Deflect Blow

To the Editor:
It was a beautiful Friday evening on the Northville football field and the team won walking away. But it wasn't the same. There was no band and that was sad.

educational system - in the near future. This will most certainly require a series of large millage increases.

(2) The new State Income Tax is not yet digested but here and payable.

(3) The 10% Federal Income Tax Surcharge is here and payable.

(4) The Cost of Living has increased 16% in 2 years.

(5) Industry and business in general have tightened their belts and cut costs to maintain real growth with diminishing profit.

(6) Percentage wise in relation to the average wage earner, Northville teachers have progressed well. With this in mind, the militancy expressed by the teacher bargaining team was all out of proportion to the tenor of life in Northville and quite frankly was a major irritant.

Northville citizens, stop-gap voting yes to a make-shift, rather than operational expenditure millage increase, which was in reality being forced down their throats, decided to hold up and wait. They may be waiting for the City and Township fathers to react to a number of excellent considerations that have kicked around our town for a long time; considerations that will attempt to solve our financial problems while levelling out the taxpayer's load over the long haul. Some of these considerations off-hand have been:

- (1) An action study of the tax and fiscal advantages of the City and Township Coalition idea.
(2) Purchase of property by the coalesced municipality for industrial parks, businesses and professional buildings for broader and controlled tax bases.
(3) Press for elimination of low-cost housing area plans.
(4) Strengthen residential zoning so that clear and concise cleavage is maintained, thus eliminating the fear of commercial erosion.
(5) A thorough study of cost control procedures for the educational system.
(6) A pooling of administrative service charges between the educational and town administrative systems of Plymouth - South Lyon - Novi, etc., for payroll, purchasing, traffic, forms and procedures, printing, binding, data processing, etc.

Northville citizens are beginning to realize that their real property cannot continue to be the sole tax base. They realize, I believe, that Northville must control its residential growth until it has established a better overall tax base. The 2 mill vote was defeated because it was not the end but only one step toward a future Northville tax load the average citizen will not be able to handle.

I fear that without positive leadership quickly by the civic leaders in Northville to reconstruct the revenue-producing apparatus of the city, I will, as the majority did this time, be disinclined to increase my contribution in the future.

Very truly yours, Frank W. Angle

148 Students To See 'Romeo'

For the eighth consecutive year Northville high school English classes are traveling to Stratford, Ontario, Canada, to attend a Shakespearean performance. This year there will be four busloads of 148 students seeing a student matinee of "Romeo and Juliet" Saturday.

The outing is under the direction of Miss Patricia Dorrain, head of the high school English department, with other staff members acting as chaperones.

A highlight of the performance, Miss Dorrain said, is the after-show interview with a member of the cast, who appears in full costume to answer youngsters' questions.

She points out that, while Northville is one of the smallest high schools participating, it has one of the largest attendances at the performances. The number going this year, she explained, is slightly less than last as some of the students already had seen the play done by the Old Vic company.

The group goes by chartered Greyhound buses, returning about 10 p.m. the same day. Students attending pay $10 for show and transportation.

Miss Dorrain added that response of the students has been so enthusiastic that she feels it is well worth the effort to sponsor the project. She recalls one boy afterward commenting, "Miss Dorrain, you said it would be great, but it was marvelous!"

2 Ex-Addicts To Speak Here

Two former drug addicts will be guest speakers at a meeting of Northville Probation Department officers on Wednesday, October 2.

The meeting, which is open to the public, will begin at 8 p.m. in the Northville Public Library.

In addition to talks by the former addicts, who now work as laymen with the Synanon House in Detroit - a rehabilitation center for addicts - Judge Dunbar Davis will address the audience.

GOP Coffee Set Tuesday In Walled Lake

Walled Lake Republicans will get two opportunities to chat with local candidates for office during the first week of October.

At 8 p.m. Tuesday, October 1, Representative Clifford Smart (up for re-election), county supervisor candidate Lew L. Coy, district judge candidate John Witek and county clerk candidate Lynn Allen will attend an informal coffee at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brunel, 2552 Woodlawn, in Walled Lake.

These meetings are part of the Republican Party's "Operation Coffee Cup", a program acquainting the people of Oakland County with candidates for all state and local offices, says the Party's press release.

While minimizing the Wallace threat in his district, GOP Incumbent Clifford Smart bases his appeal for re-election upon his background in education, upon important educational legislation that he has authored or supported, and upon the fact that he has maintained close contact with his constituents in the 60th Representative District.

He promises no quick solutions to complex educational and social problems and he pledges to continue exhaustive study of each and to continue to propose legislation when it offers sound solution.

Improvement in crime control and crime preventative measures is needed, he claims, but he recognizes such measures as temporary stopgaps and

'Larger Lot Sizes Unwise Planning'

How to properly zone a large area was the topic of the presentation by the Detroit Businessmen's Association at the special joint Novi Village Council and Planning Commission meeting Monday night.

Bill Poley, accompanied by a half dozen other members of the association, made the presentation. He emphatically stressed varied lot sizes for price ranges to fit all interested home buyers and renters. Southfield learned, he said, that restricting builders to large lot sizes was not the correct zoning procedure.

At least in principle, Stan Woodhouse of William-Leman was in accordance with this group. He stated that "We must consider capabilities of areas and adjust zoning to meet the problems." He agreed, too, that planning must include parks and other recreation areas.

Chamber Meets

The October meeting of the Novi Chamber of Commerce will be held tonight (Thursday) at Santog's Farms. It is scheduled to take place at 8 p.m., following the dinner at 7 p.m. Included on the agenda is the Gala Days financial report and approval of a section of the chamber by-laws.

Walled Lake Bid Serious

Domed Stadium's No Pipe Dream

Location of the world's largest stadium in Walled Lake is more than just wishful thinking - it's a distinct possibility.

That's the word from the chairman of a citizens feasibility study committee charged with the responsibility of recommending a site for a proposed domed type stadium and athletic complex that would exceed any athletic plant in the world, including Houston's (Texas) famous Astrodome.

Bruno Leon, chairman of the feasibility study and design committee, told this newspaper Thursday that Walled Lake's presentation before his committee was "an excellent one" and certainly not "windy talk" as some people assumed.

Walled Lake is one of several communities still "in the running," said Leon, who indicated that a number have withdrawn - apparently because of the inability to meet the stiff criteria established by the feasibility committee.

landslide victory over his Republican opponent, Clifford Smart of Walled Lake.

Openly supporting Wallace while condemning both Hubert Humphrey and Richard Nixon, Todd claims "an independent poll" gives him 73-percent of the 60th District's vote.

Democratic clubs throughout the district, claims Todd, support him and his Wallace philosophy even though the "Democratic machinery" and "union bosses" are withholding financial and moral support of his candidacy.

Angry denouncing labels of racist for either himself or for Governor Wallace, Todd says he stands for tax cuts, more aid to education, enforced police protection, overhaul of welfare benefits, and use of prisoners on road "work gangs."

"I have the Democratic support of this district as a Wallace supporter," declared Todd. "Most of the clubs (Democratic clubs) are Wallace. They're backing me. I'm not running on the party of George Wallace - I'm

'Middle School' for Novi? Board of Education Weighs New Concept

Should the Novi School District adopt the concept of a middle school? That was a question before members of the Novi Board of Education in a special meeting yesterday (Wednesday) as they explored the advantages and disadvantages of the concept.

Superintendent Thomas Dale has recommended the concept for Novi.

He and Novi principals, teachers and counselors were slated to discuss the changes at this facility will be.

Basically, the "middle school" concept, somewhat similar to the program in Northville, calls for placing fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grade students together in a separate facility as opposed to the junior high concept that usually combines seventh and eighth grades.

Dale, in recommending the concept here, lists these advantages:

-Ages and maturity of students in the middle school are more compatible.

-Middle school does not require as elaborate shop, science and language laboratories as are necessary for junior-senior high school students.

-Middle school makes for a smoother adjustment of elementary school children to the secondary level.

-A middle school would delay the necessity of a third elementary school and an addition to the junior-senior high school.

Concerning the "adjustment" advantage, Dale explains that elementary students who have only experienced the one-room, one-teacher setup sometimes find adjustment difficult in switching to junior high school and the multi-teacher, multi-classroom procedure.

A middle school, he suggests, would require students to move less from room to room and from teacher to teacher, thus making the step to high school less abrupt.

Establishment of a middle school, however, does not mean Novi can postpone construction of another school, he emphasizes. It means merely that an additional elementary school

1968-69 Budget Nears $1 Million

A record $939,708 budget was approved by the Novi Board of Education last week.

The 1968-69 budget represents an increase of $208,266 over last year's fiscal budget.

Expenditures in the approved new budget include $371,419 in elementary instruction, up to $89,594; secondary instruction, $329,532, up $101,374; administration, $36,500, up $4,542;

Operation, $82,700 up $15,532; maintenance, $9,500, up $3,234; transportation, $60,857, up $12,451; fixed charges, $9,600, up $1,930; supplemental (includes reduction of tuition because of the fact that Novi no longer sends students to Northville High School), $1,600, down $36,577; and contingencies, $38,000, up $16,186.

