Novi Sets Budget Date, Names Planning Firm

The Novi village council Monday night set May 8 as date for public hearing on the 1968-69 budget, selected a new planning consultant, made an appointment to the board of appeals, and requested election procedures of the newly-formed Novi Police Officers association.

The council also passed an ordinance adopting a fire-prevention code for the village.

Facing a May 13 deadline for completion of budget, and arranging for working sessions prior to the public hearing date, the council picked the May 8 date after Village Clerk Mabel Ash reminded the council that working close to the deadline had in the past caused last-minute measures such as getting a councilman from his sick bed to obtain a quorum.

The council selected the firm of Villan & Leman & Associates of Southfield to serve as planning consultants. Village Attorney Howard Bond was directed to notify the firm that the council was prepared to enter into a contract under terms detailed in a proposal submitted to the council.

The village has been without the services of a planning consultant for several weeks, while the planning board faced a agenda heavy with builders' requests seeking approval of plans in various stages of preparation.

The action to engage Villan & Leman was unanimous. Councilman William Dwyer commented: "This is one of the council's most important responsibilities. Decisions made now in the area of planning will have effect on everyone living in Novi now and far into the future."

David S. Owen, 21805 Connersman drive, won council approval for appointment to a six-month term on the planning board. Owen is employed as an accountant by the Michigan Tractor company.

In deciding to request an election to among members of the police officers association, which seeks designation as sole bargaining agent for officers employed by the village, the council was responding to a letter from the association's attorney.

In earlier action, upon being informed of the formation of the association, the council requested the election in keeping with laws and regulations establishing recognition as sole bargaining agent.

Monday night the council was informed via a letter from the association's attorney, Arnold Shifman, that Novi police officers, excepting Chief Lee BeGole, were members of the organization and that the association should be recognized without the formality of an election.

After discussing the request, the council directed Bond to reply that the council desires the officers' association.

Vote Seen As A Delay

Disappointment was the first response of spokesmen for the newly formed Novi Police Officers association to the council's request for an election to establish recognition as bargaining agent for officers.

Association President George Biggs said the council's request for an election, after being made aware that all full-time officers employed by the village have made known their desire to be represented by the association, could cause a needless delay of the inevitable recognition.

"We are upset a bit, the delay could prevent negotiation under this year's budget planning, which could mean another year without reaching a satisfactory working agreement," Biggs said.

Despite the expression of disappointment, Biggs said the association welcomed the election.

"We are law enforcement officers, law-abiding citizens and will most certainly comply with the laws governing our association. However, we shall expect the council members to cooperate so that our recognition can be finalized at the earliest date possible."

"After the election we shall expect the council to recognize the association to the full extent of the law. We shall expect the council to meet with our representatives and begin negotiations at the earliest date possible."

both parties," Evans said. "It is the only way to bind both parties to contract terms for a period of one year. It protects both parties against manpower changes. If we adhere to step-by-step procedures both parties are protected against future difficulties that can arise."

The ordinance adopting the fire-prevention code was passed under emergency ordinance provisions that provide for terms of the code to become effective on publication. Consisting of guidelines for municipalities established by insurance underwriters, adoption of the code was recommended by the council by Bond and Fire Chief Fred Loynes.

EGG HUNTING ARMY - "It's a little frightening when the army of youngsters thunders off after those eggs—but gratifying, too," sighed one of the spokesmen for the Willowbrook Civic association that Saturday staged its annual Easter Egg Hunt in Cass Benton Park. As usual, hundreds of eggs were discovered, the Easter Bunny (adult size) put in an appearance, and a tableful of prizes were given away to the beaming young hunters.

3 Win Prizes For Posters Wixom to Fete Senior Citizens

A special four-hour program for Wixom senior citizens is planned for Our Heritage Day, one of the seven days of Michigan Week, May 19-25.

Our Heritage Day falls on Tuesday, May 21.

According to Bob Merkle and Elwood J. Grubb, Wixom Heritage Day committee officials, senior citizens who may not have received an invitation by mail are urged to call Postmaster Grubb at MA 4-3023 so that they can be added to the Heritage Day program.

The four-hour program, which will begin at 8 p.m., calls for a tour through Wixom's new industrial plant, Micro-Poise, where balancing machinery is manufactured for aero-space programs.

Dinner and a social hour are planned after the visit to Micro-Poise, and the topic of conversation will be "Wixom in the Past."

The committee concludes: "Mr. John Finlayson was a member of this committee. As you know Dear John passed away March 15, 1968. He was deeply interested in Heritage Day. We would like to see a good turnout on Heritage Day as a memorial to John."

Persons desiring to participate but who may not have transportation from their homes to the city hall and back are asked to write "Transportation Needed" and their phone numbers on a postcard and they will be contacted regarding furnishing of special transportation.

It appears Novi and L'Anse will exchange top municipal officials on May 20 in the mayors' exchange program of Michigan Week.

Earlier pairings with Hancock and Iron River failed to jell due to difficulty of travel time and distance between Novi and the Upper Peninsula communities. On the third draw officials of both communities agreed to make the journey.

Sorry, Ladies!

In its story last week on the Easter Bunny luncheon, the Novi News inadvertently stated the program was sponsored by the Northville Jaycee auxiliary when in reality it was the work of the Novi Jaycee auxiliary, which also sponsored a poster contest publicizing the successful event.

Poster winners - Winners of the Wixom P-TA sponsored poster contest are (1 to 3) Kirk Butler, Sandy Deering and Chris Rentola. They won first, second and third places, respectively.

Walled Lake Man Dies in Auto Crash

A Walled Lake man was killed and four Livonia youths were injured in a two-car accident at Grand River and Beck road Friday evening.

Robert F. Hardiman, 1615 South Commerce street, Walled Lake, was dead on arrival at Botsford Hospital in Farmington after his car was struck by an auto driven by John Marson, 19, of Livonia.

According to Novi police, Hardiman, traveling north on Beck, was struck while crossing the eastbound lane of Grand River by Marson's car. Hardiman's car, its left side demolished, came to a stop in the Grand River westbound lane. The Marson car came to a halt off the south side of Grand River, just east of Beck.

The add marks indicated that Hardiman might have failed in attempting to halt at the stop sign before entering Grand River, police said.

Is School Affected?

EDITOR'S NOTE - Citizens of Novi with questions concerning the upcoming incorporation election may address their questions to the Novi Jaycees, Novi, Michigan, and an attempt will be made to answer them in either this column or by return mail.

1. Q-How would becoming a city affect our school districts?
A-There would be no changes whatsoever in any one of the four school districts in Novi. Local government is not involved in any phase of a school system, other than to provide a means of collecting the school tax and distributing it to the various school systems.

2. Q-Would Novi's small population be hard pressed to support all the functions that a city would entail?

A-In last week's answers, based upon the latest information available through the Michigan Municipal League, it was noted that Novi was one of three villages remaining in Michigan with populations of more than 5,000. However, it has been brought to our attention that Rochester last year voted to incorporate as a city. Therefore, Novi is one of but two villages remaining in Michigan with populations of more than 5,000.

3. Q-I missed the voter registration wagon in our area last Saturday. What do I do now?

A-If you are not now a registered voter in Novi and you wish to vote in the cityhood election on May 20, you must register at the village clerk's office on Novi road by tomorrow (Friday, April 19). Her office will be accepting registrations until 8 p.m. Friday night.

Police spotted the cat in a field east of the trailer park, but were unable to catch it as it fled in a southeasterly direction from the park.

