Bus Schedule Changes

Northville's school bus transportation program this year will remain essentially the same except for two basic changes. Business Manager Earl Busard has revealed.
1. Buses will enter only one subdivision - Brookland Farms. But, said Busard, it is hoped an alternative may yet be reached. Traffic is simply too heavy on Novi Road to permit loading from that point, Busard said.

2. Rerouting has been devised so that no bus will be "half-loaded." This, together with better utilization of buses for transportation of parochial school children, will permit the reduction of buses from 13 to 12, he said. Originally, officials believed 15 buses would be needed this fall.
Of the nine elementary school buses, said Busard, eight will be either 1967 or 1968 vintage.

THE NOVI NEWS

OFFICIAL NEWSPAPER OF THE VILLAGE AND TOWNSHIP OF NOVI, AND THE CITY OF WIXOM
Vol. 15, No. 15, 24 Pages, Two Sections • Novi, Michigan • Thursday, August 29, 1968 • 10¢ Per Copy, $4 Per Year In Advance

Wixom's Ring Road Route, Electrical Law Approved

Wixom City Council flashed the green light for three proposals Tuesday night - an electrical ordinance, an electrical fees schedule and a preliminary ring road route.

All received the unanimous approval of the council, although Councilman Charles McCall disliked that section of the fees schedule pertaining to minor household installations.

Specifically, McCall contended that a $4 fee for this kind of work would prod homeowners into making installations without notifying the city and/or obtaining a permit.

Instead of this fee, he suggested that the council consider lowering it to $1 to encourage citizens to obtain a permit and at the same time to establish good-will between the citizens and the city government. He questioned the contention of the building inspector that the $4 fee is less than the city's actual cost.

While Mayor Wesley McAtee agreed with McCall that the lower fee might be a good public relations gesture on the part of the city, he pointed out that if the council should favor the lower fee it also should consider ways of absorbing the cost not paid by the citizen. Despite his reticence, McCall moved the adoption of the proposed fees without change.

Following a review of suggested routes for the southeast section of the proposed Ring Road which has been on the drafting boards for years, the council decided to accept the original suggestion - provided assurance is received from Detroit Edison Company that the old electrical towers are to be removed.

The city engineer, Larry Pate, sought a route decision from the council so that soil borings could begin. Generally speaking, the proposed route starts at a point east of the city hall property on Pontiac Trail, travels south and southwesterly, crossing the C&O tracks and then continuing to Wixom Road.

The soil borings are to be taken along the route where it crosses the railroad tracks. At this point the road will either go under the tracks or above it. Although the decision on whether or not it should be an underpass or an overpass has not yet been made, Pate told council members that either of the two would be expensive.

Asked by Councilwoman Mary Parns if the city had obtained the right-of-way land, the mayor said it had not but that some investigations have been made. She asked then what would happen if a property owner decided not to sell, whereupon City Attorney Gene Schenel explained that it could be obtained through condemnation.

McAtee said he foresees little difficulty in obtaining the necessary right-of-way land from large property owners since development of the road is certain to enhance the sale value of such property. But, he added, problems could develop where small property owners are involved.

The southeast section of the proposed Ring Road is the second section that has now received route approval by the council. The first was the northeast section, which starts at Pontiac Trail east and north of the city hall property and angles northwesterly, crossing Wixom Road along the route of Theodore Street.

Eventually, the proposed roadway will make a complete circle of the center of the community. Pontiac Trail, under current plans, will remain, but Wixom Road as it travels south from the present C&O crossing in the center of town. This southern terminus would become a cul-de-sac.

In other business Tuesday, the council heard a suggestion by Arthur Cronin, Birch Park Association president, that the recently established parking bar on both sides of Flamingo, from Loon Drive to Magister, be altered to allow parking on one side of the street.

DPW Superintendent Robert Trombley is to confer with the police chief and if no objections are made the parking restriction along one side of the street will be lifted.

In Kidnapping Examination

Policeman Grilled 3 Hours

Grilled for three hours, a Novi policeman was the first and the only witness to take the stand Thursday afternoon in the opening round of the kidnapping examination of three South Lyon youths.

Officer Robert Starnes, the policeman who was kidnapped late in July, was questioned by four defense attorneys and the prosecuting attorney upon taking the stand in the Novi Justice Court before Justice of Peace Emery Jacques.

The examination was adjourned following this questioning until September 5 at 9 a.m. A half-dozen other witnesses are expected to take the stand before completion of the examination.

The defendants are Giles Carl Askins, 19, Floyd Kirkendall and William J. Jobe, both 17.

They were shackled when police delivered them to the court - held in the Novi community building because of a large expected crowd - under exceptionally tight security. Fourteen security policemen guarded the defendants and the building entrances. The youths were cased in a stock room until the examination began.

Askins wore handcuffs and leg irons, the other two only handcuffs. Police Chief Lee BeGole said he ordered the special security precautions because of "a number of rumors" circulating in the community concerning the possibility of an escape.

The three youths were whisked from the Oakland County Jail, where they had been lodged since their arrest, to the Novi courtroom in two police cars, with a third escort patrol car.

Aside from the questioning of Starnes, the only other significant court action was a request by the counsel for the defendants that the bond of Jobe be reduced because his involvement in the alleged crime was considered a lesser degree. The prosecution concurred.

Subsequently, Judge Jacques reduced the bonds from $50,000 to $2,000 and Jobe, Tuesday afternoon, was released upon posting the smaller bonds.

The $100,000 bonds on Askins and the $50,000 bonds on Kirkendall continues and both remain in the county jail.

Man, 43, Drowns In Walled Lake

A 43-year-old Ferndale man drowned in Walled Lake Saturday afternoon while swimming 125 yards from the West Lake Drive shore in Novi.

The victim - third in Walled Lake this year - is Woody Sloan of 975 Hazelhurst.

Two skindivers of the Oakland County Water Patrol, Gary Armstrong and Fred Scholz, recovered the body at 6:56 p.m. - more than three hours after he went under in 15 feet of water.

Plat Sought For Industry Sites Here

A preliminary plat for a 50-acre industrial park was received and referred to the planning consultant by the Novi Planning Board Monday night.

The proposed industrial park, located on Nine Mile Road, between the C&O Railroad on the west and Meadowbrook Lake Subdivision on the east, is called Hydromat Industrial Park Subdivision No. 1. It is owned by Gene Hirs.

Plans call for the industrial park to be laid out in 39 lots, most of which are 100 x 350 to 400 feet in size. Leading Engineering's new plant already occupies part of the site which is about one-half mile deep.

The property was recently rezoned from M-3 to M-1.

Introduced by Postiff Engineers, the plat is to be reviewed by the planning consultant who is to report his findings and recommendations to the planning board at a special meeting on September 16.

In other business Monday, the board tabled the rezoning request of Donald P. Young until October to allow more extensive study of ultimate plans for the area.

Young is seeking a multiple dwelling classification for 10 acres of property on South Lake Drive, adjacent to the Novi Township Park. The property is presently zoned single family residential.

Consideration of proposed amendments to take place on September 16, the board decided. Presently, planners are awaiting report to Village Attorney Howard Bond on the proposed amendments.

School Break-in Reported in Novi
Someone broke into Orchard Hills Elementary School in Novi Monday night, but school officials believe nothing was taken.

GALA DAYS in Novi had everything this year, including one of the hottest days of the summer (Saturday) and one of the coolest (Sunday). But hot or cold it was fun, and the co-sponsors - Novi Jaycees and Chamber of Commerce - were pleased with the results of their weeks of planning and work.

How Deep is 8 Feet? Asks Wixom Sewer Critic

"We have gone down approximately 12 feet and we will probably have to go deeper," said Bill Buber who has been contracted to do three sewer hookups for Vernon Spencer of 51225 West Pontiac Trail in Wixom.

Spencer, who has been critical of the city's sewer program, is even more opposed to it today. He points out that his lawn has almost been completely ruined. Shrubs have been uprooted, plants and flowers destroyed, trees removed and the grass has been damaged almost beyond repair, he

When the sewer line was put in by the general contractor it was supposed to be no more than eight feet from the surface, with a six-inch riser for hook-up, says Spencer. And, he adds, upon completion of the line it was inspected and approved by the Oakland County inspector.

Nevertheless, when the contractor came in to make the hookup he was forced to dig 12 feet deep to reach the line. Upon completion of the hookups, Buber is to repair the lawn damage.

Wind Up, Jumps Down

Stiff winds blew out the number of jumps but not the color and excitement of the championship parachute jumps during Novi's Gala Days last weekend.

Jumpers got off to a good start Saturday in the eighth annual spot landing contest even though winds blew from 12 to 18 miles per hour.

They came from throughout Michigan to thrill crowds and compete for trophies presented by Dan Latchford of Midwest Parachute Sales & Service here.

Age out-shined youth as Dan Walker, a 41-year-old jumper with three years' experience. He hit "dead center" in the target. Jerry Kelly, last year's winner, took second by landing 10 feet from the target center, and Novi's Norm Rust, a veteran of five years of jumping, placed third by landing 12 feet from the target.

Sunday's scheduled afternoon jumping was cancelled when winds of 25 to 30 miles per hour lashed the jumping area.

Last Chance For Bridge

Attention all bridge players! This is your last chance to sign up for the sixth annual bridge marathon sponsored by the Northville Mother's Club.

Vows Spoken in Candlelight

Pools of candlelight circled vases of white blossoms for the evening ceremony which united Beverly Jean Edmister and Calvin Dean Michell in marriage. The Reverend Ivan Speight performed the double ring ceremony on August 24 in the Salem Bible Church.

