

WELCOME HOME—You do a lot of worrying when your only son, a 21-year-old Marine sergeant, spends nearly all of his 13 months in Vietnam in combat. So when he finally comes home, safe and unharmed, you're mighty happy. And you'll do just about anything to show him how happy you are. Like having a professional painter come up with signs for the house window, lawn and garage as did Mr. and Mrs. Wendell F. Bryce, 1978 Smock road, last week when their son, Fred, came home from the war. Also, thrilled by the Northville graduate's homecoming but unable to be present because of a honeymoon was Fred's newly married sister, Air Force Lt. Joan Smock.

Northville Woman Sells First of Her Many Songs

Years of writing finally paid off for Grace S. Miller, 41 Center street, when the lyrics to her song, "Lonely Rider," was purchased by Music City Songwriters of Nashville, Tennessee last week.

A country music song, of the "song poem" variety that can easily be set to music, "Lonely Rider" is but one of hundreds of songs written by Mrs. Miller, wife of the late Mr. George W. Miller. It is the first she has sold, however.

It was prompted by a remark of a son who said he was considering riding one of his horses to Colorado. "He said it would be a long trip and thinking, 'Yes, and lonely, too.' That got me thinking and I started writing."

About Our Servicemen

Twice Wounded Marine Back on Duty

Marine Sergeant Robert Elwell, a twice-wounded former Northville high school student, has returned to duty in Vietnam following a month of hospitalization.

One of three children of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Elwell, former residents of Northville now living in Farmington, Sergeant Elwell was first wounded in both legs during the bombing of his air base at Dang Ho on the Fourth of July weekend — just a month after he living in Vietnam. Returned to duty, he was again wounded during the Labor Day weekend — this time when struck in the head by shrapnel. Six of his close friends were killed in the attack.

Mrs. Elwell, an employee at the A&P store in Northville, credits Robert Piser, The Detroit News correspondent in Vietnam, with saving her son's life. "Bob was running from the radar tower for the bunkers with his buddies when he was hit," she explains. "Mr. Piser grabbed my boy, dragged him to the bunker and gave him first aid and then later took him to the hospital. He saved my boy's life, I'm sure."

Ten days after reaching his 20th birthday, the young Marine was decorated with his second Purple Heart and received his sergeant's stripes. Sergeant Elwell has a little more than a year of his four-year enlistment yet to serve.

Ft. Knox, Kentucky — Army Privates Samuel J. Chizmar and Shurt J. Schlier are assigned to Company A, 16 Battalion, 4 Brigade, here in the United States Army Training Center, Armor (USATCA).

They will spend the next two months learning the fundamental skills of the soldier in today's modern, action Army — firing live ammunition under simulated combat situations, learning protective measures and first-aid for chemical, biological and radiological attacks, as well as being schooled in the use of modern arms.

Interspersed with constant emphasis of proper physical conditioning, diet, rest and health habits, will be ample opportunity to utilize USATCA's many and varied recreational and religious facilities.

Following the completion of basic training, Private Schlier, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Schlier, of 43540 West Six Mile and Private Chizmar, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Chizmar of 1950 Maxwell, will receive at least an additional eight weeks of either advanced instruction or on-the-job training to qualify them in a specialized military skill.

Ft. Knox, Kentucky — Thomas E. Green, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Green, 770 Wolverine Drive was promoted to Army private pay grade E-2 upon completion of basic combat training at Ft. Knox, Kentucky.

The promotion was awarded two months earlier than is customary under an Army policy providing incentive for outstanding trainees.

As many as half the trainees in each training cycle are eligible for the early promotion, based on scores attained during range firing, high score on the physical combat proficiency test, military bearing and leadership potential.

During advanced individual training, also of eight weeks duration, those who received early advancement to E-2 may be eligible for another "accelerated" promotion to E-3 (private first class).

*****
Army Private John R. Baldwin, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Baldwin, 945 Hugo Reid drive, Arcadia, California, was assigned to the 39th Engineer Battalion in Vietnam, September 5.

Baldwin, a combat engineer with Company B of the battalion, entered the Army in April of this year and was last assigned at Ft. Leonard Wood, Missouri.

His wife, Elizabeth, lives at 219 Ely drive, South, Northville.

James Honsinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Honsinger, 9884 Currie road, entered the service September 20 and is now enrolled in Army basic training at Ft. Knox, Kentucky.

Bird Hunters Beware! Novi Law Bags Firearms

State Hunting licenses are not automatic permits to hunt in Novi, Police Chief Lee BeGole warned this week as he and his police force braced themselves for the pheasant season that opens October 20.

To prove his point, the chief noted the arrest this week of a duck hunter who was caught with two ducks shot before Monday's 11 a.m. duck season opener.

Not only was Danny L. Deaton, 19 of 901 South Lake drive arrested for illegally shooting ducks several hours before the opening, he was charged with violating Novi's back-door "no-hunting" ordinance.

The ordinance, explained BeGole, does not prohibit hunting but it does prohibit use of firearms — except by special permit — and thus, in effect, makes hunting illegal "unless you want to hunt birds and rabbits with a knife."

Under the ordinance, adopted in 1961, only owners of five acres or more of property and their friends who have 60-day permits, are allowed to hunt with firearms during hunting season.

And only qualified property owners may apply for the permits for themselves and their friends, the chief explained. Unfortunately, biggest violators, said BeGole, are property owners, who mistakenly believe that they may hunt on their own property provided they have only a state hunting license.

Furthermore, the ordinance prohibits use of firearms in non-hunting seasons as well, he added.

BeGole said that his department occasionally grants individual permits, particularly for hunting in the Walled Lake area, because there are few property owners with five acres in that vicinity. But these permits, he emphasized, are granted only to "persons we know will use firearms in a safe and reasonable manner."

Noting that the community cannot prohibit hunting, except by a special act of the legislature — as was done a year ago in Northville township, BeGole said the village no-firearms ordinance nevertheless has been just as effective in reducing the number of "hunting complaints" received by the police department.

Less than half the number of complaints are received now as were received before the ordinance was enacted, he added.

Annually, the Novi police department posts "no-firearms" signs in strategic locations in the village. Posting this year already is well underway, he said. In addition, property owners are encouraged to post their own property, he added.

Conceding that the village ordinance might be considered a disguised "no-hunting" law, BeGole said its purpose is not to prohibit all hunting but rather it is designed to prevent the annual invasion of hunters from other areas."

China Painter Mrs. Daniel Latchford

Poor Health Tonic Sparks 'New Life'

What started as a tonic for poor health a dozen years ago is today a "way of life" for an active Novi housewife. "Who next week will direct one of the nation's largest hand-painted china shows."

Poor health, recalls Mrs. Daniel Latchford, who lives at 46881 Grand River, prompted her doctor to suggest a hobby as a "cure" back in 1955. Now that "cure" is almost a full-time occupation.