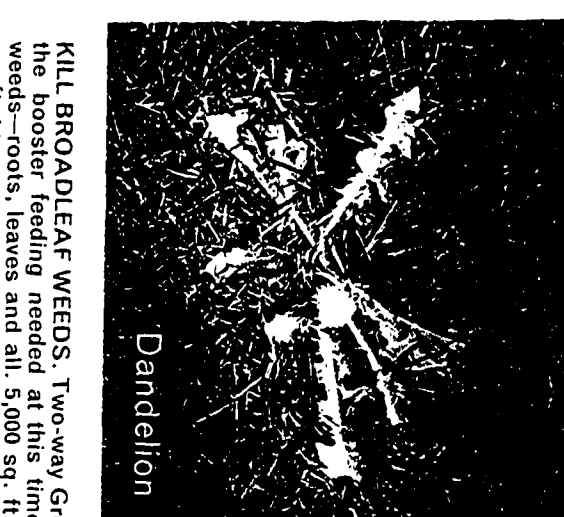

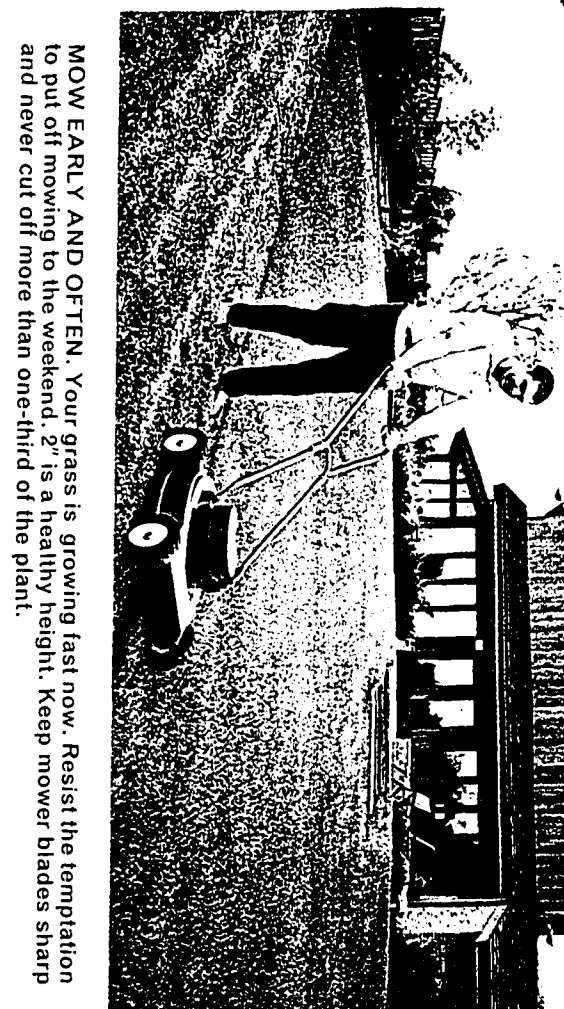

Police Chief Lee BeGole requests that anyone seeing the cat, alive or dead, to report it immediately. BeGole also urges parents to caution their children about approaching or handling stray animals of any kind. With children playing outside the frequency of animal bites rises. Anyone seeing strays should call the Oakland County Animal shelter at FE 8-9321, BeGole said.

Plans for a spring band concert on Thursday, April 25 were announced this week by the Novi Band Boosters club.

Featuring seventh, eighth and high school bands under the direction of Keith Rolston, the concert will get underway at 8 p.m. in the high school gymnasium.

