Plan New Building For Old Church

At a special congregational meeting Sunday night Northville First Presbyterian Church congregation voted by 99 to 29 to proceed with architectural plans for a new sanctuary which will accommodate 400 worshippers, and to make financial plans.

Decision to proceed with plans for the new sanctuary, which preliminary estimates indicate will cost about $224,000, was made after a report from the architect, William P. Lindhout, indicated that costs to repair the present sanctuary without any enlargement would run $50,000 to $80,000.

While the church dates from 1849, it is pointed out that the only portion of the original structure still standing is the wall behind the reredos and a 10-15 foot section of the east wall. Major additions in 1913 and 1922 widened the building and included the present front porch and wood columns.

City Charter Election Slated for February 18

Six months of work came to a close Thursday night when the Novi City Charter Commission wrapped up the proposed charter, deciding to put it up to the voters on Tuesday, February 18 - final step in establishment of the city.

Registration of the proposed charter was delayed until Monday so that all nine commissioners could be present. It is to be sent immediately to Lansing for state approval prior to the election.

Major decisions that prompted considerable debate included: Establishment of a city manager type of government as opposed to suggestions that Novi adopt the strong mayor concept.

Cruelty Case Ends in Jail

One Novi case was completed and two others are scheduled to come up in early December in Oakland County Circuit Court. William J. Daugherty received a sentence from Circuit Judge William J. Beer last Wednesday on a child cruelty case which began March 17, 1967 when he was arrested for beating his stepdaughter.

Pleading guilty to the reduced charge of attempted child cruelty, Daugherty was given a near maximum sentence of one year, 11 months to two years in Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson. Daugherty will receive credit for time served awaiting trial.

But May Gain Millage

Justice of Peace Emery Jacques completed the preliminary examination of Gerald Weaver who was initially charged with involuntary manslaughter in the automobile death of Marcella Elsie Hatfield in September on Thursday. Weaver was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court Judge William J. Beer was postponed to next Tuesday.

In the kidnapping and assault case of Novi Police Officer Robert Starnes last July, hearing before Oakland County Circuit Court Judge William J. Beer was postponed to next Tuesday. At any rate, with incorporation none of the present township officials would be able to continue in office since none of them live on the property in these isolated township areas. In addition to voting on the charter itself, voters at the same time will be choosing the first city council and mayor. For the first term, the three

School May Lose Bus Aid

State law threatens elimination of state aid for school bus transportation inside the proposed new city of Novi, charter commissioners learned last week. A letter written by Harold B. Wagner, who heads up the transportation section of the State Department of Education, clearly states that Novi would not continue to receive aid for transportation inside the new city.

Man Faces Rape Charge

Diane Brasure Escapes Death In Philippines

Diane Brasure, daughter of the Reverend and Mrs. Lloyd Brasure of West Main Street, will be spending her Thanksgiving vacation this year in Hong Kong.

She and her parents (her father is pastor of Northville Presbyterian Church) feel she has a great deal to be thankful for this Thanksgiving, 1968, as the very nearly didn't survive to celebrate it.

Diane, who has been teaching at the American Naval Base at Subic Bay in the Philippines, was driving with a group of teachers to attend a teachers' institute at Baguio the first weekend in November when all were overcome with exhaust fumes.

The driver was able to pull off the road and turn off the ignition but many travelers passed them by, thinking they were "asleep or sleeping it off," before a car stopped. Their rescuers broke the car window to pull them out unconscious.

A Philippine doctor then stopped to administer mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. He estimated that in four-to-five minutes it would have been too late to save them.

A passing Army minibus transported them to the hospital at Baguio where they were given oxygen. By the next evening they were seated at the table next to the president of the Philippines at the Baguio country club.

Mr. Brasure explains that Baguio, a resort area in the mountains, is also a military rest-and-recuperation area. The Naval base where Diane teaches Spanish services Vietnam.

Before volunteering for overseas teaching, Diane, an Alma college graduate, had taught junior high Spanish in Traverse City.

Overall, her father reports, she has been enjoying thoroughly her teaching experience in the Philippines. Contrary to what one often hears about "military brats," she writes, her children are very well behaved, saying, "Yes, Mam," "please and thank you."

The Brasures were unaware of near-tragedy until a letter arrived from her earlier this month telling the whole incident.

But, having recuperated, Diane now is looking forward to Thanksgiving in Hong Kong, Christmas in India and Easter in Japan.

Schoolcraft College

One of the major projects identified in the 1969-70 capital outlay budget of Schoolcraft Community College is a Master Plan.

According to college officials, the plan will show future building needs, and locations would be projected for development of the Haggerty Road campus.

The college is asking the state to fund the entire estimated $35,000 cost of the Master Plan which is required for eligibility for future state participation in construction funding.

Other projects listed by the college for the 1969-70 request year are:

1. Physical Education Building: The college is requesting the state to make a final appropriation of $563,900 to complete payment of a total commitment of $1,178,500 as the state share of the project.

The college also asks for another $134,114 from the state for its share of the difference between the actual construction cost and the pre-bidding estimate on which the state's commitment was based.

2. Campus Service Building: The college estimates construction costs of a pre-bidding estimate on which the state's commitment was based.

3. Fine Arts Building: A request for $15,000 in planning money is pending in current state legislation. The college estimates construction costs of $4,000,000 and is asking the state to pay half of that in two annual installments of $1,000,000 each in 1970-71 and 1971-72. The college will seek federal assistance on this project under the Higher Education Facilities Act. A federal grant could amount to as much as 40 percent of the total project cost, reducing the state and college shares to 50 percent each.

New projects listed for funding in 1969-70 are:

1. Master Plan: $35,000 is estimated, of which the state would pay the entire amount.

2. Outdoor Physical Education Facilities: The college estimates the cost of physical education and recreation fields at $250,000. This project, like the service building, could be assigned a second-line funding priority by the state, which would require the college to underwrite all or most of the cost.

A final project listed for 1969-70 is a major addition to the existing greenhouse used in the biology and botany programs. Estimated by the pre-bidding estimate on which the state's commitment was based, the state would provide half, or $40,000.

Three other projects are listed in the long-range request to start in 1970-71. These are two instructional buildings, estimated at $1,750,000 each; and enlargement of the culinary arts laboratory, estimated to cost $125,000. However, all of the money for the instructional buildings are spread over three years: $15,000 for each building for planning in 1970-71; construction funds of $1,000,000 for each building in 1971-72; and the balance of construction costs of $735,000 for each building in 1972-73.