The bride is the niece of Mr. and Mrs. William Douglas Lemon Sr. of 9536 West Seven Mile Road. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Edgett of 222 Church Street.

Two musical selections were presented during the marriage ceremony when Robert Lemon sang "Because" and "Each for the Other".

Given in marriage by her uncle, the bride wore the traditional wedding gown of long white lace. She carried a bouquet of white carnations, stephanotis, and pink sweetheart roses.

Celia Schuchard, the maid of honor, was dressed in a floor-length gown of pale blue dotted swiss. The sleeveless dress featured a scooped-V neckline with a satin bow and streamers. She carried an arrangement of pink carnations and white carnations tinted pink.

Sharon Grimes served as bridesmaid with Denise Lemon and Cathy Lemon acting as junior bridesmaids. Their outfits were a pale pink floor-length dotted swiss with an empire waist and a scooped neck. A satin bow and streamers enhanced the full backs of the sleeveless dresses. The flowers carried by each girl were an arrangement of pink carnations.

The flower girl wore a similar long dress of pale pink dotted swiss. Her gown had puffed sleeves and she carried an arrangement of pink carnations.

Serving as best man was James Hamilton, a friend of the groom. The other ushers were Mike Gelaude, Cam Bare, John Davis, Rick Schuchard and Milan George Jr.

For her niece's wedding, Mrs. Lemon chose a brown and white chiffon dress with a shawl collar and brown accessories. She wore a white carnation corsage. The mother of the bridegroom wore a teal blue sheath with a lace cowl collar and a matching jacket. Her accessories were white and her flowers were white carnations tinted blue.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the parlor of the church. Guests attended from the Upper Peninsula, Ohio, Northville, South Lyon, Plymouth, Pontiac, Detroit and Lansing.

For a wedding trip to Canada the new bride chose a grey linen sheath with white accessories. A corsage of pink sweetheart roses was formed from the bridal bouquet.

The new Mrs. Michell is a '67 graduate of South Lyon High School and Calvin graduated from Northville the same year. Both attended Grand Rapids School of the bible and music where the bridegroom will be returning this fall. The couple plan to make their future home in Grand Rapids.

Salem Women Can 'Charity' Thursday

The Ladies Aide of the Salem Bible Church last Thursday canned 213 quarts of corn to be sent to the Southland Bible Institute at Pikesville, Kentucky and the Cedine Bible Institute at Spring City, Tennessee.

The church has done this for the past 12 years. The Institutes are supported on a charity basis.

Heading the canning committee is Mrs. Robert Gelaude. So far, she said, the committee has canned a total of 584 quarts of food. In addition to the corn they have canned 178 quarts of bread and butter pickles; 50 quarts of dill pickles; 98 quarts of green beans; 22 jars of jelly; and 23 quarts of beets. They have set their goal at 1000 quarts for the canning season.

All of the fruits and vegetables for canning are donated by interested individuals and the women do all of the work themselves.

The Ladies Aide of the Novi Baptist Church also can food and send it to the Institutes.

17 Students Return From Working Trip

On Saturday evening, August 24, 17 tired but enthusiastic high school Presbyterians returned from a week's work in West Virginia. The group stayed and worked in Canyon, a small community just north of Morgantown that was once the site of a productive coal mine.

During their stay, the group was housed in community homes and ate together in the basement of the Canyon Community Presbyterian Church. Young people from Canyon joined in with the work which was done primarily to improve the physical surroundings of the community.

Heading the list of improvements was the renovation of a firehouse from the brick power house of a now defunct mine. Under the supervision of Ole Sarto, an adult advisor with the group, the young people cleaned old brick, bricked up useless doors and windows, and painted the woodwork and an overhead door. Lesser projects included construction of a drainage system around a playground, clearing underbrush from the community picnic center, refinishing church doors and general light maintenance work around the church.

In doing this work, the young people participated in the United Presbyterian National Missions program of short term voluntary service projects, coordinated from New York City.

Side trips by the group included a trip to a large coal cleaning plant, and one to a glass factory, both of which are representative of the economy base of the area.

The group included: Margaret Chase, Karen Dyke, Sue Froelich, Martha Gazeley, Everett Greer, Laura Guider, Ed Hammond, Diane Harper, Leigh Heffner, Rich Jameson, Gay Ketter, Vickie Lobdell, Sue Plucke, Elma Sarto, Rick Sechler, Bob Shafer, and Ellen Wisner. They were accompanied by the Rev. Timothy Johnson, Mrs. Albert Plucke, and Mr. Sarto.

LITTLE SPARROW—Posing with his wife in authentic Indian garb is Rodney Deyo, vice president of the Grand River American Indian Association. He has agreed to assist the DAR in preparation for the American Indian Show being held October 5-6.

DAR Pow-wow Centers on Indians

The tribal dancing of American Indians will be brought back to life this fall at the DAR sponsored American Indian show. The show will be held October 5-6 at the Joy road studios in Plymouth to raise money for the Indian scholarship fund.

Instructing the dancers will be Nashosho, (Little Sparrow), vice president of the Grand River American Indian Association. Nashosho, whose American name is Rodney Deyo, is chief consultant to the DAR and has arranged to have an Indian children's group from Lansing perform dances at the exhibit.

Besides the presentation of Indian dancing, the group is planning an exhibit of authentic Indian artifacts and museum pieces. The display will include pottery, jewelry, and live demonstrations of Indian weaving from the Mount Hope Indian reservation.

A special exhibit is planned for children with demonstrations and opportunities for experimental weaving.

In preparation for the colorful exhibit, Michigan Senator Youngblood from the Grosse Pointe district has agreed to address the DAR this morning. The senator will discuss the needs of the American Indian in relationship to the community.

Serving as chairman of the show is a well-known artist from this area, Mrs. Marion Sober of Plymouth. She and co-hostesses Mrs. T. Lovett and Mrs. F. Hohelisel, are working hard to make this show an authentic exhibition of the American Indian.

Youths Attend 5-Day Seminar at Alma College

"Communication," not the church was the theme of a Presbyterian youth seminar held at Alma College August 18-23. Five Northville residents attended the study session which included about 129 high school seniors from throughout the state.

Representatives from Northville were students Mary Lorenz and Meredith Hartt. Also attending as counselors were Mrs. George Jerome, Mrs. George Weiss and Jim Kleinsorge.

Although the seminar lasted only five days, the participants found it a stimulating and informative experience. The program started every morning with discussion groups of about 30 students and a counselor. The youth discussed events of the previous day and experimented with different ways of understanding themselves and relating themselves to others.

In the afternoons they were divided into various study groups of their own choosing. The topics offered included "Crisis in a Nation," "Help" (directed by Jim Kleinsorge), "Communications," and "The Uncomfortable Pew" (directed by Mrs. Jerome).

Featured at the seminar were several speakers who addressed the groups and remained for informal discussions. Among these were Stanley Moldovan author of "Youth in Contemporary society," a book read and discussed in the course of the week. Other speakers included a 14-year-old YIPPIE from a communal crash pad in Detroit, and a representative from PAR (People against Racism).

DETROIT-AREA FREEWAY SYSTEM

401 Miles Already Open

Freeway Push Slow But Steady

Like a teenager verging on manhood, the metropolitan area's huge freeway system is growing more slowly than it was a few years ago.

But its progress is steady nonetheless, and the Northville-Novi-South Lyon area is in the center of much of the accomplished proposed action.

Construction in the triangle formed by Port Huron, Flint and Toledo moves steadily forward, mile by mile. Where 80 miles of freeway existed eleven years ago, 401 miles now are open to traffic.

Nearly 25 miles are under construction, and the Department of State Highways has scheduled construction of 116 miles more, with completion set for mid-1975 if no delays intervene.

Preliminary engineering and right of way acquisition have begun for still another 112 miles and substantial improvements and a relocation are scheduled for some existing freeways and other state highways.

Completion in a year not yet determined will give the metropolitan area 654 miles of divided, limited access freeways. Nearly all will be part of the 41,000-mile Interstate highway system or be built to Interstate standards.

The cost of area freeways opened to traffic, under construction or programmed for construction will surpass $2 billion.

Only the first 1.6-mile section of the Jeffries, Michigan's last remaining link in I-96, will be opened in 1970 to an interchange with the Ford (I-94). It will be late 1973 before the completed 27-mile freeway will tie in with existing I-96 at the juncture with I-696 at Novi in Oakland County.

Completion of I-696, running 26 miles from I-96 at Novi east through southern Oakland and Macomb counties to a connection with I-94 at Roseville in Macomb County, is scheduled for 1975.

M-14, from existing M-14 Freeway northeast of Ann Arbor to a connection of I-275 and I-96 at Schoolcraft near Plymouth, is slated for completion by late 1973.

All of I-75 (Detroit-Toledo, Seaway, Fisher and Chrysler freeways) will be opened this year with the exception of the I-696 and a three-mile Detroit downtown section connecting the Fisher, Jeffries, Lodge and Chrysler.

All of the I-96 construction in Livingston and Oakland counties—16.4 miles—has been completed. Another 27.3 miles, running from I-696 interchange at Novi south to M-14 and I-275, east to Davison and then downtown, are slated for completion by late 1973. All contracts are to be let by late 1971.

With 7.8 miles of I-696, from Novi east, already open, an additional 20 miles is scheduled for contract lettings probably to mid-1972. The opening of the last section is projected for as late as mid-1975. It will run through southern Oakland and Macomb counties, connecting I-96 at Novi and I-94 at Roseville.

Construction of the 30 miles of I-275 is yet to start but all is scheduled to be under contract by mid-1971 and completed by mid-1973. It will run from I-75 at Newport in Monroe County north across I-94 to a connection with I-96 just east of Plymouth.