The suggestion led to an adult education class in china painting at Walled Lake. But two years of this training would not suffice and Mrs. Latchford turned to private instruction. Lessons followed with Nora Luce, Emma Begum and Wilfred Bruce, three renowned teachers in the field.

One thing led to another, she said, until she had established a studio in her home and started teaching china painting.

Along the way, she became active in several professional organizations and eventually became an officer for a number of them.

A past vice-president of the International China Painting Teachers organization (1962-1964), she currently is president of the Michigan China Painting Teachers association and acting chairman of the North Central Region of the International China Painting Teachers organization.

It is in this latter capacity that she will serve as exhibit chairman October 20 and 21 of a major exhibit and sale of hand-painted china at the Holiday Inn in Dearborn. She has personally arranged many of the pieces that will be shown as well as participating in floor demonstrations and lectures.

"It's a fascinating field," explains Mrs. Latchford, who has produced many internationally recognized china paintings, "you meet people from all over the world."

Actually, painting had interested her prior to those initial classes 12 years ago. Earlier in her life she studied drawing and water color techniques but eventually had to give up this pursuit to assist her widowed mother in a dressmaking business. Following her marriage and the birth of a son and a daughter, she eventually turned to still another form of art, becoming proficient as an interior decorator and later operator of her own slip cover and drapery business.

Her love for art was passed on to her two children, with her son now employed as a commercial artist in Louisville, Kentucky, and her daughter, who is a decorator.

What about her husband? "Well, his business (parachute packing, repair and sales) began as a hobby," she smiles. Today he operates a prosperous business next to their home where his artistic wife claims laughingly, while painting a leaf on another dish, "I'm a pretty good rider, too—we both packed parachutes during the war."

Boosters Push Calendar Sale

The second annual sale of the Novi Band Boosters community calendar got underway this week.

Members of the Boosters calendar committee have already begun to solicit businesses and professions, while others are working in the area of service and civic groups, lodges, etc. in an attempt to secure meeting dates to be entered on the calendar.

Band members in grades seven through 11 will sell calendars and secure birth and anniversary dates from local families on Saturday and Sunday.

Although many hand uniforms have been purchased — for which the calendar project was established — officials point out that uniforms are still needed for one grade in order to completely outfit the band.

Novi Jaycettes Elect Officers

Mrs. Gwynne Cherhill was elected president of the newly formed Novi Jaycette auxiliary last Thursday night. Other new officers are Sandy Delfs, vice-president; Jane Collins, secretary; Deana Sommers, treasurer; and Kathy Reid, director.

The Jaycettes next general membership meeting will be held at the president's home, 24068 Gene Ridge court, on November 13. All meetings begin at 8 p.m.

Interested women whose husbands are Jaycettes or prospective Jaycettes are invited to attend the meeting. Additional information may be obtained by calling 476-6191.

GROUND BREAKING — The First Baptist Church of Wixom recently broke ground for its new Christian education unit. Looking on as Wixom Mayor Wesley McAtee turns the traditional first shovelful of dirt are (l to r) Rev. Robert V. Warren, pastor; Sid Counts, chairman of the board of Deacons;

Kenneth Gibby, Sunday school superintendent; Forrest Hubball, contractor; and Everett Pearsall, chairman of the board of trustees.

Northville and Novi quotas for the 1967 Torch Drive were received this week by residential and business campaign chairmen as preparations near completion for launching the United Foundation campaign next Tuesday.

Northville residential quota is $2,536 with the business quota set at $1,195. In Novi the residential quota is $1,010 with a business quota of $3,171.

Frank Ollendorf, Northville city manager, heads up the business area solicitation. Members of his committee who have been assigned specific businesses to call upon are Del Black, Charles Freydl, Jr., Stanley Johnston, Charles Lapham, Al Lutz, Richard Lyon, Philip Ogilvie and William Sliger.

Northville residential district chairman is Mrs. David L. Longridge, Jr., 323 Reed. Another Northville woman whose husband's business is in Novi, Mrs. John McGuire, 240 Orchard, is now Novi residential chairman.

Robert Hight, president of Indiana Lake Window & Framalun company of Novi, is Oakland county regional chairman for the area that includes Novi, South Lyon, Wixom and Walled Lake.

Novi and Northville leaders report to Oakland and Western Wayne county chairmen, respectively.

Oakland county goal is $295,517 in house-to-house solicitations with the commercial and business goal set at $69,609.

Western Wayne County residential unit chairman Mrs. Arthur R. Hempt, Jr., of Northville, has the goal of $94,136 for home solicitations. Quota for the Western Wayne community-business campaign is $37,345. Directing the canvas of neighborhood businesses, offices, stores and plants in Oakland county is Edward J. Blanch, assistant comptroller of Ford Motor company.

Area contributions will go toward the overall goal of $26,360,595 which is to underwrite operating costs of nearly 200 local, state and national community services. Of this total nearly one million is to be raised through residential solicitations in the tri-county area. The business target is $501,246.

More than 130,000 volunteers will call on neighbors and fellow workers for contributions during the 16th annual drive. It will be the UP's first campaign not headed by the ailing Walter C. Laidlaw. Laidlaw is recuperating from recent surgery. In founding the TD in 1949 and directing each of its record-setting campaigns he established a pattern for more than 2,000 other unified campaigns in communities throughout the country.

The campaign becomes official at noon Tuesday when 800 Torch volunteers will gather for a kick-off luncheon in the grand ballroom of the Sheraton Cadillac headquarters. Messages from the campaign general chairman, Robert B. Semple, Wyandotte Chemicals corporation president, and United Foundation president Wendell W. Anderson, Jr., president of Bundy corporation, will be given. Anderson also will signal the opening of the campaign by passing a lit torch to Semple and challenging chairmen to meet or surpass the goal of the victory drive.

Principal speaker will be Joseph L. Hudson, Jr., former TD chairman and UF vice-president, also chairman of the new Detroit committee. Guest artist will be native Detroit Margaret Whiting. Also coming for the campaign will be Miss America of 1968, Debra Dene Barnes of Pittsburg, Kansas.

PLANNING NEVER STOPS for one of Novi's most active organizations, the board of commerce. On the heels of sponsoring another successful Gala Days celebration, the board is looking ahead to more ways of boosting the community—including its annual Halloween party for Novi youngsters.

Here in a board of directors meeting, officials plan new activities and discuss ways of attracting new members. They are (l to r)

Harold Ackley, trustee; Mrs. Florence Harris, treasurer; Russell Taylor, president; Ray Warren, vice-president; and Peter Alcega, secretary. Absent are trustees Ken Bassett and Dick Bur.

For Wixom Sunday School

Church Breaks Ground

Another page in the long history of the First Baptist Church of Wixom is in the making with construction of a new $145,000 Christian education unit.