Both instructional buildings and the culinary arts project would be eligible for federal funds, which if approved, would, as with the Fine Arts building, reduce the state and college shares of the project cost.

Lindner said the instructional buildings have not yet been put in a priority sequence by the college but would be selected from among such identified facilities needs as a health professions building, a faculty office building, a major library addition, and an area vocational center.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Next week property owners will begin receiving greetings in the form of tax notices, commonly referred to as "winter taxes". They represent the money that we spend to support our township and county governments, and our local and community college school systems.

The giant share of the tax levy goes to the local schools. (In the Wayne County portion of the City of Northville, for example, the total levy is $42.16 per thousand dollars of assessed valuation. Public schools get $32.90 of this for operating funds and building debts.)

At any rate — and despite its huge bite of the winter tax dollar — public schools in Northville are still caught in a financial squeeze.

This condition was emphasized in a letter from school Business Manager Earl Busard which appealed to the city and township tax collecting agents to turn over tax monies to the schools as soon as possible.

Early collections help school systems by reducing the amount of money that must be borrowed to meet start-up costs. Not only do the funds cut interest fees, but if the early in-take is substantial the school system can actually gain dollars through interest on short-term investments.

Really, school officials are appealing to taxpayers as well as collectors.

They'd like us to "do our winter tax paying early" this year. And then they'd like the city and township treasurers to release the funds immediately.

Not as bad as a tax hike, is it?

That old bogey-man "equalization factor" is returning to the city of Northville next year.

County tax officials have indicated that township assessments — reappraised just last year — are still in line and reflect 50 per cent of market value.

But it's been three years since the city has updated its assessments — and we're living in an area where sale charts show that property values have increased sharply during that period.

Property sale statistics show, for example, that assessments in the Oakland County portion of the city must now be multiplied by the factor 1.25 to bring them up to 50 per cent of market value.

In the Wayne County portion of the city it's estimated that the 1969 factor will be 1.17.

To the city taxpayer this means that his current property assessment — which he can determine on his tax bill when it arrives next week — will be multiplied by either 1.25 or 1.17 next year when summer and winter taxes are levied for 1969.

If the new assessment seems too high — over half the present value of the property — the taxpayer may appeal to the board of review next March.

For the present it's your only recourse — and a fair one. But in another year or two, if the city continues to climb, all assessments must again be reviewed and raised on an individual basis to the 50 per cent level.

"Equalization factors" are misnomers. Actually, they create extreme inequities between taxpayers as the factor becomes higher and assessing more out-dated.

A LOOSE LEAF

By ROLLY PETERSON

"I felt like I was all alone, like I was skating on a cloud." And the solitary figure, with bird-like grace, swooped and glided noiselessly as only she can skate. Thus began the one-hour special Sunday night, entitled, "Here's Peggy Fleming."

It wasn't the Olympic gold medal winner's first appearance on television, for she had dazzled viewers with her skating finesse and expert form many times in competing for world championships. But it was the first time that the camera had attempted to uncover Peggy Fleming, the person.

Sadly, the portrait never came off. Forging itself through the gossamer story was the hard nugget of reality: that here was Hollywood attempting to make Peggy Fleming the darling of America, another Shirley Temple and Ingrid Bergman rolled into one.

Few artistic stones were left unturned.

The camera darted in and out, over and around the skating phenomena, Miss Fleming. But what was gained in camera artistry was disconcertingly lost on the life of Miss Fleming or any authentic attempt to convey a cohesive impression. The camera, at times, seemed to have an existence of itself, apart from the subject.

Too few times did the camera settle on Miss Fleming — and stay there. It seemed like sacrilege of sorts. Here was the best skater in the world, technically and artistically. People wanted to see what she does so well. Yet, with rare exception did the camera play a complimentary role to Miss Fleming's skating.

Miss Fleming was the focal point; this was her hour. Yet, in the true tradition of variety shows, she shared the spotlight with a host of stars: Richard Harris (whom she admires); Spanky and Our Gang (whom she identifies with), and Gene Kelly (whom she also admires — "I wanted to be a dancer").

What inspired admiration of Harris was his role in Camelot, his ability, according to Miss Fleming, to sing with convincing emotion. Undoubtedly, Mr. Harris is a talented young man. His rendition of "How to Handle a Woman," with Miss Fleming skating the part of the feminine mystique, was as compelling as it was mellifluous.

And his interpretation of "The Yard Went on Forever," graphically illustrated by pictures of the ravages of war and bigotry, conveyed the poignant message of women and children suffering. But, where the first song had some relevance, the second was a solo, unrelated effort.

Spanky and Our Gang also took off on solos, which, in themselves, were tastefully framed. But they, too, consumed time that would have better been spent focusing on the artistry of Miss Fleming.

Gene Kelly's appearance was pure show biz. He took to the ice with Miss Fleming, perhaps to show his versatility, but when all was said and done, the put-on was distinctly clear.

Not all was lost, despite the drawbacks. The most sterling moment came when Miss Fleming, dressed in op clothing, grooved her way through a modern rock number. Here, in essence, was artistry combined with talent to the best possible advantage. Unfortunately, these moments were all too few.

Deck of the by JACK W. HOFFMAN

I'd heard and read about the book often in the past but probably because I feared its contents might spoil the treasures of my memory I didn't read "The Situation in Flushing" until accidentally stumbling across it on top of a pile of public library books dragged home by members of my family.

Far from spoiling things, Author Edmund G. Love rekindles memories of the little town of Flushing — now, unfortunately sprawling with subdivisions and infested with Flint commuters — even though: his story predates my youth by a generation.

So vividly real is his reminiscing that many of the characters and places strike an amazing resemblance to the people and places there I remember. Flushing, it seemed to me upon completing the book, had cranged remarkably little from the early years of the 20th Century to the Thirties and Forties.

Flushing is not my hometown. But it was my home away from home. I spent summers on a farm there, nearly drowned in its famous "keep out" slate pits, picnicked in the vastly changed public park, visited my first lumber yard and rode my first workhorse there, and enjoyed the friendship of many of the people who call it their hometown. Until now, I could tell a story about a visit to a Flushing doctor's office and a few would believe me. Read the humorous, nostalgic work of Edmund Love and you'll see that a doctor could indeed yank out the tonsils of a 14-year-old boy in a fifteen minute exercise in his office and then talk the mother into letting the boy drive home the family's '36 Chevy as reward for not squirming.