Estimated income for the 1968-69 school year is $941,788, a state equalized valuation based upon estimated state aid, of $26,738,200, local taxes, and special allowances.

State aid is estimated at $355,378.75; local taxes $544,510; and special allowances, including such things as transportation and driver education reimbursements at $41,900.

Police Crack Burglary Case

Novi police may have ended a rash of breaking and entering cases which has hounded them for several weeks.

Arrested by Detective Sergeant Richard Faulkner and Chief Lee BeGone when they cordoned off his escape route was Teddy C. Agor of Detroit. Agor, his driver, Linda W. Vadel of Detroit and her infant child were stopped as they were pulling out of the driveway of a home they were "casing", police said.

Police had been alerted when Mrs. Helen A. Sommers of 46011 Nine Mile road called them to complain of a man in a white shirt leaving the home of her son, Harry Sommers of 46041 Nine Mile when he was not at home.

Investigation at the Sommers' home revealed that a number of items were stacked outside the home and that a window had been broken. Novi police rushed the evidence to the Crime Lab in Lansing for fingerprinting.

When confronted with positive identification of his prints on the goods and on the glass, Agor, who has a long record of convictions for breaking and entering, admitted the burglary attempt as well as to a number of other breaking and enterings in the area which had been previously unsolved.

Among the other homes burglarized by Agor, who told police he liked to work the daylight hours when people were less apt to be home (9-12 a.m. and 1-2:30 p.m.), was the break-in at the William Dunn residence, 47900 Nine Mile road, which was reported last week.

Agor and Miss Vadel were arraigned on breaking and entering charges and on the charges of conspiracy to commit breaking and entering. They were bound over to Oakland County Jail for examination before Justice of Peace Emery Jacques on October 3. Agor is being held on $10,000 bond and Miss Vadel was released on personal bond.

School Enrollment Soars to 1,569 Here

It's official: Novi's school enrollment has increased by 245 students.

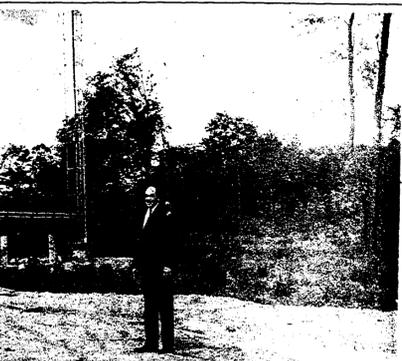

According to Superintendent Thomas Dale, a total of 1,569 students were enrolled by "D" day Friday - the date on which total enrollment is counted in computing state aid for the district.

Last year the student enrollment was 1,324.

The new total includes 680 students in the junior-senior high school, 430 in Orchard Hills Elementary, and 459 in Novi Elementary.

Enrollment includes 93 seniors - the first senior class in the history of Novi High School. Largest enrollment is in the seventh grade - 130.

The enrollment means that Novi is at capacity or over capacity in all of its schools. Novi Elementary has more than capacity.

Presenting Cadillac for nineteen sixty-nine. A masterpiece from the master craftsmen. Beautifully new, distinctively Cadillac. Above, the 1969 Fleetwood Eldorado. Below, the 1969 Mercedes Sedan DeVille, Cadillac Motor Car Division.

Even Cadillac has never built one like this! The craftsmen who engineer and build Cadillacs are accustomed to creating the finest of motor cars, but they take special pride in these brilliant 1969 models. A smoother, more responsive engine. A single glance at this automotive masterpiece reveals striking poise and beauty, dramatically new, yet unmistakably Cadillac. For 1969, Cadillac's traditional dignity is complemented by youthful styling unique in the luxury field. New concepts in comfort and convenience. The 1969 Cadillac is completely new inside, with major innovations in design, convenience and decor. A newly contoured "control center" instrument panel makes controls even more accessible, and virtually surrounds passengers with luxurious protection and convenience. There are eleven different models of the 1969 Cadillac, more than is offered by any other luxury car manufacturer. Each is truly a masterpiece from the master craftsmen. Your authorized Cadillac dealer welcomes your personal inspection of this once-in-a-lifetime motor car. Stop by and drive one at your earliest opportunity. We think you'll agree that this is the greatest Cadillac ever built.

It's First W-O Win

Mustangs Blank Bulldogs, 48-0

BRIGHTON - The Mustangs scored early and often as they rolled to their third straight victory here Friday night, swamping the Bulldogs, 48-0.

Northville's first league game proved an easy conquest for Coach Al Klukach's charges. They scored the first time they had the ball and the Bulldogs, despite their enthusiasm, simply could not hold back the Mustangs.

Northville drove 82 yards in 11 plays to prove it could sustain an opening drive. Barry Deal plunged over from the one for the score, the first of three touchdowns for the hard running halfback. Pat Cayley added the PAT, one of only two he tried (both were perfect) before he was hobbled by a foot injury. The key play in this first drive was a picture 34 yard pass and run play from Quarterback Rich Adams to Flanker Terry Mills, who was forced out of bounds on the one.

The devastating Mustangs offensive and defensive lines were the bane of the Bulldogs. The offense opened cavernous holes for the backs to glide through and the defense time and again forced fumbles and interceptions as they spent most of their time in the Brighton backfield.

Brighton's deepest penetration was to Northville's 44 in the fourth quarter. Previously, they had reached the Mustangs' 45 in the game's opening series. These were their only sallies beyond midfield.

Northville's second touchdown came on a dazzling 27 yard run by Cayley set up by a beautiful fake to the other side by Adams. Deal set up the third touchdown which came on a two-yard Adams to Mills pass. The only PAT missed by the Mustangs came on the last TD of the day when number two kicker Tom Hutcherson had his fifth attempt blocked.

Leading 21-0 at the half, the Mustangs brought the crowd to their feet with a reverse on the kickoff that from the one for the score, the first of three touchdowns for the hard running halfback. Pat Cayley added the PAT, one of only two he tried (both were perfect) before he was hobbled by a foot injury. The key play in this first drive was a picture 34 yard pass and run play from Quarterback Rich Adams to Flanker Terry Mills, who was forced out of bounds on the one.

off to Deal on the reverse and watched the big speedster score the second of his three touchdowns as he raced up the right sideline all the way for the score.

Deal also scored the fifth touchdown as he swept around the right end from 12 yards out. After this, the reserves took over.

At first, the Mustangs' second squad didn't appear any less polished than the starters as Fullback Brad Conklin and Halfback Brian Dyke reeled off good gains and Dale North mixed in with the reserves. However, they fumbled away a few scoring chances.

The second unit's big star turned out to be Flanker and Safety Dave Coe, who scored two touchdowns to round out the Northville attack. His first score came on a very nice 30 yard run with an errant aerial from second string Bulldog Quarterback Ed Gardner. The other was on a nice pass from North who hit him in the left flat.

Coe also carried another North toss 39 yards down the left sideline only to be bounced out of bounds on the nine.

Next Up: High Flying Lakers

"They'll give you one touchdown and take two back."

This was Coach Alex Klukach's appraisal of the Mustangs' rugged Parents' Night opponent here tomorrow night - the Lakers of West Bloomfield.

Coach Klukach warns that Art Paddy has assembled a real scoring machine built around fleet trackman and high scoring Halfback Terry Conley.

"We feel we can score on them, but they are apt to score, too," said Klukach. "This is, of course, a must game for us, as we play one game fewer than any other team in the league except Waterford Kettering, and we must win to have a shot at the title."

One injury resulting from the victory over the Bulldogs could make a difference Friday night as Pat Cayley is an unknown factor due to his foot. If he is unable to play, Klukach will go with green but promising sophomore Brad Conklin in his fullback slot. Without Cayley, the kicking chores would fall to Tom Hutcherson and Marc Sheffer.

Coach Paddy expects the Mustangs to be a worthy foe, also. He feels the game should be a real offensive battle. Paddy doesn't have many physical problems going into this game.

'Best Game in History'

Wildcats Swamp Cougars, 40-0

DEARBORN HEIGHTS - They scored only one more point than during the previous game, but Novi's Wildcats displayed a far more polished brand of ball here Friday afternoon in sweeping to a 40-0 victory over the Annapolis Cougars.

In fact many observers saw it as Novi's finest football game in history.

Playing as if a title was riding on the outcome, Novi repeatedly blasted its way through the Cougars' defense which clamped a lid on the Annapolis offense that barely left breathing space.

The triumph was the second straight for the Wildcats who are playing their first season with a senior class. Two weeks ago Novi throttled Livonia Churchill 39-6 after dropping a squeaker to Hartland in the season opener.

Despite the lopsided score, Annapolis was tough - just greener and less alert. By half-time the Cougars were just two touchdowns behind, but smashing tackles and blocks left them gasping as the Wildcats came back to rip the game wide open. Even the Novi substitutes refused to ease up the attack.

If Annapolis can be granted one or two threats in the game, they were smothered in statistics that were equally overwhelming. At the half the Cougars had failed to penetrate the midstripe, and in the remaining two quarters the closest thing to a threat was a kickoff runback to the Cougars' 46 in the next to last play.

And the last play? Well, Novi snagged an interception, naturally, and scrambled to the 13 before the game ended.