Likewise nothing is scheduled yet for the planned 9.6 miles of Northwestern Highway, which will run along existing Northwestern just west of Telegraph Road (US-24) to present terminus at Orchard Lake Road and then northwest to a connection with M-275.

No construction dates are set for 21 miles of highway—M-275, running from Novi north to a planned intersection with extended Northwestern Highway near Wolverine Lake, then across M-59 to a connection with I-75 near Clarkston.

Township Residents Fear Stream Flow

About a dozen property owners from Shadbrook subdivision appeared at the Northville township board meeting last week to ask that the township "do nothing" about cleaning out the "Johnson drain."

Although two weeks earlier Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg had reported to the township board that he would contact the drain commissioner to determine what could be done about cleaning the debris-filled drain, he assured the concerned Shadbrook residents that nothing is now planned on the project.

The expressed concern that cleaning the drain would complicate their problem: the overflowing of the stream onto their properties and the erosion of property along the stream's path. Cleaning the stream, they contended, would only increase the rush of water.

In other business at a special meeting of the board a school board request to collect school taxes during the summer so that the school might avoid borrowing "start-up" money each fall was turned down. New subdivision regulations were adopted (see pages 4-B, 5-B, 6-B), and new Trustee Joseph Straub was appointed to the board of appeals, while Armin J. Grossmann, 18436 Donegal court, was named to the township's water and sewer commission.

Police Complaints Start Leveling Off

The marked increase of complaints made to the Northville police department this year seems to be leveling off. This, at least, is the indication of the police department activity report for the month of July.

Although the total number of calls received this year has increased almost 10 percent, the total received for the month remained the same—659.

One of the trouble areas that has shown the largest increase concerns animal complaints. In July there were 41 complaints of stray dogs, stray cats, etc. as compared to 17 for the same month last year. This makes an increase of from 192 in 1967 to 262 this year.

Among the crimes that seems to be increasing concerns larceny of $99 and under. There were 17 complaints in July as compared to none a year ago. The year's total is 75, up 60 percent from last year.

Other crimes that increased this month are petty with smaller gains over last year. There were 10 complaints of vandalism and 11 of disorderly persons. Two complaints of prowlers were reported with 18 open doors and 23 open windows. In July there were 25 automobile accidents.

In other areas the number of complaints is down. Charges of drunk and disorderly conduct decreased to 32 from 51 in 1967. Parking violations decreased by 104 and courtesy violations were down to zero. Only one person was charged with having insufficient funds.

Finally, the number of city fire calls, unfortunately, has gone up. There were six calls last month as compared to one a year ago. Also, the total for the year has almost doubled; it jumped to 37 from 19 in 1967.

Beach Houses Close Monday

The Island Queen will be available noon through 6 p.m. Saturday and Sunday in September and Sunday only in October, weather permitting.

For additional information persons may phone 685-1561 (Milford). Kensington Metropolitan Park is one of eight sites of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority.

Even if Millage Passes

Junior High Football in Doubt

The Northville Junior High School football program may not become a reality even if voters approve the 2-mill proposal on September 14.

That's the word of Athletic Director Robert Kucher, who told The Record Monday that the difficulty of maintaining the schedule of games may result in the complete elimination of the program.

"We are in the process now of contacting the schools on our schedules to ask if they would be willing to wait until after the September 14 vote before seeking someone to replace us. Two games have already been cancelled (Farmington Powers eighth grade game and the Plymouth West Seventh grade game)."

If a minimum of three schools agree to await the results of the election — both at the seventh and the eighth grade level — the junior high program will be operated. "But we won't go ahead with it unless teams for both the seventh and eighth grades can play at least three games."

A related problem in maintaining a schedule that may or not be fulfilled, Kucher said, is the state requirement that boys complete three weeks of practice prior to their first game.

"I feel it's only fair to let parents know that there is a possibility that we won't have the program even if the millage is approved," Kucher said.

While the practice requirement does not affect cross country competition, two meets have already been cancelled. These include those earlier scheduled for September 10 and 12.

Presently, because of the extra-curricular cutbacks made by the board of education in the wake of the first two defeats of the millage proposal, seven coaches who normally would have already begun practice or who would begin them next Tuesday, are without coaching jobs.

These include Chuck Shonta, assistant varsity football; Norm Jacobs and Sy Nichols, junior varsity football; three junior high school football coaches, Omar Harrison, Mike Janichuk and Pete Johnson; and Paul Osborn, cross country.

In addition, practice for band by Robert Williams, and for cheerleading by Pat Dorrian is missing. Neither groups will perform in this year's grid opener at Plymouth. However, students could on their own initiative practice but not in uniform, Kucher said.

The Plymouth opener is slated for September 13 — the day before the millage election.

"It will be interesting to see what the students do," concluded Kucher. "And I'll be interested to see what kind of spectator interest the first game produces."

Work Pays
For 4-Her's

A year of hard work was dimmed with success by the Double N Riders of the 4-H club. High achievement was again the reward of youngsters at the annual Wayne County 4-H Fair held at Belleville August 13-18.

This year the club has added some new junior members aged 7-9. Entries in home gardening, clothing, liquid embroidery and photography were made by Michael Stipp, Pamela Miller, Gayle Davidson and Lynn and Doug Jones.

Although several members of the club had never before taken part in a horse show, the club returned from Belleville with 17 blue, 14 red, and three white ribbons.

The nine members showing their horses and ponies were Pat Heenan, Diane and Rick Rossetto, Rob and Rick Davidson, Gail and George Jones, Carol Bellener, and Cindy Bretz. Other projects shown by these children were in clothing, foods, dogs, photography, woodworking, knitting, garden, junior leadership, liquid embroidery and art.

Cindy Bretz, despite a broken arm, was able to show her pony at halter. Also, Bill Bretz and Jancien Miller, who did not remain at the fair, nevertheless, displayed their projects of knitting, art, clothing and woodworking.

Diane Rossetto received the knitting trophy and Rick Davidson participated in a driving demonstration with his pony, Arrow.

Grid Coach May
Stay on the Job

Northville varsity coaches probably will continue coaching duties even if a new teacher contract is not resolved by the opening of school.

According to Pat Babel, chief negotiator for the teachers, the negotiating team will have no objections if coaches decide to follow a recommendation of the Michigan coaching association.

The association recommended that coaches continue their coaching duties in the absence of a contract — provided the teachers' bargaining agents agree.

Teachers Halt
Press Attendance

Presence of the press at Northville teacher negotiations — a unique agreement in Michigan bargaining — was temporarily halted at last Thursday's meeting.

Miss Pat Babel, chief negotiator for the teachers who barred The Record, said her action concerned only last Thursday's meeting. She gave this explanation:

Since the press had not been present at the recent meetings involving the state mediator, teacher negotiators were of the opinion that the press lacked important background information to correctly assess the significance of Thursday's discussion by teachers and board negotiators. They feared, she said, that any story developed without sufficient background information might jeopardize negotiations.

Asked if The Record would be barred from any future meetings, she said the agreement by teacher and board negotiators to permit local newspaper representative to be present would stand. (The Record reportedly was the first and is still one of few newspapers in Michigan invited to attend negotiation meetings.)

Although she said a number of statements made in the press recently were questioned by teachers, these did not motivate her action on Thursday, she said.

The questionable statements that she said needed clarification were:

—A recent reported assertion of the superintendent that neither the board nor the teachers had made any new counter proposals concerning salaries. True, but teachers had asked that an exchange of counter-proposals be made but the board had declined to do so, she said.

—Publication of a calendar that teachers consider still to be under dispute.

Unification

came from an admitted advocate of unification — former City Councilman John Canterbury. He suggested that the study constituted a "superficial look" and he questioned aloud whether it would be possible to cut city taxes in half and provide the same (or better) level of service for all citizens of the city and township as now prevails in the city.

Consultant Oakes retorted that the study had not been superficial, that the financial estimates were "conservative" and that in all likelihood a new city combining the total city-township area could operate for "less than seven mills, especially as levels of service are being developed."

Manager Ollendorff also defended the method used by the committee in making his study. He said comparisons could not be made with other communities, because there were none comparable. So to develop a report that was not "pie in the sky" and answered the "first question asked — how much," every service now provided in the city was expanded so that the same level or better could be extended to the township area, the manager explained.

Mayor A. M. Allen said "unity" was his concept, not "taking somebody in." He said he'd favor a new charter and a new council representing all the people that would decide for itself what services to provide.

It was pointed out that two methods of formation of a new city are possible: one that would establish unification of a new city, set forth a charter commission and establish a new charter. This method is longer, probably requiring two years from the start, and somewhat more costly. The second method would be by annexation, which would also be accomplished by a vote of both city and township residents but would not require the establishment of a new charter, but would adopt the existing Northville city charter. The latter method also allows for the drawing of new city boundaries that would not necessarily include the entire township, while under consolidation the new city must include the total city and township.

The supervisor failed to answer directly a question from Mrs. James Telam asking specifically why some township residents were opposed to the idea. She said that in voter canvassing she had done many new township residents were surprised to learn they did not have city police protection.

In answer to another question it was explained that the seven mills estimated to operate a new city would represent a six mill tax hike to the township and a six mill decrease to city residents. A mill, it was explained, represents one dollar of taxes per $1,000 of assessed valuation.

Schoolcraft Opens
Classes Thursday

A record number of 4,700 students awaits the scheduled opening of classes at Schoolcraft College on Thursday, August 29, as the college launches its fifth year of operations.

Registrar Norman E. Dunn said his records point to a 20 percent increase in fall term enrollment over last year.