The author's 64-year-old grandfather, one of the colorful men who made the community tick more than a half-century ago, wasn't a physician but he could have been the doctor I remember.

His leg infected with gangrene and finally removed, Grandfather demanded a cigar immediately after the operation. He smoked it down to a stub and then "put the butt in the ashtray, threw back the covers and swung his legs, including the heavily bandaged stump, to the side. "Now let's get the hell out of here!"

Or, maybe, it was the understanding physician such as Love knew by name of Dr. McKenna, who wrote a note to the author's teacher asking that he be "allowed to go to the bathroom as often as I wanted (on either one or two fingers)" just so Love could sneak off to watch the trains he loved come and go. The book contains surprises, too, Flushing, as I remember it, was as white-laced as any rural town in Michigan and, for that matter, still is. Yet, out of the book comes word that one of the community's early presidents was the son of a slave couple. Joe Gage was his name, and he died at 89.

Two years before Gage died Flushing staged a gigantic tribute in his honor. As the biggest homecoming crowd in the town's history listened, the aging Negro observed: "I don't know what I've done to deserve all this. I don't think I do deserve it. I've lived a long life and most of it's been a happy life, especially the part of it I've lived in this town. If I had it to do all over again, I'd like to change only one thing. I'd like to be born with a white skin. I just keep wondering what it would have been like. I'm not finding fault. I'm just curious. But if I couldn't change it, and if I had it to do all over, I'd make tracks for this place just as fast as I could. God bless you, every one."

Two years later he died, in 1956 — the year I graduated from college, and I'd never heard a single Flushing resident mention his name during the years I knew the town. There are numerous "old fashion" but successful cures for society's ills in the book, however. Senior Love's razor strap was one of them.

"Shortly before my fifth birthday," writes the author, "I started stealing small change from my mother's purse. The day my father found out about it is one I shall never forget as long as I live. I was soundly whipped, stripped of all my privileges, and threatened with fifteen years in the county jail. It was a terrifying few hours, I can tell you. The punishment worked. I may not be the most honest man since Abraham Lincoln, but I don't think I've stolen anything from women's purses since I was five years old."

Michigan Mirror Dems Battle for Key Posts

LANSING—A dogged struggle for key leadership posts in the Democrat-controlled 1969 Michigan House of Representatives is shaping up among lawmakers.

At least three Democrats have announced plans to seek the coveted speaker's chair when the session convenes in January. They are Reps. George F. Montgomery of Detroit, William A. Ryan of Detroit and Albert Horigan of Flint.

Ryan, a six-term legislator, is considered the front-runner at this juncture. He is currently floor minority leader and has influential friends among house Republicans.

Traditionally the majority party settles on a speaker in a party caucus, and the decision is automatically approved on the floor.

But Horigan has vowed to force the issue from the caucus onto the floor.

Roger Babson Food Industry's Good Investment

WELLESLEY HILLS, Massachusetts — Expenditures for food in the U.S. this year will total $101 billion, — up 6% over 1967. Of course half of this increase will be due to higher prices, with the total amount of food purchased rising but moderately. The balance of the gain in food spending will come from consumer preference for more expensive foods or for those with more marketing services added.

There are several factors which recommend the food industry to prospective investors. For one thing, the industry's growth has been steadier than most. This reflects population and income gains as well as changing patterns of living which have sparked the rapid and wide acceptance of the so-called convenience foods.

A second plus for the food companies generally is their low price-earnings ratios. In most instances, these ratios are attractively low, thus leaving plenty of room for growth. Still another favorable factor is the reasonable labor costs. Except in baking, salaries and wages paid account for a smaller percentage of net sales than in industries such as building, chemicals, electrical products, and industrial machinery.

IN RECENT YEARS, food manufacturers and processors have made great strides in offsetting the adverse effects of highly cyclical markets. In some cases, this has been achieved through vertical integration. More often, it has been accomplished through a steady and generally orderly trend toward diversification.

Baking companies, whose profit margins have been among the lowest in the industry, are moving with increasing rapidity into convenience foods and/or institutional food services. Meanwhile, the dairy companies and the makers of processed foods are seeking broader markets for their products by expanding into such areas as delicatessens, restaurants, and drug and health items. Without question, the largest growth area in the industry is in packaged, convenience foods. Nearly every large food company either is already directly represented in this field or is making plans for such representation.

IN ADDITION, food makers are seeking broader markets for their products by setting up processing and distributing facilities in foreign countries. During the past decade, vast new markets for U.S. food companies have opened up in Western Europe. Others are in the process of opening up in Asia, Africa, and Latin America.

The opportunities inherent in this expansion are nothing short of tremendous. Alert food managements have already shown appreciation of this by investing in ways calculated to take maximum advantage of foreign resources in materials and labor as well as in new foreign markets.

We are convinced the food industry has plenty of long-term investment potential for those in a patient frame of mind. The following companies offer good growth prospects over the longer term:

CAMPBELL SOUP. Although earnings this fiscal year will be hurt by strikes and higher costs, Campbell's long-term record of excellent sales and earnings suggests an early snapback in profits.

KNUDSEN CORP. A leading dairy in the fast-growing Southern California market, commencing to diversify, the strong capital position is enhanced by valuable real estate holdings in downtown Los Angeles.

NATIONAL BISCUIT CO. This leading cracker and cookie baker also produces specialty mixes, frozen items, and pet foods. Foreign subsidiaries account for 20% of sales. High start-up costs interrupted the earnings uptrend this year, but 1969 prospects are good.

from the Pastor's Study

The trouble with Thanksgiving is...we're so busy with family, football, and food that the usual Thanksgiving service has to be moved to Wednesday evening. This is typical of most communities. It is true in ours.

...we're so logy with too much to eat that Thanksgiving afternoon tends to be a drowsy semi-coma. The football game keeps us awake, but barely. It is brain battling stomach, and stomach seems to be winning.