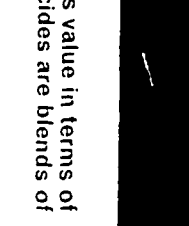

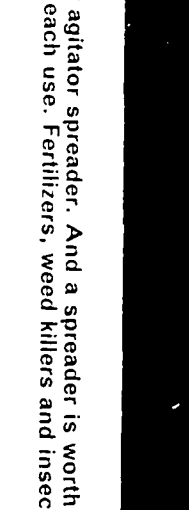

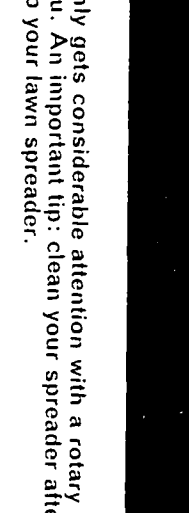

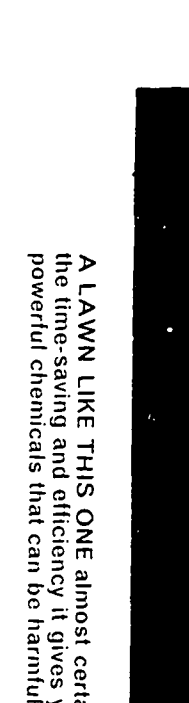

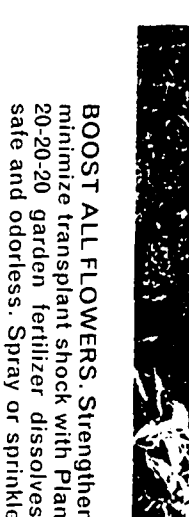

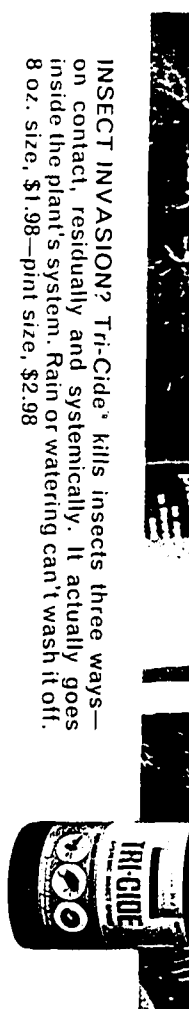

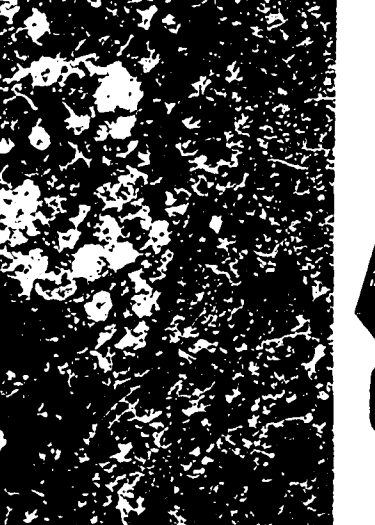

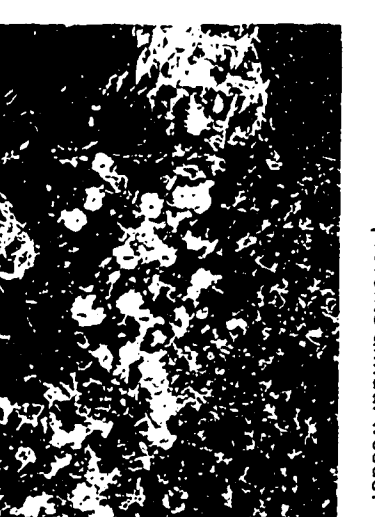

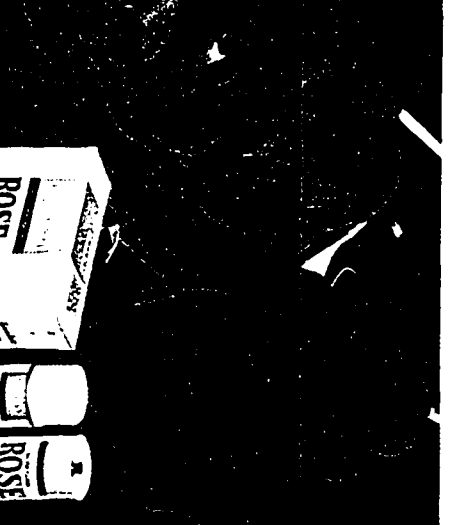

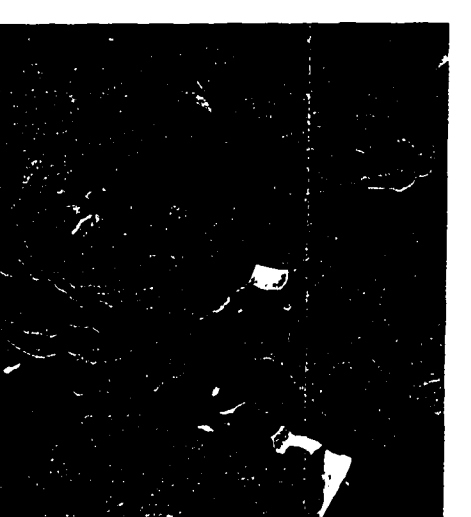

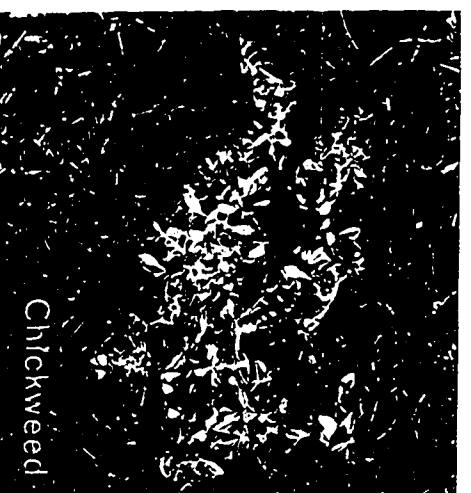

Tickets will be sold by bandsmen and at the door.

KEEP WEEDS FROM BLIGHTING YOUR LAWN'S NATURAL BEAUTY

EGGS 39¢

A LAWN LIKE THIS ONE almost certainly gets considerably attention with a rotary or similar spreader. And a spreader is worth its value in terms of the time-saving and efficiency it gives you. An important tip: clean your spreader after each use. Fertilizers, weed killers and insecticides are blends of powerful chemicals that can be harmful to your lawn spreader.

Elementary Pupils Ready for College

Eleven young students from Northville's three elementary schools, all winners in their own school's creative writing projects, will participate in the Young Authors' conference to be held at Oakland University April 22.

Under the direction of Mrs. Ann

Chismar, Mrs. Marian Petrock and Mrs. Betty Sellers, reading consultants at Amerman, Main and Moraine schools, respectively, students in second through fifth grades last month wrote original compositions in each class with the children themselves selecting the best.

Final contestants from each school then were selected to attend the workshop conference.

Amerman school winners were Lynn Spencer and Tom Carr, both third graders; Patricia Brown, fourth; and Cindy Carr, fifth. Runners-up were David White, second; Kim Currier, Cynthia Slessor and Kurt Stevens, third; Susan Eisele, fourth; Janice Nyquist and Paula Caracciolo, fifth.

A student from each grade was selected at Moraine to attend the conference with Miss Carol Arnold. They are Jack Stabenau, second; Jeanette Klotz, third; Mary Joyce Marburger, fourth; and Susie Evans, fifth.

Winners from Main street elementary who will attend the conference with Mrs. Sellers are Barbara Kindberg, third grade; Nancy Anderson and Bill Bloomfield, fourth graders.

Main street youngsters attending the conference will share their experiences with the many other "young authors" at Main street school after Mrs. Sellers reported, "recognition ribbons" will be presented to authors of the many outstanding stories and poems written this year.

Kings Mill

An Easter egg hunt last Saturday afternoon was a weekend highlight for the under-12 residents of Kings Mill Townhouses.

Last Wednesday the youngsters had an egg-coloring party. Prizes Saturday were awarded to those finding the brightly colored eggs.

A present called the Tweeners but considering a name change, the under-12 group has activities planned by the Kings Mill Mothers' club. Mrs. Spencer Rush is president of the mothers' group. Yesterday the mothers were scheduled to have their first social activity, a luncheon at Hillside Inn in Plymouth.

Townhouse residents will have their first bridge and pinocle card party at 7 p.m. Sunday, April 21, at the clubhouse. Miss Betty Palm, social director, announced this week.

lunch hours will receive special consideration, Mrs. Douglas Bolton, general chairman, announced, if they make advance reservations. Tickets are available for the KD's largest money-raising event of the year from Mrs. W. H. Confield or Mrs. C. Harold Bloom, or any member.

ARBOR WEEK—As Mrs. L.M. Eaton of Northville's Beautification commission looks on, Mayor A. M. Allen signs the proclamation officially designating next week as Arbor Week in Northville. Mrs.

Eaton joined with the mayor in urging that citizens of the community beautify their community, neighborhoods and homes by planting trees. They remind citizens that Northville's official tree is the flowering crab.

Girl Scouts Cheer Soldiers

Northville Girl Scout troops, with the cooperation of VFW Post 4012, are bringing a little cheer to servicemen in Vietnam.

With the VFW post financing the project, the scouts are bargain-hunting for gifts which they then pack in boxes and mail to Vietnam.

Servicemen who receive the packages are from Northville and adjoining communities. Not all of them are members of the post.

According to Bill Durham, junior vice commander of the post and chairman of the post's youth activities and community service committee, explains that the girls work from a list of names and addresses supplied to them.

"They are still adding to the list," he points out, "as they receive additional names. Currently, they are working on the second batch of packages to be mailed." Participating are junior, senior and cadette scouts.

By JEAN DAY

SEVEN ORCHIDS replying in Northville refrigerator last week were reminders that the best laid schemes of mice and men "gang aft a-gley."

And the initial plans made by Mrs. Donald Ware and her committee for the debut of Overture to Opera in Northville were among the "best laid." However, even before the emergency curfew ended, efficient Mary Ware and her co-workers had rescheduled the event for Saturday, May 4, at the high school.

Ticketholders for Overture and the afterglow are asked to keep their tickets as they will be used for the rescheduled events. Now, however, the champagne buffet afterglow will be in the main ballroom of the May-flower hotel in Plymouth.

"MADE OF ENERGY" is the way one committee worker admirably described Mary Ware who, after she completes her Town Hall hosting duties today, will be checking arrangements for the King's Daughters luncheon-bazaar for which she is luncheon chairman next Thursday, April 25, at the First Methodist church.

TOWN HALL officers for next season are being announced today by Mrs. Robert Brueck. AS composer-lyricist Richard Adler brings to an end another successful TH season under sponsorship of Our Lady's League of Our Lady of Victory church, Mrs. Brueck will be turning its chairmanship over to another Ann—Mrs. Robert Lang. Working with Mrs. Lang on arrangements for the 1968-69 season will be Mrs. Nelson Hatt, vice-chairman; Mrs. Duane Butler, treasurer; Mrs. Donald Hannabarger, recording secretary; Mrs. Claude Cruse, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Brueck and Mrs. William R. Slattery, advisory board.

Chairmen for next season's TH committees are Mrs. Philip Wegeng, advertising and program book; Mrs. Eugene Karver, printing; Mrs. Fred Tuck and Mrs. Orson Atkinson, luncheon and theatre hostesses; Mrs. Claire Ronk and Mrs. Donald Ware, luncheon reservations; Mrs. William Tucker, tickets; Mrs. Robert Coolman, publicity; Mrs. C. Harold Bloom and Miss Ruth Koop, mailing; Mrs. Roy Mattison, historian; Mrs. Butler, Mrs. Tucker and Mrs. Mattison, finance.

WOMAN'S CLUB president, Mrs. Blake Couse, already is spending hours making plans for the club's 76th year—even though the first meeting is almost six months' distant.