That's how it was all afternoon. Whenever the offense failed to push into the endzone - which didn't occur too often - the defense rose up to force a miscue that either stopped the Cougars cold or turned the error into a Wildcat advantage.

Twice in the first half Novi recovered Annapolis fumbles, and twice Novi struck paydirt.

Colts Drop Three to Jets

The trip to Westland Sunday was exciting but not especially profitable for Northville's three junior football clubs.

Nankin's Jets swept all three games, clipping the Frosh 26-6, the JV eleven 27-6, and the Varsity 33-7. There's some consolation in the fact that the Nankin Jets are a more experienced ballclub, however.

Actually, the Jets' varsity victory was the first in two years. The Northville Colts, on the other hand, opened its first season with two wins and a tie last month.

The Colts will travel to Stephenson High School Sunday afternoon with a 1 p.m. dual with the Livonia Orioles as they warm up for their second home contest on Sunday, October 13 against the Garden City Tigers.

Novi Boosters To Show Movies

Films of Novi football games will be shown tonight at a meeting of the Novi Athletic Boosters Club.

Open to the public, special showing will follow an 8 p.m. general meeting of the boosters.

Citizens of the community interested in joining the organization or who would simply like to see the films are encouraged to attend.

Imiland Snags Pass for TD

Northville's Jerry Imiland, starting his second game at split end for the University of Michigan Wolverines, snagged a 23-yard touchdown pass Saturday to open the scoring in Michigan's 31-10 victory at Duke.

It was Imiland's first TD as a Wolverine. The rugged former Mustang caught a total of six passes in the game for 103 yards.

Guessing the winner and the score of the Detroit Lions-Green Bay Packers gridiron thriller was particularly important in last week's Northville Record-Nowi News football contest.

Just a single point separated the winner from the runnerup.

Ted Marzotte, 4 of 47005 Dunsary Road almost hit the score on the nose, picking Detroit 24-17. The score was really 23-17.

That kind of guessing is pretty good. That was three games, $10 first place money.

Charles J. Kehrer, 46900 Norton, taking a tip from his son who finished in the money a week earlier, also missed just three games but picked Detroit 21-17. Taking third with three misses and a score of 24-14 was Paul Boeger, 220 Elm Street.

Kehrer won $5, Paul $3.

Seven other entries also missed only three games but the Detroit score put them out of the money. These included Steffi Bach, 20336 Woodhill; Hiram Smith, 25003 Novi Road; Mrs.

Point Decides Grid Contest

Kathryn Byren, 860 Spring; Norm Boeger, 220 Elm Street; Philip Ogilvie, 525 Linden Court; Gerald C. Martin, 119 Ely Drive, South; and Michael Hlohinec, 529 Randolph.

Most entries - but not the winner - guessed wrong in Texas. Ted's upset win over Texas. Other games missed most include: Vanderbilt's triumph over Army and Missouri's victory over Illinois.

Only a half-dozen entries came up

But on third down on its 37, the Cougars lost possession as Joe Morrison grabbed a loose ball. Then, picking up two first downs enroute, the Wildcats battled to the 3 where Van Wagner smashed over tackle for the TD. This time his extra point kick went wide of the mark.

Seconds later Van Wagner scooped up another Annapolis fumble, scooted 25 yards into the endzone for the touchdown, and then added the PAT.

Next time it got its hand on the ball, Novi picked up two first downs in moving to the 4. At this point Morrison, normally a lineman, took the fullback's slot and smashed over center for the TD. The PAT kick was good.

And the next time was even sooner. Novi grabbed a fumble on the Cougars' first down and pushed to the one-foot line while picking up two more first downs. Boyer pushed over for the TD, and Annapolis blocked the kick to end the scoring.

With the wrong winner in the Northville-Brighton game, a one-sided triumph by the red-hot Mustangs. And interestingly, relatively few missed on Detroit-Green Bay.

Ted missed on Florida-Florida State; Missouri-Illinois; and Vanderbilt-Army.

If you missed last week, don't give up. You've got another chance in this week's gridiron contest. And here's an inside tip: Detroit Tigers in five games.

Reverend Lloyd Brasure
First Presbyterian Church of Northville

"Good Lord, give us courage to face all the truth and sort out our prejudices from knowledge; and lead us down a new roadway to cooperation and constructive effort."

I dare to predict that if such a prayer was truly answered in the thoughts and actions of the citizens of any community or nation, a new time of accomplishment could be achieved. So much of what we believe is the result of half a story, or is based on some preconceived idea, or might even be the end product of jealousy. The community in which I live at this time is filled with all manner of ill feeling. As a result of a nation-wide problem that has to do with the material resources of our world and the tax burdens of the world's most powerful country, we are caught in a financial dilemma that attaches itself to the future growth patterns of this city. We are truly a great people, having come into one from many backgrounds, yet presently we appear challenged in our greatness by the cost of learning with its many added extra functions.

I am sure that out of this complex problem, enough good-will yet exists to bring together a strong answer and a reconciling power to bring back friendship and understanding. We must not give up trying to heal old wounds and move forward.

Is your home going to turn into a desert this winter?

A lot of homes will.

In winter, people in houses with flame type heating wake up mornings with that stuffy feeling. With in-lapse, dry throats. Furniture dries out and starts creaking. Sound familiar? You bet it does. The best way to stop it is with electric heat. You see, electric heat isn't a dry or drying heat. So you usually don't need a humidifier. The moisture from bathing and cooking is all you need for natural comfort.

An Edison-Approved Electric Heating Contractor will be glad to tell you all about comfortable electric heat. He'll figure your operating cost, and explain the guarantee. And now, your contractor's offering a $100 trade-in on your old heating system. Call him for a no-obligation electric heat survey. Look in the Yellow Pages under "Electric Heating—Equipment and Systems."

He'll show you how to turn your old desert into an oasis.

A Magical Transformation

Barn to Caddie House to Home

by MARY ELLEN KELLY

A metamorphosis occurred in Northville and it's worth writing about. What once was a barn on the old Yerkes farm, became a caddie shop on what became Meadowbrook Country Club. The barn-turned-caddie-house eventually took a trip out to some naturally wild property belonging to the Walter Couse family and became a house.

The metamorphosis didn't end there. Since then, the emergence of the barn-into-house process has been no overnight thing. For this is the kind of house that isn't easily achieved. Not without time. The time lapse has been 22 years. The house has aged and mellowed and slowly ripened into a simple American Country House. The process has been one of simple creative ingenuity. One whereby the house has been beamed and bolted and braced in an almost primitive fashion... the sum total of which is most certainly a form of authentic magnificence.

Its major achievement is a simplicity that is rich with history, scored and orchestrated with careful attention to detail that is understated sophistication, in the traditional sense of the word. Every ceiling is barn planed and braced with vertically placed logs, both with a white-washed effect. Running alternately... from room to room are heavy rough square beams adding strength and natural beauty throughout. Archedways are beamed, the stairs running up to the second floor are actually short cut beams, their ends protruding out from under the carpeting. The handrails running up and along the upstairs hallway are a repeat of the ceiling log beams but varnished in their natural tone.

As you wander from room to room a sense of satisfaction builds up within. A sort of quiet exhilaration occurs. Indecision sets in: whether to stay in the room you're in or move on. It's that kind of a house.

The front hall sets the tone. Immediately upon entering you're face to face with all that beautiful wood. To your right a small cherry drop leaf table with an old wood framed mirror above it. On into the living room and you're surrounded with rich American beauty. Walls are wood paneled or white washed brick and stone. Mr. Couse's great grandmother's and great grandfather's portraits in oil hang in identical massive gold leaf frames above a large cherry table. Across from breakfast room, there's a quaint old Victorian dock that Mr. Couse's aunt in Ohio swapped for a cow and if that isn't a gentle affront to an electric kitchen what is?

Moving up to the guest room you'll find two high twin beds of cherry, converted from what must have been a massive double bed. Surrounding them, a charming collection of cherry tables, chairs, a small writing desk and a high chest with attached wood framed mirror. Dormers and eaves provide added warmth and are found in much the same atmosphere of Mrs. Couse's bedroom, a museum in itself with its Jenny Lind bed (a cherished acquisition from that same enterprising aunt in Ohio), a spoiled daybed, another small writing desk and bedside tables of cherry and an old blanket chest of the same beautiful wood. Mrs. Couse has very neatly covered her walls with family pictures of those near and dear are assembled together, ever present reminders of the good years in this good house.

Now, twenty two years after the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Couse and their barn, the Couse property has become, for the most part, the lovely subdivision of Edenderry and Mrs. Couse has gained a parcel of neighbors. All welcome additions to her environment. Yet, while Edenderry is architecturally beautiful and indeed shows signs of having been influenced by the outward appearance of the Couse homestead, it is shining and new.

And so it is, and so it should be, that the oldest house in the area... the barn-turned caddie shop-turned house... offers up a sampling of much of what has happened here since perhaps the first small ship arrived. When you go through the front door and into the past you'll surely see and inevitably feel precisely what I mean.

Justice Court

Claude R. Bentley, 41011 Michigan, was given one year probation and fined $60 for engaging in sexual relations with a 15-year old girl on the complaint of the girl.

This case highlighted the register for Novi Justice Court before Justice Emery Jacques last week.