Of the approximately 4,700 students already admitted or expected to return to the campus, about 2,800, according to Dunn, will be enrolled in the day program, another 1,500 will be taking classes in the Evening College, and 400 more will be signed up in the college's fast-growing apprenticeship program.

Fall term enrollment last year was 3,906, which came close to doubling the college's 1964 first-year enrollment of 2,018.

The record enrollment figure is only one of a number of changes that have taken place at Schoolcraft this year. Fall term students will be paying a higher tuition rate, now set at $10 a credit hour for resident students and $18 an hour for non-residents. Actually, the rates went into effect on July 1 and applied to summer term students.

In addition, 20 new full-time instructors have been added to the faculty to accommodate the increased enrollment, bringing the faculty to 124 members.

One new building will open for the first time this fall, another has undergone extensive remodeling since May, and construction has begun on a third building.

The new building is the 32-classroom Liberal Arts building, a 40,000 square-foot structure that also houses a 180-seat theater. The remodeled building — the Library — has been given an internal face-lift to provide for needed stack and production of audio-tutorial materials, along with more reading and study area.

Just getting underway is the college's 97,000 square-foot physical education building which is expected to be completed in the spring of 1970.

Although classes won't begin until Thursday, the college year will open officially on Monday when the faculty reports for orientation. On Tuesday and Wednesday the college will be open for registration for both day and evening programs.

Dunn said registration for day program students is scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday from 8:30 to 11 a.m. and from 1 to 3:30 p.m. Evening college students will register Tuesday and Wednesday nights from 7 to 9 p.m.

On Tuesday morning, according to Dunn, registration is scheduled for those students who have completed advanced registration but who wish to change programs or classes. These students will first report to their faculty advisors to have changes approved. Then the students will go to the Library to complete registration and to pay fees.

Sophomores are scheduled to register on Tuesday afternoon in an alphabetical time sequence. The schedule: 1 to 1:30 p.m., students whose last names start with A through D; 1:30 to 2 p.m., E through H; 2 to 2:30 p.m., I through N; 2:30 through 3 p.m., O through S; and 3 to 3:30 p.m., T through Z.

Freshmen who have not completed advance registration will report to their faculty advisors to start the registration procedure on this schedule: 8:30 to 9 a.m., students whose last names start with A and B; 9 to 9:30 a.m., C through E; 9:30 to 10 a.m., F through H; 10 to 10:30 a.m., I through L; 10:30 to 11 a.m., M and N; 1 to 1:30 p.m., O and P; 1:30 to 2 p.m., Q and R; 2 to 2:30 p.m., S and T; and 2:30 to 3 p.m., U through Z.

Dunn reminded all students registering that fees must be paid in full at the time of registration.

Effort Made to Save Link

illegible or obscured by heavy brush, he was prompted to write officials.

Once each grave has been identified and information about each person has been compiled, he will submit it to the Detroit Society for Genealogical Research for publication.

As so often happens in searching the past, one mystery leads to another. And with 157 identifiable graves to work from the unsolved mysteries are numerous, he admits. He asks that anyone with information about persons in the cemetery contact him.

One thing's for certain, however, and that is that many of the men buried in the cemetery were instrumental in the early development of Waterford which has long since disappeared along with its pioneers.

Among the people buried there, several have special significance for Clifford Cranson, 218 South Center Street, who last week celebrated his 81st birthday. His parents are there as are his great uncle and great grandfather — Dyer and Gannett Ramsdell — the men who once owned the property on which the cemetery and the old Waterford school (until recently the township hall) are located.

A short history of Waterford published in 1899 shows that Waterford or Meads Mills as it was often called was already then a "deserted village" where the Haller Division of Federal Mogul Corporation is now located. Founded by the Ramsdell brothers, the community can be traced to the recorded plat of the property dated March 18, 1837. A large flouring mill was built there by three brothers, Marshall, Wadsworth and Samuel Mead — now all occupants of the cemetery.

In addition to the mill, the thriving community of Waterford once included a post office, three cooper (barrel) shops, a saw mill, a foundry and shop for the manufacture of farm implements, a sash and blind factory, and homes of the people who worked in these businesses.

According to Cranson, the community also included a little store just behind where Haller's is located. It was eventually moved, he said, and is now the little grocery store at the southwest corner of Six Mile and Northville Roads. The mill was located close to the road about where the front lawn of the Haller building is located.

now, he said. The foundry, established by the Ramsdells and Seth Hughes, was located on the west side of Northville Road, across from the Haller property, in what is now part of Cass Benton Park.

Although the 1899 history shows that the mill (located where Wayne County's road department's sign plant is now situated) was founded and built by J. A. Austin, Cranson claims his grandfather, Ashley Ramsdell, was later instrumental in its operation. He also supplied the water for the Waterford mill, Cranson adds.

An interesting and important part of Waterford's history is the community's involvement in the slavery issue during the Civil War era. As a matter of fact, the village "was a prominent station the underground railroad", the history relates.

Municipal Court

Of the four cases appearing in Northville Municipal Court before Judge Philip Ogilvie last week, three involved illegal use of alcohol and one concerned an escape.

Harold J. Paul of Wyandotte faced charges of escape from the Detroit House of Correction. He entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to five days in jail, being committed last Thursday.

On another charge of possessing alcoholic beverages at the Northville State Hospital, David Hughes of Detroit entered a plea of guilty. He was sentenced to $20 plus $25 costs or seven days and $1.

Another plea of guilty was entered by Alfred Stewart of Pontiac when charged with being drunk and disorderly at the Northville Downs. He then was sentenced to $30 and $10 costs or eight days and $3 costs.

Finally, Claude West of Taylor was charged with drunk and disorderly behavior along South Center Street. He was fined $30 and $10 costs or eight days and $3.

Northville School Board Bills State, County, City

Part of the financial pinch experienced by the Northville School District is to be passed on to the state, county and city of Detroit.

The lateral pass is the result of the board of education's 5-1 vote Monday night to bill these three governmental agencies tuition for students who live on their non-taxable lands here and who attend Northville Schools.

Sixteen students are involved, explained Superintendent Raymond Spear. They live on Maybury Sanatorium property (operated by Detroit), Wayne County Children's Development Center property, and the Northville State Hospital and Plymouth State Home properties (operated by the state).

Approximately $8,000 is involved. The board established a non-resident student tuition rate for the 1968-69 year at $522.81 for elementary students and $552.54 for secondary students.

The tuition demand, according to Spear, represents the first time in the history of the district that these three governmental agencies have been billed. Actually, the board's action, which drew the dissent of Trustee Glenn Deibert, was a less stringent one than initially proposed by Trustee Richard Martin. Martin moved that the 16 students be denied admittance to Northville Schools until the tuition is paid or until the State Supreme Court orders the district to do otherwise.

Martin said he favored placing the responsibility upon the state and forcing it to take the necessary legal steps to upset the school's course of action. "It will force them to drag us to court if they disagree, but I don't think it will get that far."

Deibert said he would like to take a forthright stand but that such local action could jeopardize the total financial structure of the school district. It has been noted in the past that the state, in answer to such a demand, could conceivably withhold all state aid payments to the district.

Other board members agreed with Martin that it is time the board took a stand on this issue, but they suggested that other avenues be approached first — such as seeking legal advice from the state school board association in hopes that it might take up the cudgel, to take the matter up again with the state legislature, and/or to bill the students themselves.

It was noted that an earlier request put to the legislature by the board suggested that Northville's state aid deduction factor be improved to compensate the district for non-taxable lands. The request did not ask for tuition money.

Legally, the school cannot charge tuition for those students who reside within the school district, Spear explained. The 16 students residing on non-taxable land, he added, live in the district.

Martin took the position that since neither the parents of the students nor the governments owning their housing pay taxes locally they ought not be considered residents of this district. Maybe, observed Trustee Eugene Cook, the board should explore the possibility of restricting the school boundaries to exclude these institutions.

The board, growing increasingly chary about financial matters, found displeasure, too, in a letter from the

Roy Pippins, Minister
Church of Christ, South Lyon

Many are the reasons that Jesus our saviour came to this earth of ours. He came to pay the price for our sins. He came to give us his teachings and he came to set us an example. "Christ also suffered for you, leaving you an example, that you should follow in his steps." (1 Pet. 2:21)

Jesus is an example to boys and girls. God's word tells us something about the youth of Jesus. Luke 2:51 says that he was "subject unto" his father and mother. That a boy and girl must first learn obedience to parents is one of the first laws of life, and is a most neglected subject. Juvenile delinquency would not exist if all boys and girls were taught to obey the example of Jesus in youth. Moreover as a youth Jesus was religious. He said, "I must be about my father's business." Satan would have you believe that boys and girls should retain their purity but they must sow their "wild oats". This is basely false. Boys and girls, follow the example of Jesus.

It is not written accidentally that Jesus became a carpenter. (Mark 6:3) He did not intend to make a career of carpentry, but it is recorded that he learned a trade. Certainly this sets forth to us the dignity of work and the good sense of learning a trade. The ancient Rabbis taught Hebrew parents that not to teach a boy a trade was to teach him to steal.

Baptism is another instance where Jesus set the example. He walked from Galilee to where John was baptizing, about seventy miles to be baptized. How far would you walk to be baptized? Some would not walk around the block. Others refuse it all together. It is evident that these people are not watching the example of Jesus. His example in this regard is even more emphatic because He had no sins to be washed away. Even so, He insisted on baptism. He knew that God had commanded it, not man. Therefore He took the initiative. He begged the preacher to baptize Him. What can you say about this example as far as your life is concerned?

