Hall-Moisan Vows Spoken in Dearborn

Judy Kay Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hall, 345 Sherrie Lane, Northville, became the bride of Timothy A. Moisan in a candlelight, double-ring ceremony May 4 at St. Paul's United Church of Christ in Dearborn.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Moisan of Wayne, is a third class petty officer serving aboard the U.S.S. Canberra. Following the ceremony, the newlyweds left on an auto trip to San Diego where his ship is in port.

The Reverend L. F. Weigel officiated at the altar decorated with white mums and glads. Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a gown of antique white silk organza, fashioned with a fitted bodice with scalloped neckline and long sleeves. A design of white seed pearls decorated the neckline and adorned the skirt. A matching rose held her shoulder-length veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses, lilies of the valley and glads.

Krystal Ann Hall was honor maid for her sister in a floor-length gown of yellow tulle with white nylon dotted swiss overskirt. She carried a colonial basket of Tropaeolum roses and white daisy mums with blue stock and match-

UMBRELLAS were slashed in the entrance of the J. F. Keese home on West Main street Tuesday morning as Mrs. Keese welcomed the area's newest residents to the Northville Newcomers' Club annual get-acquainted coffee.

Informality—a key word in all club activities—prevailed as conversations sprouted over cups of coffee. Mrs. Halton Astell greeted guests officially and explained club functions before new officers were elected and she turned the presidency over to Mrs. Kent Mathes.

The club now has more than 100 members with general membership luncheons or coffees planned for sociability. Members also gather in smaller interest groups to golf, play bridge and pursue arts-and-crafts hobbies. Organized to help the newcomers become acquainted with her new community, the club now permits membership for five years.

Because it is so large and many new people are coming to the area, a discussion of whether to limit the time to three years will be held at a joint board meeting of new and retiring officers May 27 at Mrs. Astell's home.

Also welcoming the new residents was Mrs. Robert Lang, new Northville Town Hall chairman, who invited them to subscribe to the 1968-69 series and to become active in the TH program.

Other newcomers officers elected Tuesday are Mrs. Frank Ollendorff, vice-president; Mrs. Kenneth Rosellotti, secretary; Mrs. Thomas Handy, treasurer. New chairmen are Mrs. Joseph Kluesner, interest groups; Mrs. M. L. Rinehart, social; Mrs. Daniel Swayne, membership; Mrs. David Cheek, telephone.

Husbands are included in two events still on this season's agenda for the Newcomers—a steak roast May 25 at the Rosellotti home on Beck road and a dinner-dance June 7 at Lofy's in Plymouth.

MEADOWBROOK country club, now 52 years old, is planning its spring formal dinner-dance around an art show and wine-tasting party. It is to be Saturday, May 25, beginning at 6:30 p.m. with members and their guests invited to try California wines and their German counterparts while viewing more than 70 paintings on exhibit in the lounge and main dining room. The paintings are from the House of Paintings in Detroit.

For the fourth year, the club will be "an art gallery for a week." James Cornelius, manager, commented.

Our Lady of Victory Pupils Display Talent

Students at Our Lady of Victory school displayed art and science projects which had been a part of their subject matter during the past year in grades one through eighth at a science and art fair Sunday for parents and the public.

Art winners, grade one, first-third place, were Brian Faustyn, Edward Olah, Melissa Faulkner; grade two, Joanne Barnes, Chris Suddendorf, Maggie Sullivan, Sandra Polman.

Third grade top art winner was a group project, Plymouth Plantation, by Laura Hunko, Michael Graham, Cheryl Greene, Carl Pawlowski, Christina Sinicola, Melinda Rotta, Thomas Greene, Beth Katsbeck, Kelly Kampmann, Tim McDonald, Paul McDonald, Nancy Madisac. Third grade second and third place winners were Jane Faustyn and Pamela Grunheid.

Science winners, first through third place, in each grade were, first, Brian Faustyn, Sharon Alsop, Anne MacIsaac; second, Joyce Gensley, Karen Lisowski, Chris Suddendorf; third, Margaret Foley, Thomas Booms, Chris Karrer, Cathleen Crup; fifth, Chris Rotta, Cheryl Vismay, Stephen Krause.

Top science honors in the sixth grade went to a terrarium, a group project. Patti Johnston was second place winner with another group project, television showing eras of the earth, taking third.

Seventh grade winners were David Sinicola, Jean Miller, Mary Higgins and Claire Sauer.

Other faculty couples are Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Schmucker, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hanert, Mr. and Mrs. James Ladd. Completing the list are Milan Orenovich and Mrs. Ella McMillan.

Accreditation also means the Northville system meets the high standards of the association as regarding courses offered, library books, laboratory equipment, etc.

Through its qualification for accreditation, the association provides school systems with a guideline for providing an exceptional education program, Holdsworth explained.

Kings Mill

Residents of Kings Mill Cooperative Townhouses are looking forward to a splash party on Memorial Day, May 30, which will mark the opening of the new club pool.

Gordon Brenneman, pool director, who will be assisted throughout the season by two pool guards, has announced that there will be open swimming for all residents from 1 to 6 p.m. Memorial Day.

A box lunch splash party for adults only is scheduled for that evening.

Kings Mill Mothers' club was scheduled to meet for dessert and a social session Wednesday at the club.

FIRST GAL—For the first time in the 16-year history of the Huron-Clinton Park Authority's nature study program, a woman—Miss Patricia Eising, will be placed in charge of a nature program. Miss Eising, replacing Richard Mortenore, will assume the new post at Kensington park May 27.

First Woman Gets Nature Post at Kent

For the first time in the 16-year history of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority nature study program, a woman will be placed in charge of a park nature program.

She is Miss Patricia Eising, well-known Detroit area naturalist, who will assume the new post at the Nature Center of Kensington Metropolitan park on Monday, May 27. She replaces Richard Mortenore who left in April to make his home in Hills, Hawaii.

Since joining the Huron-Clinton park agency in June of 1965, Miss Eising has been a member of the naturalist staff at Stony Creek Metropolitan Park near Utica. The Authority nature program operates two year-around Nature Centers and one seasonal nature center plus nature trails at most of its eight parks throughout the counties of Livingston, Macomb, Oakland, Washtenaw and Wayne.

Her duties will be to interpret the natural environment of the nature study area through exhibits at the Nature Center and through labels along the nature trails and by conducting field trips for school classes. The Authority program started at Kensington Metropolitan park in 1952 and expanded with the addition of the nature center in 1967 which had about 70,000 visitors in 1967.

Considers Lot Sizes

Novi Council OKs Pre-Plat Plan

Although a developer received planning board and council approval for a pre-preliminary plat on a 30-acre subdivision of Meadowbrook road Monday night, attention was focused on possibility of raising the minimum lot size for single-family dwellings.

Plat approval for the Meadowbrook No. 2 division occurred following a public hearing that saw the developer withdraw a request for approval of a portion of the land east of Meadowbrook road at Nine Mile.

Withdrawal of the request resulted when the village engineering firm contended an area at the north end of the site should not be approved until the elevation was raised to a point above effects of periodic high waters that occur. The withdrawal was for an area labeled Meadowbrook No. 1.

Council and planning board members agreed some of the conditions under present zoning that must be considered in any action taken to raise the minimum lot size from 7,500 square feet.

The council suggested the question of raising minimum lot size specifications be placed on the agenda for discussion at the board's next regular meeting, Monday, May 27. The council also requested the planning board to study all the existing unplatted areas in the village now zoned R-1.

Discussion on minimum lot size requirements revealed several topics of concern, including school tax levies.

Councilman Ray Evans said that raising the minimum lot size "provides a degree of control over density of population, which is of critical importance to the school district and to local tax rates necessary to support the schools."

"If we raise the lot size requirements, don't we price the working man right out of the housing market in Novi?" asked Planning Board Member Glen Green.

Evans rejected the idea that working families would be priced from the market. If requirements were raised to three or three-and-a-half lots per acre, when Green cited Allen Park as a community where fine quality homes were erected on lots as narrow as 40 feet, Evans said, "That's exactly the sort of thing we have to consider. Allen Park also built new schools that they couldn't occupy for lack of money to operate."

Councilman Donald Young com-

Hot Novi Budget Debate
Centers on Police Request

While the number of councilmen outnumbered the public at a hearing that saw the council adopt a record budget last week Wednesday night, members of the audience did engage in a spirited debate with the council as it grew into words between councilman and prompted village manager Harold Ackley to enter the discussion over personnel needs of the village.

Lines of the debate were drawn after a request for three additional patrolmen from Police Chief Lee BeGoie was denied.

Councilman Leo Harwood pointed out the police department was already receiving about one-third of total village general fund income.

BeGoie said he recognized this but his job was concerned with public safety and it was his duty to inform the council of the community's needs as he viewed the matter.

"I'm fighting a losing battle to maintain the high standard of law enforcement the community is accustomed to," BeGoie said. "I want this council to know that as Novi continues to grow you will be receiving complaints about our service because we will be unable to maintain the past level of efficiency."

In regards to wages, BeGoie produced a study he said was prepared by the Novi Police Officers' association that showed Novi to rank number 60 in a list of 60 metropolitan area communities.

Nothing that Northville's salary for officers and for the police chief is higher than Novi, BeGoie said that law enforcement demands are far more rigorous and complex in Novi. He cited the presence of I-94, a much larger total area and higher population, more and increasing numbers of industrial plants, and the presence of a large body of water, Walled Lake, as conditions that make for a more demanding law-enforcement task.