The wonderful thing about Thanksgiving is that we have so much for which to be grateful. But abundance is the wrong springboard for thanksgiving. If our gratitude is to be in proportion to our blessings then the wealthy man should be most grateful of all. Can a Christian accept this kind of logic? Or is this smugness masquerading as gratitude? "We've so much to be thankful for," is not necessarily thanksgiving at all. It sounds more like a sigh of relief.

The truly grateful man... what is he like? Perhaps Abraham Lincoln can offer us an insight:

The roots of Christian gratitude are not in abundance and wealth. If so, a man who simply "gets by" has no proper grounds for thanksgiving. Is gratitude impossible for Christians in so-called poor countries?

"We have been the recipients of the choicest bounties of heaven; we have been preserved these many years in peace and prosperity; we have grown in numbers, wealth, and power as no other nation has ever grown. But we have forgotten God. We have forgotten the gracious hand which preserved us in peace, and multiplied and enriched and strengthened us, and we have vainly imagined, in the deceitfulness of our hearts, that all these blessings were produced by some superior virtue and wisdom of our own. Intoxicated with unbroken success, we have become too self-sufficient to feel the necessity of redeeming and preserving grace, too proud to

To Be Thankful

It used to be that a picture like this could only mean harvest time—but orange pumpkins, shiny red apples, colorful stalks of Indian corn. And, of course, a turkey in the pantry.

But what about today? You can buy apples almost any time. Pumpkins are available in a can twelve months of the year. And you can buy a frozen turkey as easily in July as in November.

We Americans take for granted what was a real treat in our parent's time. But in the midst of this material plenty, there is danger of spiritual famine. To keep the proper perspective, to appreciate the gifts of life to the fullest we need the Church and the story it has to tell us.

Maybe you can't be a pioneer—a Pilgrim. But you can follow your forefathers' example at Plymouth that first November. You can utter genuine thanks in the church of your choice.

9-Mile Owner Says
650 Acre Sale Unfounded

Reports that sale of most of the undeveloped farm land between Nine and 10 Mile roads, from Taft east to Brookland Farms, is imminent apparently have no substance.

Top GOP Post to Go
To Northville Man

A young Northville man is a sure bet to take over the reins of the Michigan Republican Party next February.

William McLaughlin, 592 Reid, received the editorial endorsement for the coveted state chairmanship by top GOP leaders last week Wednesday in a leadership conference at Lansing.

Edward Robinson, executive director of the authority, said purchase of the property is unlikely — although he said purchase has been considered.

McLaughlin received the plaudits and endorsement of Governor George Romney, Lieutenant Governor William Milliken, Senator Robert Griffin, and Representative Elford Cederberg, who voiced opinions of Michigan's 12 GOP congressmen.

Some of the greatest praise came from Mrs. Ely Peterson, outgoing state chairman with whom McLaughlin has been serving since 1966. She said he has done a "conspicuously good job" while performing behind the scenes.

McLaughlin, 592 Reid, received the editorial endorsement for the coveted state
chairmanship by top GOP leaders last
week Wednesday in a leadership
conference at Lansing.

McLaughlin moved to St. Clair Shores in 1951, almost immediately involving himself in local and Macomb County Republican politics. In 1960 he formed the Young Republican Club of Macomb County and in 1962 ran unsuccessfully for the state legislature.

McLaughlin is a member of the Michigan Republican Party and in 1964 did advance work for Governor
Romney's election campaign.

Mrs. Peterson, who has been elected to the full-time position of national committeewoman for the GOP, named McLaughlin executive director two months after she took the top post in 1965. That same year he was elected vice-chairman of the party, and in 1967 was re-elected.

Prior to assuming full time posts with the state GOP, McLaughlin worked in publicity and advertising for Cinerama. He moved to Northville in September, 1965. Married with three children, his wife, Janet, is expecting another child soon.

Human Limb Found
By Hunting Party

A hunting trip to the Presque Pine Mountains near Ontonagon in the upper peninsula by a group of Salem Township hunters and their friends took a gruesome turn when one of the party found some human bones in the wilderness area.

Jim Tomlinson of Westland discovered first a man's high shoe with a leg bone still in it. A few feet away the other shoe was found along with some scattered bones. Both shoes bore animal teeth marks.

Tomlinson and other hunters in the party, Fernan Rohraff, Kenneth Rich, Charlie Cole, Bob Bulmon, all of Salem; Darrell Bulmon of South Lyon and Dave Schultz of Northville, gathered up the bones and reported the discovery to the local police.

Mustangs Clash With Lions In Season Opener Tuesday

Although the Mustangs share their new coach's desire to snatch the 1968-69 Wayne-Oakland League crown in his first season at the helm their immediate aim is getting past the non-league opener Tuesday at South Lyon.

"Every game's important," says Coach Bob Kucher, who last year was the junior varsity mentor and who since has become both the varsity basketball coach and athletic director. "Certainly South Lyon's no exception."

Reports that South Lyon will field a "thin squad with little initial depth" are taken with a grain of salt by Kucher, who insisted the Lions cannot be taken lightly.

The Mustangs, who last year finished second (12-2) to West Bloomfield - the favorite to repeat again this season - are relatively inexperienced this season although Coach Kucher appraises the quintet as having "good balance" in scoring, rebounding and defense.

The first nine of last season's starters were lost through graduation, noted Kucher. Fortunately, several of last year's junior varsity quintet, one of the finest in the school's history, boost the Mustangs' prospects.

"We won't be too tall," observed the coach, "but we'll be quick and I figure these fellows will get up on the boards despite the lack of height. They're a scrappy bunch and they certainly don't lack desire."

Back from last year's squad will be Center Craig Turnbull (6'2"), Forward Stan Nirdler (6') and Guard-Forward Jeff Taylor (6'1"). Other returning lettermen include Forward Barry Deal, Center Greg Marshall, and Forward Dan Condon. They'll be joined by last season's JV's, Rich Adams, Fred Holdsworth, Ron Hubbard, Terry Mills, Jim Penrod, Marc Sheffer, and Dave Johnston.

South Lyon is building most of its hopes around Dave Brandon, a 6'1 1/2" forward-guard who last season as a sophomore was the team's second highest scorer and is rated by some as being as quick as Nirdler, the Mustangs' exceptionally quick guard.

Senior Center Ed Canfield (6'3") is especially good on the boards, and Sophomore Glenn Wiseman, who figures to be a good, rugged player with plenty of potential will play a forward. Last year he was a top scorer with the junior varsity quintet, moving up to the varsity for tournament competition.