He also set the example in the way he met temptation. As a human being he was subject to temptations just as you and I. Jesus knew the scripture and was able to quote it. He answered Satan, "It is written". The scripture is a sharp sword and the devil cannot stand it's cutting power, let us follow His example in meeting temptation.

Concern for the lost is another outstanding characteristic of our great model. In the face of losing popularity with the people of his day He spent time with a sinful outcast soul. He became so infatuated with talking to this soul that He lost all interest in physical food. He wept over the city of Jerusalem because they would not come unto Him. He said, The Son of Man is come to seek and save that which was lost. (Luke 19:10)

His love for His enemies is also our example. His words from the cross show so well his feelings for those that had, beat Him, mocked Him, lied about Him, nailed Him to the cross, spit upon Him, made fun of Him and gambled for His only possession. "Father forgive them for they know not what they do." When He was reviled, He reviled not again; when He suffered, threatened not; but committed himself to him that judgeth righteously. (1 Pet. 2:23) What an example.

Yes our great example learned to obey his parents. Later we see that He learned to obey in the ordinance of baptism when He could have objected that He did not need it. These two examples helped when He came to Gethsemane At that midnight hour our saviour lay prostrate and "offered up prayers and supplications with strong crying and tears unto Him that was able to save Him from death." "For Him to be nailed to the cross was just as painful as for you or me. To think about such a fate went against the grain. In this dark moment He didn't want to die but "Though He were a son yet learned he obedience by the things which He suffered; and being made perfect He became the author of eternal salvation to all them that obey Him. (Heb. 5:8-9) Jesus did not claim exemption from physical torture because He was God's Son. If He were minded so, how can you and I fail to follow His blessed example? He pleads with all, "Come follow Me."

Can you always believe what your eyes tell you? An American tourist in a foreign country boasted of the wonders of his own land. "Why, we have telescopes that let us see millions of stars!"

He was jolted by the native's reply, "Maybe you see millions of stars and nothing beyond. We see only a few stars and God."

Are you looking for the stars and missing God... or harnessing the atom and losing your security... or chasing rainbows and missing the gold?

All of us need to look for what the heart can feel, not just what the eyes can see. We need to find God. Why not look for Him in church Sunday? He is waiting for you.

Hold this up to your mirror—any way you look at it, we're behind you.

When we guarantee an electric water heater, we guarantee that you get all the hot water you need. That's right. All the hot water you need. Or you get all your money back. And you have a full year to make up your mind about it.

Satisfied? There's more. For large families we have an 80-gallon heater that provides plenty of hot water for about $5.03 per month in normal use. And for not-so-big families a 50-gallon heater that runs about $3.30 per month in normal use.

Still more, Edison's No-Charge Repair Service. No charge for electrical operating parts or labor. Got the picture?

So, if you're not satisfied with your present water heater, why not consider a new electric one?

That'll put you in a good frame of mind.

Northville Hikes Fees For Texts

Textbook fees for elementary grade students here will be hiked from $7.50 per student to $10 this fall.

The Northville Board of Education voted to raise the fees Monday night - but by a lesser amount than was recommended by Superintendent Raymond Spear. The hike affects students in grades one to six.

Spear had recommended that the fees be increased to $12 per student, with some of the increased revenue to be used for teaching supplies since this part of the budget was recently trimmed because of the two millage failures. The board approved the lower figure, contending that the increased fees should cover only the increased book costs to the district and not be used to subsidize other areas of the budget.

When a citizen asked why elementary students are charged a book fee and yet are not able to keep their books, it was explained that the fee is a rental - not a purchase. If parents were required to purchase the books the cost would be considerably higher, she was told.

Resignations of two teachers were received by the board. One was approved while the other was approved subject to the filing of the teaching position.

William Case, elementary art teacher, asked to be released from his contract and the board voted to do so. Case reportedly has an offer to teach at a college. Norman Jacobs' resignation was accepted provided the superintendent is able to find a satisfactory replacement.

Jacobs, a junior high teacher whose coaching assignment was recently scrapped because of the millage failure, said the cut in revenue works a financial hardship for him. Also, he noted that he has an offer to coach wrestling with a Class A school.

To replace Case the board then voted to retain Mrs. Marian Alice Kipfer of Northville, who has two years teaching experience, at a salary of $6,715.

Also, the board voted to retain Mrs. Suzanne R. Karschnick as an intern teacher to fill a vacancy created by a teacher who resigned earlier this month.

Other school board matters Monday:

-Trustee Glenn Deibert was appointed legislative representative to the Michigan Association of School Boards.

-Vice President Robert Froelich and President Stanley Johnston volunteered to attend the fall conference of the MASH as delegate and alternate delegate, respectively, but at no expense to the school district.

discussion followed with many pros and cons on the question whether to burn the building down to the foundation and decide at that time if the condition of the foundation warrants further use or to rehabilitate the building for any future use. The council generally was opposed to reconstructing on the old foundation. A motion was made by Black, seconded by Lapham that we burn the main building and take immediate steps to board up and preserve the small adjacent unit.

Council member Black stated that the reason for this motion is that he could not in good conscience commit the taxpayers for the added burden of rehabilitating a building that in the end would not be adequate, plus the added maintenance costs.

The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid on the above computation produces the lowest interest cost to the Township. No proposal for purchase of less than all of the bonds herein offered, or at a price less than their par value, will be considered.

A certified cash or cashier's check in the amount of $27,000.00, drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company, payable to the order of the Township Treasurer, shall accompany each bid as a guaranty of good faith on the part of the bidder, to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid is accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds. No interest will be allowed on the good faith checks and checks of unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned to each bidder's representative or by registered mail.

Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified opinion of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, attorneys of Detroit, Michigan, approving the legality of the bonds, which opinion will be furnished without expense of the purchaser of the bonds prior to the delivery thereof. The Township shall furnish bonds ready for execution at its expense. The bonds will be delivered at a place designated by the purchaser.

The right is reserved to reject any and all bids.

The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid on the above computation produces the lowest interest cost to the Township. No proposal for purchase of less than all of the bonds herein offered, or at a price less than their par value, will be considered.

A certified cash or cashier's check in the amount of $27,000.00, drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company, payable to the order of the Township Treasurer, shall accompany each bid as a guaranty of good faith on the part of the bidder, to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid is accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the

for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Although the turn-out was disappointingly light — both from the standpoint of officials or citizens in attendance — the first "information" meeting following the completion of the city-township unification feasibility study was definitely worthwhile.

It produced discussion, and a handful talked about a subject that has only been whispered around these parts in the past decade. Many present residents may not be aware that it required two elections back in the early fifties to change Northville from a village to its present city status. Strong fighting accompanied proposals to broaden the borders.

So it now remains that a single community stands apart under two governments — a city and a rapidly urbanizing township.

And as more people move into the township area and the demands for services increase and the problems of maintenance of roads and utilities become more complex, it is natural to consider how government can best meet these demands.

"Best" usually means at the lowest possible cost, so most studies must be related to a dollar figure.

Basically, it was explained at Monday night's information meeting at the city hall, the feasibility of unifying the city and township under a single government was studied from the standpoint of providing services for all citizens of the community at the same (or higher) level than now existing in the city.

This would include an expanded police department so that community-wide patrols and dispatching of calls could be continued throughout the wider area on the same basis that it is now conducted within the city.

Road maintenance, garbage collection, tree spraying, snow removal — all would be expanded so that the larger city could be served at least on a par with the present city.

And to provide these expanded services it would cost the "new city" taxpayers seven mills — "and this is a maximum figure, not a minimum," insisted Consultant Donald Oakes.

The seven-mill figure (which amounts to $7 per thousand dollars of assessed valuation, or $70 per year to the homeowner with property valued at approximately $20,000 and therefore assessed at $10,000) surprises many observers.

It's six mills lower than the current city tax rate and six mills higher than the one mill tax now paid to the township by its residents.

Admittedly, for one mill township taxpayers receive practically no services. Both city and township residents pay about seven mills in county taxes — which provide the township with limited sheriff's patrol service.

But engineers of the unification study — the consultant, the financial analysts and the steering committee members — insist that the estimated millage is conservative — that it could be less, particularly in the beginning years when development of services was taking place.

Most important, however, it is pointed out that if unification is determined to be desirable and advantageous, it will be decided by the people — who will also determine through their newly-elected council what level of service is desired.

In this week's Record editions we have included copies of all reports prepared for the unification feasibility study. We have done so hoping that citizens of both the city and township will become better informed, take an open-minded look at the findings of their jointly-appointed study committee and then bring their questions to the next information meeting, scheduled to be conducted by the township board — in the city council chambers — on Tuesday evening, September 10.

Northville's board of education is somewhat irked by the quick brush-off given its request for summer tax collection by the township board.

School officials believe they can save thousands of dollars through mid-summer collections, thereby saving interest rates charged for borrowing start-up dollars while gaining further benefit by investing these collections and earning interest.

The city has requested further information before it determines the feasibility of such collections.

Particularly disturbing to the school board was Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg's reply that "after thorough study" the request was denied.

I'd have to agree with the school board on this point, having attended the township meeting at which the question was raised.

I cannot say that it is practical for the township to accommodate the school board, but I definitely believe that none of the township board members, particularly the trustees, were given a clear and detailed report on what the request entails.

In the interest of community cooperation (we're all school taxpayers) it would seem wiser if the township board would reconsider the matter in the presence of a full report from School Superintendent Raymond Spear and his business manager, Earl Busard.

There was one remark made by Township Trustee Thomas Armstrong during the discussion of the school board's request for summer tax collection that deserves correction.