Harwood offered strong counter argument to BeGoie, noting the one-third of the total budget that goes for the police department and objecting to transfer of funds from other budget areas to the police department.

Village manager Harold Ackley commented that every employee in every department of the village was performing in a versatile capacity and working under difficult, overcrowded conditions.

"I don't know where in the world we'd find room for three more police officers," Ackley said.

"I've got a place for them on the road, on duty," BeGoie replied.

At one point Harwood told BeGoie that he had gone out and developed support to put an increased millage proposal to an election test. "That's not my job," BeGoie said.

The comments on millage brought a criticism from Edwin Presnell that the council had been lax in public relations skills in not involving the home-owners associations and other civic associations on the topic of extra millage elections.

The present five-mill rate includes one mill earmarked for public improvement. It was transfer of $2,500 from this fund to the police department that brought objections from Harwood.

Discussion of the police officers' salaries brought out that the Novi Police Officers' association has apparently disbanded. The association's president, when Officer George Biggs resigned, Ackley reported that village attorney, Howard Bond had raised a point of conflict of interest about the association's attorney, Arnold Shifman. An assistant prosecuting attorney for Oakland County, Shifman resigned from representing the officers when the question of possible conflict of interest was raised about a prosecuting attorney representing an organization in dealing with another governmental body.

Cityhood Forum
Jaycees Review
Major Questions

EDITOR'S NOTE - Following is a review of some of the questions fielded by the Novi Jaycees and answered in The Novi News pertaining to the cityhood issue on which voters will decide Monday.

1. Q - What is the basic difference between city and village forms of government?

A - A village is a unit of government providing local services for its citizens such as police and fire protection, water, sewer, etc. A village is part of the township which carries out legally required duties. These township duties include property assessing for the school district and the county, collection of township, school and county taxes, conducting elections (except village), furnishing a representative to the county board of supervisors, and providing a primary or justice court system.

2. Q - How would becoming a city affect our school districts?

A - There would be no changes whatsoever in any one of the four school districts in Novi. Local government is not involved in any phase of a school system, other than to provide a means of collecting the school tax and distributing it to the various school systems.

3. Q - What are the basic reasons why we should become a city?

A - The following reasons are compiled from information from Michigan Municipal League technical bulletins: (A) Boundary protection. Cityhood would establish city limits and enable Novi to plan its future development without the constant threat of annexation by surrounding communities.

(B) Tax base protection. Cityhood would prevent large tax-paying industries from being annexed, such as happened with the Ford-Lincoln plant now within the city of Wixom.

(C) Simplification of government. Cityhood would abolish the two forms of government in Novi and thus eliminate some duplicating functions.

(D) Modernization of government. Cityhood would provide Novi with an opportunity to update its form of government, if believed necessary, through the blue-printing of a new charter.

(E) Removal of partisan politics in local government. Cityhood would abolish the custom of political affiliation at the local level. Under a city, no person would have to commit himself to a particular political party in seeking office as happens now in township elections.

A. - A Novi village resident pays two taxbills a year, summer and winter. The winter tax includes the county and school tax, which would not be affected by becoming a city other than that a portion of the tax would be collected by the city treasurer's office instead of the township. Winter tax also includes a township tax of .37 mills and the library tax of .5 mills.

The summer tax includes the village government levy of 5 mills.

Summer and winter taxes do involve some duplication. Namely, they support two governments (township and village), including two treasurers, two attorneys, two tax rolls, two clerks, two voter registration rolls, two land assessment records.

Becoming a city would dissolve both township and village governments and create a new city government that would perform the combined functions of both the village and township.

Novi Joins Wayne
Library System

The Novi Public Library is now a member of the Wayne County Federated Library system, the 18th library in Oakland County to join the extensive system which serves 45 public libraries in Wayne and Oakland counties, according to Walter H. Kaiser, system director.

Since there is no Oakland County library service center, the Wayne County Federated Library system makes its services available by contracts with local communities. The contracts enumerate the services available and may be amended or terminated by either party upon six months notice.

The decision to join the system, one of the largest in the nation, followed a series of meetings between Novi public library board members and system officials.

Mrs. Robert Flattery, Novi librarian, listed some of the services which will be available to Novi residents.

Free borrowing privileges in any of the 45 libraries of the system, including the Dearborn main library, (Collection totals more than 1.1 million.)

A collection of 3,500 films for loan to local organizations without charge. Films will be delivered directly to the Novi library and returned there. A film catalog will be kept at the Novi public library for examination by library users.

Reference and interloan of books. The Novi library will be called daily by the system's service center at 33030 Van Born road in Wayne, to receive requests for books and subjects desired by Novi residents. If the books are not in the system's central collection or other member libraries, the request will be phoned through a daily "hot line" to the State Library and other libraries as required.

Photo copies of periodical materials not available in the Novi library will be sent directly to the patron's home by the service center at a nominal fee.

Mrs. Flattery noted other advantages in joining the system.

Important, expensive and specialized books, vital to library service but an unwarranted expense for one library to buy, are loaned to member libraries for three months.

New books for the Novi public library will be ordered and processed at the system's service center. Such centralized procedures result in substantial savings for member libraries through larger discounts and saved time. Centers for examining new books have been set up at the Southfield public library and the service center in Wayne.

General administrative, supervisory and consultative services as requested by the local community.

Members of the Novi public library board are Richard W. Vykdyal, Dirk Cronenberg, Mrs. Juan Alcala, Mrs. George Adkinson, Mrs. Neil Nichols and John Parent.

Novi Youth Faces
Indecency Charge

A charge of taking indecent liberties with a female child has been brought by Novi police against a 17-year-old Novi youth.

The charge stemmed from incidents occurring Monday afternoon, May 6, after which the parents of an eight-year-old girl complained to Novi police. The youth, who is reported to have been home alone, is alleged to have taken the girl into his home.

Other recent police action included helping at a fire that caused an estimated $600 damage to the home and contents of William C. Plaseck at 49447 West Nine Mile road. The fire, believed to have started in a utility room shortly after 8:00 a.m. Monday, was extinguished by a force of eight Novi firemen shortly after their arrival.

At the time of the fire on Nine Mile road, Novi police were assisting

State Police and Wixom police in halting traffic on I-96 at Meadowbrook while a construction crew moved power lines across the roadway. Both east and west-bound traffic was halted for about 20 minutes while workers of the Harlan Electrical Construction company pulled the lines across the traffic lanes.

In another case, Novi police investigated a complaint involving steel drums, labeled as containing chemicals, that were abandoned in a field off Wixom road north of 10 Mile. Labels on the sealed drums led police to the Western Solvents and Chemical company, Detroit.

Officials of the company said the drums were filled with sludge, derived from plastics manufacturing processes, but they could offer no enlightening information as to how the drums came to be abandoned in the field.

Thieves Hit Building Site;
Estimate Loss at $2,000

Thieves hit the construction site of the Hydramation Engineering company at 43300 Nine Mile road for the second time in recent weeks, making off with light fixtures, copper tubing, and other tools and equipment sometime Monday night or early Tuesday morning.

Trappers housing tools and materials at the construction site were broken into and ransacked with loss to the thieves estimated at $2,000. Novi police are investigating the case.

Two young Detroit men were recently sentenced in Oakland county circuit court for another burglary of the site on March 3.

Thomas Chapman, 19, and his brother Donald, 18, were arrested by Corporal Gordon Nelson and charged with malicious destruction of property and larceny. Nelson said he was aided in the investigation of the March 3 case by alert citizens.

The Chapmans pleaded guilty before Judge James Thornburn. Thomas was sentenced to three years probation. Donald was ordered to Boys Training School.

Novi Teacher
Gets Briefing

Milan Obrenovich of South Lyon, was among nearly 200 education leaders from throughout Michigan attending the MEA President's Conference May 9-11 at the MEA Conference Center near Battle Creek.

Obrenovich, a biology-general science teacher at Novi high school, attended as a leader of the Novi Education association, one of more than 600 MEA-affiliated local units in Michigan. Most of these units are negotiating agents with teachers in more than 500 Michigan school districts and community colleges.

Obrenovich received MEA orientation and instruction to help him become a more effective local professional leader.

CARNIVAL FUN - Several youngsters in the second grade class of Mrs. Winifred Ling get in some pre-carnival fun before tomorrow night's (Friday) event at Novi's Orchard Hills elementary school. Like last week's exciting fair at Novi elementary school, tomorrow's carnival will feature food, games and booths. Beginning with a 5 to 6:30 p.m. spaghetti dinner, the carnival action will follow immediately.

Bartlett Day
Shaping Up

With a goal of $3000 and cash contributions received of less than $400, the Frank Bartlett Scholarship committee is expecting a flood of donations before Bartlett Day ceremonies Sunday, May 26.

Gifts may be sent or taken to Gerald Dillaway, Assistant Cashier at the State Savings Bank. Committee members stress that this fund is not connected in any way with the Citizens' Scholarship Foundation.

Bartlett Day will include an Open House beginning at 2 p.m. at the South Lyon High School.

Salary Inequity
Hurts Education

EDITOR'S NOTE - The Northville Education association has asked permission to write a series of articles on education. Following is the second.

The maximum salary for a teacher with a B.A., even in the best paying districts, is less than the $10,000 reported as the average wage paid in 1964 to die makers in the Detroit area.