Groundbreaking for the new facility at the church, 320 North Wixom road, was conducted October 1.

The two-story Sunday school unit will be 90 feet long, 40 feet wide. Remodeling work also will be done on the front of the present church sanctuary built in 1960.

Carl Gaiser of Birmingham is the architect, Forrest Hubball of Walled Lake, the contractor. Completion of construction is set for March, 1968.

The Wixom church experienced phenomenal growth during the past four years as attendance of the Sunday school climbed from 201 in 1963 to last year's high of 308 per Sunday. Last March the Sunday school reached an all time record high of 489, and officials have set a goal of 500 for this year.

First Baptist of Wixom also has grown financially, according to the pastor, Robert V. Warren. Receipts in 1963 totaled $65,000, whereas the receipts in 1966 totaled more than $47,000. Missionary contributions also increased significantly from $1,500 in 1963 to nearly $7,000 last year. The church supports 20 different missions.

Quoting a lady of the times many years later, "The Church was built by donations of time, means, labor, and money from people of all denominations with the promise that it could be used by all denominations for funerals.

On January 12, 1865 the new church was dedicated with a sermon by President Fairbanks of Hillsdale college. After the sermon, Deacon Sibley's oldest daughter, Harriet, came down the aisle and was married to Pastor Drew.

In 1897 Rev. J. C. Robinson proposed moving the building into the center of town. This took two weeks in October, 1897, using a team of horses and a sweep with planks underneath on which rollers were used.

The young people, led by Rev. E. H. Sayles, built the first addition and dedicated it October 8 and 9, 1910. Rev. H. J. Thibault was pastor from 1921-1925 and, led by him, a basement was put under the first addition.

On July 1 and 2, 1938, the church centennial was celebrated. Before Rev. Wanley left in 1932 a four-year program of addition was instituted and carried out by the Rev. Bill Green. In 1958 a new building site of five acres was purchased. Another 1 1/2 acres was later acquired, one acre donated by Rollin J. Porter, and the new church building, 106 x 37 feet, was constructed and furnished for approximately $100,000. The cornerstone of the old building is now in the vestibule of the new building.

The church's history can be traced back to 1838 when a dozen families settled in Michigan and organized, under the leadership of Rev. C. P. Goodrich, the First Free Baptist Association of Commerce. They met in homes until 1854 after which they met in a red frame school house that stood near the road in the present cemetery.

Eventually, this building was outgrown and red brick building was placed just north and back from the road.

A new pastor, graduate of Hillsdale suffered a smashed elbow and Dave Adema, halfback, was hit in the arm by a helmet injuring a muscle in last week's 33-7 whipping at the hands of league-leading Clinton.

Neither is expected to play tomorrow, Osborne said.

However, the coach said Jon VanWagner, who played periodically last week, has apparently fully recovered from his pre-season leg injury and is expected to see action throughout tomorrow's contest.

Although Osborne had little reason for optimism following his squad's lopsided loss to Clinton, he praised the performance of his quarterback, Gary Boyer, who scored Novi's lone touchdown and extra point.

Boyer, who gained 123 yards on the ground, "played a fine offensive and defensive game, showing plenty of spirit and drive," the coach said.

The quarterback scored his touchdown in a fourth-down fake punt situation in the first quarter. He darted the left end and galloped 64 yards for the TD. The extra point put Northville into a 7-6 lead—but only briefly as Clinton quickly regained command and began adding insult to injury.

Tomorrow's Novi opponent, Columbia Central, last week edged Whitmore Lake, 12-6. And it was the Trojans who defeated Novi in its first home opener.

Nevertheless, Osborne is not giving up. He says he'll field a much-improved team than the one that lost to Whitmore.

Injuries Hit Novi Wildcats

Injuries continued to plague Novi Coach John Osborne this week as two more gridlers were dropped from the lineup as the Wildcats prepared to tangle with Columbia Central here tomorrow.

Game time: 4 p.m.

According to Osborne Tackle Dan Douglas suffered a smashed elbow and Dave Adema, halfback, was hit in the arm by a helmet injuring a muscle in last week's 33-7 whipping at the hands of league-leading Clinton.

Neither is expected to play tomorrow, Osborne said.

First Concert Slated Sunday

Plymouth Symphony orchestra's first concert of its 22nd season will be presented at 4 p.m. Sunday, October 15, in the Plymouth high school with Wayne Dunlap conducting.

Soloist on the program will be Mascha Mischakoff, concert-master of the Detroit Symphony orchestra. Mischakoff, who played with the Detroit Symphony after this season, came to Detroit in 1952 after serving for 15 years as concertmaster of the NBC orchestra under Toscanini. Prior to that he played with the Chicago Symphony while Frederick Stock was conductor and with the Philadelphia orchestra under Leopold Stokowski.

Born in Russia in 1897, Mischakoff early decided on his objectives and at the age of seven struck out for himself, going to Kharkov to study violin with Gorsky, with whom his 12-year-old brother already was studying. A year later he became a pupil of Leopold Auer at the Imperial conservatory, graduating at 16 with all top honors. He then served as concertmaster at the Moscow Grand Opera and Moscow Philharmonic orchestra.

Sunday's Plymouth symphony program lists Symphonic Metamorphoses of Themes by Carl Maria von Weber, Hindemith; Symphony No. 8 in G Major, Dvorak; and Concerto in D Major for violin and orchestra, Beethoven.

RETICULES and fans are carried by Northville Woman's club jubilee program committee who donned rustling silk gowns of yesteryear for the club's luncheon program at Meadowbrook country club last chairman of the day. Mrs. Yohne's McKinley-period gown once belonged to a teacher-relative whose pupils at Nankin school included Henry Ford.

Friday opening the club's 75th year. From left are Mrs. A. J. Verschaeve, Mrs. E. M. Starkweather, Mrs. E. A. Chapman and Mrs. Charles Yohne, program

Judy Nauman Troth Told

Plans for a November wedding are being made by Judith Ann Nauman whose engagement to Dr. John DaSilva is announced this week by her mother, Mrs. Philip Nauman, 21831 Commemora drive.

Judy was to arrive Tuesday from New York City where she has been on the nursing staff at Bellevue Hospital. Her fiancé formerly was associated with the hospital and now is head of the oral surgery clinic at Camp Pendleton, San Diego, California, where he expects to be stationed for two years.

MELODIES that were in vogue around the turn of the century when Northville Woman's club was a "true blue stocking" group are examined by Mrs. E. V. Ellison, right, club president, and Mrs. Harvey Whipple, left, at the club's diamond jubilee luncheon Friday.

In Our Town

By JEAN DAY

CROQUET was the name of the game played on hard dirt grounds between the apple trees in Northville 75 years ago. The era in which pink roses bloomed on Brussels carpets and homes were surrounded by spindle fences was recalled nostalgically for members and guests of the Northville Woman's club last Friday as the club opened its diamond jubilee year with a luncheon at Meadowbrook country club.