Among other players are: Brad Lloyd (good dribbler and ball handler); Fred Green (squad's best dribbler); Mark Hardesty (good shot); Larry Boyles (back up forward, high scorer as JV); Gary Miller (back-up center).

SPORTS

JV Fives, Frosh Aim for Success

With high school basketball due to get into full swing next week, junior varsity and freshman mentors are readying their charges just as the varsity coaches.

Omar Harrison (Northville Jayvee), Dennis Palmer (Colts Frosh) and Mlyan Obrenovich (Novi Jayvee) are trying to mold their boys into working units with varying degrees of success and hopes for the coming season.

Best ended in the front line appears to Harrison, whose forces will be led by 6'5" Kerry Cushing at center and 6'1" Bernie Bach at a forward, both capable of playing on some areas.

Harrison also will have a strong rebounder, 6'2" Steve Utley, to go with this tandem up front.

Obrenovich has quantity but not experience as he finds 25 boys, 18 of them freshmen, practicing to make the squad. As Novi has no freshman program, he hopes to keep all 25 on the team to give them needed experience. As it shapes up now, he plans to start Freshman Bob Tyler at a guard, with Sophomores Tom VanWagner and Bob Vivian at the forwards, Brad Burnham at center and Doug Osborn at the other guard. Steve Bosak and Bob Cliff have some experience and Kevin Hesse will help out behind the front five.

Coach Anxious for Battle Novi Cagers Bigger, Meaner

A bigger, meaner pack of Wildcats will be scratching the hardwood this year when Novi's varsity quintet clashes with Hartland in the season opener December 7.

There are a number of good reasons why Coach Jim Ladd is anxious to send his young scrappers into battle. Most important of these, of course, is the fact that the Wildcats boasts a senior contingent that includes eight returning lettermen. The addition of a senior class and the added experience was a big asset in Novi's vastly improved football squad, and Ladd is hopeful of the same kind of results on the basketball court.

Another important factor in any opening high school contest is the familiarity with the surroundings. And Novi will be playing in its own gymnasium.

Then there's a little matter about revenge. Fans will recall that it was Hartland that defeated the Wildcats in the football opener this year - a loss that was not repeated until the final game of the season. Many of Novi's cagers were members of the football squad that suffered the opening defeat, and they'd like nothing better than to defeat the Eagles.

Actually, Ladd's squad wouldn't have to win many games to better the 1967-68 season. Last year the Wildcats suffered 11 defeats in 13 starts in the Lakeland C Conference. Overall, they finished the season with 3-16.

But the Novi coach won't be satisfied with just bettering last year's record. Playing as an independent this season, the Wildcats will play 14 regular season games - including a historic one against Northville on December 17. (Until this year, some of Northville's stellar athletes hailed from Novi).

His fingers crossed, the Novi coach is pointing to a fast break offense and pressure defense. "Hartland won't be a snap even though they didn't have much last year. Most of their juniors are back so I imagine they'll be improved considerably."

Leading the way this season will be 6'11" senior center Jon VanWagner, who as a junior led the team in scoring with 310 points. He hauled down 184 rebounds last year.

Lee Snow, 6'3" forward (team's tallest and huskiest member) followed VanWagner in points with 197 and is determined to improve this output, while Gary Boyer, a speedy 5'9" guard, is equally determined to better his 140-point mark.

Defensive ace, Don Maki, and Boyer's brother, Tom, are expected to round out the starting five.

"Seniors Ken Osborn, David Bingham, and Doug Keith should give plenty of competition to these boys for a place on the starting five and give us a strong bench," said Ladd.

With 23 boys out for the squad, Ladd said he probably will cut in to 15 today. Two of them will be sent to the junior varsity.

Last Grid Contest Slated This Week

Farlington, Livonia and Plymouth residents, in that order, laid claim to the prizes in the weekly football contest sponsored by The Northville Record-Nowi News and cooperating local businesses.

Football fans still hoping for a crack at the prizes are reminded that time's running out. This week will mark the close of the 1968 contest season, so turn to Page 9-A and pick your winners immediately.

Winning last week's $10 first prize was Joseph Szabo of 20841 Metroview, a Farmington resident who missed only two games - both ties.

Judges marked everyone wrong for those tie games between Yale and Harvard (29-29) and Detroit and New Orleans (20-20). The pro game score, however, was used in determining the second and third place winners. No one was marked wrong for the Georgia-Georgia Tech game - it won't be played until this Saturday.

Winning second place was Larry Nelson of 37785 St. Martins, Livonia, and third place went to Craig Hoffman, 42809 Parkhurst, member of the Plymouth family that has been making a habit of winning. Both came up with three mistakes, with Larry taking the edge on a closer guess of the Detroit-New Orleans 20-20 tie.

It was about an even choice between Ohio State and Michigan but chances are few would have guessed Ohio's whopping 50-14 win.

Among the other difficult ones for contestants were: Iowa over Illinois, 37-13, and Oregon State over Oregon, 41-19.

Junior Football Group To Elect 18 Directors

The annual meeting of the Northville Junior Football Association will be held Wednesday, December 4 beginning at 8 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church.

Purpose of the meeting is to elect 18 members to the association's board of directors for the year of 1969. Only those members who have received registration cards for 1968 are eligible to vote. Although the card is a family membership only one vote is permitted per family.

At a meeting on October 31, names of 29 persons - including 11 incumbents - were placed in nomination, according to Association Secretary H. W. Price.

In addition to the election, the meeting is also the time for turning in

Mustangs Clash With Lions In Season Opener Tuesday

Although the Mustangs share their new coach's desire to snatch the 1968-69 Wayne-Oakland League crown in his first season at the helm their immediate aim is getting past the non-league opener Tuesday at South Lyon.

Reports that South Lyon will field a "thin squad with little initial depth" are taken with a grain of salt by Kucher, who insisted the Lions cannot be taken lightly.

The Mustangs, who last year finished second (12-2) to West Bloomfield — the favorite to repeat again this season — are relatively inexperienced this season although Coach Kucher appraises the quintet as having "good balance" in scoring, rebounding and defense.

The first nine of last season's starters were lost through graduation, noted Kucher. Fortunately, several of last year's junior varsity quintet, one of the first in the school's history, boost the Mustangs' prospects.