Throughout the school year, construction has continued at Northville high school on the addition of classrooms, an instructional materials center, and a pool. Of the men working on the construction, at least one holds a degree from college - and a teaching certificate. In fact, this construction worker once taught in our system. What might motivate a young man to give up a teaching career for construction work? Perhaps he discovered that over a twenty year span as a teacher he would earn $12,000 less than a janitor and $116,000 less than a skilled worker such as a die maker.

If these figures seem a bit too astounding to be true, consider this breakdown in the case of a teacher-janitor salary comparison. A teacher must earn a degree after high school and is thus nearly $30,000 behind a janitor after four years. Assuming a 15 year average salary of $5,300 for the janitor, and further assuming a starting salary of $6,000 and a maximum of $9,300 for a teacher with a B.A., after 20 years the teacher will have earned a net salary of $101,500 in the comparison with a die maker.

In the comparison with a die maker, the teacher loses $50,000 while in college due to the much higher wages paid skilled workers. But the truly depressing aspect of this comparison is that the teacher loses further ground because he will never earn as much as the average wage of a die maker.

1-Card of Thanks

I would like to say a most sincere thank you to all the friends who remembered me with cards, flowers and visits while I was in the hospital recently. They cheered my day and lifted my heart and my deep appreciation to each of you.

Mrs. Charlotte Friedlander
The family of Robert W. Hunter wish to express our deep appreciation to our friends for their kindness and sympathy shown to us during the time of our bereavement. A special thanks to Rev. V. F. Hahon Sr. and Rev. V. F. Hahon Jr., of the Grace Lutheran church and The Casterline Funeral Home.

A thank you to my friends and relatives for the flowers, cards, visits and inquiries during my stay in the hospital and my return home.

For Duties, Qualifications

Board OKs Policy on Principals

A policy governing duties and responsibilities of principals was approved by the Northville board of education Monday night upon the recommendation of the superintendent and a board subcommittee.

The policy, as it pertains to qualifications, is to be used as a guideline for hiring of a principal for American elementary school.

One of the five qualifications was challenged by Trustee James Kiefer as being too restrictive, but it was noted that the superintendent and the screening committee will use it as a guideline and that they can, if they choose, adjust it to retain the best qualified.

The qualifications are:

1. Holder of a Michigan permanent certificate.

2. An earned master's degree at an accredited institution with a major in administration and supervision.

3. Advanced study beyond an MA degree with evidence of commitment to furthering his educational background.

4. A minimum of seven years' experience in public school education of which at least five years are at the level he will administer. Kiefer argued that this qualification might discourage an application from someone with a healthy background in some related field but who does not meet the specified requirement. It was noted, too, that the words "public school" might discourage application from good parochial school administrators.

Following are the duties and responsibilities of the principal as noted in the policy:

1. He shall be directly responsible to the superintendent for all organization, administration and supervision within his building.

2. He shall be responsible for the educational leadership of his staff and curriculum development in cooperation with the curriculum coordinator.

3. He shall be responsible for carrying out board policy and administrative directives.

4. He shall be responsible to maintain an effective public relations program for his building.

5. He shall keep the superintendent fully informed as to the conditions of the school and the activities therein.

6. He shall work cooperatively with all members of his staff and the administrative staff.

7. He shall be responsible for the health, welfare and all activities of occupants of his building.

8. He shall take an active interest in his professional organizations and community affairs.

9. He shall be responsible for the assignment of teachers within his building in accordance with district practices and procedures.

10. He shall work cooperatively with other principals in establishing staff and pupil needs of his building.

11. He shall evaluate his staff in accordance with district policy.

12. He shall be responsible for the classification, promotion and retention of students within his building in accordance with district practices.

13. He shall be responsible for all administrative details of the building, including attendance, pupil conduct, playground activities, lunchroom, etc.

14. He shall be responsible for ordering all instructional supplies, materials and equipment necessary for the effective operation of his building. This shall be done in cooperation with the business manager.

15. He shall operate his building in accord with all applicable laws, board policy and administrative regulations.

16. He shall perform such other duties as may be assigned by the superintendent of schools.

San Diego April 23—Marine Private Roger L. Casteel, son of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Casteel of 649 Horton street, was graduated from eight weeks of recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot here.

He will now undergo from two to four weeks of individual combat training and then, after leave at home, will report to his first Marine Corps assignment.

The intensified Marine recruit training emphasizes rigid physical conditioning and survival techniques, both at sea and ashore, to develop self-confidence and endurance. Marksmanship with the M-14 rifle and 45-caliber pistol are equally stressed, and close order drill instills the traditions of Marine Corps teamwork.

A thorough study of basic military subjects, hygiene, first aid and sanitation, and the customs, courtesies, history and mission of the Marine Corps serve to polish the new Marine's recruit education and prepare him to join the Marine combat forces.

Buy Bonds where you work.

He does.

This man has been working in front of audiences of servicemen around the world for more than 26 years. He could take it easy now (he's certainly entitled to), but he doesn't. He's still hard at it, entertaining the brave Americans who fight in the cause of freedom. Another thing: this man also helps pay the price that freedom costs—by purchasing U.S. Savings Bonds.

He really cares. Would you like to show you care? You can. It's easy. Invest in freedom and your future by buying Bonds where you bank, or joining the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. You'll walk a bit taller.

New Freedom Shares

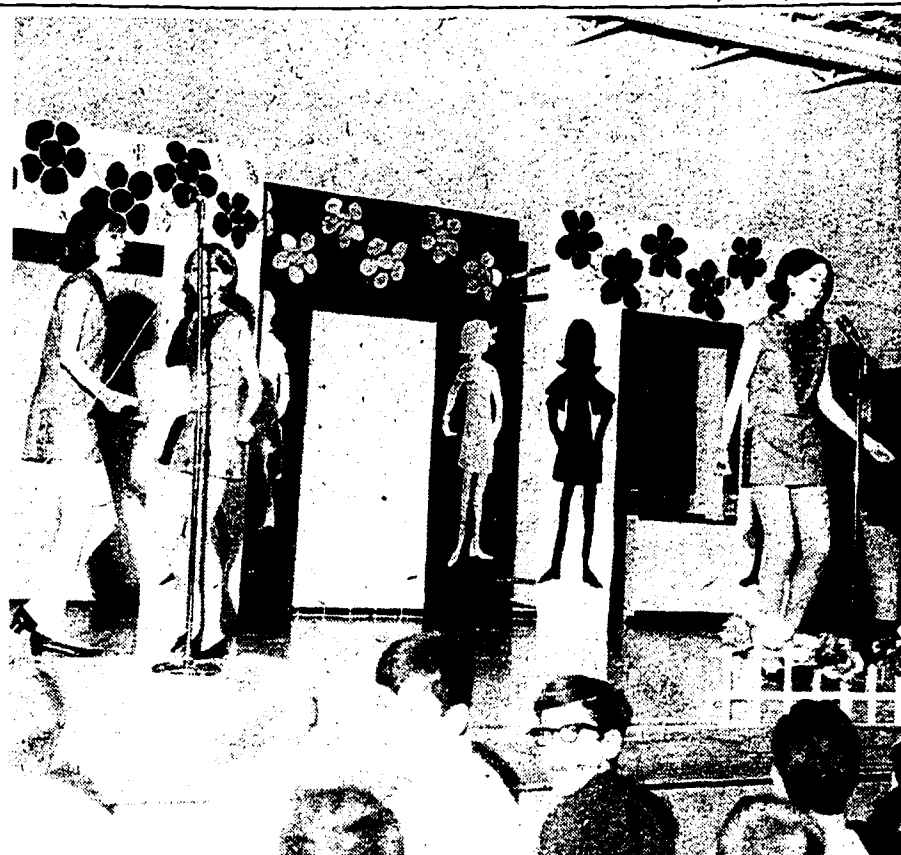

Now, when you join the Payroll Savings Plan or the Bond-a-Month Plan, you are eligible to purchase the new type U.S. Savings Notes—Freedom Shares. Freedom Shares pay 4.74% when held to maturity of just 4 1/2 years (redeemable after one year), are available on a one-for-one basis with Savings Bonds. Get all the facts where you work or bank.

Drop 2nd Game

Wildcats' Race For 'C' Title Dims

The Novi Wildcats hopes of a league title were dimmed early this week when Manchester took a 6-5 win to hand the Wildcats their second loss of the season.

The loss came following a win over Grass Lake Thursday that saw the game called at the end of five innings when Novi pulled ahead by more than 10 runs and a league rule was invoked that permits ending play after five complete innings.

Lee Snow pitched the first five innings for the Wildcats, while Gary Boyer took the mound for the final two innings.

Novi nearly got some help in halting front-running Clinton last week when Clinton Central pushed the RedSkins into an extra inning contest, but Clinton took the decision in nine innings.

In demolishing Grass Lake Thursday, the Wildcats scored two runs in the opening inning, saw Grass Lake tie it with two runs in their half of the first. The Wildcats broke the game with a big six-run fifth inning, added two in the fourth and three in the fifth. Invoking the league rule that if a team is ahead by 10 runs after five innings and if both coaches agree the game can be called, John Osborne and the Grass Lake coach agreed to end the affair.

One benefit to the Wildcats was that their hard-working pitcher, Snow, could well stand the rest, with the game with Columbia Central today (Thursday) and league leading Clinton on Monday.