Speeders also received their due from Justice Jacques.

On September 23, Thomas F. Rawell of Detroit pleaded guilty of having driven 70 MPH in a 55 MPH zone on Grand River east of Beck Road. He paid a fine of $20.

Rick L. James of Farmington also paid a speeding fine upon a plea of guilty before Justice Jacques on Thursday. He paid $10 fine, $5 costs in lieu of 3 days in jail for going 70 MPH in a 50 MPH zone.

Thomas D. Bagwell of 25618 Monroe paid a $15 fine for failure to yield the right of way involving an accident when he appeared before Justice Jacques, also on Thursday.

Wallace Backer Sees Landslide over Smart

Smart...

Asked what single issue will concern him most if he is returned to office, Smart said, "My primary interest is securing proper appropriations for the educational system."

"I know there are great needs that haven't been met. I know we have problems of exorbitant taxes on property in many school areas. I am hopeful this year that through my efforts in the legislature we will be able to secure more adequate funds for education, and possibly in the long range make some changes in the tax structure which will take a lot of the heat off property taxes for the support of education."

Smart suggested that the state income tax may prove more beneficial to the property owner than was originally believed. Explaining that last year - the first year of the income tax - collections were based on only three months, he said "there are provisions in that tax (income) for property tax credits that the people haven't experienced yet but will experience when they file their returns in January."

"If we are going to properly finance schools, I think we can do some things with the income tax that we can't do with the property tax. Really, what we've done with the property tax is to run it into the ground. I recall when I was superintendent of schools we were dealing with tax rates of $12, $14, $16 a thousand in my earlier experience. But we kept pushing this up a couple mills a year because we had no other place to go. I think we've come to the point now where the rebellion is due largely to the fact that we have run it into the ground."

"Property is no longer a measure of wealth. In fact, it's a liability in lot of instances. If we are concerned with equity then we have to recognize that there are many people in communities that are not against schools but that they have gone as far as they can go with the property tax."

"I think relief for the property owner will come and has to come through income taxes."

However, Smart said he has not yet decided how he will vote on the November ballot proposal that seeks permission for levying a graduated income tax as opposed to the flat income tax already in existence.

As for two other November proposals - one providing monies for combating water pollution and the other to provide more recreational facilities - Smart said he supports both.

Water pollution in the state requires a massive attack, he stated. "We have a lot of communities - and some of them are in the 60th District - that are going to have to do something substantial... in the way of sewers, for example. Walled Lake is under citation by the Water Resources Commission and the cost to local government is almost prohibitive if they have to handle it by themselves. So I think we have to make a massive approach to it and that's the only way we're going to get the things done that have got to be done."

Smart suggested that funds made available with the passage of the November proposal, will be distributed on the basis of need. "I presume a community that is under citation, for example, will have some priorities where others have not had this experience."

Turning to his party's presidential nominee, Smart said he was "pleased" with the selection of Richard Nixon. However, he indicated that at the outset he favored the nomination of others. He named Governor George Romney and Governor Nelson Rockefeller as two of his earlier choices.

Asked if he was aware that his opponent was a supporter of Wallace,

Smart...

"We've come to the point now where the rebellion is due largely to the fact that we have run it (property tax) into the ground."

"Relief for the property owner will come and has to come through income taxes."

"I am opposed to the Wallace philosophy."

"My primary interest is securing proper appropriations for the educational system."

Todd...

"I'm not running on the party of George Wallace - I'm running as a Democrat, but I go along with George Wallace on what he says."

"I am the only man in the state right now who can beat Cliff Smart."

"Property taxes should be completely eliminated."

"There is little difference between blacks and whites 'but there is a difference in smell'."

he answered, "I don't know." He said he anticipates no serious split within the Republican party in his district because of Wallace's candidacy. He conceded some Republicans will vote for Wallace, but "at this point in time I think Mr. Wallace is going to take more Democratic votes than he is Republican votes. In the 60th district I'm not anticipating enough Wallace threat to make much difference in the Republican vote."

He continued: "The Wallace vote is a protest vote against the present administration policies in many respects. He is concerned, for example, about crime on the streets. Now the Republicans have some concerns about those things, too."

"I am opposed to the Wallace philosophy. I think it's divisive. I think he's made an emotional appeal to the people who have some concerns, and he is exploiting those concerns, but I don't think he has the solutions to anything."

"When a presidential candidate says he is going to put 30,000 troops on the street to guarantee safety he's over-simplifying a basic problem."

How then does he, as a candidate, view the "crime on the streets" issue?

"I think you have to approach it in two ways, and I think the 74th Republican legislature has done just that: Number one, I think we have to have law and order even though we have some unresolved problems we are trying to get at. We can't just say, 'we have had housing or something else that creates dissatisfaction with people and we are going to let them run wild until these are resolved.' We have to keep law and order - this is for the protection of everybody, including the dissenters."

"Now, how do you do this? We've got to have well paid police departments; we've got to have well trained police departments; we've got to have a good state police force; we've got to have competent people who understand the problems; we've got to have good leadership that doesn't take the Wallace approach. You have to start there, and we've done this. We've asked if he had the support of the John Birch Society, he answered: "I would like to have their support. I don't see anything wrong with the John Birch Society. I don't condemn them - after all they are against communism and we have to have somebody to stand up against communism and the tax structure we now have in the state."

But, added the Democratic candidate, "I don't believe in the John Birch Society's philosophy as a whole because I don't know all of it. I have never made a study of the John Birch Society."

"I have talked to Republicans (in the 60th district), I talked to Democrats, I talked to independents, and Wallace has most of them. You won't hear a Nixon man, you won't hear a Humphrey man. But there are a lot of Democrats who are afraid that Wallace is a racist, which he is not. Now I have been in meetings where the Democrats said there is 85-percent going for Wallace. This is in the Flint region. Senator Levin (Sander M.), the chairman of the state, says don't tell the people this because you will start a landslide. 'We'll tell 'em he's only getting 10 or 15 percent.' This is Senator Levin. Now this is a lie from the start, you see. He would say it is alright to lie on one side but it's not alright to lie somewhere else. Wallace has never, that I know of, told any lies. Actually, what you hear of him, he says what he is. But, the Democratic party - the leaders - and the Republican party leaders, both, are just as bigoted."

Todd said he is not a segregationist, although he believes, personally, that whites and blacks should not intermarry. He blasted Northern "bleeding hearts" as hypocrites who attack the South when, in his opinion - based upon personal experience while living in Alabama and Tennessee, there is more racial harmony in the South than in the North. Specifically, he pointed to Owasco and to Fenton as communities in Michigan that "won't let colored in." Negroes, he said, should be allowed to live in communities just like the whites... but not to the point of force."

Todd said there is little difference between blacks and whites, but he added "there is a difference in smell but this don't make them inferior."

Hitting hard at spiraling taxes, the Holy Democrat declared flatly that "property taxes should be completely eliminated in the state of Michigan"

Asked to explain the basis for his confidence of victory, he said "because at the present time I have 73-percent poll-wide of the district going for me."

Pressed to explain the poll, Todd said first it was the work of "10 people" who went out into the field and conducted a survey. Later, he called it simply "an independent poll."

"I am the only man in the state right now who can beat Cliff Smart," declared Todd. "Because he is strictly a Republican, he won't look at anything else but a Republican program and this is against the people."

Asked if he had the support of the John Birch Society, he answered: "I would like to have their support. I don't see anything wrong with the John Birch Society. I don't condemn them - after all they are against communism and we have to have somebody to stand up against communism and the tax structure we now have in the state."

Asked to explain the basis for his confidence of victory, he said "because at the present time I have 73-percent poll-wide of the district going for me."

Todd...

Continued from Page One running as a Democrat, but I go along with George Wallace on what he says. I don't agree with busing students from one district to another and paying it out of taxes. If they want to do this they should do it out of some kind of foundation, not state funds or taxpayer funds. Now the government cannot give you anything before they first take it away from you, and you've got to realize this. We're tired of them taking it away from us."

"I have the support of the Democratic party in the field; I do not have the support of the Democratic party on the executive, county or state central committees. They don't support my program. They've withheld all funds that they can. I'm running my campaign myself and with the help of the people. I have no union support as far as the AFL-CIO or anything like that. But I have the rank and file support."

Asked if he has the support of Wallace, Todd replied by noting that he had been asked to sit on the speaker's platform during Wallace's visit to Flint this week.

As far as the rank and file union members are concerned, said Todd, "you'll see a big movement in labor this time that when they (union leaders) come up for office they'll be voted out because the rank and file members of labor are going between 65 and - and these are polls, these are not guess work - are going between 65 and 85-percent for Wallace."

"Now in the factory that I work at (GM's V-8 engine plant in Flint) they're going 65-percent. Metal Fab, over on Briant Road (also in Flint) went, you can figure, 64-percent to Wallace."

Asked how he could claim such a large Democratic vote when he won over Earl St. Aubin of Milford by a scant seven votes in the August primary, and when the unofficial first count showed St. Aubin winning by two votes, Todd said that he had not yet come out completely for Wallace in the primary. The people, he explained, knew only that "I leaned towards Wallace" and didn't realize fully that he opposed Humphrey. St. Aubin, on the other hand, openly endorsed Humphrey, he said.