"We won't be too tall," observed the coach, "but we'll be quick and I figure these fellows will get up on the boards despite the lack of height. They're a scrappy bunch and they certainly don't lack desire."

Back from last year's squad will be Center Craig Turnbull (6'2"), Forward Stan Nirider (6') and Guard-Forward Jeff Taylor (6'1"). Other returning lettermen include Forward Barry Deal, Center Greg Marshall, and Forward Dan Condon. They'll be joined by last season's JV's, Rich Adams, Fred Holdsworth, Ron Hubbard, Terry Mills, Jim Penrod, Marc Sheffer, and Dave Johnston.

South Lyon is building most of its hopes around Dave Brandon, a 6'1 1/2" forward-guard who last season was a sophomore with the team's second highest scorer and is rated by some as being as quick as Nirider, the Mustangs' exceptionally quick guard.

Senior Center Ed Canfield (6'3") is especially good on the boards, and Sophomore Glenn Wiseman, who figures to be a good, rugged player with plenty of potential will play a forward.

Last year he was a top scorer with the junior varsity quintet, moving up to the varsity for tournament competition.

Among other players are: Brad Lloyd (good dribbler and ball handler); Fred Green (squad's best defender); Mark Hardisty (good shot); Larry Boyley (back up forward, high-scorer as JV); Gary Miller (back-up center).

JV Fives, Frosh Aim for Success

With high school basketball due to get into full swing next week, junior varsity and freshman mentors are readying their charges just as are the varsity coaches.

Omarr Harrison (Northville Jayvee), Dennis Palmer (Coits Frosh) and Milan Obrenovich (Novi Jayvee) are trying to mold their boys into working units with varying degrees of success and hopes for the coming season.

Best endowed in the front line appears to be Harrison, whose forces will be led by 6'5 1/2" Kerry Cushing at center and 6'1 1/2" Bernie Bach at a forward, both capable of playing on some varsities, according to some observers. Harrison also will have a strong rebounder, 6'2" Steve Uley, to go with this tandem up front.

Obrenovich has quantity but not experience as he finds 25 boys, 18 of them freshmen, practicing to make the squad. As Novi has no freshman program, he hopes to keep all 25 on the team to give them needed experience. As it shapes up now, he plans to start Freshman Bob Tyler at a guard, with Sophomores Tom VanWagner and John Hubbard at the forwards, Brad Burnham at center area and Doug Osborn at the other guard. Steve Soak and Bob Clift have some experience and Kevin Hesse will help out behind the front five.

Last Grid Contest Slated This Week

Farmington, Livonia and Plymouth residents, in that order, laid claim to the prizes in the weekly football contest sponsored by The Northville Record-Nowi News and cooperating local businesses.

Football fans still hoping for a crack at the prizes are reminded that time's running out. This week will mark the close of the 1968 contest season, so turn to Page 9-A and pick your winners immediately.

Winning last week's $10 first prize was Joseph Szabo of 20841 Metroview, a Farmington resident who missed only two games — both ties.

Judges marked everyone wrong for those tie games between Yale and Harvard (29-29) and Detroit and New Orleans (20-20). The pro game score, however, was used in determining the second and third place winners. No one was marked wrong for the Georgia-Georgia Tech game — it won't be played until this Saturday.

Winning second place was Larry Nelson of 37785 St. Martins, Livonia, and third place went to Craig Hoffman, 42809 Parkhurst, member of the Plymouth family that has been making a habit of winning. Both came up with three mistakes, with Larry taking the edge on a closer guess of the Detroit-New Orleans 20-20 tie.

It was about an even choice between Ohio State and Michigan but chances are few would have guessed Ohio's whopping 50-14 win.

Among the other difficult ones for contestants were Iowa over Illinois, 37-13, and Oregon State over Oregon, 41-19.

Junior Football Group To Elect 18 Directors

The annual meeting of the Northville Junior Football Association will be held Wednesday, December 4 beginning at 8 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church.

Purpose of the meeting is to elect 18 members to the association's board of directors for the year of 1969. Only those members who have received registration cards for 1968 are eligible to vote. Although the card is a family membership only one vote is permitted per family.

At a meeting on October 31, names of 29 persons — including 11 incumbents — were placed in nomination, according to Association Secretary H. W. Price.

In addition to the election, the meeting is also the time for turning in of all football equipment.

Coach Anxious for Battle Novi Cagers Bigger, Meaner

A bigger, meaner pack of Wildcats will be scratching the hardwood this year when Novi's varsity quintet clashes with Hartland in the season opener December 7.

There are a number of good reasons why Coach Jim Ladd is anxious to send his young scrappers into battle. Most important of these, of course, is the fact that the Wildcats boasts a senior contingent that includes eight returning lettermen. The addition of a senior class and the added experience was a big asset in Novi's varsity improved football squad, and Ladd is hopeful of the same kind of results on the basketball court.

Another important factor in any opening high school contest is the familiarity with the surroundings. And Novi will be playing in its own gymnasium.

Then there's a little matter about revenge. Fans will recall that it was Hartland that defeated the Wildcats in the football opener this year — a loss that was not repeated until the final game of the season. Many of Novi's cagers were members of the football squad that suffered the opening defeat and they'd like nothing better than to de-feather the Eagles.

Actually, Ladd's squad wouldn't have to win many games to better the 1967-68 season. Last year the Wildcats suffered 11 defeats in 13 starts in the Lakeland C Conference. Overall, they finished the season with 3-16.

But the Novi coach won't be satisfied with just bettering last year's record. Playing as an independent this season, the Wildcats will play 14 regular season games — including a historic one against Northville on December 17. (Until this year, some of Northville's stellar athletes hailed from Novi).

His fingers crossed, the Novi coach is pointing to a fast break offense and pressure defense. "Hartland won't be a snap even though they didn't have much last year. Most of their juniors are back so I imagine they'll be improved considerably."

Leading the way this season will be 6'1 1/2" senior center Jon VanWagner, who as a junior led the team in scoring with 310 points. He hauled down 184 rebounds last year.

Lee Snow, 6'3" forward (team's tallest and huskiest member) followed VanWagner in points with 197 and is determined to improve this output, while Gary Boyer, a speedy 5'9" guard, is equally determined to better his 140-point mark.