Snow pitched only four innings of the abbreviated game, yielding two hits and two runs while striking out five. Phil McMillan pitched the fifth and final frame, walking one and giving up one hit and posting one strike out.

The big sixth inning got underway when Boyer reached first on an error. The next three Wildcats Paul Faulkner, Dan Flaherty, and McMillan—singled, with Boyer and Faulkner scoring. Steve Davey then hit a shot that zipped through the shortstops legs, rolled past an outfielder, and kept rolling while Davey circled the bases. Two men crossed the plate in front of him.

With five runs in, Snow kept it going with a three-base hit and scored on Rick Dale's single.

Novi came up with improved all round play in the contest, Osborne pointed to improved play in the field, the Wildcats had no errors charged during the five innings, and alert base running at significant areas of improvement.

In the first inning, Dale caught the Grass Lake napping and scored from second on a ground ball play. Dale walked, stole second, and on an infield out made the turn at third and kept going for the plate to the complete surprise of Grass Lake. Novi got the second run of the inning on a double by Faulkner and a single by Flaherty.

Faulkner and Flaherty each contributed three-hits to pace the Wildcats attack.

Other scores in the initial two weeks include: Lapham's over Matala, 9-6; Matala blanked Pyles Industries, 16-0.

The softballers slammed a total of 18 home runs in the first two weeks. Jeff Goodrich and Jerry Imsland led the way with three homers each. Those with two include Ken Kujala, Mary Fodor, Joe Humphries, and Don Thompson.

One of the most decisive four-baggers came off the bat of Kujala in the game between Northville Lanes and Lapham's Monday. Pressed into extra innings on a tie score, the powerful Lanes batter smashed a game winning homer. His wasn't the only in the game, however. Four others hit round-trippers.

On Way to Two Victories

Thinclads Post School Records

In what Coach Ralph Redmond termed "a really tremendous week," Northville's varsity track team topped several school records, notched league state marks, and for the first time in history defeated Lutheran West.

The Mustangs thumped Lutheran West last week Tuesday, 70-46, and two days later edged Bloomfield Hills, 64-54.

Northville led Lutheran West throughout the meet, coming out of the field events with a 25-11 lead and then continued to pile up the points in the dashes and hurdles. The Mustangs posted nine firsts. These included:

Bill MacDermid, shot put, 47' 10"; Mike Ratliff, 11' pole vault; Jim Peterson, 8' high jump; Ron Gletzner, high and low hurdles, with times of 16.1 and 21.3, respectively; Bill Harrison, half mile, 2:04.3; Randy Simpson, 100 yard dash, 10.8 and 220 yard dash, 24.3.

The ninth first was posted by Northville's 800 relay squad, which posted its fastest time of the season, 1:34.7. Members of the squad include Greg Carr, Gletzner, Al Earehart and Simpson.

Twenty points down early in the meet, the Mustangs came back strong to squeak out its victory over the Barons in the final event of the meet—the mile relay.

"It was really a team effort," said Redmond. "The kids were all up for this one and gained a lot of momentum. It should be real valuable to them as they come into the regional next week-end at Belleville."

In regional competition, Northville will be up against 18 other Class "B" schools.

Big firsts chalked up by Northville against Bloomfield Hills included the jumps of Peterson and Gletzner in the high jump and pole vault events, respectively.

Peterson sailed over the high jump bar at 6' 1 1/4", establishing a new school record and notching himself second place in state competition of Class "B" schools for the event.

Gletzner vaulted 13' 6", setting another school record and tying the highest current vault of all other Class "B" vaulters in the state.

The 800 relay team finished first in a time of 1:34.7—just one-tenth of a second off the school record, and Simpson came in with a time of 22.5 in the 220 yard dash—just .5 of a second of Jim Petrock's school record notched in 1961.

Northville slammed the hurdles, with Gletzner leading the way in the dashes and hurdles. The Mustangs posted nine firsts. These included:

In visiting recently with men in different types of business, industry and the professions, I am hearing some very discouraged people. They seem to be saying several things almost with one voice, and without group discussion but rather with individual conclusions on very important issues. Let me share with you some of these concerns and perhaps draw some projections from faith that might assuage the discouragement, and lead to positive thinking.

On occasions I hear a report of problems in the business community that stem from basic dishonesty. Men of sincere desire to merchandise a reliable product must compete with the con artists and shady operators. Price quotations often reflect the same practice of asking a fair price but giving performance at a sub-standard level. This discourages the honest laborer or artisan and hurts the entire community. Too many people don't realize how immoral and unethical practices damage the lives and occupations of all people in a city, or a nation.

Selfish desire to promote one's own personal scheme or economy must not become the rule of thumb for this nation. When this is done at the sacrifice of loyalty to a moral code, even eventually gets hurt. In the crush for personal gain over a pure desire for the golden rule, the Christian ethic of service and sacrifice to promote the will of God, gets lost. When this occurs, the entire national standard goes down. The world today is facing grave problems related to monetary standards, war and peace, racial tensions, and the march of atheistic rule of men by materialistic goals alone. The Christian religion always has taught the need for repentance, renewal and resurrection. We learn the need for the people of a nation to abide by the laws of God. When there is no respect for laws of morality, when nations run rampant over the earth without integrity, when irresponsible actions originate in places of high authority, then, indeed, man is in deep trouble. We must remember that our tasks often call us to a duty that does not end with miraculous results in our lifetime, and that we have been born into a world of conflicting values. We must heed the voice of Jeremiah. "Thus says the Lord: Stand by the roads, and look and ask for the ancient paths, where the good way is; and walk in it, and find rest for your souls." But they said, "We will not walk in it." (chapter 6:16)

Those who answer the call to Christian duty, must be prepared to witness in a world that turns its back on truth and righteousness. "Be strong and of good courage; be not frightened, neither be dismayed, for the Lord your God is with you wherever you go." (Joshua 1:9)

Sacred Music Concert Set

"Evening Praises," a program of sacred music, will be presented by students of Selma Schutte at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, May 21, at Northville First United Methodist Church.

Eleven students will present organ-piano ensembles. A 40-voice union chorus, composed of piano and organ students, will join the instrumental ensemble in two selections. The combined group will perform under the direction of Henry Schutte, who will celebrate his 91st birthday next month.

Participating in the musical program, to which the public is invited, are Patricia Aeschbacher, Nancy Anderson, Vicki Asby, Joan Baizer, Judy Bell, Lorr Boerger, Terry Lynn Brooks, Susan Brown, Charles Churella, Rhonda Clark, Pamela Colbert, Nancy Cole, Cynthia and Donald Cook.

The program also will include a violin solo.

Hastings: A City Among Many Lakes

Located in southwestern Michigan, Northville's Michigan Week exchange city—Hastings is the county seat of Barry county which boasts 397 lakes that give it the unofficial title, "City Among Lakes".

The city of 7,000 plus population is located on state highways M-37, M-43 and M-79 in the heart of a choice vacation land and rich farming area. It also is the home of several well-established and flourishing industrial plants.

One of its most popular recreation sites is Tyden Park on the Thornapple River, featuring tables and grills, children's swings, slides and other playground equipment amid stately trees.

For the tennis enthusiast, four tennis courts are located at Hastings Johnson field. They are hard surfaced with large fences to back them up.

The downtown street and lighting improvement program, completed in the summer of 1962, has given the entire shopping section of Hastings a "new face". This project, accomplished at a cost of approximately $130,000, was entirely city financed, largely with funds earmarked for street purposes in advance of the work.

The municipally owned airport, just 3.2 miles from the downtown area, provides directional blacktop, lighted runways for private aircraft capable of landing twin engine aircraft. It is approved as a Class "B" facility by the Civil Aeronautics authority.

Among its major industries are: E. W. Bliss company, Chenoweth Machine company, Hastings Aluminum Products, Inc., Hastings Manufacturing company, Hastings corporation, Tyden corporation, Actonox,

Seek Letters On 'Airport'

The Federal Aviation agency has called for letters citing reasons for protest to the construction of the proposed Oakland-Orion Airport, according to Glenn Swindler, president of the Oakland County Homeowners and Taxpayers association.

"We are grateful for the opportunity," said Swindler, "since our protests to the Oakland County Board of Supervisors have been falling on deaf ears."

"The Power Clique on the board have decided that they are going to have this airport at this site come hell or high water. They were advised against the site in 1964, and they paid $10,000 for that advice. Then they hired somebody else for another $4,000, and they came up with the kind of advice they wanted."

"The FAA found the site objectionable from an air safety standpoint five years ago," continued the group's spokesman, "how can it be any less objectionable now?"

The Homeowners association was organized in 1962 to fight the purchase of this airport (then called Allen Airport) when plans for the project were introduced full-blown to the public only 10 days before the initial purchase of land.

In a recent letter to the FAA, the Homeowners group pointed out the irony of the situation in that the scheme was dreamed up and planned in secret by "a handful of men on the Oakland County Board of Supervisors" — and the very presence of a majority of those men on the Board has been ruled illegal by the U.S. Supreme Court.

"This handful of men," the letter continued, "have denied the citizens of Oakland County an open hearing on the airport proposal while spending tax money taken from those citizens to secure the land for the airport."

The Homeowners association takes the position that the citizens of south-eastern Michigan have already paid for multi-million dollar air facilities at Metropolitan and Willow Run, just 50 miles away from the proposed Orion Airport, as well as all the other tax-subsidized airports in Oakland, Wayne and Macomb counties.