Republicans (50 percent of those he talked with) in the district, who were unable to split their ticket in the primary, told him, he said, they would vote for him if he received the nomination. "This proves," he concluded, "that there are more Wallace people in this territory that believe like Wallace than there are Humphrey people."

Turning to support in his own district, Todd said he has the majority support of the Democrats and 12-percent of the Republicans "as of now. "My chances are wonderful for beating Mr. Smart."

Asked to explain the basis for his confidence of victory, he said "because at the present time I have 73-percent poll-wide of the district going for me."

and that they should be substituted by a "state income tax of all the people."

He said he will support no income tax until property taxes are eliminated. He said if he is not elected taxes will go up.

He advocated complete overhaul of Aid to Dependent Children, calling the fathers of some of these children "playboys." "We support this guy, the 'playboys' the state does. We have to support his family when he leaves them. Now if we had laws to enforce, to make these people keep their kids up, instead of coming back on the taxpayer, this is what I'm suggesting."

The "playboy," he asserted, should be placed on a road gang. In this way, they would be supporting the state which in turn supports his family. "To a certain degree you could say, let's go back to the WPA like we used to have. At least they were working, at least we got something out of them."

On the subject of "work gangs," Todd said the same should be done with the prisoners in the state penal institutions. He envisioned road work gangs that can improve the state's secondary roads that he said are "the worse" in the country. Expressways in Michigan, he contended, cannot be credited to the state because they were built with federal money.

One of his first actions, as a legislator, would be to back legislation to "permit rather force" prisoners to work on road gangs.

Todd said he would also propose legislation that would force local municipalities to protect their citizens from lawlessness. "What I'm talking about is the officials who carry these things out and who promises the people to do something about it and they won't do it. In other words, there should be sentences set up if they don't carry out their duties (of fighting crime)."

Referring to the role of Governor Romney and President Johnson in combating the Detroit riot, Todd said neither acted with dispatch. "I condemn both of them because they played politics. If they were looking after our interests in the first place, they would have gone in there way before it happened - before it got so far out of hand."

As for his stand for more aid to education, Todd argued that the present state aid formula is unfair in that it provides more funds for one district than it does for another. "Taxes should be divided evenly," he declared.

Asked if he had a specific proposal to make the state aid formula more equitable, he said he could not be specific until after giving it more study - "but there are several ways, for instance we've got to get rid of some of this red tape first. In other words get rid of some of the people who are working in there."

One of his first actions, as a legislator, would be to back legislation to "permit rather force" prisoners to work on road gangs.

Todd said he would also propose legislation that would force local municipalities to protect their citizens from lawlessness. "What I'm talking about is the officials who carry these things out and who promises the people to do something about it and they won't do it. In other words, there should be sentences set up if they don't carry out their duties (of fighting crime)."

Referring to the role of Governor Romney and President Johnson in combating the Detroit riot, Todd said neither acted with dispatch. "I condemn both of them because they played politics. If they were looking after our interests in the first place, they would have gone in there way before it happened - before it got so far out of hand."

As for his stand for more aid to education, Todd argued that the present state aid formula is unfair in that it provides more funds for one district than it does for another. "Taxes should be divided evenly," he declared.

Asked if he had a specific proposal to make the state aid formula more equitable, he said he could not be specific until after giving it more study - "but there are several ways, for instance we've got to get rid of some of this red tape first. In other words get rid of some of the people who are working in there."

News Around Schoolcraft

Eugene McNamara, associate professor of English at the University of Windsor, is the first of two poets who will visit Schoolcraft College during the coming weeks for discussion and poetry reading sessions in the Liberal Arts Building theater.

Both McNamara, who will be on campus on Friday, Oct. 4, and John Logan, who is coming on Friday, November 1, will be presented by the college's fall term Humanities Series. The public is invited on both occasions at no charge.

The schedule for each of the men is identical, calling for an open discussion session at 3 p.m., and a more formal reading at 8 p.m.

McNamara is editor of the University of Windsor Review, and has edited a collection of Marshall McLuhan's writings, "The Interior Landscape: Selected Literary Criticism of Marshall McLuhan," to be published by the University of Toronto Press.

His articles and short stories have appeared in "America," "Queen's Quarterly," "St. Jude," "Bay Puddle," and other periodicals. His poetry has been published by "Canadian Forum," "Caravel," "Meridian," and "Evidence." A collection of McNamara's poetry, "For the Mean Time," was published by Gryphon Press in 1963. He received his B.A. and M.A. degrees from DePaul University and his Ph.D. from Northwestern University.

Logan has published three volumes of poetry: "For Mother Cabrini" (Crow, 1953); "Ghosts of the Heart" (Chicago 1960, 1967); and "Spring of the Thief" (Knopf, 1963).

He has a B.A. from Coe College and an M.A. from the State University of Iowa. He has also attended the University of California, Georgetown University, and Notre Dame.

Logan has taught at San Francisco State University of Washington and Notre Dame and is now professor of English at the State University of New York at Buffalo. His poetry has appeared in many of the leading magazines and is included in half a dozen of the best known anthologies.

He is currently the poetry editor of "Nation," and is editor of "Choice: A Magazine of Poetry and Photography."

FIVE YEARS AGO...

Northville's Steve Judy got the starting nod at quarterback in Michigan State's game with North Carolina. Judy was State's first sophomore starting quarterback since 1949.

Police Chief Joe Denton warned that Village youngsters could have their bicycles impounded for a week or two if they were caught riding at night without reflectors.

The First Presbyterian Church of Northville made it possible for two Jamaican girls, Gloria Peart and Kathleen Ferguson to attend Deaconess Hospital and Wayne State University for nurse's training and enable them to return to Jamaica and help their people in this greatly needed area. The Rev. Dr. Harold F. Fredsell, pastor of the church, was in charge of this helping hand form of charity.

Northville area firemen gave a demonstration of fire fighting techniques on the vacant lot on the corner of First and Fairbrook.

TWENTY YEARS AGO...

After having defeated Inkster Roosevelt 6-0, the Northville Mustangs football team was preparing to meet Livonia Bentley in the first "Dad's Night" ever scheduled by the school. "Dad's Night" was in honor of all fathers of team members.

Dr. James B. Edmonson, Dean of the School of Education, University of Michigan, was the speaker at the annual School and Church Night held at the Presbyterian Church House. Parents, teachers and the members of the community were invited to the potluck dinner and the meeting to follow. Honorees were the members of the School Board, the teachers and the secretarial staff of the Northville Schools.

The week of October 1 through October 8 was designated as national newspaper week. The slogan for the year was "Your Right to Know Is the Key to All Your Liberties."

Myrtle Labitt, well known women's editor of radio station KKLW, was the speaker at the opening luncheon of Woman's Club at Botsford Inn. The meeting honored past presidents, charter and honorary members.

GOP to Open Northville Office

The Northville Republican Headquarters will open officially at 9:30 a.m. Saturday, at 149 East Main Street according to Greater Northville Republican Club president William Heffner.

The opening will feature appearances by leading Republican candidates, including Congressman Jack McDonald and Marvin Esch, and State Representatives Louis Schmidt and Clifford Smart.

In addition to an opportunity to meet these candidates personally, the public will find coffee and doughnuts being served and campaign literature available.

Volunteers are still being sought to help staff the headquarters. These volunteers will help with distributing literature, phone answering, addressing and stuffing envelopes, and helping the public learn more about specific candidates and issues.

Anyone having even a few hours to donate for this interesting work between now and November 5 is invited to call William Heffner at 349-4488.

The headquarters is sponsored jointly by the Second and Nineteenth Congressional District Republican organizations.

Sam Chizmar Gets Organist Position

Sam Chizmar, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Chizmar, 19360 Maxwell Road, has accepted the position of organist and choirmaster with the First Christian Church of Columbus, Indiana.

The 2,600-member church has been featured nationally for its contemporary architecture, which was a Saarinen design. Built in 1942, it is considered the first contemporary church in the United States.

Mr. Chizmar recently was released from service. He had been serving as chaplain's assistant. A Northville High School graduate of 1961, he received his bachelor of music degree with distinction from the University of Michigan and a master of arts and music degree from the U. of M. also.

While working on his master's degree he served as choir director and organist of the Wayne Methodist Church.

Youths Await Court Trial

Giles Carl Askins, Floyd Kirkendall and William J. Jobe have made their initial appearance before Oakland County Circuit Court Judge William J. Beer.

But no trial date was set immediately for the three South Lyon youths charged in the kidnaping of Novi Policeman Robert Barnes on July 30. Askins and Kirkendall have been returned to the Oakland County Jail in lieu of $100,000 and $50,000 bonds, respectively, while Jobe was freed on $2,000 bond.

The charges against the trio stand as kidnaping against all three and assault with intent to murder against Askins. Jobe and Kirkendall also face the charge of assault with intent to do great bodily harm.

Putting-you-firsts:

(A quick tour of some of the thoughtful new features the 1969 Chevrolet offer that other cars in Chevrolet's field don't.)

Headlight washers
You push the windshield washer knob and hold it, and your headlights come clean.

The spray removes up to 80% of accumulated dirt.