As a second generation member of Northville Woman's club, Carol Couse feels a strong responsibility to the club which was founded in an era when a member had to be brave enough to walk miles to a meeting at which she would discuss events beyond the home. Mrs. Couse's mother and mother-in-law both were Woman's club members with Mrs. Walter Couse serving as president in the 1940's.

Committee chairmen named by Mrs.

Couse are Mrs. C. H. Bryon, civic improvement and federation; Mrs. H. A. Boyden, membership; Mrs. C. Harold Bloom, nominating; Mrs. W. L. Howard, scholarship; Mrs. E. O. Weber, house; Mrs. Donald Schwendemann, reservation and transportation; Mrs. Richard Huston, social; Mrs. C. C. Teasel, flowers; Mrs. H. O. Evans, music; Mrs. John Stuyvenberg, press; Mrs. E. M. Starkweather, custodian and historian.

NORTHVILLE MOTHERS' club also had to cancel a guest night meeting and speaker when the curfew extended to April 8. Plans to hear Robert Forman, director of alumni activities at the University of Michigan, were cancelled for this season as too few meetings remain to reschedule.

The club will hold a business session at 8 p.m. Monday, April 22, at the home of Mrs. Walter Galt, 1641 Homer, Plymouth. Co-hostesses will be Mrs. Glenn Delbert and Mrs. Kalin Johnson. Plans are to be completed for the barn sale May 4.

STAY-AT-HOME members of Meadowbrook country club this week can pretend Saturday evening that they are spending "April in Paris"—that's the theme of the spring dinner-dance April 20. Dave Farley's orchestra will play.

WHILE EASTER school recess is taking many Northville residents out-of-town, others already are returning with tales to prove they've been to sunny climes.

Back from the Spanish Costa del Sol on the sunny Mediterranean are Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Straith, now of Echo Valley apartments, and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hill, former Valley road residents now living in Plymouth.

The quartet landed in Malaga, Spain, and went on to Torremolinos. They were joined by the Straiths' son, PFC Russell Straith, who is attached to the Seventh Army in Bamholden, Germany. He has been overseas since Before returning, the senior Straiths and the Hills spent two days in Tangiers, where they visited the old native Kasbah section.

Easter Sunday the Straiths were dinner hosts to their other sons and their families, the Ronald and Alan Straiths.

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Evans and Mr. and Mrs. William Davis vacated last month in Arizona and California. On a sixteen-day holiday, they flew first to San Francisco, then going to Yuma to visit Mrs. Davis' mother. They also vacationed in Phoenix and Tucson where they saw the Evans' son, Steve, who was in Arizona with the University of Michigan varsity basketball team on spring training.

On his return, Steve was tapped by Sphinx, campus honorary society for athletes.

The E. O. Webers returned last weekend from a few days' sightseeing in Philadelphia. Mrs. Weber, Carol and Karl flew there Thursday to join Mr. Weber, who was in the East on business.

Mrs. Charles Ely and Mrs. George E. Miller are just back from a quick trip to Florida. They flew south to visit Mrs. Ely's mother, Mrs. Paul Tank in Venice Gardens. She returned with them and now is visiting the Elys.

Since early spring Mrs. Richard T. Martin has been on-the-go. Rhoda and Dick Martin and Miss Betty Lee-Martin flew to Hawaii where they visited Honolulu and island-hopped, returning to spend several days in San Francisco.

Then Mrs. Martin and son Frank made a quick trip to Ithica, New York. Frank, a student at Cranbrook, and his brother, Rick, who is at Bradley in Peoria, Illinois, both were home for the Easter weekend.

Defeats South Lyon, Holly

Mustang Nine Eyes Third Straight Win

With two games and two wins behind them Mustang Baseball Coach Dick Willing and his team will try to make it three straight when they go to West Bloomfield this afternoon for a contest that could bear heavily in determining the league champion.

Willing, in his first season as varsity baseball coach, is making it known that he and his boys are out to give the league's big traveling trophy a permanent home by putting the Mustang name on it as champions for the third time.

In the season opener at South Lyon last Wednesday, the Mustangs came home with a 2-0 win after a sixth-inning surge broke up a fine pitchers' battle between Northville's Bill Skelly and the Lion's Larry Roper. Skelly set the Lion's down with one hit.

At home Monday, Willing found an answer to one of his questions about prospects for this season when Sophomore Pitcher Fred Holdsworth, making his first start, went the distance as Northville took Holly 6-4 to gain their first league win.

The question the coach faced was whether he could keep Dennis Primeau at shortstop for the fielding and hitting strength Primeau could supply there, or would he need him on the mound, where Primeau won recognition last year.

After watching Skelly and Holdsworth go the route with winning performances, Willing said he feels he has the pitching strength in Skelly, and Holdsworth, with perhaps some service from Primeau to stand the rigors of a season that shortly will see the Mustangs playing three games a week.

Willing remains confident that better things lie ahead in the hitting department than the eight hit total production for the first two games.

"In both games we faced slow stuff," the coach said. "The timing was a little off; we were out in front of the ball a bit, getting several hard-hit fouls. But this should solve itself as we play more games."

The Mustangs have had good run production from the hits. In the South Lyon game, two of the Mustangs three hits came in succession in the sixth inning to provide the winning two-run margin. With Skelly on second after a two-base outfield error, Centerfielder Terry Mills came through with a triple, to drive in the first run of the game. Doug Anglin followed with a clean single through the box to score Mills. In Monday's game with Holly, two of the Mustang's five hits were home runs and one a triple with each coming with a man on base.

Primeau hit the first home run of the new season, a third-inning drive over the left-field fence that scored Anglin who gained first base via an error. In the fourth, Anglin greeted a Holly relief pitcher with a homerun over the fence in right center, scoring Terry Mills from second.

Joe Donner accounted for run number five with a three-base drive down the right field line in the fourth that scored Primeau, who had walked to first.

The sixth and final run came in the sixth inning. Randy Pohlman walked, stole second and third, and crossed the plate on a sacrifice fly from Donner. In the fielding department, the Mustangs have committed five miscues in the two games. "We'll be working, working, working on this," Willing said. The coach expects his hitters to face one of the league's strong pitchers against West Bloomfield today. In early season rating polls, the Mustangs have been getting notice. "They'll all be saving their best to throw against us," Willing said.

Gary's Booming Car Show Again

Northville's Gary W. Kohs, the young man who boomed his way to the top of the show world with several sports car spectacles, is back in the thick of things this year as he gets set for the Fifth Sports Car Spectacular opening April 20 at Cobo Hall.

Kohs, managing director of the show, told The Record-News that a Dutch police car has been shipped 4,000 miles for showing here by Porsche.

The five-speed Targa 911 convertible, which comes with a built-in chrome steel roll-bar as standard equipment, has all authentic police markings and equipment, complete to revolving blinker light, siren and loudspeaker.

It's just one of the many exciting cars that will be on exhibit.

It's Donkey Basketball

There'll be plenty of wild excitement and hilarity here Monday night when the Northville high school senior class sponsors a Buckeye Donkey Basketball show.

The show will pit senior boys against the faculty. Game time for the "craziest show on earth" is 8 p.m. in the high school gymnasium. Tickets will be available at the door—$1 for adults, 75-cents for students.

John Stuyvenberg's Final and Winning Long Jump

Wildcats Nearly Upset 1967 Track Powerhouse

In its first meet of the season, Novi's track team came within a silver Thursday of upsetting Lakeland C's 1967 powerhouse which last year ground out a second place in state competition.

The Wildcats held a comfortable lead through the field events, but slipped behind in the racing as Ann Arbor's University high school returned home with a 65-63 victory.

"I'm especially pleased," beamed Coach Fred Hanert, "because the boys showed early that they can take points against some tough opponents. Their times Thursday would have held up pretty good in league competition last year."

In nine of the 14 events, records at Novi were broken, which indicates the boys are showing marked improvement early in the season, he said.