The Board of Supervisors now hopes to convince the State and Federal government to spend more of the taxpayers' money on this particular airport venture.

WHITEHALL MEMORIAL—A lectern in memory of her father, who had been a resident of the Whitehall-Orion Convalescent home, is presented to the home by Mrs. Orpha Milligan, 19216 Lohrer road, Detroit, in ceremonies Sunday preceding a church service and an open house marking the beginning of Michigan Nursing Home Week. From left are Mrs. Ruth Madigan, home administrator, the Reverend Robert Mitchinson of Novi Methodist church who dedicated the lectern and will use it to conduct services, Mrs. Milligan and Lloyd R. Johnson, Whitehall owner. During this week, area residents are asked to visit and perhaps bring a small gift to a nursing home patient as many lonely patients have outlived family and friends.

Graduation Party Plans Progressing

Plans for the Northville high school senior party are well underway. Committee chairmen report that each of their committees are working hard to make for a successful evening for seniors.

The party is slated for graduation night, beginning at 11 p.m. and continuing until about 4 a.m., on June 10. Invitations will be mailed shortly, inviting all seniors to join with their classmates in the Hawaiian Night Aloha party — a farewell gesture among seniors, many of whom have been classmates throughout their school days.

Plans call for a wide variety of entertainment, including live bands, guest entertainers, etc. Snacks and pop bars are planned, and winding up the festivities will be a breakfast served about 2:30 a.m.

All seniors will be asked to sign in at the party and sign out if they leave early. Those who sign out early will not be readmitted.

Parents who have not yet made a donation ($5) may do so by sending a check to Mrs. R. Hahn, 464 Welch, Northville, payable to the Northville high school 1968 Senior Class Party.

Methodists To Confirm 14

Confirmation Sunday will be observed at the 11 a.m. service May 19 at the Northville First United Methodist church.

The Reverend S. D. Kinde, minister, will question the class on teachings from the membership manual of the United Methodist church and on their personal faith.

To be confirmed as full members of the church are Richard William Ambler, Merilee Becker, Brian Donald Butler, Robert James Bloomfield, Lori Diane Cook, Deborah Sue Froumelter, Jean Ellen Fritz, Jackie Ann Gray, Janet Lynn Moore, Sue Ellen Peterson, Laurie Schoultz, Diana Lee Sellers, Cynthia Jane Todd, Deborah Ann Wilber.

Each will be presented with a Bible by the church. The class has met weekly since the first of the year. The young people in the class were entertained at a picnic given last week by the Commission on Membership and the Commission on Education at Cass Benton park.

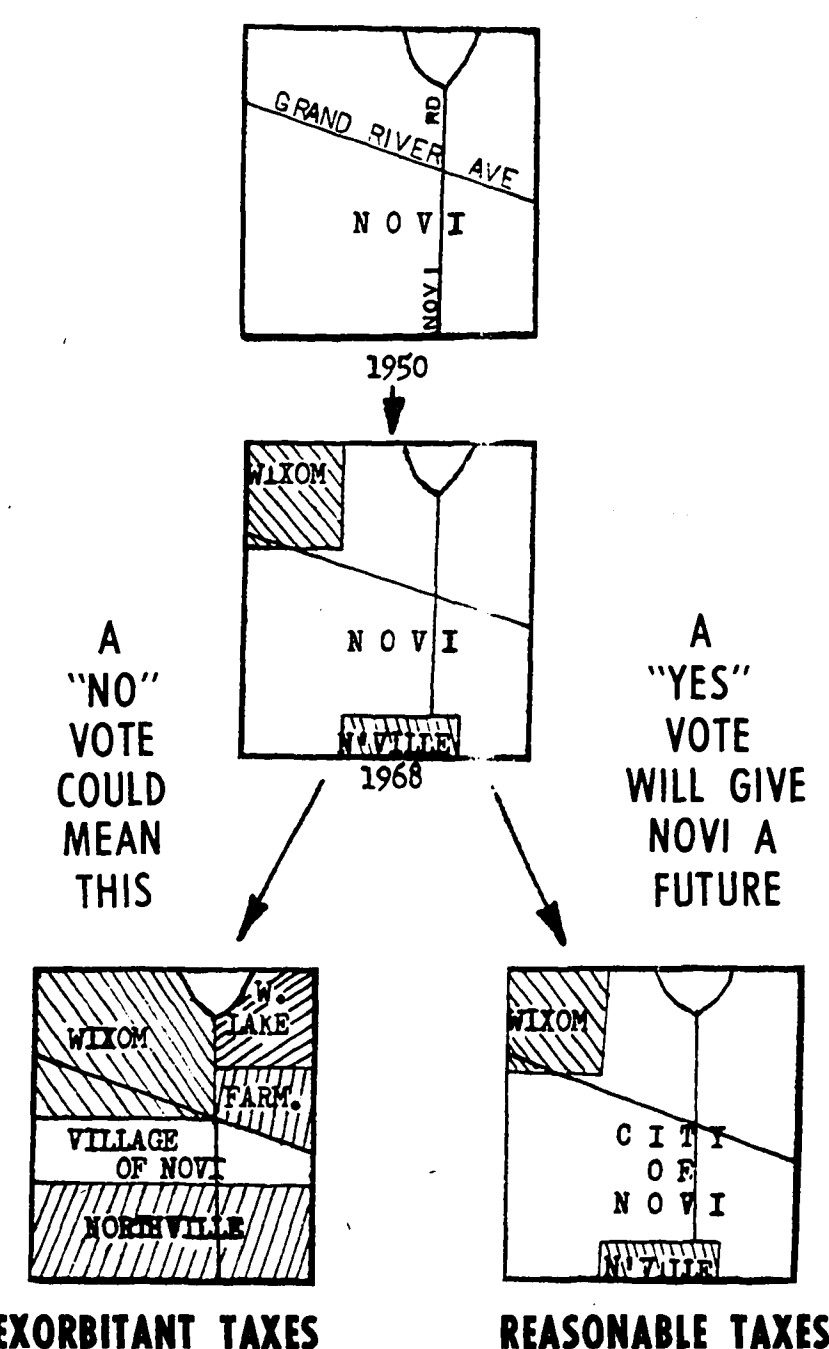

Pastor Kinde will speak on "New Ministers for a Changing World" at the 8:30 a.m. service Sunday.

"ALBERT, you're 33 years old and you can take a whole aspirin," admonishes Rosie (Claudia Neiber) to her boss (Gary Becker), who plays Conrad Birdie's manager in the musical, Bye, Bye Birdie, to be presented in the Northville high school auditorium on succeeding weekends, May 17-18 and May 24-25. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. on May 17, 18 and 24 and at 7 p.m. on May 25. Tickets for the all-school musical may be purchased in advance or at the door.

Your VOTE will decide the future of NOVI

"YOUR MOST ASKED QUESTIONS"

- WHY IS BOUNDARY PROTECTION SO IMPORTANT?
- WHY IS TAX BASE PROTECTION SO IMPORTANT?
- WHAT IS GOING TO HAPPEN TO MY TAX BILL?
- WHAT WILL CITYHOOD DO FOR MY COMMUNITY & ME?

— Under state law, areas of a township or village are readily annexed by surrounding cities. Novi has had annexations before 3 separate annexes to Northville, and 1 to Wixom; (This involved the Ford Lincoln Plant and a transfer of $25,000 cash assets to Wixom)

BECOMING A CITY WOULD ELIMINATE THIS

— Other cities, when thinking of annexing, do so with the thought of reaping rewards such as increased tax revenue with minimum of expenditure, such as happened with the Ford Plant, and could happen with the Perkins Engine Plant, ABC Photo* F. W. Kerr Co. or such vacant industrially zoned property.

BECOMING A CITY WOULD ELIMINATE THIS

— Services on the local level cost us tax dollars. If the cost for these services are spread over a large number of residences, businesses and industries, the individual cost is small. But, if areas continue to be annexed, we all must pay higher taxes just to maintain what we now have without any improvements

BECOMING A CITY WOULD ELIMINATE THIS

- UNDER A CITY FORM OF GOVERNMENT
- *NOVI WOULD HAVE BOUNDARY PROTECTION
- *NOVI WOULD HAVE TAX BASE PROTECTION
- *NOVI WOULD HAVE A SIMPLIFIED MORE ECONOMICAL SINGLE CITY GOVERNMENT INSTEAD OF DUAL TOWNSHIP-VILLAGE FORM OF GOVERNMENT(s)
- *NOVI WOULD HAVE A GOAL — TO PLAN FUTURE NEEDS AND TO DEVELOP THESE NEEDS INTO A CITY WE ALL CAN BE PROUD TO BE A PART OF.

BECOMING A CITY WOULD DO THIS

THE NOVI JAYCEES HAVE CONCLUDED, THROUGH STUDY AND RESEARCH, THAT, "CITYHOOD FOR NOVI" IS ECONOMICALLY JUSTIFIED, PROPER AND WISE AT THIS TIME.

News Around Schoolcraft

The names of 57 Schoolcraft college students, including one from Novi, have been placed on the Dean's List for academic achievement during the winter semester which ended May 4. It has been announced by Vice-President for Instruction John H. Brinn.

To be placed on the Dean's List a student must maintain an academic grade point average of at least 3.5000 of a possible 4.0000 in a minimum of 12 credit hours of class work. Twelve students completed the term with a perfect 4.00 grade point average.

