And averaging the number of miles driven by each participant, we figure the total will go well over the million mile mark. This is probably the most extensive program of its kind ever instituted. We'll have more than a million miles of road testing on new Fords by consumers, in just 28 days!"

When the participants return the borrowed car, they'll be asked to rate it on an opinion form. "Ford will then use these forms to determine the public reaction to the changes in Ford for '64," Mach added.

Long-Term Mortgages; Are They for You?

When you buy a house, consider both the advantages and disadvantages before you decide on a long-term mortgage, advises the Michigan State University Extension Agent.

The chief disadvantages are that the total interest costs are considerably higher and equity in the house is built up more slowly.

In fact, a $15,000 loan at 6 percent annual interest for 35 years will cost the homeowner $17,823 in interest alone. Had the same loan been obtained for 20 years, interest payments would have been only $9,294.

An advantage of long-term mortgages is that they allow lower income families to become homeowners. They enable a family with a certain amount to spend for monthly payments to buy a more expensive house. And they make it easier to sell the house, because more people may be attracted by a long-term mortgage and a small cash settlement.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Every now and then I write something about the threat of shopping centers to Northville's business district.

It serves to remind our merchants that times are changing, new people are moving to town and the ever-increasing population of our area will soon become an attractive plumb for some enterprising promoter to pluck off.

It's conceivable that he could pick out a spot somewhere between here and Plymouth, erect a handful of stores, pour a couple of acres of concrete for parking and start drawing in the customers.

The possibility should concern each of us, whether we are merchants or not.

Loss of local business is certain to lower commercial property values, which would result in reduced tax income from the business district. And government, unlike gravity, has a law that says if something goes down, something else must go up — like residential taxes, for instance.

Like I've said before, one group of individuals is concerned with this problem. They're our city planners.

Wally Nichols is chairman of the central business district committee for the planning commission.

He asked me last week what local businessmen thought about their plan for Northville's shopping center. He's been unable to determine any reaction and has decided that "if the approach is wrong, we ought to forget it."

I told him I thought that most businessmen and their landlords understand the value of a plan for the future (which is becoming more immediate) but they're like a man with a toothache. He knows he should go to the dentist, but he's afraid the cure will hurt worse.

In this case, "the cure" is money. Financial aspects of the proposed "central business district" plan can be frightening to one owning business property — just as frightening as the results of no planning.

But consideration of the plan costs nothing. Planners and businessmen should get together, probably in a series of meetings, and decide to adopt, amend or scuttle the central business district plan.

The Northville Area Development Corporation is about to stamp the word "complete" on its first project — the $135,000 expansion of Foundry Plank & Equipment company.

Construction of the addition is scheduled to begin this week. Sale of debentures under the direction of Nelson Schrader continues — and committee members are convinced it will be wrapped up quickly.

About $10,000 worth of debentures remain. For those with idle money it's an opportunity for a sound, six per cent investment. Read the advertisement elsewhere on this page for details.

Teacher Turnover Rate 10%

Lansing — Teacher turnover in Michigan runs about 10 per cent annually, according to a survey by the State Department of Public Instruction.

Superintendent Lynn M. Bartlett believes that most are a small minority in the teaching ranks.

The study, however, showed there were 21,149 male teachers and 43,897 females. Most of the men were in the secondary schools, with only 5,601 teaching at the elementary level. Men outnumbered women teachers, 15,648 to 11,952, in the secondary system last year.

The 10 per cent attrition represented 6,221 teachers.

Analysis of the survey showed 27.2 per cent went to other school districts, another 19.6 per cent retired, 9.4 per cent obtained other employment and 2 per cent died. The other 28.7 per cent gave up their teaching posts for unknown or miscellaneous reasons, Bartlett said.

The extensive study also showed the number of fulltime teachers in Michigan reached months of the year higher than the total number hurt in water accidents during all of 1962, however, the department said.

Now a new selling campaign is getting under way, similar to that intended in the planning of Michigan Week promotions.

The group conducting the survey is headed by A. R. Saunders, executive vice president of the Michigan Real Estate Association.

Known as the Michigan Minute-men, the new unit hopes to sell the state 365 days a year to attract new industries, tourists and permanent residents.

Working as leaders of the Minute-men are executive secretaries or managers of 12 organizations representing civic, farm, labor, religious, professional and trade associations.

Each of the associations in turn will enlist members of the Minute-men, which derived its name from the volunteer unit trained before the Revolutionary War to "fight at a minute's notice."

Water accidents are not confined to summer activities, Children noted. Three of the victims were recorded this year. One fell through ice, another fell from a bridge, banks, docks or piers.

Planning for the annual Michigan Week has come to be nearly a year-round job for the organizers of the event.

This is as it was hoped when the annual brag week was initiated a decade ago.

Unforeseen Upsets Economy

BABSON PARK, Mass. — business and the stock market over the past one hundred years or so.