As expected, Novi's big run was Jon VanWagner, holder of the 1967 state high jump title. He fell short of his state mark of 6' 11" Thursday but nevertheless came in with a first place at 6' 8". He and his coach are aiming at 6' 4" yet this season. Such a jump would break the existing class "C" record.

Van Wagner also took first in pole vaulting with a jump of 10' 4", copped second in high hurdles with a mark of 17.2, and shared Novi's first-place with a 65-63 victory.

Tom Boyer, who drew the praise of the coach for his performance as a freshman, also took first in the 880 yard run with a time of 2:12.8.

Levon Tafallan bettered his 1967 school shot put mark with a heave of 39' 10", good for another first-place.

Others who bettered their 1967 marks were Beadle in the mile, Mark Earl in the two-mile run, Rick Hill in the 220 yard dash. All four finished second in these events.

In scoring, Novi edged Ann Arbor 6 to 5 in the shot, 8 to 3 in high jump, 6 to 3 in pole vault, 5 to 4 in the 880 yard run, and 5 to 0 in the mile relay.

Ann Arbor won 5 to 4 in the long jump, 5 to 4 in the two-mile run, 5 to 0 in the 880 relay, 6 to 3 in the mile run, 5 to 4 in high hurdles, 8 to 1 in the 440 yard dash, 5 to 4 in the 100 yard dash, and 5 to 4 in the 220 yard dash.

Other members of the mile relay team that turned in the first-place time of 3:58.6 were Tom Boyer, Brad Burnham, and Lenny Beadle.

To the really convinced Christian, Easter is the day of days. No human voice can fashion a worthy praise for so great a day and so great a victory. And the strange paradox is that this day was born in an ancient graveyard the Lord of Glory. Perhaps never since that day have we needed Easter more than now. Let us never forget in this uncertain age that it was precisely at the world's darkest moment that the great Light burst upon the souls of men. And if Easter could dispel the darkness of that day, it can dispel the darkness of our world as well. In a few short days you and I will celebrate the Christian answer to the great despair of the world. 'Now is Christ risen from the dead and become the first fruits of them that sleep.'

How we need this message of victory! Consider the transitoriness of life. When we were young life seemed like an unbroken road of opportunity, but as we grow older we awake to the insecurity of our mortal life. We have our ups and our downs. Nations rise and fall. Saints are raised up; then still. Men live and dream and die under the sun, and then they die and are heard no more. Someday even the earth itself will grow cold. Is there nothing that lasts? If there isn't (as I, then as William James suggests, our existence is like a silly motion picture which may as well be run backward as forward, because in either case it is meaningless. Easter comes to such a question with its ringing answer of Hope and Victory. Life does make sense...and Good Friday is not the end. Even natural man, apart from revelation, has his intimations of immortality. We have, within our being, the desire for a perfection we can never realize in this world. 'We are all amateurs; we never live long enough to be anything else,' said Chaplain; and within our souls there are intimations of another

Bolens Husky tractors work the way you want them to!

Before each Bolens Husky was designed, two key questions had to be answered: "What should this unit be able to do?" "What will Bolens owners want it to do?" Answering these questions honestly and accurately has given Bolens Huskys an enviable reputation for leadership in compact tractor performance.

Only a Bolens Husky gives you all the help you want and need to power you through outdoor chores fast! From the rugged engine, to the live PTO that delivers positive, constant power to attachments... to the exclusive Fast-Switch Power-Lock Hitch that makes attachment-changing a snap... to the fingertip convenience control panel, you get extra-performance features you don't pay extra to get! So whether you choose a Bolens Husky with standard or with "hydrostatic" (automatic) transmission, you get champion operating efficiency, maintenance economy and unparalleled ease of handling, year round. Ask your dealer for a test ride. You'll discover the Bolens Husky is a compact tractor you'll be proud to own!

Out of the Past

5 YEARS AGO...

A 68-year-old Novi man, John W. Quinn, was killed near Northville State hospital when his car was forced off the pavement and into a tree. Police said the deceased's car was struck by a car passing a gravel truck.

A race against time developed for advocates of Northville's entrance into the Northwest Wayne county community college district. The obstacle which had blocked a possible local vote on the issue was scheduled to be removed by passage of special legislation in the state senate.

Terms of W. C. Becker, board secretary and Edward F. Angove were to expire in June. Neither had indicated whether or not he would seek reelection.

Contributions totaling $13,527.25 were reported by A. R. Clarke, treasurer for the Northville Scout-Recreation building fund campaign.

Northville township's "waterless" subdivisions in the southeastern area near Phoenix Lake and along Five Mile road had little hope of immediate relief despite an all-out effort by township officials.

Midge Cova, owner and pro at Novi's Bob O'Link golf course proved he knows his course well by firing a 120-yard ace on the 16th hole.

10 YEARS AGO...

Thirteen candidates - three for mayor, two for justice of the peace, and eight for council - filed petitions for Wilson's city incorporation election slated for May 19.

Marie J. Seelye, 25640 Seelye road, a resident of Novi for 50 years, died.

All Northville mourned the loss of its number one citizen, Claude N. "Pete" Ely, the city's only mayor, died suddenly. A life-long resident of Northville, he was half-way through his term as the mayor of the city. He had served as the last village mayor and was a village council member for 10 years from 1942 to 1952.

A misjudged flyball broke up an 11-inning pitcher's battle and gave the Northville Mustangs a hard-earned 2-1 win over Clarkson in their first league game of the year. Pitcher Jeff Goodrich went the entire route for Northville, giving up only three hits and striking out 12.

Novi's civil defense program was in a mild crisis after a request for the township board to supply CD volunteers with police auxiliary badges failed to go through. Director Leon Doehrt told the board his group would not go to work with Novi's regular police on special duty unless the badges were provided.

15 YEARS AGO...

The green light was given Northville's proposed community building when the village commission approved a tentative drawing submitted by Wilson Funk, chairman of the community building committee. The commission's approval to go ahead with the building climaxed a fight for it which had lasted since 1947. Original plans were abandoned when the Commission at that time would not agree to bonding the village for the approximately $150,000 necessary to construct the building.

25 YEARS AGO...

Listed as American Heroes in The Record were these three servicemen: Ray F. Allen, Albert G. Payne and Ludwig Klades.

Eddie Lanning, who with Donna Jean Schute represented Northville at the district contest at Plymouth, won the championship.

Northville members of the Civilian Air Patrol, Squadron 634-5 who flew over Detroit distributing leaflets publicizing the new Victory Loan Drive were Mr. and Mrs. Peter Perkins, Kenneth Willis, Elden Biery and Del Campbell.

The Northville village council reviewed and accepted the budget totaling $71,500, passed a dog ordinance, planned future consideration of a petition for a vote on the zoning ordinance, and paid the bills.

Members of the Northville high school baseball team, under the direction of Coach Pitt, were Captain Lloyd Wendt, pitcher; Don Butler, pitcher; Harold Hanson, pitcher; Gene Altzel, catcher; Harry German, first base; Robert MacDonald, third base; Earl Croll, shortstop; and Joe Bongiovanni, Raymond Sullivan, Louis Lanning, Daniel Rutenbar, Bill Asher, Robert Stoenoff and Steve Folino, outfielders.

First prize in the pet parade went to Dick Colman and his coach dog, second to a cocker spaniel of Dick Cunniff, and third to Paul Castfield's "Punkie", a class dog.

65 YEARS AGO...

Early Wednesday morning it was discovered that the Warner-Richardson factory had been robbed of 12 cheeses worth about $75.

It was easily ascertained that the robber had entered the factory through the opening used for putting in coal, and had carried out his booty through the large doors, after which he secured them as before.