The Novi student is Diane Palluas, 23645 Ripple Creek, who earned a 3.714 grade average.

Associate Degrees and Certificates of Program Completion were awarded to 160 candidates for graduation at Schoolcraft College at the Third Annual Commencement at the college on Sunday, April 28. According to Registrar Norman E. Dunn, who released the list of graduates and certificate recipients, degrees were awarded in six areas. Of the 160 students who were graduated, 18 received Certificates of Program Completion, Dunn said.

The local graduates and the type of degree or certificate they earned are: From Northville: Associate in Arts: Karen Sue Hemmrey, 5800 Napier, associate in arts and Larry Arthur Forth, 2118 Kilrush drive, associate in general studies.

From Novi: Diane Palluas, 23645 Ripple Creek road, associate in business studies; Peter M. Wharton, 24283 Coral Lane, associate in general studies; and Terry Edmund Goy, 41118 McMahon Circle, associate in science.

Anthony V. Rizzo, geography instructor at Schoolcraft College, is the author of an "Atlas of Michigan's Foreign Born Population," published recently by Free World Press of Dearborn.

The 31-page atlas is believed to be the first of its kind published for Michigan and is intended as a basic reference work for college, high school, and public libraries.

A variety of maps, charts and graphs, accompanied by statistical tables, cover such areas as: continent and country of origin of the state's foreign born population, distribution by county, urban and rural distribution, and average age and age structure. Data is also given for first generation foreign stock by country of parents' origin and country of residence in Michigan.

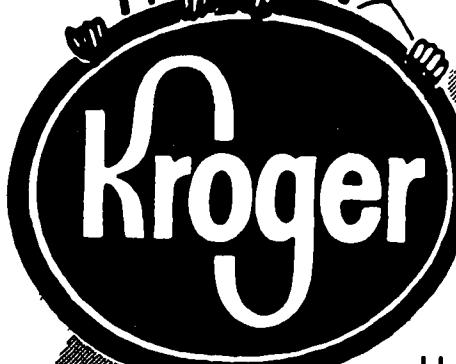

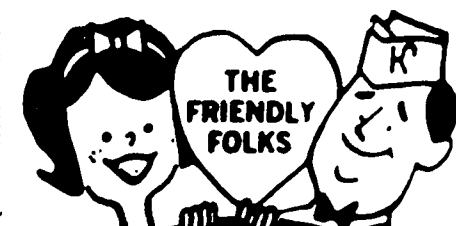

Rizzo has been a member of the Schoolcraft faculty since the college opened in 1964, and is the author of "Notebook of Systematic Geography," a college freshman geography text, published in 1957.

The atlas sells for $3.95 and is available from the publisher.

During March

Northville Police Activities Zoom

Increases in the frequency of fires, of complaints involving alcohol coupled with vandalism and animal complaints topped the March Northville police report.

This year 502 calls were serviced during March, while 376 were serviced in March 1967. Total activity for the first three months also is up over a year ago with a 1,618 total exceeding last year's 1,355.

The increase came from within the city, as the 53 calls serviced in the township in March matched the number serviced in 1967.

Part of the increase stemmed from officers encountering more doors and windows being left open-44 over the 19 listed last year.

In the alcohol category, 12 disorderly person (drunk) complaints, 17 minors in possession, contrasted with three and six for each in March 1967. In a related category, 16 impounded vehicles, where there were none for March 1967, reflects application of the impoundment ordinance.

In activity with animals, police serviced 40 animal complaints in addition to 27 complaints involving stray dogs. Nineteen complaints were handled in each case last March.

The animal complaints are up sharply for the first three months, with a total of 103 contrasting to 58 to this date a year ago.

The March report is clean of major crimes. Frequency of major larceny is down, with one larceny of more than $100 listed for this March to six for March 1967 and seven larcenies of amounts less than $100 this year to eight last year.

Auto accidents were the same, with three injury accidents in a 14 figure accident total for March of each year.

Moving violations show a big jump while parking violations show marked decrease from March 1967. Moving violations reached 154 this March, compared to 47 a year ago. A total of 342 were recorded during the first three months this year to 126 in 1967.

Two hundred ninety seven parking violations were recorded this March-down 100 from the March total of last year. The total to date this year is 925, down from 1,222 for the same period last year.

Municipal Court

Disorderly person charges for fighting or drinking led the list of cases coming before Municipal Judge Philip Ogilvie last week Wednesday.

Henry F. Kay, 2222 Beck road, Northville, was arrested on the charge of being disorderly and drunk on west-bound Randolph between Linden and Eight Mile. He pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $30 and $3 costs.

Jack F. Moffitt, 341 East Main street, Northville, was arrested and charged with being drunk and disorderly on West Main street at North Center April 27. He pleaded guilty and was fined $30 and $3 costs.

A charge of being disorderly and fighting on North Center street in the downtown area March 31 was filed against Michael G. Moody, 128 Rayson, Northville, who was arraigned April 10 and pleaded not guilty. He was found guilty last Wednesday, fined $30 and $3 costs and placed on six months' probation also.

Charles E. Burks, 43704 Shearer drive, Plymouth, who was arrested on northbound Novi road at the Guernsey dairy and charged with driving while ability was impaired April 7, pleaded guilty and was fined $70.

Robert F. Whitehair, 464 Grace, Northville, was charged with assault and battery on complaint of Ernestine R. Whitehair April 16. He was arraigned April 18 and pleaded not guilty. He voluntarily changed his plea last Wednesday, was fined $50 and $5 costs and placed on six months' probation.

Homer I. Coolman of Farmington was ticketed December 16, 1967, for driving while his license was revoked on Eight Mile at North Center street. Arraigned December 27, he stood mute and a plea of not guilty was entered.

After three trial postponements, he appeared in court last Wednesday. On motion of the city attorney and the complaining officer, the original charge was dismissed and the plea of guilty was assessed to the added charge of driving with no operator's license on his person. He was fined $50, three days in jail and was placed on three months' probation.

Ticketed for having improper license plates on his vehicle, Richard A. Smith, 27460 Bramwell, Farmington, pleaded guilty and was fined $20.

Edward C. Hanson, 19091 Northville road, Northville, was ticketed April 26 for having no valid license on his person when stopped on South Main street. He pleaded guilty last Wednesday, was fined $30, Frank H. Kono-raki, 310 Yerkes, Northville, was stopped April 1 for speeding 42 miles per hour in a 25-mile zone. He was arraigned April 24 and pleaded not guilty. At trial May 8 he was found guilty of going 38 mph and fined $16.

Out of THE PAST

FIVE YEARS AGO...

Third candidate, William C. Soelner, indicated he would enter the race for two seats on the board of education. Earlier incumbent board members Edward F. Angove and W. C. Becker announced their intentions of seeking re-election.

Northville's economic development corporation learned that its loan application for $185,000 through the Small Business Administration won approval in Washington. The local, non-profit corporation obtained the loan to assist Foundry Flak and Equipment company, 455 East Cady, in expansion plans.

Free Saturday afternoon movies for Northville area youngsters began on a three-week trial basis.

Bud Guest, WRN star, spoke at the Presbyterian Men's club annual ladies night in the church's Fellowship Hall.

Members of Northville's new swim club voted to go ahead with plans for an olympic-size pool and awarded a contract for construction of the pool, wading area and bath house.

One of the top sophomores on Central Michigan university's track squad was Tom Darling, a graduate of Northville high school whose parents were residents of Novi.

TEN YEARS AGO...

Donald Lawrence and Robert J. Herter were slated to compete in the June 9 election for the single vacancy on the Northville board of education.

Construction of the proposed 2,000 home Lincoln Village development in western Novi township was delayed "nine months to a year" because of the then current recession. But a spokesman for Thompson-Brown company, which planned to build the $40,000,000 subdivision, said Lincoln Village "definitely has not been abandoned."

Roy Pederson and Jack VanLaren were named winners in the creative arts competitions in Detroit and South Bend, Indiana.

Hundreds of voters were expected to go to the polls in Wisconsin to decide whether a proposed city charter should be accepted.

and who should serve as the city's first mayor, council and justice of peace.

Costs were heavy that Nixon would approve the charter by a wide margin. It has been thoroughly aired at public meetings and had sparked little opposition.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO...

Cost of garbage collection in Northville were scheduled to increase unless residents agreed to set their garbage pails on the curb to make the collection easier. Background of the increase was the new state law forbidding feeding raw garbage to pigs, which had been the customary practice for many years. This practice was no longer legal, leaving collecting firms with two alternatives: One was to cook the garbage before feeding, which was regarded as too costly and impractical, and the other was to dispose of it in a sanitary landfill, which was the police department's dumping in on the ground and then covering it with earth.

Seventy-year-old Jay Goodale operated the grain grinder of the Northville Milling company for the last time as the business was scheduled to be discontinued on May 29 because of a gradual decrease over the years of farming in this area and diminished demand for custom grain grinding. According to the owner, D. P. Yerkes, Jr., the lumber end of the business was slated to continue operation. The original mill was located near the Ford pond near Griswold but was moved to the Baseline road location in 1921.

Twenty years ago...

Jack Grey received his team's Good Sportsmanship trophy from A. Bauer, secretary of the bowling league.

The Ragging Rouge no longer rampant was almost back to normal as flood tide waters subsided after a 24-hour downpour of some two inches. The deluge raised the levels of all nearby branches nearly four feet and water covered the street to a depth of about a foot. Old-timers said the height of the water equaled that of the flood of 1935.