The feature is standard on 1969 Corvettes. It comes with the hidden headlights available on Camaro, Caprice and Kingswood Estate Wagons. It is available on all other models except Corvair.

Heated glass
In a moment your rear window will self-defrost.

Because we've built onto it a network of tiny ceramic strips capable of heating the entire surface.

Fog and frost disappear quickly and quietly. You just flick a switch.

The heated rear window is available on the 1969 Caprice Coupe and Impala Custom Coupe.

Pushbutton tire chains
You press a button on the instrument panel and the rear tires get a shot of "liquid tire chain."

Variable-ratio power steering
What it does is give you faster steering with fewer turns of the wheel.

Walk-in wagons
The tailgate swings open like a door on most of our 1969 station wagons.

Which in itself is no big deal. But wait, there's more.

We've built a concealed step into the rear bumper.

You simply step up, over, and in.

The way we build our wagons, you can do it without bumping your head, and without acrobatics.

Walk into a wagon soon at your Chevrolet dealer.

Sorry, car thieves.

Power steering plus
The 1969 Caprice, Impala and Camaro are available with a new type of power steering.

Variable-ratio power steering.

What it does is give you faster steering with fewer turns of the wheel.

Putting you first, keeps us first.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

For a change of pace this week... a few brief observations... a little humor... some of it personal... most of it gleaned (journalistic for "lifted").

City officials (planners and councilmen), the economic development committee and Methodist church leaders should get together and work out a plan for eventual purchase of the church property by the city.

The property, located in the heart of the central business district, is vital to future development of the shopping area, if it is to serve the population of the coming decade.

The site should either be sold to, or reserved for, private commercial interests that will contribute to the total improvement of the business district — both as an attraction to shoppers and as an addition to the community tax base.

The trouble with the speed of light is that it gets here too early in the morning...

Or, how about the teenager in church who turned to a friend as the collection plate was being passed up his row and said, "here come the nudge"...

And then there's the sign at the hospital maternity ward... "O.B. Quiet"...

Don't take Walled Lake's bid for a domed sports arena lightly. Our neighbors to the north may very well be the leading contenders for the future home of the Detroit Tigers baseball and Lions football teams.

They've made one impressive presentation and they've got location and land accessibility on their side — plus private financing.

One of the most unique aspects of the proposed Walled Lake sports arena is that it would be located in the median of the new north-south I-275 expressway!

Readers Speak Says Threat's Invalid

To the Editor:
In answer to the letter submitted by Msrs. Atchinson and Kiper it might be well to point out a few things.

It seems all proponents of additional taxes attempt to intimidate the opponents with statements intended to make them feel guilty and afraid. Intimating that unless the taxes are raised the kids will not get into college; be socially deprived; revolt by going dirty and long-haired or become militants for social reform etc. The implied threat is obvious. "Either do as we (the spokesmen) want or we'll find a way to force you."

Getting back at the medics — from the Lafayette, Ind., Leader: "Hey Mac", the filling station attendant called to the owner, "Your doctor is here with a flat tire." Replied the owner, "Good. Diagnose the trouble as puncture wounds resulting in a prolapsed perimeter. Prescribe plastic surgery followed by complete treatment with inflatable windus. Charge him accordingly."

From the Marysville, Kans., Advocate: Political oratory is the art of making deep sounds from the chest sound like important messages from the brain.

From The Record: Novi road between Northville and old Grand River is rapidly becoming the most traffic-snarled highway in the area. And that's no joke.

teacher with no knowledge of or experience in, the activity in question. The people of Northville did not vote "NO" to deny the kids an education. They voted "NO" to the expanding attitudes of coercion, force, social theory and something for nothing. They said "NO" to an ever-increasing cost for an educational system which has not demonstrated its value. What percentage of Northville High Students received academic scholarships last year?

Sincerely,

Here's Bouquet For Students

To the Editor:
We wrote our check for the NPSD and delivered it. Now we'd like to check a few remarks for clarification. The check is endorsement of what young people in our community have done. A thank you for allowing us to observe the always pleasant phenomena of young people working hard for what they want. It's too bad you had to work that hard and that long for what is rightfully yours by virtue of our public education system. But then... you've all done it for so many other good things and causes in this town you needed no dress rehearsal.

You've been an awfully good group. A lot of people think so. Pass it on.
Sincerely,
Two Northville

A LOOSE LEAF

By ROLLY PETERSON

"Rachel, Rachel" is something like an art show in an arcade. The paintings are related through confinement in a small area, but the juxtaposition of disparate pieces, created by artists with different temperaments, attack the senses and leave the aficionado with no distinct oneness, no harmony of parts.

Like the masterpiece that haunts the memory, however, there is one nugget in "Rachel" which makes the viewing worth while. That is Joanne Woodward, whose blue-eyed blonde softness, feminine sensitivity and dramatic plasticity make the character of Rachel a thing of beauty.

Rachel is a 35-year-old schoolmarm, a spinster emotionally tied to the past, although exactly how is never clear, and fearful that her life as a woman will never be complete. She is at mid-life, without a husband on the horizon.

The return to Small Town, U.S.A. of a male friend provides her with an opportunity to make life complete. Like an apprehensive child, Rachel grabs the sensual straw, only to be frustrated when her lover leaves town.

Although there is no rebirth, no oneness as a woman, there is a significant change in the woman Rachel. At least she has severed the umbilical cord to her mother, has cast aside her timidity and the death grip of her mortician father and now looks with renewed passion to her uncertain future.

Yet, for all the sculpted beauty of Miss Woodward and her sensitive portrayal, "Rachel" never is a complete movie, it never congeals into an emotional involvement. It is rather like our arcade agglomeration which

For instance, there is a Holy Roller scene, for some unknown reason, in which Rachel is offered a flower by a flower child who utters one word, "love." The scene seems extraneous and incongruous.

These little discrepancies shake the movie's credibility. We aren't involved emotionally in Rachel's plight. Her anguish, except for moments, is not palpable. There is just Miss Woodward and some brilliant bit parts holding together a loose leaf of disparate parts.

David Liddell Longridge hooked his thumbs into the folds of his pants and berated me for missing the biggest story of the year.

Joining him in dishing out the chastisement was the former Detroit Lion, Ronald Horwath, who once upon a time was almost a carbon copy of Les Bingham.

"We just might give our story to one of the really big newspapers or perhaps to Chet and David."

What story is that? I asked thinking that maybe the two coaches-turned-principals had found a couple of tickets to the Series.

"Never mind, you'd probably botch it up anyway like most of the things you write."

Deck

"Let's go see The Free Press," said Longridge, "this guy can't even see let alone write."

Just kidding fellows, I said, how much have you lost?

Together they boasted a net loss of about 40 pounds — the bulk of which was peeled from Horwath who admittedly had more to work with at the outset. They allowed as to how the local tailor shop was doing a landmark business because of them.

"Where do you do this jogging? I asked.

"Right here," they explained, pointing across the high school track where, in the median, the Northville football team was jogging circles around Waterford Mott.

by JACK W. HOFFMAN

"Bring your camera down some night and get a picture. You'd get a beaut."

The invitation's been in my back pocket now for two weeks. It's not that the guy with the long monicker and the ex-Lion wouldn't be good picture material. Not at all. It's just that if I drag myself over to the track and take a picture of those two trim brutes with their rippling muscles there won't be any living at home.

And can you imagine what the other fat guys in this community — guys like (maybe I'd better not mention names, my paycheck might be withheld) — would have to put up with? Wives are like that, you know.

Michigan Mirror New Selection Method for Jury Duty in Offing

LANSING—A new system for selecting citizens for jury duty goes into effect next year. More people will be called to serve, but the length of service is cut from three months to a maximum of 30 days.

Prospective jurors are presently selected by township supervisors and city aldermen from property tax roles. They serve for $15 a day. The selection method was designed when Michigan was primarily an agricultural state and is not conducive to present modes of living, charges Lee C. Drans, a Lansing lawyer who leads a leading role in rewriting the jury law.

Workmen find it difficult to support their families on $15 a day, and many ask to be excused for economic reasons. Persons who do not own real estate are automatically eliminated. This excuses about 80 percent of the men and 60 percent of the women in urbanized counties, Drans said.

As a result, juries are now composed mainly of retired persons, housewives and persons with little or no regular demands on their time.

The new law specifies that voter registration lists be used instead of property tax roles. A special jury board, appointed by the governor, will

Roger Babson Merchants Fear Surcharge Wallop

WELLESLEY HILLS, MASSACHUSETTS — For some weeks now, retailers have been devoting a great deal of time, money, and energy to preparations for the pre-Christmas buying season. At this writing, both wholesalers and retailers are generally optimistic and enthusiastic about holiday trade prospects. This confidence has been reflected in large initial orders of merchandise for Yuletide display and sale.

The prevailing buoyant attitude stems from the favorable retail sales performance of the past several months versus a year ago. This happy situation reflects the "never-ending" climb of disposable personal income... bolstered by huge wage advances. Indeed the bulge in consumer incomes seems to be almost immune to the depressing influences of the tax surcharge. Then, too, shoppers are boosting their already fat paychecks by going in greater droves to the banks and finance companies to acquire big-ticket items. Teen-agers are getting into the act more vigorously... spending as if there's no tomorrow. Mark it well: The Christmas needs of these teens will account for a substantial portion of this year's total volume.