Defensive ace, Don Maki, and Boyer's brother, Tom, are expected to round out the starting five.

"Seniors Ken Osborn, David Bingham, and Doug Keith should give plenty of competition to these boys for a place on the starting five and give us a strong bench," said Ladd.

With 23 boys out for the squad, Ladd said he probably will cut in to 15 today. Two of them will be sent to the junior varsity.

DPW Warms Up For Outside Link

Now that it is heated, the Wixom DPW headquarters is hoping to be connected to the rest of the world.

Wixom City Council moved Tuesday night of last week to extend 624-5559 to the DPW, as well as the intercom system, to make it possible to call the DPW and enable Robert Trombley's department to call out as well, thus ending its isolation from the world.

Attorney Gene Schnelz is still seeking a definite opinion on banning either hunting or the discharge of firearms within the city limits. He hopes to be able to inform the council of action he feels is best at the meeting next Tuesday night.

In other action, council moved the December 24 meeting to Monday, December 23 due to the holiday conflict.

Novi May Lose School Bus Aid

Novi School District, located entirely within the Village of Novi, apparently has been receiving school bus aid illegally.

Thus, the school district is likely to "lose" future aid whether Novi becomes a city or remains a village.

Unaffected and apparently still eligible for aid are those areas outside the Novi School District but within the corporate limits of either the village or the proposed city of Novi.

These are the conclusions drawn from the latest letter from Harold B. Wagner, supervisor of transportation services of the State Department of Education.

Following is the letter received by Howard Bond, attorney for the Novi Charter Commission, from Wagner:

"You inform me that small portions of the proposed City of Novi will be in the school districts of Walled Lake, Northville and South Lyon and that the major portion of the new city will be within the Novi School District.

"This new information prompts me to point out that my statements that, 'if the current state aid provisions continue after the pattern of past years, no aid may be granted for transportation of children living outside the city limits,' and 'aid would continue for transportation of children living outside the city limits,' need additional clarification.

"Not only would those pupils living outside the city limits of the city of Novi be transported with state aid assistance but also children living inside the new city of Novi, who (and I quote from the State Aid Action, Section 11a) are 'living within the corporate limits of a municipality when the area in which the children are living is a fraction of the municipality and the major portion of such municipality is contained in another single school district, and no school is operated in the fraction of the municipality where the children can attend and where the children live more than 1 1/2 miles from the school they attend.'

"You inquire if state aid will be granted to reimburse the school district for transportation provided in the current school year. The answer is affirmative, the aid will be granted next year for all the transportation provided in this school year.

"You ask which provision of the state aid act will exclude pupils resident in the new city of Novi from among those from whom state aid may be granted. The answer to this is that there is no provision authorizing such. Our records are clear that Novi was a Graded School District as of July 1, 1955.

"It has been determined that no state aid may be granted for transportation of children living within the village of Novi nor within the proposed city of Novi with exceptions of children living in Novi but resident in the Walled Lake, South Lyon and Northville School Districts."

Ray Lahti Seeks Vote Recount

Error Slices Water, Police Hassle Losing Margin For Supervisor Heats up, Stretches Light Novi Agenda

An "error" that sliced his losing margin to 50 votes has prompted R. W. Lahti of Wixom, unsuccessful candidate for Oakland County District 27 supervisor in the November 5 election, to petition for a recount.

Results of the recount is expected to be known within two or three weeks.

Democrat Lahti, a veteran Wixom councilman, had been informed earlier that he had lost out to Lew L. Coy, a Wixom Republican, by the unofficial count of 150 votes - 5,451 to 5,601. Two weeks ago, however, he learned that the Oakland County Board of Canvassers had discovered a 100-vote error in tabulation of the totals from each of the 12 precincts in the district, which reduced the margin to 5,551-5,601.

Precincts in Northville, Novi, Wixom, Lyon and South Lyon are among the 12 in the district.

A spokesman in the county clerk's office told this newspaper that the "error didn't happen in any of the precincts but when the votes were transmitted to the county. Actually, the official vote was correct."

The recount, the county spokesman said, must await a decision at the state level on whether or not a recount also will be requested on the daylight savings proposition that appeared on the November ballot.

Recounting usually involves both checking of machines at the precinct level and retabulation of absentee ballots.

In petitioning for a recount, the candidate must express in writing that he either feels an error could have occurred or that he believes fraud is involved.

"In my case," said Lahti, "I've denied any allegation of fraud. I just think that in the confusion of the election, what with the new office, new district, and the new counting device used in some places that an error could have occurred."

Lahti said he "learned indirectly from a politically active person" about the 100-vote error turned up by the board of canvassers and was "told by friends" to seek the recount because of the closeness of the vote.

Specifically, Lahti has petitioned for a recount in those precincts in which he lost - including Northville, Precinct 1 of Novi, Lyon Township, and South Lyon.

These six and their vote tallies include: Northville No. 3, 391-538; Novi No. 1, 579-756; Lyon Township, 553-665; South Lyon, 357-403; Commerce No. 5, 524-538; and Commerce No. 6, 75-104.

Those six in which he won and their vote totals were:

Commerce No. 2, 634-529; Commerce No. 3, 460-386; Commerce No. 4, 417-378 (Commerce No. 1 is not located within the 27th supervisor district); Novi No. 2, 558-527; Walled Lake, 622-484; and Wixom, 381-293.

Northville Precinct 3, is located in the Oakland County portion of the city north of Base Line, and Novi Precinct 2 is roughly located north of Grand River.

RAY LAHTI

Trying to make the best possible village for the people who elected you can become an involved and argumentative process.

This was brought home to Novi Councilmen William Duesy, Raymond Evans and Donald Young Monday night as they struggled four hours with what appeared to be a light agenda. The two other councilmen were absent.

Most time-consuming and heated discussions were the bargaining setup with the Novi Police Officers' Association and water supply for Robo-Wash car wash.

Having had counsel pulled out from under them for good legal reason, the Novi Association selected President Robert Stames to negotiate for them with the council. Councilman Young was chosen to meet with him.

Discussion ensued from these selections because council denied any decision-making powers to Young. He is to receive and discuss police desires with Stames and then report back to council at a special meeting Monday night. Stames wanted more direct and immediate action. The pair will meet in council chambers Saturday.