Names as American Heroes in the Record were these three Northville servicemen: Tom Frank Martin, Donald Kimmel and Harold Schultze.

James Erwin, Novi director of the Second War Loan Drive, reported that all returns were in, giving Novi a record of $28,000. Two related returns were in the Gallant class. They are Mrs. Walter Harding, who sold $3,000 and William Mairs, who sold a bit over $1,000 worth.

Called to service was Charles Pink, Northville athlete coach, who was scheduled to leave for the United States Navy on June 1.

Sixty-five years ago...

The Puntan Health Food company was organized by prominent Detroiters, Gillespie & Collins, the owners of the well known "Argo Mills" of Northville, and several prominent gentlemen of Tiffin, Ohio. The company has organized for $100,000 with $37,500 paid in.

The Argo plant will be constructed to twice its present size of buildings, with grain elevator attached. The capacity of the health food department will be 600 barrels of hygienic whole wheat flour per day. The curtain shade building also will be purchased, or leased, shortly and the plan of purchasing all kinds of farm produce and live stock will be made a specialty in connection with the other business noted above.

The apportionment of primary school interest money was to be made. The apportionment among the counties of the state, Wayne county excepted, is $448,584.02. Wayne county gets $95,555.40. The township of Plymouth has 577 school-age children and gets $346.20 while Northville with less youngsters gets $34.20.

Mrs. George B. Sinclair and Mrs. Charles A. Sessions died.

Secretary of State Warner's crop report indicated that farm laborers throughout the state were scarce and that the average wages for such are about $21 per month.

VISITS GETTYSBURG - Richard Norton, 11, of 325 Ely drive, South, representing safety patrol boys of Northville, was among 129 Michigan boys and girls at Gettysburg.

Pennsylvania on Friday where they began a day of sightseeing as part of the Automobile Club of Michigan's 32nd annual safety patrol trip. The patrol delegation, representing 100 Michigan cities, visited scenic and historic areas around Gettysburg as part of a four-day, all-expense-paid trip which began Thursday. Richard, a student at Amerman, (immediately next to Ernest P. Davis, the Auto Club's retiring director of safety and traffic) and two Grosse Pointe patrolers, Stephen Zorane and Douglas Anderson, present Davis with a plaque honoring him for 13 years of meritorious service in helping bring "Em Beck Alive!" on Michigan highways. Davis, who retires in July, helped organize the first safety patrol trip in 1936.

Woman Falls From Horse Near 8 Mile

A Detroit woman suffered fractured ribs and other injuries in Novi early last Thursday afternoon when a horse she was mounting reared and fell backward on her.

Novi police were called to assist the injured woman, Mrs. Eleanor Robinson who was lying on the ground in a field about 50 yards south of the road-way at 48525 West Eight Mile road.

Corporal Gordon Nelson responded to the call for aid placed by Mrs. Robinson's husband.

Nelson said that the husband was holding the reins of the horse, which Mrs. Robinson had just mounted, when the horse reared high on his hind legs and fell backward on his fallen rider.

Mrs. Robinson was taken by ambulance to St. Marys Hospital, Livonia, and received treatment for six fractured ribs and other bruises and injuries.

SPEAKING

for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Northville City Attorney Marvin Stempien may be average in stature, but he's long on staying power.

Back in 1965 when Stempien was a state representative from this area he helped author legislation that would provide for election of county supervisors on a one man-one vote basis.

After a series of hearings throughout the state the bill was drafted and in April, 1966 passed by the legislature and signed into law by the governor.

Since then the law has been in a state of suspended animation, caused chiefly by an advisory opinion from the Michigan Supreme Court that the law was unconstitutional.

The state high court rendered its opinion (not an official decision) because of the U. S. Supreme Court but not ruled on a case involving local governments in the "one man-one vote" controversy.

And when legal action was taken in Michigan to initiate an election of county supervisors based on the new law and the "one man-one vote" formula, the State Court of Appeals upheld the advisory opinion of the State Supreme Court.

But on April 1 this year the U.S. Supreme Court did uphold the principle in a Texas case. On April 15 the State Court of Appeals reversed its previous decision and last week the State Supreme Court reversed its advisory opinion.

The next day, Thursday, May 9, Wayne County Circuit Judge James Canham ordered the county clerk to accept a petition of a candidate for the Wayne County board of supervisors under the new one man-one vote plan.

The candidate who had applied for a petition for office was Marvin Stempien, the ex-legislator.

He says he really isn't going to run for the county board of supervisors, but his action created the test case that will now cause the 83 counties in the state of Michigan to divide themselves into equal representative districts and elect between 23 and 35 supervisors to their respective boards - this fall.

Wayne county had already devised a plan for 26 districts under the Stempien legislation, but like other counties in the state didn't act to initiate the plan because of the high court rulings.

Presently, supervisors are either elected or appointed, based pretty much on the whim of the governing bodies they represent within the county. But Michigan's constitution says that "every township shall have one supervisor".

Northville township has one supervisor on the Wayne county board. The city, because it lies in two counties, has one each on the Wayne and Oakland county boards.

This is exactly what Stempien and his cohorts objected to when they set out to draft a one man-one vote law for the state's counties.

"We tried to follow the mandate of the United States Supreme Court in establishing as the primary objective equal representation based on population," Stempien declares. "Instead our county boards of supervisors represent units of government primarily, not people".

Under the new Wayne county plan the city and township of Northville will be included in a district with Plymouth city and township, Canton township and Livonia. The district will have one supervisor on the 26-member board.

Stempien maintains the area will gain, not lose power on the board of supervisors. Some suburbanites dispute this.

But it is a matter of mathematics and what set of figures you choose to use.

Right now Northville (city and township) has two votes on a board of 130 supervisors. Under the new plan Northville will be part of a district having one vote on a board of 26 supervisors.

Admittedly, one-26th is more than two-130ths.

But the district now has a total of eight votes: Northville and Plymouth, 2 each; Canton, 1; and Livonia, 3.

One-26th doesn't give the district as much voting power as the present eight-130ths.

(Sorry about that, Marvin. I double-checked my arithmetic, too.)

Regardless of the mathematics, the formula will change with the population. And presently, all representation is based upon the 1960 census.

Importantly, a more equitable system of representation will be employed and a cumbersome body will be trimmed from 144 to 26.

And Attorney Stempien discovered again something he must have learned many years ago - the wheels of justice truly do turn slowly.

Happily, however, their movement is forward.

almost everything; taxes, millage, teachers, school curriculum, etc. etc. This is fine and I commend our fine citizens for their attitude in these matters. However, what does it take to get these same fine people concerned about the safety of Northville's youngsters as they go to and from school? I truly hope it's not going to mean one of the local children must meet with a terrible tragedy before the importance of the Helping Hand program will sink through.

The Northville Jaycees have invested a large sum of money and time to try to make Northville a safer place for all children. We have sent hundreds of pass out sheets home with students; we have spoken about the program at local PTA's and other organizations; we have had numerous articles and advertisements in this paper. After all this, would you believe that there are only 120 people in Northville concerned enough to place a hand in their window?

We are grateful to these people - but can't help but wonder how so many others can sit back and do nothing! I'd like to see my group give up the Helping Hand project and yet it's VERY discouraging to us when after all our attempts we must fight this apathy!

It does NOT cost anything to become a Helping Hand - but by having hands throughout our city we may save the price of a life someday.

Why are we actually pointing out differences? When a child first lips that question of color he is so easily put off with no difference and the question never seems to come up again.

Mrs. Carlson's letter points that out - they just came and were accepted. On the other hand anyone should be allowed to live here if he so chooses. When our children come home from school and dash out to romp with their friends, I wonder if they are gripped by the responsible Negro parent. He knows that going out means being subjected to the very dangers of society of both races; narcotics, prostitution, drunkenness, snatching on the street in front of him, many times in the same building. His children play in the very areas we try to avoid when driving through the city.

The Federal Open Housing Bill has just been passed into law. Like many I very much resent the branding of all white people as racists. I am weary of those who constantly prate about our antagonism toward black people. Northville people are great and I know they will get behind Open Housing and help these people help themselves. Therein lies the only true progress.

I am sure we will welcome them in our community with our traditional hospitality and dignity.

To the few skeptics, remember that the Government has appropriated vast sums to build housing for the poor and ghettos can be built anywhere. If it is better for us to accept these people individually into areas where it is economically feasible for them to live, it is the only way to avoid large concentrations of people which invite the same problems as the ghettos.

Increased taxes for already impoverished welfare rolls will be inevitable if we don't cooperate.

It is not just right and right - it is plain good sense.

More on Paving

To the Editor:
I am a student at Northville high school and I am writing about the road coming into the back of the school. I think, and so do a lot of other students, that the road should be paved. The people who drive to school on that road are tearing their cars up. By paving this road all the students could come up that road and the buses could come up the front way. This road, if paved, would be of some use to the whole school. Thank you very much for your time and for reading this note.

Even today we still have an insignificant library in Northville. Because of its relaxed manner of operation and small selection of books, residents of Northville have to travel to nearby communities to satisfy their needs. I, for one, have found myself traveling to Plymouth or Bedford library to satisfy my need for information on ghettos and poor Negroes. I regret to say that I could not find one book covering this subject in the Northville library.