BUT EVEN the most optimistic merchants will concede that there are flies in the ointment which could limit the prospective upturn in Christmas sales. They are worried about the federal tax surcharge lest it pack a delayed-action wallop that would pare consumer outlays for gifts. They are worried also because installment debt is fairly high and has been rising pretty fast in recent months.

Another factor causing concern is the still rising prices of raw materials, semi-finished goods, and wholesale and retail merchandise. Obviously, this is going to be reflected in higher retail prices between now and Christmas. Toys and dolls have already been marked up and some further upward adjustments on tickets will likely be made this fall. Glassware, gifts, and home furnishings also should have substantially higher tags than was the case a year ago. By comparison, the markup on most clothing items should be somewhat less.

safety on the streets and we have to keep it that way until we get the basic problems solved."

Looking at his record, the Walled Lake legislator said he does not keep a tally sheet to wave in the electors' faces as do some lawmakers who "make quite a show" of it.

As a committee chairman, he said, he is in a position to tack his name on numerous bills thus making him a co-author of many pieces of legislation. "I have not been a person who felt that you're political success depended upon how many bills you could count that your name was on. And I haven't done it that way. I felt that if you sponsored three or four important measures in the course of a legislative year, and concentrated on them that this is a better way to go.

taxation committee to provide the monies to increase this aid. Nevertheless, he said he can and has urged the taxation committee to consider the plight of education as it establishes ways of providing the money.

As a result of his request, said Smart, "we have, right now, in operation, an interim study committee that is composed of members of the taxation committee and members of the education committee. We're trying to tie the two together. We had our first hearing about 10 days ago in Lansing in the legislative chamber, and there will be other hearings around the state.

"You've probably read some things about that. We've had the attorney general's opinion on what we can do and what we can't do. There's been a proposal made that possibly some changes can be made in the income tax so that we have an educational tax within the income tax structure.

"Right now we are on a fishing expedition. We are trying to get at some of the answers. We are approaching it jointly, now, taxation and education as an interim study committee."

The same kind of thorough examination is being made in the area of teacher negotiations and conflicts between the tenure act and the Hutchinson act, said Smart. Solutions require thorough study; quick answers may come easily but they do little to solve the problems, he concluded.

Jail Conditions Called Deplorable

Strenuous efforts to make improvements at the Wayne County Jail were pledged by county officials after they received a report which described conditions at the jail as deplorable.

Sheriff Roman S. Gribbs, who was appointed last June after the study was completed and while the report was being prepared, said steps had been taken already to implement many of its recommendations.

The study, ordered by the county Board of Supervisors, was conducted by specialists from the National Council on Crime and Delinquency, the Citizens Research Council of Michigan, the Michigan Department of Treasury and the Wayne County Board of Auditors.

In its report, the National Council on Crime and Delinquency stated:

"Inmates are cruelly and inhumanely locked in filthy, ancient steel cells and little attempt is made by jail administration to prevent the physical and mental deterioration and destruction of persons detained. Medical services are inadequate, sanitation standards are non-existent, inmates are not properly segregated, assaults among inmates are frequent, surveillance of inmates by the staff minimal, contraband weapons are prevalent throughout the inmate population, counseling services are unheard of, and deaths classified as suicide are a frequent occurrence." Robert E. Pickup, executive director of the Citizens Research Council, told the sheriff's committee of the Board of Supervisors that the causes of those conditions "are many and varied."

"A primary problem appears to be the absence of positive goals of detention administration at the jail," he stated. "Other factors adversely affecting the administration and operation of the jail are improper administrative organization; poor administrative procedures; staff problems including poor training; improper classification of personnel; the absence of professional staff; and undermanned guard services; the detention of persons in the jail who could safely be released to the community or who should be served by some other agency or service; an overcrowded and inadequate physical facilities."

"Working with the new sheriff and preliminary reports, we have started on many of the recommendations," said A. E. Vallier, chairman of the Supervisors' Sheriff Committee. "We will conduct an item-by-item review of this report with the sheriff and the Board of Auditors and come up with recommendations for changes as soon as possible."

Vallier added, however, that "it isn't going to be easy." As an example, he said it would cost an estimated $1.5 million merely to bring the plumbing and electricity of the old jail up to code.

The jail was built in 1926. A modern annex was added in 1963, increasing its prisoner capacity from 923 to 1,297.

Police Attend FBI Classes

Conferences under the auspices of the Federal Bureau of Investigation were held at various areas around the state between September 17 and September 26. These were concerned with the alarming incidence of robberies and other crimes committed at banking type institutions in 1967 and were conducted on a panel forum basis.

Novi policemen attending the conference in Lansing were officers Gordon Nelson, Richard Faulkner and Gerald Burnham. Chief Lee BeGole, and officers Jack Grubb, John Johnson, Dale Gross and Frank Barabas attended the Detroit conference.

Cecil Kerrison of Detroit reported the theft of a saddle from Newman Stables, 40360 13 Mile, to Novi police last week.

Kerrison, who owned the $197 new English "Park" type saddle, reported that it has been missing at least since September 25, when he went in the tack room at the Newman Stables to look for it. It was last reported as having been seen on September 1.

WILLIAM QUIGLEY
GM Promotes William Quigley

Appointment of William G. Quigley of Northville as public relations manager of the Southeastern Michigan Region (Pontiac) was announced today by Anthony De Lorenzo, vice president of General Motors in charge of Public Relations Staff. The region covers southeastern Michigan and Canada.

Quigley, who has been staff assistant for plant city and regional activities in GM's Central Office public relations staff, succeeds Norman E. May, who has been appointed general director of public relations and advertising for Fisher Body Division.

Quigley joined General Motors with Fisher Body Division in 1958, as a public relations representative, and subsequently was named a supervisor in 1959. He transferred to the Oldsmobile Division public relations staff in January, 1962. He was named regional representative in GM's public relations Detroit Region in April, 1964, and became assistant regional manager in November, 1965. He was named to his previous post in September, 1967.

A native of Detroit, Quigley is a graduate of University of Detroit high school and holds a bachelor's degree from Wayne State University. He lives at 18350 Edenderry Drive.

Ex-Detroit Lions Player Gets VP Post at Schoolcraft

Dr. Robert Keene, former Detroit Lions and University of Detroit football player and for 19 years an educational consultant with the Wayne County Intermediate School District, has been named vice-president for instruction at Schoolcraft College.

Dr. Keene, whose appointment was announced by college President Dr. Eric J. Bradner, fills a vacancy at the college created by the resignation this summer of John H. Brinn.

The appointment of the 49-year-old Detroit-born educator, was approved by the college board of trustees at their meeting September 25. Dr. Keene will begin his duties November 1.

His appointment also carried the approval of a special faculty committee named by the Faculty Forum at the invitation of Dr. Bradner to assist him in screening candidates for the position which Brinn resigned to return to teaching at Delta College.

Dr. Keene comes to Schoolcraft from Black Hawk College in Moline, Illinois, where he has been vice-president for academic affairs since February, 1967.

Dr. Keene received his bachelor of philosophy degree in Spanish from the University of Detroit in 1942, and joined the Redford Union school system as a teacher in 1944. In 1948 he received the master of education degree from Wayne State University and in that same year he joined the Wayne County Intermediate School District as a supervising teacher.

He was later made an education consultant on the district's staff and in that capacity was named director of the citizens study for the Wayne County Community College.

In 1964 Dr. Keene received the doctor of education degree from Wayne State University.

He was responsible for the preparation and publication in June, 1965, of the final report of the Citizens Participatory Study Committee for the community college study. The referendum campaign which he directed resulted in approval of the Wayne County Community College District. Voters, however, failed to approve a supporting tax question on the same ballot.

Dr. Keene left his ISD post early in 1967 to join the staff at Black Hawk, at that time a new community college with a main campus at Moline and a branch campus at Kewanee, Illinois.

A member of the U. of D. football team during his undergraduate days, Dr. Keene joined the Detroit Lions as a halfback in August, 1943, and played three seasons with the National Football League entry.

A resident of Redford Township prior to his moving to Illinois, Dr. Keene served as a member of the Northwest Wayne County Community College Steering Committee, which played a leading role in the early organization and development of Schoolcraft College, from 1958 to 1962.

He served as a trustee of the Redford Union Board of Education from 1957 to 1964, was a member of the Livonia Recreation Survey Committee in 1958 and has been a member of the Manpower Development and Training Advisory Board since 1962.

In addition to the Wayne County Community College study report, Dr. Keene has contributed articles on education to professional journals and is a member of a number of professional and education organizations.

Schmidt vs. Stempien: Campaign Battle Heats Up

Schmidt...

Poking holes in his opponent's campaign strategy, GOP Incumbent Representative Louis Schmidt says voters will return him to office because they know he's a full-time lawmaker

NOTE—This is the third in a series of interviews conducted by The Northville Record-Nowi News of candidates for U.S. Congress, State House of Representatives, district judges and county supervisors. Next week, Congressman Jack McDonald and his Democratic challenger, Gary Frink.