Apparently in an attempt to raise some question as to the school district's need for additional monies, the trustee stated that "they already gained another mill by becoming a third class district."

The rumor that the school district gained any more taxing authority or tax dollars through its change in class status has been refuted both in this newspaper and by school officials. The district has reached an enrollment stage where it qualifies for the higher status and the people saw fit to vote this status in June.

No new tax dollars were added to the school coffers by the change. To suggest so is to question the integrity of the school board and its officials.

Such charges should not come from an elected official speaking at a public meeting. What an official thinks and says privately is his business; what he says at a board table to which he was elected to perform a duty for the public is another matter.

By making statements without concern for research of fact a public official creates suspicion of another public body; when the statement is untrue, he makes one wonder if the public body on which he serves can be trusted.

To the Editor:

Following are a number of facts that we have researched to be certain of their authenticity. We believe some will answer questions we have heard raised and we hope that voters will consider these facts before voting on the 12th year request for Northville's public schools Saturday, September 10.

Did you know...
1. That college scholarships will not be available to a number of qualified seniors because of cancellation of 12th year activities?
2. That whether or not a scholarship is involved, colleges tend to give preference to students who have been involved in "well rounded" programs?

"The first white man to settle at Chicago was a Negro."

That the early American Indians who spoke these words had a mixed sense of humor and prejudice is not as striking, it seems to me, as the simple statement of fact: a Negro founded Chicago.

Few of the delegates at Chicago this week would believe it, and probably even fewer of Chicago's Negro population are aware of this American heritage. They, like me, have been raised and educated to believe that all major accomplishments in our history were made by men with white skin.

At no time during my studies in public and parochial schools were the accomplishments of the Negro stressed. A few passing words about George Washington Carver and about the impact of the play, "Uncle Tom's Cabin", upon the slave question were the extent of these excursions. As a matter of fact, I doubt seriously if the teacher of my day knew much more about the subject.

Today, however, there is a growing movement within our nation's schools to raise the image of the Negro by showing students that the black man is not now nor has he been a free-lancer. In Pontiac this fall, for example, history will be integrated; Benjamin Banneker, the black astronomer and mathematician who helped draw up the District of Columbia boundaries, will share a role with James Hoban, the white architect who drew the plans of the White House. History should be an exciting new adventure for Pontiac youngsters, both black and white, who until now have been fed a minuscule black diet.

It will be exciting for teachers as well since they, like their students, will be learning something new.

One of the required books of study this summer for Pontiac school administrators is a fascinating work by Lerone Bennett, Jr. called "Before the Mayflower" — a history of the Negro in America, 1619-1964. It was especially interesting to me because, like the teachers, the students, and the delegates at Chicago the founder of the nation's second largest city, Jean Baptiste Point du Sable, is a "new" name.

Let me toss out just a few other "new" names to whet your appetite:

—Estevanico, explorer and discoverer of Arizona and New Mexico in 1538.

—Crispus Attucks, hero of the American Revolution, one of the first five persons killed in the Boston Massacre.

—Elijah McCoy of nearby Ypsilanti, an inventive genius who received more than 57 patents, and whose name gave rise to the words, "the real McCoy."

—Frederick Douglass, pre-Civil War publisher of the famous newspaper, The North Star.

—Robert Smalls, who sailed the armed Confederate steamer, "The Planter," out of Charleston, South Carolina and presented it to the U.S. Navy.

—Charlotte E. Ray, first American woman to graduate from a university law school, was admitted to practice in 1872.

—Ernest E. Just, who conducted pioneering research on fertilization, artificial parthenogenesis and cell division.

—Dr. Charles Richard Drew, who set up and ran a pioneering blood plasma bank during World War II.

In the epilogue of his book, author Bennett observes, "Today, 343 years after Jamestown, Negro Americans are still strangers in their own house." Tomorrow, perhaps, the discovery of old friends in our schools may achieve what Federal monies and talk have thus far failed to do.

While "The Secret Life of an American Wife" doesn't fall completely on its face, nevertheless it is one movie that might qualify as the fluttest thing this side of the Ganges, the Yucca salt flats included.

The only thing baying Writer-Producer-Director George Axelrod's folly is the face of Walter Matthau. It's a physiognomy that rivals that of Jimmie Durante, Jack Palance and Phyllis Diller.

Matthau, just standing there, grinning wryly, could draw laughter. His hair hangs loosely over the right eyebrow ala Dietrich, the nose rises prominently from two fleshy jaws, a wide grin breaks the downward thrust and two dimples punctuate the cheeks.

Add a raised eyebrow and an acerbic retort: the laughter is doubled and the comic aspect is clearly visible. But the comic aspect in "Secret Life" doesn't stop at the chin, which is gently rounded. It goes down to the navel, for Matthau appears in his pajama bottoms, revealing sloped shoulders, arms devoid of muscle and a middle-age paunch.

That's not unusual. But in "Secret Life," Matthau plays the part of an international sex symbol, and this is where absurdity enters with a beveled grin. He is to women what Phyllis Diller is, in real life, to men — anything but sexy.

Matthau is the international film idol, who has 72 people on his payroll and millions of women in thrall. They swoon at the sight of him, young and old alike. Our hero is impassive.

If Matthau were the focal point in "Secret Life", all would be well with the world. But, in fact, this is the secret story of Victoria Layton, wife of the publicity agent for Matthau.

Played by Ann Jackson, Victoria bares her secret life via tete-a-tetes with the audience. The obvious intent is to satirize some of the screens more racy expose's.

It doesn't come off, primarily because Miss Jackson doesn't wear the comic cloth with flare. It hangs limp, like a wet dish rag, while she sophomoricly pipes her lines. As a comedienne, she's a flop.

It's not all her fault. Alexrod suffers from imaginative anemia, both as a writer and director. The movie barely gets off the ground and when it does — thanks to Matthau and some well executed lines — it sputters into another boring lull.

basketball is the only activity that is completely self-supporting?

7. That admission cannot be charged students using buses going to activities away from school because there is a State law prohibiting this?

8. That money cannot be transferred from one fund to another? (Construction money comes from the building fund, operating costs come from the general fund.)

9. That for the average citizen a "yes" vote will cost approximately $24,000 per year? (The formula for determining the cost to you individually is as follows: your new assessed valuation is thousands of dollars times $2. For example, a $10,000 assessment would mean a tax increase of $20 — or 10 times 2 mills).

10. That two mills is equivalent to $100,000?

11. That schools are not allowed by State law to use non-certified personnel for extra-curricular instruction? That all sponsors in the 'Northville school system' must be full-time teachers within the system and that sponsors are paid extra for these duties?

12. That within the tri-county area our teachers received a starting salary in the low middle range for 1967-68?

13. That our school system is represented by two legal firms, one specializing in labor relations, the other in general school law matters? Both are employed on a part-time basis and paid in accord with services rendered.

14. That this third election to be held September 14 was brought by citizen action and that the school board is required by state law to hold this election whether they wish to or not?

15. That whether or not the millage passes, the teachers will get a raise? Only if the millage passes will the students get back their complete school program.

To the Editor:

Numerous letters have appeared in the Northville Record with the emotional plea, "Taxpayers, please save my child's education!" A brief, rational look at the facts is needed to put the educational operational millage in proper perspective.

First, money alone does not buy a quality education just as it does not buy tender loving care. Money and more money is not the answer to Northville's school system.

Secondly, the recommended cuts in the educational operation expenditures, in part, are long over due. Special instructors in physical education, art and music are not really needed at the elementary level. Elementary teachers are required to have teaching courses in all the areas for certification, and elementary teachers can teach art, music, and gym to their own classes. The administration should have recognized this duplication long before fiscal responsibility developed into an emergency.

Third, board of education and school administrators created a state of affairs where elimination of minimal expenditures, such as after-hours recreational activities, would affect the entire community. The whole process boils down to simple social blackmail for the tax increase. Sign waving children only add emphasis to a campaign which has been more emotional than rational.

Beef Baiters Use 'Bargains' to Trap Public

LANSING — Rising labor costs and a shortage of workers bring increased mechanization to Michigan farms.

Many innovations are developed by farmers. In Newagen County, one of the most highly developed farm mechanized areas in the nation, one farmer bought an old self-propelled grain combine, removed the thrashing mechanism, and used the power train to run a two-row vegetable harvester.

Ten years ago mechanized fruit harvesting was virtually unknown in the state. Now machines are used for blueberry picking and cherry picking. Breakthroughs are claimed for mechanical harvesting of grapes and tomatoes. Prospects are encouraging for apple-picking machines, reports the Michigan Department of Labor.

The effect of farm mechanization will result in a 40 percent reduction in manpower by 1980, the department predicts. The actual number of workers may be reduced by nearly 60 percent, from 215,000 to 89,000 workers.

As monotonous picking and hoeing jobs for unskilled labor eventually vanish, more interesting jobs are expected to open for skilled technical farm workers on a year-round basis.

If you're thinking of buying beef by the quarter or side be careful, warns the Food Inspection Division of the Michigan Department of Agriculture. Most bulk meat operations in Michigan are legitimate, but the unwary consumer may become a victim of the freezer-meat fraud.

Operators, known as "beef baiters," hawk frozen meat in hundred-pound lots at come-on prices of 29 cents to 39 cents a pound. They mine a rich vein of consumer resistance to high meat prices, exploiting the reasonable-sounding proposition that it pays to buy beef in bulk and store enough for several months' supply in home freezers or commercial lockers.

Novi-Wixom Area Eyes New Skill Center for Students

If all goes according to schedule, a new dimension in education will be available to high school students in Novi, Wixom and South Lyon at the opening of school two years hence. It will be vocational education in what is to be known as Area Skill Center.