Northville Police Calls Climb

Northville Police activity continued its upward climb during the month of February, boosting the total number of police calls for the first two months of the year to above the 1,000 mark.

According to the activity report of the department introduced to the city council Monday, calls totaled 1,063 through February compared to 924 last year during the same period. A total of 500 calls were received in February compared to 372 in February of 1967.

Of the calls in February, 54 concerned township matters, the remainder inside the city.

Although few major crimes were investigated in February, an increase was noted. Assault and battery cases increased from zero (1967) to seven and rape from none to one. Breaking and entering cases were cut to zero from three reported last year.

Attempted breaking and enterings were up from none to two; larceny of $100 or more up from two to three; larceny under $100 up from eight to nine; vandalism up from six to eight; and bad checks, up from none to five.

Cases of disorderly conduct were up from zero to four; disorderly-drunk from five to nine; minors in possession of alcoholic beverages from one to 12; other liquor law violations from none to four; family trouble from none to five; juvenile arrest from none to one; impounded vehicles from none to 15; miscellaneous traffic cases from none to six; and arrests for other departments from none to five.

Missing and recovered persons cases were up from none to one, animal complaints up from 20 to 38, and dog and cat bites up from none to three.

A total of 17 fire calls - six from the city and 11 from the township - were received in February compared to none in the city last year and two in the township.

Accidents, according to the report, were down in February as compared to the same month last year - from 21 to 10. Five injury accidents occurred last year in February compared to two this year.

Conversely, the number of moving traffic violations were up. Only 39 were policed last year, while 113 were handled this year. Parking violations were down from 20 to 302.

Altogether, the police department made 53 arrests in February - and leading the way in the types of offense were minors in possession cases (16). The next two greatest offenses leading to arrests were disorderly person drunk (8) and miscellaneous traffic (7).

Of the 15 impounded cars, eight of them resulted because of minors in possession cases. Two were abandoned.

Collegians Vote Against War

Schoolcraft college students have changed their minds about the Vietnam war and want to see a gradual withdrawal of American forces from the conflict.

In an opinion poll taken last week (April 2) during the spring Student Senate elections, students reversed their stand last October when a majority approved escalation of the war effort. The students voted better than 2-to-1 in favor of withdrawal.

In the presidential races, New York Senator Robert Kennedy again was the student favorite, but Wisconsin Sen. Eugene McCarthy polled strongly among four Democratic candidates on the straw ballot, including Pres. John son and former Alabama Gov. George Wallace. Among Republicans on the ballot, students favored Richard Nixon by a slight margin over New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

On campus issues, the students left no question of their desire for the college to field a football team, approving the idea of a varsity grid squad by a five to one margin, 324 to 60.

The vote on the Vietnam question was 226 in favor of gradual withdrawal (in October 20 students voted for de-escalation and 63 voted for complete withdrawal), 111 in favor of escalation of the war effort (124 wanted to step-up the fighting last October) and 46 in favor of maintaining the present policy (65 approved a stand-pat position last fall).

The four Democratic candidates on the straw ballot polled 286 votes against 128 votes for three Republicans, reflecting a shift away from the GOP side of the ballot since October when Governor Romney was a prospective candidate.

The tally: Kennedy 142; McCarthy 85; Johnson 31; and Wallace 40, among the Democrats; and Nixon 66, Rockefeller 59 and California Gov. Ronald Reagan 3, among Republicans. In October, Reagan and Nixon polled 45 votes each.

Michigan Bankard Welcome

You know how it is when you're a child, you are sure you are going to "live happily ever after" somewhere, sometime.

As you grow older, the story may change a little. The fairy tale princess turns out to be the girl next door; your castle in the air, a white house on Orchard Street. But the goal remains the same, the happy ending on the far side of the rainbow.

But life doesn't always happen like that. Sometimes storybook marriages end in divorce, a promising job becomes a dead end, or a sure-fire investment turns out to be a total loss. Misfortune or your own weaknesses make your days seem futile and empty. What then of childhood expectations? Where do you look for joy and hope and bright tomorrows?

God's love is the only way to find real and lasting happiness. Comfort, strength, and purpose are yours for the asking. Why not attend your church today and find new inspiration for your life?

SPEAKING

for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following guest editorial was written by Frank Ollendorff, city manager of Northville.

"Northville — City of History and Progress" is one of the many fine entries in the current contest for an official Northville slogan. Does this statement by one of our young students tell the true story or is it merely wishful thinking?

To preserve our history and make possible our continued progress will require a good deal more than has been done to date. Action has been discussed, but only small parts of our total program have been accomplished.

Several groups are working to preserve our historical heritage. The Rotary Club is currently restoring a natural water supply to the old Silver Spring. The Northville Record is preparing a historical perspective of the community. Various groups and individuals, with the help of the city government, are contributing to the maintenance and conservation of our trees and green spaces.

Still, we have neglected to take any important and coordinated action to maintain even minimum standards in several of our older neighborhoods. In a number of cases older homes have deteriorated through circumstances beyond the control or financial ability of the owners. Overcrowding exists in Northville, and lack of sanitary facilities, hot water, electricity, heat, and infestation by insects are problems not always overcome through ordinance enforcement. Either citizen groups or local government will have to prepare neighborhood improvement programs before entire blocks are downgraded and "historic Northville" given over to urban renewal or other costly programs. To date, only a very small number of citizens, usually neighboring owners, have voiced any concern over the lack of action in these areas.

In preparing for progress, much has been discussed. Plans for maintaining a healthy business district have been reviewed. Recreational facilities have been listed. Street improvement programs have been set forth. Water distribution master planning has been done. New traffic arteries have been suggested. Major new zoning protections have been planned. Parking needs have been analyzed. Of course, not all citizens would pin the label "progress" on the above items. Each has, however, been requested by one or more segments of the community.

While few if any important areas have been excluded from the city's blue-printing for future physical development, there has been little action to bring about the improvements. There has been only sporadic interest shown by those directly concerned, the citizens. The almost complete lack of citizen involvement in the setting of community action goals raises several questions:

Do we, as elected and/or appointed government leaders, misunderstand the needs and desires of the community? Do citizens, as taxpayers, realize the costs involved in meeting these needs?

The plans for the future listed above would cost well in excess of five million dollars if all were to be implemented. Adjoining residents will face major assessments for streets, water, sewer, electric, and gas. Merchants and building owners will be asked to pay a significant portion of the cost in increased parking needs. Taxpayers of jurisdictions participating in the re-evaluation program must pay their fair share for acquisition of facilities. Property owners will have to cooperate in updating neighborhood zoning standards. All residents will be paying for widely used improvements.

Preserving our past heritage and bringing about further progress will entail the making of firm decisions in the very near future—decisions which will be costly and, in some cases, I will continue to recommend the carrying out of the many programs I believe to be necessary. Your City Council will continue to take action when it believes such action to be in the City's best interest.

"Northville — City of History and Progress" could be a fine slogan. Right now it remains a question: a question open to community discussion of goals, methods, and priorities. The answers will be given by the elected City Council. The answers will more likely be right if each citizen would make his views known now.

A LOOSE LEAF

By ROLLY PETERSON

Once upon a time, the University of Michigan had a football team and it won football games. That was when Fielding H. Yost called the shots on the football field. Like the man, his feats are legendary.

But even in 1906, Michigan had its problems. A campus magazine, "The Wolverine," told of the need for a new attitude. Here's what was said, I quote:

"The six points scored on the Varsity by our hoodoo, Case School of Cleveland, will probably be an eye sore to Yost, his men, and the students at large, for quite a while. But this will undoubtedly have markedly better results than a 50-0 game would have had.