Starting at the time of the Civil War, business was relatively stable and followed to climb in a healthy way from the end of the war. The unexpected events are often the most powerful influence. The way our stock market system is set up in our democratic society permits the wildest ups and downs in investment prices — and stocks tumbled sharply. The crash was followed by a year of depression. Precarious, business boom until the crash on the gold market brought a sudden plunge known to financial men as the time as "Black Friday."

I can always learn a great deal simply by reviewing the effects of unexpected events on stocks under a good microscope.

A new flood of investment selling was brought about by the sudden showing of President Garfield on July 1, 1880. Out of this panic came the unsettling failure of the great banking house of Grant and Ward and of the two most important "bulls" of the period, Henry Villard and James H. Keane. As usual, another depression came along after these unexpected events and lasted a few years.

Prosperity prevailed generally in 1882; came a shattering blow in May 1893: The failure of the National Cash Register Company. This firm was then one of the nation's ten largest, and was considered a real "blue chip."

The next year, a flash of lightning, came the nation's first serious walkout, the Pullman Strike. Pessimism spread across the country, increased still further by a rash of crop failures and mortgage foreclosures. By 1897, the market were again so bright that forecasts of permanent prosperity were once more being made. Stock splits, large security offerings, and mergers were the order of the day. Then, in 1903, came another unexpected happening: A Supreme Court decision followed a charge of "undigested securities" involving investigation of leading life insurance and transit corporations which were then extremely popular.

All these events were truly unexpected. But then came another totally unforeseen occurrence. This time it was the San Francisco earthquake! Interference with business by the federal government kept market prices soft in the early 1900's, but things went well after our entrance into World War I until 1929 when stocks lost ground due to very high interest rates. After this situation was corrected, the market went skyward until 1929. It hit what was then the all-time highs of 1929. I do not

by JACK W. HOFFMAN

His name was Duff, this eccentric young man who survived his second year of college on a diet of breakfast cereals. He lived in a musty cellar near the MSU campus, wore an unkempt beard and a soiled sweatshirt, and seldom studied.

I was sitting in the general's private barber chair one morning, enjoying the ridiculous privilege of having my locks shorn while a couple of angry captains were forced to wait their turns.

The door opened, conversation stopped, and in strode someone with what must have been a great deal of arrogance. Since I am nearly blind without my glasses, I guessed he must have been the officer in charge of the general's office. He is still? ... Never mind ... Get him off the post ... In the latrine. Did anybody? ... Please, out the back way."

He wore a beautiful of medals, even a Purple Heart, but on my honor that officer was nearly in tears as two suspicious characters "tip-toed out the back door."

Short on manpower but long on determination, the Novi junior high graders will try to stretch their win streak over Northville to three today (Thursday) when the two teams clash on Ford Field.

The game is scheduled to get underway at 4 p.m. Last year, Novi copied two victories from Northville, but now Novi will be working under a greater handicap. Only 20 hopefuls answered Coach John Osborne's "call-to-arms."

Furthermore, Osborne said that he will be depending on "untried" seventh graders to back up returning veterans.

There are six letter winners. They are Quarterback Gregg Carr, Halfback Bill MacBee, Ends-Doug Anglin and Lloyd Ruten, Tackle Tom Van Eoy and Center Dale Price.

Expected to fill out the Novi ranks on the basis of their performances in practice are Halfbacks Greg Krist and Ron Thompson, Guards Dave Gibson, Levon Tafraian and Joe Morrison, Tackles Bill Christians and Lee Snow, Ends Jeff Adams and Jon Van Wagner.

On the other hand, Northville reportedly has 60 grad-

Public Hearing Set October 26

Novi Citizens to Get Look at Master Plan

A village master plan, which has been under production, studied, revised and studied again during the past several years, will be unveiled in its entirety here later this month.

Planning board members agreed Monday night to present the master plan to the citizens of Novi at a public hearing Saturday, October 26, between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.

By holding the public hearing over a longer period of time, the board hopes more people will have an opportunity to inspect it and make their comments, suggestions and complaints known.

The master plan has been compiled for several months in a book prepared by Warren and Johnson, planning consultants. Copies of it and related maps will be on display at the public hearing.

Presumably, adoption or rejection of the plan will follow the hearing.

The master plan encompasses a wide area of study, projections and future planning. Among these are:

- General characteristics of Novi, including topography and surface features, land use, population, existing land use, and housing.
- Land use, including land use and population, residential, commercial and industrial.
- Thoroughfares and street layout.
- Schools including estimated future enrollment, family characteristics, school enrollment at capacity, elementary school needs, acquisition of school sites, etc.
- Parks, parkways and playgrounds, including need, long range plan, types, etc.
- Civic betterment, including village beautification, civic betterment commission, and scope of activity.
- Public facilities, including civic center, department of public safety, department of public works, parks, libraries and health agencies.
- Churches, including community function, potential population size and acquisition, etc.