Its location is most likely to be in the Pontiac Trail-Beck Road vicinity, and September 1970 is the hoped-for opening date.

Gerald Hartman, principal of Novi, and William Adams, principal of South Lyon, have acted on a committee with representatives of Clarencville, Farmington, Huron Valley, West Bloomfield and the operating district, Walled Lake, to decide policies and a curriculum that will give juniors and seniors an opportunity to learn skills in high school that will prepare them for making a living immediately upon graduation, without necessarily going on to higher education.

Students will go to the vocational education building for a few hours of training daily. They will, however, take a number of their classes in their home schools. All extra-curricular activities will be at their home schools; report cards will come from them and graduation take place at their own schools.

"The vocational school will simply be an extension of their own high school education," explains Les Carlson, director of vocational education for the Walled Lake District under whose guidance the new system will take effect.

Oakland County taxpayers have already voted millage for the site and building, and matching funds come from the federal government.

Co-operative decisions by counselors at the Area Skill Center (which will have a principal just like any school) and at the sending high school will determine the percentage of students from each school that may attend the vocational education class of their choice.

Much of the groundwork for the Skill Center has been laid by the Oakland Intermediate School. Three other such centers will service the county with similar facilities, so that one will be open to all Oakland county's juniors and seniors when the one at Wixom is complete.

The programs open to students will cover a vast range of occupations, and even before they have begun, expansion plans are in the offing to include still more.

Included in the training curriculum is advertising and display, data processing - from simple unit record machinery, through programming on a junior level, to machine accounting for the better math students.

Secretarial training in medical, legal, engineering and executive fields will be offered. Four phases of commercial foods work, including cooks, bakers, waiters, waitresses and some cashiering are on the agenda. So is machine drafting in four stages and architectural drafting that would prepare a boy to work with a senior draftsman.

Auto mechanics' advanced training (in transmissions, for instance, and brake alignment) and marine mechanics, in addition to machine shop, and welding and fabricating, will all be available. There will be an electronics course, and a landscaping and greenhouse course that will cover the field, so to speak, from floral arranging to planting.

The Commercial Arts course will include such skills as paste-up, photography, offset printing: "the graphic arts approach," Carlson calls it. Assistants to medical doctors and dentists may learn the chair side manner. X-ray technology and receptionist duties in a broad program to prepare girls to go directly to work in this field from high school.

Study on this extensive area vocational education center has continued for more than a year, and the committee will go on working until it is in operation - and probably beyond, too, as liaison officers from the various sending schools.

The committee has visited other such centers in Bucks County, Pennsylvania, Genesee County, Michigan and Penta County, near Toledo, Ohio as well as Kenosha, Wisconsin to broaden their education and learn from others' experience.

TROGLODYTES

Cavern Memberships Expire

This could be the last time... this could be the last time... may be the last time...

In regard to The Cavern, Friday night marks the final round in two respects:

1. It will be the final Friday night dance to end the summer season.
2. Current card-carrying Cavern Members will discover that their cards are void for all dances after Friday night's bash.

Saturday, the 31st of August, marks the expiration of all 1967-1968 Cavern memberships, which can be renewed for the following year of September 1, 1968-August 31, 1969. How does one go about it?

First, patronize The Cavern Bash this Friday night which features a Battle of the Bands.
Four bands definitely clashing are:
1. The Label - a rock group from Livonia.
2. The Village - A Cream/Hendrix rendition from Plymouth.
3. The Sensations - A Detroit group uniquely featuring a girl lead vocalist with a little bit of soul.
4. The Ruins - A rock combo from Allen Park.

Study on this extensive area vocational education center has continued for more than a year, and the committee will go on working until it is in operation - and probably beyond, too, as liaison officers from the various sending schools.

The committee has visited other such centers in Bucks County, Pennsylvania, Genesee County, Michigan and Penta County, near Toledo, Ohio as well as Kenosha, Wisconsin to broaden their education and learn from others' experience.

Secondly, to secure a new membership one must be under 21 years of age, attend Northville High School, or reside in our fair city.

Third, you must be prepared to shell out two postcard-sized greenbacks sporting a portrait of George Washington on the front of each.

That's all there is to acquiring a membership card for the upcoming year - just inquire at the door and make your purchase.

However, you mustn't overlook the advantages of becoming a Cavern member for the 1968-1969 "Fiscal Year."

1. You become a card-carrying member of a club which was created with patrons such as you in mind.
2. You're admitted to each bash 50 cents cheaper than non-members which means you break even on the cost of a membership upon attending your fourth Cavern Bash, and in a sense you're making money on each proceeding bash.

3. As a bonus for energetic patrons, MEMBERS ONLY have the golden opportunity to work in the refreshment stand or at the front door.

with the exclusive benefit of free admission for the remainder of the evening.

Once again, inside sources have disclosed that many memberships have been purchased to account for record sales.

With this information in mind, remember that the choice is yours - not to mention the money.

Danny Latchford

Top Chute Rigger Has Never Jumped

Novi's world-known master parachute rigger, who has had a hand in the development of the "air umbrella" from a life-saving rig to a jet-age sport, has never jumped from an airplane.

"Closest I ever came to parachute jumping," laughs the genial Irishman, Danny Latchford, who operates the "loft" at 46901 Grand River, "was years ago when I floated down under one of those rides at Coney Island."

Yet, Latchford has personally packed thousands of chutes, supervised the manufacture and packing of a quarter-million others for the navy and air force, and was one of the original two riggers to introduce the sport of sky-diving in the United States.

As a matter of fact he married into the family that revolutionized parachutes at the close of World War I by manufacturing an all-silk chute for the then Army Air Force. Some 12 years later he joined this firm, the Irving Air Chute Company and today it is the world's largest.

Parachuting actually is older than the airplane, explains Latchford. Even before 1495 when Leonardo da Vinci designed a parachute using a pyramid of cloth, the Chinese, who invented the umbrella, saw possibilities of using it as a parachute.

Early parachutists jumped from balloons. During World War I, for example, men traveling beneath reconnaissance balloons were equipped with chutes—crude but occasionally efficient. These chutes were usually packed in a pall or basket so that when the man jumped from the gondola, the canopy trailed out after him.

Andrew Jacques Garnerin of France is generally credited with making the first jump back in 1797. He jumped from a hot air balloon at 2,000 feet.

On April 28, 1919, Leslie L. Irving was the first human test of a free fall parachute at McCook Field, Ohio. He jumped clear of the plane at 1,500 feet, pulled the cord, and the chute opened. Although he broke an ankle in landing, his first test was hailed a success.

After leaving the service, Irving joined with George Waite, a silk importer and head of the family into which Latchford first married, in developing the all-silk chute. The Army Air Force liked it, ordered 500 of them, and the company was launched.

The first sample chute, recalls Latchford, was made in the hallway of Waite's import store at Buffalo, New York.

Latchford joined the firm in 1935, eventually becoming plant superintendent. Later, he was asked to help set up a Navy parachute plant in Grand Rapids. In 1941, with the nation at war, he was picked to organize the world's largest parachute plant at Detroit - National Automotive Fibers.

He was deferred from active service because the government felt his knowledge of parachutes was more valuable to the war effort, and instead he was accepted by the Air Force as a "civilian procurement parachute technician," instructing rug manufacturers in the art of making parachute canopies.

Following the war, he opened his first "loft" at the Detroit City Airport, serving veterans who were taking flying instructions under the GI bill. A "loft", for the uninitiated, is the building in which a rigger repairs, packs and sells chutes.

In 1946, because of his close association with World War II paratroopers, he was asked by members of the 82nd Airborne at Fort Bragg, North Carolina to modify their chutes so that they could, in their off-duty hours, make high-flying, free falls. The sport of sky-diving in the United States resulted.

A honorary member of the 82nd Airborne Division Association, Latchford this summer was featured in the association's national magazine, Paraglide. Paratroopers and ex-paratroopers turned skydivers, from throughout the nation, warmly refer to his business, "Discy Dan's Parachute Stand," and on occasion write to him using that name.

The formal name of the business is Midwest Parachute Sales & Service. Latchford is the only master rigger licensed to operate a business in Michigan. He made the first skydiving chute in Michigan in 1956.

Today he repairs and supplies chutes, mostly rebuilt surplus stock, for skydivers throughout the world, particularly in Europe where the sport is older than in the United States. Recently, he was commissioned to supply chutes for a much-publicized movie about the air war between the Japanese and Americans. He was contracted by the air war consultant of 20th Century Fox, a German, who years ago had obtained one of Latchford's chutes in Switzerland and then smuggled it into Germany for his personal use.

Nothing worth that because they have a contract with Munro. But they made two mistakes: they emptied their load too close to an already burning pile of debris and they forgot to check the condition of the ground. Flames rapidly licked up the tree stumps and landed hungrily for the trucks. Seeing the danger, the drivers tried to make a hasty escape only to find that both trucks were stuck in the soft earth.

Fortunately, Novi firemen arrived in time to check the blaze and save the trucks and their drivers from everything but a hot sweat.

Teasing Fire Doesn't Pay

Never tease a fire - that's a lesson two trucks are not likely to forget overnight.

Last week Wednesday morning, employees of the Harrison Tree Service Company drove two heavy trucks to the rear of the Burton Munro property on Taft Road to unload stumps and tree debris for burning.

Nothing worth that because they have a contract with Munro. But they made two mistakes: they emptied their load too close to an already burning pile of debris and they forgot to check the condition of the ground. January City Charter Vote Seen

It appears that the election on the proposed city charter now being hammered together will take place in January.

At least that's the hope of the commission, according to Chairman Raymond Evans.