"The students had begun to think of 50-0 as the lowest possible score and in the course of the game felt incensed if, at any time, any man on the team failed to make any ten or fifteen yards. Such are the results of a 50-0 team, but now the students ought to get out and root for 20-0, 15-0, 10-0, any old score so long as we win, and to remember, moreover, that the 1 and 2-yard gains may look small but they are the gains that win the big games."

"The first half ended with the score 30-6, and the second did not produce as many scores on either side. Case being content with her first-half score and Michigan getting only 18 additional points." (Michigan won the game, 48-6.)

Next, Michigan played Michigan Agricultural College. Here's how "The Wolverine" reported that game:

"The game Wednesday with Michigan Agricultural College was very much on the order of a farce. The whole game seemed to consist of system like this: Kickoff, scrimmage, round the end for a touchdown and repeat ad infinitum. Yost, who had refused to make any predictions as to the outcome, walked along the sidelines with that happy smile of his while his men sailed first around the right end then around the left.

As an end running game it was exemplary and if Yost intended, as he undoubtedly must have, to have the men get a great deal of practice in formations on the kickoff and on end runs he was very successful.

"You cannot satisfy the general public, however, and when the score got above 50 the crowd clamored for more. When it reached that very high figure, they were satisfied but again clamored, this time for 150. Considering the ordinary football scores, this score (150) seems outrageous. Think of it, 25 touchdowns in 40 minutes! That surely is the limit! This game surely has counteracted the 6 points scored against us by Case."

Quoting again from "The Wolverine":

"Michigan's goal-line was crossed last Saturday for the first time in two seasons. Sporting extras have strung out columns of 'stuff' over Davidson's achievement, and the average student looks horror-stricken and exclaims breathlessly, 'How did it happen!'

"It was very simple when you come to think of it. A good man wriggled around the Michigan line and found an open field, save for one man, whom he successfully eluded. A touchdown resulted. Such a play might occur repeatedly in a single game, and then again, it might not happen once throughout an entire season.

"That Case scored on Michigan is the fault of no one man, and The Wolverine is confident in the belief that the student body makes no such accusation. In the first place the game started out badly. Fumbles and poor kick-offs were in evidence. There seemed to be a lack of determination on both sides.

"Then came the surprise, and the game at once developed into one of the fiercest battles ever witnessed here. Harnstein's playing was a revelation of what one man can do when the spirit of 'do or die' takes possession of him. Every man got into the game and the team became a well-ordered machine. The score of 48-6 tells the story of what our boys are capable of doing when they make the effort."

Oh, that Bump Elliott had the same problems.

'Denied Legal Right to Vote'

To the Editor:

(Copy of letter mailed to former Novi Village President Philip Anderson by George R. Simmons, with an added note to the editor by his son, Bruce E. Simmons.)

"We were certainly shocked and disappointed to hear that you lost out in the election by one vote, especially so because Noraine and I would both most certainly have voted for you had we received the absentee voters' ballots in time.

"As we told you over the phone, we received the ballots on Tuesday, March 12, at approximately 1:45 p.m. They came special delivery, air mail. Enclosed were two more applications for ballots, together with the two ballots. Of course, there was nothing we could do about it then, as the election was held the day before, March 11.

To the Editor:

Is there a man so blinded by riches he can afford to ignore the trash in his ditch?

Is there a home so tailored and trim, the man cannot see the junk left for him?

Aren't we yet ready in these throw away days to gather it in when it comes our way?

As it has been going, we're a long ways from stopping the year-round growth of this roadside cropping? So let's make up our minds, it's a way of life, and it won't go away, just tooting our tire!

For those of us who are not familiar with the naming of our nearby community colleges, Schoolcraft, an article in the March issue of The Education Digest is both informative and entertaining.

Written originally for the Junior College Journal by Patrick Butler, head librarian at Schoolcraft, the article kicks off with the premise that naming a college "is not a job to be taken lightly" and then races for the goal line in a zig-zag play on words.

"The girl at the switchboard," writes Butler, "found it difficult to repeat 'Northwest Wayne County Community College' brightly at three-minute intervals without losing her cool by coffee break time. And there were more serious problems, if you grant that there can be more serious problems than a babbling switchboard girl. Unfortunately you cannot get 'Northwest Wayne County Community College' in a headline and still have much room for a story. The only abbreviation devised, No. We. Wa. Co. Co. Co., flopped. It tended to remind readers, particularly when read aloud, of the sound track from an old Farzan film."

Because there was no one who had "scattered a few million dollars over the campus," the idea of naming the college for a benefactor never blossomed into a headline. The "College Contest" was launched (and 200,000 brains were put to work on the problem.)

Hundreds of entries were received, says Butler, but they succeeded only in taxing the patience of the judges. "My own favorite," he says, "came rudely scrawled on a postcard: Taxpayer's Tech. It never had a chance.

"Eventually, the contest ended. The board mumbled something about not making any hasty decisions and went into executive session.

"Immediately the college staff—a skeleton crew of administrators was asked to plan curricula and buildings—began casting about frantically for a Michigan personage whose accomplishments were worth honoring. They came up with several, all tarnished."

Finally, says the author, someone stumbled upon Henry Rowe Schoolcraft. "Now here was a Michiganian of Renaissance proportions: explorer, ethnologist, scholar, Indian agent, geologist. He was even a hobnobber with literary lions: Longfellow learned the Algonquian tale of Schoolcraft's canoe and an intrepid explorer. His first wife was part Chippewa. Here was a man of action and a man of learning and a man who never made a dime from liquor even with all those Indians around."

All the trustees but one were impressed.

"Bill's belly," he said, "that name is longer than the first one. Thirty-seven letters in it, only 36 in the one we got now." He was not an unkind trustee but he had a mathematical mind. Having dropped his bomb, he proposed a way out. "Let's just call the place Schoolcraft College," he said, "and we'll be in business."

So there you have it. Naming of Schoolcraft as the college's head librarian say it. But he concludes his piece with two disturbing paragraphs:

"The other day the president of the board of trustees received a letter from a citizen complaining that while Schoolcraft College appeared to be an excellent institution of reasonably higher learning, the name bothered her. Sounded like a trade school, the lady said. Had the board, she inquired, ever considered changing the college's name?"

"I have no record of the president's reply."

Health Quacks Bilk Public of $100 Million

LANSING — "Death, Fraud, Theft," These are prices Americans pay to health quacks, reports the Michigan State Medical Society. In terms of death, it is estimated that more Americans lose their lives each year to quackery than to all crimes of violence put together. In terms of dollars, the "take" approaches $3 billion a year, more than $100 million in Michigan alone.

MSMS notes that quackery exists in many forms. Most promise benefits for real or imagined problems. Their first targets are quacks who play upon the "incurable" patient. No only is the patient "mildred" financially, but he can be killed in the process of treatment. At the very least, the medicines maintain, he will prolong visiting a competent doctor, hoping the quack will effect a miracle.

"Cures" the quack might advance involve drugs and medicines, mechanical devices, special foods, and psychic treatments.

"cure" may be the only hope left. Because victims do not sign complaints, some are too embarrassed; some are dead.

LEGISLATION in California makes "quackery" a felony punishable by imprisonment for up to 10 years. The law, passed last year, has yet to prove its effectiveness. There is divided opinion among attorneys whether a similar law would be helpful in Michigan. Some think that present statutes provide ample protection and that the problem lies with enforcement.

Attorney General Frank Kelley feels leaving the committee hearings to the professional lobbyists who survive and thrive because they are Johnny-on-the-spot and persistent in their pleadings.

GONE — perhaps forever — are the really strong Speakers of the House who almost single-handedly make a good deal of the congressional history of yesterday. But Congress is still blessed with numerous men of stature — capable, articulate, and often highly individualistic. The colorful flavor of bygone years may or may not be recaptured, but the dynamism should be retrievable.