Lending authenticity to the program culled from first-person papers in the club's historybook were costumes worn by the program committee. Mrs. E. A. Chapman's vanilla gown edged and scalloped in bachelorette blue was a contrast to the rustling blacks worn by Mrs. Charles Yohne, chairman, Mrs. E. M. Starkweather, and Mrs. A. J. Verschaeve. They read papers describing Northville's early churches and homes and the music of the time.

In welcoming members and guests to the anniversary luncheon Mrs. E. V. Ellison, woman's club president, promised that the club would be marking the year with many special events, including a revival of the Gentlemen's Evening of 1924.

Mrs. Blake Couse welcomed past presidents who traditionally are honored at the luncheon. Response was given by Mrs. Harvey Whipple, Mrs. William Crump announced that Mrs. O. F. Reng is the club's new 25-year honorary member.

MEMBERS OF THE Northville branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden association, will find that "getting there is half the fun" as they ride out to the Highland recreation area to take a field trip through the grounds of Haven Hill, the summer home of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edsel Ford, next Monday morning. There will be a lecture with the field trip.

A day at Haven Hill always has been a popular event for the club. Mrs. Orson Atkinson, publicity chairman, reports, but this month it will double as a fall color tour into the countryside. Members may bring guests. Those attending are to meet at the Kroger parking lot by 8:30 a.m. Today is the deadline for reservations for luncheon in the Haven Hill dining room. They are to be made with Mrs. C. W. Whittlesey, 349-1285.

CHRISTMAS MAGIC - executed with felt, glitter and even coathangers - will be taught in an arts-and-crafts series of eight demonstration lectures by Mrs. Gene Cushing. Under sponsorship of the Northville recreation program, the eight lessons will be given from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Thursdays, beginning October 19, in the Scout-recreation building, according to Robert From, recreation director.

A member of the Northville branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden association, Wilma Cushing has given demonstrations for the club and other area groups in both decorating and flower arranging. Following the examples created by her expert fingers adults taking the class should finish with ornaments and decorations just in time for the holiday season. Mrs. Cushing says each pupil will make a Christmas tree holder - and other decorations, such as snowball trees, cornucopias and felt table squares.

Limited to 30, registrations for the class ($8 for the series) should be mailed to the Northville Recreation department, Northville City Hall. Further information may be obtained from From, 349-2287.

TWO NEW NEIGHBORS in Shadbrook subdivision were welcomed and introduced at a coffee given last Wednesday by Mrs. Charles Fountain at her home on Pleasant Mrs. L. H. Robertson was co-hostess.

Mrs. Fountain introduced her next-door neighbor, Mrs. John Balkwill, and Mrs. Louis E. Yeager. The Balkwill family moved into the former home of the John Kerrs. From Greensburg, Indiana, they have a son, John, a Northville high school sophomore, at home and a daughter, Susan, who is a junior at the University of Wisconsin.

Mr. and Mrs. Yeager are not strangers to Northville as they moved from Northville Estates to Pinebrook road in Shadbrook. Their former home on Standstead road has been purchased by the Willard Klotz family from Ohio.

NORTHVILLE'S FIRST Vintage Home Tour was a success the sun shined upon last Thursday. The autumn day brought out almost 500 visitors, mostly from other areas, Mrs. Keith Wright, tour chairman, reports that in the one day between $800 and $900 was raised for the woman's association of Northville Presbyterian church on the tour, the bake and antique sale.

Newlyweds Return To Studies at MSU

Following a honeymoon in Nassau, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Clifford Wehman have returned to their studies at Michigan State University.

They were married September 9 at St. John's Episcopal church in Plymouth with Father David T. Davies officiating at the candlelight ceremony at 5:30 p.m. The bride is the former Patricia E. Pressly, daughter of Mrs. Patricia M. Pressly, 413 Elly drive south, and the late William Pressly.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Wehman of West Chicago, Illinois. They exchanged vows at an altar decorated with white chrysanthemums.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Michael D. Pressly, who came home from Alamo, Illinois, where he is attending Roosevelt military academy, for the ceremonies. The bride's gown of white chiffon over silk was fashioned with a butterfly train. It was embroidered with lace flowers and seed pearls. Her illusion veil was held with a petal crown. She carried a cascade arrangement of roses and snowdrift mums centered with a pale yellow Fugi mum.

Kip Wilson, maid of honor, and Mrs. Carol Conrad, matron of honor, wore gold crepe empire gowns with silk bows and floor-length trains. They carried bronze and yellow mums.

Jim Ferguson of Chicago was best man. Ushers were Dean Butler, Lansing, and Paul Leising, Milwaukee. The bride's mother wore a pink silk ribbon brocade dress and matching coat. The bridegroom's mother chose a sapphire blue silk dress and coat. Their corsages were cymbidium orchids.

A reception and buffet dinner for 80 guests from Illinois, Ohio, Indiana, Wisconsin and Michigan followed at the church. The new Mrs. Wehman changed to a purple and white tulle ensemble for her wedding trip. She is studying for a degree in elementary education. Her husband expects to receive his PhD in chemistry in June.

Speak Wedding Vows In Plymouth Ceremony

Following a September ceremony, Clifford Hirst Wilson and his bride, the former Linda Louise Luefing, have been making their home in Plymouth.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Earl Luefing, 48441 Territorial road, Plymouth, and the late Mr. Luefing. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Wilson, 48151 West Six Mile road.

For her marriage September 2 at Plymouth First Presbyterian church the bride wore a floor-length, semi-fitted gown of white satin with lace overlay. It was fashioned with a scallop neckline and wristlength sleeves. Her matching lace train was banded with satin. A chapel cap held her fingertip veil. She carried white sweetheart roses.

The Reverend Lewis Brown officiated at the ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Lloyd Sharland.

The bride's sister, Nancy Ellen Luefing, was honor maid in a floor-length gown of orchid lace over tulle. She carried a cascade of pink asters and baby roses. The bridegroom's brother, William Wilson, was best man. Ushers were James Anonelli and Richard Sharland.

For the wedding and garden reception following at the bride's home for 150 guests, the bride's mother chose an aqua lace sheath with matching accessories. Mrs. Wilson wore beige crepe with matching accessories. Out-of-town guests attended from Elkhart, Indiana, Bay City, Flint and Detroit.

The bride is with Travel Plans in Northville. Her husband is attending Eastern Michigan university and is employed at Ford Motor company. They are living at 49554 Maple, Plymouth.

Historical Society To Meet Tuesday

Activities of the Northville Historical Society will resume Tuesday following summer recess.

The first meeting, which will get underway at 8 p.m. in the home of Linda and Kate Edgerton, 571 Randolph, will feature a Bell Telephone slide presentation of historical paintings.