Likewise, a friend of mine was conducting a search for books by the author, Andrew Tully, but found only one book by this great author. In his haste, he had no alternative but to continue his search in the Plymouth library. Unlike Northville, he found five or six books by this author.

Northville high school's baseball field is this day graining to be finished. We have dugouts that were built last summer by energetic, self-sacrificing men and boys. The fruit of the labor can be readily overlooked because of the fact that the city has not, to this day, completed the job of painting them. We must not forget the

Even Margaret Mead, the noted anthropologist, concurred in this evaluation. She blamed the students for taking advantage of administrative leniency, but at the same time charged the administration with failing to recognize the students' protest reasons as being valid.

Other universities have avoided major, blood-dripping demonstrations primarily by trying to communicate with students, many through campus newspapers. The President of Yale university meets regularly with editors of The Yale Daily News, the chancellor of UCLA regularly talks with staffers from "The Bruin."

On the University of Michigan campus, "The Michigan Daily" provides cogent commentary on campus activities. Students recognize that the paper enjoys a substantial amount of editorial freedom, and many grads, to remain true with the campus honor, read the Daily with some avidity.

Clearly, campus rags such as The Daily, the Bruin, the Yale Daily News, The Spectator, are playing and can play an increasingly important role on campus. Administrators are slowly recognizing this fact in their dealings with these organs.

It's a must. For communications on sprawling, metropolitan campuses are imperative if anarchy and chaos are to be expunged and reasons to prevail.

"Ever think about going to work with the health department? They probably could use a nose like yours."

Whereupon our conversation degenerated into a debate over whose nose was biggest. It ended with a remark that forced me to invite him to leave:

"Some smells are fishy, and yours are about as fishy as they come."

Here is where a campus newspaper, the spectacle of students and non-students besieging administrative offices at Columbia university has provoked cries of outrage from university students, at Columbia and other universities, and particularly from what is considered the American community.

Columbia is not unique. Ever since the Berkeley flare-up in 1964, protests of lesser magnitude have plagued university campuses. Anybody - recent grads, old grads and non-grads - would be hard pressed to thoroughly explain the uprisings, but they definitely indicate a changing on-campus attitude.

Admittedly, as Newsweek magazine pointed out, "a great many university officials assume an ostrich-like position: even at Berkeley where it all started, there is little communication between students and administration except in times of crises."

almost everything; taxes, millage, teachers, school curriculum, etc. etc. This is fine and I commend our fine citizens for their attitude in these matters. Even today we still have an insignificant library in Northville. Because of its relaxed manner of operation and small selection of books, residents of Northville have to travel to nearby communities to satisfy their needs. I, for one, have found myself traveling to Plymouth or Bedford library to satisfy my need for information on ghettos and poor Negroes. I regret to say that I could not find one book covering this subject in the Northville library.

Likewise, a friend of mine was conducting a search for books by the author, Andrew Tully, but found only one book by this great author. In his haste, he had no alternative but to continue his search in the Plymouth library. Unlike Northville, he found five or six books by this author.

Northville high school's baseball field is this day graining to be finished. We have dugouts that were built last summer by energetic, self-sacrificing men and boys. The fruit of the labor can be readily overlooked because of the fact that the city has not, to this day, completed the job of painting them. We must not forget the

Even Margaret Mead, the noted anthropologist, concurred in this evaluation. She blamed the students for taking advantage of administrative leniency, but at the same time charged the administration with failing to recognize the students' protest reasons as being valid.

Other universities have avoided major, blood-dripping demonstrations primarily by trying to communicate with students, many through campus newspapers. The President of Yale university meets regularly with editors of The Yale Daily News, the chancellor of UCLA regularly talks with staffers from "The Bruin."

On the University of Michigan campus, "The Michigan Daily" provides cogent commentary on campus activities. Students recognize that the paper enjoys a substantial amount of editorial freedom, and many grads, to remain true with the campus honor, read the Daily with some avidity.

Clearly, campus rags such as The Daily, the Bruin, the Yale Daily News, The Spectator, are playing and can play an increasingly important role on campus. Administrators are slowly recognizing this fact in their dealings with these organs.

It's a must. For communications on sprawling, metropolitan campuses are imperative if anarchy and chaos are to be expunged and reasons to prevail.

"Ever think about going to work with the health department? They probably could use a nose like yours."

Whereupon our conversation degenerated into a debate over whose nose was biggest. It ended with a remark that forced me to invite him to leave:

"Some smells are fishy, and yours are about as fishy as they come."

Here is where a campus newspaper, the spectacle of students and non-students besieging administrative offices at Columbia university has provoked cries of outrage from university students, at Columbia and other universities, and particularly from what is considered the American community.

Columbia is not unique. Ever since the Berkeley flare-up in 1964, protests of lesser magnitude have plagued university campuses. Anybody - recent grads, old grads and non-grads - would be hard pressed to thoroughly explain the uprisings, but they definitely indicate a changing on-campus attitude.

Admittedly, as Newsweek magazine pointed out, "a great many university officials assume an ostrich-like position: even at Berkeley where it all started, there is little communication between students and administration except in times of crises."

almost everything; taxes, millage, teachers, school curriculum, etc. etc. This is fine and I commend our fine citizens for their attitude in these matters. However, what does it take to get these same fine people concerned about the safety of Northville's youngsters as they go to and from school? I truly hope it's not going to mean one of the local children must meet with a terrible tragedy before the importance of the Helping Hand program will sink through.

The Northville Jaycees have invested a large sum of money and time to try to make Northville a safer place for all children. We have sent hundreds of pass out sheets home with students; we have spoken about the program at local PTA's and other organizations; we have had numerous articles and advertisements in this paper. After all this, would you believe that there are only 120 people in Northville concerned enough to place a hand in their window?

We are grateful to these people - but can't help but wonder how so many others can sit back and do nothing! I'd like to see my group give up the Helping Hand project and yet it's VERY discouraging to us when after all our attempts we must fight this apathy!

It does NOT cost anything to become a Helping Hand - but by having hands throughout our city we may save the price of a life someday.

Please call TODAY for more information and / or to say, "I care, I'll be a Helping Hand."

Sincerely,
Lane C. Norton

Why are we actually pointing out differences? When a child first lips that question of color he is so easily put off with no difference and the question never seems to come up again.

Mrs. Carlson's letter points that out - they just came and were accepted. On the other hand anyone should be allowed to live here if he so chooses. When our children come home from school and dash out to romp with their friends, I wonder if they are gripped by the responsible Negro parent. He knows that going out means being subjected to the very dangers of society of both races; narcotics, prostitution, drunkenness, snatching on the street in front of him, many times in the same building. His children play in the very areas we try to avoid when driving through the city.

The Federal Open Housing Bill has just been passed into law. Like many I very much resent the branding of all white people as racists. I am weary of those who constantly prate about our antagonism toward black people. Northville people are great and I know they will get behind Open Housing and help these people help themselves. Therein lies the only true progress.

I am sure we will welcome them in our community with our traditional hospitality and dignity.

To the few skeptics, remember that the Government has appropriated vast sums to build housing for the poor and ghettos can be built anywhere. If it is better for us to accept these people individually into areas where it is economically feasible for them to live, it is the only way to avoid large concentrations of people which invite the same problems as the ghettos.

Increased taxes for already impoverished welfare rolls will be inevitable if we don't cooperate.

It is not just right and right - it is plain good sense.

More on Paving

To the Editor:
I am a student at Northville high school and I am writing about the road coming into the back of the school. I think, and so do a lot of other students, that the road should be paved. The people who drive to school on that road are tearing their cars up. By paving this road all the students could come up that road and the buses could come up the front way. This road, if paved, would be of some use to the whole school. Thank you very much for your time and for reading this note.

Sincerely yours,
Charles Fox

About Bigotry

To the Editor:

The students who suggested the hiring of a Negro teacher are to be commended but I seriously question the need for adjustment of the thinking of our young people. They are most discerning of human values and I doubt there is any bigotry among them. Besides, it takes little strength of character to appreciate an educated, articulate person. They are welcome if they wish to come, but I would hope that the inner city, so lacking in qualified people, will not be deprived of even one competent Negro teacher who could be a concrete example to the youngsters that their environment can be overcome.

Sincerely yours,
C. Marino, Jr.

For Hatchery

To the Editor:

Someone's letter stated that he does not think that Northville needs any more recreation facilities because Northville is so close to a park. I feel that Northville needs more recreation facilities because it has more kids. Northville needs a place where a mother can let her children go without fear that she may not see her children again, or that something may happen to them. It needs a public swimming place so that kids don't swim at the street if they had a place to go. And the old fishhatchery would provide the facilities that Northville needs.

Sincerely yours,
Mike Marond

For Ice Rinks

To the Editor:

I'm writing in regards to a letter that was in your paper dealing with the problem of a new recreation center for Northville. My understanding is that the city is looking at the old fish hatchery land. I think that instead of the city spending money on this property, it should further the school sports program rather than invest in a new recreation center.

An ice hockey rink could be started in the future. Ice hockey is a growing sport. The people in Northville would be surprised how many kids who live in Northville have to go to Detroit to play hockey.

People in this town should wake up to the times. I myself have been playing hockey eight years. Sometimes the kids from Northville on the team this year had to get up at 4 a.m. Sunday to go to Detroit in order to practice. It was because of the lack of ice rinks that these kids needed to travel to Detroit and Metropolitan areas.