Fred Kurzon and Dr. Donald Economy charged negligence on the part of the village and especially on the part of Village Manager Harold Ackley in not getting water to their car wash in the stormiest session in some time. The arguing appeared to do little good other than to let off steam. Ackley insisted he has been earnestly trying to get the water in but has had his hand tied by an underground workers' strike.

Ackley told council that Guyman Construction Company had nearly completed laying the pipe when they were halted as the union slapped a $500 fine on the shovel operator and shut them down. It was later connected with the valve to the Detroit source surreptitiously and now needs only to be tested. Ackley promised the two men water by yesterday.

Johnson and Anderson's road study program also came under council scrutiny as Ackley brought in a plan for paving an area mostly on Nine Mile Road. Council was interested in the bituminous proposal, but wanted a concrete paving study made at least on the portion east of Novi Road, before authorizing further plans. Also, council expressed a desire to establish a system of priorities for road construction.

Council approved the 20-inch Grace Street Water Main and the Connamara Hills Sewer subject to receipt of some missing waivers, and accepted the Nine Mile Water Main in other major action Monday night.

A total of $4,000 was appropriated from the anticipated surplus in the general fund (from state income tax revenues) to pay public announcement and attorney fees pursuant to the city charter election scheduled for February 18, and such other incidental expenses as may have been or may be incurred in that respect.

Notification was received of increased election costs brought about by increased pay for election workers. Fred Loynes is to receive $100 for setting up voting machines (double his previous pay) and each worker gets $30 now per election.

American LaFrance's new maintenance contract was approved as council could see no other course of action possible in connection with the costly fire engine.

Attorney Howard Bond notified council that former Justice of Peace Robert Anderson had accepted the village's check of $850 to cover the docket of cases he had been unable to handle and had agreed to drop litigation against the village.

Minutes of the November 18 regular meeting and the April 29 joint special meeting were approved. Also approved were warrants No. 50 (water and sewer) for $3,263.39 and No. 337 (payrolls and accounts) for $20,506.01.

DELUGE OF PLENTY—Novi Jaycees, thanks to Novi High School students, were deluged with books, canned goods, etc. even beyond the amount they could send to area servicemen. Friday night members packed nearly 40 boxes for shipment overseas.

Village Approves Multiples Zoning

Walled Lake may someday be a sight to behold rather than merely a sight.

At least this is the hope of Novi's planning commission and village council who, on Monday night of last week, approved zoning change requests to permit two area developers to begin planning multiple dwelling units.

Approved were the requests of

Hunt Starts For Needy

With their annual Christmas project nearing the launching pad, officials of the Novi Goodfellows began a search this week for needy families in the community.

Their search is based upon the slogan, "No Child Without a Christmas."

Families with children needing help are asked to call one of these three numbers, FI 9-9804, MA 4-1248 or FI 9-3304.

Members of the Goodfellows investigating team directed to call on needy families and arrange for clothing and/or Christmas baskets are Dorothy Farrah, Betty Harbin and Pauline Bassett.

In announcing the start of the search, officials also tossed a bouquet at Novi school children for the baskets of canned foods they have contributed for distribution at Christmas.

Don McVety and John Edwards and of Donald Paul Young for zoning changes from R-1 to R-2A to permit units to be planned for property near South Lake Drive and Fourteen Mile Road and on East Lake Drive west of the Novi Township park, respectively.

Some adjoining property owners appeared to air their fears that substantial units might be erected and that building might be permitted without the long-awaited sewers.

The developers, board and council all assured these residents that construction would be almost impossible without a Walled Lake-Novu sewer extension and that housing when developed would not be of a substandard nature but in fact represent a step in upgrading the area.

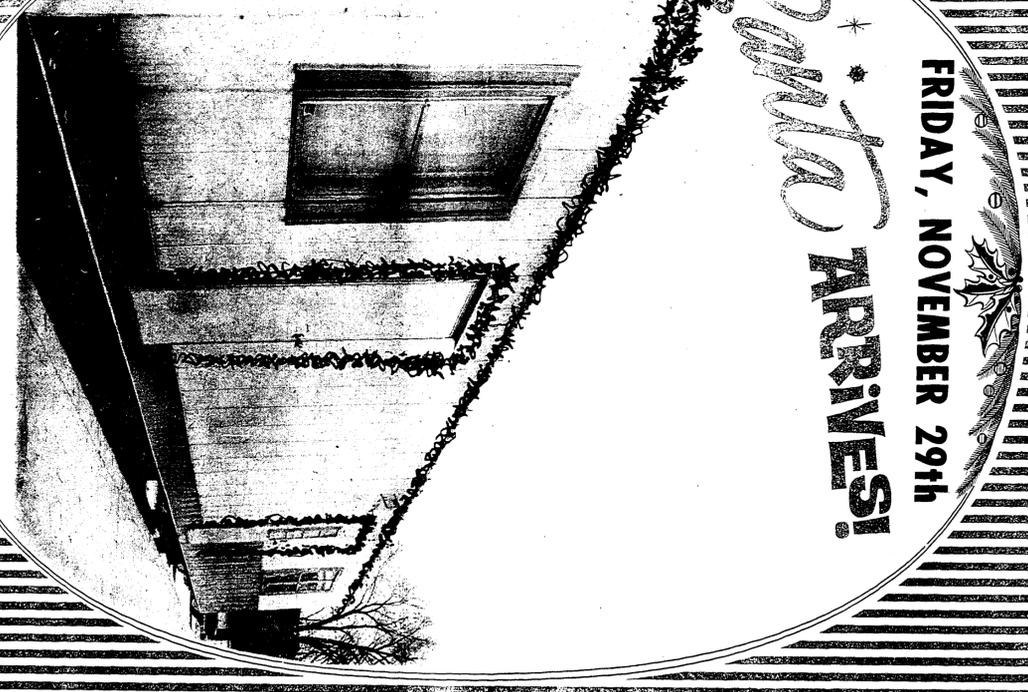

The planning board also set up another public hearing, this for December 30, on the rezoning request of Fred W. Penness concerning a small parcel of property he owns adjacent to his parking company.

Also approved was the site plan approval for Paul McCollum based on the report of planning consultant Stan Woodhouse.

Minutes of six meetings were approved, the plat approval check list was to be aired at the next meeting and the zoning ordinance amendments were referred to attorney to be discussed at the special December 9 meeting as was the rezoning of unplatted lands.