Cards notifying members of the meeting have been sent out, but President Mrs. Ruth Starkweather emphasizes that all persons in the community are welcome to attend. Refreshments will be served.

Following Tuesday's meeting the Society will meet Tuesday, November 21 at which time a program featuring news about Northville from old issues of The Northville Record will be presented.

Because the Society is interested in establishing a historical museum in Northville, information about and pictures of museums in other communities are being gathered for presentation as a program later in the season.

Still other programs coming up will include another talk by Dr. Ferris Lewis, retired college professor, and a historical presentation on Northville churches.

Paris Room hair stylists know how to give short hair this brief and breezy air. They use jumbo rollers and two smaller ones in front for this set. Brush with brief strokes in the directions of the rollers, skimming the top layer of hair with light strokes to form the feathery curls. Fashion a curl at the center of the brow, form side quiches with brush tip, and mist lightly with hair spray.

Newlyweds Honeymoon In Northern Michigan

Newlywed Mr. and Mrs. John A.
Bailey now are making their home in Holt, Michigan, following a Northern Michigan honeymoon. Mrs. Bailey is the former Carolyn Marie Tuthill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Tuthill of Farmington. Her husband is the son of
Mr. and Mrs. William Bailey, 118 East
Cady street.

They exchanged vows in a double ring ceremony September 16 at St.
Paul's Lutheran church of Farmington with the Reverend Walter Rutkowski officiating.

William Bailey, the bridegroom's brother, was best man. Ushers were Richard Serra and Harold Searfoss.
A reception at Cregar's Pickwick
House followed the ceremony.

The bride's A-line gown of Irish linen was made by her mother. Seed pearls and cotton lace accented the high waist and edged the elbow-length sleeves and skirt. A floral crown held her illusion veil. Her bouquet was a cascade of carnations and baby mums.

Maid of honor was Racena Bailey, sister of the bridegroom. Bridesmaids were the bride's sisters, Mrs. Richard Serra and Mrs. Harry Walker. They wore bright pink floor-length crepe gowns and carried cascades of pink carnations and baby mums.

A SENSE OF SECURITY

THE CHURCH FOR ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest force for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a non-political organization. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are many reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For the sake of the community and nation. (2) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs the moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Money in a savings account? Money in a checking account? Money in your pocket? These all add up to a fine sense of security. But as everybody knows, the security of money can disappear. The stock market drops, expenses chew up your savings.

There's another kind of security that is not based on the feeble, material treasures of life. It is the security needed when sickness strikes, a son or daughter disappoints you, or death takes a loved one. This security chases out doubt and fear. It enables us to go right on living day by day, certain that we will not walk alone. In fact, God has said that He will never leave us nor forsake us.

Discover for yourself this security! In your church you can find those eternal values if you trust in the security of Him who cannot fail.

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

Rev. S. D. Kinde
First Methodist Church of Northville

Persons living in the Northville area of Michigan live in the midst of beautiful and fruitful trees. Have you taken a hike down any country road and seen the black walnut and shag-bark hickory nut trees laden with nuts? Have you traveled over Seven Mile, Eight Mile, or Novi Roads and seen apple trees with limbs bowed down with delicious red apples? What an inspiring sight to see the maples in orange and red leaves next to a poplar with yellow leaves showing through coloration that fall is here.

This is a good time to take a camera and hike down one of the nature trails in Kensington Park. One of the trees has stood in the forest there for 250 years and is worthy of a second look by those who walk by.

A tall, stately tree is a symbol of strength and endurance. Some of the trees have endured wind, lightning, fire, drought, and the ravaging attacks of insects and disease.

Even a small, twisted pine high on a rocky ledge speaks of strength because it has stood through the years with a meager soil and steadfast against wind and snow, and hail.

Such trees are able to stand because they have imbedded their root system in the rocks about them.

We can learn a lesson or two from a thoughtful study of trees. We need to deepen and strengthen our faith in God so that we may be able to stand tall against the storms and troubles of life. Temptations that beat against our lives like a winter gale need to be faced and overcome. We need to be rooted in a sure faith that we may overcome all evil and do good.

Christ is our example of One who stood for the right and who kept a faith in God. In his good life he towered tall among men like a mighty tree.

Let us read the first Psalm thoughtfully:

Blessed is the man who walks in the counsel of the wicked, nor stands in the way of sinners, nor sits in the seat of scoffers; but his delight is in the law of the Lord, and on His law he meditates day and night.

He is like a tree planted by the rivers of water, that yields its fruit in its season, and its leaf does not wither. In all he does he prospers.

This is a great Psalm but I would rather begin it this way:

"Blessed is the man who is like a tree planted by the rivers of water." Finding in the words "planted" and "rivers of water" symbols of that which is necessary for the development of spiritual life. A man must be planted in the Word of the Lord, and in a concept of God as the arbiter of right and wrong, and then out of this faith must come principles by which he lives. He must be a person with roots deep in that which he draws life and power. He must be planted by the rivers of God's love and grace, from which he obtains constant renewal and refreshment. When a man lives with a faith in God his life becomes fruitful like the tree planted near water.

Take a walk this weekend look at the trees in your neighborhood. Let them inspire you as they have others.

Well does the poet Ralph Laidman Cushman put it in "The Glory in A Common Tree":

I love a tree,
A brave upstanding tree!
When I am wearied in the strife,
Beaten by storms and bruised by life,
I look up at it, and it refreshes me.
If it can keep its head held high,
And look the storms straight in the eye,
Ready to stand, ready to die,
Then by the grace of God can I —
At least with Heaven's help, I'll try;
I love a tree, for it refreshes me!

During the partial phase of the eclipse, the moon's shadow will appear dark in contrast to the remaining section of the moon. During the total stage, however, the moon will be illuminated by sunlight which filters through the earth's atmosphere and is refracted into the earth's shadow.

The moon, throughout the total stage of the eclipse, will then "shine" with a dull reddish glow, having been deprived of its blue rays by the atmosphere which scatters and diffuses the blue light.

From the very beginning until the final emergence of the moon from the shadow will be an interval of three hours and 40 minutes, with totality lasting about an hour," she said.

Prof. Losh explained that for a lunar eclipse to take place, the moon must be full and in nearly the same plane as the earth and sun.

"The reason we do not have a lunar eclipse every full moon," she added, "is because the moon's orbit is inclined to the earth's path about five degrees. Therefore, the moon usually passes above or below the shadow."

Esch...

Two recent actions by the U.S. House of Representatives have helped to prove predictions that this Congress is in a more frugal mood than its predecessors. Legislation to give appropriations extensions and the tabling of the President's request for a 10 percent surcharge by a committee have served notice on the Administration that now is the time to halt increased spending.