While the master plan represents years of work, sections of it may be changed or revised — even if a public hearing and subsequent approval. This section will be included in this month's hearing only because it is part of the overall master plan.

Its physical plan, as stated in the book's introduction, is geared to form the best pattern for living, work and play, aiming at the "most efficient arrangement of space, land use and services, so that costs in money, time, and movements are held to a minimum so that values and assets can be conserved."

Actually, one section of the master plan — that dealing with thoroughfare planning — has already been aimed at a public hearing and subsequently approved. Thus, this section will be included in this month's hearing only because it is part of the overall master plan.

2 Hurt As Cars Tumble

Two motorists suffered minor injuries this past week when their cars skidded out of control on Novi roads and tipped over.

Both cars were badly damaged.

Mrs. Jarekoff Kraus of Dearborn suffered head injuries and her husband, a passenger in the car, suffered leg bruises when her car skidded 15 feet along 10 Mile road early Saturday evening, plunged into the ditch and rolled over.

Both were treated at St. Mary's Hospital in Livonia.

According to Novi police, Kraus claimed another motorist put her in lane, forcing her to turn quickly thus causing her to lose control of the car.

No tickets were issued.

On Sunday morning, Lawrence P. Sharrard, 16, of New Hudson, suffered minor bruises when he lost control of his car while driving south on Napier between 11 Mile and 10 Mile roads.

The youth could give no real reason for the accident, although police noted that loose gravel covered the roadway.

Other investigations made by Novi police this past week included:

- Arrest of three 19-year-old Hager Woods boys Sunday near the corner of Duane and Austin on charges of being minors in possession of alcoholic beverages.
- Philip F. Gabriel, Eugene W. Macudinski, and Lucian G. Genova are to appear in court today on the charges.
- Burglary of tools Thursday from barn at 4181 Ten Mile road, owned by John Missina of Detroit. A padlock had been broken open, police said.
- Injury of Dennis MacDermaid, 9, of 4456 Stassen, who fell on the concrete while playing at Novi school, suffering a possible mild concussion.
- Arrest of two youths on charges of being disorderly at Novi school, suffering a possible mild concussion.
- Area residents are urged to attend the ceremonies on hand will be the architect, contractor, Novi municipal officials and members of the Novi board of education.
- Although the formal groundbreaking is still two weeks away, construction already has begun and preliminary work is proceeding at a brisk clip. Laying of concrete blocks was expected to begin yet this week.

Water Line Speedup Seen Predict Completion To Center This Year

Extension of a Detroit water line to Northville is expected even sooner than originally anticipated.

And with it comes a "new offer" from the city of Detroit that has prompted Northville officials to take another look at its choice of sources for residents of the "dry well" southeast section of the township.

Plans by the GreenSpring Building Company to construct new "homes-cas" off Wixom road, subdivision and within 1,000 feet of the proposed water line along Napier currently are being held up by the delay in the sewer line plans.

And, ironically, it is the development of these new homes and others that will eventually make the purchase of Detroit water economically sound, a case long made by the city.

Earlier Remus had predicted the line would be installed next Spring.

Status of Wayne county water line work and plans now show:

- that a Detroit water line under construction between Farmington and Newburgh roads will be completed soon;
- that bids are in and contracts are to be let soon for extension of the line from Newburgh to Meadowbrook road;
- that plans for extension of the line from Meadowbrook to Center street in Northville are in Chicago awaiting formal approval by a federal agency to secure matching funds;
- that installation of the latter extension should begin yet this fall and be completed by the end of the year;
- that extension of the line from Northville along Sheldon road to Five Mile road should be started and be completed next spring.

While county water line plans move rapidly ahead, negotiations between Mrs. Paul LeBest, owner of the Willowbrook Water company, and the village of Novi continue. Last meeting between representatives of the village and Mrs. LeBest took place Monday.

According to Village Administrator Harold Achby, Mrs. LeBest desires to sell the water company to the village but at this point village officials are unsure whether or not such a purchase would be financially sound.

The next step, according to Achby, will be to inspect plans showing the original location of lines, sizes, etc. Once this information has been studied, he added, the village will attempt to come up with the financial value of the water system, and finally, an attempt to negotiate some kind of agreement will be made.

Officials are moving cautiously, he said, because the wells, pumps, etc. would be of Detroit water is purchased.

Current plans of the Detroit water board call for construction of a 24-inch line north from Eight Mile road through Haggerty to Five Mile road. These plans still are in the drawing board stage, but it is assumed they too will be stopped up in the light of Detroit's latest announcement.

While most Novi officials hopefully look forward to a supply of Detroit water, they are faced with the problem of finding enough local water users to make purchase of water economically feasible. Presently, with the existing limited number of potential users in Novi, cost of purchasing Detroit water would be prohibitive.