"The commission is limited by state statute from holding the city election 60 days before or after a scheduled election (in this case the Presidential election). Because of this requirement, the election could not have been held before the first of the year if the charter had been completed in 90 days," said Evans.

Early indications that the charter would have to be completed within 90 days were scuttled as Attorney Howard Bond and Dr. Louis L. Friedland of Wayne State University agreed that this requirement is not legally valid.

Furthermore, some commission members were of the opinion that their work should not be forced, that the final product should represent a thorough study no matter how much time it required.

Also scrapped early was the idea that the present charter, with minor changes, would be satisfactory.

As of this date, the commission has reviewed chapters one through 16, excluding chapters 4, 11, 14, 15 and 16. When tentative agreement has been reached on all of the revised chapters, the commission will prepare the charter for final adoption by the commission. It will then be sent to the Michigan Attorney General for approval.

In the interim, the proposed charter will be printed in long form and furnished to all voters of the village for their review prior to the election. The commission, which has been meeting weekly since their work began in May, will meet tomorrow night at the village hall, beginning at 8 p.m. All citizens of the community are invited to attend.

Proposal Provides For Elected Mayor

MRS. RICHARD RUSCHE

ROBERT E. METZ

Two Get Top UF Jobs in Oakland

A Novi homemaker and a Novi industrialist have been appointed to positions in the 1968 Torch Drive Campaign.

Mrs. Richard A. Rusche, 22809 Balcomb, was named division chairman for the Oakland County residential campaign, while Robert E. Metz, president of Inter-Lake Window Industries here, was named director of Oakland County community business solicitation for the U-F.

The division chairman will be responsible for recruiting, training and organizing volunteers for the house-to-house canvass in Novi during the 20th annual United Foundation drive set for October 15 through November 7.

Her appointment was announced this week by Mrs. Craig Rockafellow of Farmington, residential chairman for campaign region 44, comprising Novi, Lyon, Commerce and Farmington Townships.

Mrs. Rusche received a bachelor of arts degree from Michigan State University where she majored in history. She is a member of the American Association of University Women.

Metz, a Franklin resident, was named Oakland unit chairman by the tri-county community business campaigns chairman, Edward J. Blanch, assistant controller for the Ford Motor Company.

The 20th annual United Foundation campaign will be held

October 15 through November 7 to raise operating funds for nearly 200 health and community services in Oakland, Macomb and Wayne Counties.

Metz served in last year's Torch Drive as the region chairman responsible for community business solicitations in Farmington, Novi, Lyon and Commerce Townships.

He was a division chairman and solicitor in earlier campaigns. Metz received a bachelor's degree in business administration from Wayne State University. He is a member of the technical committee of the Architectural Aluminum Manufacturers Association.

A past president of the Novi Rotary Club, he and his wife, Marjorie, have a daughter, Ellen, 11, and a son, William, 9.

Top Jaycee Visits Novi

Novi Jaycees were honored by a surprise visit by the national Jaycee president, Wendell Smith, during their Tuesday night meeting. Smith, formerly of Plymouth and now of Tulsa, Oklahoma, stressed the importance of Jaycees becoming involved in local community issues as was done in Novi over the incorporation question.

By a 7-1 vote (Burton voted "no" and Commissioner William Brinker was absent) the commission decided to require the city manager to become a resident of the community within one year of his hiring unless the council otherwise excuses him because of special circumstances.

Buttton argued that such a provision might discourage a good candidate from accepting position here if, for example, he was unable to find housing.

The council also agreed that the charter should provide that a candidate for an elective office must have been a resident of the community for at least one year and that he be a property owner here.

Novi's proposed new city charter, which is nearing the final stages, will include - if approved by the Novi Charter Commission upon completion - a provision for an elected mayor.

The provision represents a change from an earlier position of commission members who had voted to maintain the present Novi practice of having the mayor (now called president) named by the council from the council.

This latest change was opposed only by Commissioner Russell Buttton. As the still incomplete charter stands today, the elective officials will include an elected mayor who will serve two years and six councilmen.

Although the new charter will provide for an elected mayor, the governmental set-up will remain a council-manager arrangement. The mayor will hold no more powers than the council members nor will he have any veto powers but he will, by virtue of being elected, have greater stature, commissioners contend. Under the charter, the elected mayor will appoint the mayor pro-tem.

The governmental set up will be similar to that of Northville.

By having an elected mayor, explains Commissioner Joseph Crupi, the people will have a little closer relationship with this top post.

Burton opposed it, on the grounds that any change of this kind over the present village charter is likely to be disliked by the public and hence result in rejection by voters when the proposed charter comes up for election.

In reviewing proposed sections of the charter a week ago, the commission members attempted to raise an objection of Commissioner Crupi that while the charter charges the manager with substantial responsibilities on the one hand it nullifies them on the other by not giving him the authority to enforce them.

Instead, argued Crupi, if making the decisions for which he has the responsibility the charter provisions leave these decisions up to the council. Specifically, he had reference to the hiring and firing of administrative heads. The matter is still under study.

In other discussion recently it was apparent that the charter will include wording to prevent the practice of nepotism (hiring of employees who are related to city officials), to prevent councilmen from bypassing the manager in directing or influencing employees, and to provide for the ouster of both councilmen and the mayor on grounds of misconduct.

Chamber Meeting Scheduled Tonight

The Novi Chamber of Commerce will hold its monthly dinner meeting tonight (Thursday) at the Rosewood Restaurant, 46077 Grand River.

At 7 p.m. dinner is planned followed by a business meeting at 8 p.m. All members are urged to attend. Also invited are non-member businessmen of Novi who desire to become active in their community.

Support, Oppose School Millage

Finally, taxpayers have continually been informed that the tax request is for "only" an additional 2 mills. The additional tax would yield a "needed" one hundred thousand dollars, largely we are told, to combat inflation. What happened to a minimum of $120,000 received from the involuntary property reassessment? A total of $220,000 is a considerable amount of inflation! How much tax millage will school officials demand next year without a property reassessment if the same non-responsible fiscal policies are continued?

To the Editor:

Somewhere I have become quite disenchanted by the goings-on in this community regarding the recent school millage vote. Statistically, it has been proven that we drink and smoke too much, although any reasonable person realizes that many people don't smoke, some don't imbibe, and somewhat less do neither. In any case, what this has to do with this millage isn't too clear. Parallel that reasoning with sport cars, chewing gum, television and a host of other items that at various times have been singled out as lacking in virtue.

Why vote yes? Teachers need more money? Is the quality of education proportional to total money spent? Why does the school administration resort to petty measures to reinforce the "need for money" theme by cutting out extra curricular activities. Dramatic - yes! Doesn't save anywhere near the money we're led to believe though. It wasn't made clear that the $500,000 public pool was to be administered by the schools when it was voted on. How much chance would the issue have of being passed today?

However, this is just warming our arguments. Most important is the need to completely revise the tax base for financing schools. All the effort and monies expended for the 2 mills would go a long way toward dramatizing to our lawmakers this problem. Public opinion is effective in moving government. Consider our plight in the future; our fiscal problems if we continue as is. Right now it isn't just 2 mills (sounds harmless), it's about $170.00 more annually for schools alone in the past year from me (including the recent revaluation), without so much as adding a coat of paint to my property. Everybody votes but not everybody pays equally or equitably. The three elections in less than three months to force this increase dilutes whatever notions I ever had about democratic processes and fair play always winning out. If we are to hold elections until tax increases pass why bother to vote? Let's give the school board a blank check. Without limitations we might have the world's best school system, but where are the people that can afford it?

One last thought, why should an accident of geography result in tax differentials? Since the state requires a more or less uniform education statewide, why doesn't it provide the funds on an equal per pupil basis throughout the state?

To the Editor:

It was suggested in a letter to the Editor 2 weeks ago that a superior way of paring the budget would be to cut the cafeteria program, and let children carry their lunches, but the writer did not bother to find out that this year the cafeteria program is expected to support itself. Another suggestion was to cut the transportation program, but when the writer suggests that it is possible for all children to get to school without buses, does he have all the information necessary to make a decision of this magnitude? It is easy to make this kind of suggestion when one does not have to face the immediate challenge of putting his ideas into action and bearing the responsibilities for the results.

Although the preceding editorial comments refer to the nation's political scene, they are strikingly reminiscent of the situation found in Northville today. People with "inadequate information" level unjust accusations at the school board and school administration. Everyone seems to know how to solve the problems, but very few bother to inform themselves of the facts.

Citizens Lack Compassion

To the Editor:

The letters appearing under the headline "...But Three Citizens See a Crime" go beyond presenting the facts witnessed at the scene. All three letters represent positions which judge and condemn the boys involved in the incident with Officer Starnes. Is the legal system of our country based on the principle "Innocent until proven guilty"? If it is, please leave the decision regarding the guilt of these boys to the court.

What disturbs me most about the letters written by parents and people who claim a concern for children, is their lack of compassion for the boys involved. There is no question what they are accused of doing is a very serious matter. There is no question we all ought to be thankful no one was hurt, but can we find no place in our heart to forgive?

What's the Boys' Story?

To the Editor:

On August 15, 1968 "A Mother" said the five boys, side of the story will never be published. Why not? Why should the public only hear the views of the officials? It may be helpful for other youths to hear how a group of teenagers can become "involved" in a tragedy by a succession of unplanned events... which may lead to the ruin of their lives. I agree, "Let the public hear the boys' story."

Although my children are not yet teenagers I couldn't help but feel pity for "A Mother" as I tried to put myself in her shoes...

some of these boys are not "criminals" then this is where rehabilitation should be used rather than imprisonment.