The legislation came when the House was considering a resolution giving 30-day appropriation extensions to agencies which because of continued Congressional delays have not yet received funds for this year. On September 27, the House, by a 202 to 182 vote, refused to pass the resolution and sent it back to the Appropriations Committee. The committee then reported out a resolution asking for a 10-day extension which the House approved last week by a voice vote.

The key item that forced the House leadership to stop the resolution in and out of committee was increased support for a Republican amendment which would have required an automatic $5 billion spending reduction. This move, to which I gave strong support, was defeated on the second round by a mere eight votes. Although our move failed, the closeness of the vote alone was enough to alarm the big spenders.

On the heels of this moral victory came word from the Ways and Means Committee that it would take no more action on a tax increase until the President and the Congress could work out a definite program of spending cuts. Although I am less than optimistic about the prospects of such joint action, the fact that the Committee would table a tax increase indicates that the already overburdened taxpayer may not feel an additional federal pinch in the near future.

What this all adds up to is that this Congress is beginning to realize more each day that we can hold the line on increased spending without jeopardizing our military obligations or essential domestic programs. It also indicates an acceptance by more House Members of what we in the Minority have advocated right along — that spending reductions and the establishment of spending priorities are in order before we consider a tax increase.

Frugality has partially prevailed in these two recent events, but only by the slimmest of margins. Let's hope it continues.

Congressman Marvin L. Esch urges families and friends of soldiers stationed overseas to mail Christmas cards and gifts soon in order that they are received in time for the holidays.

The Congressman also emphasized the need for packages to be bound securely and addressed clearly. He suggested that persons looking for direction on packaging should consult their local postal officials.

I believe the block-grant method is a sound approach. It will more directly involve the states of local communities. In the field of juvenile delinquency as in other fields, we must provide the incentive for strong state and local action.

The bill also prohibits the receipt of any funds under the Act by agencies administered, or in any part funded, or contracted by the Office of Economic Opportunity. The block-grant approach was contained in a major amendment offered on the House floor and I believe it is far superior to the narrow, specific, categorical method of distributing funds now in use.

Passage of the new legislation is critical at this time, not only because of the expiration of the Juvenile Delinquency and Youth Offenses Control Act of 1961, but because the lessons of the past six years have re-emphasized the fact that juvenile delinquency is continuing to outrun the Nation's capacity to deal with it.

By implementing the block-grant system I am hopeful that the delinquency problem can be better dealt with. However, we must keep plugging for righting the federal-state balance in the United States through placing more weight, power, and responsibility on the state's shoulders.

NORTHVILLE TOWNSHIP PLANNING COMMISSION
Gunnar Stromberg, Chairman

Tuesday. Special legislative committee studies have been temporarily put aside as legislators prepare to study and consider the complicated lower court reorganization issue, which is the main agenda item for the October session.

Justice of the Peace and Court Commissioners offices will go out of existence January 1, 1969, in accordance with the new constitution, with the method for reorganizing the lower courts left to the legislature. Since judges for the new lower court system will have to be elected in 1968, the job must be completed prior to the August, 1968 primaries.

There are probably as many suggestions on how to achieve the necessary reorganizing as there are legislators in the State Capitol. The different opinions make the job all the more difficult since a 2/3 vote in both the House and Senate will be required to pass a court reorganization bill.

Much of the contention is based on two major points: should district courts be adopted as the form for reorganization, and should judges in the new structure of limited jurisdiction courts be required to be lawyers?

The district court concept poses serious problems for less densely populated areas of the state. If a court's jurisdiction covered two or more counties, a person accused of a minor violation might have to travel as much as 200 miles to appear in court.

An agreement has been worked out with tax officials in Indiana, which also has a state income tax, to prevent the possibility of double payments by persons living in one state and working in the other. As this was written, similar negotiations were underway with Wisconsin, which also has a state tax, and Toledo, Ohio, which has a municipal income tax.

State Revenue officials reported on the eve of the effective date for the income tax, that preparations were proceeding smoothly in establishing collection and refund procedures.

Passage of the fiscal reform program was certainly not a pleasant task for state legislators, but it was necessary to eliminate threats of another 1959-type cash crisis and enhance the state's financial soundness for the future.

The lawyer-judge conflict also holds the most important implications in outside areas, where it may be difficult to find attorneys who are willing to give up their law practice to preside over a court. Another problem raised here is what happens to the non-lawyers who have gained a great deal of court experience as Justices of the Peace.

These are just a few of the many problems Michigan legislators will have to assess and try to find a solution to that is best overall for the state and its citizens.

The first phase of Michigan's new fiscal reform program, a 2.6 percent personal income tax, began operation October 1. Other features of the program, a 5.6 percent corporate income tax, 7 percent financial institutions tax, and tax credits for property taxes and city income taxes, will go into effect January 1, 1968.

Therefore, the tax returns due next April 15, will be concerned only with personal income taxes. An exemption of $1,200 per dependent, double the federal exemption, will be allowed on the state income tax. Double exemptions for blind persons and senior citizens, or $2,400 each, will be allowed.

Over a full year, with all tax credits figured in the fiscal reform program is expected to produce about $269 million in state revenue. Over the first quarter of partial operation, approximately $174 million in revenue is expected.

There has been a belief by some, completely unfounded, that no refunds will be made for over-payment through withholding. Full refunds will be made to all who have more than their lawful tax rate withheld. The unfounded rumor is apparently based on the fact that there will be no rebate to a person whose tax credits outweigh the 2.6 percent rate on his income. In cases where a person owes "less than nothing," he simply pays no tax and gets a full refund of any money withheld from his pay.

Under United States taxation laws, Michigan taxpayers will also be allowed to subtract the amount of taxes paid to the state as one of the deductions in arriving at the "taxable income" for federal taxes.

News Around Schoolcraft

Trustees of Schoolcraft College have reaffirmed their intent to continue operating the institution "as an independent community college," in the face of a proposed state plan calling for a county-wide community college in Wayne county.

The college governing board on Wednesday night, October 4, unanimously passed a motion stating its position in response to a request from the State Board of Public Community and Junior Colleges.

A tentative plan developed by the state board calls for establishment of 30 community college districts in Michigan. The plan proposes that District 30 be comprised of Wayne county.

The plan proposes that in addition to the three independent community college districts (Schoolcraft, Henry Ford, and Highland Park) now in existence, sites for the rest of the county should be determined so there are services within equal distances of most of the residents.

The plan provides an option for the three existing districts: to continue to operate independently, or to become part of a Wayne county community college district.

It was on this point that Dr. John W. Porter, executive secretary of the State Board, asked Schoolcraft trustees for an official reaction.

The Schoolcraft board has consistently held the position that it intends to retain its autonomy as an independent college district in Wayne county.

In other business at its regular meeting, the board of trustees approved the hearing of the Northville community center for physical education instruction, intramural activities and varsity sports at a cost not to exceed $2,100 for 870 hours during the school year, and designated the Manufacturers National Bank as depository for Athletic Account funds.