Some claim the ills of Congress stem mostly from the so-called seniority system which provides that committee assignments, chairmanships, and influence generally depend on length of service. This assumes that the incompetents in Congress manage to be re-elected "ad infinitum." Criticism of the seniority system also suggests that Congress is "old and tired." Not so. The median age of all members of Congress is 55 (Senators 59, Representatives 52).

SEN. RUSSELL B. LONG of Louisiana has proposed that the Senate establish a dial-a-vote system that would permit absent members to record themselves by telephone when important rollcalls are being taken. Hidebound as Senators are to tradition, there is no early hope that they will adopt such a precedent-shattering idea. But Sen. Long's proposal does focus attention on the fact that Congress clings to voting procedures and members' courtesies that are archaic and time-consuming. Unlike so many state legislatures, Congress so far has failed to use electronic voting devices which could speed its work.

Congress' most dismal failure lies in its seemingly superficial handling of its chief responsibility — the enactment of laws. Under present rigid procedures and limitations of funds and staff, neither existing nor proposed programs are being studied as carefully as fully as they should be relative to national goals.

Vietnam Victim's Parents Accept His Battle Awards

Army PFC (E3) Robert Allen Strange of Northville, killed in the Vietnam fighting last July, has been posthumously awarded the Bronze Star Medal for Valor, the Purple Heart, and the Vietnamese Military Merit Medal and Gallantry Cross with Palm.

The awards were accepted by the soldier's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Strange of 422 Dubuay. The presentation was made by Major General Shelton E. Lollis, commanding general of the U.S. Army Tank-Automotive Command (ATAC), Warren, at a ceremony in the general's headquarters office.

The Bronze Star Citation read: "For heroism in connection with military operations against an armed hostile force in the Republic of Vietnam. On 21 July 1967 Private First Class Strange distinguished himself while serving as a Machine Gunner in Company B, 1st Battalion, 12th Infantry.

"Joining the unit in December 1966, Private First Class Strange faced the hardships and adversities of combat operations with a willing spirit and unflagging determination. His skill as a machine gunner and his knowledge of weapons and tactics was outstanding. His prowess in battle clearly marked him as a soldier of the highest caliber and contributed significantly to the performance of his unit in combat.

"On 12 July 1967 Private First Class Strange's platoon was moving to the assistance of another unit when it made contact with a major North Vietnamese Army force and was separated from the rest of the company.

"Holding their ground despite extreme odds, he and his comrades fought heroically for an extended period. He was mortally wounded in the action. Private First Class Strange's heroism and devotion to duty are in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit on himself, his unit and the United States Army."

The 20 year old soldier attended Northville high school. He entered the service on May 31, 1966.

Seoul, Korea—Army Sergeant First Class Robert M. Tomsett, son of Mason Tomsett, Mt. Morris, received a Certificate of Achievement during ceremonies near Seoul, Korea, March 21. His wife, Claudia, lives at 1714 Bolton.

Sergeant Tomsett received the award for outstanding service during his last assignment in Ann Arbor, from September 1966 to February 1968.

The sergeant is now noncommissioned officer in charge of radio and cables with Eighth U.S. Army Headquarters. He entered the Army in 1963, completed basic training at Ft. Knox, Kentucky, and arrived in Korea in February of this year.

He graduated in 1963 from New York (N.Y.) Central high school.

U.S. ARMY, Vietnam—Army Private First Class James R. Housinger, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean R. Housinger, 9884 Currie road, Northville, was assigned to the 199th Infantry Brigade in Vietnam, March 23.

On Oakland Budget

Homeowners Fight For Open Hearing

A fight to get the Oakland county's 1969 tentative budget out in the open has been taken to the floor of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

The Oakland County Homeowners and Taxpayers Association has demanded that their request for a public hearing be presented to the entire Board of Supervisors for a roll call vote. "In this way," said Glen Swindler, president of the group, "the taxpayers can find out which supervisors are against a public hearing."

The association takes the position that the State Constitution provides for a public hearing on both the tentative and final budgets. The county, however, has responded that no money is appropriated on the tentative budget and therefore no public hearing is necessary at this time.

Swindler retorted that "no money is appropriated on the budget in October, either," which is the date set by the county for a public hearing.

The reason the association is calling for a public hearing now on the tentative budget is obvious, according to Swindler. "We want some questions answered by the budget makers before the budget goes to the tax allocation board and the tax rate is set for next year."

They ask "what harm can there be in giving the taxpayer one evening to cross-examine the financial wizards who make up the county budget?"

The county's tentative budget has been set at $26,202,955—up about $4.3 million over last year. This would require a .76 mill tax increase, or 76¢ for every thousand dollars of assessed valuation for every taxpayer in the county.

The supervisors also are considering a county-wide election to seek approximately 1 mill additional tax increase for the Oakland county road commission. This would add another dollar of taxes to every thousand-dollar assessment for every taxpayer in the county.

Swindler said there is no reason why a transfer of funds cannot be made from primary to local roads, as is done in Macomb and other counties to take care of road problems.

The organization spokesman also said that money being paid into the general fund from the new state income tax and from increased property taxes could be allocated to roads and schools so that additional millage requests would not be necessary.

"Instead," said Swindler, "they're spending our money on airports and morgues and air-conditioned jails and office buildings while the poor taxpayer is expected to dig deeper into his pockets."

The homeowners association has scheduled a meeting for Monday at 7:30 p.m. at Seaholm high school in Birmingham. Novi-Wixom area residents and those in the Oakland county portion of Northville are urged to attend.

Edison Appoints Kenneth Sewell

Northville resident Kenneth I. Sewell has been appointed project control engineer in the project and cost control department of The Detroit Edison company.

The appointment was included in an announcement of the establishment of the new department, project and cost control, under the directorship of Myron C. Beekman, assistant to the executive vice president for production, Harvey A. Wagner.

Sewell will report directly to Beekman and will be responsible for the coordination of the physical aspects of all power generation projects at the Edison company.

A native Detroitier and graduate of Cooley high school, Sewell earned his bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering at Lawrence Institute of Technology in 1942.

Sewell began his Edison career, immediately after a three-year tour of duty during World War II with the U.S. Army Signal Corps, with the company's electrical apparatus division. He transferred to the planning division of the general engineering department in 1949 and has continued involvement in various phases of planning and development ever since.

He is a member of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers. Sewell and his wife, Dorothy, have made their home at 18320 Laramie Drive since 1965. They are the parents of three children.

Announcing Chevrolet's new Torque-Drive.

Nobody else offers anything like it at the price. Torque-Drive does away with the clutch pedal. Most of the shifting, too. And for the most economy, it's available exclusively on all Camaro sixes and Chevy II

Nova 4- and 6-cylinder models. Look how simple it is. You accelerate in 1st gear, shift to Hi for cruising. That's all. If you like, you can even start in Hi. And accelerate from standstill to cruising speed. It's just a little slower that way.

The shift lever is conveniently located on the steering column, and there's a selector quadrant with easy-to-read indications: Park-R-N-Hi-1st. Only your Chevrolet dealer has it—clutchless driving at only $68.65.

The first no clutch one shift $68.65* transmission

Only Chevrolet has it.

Recalls His Story

Written by a mentally ill father of a mentally ill son, this book opens with this profound statement: "The painful realities related on this film are as real as Show, Thursday, 10 p.m., in color on television."

Directed by the author, "Todd," the film is a powerful statement from the very beginning that the subject being discussed was definitely real, and of their attempt to understand the illness. Melton tells us that he was aware of the importance of the film in the achievement of Human Rights, and discusses the importance of the film in the therapy program. Melton is the director of the Institute, and discusses his own experience with the illness.

On this Mike Douglas Show, the co-host Michael O'Brien, stuntman and actor, and Brenda Lee,