HONORED — Rolf Parta, a senior at Novi High School, has received a Letter of Commendation honoring him for his high performance on the 1968 National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Parta, 23819 Heartwood, he is being congratulated here by Principal Gerald Hartman.

Wixom Council OKs DPW Help

Wixom's Department of Public Works has another full-time employee.

The City Council approved the change of status from part time for Hillard Posey, despite budget problems, Tuesday night. It was noted by DPW Director Robert Trombley that additional help is needed. It was suggested that part of his salary would be paid out of the contingency fund in order to not deplete the DPW fund.

12 Mile Gets Traffic Light

Traffic should flow more smoothly at the Novi Road and 12-Mile Road intersection as a result of action taken last Friday.

A new traffic light has been installed and is operating at this intersection now. According to Novi police, the light will be amber on Novi Road and red on 12-Mile except during peak traffic hours at which time it will automatically become a signal light for both roads.

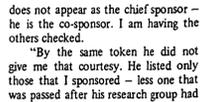

Police Win Recognition

The Police Officers Association has become the recognized bargaining unit for Novi Police, President Robert Starnes told The News this week.

The Association has been recognized by the state Labor Relations Board as the agent for all officers except the chief of police and the police sergeant. Starnes said he hopes to begin negotiations with the village council soon.

Chamber for Real!

It's official! The Novi Board of Commerce became the Novi Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night. In a meeting at Saratoga Farms, members of the organization — one of the oldest in Novi, voted to change its name from board to chamber.

U-F Campaign Starts Tuesday

Northville and Novi Torch Drive chairmen this week are supplying door-to-door volunteers with collection kits for the 20th annual United Foundation campaign which opens Tuesday, October 15.

Both Mrs. David Goss and Mrs. Richard A. Rusche, Northville and Novi residential division chairmen respectively, hope to exceed their last year's collections, which serve as the 1968 goals.

Northville city-and-township residential goal is $2,585 while Novi residential goal is $1,500. They are part of the Greater Metropolitan Detroit goal of $27,550,000, which is up $1,189,505 from last year's total goal but is less than the $27,573,109 actually raised.

The campaign will run for three weeks following the Kick-Off day, concluding on November 5, election day.

Both Mrs. Goss and Mrs. Rusche said they have requested their marchers to try to cover their neighborhoods as soon as possible after the campaign opening.

Northville's residential quota is approximately the same as that for 1967, which was $2,596, but Novi's has been increased about $200 from the 1967 goal of $1,300.

Under Mrs. Goss in Northville are four area and 15 neighborhood chairmen. In Novi Mrs. Rusche has five area and 15 neighborhood chairmen. Under the neighborhood chairmen are about 40 to 50 mother marchers.

After first residential totals are in, marchers will begin call-back visits to families not reached. These call-back reports will be completed by October 25 with communities vying for the "sugar bowl" trophy which goes to the highest report.

Several of the Northville-Novu area chairmen are holding meetings this week to distribute campaign materials to the workers who will ring doorbells. Mrs. Edward Hancock, area 3, district 2 volunteer chairman, invited her workers to an advance thank-you tea at Meadowbrook Country Club Wednesday afternoon. Chairmen Mrs. Goss and Mrs. Paul Sobol also were to be guests.

Under overall chairman Calvin J. Werner, Robert E. Metz, president of Inter-Lake Window Industries, will direct the Oakland County community business solicitation.

Harold A. Poling, a Ford Motor Company executive, is in charge of the Western Wayne County business campaign.

Stempien...

Democratic candidate for the 35th District.

Thirsty Car Wash Gets Promise of Aid

If there's anything worse than a dried up desert, camel its got to be a car wash without water.

Just ask Fred Korzon, co-owner of the car wash on Novi Road, just south of Nine Mile Road. He's got a spanking new business that's within 10 days of opening but he is still looking for his first drop of water.

He built his business in anticipation of extension of the Detroit water line in Novi but delays in water line construction have left him high and dry. The line was to be extended from West Ridge subdivision across the street.

Novi village councilmen took up the problem Monday night, agreed that something must be done and done immediately, but they couldn't reach a solution. Nevertheless, the council, Village Manager Harold Ackley, and the village engineering firm, Anderson & Johnson, promised to press for a solution yet this week.

The new Pepper Tree Restaurant, located just south of the car wash, had the same problem before opening several weeks ago. But the restaurant owner came up with a temporary solution by tapping into the next door Guernsey Dairywell Korzon can't do the same because the minerals in the well water would foul up the automatic car washing equipment.

The water problem was just one of several matters that stretched council discussion to past Midnight and resulted in adjournment of the meeting until next Monday.

Another issue that generated plenty of discussion but little or no action was the proposed amendment governing the erection of model houses and payback agreements designed to protect the village.

Specifically, the proposal is designed to hold developers to water and sewer agreements. Lack of time to study the amendment led to delay of council action on the matter although it was discussed at length.

Probably the major consideration approved by the council concerned "pay-off" arrangement with former Novu Justice of Peace Robert K. Anderson.

Anderson gave up his post several months ago, moved from the community, but demanded what he considered to be unpaid justice fees. When the village balked Anderson initiated legal action.

Monday night the council agreed to offer Anderson $850, which it claims covers his unpaid service.

In other business, the council commended retiring planning board member Joseph Dunnbeck for his "years of fine service" and accepted the resignation of planner Paul McCollum because of ill health.

Appointed as replacement for the two planners were Robert W. Bretz and Thomas DeLuca.

The council also approved Arthur Young and Company as village auditor, the building permit request of Charles Sugden, Inc., and payroll bills.

Because bids were considered too high, the council acted upon the recommendation of Ackley and the village engineer in rejecting three Orchard Hills sewer bids.

SCOREBOARD'S HOSPITABLE — But the Novi Wildcats have not been treating their "guests" at all well, outsourcing their two home opponents 58-12. The new scoreboard is the result of efforts of NAB (Novi Athletic Boosters) who have undertaken several fund raising activities to pay for it.

Injuries, Fires, Vandalism Hit Village

A 13-year-old youth, who drove away his father's pickup truck and rolled it over in front of 39655 13-Mile road, told investigating Novi Police Officer Jerry Burnham that, because he would be 16 in just three years, he felt he needed driving practice.

The boy was treated for a broken wrist. Extensive damage was caused to the 1967 Chevrolet truck owned by James Holland of 1703 East Lake Drive.

He is slated to appear in Oakland County Juvenile Court on the charges of speeding and of having no operator's license.

A grass fire in a pan in the oven at 2293 Austin brought the Novi Fire Department to investigate. The firemen used an extinguisher to put out the blaze and then used the home exhaust fan to clear away the smoke. Smoke damage was minimal.

Ted Second, 1199 South Lake Drive, reported to Novi police that someone removed the screen from his kitchen window and stole a stereo arm cartridge valued at $40.

With hunting season drawing on, Novi Police Chief Lee BeGole warns would-be hunters to check Novi ordinances. Three Farmington youths, Marty L. Coon, David J. Fitzpatrick and Lawrence R. Lanvers, Jr. will appear today before Justice of Peace Emery Jacques to answer to the violation of Ordinance 26, hunting in Novi village limits (on property of E. L. Morris).

On Saturday night, Mrs. Edward J. Riley of 41561 Grand River reported BB damage to a window of her house which faces Grand River. The next night, Don Tuck reported similar damage to a store window facing the same thoroughfare in his store at 43131 Grand River. Police are investigating.

Detective Sergeant Richard Faulkner was called out to assist Novi Fire Department at a barn fire at 42500 11-Mile Road.

Sergeant Faulkner reported that only quick discovery of the fire by property occupant William Lamphar enabled the fire department to save the barn which appeared to have been set afire by children playing with matches.

Windows make poor targets for BB guns, but appear to be at the top of the list anyway, Novi police reported.

On Saturday night, Mrs. Edward J. Riley of 41561 Grand River reported BB damage to a window of her house which faces Grand River. The next night, Don Tuck reported similar damage to a store window facing the same thoroughfare in his store at 43131 Grand River. Police are investigating.

Novi police were instrumental in the capture of the leader of a Redford motorcycle gang, the Vendettas, last week.

James R. Patchett, arrested at home in Redford, worked at Systemation Inc., 26464 Novi Road under the name of James R. Sanders and had been under Novi police observation for some time as an escapee from Jackson Prison. They passed on their information to Redford police.

A concussion appears to be the result of a bad fall from a horse over the weekend.

Mary Lee McNall, 19, of Southfield was injured when she was thrown from a horse at Copp's Riding Stable. Novi Patrolman Gerald Burnham, who investigated, stated that Miss McNall was unconscious when he arrived.

She was admitted to Botsford Hospital.

Detroit Stops Here.

The United Foundation doesn't.

Pick a community. Any of 114 communities in the tri-county area. The United Foundation is there. Pick a person. Any person in any of the 114 communities. He's being touched by the UF, whether he knows it or not. Touched by the work of the Michigan Crime and Delinquency Council, the YMCA, YWCA, Red Cross and others. Over 200 agencies in 114 communities. A lot of numbers. A lot of help. Disaster, sickness and tragedy don't worry about county borders or city limits signs. And neither does the United Foundation.

Everybody benefits. Everybody gives.