Earl L. Menary Jr., 36909 Ann Arbor Trail, Livonia, led the ticket as Schoolcraft college students elected seven freshmen members to the Student Senate.

Winners, in a field of nine candidates, were: Menary, Ted Pfeiffer, Detroit; Sandra L. Murnighan, Livonia; Gary T. Greening, Livonia; Greg Pawlowski, Detroit; Julie M. Collins, 1641 Old Salem road; and Thomas I. Nedrau, Livonia.

Thomas L. Hebel, Livonia, and Mary Anne Loughman, Livonia, rounded out the state of nine candidates for a one-year term on the senate.

for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

A report to acquire the fish hatchery property from the federal government has been prepared by City Manager Frank Olendorf and his recreation study committee.

Actually, it's a "program of utilization" which outlines the use and general development plan for the parcel.

Under the proposal, which includes only the 13.2 acres on the south side of Seven Mile road, some $80,000 would be spent for site development over a three-year period.

The main building would be removed. Estimates indicate it would cost nearly $50,000 to renovate the huge structure. Instead, at a cost of $19,600, it would be removed, a footbridge installed and a shelter, toilets, sewers and drains constructed.

Later rehabilitation would include filling of low areas, and providing service drive and parking area, bicycle path, foot trails, recreation equipment, tennis courts and craft center.

Land and water wildlife observation and study areas would also be provided on the fish hatchery property.

What is envisioned for the fish hatchery site is an area combining the natural beauty that already exists with man-provided recreational facilities so that Northville community youngsters and families may enjoy the wonders of nature and the fun of play.

The advisability of acquiring the site for such purpose should be evident to all area officials who recognize that our open spaces are disappearing. True, a wonderful Wayne county park system stretches into our community—thanks to the vision of former officials—but its facilities are already being taxed as suburbia pushes westward.

Don't Laugh, 'Satellite City' Can Happen in Northville

To the Editor: Detroit and Mayor Cavanagh have, I hope, finally given the City and Township of Northville all the incentive they need to get down to serious discussions relating to consolidation of the two and cut out all the nonsense.

A so-called satellite city for Detroit in this area may sound "stupid," a harbored idea, "as a politician's ploy" to some of our local officials, BUT it sounds like a pretty fair idea to the editor of The Northville Record (see Saturday, October 7, 1967). It made pretty good sense as well to one Kent Mathewson, president of the Metropolitan Fund Inc. — a private, nonprofit research organization interested in metropolitan area problems. It also has backing from other groups as related in the Sunday, October 1, 1967 editions of the News which broke the story. Realistically the idea could get off the ground and become a reality without too much real difficulty. Our officials, including state officials from this area claim, since this would affect other large metro areas in the state, the legislature would not pass such a measure. I for one beg to differ with this type of false reassurance — it can be done, and in fact may be done, it's very simple, all the proposed bill has to say at its ending is, "the above law shall apply only to counties in excess of two (2) million population," and the ridiculous then becomes fact, it would apply only to Wayne county. You don't believe me, just check our state laws and learn how very many do apply only to Wayne county. Laws are passed every session practically, and they apply only to Wayne county.

Further, the Federal government may make available money grants for this type of study, it is looking for answers to big city problems. That, precisely, is what Cavanagh is attempting to do — unload Detroit's problems elsewhere. Go back in history just a little bit — he's offered Maybury San to the state for a dollar if they would use it as a half-way house for returning criminals — beautiful — thank God the state turned him down. A home for Detroit's hard core high school dropouts — more fun for us, he didn't say anything about furnishing us with a large police department to then take care of his transplanted problem. Since they (Detroit) pay us no taxes on their property we couldn't afford a police department. At the present time the city is converting part of the San into a rehabilitation center. Our township zoning ordinances permits municipal buildings to be used in almost any manner — you can check that one also, it could give us a lot of trouble.

Cavanagh said we would object on the grounds of race. If he's talking about transferring one of his ghettoes to this area, then yes, we should complain as should the people being transferred since it would still be a ghetto only in a different area. On the other hand, if an individual of any race, creed, or color had the wherewithal to move here or anywhere else, this is his business and good luck to him. Meanwhile, back at the ranch, the age old argument goes on between the city and township, as to who has the most of both these fine, desirable, communities — a "Unification Study Committee." It would be my fervent hope that their findings and recommendations would be made known to the public and in fact may be the same public be permitted to vote on their recommendations. Any question of this nature should go on the ballot, but it can't get to the ballot if the officials sit on the recommendations of any study committee in either community.

In closing, I do wish to say thank you for your time and space, should you reprint in the Northville Record the above ramblings of a local citizen. In any case it's off my chest.

The book's small, it wouldn't create a stir in literary circles, or provoke controversy. But then, the book written by John Calkins wasn't designed with the Nobel prize in mind. One of a series published by Doubleday & Company, it's a short, concise travel guide to Michigan, an entertainingly written and boldly colorful.

For me, the book had obvious appeal. In the first place, it's about Michigan, and in the second place, the writer is a native of South Lyon, a 1959 graduate of South Lyon high school. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Calkins are historically a part of the community.

As late as 1950, John lived in the city of his birth, writing outdoor articles free lance. He always had a yen for writing and photography. Then he assumed what is known in the trade as a PR job (public relations) and eventually landed in his present position as chief of information and education with the Michigan State department of agriculture.

Free lancing was in John's blood and he never entirely gave it up. "It was done incidentally in my work as a PR man," he stated.

An Eastern Michigan alumna, John was quite serious about having solid articles to national magazines. But "Michigan," part of the Panorama travel series, is John's first published book.

Over and above the author's indigenous appeal and the pertinence of the subject, the prose is enlightening while lively. It's pictures refreshing while artistic, all in 61 pages written in a three-month period this spring during John's free time.

Imaginatively, he recreates the past: "Michigan's rip-roaring white-pine-logging era of the late 1800's was Paul Bunyanque in every respect. Flamboyant lumber millionaires, prodded by their ladies, brought bits of elegant culture into rough-hewn northern hamlets.

In a logging town like Manistee, call-boothed river crews drank and fought on the plank waterfront while their bosses built mansions and an opera house on the bluff nearby."

The same colorful prose prevails throughout the book, making for easy and enjoyable reading. Subjects cover a spectrum, from pre-history to the present, from statehood to industrial prominence, from natural resources to Michigan's playgrounds. There's enough to whet the appetite of the thirsty historian or the indolent stroller.

Perhaps the most appealing part of this handy travelogue are the pictures, 30 brilliant color plates, many of which John took himself. "A large share of the pictures were mine," John said. "My stuff leans toward the outdoors." Otherwise, public relations men donated a few.

The assignment didn't entail rushing out to take pictures, John explained. On file in his Lansing home was a store of pictures. He did take, however, pictures of the law school on the University of Michigan campus and the MSU library.

Particularly stunning is a picture of a duck hunter at dawn on Martiny lake near Barry. The picture, yet eerily greenish-yellow glow gives the picture as the sun begins to evaporate the morning mist. The hunter, a personal friend of John's, Ben Myler, president of a Marquette bank, sits quietly, gazing ahead, while the cars hang limply in his hands.

John's design is simple, yet pleasing in every respect.

No attempt has been made in this book to review all that Michigan has to offer. John states in an author's note, "Rather, in glimpses of past and present, the emphasis is upon whetting the reader's appetite to do more, see more, and learn more for fullest enjoyment of the 'Water Wonderland' state."

Freedom" as an ass, the "Mad Spring Morning Howl" people as besotted blackguard, and the "Dally Hurrall" as a mustard-plaster.

Obviously, the boss' "peppery writing" was scorned in earlier editions because, during Twain's short employment with the newspaper, the office of the "Morning Glory" was a battleground for irate readers. Vocal tirades, however, did not bother Twain. It was the pistol shot that clipped off his finger, the explosion that knocked out a couple of teeth, and the bullet that "ended its career in the flesh part of my thigh" that finally convinced Twain that newspapering was not for him.

And when the boss guessed his associate editor's reaction and commented, "You'll like this place when you get used to it," Twain replied:

"I'll have to get you to excuse me! I think maybe I might write to suit you after a while; as soon as I have had some practice and learned the language I am confident I could. But, to speak the plain truth, that sort of energy of expression has its inconveniences, and a man is liable to interruptions..."

"...No, I like you, and I like your calm unruffled way of explaining to the customers, but you see I am not used to it. The Southern heart is too impulsive; Southern hospitality is too lavish with the stranger. The Paragraphs which I have written today, and into whose cold sentences your masterly hand has infused the fervent spirit of Tennessee journalism, will wake up another nest of hornets. And they will come hungry, and want somebody for breakfast. I shall have to bid you adieu. I decline to present for these festivities."

In closing, I do wish to say thank you for your time and space, should you reprint in the Northville Record the above ramblings of a local citizen. In any case it's off my chest.

State's Doctors Lead Nation in Service

LANSING — Michigan doctors have an outstanding record contributing their services around the world. Only California, where more doctors are licensed, can match it.

The Hope hospital ship, which visits countries inviting it, has 31 physicians and two medical students from Michigan on its staff. For this volunteer service, medical personnel receive no pay, and only moderate living expenses.

Ill and injured Vietnamese are cared for by a separate program sponsored by American Medical Association and supported by the Michigan State Medical Society. Eight Michigan doctors are currently working in Vietnam to help fill the gap left by their need for military service. Vietnam has only 1,000 in the whole country and 650 of these are in the Vietnam army. The remaining 350 care for the country's 15 million civilian population.

American physicians receive a $10 per day living expense, and travel expenses to and from Vietnam. They serve for two month periods in one of the 16 provincial hospitals.

MEDICO is another plan which involves Michigan physicians overseas. It is administered through CARE. Six doctors from the state participated in MEDICO in Asia and Africa.

Many other physicians volunteered their services under church-sponsored medical missionary work.

Dr. Charles H. Mossley, director of the AMA plan, explains, "This program has done more to improve the image of the American physician than any I know of. The Vietnamese people know that a physician who closes his office and

Retail Sales Hit September High

BOSTON, PARK, Mass. — Sales of retail stores just chalked up a new all-time high for September. That is good news for everybody, especially for merchants from coast to coast. For the late summer surge came hard on the heels of a sluggish performance that had most retailers scratching their heads and wondering why Mr. and Mrs. Consumer were saving so much and spending so little. Now we can confidently look forward to the "best-ever" ringing of the nation's cash registers, come Christmas.

Recent months have seen personal income per capita rising to new high ground, to the tune of average monthly shunks of better than $4 billion each. Disposable personal income (what's left after taxes and other payments) had been lagging total personal income. The gap seemed to be the result of a greater disposition on the part of consumers to save more. Perhaps all the spring talk of a "mini-recession" had made people cautious.

Latest figures, however, indicate that spending is coming back into fashion. The September surge at retail stores is a most promising omen for Christmas sales. We can foresee new records without half raising our eyelids, and if we look real hard, it is not difficult to predict gains over Christmas 1966 of 6%, or even 8%. Not everywhere, of course, because big strikes will still be pinching consumer pocketbooks in some areas.

NEITHER WAR in Vietnam nor strikes here at home will have too serious an impact on the flow of available goods. Unless, of course, the expected upsurge in store sales should be even greater than we anticipate. In that case, some shelves could be bare for last-minute shoppers.

Fact is, supplies of most goods are plentiful. Not only are we pretty well assured of having both guns and butter; we can also count on generous amounts of quality and luxury items. Next year may be a different story, but for Yuletide 1967 shelves will be well stocked and quality and variety will be more evident than ever.

Most manufacturers, wholesalers, jobbers, and retailers are already optimistic with regard to sales performance during the upcoming holiday season. Some, however, are more cautious — fearing perhaps that this year's higher prices may prove to be an unfavorable factor. In our opinion, the balance of factors favors optimism. Consumers, generally, are better off financially than they were a year ago. They are able to take higher prices in stride and most probably they will do just that...in response to diligent and well-directed sales effort on the part of merchants.

a resolution adopted by the State Board of Education.

The nine-point program, proposed by State Superintendent of Public Instruction Ira Polley, would require an $11.8 million legislative appropriation. It would begin in fall of 1968.

Polley's plan includes using school facilities after normal school closing hours for additional teaching sessions and recreational programs. He proposes class reductions to 15 students from kindergarten through second grade for personalized student attention, and a pre-school program for four-year olds to accustom them to the school environment.

These special courses would be offered for 10 weeks during the summer. Federal funds could provide student employment for youths in work-study programs.

High school students who have demonstrated ability to do college level work would be eligible for $800 grants to help them continue their education.

Polley proposed a "College Service Corps" to enlist the aid of college students in tutoring and working with youths from underprivileged homes. He also feels consideration should be given to relaxing academic eligibility requirements so more youngsters can participate in school athletic programs. Polley sees athletics as a positive influence in keeping student interest in the school and a means of giving underprivileged youth self-pride and incentive to stay in school.

The budget proposal to activate the programs will be submitted during the 1968 legislative session.

Establish 20 area-wide centers to distribute instructional material to schools.

Catalog books so schools without library supervisors can file volumes according to the standard Dewey Decimal classification.

Provide consultants to train school personnel in proper library procedure. Make available scholarship funds for students desiring library careers.

Extend use of a mobile unit to counties which need facilities to train teachers on the use of audio-visual aids.

The State Department of Education feels these improvements are helpful, but the level of library services are still less than they should be.
